A's Are Busy Studying Road Maps For Future Vacations And Trips

A stands for apple and appetite and many other words but in the case of the A's listed in the telephone book for Big Spring, A stands for vacation trips and visiting.

Alphabetically speaking the A's and members of their families are planning trips for the latter part of the month and while most of them are undecided as to where to go, they've got roadmaps and vacation resort folders out and are planning itineraries.

Taking the folks just as they are listed in the directory under the heading A, the results are:

Adams, Mrs. T. G.: was busy canning when the reporter called and didn't have time to talk.

Agnell, Mrs. Della: told of a new family that has moved here, the C. I. Ingrams from Gatesville, and then had to go back to supervising two workmen she had in the house.

Alderson, Mrs. T. W. doesn't have any plans now for a vacation this summer.

Allen, Mrs. F. O.: went to San Antonio in June and may go to California later on.

Allen, Mrs. J. T.: left Friday with Mrs. Roy Carter for the adult conference of Christian churches at Lake Clisco. They were delegates from the First Church here.

Allen, Mrs. M. E.: is not going anywhere this summer as she just returned from a little visiting trip last week from Memphis, Lubbock, Amarillo and other points in Texas.

Amos, Mrs. C. A.: doesn't have any plans made for any vacation or for any company.

Anderson, Mrs. J. P.: doesn't know where the family will go this summer. They may go north but haven't decided where or when.

Anderson, Mrs. Ollie: went on a trip to Oklahoma and Arkansas last week with Mrs. O. L. Nabors.

Anderson, Mrs. E. C.: visited in Mansfield and Fort Worth last week; plans to go back there for a month's visit soon.

Anderson, Mrs. L. M.: the family was out in the field each time they were called and were unable to be contacted.

Angel, Mrs. Clyde: was in Lubbock for the weekend but was expected to return soon.

Atkins, Mrs. S. J.: is anticipating company from Shreveport, La., and promises the Herald all the details. She explained that she had a house full of company the weekend before but was too busy entertaining them to call.

Adams, Mrs. Harry A.: is planning on a vacation sometime next month; possibly a fishing trip for her husband and a trip to Casa Manana in Fort Worth.

Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence, and children, Donnie and Helen Ray: returned Sunday from a trip that included stops at the San Francisco Fair and at Yosemite. Mrs. Allen reported they had a grand trip but were glad to be home again. Mrs. Rufus Marshall of Hermleigh, Texas, accompanied them.

Andrews, Mrs. Theo: doesn't have any plans as yet but hopes for a vacation sometime this summer.

Appleton, Mrs. Oma: is planning on a trip the latter part of August but hasn't decided yet where she will go.

Arnold, Mrs. O. T.: Went to California in May and June with Mr. Arnold and children, Ruth and Evelyn. Also went to Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico.

Ashcraft, Mrs. C. L.: is planning to stay home this summer and make a trip in the fall.

Ashley, Mrs. T. W.: has had a guest for two weeks, T. J. Hester of Houston. She doesn't have any trips planned now but may go somewhere later in the summer.

Atkins, Mrs. A. L.: was ironing when the reporter called. She plans to have company later in the summer.

Allen, Mrs. N. J.: helped out with several news items and explained that she expected company from Austin in a week or two.

Akpy, Mrs. Harold: was busy with a boys' tournament at the park and supervising the draining of the

Mrs. Barrett Leads Bible Study At Wesley W.M.S.

Mrs. Fannie Barrett led the Bible study on the fourth chapter in the study book, "Songs in the Night," Monday afternoon at the Wesley Memorial Methodist Woman's Missionary society meeting at the church. Mrs. J. K. Whitaker gave the devotional.

Attending were Mrs. H. J. Whittington, Mrs. Paul Fuqua, Mrs. J. B. King, Mrs. A. L. Whittington, Mrs. Vera Bungarner, Mrs. W. D. Lovelace, Mrs. Cecil Nabors, and Mrs. W. W. Coleman.

MIKE'S A VAGABOND

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., July 18 (AP)—Mike, the ubiquitous parrot, has bobbed up again—at a chicken farm.

Since checking out on his mate, Biddy, two weeks ago, Mike has flitted about wisecracking at pedestrians from treetops and mocking the entreaties of Biddy and his owner to come down and "all will be forgiven." He defied numerous efforts to dialogue him. Mrs. A. S. Meskell, Mike's owner, now learns that he has been heckling hens. She has concluded he's an incorrigible vagabond.

POOR PROTECTION

LYNN, Mass., July 18 (AP)—Seems police have very red faces today, trying to explain to Rocco Cavellio, 15, about his bicycle.

Seems Rocco took advantage of a police invitation to all boys to park their bikes in the police garage when down town, so as to avert thefts.

Seems the bike wasn't there when Rocco went back.

Seems a thief took it.

INJURIES ARE FATAL

CORSICANA, July 18 (AP)—Mrs. Crump Huff, 58, of Longview, died in a local hospital early today as a result of injuries received Sunday morning when the car in which she, her husband and daughter were riding figured in a collision with another car occupied by two negroes on a highway east of here.

Mr. Huff, 63, and Helen June Huff, 17, suffered serious injuries but are expected to recover.

swimming pool. She is too busy to get away until the fall but has a house guest, Retta Fay Daffabough of Fort Worth, who will be here two weeks.

Anderson, Mrs. J. M.: didn't think she had any news for The Herald but told that her granddaughter, Mildred Cauble, of near Garden City has been a recent visitor for two weeks.

CAPTIVATES BROADWAY—Lively Carmen Miranda (above) is the latest idol of Manhattan's theater and night club-goers. She's a Brazilian singer and comedienne, and critics hail what her hips, hands and eyes can add to a simple song.

The Preferred Job? A Lot Of People Want To Do Something Else; Others Like What They Have

Some people sit and fret at fate and wish they were miles away and filling a different station in life. Just like short people want to be tall and thin people want to be fat, some folks with glamor jobs would be satisfied with a humdrum life. On the other hand, a lot of folks with ordinary jobs sigh with envy over the lives of motion picture stars and aviators and jobs with a hint of romance. But it seems that people in Big Spring, or at least some of them, don't feel dissatisfied. The question asked was: "If you had your choice and could choose any job in the world, and still be qualified for it, what job would you choose?" Mrs. Clyde Thomas, housewife: "If I could have any job in the world, I choose the one I have right now. I believe that being a homemaker suits me for a lifetime occupation. I wouldn't change with anyone." Mrs. Julia Brown, housewife: "I'd like to be a wonderful singer. In that way I could make people happy by singing to them and I would enjoy that." Tony Rego, baseball manager: "I couldn't choose a job that I like better than baseball. There is something about a baseball uniform that I like—it's almost unexplainable." Albert M. Fisher, Jr., department store manager: "I am happy doing the job I have right now. I believe that being a merchant is about the best field for me." Harvey Clay, cleaner: "If I had my choice, I believe I'd choose not doing anything. I can't think of anything that I would really like to do." Mrs. Harry Williamson, buyer at department store: "I'd choose the job I have right now. I just love it."

Who's Who In The News

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barnes and children are spending two weeks in Waxahachie and Fairfield.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Jones, Miss Delores Chapman, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred McMillan and son, of Jackson, Miss., were overnight guests of Mrs. A. T. Loyd, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Green. Mrs. F. C. Niedermeier of El Paso is also a guest.

The condition of Mrs. C. Lewis, who fell and injured her hip several months ago, is reported to be serious.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Randall, and Mrs. L. E. Collins of Coleman, Texas, sisters and cousins of Mrs. J. B. Nall stopped here en route to Carlsbad Caverns to spend the weekend with Mrs. Nall.

Mrs. M. C. Mitchell of Sterling City spent the day here with her sister, Mrs. L. P. McCasland, and Mr. McCasland.

Billy McClendon, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McClendon returned home Monday from a two week vacation in East Texas and Oklahoma.

Cecil Elliott left today for a vacation in Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hill and son Ned, returned Monday from Dallas where they have spent the past few days.

To attend a press and radio preview of Casa Manana at Fort Worth, Jena Jordan, accompanied by Mrs. C. L. Wasson, Mrs. Thurman Gentry, Mrs. Tommy Jordan, and Lillian Jordan, will leave Wednesday. They will return Friday.

Mrs. Ben McCullough is confined to her bed with streptococcal throat.

Mrs. O. H. McAllister and daughter, De Alva, are making an extended visit at Loving, Tex., with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McClure, and at Wichita Falls and Tyler.

CALENDAR Of Tomorrow's Meetings Wednesday FIREMEN LADIES will meet at 8 o'clock at the W.O.W. Hall.

'Aristocratic Library' Open For Business, Catering To Juveniles

Mrs. Duff Leads Lessons For The Presbyterians

'How To Become A Missionary' Is Topic Discussed

Mrs. Emory Duff led the discussion on "How to Become a Missionary" when the Presbyterian Auxiliary met Monday at the church with the King's Daughters circle in charge of the inspirational meeting.

Mrs. E. K. Hester gave the devotional and the hymn "In the Secret of His Presence" was sung with Mrs. Joe Carr at the piano. Mrs. D. F. McConnell played the piano accompaniment for the hymn, "I Need Thee Every Hour."

The devotional was taken from John, 15 and 16 chapters. Assisting Mrs. Duff on the program were Mrs. T. S. Currie, Mrs. Carr, Mrs. Albert Davis, Mrs. R. L. Carpenter, and Mrs. E. E. Fahrnkamp.

Mrs. Duff read a paper on prayer and Mrs. Currie gave a prayer.

Mrs. A. A. Fortie presided over the business session. Two guests were present and included Mrs. Miller Harris and Mrs. S. C. Stratton.

Others attending were Mrs. L. E. Parmlay, Mrs. J. C. Lane, Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Jr., Mrs. G. D. Lee, Mrs. Albert Davis, Mrs. Sam Baker, Mrs. Raymond Winn, Mrs. N. J. Allison, Mrs. E. L. Barrick, Mrs. R. C. Strain, Mrs. Ellen Good, Mrs. Nell Hilliard, Mrs. L. E. Morris, Mrs. R. L. Carpenter, Mrs. D. W. Webber, and Mrs. C. W. Cunningham.

Comrades All Social Meets For A Social At Baptist Church

Games were played under the direction of Mrs. J. E. Miles and Mrs. Sam Moreland Monday evening when "Comrades All," young people's class of the East Fourth Baptist church, met at the city park for a social. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Class members and friends attending were Lonnie Evans, Patricia Stalcup, Vilo Rowe, Rees Stuewille, Douglas Pyle, Jr., Grady Redding, J. C. Anderson, A. D. Harmon, Orville Wright, Lawrence Presley, Donnell McGuire, Willene Irvin, Dorothy Garnett, Mary Ellen Miles, Buck Tyree, Frank Webb, Floyd Dixon, Floyd Williams, Billy Marie Boatler, Juanita Walker, J. P. Wehant, Barbara Anna Moreland, and David Turpin.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hill and son Ned, returned Monday from Dallas where they have spent the past few days.

G. A. Group Discusses Plans For A Social And Missionary Books

Prayer and song opened the meeting of the G.A. group of the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Willard Hendricks. Missionary books and a social were discussed, and memory work was given. The society will meet in the home of Mrs. W. C. Blankenship next Monday.

Those attending were Ann Blankenship, Ruth Cornelison, Betty Jo Watta, Catharine Bowles, Joyce Blankenship, Anne Eleanor Douglas, Nettie Harris, Bobby Jean Cornelison, Nina Mae Taylor, Lula Jean Billington, Claude Mae Harris and Mrs. Hendricks.

Cast Removed Mrs. J. I. Pritchard, whose leg was broken May 18, had the cast removed today.

Other businessmen may worry about conditions and fear to start new ventures in the economic world but eight enterprising youngsters in Big Spring were confident of their success as they opened the doors to the Aristocratic Library, 803 Ayford, this week.

Jimmy Velvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Velvin, and business manager extraordinary, is the guiding light of the new library and the important post of treasurer is held by Claudine Hasley. Working with Jimmy is Billy Casey, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Casey, and with the help of the staff things are expected to boom.

To borrow a book from the Aristocratic Library, the canny librarians charge an applicant a deposit of a nickel, but on return of the book a two-cent refund is made.

The idea of the library was Jimmy Velvin's and with a few of his friends resources of all their books were pooled. They printed cards which were distributed to the neighbors and delivered by Mickey Casey. The cards read something like this: "Aristocratic Library: We rent books for a small deposit. We have good books. 803 Ayford."

Results were pretty good from the advertising and the group has approximately 80 books and magazines collected and donated. Such titles as "Barney Google" and "G-Men" and "Adventures of Tim Tyler" are available for any youth with a nickel.

Books with covers on them are evidently at a premium and the youngsters are hoping for more contributions "with backs."

The children admitted sadly that they did need a sponsor but if things went well maybe they could someday have a building to house the books.

Others on the staff are Patsy Hasley, Doris Ache, daughter of Mrs. Grover Griffice, Billy Velvin, and Jane Beebe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Beebe.

B.T.U. And Y.W.A. Hold Joint Session To Elect Officers

For election of officers and general business session, the West Fourth Baptist B.T.U. and Y.W.A. met Monday at the church.

"Red" Newton was elected president and Clinton Hull, vice president of B.T.U. Other officers of the organization were Mrs. Anderson, secretary-treasurer; L. A. Brown, daily Bible reading director; and Virginia Wood and Modena Murphy, group captains.

Modena Murphy read the devotional and a lesson on prayer was given. Others attending were Pearl Reed, Clinton Hull, Donald Bell, "Red" Bryant, Edna Straghan, Callie Sanders, and Mrs. Lou Grant, sponsor.

There's a Good Reason You're Constipated!

When there's something wrong with you, the first rule is: get at the cause. If you are constipated, don't endure it first and cure it afterward. Find out what's giving you the trouble. Chances are it's simple if you eat the super-refined foods most people do: meat, white bread, potatoes. It's likely you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement. If this is your trouble, you should eat a natural "bulk" producing food—such as one of the crunchy, toasted, ready-to-eat cereal—Kellogg's All-Bran. All-Bran is the ounce of prevention that's worth a pound of emergency relief. Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and "Join the Regulars." All-Bran is made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVE Texas Daily Press League, Dallas, Texas. MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

City Planning Texas will have a session of a legislature in 1941. It is fair to presume, and after that body has fixed up the old age assistance and other pressing matters it might be persuaded to give some attention to, and maybe enact, a law that will allow cities to reasonably control the way the city is to be built.

There is a city zoning law now on the statute books, but it is so expensive to initiate and to operate, so complicated in its provisions, that few cities can afford to put it in operation.

The commercial buildings are never erected until after people have built and are occupying a number of homes. Naturally there would be no business for a commercial enterprise unless there were people nearby to give it patronage.

There are yet a few things in life besides business. Texas is talking greatly about beautification and this is one thing that will be necessary if the small cities are to be as attractive as they are being urged to become.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK—Martha Graham, one of the first ladies of the modern dance, is one of the first ladies to do a television choreography. In this day of things happening abroad, that probably doesn't sound very startling, but it's very likely just as much history as the Danzig grab.

Miss Graham called her creation "American Celebration" and the idea back of it was to catch the mood of a typical American lass making spiritual whoops in the land of the free and the home of the brave.

After weeks of thorough study and endless conferences with television engineers, Miss Graham conceived her dance and after the first rehearsal, told us: "It's funny but I believe the first dance I ever did, 'Lamentation,' is more suited for television than the one."

And that's the way it turned out. "Lamentation" is almost a staturesque dance and the lighting is artistic no end.

The reason I've mentioned all this is that any one with half an eye can see that when television comes in, we are going back to fundamentals so far as action is concerned. Simplicity of movement will mean simplicity of expression—words of one syllable—and the Charlie Chaplins of pantomime will be miles ahead of those who need a mile-wide stage for getting their ideas over to an audience.

Life's Darkest Moment

HORSEY PEOPLE

FOUR BLIND DATES

By Edwin Rutt

Chapter 37 ROOT OF THE MATTER His voice, floating out on the night breeze, came first to the ears of Matherton, the butler. Matherton took action. With stately tread he walked to the livingroom and desired speech with Tacks.

"Begin your pardon, sir," Matherton said, "but there's an 'orrible 'owling goin' on h'outside in the grounds." Tacks looked at him, surprised. "How's that? Howling?" "Precisely, sir," said Matherton. "From somewhere within the premises there is h'assin' a kind of belowin' an' trumpettin' as would wake the dead, that it would, sir."

"But who," said Tacks, mystified, "is doing it?" Matherton gazed at the ceiling. He never liked to commit himself definitely. But the authorship of some of the rich and racy expressions that were now ringing through the confines of Seltair Acres could be ascribed to but one individual.

"Well," Matherton said judicially, "h'm my h'opinion, sir, h'it could be the Master." Tack got the attention of his contemporaries in the living room. "Hey!" he said. "Some of you come with me. There's monkey business afoot."

Washington Daybook

By LOUIE JOHNSON Assistant Secretary of War (Finch-hitting for Preston Grover, on vacation.) WASHINGTON—Practically every day since Munich, in Washington and in every part of the country that I have visited, I have been asked these questions by newspaper men:

"What is the state of our air defenses?" "How do we compare with Germany?" Since newspaper reporters reflect most accurately the state of the public mind, I presume all of America seeks the answers to these two questions.

I am happy to state that our defenses on land, on sea and in the air have been strengthened and improved. In the air, especially, we have made significant progress.

In the year ending July 1, we received from the industry approximately 700 airplanes which, type for type, can be matched against the best produced anywhere in the world.

When congress fully appropriates the money necessary to give us an air armada of 5,500 to 6,000 planes, we will be on the road toward achieving adequate national defense in the air for America.

PLANES AND THE MEN By adequacy, we mean not only planes but skilled operators to fly them, trained combat crews to man them, efficient equipment to protect them, ample bases to support them, men of outstanding leadership to command them—all fundamental assets of a well-balanced air force in sufficient quantity and quality to defend the western hemisphere against aggression today.

I emphasize the word "today" because no one can foretell what may be the developments of tomorrow. Adequacy is a relative term. What may be enough to protect us when the present program is realized, at some future date may prove wholly insufficient. We, in America, do not have the privilege of the last word on the subject of our military needs.

The menacing weapon of today is the long-range bombardment airplane. At Munich, the mere threat of its use changed the whole picture of Europe. Today its potential power continues to dominate military policies across the ocean. It is our duty to prevent its use or the threat of its employment as a factor in the life of America.

Some may feel that a successful attack against this hemisphere from the air, and particularly against continental United States, is too fantastic to be worthy of serious consideration. May I warn these skeptics that aviation is improving far too rapidly for anyone to predict any limitations upon its potential powers.

Consider merely the revolution in speed. Not so long ago, we were hoping to approach 250 miles an hour. Today we have planes that can fly at 400 miles an hour and the day is approaching when we may have speeds of 500 to 600.

WELL DEFEND THE WEST In planning our air program we are not trying to match the forces of Germany or of any other nation. We are planning a system that adequately will defend America and its geographical frontiers. We have taken fully into consideration our oceans, our manpower, our industrial resources and other assets of national defense.

We are trying to develop a protective armor that will fit the American body and nothing more. What other nations feel they need for their military programs may not suit us at all. What we have in mind to protect us may not fit them. We are committed to the defense of the western hemisphere and that objective we intend to accomplish with planes of design, speed and endurance that will most effectively serve our purpose.

When it comes to national defense the American people, regardless of political parties, stand firmly united. Responsible leaders in congress, republicans and democrats, work as one. The president's program for air defense has merited the confidence it enjoys. An America united for national defense is our strongest bulwark for peace.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—The freight car was rattling out of the big city station (with all the tricks that make such things possible on a movie sound stage) and the fugitive made a running jump through the open door. He straightened after the impact, looked wildly about, pulled the door closed, and then he found a protruding hook. Quickly he went to work, rasping the dangling end of his iron bracelet over that hook. George Raft, confirmed cinema criminal, was making a getaway again.

"I Stole a Million" is George's second film since he quit Paramount in protest over the innumerable bad-guy roles they handed him. His first after that break was "Each Dawn I Die," in which he shared accommodations in a state hoosegow with James Cagney. In that one Cagney was an innocent victim of circumstance. Raft was a criminal. Paramount, Warner Bros., and now Universal, they all see eye to eye: George Raft is a star for stripes.

And it looks as if George himself is coming around to that point of view. He says right out that he's through putting up any fight against bad-boy roles—that from now on he'll play anything the fans will endorse at the box-office.

"What am I," says he, "to quarrel with a theatre's cash register?" (Answer from the balcony: "You're the guy who flipped a coin in 'Scarface' and forthwith became a great actor—as those things happen in Hollywood.") "The public," agrees Raft, "seems to thrill over screen proof that crime doesn't pay, and somebody has to play the parts of those who still believe it does. As long as the producers believe I'm that somebody, and keep up the weekly checks accordingly, I'll go right on playing 'em."

McNutt Works On Merger Of Agencies

WASHINGTON, July 18 (AP)—Paul V. McNutt, new federal security administrator, expects to weld slowly his six agencies into one unit and practice keeping his mouth shut while doing it.

The silence is taken by politicians, however, to refer specifically to the job of coordinating the bureaus under his supervision. They do not understand that it involves his ambition for the presidency.

McNutt and his associates in the security job plan, for the present, seek to find what overlapping functions exist in the agencies and what dead wood can be cut out. They are not unmindful of the fact the many fingers of these offices reach back into millions of homes scattered all over the land.

The office of education, for example, handles funds for land grant colleges, directs vocational schools, deals with educators of many kinds. Nearly every man who wants a job or who wants unemployment compensation, visits the federal employment service sooner or later.

The national youth administration has helped several million young people to jobs and education. The Civilian Conservation Corps has set others to planting saplings, building conservation dams, and making other improvements all over the country.

MARKETS
Wall Street

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, July 18 (AP)—Prices
churned about in today's busy stock market and while leaders stuck to gains of fractions to around 2 points there were many losers at the uneven close.

Buying orders poured in from all over the country at the opening,
when peak levels were reached, but activity, after a fast first hour, slowed down as profit taking appeared.

Steals were to the forefront most of the day and a few specialties
were actively favored. Utilities, after an early advance, succumbed to the downward tendency as the session wore on. Some of the aircrafts similarly went into the red.

Analysts said the morning rise
was in all probability a public response to yesterday's boomlet when gains of 1 to more than 7 points were chalked up. Conviction that the Danzig situation would be cared for without war and a crop of favorable business news at home played their part.

U.S. Grain Crop Valued At Over Two Billions

CHICAGO, July 18 (AP)—The 1939 United States grain crop has a market valuation in excess of two billion dollars, trade statisticians estimated today.

This is based on prices which in some cases are the lowest or near the lowest in the past several years. It would be realized throughout the marketing or use of approximately 4,453,000,000 bushels which, favorable weather permitting, will be harvested before winter. Corn, oats and wheat comprise the bulk of the crop, part of which has been harvested, with barley, rye and other minor grains adding to the total yield.

The 1939 harvest would be nearly 400,000,000 bushels smaller than that of 1938 and 500,000,000 bushels smaller than the 1937 crop, but with those exceptions would be equal to or larger than any other crop of the past seven years.

A market valuation above $2,000,
000,000, based on current Chicago prices, was somewhat below the 1938 value of $2,334,000,000. The 1937 grain production was worth
$3,000,000,000.

FURTHER PARLEYS ON MINE CONTRACTS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 18 (AP)— Further conferences between the United Mine Workers (UMW) and the Harlan county, Ky., coal operators' association were arranged today, with labor department conciliation director John R. Steelman expressing opinion "every member of both committees is sincerely trying to find a solution to the problem."

The two groups, seeking a working agreement, recessed their negotiations last night after 15 hours
of continuous discussion.

The Harlan operators' association
is the only major soft coal producing group resisting the UMW's
"union shop" contract.

Meantime, officers of 500 national guardsmen patrolling Harlan county reported quiet prevailed over that Kentucky soft coal field.

BODIES OF BLAST VICTIMS ARE TAKEN FROM MINE

PROVIDENCE, Ky., July 18 (AP)—

They locked the eight persons in a vault in the rear and fled in an auto believed stolen.

Sees Farming Changes In The South

Forbes McKay, associated with the advertising department of the Progressive Farmer, Monday saw evidence of an agricultural revolution in parts of the southland.

McKay, who visited here with his father, L. F. McKay, pointed to the abandonment of cotton as the all-important crop and the replacement of it by feeds and other crops.

During the past year, he said,
there has been an amazing increase in the number of sheep, hogs and dairy cattle and a growing number of beef calves on southern farms. At the same time, there has been no marked decline in the number over other parts of the nation.

As a result, small packing plants
are springing up and new associated industries are being developed.

Current trends give basis for hope that of three million farmers in the South, perhaps more and more would be included in the approximate one-third who are making a living out of farming instead of remaining in the two-thirds who are more or less victims of agriculture.

A native of Big Spring, McKay
left here more than 20 years ago
to attend college at Baylor in Waco, taught school a short time in Bell county, entered the newspaper field
on the Temple Telegram and later got in advertising work. He was with the Curtis Publishing company before moving to Birmingham to become associated with the farm publication.

NOT FOR THE JURY

MUSKOGEE, Okla., July 18 (AP)—
Frank Baird, Wilburton bank cashier, was slated for grand jury duty
in rushed an embarrassed federal court official, whispered a few words to the judge. Baird was excused.

The jury indicted Baird for embezzlement.

Steel Work Started On Athletic Plant

First steel work on the west stands of the new school athletic plant was underway Tuesday.

As rapidly as possible, the steel frame work for the stands will be knitted so that seats and boxes may be installed. All footings are in place for the west stands and workmen are setting forms this week for footings on the east stands.

Meanwhile, the turf for the new playing field at the northwest corner of Highland Park is rapidly being put in top condition so that little doubt exists that it will be in excellent condition for the opening game of football season. A pump has been installed to draw water
from Birdwell tank so that the soil is receiving an abundance of moisture.

The new field, with stands and other contemplated structures, is being conducted as a WPA project
by the school district at a total cost of around $30,000.

UNDERGOES SURGERY

Howard Jr., 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Daniel, 1701 Main

pital Tuesday morning.

TRANSFERRED HERE

Rex Gomillion, who has been stationed at Toyah as a special officer of the T.&P. railroad, has been transferred to Big Spring in charge of railroad police in this

Neutrality

January there will be practical unanimity of opinion," he declared.

Borah was the only member of the group who voted with the majority of the foreign relations committee to postpone action until next session.

Despite growing hot-weather
sentiment for adjournment, administration leaders took under consideration three possible methods of reviving the controversial neutrality bill.

Senator Barkley (D-Ky), the majority leader, told reporters the discussions, "very much in the study stage," were centering on these possibilities:

1. The senate might be asked to discharge the foreign relations committee from further responsibility for the bill, which then would go directly to the floor for debate.

2. The legislation might be attached to some other pending bill
as a "rider."

3. Some members of the foreign relations committee might be won over to the administration viewpoint, thereby reversing the 12-11 vote by which the committee recently shelved neutrality legislation until the next session.

AAA AUDITOR HERE FOR QUOTA CHECK

M. J. Birdwell, AAA auditor, Monday made a check of marketing quotas in Howard county under the 1938 program.

After a study of the records kept by Dorothy Miller, clerk in the county office, Birdwell expressed satisfaction with the manner in which work had been done. He checked into white and red card
farms along with other routine
auditing.

Thursday a Mr. Knowles, ranch recheck state supervisor, was making a survey of the county range program in 1938 with O. Y. Miller, county range supervisor.

Inquiries

from the Lee Circle Hotel Co., Inc., headed by Weiss and Hart, for $575,000, for use as a home for nurses during construction of the new Charity hospital here.

Then, the indictment said, the defendants sold to the university the furnishings of the hotel for $75,000 despite that the furnishings were included in the original sale.

The mails were used in this scheme, it was alleged, to send checks between New Orleans and Baton Rouge.

QUITS HWY. POST

BATON ROUGE, July 18 (AP)— Governor Earl K. Long today announced resignation of L. P. Abernathy as chairman of the Louisiana highway commission, a few days after Abernathy resigned from the board of supervisors of Louisiana
State University.

Governor Long announced he had appointed Dr. Lether E. Fran-zar, president of Southwestern Louisiana Institute at Lafayette, to succeed Abernathy, who gave no reason for his unexpected resignation.

He retired from the university's board of supervisors subsequent to exposure of the widespread scandal
there, saying his highway duties occupied so much of his time he was unable to give full attention to the university work.

Abernathy last week said he was a stockholder holding some
"25 to 30 per cent" of the stock of the Standard Office Supply company of Monroe, La., now supplying furniture for a new geology building at the State university.

Rumors of his resignation had been current for several days.

BURGLARY SUSPECTS TO BE RETURNED

Deputy Sheriff A. J. Merrick left Tuesday morning for Monahans to gain custody of four men wanted
here in connection with burglary
of the Smith Bros. Drug store Sunday night.

The men, two whites and two negroes, were taken from a freight train at Monahans Monday afternoon at the request of local officers. Some of the goods missing from the store was reported recovered.

Mrs. Helen Acuff, assistant county superintendent, Tuesday began her vacation.

MUCH COOLER this SUMMER

—Thanks to Our Cheap Electric Service

● "Much Cooler This Summer" is the weather forecast if you use your cheap electric service to add to summer comfort. Whether to run fans, a cooling system or an air conditioning unit, your electric service does its part to increase your comfort in hot weather. In the kitchen, too, your electric cooker and your electric refrigerator make hot weather more comfortable by making it easy to have hot meals or cold salads and desserts.

And the cost of this service is surprisingly small. One penny runs the average portable electric fan for four hours; less than two pennies an hour is all it costs to run a residential cooling system, and self-contained air conditioning units cost only slightly more. Two pennies an hour is the average cost of cooking in a modern automatic electric cooker. A few pennies pay for electricity to run your refrigerator a whole day. That is why we say that, "Electricity is Cheap."
