C. of C. Selects New Directors

Two new directors for the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, Carl Harrison and Byron Baldwin, were elected to serve during the coming year by members of the civic organization in secret balloting last week. The other ten directors were re-elected. Harrison and Baldwin succeeded J. C. Wells and S. T. Harrison. Mr. Harrison died several months ago after serving as one of the directors for a number of years. Re-elected were T. M. Potts, J. E. King, George R. Cullin, Bascom Davenport, F. N. Foxhall, Roy R. Fultz, Otis F. Jones, O. V. Alexander, R. S. Greene, and E. E. Roberts. Officers for the coming year will be selected by the directors in the near future, and will be announced at the banquet, to be held February 10. More plans for the banquet were made this week, Carroll Smyers, chamber of commerce manager, said. The banquet program, he emphasized, will be "short and snappy," and will not last more than one hour and 50 minutes. "We want this banquet to be a streamlined, new deal affair," he said, "to allow more time for the speaker." Principal speaker will be James S. Allen, regional director for the cotton and food stamp programs in 13 southern states. Mr. Allen has already accepted the invitation to make the address. It will be his first visit to this city. The food for the banquet, which will be held in the Memphis High School gymnasium, is to be prepared by members of local P.-T. A. units, Smyers said. Tickets for the banquet at $1 each can be bought at the office of the chamber of commerce. A number have already been sold, the first to Dudley Adams of Lesley, Smyers said. Reservations for tickets should be made early, since space is limited, he added. Otis Jones, A. S. Burks, and Brown McMurry are in charge of ticket sales over the county.

Gridiron Schedule For 1941 to Follow Pattern of 1940's

The Memphis Cyclone gridmen will play their opponents on almost the same dates as last year, although the site of each of the games will be reversed. This decision was made when members of the District 3-A football committee met last week in Wellington. The committee decided that the same pattern of dates would be followed, and the sites reversed. J. L. Beard, superintendent of the Wellington schools, was named chairman of the committee. He replaces H. T. Burton of Clarendon, who served as district chairman during the 1940 season. Another important decision was made concerning tie games between district teams. All games which end in ties will be decided by penetrations, yardage, or first downs. In the past all tied 3-A tilts have counted half a game won and half lost. Selected committee members were F. L. Mize of Lefors and the retiring chairman, Mr. Burton. J. L. Gilmore of Wheeler and C. A. (Continued on page 4)

Volunteers Leave - 'BUT TAIN'T FUNNY, McGEE'

Representing the American Legion was O. V. Alexander, post commander, who told the boys they would make better soldiers than those of the World War because they would be better trained. Then H. D. Delaney led the spectators in singing "America," and most everyone joined in. Superintendent W. C. Davis made the main speech on the program, pointing out what democracy means to the people and what the people mean to a democracy. W. J. Bragg, chairman of the local draft board, introduced the men who were leaving, and each of the men came forward and faced the spectators. To close the program the band played the "Star-Spangled Banner" and part of the people sang. Rev. S. F. Martin gave the benediction. Altogether, Mom, it was a rather touching program. There was nothing funny about it. Everyone who was there was sincere, or he wouldn't have been there, for the weather was slightly chilly. As a matter of fact, Mom, there is nothing funny about going off to take military training. It is too much of a shadow of the possible future. Don't you agree? Just, N. B. Tweenage.

SPEAKER—James S. Allen of Dallas, regional director of the food and cotton stamp plans, who will be the principal speaker at the chamber of commerce banquet here February 10. The first program, held last fall, proved to be beneficial, County Agent W. B. Hooser said, and a total of 525 mattresses were made by families classed in the low income bracket. Applications for receiving materials for making the mattresses were started in December in the second program, which is to be of a much larger scale than that of the first. More than two thousand mattresses will be made, Mr. Hooser said. The federal government, thru the Surplus Commodities Corporation, is also sponsoring a cotton comfort program, which is to be started in Hall County in the near future. A large number of families have applied for the comforts, the county agent said, and the first order for materials was sent in Monday.

Allen Is Director Of Stamp Plans in Southern States

Administrator to Be Main Speaker at 22nd Annual C. of C. Banquet in City
James S. Allen, regional director of the surplus marketing administration who will be the principal speaker at the 22nd annual chamber of commerce banquet here February 10, is administrator of the food and cotton stamp plans in 13 southern states. His headquarters are at Dallas. The administrator was associated with the U. S. Department of Agriculture prior to the inauguration of the food stamp plan May 15, 1939. Since that time, he has been connected with the new method of distributing surplus products to the needy. West Texas and the Panhandle is fortunate in having Mr. Allen as a visitor, Carroll Smyers, chamber of commerce manager, said this week. Not only is he an authority on the expansion of the food and cotton stamp plans, but he is also in close contact with national affairs in Washington and will be one of the factors in solving the problems confronting the American farmer as a result of the collapse of world markets. Mr. Allen is a speaker of unusual ability, possesses a magnetic voice, and always has a supply of pertinent information, the chamber of commerce official said.

Faculty Ramblers Didn't Know About Goal Shot Hobbs

So Expert 'Ring-Master' Leads Red Heads to Win in Basketball Tilt Here
The Faculty Ramblers said last week they were determined to defeat the All-American Red Heads, girls' professional team, but they hadn't figured on having to compete with a perfect goal shot. Anyway, that's what happened when the girls played the all-stars last Friday night in the Memphis High School gymnasium. The score, incidentally, ended 41 to 37 in favor of the girls. Only a few times during the entire game were the men able to get ahead. The Red Heads were ahead at the end of each of the four periods—8 to 4 at the end of the first quarter, 22 to 20 at the half, 32 to 31 at the close of the third quarter, and 41 to 37 when the game was over. It was a close game, however, and got a bit rough at times. The girls had a large number of fouls chalked up against them, but the men (one of the spectators said they were just being nice) had only two fouls called against them. The Red Heads tied few close. 22,205 Bales Are Ginned in County

A total of 22,205 bales of cotton has been ginned in Hall County from the 1940 crop prior to January 16, C. Lee Rushing, special agent of the Department of Commerce reported this week. The figure is far above that of 1939, when only 13,244 bales had been ginned at the same date. Observers believe that the total ginnings in the county will reach 25,000 when all cotton has been gathered and brought to gins.

--Proclamation--

Due to world conditions, the products grown on the farms and in the orchards and gardens of America do not find a ready sale. As a result there are great surpluses of many food products going to waste, and producers are having to operate on reduced finances. The Federal Government has been buying surplus food commodities and dispensing to people of reduced circumstances. For the past year in Hall County the Surplus Commodities Corporation has been disposing of surplus foods through the stamp plan, and is extending the plan to many other sections of the county. Now, it has been found that the surplus foods are wholesome, not high in price, and make a balanced diet. They are on sale at all grocery stores in the county. The list consists of the following: Grapefruit, oranges, apples, pears, onions (except green), Irish potatoes, butter, raisins, rice, pork lard, (except container packed), corn meal, shell eggs, dried prunes, hominy (corn) grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour, and whole wheat (Graham) flour. All of these can be bought with blue stamps, or by the people at large. In order to aid the producers, it is deemed wise and proper that the people of this section use more of the surplus foods. By authority vested in me as Mayor of the City of Memphis I do hereby proclaim the week of February 7 to February 14 as Buy Surplus Foods Week, and call upon all citizens to buy more surplus foods. J. C. WELLS, Mayor.

Soil Specialists To Meet in City With Committee

Two soil conservation specialists will be in Memphis February 7 to meet with the land-use planning committee and discuss the organization of the soil conservation district, recently approved by Hall County landowners. The meeting will begin at 9:30 o'clock, it was announced, and C. Hohn, soil specialist of the state extension service, and Berry Marshall, state SCS consultant, will speak. Instructions on how to set up the organization will be given, it was explained. The local land-use planning committee has already recommended two men as supervisors of the district here. A county-wide election will be held to select three others to form the five-man body to direct the program.

Men Will Leave Memphis February 7 for Lubbock; Several Volunteers Left

Almost on the eve of the departure of 14 men from Hall County under the provisions of the U. S. Selective Service Act, a third call—one for four men—has been made. W. J. Bragg, local draft board chairman, announced this week. The four men to be selected to fill the quota will leave Memphis February 6, to report at the nearest induction center, Lubbock, on the following day. They will be sent to military training camps from there. Since a total of 17 men who have volunteered are left, the quota of four will be easily filled, and several volunteers will remain to apply on the fourth call. The fourteen men who left Memphis last Thursday were all volunteers, as were the first four men who left in November. A number of other cities, however, have failed to have a sufficient number of volunteers and have had to draft men to fill their quotas. Those leaving last week were Alton Arzo Vaughn, Orvil Ray Weddel, Fred Pershing Musgrove, Raymond Prescott Kerr, William Paul Moore, Malcolm Nichols Holland, Loman Wallace Henry, James Arlie Lyles, G. D. Rich, James Ernest Carter, Eddie Leon Mixon, J. Leamon Bourland, John Melton Ward, and Curtis Leo Richardson. A program was given for the (Continued on page 4)

Memphis Receives 22 of Inch Rainfall in Light Showers

Rest of Week's Weather Remains Steady; Mercury Low of Week 24 Degrees

The showers began Wednesday from light clouds, although the clouds became heavier. This morning, heavy clouds were still hanging over Memphis, and more rainfall seemed probable. The rest of the weather for the week has on a rather steady basis, with the nights cool and the days fairly warm. Sunshine has been present almost every day. Coldest temperature during the past week was recorded last Saturday and Sunday nights, when the mercury dropped to the 24-degree mark. Nylon Hosiery Also Requires Delicate Type of Washing Perfection of nylon has added another to the list of hosiery types requiring delicate laundering, says Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, Extension Service specialist in clothing for Texas A. and M. College.

Makers of the new fabric stress that it should be handled in the wash in the same way as silk, rayon, and wool. Nylon, however, has two individual peculiarities; the soil washes off rather than out, and it usually dries very quickly.

For all types of stockings, excepting cotton or mercerized cotton, the rule is to dissolve mild soap in hot water, then let in enough cold to reduce the water to lukewarm or body temperature. Swish the stockings around gently after immersion, rubbing only lightly if rubbing is needed. Turn the stockings inside out and repeat the swishing. Squeeze out rinse repeatedly in water of the same temperature as the original suds.

"Stockings will look much more attractive when dry if they are eased back to shape before drying," the specialist advises. In drying, it is advisable to hang them from the reinforced part of the foot, unless the often used method of drying them flat upon a towel is preferred.

Roosevelt Begins Third Term at Historic Ceremonies

History was made in Washington as Franklin D. Roosevelt became the nation's first third term President in a round of inaugural activity. At left, President Roosevelt is pictured above the eagle-crested great seal of the U. S., as he made his inaugural address. At top, Henry A. Wallace took his oath of office as vice president from retiring Vice President John Garner, with President Roosevelt (behind Wallace) and Capt. James Roosevelt, wearing his marine reserve uniform, looking on. Tanks a-plenty, pictured rolling down Pennsylvania Avenue from the capitol, took part in the parade of U. S. military might that followed the inauguration.

Webster to Sell Goodyear Tires

Joe C. Webster, owner and manager of the Pioneer Auto Supply Company, this week announced the addition of Goodyear Tires to his line of merchandise. Mr. Webster has been engaged in the business of selling tires and other automotive supplies in Memphis for the past 17 years.

Elsewhere in this issue of The Democrat Mr. Webster has inserted an advertisement inviting the public to visit his place of business on New Street and inspect his new line of automobile and tractor tires.

Faculty Ramblers

In state, although they had Miss Leanne Daniel, an expert close-goal punter, to rely on when they got the ball in the pass-off territory.

Most of the country, however, came from Vinton Hobbs, who punned in long punts after the line, and only missed a few times during the entire game. When he got the ball, Genevieve Love, a 5-foot, 3-inch tall, would swing in and keep off the guards. And the ball would go through the hoop without touching the rim.

Sparkling the play for the men were Ray Childress, M. D. Gristman, Bill Plonizer, and most of the others. The men had the advantage—they had 11 players to only six for the girls, and were able to substitute at entire team at a time.

Near the end of the game, the score was 29 to 17—as the girls developed some of their expert ball-handling tactics to play for time. It worked well, too. Then to clinch the game, Miss Hobbs once more tossed in a long one just as the final bell sounded.

Comments

not every one who has a cemetery lot do something that spring toward beautifying the cemetery? A few shrubs and flowers, instead of weeds and trash, would materially change the appearance of the City of the Dead.

Bill Pfinger of West Main street says there are some people in the world who sing "God Bless America," but do nothing about upholding or protecting it.

The City Park Board recently met and elected C. C. Hodges chairman. Since the board was established Otis Jones has served in that capacity and made a good job of it. Mr. Hodges is a tireless worker and doesn't mind to give a lot of his time to public affairs. He has ideas of beautification, as may be seen at Camp Alhambra.

Last week I mentioned that the citizens should get busy NOW on the work of making Memphis a cleaner and more beautiful town. Memphis at one time won the award for being the cleanest town in Texas. Whether there is a contest on or not, why not improve the town's looks as a matter of pride?

The Texas legislators are already mulling over passing some tax measures that will increase the revenues in order to have more money to pass out. Governor O'Daniel asks for a transaction tax, or, if that is not favored, then a sales tax. With the defense program having right of way, and with the additional tax the program will impose, Texas people right now would rather not have any addition burden placed upon them. There are natural resources able to supply the additional funds needed, and these should be considered first.

Childress Site of Bouts Next Week

Boxing fans of the lower Panhandle will again be offered the rapid action of one of the year's top amateur fistic shows when the 1941 district Golden Gloves tournament is staged at the Childress High School gymnasium next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights, February 3-4-5.

Amateur fighters, most of them high school boys, from 15 area towns have filed entry blanks. The towns represented among the five dozen entrants include Childress, Wellington, Quitaque, Quanah, Turkey, Matador, Memphis, Tell, Swearingin, Hollis, Okla., Esteline, Thalia, Paducah, Lazare, and Chillicothe.

With only two 1941 district champions, Middleweight Barney Bogan and Featherweight Bungy Rhoderick, both of Quitaque, signifying that they will return to defend their titles, the 1941 tournament shapes up as an open race for the majority of the eight championships.

The eight winners in the Childress tourney will be awarded engraved gold medals, official AAU trunks, and other equipment to wear to the state Golden Gloves tournament at Fort Worth on February 13-17.

One level admission price of 25 cents, which proved popular with fans last year, will be retained this year, although a limited number of ringside seats have been added to the seating facilities this year and will sell for 40 cents each.

Variety in Foods Helps Appetites

While there are thousands of Texas farm and ranch families with access to cold storage and freezer lockers, there still remain thousands more who must wait until cold weather sets in before they have home-killed meat for the table.

Variety in preparation, even of the same food, keeps appetites keen, so farm and ranch families should plan for all possible ways of preserving their meat, says Grace I. Neely, specialist in food preservation for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

She suggests curing hams and bacon and storing them in cottonseed oil; making a generous supply of sausage—canning some, freezing some, or curing some, according to the family's preference; making pickled pigs feet and head cheese; and canning or freezing pork roasts.

The loin, sometimes called the choice cut of any animal can be cured and made into Canadian bacon. Or it can be canned for roasts or frozen for pork chops, the specialist says.

Beef can be preserved in as many different and interesting ways as pork. Just now, chili seems to be one of the most popular canned beef products in Texas. Chili made from goat meat is also winning favor, as evidenced by orders for over 2,000 cans of chevon chili to be shipped to eastern states this year by home demonstration club women in Menard County.

Information on canning, curing, or freezing of meats can be obtained from the A. and M. College Extension Service at College Station.

The United States could do more toward promoting hemisphere good-will by aiding interested South and Central American countries in establishing 4-H Club work than by loaning money for munition or airplane factories, and would be less subject to suspicion, according to Director of Extension L. About Folks You Know

MEMPHIS PERSONALITIES . . . BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES OF THE PEOPLE WHO MAKE MEMPHIS PROGRESS

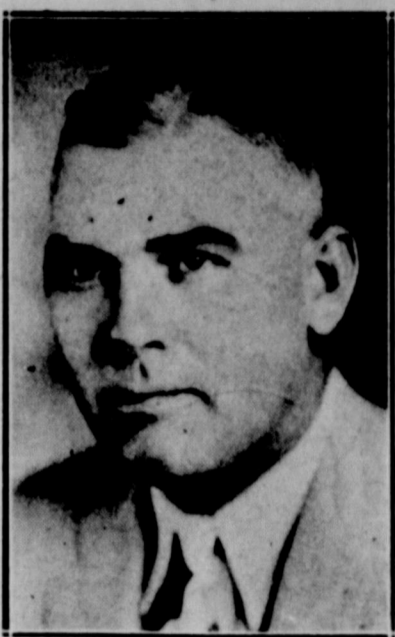

When his brother discovered the stowaway he left the train at Fort Worth and let Roy attend the cattle on to west Texas. This occurred during war time while the government had control of the railroads and the trip took six days and nights to cover the some 400 miles. Interstate commerce laws were such at the time that state-line taxes were assessed freight shipments, so to avoid these payments the car was routed to Shamrock and back down to Shamrock where it was unloaded and the Coleman household goods and livestock transported overland to Wellington. It was between Amarillo and Shamrock, after six days of wandering over the various railroads of West Texas, that Mr. Coleman saw his first coyote.

Mr. Coleman's first job in West Texas was bookkeeper at a gin at old Plymouth, now known as Samnorwood. He worked several seasons at the gin and held odd jobs around the community. In 1920 he went to Burk Burnett and worked during the oil boom in the supply department of the Magnolia Petroleum Company. Following his oil field experiences, Mr. Coleman worked as a clerk in the Chas. D. Slade Grocery store at Wellington.

In the fall of 1923 he first came to Memphis as the only clerk in the Guinn and Tunnell Grocery Store here. Later F. M. Guinn bought out his partner and bought into the chain of Clarence Saunders Sole Owner of My Name stores. Mr. Coleman assisted Mr. Guinn in making this change.

May 1, 1925 Mr. Coleman went to work with the Waples-Platter Wholesale Company in Memphis, his duties being office manager and in charge of the local warehouse. He was also in charge of the city sales.

In 1933 Mr. Coleman went on the road for the Waples-Platter

ROY L. COLEMAN

Company, exchanging places with Otis F. Jones now manager of the local wholesale company. In 1935 Mr. Coleman went to Wichita Falls for the Waples-Platter Company on a territory of his own, traveling in Oklahoma and in charge of the sales in Wichita Falls, working out of the Vernon warehouse.

May 17, 1928 he was married to Miss Sue Elizabeth Hortman.

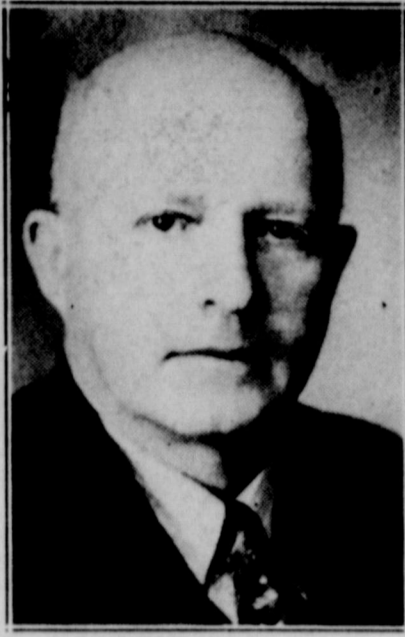

July 1, 1935 Mr. Coleman became secretary-treasurer and manager of the Farmers Union Supply Company in Memphis and since then has held this position. Two weeks ago he offered his resignation from that position, effective February 1, 1941.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman have one son, Roy Don, born June 27, 1936. They own their home on West Main Street.

Mr. Coleman has been active in civic affairs of Memphis. Although he is not a member of any church, he is active in Methodist circles. He is a member of the I.O.O.F. Lodge, and a member of the Memphis Rotary Club. He is serving his second term on the Memphis Independent School District's Board of Trustees, having served four years in that capacity. He is a member of the local Food Stamp Plan Committee, a member of the Distributive Occupations Advisory Committee in the schools, a committeeman in the Rodeo and Reunion organization for the past two years and a member of the industrial committee of the Hall County Red Cross.

Mr. Coleman is Memphis' No. 1 football fan, which is his hobby, and attends all games of the local team and is a loyal supporter of the Cyclone, win or lose.

CLAUDE C. HODGES

The State of Missouri is proud of her mules, the finest in the world, and the inquisitive nature ("Show Me, I'm From Missouri") of her native sons and daughters. In listing her achievements, Missouri also might well be proud of a fine little Irishman who discovered America (and Missouri) just 58 years ago last Friday at Blythebale in Harrison County—C. C. Hodges.

Claude C. Hodges ("The 'C' doesn't stand for anything," he asserts, "it's just there"), owner of the Camp Alhambra Tourist Court in Memphis, was born January 24, 1883. When a very small child his family moved to Gorin, Missouri, where he grew up and attended the public schools. He worked around at odd jobs most of his youth between school terms, filling in at stores on Saturdays and after school hours. His formal education, he states, in addition to the public schooling was a term in the Gem City Business College at Quincy, Ill.

At the age of 21, Mr. Hodges left his home in Gorin and moved to Neosho in southwestern Missouri and began farming. He spent ten years in this locality and there he made his "start." Since Missouri is famed for mules, oddly enough Mr. Hodges got his start from the sale of mules and hogs.

At the end of these ten years as a Missouri farmer, Mr. Hodges felt the call of the West. So he went to Clayton, New Mexico, and took up half a section of government land and proved it out. This land lay 25 miles from Clayton, the nearest trading point. In recalling his early experiences in New Mexico, Mr. Hodges states that the going was hard. He had no car and covering that 25 miles between his 320 acres and Clayton for supplies presented difficult problems.

However in 1917, Mr. Hodges moved to Clayton and entered business there, operating a garage. His business career in Clayton was a notable success and in a few years he became one of the largest holders of property in that city. Among his holdings was Camp Mason, one of the outstanding tourist courts in the west.

Mr. Hodges also became a civic as well as a business leader in Clayton and in 1922 he was elected to serve on the city council. He held this post until 1926 when he was elected mayor of Clayton, which position he held two years. It was during his tenure of office as mayor that the city streets of Clayton were paved and other notable civic improvements were made.

One of the outstanding achievements of Mr. Hodges' civic career in Clayton was the installation of the downtown lighting system. This system, which is acclaimed to be one of the best in the southwest, has eight standards to the business block and was designed and laid-out by Mr. Hodges while he was mayor of that city.

October 28, 1930 Mr. Hodges came to Memphis to make his home and began immediately the construction of Camp Alhambra. Exactly one month to a day after his arrival in Memphis, Mr. Hodges returned to Clayton and on November 28, 1930 he was married to Mrs. Elphie Blackwell. On their return to Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. Hodges operated the new Camp Alhambra and in addition Mr. Hodges was agent for the Phillips Petroleum Company. He later sold his Phillips agency and became agent for the Panhandle Refining Company. He sold his oil interest to be able to devote his full time to the rapidly growing tourist camp, which has become one of the show places of Memphis with its handsome buildings, beautiful gardens, lawns, and drives.

Because of his ability in artistic landscaping Mr. Hodges was placed in charge of the developing of the new city park. He devoted much time to this civic service and it is largely through his efforts that Memphis enjoys one of the outstanding parks in West Texas. Last week Mr. Hodges was named chairman of the City Park Board, and will be in charge of the WPA appropriation of $24,000 to further improve this park. Much of the proposed improvements, including the large amphitheatre in the northwest corner of the park, are of Mr. Hodges' designing and planning.

Mr. Hodges has three children, two daughters and a son and one step-daughter, Miss Billie Blackwell of Northwest Texas hospital in Amarillo.

He owns several pieces of property in Memphis in addition to his tourist camp, including service stations and rent property.

In recounting his most embarrassing moment, Mr. Hodges stated that he was attending prayer meeting in the pastor's study one night. He was sitting in a chair with his feet on the rungs of an empty chair in front of him. He became so absorbed in the meeting that he tipped his own chair back, bracing against the chair in front of him. The solemnity and sanctity of the occasion was suddenly broken when his chair tipped over sending him sprawling and throwing the chair in front of him high in the air. "And was my face red?" he laughed, recalling the unhappy moment.

Mr. Hodges enjoys a unique hobby—collecting rocks and arrow heads. His collection of rock is very large, many of them having been worked into the low stone walls that beautify his camp grounds. He takes his visitors about the grounds pointing out rocks here and there in the walls telling what they are, what formations they came from, where they were procured and under what conditions he came into their possession. In his home he has a collection of rocks from ancient and historic places including one from the site of an early Christian church at Carthage, one from the Holy Land, one from Pompeii, a chip from the Rock of Gibraltar, a piece of coral from the Isle of Capri, and many others of equal significance.

His arrow-head collection includes Indian weapons from the heavy stone hammer head (of Alley Oop proportions) to the delicate, finely fashioned flint heads, no larger than a pen point, used for hunting small birds. Found in this collection are flint scrapers, awls, tomahawk heads, and knives and even steel arrow heads possibly fashioned from guns captured from Spanish explorers during Spain's domination of the Southwest.

"Build-Up" Relief Explained to Women

A simple method has saved many women a lot of suffering! It is based on the fact that headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain are often symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition.

Help for this condition so often follows the use of CARDUI, because it usually increases the appetite and the flow of gastric juices thus aids digestion and helps build physical resistance. Usual result is less periodic distress.

Many who take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time" have found this helps ease periodic discomfort. Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years!

Test Your I. Q.

WAR is playing havoc with world geography, but there are still some countries, even in embattled Europe, that remain intact. Take an armchair world cruise with these questions about nations of the globe.

1. What is the European principality that is bounded by Switzerland and Germany?
2. Where are New Guinea, Portuguese Guinea and British Guiana?
3. Name a country, at peace, that lies entirely within the borders of one of Europe's belligerents
4. Where are Yemen and Oman?
5. What are the only two countries lying wholly south of the Tropic of Capricorn?

ANSWERS TO Test Your I. Q.

1. Liechtenstein is the small European principality bounded by Switzerland and Germany.
2. New Guinea is an island, also called Papua, just north of Australia. Portuguese Guinea is on the west coast of Africa. British Guiana is in South America.
3. The republic of San Marino lies entirely within the borders of Italy. It is in the central part of the country.
4. Yemen is on the western side of the Arabian Peninsula; Oman is on the southeast corner. Both are kingdoms.
5. Uruguay, South America, and the island of New Zealand are only major countries lying completely south of the Tropic of Capricorn.

Wake Lazy Insides All-Vegetable Way

Thousands turn to this way to get relief when they're lazy intestinally and it has them headachy, bilious, irritable, listless: A quarter to a half-teaspoonful of spicy, aromatic, all-vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT on your tongue tonight, a drink of water, and there you are! Thus, it usually allows time for a night's rest; acts gently, thoroughly next morning, so relieving constipation's headaches, biliousness, bad breath.

BLACK-DRAUGHT'S main ingredient is an "intestinal tonic-laxative," which helps impart tone to lazy bowel muscles. The millions of packages used prove its merit. Economical, too: 25 to 40 doses, 25c.

NOW, NOW, MR. LINDBERGH!

LINDBERGH, during his life, has done one or two outstanding things and has received an undetermined amount of publicity, but lately his popularity has been decreasing rapidly in the United States.

Last week, the American people's faith in his judgment was further disrupted when he said that, even with the aid of the United States, England cannot win in her fight against Germany.

Lindbergh has, of course, inspected the fighting facilities of both England and Germany. He is likewise acquainted with the fighting forces of the United States, and with the ability of this nation to turn out war materials. He should know.

But even if he does truly think that England cannot come out victorious, it is unwise for him to make a public statement of his beliefs. The assertion of such a belief only further muddles the minds of American citizens. Perhaps that is his intention, but it is hard to believe that any person who has received the praise and who once held the confidence of the American people as he has could stoop so low as to work with a government that is definitely un-American.

The former aviator stated that he has "sympathy for the peoples on both sides, and not with their aims." He also said that he believes "a negotiated peace is the best for us."

Most anyone will agree that peace is the best thing for us, but few believe a lasting peace could ever be accomplished by negotiation. Chamberlain tried the so-called "negotiated peace" at Munich, and Hitler betrayed his word.

Negotiated peace sounds good. The fighting would end, at least temporarily. Temporary peace is no good, however. There is no such thing as having faith in Hitler, if one believes in peace. The only faith which can be made in him is the belief of war—evidently the only thing which the Nazi leader knows anything about.

It is doubtful that Lindbergh is a coward. It takes nerve to get up before the American people and tell them they cannot defeat another nation. Americans, despite the mixture of blood of almost every foreign nation, still believe in fighting for what they think is right.

Lindbergh, however, thinks a negotiated peace is best—a type of peace which has been tried and which failed. He is being termed a fifth columnist, an un-American, and almost every other undesirable name.

Probably if Teddy Roosevelt were living, he would come forth with his oft-quoted phrase: "I want to see you shoot the way you shoot."

THE PARK AN ASSET

CONGRATULATIONS are now in order to those whose aid and cooperation resulted in the gaining of the $23,745 WPA project for the City Park in Memphis.

With these funds, the park can be made into one of the most outstanding playgrounds of the Entire Panhandle. The location of the park is ideal, and the progress made so far has been done with remarkable capability and speed.

Now with funds t heavy on, the park will become even more permanent, more beautiful, more attractive and more useful to citizens of Hall County.

The park was used last summer by innumerable people, despite the fact that it has not been completed. It will be used more than that this summer, even if the WPA work is not finished before that time.

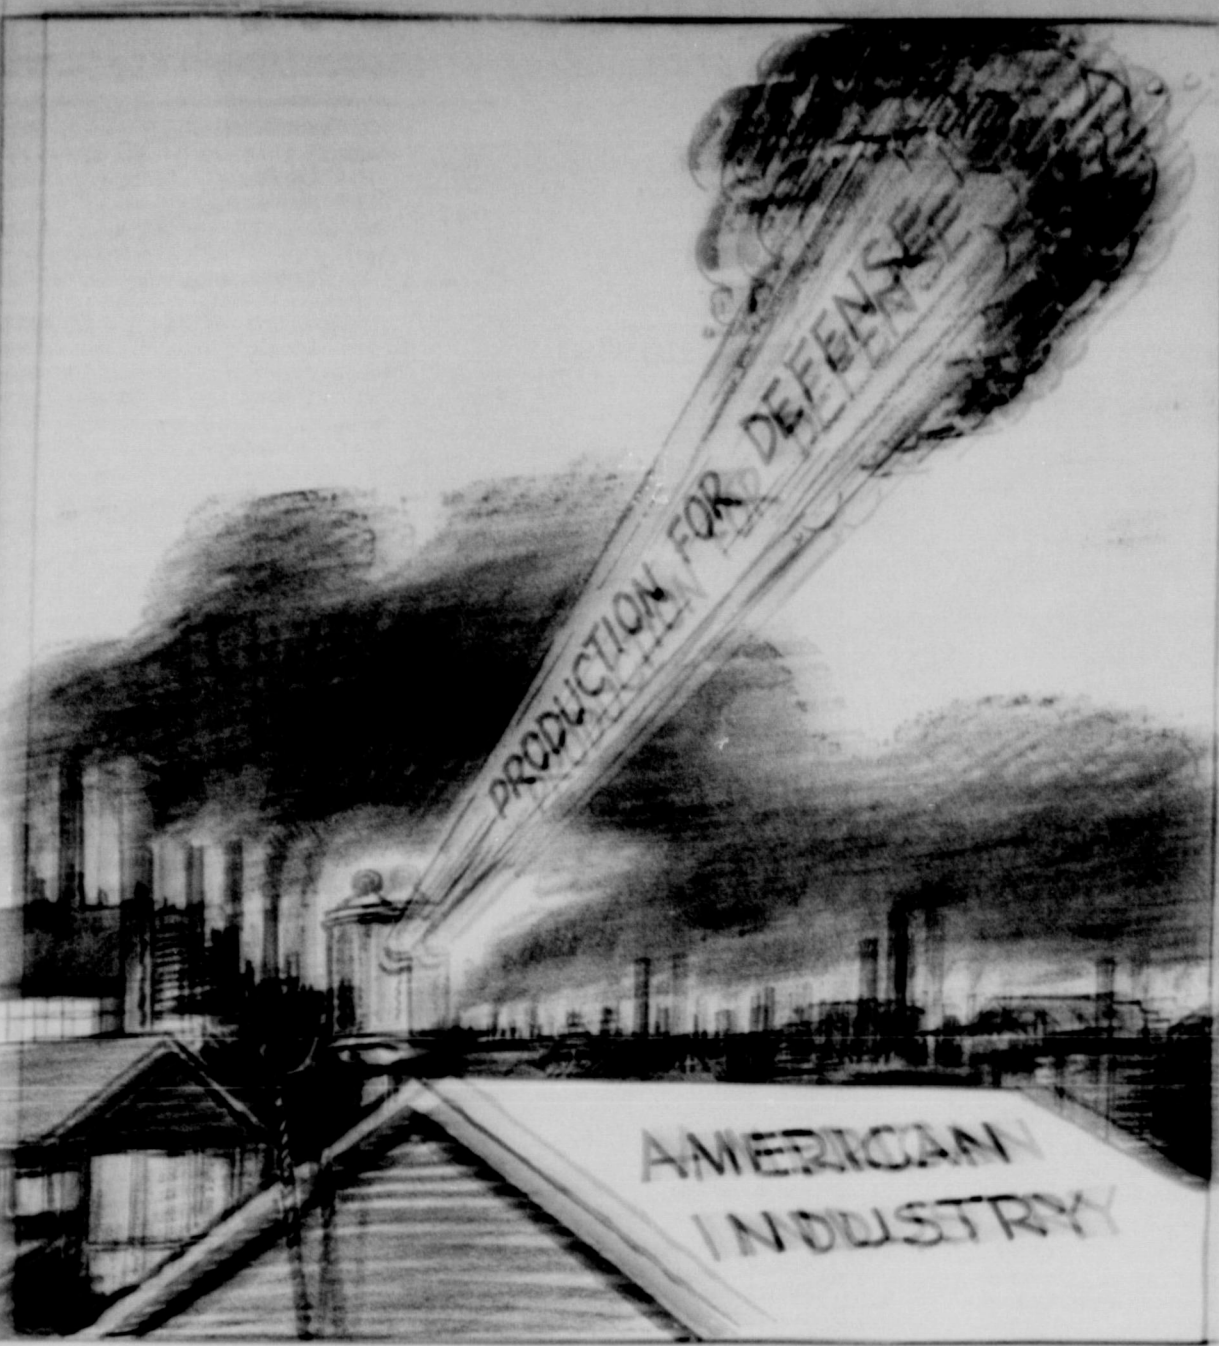

Use of the park naturally attracts a large number of people to Memphis from the vast of Hall County, as well as from other counties. Among these people will be many who would probably not have come to this section if the park had not been here.

All of this means, of course, that the park is not a liability, but is already an asset, and will become a better asset as it is used more.

The City Park is not a closed nor private affair. It is public property, and the public is always welcome. That's the main reason it is an asset.

So congratulations are truly in order to the loyal citizens who saw the WPA project through to its approval, and to the same loyal citizens who have made the park what it is today.

Press Paragraphs

CULLED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

Models.—The Quinlan Tribune Chief: "We would have a better world with fewer Nazis and more Greeks. The strange part of it is that the Nazis have modeled themselves after the Spartans, an ancient Greek tribe. Like most imitations, they only copied their worst traits."

The American Way.—The Amarillo Globe: "The American Way is, first of all, an honest way."

Gettle Hasket.—The Childress County News: "An army medical officer warns recruits that 'no account' should be placed on 'no account' 'old' feet for recruits."

Editorial.—The McLean News: "An exclusive in the February issue of the American Mercury makes a list of 'Cases of Ethics.' The majority of all professions remember their ethics only when it is convenient to get behind a wall. At other times they are too busy trying to make money to think of ethics."

Gettle Hasket.—The Childress County News: "You don't have to make a list of things that you can't do to get behind a wall. At other times they are too busy trying to make money to think of ethics."

Cave for Stripes.—The Amarillo Globe: "After considerable discussion, Sylvester Slagle, Henry Sears and I decided the other side of the cave should be handled. Many of the stripes my outfit wear at all speeds, and have been exempt from the Army and in fact a guarantee, double draft because they are in vital hydraulic, welded, iron-wood."

Whip's Yehudi?—The Battalion: "A. M. Collier, newspaper editor, the man who makes the cut for the redneck glasses with the invisible lenses, the man who wants there to read between the lines of the newspaper."

Steak Per Plate.—The Ochiltree County Herald: "A king of France once proclaimed that his dinner was a 'fillet in every pot in every French home.' Here's a 1917 note that the day may soon come when there will be a steak on every American plate."

Plenty Pairs.—The Daily Review: "In the Claude News, 'The stenographer we require' can be found. It must be that absolutely accurate and most knowledgeable—intelligent. If you are not a genius, don't bother. One of the answers written that she noted their requirements, and went on: 'Your advertisement appeals to me strongly—stronger than proposed material—as I have searched Europe, Africa, and Roboken in quest of someone who could use my talents to advantage. When it comes to this enthusiastic proposition, I have never found man, woman, or telephone who could get to first base with me, unless I were overboard—sent—can I get short-hand so fast that I have a mental type set with me with a platinum point and a water-cooling attachment, hot pad made of asbestos and lined with sulphuric acid, and a machine how these stripes should be handled. Many of the stripes my outfit wear at all speeds, and have been exempt from the Army and in fact a guarantee, double draft because they are in vital hydraulic, welded, iron-wood.'

Practicality Spreads.—The Quinlan Tribune Chief: "It took the auto industry over thirty years to reach its present stage of mass production, and still hesitates to wonder why the manufacture of airplanes cannot be put on that same footing within a few months. They forget that comparatively few mechanics in this country know how to build airplanes, and that it takes time to learn a trade. To get mass production many factories must be built. First, perfecting tools have to be made; supplies must be gathered from the ends of the earth. Last but not least, better planes must be built than are in use now, and every invention thoroughly tested. There are hundreds of things to delay production that an outsider would never dream of."

Jobs.—The Lubbock Morning Avalanche: "The office hand is a bit confused in her world news. She understands Adolf and still believes there's no sense buying them until we've tried them."

Philosophy.—The Matador Tribune: "Most of nature's satisfactions are not the fruits of ambition's work and materialism, but the view from the top."

The international Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Feb. 2 is Text: Habakkuk 2:12; Genesis 49:1-12; Mark 9:45-49; 1 Thessalonians 5:22.

AS Jesus found out, when tempted by the devil, Satan's temptations can be used to support almost any kind of argument, and the devil's words, however, by quoting Scripture with proper purpose and better effect.

Those who have used the Bible against advocates of temperance liquor and beverage have to contend against some bitter Biblical incidents. These are based upon the evidence of the evil and misery that have inevitably been in the wake of the use of strong drink.

The opening verse of our lesson is one of these. It is strong and devastating in its pronouncement: "We will sin that grieve our neighbor, and it is as scathing in its characterization of the results when sinners have taken away man's ordinary reason and restraint."

TODAY we are in a lax age, and regarding drinking and drinking habits. Public sentiment and practice, which a generation or two ago were strongly on the side of total abstinence, had changed toward laxity. What have we gained by it, as individuals or in our social life? Temperance need not be confused with total abstinence, but total abstinence never injured anybody, while the drinking of alcoholic liquors has done plenty of harm, and the line
