Mrs. A. J. Joyce told the origin of St. Patrick's Day and the custom of the Irish people on that day, after which Irish potatoes were passed and each couple fashioned a pig from them with the aid of tooth picks, string, tacks and brown paper. The "fat stock" exhibited which resulted showed some remarkable skill among the designers.

"Lady Frock" Has Multitude of Uses

BY HARRIET

One may be undecided whether to buy a jacket suit or an ensemble for Easter.

But there is one type of dress that every smart woman is sure to need this late spring and summer that is a safe bet, whether there is a new coat to wear over it or whether one's last year's coat is used.

The dress I have in mind is the long-sleeved "lady-frock" which is appropriate for afternoon parties, for little affairs at home, for the theatre, for dinner in town and for just about all those times when one wants to look her best—not too dressy but still somewhat more important than a tailored frock allows.

Style Is Important

This is usually a mousseline de soie, a chiffon, crepe Roma, georgette or some other sheer silk frock, made with special attention turned on sleeves, neckline and skirt.

This is a frock every woman might as well plan. She will need it. She will wonder a hundred times, "What shall I wear," if there is no dress like this hanging in her wardrobe.

I suggest one of the new, shadowy prints for this type of dress, preferably in a leaf or a fern design, but of course rather delicate flowers are just as good a choice.

One very springy dress of this type is pictured here. It features a green leaf design on a soft gray background. It is a French import, from Philippe and Gaston, featuring an overskirt, flaring sleeves with tight cuffs and a little vestee with a ripping jabot ending the V neck that the vestee fills.

Sleeves Cut Raglan

The sleeves are cut raglan with the shoulders of the bodice and a little sash ties in a pert bow on one side. Such touches as these prove its Parisian origin. Yet these things can be copied so easily, with just a few yards of lovely material that every woman should have such a dress.

Harriet describes the Parisian frock, illustrated above, in this week's article and, also, the accessories—a spring hat of green bako straw and a medium dark gray Worth bag with a silver buckle.

Quite appropriate for wear with this type of dress is a Marcelle Lely spring hat of green bako straw with chenille polka dots in darker green, also illustrated. This hat folds back its front brim to make quite a narrow eye-shade in front, letting its length out in the rear to give a sizable brim. There are little zigzag lines of dots tracing their verdant way across the front of the crown. And chenille dots its chic path clear around the outside edge of the brim.

Accessories for this frock can be either green or gray. Perhaps a pair of the new dark gray shades that are almost a gunmetal shade might be an excellent choice.

Certainly a Worth bag in medium dark gray with a silver buckle and jade green ring would be in perfect taste. This type of bag, a well-made envelope, has proven its "worth" again and again. It is practically an established shape for every season. The buckle and adornments are the telling features to its chic. This one happens to be ideal for a gray and green dress.

Perhaps a silver chain of some unusual link is the best neck accessory. Failing that, a string of the new gray pearls is fine. In selecting pearls for spring, remember the tinted ones are smarter than white.

Miss Ruby Adams—

Are Real Hustlers

Although Miss Adams will probably object to the publicity, it is only fitting that some mention should be made of the article concerning her which appeared in the "Farmer's Wife." The article said in part: "Miss Ruby Adams is county home demonstration agent of Hall County, Texas, and from the way she and her fellow workers have kept us busy for the last month taking care of their subscriptions as they have come in, those Texans are real hustlers.

First Good News

"The first good news from Miss Adams consisting of fourteen orders came on Lincoln's birthday. While we were writing her congratulating her on her splendid start, the mail man walked in and laid on our desk a letter from Mrs. J. D. Newton, secretary of one of Miss Adams' clubs with sixteen subscriptions. A week later, we received fourteen subscriptions on another report. And today, just as we started to write this, in came another order from Hall county with ten subscriptions. It rather looks as though some of the rest will have to hustle to beat the record of Miss Adams' organizations."

Obtaining subscriptions to the above named magazine is one way the club women of the county are finding in which to earn money for their respective organizations. Anyone who desires to help in this work is asked to communicate with Miss Adams.

J. Henry Read Is Down On Chickens

J. Henry Read came into The Democrat office Thursday morning complaining of the way loose chickens were tearing up his flower beds. He stated that the chickens had become a nuisance and he wished the city ordinance having to do with the keeping up of chickens be enforced.

"I wrung the neck of one hen," Mr. Read said, "but she was old and decrepit and couldn't run very fast, but I missed a dozen or more. I am going to lay in wait for them in the future and if the chicken committee doesn't take appropriate action, I am."

A Few Tips on the Easter Problem

BY HARRIET

The Easter outfit is bound to be uppermost in women's minds very shortly now. Not that the Easter outfit is the all-important thing it used to be. But, even now, Easter still means a fashion parade. And where is the woman so lacking in vanity that she does not care to be included among the season's best dressed?

This year there are to be many choices. If a woman looks nice in a suit, by all means she should buy one for Easter, for it is a spring of suits.

But, if you must wear your Easter outfit for many occasions, as most women must, think twice before getting a short packet suit. An ensemble may be a much better choice. Remember that the long coat comes in mighty handy for a topcoat for other frocks. If it happens to be a good neutral color, such as gray or tan, it can line up with several different and inexpensive frocks and give the appearance of several different costumes.

Prints Are Good

If a suit is chosen, a printed suit is a good choice if you have other things in your wardrobe. If not, plain color is preferable, for you can wear plain colors indefinitely without tiring.

For ensemble, the plain coat with a printed frock is almost the best choice. For it gives variety, is colorful, feminine and likely as not, dressier than a plain colored frock under a plain coat.

A very charming spring suit is a peasant printed silk, shown at the left, a blue background with a fine print in three shades of soft pink on it. The skirt is accordion pleated, giving the flowered print the effect of being an irregular stripe. The sleeveless blouse and the long-sleeved jacket are of the plain figured material.

Goods Can Be Varied

With this a little pink flower and streamer of silk are fastened at the point of the V-neck. A little straw turban has a banding of fine pink silk flowers to give an original touch.

Another suitable version of the jacket suit would be plain wool crepe or rep or even plain colored silk for the skirt and jacket with printed silk for the blouse.

For the girl who must be more or less practical in the choice of her Easter outfit, a good choice would be the brown and red figured silk (right, above).

One of this type has its frock made with irregular hem dipping on both sides, with its flaring sleeves and plain neckline bound in brown. The tan worsted coat, lined with the silk, is cut with loose sleeves, and with a scarf collar that is decorative and can be tied in a bow under the chin.

With this informal but nevertheless dressy frock this ensemble becomes suitable for afternoon affairs (if all kinds). Put the coat over a rep or silk frock of tailored lines and it is an eminently correct wrap.

Blue, tan and gray are the three best colors to choose when one must be careful of money and make all spring clothes stretch their smart selves over much territory and do for many occasions.

Billie Sigler Is Prima Donna At Meeting Of Lions

Little Miss Billie Sigler assumed the role of prima donna in a musical program presented to the Lions Club last Thursday by Scott Sigler. Billie delighted the Lions with a vocal solo. Mrs. C. L. Sloan, Jr. was her accompanist. Two vocal duets were rendered by Miss Hazel Delaney and Mrs. Sloan, with Mrs. Margaret Morgan at the piano. Their second number was "Is There Anything Wrong In That." Lions agreed that the only thing wrong was the scarcity of encores. Dr. George P. Horst, Presbyterian minister of St. Louis, Mo., made an informal talk. Mrs. I. E. Jolly and Miss Verna Crump were visitors in Amarillo from Saturday to Monday.

Beginning Our Twenty-First Year

in business in Memphis. We opened March 13th, 1909. We have enjoyed a steady increase in business ever since our store was opened. Today we see in our store the faces of customers who traded with us during our first year, and many more who have traded with us for a long period. We certainly appreciate this loyalty and the confidence that has been shown in our institution. We appreciate the business of any customer who enters our doors, but we are doubly grateful to the ones that show their confidence by coming year after year. From the beginning it was the policy of this store to make quality first and it is still our policy. Sometimes you can find merchandise at a cheaper price, but when you take into consideration the extra service you receive from the merchandise which you buy from us, we believe that we are the most reasonable place in town. We never buy seconds or inferior merchandise to meet a price. The fact that our business has steadily increased leads us to believe that the majority of the buying public favors this idea. It is a privilege to be permitted to serve the people of the Memphis Trade Territory and we solicit your future business assuring you that we will do our best to merit it.

FROM THE PEOPLE

Editor Democrat:
During Ma Ferguson's maladministration, the peace officers of Texas were deprived of the right to search automobiles and bootlegging joints for illegal liquor, even on the affidavits of "information and belief" by reputable law-abiding citizens. This is sometimes referred to as the "Search and Seizure Law." It was really an "Anti-Search and Seizure Law." Under the operation of this law, officers dared not search the premises or vehicles of notorious bootleggers. The passage of that law brought grief to every lover of temperance, and joy to every bootlegger. It has been the greatest obstacle to the enforcement of the Dean law. The thoughtful and vigilant temperance leaders and the ministers have continuously sought the repeal of this outrageous law and the enactment in its stead of a "Reasonable Search and Seizure Law" based upon the Constitution of the state. The Sheriff's Association asked twice for such a law.

A bill was a few days ago before the legislature proposing the repeal of this present bootlegger's chief defense, and the substitution of a reasonable search and seizure that would instead be a defense of our homes. This bill was defeated in the senate by a motion of Senator C. C. Small. This vote will doubtless bring joy to every bootlegger in the Panhandle, and certainly will bring great sorrow to the fathers and mothers whose sons (and shall we say daughters?) are the prey of the heartless bootleggers.

Return Of Hubert Dennis To T. C. U. Widely Heralded

Hubert Dennis of Memphis, who gained fame here as a football player several years ago on the squad of the Cyclone has re-entered Texas Christian University and is expected to be a regular on the football squad of that institution the coming season.

A recent story regarding Dennis appeared in the Fort Worth Press, a part of which story is quoted below:

The Memphis Flash
"Imagine a break at this time of the year that may mean a conference title for T. C. U. next fall! Strange? Yes, but so, nevertheless. It was learned today that Hubert Dennis, the Memphis, Texas, flash who was the big noise of the T. C. U. frosh backfield in 1927, will be eligible when the next grid campaign starts."

"Dennis left school after the football season of '27, but returned this semester. He has played his freshman year, has the hours needed for half a school year, and makes himself okay for the coming conference championship by passing during the spring and summer terms."

"Hubert is bearing down now—realizes he can make up for what he considers a mistake, that of having dropped out when he might have been back last season to give the Frogs the punch needed to cop a crown."

Dennis says he is going to keep studying hard and get eligible and that he is sure he will be ready to go when September comes.

Is Sweet Toter
"Hubert is a sweet toter, one of the greatest prospects ever to come to T. C. U. during the regime of Madison Bell and the present A. & M. coach thinks Dennis will make Coach Schmidt a great man."

Modern Gin Office Nears Completion

What will be the most modern gin office in this county is nearing completion on the Farmers Union Gin Company property in the southwest part of town. The gins owned by the company have seen a prosperous season, according to Manager John Bishop, and the new office for the two local plants is the preface to a building program which will get underway here within a few days.

Gin to Be Razed
The No. 1 gin, which was established in 1920, will be razed and rebuilt from the ground up. At present it is a two-story structure, but the new building will be but one story in height. New machinery will be installed throughout, enabling the company to present Hall County farmers with an entirely new gin plant at the beginning of the 1929-30 season.

New Office Building
The new office building, which serves both the No. 1 and No. 2 gins, is 40x32 feet overall and much larger than average similar structures. It embraces a lobby 14x30, main office 14x18, the manager's office 10x12 and a sample room 16x30 with 10 large windows providing ample light for grading cotton. Mr. Bishop has a new $10,000 brick-veneer home under construction at 821 S. Sixth street. The house will have 6 rooms and bath, modern throughout.

GIRL SCOUTS HOLD MEETING AT SCHOOL

Girl Scouts of Jonquil troop met Wednesday, March 6, in the Girl Scout room of the Junior High School. Before time for the Scout meeting, four Scouts laid trails with rock woodcraft signs.

At the Scout meeting, laws, motto, pledge and salute were given. After this, the girls were divided into four groups and found their way along the trails. Miss Ira Hammond, the captain, then had the patrols divided and each patrol dramatized a law which the others guessed. The meeting then adjourned.

The sunrise prayer service will not last for any considerable length of time, allowing plenty of time for those who attend to prepare for the regular Sunday services to be held at the respective churches on Sunday morning.

Quota For Baptist Annex Is Expected To Be Reached Soon

Slowly but surely, the drive for funds in connection with the Baptist Annex is drawing to a close. On last Sunday, the church had the sum of $12,782.03 in cash to its credit, or just a little more than $2,000 short of the objective of $15,000 which is to be reached before the work actually gets underway.

It is anticipated that the remainder of this amount will be subscribed within the next six weeks. Plans for the building are already under consideration and when the quota of $15,000 is reached, it is expected that ground will be broken shortly thereafter and actual work begun.

Rev. E. T. Miller stated that the church is in no particular hurry to begin construction, but is following the initial schedule of having the required funds in hand before going further.

BY PLUTARCO ELIAS CALLES
Minister of War in Mexico
(Copyright By United Press)

MEXICO CITY, March 21. (UP)—I accept with pleasure the explanation abroad through the United Press Association of the revolution and the present military situation.

At the beginning of the outbreak, I placed my orders as a soldier. I had no other armed movement had in Mexico less real or apparent justification as the Ex-Generals Escobar, Aguirre and Manzo.

The movement was started by the military chiefs, greedy and with the remotest principles in the social order and without any purpose for the masses, rebelled against the leader who has for three months of that he has had a moral to the law and the morality.

The candidates in the presidential campaign, as only be known by claiming as the reason the violation of suffrage that has been used yet and shall be used in nine months of military men I am taking advantage of the government to guarantee its intake care of the country.

Apparently the supposed political real and present situation. At the bottom of the no apparent interests other than from entering into an institutional arrangement have been struggling here. They desire the military chiefs of great corruption at the political and economic by the revolution.

Dictatorship to place, instead of institutional regime to the laws, the of a military dictatorship can not have even a real strength in the governing the causes.

Relation of production to marketing problems, with special emphasis upon fruits and vegetables, will be one phase of the discussion in store. Discussions of fruits and vegetables, problems of grading, packing and standardizing, demonstrations of hay grading and standardization, will be emphasized on this year's program.

Cooperative problems of Texas rice growers, development and trends of cooperative marketing, relation of the Extension Service to the promotion of cooperative marketing, methods of analyzing the market for poultry and poultry products and the work of home demonstration agents in assisting farmers with their marketing problems, will also be discussed.

Training In All Major Sports To Be Held At State

AUSTIN, March 21. (Special)—Intensive training in the coaching of all major sports will be given at the two-weeks coaching school to be held at the University of Texas June 10-22, according to Dr. D. K. Brace, professor of physical education. Outstanding coaches have been secured to take charge of each sport, Dr. Brace said. Clyde Littlefield, University football and track coach, will teach the classes in those two sports; W. J. "Uncle Billy" Disch, baseball coach at the University, will instruct in that sport; and Everett S. Dean of Indiana University will teach basket ball coaching.

"We are very fortunate to get Mr. Dean," Dr. Brace said, "for he is one of the nationally famous basket ball coaches. He will bring to Texas many valuable methods from another section of the country. As for the qualifications of Littlefield and Disch, their past records in the Southwestern Conference speak for themselves."

Roy B. Henderson, athletic director of the University Intercollegiate League Bureau, will be manager of the coaching school.

Tibet Discussed—

they hate sham and pretense. They want to be sincere.

Study Out Loud

"In school, the children study out loud, and they study as they talk, in a singsong voice. The chief delicacy on the table of a Tibetan is made of a strong tea with old butter beaten into it. The older the butter the better. You are offered this wherever you go, and must drink it or offend their hospitality. Each person has a bowl that he carries with him everywhere he goes, and it is always ready for a filling. As each one sops out his bowl the hostess does not have dishes to wash, and can entertain the company.

Travels Three Days

"The Tibetans believe that when one dies, one travels for three days. On the first day, he goes over all the places he has gone over before in life. The second day, he goes everywhere he has wanted to go, and on the third day, he goes to Judgment. There an old Uncle judges him and he is asked just two questions: 'Have you been unselfish?' and 'Have you prayed?' If you can answer these questions in the affirmative, you are saved.

"As you go through China, you see graves everywhere. There are so many people in China, and they have been there so long and they so revere their dead, that it is a land of graves. It is depressing.

No Graves Are Seen

"When you reach Tibet, you see no graves. You think, 'Is this the deathless land?' But you soon find that they, too, die. But they dig no graves. They put their dead in boxes with food and clothing and hurl them into the swift mountain torrents where the box and the body are soon destroyed. They teach that the sooner the body is destroyed the sooner the spirit can achieve happiness. On the highest plateaus, where there are no streams, they cut the bodies to pieces and lay them on high rocks where the vultures soon come and take them.

Form of Mohammedanism

"The religion of the Tibetans is a form of Mohammedanism, but peculiar to Tibet. It all centers around prayer. When a Tibetan prays, he prays in five ways, namely, with his lips, with his hands, with his feet, with a rosary and with flags. His constant question is: 'Will my God be pleased if I do this, or if I say that?' Would it not be well if Christians more often thought that way about it?"

Only One Hospital

"There is but one hospital in Tibet and when my father was there only one physician. They know nothing of the body, or of medicine. They have but three medicines. The family gives melted butter so the evil spirit, which they believe causes all sickness, will slip out. If that fails, the medicine man gives a mud pill with incantations. If that fails, the priest writes a prayer on a slip of paper, rolls it up and the patient swallows it. When the paper unrolls and the evil spirit reads the prayer, he is supposed to flee, but alas, he often refuses and the people die."

Miss Shelton told of the bandit chief who proposed a "blood covenant" with Dr. Shelton and when he learned that Dr. Shelton would not agree to that for religious reasons, he drew up a crude contract that read: "Dr. Shelton and Luzon agree to be brothers. They agree that they will not rob or kill any more." Dr. Shelton, of course, could agree to sign such a covenant and he did so. After he had signed the document, he discovered that it had a postscript, which read: "But if any man harms Dr. Shelton, Luzon will come and cut him to pieces." And after five years, Dr. Shelton discovered that his "brother" had kept his word, had abandoned banditry and was living an honest life.

Other Missionaries

After Dr. Shelton's death, the Christian church sent other missionaries and doctors to the field, and the work there still continues. It is the most difficult and dangerous mission field in the world, and yet, one of the most interesting.

Miss Shelton came to Memphis from Childress where she spoke in the First Christian church last Sunday morning. She expects to visit other churches in this section before returning to her duties in Dallas.

political from a partisan standpoint—it is a fight for the soul of this nation—it is a fight to prove to the eyes of our children and the eyes of a watching world that America is grandly capable of enacting a great moral principle into law and then demonstrating to the upward march of civilization that the enactment of that law was not a mistake, as the liquor forces still glibly contend, and that the enforcement of that law, the vindication of that law—the triumphant coronation of that law—God help us as Americans—shall not prove a national tragedy and an international farce."

Mr. Upshaw finished his address by paying a glowing tribute to the W. C. T. U. and the Anti-Saloon League, stating that they were preparing the highway for young voters who are the "coming on" citizens of America. He called on the citizens of this community not to sign any articles of peace and harmony on the upturned head of a liquor barrel.

She Traveled For Fifteen Years In Search Of Health

"For fifteen years I have done nothing but travel over the United States, Canada, and Cuba in a fruitless search for health. Three weeks ago I began the Sargon treatment and today I am a well and happy woman. That Sargon should restore me so quickly and so completely after all these years of suffering and failure is marvelous and I want my friends everywhere to know about this wonderful medicine.

"Even the lightest meals would cause me to suffer tortures from indigestion, gas pains, and smothering spells. Sometimes I would just have to gasp for breath. Nervousness made my nights almost sleepless. Rheumatism troubled me a great deal, too, and my liver was so badly out of order I had to take strong purgatives continually.

"I took treatments everywhere without relief, and I finally made up my mind to travel with the seasons and live the rest of my days as comfortably as possible. Had anyone told me that any medicine would do what Sargon has done for me I could not have believed them. It put my stomach in perfect condition, am no longer nervous, and sleep like a healthy child. I feel strong and well all the time. Sargon Soft Mass Pills completely overcame my liver troubles. They act gently yet thoroughly.

"To enjoy such splendid health as Sargon has given me is the greatest blessing in the world, and I feel it my duty to let other sufferers know about this wonderful treatment."

This remarkable statement was made recently by Mrs. M. M. Link, wealthy resident of 863 Tuxedo Blvd., Webster Grove, Mo. Mrs. Link is spending the winter at Grande Court, San Antonio, where she went in her long search for health.

Men's Accessories

As is the case with women, so men must select their shirts, ties, handkerchiefs and socks exercising good taste. Men's accessories should harmonize. There should be no clash of colors. Prices this year are no higher than they have been for a number of seasons. If anything, clothing for men may not be quite so expensive. Most of the local stores are featuring suits with two pairs of trousers. With a little additional cost, getting a suit with two pairs of trousers is almost the same thing as having two separate and distinct suits.

Badly Run-Down

"Six years ago, I was very much run-down," says Mrs. Olympia Knight of Lovett, Ga. "I did not sleep well, and was weak and restless. I dragged around the house with not enough strength to do my daily tasks. I worried a lot, and this disturbed state of mind reacted on my health."

"I had often read of Cardui, so I thought I would try it. I soon began to improve after I had taken Cardui for a while. It was astonishing how much I picked up. I slept better, my appetite improved, and that awful dragging-down feeling left me. I was so much better that I continued taking Cardui until I felt perfectly well."

The Hall County Interscholastic League will meet in Memphis next Friday and Saturday, March 22 and 23. It will be held in the local Fair Park and through the courtesy of the Chamber of Commerce there will be no admission charges.

There is promise of it being one of the best in the history of the school. The surrounding towns have given the fact that they expected to win the meet.

Memphis is still in the race with one of the best prospective teams ever produced by old Memphis High. Coach Bolton has one of the largest track squads that he has ever had out, and we are sure of a good representation at the meet.

Glee Club Plans To Enter Contest

The members of the Memphis Hi Glee Club have all been working very hard these last two or three weeks. Plans have been made to enter the contest in Amarillo soon and much effort is being put forth.

The leader, Mrs. Elmer S. Shelley, is very confident of us and we are all striving to be worthy of that confidence. She says that all the members are splendid workers and if we do as we have been doing, the prize at the contest is as good as won. Such unflinching confidence and training has been a wonderful help to the members and not one of them but that does their best.

COULD YOU FEATURE?

Mildred Phelan singing a duet with Lon Webster.
 Homer Shankle speaking on Liberty.
 Ted Read going to Childress every Sunday.
 Albert Pearson unexpectedly getting his Spanish lesson.
 Lon Webster as the great colorful singer.
 Pauline Ross as a master of a cornet.
 Scott Webster not in the eighth period class.
 George Perdue unhappy.
 The students of Memphis High School not proud of their school and willing to back them up at all times.

HI-Y CLUB HOLDS MEETING ON TUESDAY

The Hi-Y Club met in its regular meeting Tuesday night at the High School.

After the business of the club had been discussed, the following program was given:

A round table discussion was the type of program given and the following subjects were discussed: "How to better ourselves," "How to Accomplish More and How to Give the Cleanest Entertainments."

The meeting closed with a discussion of "How to Make Better Members."

The club adjourned until next Tuesday night.

FOR SALE

There are still several boxes of stationery left. The High School stationery is of the best quality that can be bought. The price is only seventy-five cents per box. Anyone wishing to buy a box of this stationery, please see Vance Johnson or Ted Read in the Sandstorm office during school hours.

Baseball Team Is Hard At Work On Practice Games

The baseball team has begun to try to learn the hardships of baseball by long and strenuous workouts. Few bruises have hindered the team so far. Albert Pearson broke his watch trying to make a grandstand slide and Jerry Sitton tried to stick his thumb through a baseball and missed the hole and bruised his thumb badly.

The team elected Clark Bounds to be their captain and to carry all responsibility. Vance Swinburn will coach the team as Coach Bolton has his hands full with the track team.

The Childress Index is arranging the schedule and as soon as it is made we will be ready to see old Memphis High battle a winning game.

CARNIVAL TO BE HELD DURING APRIL

Proceeds To Be Used To Apply On Fund For Annual

Would you like to see something that will just make your heart jump up in your mouth; make your teeth rattle and your knees shake? See those weird, hideous, "arful" ladies called "Bluebeard's wives" at the High School Carnival at the Memphis High School on the evening of April 5. The carnival, sponsored by the staff of the 1929 Sandstorm, high school yearbook, is to be one of the most unique entertainments ever staged by the student body of the high school.

Never before in the history of amateur entertainments has there been so much high class entertainment offered for such a low price. The admission to all the shows of the carnival is to be the lowest ever offered in any show in any part of the continent.

Music Most Unique

One of the most unique shows of the carnival is to be the "Music Nook for Two." All of the younger set of the town should fall for this show. It offers them a chance to "spoon, make love" or what not without being molested by others wanting to do the same thing. The music nook is to be a place where the younger set can have all the privacy they want and listen to good music, and all the other stuff that goes along with good dreamy music in the moonlight. That is, they can enjoy this for a short time at least. There is a time limit for the show.

Musical Comedy

A musical comedy and Majestic program such as is offered in the larger theatres of the state is to be offered by the annual staff. This is to be one of the highest class entertainments ever offered in the school and is to be offered along with the other shows of the carnival at 8:30 promptly on Friday evening of the 5th. Shows of this type and quality always get large prices for admissions, but the one at the carnival is going to have the lowest priced admission ever charged for a high class show.

Tri-Outs Held In Events For Meet

The tri-outs in girls declamation was held in the high school auditorium Tuesday night, March 12.

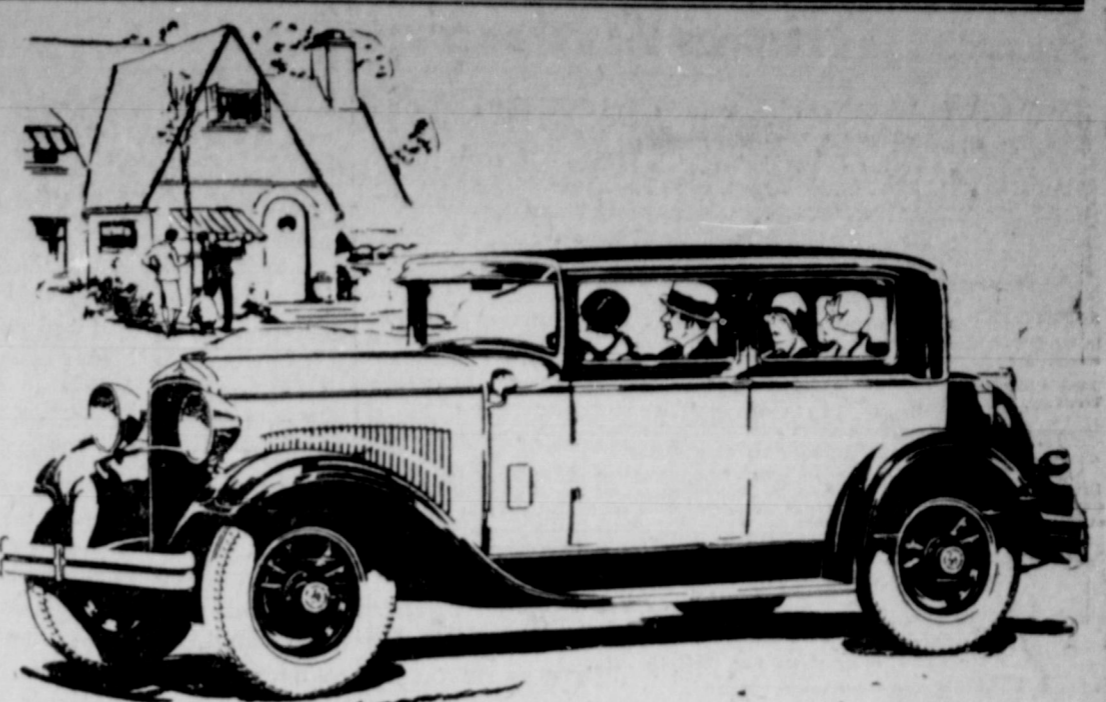

The declaimers were: Pauline Thomason, Dephena Truss, and Ernestine Walker, and Alice Baker.

The winners of the declamation were: Ernestine Walker, first; Alice Baker, second; and Pauline Thomason, third. The decision of the judges was close, as they could hardly decide which one really won as all of the declamations were excellent and given in an excellent way.

The tri-out in essay writing was held Wednesday afternoon after school in the High School building conducted by Mrs. Buck. There were twenty contestants in essay writing. The winners of the contest were: Mildred Phelan, first; Marie Barber, second; Jackie Rogers, third.

There was much interest taken in essay writing as is shown in the number who took part in the contest. Mrs. Buck who conducted the contest believes that the representative from this school in essay writing will take off the banner at the county meet.

The boys declamation tri-out was held Tuesday night, March 12, in the high school auditorium.

AVERY TWIN-JACK CULTIVATOR

Easy on both man and team

Avery engineers did a big job in eliminating strain on the operator and lightening the work of the team when they designed the famous Jack Rabbit Cultivator. In the Twin-Jack they have repeated their success, this time in a two-row cultivator that is simple to operate—and easy on both man and team.

The Twin-Jack is sturdy, durable, flexible, easy to handle and comfortable to ride. It has a strong, rigid main frame that will not twist or sag under the hardest conditions. The frame is in perfect balance at all times, with the result that manipulation requires but minimum effort, the horses are spared sore shoulders, and more ground is covered per day with less fatigue.

Each pair of gangs is controlled by two independent levers, the inside lever raising or lowering the pair simultaneously, when desired. By means of an easy pressure on the stirrups the wheels may be angled to right or to left.

We will be glad to explain the many efficient, time-saving features of the Twin-Jack—or demonstrate at your convenience. There is no obligation.

There is a full line of famous Avery walking, riding and tractor plows, tillage implements and Champion harvesting and haying machines.

THAT WEST TEXAS CROWD

HON. SAM P. HARBEN, editor of the distinguished Richardson Echo, seems to have a deal of difficulty in controlling his literary energies. The astute editor of a weekly newspaper in the vast intricacies of East Texas, he seems to have lost the common touch with his West Texas neighbors and friends. In a recent issue of his paper, he panned West Texas rather severely and Mr. Harben should know better. With gentle ease and grace, as is this writer's wont, he has allowed himself to write what he intended to be blistering editorial comment.

Listen to this polished editorial writer: "The West Texas crowd has been quite wrought up this week down at Austin. To start with, Governor Moody vetoed their pet bill and then someone told them they could not secede from Texas without a real reason. If there is any bunch in Texas that are spoiled, it is the West Texas crowd. They are fine fellows, they have some wonderful organizers in charge of their work, some of the best executives in the state, but sometimes we feel like they need a good spanking, like the spoiled boy, and put to bed without their bottle for one night, at least."

Now, Mr. Harben, suppose we reason together. As an East Texan, you are so accustomed to having your section of the state recognized upon every possible occasion, that you have lost sight of the fact that West Texas is a part of the state. You seem to have overlooked the fact that West Texas helps to educate East Texas children, to build your paved highways, and in general, to keep this state on the map of the United States as head and shoulders above many of our neighbors.

You do not seem to realize, Mr. Harben, that West Texas, or a portion thereof, has consistently remained in the white belt of prosperity, while the major part of East Texas shows a drab, marked black on the map of business enterprise and activity. This section of the state has the same right to be represented in Austin as your very distinguished counties in the Eastern belt. Until the last session of the legislature, we of the West have been over-riden upon every possible occasion. Insofar as we are concerned, we might as well have been a part of Mexico or Southern California.

We would have you know, Mr. Harben, one Senator Clint Small of Wellington. We vouch for this man. You saw what he accomplished in the legislature in spite of the Governor, in spite of everything. He helped to preserve our birthright, as sacred to us as your piney woods must be to your distinguished self.

Lustful land-grabbers, many of them from your section of the state, have for long been looking upon West Texas with greedy eyes. They have desired our land, our wealth and our affluence. Senator Small has preserved these things for the time being, in spite of overwhelming opposition from every direction of the compass except West. And basking amid the luxuries of Richardson, you would make sport of us.

You refer to us as the "West Texas Crowd." That is the one correct statement you inadvertently made. It was a real West Texas crowd that backed our representatives in the legislature to insure that this section of the state was not overlooked. We are proud of that crowd, proud of what they have done in the past and what they will do in the future.

The Small land bill was a "pet" measure with us. We were tired of having no say in the government of our own section of the state. We were tired of having the legislature at Austin sniff their noses to high Heaven and speak of the vast resources of East Texas and pass legislation favorable to that section of the state alone. Why not a pet measure? If you lived here, in a white man's country, where freedom is cherished, where men deal fairly with their fellows, you would undoubtedly see why such a measure as the Small bill was a "pet" measure with us.

You say we are spoiled. Now, now, Mr. Harben. You know better than that. What under God's blue canopy has spoiled us? It is you, Mr. Harben, and men like you, who are spoiled. You have been blessed with the golden fleece for so long that you have grown impatient with your distant neighbors. But we do thank you for saying that we are fine fellows. We appreciate that, coming from you, for we know what you really think. How fine it is to have so complete an understanding.

If the time ever comes when we want to secede from this great state and start one all our own, we will be sure and let you know all about it, for your brilliant editorial comment would certainly help us in setting up another commonwealth. As for being a spoiled boy and needing a spanking, your vast intelligence does not justify such a statement coming from your repertory of knowledge. You suggest that we be put to bed without a bottle for one night. That's all right, too, but the next time suppose you specify the kind of substance contained in that bottle that we are to be deprived of. The West Texas Crowd appreciates, more than words can tell, your cheerful remarks and hopes that you will live to grow older and wiser in the ways of the world and in the understanding of men.

A MATTER OF GREASE

WE received recently a copy of "The Skiff," a weekly newspaper published by the student body of Texas Christian University. In reading this paper, we observed that a class rush day is to be held and that some of the high and mighty in that institution of higher education are opposed to allowing the girls to grease their hair on this auspicious occasion.

Now to tell the truth, we are unable to arrive at an explanation as to why any girl should desire to grease her hair, but if this custom has become established at Texas Christian University, we do not believe any of the higher-ups, including dignified professors, near-professors and school officials, high and low, should voice objections. It is a well defined habit with certain educators to make extensive trips in visiting schools other than their own, in order to iron out kinks that will bob up on the campus, in spite of an overabundance of learning. If these educators would stay at home, they would accomplish just as much by experimenting with their own students.

It would appear that the girls who desire to grease their hair at Texas Christian University are making up one of the aforementioned kinks. The student newspaper is for the girls and so are we. When we are called upon to side with either age or beauty, beauty always gets our vote and so it is in this case. Although we have never seen any of the coeds at T. C. U., we have an idea they are good to look upon and if they want to grease their hair, we are for them "doing it up brown."

For long, male members of the collegiate set have greased their hair. In fact, they pride themselves upon their hair and upon the grease they use. That may account for the fact that so many of them are accustomed to go without their hats and caps. They evidently want the grease to be seen. It was bought and paid for with Dad's "dough." Fair maidens "fall" for it, then why should these maidens be deprived of the privilege that the male sex uses so openly and flagrantly?

What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander, and naturally, the reverse is true. Now what the T. C. U. girls want is a little sauce. They may have reasons for wanting it; then again, they may not. The important fact is that they want it and the higherups are objecting. School sentiment has become aroused. The girls will get to grease their hair if the student body has a say in the matter and we hope they have plenty, for you know

A little grease now and then,
Is relished by girls as well as by men.

Let's Chat Awhile

By Dorothy B. Robbins

Those with money are always doing good with it. Ford's money has benefitted a vast number of people and the Rockefeller's are widely known for the use they made of theirs. How many wealthy ones open their art galleries to the public and how many are behind many a movement for good is unknown to the vast majority because very little comment is made of it, as a rule. Give and accumulate might be their slogan. I cannot recall a very prosperous friend who is stingy and heeds not the call of any good cause. It seems to follow naturally that they prosper; seems to be a reward sure to come.

I haven't heard whether Black Horse Tavern, Staten Island's famous hostelry of Revolutionary Days, has become the property of a private individual, but on reading early in the year that it must give way, as is the order of things, to modern times, I had a desire to be very rich and buy it. Black Horse Tavern, headquarters for General William Howe, commander of British forces in New York! I can imagine it and by shutting my eyes see this famous old landmark and its company—sometimes, maybe, a bit too roys-tering, but picturesque. Is there somebody keeping models of these old places, I wonder—are they passing from us forever? Oh, for the power to place them upon canvas or for the etcher's gift—aren't etchings a beautiful form of expression.

Progress, we hail your march, but deplore your inroads upon our old buildings for old things give a mellowed atmosphere of "having been" something in the scheme of things. When we are all new and there are no weather-worn structures, where will be our visible traditions—will we cease to remember the old friends after awhile? I must not forget that many of the things we prize have been saved.

People who have lived in a former century say these old buildings are invariably made of almost indestructible wood and housewreckers claim, so I have heard, that the material is much better than that now in use—the lumber was seasoned, they say, having come from trees that had many, many more years in which to become good than much that we get now. There is no reflection upon the lumber industry intended here. We do so many wonderful things now that this defect will, no doubt, be bridged by science in a short while. Curling plants for lumber may already be in existence. I know shingles go through a treatment that adds years to the life of a roof.

This and That

By L. E. R.

You've often heard the expression, "when elephants grow on trees." Well, they're just likely to do that when dumb old country boys like yours truly start attending grand opera.

It all came about like this: My sister Ruth, who lives in Amarillo, wrote me that she'd appreciate my company at the presentation of "Thais" (I've just learned that it isn't pronounced "they is"). Thinking I'd end the matter quickly, I replied by saying I'd be glad to attend if she'd buy two tickets. To my utter surprise, she immediately came back with the statement that she'd purchased the coveted pasteborders.

Saturday night I phoned Ruth and told her I'd arrive in the Plains capital Monday afternoon about three hours before the big event. I told her I'd bring plenty of peanuts and she said she'd get hold of some pop corn and chewing gum.

You may not believe it, but they didn't sell a thing to eat inside the auditorium. I was certainly glad we supplied ourselves before we got in.

The "Op'ry" was real good. I was surprised that I enjoyed it so much. I'm one of these nit-wits who has claimed for years that a good picture show is better than grand opera. Just like most of the other fellows who say that, I'd never been to grand opera.

Ruth seemed a little embarrassed when I asked her during the first act if there would be good vaudeville between the acts. Several people sitting near me looked a little funny when I said it.

Some bird in the balcony said his seat was too far back—he couldn't understand what the actors were saying. I had a closer seat than he did and I couldn't understand them either. They were all foreigners but Mary Garden and it seemed like the company she was keeping had kinda influenced her.

It certainly is remarkable how much noise men and women can make when they're turned loose and everyone else is quiet.

Old Mojica is right there, believe me. He certainly puts life into the thing, gyrating around like he was making an Al Smith speech. (It ought to be against the law to mention Al Smith this late in the season.)

The Great Annual Eclipse!

Panhandle Press Paragraphs

And it's surprising how much one can learn when grand opera comes into the community. Why, until a week ago I thought Mary Garden was just a perfume.

Mary can sing like nobody's business. When a person can sing a whole gob of stuff in a language you can't even understand, and make you like it, she's good—that's all.

The orchestra was just a small affair. Sixty-five pieces, I understand, is all they could get together before they left Chicago. The director can't even remember the names of all his men. He has them numbered. It makes it much easier, though, when there are so many in the orchestra. One fellow can make a discord and get away with it. I couldn't hear them all. I believe some of them were faking. But if I ever again hear such superb music I'll think I've died and gone to heaven.

Believe me, I'm going to grand opera again the very next chance I get—if Ruth will buy two seats.

C'mon, customers. Let's all go down to Mexico and revolute a little.

The same authority says that the only child is harder to please than any other. In other words, as every parent knows, a boy with an older brother is easier to suit.

The eternal faith that abides in the hearts of our people is being shown daily by the shrubs and trees that are being planted in dry ground; no rain so far and but little water, and yet they plant, trusting that plenty of rain will come and that in some way the city will get plenty of water.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

Pampa deserves a lower gas rate, better service and a constant maintenance of low pressure gas throughout the entire city.—Pampa Times.

Calvin Coolidge smiled the biggest smile Monday in months. He had quit the biggest job in the gift of the public to become a plain American citizen who can work or play in his shirt sleeves. In the construction of his first real... project, such as the library table, he had a special desire to make it a little out of the ordinary in various lines, hence he was planning his artistic ideas with such zest that his table would surely receive the best compliments from his admirers. In any project of that nature, the boy is endeavoring to exercise to the fullest extent his instincts of constructiveness, aesthetics and altruism. We are often surprised at the artistic temperament of a boy as manifested through his project; hence a better knowledge of the boy is gained by the teacher. Knowledge of Arithmetic Let us see what, if any interest, he may create for his literary subjects in this course. In the construction of the simplest projects, the student is compelled to use his knowledge of arithmetic, particularly, common fractions and denominate numbers. Calculations are necessary in planning material for his projects and in estimating the cost by getting current prices from the lumber man. We require this and find an increased desire for arithmetic. Economy is practiced in the planning of all projects. Repairs Building We find Manual Training useful in our school for keeping the school building in repair and for the construction of playground equipment. Our class of boys have saved many dollars this year for our school by repairing doors, replacing broken window lights, repairing and constructing playground equipment, and such about the school plant. This phase of the work gives him a pride in caring for his home better. We also have them bring broken furniture from the homes to the shop to be repaired and probably to be re-finished in a new coat of paint or varnish. The latter relates to all projects in giving a knowledge of the finishing of furniture of different kinds and the uses and value of paints, stains and varnishes. Agricultural Work In connection with shop work as provided for in the provision for financial aid from the state, agricultural work such as farm terracing, poultry, dairying, etc., is also required. This part of the course appeals to some of the class more than the shop work. We go as we are called to lay terrace lines, study dairy cows and poultry. As time for laying terrace lines is now here, we have mapped the lines for one farm already and expect to do some more. We have tested the milk for per-centage of butter fat as a class and studied the good and bad features of some dairy cows by actual ob-servation. It is our intention to do more of the agricultural work from now on till the close of school in the spring. I must not make this article too long, and will admit that there are more good things to say about industrial work in the rural school. The points I have brought out are a result of actual experience in teaching this work. Well Equipped Shop Here at Parnell, we have one of the best equipped shops of any rural school in this part of Texas and the patrons are proud of it to the extent that they have a greater desire each year to see the work go on. Plans are now being made to build a bigger and better shop for next year. We extend a cordial invitation to trust-ees and patrons and trustees of other schools to come and visit the shop while the boys are at work. The class meets from 2:40 to 4 p. m. We will also be glad to give our ideas about you putting the industrial work in your school. It should be in every rural school in Hall county.

Package Libraries Showing Substantial Circulation Gains

AUSTIN, March 21. (Special) —Increase of from 200 to 300 package libraries each month over the circulation at this time last year is seen in the present cir-culation of the Package Loan Li-brary of the University of Texas division of Extension, according to Miss Mary Lula Barrett, acting chief. The total for February reached 2,800 packages, while that of January was over 2,900. Member schools of the Texas In-ter-scholastic League are keeping the 250 packages on the League debate subjects, placed in the li-brary by the University League Bureau, in constant circulation, and other package libraries are also proving very popular. The library serves schools, women's clubs, study clubs and individuals.

Copeland Motor Co. Named Local Dealers For Cars

The Oakland Motor Car company today announces another addition to its rapidly growing sales organization in the appointment of Copeland Motor Co. as Oakland-Pontiac dealers here for the smart new Pontiac Big Sixes and its companion car, the colorful new All-American by Oakland. Both lines of cars are displayed at the new showrooms at Main and Front streets, where the public is invited to inspect them.

The huge Oakland-Pontiac merchandising body with which the new dealers here are now identified has shown one of the most remarkable growths in the entire automotive industry. With 5,000 dealers throughout the United States, it is five times the size of the 1925 Oakland dealer organization.

Production Increase

A. R. Glancy, president and general manager of the Oakland Motor Car company, believes that 1929 will be the company's greatest year. The production and sales program calls for a sizable increase over the 260,000 Oakland and Pontiac Sixes built last year, which was 35 per cent greater than in 1927, the best year since Oakland first began manufacturing automobiles in 1907.

Intensification of the field organization in preparation for the year has been made under the direction of W. R. Tracy, vice-president in charge of sales, with the addition of 50 field men to the traveling force, the creation of new district offices and changes in field personnel. As a result today there are under Mr. Tracy six regional offices and 25 district offices to maintain contact between the factory and the sales forces in the field in the interest of improved public service.

Enjoy Public Favor

The two lines of cars which the Copeland Motor Co. is now showing have consistently set new high monthly sales figures since they came on the market, an indication of the measure of public favor which they enjoy. That is seen as an endorsement of the company's policy in pioneering new and advanced chassis and body features now widely copied throughout the industry.

Notable among the features contributing to the fame and prestige of Oakland and Pontiac Sixes are the cross-flow radiator, Duo finish, four-wheel brakes, the rubber-silenced chassis, oil and fuel filters and air cleaner, crankcase ventilation and depressible beam headlights operated by foot control. The latest All-American Six also was the first car to bring the convertible landaulet, with a soft folding top over the rear quarter section, out of the custom-built car class.

This new body type also is incorporated in the latest Pontiac Six. Both makes of cars have seven body types in the line, the fourteen models offering distinctive style and performance at a price range of from $745 to $1,375 f. o. b. the factory.

Know Human Nature

"The newspaper profession demands that you know and understand human nature. You must understand character. You must learn how to approach people. Your personal appearance often determines whether or not you secure a story.

Grief and Pleasure

"There is much grief to the newspaper business, much pleasure. The scene is constantly changing. Something new is forever happening. That is why so many people remain at this profession rather than seeking more lucrative pursuits. I would not have you deceived about journalism. Know thoroughly what it is and what it does and then make your own decisions about entering upon it as a life profession."
