$72,500 SPENT FOR CATTLE IN HALL COUNTY

6,058 Head Purchased; More Is Being Listed Daily

When government purchases of drought stricken cattle was completed in Hall county yesterday, more than $72,500 had been spent with cattle raisers in the county, according to George Sagar, who is in charge of the cattle buying division of the county agent's office.

Exactly 500 head were purchased this week by the local office on orders received last week-end. Purchases this week brought the total number to 6,058 head, bought from approximately 600 farmers in the county.

Until buying began this week, $67,778 had been paid farmers in the county who were unable to feed live stock through the winter. Of the number bought to date almost 2,000 head have been condemned and killed. The balance have been shipped to government canning plants for slaughter or to eastern pastures. The meat canned is to be distributed among the needy families of the nation this winter through relief offices.

Between 2,000 and 2,500 head of "distressed stock" remains listed on local records for sale to the government, Mr. Sagar said this morning. Additional stock is being listed daily and local officials are doing everything possible to secure additional appropriations for this county. Of the number that remains listed, a large percentage will suffer from want of food unless they are bought on the government's emergency drought relief program, it is believed by Mr. Sagar.

Nineteen checks totaling $1,250 were received this morning by the County agent's office, in payment of cattle purchased on previous quotas. Checks in payment of cattle bought on the last quota will not arrive for some time yet, it has been pointed out.

Found Guilty in Ambush Slaying

CLEBURNE, Oct. 19.—A jury today convicted Ikey Weathered on a murder charge for the ambush killing of John Green, Cleburne filling station operator, last May.

The jury recommended eight years imprisonment.

A bullet from a high-powered rifle, fired from a creek bed near the station, hit Green's jaw.

The state claimed the difficulty Weathered had with Green the afternoon of the killing constituted a motive.

Negro Charged With Aggravated Assault

Charges of aggravated assault were filed in county court this morning against E. L. Buckler, alias Olantha Harris, negro, and a sentence of 60 days in jail was assessed by County Judge Jim Vallance.

The negro was charged with assault Wednesday night on Bobbie Heard, negro.

Youth Admits Hiding Child's Body in Furnace

Lawrence Clinton Stone (top), furnace man at an exclusive Mount Vernon, N. Y., apartment house, confessed to police that he placed the body of 5-year-old Nancy Jean Costigan (below) in the building's oil burner. His confession asserted she died when struck by a ball he threw at her in play.

Panic stricken after having killed 5-year-old Nancy Jean Costigan, Lawrence Stone, 24, is said to have confessed placing her body in furnace of the building in which she was visiting relatives in Mount Vernon, N. Y. A detective is shown examining the fire box of the oil burning furnace in which her cremated bones were found.

FORCED CATTLE SALES STUDIED

Farm Administration Working On Feed Procurement Program To Aid Cattlemen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—In an effort to check forced sales of cattle throughout the drought-hit west, the farm administration today worked on a feed procurement program which officials predicted would be completed by Monday or Tuesday.

Plans under discussion included the probable heavy purchase of feed concentrates—because officials have about concluded attempts at movement of large quantities of loose feeds into range areas, such as Texas, would be impracticable—and the possible importance of feed.

The Administration was known to be anxious for speedy inauguration of the program because of shortages of feedstuffs which a spokesman said might result unless action came quickly, in such heavy forced sales of livestock as to leave important areas without foundation stock and also to injure the market.

The fact the availability of concentrated feeds is under special survey became known as AAA of- (Continued on page 8)

Claims Evidence Shows Hauptmann Was in New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The defense counsel expressed confidence today that new evidence tending to support Bruno Hauptmann's alibi "will place Hauptmann in New York during the day and night of the kidnaping" of the Lindbergh baby.

The defense, however, is uncertain what will have to be done to introduce new evidence it hopes will prevent Hauptmann's removal to New Jersey to face an indictment charging murder of the infant.

Evidence, discovered since Hauptmann lost a habeas corpus fight in the Bronx County Supreme court, purports to show that Hauptmann worked at his trade as a carpenter in New York until 5 p. m. on the day of the kidnaping.

MARIBOR, Yugoslavia, Oct. 19.—Unconfirmed reports from a usually reliable source said today that Yugoslavia was concentrating troops along the Hungarian border.

Neutral observers here regarded the situation along the Hungarian-Yugoslav frontier as "dangerous".

Four former opponents of the regime of King Alexander were freed today from the government ban against them.

The release was viewed as inaugurating a "new deal" in Yugoslavia's internal policy.

The present feeling between Yugoslavia and Hungary was climaxed after the assassination of King Alexander at Marseille, France.

Yugoslavia accused the latter country of harboring the band of terrorists upon whom blame for the assassination has been placed.

One Dead, Another Hurt in Explosion

BRECKENRIDGE, Oct. 17.—One man is dead and another is in the hospital in a critical condition from burns received here yesterday in an explosion at the Lono Star Company plant.

Herbert Shahan, repairman, was so badly burned he died at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, eight hours after the accident. L. A. Eubanks, engineer, is in the hospital here so seriously burned that physicians give him little chance of recovery.

The explosion occurred when gas vapors exploded, it was believed. A portion of the plant was wrecked.

Denver Railroad Re-Opens Lines

AMARILLO, Oct. 19.—Rail and telephone service, which was interrupted between Amarillo and Channing by a heavy downpour along the Canadian River Wednesday afternoon, was back to normal last night.

Fort Worth and Denver Railway employees yesterday rushed repairs on four bridges which were damaged by the flood waters.

"Every train is going over the usual routes on time," was the report.

Pharmacist Is Heir To 50-Cent Fortune

PECOS, Oct. 19.—Joe Hinson, Pecos pharmacist, waked up the other morning and found himself an heir.

A great-grandfather at Weatherford had left an estate years ago and it was finally being settled.

Joe's share was an 8.448th part of the estimated $4,200 estate, or, in round figures, about 50 cents.

Robbers Give Discount to Preacher Victim

BLACKWELL, Okla., Oct. 18.—The Rev. W. T. Templin of Jenks obtained a discount from three robbers near here Wednesday, he revealed Thursday.

Mr. Templin said he was driving to the Methodist conference here when he was hailed by a woman hitchhiker, whom he gave a lift. Shortly thereafter the woman held him up and was joined by two men companions.

When he protested that he was a minister the trio returned $5 of the $15 they had taken.

All-Around World Champion Will Compete in Armistice Rodeo Here

When the American Legion's Armistice rodeo is staged here on November 10 and 11, people of this territory will have the privilege of seeing some of the most famous riders, ropers and bulldozers in the United States.

The list of entrants, which is expected to range from 15 to 25 in each event, will be headed by Jonas De Arman, the world's champion all-around cowboy

Has High Average
De Arman won this title last year at the world championship rodeo at Burwell, Neb., last year. He was awarded the title because of his high average in all events as well as his apparent ability as a proficient cowhand.

Born at Sayre, Okla., De Arman became a cowboy almost as soon as he could walk, spending most of his time in the saddle, until by the time he was grown he was thoroughly acquainted with horses and cattle and all their habits.

Holds Many Titles
He became a rodeo contestant and has won probably as many titles as any other cowboy. He has carried off honors everywhere from Fort Worth to Burwell and from the Pacific coast to New York.

Another outstanding rodeo performer is Odus Kiddle, who hails from Odell. He was with Tex Austin when he carried a wild west show to England to shock (Continued on page 8)

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

by CARLETON KENDRAKE

CHARLES MORDEN, reporter for The Blade, telephones his newspaper an exclusive story about FRANK B. CATHAY of Riverview, wealthy and prominent, brought to police headquarters on suspicion of driving while intoxicated and accompanied by a pretty young woman who calls herself MARY BRIGGS, hitch-hiker.

Next day it is learned that the man was an impostor. The real Cathay demands damages and a retraction. DAN BLEEKER, junior publisher of The Blade, convinced that "something is fishy," sends Morden to Riverview to learn all he can about Cathay. MRS CATHAY calls on Bleeker and asks him to come to the Palace hotel for a conference with her husband's lawyer, CHARLES FISHER. Bleeker goes. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VI Mrs. Cathay's face remained expressionless but the shoulders of her coat rose and fell as she heaved a deep sigh. Bleeker held the door open for her. She swept through the outer office, chin high in the air, eyes straight ahead. "Palace hotel?" Bleeker asked. "The Palace hotel," she said. "I have a car with a chauffeur." In silence they entered the huge elevator which swayed slowly down to the street level. Bleeker held the outer door of the office building open for Mrs. Cathay. A liveried chauffeur was standing beside a shiny black sedan. He opened the door with the snappy precision of a soldier on drill. Bleeker's eyes flashed to the man's face. It was a handsome face and there was something ruthless about it, the arrogant pride of one who is only too conscious of his power. The expression of the face was in strange contrast to the marked military bearing. Mrs. Cathay stepped lightly to the running board. Bleeker didn't bother with the formality of assisting her to enter the car but, when she had entered, dropped to the cushions beside her. The chauffeur regarded Mrs. Cathay with a glance of steady inquiry. She raised her eyes to his and gave an almost imperceptible nod of the head. The chauffeur smiled, a smile which was a mere upturning of the lip corners. The eyes did not change expression. Then the chauffeur slammed the door shut, squirmed in beside the steering wheel, started the car, and without a word of audible instruction drove directly to the Palace hotel. Crossing the lobby, Mrs. Cathay seemed agreeably conscious of the admiring eyes which followed her. She went directly to the elevators, entered the cage and stood very erect against the paneled side of the elevator. Bleeker entered, removed his hat. The cage door slammed shut. "Eighth floor, please," said Mrs. Cathay, and the cage shot smoothly upward with Mrs. Cathay's eyes fixed rigidly upon the glistening panels of the elevator, her figure held stiff and motionless.

When the cage stopped Mrs. Cathay led the way, without a single backward glance, to room 894. She tapped lightly with her gloved knuckles.

The door of the hotel room was opened by a tall individual whose gray eyes peered in eager expectation at Dan Bleeker. "You brought him," the man said, and there was unmistakable relief in his voice.

Bleeker nodded, followed Mrs. Cathay into the room, turned to face the big man who was closing and locking the door. "Well?" he asked.

"It was very nice of you to come," said the man in a booming voice, which had apparently been carefully cultivated to convey an atmosphere of impressive dignity.

He was a ponderous figure, somewhere in the forties. He was heavily fleshed and his shoulders sagged forward, as though most of his work had been done over a desk.

"I," he said, "am Charles Fisher, senior partner of the firm of Fisher, Barr and McReady, with offices in the First National bank at Riverview. We handle all of Mr. Cathay's legal work. Won't you please be seated, Mr. Bleeker?"

Mrs. Cathay walked to the full-length mirror, surveyed herself quietly, turned and without a glance at Bleeker, walked through a passage into an adjoining room. Her manner was that of one whose work has been done.

"I'll stand," Bleeker said.

"But you understand," Fisher went on, in his heavy ponderous manner, "the situation is one which may perhaps call for rather extended discussion, Mr. Bleeker. Certainly you would hardly expect a matter of this gravity to be disposed of in a few words. I think from a legal standpoint you will readily agree..."

"Just what do you want?" Bleeker asked.

"Mr. Cathay," said Fisher gravely, "is a very important individual in Riverview. Perhaps he sometimes overestimates his importance. That is, however, neither here nor there, nor should I care to be quoted. He has quite a bit of pride, and when he has once reached a decision he is very much inclined to stay..."

"I've heard all that before," Bleeker said.

Fisher frowned. A swift flush or rage appeared on his countenance, and then he smiled slowly and gravely.

"Of course," he said, "I didn't know just what extent Mrs. Cathay had gone into the preliminaries."

"Consider that the preliminaries are all over with," Bleeker said, standing with his feet wide apart, his black smoky eyes staring steadily into the gray eyes of the big man who hulked above him. "Get down to brass tacks. What's what?"

Fisher sighed.

"I am prepared to advise my client," he said, "to withdraw any libel suits and give you a complete release in return for your assurance that a retraction will be published by the newspaper."

Bleeker's voice was crisp, his manner truculent. "We'll publish this sort of a retraction," he said, "and no other. We'll publish a statement to the effect that The Blade has discovered the man who gave the name of Cathay at police headquarters was an impostor. A pickpocket who had stolen Cathay's wallet, and chose to masquerade under Cathay's name. We will publish it prominently, not as a retraction, but as an additional development that has been uncovered through the

Company Head Compliments The Democrat

The Memphis Democrat was the recipient yesterday of an unusual tribute from B. D.
 Brown of Lawton, Okla., manager of the Am-Bro Company, manufacturers of Brown's Lotion.
 When Mr. Brown called on Tarver's Pharmacy, local dealers for Brown's Lotion, he told the Tarver brothers that The Democrat was a "champion" in the territory he covers.
 "Your home paper," he said,
 "is the best newspaper for a town of Memphis' size in my entire territory, which embraces five states. I find it has greater reader interest than any newspaper we do business with and the results from our advertising are better per capita than in any other town where Brown's Lotion is sold."

Aromatic Turkish tobacco

On the sunny slopes of Smyrna . . . in the fertile fields of Macedonia . . . from the shores of the Black Sea . . . that's where the best kinds grow . .
 the kinds used in making Chesterfields.

THERE are about as many kinds of Turkish tobacco as there are kinds of apples—but they all have a spicy aroma and flavor which seems to "season" a cigarette better than any other kind that grows.
 The right Turkish is costly—but it adds something to Chesterfield's milder better taste.

When you go on your next cruise, stop at Smyrna and visit our tobacco factory. We think you will find it interesting.

WELL, MR. FRECKLES MFGOOSEY IT WOULD BE JUST TOO BAD IF YOU DIDN'T PASS THAT EXAM! BECAUSE IF YOU DIDN'T YOUR FOOTBALL CAREER WOULD BE ALL SHOT TO PIECES! AND, WOULDN'T THAT BE A SHAME!!

FAMOUS FOOTBALL FEATS!
ONE of the greatest runs ever seen in football involved Jack Elder. The Irish were playing Army in New York in 1929. There had been no score in the first period. In the second, with Notre Dame deep in its own territory, Frank Carideo punted. Perry, Army tackle, blocked the kick on the 13-yard stripe. Johnny Murrell tried the line on the first play, but was stopped. Chris Cagle couldn't pick up much at right tackle. On the next play, Cagle took the ball from center and faded over to the right. He heaved a pass to Messenger, but Elder was there first—right on the three-yard line. Ninety-seven yards he sprinted down the side of the field, almost on the sideline, and never stopped until he had scored. Notre Dame won, 7-0.

Officials carried on communications with a number of processors. It was explained the administration wants to spot quickly the largest supplies of concentrates in sections relatively close to the worst of the drought sections, and thus to be able to direct movements without delay when the program is ready to go into operation.

They are presented. Stating they are sure everyone attending will have an evening of good entertainment, the directors are hoping for a capacity crowd. It is the first time that three one-act plays have taken the place of the usual three-act production here. This "one-act play" night, however, has met with success elsewhere. Admission prices will be 10 and 25 cents.

Tells 'How It Was Done' While Eating Venison

Celebrating a successful deer hunt in Colorado, Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Boaz entertained a number of people Thursday night at a venison dinner in the Memphis Hotel. The affair afforded an excellent opportunity for hunters to exchange yarns and for lovers of venison to get their "fill" of deliciously prepared roast.

Dr. Boaz told his guests "how it was done," and Mrs. Boaz and Mr. and Mrs. Ed House, his companions on the trip, corroborated his statements for the most part. Several others made short talks. Following the banquet, many of the couples enjoyed dancing until a late hour.

Those present were: C. E. Bentley, Mrs. Mary Jo Cunningham, Bill Gerlach, Jr., Ed Foxhall, Lyman E. Robbins, Bill Beckum, Miss Irene Christopher, Golfrey Greenwood, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Offield, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Tarver, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foxhall, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Vinson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed House, Mr. and Mrs. John Lamkin, E. D. Lindsey, Louis Wheat, E. A. Thomas, W. M. Owens, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mayes and Dr. and Mrs. Boaz.

BY MARY ELLEN NELSON Cecil Stargel, of Amarillo, spent the latter part of last week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Stargel, and other relatives here.

The P. T. A. met Friday afternoon for the first time since school started. Officers elected were: Mrs. J. T. Nelson, president; Mrs. Mamie Moss, vice-president, and Mrs. Libby Snowden, re-elected secretary and treasurer.

School was dismissed Friday for an indefinite time.

A large number attended prayer meeting Friday night with Rev. Keith as leader.

Rev. Barber, of Plaska, preached here Sunday morning and night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Landis and Mr. and Mrs. John Perkins motored to Hollis, Okla., Sunday to attend an all-day singing convention.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Nelson of Amarillo visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Nelson Sunday afternoon.

A number of young people enjoyed a birthday party Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Perkins, honoring their niece, Miss Edna Stewart. Miss Stewart received many nice gifts. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served.

The Mothers club met with Mrs. Wade Patrick Monday afternoon and quilted her a quilt.
