Sunday school workers of the Panhandle Baptist Association will meet in the First Baptist Church at Clarendon Monday December 7, beginning at 6 p. m. It is announced, Rev. Sid F. Martin, local pastor, urges that as many Sunday school officers, teachers and workers as can possibly do so attend this meeting.

Memphis Girl to Appear in Movie

Miss Muffet Merrell of this city was one of the students from Texas State College for Women who went to Texas A. & M. last week-end to take part in "We've Never Been Liked," a Universal motion picture being filmed at and about Argyleland. More than 200 TSCW student will appear in special dance scenes in the picture. Five hundred Aggies stayed on the campus for the week-end instead of taking Thanksgiving holidays in order to be in the scenes. The picture, dedicated to A. & M. and the men of the college, is being produced by Walter Wanger and stars Anne Gwynn, Martha O'Driscoll, Richard Quine and Noah Beery, Jr. TSCW girls to appear in the movie were chosen by student-director committees in their dormitories. They were judged on personal appearance, good grooming and personality. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Merrell, Miss Merrell is a freshman student majoring in piano at the college. She is a graduate of Memphis High School with the class of 1942, and was chosen "Most Popular Girl" of the high school that year.

ANNIVERSARY OF PEARL HARBOR TO BE OBSERVED

The American people will never forget Sunday, December 7, that black day when the infamous Japanese barbarians opened their unprovoked attack upon the United States by raining bombs on Pearl Harbor, Hickam Field and quiet peaceful Honolulu. The government and the people of the United States do not need to be reminded that there can be no compromise with such a dastardly, sneaking foe. Rather, on the first anniversary of the Pearl Harbor attack, which is next Monday, and the Sunday preceding, observance is asked throughout the nation that citizens may re-dedicate themselves—not to vengeance, although vengeance will be exacted to the full—but to the fight for liberty and justice. Churches of the city where services will be held Sunday will take the lead in local observance. Messages in the spirit of Pearl Harbor Day will be delivered at the morning worship hour by Rev. Sid F. Martin at the First Baptist Church and Rev. E. L. Yeat at the First Methodist Church. At the regular assembly hour Monday, the anniversary will be emphasized in the Memphis Public Schools, it is announced by Supt. W. C. Davis. Rev. Yeat will be the speaker. The program will include patriotic songs by the student body. A two-day nation-wide observance of the anniversary of the attack on Pearl Harbor will be sponsored by the Office of War Information. Joining in the observance will be the War and Navy Departments, all other war agencies (Continued on page 5)

TWO TRAINMEN ONE PASSENGER DIE IN WRECK

Many Are Injured as Trains Meet Head-on East of Estelline... Two train crew members were killed and a woman fatally injured Saturday afternoon when a motor-driven passenger train and a freight train collided on the Fort Worth & Denver railroad about six miles southeast of Estelline. The dead are: A. V. Shepard, about 50, of Childress, brakeman on the passenger train. Brice Hendrickson, about 40 of Lubbock, mail clerk on the passenger train. Mrs. R. Z. Wilbanks, about 60, of Vernon, who died in a Childress hospital about 8 o'clock Saturday night. Critically injured was W. O. Willis, Lubbock, en route to Fort Sill, Okla., for induction into the army. Others hospitalized were: Tom Huggins, Childress, conductor of the passenger train, fractured leg; Mrs. J. W. Spain of Childress, in terminal injuries; Ross N. Funk, of Hugo, Okla., who was scalped; Walter Edward Hinson of Lubbock, another selectee en route to Fort Sill; and Surrelda Carey colored, of Corsicana, broken leg. Fifty other persons, including six Negroes, were treated for minor injuries and dismissed. The passenger train, composed of engine, baggage car and one passenger coach, was bound from Lubbock to Childress and the freight was northbound. The trains collided near a curve. Gasoline from the motor-driven engine showered over the other cars and burst into flames, virtually destroying the entire train. The 14 draftees on the train performed heroic work in removing passengers from the flaming train. The engine of the passenger train jammed into the baggage car, trapping Shepard and Hendrickson. Hendrickson was burned to death and several hours elapsed before his body could be extricated. H. M. Tutt, engineer of the passenger train, jumped but suffered (Continued on page 5)

Everything From 'Soup to Nuts' On Navy's Menu

If your appetite is easily aroused, don't read this, because it will certainly make your mouth water. It's the menu served for Thanksgiving dinner at the U. S. Destroyer Base, San Diego, Calif. and was sent to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Neely of Memphis, by Vernon Claud Neely, who is training for the submarine service. The menu: Celery sticks, fresh radishes, alphabet soup, saltines, roast turkey, bread dressing, cranberry sauce, giblet gravy, whipped cream potatoes, buttered green peas, sliced tomatoes, hearts of lettuce, thousand islands dressing, hot tea biscuits, butter, fruit cake, mince pie, mixed hard candy, assorted nuts, neopolitan ice cream, cigarettes and coffee. It must be true, what they say about feeding well in the Navy. (To Hell with Hitler.)

County Firms to Assist in Drives For Greases, Silk

Good progress is reported by Mrs. T. D. Weatherly, county chairman, in the campaigns for saving household fats and articles of silk and nylon. Monday Mrs. Weatherly made a tour of the county and secured the cooperation of food, drug and dry goods merchants at various points in the collection of these much needed items. What Do You Think About It?

(An Editorial) During the summer months, when long hours of daylight prevailed, there was something to be said for "war time," which was inaugurated by the government for the purpose of getting the work day started an hour earlier, to save electric current and for various other reasons, all of which may have seemed good and sufficient to the bureaucrats back in Washington. For a section located, as the Memphis area is, in the extreme western portion of a time belt, these arguments were dubious at best.

At the present time, with hours of daylight nearing their shortest, this "war time" is a nuisance at best and a positive hardship at worst, with nothing to be gained by putting up with it. There are numerous solid arguments against it and none for it. Possibly the place where things are thrown most out of joint by the clock running an hour ahead of the sun is in the school system. Even students living in town must get up well before daylight in order to get to school on time. Those living in the rural areas, who ride the buses to town, have to be up practically in the middle of the night. The result is a bunch of sleepy students and an increase in tardy marks on report cards. Several Memphis business men, who have expressed themselves on the subject, declare that there is no point to opening their businesses at 7 or 8 o'clock (war time) because there is no trade at those hours.

The whole thing serves to make the work day longer, without getting more work done. It operates to waste time instead of save it. As for electric current, it could make little difference whether it is used before daylight or after nightfall. It all adds up to the same amount.

This week The Democrat went back to the old time for the work day, opening at 9 a. m. and closing at 6 p. m. It has been found that it is more convenient for customers and more work is accomplished by employees. We believe Memphis people as a whole would benefit if the whole town would adopt this plan. It would not do to change the clocks, as that would throw the time off from that of the rest of the country. But business firms now opening at 7 or 8 could open at 8 or 9, as the case might be, and close an hour later. The noon hour for business people and schools would be from 1 to 2 p. m. If this were made a town-wide system, people would soon become accustomed to it, and we firmly believe it would be to everyone's advantage.

The Democrat would like to have some expressions of opinion on the subject.

Motor Traffic Slows Down as Rationing of Gasoline Is Effective

WAAC—Miss Betty Lou Barbee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Barbee of Lakeview, was the first Hall County young woman to enlist in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. She is now attached to the 1st WAAC Training Company, Army Post Branch, Des Moines, Iowa, and is working in a hospital. Miss Barbee was a nurse at the Memphis Hospital before her enlistment in the WAAC September 16 at Lubbock.

Cotton Total Up To November 14 Is 35,538 Bales

Most Persons in Touch With Situation Believe Final on Crop Will Top 50,000 Bales... The latest report of the Bureau of Census, Department of Commerce, tabulates a total of 35,538 bales of cotton ginned in Hall County from the 1942 crop prior to November 14, according to C. Lee Rushing, special agent. This compares with 15,223 for the same period in the 1941 crop season. According to this report, slightly over 10,000 bales were processed by the county gins in the two weeks from November 1 to 14. Those in touch with the cotton situation believe the figure as of even date will be between 42 and 43 thousand bales. It is estimated by some farmers and gin men that about 85 percent of the crop has been gathered. Most of those in the know believe the county will top 50,000 bales. (To Hell with Hitler.)

El Paso Fireman Speaks at Rotary

A. H. Davis, assistant fire chief of El Paso, who was here to hold a fire school for the third fire service district of Texas, was guest speaker at Rotary luncheon Tuesday. He spoke of the need of fire control and training of fire fighters, especially during war time when materials are needed in the war effort. Sue Ann Roberts and Louise Rogers each played a piano number and the two sang two songs accompanied by Rayburn Jones. The songs were "White Christmas" and "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition." Citrus Fruits Are Victory Specials

Fresh grapefruit and tangerines will be the next Victory Food Specials in this area from December 3 through December 12, Oscar J. Walker, area supervisor for the Agricultural Marketing Administration, announced today. Because of this year's large citrus fruit crop and restrictions on tin for processing, the supply of fresh citrus fruit on consumer markets will be unusually plentiful. The Victory Food Special designation of grapefruit and tangerines is designed to focus consumer attention on heavy production of citrus fruits and to help move the increased volume.

Gasoline rationing was put into effect in Memphis and Hall County Tuesday with a minimum of friction, with a noticeable decrease in the amount of motor traffic as the only outward sign. Most car owners, it is to be supposed, started the rationing period with full tanks of gasoline. Filling station operators report an unusually heavy business on Monday and, despite warnings by rationing officials and the State Fire Insurance Commissioner, a number of motorists stored reserve gasoline in drums and other containers. The full impact of the restrictions will not be felt for several days yet. C. L. Sloan, chairman of the Hall County War Price and Rationing Board, with offices at Estelline, reports a very busy period since the regulations became effective, with filling station operators signing up for permits to reopen for business, after being closed Tuesday to take inventory, and numerous passenger car owners applying for supplementary ration books. With regard to additional gasoline allowances, Sloan said applications for supplemental ration books are being acted upon by the gasoline rationing panel of the County Board as rapidly as possible. Persons whose applications are approved will be notified by mail when and where to call for their supplemental books. Places designated are the City Hall in Memphis, Elmer Christian's office at Turkey, and the board office at Estelline. All operators of commercial vehicles who are not satisfied with their gasoline allowances should write direct to the District Office of Defense Transportation at Lubbock, as the county board has no jurisdiction over commercial vehicles, Sloan said. The basic A books for mileage rationing contain coupons number (Continued on page 5)

Certificate of War Necessity Appeals Must Wait 30 Days... Commercial Vehicle Owners Need Not Burn Up Tires in Getting to District Office... Truck operators who have already received their Certificates of War Necessity from the Office of Defense Transportation were reminded this week that no appeal can be filed until 30 days after the certificate is received. "The tires we are trying to save are being burned up all over the region by truck operators rushing in to the district ODT motor transport offices as soon as they get their certificates," John C. Masenburg, regional motor transport manager for ODT, said. "District offices are working under terrific pressure in issuing all these certificates for commercial motor vehicles." CLAUDE'S Comments... Next Monday is the anniversary of the greatest double-cross America ever received—the bombing of Pearl Harbor by Japrats. Let's all make that a day of buying War Bonds and Stamps with which to buy bombs to bomb those slinking slanteyes off the earth. That would be the best way to avenge the Americans who were assassinated at Pearl Harbor. It's time to get those Christmas cards, and The Democrat has a nice assortment. Christmas cards should be mailed earlier this year than ever before due to mail congestion. Bill Pheueger of West Main Street says, "Rubber and coffee are both scarce. Gas is being rationed to save rubber. Why not rationed water to save coffee?" Democrat subscriptions stop on expiration date. This is the custom.

NEWS about boys in the Service something keeps holding me up. I don't know if I told you or not, but I passed all my exams for flying cadet and am just waiting to be called. I am beginning to think my papers have been lost. It's been nearly eight months since I took my exams, and haven't heard any more about it. Wish they would hurry!

Well, that is about all I have time and subject for tonight, so will stop and go to bed. It's rather late and I have had a very busy day. I sincerely hope you are both well and I'll be able to see you before very long.

As ever,

route to Officers Training School at Fort Benning, Ga.

Pvt. Lester Grimes of the Lubbock flying school visited here last week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Grimes.

A new arrival at the Army Flying School at Enid, Okla., is Pvt. William D. Wilson, son of Mrs. Lillie Wilson of Memphis, according to a bulletin from the Public Relations office. Private Wilson has been assigned to the 475th School Squadron.

Thos. J. Landers, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Landers of Lamesa, formerly of Memphis, has been selected as a Naval Aviation cadet and will be ordered to active duty shortly, says a bulletin from the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection board at Dallas.

Young Landers finished high school in Memphis in 1939 and later attended Texas Tech, Lubbock, where he was a member of the Engineering Society. For the past several months he has been employed by the U. S. Engineers at Denison.

When ordered to active duty, he will report to the U. S. Naval Pre-Flight school, University of Georgia, Athens, Ga., for three months of physical conditioning, instruction in naval essentials, military drill and ground school subjects. After completing this course, he will be sent to one of the Navy's numerous reserve bases for primary flight training.

Naval Aviation Cadet Billie Fred Rasco, who recently completed his course at the U. S. Navy Pre-flight school at Athens, Ga., visited over the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Rasco, other relatives and friends here. He has been ordered to the Naval Reserve Aviation base at Dallas, and left Tuesday to report for duty.

At his new base he will have further ground school instruction and begin flying. From there he will move on to three months of intermediate and advanced flying and if successful, will be graduated from the Naval Air Station at Pensacola, Fla., or Corpus Christi and win his commission and Navy wings.

NOW CAR OWNERS CAN BUY THE NEW Firestone WAR TIRE

YES—It's true! If your present tires cannot be recapped, you are eligible to apply for a certificate to buy the new Firestone War Tire no matter whether you hold an "A", "B" or "C" gasoline ration book.

The new Firestone War Tire is now on sale at all Firestone Dealers and Firestone Stores. Its construction has been tested and proved by more than two years of service. Naturally, you'd expect Firestone to build the best War Tire that can be built, because Firestone has always been a pioneer in developing new processes and creating new products made from rubber. And with its unequalled background of experience in building tires that successfully withstand the most gruelling tests of durability and safety, it is not surprising that Firestone is building a War Tire with such exclusive features as:

Safti-Lock, Gum-Dipped Cord Body—same construction that has made Firestone Tires so strong, so safe, so durable on the road as well as on the Speedway. The body of the new Firestone War Tire is built to outwear several treads and can be recapped for thousands of miles of extra service.

Firestone Non-Skid Tread—famous for performance and protection against skidding.

Vitamic Rubber—made by adding a new wear-resisting rubber vitamin, called "Vitalin."

If your present tires can be recapped—be sure to have them recapped by the Firestone Factory Controlled Method. Firestone has the largest system of recapping shops in America, strategically located to give you better service. This nation-wide system is strictly supervised and uniform in workmanship. For longer mileage, bring your tires to us for recapping.

COME IN AND SEE IT! The new Firestone War Tire is now ready for the car owners of America. Come in and see it. We will be glad to help you make out an application for a tire rationing certificate.

WAAC Recruiting To Full Strength Authorized by FDR

Corps to Expand to 150,000 As Passed by Congress; New Training Facilities Added

President Roosevelt has authorized the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps to recruit to full strength of 150,000 as passed by Congress. This is an increase of six times the number originally planned.

New facilities and enlarged opportunities for training have been set up and will begin operations at once. The new training center at Daytona Beach, Florida, will commence operations on December 1.

Valuable service to the Army is being performed by the WAAC. The list of essential duties it is performing and will perform is growing constantly. Never before in the history of the nation have there been such opportunities for alert, patriotic women—opportunities to serve America in her time of need—opportunities for training, experience and advancement which will be helpful in a world at peace.

Every member of the WAAC is helping the nation directly, personally—her work behind the lines both at home and abroad, releases a soldier for duty at the battle-front.

Lieutenant Colonel Marvin B. Durrette, commander of the West Texas Recruiting and Induction district, states that only half as many soldiers can be released if combat duty December 1 as was originally hoped for. Too few women have entered the Auxiliary ranks to make this possible.

"However," Colonel Durrette said "we anticipate a greater response from the women of this area since the need is so great."

Women in the WAAC now receive the same pay as soldiers in the army. Non-coms receive from $50 to $138 per month plus clothes, food and lodging, medical care and hospitalization. Each woman now has an opportunity to be selected for officers training school since all officer candidates are now selected from the auxiliary ranks.

Women desiring to serve their country in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps may obtain complete information at the Lubbock Army Recruiting Station or any local Army Recruiting office.

The Texas prison system consists of a central plant at Huntsville and ten farms.

WAR CONDITIONS INTENSIFY NEED FOR EARLY CHRISTMAS MAILING

The bulk of Christmas mail must be in the post offices early in December, if deliveries on time are to be assured, according to Smith W. Purdum, Second Assistant Postmaster General. Mr. Purdum is responsible to Postmaster General Frank C. Walker for smooth and efficient air and railway mail service.

Unprecedented wartime demands on the postal and transportation systems, plus a prospective record volume of Christmas mailings, were cited by Mr. Purdum as necessitating earlier mailings than ever before. "It is physically impossible for the railroads and air lines, burdened with vitally important war materials to handle Christmas mailings as rapidly as in normal times," Mr. Purdum said. "If the bulk of parcels and greeting cards are held back until the usual time—the period of about December 15 to 23—they simply cannot be distributed in time, and thousands of gifts will reach their destinations after Christmas."

In 1941, about 21,950 mail cars were required between December 12 and 24 to deliver Christmas mail—enough cars to make a train 20 miles long. This year, the extra cars needed to move holiday mails are largely being used by armed services, and a severe shortage is in prospect.

Railroads are cooperating by converting some hundreds of steel box cars and similar equipment for mail transportation, and Joseph Eastman, director of defense transportation, has ordered that unnecessary travel be curtailed to the limit during the holiday season. But these measures cannot assure deliveries of gifts on time unless the public cooperates by mailing early and thus spreading the transportation load over a longer period than usual.

Mr. Purdum called attention to the task of the post office department in moving millions of pieces of mail every day to and from soldiers, sailors and marines throughout the world. This extraordinary job must be kept current, even while the holiday rush of mailings is handled. Also, he pointed out, the postal establishment is operating with many thousands of inexperienced personnel, employed to take the place

Estelline FFA Has Ambitious Goals

Four goals for the 1942-43 school year have been set up by the Estelline chapter, Future Farmers of America, according to Jim Whaley, chapter reporter. These are: Purchase of bonds and stamps to the extent of $2,500; gathering 35 tons of scrap, 125 pigs for pork, and 1,500 chicks for fryers.

Toward these accomplishments chapter members have already bought $962.75 in bonds and stamps and have gathered 21 tons of scrap. They are well along on the pig and chicken phases, also. In addition they have 24 calves for beef, 20 sows and gilts, 11 cows for calf production and 10 sheep for mutton.

Memphis Student Is Honored at Canyon

Marion Ruth Duren of Memphis, a student of West Texas State College, has been selected as one of the five junior students of the college to become a member of the Zeta Chapter of Alpha Chi, which is a national honor society.

Formal initiation was held November 2 at 8 o'clock in Cousins Hall. Dr. B. F. Gronabarger and Dr. Hattie M. Anderson served as marshals assisting Dr. Mattie Swayne, counselor, in the initiation.

Members of this organization are chosen upon record of scholarship and character. Junior candidates are required to have a grade average approximating 3.2.

Texas' first state institution of higher learning is its Agricultural and Mechanical College, opened in 1883.

of men called to the armed services. In view of all these handicaps to the service, postal patrons should mail their gifts the first week in December if they wish to insure that their friends will not be disappointed at Christmas.

Cyclone—

(Continued from page 1) to Jackson, which put the oval within the 10-yard stripe. Butler took it over on a quarterback spin. The kick for point was wide. Bownds, at the quarterback post, was easily stand-out for the Lakeview Eagles. His long passes were straight and accurate, but his receivers just couldn't hang on to the agate. The Cyclone registered 11 first downs during the lopsided contest, while the Eagles got only three. Starters for the Eagles were: Dial, left end; Vest, left tackle; L. Merrill, left guard; Story, center; McClendon, right guard; Shepperd, right tackle; Sanderson, right end; Bownds, quarterback; Neal, left half; Burnett, right half; I. V. Merrill, fullback. The Cyclone starting line-up was: Billington, left end; Shirley, left tackle; Robertson, left guard; Bruce, center; Stevens, right guard; Evans, right tackle; Messer, right end; Butler, quarterback; Lawrence, left half; Jackson, right half; Huggins, fullback.

Motor Traffic—

(Continued from page 1) ed 3, 4, 5 and 6, each coupon permitting the purchase of four gallons of gasoline during a stated period. For example, the coupons numbered 3, of which there are eight, must be used during the 60-day period prior to February 1. If not used within that period they become void. How rapidly the gasoline allowance is used up remains at the discretion of the book holder. It can all be used in one day, if desired, but the holder will get no more gasoline until the next coupon becomes effective. Supplemental gas rationing books B and C are issued on approved applications and are tailored to fit the specific needs of the applicant, Sloan said. They will be issued only in proven cases and will not be easy to get.

Certificate of War—

(Continued from page 1) hicles, and everybody is human enough to make an occasional mistake. These are few, however. In most instances, the certificate has been correctly tailored according to the application filed by the operator. Appeals may be filed with the ODT district offices of motor transport 30 days after the Certificate of War Necessity has been received by the operator. His appeal must prove clearly, however, that the needs of the war or the maintenance of essential civilian economy require a change in the certificate. The appeal must also show records for a period of seven consecutive days within the 30-day period. These records, submitted under oath, must show the origin and destination of each trip, the miles operated on each trip, the total units of freight carried on each trip. The commodity transported and the use to be made of it, and the maximum capacity of the vehicle for that commodity must be shown also.

Registration—

(Continued from page 1) ered on any day during the week commencing Friday, December 11, 1942, and ending Thursday, December 17, 1942. (b) Those who were born on or after September 1, 1924, but not after October 31, 1924, shall be registered on any day during the week commencing Friday, December 18, and ending Thursday, December 24, 1942. (c) Those who were born on or after November 1, 1924, but not after December 31, 1924, shall be registered on any day during the period commencing Saturday, December 26, 1942, and ending Thursday, December 31, 1942. (d) During the continuance of the present war, those who were born after January 1, 1925, shall be registered on the day they attain the anniversary of the day of their birth; provided, that if the anniversary falls on a Sunday or a legal holiday, their registration shall take place on the day following that is not a Sunday or a legal holiday.

Locals and Personals

Mrs. B. H. Eudy returned Wednesday from a visit in McLeary with her aunt, Mrs. J. S. Howard and in Amarillo with her son, Claude Eudy and wife. Miss Colleen Baker, who has been employed in Childress, started work here Wednesday as bookkeeper at the R. E. A. office, replacing Miss Ruth Whaley, who is now employed at Dumas. Jack Jarrell of Amarillo visited here last week-end with his wife and son John.

Anniversary—

(Continued from page 1) cles, war plants, labor, schools, colleges and numerous other organizations. The anniversary will be observed Sunday, Dec. 6 and Monday, December 7, wherever there are Americans around the world. The inclusion of Sunday is doubly fortunate, both because the original attack fell on a Sunday and because the tone and religious ceremonies of the Sabbath are in keeping with the spirit of rededication to a high purpose which will characterize this anniversary.

Comments—

(Continued from page 1) of practically all papers now. Notices are mailed before expirations in order to give the readers time to renew before the paper is stopped. Have you attended to that little matter of renewing for your home paper? War time for the people of Memphis and surrounding territory isn't just what it's cracked up to be. Trying to observe the hours as in years gone by, gets people up too early and does not save lights and fuel. The Democrat has changed office hours to 9-to-6 instead of 8-to-5. The only trouble is that lunch time comes at 12, which makes the time from breakfast to dinner too short. Why not everyone, farmers and business men alike observe the time just one hour later? School children have to get up long before daylight to catch the school bus. It seems school hours could be set later easily if the people will have lunch at 1 instead of 12. What do you think, Mr. and Mrs. Hall County?

Comments—

(Continued from page 1) of practically all papers now. Notices are mailed before expirations in order to give the readers time to renew before the paper is stopped. Have you attended to that little matter of renewing for your home paper? War time for the people of Memphis and surrounding territory isn't just what it's cracked up to be. Trying to observe the hours as in years gone by, gets people up too early and does not save lights and fuel. The Democrat has changed office hours to 9-to-6 instead of 8-to-5. The only trouble is that lunch time comes at 12, which makes the time from breakfast to dinner too short. Why not everyone, farmers and business men alike observe the time just one hour later? School children have to get up long before daylight to catch the school bus. It seems school hours could be set later easily if the people will have lunch at 1 instead of 12. What do you think, Mr. and Mrs. Hall County?

FIGHTING THE WAR WITH FOOD

EDITOR'S NOTE: Miss Nell Cunningham, 17-year-old freshman student at Texas State College for Women, Denton, shows a grasp of current events beyond her years. Shortly after graduation from Lakeview High School she wrote an editorial on the sacrifices necessary for winning the war, which was published in The Democrat June 18. In the following editorial she discusses the food situation.

UNTIL now in this war, we have been primarily concerned with furnishing equipment and materials for the fighting men. We are now faced with a problem that involves every man, woman and child in this nation. The advances of food prices and food shortage calls on every soldier and civilian to do his part to keep the Lend-lease flow moving to our Allies. Since this war began we have sent an average of 26 million pounds of food daily out of this country. This is putting a heavy strain on the farm labor. The Japanese, who did much of the harvesting of the food on the West Coast, have been sent to concentration camps, thus leaving much of our food in the fields to ruin. A crop in the field is the same as having an ice delivery at the North Pole. Even after it is harvested there is the problem of distribution, packaging and rationing.

The empty shelves, the bare warehouses, and the advance of prices are all arrows pointing to the job ahead. The bullet is very important in this war, but the bullet is worthless without its partner, food. There have been set up 600 new experimental methods of dehydration and frozen foods. It is now possible to peer into the crystal ball and see a grocery store of tomorrow, perhaps we should see peculiar packages of concentrated food.

There is pressing need now for action and a unified direction of food production and distribution. This is where we come in. In Hall County there is enough "beans and peas" land to furnish several counties with protein. We have enough milk, eggs, poultry and butter that we won't need the small allotment of canned foods that are now available.

Even though I am not there, I should like to see my county lead against this menace of "food shortage." Food will win this war!

PLIGHT OF THE ITALIANS

THERE is every indication that the morale of the Italian people is cracking under the Allied bombings and the threat of invasion implied in the overrunning of North Africa. If the average Italian is scared, he has plenty of reason to be, because his country is literally between a "rock and a hard place." Even if the Italians succeeded in overthrowing Mussolini's Fascist regime, there would still be the Nazi overlords whose grip they are not in position to break.

The "man in the street" in Italy must by now realize that he has been sold down the river, but there isn't much he can do about it in the circumstances. Mussolini's empty boasting has not been backed up by the performance of Italian troops on the field of battle, and for this the Italian soldier has been subject to the contempt of his Nazi "allies" and the scorn of his enemies. The reason may lie more in the Italian's disinterest in the cause for which he fights than in lack of bravery.

The average American can sympathize with the plight of the Italian people, while realizing that no mercy can be shown them as long as they are even nominally allied with the Teuton barbarians.

IN PREVIOUS years, it can be admitted, there has been more than a tinge of commercialism in the admonition to "shop early for Christmas and avoid the last-minute rush." Merchants quite naturally considered it good business to get their customers to buy as early as possible. Cash in the register was much more to be desired than the customer's intention to purchase. Of course, it was to the customer's advantage, too, and saved much wear and tear on nerves and disposition to get Christmas shopping done early. But it is to be suspected that was merely incidental in the merchant's early shopping plea.

This year it's different. When you are urged to shop early while stocks are fairly complete, it is a warning you will be wise to heed. Because there isn't going to be more than enough gift goods to go around—if enough. And with only three weeks to go, it is certain that the stocks of Memphis stores are going to be pretty well depleted. These stocks—or most of them—can't be replaced. Therefore, this year Christmas shopping resolves itself into a proposition of getting it done early, or getting left.

Every person starts life as a baby, but the smart ones out-grow it.

The man who gets along best in this world is he who can look happy when he isn't.

Few men are as lucky as they seem, or as unlucky as they think they are.

A boss is the man who arrives early when you are late, and late when you are early.

A chip on your shoulder indicates there is wood higher up.

Excerpts from the Official OEM Bulletin

Dormant Scrap Moves From Southwest

Shipments of dormant industrial scrap iron and steel from Southwestern plants in November will approximate those of October when 68,000 tons moved from this area to the nation's steel mills. Sam W. Papert, regional chief of WPB's industrial salvage section predicted. He credited the success of the dormant scrap drive in large measure to generous newspaper publicity and to efforts of volunteer iron and steel salesmen taking part in the drive.

National Hosiery Salvage Starts

Used silk and nylon hosiery started on their way to war, with the opening of WPB's collection campaign on November 16. Collection boxes have been placed at women's hosiery counters of retail stores. The stockings turned in will be processed and reclaimed into valuable war materials, destined for action on the front lines.

Farmers May Install Used Gas Tanks and Pumps

Authorization to install used gasoline dispensing pumps and storage tanks on farms of 10 or more acres has been issued by WPB, on recommendation of the office of Petroleum Coordinator for War, Pumps and storage tanks to be installed must be used exclusively for dispensing petroleum products to machinery and vehicles employed directly in farm operations on the individual farm. No restrictions can be made whereby use of the equipment is limited to dispensing the products of any supplier or group of suppliers.

WPB Cuts Kitchenware Again

In the last of four actions affecting metal kitchen gadgets cooking utensils and housewares WPB has reduced manufacture of these items to a few bare essentials for the duration of the war. The order, affecting kitchen tools, glass or ceramic flamework, cooking utensils and storage utensils covers all items not included in the previous three orders of the series. Generally, items using less than five per cent of metal by weight are not covered.

Deadline Set to Apply for Ration Book One

Persons who do not have copies of ration book one must apply to their local war price and rationing board before December 15 OPA officials announced. Book one, already used for rationing of sugar, will also be used for coffee rationing, and in addition must be turned in about the first of the year in order to receive war ration book two. Boards were warned to examine closely all persons who claim never to have applied for book one.

Enlistment Closed to Essential Workers

Ending enlistment of essential employees in aircraft and shipbuilding industries in the Army or Navy, Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey has instructed state selective service directors to refuse releases to such men who wish to enlist. Workers who have resigned within 60 days days before applying for enlistment also will be refused.

Big Inch Storage Tank Started

Construction of the first storage tank at the Longview, Texas terminal of the big Texas-Illinois oil pipeline began last weekend. Petroleum Coordinator for War Harold Ikes announced. Seventy miles of the line were completed during the last two weeks, in spite of heavy rains on the northern stretches of the project.

Grade III Tire Ceilings Set

Retail and wholesale ceiling prices were announced by OPA for new passenger car tires of reclaimed rubber being produced under War Production Board restrictions. The maximum retail price for a size 6.00x16 tire is $13.25. Only persons who obtain certificates from their local war price and rationing boards will be eligible to buy these tires. Dealers are required to attach to each casing a label showing the maximum retail price and indicating that it is a Grade III tire for rationing purposes.

Whipping Cream Delivery Halted

To conserve milk for consumer use, and for the manufacture of dried whole milk, cheese, butter and some other manufactured dairy products, WPB has prohibited dairy producers from distributing whipping cream or other heavy cream, to household consumers, retailers, restaurants, in institutions and others. Coffee cream is not affected.

Truck Owners to Get Temporary Gas Allowances

Commercial vehicle owners who have applied for but not received ODT certificates of war necessity, may receive temporary transportation of gasoline from their local war price and rationing boards. Gallonage thus issued will later be deducted from amounts allowed by the certificate of war necessity. Rations for use through December 31 may be obtained. ODT motor transport district offices will correct promptly any errors made in certificates already issued. Where no errors were made, commercial vehicle operators must wait thirty days after issuance of the certificate to appeal for an adjustment.

Farmers Urged to Use AAA Payments To Buy War Bonds

"Lay 'Em on the Fighting Line" is Title of Folder Sent Recipients of Checks

More than 6,000,000 farmers, recipients of Agricultural Adjustment Agency checks, are receiving a leaflet from the Treasury Department urging them to convert a part or all of the payment into War Savings Bonds. Mailing of the leaflets began late in October and is to continue until late winter.

State and county AAA workers and state representatives of the War Savings Staff are also to receive copies of the leaflet.

The leaflet, in addition to pointing out the benefits to purchasers of War Bonds, contains an order form on its back to facilitate the conversion of AAA checks into War Bonds. It especially emphasizes that farmers will get $4 for every $3 invested if they hold their bonds until they mature.

"Lay 'em on the Fighting Line" is the title of the folder, which outlines a three-fold financial plan for farmers. It recommends that farmers "Produce all you can on your farms," "Get your debts in shape," and "Invest the full limit of your ability in War Savings Bonds both to help your country and safeguard your own future."

Four reasons are given to illustrate that it is both patriotic and profitable for farmers to convert a portion of their income into War Bonds. They are: "You will be helping to buy the fighting equipment needed by your sons," "You will be making the safest investment in the world," "You will be getting a profitable return on your money," and "You will be doing your part to stave off inflation."

"After the war," the leaflet emphasizes, "your savings will enable you to buy the necessities and luxuries you perhaps need now but can't get until then."

"Your savings will provide you with funds for adjustments of your farm, education, travel, recreation and retirement."

It further stresses that "War Bonds are the best form of financial reserve ever offered to United States farmers," and urges these producers to "Make Every Market Day Bond Day."

Press Paragraphs

SELECTED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

From the Ranks

The traditionally most unpopular character in the Army is the second lieutenant. He it is who upholds the standards of the service by lecturing privates for not saluting, or leaving their coats unbuttoned, or other breaches of military etiquette. Even the formidable top sergeant is less disliked because he is at least an enlisted man, and knows the enlisted man's habits of thought. Officers are not unpopular as such. The bigger the officer, the better he is apt to be liked. It is part of the army folklore that a private can forge: to salute a general and be forgiven, but a shavetail, never!

The reason is of course that the lieutenant fresh out of West Point is usually young and unused to handling men. By the time he has climbed a little way up the ladder he has overcome both these handicaps. If he had served in the ranks, his education would have been quicker.

All of this is in the mind of Lieutenant-General Ben Lear, commander of the Second Army and famed as a disciplinarian. He would make a year's service in the ranks a prerequisite for admission to West Point. In no other way can the future officers learn so much about the men he will command.

Some officers have done just this. A notable case was General James G. Harbord, Pershing's chief of staff and the present chairman of the Radio Corporation of America. He began as a private and climbed to the second highest post in the Army.—The Amarillo Times.

The Farmer Wonders

The farmer is going to get even more cussed than he is now by industry and commerce when the showdown comes and the shortages of one food and another develop. How the farmer came to be placed in such unfavorable light before the workers of the big centers, he doubtless wonders, as we do. Pictured selfish, grasping, attempting to sabotage the war effort or gain his way, the farmer-ranchman wonders just when he got that way. Perhaps just after he sent his last boy or his only dependable hired man to war work or the battle front, we'd say. The farmer must take his profits, if they come along, and losses if they occur, and go ahead with the job at hand. Anybody who does anything worthwhile is going to be criticized. No reason why the farmer should feel himself exempt, even from unjust criticism.—Home Steer in The Floyd County Hesperian.

Gresham Cotton Pickers' House Burned
Thursday morning about five o'clock the small shack on the B. L. Gresham farm used for cotton pickers was destroyed by fire of unknown origin. The shack was located near the highway and it is supposed that some transient had left there and carelessly left a cigarette burning. The house was in flames before it was noticed.

MRS. SETH THOMASON

The following letter was written by Seth Thomason to members of the family shortly after the death of Mrs. Thomason, October 7:

It is with eyes blinded by tears and a heart bleeding with sorrow that I tell you my precious, sweet girl has left me all alone, but she is not alone. She told me three or four hours just before she passed away that, "This may be my time to go, but I am ready to go. Jesus is going with me." Oh, such beautiful words to fall from anyone's lips at the last hour. Also, I was told, she said to one of the nurses, "I'm crossing the river of Jordan, and oh, what will become of Seth?" She thought of me every evening. She would tell some of the nurses to see if Seth had taken his insulin (as I take it about night). She was always so thoughtful of me. She usually made me think to take it.

8, 1942. One of the preachers was our first pastor at Brice after we married. The other one, besides our present pastor, was the one just before our pastor we have now. They all said such lovely things about her. The funeral services were lovely—not a thing left out. Everything was carried out so nicely.

ESTELLINE
By MRS. FRED BERRY
Those visiting in the Jo Eddins home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Jarvis, Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Mason and children of Memphis.
A. J. Berry spent the week-end in Fort Worth with his sister, Mrs. S. Young.
H. R. King, who is stationed at Bakersfield, Calif., returned last Thursday after a 10-day visit here with his wife.
Willie Bob Holland, who is stationed in Mississippi, is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holland.
Mr. and Mrs. G. Gardenhire took their daughter Billie Ruth to Quannah Sunday. She is seriously ill.

Restrictions Affect Retail Services

Business establishments hailed many of the restrictions put on deliveries by the Office of Defense Transportation—it was a healthy sign that the United States Government wanted to do away with unnecessary "frills" in war-time. Labor shortages, smaller profits and other troubles have become major problems on the business front. Business men were glad to have U. S. approval of a war-time streamlined program.

During the past week, retailers were given additional suggestions on how to remove "excess baggage," this time by the Office of Price Administration. OPA authorized curtailment of many peacetime services without requiring reductions in ceiling prices. Except as specially provided to the contrary, OPA authorized retailers to curtail or discontinue the following:

- Deliveries of reasonably carryable packages, except such emergency purchases as prescriptions and sickroom supplies. Sales on approval. Gift wrapping and gift packaging. Lay-away and will-call privileges. Free telephone calls. Acceptance articles returned by customers. (This does not extend to articles not delivered as represented or ordered.)

Among recommendations for war-time management policies were the following:

- Use self-service if feasible. Standardize and urge manufacturers to standardize sizes. Simplify your line, with unnecessary sizes and varieties dropped. Pool deliveries. Adjust store hours to war labor conditions. Consumers may not like the inconveniences brought about by war, but the time for pinching off useless frills has come. It means a greater concentration on the job at hand—that of winning the war. Food throughout the first year of the war has been ample, despite heavy shipments to our lend-lease allies, and the tremendous requirements of our armed forces. Up to November 29, sugar was the only food product actually rationed, although we had begun the voluntary share-the-meat program as a first step toward rationing of "red meats" early next year. Meat is such a vital part of military diet that severe penalties will be invoked against violators of the October 1 order limiting delivery for civilian use of meat from cattle, calves, sheep, lambs and hogs. The order applies to all slaughterers, including small country slaughterers and butchers, and farmers who kill animals except for the use of themselves and their families.

In 1943 we'll have reductions in some kinds of foods, fruits and vegetables, especially in certain canned goods. Distributors already have been given monthly quotas on the delivery of canned foods. Local milk shortages have developed, and 50 per cent of all butter stocks in 35 major dairy markets have been reserved for military and lend-lease needs. Many imported spices and condiments are scarce, and imported fruits such as bananas, are almost unobtainable.

There are other problems on the Home Front, too. There will be need of many more women workers in our war plants next year—the manpower shortage will be even greater than it is today. Already the inter-city bus industry is critically short of good mechanics and service men, and so is the truck-for-hire industry. Track workers are needed on western railroads, and there are 60,000 job vacancies among the public carriers. The battle on the Home Front involves tremendous problems and can only be won by brilliant planning, vigorous prosecution and all-out cooperation. The Home Front program can only be as strong as its weakest part. To win the battle on the fighting front, we must win the battle at home.

CHURCHES

METHODIST NEWS NOTES

E. L. YEATS, Pastor One year ago (first Sunday in December, 1941) we were plunged into the present conflict. The nation has requested that each church make some recognition of this anniversary. This we will do in the morning service.

Sunday, December 13, is the day set aside each year in this church to take an offering for our Orphans' Home. Our gift last year was well over $100. Let us, without pressure, but purely voluntarily, make a worthy offering. The annual district meeting, which was held in the local church Friday of last week was said by our district superintendent to be the best attended and the best program since he has been on the district. The local church deserves praise for the work of entertainment given.

Rayburn Jones Plays For Three Revivals

Rayburn Jones returned home Monday morning from a three-weeks engagement, during which he played the piano for three revival meetings conducted by Rev. R. L. Flowers of Denton. Rev. Flowers, well known evangelist, conducted a revival here last spring and was impressed at that time with Rayburn's ability as a pianist. The revivals in which young Jones played were at Crawford Stuart and Marsland, Neb. Rayburn, who is 14 years old, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Jones of Memphis. —Answer Bombs with Bombs—

VALUES THAT CAN'T BE DUPLICATED

Real "Bargains" in any feed are those which give you the best results for the price you pay. The best price per bag is not the index to value. A good feed is worth just what it costs to build and the returns you get. Please remember, if you want real feed economy, and low cost per pound of gain—greater rate of growth—see the dealer who buys in car-lots—the dealer who can always give you fresher feed. MRS. OPAL (SMITH) BURAL

Former Resident Greets Friends

A former resident of Hall County, who has been away some 14 years but remembers with pleasure her former home, sends greetings to relatives, friends and former school mates, stating it would be a treat just to meet each one again. She is Mrs. Oal Bural, daughter of Dan C. Smith, who was a well known citizen of this county. She writes in part as follows:

"I have spent the past seven years in the land of enchantment around Carlsbad, N. M. It is a very beautiful place, where the skies are supposed to stay blue and the sun shine forever, but I truly believe it rains more here than back in good old Hall County. "Carlsbad is a very beautiful little city and very lively, with quite a lot of work going on. It is a land for pleasure and enjoyment, a wonderful place to spend a vacation, summer or winter. The mass of hills which occupy the center of the country is bordered on both sides, east and west, by a broad belt of lowland. "Sunken deep below its own level lies the cavern city. One standing on the heights watching the sun hide its face behind the western slope gets quite a thrill looking down on the valley, the landscape a perfect picture of bright green fields, while off to the south large trees are scattered here and there along the Pecos river, which looks like a silver ribbon. Uncle Sam's warplanes dot the sky here and there to complete the setting. "This is just to say "Hello" to folks back in the old home town. Wishing you all happiness at this season,

Sincerely, Opal (Smith) Bural
