DUNBAR URGES RED RIVER DAM SURVEY REPORT

Goes to Washington To Seek Action By War Department

T. J. Dunbar, secretary-treasurer of the Upper Red River Flood Control and Irrigation Authority, in Washington Monday urged war department officials to rush action on a flood control survey report for the proposed Red River Dam, which the local authority hopes to have built in the cap rock area west of Memphis.

Only core drillings and water tests in the reservoir site 30 miles west of here are necessary before all field data is obtained, Dunbar said. He requested that the report be sent to Washington in time for consideration of the project by Congress during the present session.

The project would combine flood control, irrigation, wild-life conservation and recreation features. The proposed dam would be located in Briscoe County, approximately four and one-half miles west of the Hall County line, and would supply water for irrigation purposes to farms in Briscoe, Hall, and Childress Counties.

A formal application for a survey of the area was made to the War Department in May last year by the local authority. The preliminary survey was granted, and was completed by war department engineers early in October.

C. L. Newsome, engineer in charge of the survey, said at that time that it would be necessary for several authorities to pass on the findings before the Chief Army engineer could present the proposed to Congress and ask for the construction of a dam.

Mr. Dunbar is now in Washington negotiating for completion of the report in order that the present Congress may be asked to appropriate funds for the construction of the proposed dam. The proposal is being considered by

Memphis Debaters Make Initial Tour

Memphis high school debaters made their initial tour of the season Tuesday, debating at Childress, Quanah, and Chillicothe in practice matches with teams representing these schools.

The boys team, Cullin Chapman and Evan Roberts, took part in the debating on the question set up for Interscholastic League competition this year, "Resolved, That Texas should Adopt a Uniform Sales Tax."

The local debaters won the district championship in Interscholastic competition last year, and plan to make a strong bid for the state honors this season.

June Tarver and Betty Fultz, members of the girls debating team, went along on the trip, but did not take part in the debates. The group was accompanied by their sponsor, Clinton Voyles, Junior High School principal, and Miss Maude Milam.

The local team debated at Childress at nine o'clock, at Quanah at eleven, and at 1:30 in Chillicothe before the student body of that school.

Voyles announced plans Tuesday for both teams to enter the Invitational Debating Tournament at Lubbock Saturday, and later to attend the annual Invitational tournament at Abilene sponsored by the Abilene High School. The Lubbock tournament is limited to the larger Class A schools, but the local debaters, because of their record, received an invitation to take part in the affair this year.

The tournament at Abilene, which will be held early in March, is the largest of its kind in the state.

Gas Rate Dispute At Clarendon Is Ended by Company

Injunction Withdrawn As Utility Company Agrees To Lower Rate; Penalty

A six year-old controversy over gas rates in Clarendon was brought to an end last week when the City Gas Company, which supplies natural gas to consumers in that community, gave notice that they would accept the recent order by the Texas Railroad Commission reducing the rate from 70 cent to 51 cents per thousand cubic feet.

The Gas Company also accepted a refund clause asked by the Clarendon City Council, requiring them to repay all collections over the 51 cent rate since February 1, 1933, the date when the Clarendon city ordinance reducing the rate passed. An estimated $30,000 will be returned to Clarendon consumers.

The controversy was believed ended by the withdrawal of an injunction secured by the Gas Company restraining the Railroad Commission from enforcing the lower gas rate.

In the meantime, no further action has been announced by the Commission on the rate of 50 cents per thousand cubic feet ordered by the Memphis City Council in an ordinance passed last week. Memphis is served by the United Gas Corporation, and it is expected that the corporation will appeal the decision if the Railroad Commission approves the local rate reduction.

The local ordinance carries a provision similar to that enacted by the Clarendon City Council requiring the gas company to refund all charges above the 50 cent rate collected after the date of publication, which was last Friday. If and when the case is settled and a lower rate set, the company will be forced to make the refund to local customers.

A concerted fight for lower rates on natural gas has been waged for several years by Memphis, Childress, Wellington, and Clarendon consumers. The Clarendon rate is the first to be settled.

The Grand Jury, which completed its business Tuesday, was composed of T. W. Bell of Turkey, foreman, and J. L. Benham, N. A. Hightower, J. B. Weatherly, R. H. Whaley, R. B. McMurry, Alga Turner, Frank Ellis, D. L. C. Kinard, Seth B. Pallmeyer, J. O. Adams, and J. M. Ferrell Sr.

Organization of 4-H Clubs in Ten Rural Communities Is Underway

More than 200 Hall County farm youths will soon be enrolled in the 4-H Club movement, if plans announced last week by County Agent W. B. Hooser are carried out. Clubs have already been organized in ten communities, with a total enrollment of 187, and at least two others will be organized immediately, Hooser said.

The response to the 4-H movement here has been so enthusiastic and complete throughout the county that the county agent, who is directing organization of the clubs, has been hard-pressed to meet the demanding schedule of community meetings.

Clubs have been organized during the past two weeks at Plaska, Friendship, Weatherly, Turkey, Parnell, Newlin, Salisbury, Pleasant Valley, Lesley, and Brice. A request has already been received for the organization of a club at Buffalo Flat, and the county agent also plans to form a 4-H Club group at the local Junior

Cap Rock Relays Scheduled Here For April 1st

Panhandle's Biggest Track Carnival to Be Staged in Memphis

The largest track carnival and the first one of its kind in the Panhandle will be held here April 1st. The relays were not held last year because of excessive bad weather.

There will be about $100 worth of trophies and medals awarded to the individual and winning teams. These rewards were carried over from last year by the Sidelineers, Chamber of Commerce, and business men of Memphis.

Track practice will start next week. Eugene Lindsey, Garnet Moore and Lindley Billington are the only three lettermen from last year. Lindsey and Moore qualified for the regional meet last year.

Lindsey runs the 100 yard dash, 200 yard dash, mile relay, and takes part in the pole vault. Moore runs the mile and is on the mile relay team. Billington is a high jumper and runs the 880 yard run. There will be several boys out who have never had track experience.

Small Pox Vaccine Given Students

Dr. O. R. Goodall, city health officer, vaccinated all the children of West Ward, Junior High School, and High School, who had not been vaccinated for small-pox during the last five years or had not had the disease.

The children in Morningside Colored School were vaccinated the following day.

Barber Wins In Golden Gloves

John Barber, the slugging, slashing, shadowy fighting pride of Memphis High School carried the Black and Gold through to the Featherweight Championship in the Golden Gloves district fights last week at Childress.

Johnnie strated by clipping Young of Turkey for a decision. When he climbed through the ropes against Jackson of Childress, he won by a decision. His other win was over Richards of Esteline by the forfeit route.

NEW FROSH PREXY

Leo Thompson, vice president of the Freshman class, has resigned his position. The duties were taken over by Riley Vernon Carlton.

Tennis Matches to Be At Childress

Senior netters from Memphis High School will meet a Childress High School team in the first tennis match of the season on the Childress courts Friday.

Probable line-up for the Cyclone squads will be:

Girl's singles, Naomi Smith and Boots Maxwell. Girl's doubles, June Seago, Ruth Barnes, and Evelyn Selby.

Boys' singles, Bill Browning, Henry Evans, Lloyd Hicks, and Tempie Deaver. Boys' doubles, Leroy Robertson, Garner Moore, Henry Evans, and Lloyd Benton.

Hi-Y Boys Speak At Local Church

M. C. Ball and Lloyd Hicks represented the Memphis Hi-Y at the Methodist Church Sunday evening. M. C. read several verses from Jeremiah relating to the responsibilities of young Christians and Lloyd gave a brief report of the Older Boys Conference in Amarillo February 3rd to 5th.

Miss Mary Foreman and the Junior High Choral Club gave a number.

GRIDIRON PERSONALITIES

J. C. McClure, better known as "Piccolo," used to play in the band, hence the name. He decided to change to a rougher game and is Co-Captain of 1939 Cyclone squad. He is a good passer and runner, kicking with his left foot. Piccolo is well liked by all his schoolmates. He is a great leader, a real boy, steady and dependable. A boy who is going places for Memphis High next fall. "Don't disappoint us, Piccolo!"

West Ward Thanks FFA For Ropes

The West Ward school wishes to express thanks and appreciation to the F.F.A. boys and their instructor, Mr. Key, for the jumping ropes which they have recently made in their classes for the grade school.

The pupils have received a great deal of pleasure from these ropes.

School Editorial

By W. C. DAVIS

Dear Patrons:

As we are frequently asked why we teach certain subjects in our schools, we are writing a series of articles explaining the reasons and methods used in the classrooms. The material for these articles is given by the principals and teachers of West Ward, Junior High, and High Schools.

The first subject in the series is social science including, geography, history, civics, and government.

We teach social science because we want:

1. To give the students a broader view of the world by studying geography.
2. The pupil to learn to appreciate life by learning how other boys and girls live in foreign countries.
3. To develop culture in the students.
4. To view life in a practical way.
5. To develop the ability to reason by comparing the events of today with those of yesterday.
6. To converse intelligently about world events.
7. To learn to be a good citizen.

These subjects are connected with other subjects as:

1. English—through oral and written discussion.
2. Vocational guidance—studying trades.
3. Mathematics—problems to work.
4. Commercial work—type material to be handed in.

Interest is created by:

1. Presenting actual life problems.
2. By contacting people in foreign lands.
3. By putting practical experience to work.
4. By drawing maps, by keeping current happenings, and by making handcraft articles from wood or cloth.

Outside materials used are:

1. Library books.
2. Newspapers and magazines.
3. Radio.
4. Special reports.

We are working for the practical interest of boys and girls.

CHURCHES

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The pastor's message Sunday morning will be on the subject, "The Necessity for Faith" with Mark 9:23, 24 as the scriptural background. We believe that this is a timely subject for our church and our community. Will you think of faith, and what it would mean for your own individual life if you really exercised more faith in God.

Sunday evening the subject is, "A Strange Bargain." You are interested in strange bargains, and possibly you have made some, but we believe that you will agree with us that this is the strangest bargain ever made. Please read Isaiah 1:16-20.

Our Sunday school attendance Sunday was 433, the B.T.U. attendance 140 and the preaching services both morning and evening were well attended. The offering was less than usual, the deposit being $115.19. We hope that all these figures will be materially raised for next Sunday. If you will do your part, you will be happy in the Lord's service, and thus will attract others to deeper consecration. We had a splendid brass quartet in the evening services, and it was greatly appreciated. We trust the boys will play each Sunday evening.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Are you deeply impressed many times with the fine sayings of others? Alexander Pope said: "Save me alike from foolish pride or impious discontent. At aught Thy wisdom has denied, Or aught Thy goodness lent. Teach me to feel another's woe, To hide the fault I see; That mercy I to others show, That mercy show to me."

Mary Edgar said: "I will follow the upward way today, I will keep my face to the Light." Isaac Watts, wrote these beautiful lines: "O God, our help in ages past, Our hope for years to come, Our shelter from the stormy blast, And our eternal home."

Jesus said: "I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." Your place in the Sunday School and in

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Orion W. Carter, Pastor
Crowds at the Methodist Church have been excellent for the past month. Both morning and night services have found many people present and we believe their presence indicates an earnest desire to find God and His way of life.

Sunday night the presiding elder, Rev. G. T. Palmer, will preach and immediately following the service will hold the Second Quarterly Conference. Brother Palmer will be heard with real interest. He has served one of the leading churches of the Northwest Texas Conference for many years, up until recently. He was a popular pastor and preacher. His first appearance here recently was met with highest favor and a great crowd is anticipated Sunday night to hear him again.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

What was Jesus' attitude toward ambition? He happened to know two brothers who had fiery tempers and high ambitions. They were nicknamed "Sons of Thunder," see Mark 3:17. If you want a picture of their temper in action, read Luke 9:51-57. In the case described do you think their anger was just? Their ambition is seen vividly in Mark 10:35-45. How do you like the way Jesus dealt with this personality problem?

After reading these brief passages, let us ask ourselves, are our own ambitions Christian? Our church hours are: Sunday School, 10 a. m.; Church services, 11 a. m. and 7:15 p. m.; Christian Endeavor, 6:30, and Prayer Meeting 7:30 Wednesday evening.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

W. M. Davis, Minister
"Saul, the Pharisee and Paul, the Apostle" will be the subject of the morning sermon next Sunday. Out of the chief sinners the Lord made an apostle who labored more abundantly than they all. It is not what a man is when he starts, but what he is when he gets through, that counts. At the evening service the subject will be, "The Fountain That Never Fails."

The Sunday morning Bible school will begin at 9:45 a. m. On Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 the Women's Bible Class meets for study. The mid-week Bible study is held at 7:45 p. m. Wednesday.

Farm Income Is Brightened by AAA Estimates

Conservation Payments Will Exceed $6 Million Dollars in Texas Area
Prospects for Texas farm income in 1939 are at least fourteen million dollars brighter now than on January 1, when the AAA estimated $42,000,000 would be issued in "conservation payments" to farmers of this state who took part in the national acreage curtailment program of 1938.

The AAA now estimates such payments will exceed $56,000,000 which is about $22,000,000 more than the total of such grants in connection with the 1937 program. George Slaughter, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee of the AAA, said 1938 conservation payments will be divided about as follows:

For compliance with acreage allotments for cotton, $33,000,000; general crops, $11,000,000; peanuts, $1,000,000; wheat, $2,600,000; and rice, $400,000.

For additional soil-building practices — $4,000,000; range program, $3,750,000; to increase small payments, $3,000,000; total, $56,850,000.

Additional grants called "price adjustment payments" are slated for growers of cotton, wheat and rice, as soon as possible after plantings for the current season have been checked.

Preliminary estimates indicate that rates of "price adjustment" or "parity" payments for 1939 will be 1.6 to 1.8 cents a pound for cotton; 10 to 12 cents a bushel for wheat; and 12 to 13 cents a hundredweight for rice—payment in each case to be made on the normal yield of the acreage allotment, as established under the 1939 Agricultural Conservation Program.

Shelterbelts on Prairie-Plains Cover 7,000 Miles of Farm Land Areas

Over 7,000 miles of shelterbelt have been planted on over 13,500 farms in the prairie plains region since 1935, according to the latest advice from F. A. Silcox, chief of Forest Service. The jobs of shelterbelt planting, which extends from North Dakota, south through South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, and northwest Texas, is yet far from completed. The program for 1939 alone calls for 600 miles of planting in Texas.

The Prairie States Forestry Project has planted approximately 1150 miles in northwest Texas to date. Planting is now underway in Wilbarger, Foard, Hardeman, Cottle, Motley, Hall, Donley, Gray and Wheeler Counties. When this year's planting is completed, approximately 1750 miles will have been completed in Texas. Few people realize the extent of the shelterbelt plantings, which are concentrated as much as possible in definite areas so as to obtain the maximum good to the rural communities.

Although individual applications for one-half or one mile tree belts are being accepted for further examination before final approval, the Forest Service is having its men make determined efforts to group the belts. Individual belts help the individual farm, but a concentration of belts is more desirable. Individual tree belts are not as effective in providing the protection that can be had from a large concentration of belts spread across country. For that reason, the Forest Service is stressing the added value to crops, soil protection from wind erosion, protection to stock and farm homes, and to the community at large.

Over the past four years, effective concentrations of shelterbelts have been planted around Turkey with over 200 miles of belts; north and west of Paducah over 100 miles; east and west of Shamrock over 200 miles; about 160 miles around Quannah and Vernon, and several hundred miles of concentrated plantings in other communities.

Miss Vera Tops Gilreath, Hall County superintendent, and Mrs. Nora Carlton from the district offices of the Texas Public Health Department, attended a health meeting in Lubbock Wednesday.

Bowen Cox of Canyon, farmer, a member of the Memphis High School faculty, was a visitor here Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Noel and Mrs. Mary Combest and Mrs. Hobert Moffitt, all of Hedley, attended funeral services for Mrs. J. J. Wilson here Saturday.

I Give You Texas

By BOYCE HOUSE

Ben Woodall, former Harrison County prosecuting attorney and new assistant Attorney General, had a brief and amusing experience as a newspaperman. He was correspondent for one of the state dailies and, one day, hearing a whistle, he asked an acquaintance what it meant. "The railroad shops are on fire" was the answer. So Woodall dashed to the telegraph office and sent a message: "Marshall shops on fire; will send details." The newspaper issued on an "extra" but meanwhile the ambitious young correspondent found that the whistle had meant only a fire drill. He telegraphed his resignation.

A note of informality was injected into a session of the State Railroad Commission recently. For years, everyone has called Ernest O. Thompson, member of the commission, "Colonel," in recognition of his service during the World War, his erect carriage and his military precision. But drawing Jerry Sadler, newest member of the commission, greeted him the other day as "Red." Thompson beamed and said: "That's the nickname that all the fellows had for me when I was a boy and, after all, the war is over, isn't it?" So next time you see the Colonel—beg pardon, we should have said "Red"—greet him with his old-time title, revived by Jerry Sadler.

The new Governor's transactions tax measure is very careful to exempt the fees of lawyers but levies a tax on newspaper advertisements. Lawyers hold more offices and do more talking about affairs of government and pay less than any other class. Some time somebody is going to run for office on a platform to put lawyers on the same basis with the rest of us folks—and that candidate will be elected, hands down. Come to think of it, it's such a good idea, believe I'll run myself.

Also the governor has made a remarkable series of nominations for labor commissioner, a man who doesn't belong to any of the generally recognized labor unions; for another high position, a carpet-bagger; for chairman of the highway commission, a man from Dallas—giving that city two members of the commission, the rest of the state, one member.

New state officials have been sworn in although, as these lines are written, James V. Allred has not taken the oath as federal judge. With all the inaugurations, there comes to mind a story (it is told simply as a joke, of course):

An uncouth sort of fellow ran against a county judge, who was highly educated, and beat thunder out of the judge. So, on Jan. 1, the successful candidate called at the office of his outgoing rival and said: "Judge, I want you to qualify me." The official said: "I'll swear you in but all I can't qualify you."

"Oldest joke" contest entry: A revivalist called on all who wanted to go to heaven to rise. Everybody stood but one man. The preacher then called on all who wanted to go to the infernal regions to rise but still the man kept his seat. "Way didn't you get up on either pro or con? The evangelist demanded you see, the other said, "I'm a candidate for heaven and I don't want to go to either place."

BREAD OR CIRCUSES

TEXAS POLITICAL ELECTIONS have often been compared to a three-ring circus, and quite frequently the comparison has proved entirely too accurate to be flattering.

A sense of humor is an important and highly desirable attribute of which Texas people may be proud, but when such humor is carried out to the extent of making an impractical joke of a serious political election and a laughing-stock of a great state, the results are far from desirable.

The "When and If" campaigns recently inaugurated by some of the Panhandle's most prominent humorists, on the strength of rumors that Hon. Marvin Jones may resign as Member of Congress from the 18th District, bring up the most recent example of the "fiddling while Rome burns" technique.

These campaigns have obviously started in the interest of "good clean fun," and, since everyone enjoys a good laugh, have received widespread publicity... not only in Texas but in all sections of the United States. The election of a congressman to succeed as valuable a man as Marvin Jones, however, should be a matter for the most serious consideration of the voters of the Panhandle... when and if such an election becomes necessary.

Marvin Jones has not resigned, and so far has made no statements to indicate that he is considering such a move. However, informed sources believe that he may accept an appointment to a federal judgeship in the near future, and the selection of a successor will, in that event, be a matter of the greatest importance to the Texas Panhandle.

That issue, if it should arise at the next election, should not be clouded by the slap-stick comedy and facetiousness which characterizes the recent campaign-joking. Humor has its place in the political scene, but it should not be allowed to become a Juggernaut sweeping common-sense before it. In the light of past experiences, that possibility is not nearly so ridiculous as the results of some such elections have been.

Marvin Jones has been a powerful and influential member of Congress, and his work in Washington has been of inestimable value to the Texas Panhandle. The election of his successor, "when and if" it becomes necessary, will be no laughing matter.

The ancient Romans cried for "bread and circuses," but in modern politics, voters must choose between the two. We can't have both.

LOOKING FORWARD

A BRIGHTER PICTURE for the future of farming in Hall County is being drawn by the organization of nearly two hundred farm boys in 4-H Clubs in a dozen communities throughout the county. Combined with the work already underway in FFA Clubs organized by vocational agriculture classes in three of the larger schools of the county, the young men of today who will become the farmers of tomorrow are being well prepared for the work which they will do.

These future farmers, through the organized club work which they are undertaking, are learning the scientific principles which may be applied to practical agriculture to improve the quality and value of farm products.

Under the direction of the county agent and vocational agriculture instructors they are learning through practical experience the improved methods and practices which will spell progress for the farmers of tomorrow. In a territory which depends, as Hall County does, on agricultural products for its livelihood, the importance of such a movement can hardly be overestimated.

The enthusiastic and whole-hearted response which these young farmers accorded the 4-H movement is proof enough of their interest, and proof as well that the future of this section is well founded.

Some marks of the progress which they will make will be immediately apparent, but the greatest benefit from the work which is being done now will be felt in the future years when these boys put into large scale operations on Hall County farms the knowledge and experience which they are gaining now through their club work.

Governor-elect O'Daniel discovered half a million people in Texas who liked hillbilly music, but it begins to appear as if the members of the legislature aren't musically inclined... or perhaps their taste runs to grand opera. We suggest "Ferdinand the Bull" as an appropriate theme song for the solons.

Water Rises No Higher Than Its Source

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Secretary
 Breeder-Feeder Association

"You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear" and "a crop is no better than its seed" are equally true sayings. It is one of the most expensive "economies" (?) on the farm to plant poor seed and spend a whole season's work making a poor crop. It costs only a few cents an acre more to get the best seed available for crops like corn, sorghum, melons, tomatoes and a great many others. The difference may run into dollars on cotton, clover, alfalfa, and the small grains, but the best pays off at harvest time far beyond the extra cost.

But what is "good seed?" First, it is clean seed, unmixed with weeds or other crop seed. Second, it is pure seed; that is it is bred to produce true to its name and character. Third, it is a variety adapted to the soil and climate where it is to be grown. Fourth, it is high in germinating power.

But how are we to know all this? Most of the guesswork is eliminated by purchasing only seed which is bagged and properly labeled. Every state has seed labeling laws, and the tag tells (1) percentage of foreign seed present, (2) name of the variety, and (4) percentage of germination. As to (3) its adaption to his locality, the buyer must know by experience or look up the records from the nearest agricultural experiment station.

On the question of purity there is a further safeguard in buying seed officially "certified" or "registered" in the name of its breeder or grower. This information is on another tag, usually colored to indicate the different grades. The highest grade is that which came last from the breeding block, the second grade is usually a year farther removed. The reputation of the breeder is back of this tag, and it also carries the assurance of the certifying authority that the seed has been grown under its rules and inspection.

It is a risky practice to buy bulk seed either from someone traveling through the country or from a local seed store. If it turns out to be good the buyer is lucky; if not he has only himself to blame. The seed peddler may be honest and the local merchant who has to face his customer afterwards surely wouldn't knowingly misrepresent his goods. But

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this means of thanking our new friends and former neighbors for the kindness shown us in our recent bereavement, the death of our wife and mother, and for the loyal respect and esteem shown the memory of our loved one.

the source of the seed is unknown, its purity is a matter of faith, and there is no germination test. Reliable local merchants would prefer to handle only properly tested and labeled seed, but for the "bargain hunters" who save a dime and lose a dollar by insisting on cheap (?) seed.

It is too late to buy seed when planting time is at hand. Buying ahead insures getting the best you are willing to pay for, while last-minute buying sometimes means taking Hobson's choice. Read the tags, buy the best seed available, have it ready—and then don't treat it like a step-child. Good seed is worthy of a good seed-bed; and a full crop is impossible without a good stand.

I had occasion a few days ago to make some of the alleys and outskirts of Memphis. Actually, I was amazed at the deplorably dirty condition of these parts of our city.

There seems to be a decided lapse of interest in the cleanliness of the alleys of Memphis. Now, besides unsightly and a disparaging reflection on the owner of the premises, decaying debris breeds germs. So let's do something about it. Let's stage a drive on debris.

There are so many ways of taking care of waste papers and rubbish besides letting it scatter over town or collect in windswept corners. To contact the trash or garbage man and make arrangements with him to call regularly at the back door is a good beginning. A net-wire ring makes an excellent incinerator for papers, and for rubbish and cans that will to burn, one may use an old oil barrel with the top cut away, or a townsack.

Citizens, let's become alley-conscious. The trash man's fees are nominal. He needs your business and you needs his help. Those of you on the outskirts, in the residential districts, and store keepers down town, look to your alleys.

While we as citizens of Memphis are busily concerned with the building of schools, parks, and beautifying our front yards, let's be alert also to the disorder in our backyards. If you think I am unduly alarmed, try making some of the alleys and see for yourself.

So friends, be on your toes. Make this pep talk on alleys bear fruit by taking a personal interest in keeping Memphis clean. Let's make it our business as individuals to see to it that Memphis is the cleanest and healthiest as well as the most progressive little city in the Panhandle.

wired for electricity, Yarborough said Tuesday. Electric service should be available to all subscribers by early summer. The 117 miles of line under construction will serve more than 300 rural homes.

Doyle Hall, president of the Hall County co-operative, and T. E. Lenoir, secretary, signed the deeds and notes Monday afternoon after receiving authorization by the board of directors of the local project. The board of directors at that time approved Miss Ruth Whaley as bookkeeper and stenographer for co-operative.

Bids will be opened and contracts have been received from Humphreys and Thompson of Oklahoma City; Mattison and Walker of Britton, Oklahoma; H. H. Walker of Los Angeles, California; The Uvalde Construction Company of Dallas; Reinhart and Donovan of Oklahoma City; Broom Electric Company of Amarillo; and Courtney Denny of Memphis.

Bids will be opened and contracts let to the low bidder at the county courtroom Friday afternoon.

In the meantime, officers and directors of the local co-operative are working busily at their local offices to clear up final details in preparation for opening construction.

Yarborough, Doyle Hall, T. E. Lenoir, Jake Lamb, and Harold Hodges made a trip Wednesday to Tahoka for a conference with federal officials and representatives of Rural Electrification Administration pertaining to plans for wiring and construction details.

The men also planned to observe REA projects already in operation in Floyd and Lubbock Counties.

Barker Proves—

and admiration of young and old alike.

In his initial appearance at the high school auditorium Wednesday morning, Dr. Barker spoke to the entire student body and faculty of the high school and junior high school and to members of the senior classes from Lakeview and Clarendon schools who were specially invited as the guests of the local high school students. The lecture was open to the public, and a number of parents crowded into the school auditorium to hear the address.

Dr. Barker held his audience at rapt attention as he addressed his remarks primarily to the young people on "Making the Most out of Life", bringing out the three requisites for a successful life which he defined in the words of President James A. Garfield as "A strong arm, a clear head and a brave heart."

Speaking at the noon hour before members of the Rotary Club and a large number of visiting Rotarians from Childress, Wellington and Clarendon, he described the main product of Rotary as the development of Friendship in men, stressing the high purposes of the organization and the success it has had through its development of fellowship in preventing international disturbances.

Dr. Barker, in the past eighteen years during which he has been on the lecture platform, has visited more than 2,000 Rotary clubs in all sections of the United States and Canada.

In his concluding address here at the First Methodist Church Wednesday night, Dr. Barker continued his remarks on "life's important jobs" and told his listeners in stirring terms that "the most important job in the world is being a father or mother."

He deplored the lack of educational facilities for teaching the young people these facts as they grow, and said that "all they know concerning motherhood and fatherhood is what they stumble onto by accident and not what they learn from scientific study."

Urging that parents support local Boy Scout organizations, Dr. Barker described the Boy Scout movement as one of the most valuable in the world for training boys and bringing them through the dangerous age which he termed as "the gang period."

The last part of his address he devoted to social relations between young people, dealing with these problems in a frank and sensible manner learned through long experience in dealing with young men and women.

High School.

The county agent plans to meet with each club once each month, and some phase of agriculture will be discussed at each of these meetings. The boys have taken charge of organization, elected of parliamentary procedure at each meeting.

Each club member has already selected a project for the year. A number of the boys, Hooser said, are planning to carry on more than one project in connection with their club work. Pigs, poultry, and beef cattle, in the order named, are the most popular projects selected. Others include dairies, cattle, cotton and feed, and other phases of farm activity.

The members range in age from 10 to 20 years. Their club work will include studies of scientific methods of carrying out almost every type of modern agriculture.

the War Department primarily as a flood control measure to prevent a repetition of the disastrous floods in this area such as occurred last spring.

The dam, however, would store water for irrigation purposes, and the directors of the Upper Red River Authority are urging its construction for that purpose as well as for flood control. It is believed that sufficient water could be stored to permit extensive irrigation in farm lands in this area.

Members of the Board of directors of the authority are Roy E. Barr of Childress, president; O. E. Bevers of Lakeview, vice-president; T. J. Dunbar of Memphis, secretary, and E. G. Rice and O. W. Stroup of Quitaque, G. W. Farmer of Carey, and J. A. Whaley of Memphis. E. B. Tunnell of Quitaque was appointed General Manager for the project.

NEW PENSION PLAN

Why not eliminate much of the expense attached to the Old Age Pension Administration? Texans feel that the commissioner's court of each county could assume much of the duties now being carried out by the administrative organization of the pension fund. What is more to the point, the court, in constant touch with the local situations, would be better qualified to handle the jobs with less effort and no expense.—The Spearman Reporter.
