World Traveler, Conducting Bible Lectures Here, Tells of Easter Time Observances in Holy Land

By H. PARKER DUNLOP

It was my rare privilege to be in the Holy Land this time last year and to see reenacted the betrayal, trial, crucifixion, and the resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ, which I will try to describe in this special article.

It is Thursday night, the anniversary of the betrayal of Jesus; so come with me through the streets of Jerusalem, and we will follow the wall down past the east side of the city, and go across the Brook Kidron into the Garden Geth-semone on the Mt. of Olives, where Jesus was often wanted to go to pray. Here with the disciples He comes, and, taking Peter, James, and John, He moves into the darkness to pray. "Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me," He says, realizing the awful agony the cross would bring him.

Suddenly, as I sit there thinking, a great crowd of men comes into the Garden. By the light of their torches, I can see the head-dress of the priests, their long beards, and the soldiers, and the rabble who were seeking Jesus, to arrest Him. Judas comes forward, and with a kiss betrays his Master. The soldiers shackle Jesus and lead Him down the mountain, then up the other side, through St. Stephens gate, on the way to the High Priest's house, and I follow along the same road. In the darkness I brush against a figure and he curses me, and I say, "Is it Judas and has he already gone mad?"

The Sanhedrin had their plans already accomplished with only a mock trial. Next Jesus is hustled off to the court of Pilate, who wishes only to please the Jews, and he is willing to let them crucify another Jew if it will make his political job more secure.

Here at Pilate's judgment hall, the people cry out, "Crucify Him, Crucify Him," and with Pilate saying, "Take ye Him and crucify Him, for I find no fault in Him at all," the mob goes wild with excitement. The soldiers put a mock robe of royalty upon Him, plait a crown of thorns for His brow, and make sport of Him and his king, saying, "Hail, King of the Jews." Then He, bearing his cross, proceeds along the "Via Dolorosa," the way of sorrow, to Golgotha, the place of the heavy cross, and a negro is forced to help Him carry it.

As He ascends Calvary, I see the red poppies blooming along the way, speaking of His blood to be shed for the sins of the beloved. Here they lay Him out upon his cross and nail His sacred hands to the bars. And then lifting it up, with a dull thud it falls into the rocky crevice, and for six long hours Christ hangs there upon the cross bearing your sins and mine upon His own body on the tree. It is all so real to me as I look upon that green hill and follow that cruel crowd, and with fiendish delight they crucify the Lord of glory. Nature weeps and darkness covers the face of the earth in loving sympathy with Jesus and His suffering.

The soldiers, sure that He is dead, turn His body over to the tender, loving hands of the women and Joseph of Arimathea, who has offered his new tomb for the final resting place of our Saviour. This grave is a rock-hewn cave carved out of the side of Golgotha, and today one can see it in all its realistic condition. Here the body of Jesus is tenderly placed and the great rock, like a big grindstone, is rolled in front of the tomb, and the sad mourners go home.

On Easter morning, a great while before dawn, I hurriedly dress and go to "Gordon's Tomb," as the grave is now called. I want to be the first person there, but as I enter the gate, the women are coming also, and I follow them down the pathway to the tomb. Mary is saying, "Who will roll away the stone?" Arriving at the grave, to our surprise, the rock is rolled away and an angel says, "Why seek ye the living among the dead? He is not here. He is risen; go tell the disciples that He will go before them into Galilee." They do not understand his words, for great fear fills their souls. Seeing the empty tomb, they turn away with aching hearts.

Mary stays by the tomb. Soon, in the darkness I see the form of a man with radiant glory overshadowing His humanity. And it is Christ with His new spiritual body, and He stands transfixed before my wondering eyes. He says, "Mary," and she throws herself before His feet and cries, "Master." He tells her to go and tell the disciples and Peter. And away she runs up the path brushing past me shouting, "He is risen. He is risen."

Next, I see John and Peter in their famous foot race to the tomb after Mary tells them the good news of Christ's resurrection. John cautiously looks into the tomb, and seeing the grave clothes lying in their place, he believes that Christ has risen from the dead. Bold Peter next comes pushing into the tomb to satisfy his curiosity, and he also becomes a "Disciple of the Empty Tomb." (Continued on page 4)

Do you want to SAVE MONEY?

The Standard Ford V-8, with 60-horsepower engine, gives you a lot of car for a little money. 300,000 new owners acclaimed the "thrifty 60" last year. Hundreds a day are buying it in 1938. Why? Because it is priced low—includes essential equipment without extra charge—and goes farther between filling stations than any Ford car ever built. Owners all over the report averages of 22 to 27 miles per single gallon of gasoline. But economy isn't all the story means. The Standard "60" is built to the same precision as the De Luxe and has the same 112-inch wheelbase chassis. It is easy to look at and as well as easy to buy and drive. NEW DRAPER GROCERY TO HOLD OPENING

Public Invited to All-Day Celebration Here Saturday

Formal opening of the Draper Grocery in its new location at 522 Noel street will be held Saturday with an all-day celebration.

During the day, White Swan coffee, White Swan ranch style beans, Armour's Star sandwiches and Merchant's cookies will be served free to all visitors in the store.

The grocery, managed by M. J. Draper, last week moved from its old location on the north side of the square where it had been operated for more than two years, to the former site of the Crawford Grocery on the southwest corner of the square.

The new store will continue to carry a complete line of fancy and staple groceries. A meat market and new cream station have also been installed for the convenience of patrons.

Mr. Draper believes that he is now better equipped to serve his customers than ever before, and invites the public to inspect the new facilities and to enjoy the features of Saturday's formal opening.

Number of Trench Silos Increasing

The number of trench silos filled in Texas during 1937 as officially reported by county agricultural agents was 9,483, according to E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, who said that unreported silos would bring the number up to well over ten thousand.

The silos contain 711,525 tons of feed, or an average of slightly over 75 tons per silo. Silage is valued at from $3 to $6 a ton in accordance with the type of feed used.

In addition to the standard feeds, such as corn and the sorghums, which are usually stored in trench silos, Eudaly cited many instances where farmers had used the trenches to save frost bitten crops and sprouted grain. Russian chistles, sweet potato vines, johnson grass, broom corn, prickly pear with dry fodder, cotton stalks, and similar crops have been successfully made into silage in short crop years.

A recent report from Frank Brunnenman, county agricultural agent of Cameron County, stated that grapefruit rinds had been placed into a trench silo. This use of the by-products of citrus canneries, which is normally wasted, is considered especially interesting in view of recent tests which have shown that grapefruit rinds have the same food value as best pulp.

The use of trench silos has practically doubled each year since 1930, when only 12 trenches were filled. The low initial cost of the silos, ease of filling and feeding from them, and their adaptability to any number of animals, is largely responsible for the increase, Eudaly said. Farmers and ranchmen are also becoming aware of the need for reserves of feed, and nothing fills their need like the trench silo, which in addition to being economical, is rat, insect, fire, and flood proof, and will hold silage for indefinite periods, he pointed out. A trench silo contest sponsored by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce is expected to result in expansion in that section.

Wheat Prices Below Parity 12 Years

Wheat has been consistently below parity price for the past 12 years according to W. E. Morgan, economist of the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College. This means that a bushel of wheat, when sold, will buy less than a similar bushel bought back in the years 1910-1914.

Under the new farm act commodity loans will be offered wheat farmers to enable them to hold their wheat when the regular markets will not absorb it. The loans on wheat will be made in years when the farm price on June 15 is below 52 per cent of the parity price, or when the July crop estimate is greater than a normal year's domestic consumption and exports.

Had the new farm act been in force, loans would have been made in all the years since 1923 except in 1925, 1933, 1934, and 1936.

Under the act, loans will be made at rates of not less than 52 per cent and not more than 75 per cent of the parity price at the beginning of the marketing year.

CARDUI

In this modern time something wonderfully worth while can be done for practically every woman who suffers from functional pains of menstruation. Certain cases can be relieved by taking Cardui. Others may need a physician's treatment.

Cardui has two widely demonstrated uses: (1) To ease the immediate pain and nervousness of the monthly period; and (2) to aid in building up the whole system by helping women to get more strength from their food.

Mrs. Fred Swift, Mrs. Theodore Swift and son Ted spent Sunday in Quitaque with Mrs. Fred Swift's daughter, Mrs. Clyde Powell.

BEAUTY...

The Illustration

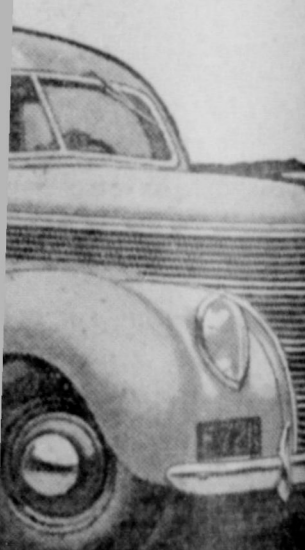

San José is properly acclaimed one of the most inspiring and beautiful of ancient edifices, where the art of the Old World mingles with that of the New. It was founded in 1720, but not completed until 1731. Recent restoration gives a good idea of its original magnificence.

Beauty was interwoven with practicality in the building of San José, gem of all the Texas missions . . . Coffee, too, serves a double purpose. A delightful beverage in itself, it has a mildly stimulating quality that brings relief from fatigue. Admiration Coffee is roasted to just the right degree to preserve the essential oils that give this "lift," and its oven-freshness assures against staleness. Try Admiration today. World Traveler

Soon the startling news spreads all over Jerusalem, and great throngs of people are coming to the tomb to see the great sight. Who had ever heard of a body being resurrected from the dead? Now the sun is rising over the Sacred City, and the church bells are ringing out the glad news. The birds, the flowers, the people are all joyous as again we see enacted the glad first Easter news, "He is risen, He is risen." And the people all shout back, "The Lord is risen indeed." And now the glad news echoes around the world, and on this glad Easter day, we all shout, "The Lord is risen; the Lord is risen, indeed."

That afternoon after a glorious Easter service in the Scotch Presbyterian church, I went down by the Brook Kidron up on the top of the Mt. of Olives to the very spot where forty days after His resurrection Jesus led his disciples. And the record tells us that as He blessed them, He was taken up into a cloud from them into heaven, and the angel said, "This same Jesus whom you have seen going into heaven will come again in like manner."

There I stood on that ground and looking into the heavens I said, "Will this be His crowning day? He went up physically and visibly, and in like manner He is to return." And my joyous soul cries out, "Even so come, Lord Jesus!"

Jesus said, "Because I live ye shall live also. I am the resurrection and the life. He that liveth and believeth in me shall never die." This is the glad hope of the child of God and today we renew our faith in such a blessed hope, and we look for His return, for the prophet Zechariah says in his fourteenth chapter, "His feet shall touch again the Mt. of Olives." Thus I too as a "Disciple of the Empty Tomb" and I too have that blessed hope of the personal, visible return of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Expenses incurred for trustee elections in common school districts April 2 are to be paid out of the county general fund and not out of the school funds of the districts as heretofore, a letter received by the county superintendent from the State Department of Education Tuesday morning advised.

CHURCHES

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Thursday night before Easter marks the latest anniversary of Jesus' establishment of "The Last Supper." In memory of that occasion our church will have a prayer meeting and communion service at 8 p. m., April 14, in the church's "Upper Room." Both friends and members of the church are invited to be present.

In keeping with Easter, the most important date in the Christian calendar, our Sunday morning service will be on "The Resurrection and the Life." There is every evidence that Jesus never desired to make a sheer exhibition of His power. He was interested in something far higher than mere showmanship. So often we think of the resurrection as nothing more than the most spectacular news story in history. Attend some church Sunday and try to discover some of the rich meaning Jesus gave to the "Resurrection."

If you want to re-read the Easter Story, turn to the last chapter of Luke.

JOE FINDLEY, Minister.

CHURCH OF CHRIST
W. M. Davis, Minister

At the morning service next Sunday the minister will have for his subject, "Holding Fast to the Profession of Faith." And at the evening service the subject will be, "Trying to Live by Bread Alone." Men have lost their balance in life because they have been living only on one side of themselves. They are fat on one side and lean on the other. Men and women are happy in life when there is an even balance between the physical and the spiritual.

The Sunday morning Bible school will begin at 9:45 o'clock. On Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 the women's Bible class will meet for study. The mid-week service is held Wednesday at 7:45 p. m.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday morning the pastor will bring the Easter message on "Risen with Christ." Sunday evening the subject will be, "The Life Beyond Death." We are hoping that everybody will go to church somewhere on Easter Sunday. May you get a blessing that you will want to renew each Sunday during the remainder of the year.

Our Sunday school and B. T. U. have a big place for you. We trust you will find that place and fill it to the best of your ability.

The Y. W. A. of the church is sponsoring an Easter sunrise service on top of the mound, east of the Salisbury school house. Everyone is invited and those who will go are asked to meet at the church rot later than 5:15 a. m. All who can should bring cars. May we all pray for wonderful services throughout the day.

Sale of Savings Bonds Shows Gain

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has announced that the total maturity value of United States Savings Bonds sold through the close of business March 7, 1938, amounted to $1,584,462,875. This total was purchased by more than 1,260,000 investors, and represents an average sale for each business day since March 1, 1935, when these bonds were first sold, of $1,720,375.

The local post office reports an increase in sale of bonds for 1937 of 500 per cent over 1936. Purchasers of bonds at this office prefer the $25 and $100 units, purchased for investment purposes and to accumulate a fund for school and college expenses for children, young men, and young aldiies in later years, according to Postmaster J. Henry Read.

Among the features of the bonds most frequently influencing their purchase are safety, the constant availability of the funds and the fact that Savings Bonds increase 33 1-3 per cent in value if held for ten years. The redemption feature, which eliminates any chance of loss to the investor, appeals to all purchasers.

TO SET DATE FOR TESTS IN STANDARDIZED SCHOOLS

Rural school teachers of the county are to meet with County Superintendent Vera Tops Gilreath next Tuesday or Wednesday to set the dates for the seventh grade standardized tests and those for the other rural grades. The seventh grade tests will probably be held before the others, because of the seventh grade graduation exercises on May 10.
