25 ADULT EDUCATION CLASSES

11 Will Be Here; Others County

The organization of 25 free adult education classes in all county are to be held this week by teachers and others interested in the plan as provided by the federal government's program. Decision of the county-wide adult education was made last afternoon when more than 200 people met with the county school board, who explained the plan.

Seven subjects will be taught if sufficient interest in the classes, it is at the meeting last night. The classes are temporary sessions in Memphis were

Local Pastor Takes Part in District Church Convention Today

Rev. Norman Dyer, pastor of the First Christian church of Memphis, will appear on the program of the district convention of the church at Pampa tomorrow. Rev. Dyer will speak for four minutes during the afternoon session on the state of the church in District One.

Christ in the Life of Today" is the subject for the all-day meeting. Rev. E. R. McWilliams, of Hereford, is district president and John S. Mullen, pastor of the host church. Pastors and church workers from all sections of the Panhandle are expected to attend.

BURGLARS TAKE $50 WORTH OF CLOTHING

Thieves Ransack Joe Webster Home Friday Night

Burglars entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Webster at Seventh and Cleveland streets Friday night and stole clothing and property estimated in excess of $50.

The thieves ransacked the front part of the house while the family was attending the Memphis-Esteline football game. Clothing belonging to Miss Loreece Webster was taken from the front bedroom, but the loss was not discovered until Saturday morning when officers were notified.

No arrests had been made by the sheriff's department Saturday afternoon.

Newspaper Claims Communist Activity Intended To Lead 'Rebellion'

By Associated Press
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—The Times says that "flagrant classes" of communistic activity intended to lead to "rebellion" has been discovered on United States warships in San Pedro harbor.

The alleged rebellion plot, the newspaper said, is carried on by sending attractive young communistic girls aboard the ships on visiting days to make dates with the soldiers and spread sedition.

"Communists are drilling in uniform every Sunday in Tunjuna canyon on leased land," the Times said. "As they are not armed, they are not breaking the law."

"There is a Los Angeles college for the training of communists agitators. The course includes street riots, propaganda works in colleges, propaganda in army, navy and national guard and in government relief camps."

Slayer of Girl Is Sentenced To Die

WILESBARRE, Penn., Oct. 6.—Robert Allen Edwards, self styled "lady's man", was convicted today of the slaying of his sweetheart, Freda McKechnie, and sentenced to die in the electric chair.

Edwards was found guilty of solving the "eternal triangle" predicament by bludgeoning to death his sweetheart of whom he had tired so he could marry another girl.

Case Relief Worker To Attend Institute

Miss Mena Thompson, case worker in the Welfare department of the Hall county relief office, will leave today for Dallas where she will enroll in the state social service institute. Classes in the institute will begin Tuesday morning.

The six-week institute is being offered by the Civic Federation of Dallas at the request of the Texas Relief administration, as a part of the training program for relief workers. Required subjects include social case work, social philosophy, the use of community resources and economics of relief. Other special courses and lectures may be chosen by Miss Thompson while attending the institute.

To try and enumerate the special features of the Junior Chamber of Commerce Minstrel, which will be presented Wednesday and Thursday nights of next week at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium, would be a well-nigh impossible task. Suffice it to say that reports received by The Democrat point to the fact that there will be no dull moments in the production—that the tuneful, colorful, mirth-provoking production will lead steadily to a climax that will live up to the best traditions of the minstrel of the past.

Two thousand, two hundred and 92 people in the Memphis area passed through the passenger compartments of the stream-lined train during the hour it was on exhibition here, from 5:10 o'clock until 6:10 o'clock.

Mayor Urges Fire Prevention Drive

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION

Fire Prevention Week is again at hand. The object of the occasion is to remind the public of the seriousness of the large fire loss of this country, both as to life and property, and bring to the attention of everyone the fact that nearly all of this destruction could be avoided if greater care were taken in the construction of buildings, if litter and rubbish were removed from homes and places of business, if children and grown people were thoroughly educated in the handling of fire and taught the importance of extreme carefulness.

Now, therefore, I, B. E. Davenport, Mayor of Memphis, Texas, in cooperation with the nationwide movement for the elimination of preventable fires, do hereby designate October 7 to 13, as Fire Prevention Week in this city.

On those days I ask our civic and commercial organizations, our school officials and teachers, and our citizenship as a whole, to join with the chief of our fire department and our city fire marshal in arranging meetings and exercises for a study of ways and means of preventing fires, as well as to impress the seriousness of the wastage that is caused and the need for utmost care for the protection of life and property.

During Fire Prevention Week I urge that a thorough inspection of the entire city be conducted for the purpose of locating and removing fire hazards and that the work thus inaugurated be hereafter expanded into a Fire Prevention Year.

In testimony whereof, I hereunto sign my name and affix my seal of office on this, the 6th day of October, 1934, A. D.

(Signed) B. E. Davenport, Mayor.

JUDGMENT NOT RENDERED ON DAMAGES

$28,000 Suit May Not Be Decided Until Middle of Week

Judgement in the $28,000 damage suit of J. J. Kimbrow against the Fort Worth and Denver City railway had not been returned by District Judge A. J. Fires Saturday afternoon. Local members of the bar expressed a belief that judgement would not be made before the middle of this week.

Thirteen special issues were decided by a district court jury before they were dismissed Friday afternoon. The jury received the case after almost three days of testimony and arguments by attorneys, and deliberated the subject more than 24 hours before answering the 13 special issues in their entirety.

The case was filed by the father of Alton Kimbrow, 19, following an accident at Lelia Lake December 19, 1932.

Due to the decrease in losses by fire in Memphis during 1933, this penalty was reduced to nine percent. By the further prevention of fires during the next 12 months, the members declare that it will be possible to erase this penalty entirely, and place Memphis back on the credit side of the ledger.

Fire Prevention Week is a good time to begin this reduction in rates, local members state.

NINE BOYS HEAD FOR CCC CAMPS

Hall County Youths Leave For Conservation Corps Work Tuesday Morning

Nine Hall county boys will leave Tuesday morning for Amarillo to enlist in Citizens Conservation Corps camps, according to Judge A. C. Hoffman, county relief administrator. Judge Hoffman assisted in the selection of the youths on the last quota for CCC relief work.

All of the youths on the last quota were selected from families now on relief rolls, according to Judge Hoffman. They are to report to the Army Recruiting Officer at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning for assignment to various camps in this section.

CHICO, Calif., Oct. 6.—Three men were shot and killed today in a series of gun fights apparently growing out of a search by William McDaniel, state highway patrolman, for an automobile driver reported to be drunk.

The dead were McDaniel; Kenneth Davis, garageman, and Nick Turchenitz, jeweler.

Funeral Service For Billie Jean Musgrove Is Held

Funeral services for little Billie Jean Musgrove, four-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Musgrove, of Memphis, were held yesterday afternoon at the graveside. Rev. O. K. Webb, pastor of the First Baptist church, conducted the services at 6 o'clock.

Pneumonia caused the child's death at about 11 o'clock Saturday morning. She had been ill for only three days.

Surviving are her parents, four brothers and six sisters. Mr. and Mrs. Musgrove reside at 718 North 11th street in Memphis.

Suffice it to say that reports received by The Democrat point to the fact that there will be no dull moments in the production—that the tuneful, colorful, mirth-provoking production will lead steadily to a climax that will live up to the best traditions of the minstrel of the past.

"put over". Dr. L. M. Hicks and Lyman E. Robbins are the "kingspins of humor" in the show. Their repartee, their wisecracks and "cracks at the crowd" keep the show well balanced from the standpoint of well-balanced humor.

Among the soloists will be Harry Delaney, a veteran in the ranks of amateur theatricals; Cleron McMurray, Guthrie Bennett and a number of others. Ray Martin, playing the dual role of "Uncle Burrell" and "Sister Liza" gives a side-splitting performance. His dance is one of the real high-spots of the show. S. E. Mayfield in his buck and wing dance and Elmo Powell in his tap dance add just the right "spice" to make the show click.

Every member of the cast of 32 has important lines. These, together with the musical features and specialties, combine to give to the Junior Chamber of Commerce Minstrel a completeness, a poise, a oneness of purpose which, for sheer entertainment, are rarely equalled.

The orchestra under the direction of Mrs. C. L. Sloan, Jr., is all that any audience could desire. They interpret the music with feeling and understanding for the black-face artists who compose the circle.

Tickets are now on sale for the two nights of the show. Adult tickets are 20 cents and student tickets are 10 cents. It is confidently anticipated, by those in charge of the show, that packed houses will greet both performances.

Drunkenness Gets $15 Fine and Cost

A fine of $15 and court costs were assessed against Earl Bell Saturday morning in County Court on a charge of drunkenness. County Judge Jim Vallance heard the case.

ADULT EDUCATION

FREE adult educational classes will be organized in Hall county in half a dozen communities within a short time. This is made possible by the federal government's educational relief program.

It is one of the biggest movements in the recovery administration's program, not from a standpoint of financial assistance at the present time, which might be needed to pass a temporary crisis, but it is more far-reaching in its results.

When people, made idle by lack of work or because they cannot afford the entertainments and time-passers they once enjoyed, can turn this spare time toward a liberal education, they are reaching the point where depressions and drouths cannot be a terrible calamity.

This does not mean, of course, that special classes must be arranged, what with public libraries everywhere at the disposal of those who will take the time to make use of them. But through classes, conducted systematically and without cost, many people will be reached who "just cannot get around to studying" otherwise. In this manner, too, the work will be more simplified, with selections easy to make.

We do not say that these classes are to be conducted solely for those without work and who wish to spend their extra time in this manner; they are to be conducted for everyone who is interested, providing such person is not attending school elsewhere.

Practical subjects will be taught, including almost every kind of vocational and literary training and also a nursery school.

Eleven subjects possibly will be taught in Memphis; four or more are to be offered in Turkey; three at Estelline; two at Pleasant Valley, and one each at Buffalo Flat and Leslie, and possibly at other places.

More than 40 interested persons attended a meeting here Friday, at which time plans for the classes were made. But there should be far more than 40 persons in the territory mentioned above who are interested in making the most of these opportunities, which offer rare possibilities.

So long as American people take advantage of lean and lax years to improve their mental facilities along practical lines, this country needs never fear revolt or civil war, brought on by dissatisfaction among those hardest hit.

BASEBALL IS KING

PRETTENDERS to the throne may rise to brief glory and pass on, but baseball remains king of American sports, truly the national game, first in the affections and interest of the American people.

From March to October the diamond sport reigns supreme. And even through the long cold winter, its fans avidly seek every morsel of news concerning their ball-tossing heroes.

By millions they jam into major and minor league and semi-pro parks during the summer, with the grand climax coming in the world series. Interest in baseball may be waning, but the figures don't show it. The season just closed was one of record profit in many cities.

Millions play golf, but even the greatest of golf matches draw galleries that are dwarfed by the throngs which pack even minor league stands.

One of the most torridly fought tennis tournaments in recent years drew a gate recently that would be only a fair weekday crowd at most major league baseball parks.

The America's Cup race, magnificent event though it was, stirred comparatively little interest among the rank and file of sporting fans.

Prize fight and wrestling fans are legion, but no one seriously considers either pastime a rival of baseball as an attraction.

Basketball has its devotees, but they are far in the minority the country over.

Football, it is true, is a magnet for mammoth throngs—but for only eight or ten Saturdays in the year, while a winning baseball team pulls fans past the turnstiles for 154 games a season.

America is singularly blessed with clean sports, all of which have their place in the scheme of things. But there is only one national sport, without even a close rival, whether played in a magnificent major league plant or on a sandlot back of the warehouse—and that's baseball.

If there be doubters, let them watch the crowds before world series scoreboards and be convinced.

FALL CLEANING IN WASHINGTON

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY WILLIS THORNTON
The Democrat's Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—With almost the whole American Federation of Labor organization in San Francisco for the annual convention, headquarters here is pretty much turned over exclusively to "Labor's Brain Trust."

You didn't know organized labor had a brain trust.

Well, it has. The current vogue of turning to the colleges for academically trained help is by no means confined to the government or to industry.

Labor's brain trust isn't called that—it's known as the research staff—but it comes to the same thing.

This staff was formed more than a year ago to prepare labor's side of the argument when the codes were formed. Now that they are completed, it continues to function in keeping unions informed on code developments, compliance, and interpretation.

The three principal members are all college graduates of comparatively recent years, and represent some of the "new blood" which is being infused in the Federation in such quantities of late.

They are Boris Shishkin (Columbia), Marjorie Clark (Wisconsin and Nebraska), and W. C. Holden (Harvard.)

Shishkin, Russian-born, worked on the construction, aluminum, petroleum, shipping, cleaning and dyeing, lumber, and fabricated metals codes.

Miss Clark specialized on autos, rubber, furniture, textile, and canning codes. She has lived in Mexico, and has a book forthcoming on the labor movement there.

Holden handled the metal mining, wheat flour milling, cement, salt, and electrical manufacturing codes.

Much discussion now going on in the San Francisco convention is grounded on the research and practical experience of this "Labor Brain Trust," of which you hear little, but whose facts and figures and direct contact with the unions in the field are a sort of "ammunition dump" for the battles now being fought on the labor front.

HEALTH

By DR. MORRIS FISHBAIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

It is hard to get sympathy for painful feet, but there is no form of pain more disturbing. Everyone now knows the story of the man who wore tight shoes because his feet felt so good when he took the shoes off.

A pain in the foot may incapacitate you not only for work, but for play. Napoleon said that an army marches on its stomach. We realize, however, that it marches also on its feet and that an army with worn-out feet, no matter how well fed, cannot proceed farther.

Sometimes a pain in the foot is due to an actual change in the tissues, that can be found by the X-ray. For example, spurs of bone will grow and irritate soft tissues with which they are in contact.

Sometimes there are inflammations or infections under the membrane which covers the bone. These, when detected, may be controlled and the serious pain relieved.

The type of infection called osteomyelitis may affect not only the long bones of the body, but also the small bones of the feet.

When it occurs in such places it may go undetected for some time, and cause great damage before being properly treated.

After the cause of a pain in the foot is discovered, there are many common methods of treatment which are useful. Support may be provided by strapping with adhesive tape or with the new types of bandages.

Alternate bathing in hot and cold water is stimulating. Application of heat helps to relax the tissues and to bring enough blood supply to them to take care of their nutrition and of removal of infection.

Once the physician has discovered the mechanism that produces the pain and has controlled the factors that are controllable, a suitable amount of rest and the wearing of shoes which support the foot at its weak points will, in most instances, relieve the patient of further difficulty.

The care of painful feet involves, however, not only the minor understanding given by the physician to medical complaints, but also the understanding of the mechanics of the foot, both at rest and in motion.

In certain cases, however, it may be necessary by surgical means to remove spurs of bone to relieve collections of pus or infective material between the bones and the soft tissues, or to open up and clean out areas of destruction within the bones.

Whenever there is strain on any ligaments at the points of attachment to the bone, swelling occurs. With this swelling there is tenderness and pain. In certain forms of flatfoot this pain is typical.

Some cases may be relieved by such measures as rest, bathing the feet in hot water and massage, but in the majority of cases it will also be necessary to provide supports to relieve the affected area.

Memphians Ride Nearly a score of Memphians were treated with a ride on this most modern of railroad creations. Lyman E. Robbins, publisher of The Democrat, rode from Amarillo to Memphis; H. A. Jackson, H. A. Jackson, Jr., Ed Thompson, J. J. McMickin and Adrian Odom rode from Memphis to Childress, and John Bishop, Russell Clark, Zeb Moore, James Arthur Anthony, Thomas E. Noel, Dr. W. C. Dickey, Dr. W. Wilson, Dr. Henry Wilson, Tommie Potts, Frank Foxhall, F. N. Foxhall and others rode from Clarendon to Memphis. The train stopped on the main line in front of the Fort Worth and Denver park near the station. It and its passengers were not only greeted by some 5,000 people but also by the Black and Gold band. Following the Zephyr's departure, many automobiles lined the highway between Memphis and Salisbury in order to see it in action on the open road.

SOCIETY

W. M. S. OBSERVES BIRTHDAY OF SOCIETY

In an impressive and interesting manner, more than 70 members of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Christian church, their families and a few other guests observed the 60th anniversary of the Missionary Society Monday night.

The event was observed here by a banquet served in the church parlor by members of the society. The long banquet table was beautifully decorated with lighted candles and vases of orchid and white flowers, the colors of the local W. M. S. At one end of the room stood a huge birthday cake, with 60 small candles and three larger ones.

Mrs. Dean Morgensen, president, acted as toastmistress. The program was as follows: Song, "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning." Mrs. Morgensen welcomed the guests, speaking of "Fellowship" and the part that it plays in the lives of everyone.

She introduced Mrs. J. M. Elliott, only remaining charter member of the society that was organized in 1908. A quartet, composed of Mrs. W. C. Chapman, Mrs. Clyde Milam, Alton Burleson and E. E. Roberts, sang "It Must Be Told."

The feature of the program was a playlet given by Mrs. Seth Palmeyer, Mrs. J. A. Whaley and Ann Palmeyer, entitled "Aunt Martha Winkle Wakes Up". The playlet gave an interesting and comprehensive summary of the organization and growth of the Missionary society.

A song, "Lead On, O King Eternal," followed the playlet; Mrs. J. P. Watson offered prayer, and another song, "He Leadeth Me," preceded the devotional, "A Cloud of Whiteness," given by Mrs. W. R. Cabaness.

"The Bearers of the Torch," Mrs. E. E. Roberts, Mrs. Alton Burleson and Mrs. Chapman, paid tribute to the past, present and future of the W. M. S., respectively, as they lighted the large candles on the birthday cake.

Mrs. Watson, chairman of the finance committee, presided at the cake as each one present passed by and placed an offering in an opening in the top of the cake, lighting one of the smaller candles at the same time. Mr. Roberts offered the dismissal prayer.

Mrs. Alan Brown Is Hostess to Delphian Club

Mrs. Alan Brown was hostess to the Delphian Club Tuesday afternoon at her home, 1314 West Brumley.

Members answered roll call with "Facts About Alaska," and a program on "Sourdough Gold," by Mary Lee Davis, was given; Mrs. Z. A. Moore gave "Klondike Jim, the Futtegurh Fakir," Mrs. Harold Walker gave "The Dust of Her Streets Were Gold," Mrs. V. B. Roberts gave "River and I" and Miss Frankie Barnes gave "The Spell of the Yukon."

After the program a social hour was enjoyed.

Members present were: Mesdames J. L. Barnes, Jack Boone, W. Irl Breedlove, W. R. Cabaness, Harry Delaney, W. C. Dickey, Otho Fitzgarrald, Kennon Hillyer, H. A. Jackson, L. C. Linn, V. L. McGlocklin, B. B. McMillan, Cleron McMurtry, Z. A. Moore, Adrian Odum, E. E. Roberts, V. B. Rogers, J. E. Roper, J. W. Stokes, Harold Walker, O. K. Webb, R. H. Wherry, Harry Womack; Misses Frankie Barnes, Mildred Bishop, Maud Milam, Eloise Norman, the hostess, Mrs. Brown, and a visitor, Mrs. R. B. Thompson.

Little Theatre to Open Its Season Soon

The Memphis Little Theatre will open its sixth season of play production with three one-act plays, "All for Glory," a comedy written and directed by Mrs. R. S. Greene, "My Lady Dreams," a fantasy by Eugene Pillot, and "Cul-De-Sac," a tragedy by Essex Dane. The Memphis Little Theatre feels confident that all those who attend the productions will be amply repaid.

To the lovers of professional shows, comedy and drama, and to those who appreciate effort well directed on the stage, "All for Glory," written and directed by Mrs. R. S. Greene, will meet all expectations. It is a comedy of mountaineer life and the contrasts, emotions and hopes of the seven characters move evenly until the climax is definitely reached, making this play one of the outstanding undertakings of the Little Theatre has thus far engaged.

The setting of the comedy is worthy of more than passing mention. It is the kitchen in the home of Cynthia and Amos Brown. Mrs. Greene's conception of the play's responsibilities is every where in evidence. She has put forth every effort to obtain properties suitable for an old fashioned mountaineer kitchen and one will be charmed with the result.

Betty Lancaster, a school teacher from St. Louis, is portrayed by Obie Crabtree; Mrs. Landrum Stanford takes the part of Mrs. Maybank, the little town gossip (one cannot forget Jewel Stanford as the old maid in "The Ghost Train"); Mattie May Maybank, her dumb daughter, is enacted by Mrs. Noy Crabb; Mrs. Greene is taking the part of Amos Brown, a typical backwoods mountaineer, and Mrs. T. M. Harrison as Cynthia Brown, his wife; Glory Brown, the bashful daughter of these mountaineers, is enacted by Mrs. Herbert Sisk; Mrs. R. C. Lemons has taken the part of Jean Norman, the awkward country boy.

The cast was carefully chosen from the Little Theatre group, and with the enthusiasm of the writer and director and the entire cast, it is being enacted with characteristic taste and good judgment.

The fantasy, "My Lady Dreams," by Eugene Pillot, under the direction of Mrs. T. M. Harrison, is romantic and colorful and has proven entertaining in production. "My Lady Dreams" was presented last spring at one of the regular monthly meetings of the Little Theatre with the same cast and director and met with so much approval of the members that it was decided that it should be one of the plays to be presented publicly.

"Cul-De-Sac" is a fascinating tragedy by Essex Dane under the direction of Mrs. Pete Clower. It is powerful drama and has a far reaching appeal. It was chosen because of the skill in its production and "Cul-De-Sac" will be a step in progress of the Little Theatre success.

Rehearsals have been progressing now for several weeks and three one-act plays will be presented within the near future at the High school auditorium. Exact date of production will be announced early next week.

Woman's Culture Club Meets With Mrs. Ira Neeley

The Woman's Culture Club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ira W. Neeley, 514 South Sixth street.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. A. Whaley, and a short business session was held. Following the business session club members responded to Tropical roll call. The study for the afternoon was "Recent Drama" and Pulitzer Prize play for 1934, "Men in White," by Sidney Kingsley, was reviewed by Mrs. R. Ernest Clark.

A delicious salad course was served to a guest, Mrs. W. A. Duncan of Haskell, an dthe following members: Mesdames L. S. Clark, Roy Fultz, D. A. Grundy, A. W. Howard, R. L. Madden, J. H. Norman, G. W. Sexauer, C. Z. Stidham, J. A. Whaley, W. L. Wheat, Ira W. Neeley, R. E. Clark and Miss Imogene King.

Class Secretary

Miss Ruth Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Harrison, a senior at Baylor University, at Waco, has been elected secretary of the senior class for the year book. This is her fourth term as secretary of her class and is an exception honor. She is also a member of the staff for the year book, "The Round Up." Miss Harrison graduated from Memphis High school with the class of 1930 and always took an active part in school activities here.

MRS. EASTERLING HONORED WITH HANDKERCHIEF SHOWER

Complimenting Mrs. T. R. Easterling, who left Monday for Lubbock, the Winnie Davis Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy entertained with a handkerchief shower Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. L. Wheat, with Mrs. Roy Fultz assisting.

Vases of autumn flowers in the living room and library stressed the autumn theme of red and gold.

Mrs. Fultz announced the program. The first number was a piano solo by Mrs. G. C. Baskerville. Mrs. Joe DeBerry sang, "Star Eyes," with Mrs. Baskerville playing the accompaniment. Mrs. W. L. Wheat gave a humorous original poem, a parody on the "Courtship of the Honoree." At the close of the program little Minerva and Maria Baskerville entered with a beautifully decorated basket carrying out the autumn motif of red and gold and filled with dainty handkerchiefs, presenting it to the honoree. A card expressing the best wishes of the donors was attached.

Punch and wafers were served in the dining room with Mrs. Fultz presiding at the punch bowl which centered the dining table covered with a lovely lace cloth to the following guests and members: Guests, Mrs. W. JOHN W. EWEN IS FOURTH IN CONTEST

Estelline Entrant Is High in Balanced Farm Contest

John W. Ewen won fourth place in the Amarillo Globe-News Balanced Farm contest, not because he raised more hogs at less cost than other farmers, but because he combined with his hogs other livestock and field crop enterprises in such a way that he more nearly approached the ideal balanced farm unit.

For several years Mr. Ewen has had several brood sows and a small herd of milking shorthorns, but when he recently added a small flock of sheep he increased his farm income and profit at very little additional outlay. In his own words, "I never miss what they eat and the money from the spring clipping of wool comes in very handy at a time when there is very little income from other sources."

Color Scheme Aid In Selecting Hen

A simple plan of selecting the best layers in a farm flock is described by H. L. Shradler, of the United States Department of Agriculture, as the red-white-and-olive method. It calls for the use of 3 colors of leg bands for marking 3 desirable characteristics of hens in the breeding flock. The banding may be done on or near three easily remembered dates—November 11, March 4, and July 4.

The first culling date, November 11, provides a check on all pullets that have begun to lay. These are the early-maturing pullets and are marked with red leg bands. It is easy to determine an early layer, as she has a deep-red comb and wattles and a moist vent. If the bird belongs to one of the yellow-skinned varieties she will show distinct bleaching around the vent and on the beak.

The next culling period, in March, affords an opportunity to check the rate at which the pullets have laid during the winter. Those that have laid steadily will have lost, through the egg yolks, most of the yellow coloring matter assimilated from yellow and green feed. But birds that have taken a vacation during the winter will have some of this pigment, readily observable in the beaks and shanks. All pullets with bleached beaks and shanks are marked with a white leg band.

The last period for culling comes after the hot weather has arrived. This is the time to detect the birds that take their vacation before they have finished their laying year. The molt is a good indication of the time these pullets have been out of laying. The bird with ragged, worn feathers may not look like a blue-ribbon winner compared with her sister that has clean, bright feathers. But the bird with worn feathers deserves the blue leg band because she is a persistent layer and has kept up her production into the hot weather instead of molting a new crop of feathers. Leg bands are removed from birds that go broody.

The red-white-and-blue layers should be mated next spring to males from flocks with trap-nest records that show heavy winter production of good-sized eggs of the proper color for the breed. A breeding program of this kind will not take much time from the farmer's regular duties and will aid greatly in developing a high-producing flock.

It is a business—a great thriving business—and we in England who sail yachts because we love sailing can never win the America's cup until we make it a business, too.

ON TEXAS FARMS

More than 250,000 acres of wheat planted for winter grazing purposes alone, in the South Plains area of the State, insures pretty good pickings for work stock there in spite of the drought-made feed shortage.

Cotton bales are becoming more popular each year. Lamar county is working to establish the bloc system more completely, basing the effort on the success of the existing one-variety gin communities in the county. County agent A. L. Edmiston points out that some farmers in the county have reported premiums that run as high as $7 a bale.

Grimes county farmers have taken in some of that premium money this fall too on their Acala cotton. According to county agent Geo. A. Altgelt there are approximately 20,000 acres of that cotton in a bloc around Navasota which nets its growers around $8 a bale premium for quality and staple. In the bottom lands of the county it has yielded from 250 to 300 pounds per acre.

The will that finds the way was with Mrs. S. H. Ditmore, Tom Green county home demonstration club woman, who subirrigated her rose cutting bed with old tin cans and rooted 15 bushes in spite of the drought.

Using an old fashioned floral scroll design Mrs. M. H. Aiken, home industries demonstrator of Kleberg county, has made to order a hooked cover with which to upholster the fireside seat of a customer in Corpus Christi. The colors were selected when the order was given and harmonize with those of a large hooked rug ordered at the same time.

TO ENFORCE BUTCHER'S LAW TO BATTLE CATTLE THIEVES

Because the stealing of cattle has increased greatly in Hall county in recent months, the "butcher's law" is going to be enforced rigidly by the sheriff's department.

This announcement was made last week by Sheriff John Alexander, who issued the following notice to butchers:

"The fact that many cattle in Hall county are disappearing through theft, has made it necessary to more rigidly enforce the butcher law. From and after this date prosecutions will be made in all instances where same is not obeyed. In order that all butchers may be familiar with its provisions, I submit the following:

"1. It is unlawful for any butcher to kill or cause to be killed any animal without having taken a bill of sale from the person from whom same was purchased.

"2. Any person engaged in the slaughter and sale of animals for market must report to each regular term of the Commissioners Court, the number, color, age, sex, marks and brands of every animal slaughtered by him since the last term of said court and accompany said report with a written bill of sale or transfer of each animal so slaughtered, save such as were raised by himself. Upon failure to do so, if convicted, he shall be fined not less than $50.00 nor more than $300.00.

"3. Each butcher must register with the County Clerk and file the bond provided by law.

"4. Each butcher must keep a true and faithful record in a book

Cattle purchases will be continued in Hall county on a reduced scale until October 13, and until 500 head are bought in the county. An effort is being made to reach only the more distressed herds of cattle and the larger producers are being allowed to put in only part of the cattle they offered.

It is hoped that representatives of the Texas Panhandle, at Washington will secure additional funds so that the Cattle Purchase program may be continued in an orderly manner until all distressed cattle in this territory are purchased; however, until additional appropriations are made we are informed that the 500 head which are being bought at the present time will be all the cattle the government will buy in Hall county.

Hall county has been fortunate in securing two additional allotments of 500 head each since the general buying program was stopped in the state. There are approximately 3,500 to 4,000 head listed for sale which are as yet unbought and it will take at least a month to clean up the remaining cattle in the county.

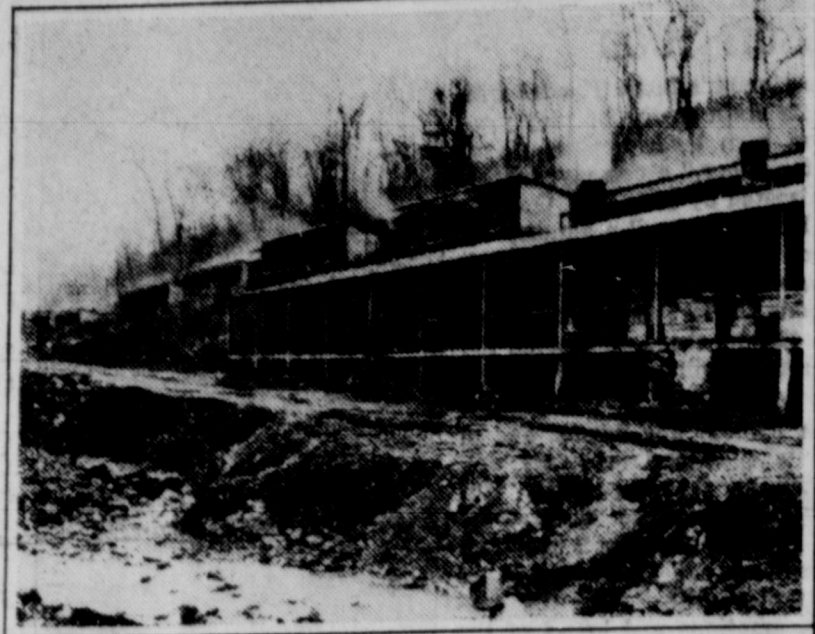

There have been 5118 cattle bought by the government to date in the county. These cattle were bought from 474 different individuals and will be a total purchase price of $60,906. The additional cattle which are being bought will bring the total money the government is paying for cattle in Hall county to approximately $70,000.

These startling contrast pictures vividly show how the standard of living has been raised for settlers in the government subsistence homestead colony at Reedsville, W. Va. Above are shown the squalid shacks in which jobless miners and their families have been living, with the polluted creek in front of them. Below is shown one of the new houses into which colonists will move, built since the program was put under way largely through enthusiastic support of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

500 Pounds of Water To One Pound of Hay

To make one pound of dry alfalfa hay, the growing plants need to absorb and later give off or transpire from 500 to 750 pounds of water. Irrigation engineers use the term "transpiration ratio" and say that alfalfa has a transpiration ratio of from 500 to 750, the smaller ratio for a cool, moist climate, and the larger for hotter, dryer sections.

Phrasing it another way, engineers of the United States Department of Agriculture find that to produce 5 tons of dry alfalfa hay an acre in western Oregon about 20 acre-inches of water a year will be required; that is, the alfalfa will remove from the soil as much water as would be needed to cover the field to a depth of 20 inches, allowing only a moderate quantity for direct evaporation from the soil.

The second half of the rental payment which the Government is making to cotton farms for the reduction in cotton acreage should be received in Hall county around October 20 to 25. This payment which is made upon certification by the cotton committee that the contract signers have fulfilled their contract will amount to approximately $150,000.

It is hoped that the parity payment which is due in December will also be paid before that date. The parity payment in Hall county will amount to something over $90,000, making a total payment, due between now and the first of the year on the Cotton Reduction program, of $240,000. This does not take into consideration the $10,000 or $50,000 which will be paid persons who hold option contracts under the 1933 cotton plow up.

Successful Fight Upon Army Worm

The fall Army worm can do a tremendous amount of damage in a very short length of time. This was the experience of Mr. Dixon of Brice who lost 20 acres of cotton almost over night. The worms came from a patch of oat stubble which had been allowed to grow a heavy crop of thistles. They spread in all directions.

The first and the most effective measure of control which Mr. Dixon tried was to plow several very deep furrows with a lister around the area in which the worms were working. This in a large measure confined them to the portion of the field which they had already damaged.

The cotton was then sprayed with a calcium arsenate solution. This treatment was only partially successful. A neighbor dusted his with calcium arsenate. Only partial success attended the dusting operation.

Mr. Dixon says the most successful method of controlling the worms will be to destroy possible breeding grounds. It is a safe bet that another patch of stubble will not be allowed to grow foul and furnish a possible 'worm hatchery' on this farm in the future.

If cotton prices should get so high in China that they are out of line with food prices, there would probably be a tendency to increase cotton acreage in certain parts of the country. The chances, however, are that cotton acreage will continue to grow very slowly. At present China offers little threat to the American cotton grower.

No one would deny that foreign competition in cotton growing is a constant threat to the South and always has been. That such competition will rapidly take away America's markets is another matter. Sensible American production to assure a decent American price will not throw away foreign markets. Adjustment, which is the cornerstone of the AAA program, does not always mean reduction.

Excellent Results In Raising Poults

MULESHOE, Oct. 6.—Excellent results in raising poults under the confinement method have been secured by two Bailey county men, according to J. B. Waide, Jr., farm demonstration agent. Levi B. Churchill has 75 poults on one-third acre of alfalfa. The poults average about 8½ pounds each at 3½ months of age.

Raymond Pecura has 150 poults on one acre of alfalfa. These poults average seven pounds each at three months. Both breeders use the short legged "baby beef" type.

Few Pigs Immunized; Cholera Season Near

Answers to a questionnaire from the United States Department of Agriculture to field inspectors in about 25 of the principal hog-raising States indicate that only about 50 percent as many hogs were immunized against cholera in the first half of 1934 as in the corresponding half of 1933. The principal reasons were the low value of hogs and the inability of the farmers to pay for the treatment.

"With the market price of hogs on the upward trend farmers should safeguard them against disease, particularly cholera", declares Dr. T. P. White, of the Bureau of Animal Husbandry. "The cost of serum and virus has been reduced in recent years, and immunization is still a sound investment. While hog-cholera losses have been comparatively light for the past year or two, infection still exists, and, as a rule, becomes active during the fall months. One outbreak of cholera may spread the disease to an entire neighborhood if the hogs are not properly immunized.

Uncle Sam's Electric Shop Shows Tempting Stock

Bitterly attacked by private business as a competitor, the Electric Home and Farm Authority, government organization, is proceeding with its plans to put electrical appliances at reduced cost in every home in the nation. Every type of electrical equipment needed in the home is shown in the tastefully furnished demonstration room of this branch of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

BANKHEAD ACT IS SUPPORTED BY ALLOTMENT BOARD MEMBERS

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 6.—"We come to the concluding days of issuing the 90 per cent of tax exemption certificates in the midst of a good deal of talk about suspending the operation of the Bankhead Act, when even the author of the act is quoted, or misquoted, as being opposed to the operation of the law he sponsored," R. M. Hubbard, member of the Cotton Allotment Board from New Boston, said in a statement issued from the Board's headquarters.

"Speaking for myself and my fellow Board members, in spite of the enormous task with which we have labored all summer and in spite of all the difficulties which lie in the way of administering this piece of legislation, we think its suspension would be a mistake resulting in loss of faith and money by thousands of cotton farmers who cooperated with the Government in the cotton control program.

"The cotton surplus is by no means down to normal. The emergency which brought the legislation into existence is not past. Upon the welfare of the cotton producer depends the business welfare of the whole South and in a measure of the whole nation. The really critical period in the cotton control program will be reached next year. Without acreage control our surplus will again pile up. Perhaps the Bankhead Act should be modified, we who have administered it in the largest cotton state in the Union could

Facts Given in New Seed Books

Seed catalogs may be declining as poetic literature, but Dr. Victor R. Boswell of the United States Department of Agriculture says that some of them are definitely improving in horticultural accuracy. He told a meeting of vegetable growers recently that he doubted that any catalog of 5 years ago listed any variety of vegetable "as of only fair or poor quality."

Now there are a few such catalogs. Seedsmen used to defend themselves by saying that customers called for these inferior varieties and the dealers had to be ready to supply them. Even though there is some ill-advised demand for inferior sorts, and they must be listed for sale, it is only good business to tell the truth about them.

Corn-Hog Program Is Being Checked

Forms covering corn-hog contracts are being checked by supervisors to see that the contract signers have complied with the provisions of the contract. This check is necessary before the second corn-hog payment can be made. An effort is being made to complete the check and send the papers to Washington by the 15th of this month so that the $1 per head payment due November 15 will be paid promptly.

The supervisors who are conducting this check are: R. B. Bewley of Lakeview, D. A. Neely of Memphis, John Ewen of Estelline and John Bush, of Turkey. These men will visit every farm of the 229 contracts, will count the hogs on hand and secure a statement from the farmer regarding disposal of any hogs he may have sold.

Parker D. Hanna, assistant District agent, of the extension service, will be in Hall county Tuesday, October 9, to check up on the work the supervisors are doing to approve or disapprove same.

This second payment on corn-hog contracts due November 15, amounts to a little over $5,000 and is distributed among 229 people.

Decentralization does not mean that industry will move from Chicago to the Tennessee Valley or from New England to California. It does mean that the workers will be gradually taken from the tenements in the crowded sections of the city and moved to the periphery of metropolitan areas.

Harvest Thistles To Feed to Cattle

DUMAS, Oct. 6.—C. C. Brown of the Middle Well community in Moore county will have something besides a snow bank for his livestock this winter even though his feed crop failed because of the drought, according to W. K. Cottingham, farm demonstration agent.

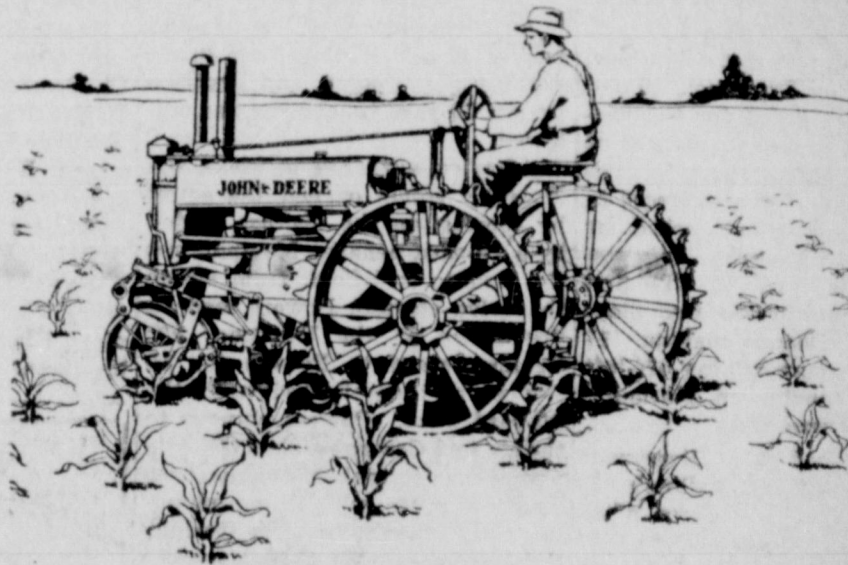

Mr. Brown has harvested several tons of Russian thistles for use as roughage. He cut them off just under the top of the ground with a one-way plow. He then raked and stacked them, wetting them with water and sprinkling salt on them as they were stacked.

Cyclone Downs Estelline in First Conference Battle

Over 2,000 Witness 59-7 Victory Here

Smashing and passing their way around, through and over the Estelline Bear Cats, the Memphis Cyclone Friday night thrilled a crowd of more than 2,000 fans with a 59 to 7 victory in their first conference battle of the season.

The game dedicated the new flood-lighted Fair Park stadium. The tilt was preceded by a short dedication ceremony, in which the Black and Gold band, high school pep squad and members of both teams took part, forming a stage in the center of the field. Short talks were made by Superintendent H. A. Jackson; M. E. McNally, secretary of the school board, and Dr. L. M. Hicks, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The outstanding feature of the entire battle was not the sensational drives and runs to nine touchdowns, but rather the really improved manner in which the Cyclone players blocked and tackled and the type of interference given ball-toters.

Time after time, such ball-carriers as Deason, Norman, Powers and Walker crashed through the Estelline line for long gains, each time following interference that led the way for as much as 15 yards.

Defensive Power

Led by Co-Captain Charles Champion, who again was the outstanding defensive player, the Cyclone demonstrated far greater improvement at tackling and blocking interference. It was not merely because the opposition was weak; the boys showed plainly that they knew how to go about these things, and they did it nicely. Ross Springer, Jack Norman, Buster Bourland and Bill Alexander were outstanding defensive men. However, the entire squad played heads-up football and there was no great individual stars.

Estelline showed great determination, for, although swamped under a landslide of touchdowns, the players, led by Phillips, Davis, Wynn, Leatherwood, Berryman, Stout and McClenny, kept plugging doggedly, and finally their efforts were rewarded.

70-Yard Dash

At the opening of the fourth period Coach "Chesty" Walker sent in an entirely new line-up for Memphis. Almost before this club was ready to start, Leatherwood took Powers' punt on his 30 yard 40 yards on the drive.

Leatherwood made one of Estelline, fumbled, scooped up the ball in front of two would-be tacklers and made the most beautiful run of the evening, a 70-yard sprint through a broken field for a touchdown. Phillips plunged over for the extra point.

First Cyclone Counter

Memphis' first drive for a touchdown, after the opening kick-off, failed to reach pay dirt when Norman fumbled on Estelline's 19 and McClenny recovered for the visitors. Norman picked up a total of Estelline's first downs, reaching mid-field, before Phillips was forced to punt. This kick was blocked by Champion and Memphis got possession on the Cats' 35. The first Memphis counter came two plays later, with Deason making 17 yards and Norman getting off left tackle for a touchdown. Norman's try for point was wide.

Norman kicked off to Berryman who was downed on Estelline's 25. Phillips made a first down after Leatherwood had passed to Edmondson for nine yards, but Leatherwood fumbled and Alexander recovered for Memphis on the 39.

Norman and Deason, on alternate runs, reached the one-foot line, despite a 15 yard penalty for holding, and Deason plunged over for the counter. On a fake pass, Deason failed to plunge over for the touchdown, after he had made it once but Memphis drew a five-yard penalty for offside.

Beautiful Pass

Phillips took Norman's kickoff on his five and returned 24 yards, and Alexander broke through to stop Phillips as the quarter ended.

On the first play of the second period, Phillips punted 30 yards, with Walker, substitute for Deason, returning eight yards to the Estelline 42.

Another touchdown followed almost immediately, with Springer, on an end around, racing 25 yards for the counter. Walker plunged over for the extra point to give Memphis a 19-0 lead.

During the next drive, Memphis went over the line twice but each time was called back because of penalties assessed. Norman circled right end for 23 yards and then made 18 more to put the ball in scoring position. Walker plunged over from the two, but a 15 yard penalty was assessed for the use of hands on offense. Norman slipped through for 17 yards and another touchdown, but again a 15 yarder was forthcoming. This time Estelline held, because of the work of Powell, and got possession

Racer 54 Yards

A pass, Leatherwood to Davis, put the ball in mid-field, but Deason stopped the drive by intercepting one of the tosses on his 45 and raced 54 yards to the one before he was brought down from behind. On the next play, however, he plunged over. Norman passed to Deason for the extra point.

Norman kicked off to Powell who returned eight yards to the 40 as the half ended.

Davis took the opening kickoff of the second half and his 12 and returned to the 26. Here the Cyclone held and the ball went over when Estelline tried desperately to pick up one yard on the fourth down.

With Norman picking up nearly 25 yards, the Cyclone marched to the one, where the ball went over. Phillips' kick from behind his goal line only reached the 10, however, and Deason scored after Norman placed the ball on the three. Norman passed to Deason for the extra point.

Two More Counters

Two more counters came rapidly in the third period. Grimes took Phillips' punt, after Estelline failed to show any progress, on the Cats' 38 yard line and returned 12 yards. He then received a pass from Norman which was good for 16 yards to the nine, and Deason plunged over after Norman reached the six. Norman's pass to Grimes for extra point was too long.

Again Memphis kicked off and then forced Phillips to punt, this time to the Memphis 44. Here one of the Cyclone's most beautiful plays netted another counter. Norman passed 25 yards to Springer who took the ball on a dead run and raced 32 yards to a touchdown. Norman kicked goal for extra point to give Memphis a 45-0 lead at the end of the third period.

Before this quarter ended however, Estelline stopped another Cyclone drive on the 17 yard line.

Final Period

At the opening of the fourth period, Coach Walker sent in an entirely new line-up, and Leatherwood's 70-yard touchdown run followed.

After an exchange of kicks, the Memphis squad evened the count by scoring on the visitors. Aided by a 15-yard penalty, Memphis got the ball to mid-field, from where the drive started. Powers made a first down on the Estelline 39; Crump passed to Powers for 17 yards, and then plunged inside the 20-yard zone. Powers plunger to the six and Crump reached the two. From here it took Memphis three downs to score, with Crump plunging over from the one. The Cyclone first stringers—10 of them—went into the game, and Norman kicked goal.

After Estelline took the kickoff and was forced to punt, Norman passed to Springer for 43 yards to the Estelline 12, and Springer covered this distance on another end around play. Norman kicked goal to give Memphis its final margin of 59 to 7.

Try Desperately

Leatherwood took the kickoff on his eight and returned to the 30. Norman intercepted a pass on the Estelline 35 and the Cyclone tried desperately to score again. Norman passed to Grimes for 13 yards, but his next toss to the same receiver fell incomplete as the game ended.

The Summary:

First downs—Memphis 20, Estelline 3. Penetrations—Memphis 11, Estelline 1. Yards gained in scrimmage—Memphis 326, Estelline 54. Yards lost in scrimmage—Memphis 2, Estelline 20. Passes—Memphis 15, 7 completed for 151 yards, 7 incomplete and 1 intercepted; Estelline 12, 3 completed for 28 yards, 7 incomplete and 2 intercepted. Punts—Memphis 1

TIGERS TIE SERIES IN 10-4 RIOT

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6.—Blasting five Cardinal pitchers for 13 safe hits while the National leaguers blew sky high, the Detroit Tigers today tied the World Series battle at two games each.

The score of yesterday's battle was 10 to 4, the biggest riot of the present series.

After the Cards took a one-run lead in the second, Mickey Cochrane's crew blasted in three runs in the third.

But St. Louis tied up the count in the fourth and kept it so until the seventh, when Detroit brought in another run.

Then came the biggest blow of the series, with the Tigers scoring five runs and the Cardinals running their errors to the same number.
