Seed Smothers Oil Mill Worker

Christian (Chris) Struck, about 50, smothered to death this afternoon about 12:30 o'clock when cottonseed caved in on him as he was feeding the conveyor in the oil mill of the Memphis Cotton Oil Company.

Exactly how the accident occurred is not known, since no one was in the seed house with him at the time. He was dead, however, when his face was uncovered by workers. Between 10 and 15 minutes were required to dig the body from the seed.

Working with Struck as his partner in feeding the conveyor was C. T. Eads, and the two men were working alternately at the conveyor during the noon hour. Eads was finishing his lunch when the seed caved in on Struck.

Immediate survivors include his wife, who joined him here only a few weeks ago. Other survivors were not learned this afternoon.

Both Struck and Eads came to Memphis this fall from East Texas for employment at the mill. Struck (Continued on Page 7)

LOCAL SCHOOLS TO START AT 8

Cooperating with patrons who are forced to keep their children from attending school because of necessity of having children help in cotton picking, the Memphis Public Schools will begin at 8 o'clock and close at 12:30, Superintendent W. C. Davis said this week.

The plan will go into effect next Monday, and will be tried for one week. If its proves successful as an aid to the pupils and farmers, the plan will be continued throughout the duration of the picking season.

Buses will pick up the rural children earlier, and will bring them to the schools, and have them back at their homes by 1 or 1:30, it was explained, leaving the remainder of the evening for cotton picking. Early morning dews and frosts have prevented picking until about noon anyway, it was explained, and it is believed the plan will prove satisfactory, both to farm students and city students.

The shortage of farm labor will also be helped, it was pointed out. Children who live in town will (Continued on Page 7)

Rev. Joe Findley Resigns Christian Church Pastorate

Memphis' smallest, but one of its best-liked preachers, Joe Findley, this week resigned as pastor of the First Christian Church of Memphis to accept a similar position at the First Christian Church in Canyon.

Rev. Findley will continue his work here until January 1, at which time he will leave for Canyon. He will conduct his first services there Sunday, January 4.

For the past four years, Rev. Findley has been living in Memphis, and besides his work with his church, he has been active in civic affairs.

He is a member of the local Masonic lodge, the Rotary Club, the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, the Memphis Ministerial (Continued on page 7)

Wolf Flat Gin Fire Is Second Blow to County Farmers

Approximately 650 bales of cotton had been ginned at Wolf Flat when the gin caught fire. The gin had been running night and day, and was running when the fire started. About 35 bales of cotton on the grounds at the time were damaged by fire.

The loss was partially covered this week. (Continued on page 7)

Defense Shop to Start New Course

Enrollment for a new course in woodworking at the National Defense Shop at Memphis High School will be held Monday night at 7 o'clock, it was announced this week.

The new class, to be taught by D. B. Myers, local instructor in the defense shop, will meet from 7 to 10 o'clock each week-day night except Saturdays and Sundays.

Men between the ages of 17 and 25 are eligible for enrollment, it was explained.

The completion of the woodworking course qualifies one to join the Navy at a salary of $60 a month, where the salary of a man either joining or being drafted would be only $21 per month, it was explained.

No damage was done by the burning of the grass, but the small house, near the Veterans CCC camp, was completely destroyed.

Fire Department Gets Two Calls

Two calls were answered by the Memphis Fire Department last week, one for a grass fire and the other for a small one-room house blaze.

No damage was done by the burning of the grass, but the small house, near the Veterans CCC camp, was completely destroyed.

The pictures will be made by W. D. Orr at the Orr Studio, and students must bring the 45 cents with them to pay for the pictures at the time they are made. Students who are out of school at the present time may have their pictures made any time during the days set for their classes before 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Dates Are Set for Taking of Pictures For School Annual

Dates for Memphis High School Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores to have their pictures taken for the Cyclone annual were announced this week by Gene Barnett, annual supervisor.

Seniors will have their pictures made Friday, November 14; Juniors, Wednesday, November 19; and Sophomores, Thursday, November 20. No pictures will be made before or after the given dates, and none will be made after 4 o'clock in the afternoon, Barnett said.

All Is Quiet Here As Armistice Day Comes and Goes

No whistles blew, no guns were fired at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, but probably no anniversary of the 1918 Armistice Day has been so keenly felt than that of 1941.

Only a few business houses in Memphis closed in observing the stopping point of the World War, no celebrating was done, but the "all in vain" feeling which is prevailing in the nation today has caused citizens to be more patriotic inwardly than at any time since 1918.

Closed for the day were the banks, the post office, the barber shops, the beauty shops, and the tailor shops. Outside of that everything was carried out on (Continued on page 7)

Lady, Save That Paper Sack-- For It Might Become Priceless

Blame it on the war in Europe, Texas housewives may soon start carrying shopping-bags again, to hold the articles which they buy in stores. Wrapping paper is getting scarce.

Retail merchants, cooperating with the government in a campaign to prevent the waste of paper so that needed supplies will be available for the army and navy and defense industries, today began a campaign to eliminate all unnecessary use of paper bags and wrapping paper. Wednesday was chosen to start the campaign because it is "War Against Waste Day," established in President Roosevelt's proclamation in President Roosevelt's proclamation of Civilian Defense Week.

The reason for the campaign is simple. The United States is producing only twenty-one million tons of paper a year, but it is using twenty-six million. That situation cannot go on forever.

GINNS KEEP BUSY —NO MORE RAINS

6,300 Bales Ginned in Hall Prior to November 1; Low of 27 Degrees Hits

Gins throughout Hall County were running night and day this week, as the fair weather continued, allowing farmers to gather their crops rapidly during the warm afternoons.

Frosts and dews at night, however, slow down cotton picking in the early mornings, and most farmers are forced to wait until late morning and afternoon to begin gathering each day.

The low temperature of the year was recorded for Wednesday night at 27 degrees by J. J. McMickin, local weather observer. Three other nights, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, also found the thermometer dropping below the freezing mark. Sunday night's low was 28 degrees, Monday 30, and Tuesday 30.

Prior to November 1, a total of 6,300 bales of cotton had been ginned in Hall County, as compared to 13,714 in 1940, C. Lee Rushing, special agent for the Bureau of the Census of the Department of Commerce, reported this week.

It is estimated that at least this much more has been ginned since that time, and possibly more.

FINDLEY MAKES MAIN ADDRESS

Olson Sweat of Salisbury Gets Community Quota On Opening Day of Drive

Pointing out that the quota of 1,313 members for the annual American Red Cross roll call in Hall County is symbolic of "double trouble" in the present time of world stress, Rev. Joe Findley made the principal address at the "kick-off" breakfast held at the First Christian Church Tuesday morning.

Olson Sweat, chairman of the drive at Salisbury, got three more subscribers than his quota of 20 on the initial day of the drive. Salisbury was also among the first to become a 100 per cent member of the Junior Red Cross. Sweat said that he would not stop at his quota, but would attempt to get still more members.

It was pointed out this week by E. E. Roberts, county chapter chairman, that anyone not contacted may mail in their Red Cross membership fee of $1 or more, and their membership card and button will be mailed to them.

Rev. Findley, addressing a small group on the opening day of the roll call, said that the work of the Red Cross is more important today than ever, and added that this work is already well known to all people.

Lefors Needs Only Win From Rockets To Take District

One more victory for the Lefors Pirates and all will be well. For a victory over the Wellington Skyrockets Friday night, when the two teams meet at Wellington, will give the Pirates an undefeated season, big chests and large smiles, and the District 3-A flag with no strings attached.

The Pirates will be favored over the Rockets, who lost their slim chance at the district title last week when they were out-penetrated by the Shamrock Irish in a scoreless tie. The two defeats of the Rockets definitely knocked them out of the flag race, and most fans believe they will be generally deflated when they meet the Pirates.

Other games this week-end will be secondary. The game between Memphis and Canadian, which was to be a non-conference tilt, has been called off due to the ineligibility of Canadian.

Clarendon will go to McLean, and the Tigers will be heavily favored over the Broncos. McLean has only one defeat in conference play, and would be tied with Lefors should the Rockets manage to down the Pirates, and if McLean follows the dope of the experts and beats Clarendon.

The Shamrock Irish, also with only one defeat, will journey to (Continued on page 7)

A New Afghan Design for You to Crochet

THERE'S nothing like an afghan to tuck around your knees when there's a draft in the living room, to make an extra cover for the day bed, to use outdoors on a chilly evening or wherever a casual warm covering is needed. Clever homemakers realize, too, that an afghan can lend rare charm to the decorative scheme of a home. The styles you choose can be quaint or severely modern, depending upon your tastes, and the colors you use can dramatize the main color theme of your rooms. No handwork is quite so exciting as to watch an afghan grow under your fingers, and here's a design that will do just that. Crocheted in moth-proof afghan wool with cross-stitch vines embroidered on alternating panels, this lovely design will make itself at home in a dozen different rooms and will become a household favorite. Directions for crocheting this afghan may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper, specifying design #6072.

Vary Your Puddings

By Frances Lee Barton
A raisin sponge pudding is easy to make. It needs no more effort or time than a cake. It's no more expensive than pie or éclair. But it's sure a "Hot Spot" (or dream) anywhere.

Raisin Sponge Pudding

4 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca; 2 tablespoons sugar; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1 cup seedless raisins, finely chopped; 1 1/2 cups milk; 1 tablespoon butter; 2 tablespoons orange juice; 1 teaspoon grated orange rind; 3 egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon-colored; 3 egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Combine tapioca, sugar, salt, raisins, and milk in top of double boiler. Place over rapidly boiling water and cook 7 minutes after water boils again, stirring frequently. Add butter, orange juice, and orange rind. Cool slightly while beating eggs. Add egg yolks and mix well. Fold into egg whites. Turn into greased baking dish. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 50 to 60 minutes, or until firm. Serves 8.

STYLES—Here's some new work clothes, designed by the Bureau of Home Economics of the Texas Extension Service. At the left is a one-piece cotton coverette made for chores such as milking, gardening, and tending the chickens. For heavier work is the field suit worn by the girl on the right. It has slide fasteners which close the legs at the ankle and half sleeves that snap on or off.

Extension Service Engineer Outlines Methods of Bettering Land Drainage

Many acres of 1941 crops were damaged from water standing too long where normal rainfall would have caused no injury, according to M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer of the A. and M. College Extension Service. But there are some things which may be done in preparing the land which will aid in suitable drainage for the next crop.

The areas referred to comprise those nearly level fields and pastures of central and south Texas where a high fence row may prevent the runoff of water from a field and nearly ruin a crop. The same kind of a fence row in West Texas might serve to improve the crop.

Cutting openings through a fence row which is obstructing needed drainage is one practical way to improve a field. In other fields old back-furrows formed in flat breaking should be plowed down or have openings cut through them.

On fields which are nearly level, especially in the coastal area, some farmers practice flat-breaking the fields in narrow lands so as to leave dead-furrows every 20 to 30 feet for drainage. The closer the spacing of the dead-furrows the better the drainage. The dead-furrows should be opened into a roadside ditch, or some other drainage channel, to give maximum benefits. This system of breaking the land is especially suitable for broadcast or sown crops, such as small grain. It is well adapted to planting pastures, including bermuda grass.

Drainage or row crops can be improved by running the rows so water will flow down them to a drainage channel such as a road ditch. On nearly level fields where large shallow pockets catch water so that it will not drain from dead-furrows or rows, it usually is practical to build a turn-row, or narrow roadway, through the pockets to an outlet drainage way. It will be necessary to scrape the loose soil out of the turnrow ditches after each cultivation of the crop until the wet season is past.

Bentley cautions not to forget until too late in the spring to burn out, or remove, the grass and weeds from old drainage ditches. "Just how much trouble is caused by vegetation in ditches is almost unbelievable," he says.

Through cooperation with the Taylor Bedding Manufacturing Company of Taylor, the King store is offering for a limited time only one of these books to each adult woman calling at their store during the special "Wake Up and Sing" sale on the Morning Glory mattress and matching box spring combination.

Increasing Farm Accidents
Attributed to Machine Age

Above—When the horses start, the gin to turn. Agricultural implements are the leading farm accident hazard. Right—Cigarettes and work in causing serious injury and

Farmer Is Urged
By Red Cross to Check
Accident Hazards

Washington, D. C.—Mechanization of the American farm is accounting for a mounting accident fatality toll, the Red Cross pointed out in an appeal for farm owners to participate in its year-round Home and Farm Accident Prevention drive beginning the last week of October.
Of the 4,500 farm workers killed by accidents last year, approximately 28 per cent were due to carelessness and the use of faulty implements, the Red Cross said. Ill-tempered animals, vehicles, excessive heat and falls led other farm accident causes in that order.

To the farmer, the Red Cross urges a close check-up for the removal of accident hazards. Machinery, tools and other equipment should be examined periodically and kept in good repair. Tools and implements should be kept in regular places, out of the farm yard or where they may cause a serious fall. Bulls, hogs and other dangerous animals should be kept in secure pens.
Approximately 50 injuries of varying degree occur for every farm accident fatality—a nation-wide total of some 225,000 for last year, the Red Cross appeal for greater safety pointed out.

To launch this year's Accident
Prevention program the Red Cross again will distribute 10,000,000 home and farm "check lists." By following the suggestions urban householders can systematically check the home for accident hazards. A similar check-up is outlined for the removal of hazards on the farm.

ICE QUESTION: Why can ates skim over ice, but not on slicks? Because the stroke of the blade the ice slightly to provide lubrication.
why can an ice-cold engine that's OIL-PLATED give smooth, lubricated starts, the lubrication that depends on fast flow alone can often mean harmful dragging starts? Because OIL-PLATING can be up to topmost piston rings before mere fast flow could begin to get there.

An OIL-PLATED engine is yours as you change to popular-priced Conoco Nth oil for Winter. Its man-made extra substance bonds OIL-PLATING—as if "magnetized"—all over inner engine parts. OIL-PLATING can't all quickly drain down. Then before the starter starts, OIL-PLATING can be ready against oil-starved Winter starting...

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL
GAVE TWICE THE ENGINE LIFE!
This oil that OIL-PLATES gave its engine more than twice the life averaged by the engines using the other oils in the Death-Test.
In these times use your car prudently. And use oil that's great for engine life—changing regularly as recommended.
Good starting—good lubrication against all needless wear—helps conserve gasoline, too.

Wec Izzard, news writer for the Amarillo News and news commentator over KGNC, will be guest speaker at the Memphis Rotary Club luncheon next Tuesday noon, and for the Delphian Club Tuesday night at the Memphis Country Club. Wec is a good speaker, and is in demand at functions of many kinds all over the Panhandle.

CANADA FIGHTS COUGHS THIS NEW AMAZING WAY ACTS LIKE A FLASH

By far the largest selling cough medicine in all Canada is Buckley's CANADIOL Mixture. Compounded from rare Canadian Pine Balsam (by a secret process) Buckley's is entirely different from anything else you ever tried. Get a bottle today—take a teaspoonful, let it lie on your tongue a moment then swallow slowly, instantly you feel its powerful effective action spread thru throat, head and bronchial tubes. Coughing spasms cease. Right away it loosens up thick choking phlegm—opens up clogged bronchial tubes—makes breathing easier. Now you'll know why over 10 million bottles of Buckley's famous cough mixture have been sold in cold, wintry Canada. Stanford Pharmacy; Meacham Pharmacy and most good druggists now have this great Canadian discovery.

The annual bargain rate on Memphis Democrat subscriptions in the Memphis area is now in effect, as announced elsewhere in this issue. Some three months ago the price was advanced from $1.50 to $2 in this area, and from $2 to $2.50 elsewhere, due to increased cost of issuing a newspaper. Really, it means a sacrifice to put out a paper locally for less than $2, but your publishers have decided to put on the bargain rate in this area anyway. As has been the case heretofore, no definite date has been set for the campaign to close. It depends upon the response of the subscribers. When a certain number of people have renewed, making the subscription list about what the publishers want, the bargain offer will be withdrawn. There are many reasons why the people of this and adjoining counties ought to be subscribers to The Democrat, but those reasons are given in the announcement. Suffice it to say that Democrat readers have long since found out that the paper is one of the outstanding weekly papers in Texas, and worth all that is asked for a subscription.

DEMOCRAT STAFF POET
Do you know my Grandma was a woman who knew how to hold her man, and she started in the kitchen. She said when a mat got filled up on corn-pone and molasses he was just too heavy on his feet to cavort around and get into devilment.

GRANDMA
Grandmother ate her corn pone, and washed it down with milk; beneath her homespun gown were muscles smooth as silk. She had no magnetic eye, nor cosmetics, perfume or dope; her system was—just good plain food used as a catching rope. But granddaughter uses all she has, and sometimes scads of jack. She doesn't stand hitching well; most generally she comes back. She looks her men straight in the eye, at ease and all serene; says, give me a smoke, buy me a coke, and also an asperine.

Legion Meeting To Be in Dalhart

A joint meeting of the 18th District American Legion and the Panhandle-Plains association will be held in Dalhart November 15 and 16, J. M. Johnson, district commander, announced this week. The program is being arranged by the Dalhart Buddies, Johnson said.

who vote in the referendum, he said. If quotas are in effect, farmers planting within acreage allotments may market all cotton grown on their allotments. Regardless of whether quotas are approved, conservation phases of the AAA program will remain the same, he explained.

"Cotton is one of the surplus crops for which no increase is asked in the Food-for-Freedom campaign," Rennels said in explaining that with restricted world markets the United States has on hand a supply of about twice the size of recent crops. Approval of marketing quotas to help adjust the surplus will make possible continued use of loans, the AAA official said. Under provisions of the AAA Act of 1938, as amended, loans are prohibited when quotas are rejected by producers.

Collapse of foreign markets and the consequent drop in American exports from 6.2 million bales to 1.1 million bales, together with the fact that there is already enough cotton on hand to fill an extra year's needs, highlight the cotton situation. Since the slump is due primarily to war and naval blockades, cotton exports probably will not increase any great extent during the present season, he pointed out.

the Lakeview game, with the winning touchdown coming after an intercepted pass in the second quarter. Smith of Clarendon grabbed the floss on the Bronco 40-yard line, and ran the ball to the Memphis 18. After three plays, Smith took the ball and went through center for the counter, and what proved to be the winning touchdown.

The game, close throughout the four quarters, saw the Cyclone come back fighting after a somewhat loose season. The Memphians started the scoring in the middle of the first quarter.

Aldon Huggins recovered a Clarendon fumble on the Memphis 46. Several line plays took the ball to the 11-yard stripe, from where Douglass Lawrence went around end for the lone Cyclone score.

The Bronco scored their first marker in the second period. After working the ball down to the 7-yard line, May ploughed through the middle to tie the score at 6-6. The break which came on the intercepted pass was the other marker made by the Clarendon eleven.

Play in the third and fourth quarters were about even, although the ball was in the Cyclone end of the field most of the time. Neither team was able to threaten seriously, however.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Bible Clarifies Christ's Lessons

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Nov. 16 Text: John 15:1-10

THE Bible is a book amazingly rich in illustrations and figures of speech. There are literary devices to make meanings plain as well as to enrich the expression of thought.

These verses from the 15th chapter of John present one of the clearest and most effective figures in all Scripture applied to a relationship of inward significance and much mystery—the relation of the disciple to the Master, of the Christian to the Christ.

Instead of saying "the disciple is one with me, we are from the same root, we have the same substance, we partake of the same beauty; and we have a common part in the fruitfulness of 'good living.'" Jesus puts it all in a figure that once appeals to the eye, the heart and the mind. "I am the vine, ye are the branches."

HIS listeners, all vineyard folk, grasp that better than if it had been expressed in a long sermon.

God has a meaning and purpose for our lives. It is that these lives should be productive. "Herein is my Father glorified that ye bear much fruit, so shall ye be my disciples."

WHAT are the fruits of the Christian life? What does it mean in this sense to be good disciples of the Master? Paul has told all this in the lesson we studied not long ago on "the fruits of the spirit"—love, joy, peace, long-suffering, meekness. Jesus did not need to list these fruits of the spirit as Paul found it necessary to do for those who had not known Jesus. Those who heard his words saw the richest and fullest life in Him.

now have time to go to the fields to aid in gathering the cotton, and thus earn extra money. More than 200 town students have signified their desire to work in the fields during the afternoons, Davis said.

It was emphasized by Davis that the plan will be on an experimental basis, and if not satisfactory, will be discontinued after next week.

Foremost among the reasons for starting the schools earlier, it was explained, is to enable all students to have the opportunity to pass their work, even though they may be forced to aid in gathering the cotton.

Big Boys Make Big News In Collegiate Football

BY ART BRONSON

DOWN the sports trail: One of the biggest men in collegiate football is Joe Krivonek, husky 225-pound University of South Carolina guard. When he dons his specially built shoulder pads he measures three feet from shoulder tip to shoulder tip. He wears a size 18 collar. . . . With basketball season right around the corner comes news that the West Texas State Teachers College quintet will average more than 6 feet 5 inches in height. . . . Speaking of height, Ed Ecker, a sophomore tackle at John Carroll University in Cleveland, stands 6 feet 6 inches and weighs 276. He is still growing, too. . . . Texas State Water Polo League will have teams entered from Texas A. and M., Texas University, Houston Y. M. C. A., and the Galveston Junior Chamber of Commerce.

cheering sections. Approximately half of the corps at the academy goes to football games to root.

OHIO thus far has entered 1308 teams in the annual American Bowling Congress tournament to be held in Columbus from March 3 to May 4, 1942. Illinois has entered 491 and Indiana registered 428. . . . When Duquesne's Dukes leave for the west coast for their game with San Francisco Gaels, they will stop at various points along the way for workouts. . . . Bob Feller turned 23 last week and it looks as though he'll be in the Navy soon. . . . You may not have heard of John Grodzicki, but he's the gent who won 37 victories in assorted baseball camps in 1941. He won 10 with Colon in the Canal Zone before reporting to the St. Louis Cards. He won two exhibitions and was sent to Columbus where he won 19, added four in the league play-offs and then captured two over Montreal in the little world series for a total of 37.

Workers, Employers Warned Against Men Selling 'Social Security Cards'

Workers, employers, and the public in general were warned this week in a statement by Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo office of the Social Security Board, to be on the lookout for individuals representing themselves as salesmen for social security cards who are traveling through certain parts of Texas and adjoining states and selling fictitious social security account number cards to unsuspecting persons.

The card resembles the official social security account card with the exception that it does not contain the seal of the Social Security Board," Reed stated, "and on the face of the card printed in bold type is the word 'specimen.' The serial number is 078-05-1120. The card is similar to the type usually used as a sample by some stores in the sale of bill folders and card cases."

All persons are warned against purchasing such cards as described above since they are not to be recognized by employers or by the Social Security Board.

Present for the breakfast were Mrs. Roy Guthrie, Rev. Findley, E. E. Roberts; and Mrs. Jess Jenkins, Turkey chairman; O. E. Bevers, Lakeview chairman; C. H. Cheves, Newlin chairman; Mrs. W. E. Davis, Brice chairman; Olson Sweat, Salsbury chairman; Mrs. Thelma Jenkins, Friendship chairman; Lester Campbell, publicity chairman; and Miss Tops Gilreath, county chairman of the Junior Red Cross.

Mrs. F. A. Whitefield of the Pleasant Valley community was the first subscriber in this year's Red Cross roll call. She brought her contribution to Memphis, and subscribed before the drive started actively.

Association, and the N. Y. A. Advisory Board, and is now secretary of the Panhandle organization of Christian Church ministers.

Rev. Findley came to Memphis from his home town, Marshall, where he was acting pastor of the First Christian Church following the death of the church's regular pastor. He "filled in" at the Marshall church for three months before coming here.

Prior to that time, he had preached at churches at Bowie, Martin, Valley Mills, and Azle, while attending school at T. C. U. in Fort Worth.

Rev. Findley received his bachelor of arts degree, with a major in Bible, at T. C. U. in 1936. He continued his studies, however, and received his master's degree in secondary education from the school in 1937. He returned to Marshall, where he filled in as pastor until taking his first regular pastorate in Memphis January 1, 1938.

On December 24, 1884, Horton was married to Miss Estu Leola Gordon, and the family moved to Texas in 1902. They first settled at Longview, and in 1915 moved to Memphis. In 1926, Mr. and Mrs. Horton moved to Amarillo, where they made their home until 1932, when they moved back to Memphis.

Funeral services at the funeral were J. J. Morgenson, Dr. J. A. Odom, M. Elliott, B. Webster, L. T. Field, and H. A. Rothfus.

Pickers Leaving—Unable to Locate Places to Stay

Numerous cotton pickers who are leaving because of the inability to find places to stay, C. H. Yandell, representative of the Texas Employment Service who is stationed here, said this week.

Farmers who have houses which pickers may use while working should notify Mr. Yandell or the Memphis Chamber of Commerce office immediately, it was explained.

The employment officer was sent here recently to aid pickers in finding work, and to aid farmers in getting families to gather the crop.

Three Memphians Go to WPA Meet

Three Memphians, Mrs. Roy Guthrie, Miss Rachel Deahl, and Mrs. Gene Barnett attended a district meeting of WPA community service agencies in Pampa November 6, 7, and 8.

Mrs. Guthrie represented the recreation project, Mrs. Barnett the county luncheon, and Miss Deahl housekeeping aide.

Representatives of 26 counties, with more than 50 present, attended. The theme of the program was the part which homes play in national defense.

Actual observance of Armistice Day was felt first last Saturday, when members of the American Legion Auxiliary sponsored the annual sale of artificial poppies.

Sunday night, the Legion and Auxiliary members were in charge of a "Community Patriotic Program" at the First Baptist Church. Allen Grundy was the main speaker at the program. The remainder of the program was as follows: "Melody of Armistice," Mrs. Stanley Roberts; advance of colors; pledge to the flag; "Star-Spangled Banner," congregation; prayer, Rev. Wellington to Have Fireworks Display At Football Game

The largest fireworks display ever exploded in Wellington will pay tribute Friday night to all the men who have ever worn the red and white of the Skyrocket football team. This brilliant exhibition will come between the halves of the Skyrocket-Lefors Pirates game, which closes the season for the Wellington boys.

Appearing for the first time will be the newly-suited Skyrocket band, the twirling corps and the drum corps—altogether 80 boys and girls wearing the red and white of the school.

More than 500 pounds of skyrockets will be exploded during the fireworks display. Added to this will be a 200-foot, 300,000 candlepower Niagara Falls display, and one of the flag of the United States, exploded high in the air. Multiple break shells will shower red, white, and blue stars.

The Lefors Pirates stand at the top of District 3-A, having won every game they have played this year. The Rockets have lost one game to McLean and tied another, losing on penetrations to Shamrock.

Running night and day, all gins have been extremely busy during the past week. At first the wet cotton slowed down the speed of the gins, but the dry weather has aided both the speed of the work and the turn-outs.

YOUR HOME PAPER

PERHAPS YOU have not given much thought to the part which your home newspaper, a weekly newspaper, plays in your daily life, and the part which your home newspaper plays in the national set-up.

Your primary interest in reading The Democrat is usually to see if you are mentioned, or to see what some of your friends have been doing.

You also look closely at the advertisements and pick out the things you want to buy at the places you want to buy them. You do both of these things automatically.

Next you look to the general news of the county, and then you notice how national happenings affect you. You see all of this in your home newspaper.

Perhaps you think The Democrat carries only news of the county but upon closer inspection, you can readily see that national news is reflected in numerous articles throughout the paper.

You get a sane, home-town view of something the President has said. You get a Hall County view of the meaning of something which Secretary of Agriculture Wickard has said. You are made to realize the approach of a date which all of the nation will be observing.

Such things are the indirect articles of news of The Democrat.

You notice that Mr. So-And-So has died, and you notice that Mr. and Mrs. Somebody Else are the parents of a new baby. All of these things make you forget that in Europe millions of people are being ruthlessly slaughtered.

Your home town newspaper thus plays an important part in your life, and in the lives of other people of the nation. Maybe this part is not a direct part, but it is one so important that the home town weeklies will live forever.

For news about yourself, your friends, your county, your state, and your nation, read your home town newspaper. It is an essential part of your freedom, and your freedom is an essential desire of your newspaper.

QUARTER-MILLION DOLLAR CONCERN

THE ADDITION of 186 miles to the lines of the Hall County Electric Co-Op, in case you didn't know, will make this organization one of the largest of the county, and, incidentally, one of the largest of the Panhandle.

The first two lines were built at a cost of $175,000, and this new extension will bring the total cost of the lines to $306,000.

More than a quarter-million dollar concern will serve 940 members of the co-operative at a minimum cost for electric power to each. Counties in which the co-op operates are Hall, Brice, Motley, Childress, and Donley counties. It may be that more members will be added as the months pass.

In other words, the electric co-op is a big asset to Hall County, and Memphians should be proud that the office is located here.

The biggest asset, of course, is not in monetary value, but in value of convenience and comfort which the use of electricity brings to farmers.

LET'S LIGHT THE WAY

DURING THE BUSY fall season, numerous farmers are forced to wait until after darkness to return to their homes with their empty wagons, following the ginning of their cotton.

The farmer, of course, has as much right to run his wagon over the roads as any other person has to drive his car. But it is a very dangerous practice to drive a wagon along any kind of a road without some type of light.

A bad accident occurred in Hall County, near Memphis, only last week when a car crashed head-on into a wagon. The exact circumstances of the case were not learned, although it was reported that neither the wagon nor the car bore lights. Fortunately, no one was killed.

We certainly do not want the farmers to quit bringing their cotton to town, but, on the other hand, we do not want some of the county's citizens to be seriously injured, perhaps killed, because of an auto-wagon collision.

Cotton is valuable, yes, but not as valuable as human health or life. And accidents can easily be reduced by the simple means of carrying some type of light in the wagons.

An Example for All the World

Press Paragraphs

CULLED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

Socialism
The Munday Times: Socialism would mean the destruction of the free press—precisely as it would mean the destruction of free enterprise in all fields, because it necessitates a dictated press and a dictated industry. As the President has said, a free press "must be maintained against all costs." And the only way it can be maintained is to preserve and protect the free enterprise system which gives it life.

Chests
The Paducah Post: Everyone who helps fill a Community Chest has a right to throw out his own.

No Holiday
The Tulsa Herald: We can't drive 500 miles in a car on a holiday. When we drive 500 miles in a day it isn't a holiday. It is a very tiresome exhausting trip and it requires the next day to recover from its duties.

He's Sorry
Roy Hahn in the Briscoe County News: I am sorry I was not born rich instead of pretty. I'm sorry that I'm sorry because it is a sorry guy that isn't sorry because he's sorry. And I am sorry that the person thinks I should be sorry because no one should want anyone else to be sorry because, I am sorry to say, there are too many sorry people now.

Autos
The Canyon News: Texans are shocked at death by Hitler bombers over England. But we are killing people nearly as fast by car accidents as the bombs are killing in England. England has 10 times the population as Texas. Therefore on a per capita basis, Texas is doing a much better job of killing people with cars than Hitler is doing with bombs.

Philosophy
The McLean News: The man you don't like is usually the man that you have taken no trouble to get acquainted with.

The Future
The Amarillo Globe: What this nation would like to see and what it is going to demand and what it is going to get is:
No strikes and no lockouts that effect defense during America's national emergency.

The Sure Way
The Amarillo Times: The surest way to destroy the whole free enterprise system would be to place the nation's financial credit entirely in the hands of government. The majority of bankers recognize the danger. That is why they are doing everything in their power to loan money to meet legitimate business. They realize that it is not a question of promoting business. It is a question of retaining the right to do business in the traditional American manner, a right that if lost spells death to all other free enterprise and eventually to the representative system of government.

Pome
E. E. Hayley in the Saint Joe Tribune:
Summer has went,
Winter has came—
But our wardrobe
Remains the same

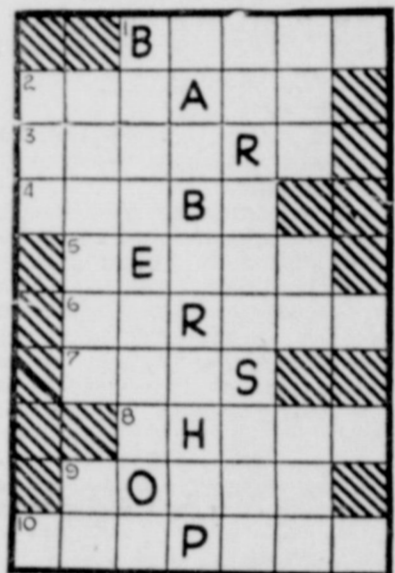

A Difference
Douglas Meador in the Matador Tribune: One man wades in the blood of millions to conquer the world while another suffers at the tears of one unhappy child; coins of death and love are approved for the payment of each.

The Rains
The Floyd County Hesperian: One of the amusing things to see along the highway is a "stop" sign out in what appears to be the middle of a lake. These signs were placed on feeder roads for the highway during the dry weather. They will be handy again about the middle of next year, in all likelihood.

Virginia Anderson in the Shamrock Texan: Everyone should take a mental vacation and the only way they can have it is to appoint someone to do all their thinking for them and make all decisions for at least a month or two.
We figure a two-year-old child could make our decisions and do a better job; well, maybe a four-year-old child.

Soon Dotty cried, "For goodness sake! I know my poor eardrums will break. The Thunder Man may be inside. But, like as not, he wants to hide."
"Oh, you don't know him," Rumble said. "He is an awful sleepy head. We pounded once from morn till night Before he popped out into sight."
"I'll do a bit of pounding too," Said Copy, "And before we're through We'll make him open up the door. I hope the old man won't be sore."
"Well, if he is, we'll simply run," Said Duncy, "It will spoil our fun."
NEXT WEEK: The Totties find out how thunder is made.

THE AMERICAN FAMILY

"Someone is calling 'Ovesy Dovesy, Ipsy Dipsy' grandpa!"

Parents
The Menard News: As the time for first report cards draws near, it might be well to repeat the story of the little boy whose father scolded him for bringing home poorer grades than the boy next door.
"But daddy," pleaded the boy, "he's got awfully bright parents. Much, we opine."

and do be careful!"

"Five mornings a week, nine months a year, we mothers of Texas get our children ready for school.
 "In our home and a million other Texas homes, that's one of the first and most important duties of a mother's day. Sometimes Dad finds out what a job it is when he has to do it by himself."

All of us want our children to have the best education possible. Most of us look to the public schools for this.

Fortunately, Texas has the best public schools in the South. Helping to build and operate them is the Texas petroleum industry which pays 24 million dollars a year in taxes for school purposes.

These petroleum taxes pay an average of one-fourth the cost of educating our children. Altogether, they meet the entire expense of schooling nearly 400,000 Texas boys and girls.

In addition, oil has contributed substantially to the 70 million dollar permanent school fund. Oil is also responsible for much of the 30 million dollar permanent university fund, which has made possible the expansion of the University of Texas and A. & M. College.

Furthermore, taxes on petroleum products add another 11½ million dollars a year for the schools of our State.

Our children get a better education today
 because of the Texas
 petroleum industry.

HOW COTTON CROP INSURANCE WORKS

- The grower buys insurance before the crop is planted...
- 75% or 50% of an average yield can be guaranteed...
 POUNDS If a grower's 10-year average yield per acre is 200 pounds...
 75% = 150 pounds
 or 50% = 100 pounds of production can be protected against all unavoidable hazards.
 The cost of this protection is based on the actual risk of growing cotton on each farm.
- Total losses will be paid when they occur...
- Partial losses will be paid after picking.

COTTON CROP INSURANCE BIG ISSUE FOR FARMERS IN STATE OF TEXAS

Cotton crop insurance is the next big issue for Texas farmers, according to Donald L. Cothran, state cotton insurance supervisor. Taking precedence over cotton insurance this fall have been rush orders for 1942 special allotments for Food-for-Freedom pledges throughout the state, Cothran explained.

When increased production of foods in the national defense program were called for, county AAA offices faced the gigantic task of issuing 1942 cotton, wheat, rice, peanut and Irish potato allotments to Texas farmers by November 1. Special allotments under AAA farm programs usually reach farmers by early spring, Cothran said in pointing out that all decks had to be cleared for Food-for-Freedom pledges which got underway in Texas November 1. County listing sheets establishing preliminary crop yields and premium rates are being received in the state office with more expected shortly, the insurance supervisor explained.

After county data have been approved in the state and regional crop insurance offices, Texas cotton farmers will be in position to take out insurance on next year's crop, he said.

Under the program, cotton farmers may insure 75 per cent or 50 per cent of their established yields against all unavoidable hazards. Total losses will be paid when they occur and partial losses after picking, Cothran explained.

Former Hall County Pastor Renews Subscription; Recalls Life in Area

Rev. Enoch Eiland of Livingston, Calif., this week sent his check for renewal of his subscription to The Democrat and wrote as follows:

We need The Democrat, for its letters from the different communities are read with much interest, as I am acquainted with so many people, having settled in 1912 at Webster, three miles west of Lakeview. As a minister to the rural districts, I used to preach and hold meetings in almost every community in Hall County. Have had the joy of seeing many souls saved at Brice, Deep Lake, Eli, Friendship, Indian Creek, Plaska, Lakeview, Swearingen, and other places.

We still own our old home. The Webster church is on one corner of the place. During my sojourn in Hall County I officiated at many weddings, baptized many people, christened a great many children, and buried many of the dead.

This is our fourth charge as a Methodist preacher out here: four years in Los Angeles, four years at Madera, two years at Los Banos, six at Chowchilla, and this is the second year at Livingston.

It's always a joy to visit Memphis and greet the people of the county. But each year, when I come, I miss some of the old timers. And of course I too am getting old. To my many friends greetings of love and best wishes.

Enoch Eiland.

Eudaly Outlines Pointers to Help In Silage-Making

Extension Service Expert Says Practice Attended By Treatment of Feed

Silage-making is under full steam over Texas but is attended by problems of harvesting, and selection and treatment of the feed designed for storage in the pit containers on Texas farms.

Scanning a cross section of the problems, E. R. Eudaly, dairyman of the A. and M. College Extension Service, assures farmers that shocked grain sorghum stalks make good silage provided the feed is thoroughly wet as it is put into the silo. He suggests that the best way to add the water is to run it into the cutter and let it pass out with the feed.

Smutty redtop cane heads will not ruin silage for cattle, but he advises against feeding it to horses.

It is not necessary to add molasses in making silage out of Johnson and sudan grasses, Eudaly says, if the grasses are headed out and the seed is in the dough stage. But if the grasses were cut before the seed was in the dough stage it would be best to sprinkle each ton with a mixture of five gallons of molasses to 15 gallons of water. Molasses also should be added when making silage out of alfalfa, clover, cowpeas, soybeans, re-nuts, green cotton stalks, sunflowers, bermuda and other similar grasses.

Eudaly recommends two methods of handling feed which is not likely to mature before frost. One means is to cut it and allow it to lie on the ground, a bundle to the place, for a week, provided the ground is dry, and then put it in the silo thoroughly wetting it in the process. The other method is to let the frost kill the feed, then cut and put it in the silo with necessary water added. But he suggests delaying cutting until two or three days after the frost.

Sweet potato vines make good silage if they are cut and allowed to dry 12 to 24 hours, or are run through a cutter along with dry sorghum bundles, cane bundles, johnson grass or some other dry feed. It is not necessary to add molasses. At present feed prices sweet potato vine silage is worth about $4 a ton. Failure to save the vines would represent a loss of $12 an acre.

Bowling Blossoms Into Nation's Favorite Indoor Sport for All

BY ART BRONSON

WHEN Joe calls up his Josephine these nights and asks how about a movie and a soda afterward, Josephine may say, "How about bowling instead?"

Bowling, formerly a man's sport, is America's favorite pastime for young and old, male and female, expert and dub.

Estimates place 11,000,000 as the number of bowling fans in the country with thousands of others who occasionally slip up to the alleys for an evening's entertainment and recreation.

Bowling is no suddenly developed or discovered sport. Records have been unearthed which trace the game, or at least the rudiments of it, to the twelfth century. Sir Francis Drake, the great English sea-captain, was playing at bowls when the Spanish Armada was sighted off the coast.

SIR FRANCIS was not to be disturbed. He said, "There's time to win this game and thrash the Spaniards, too." The admiral did both.

Bowling was introduced into America in 1626 by Dutch settlers when America consisted of a couple of forts and a charter. For 300 years the game attained increasing popularity until now it is almost one of the social graces.

In 1895 the American Bowling Congress was organized and since 1901 the A. B. C. has sponsored a yearly tournament as a climax to the bowling season. It is to bowling that the National Open is to golf and the world series is to baseball.

Most of the nation's kegmen and kegwomen are scattered through the middle west. Chicago is accorded the title of the premier bowling city, with Detroit, Milwaukee and Cleveland ranking next in line.

Bowling is America's most popular sport—for good reason. Lovely Ann Tucker, Cleveland, O., adds to the beauty of the game.

FACTS and figures: More than 300 million dollars are spent annually in bowling fees. More than 500 million have been spent in the past 50 years in the construction of alleys alone. There are more than 160,000 alleys in the country, each costing about $3000 to build, in 20,000 bowling establishments.

Some bowlers can put as much English on a mineralite ball as Bob Feller can on a baseball. The world's trick shot artist, Andy Varipapa, makes the ball behave like a jitterbug.

Church Announcements

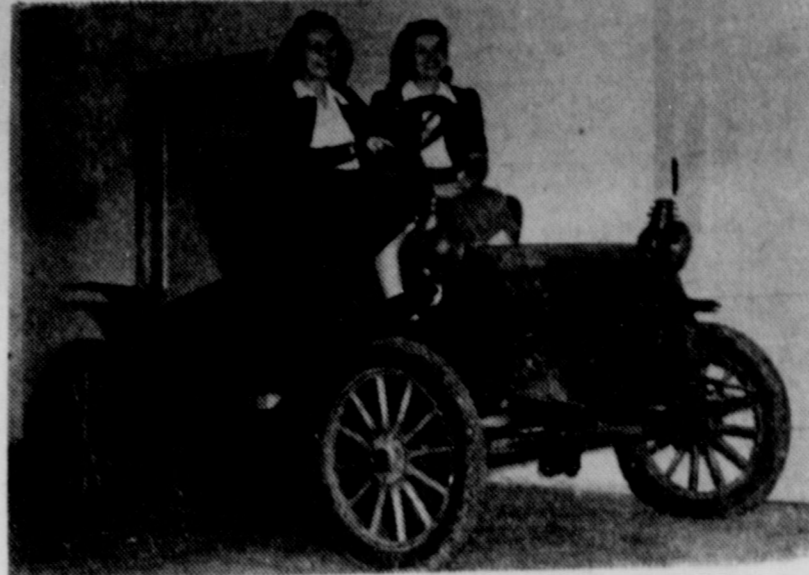

Could I step out of my role as community correspondent for a few words and ask you a very important question concerning the church attendance in your immediate community? Did you go to your church Sunday? If you didn't, is your excuse good enough that you wouldn't be ashamed to give it on the Judgment Day, or are you like a large majority of people—too busy these days? And is your business more important than the assembling of yourselves together in God's house on the Sabbath. The alarming situation facing the Christian churches of America today is being felt even in rural communities, in the falling off in attendance at regular services. These facts were very forcefully presented in a sermon by Rev. L. J. Crawford Sunday morning, who preached in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Scott Crawford, who exchanged pulpits Sunday. Rev. L. J. Crawford will preach again here the second Sunday in November on "The Second Coming of Christ" in the morning service and "The Rapture of the Saints" at the evening service. Let me urge YOU, do go to church wherever you live.

Gilpin Mothers Club Holds Pie Supper

A pie supper and musical program was held at the Gilpin school Thursday night, sponsored by the Mothers Club of the community. A quilt was sold and pies auctioned, the proceeds of which amounted to about $40. The Nivens family of Esteline furnished music for the occasion.

Cemetery Board Meets

Approximately 65 letters were mailed last week to persons interested in the Newlin cemetery, asking for contributions for fencing the cemetery and other work to be done. The following contributions have been received: Chas. A. Williams, $1; Frank Solomon, $1; Theodore Swift, Memphis, $2; Seth Thomas, Memphis,

WAY BACK WHEN—The 1903 model Ford, third oldest Ford now in existence, was recently presented to the Panhandle-Plains Museum in Canyon by Miss Peggy Jean Irvin of Amarillo. The other two old model Fords are in the Ford Museum. The girls in the picture are Miss Margaret Ann Barnett of Childress, and Miss Jo Ward of Palo Duro, both students in WTSC at Canyon.

$1; Mrs. Fred Swift, Memphis $5; Will Burnett, $1; Miss Ida Mae Long, Memphis, $2; A. V. Greenroyd, $1; Jim Swift, Clarendon, $5; Mrs. G. E. Nelson $1; Mrs. G. M. Bass, Memphis, $2; making a total of $22 collected. Five dollars of this amount was paid for the hauling of wire, donated by the highway department, from Paducah, $3.45 has been paid out for stationery, stamps and work specified on one lot at cemetery, leaving a balance of $13.55 in treasury. Further reports on this project will be given occasionally.

Mothers Club Meets

The Newlin Mothers Club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. D. C. Messick, with Mrs. M. P. Moore as joint hostess, for an all-day session. The members met at 10 o'clock in the morning and began work on a silk patchwork quilt for the hostess. The luncheon was served picnic-style at noon. At the business session, several gifts were auctioned. Mrs.

Bill Kesterson of Memphis will entertain the club at the Christmas meeting at her home, at which time a Christmas tree will be held and gifts given to each club member. It was voted that no gift should cost more or less than 50 cents. Due to the busy season only 16 members were present for the meeting.

Weather and Crop Report

With fair weather for the past week, farmers here have been able to make a good start in gathering their crops. A light rain fell Wednesday night but did not delay the gathering for a long period. The Newlin gin has ginned about 500 bales at this date (3000 day), and is expecting to gin 24 hours daily if the weather continues fair. Some farmers have begun their maize gathering, but it is not sufficiently matured to store in large quantities yet. The wet weather damaged the maize to some extent, causing it to be slightly dark, but the damage is slight.

False Teeth Fable

Where do you put your false teeth when you let them "rest"? Usually in a cup in the cabinet or in some safe corner, might be your answer, which isn't always a safe place. One Newlin woman tried putting her teeth in a cup on her buffet while her gums were sore and while washing her dishes the next morning she picked up the cup and dashed its contents into the garbage can used for the pigs' feed, thinking it was her husband's coffee cup. A few hours later she began searching for her teeth and asked her husband if he had seen them. He told her where they had been, and she remembered emptying the cup into the pigs' feed which had been given to the pigs several hours. She made a hasty trip to the pig pen and found her teeth in the trough unharmed. Moral: Don't feed your teeth to the porkers—they might bite 'em.

touchdown in the Michigan State game, but it was a half-hour after the game before anyone knew about it. On the last play, a forward pass thrown by State's Wyman Davis was deflected and finally fell into Cherup's hands. It was generally supposed that the ball had hit the ground and nobody heeded Cherup's 72-yard dash through the spectators to the goal line.

Officials gave no signal that a touchdown had been scored and did not arrange for Wayne to try for the extra point. After going into a midfield huddle, surrounded by spectators and players, they simply went home. Radio stations signed off with the score standing 39-0. Writers had accounts of the game half-written when Referee Rudel Miller finally sent a note to the press box that Wayne had scored a touchdown.

Howitzer Shells For Hitler

Passed by Censor.

THIS small corner of a munitions plant somewhere in Canada which is manufacturing howitzer shells gives an idea of the vast munitions program upon which the Dominion is engaged. In the manufacture of shells, chemicals and explosives, Canada has assumed a position of supreme importance in the war. Nine of the Dominion's twelve chemical and explosive plants (one of them the largest in the British Empire) are producing and the balance will be in operation soon. This year alone, the total production of explosives in Canada should exceed the entire Canadian output during the whole of the 1914-18 World War. In the munitions plants, nine types of gun ammunition are being produced at a rate of millions of rounds per year. About forty per cent of the total national income of Canada this year will be spent by the Dominion for her own military needs and to give financial aid to Great Britain.
