All Teachers Here Renamed For Next Year

Move For Readjustment Of Business And Tax Division

EDMUND NOTESTINE APPOINTED TO POST

Detailed Changes, Effective July 1, To Be Made Later

In a called session Friday afternoon, the board of trustees for the Big Spring independent school district re-elected the entire faculty and re-adjusted the business division of the schools, naming Edmund Notestine business manager and tax assessor-collector.

With WPA

Notestine, whose appointment was to become effective July 1, has served as assistant district WPA director since the institution of the government program here in the fall of 1935.

Election of the faculty was made subject to assignment and qualifications set by the state standards of classification and requirements for teachers in class A school systems. Salaries of all teachers are to be set later.

Direct Business Affairs

Details of the changes in the business division of the school system will be outlined by the board at a later date, it was said. While Notestine's principal work will be in the tax office, it was understood that he will have supervision of most of the business affairs of the district.

Reviewing The BIG SPRING WEEK

by Joe Pickle

Reports from Big Spring banks support the belief that conditions are better. Joint figures of the two local banks show a gain of $338,297 in deposits over the same time a year ago, and compare very favorably with other West Texas cities in this respect. Loans did not gain by such a wide margin. They jumped $95,223 during the period. Thus you get an adequate picture of the local tempo—more inclined to saving than investing.

On the face of it, the passing of a bill authorizing $817,000 for an insane hospital in West Texas by the state house and the surprise resignation of W. T. Strange, Jr. as manager of the chamber of commerce have nothing in common. Yet the two may be linked more closely than the average person thinks as far as Big Spring is concerned. Why? Big Spring is one of the leading contenders for the location of the hospital. The local battle is headed quite naturally through the chamber of commerce, and Strange has been the spearhead of the attack. To date he has accomplished one of the most effective pieces of work in the field and has the Big Spring case in good shape. However, more than even he may realize, Strange is a very important cog in the Big Spring case. It is to be hoped that the issue may be settled before his tenure in the chamber management is ended, for it is still unwise "to swap horses in mid-stream."

Strange has done much to popularize the chamber of commerce in his two years as manager of the body. Entrained in the fine points of the work, he nevertheless was schooled in a finer art—making friends. He did this through his natural bent for impromptu public appearances. With a witty tongue he oiled many an imaginary friction between the city and rural districts. He was much of a missionary of good will to other cities in this area, and he "got the job done."

The city bus franchise is subject for some conjecture. In terms of time, it hasn't been long since the city granted the Hughes and White Trucking company the franchise, but the company was so anxious to get the franchise that the impres-

Nature Of Important Labor Decree May Affect Controversy

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Friend and foe of the Roosevelt court reorganization bill alike looked forward tonight to the supreme court's verdict on the constitutionality of the Wagner act as a potentially deciding factor.

Retire In Two Years?

Williams is 65, two years below the 70-year age limit suggested for federal judges by the president. He wrote, some weeks ago, to Attorney General Cummings saying that he approved the court bill and plans to retire at seventy.

This stirred up a storm among opponents of the measure. Some of them, especially Senator Burke (D-Neb.), promised a fight against his confirmation. Burke was out of town today. The nomination was approved by the committee without objection.

Speechmaking on the court issue continued, with Secretary Ickes and Senator Barile (D-Ky.) addressing a Chicago audience in favor of the proposal tonight, and Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) opposing it incidentally in a speech before the people's lobby here.

WAYS, Ga., April 10 (AP)—Henry Ford met broadsides from C.I.O. leaders announcing plans to organize his plants with the terse statement today, "I have no fear of them, because they are wrong."

The declaration followed up an assertion by the Detroit automobile manufacturer that the Ford Motor company will demonstrate "wages, production and competition such as never seen before," when current strike troubles subside.

EFFECTS OF SYPHILIS REACH TO NEARLY ALL FUNCTIONS OF BODY; CAUSES FATAL DISEASE

(Hereafter another in the series of articles designed to acquaint the public with, and enlist its support in a campaign against social diseases. The articles are prepared by a member of the Big Spring medical fraternity, and others will appear in The Herald as they are prepared for publication and radio delivery.—Editor's Note.)

A previous writer has discussed the late complications of syphilis of the central nervous system. This paper will be a discussion of late syphilis as it affects the remainder of the body. Necessarily, there will be some repetition, but that can not be too much repetition in the discussion of a subject as important as this.

The progress of syphilis is divided into three periods or stages, according to the degree of development—the primary, secondary, and tertiary stages. Each of these periods has certain characteristics. The complications of syphilis begin from the time of inception. From the moment the first organism enters the blood stream complications begin and continue to develop until early death overtakes the individual who is so unfortunate as to not have competent treatment for this disease which is curable in the earlier stages. Late complications are a result of neglect. This educational campaign which is being waged all over the United States is aimed at the prevention of these complications which cause so many unnecessary deaths each year. It seems rather ironical that syphilis, for which there has been a specific cure for many years, is on the increase, while a disease, such as tuberculosis, for which there is no specific cure and one which we have learned little more about during the past 20 years, is definitely on the decrease. A decrease in both incidence and death rate in tuberculosis is a good example of what education and facing the facts will do, we of the profession do not understand the public attitude toward syphilis. We make no distinction between diseases. To us a man with syphilis is a sick man who needs treatment, just as is the man with pneumonia who needs treatment. Mode of infection has nothing to do with the case. Until the public takes a more sensible attitude toward syphilis it will continue to be the "bugboo" that it has been. The most pathetic part of the whole syphilis story is that it is among the few diseases for which there is a specific cure, yet it is very prevalent.

Primary Stage
During the primary stage of syphilis the only demonstrable lesion is the chancre. It may be on any part of the body but is usually found on the genital organs. Although there are no complications to be recognized during this period, the organism is rapidly spreading to all organs of the body. Since syphilis is a blood borne disease, it can affect any part of the body. Any hard, indurated sore which remains present anywhere on the body and shows no inclination to heal after two weeks time should be regarded with suspicion.

The secondary stage of the disease may be evident in many ways. A skin rash, usually found on the chest and flexor surfaces of the arms, is common. The throat becomes sore, the glands in the neck become swollen. Small ulcers may appear on the inner lining of the mouth. Hoarseness, without a sore throat, may be present. The hair often falls out in small patches and appears "moth eaten" around the edges. Glands over the whole body become swollen and can be felt in the groin, in the armpit and about the neck. Headache and joint symptoms are common. The bones and joints ache as in rheumatism. Other vague signs and symptoms may be present. During this stage, in contrast to the feeling of well-being of the primary stage, the person does not feel well. This multiplicity of signs and symptoms is evidence that the disease is progressing throughout the entire body. All signs of these might be classed as complications.

Tertiary Stage
After a variable period during which most signs and symptoms are absent, the disease enters the tertiary stage in which the more important complications may develop. As during the secondary stage, any part of the body may be affected. Skin manifestations may be evident. These consist of persistent eruptions, dry, scaly lesions, gummas, peculiar discolorations of the skin and mucous membranes, ulcers which will not heal, hard nodules in the skin, etc. These are often difficult to recognize as late manifestations of syphilis and may be confused with numerous other conditions. Syphilis has been called "the great imitator." It may simulate, in some way, any other human disease.

There are many complications of the skeletal and muscular systems in late syphilis. In fact it is doubtful if any patient with syphilis ever escapes some bone damage. Bone involvement at birth can be shown by the X-ray in babies born of syphilitic parents. Any bone of the body, including the skull, may be involved, as may any joint, causing a form of rheumatism. Bone and joint syphilis is usually seen as swellings and tenderness of the involved area.

Other Complications
Complications of the gastro-intestinal system make up a large part of the complications of syphilis. Any of the organs may be affected and symptoms referable to the gastro-intestinal tract are common in nearly all persons with late syphilis. Many cases of syphilis of the stomach are mistaken for ulcer. Patients with the severe abdominal cramps of late syphilis are sometimes operated for appendicitis or other abdominal trouble. Syphilis occurs in both the large and small intestine. Because of their structure both the liver and spleen are affected early. The gallbladder and kidneys may both be affected.

With Mrs. Early Stanton and her

Late syphilis affects chiefly one of two systems—either the central nervous system, or the circulatory system. It is rather strange that if one of these systems be affected the other is spared, to a large extent.

The successful diagnosis and treatment of all special aspects of late syphilis lie in the detection and effective treatment of early syphilis in general. This is especially true in regard to late syphilis of the cardiovascular system. More than one-third the deaths from syphilis is due to the heart and blood vessels. Since these structures are all hidden there are no manifestations until late in the disease. Heart disease is the leading cause of death today in the United States and syphilis constitutes from 10 to 15 per cent of all heart disease. Twenty thousand people are due to die this year from syphilis of the heart. After syphilis of the heart has become manifest, heart of expectancy is rarely over two years. The whole hope for the eradication of syphilis lies in prevention, early diagnosis and adequate early treatment. We have the advantage in syphilis that we do not have in most other diseases—there is a specific cure.

Brones Are Contracted For Rodeo

40 Outlaw Horses To Be Used In Events Here July 4-5-6

Forty outlaw broncs have been contracted for Big Spring's fourth annual Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo on July 4, 5 and 6, M. M. Edwards, co-manager of the annual frontier day show, said Saturday.

The collection of pitching experts will supplement the "Red" Storey string of horses which appeared at last year's show. Among the outlaws due to thrill spectators in the rodeo park are "Dizzy Dean," "Hell's Angels," "High Noon," "Bing Crosby," "Jimmy Allred" and "Amarillo Boy." "This is a much finer collection of horse flesh than we showed last year," Edwards stated. "Not only are we bringing more and better horses but we are catching them earlier in the rodeo season, when they will be fresh from the range and full of vinegar."

Schwartz to Return
Correspondence with bronc riding entrants has resulted in entry from Vic Schwartz, the lanky boy who was the champion of the world. Alfson, Mrs. Bob Qualls, and Miss Alta Alston. Mrs. Talle Roberts will be the hostess next Wednesday.

from Byers, Tex., who has won the bronc riding and steer riding events here for the last two years; Dan Utley of San Angelo, Dick Jones of Wichita Falls, Johnny Williams of Fort Worth, Charlie Colbert of Byers and Don Heffner of Wichita Falls. Utley, Jones and Colbert were entries here last year; Williams placed in the steer riding event in Madison Square Garden and Heffner recently broke into the money at the Fort Worth show.

Vance Davis of the Garden City community will furnish the roping calves this year. There will be only one larint-swinging event, the tie-down, and only eight ropers will appear at each performance.

The Brahma steers which will give this year's show the rodeo game's most dangerous and thrilling aspects, the bullhogging event, will probably be brought from Old Mexico, Edwards stated. Tentative entries have been received from such bull-doggers as Clarence Booth of Alvin, who made the lowest individual time at Fort Worth; Howard Westfall of Fort Worth; and Brown Todd of Water Valley, a money winner here in 1936.

Work on re-estimating the rodeo grounds will get underway this week.

OIL TOTAL LOWER

The thrifty way to travel First-class

1937 Ford V-8 owners pay less for their cars, pay less to run them, and travel first class all the time!

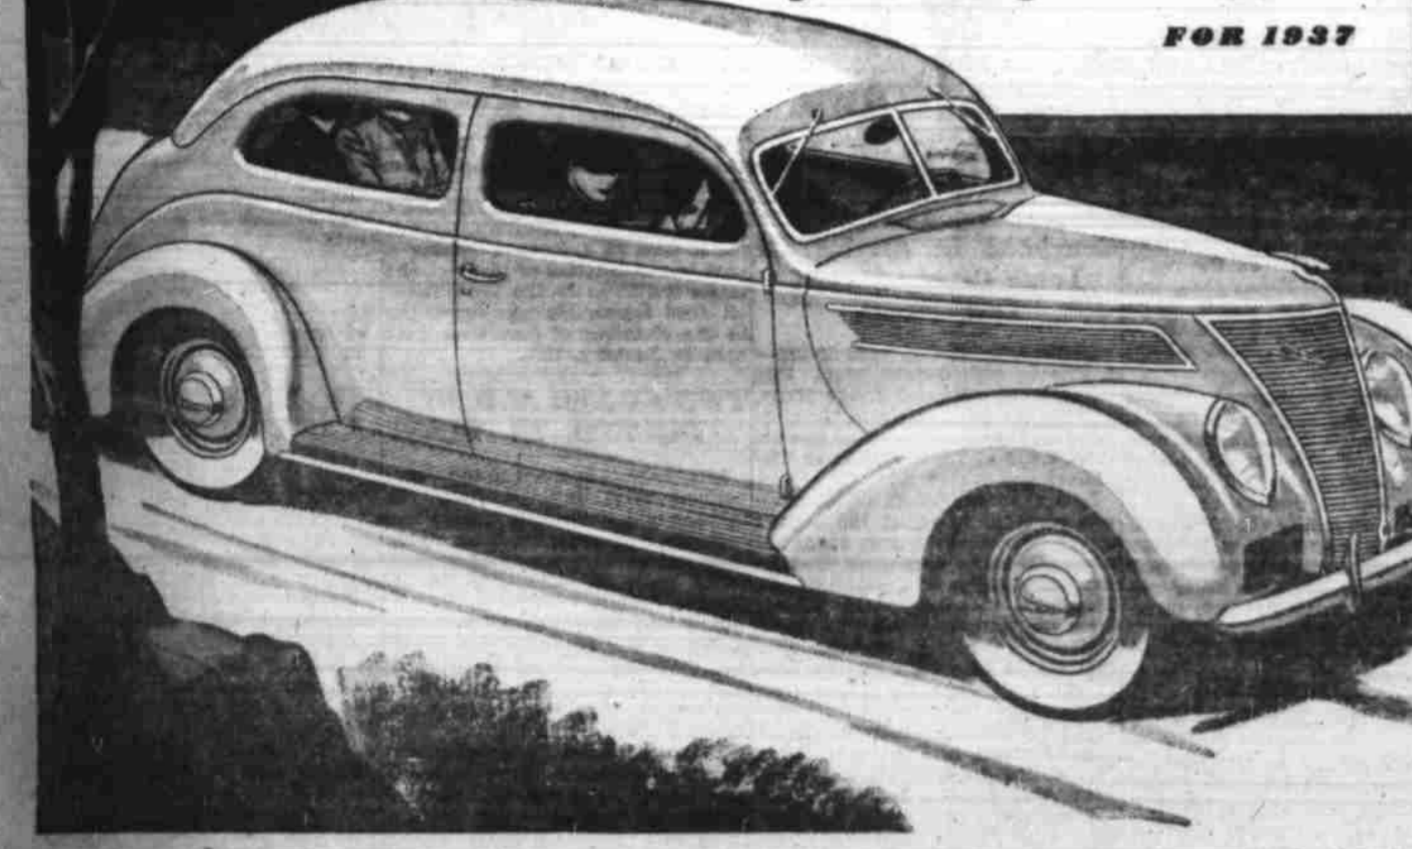

Basic reason is the V-8 engine. Eight cylinders give smoother performance. V-type construction is the most modern on land, sea, or in the air, and permits a much more compact power-plant. Space saved under the hood means more room in the body, and more comfort.

This year's V-8 engine is offered in two sizes. 85 horsepower for top-notch performance. 60 horsepower for rock-bottom economy. The latter, available in five body types, makes possible the lowest Ford prices in years and the greatest gasoline mileage in Ford history.

To this choice of V-8 engine sizes, add the other Ford first-class features—Center-Poise Ride, Easy-Action Safety Brakes, all-steel body, advanced design—and you'll realize why the Ford V-8 is the quality car in the low-price field.

LOWEST FORD PRICES IN YEARS
$25 A MONTH, after usual down-payment, buys any model 1937 Ford V-8 Car—from any Ford dealer—anywhere in the United States. Ask your Ford dealer about the easy payment plans of the Universal Credit Company.

CIO Busy In Oil Sections

Council Claims Sharp Increase In Its Membership

HOUSTON, April 10 (AP) — The Texas and Louisiana gulf coast district oil workers union council spread its C.I.O.-backed unionization drive into the 17 locals in the heavy producing and refining area today.

The council, one of seven in the international union, announced an increase of 404 members in the union the past 14 days, a period in which the national drive was launched and oil companies posted wage hikes mounting into the millions annually.

The 17 locals in the district were represented at the council meeting, after which the council announced:

"The new members were added without solicitation on the part of the union and before the petroleum workers organizing committee campaign got under way.

"Five CIO organizers in addition to Adolph Germer, personal representative of John L. Lewis, have been assigned to aid in the campaign in the district.

"As soon as the representatives of the locals return to their homes and place the matter before the members, a concerted drive to enroll the petroleum workers in the ranks of the oil union will be started in each community."

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 10 (AP) — A campaign to unionize the vast Oklahoma oil industry will be launched here tomorrow by the International Association of Oil Field, Gas Well and Refinery Workers, an affiliate of John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization.

Initial steps in the organization drive are to be obtained at an all-day mass meeting.

D. T. Spry, president of the Oklahoma City local, said at least 125 workers, possibly more, representing 25 to 30 locals, would come here for the meeting.

Rio Grande Flood Control Projects To Be Discussed

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — Rio Grande river flood control projects, above an ablow Laredo, Texas, are expected to figure prominently in discussions at the National Rivers and Harbors Congress here April 26 and 27.

Two other Texas projects, one calling for bay front improvements and flood protection for low areas in Corpus Christi, and the other for reclamation and navigation work along the flood control of the lower Colorado river, are scheduled for consideration.

The projects committee of the congress is to meet April 23 and 24 to consider all three measures, along with hundreds of others submitted by other states. Some deal with drouth prevention, reforestation, soil and shore erosion control, and there with hydro-electric power projects and conservation of land and water resources.

Those projects recommended by the committee will be considered by the congress when it starts its thirty-second annual convention two days later. Projects approved by the congress are urged for inclusion in the government's public works program.

Capital's Cherry Trees In Spotlight

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP) — Thousands defied cold weather tonight to see the capital's famous cherry trees floodlighted for the celebration of a tiny Japanese queen.

Visitors from many states thronged about the tidal basin for the spring cherry blossom festival, postponed twice because of rain.

Petals of 1,000 trees, now more white than pink, glistened under bright lights.

A half-dozen Washington architects, members of the League for Progress in Architecture, picketed the festival carrying placards protesting a proposed tidal basin site for a memorial to Thomas Jefferson.

The placards read: "Hasten, Hasten, Save the Basin"; "O Congress Spare That Tree"; and "Exit Floods, Enter Tombs."

The league has joined with Washington business interests in opposing erection of the memorial at the proposed location, contending erection of the memorial at the proposed location, contending it would necessitate destruction of a number of cherry trees.

Robert Fleet Shows Way At Arlington

HEELFY AND MARS SHIELD, FAVORITES, TRAIL IN TEX. DERBY TRIAL

ARLINGTON DOWNS, April 10 (AP)—Robert L. Fleet, Bestford Stock Farm chestnut colt, beat down the stretch with a closing burst that left Heefly and Mars Shield, the two favorites, trailing him over the finish line in the $1,000 Texas Derby trial at a mile and seventy yards before 20,000 fans today.

Never a serious contender until the stretch, the outsider tore past a neck-and-neck Heefly, the great Hardin-Simmons university Kentucky Derby hope, and Mars Shield, Milky Way Farm's speedster were waging and won by a neck.

Backers of the surprise winner came off with $89.50, $24.10 and $6.50. Mars Shield, a length ahead of Heefly, paid $5.10 and $3.40 while Heefly, heavily backed, paid $2.50.

HEELFY AND MARS SHIELD, FAVORITES, TRAIL IN TEX. DERBY TRIAL. Heefly, fractious as usual at the post, got away to a poor start but quickly tore into the lead at the first turn. Far in the rear through the three-quarter pole, Mars Shield came up and took the lead coming into the stretch. It settled into a ding-dong scrap between Heefly and Mars Shield before the long shot came fast on the outside to a shocking triumph.

MIDLAND AND ODESSA START CONSTRUCTION OF BASEBALL PARKS

MONAHANS MANAGERS OUT RECRUITING PLAYERS; MIDLAND TEAM TRAINING WITH TEX-ARIZONA LEAGUERS

MIDLAND, April 10 (Sp.)—Plans for immediate construction of the Midland baseball park was announced today by Wray Query, manager of the Midland entry in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Query also stated a club house large enough to house the members of the Midland team and one other team, would be erected as the fence was built.

PLAYERS THAT WILL GO TO MAKE UP THE CLUB HAVE ALREADY BEEN CHOSEN BY THE ST. LOUIS CARDINALS, WHO HAVE A WORKING AGREEMENT WITH QUERY, AND AT PRESENT ARE IN ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. They are working in spring training there with members of the Cardinals' Tex-Arizona League entry.

Query has announced that he will move the players here just as soon as the diamond can be prepared for play and a place to keep the men constructed. Fifteen players will be in the first group to arrive. Whether or not all remain will depend upon their ability as viewed by Query.

Construction of the Midland park has been delayed by Odessa lagging behind in their efforts to get ready to enter the league, but the Odessa county capital yesterday announced it was ready to go ahead.

Money has been raised there to build a park, the ground for it having been purchased Wednesday. Construction of a park is to begin immediately. Efforts are being made to gain a working agreement with some club of higher classification. Regardless of whether the tie-up is made, Odessa will be ready opening day, officials said.

Kansas Meet To Bring New Track Records

LAWRENCE, Kas., April 10 (AP)—The Kansas relays, manufacturer of records, appeared today to be ready to turn out new models in half dozen lots in the fifteenth annual meet next Saturday.

The fact the Texas relays a week ago saw odd marks crumble, and that several athletes responsible for the crumbling have indicated they will compete here, has skyrocketed hopes that record breaking will be the rule next Saturday instead of the exception.

The javelin mark of 206 feet 6 1-4 inches, set by Kueck of Emporia, Kansas, Teachers in 1926 and annually expected to fail only to weather the assaults, this year appears in imminent danger. Alton Perry, Hardin-Simmons spearman, set a Texas relay record of 219 feet 8 1-2 inches, and he informed H. W. (Bill) Hargies, Kansas track coach, that he would compete here.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10 (AP)—The Kansas relay mark is 51 feet 3 1-8 inches, set by Elwyn Dees of Kansas in 1925, and Francis can be better that mark every time he unlinks his left arm.

JACK VICKERY, Texas high jumper, cleared 6 feet 7 inches at Austin. The Kansas record is 6 feet 5 3-8 inches, set by Shaw of Wisconsin in 1926.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 10 (AP)—Tom Haynie of the University of Michigan tonight succeeded Jack Medina of Seattle, Wash., as national 500-yard free-style swimming champion.

SEFTON BREAKS WORLD'S POLE VAULT RECORD

LOS ANGELES, April 10 (AP)—Bill Sefton of University of Southern California broke the world's pole vault record today as the U.S.C. Trojans defeated California in a dual track meet, 79 to 62.

Sefton jumped 14 feet 7 3-8 inches. The former world's record was set in 1936 by George Varoff of San Francisco at 14 feet 6 1-2 inches.

TEXAS LEAGUE CLUBS TO GET 'GO' SIGNAL ON WEDNESDAY

RACE TO BE CLOSE AT START

BY FELIX R. MCKNIGHT DALLAS, April 10 (AP).—Eight timid Texas League managers issued the customary promise for a hustling team today and left the general impression that the season's start, now four days away, would shove off a scramble tighter than Richard's rather noted hatband.

Not one of the eight skippers, including six brand new ones, would allow his optimism to run past the bounds of first division hopes.

Reconstruction has made question marks of every club in the circuit. Lack of good pitching in exhibition games has produced heavy hitting and anything can happen between Wednesday and July 4, they argue.

Opens Wednesday find Fort Worth at Dallas, Oklahoma City at Tulsa, Beaumont at Galveston and San Antonio at Houston. After two days, the orders will be reversed.

The managers' pithy comments: JOHNNY WATWOOD, Houston: "What does our club need to win? I'd say 100 ball games! Seriously, we claim no pennant but expect to finish in the first division. Oklahoma City and Fort Worth look formidable right now."

HANK SEVEREID, Galveston: "They picked us to finish last but we may spring a surprise. There's a fine spirit on the club and the first division is our goal. It may take some time to get the Bucs where we want them, but I believe we'll wind up in the first four."

HOMER PEEL, Fort Worth: "Just guessing, I would say the Cats will be a third or fourth place club. We need an outfielder and a third baseman, which we expect to acquire shortly."

BRUCE CONNATSER, Tulsa: "We have several newcomers this year the fans will like. Max Rosenfield in left; Chester Smith at short; Tony Fiarito at third and Brooksie, catcher. The pitching staff of George Miltland, Max Thomas, Irving Stein, Ray Ramon has been strengthened by the addition of Clyde Labat, righthander, and Ed Carnett, lefthander, from Los Angeles. If it develops we need help in any department, we'll get it."

ZACH TAYLOR, San Antonio: "San Antonio has held its own in exhibition games. The rest of the league? I haven't been in Texas long enough to know their strength."

AL VINCENT, Beaumont: "We have a fast team of youngsters who may land a berth in the first division if they get away or who may land a berth in the first division if they get away to a good start. They are the pick of the minors and all have enviable records plus speed and hustle."

JIM KESSEY, Oklahoma City: "I think we have one of the strongest clubs in the league. We have five long distance hitters and five experienced starting pitchers."

Only the veteran Severeid, would head the club with an outright prediction. He rates the league: Dallas, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Houston, Galveston and Beaumont.

ALLISON AND GRANT MEET IN FINAL

Carter, Cosden In Softball League Opener

First Games To Be Played Next Week; League Well Balanced

By HANK HART One week from Monday, Carter's Mechanics and the defending champions, the Cosden Oilers, ring up the curtain on the 1937 softball season in Big Spring in a year that bids fair to supply more excitement than any year since the league was first organized in 1933.

The Cosden aggregation, led by Matt Harrington, is not materially weaker except on the mound, but the other clubs are better balanced. Many youngsters will be seen this year and a number of the "old heads" will be shoved out of the picture.

The Anderson Devil outfit is the "big" team of the league. The Devils recently annihilated the Oilers in a practice game, 6-3, outpunching the Cosdenites in every department.

Last Friday night the Carter Mechanics scored an 8-6 victory over Ralph La Londe's TP Shoppers, with Red Cunningham throttling the TP hitters until he retired in the fifth frame.

Cunningham, except for occasional streaks of wisdom, had the situation well under control, and rode to victory when his mates began hitting Fierro and Savage hard in the early innings.

The losers rallied in the last frame to count twice after Howard Hart took the mound but Hart steadied and put the enemy away.

Friday's game: TP—102 010 2-4 7 2 Carter—230 020 x-5 9 1 Batteries—TP—Fierro, Savage and Vega; Carter—Cunningham, Hart and Rowe.

25,000 Sandlot Teams To Operate This Season

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., April 10 (Sp.).—What sport has the most participants?

This has always been a question that is often argued but never settled.

Honus Wagner, commissioner of semi-professional baseball, claims that sandlot baseball will include in 1937 more participants than any competitive sport.

"We will have no less than 25,000 clubs represented in sandlot baseball this summer," said Honus. "Allowing 15 players to a club means 400,000 players represented."

Honus says there may be more players represented on interscholastic or intercollegiate teams in football and basketball, but he doubted it.

Statistics show that there are some 30,000 high schools and colleges throughout the United States, but some of the small ones do not feature competitive athletics.

Lions Strike When Coach Moffett Fired

GREENVILLE, April 10 (AP)—Striking Greenville high school graders, sworn off spring training because their coach's contract was not renewed, said today they would not ask for a general school strike at a student's mass meeting called for tomorrow.

"We merely want to discuss the situation and get to the bottom, if possible," they said.

At Phillips field where the team staged its walkout Friday, gates were signs "Closed—Unit Moffett Returns," and "We Want Moffett."

Coach Milton (Speedy) Moffett indicated today he had been offered a teaching position, but would not say whether he would accept, or comment on the board's action at which his team took offense.

Columbus Pins A.A. Hopes On Card Discards

Club's Strength In Doubt Pending Receipt Of Farmed Players

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last installment of a series on the prospects of American Association teams for the coming season.

DE LAND, Fla., April 10 (UP)—Indifferent pitching and the failure to obtain a keystone combination that could measure up to "Double A" standards buried the Columbus Red Birds in the second division of the American Association in 1936.

An early effort has been made to strengthen those weaknesses during the training period here but the Red Birds' puny possibilities will remain a mystery until the parent St. Louis Cardinals make disposal of all their excess material and determine how much of it will be given to the Columbus farm.

The hole at second base appears to have been plugged with the acquisition of Jimmy Jordan from the Brooklyn Dodgers. Jordan's defensive ability is beyond question. He hit minor league pitching well in the past, but failed at the plate in the majors.

A rookie seems certain to start the campaign as Jordan's keystone mate. The shortstop berth likely will go to either Bob Davis, 21-year-old rookie who hit but .250 with Daytona Beach in the Florida State league last season, or Jim Webb, who batted .292 at Cedar Rapids.

Ex-minor Pat Ankruman, the Birds' regular shortstop in 1935 has been moved to third base. He was on the sidelines with a knee injury most of last season.

A weakness exists at first base where Justin Stein, 23-year-old rookie who hit but .277 for Houston in the Texas league last season, has held forth during the exhibition.

Arthur Hendrix and Walter Senior was postponed by darkness until tomorrow. Each team had won two sets.

GRIMES GIVES GIANTS LITTLE HOPE THIS YEAR

CLEARWATER, Fla., April 10 (AP)—Burling Grimes, new manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers who are the New York Giants' "best rated" rivals, concurs with the training camp majority in doubting the Giants can repeat as National league champions.

"Without Bill Terry in there at first, the Giants will lose a lot of hitting power," opines Grimes. "They'll be needing Bill."

"Third base is doubtful, too, with Lou Chiozza taking Travis Jackson's place. I don't believe Johnny McCarthy can do as well as Terry at first base, but they say McCarthy is a great fielder."

"And Carl Hubbell isn't likely to have the big year that he had last season when he won 26 and lost six."

In the outfield Columbus has greater strength. Don Padgett, a coming star who hit .220 for the Birds' last season, will be back. The veteran "Chic" Fullis returns from the parent Cardinals and is counted upon as a regular. The third place probably will go to Lyon King, a utility man with St. Louis last season.

Ed Heusser, of Columbus' championship team in 1934 and the winner of 7 out of 10 decisions for St. Louis last season, is expected to be the ace of the pitching staff.

Mac Mason, an erratic young southpaw, should benefit by his experience of last season and prove valuable. He won 12 games and lost 12 last year.

Nelson Potter, the best relief hurler in the league in 1936, may win a starting assignment this year.

The rest of the 10 hurlers on the roster are untried in the association.

The club lost two excellent young catchers in Arnold (Mickey) Owen and Paul Chervinko. The latter may be sent back before the season opens, but if not Louis Kahn, a youngster with only one season of professional experience probably will do the receiving.

The Red Birds seem to need another pair of dependable hurlers and a high class catcher to insure a first division berth.

Bulldogs And Rebels Clash At Coahoma

Local Team To Make Season's Debut Against Berl Cramer's Outfit

The Rebels will be the first local baseball team to play this season when they take the field against Coahoma's powerful Bulldogs today in Coahoma. Game time is 3 p. m.

Manager Berl Cramer expects to have the strongest team to represent Coahoma in several years and will have an edge over the Rebels. The Big Springers have had very little practice. They were scheduled to open the season Easter Sunday, but the game was postponed due to wind and cold.

Cramer will have most of the old Coahoma outfit plus a number of valuable infield replacements.

The locals, too, will be strengthened in the infield and the box. Melvin Boatman, veteran twirler, may start on the mound, while the infield will be bolstered by the addition of Mac Webb, Abilene veteran.

On the Rebel squad will be L. Baker, catcher; Hank Hart, Red McMahon, Joe Pickle, and Webb, infielders; Varnos, Whittington, Clarence Redding, and Claude Treadway.

OFFER SETTLEMENT ON US OIL CLAIMS

LOS ANGELES, April 10 (AP)—proposed $3,100,000 cash settlement of governmental claims which hark back to the oil scandals of the Harding administration today awaited the approval of federal officials.

The amount, together with the relinquishment of title to two parcels of oil land in Kern county, is offered by the estate of the late E. L. Doherty. The compromise was approved yesterday by Superior Judge Emmet Craig and awaits similar action or rejection by the United States attorney general and the federal district court here.

Nicholas No Longer A Prince Carol's Brother Banned Because He Prefers To Keep Commoner Wife

BUCHAREST, Rumania, April 10 (AP)—Nicholas, brother of King Carol but by royal decree no longer a prince and detained in his home because he refused to give up his commoner wife, awaited word tonight on what name and income he shall have and where he will live.

Carol placed him under house arrest within a few hours after the crown council had declared Nicholas no longer a member of the royal family.

Tomorrow, Nicholas formally will be stripped of all princely titles and privileges of Hohenzollern royalty. Then his arrest will cease and Carol, no stranger himself to marital trouble, will decide his future.

The 24-year-old prince may reside abroad or become an ordinary Rumanian subject, living in some out of the way district in his native land.

Long at odds with the king, Nicholas finally decided against giving up his blonde commoner

Belgium Vote Slated Today

Premier Tests Strength Against Would-Be Dictator

BRUSSELS, April 10 (AP)—Two young men of Belgium: one the premier; the other who would be Belgium's "fuehrer" or "duce," staked the possible political fate of their country tonight on a clear-cut election fight.

The nation's 42-year-old, American-educated premier, Paul Van Zeeland, tests his strength at the polls Sunday against the youthful, impetuous and word-adept Leon Degrelle, 30-year-old leader of the fascist-like Rexist party.

The immediate prize is a seat in the chamber of deputies. Degrelle challenged Van Zeeland for it after a Rexist member from Brussels resigned.

The elections' actual result may be whether Belgium turns from traditional democracy to fascism. Degrelle's burning Rexist movement and his bitter campaigning has cleaved families, divided school children into political camps and indirectly caused at least one man to commit murder. The latter killed his father at Ghent because the elder attempted to prevent his son from joining Degrelle's party.

"No vote for Degrelle means a vote for civil war," said socialist posters plastered throughout the city.

Van Zeeland heads a coalition cabinet of socialists, Catholics and liberals. He is a member of the Catholic party.

The Rexist leader attacked Van Zeeland's American associations, charging he is "American-bred—Yale and Princeton."

Movie Salaries Top Those Paid Industry Chiefs

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Movie salaries took a substantial lead over industrial pay checks today in early filings of 1936 corporation reports at the securities commission.

The $227,500 pay that Kay Francis, leading lady of Warner Brothers, received compared with the $55,000 top business salary reported to date for Harvey S. Firestone, chairman of the tire and rubber company he founded. Warner brothers, however, reported a $100,000 retainer for their attorney, James A. Reed.

Cavorous-mouthed Joe E. Brown was listed at $201,002 and Leslie Howard at $183,000 by the same studio, while Universal Pictures reported paying Irene Dunne $102,777 and Director James Whale $105,000. Other studios have not reported for their last fiscal year yet.

The early reports show only one other person who earned more than the fixed $75,000 pay of the president of the United States, E. A. Cudahy, Jr., president of the Cudahy Packing company of Chicago, drew $75,000.

KING GEORGE'S BUSY DAY TO BE HIGHLY CEREMONIAL

LONDON, April 10 (AP)—King George VI and Queen Elizabeth will begin the most arduous day of their lives when at dawn on May 12 guns thunder from Hyde park and the Tower of London to announce coronation day.

High officials will solemnly present to the king his underwear, shirt, socks, and other garments.

At 10:30 the procession will leave Buckingham palace for Westminster Abbey.

The monarchs will ride in the state coach, drawn by eight cream-colored horses, they will be attended by colorfully-garbed yeomen of the guard and a sovereigns escort of the life guards. In separate processions preceding them will be foreign representatives and royal guests, princes and princesses of the blood royal.

Two Million To Watch

Along the route will be an estimated two million spectators, giving London police one of the worst traffic and transportation problems they have ever faced. Steel crush

And This Is The Way They Crown The King

LONDON, April 10 (AP)—The state coach in which King George and Queen Elizabeth will drive to Westminster Abbey for their coronation has been specially smartened up for the occasion.

Early one morning, to attract as little attention as possible, it was taken to an old firm of coach builders in Chelsea for regilding and renovation.

Although built 176 years ago for Queen Anne, the coach is still in good running order and repair. It is very heavy and is generally drawn at walking pace by eight horses.

barriers will be erected and hundreds of extra mounted police will be on duty.

The king will enter the Abbey wearing a crimson velvet robe and a cap of state. The queen will be attired in purple robes and a circlet of gold.

The lengthy coronation ceremony is expected to start about 11 a. m. when the royal couple advances to the "coronation theatre," a raised platform in front of the high altar, and kneels on fold-stools set before the chairs of state on the right of the altar.

After various rituals the archbishop of Canterbury administers the coronation oath to the king who kneels at the altar with his hand on the Bible.

Archbishop Anoints Him

Arising, he is divested of his crimson robe and cap of state, and goes to sit in King Edward's chair in the middle of the theater. There the archbishop anoints him in the form of a cross on the head, breast and palms of both hands while four knights of the garter hold a rich silken pall overhead.

After the anointing the king is girded with the sword of state in a purple velvet scabbard. He removes it, after a prayer has been said, and carries it to the altar. It is redeemed with money and carried naked before the monarch during the rest of the ceremony.

Guns Salute Crowning

Next the king is invested with the stole and imperial mantle and, returning to St. Edward's chair, receives the orb, a ruby ring, and his scepter.

The archbishop consecrates St. Edward's crown and reverently places it on the king's head.

The archbishop consecrates St. Edward's crown and reverently places it on the king's head.

Back at the palace, the monarchs will appear on spot-lighted balconies in late afternoon and evening in response to the surging crowds.

The king's last major duty of the day will be the broadcast to his empire. Special radio equipment is being installed in the palace for this.

For the royal rulers it will be an exacting day—but for their loyal

Just An Old Infinite Splitter
Forget The Rules Of Grammar For A More Comfortable Language, Says Prof

SPokane, Wash., April 10 (AP)—Says college English Professor Dr. Walter Barnes, it is certainly permissible to frequently split an infinitive and to often use a preposition to end a sentence with.

The New York university educator, who is a textbook author, advised cutting other cherished grammatical corners to "cultivate a more comfortable language."

"I think it might do some people good to split infinitives for a half hour before breakfast every morning," he told the Inland Empire Education association.

Other traditional heresies advocated by the eastern educator for the "comfortable language" were: The hope teachers would be so bold as to say "it is me," instead of the faultless "it is I";—and to use hanging prepositions whenever they want to.

Dr. Barnes proposed emphasizing classroom E. Q. (emotion quotient) as much as the long respected I. Q., because the approach to teaching should be through the emotions before the intellect.

"If you can stir the emotions and make an impression," he counseled, "then you can train students to think."

SENATE GROUP OK'S MARITIME BOARD

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Approval by a senate commerce sub-committee of five appointed to the maritime commission cleared the road today for their speedy confirmation by the senate.

Administration leaders said they hoped the nominations would be confirmed early next week, so the commission "can get to work on the huge tasks which it must complete before June 30."

By that date the commission must revise the entire system of merchant marine finance, substituting direct subsidies for ocean mail contracts.

Without a dissenting vote the sub-committee recommended confirmation of Joseph P. Kennedy, former securities commission chairman, to head the maritime body; Rear Admiral Henry A. Wiley; Admiral Emory S. Land, former chief of naval construction and repair; Thomas M. Woodward, of Pennsylvania; and Edward C. Moran, Jr., of Maine.

HOTEL REORGANIZING PLAN IS APPROVED

FORT WORTH, April 10 (AP)—Federal Judge James Wilson Saturday approved the plan of reorganization of the Amarillo Hotel company into two new corporations to be known as the Amarillo Hotel, Inc., and the Herring Hotel, Inc.

Both properties formerly were controlled by the Amarillo Hotel company. The reorganization was affected in proceedings under section 77-F of the bankruptcy act. Judge Wilson set May 13 for a final hearing on the case at which time reports on the progress of the reorganization will be heard. The court also ordered the payment of a number of attorney and trustee fees.

LAREDO, Tex., April 10 (AP)—E. V. Sprawl, about 65, of Mission, was killed today when his car overturned after a casing blew out 12 miles south of Laredo. Mrs. Sprawl was injured slightly.

Sprawl, a produce merchant, was en route to Laredo to meet a brother, C. I. Sprawl, who was coming from Mexico. The latter arrived here about the time the wreck victim's body was brought in.

W. R. Hutchkin, ten years sales manager for John Wanamaker, New York, points out that:

"The Store is the only place where a man may exchange the thing he has for the thing he wants.

"And the more things that are produced, bought, and sold, the greater the prosperity of all—and the better the living that all enjoy."

Thus this nationally known authority makes apparent a fact too often overlooked—the

TRADERS CAUTIOUS, STOCK TREND FOR DAY INDEFINITE

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Some selected rails and specialties gained a little ground in today's stock market but the session as a whole was an indecisive one.

Both buyers and sellers held off awaiting more positive indications of the long term trend. Possibility of the eagerly-awaited supreme court decision on the Wagner labor relations act may come Monday made for caution.

Turnover of 480,500 shares was the smallest for a Saturday since last August 22. Leading the trading was one of the lowest priced shares on the board, American Writing Paper, which closed at one-half.

Effect of the widespread report, dated again yesterday, of a possible change in the treasury's gold price, seemed to have worn off, but traders found little other news to encourage further commitments.

The uneven performance of the bond market acted as an additional check. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 2 of a point of 69.0.

COTTON CLOSE

NEW ORLEANS, April 10 (AP)—Cotton prices slipped off 2 to 6 points in quiet dealings on the New Orleans market today. In the first half of trading short covering by those who had some cotton well above the 14 cents a pound level for old crops furnished the market with considerable support.

But in late trading the trend turned lower and stimulated by long liquidation by those who expected the early advance to go higher, prices sold off to finish at the lows for the day.

May closed at 13.53, July at 13.74, October at 13.36, December at 13.27 and January at 13.28. Spot cotton was 25 cents a bale lower with middling quoted at 14.18 at New Orleans.

NEW YORK
NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Cotton moved irregularly today in response to moderate orders either way in a quiet market. July, rallied from 13.82 to 13.92 and then eased to close at a low of 13.80. Final prices were 3 to 7 points net lower.

The market opened 1 to 3 points lower with steeper Liverpool cables counterbalanced by liquidation nearby for foreign account. Continued nervousness over the monetary situation both here and abroad caused traders to hold off fresh commitments over the week-end pending developments. Final prices were practically at the lows for the day in all positions.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 10 (AP)—Wheat prices rose a maximum of 1 3/4 cents a bushel today but persistent profit taking kept the market under selling pressure throughout the session.

Other grains rose with wheat, which closed 5-8 1/2-3 3/8 cents above Friday's finish. May 1.39 3/4-7-8, July 1.36 3/4-3-4, September 1.22 1-3-4. Corn gained 3-2 1/4. ## Garza Co. Wildcat Test Running High

GARZA county's wildcat test, the S. "Blackie" Caprino No. 1 Post estate in section 1230-5, K. Aycock survey, drilled past 2,700 feet in time Saturday, running an estimated 30 to 50 feet high on structures, in comparison to wells a mile and a half east and south, the test is scheduled to top the pay around 3,000 feet.

The 500 barrel-refinery constructed in southeast Post City by T. E. Patton of Mineral Wells may start taking oil runs from the Garza No. 1 and No. 2 Post estate wells this week. Since February the wells have not marketed their runs, being forced under the present arrangements to transport production to a small refinery at Lubbock by truck.

In Scurry county, the Bristol and Central No. 1 Tomlinson, wildcat well in the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of section 122-97, H&TC, was drilling in gray lime at 2,210 feet Saturday. Interest in the Moore Bros No. 1 TXL wildcat, midway on a trend between the East Howard and Chalk pools, warmed Saturday as the test drilled past 2,100 feet. First

Liberators Of Two Americas Honored In Naming Of Thoroughfares Of New Exposition At Dallas

DALLAS, April 10—Broad avenues through the Pan American exposition were dedicated in name Thursday to honor liberators and revered statesmen of Mexico and Central and South America; for Simon Bolivar, for San Martin, for Jose Marti and Benito Juarez; a stately plaza named in honor of Miguel Hidalgo.

Avenida de Simon Bolivar, named for the liberator whose statue stands in parks of most cities of South America, extends around the Hall of Horticulture and village of model homes in the exposition, passing in front of the replica of Texas' own shrine of independence, the Alamo.

Avenida de San Martin, named for the patriot who led an army across the Andes through tortuous Uspallata Pass to defeat the Spaniards at Chacabuco and free his people of Yapeyu, now part of Argentina, extends around the Cotton Bowl stadium, where athletes of San Martin's country and a dozen others will compete in Pan American games this summer.

Fervid poet-patriot, Jose Marti, who roused his Cuban countrymen to revolt for liberty, is honored in naming of the avenue leading from the Hall of the State of Texas at the $25,000,000 Pan American fair park to the stadium approach.

Across a lagoon from wide steps at the entrance of the Hall of Fine Arts, Plaza de Miguel Hidalgo is named for the Mexican patriot and revolutionist, degraded by the Inquisition and shot for the cause of Mexico's independence.

Name of Benito Juarez, who was a small Indian boy when in 1811 Hidalgo's mantle fell to Morelos, but who rose to lead the Mexicans to victory over a French attempt to establish an empire under Maximilian, is given to the arterial drive through the negation way of the international fair.

WITHDRAW FROM NEGOTIATIONS ON BALL'S PROPERTIES

CLEVELAND, April 10 (AP)—A Cleveland syndicate — ostensibly backed by Frederick H. Prince of Boston — was reported today to have withdrawn from negotiations for George A. Ball's $3,000,000 railroad and real estate holdings.

Ball, Muncie, Ind., manufacturer who earlier this week announced he was turning over his Midamerica Corp. holdings to an educational, charitable and religious foundation, was understood to have been asked by the syndicate to show may be expected within a week or 10 days. It is located 330 feet from the north and east lines of section 33-38-18, T&P.

TIME GRANTED ON BANKRUPTCY MOVE

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 10 (AP)—District Judge Edgar S. Vaughnt granted the Cherokee Oil company of Texas, Inc., 90 days to submit a plan for reorganization under section 77B of the federal bankruptcy act.

Judge Vaughnt overruled an objection on behalf of K. J. Kemp, Corpus Christi, Texas, a creditor, that the company does its principal business in Texas and is not within the Oklahoma court's jurisdiction. The judge said the firm does a large share of business in Oklahoma and its principal place of business could shift from month to month.

guarantee it against any losses that might arise from title complications. Ball's unwillingness to furnish such guaranty, the Cleveland News said, led the Cleveland interests to withdraw. Midamerica Corp. is the top holding company of the interests built up by the late O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen of Cleveland. Ball and George A. Tomlinson, Cleveland shipping man, acquired control of it at session after the Van Sweringens defaulted on bank loans.

Hudson Plants Are Cleared

Evidence Of Labor Difficulties Gradually Disappear

DETROIT, April 10 (AP)—Two more evidences of recent labor difficulties in the automobile industry disappeared today.

The 33-day possession of plants of the Hudson Motor Car company by striking members of the United Automobile Workers of America ended with 1,500 shut-downs marching out to join thousands of fellow unionists in a parade. Settlement of their strike was approved last night.

Court action by which the Chrysler corporation last month sought to evict and arrest some 6,000 sit-down strikers occupying its eight production plants here, was dismissed and dissolved by Circuit Judge Allan Campbell, who had issued an injunction which the strikers disregarded. A union cross-complaint asking the court to order the corporation to refrain from violating the national labor relations act likewise was dismissed.

Henry Ford, independent manufacturer, said in an interview at Ways, Ga., that when the current strike troubles subside, the Ford Motor company will demonstrate "wages, production and competition such as never seen before."

Formally, replying to Ford in a statement tonight, Homer Martin, U. A. W. A. president, said that "Mr. Ford has for years paid wages much lower than either General Motors or Chrysler," and added that a raise in wages on "stop the unionization of his workers."

ROAD PROJECT IS DELAYED BY COURT

Consideration of a road project from highway No. 9 south to Elbow was delayed by the county commissioners' court Saturday when one of the court members was unable to attend the session. Commissioners and Judge Charles Sullivan discussed the project but delayed action until Monday, regular meeting day. The treasurer's monthly report will be studied by the court Monday, and results from the recent

STUDENT PREXY

Jake Fields, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fields, has been elected to head the University of Texas Students' Assembly, reports from Austin said Saturday. In a run-off election held Thursday, he defeated Ramsay Moore, Dallas, polling 2,932 of 3,125 votes cast. Fields carried all of nine voting boxes, and had led a field of three candidates in the first vote Tuesday. He is president of the Delta Theta Phi, law fraternity, was chairman of the Judiciary council in 1935, has served as assemblyman from the college of arts and sciences, and is former president of the Little Campes Dormitory. Fields is a mid-law student. He graduated from the Big Spring high school in 1932.

COURT TERM WILL START MONDAY WEEK

Second term of 76th district court for Howard county this year will open here one week from Monday with a comparatively large criminal and light civil docket.

The court will go to Garden City Monday for a two week term in Garza county. Judge Charles Klapproth ended a term Saturday at Odessa. District Attorney Cecil Collins, called to Tucson, Ariz., Friday on common and independent school district elections will be convoked.

Can't get around it... "It's Buick again!"

EVERY flock has to have its leader — and you'll find plenty of proof on the road this summer that Buick's the pace-maker of this year's crop of cars.

So if you'd rather feed dust than eat it, you'll take the wise step now, and make sure that when summer comes you're up front in the driver's seat of a Buick.

There's no getting around the power a Buick can pour into the job of getting you there quick and quiet and easy—its valve-in-head straight-eight engine gives you the soaring flight of an eagle when you want to cover ground.

It's got a steady, fretless, road-leveling gait that makes travel effortless as light chasing shadow, whether you're just loafing along or shooting for a record distance for the day.

In this marvel car you ride in seats like easy chairs. You finger controls that seem to sense your next wish in advance. You've got brakes to halt its thunderbolt action and bring it gently down to rest with the smooth lightness of misting rain.

You've got a car that's a young man's fancy, light-footed, eager, adventurous — a car that's any man's pride so honest is it in the solid worth of every nut, strut, bolt and thread.

Why handicap yourself this summer when so plainly it's Buick again for value? You'll find this great straight eight easy to buy as the average run of sixes—and if you get your order in now you'll be leading the parade in a bellwether Buick when summer gets here.

LOWEST BUICK PRICES EVER! At today's prices, a big Buick valve-in-head straight eight costs less than the average six—little more than the average six—side the lowest price field! Compare delivered prices and learn how little more buys a bellwether Buick. GENERAL MOTORS TRUCKS TO SAVE YOUR LIVES

Lots of talk still goes the rounds that the north half of the courthouse square is to be sold off and the proceeds used to finance a new courthouse building. Several firms have made overtures for lots, but to date the bids are much too low to lure. It will require an average price of $20,000 for a 50-foot lot to finance the proposed change. If this much money comes in sight of the commissioners court, rest assured that the pressure will be turned on to get consent of the T&P to release the property and that Howard county will have a new home. Until then the bulky red sandstone building will do.

One of the first acts of J. Y. Robb as a member of the local school board was to offer the facilities of the Ritz theatre free for the showing of a tuberculosis educational film. By this gesture some 4,500 children and a large number of adults gained an impressive lesson on how to recognize and combat the white plague. Could the children grasp the meaning of the picture? One six-year-old boy did not remember the title "Hidden Shadows" but he knew it was about "tuberculosis and how the germs move around."

Various interpretations have been placed on the city election last Tuesday when two new commissioners were elected. Informed observers note that for the first time in years that the city manager was not involved as an issue, both sides expressing satisfaction in the record he attained. They also note that there were no real issues involved, except perhaps the rather indefinite issue of "conservatism" and "progressiveness." There appears to be a sort of intangible public demand for speedier action. This speeding process should not be allowed to endanger the city's sound condition.

Fear and selfishness are bidding fair to disrupt the government cotton program. Farmers are afraid that their neighbors are going to plant more cotton and sell it at a good price. Most of them are planning on doing just that to make one "cleaning" before the staple drops back on the price list. The result is an apparent over planting and over production, which in turn means a falling market. Cotton producers can't seem to realize this hard fact—it has taken nearly a decade to get cotton up to around the 15-cent level, while one year of gross over-production can get it back down to five.

Monday two opportunities for cultural improvement are to be presented to Big Spring. The first is the Hyperion book review by Miss Evelyn Oppenheimer, who needs no introduction by reason of her previous successful appearances here. The second is the concert by two famed Indian singers, Ish-Ti-Opi, baritone, and Ho-Te-Ma-We, mezzo soprano. The two are recognized by critics as possessing outstanding talent and their appearance here is fortunate for Big Spring.

West Fourth street is to be widened, beginning this week, city officials have announced. There is not the slightest doubt that the move is a necessary one. Only one feature is that the work has been delayed until the completion of the new post office and traffic is now much heavier than months ago, thus occasioning more inconvenience. The city is also preparing new paving contracts and will offer them to the public soon. Under the private procedure to be used, block of signers may expect immediate results.

Children may heed good advice less readily than a rational adult, but recent increases in accidents in which school children and cars have figured indicate that safety needs to at least be impressed upon the youngsters. Served As Secretary To Cong. Kleberg

AUSTIN, April 10 (AP)—Youthful Lyndon Baines Johnson, chosen in a special election today to succeed the late J. P. Buchanan as congressman from the 10th district, will be no stranger to the legislative halls of Washington.

From 1922 to 1936 he served as secretary to Congressman Richard M. Kleberg of Corpus Christi, Texas, and was elected president of the Little Congress, an organization of secretaries of senators and representatives.

Some 60 workers in the parts department of the plant went to work and departed through picket lines today, unmolested save for pickets' boos and cries of "scab" and "rat."

With no effort made to open the factory itself, the strikers agreed to permit operations at the parts plant, from which automobile parts are shipped for repair purposes through Canada.

Dozens of pickets, all wearing heavy overcoats and mufflers, marched in circles around each of the 20 gates to the plant.

Mrs. S. R. Read of Henderson arrived Saturday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Brown of Ackerly, for several weeks.

Dr. W. M. Leisteron, chairman of the national railway mediation board, who came here to take a hand in peace-making efforts said the unions were "not likely to call a strike" as long as the controversy involved was before the board.

The firemen and trainmen issued the strike vote call on the contention that the company had refused to permit union officials to represent their members in controversial matters and had failed to comply with labor board awards to workers.

About 6 p. m., a squadron of 10 government planes soared over the battlefield in obbing daylight but apparently found their targets in the dusk.

Watches from vantage points within the city, just across the river to the east of the fiercest fighting, saw clouds of smoke curl up from trees on El Aguila hill, indicating where the explosives struck.

A few seconds later, huge clouds rose from the insurgents' positions in University City. The dust-laden clouds were so dense at first that fires seemed to have been started.

Rebel anti-aircraft quickly cut the sally short, however, thin wisps of smoke showing where tracer bullets sought range of the squadron. The air fleet hastily wheeled back in safety over the city.

A steady stream of government artillery shells poured onto the hill. To the south, government machine guns spat angrily at the fringe of the cemetery.

Carabias stood like a silent sentinel in the middle with only an occasional shell landing on its wooded slopes. Its fall to the government would force the insurgents to evacuate the entire Casa de Campo—"Argonne" of Spain—and retire from the University City section.

Three thousand insurgent soldiers, apparently trapped in University City, clung grimly to their positions despite withering government fire.

tions will meet.

About 6 p. m., a squadron of 10 government planes soared over the battlefield in obbing daylight but apparently found their targets in the dusk.

Watches from vantage points within the city, just across the river to the east of the fiercest fighting, saw clouds of smoke curl up from trees on El Aguila hill, indicating where the explosives struck.

A few seconds later, huge clouds rose from the insurgents' positions in University City. The dust-laden clouds were so dense at first that fires seemed to have been started.

Rebel anti-aircraft quickly cut the sally short, however, thin wisps of smoke showing where tracer bullets sought range of the squadron. The air fleet hastily wheeled back in safety over the city.

A steady stream of government artillery shells poured onto the hill. To the south, government machine guns spat angrily at the fringe of the cemetery.

Carabias stood like a silent sentinel in the middle with only an occasional shell landing on its wooded slopes. Its fall to the government would force the insurgents to evacuate the entire Casa de Campo—"Argonne" of Spain—and retire from the University City section.

Three thousand insurgent soldiers, apparently trapped in University City, clung grimly to their positions despite withering government fire.

Court Is Plan 'De-Lousy' Justices
Assert; But It's All In Fun, In A Skit Before The Gridiron Club

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Fifteen pseudo justices, each wielding a rubber stamp, sang to President Roosevelt tonight that his supreme court plan was "de-lousy."

It was all in fun in the roasting of the Gridiron Club, the famed dining organization of newspaper men, gives public men and public policies every spring.

Along with the president and Vice-President Garner, Chief Justice Hughes and Associate Justice Stone listened as the fifteen wearers of black silk robes sang "So, if we're pressed to state our view."

"We'll hold our noses and say to you—It's de-lousy, it's de-lousy, x x x It's de-lousy."

Other guests included Speaker Bankhead, the secretaries of state, treasury, war, agriculture and commerce, the attorney general, the postmaster general, many high in the administration and representative groups from congress, industry and foreign diplomats.

Sit-down strikes, governmental reorganization and other issues of the day came in for barbs.

There were serious moments too. The president and Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the board of the United States Steel corporation, spoke but in accordance with the club's tradition no reporters were present.

One skit depicted the republican party recapturing the government in 1941 by a sit-down strike and installing John L. Lewis as president.

Lewis was a guest as was his rival, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

The opening of the scene, set in the East Room of the White House, showed Republican Chairman John Hamilton, Herbert Hoover, Alf Landon, Cabot Lodge and Arthur Vandenberg lounging about in respectable morning attire and top hats. Trouser seats were worn through, also the seats of chairs.

General Hugh Johnson, waving a great sword, sought to dislodge the sit-downers for "that great soul who has never been right, but for whom I would sacrifice my last lung—Franklin D. Roosevelt," but got only jeers.

Pierce will be one of the representatives of the Elementary Principals and Supervisors Association of Texas, an organization of which he is a former president. Classroom teachers, Child Education association representatives and county supervisors will also attend the conference.

The group will discuss needed improvements in training elementary teachers, need for teaching standards, revision in standard requirements and plans for higher standards.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC MEN FAVOR STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10 (AP)—Nine thousand Southern Pacific Railroad employes tonight completed their voting on a proposal to authorize a strike, and the government prepared to step in as mediator under the railway labor law.

Although union leaders said the vote was "almost unanimous" in favor of authorizing the walkout, observers predicted there would be no strike, for the time being at least.

Dr. W. M. Leisteron, chairman of the national railway mediation board, who came here to take a hand in peace-making efforts said the unions were "not likely to call a strike" as long as the controversy involved was before the board.

The firemen and trainmen issued the strike vote call on the contention that the company had refused to permit union officials to represent their members in controversial matters and had failed to comply with labor board awards to workers.

Unit Of National Music Week To Be Sponsored By Music Study Club

The first week in May has become known each year throughout the country as a celebration in behalf of music. Originating in the Far West in the little town of Kent, Washington, known as The Lettuce Center of the World, it has spread into thousands of cities and communities. Rural districts look forward to this week as a time when schools, churches, clubs and organizations of all kinds gather with the families in school houses and community centers to sing and play together or listen to radio programs. Many fine talents in a community are discovered, and a greater appreciation of good music is engendered. City, county and state festivals are held when hundreds of choral and instrumental groups assemble en masse to do honor to music.

Big Spring this year will for the first time in its history join the nation in observing National Music Week. Under the direction of a local manager, the Music Study club will sponsor a unit of the National Piano Playing contest here on May 3, 4 and 5. Until this year local pianists have been competing in the tournaments held in Abilene as a part of the week's activities. Judge of the contest here will be Dr. Elliott Griffin of New York City who will probably offer a program during his stay in this city.

Mrs. Anno Gibson Houser, district chairman of the Music week

History, Romance And Adventure In Novel Scheduled For Review

Because it is the best selling book in a number of years; because it is full of romance, history and thrilling adventures of the old south; and because it is to be reviewed by a competent reviewer, the review of "Come With the Wind" by Miss Evelyn Oppenheimer is expected to attract a record crowd Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock into the Settles hotel ballroom.

Special attraction attached to the selling of adult tickets was the $5 cash prize offered by the 1936 Hyperion club, sponsoring organization, to the school child who sold the greatest number of tickets.

While the book was reviewed in this city during the latter part of the past year by the Rev. Mr. Hanson, former minister of Colorado, local book lovers demanded a review of the interesting novel by Miss Oppenheimer who has appeared here on two previous occasions. Her discussion of the Margaret Mitchell work in this city will increase the number of reviews on this book to far over the one hundred mark.

Fred M'Murray, Gladys Swarthout Are Co-Starred In New Romance With Music

"Champagne Waltz" At Ritz Sunday, And Monday

Discovering that Fred MacMurray can sing and toot a trumpet is not news, at least to dance followers on the West coast, since the young westerner was for many years an orchestra leader before his advent into pictures. But it took quite a while to work the situation around to the point where Fred played musical instruments for cinema fans. It is in the Sunday and Monday attraction at the Ritz theatre, "Champagne Waltz," that MacMurray finally breaks loose and does a tune or two for the benefit of the great American showgoing public, and what is more he does it in style; having Miss Gladys Swarthout, who has gotten more than a line or two of publicity for her warblings on the stage of the Metropolitan Opera house in New York City.

Oakie And Others
Jack Oakie, too, the irrepressible Oklahoman, hangs around to supply the laughs along with Herman Bing, Ernest Conant, Benny Baker and others; and Frank Forst, who scored so heavily with his rendition of "La Bomba" in "Broadway 1937," supplies several vocal numbers and has the musical spotlight what time MacMurray and Miss Swarthout aren't singing.

Veloz and Yolanda, famous Latin ballroom dance team, give several numbers, one to the strains of "The Merry-Go-Round," while an additional chorus re-enacts the old-fashioned waltz of Vienna.

In the story MacMurray is leader of a hot American "swing" band which takes Vienna by storm. Miss Swarthout, who happens to be America's outstanding lyric soprano, takes the part of the granddaughter of a musical director of a Viennese waltz palace who is driven out of business when MacMurray brings his band to town.

MacMurray falls for Gladys during his stay in the Austrian capital but does so unrecognizably and doesn't dare to tell her who he is. When she finds out, eventually she breaks with him.

The girl and her grandfather come to America where they adapt the old Viennese waltz to modern "swing" time. This becomes a tremendous hit.

MacMurray, after touring the continent, returns to America where he meets Miss Swarthout again and the two become reconciled.

Miss Swarthout sings the new hit "The Merry-Go-Round" and "Could I Be In Love?" while MacMurray contributes "Champagne Waltz" and "When Is a Kiss Not a Kiss."

Carroll George, manager of Stahlman Lumber company, was in Fort Worth Saturday on a business mission.

POSSIBLY A TOAST TO MUSIC

Gladys Swarthout and Fred MacMurray might be drinking a toast to music, since music plays a large part in the story development of their co-starring picture, "Champagne Waltz," showing at the Ritz Sunday and Monday. Miss Swarthout sings, and MacMurray plays, in a story about a clash between devotees of opera and "swing" music.

Mae West And Her Men Back In Queen Film

'Go West Young Man' Is Feature Attraction Opening Today

Mae West comes back to town for a two-day appearance at the Queen theatre starting Sunday and brings with her Randolph Scott, Warren William and Lyle Talbot to maintain the record of having more leading men than any other woman in Hollywood.

She heads the cast in Paramount's "Go West, Young Man," a story all about a stage star's attempt to find love despite her press agent's frantic attempts to keep her mind on her work.

William takes the part of her agent and has to trail her clear into the wilds of Pennsylvania (and there are wilds even in William Penn's native state) where Miss West takes up with a young rural inventor whose mind was very active in the line of mechanics until Mae brings herself into town.

The two meet when Miss West's car breaks down close to Scott's service station and Randy gallantly offers to fix the trouble and the magnetic power of love begins to work between the stage star and the handsome laborer.

William breaks up several meetings between the two and finally is forced to resort to several ruses to put an end to the budding romance.

Mae sees the light and finds the romance she has been seeking with the very man who has been paid to keep it from her.

Isabell Jewell, Elisabeth Patterson, Margaret Perry, Etienne Girardot, Maynard Holmes and Nicodemus, the latter a newcomer to the screen, are seen in support.

Williamson Dist. Representative Of Rock Fleece Firm

Harvey Williamson, Big Spring, has been announced as district representative of the Rock Fleece company (controlled by local capital) with territory embracing Big Spring, Midland and San Angelo.

Williamson is to be agent for the popular Amateur Hour programs so in vogue throughout this country at the present time. The amateur entertainers make their bows to the audience between 3 and 3:30 Saturday afternoons. Of course, prizes are given to the three contestants or acts that receive the most votes during the week following the broadcast.

Replacing the Announcers contest, the staff of KBST will present a Studio Frolic each Saturday night from eight until eight-thirty. This will be an impromptu program featuring various KBST entertainers. This will be followed by a thirty minute program of dance music as played in the inimitable style of Jimmie Ross and his orchestra, the pickup of the music coming direct from the dance floor.

Monday afternoon, April 5, Clark Wynn and His Taverners made their radio debut over KBST. The Wynn organization comes to Big Spring after an eight months' engagement at San Angelo.

GOOD FORM

Yes, it's good form to give the makeup a final touch, thinks Miss Ray DeArmond, (above), Fort Worth dancer, as she prepares for rehearsal of Billy Rose's Casa Manana. Fevue of 1937 which will be the feature of the Fort Worth Frontier Fiestas.

Crawford, Tone, Gable At The Lyric

Three Are Featured In Gay Romance, 'Love On The Run'

Mr. and Mrs. Franchot Tone, the missus part being none other than San Antonio's Joan Crawford in person, appear once again together, this time in the Lyric theatre's Sunday and Monday attraction "Love On The Run."

Also in this comedy of newspaper life can be seen the profile of Clark Gable, he of the noted big ears and many flits, who battles Mr. Tone in love over Miss Crawford and in war over assignments on rival newspapers.

All in all, this little M-G-M opus proves rather delightful to the eye and pleasing to the ear in that Miss Crawford, long the soe melancholy baby of the Metro lot doesn't once turn on the tears and have the audience dabbing their eyes with their handkerchiefs.

Of course Gable, who has won Miss Crawford in "Dancing Lady," "Forsaking All Others," "Forsessed" and "Chained" to date, gains Joan's lifelong love in the end but maybe that's because Mr. Tone doesn't even try. To him life is just a newspaper assignment.

The merry tale is all about an American heiress who leaves a pompous nobleman at the altar and runs into the ubiquitous Mr. Gable as she flees from the church and said nobleman. Gable happens to be a foreign correspondent of a New York newspaper who naturally takes to Miss Crawford when he finds that she is news.

When Gable generously offers his services, keeping it strictly a one-man secret, of course, that he is a member of that vast scandal hunting profession, Miss Crawford accepts his Sir Walter Raleigh services and flees to greener fields. Of course Gable tags along and with him carries his pencil and paper.

Then Tone fits into the picture since you can't keep a good newspaperman down and Franchot happens to be in that vicinity at the time all this is happening.

But all ends well in that Mr. Tone gets his story and his girl. Old Reginald Owen, a villain for, these many years, Mona Barrie, Ivan Lebedeff and others help along.

Works Of Caylor Shown To Sub Deb Members

Art works of the late H. W. Caylor were shown to members of the Sub Deb club Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Caylor as a feature of the meeting that began from the home of Miss Marguerite Reed.

The group assembled at the Reed home and went from there in a body to the Caylor home where works of the popular West Texas artist are hung. Mrs. Caylor explained the stories that inspired the paintings that consist chiefly of scenes in the western country, longhorn cattle and other animals of the old west.

After the exhibit the group returned to the meeting place and were served refreshments buffet.

By PEGGY ROBERTS Pattern No. 614 PATTERN No. 614

A new tablecloth is something any home can use. When it is as easy to make as this one, everyone will want it. The design is simple enough to be suitable with the most modern furnishings, yet it is so lacy and attractive that it can be used anywhere. It is an especially good design for a tablecloth, because it can be adapted so readily to matching buffet sets and runners; but it will serve well as a bedspread design, too.

The pattern envelope contains complete, easy-to-understand directions; also what crochet hook and what material and how much you will need.

To obtain this pattern, send for No. 614 and enclose 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to cover service and postage. Address: Big Spring, Texas, Herald, Needle-

Reading + Writing By John Selby

How good it would be if we could have a candid family history for each of our presidents, one as frank and as charmingly written as Eleanor Wilson McAdoo's "The Woodrow Wilsons."

The truth is that the story is good enough even if one ignores the importance of the chief characters. It is proof in words that American family life can be, and sometimes is, as rich as the more closely knit life of European clans.

In childhood Mrs. McAdoo knew the life of Princeton as the daughter of a young professor. There are pictures such as that when, Cleveland winning, the young Wilsons opened their window to peer at their republican neighbors who were sitting on a fence. One of the young neighbors well backward into the snow.

The democratic nomination for the New Jersey governorship was quickly followed by the bitterness of Wilson's first presidential campaign, and Mrs. McAdoo's narrative shifts abruptly from a quiet college town to the White House. Her book takes the story only through her own marriage to William Gibbs McAdoo, to the death of her mother.

It is the sort of book which is likely to bring you retrospective

'Clean-Up' Week Observance Is Urged; Hauling Service Fixed

With many local firms participating in a special promotion and the city lending support, Big Spring this week will observe a "clean-up" week.

All residents of the city have been urged by the city administration, through Fire Marshal E. B. Bethell, to make special efforts this week to clean up unsightly lots, rake and pile trash and beautify home properties.

In connection with the campaign, the city is arranging for trucks to haul off trash gathered up and placed in alleys. It is specified that the trash must be placed in boxes, barrels or similar containers so that it can be handled easily and so that containers themselves can be hauled off. It also is emphasized that trucks will follow a set schedule, and residents are urged to have trash ready at the designated times.

The city has been placed into four zones, with Main street and First street as the dividing lines. Trucks will follow this schedule:

Southeast quarter, Monday through Wednesday, April 12-14. Southwest quarter, Thursday through Saturday, April 15-17. Northeast quarter, April 18 and 20. Northwest quarter, April 21 and 22.

"We hope that there will be general observance of this special week," Bethell said, "in order that the entire city can be freshened up in a uniform program at the beginning of the summer season. Objects of an intensive clean-up campaign include not only the beautifying of the city, but also the reducing of fire hazard, removing of health nuisances, improving property values, and creating a pride of ownership and occupancy in our homes.

"This is the time to clear out winter's accumulation of old growth and trash and to beautify our property for the planting and growing season. The city will haul off the trash under the schedule specified, if residents will co-operate to the extent of cleaning up their property."

Governor Allred recently issued a proclamation calling for the setting aside of a period for "clean-up" week in the interest of public health and fire prevention. The Texas state health department are lending their support to the statewide program.

Seek Others On Contract For Hauling

Trash-Garbage Service Offered Residents At 50 Cents A Month

Trash and garbage hauled for 50 cents a month? That offer, placed before Big Spring residents many months ago, still stands—if a sufficient number of householders will enter into the project.

In connection with "clean-up" activities, to be stressed in Big Spring this week, civic leaders are emphasizing the offer available for a permanent garbage and trash disposal system.

Under terms of the program, approved by the city commission, the city will provide trucks, through a contract arrangement, to service the city twice weekly, hauling off all trash and garbage that has been collected in containers, at a price of 50 cents per month.

This fee would be placed on the patron's water bill, to be included in that monthly statement. The city has specified, however, that a large enough number of people sign for the service to justify letting of the general hauling contract. To date, only about 40 have signed.

Those who want the service are instructed to call at the city hall offices and sign a contract card authorizing the 50-cent fee to be attached to the water bill. Club women and others in the city are stressing the offer in the hope that service can be instituted this spring. They point out that the proposition is as economical as can be provided here.

CRIMINAL DOCKET SET FOR MONDAY

County court will consider its criminal docket for the current term Monday, Judge Charles Sullivan said Saturday. The term opened April 5. There are 20 criminal cases on the docket, a preponderance of them liquor law complaints filed by the state liquor control board district agents here.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the subject of the lesson- sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, April 11.
The Golden Text is: "The Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and ransomed him from the hand of him that was stronger than he" (Jeremiah 31:41).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind. . . . But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel" (II Timothy 1:7, 13).

The lesson-sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man's individual being can no more die nor disappear in unconsciousness than can soul, for both are immortal. If man believes in death now, he must disbelieve in it when learning that there is no reality in death, since the truth of being is deathless" (page 427).

Ward Acquires New Stock Space, Will Change Departments

Announcement of a remodeling and expansion program was made Saturday by the Montgomery-Ward store here. The event will be marked by a special "remodeling sale" to be staged this week.
Ward has closed a deal for use of the building at 206 Scurry, the old Deets garage formerly occupied by the Tom Currie Motor company. It was announced, and the space will be designed as a stock room and a station for tire mounting and oil service.
In connection with removal of stock to that building, Ward is making several changes in the Third street building. The stove department is being moved from the second floor to the basement, the furniture department is being expanded; and, with removal of the stock rooms, all departments are being altered and enlarged to permit display of more merchandise. Announcement of the work and this week's sale was made by J. M. Wagner, new assistant manager of the store. Wagner recently assumed the post here, coming from Jefferson City, Mo.

THE STORY BEHIND THE COURT PLAN

The Herald devotes editorial space today to what it considers a significant commentary on the controversial supreme court reorganization proposal, written by Boake Carter, widely famed radio figure recognized as an able observer of the political scene.

Carter writes an interesting article on the 'story behind' the court plan. It follows in its entirety:

"The administration has discovered that forces of inflation have at last caught on. For four years, efforts have been made to prime the pump. The pump caught on during the last six months and there are signs that indicate the pump may get out of hand.

"The brakes already in existence are found to be inadequate. Federal Reserve Board Governor Eccles said that, when he warned that the budget must be balanced and that the stock market controls enacted into law are not enough to slow down the pump.

"The pump, which is liable to run so fast as to push up prices at an equally rapid rate to the detriment of consumers and business generally, is aided by these factors:

"Sit-down strikes, which force a higher cost of production in industry; industry, which must pass these increased prices back to the consumer, in some cases with a little more than is reasonable piled on top so as to prevent profits from being cut; the surplus profits tax, which is forcing a spending spree; the billions of credit in unused reserve bank funds; the armament race, which forces funds to be sunk into unproductive things, instead of civic and civil enterprises, which returns wealth on the money invested; the continued spending of increased funds for WPA and PWA, the presence of $7,000,000,000 worth of foreign investments in America and a group of lesser factors—but which, when piled with the remainder, join to make up a growing force of price inflation.

"To control this force, to apply additional brakes against the forces set in motion in the last four years, the administration feels the only way out of its dilemma is to enact laws which control industry and control labor. It does not wish to take the political risk of cutting down spending nor taxation which would lose it labor support.

"It cannot manufacture new brakes to cope with this situation with the supreme court as it stands today.

"It must have six new members who can be counted upon to pass an official okay on any type of brakes manufactured by the administration to cope with its own Frankenstein monster. That is the reason for the steady drive to enact the presidential court plan.

"When that situation arrives, you have centralized supervision and control of America's social and industrial life."

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Personal notes off a New Yorker's cuff. It is true that practically all of the old legitimate theaters on 42nd street have become burlesque houses or 5-and-10 cent movie emporiums. . . . Even the shooting galleries have added Russian films as added attractions.

Al Jolson has succeeded in another ambition—to own a capable pugilist. . . . The other night Henry Armstrong won a handsome decision over Aldo Spoldi, and that made Jolson very happy. . . . He is the sole owner of Armstrong.

Jolson, however, isn't the only theatrical celebrity to invest his earnings in competitive sport. . . . Gertrude Niesen owns part of Bob Nestell, coast heavyweight who recently knocked out Art Laskey. . . . Joe Penner manages a girl baseball team. . . . Boris Karloff is making serious efforts to bring the Oxford rugby squad to America for a melee with Southern California. . . . Bing Crosby has his racing stable, and Kate Smith owns a basketball team.

The latest of the dumb comic gags concerns the comedian who thinks his three-year-old son may have an inferiority complex—"Every time I kick him in the side—he winces."

Imprecations change as come over the town—sidewalk cafes open, shops sport gay-colored awnings, workmen begin nursing the strip of green in the center of Park avenue, hawk-nose fellows hawk gardenias, two for a quarter, on Fifth avenue, Irving Hoffman takes a stroll in a sky-blue suit. . . . in fewer words—Spring!

New York's best bookstall lane is on Fourth avenue just below Union Square—a mart of second-hand literature where the chief customers are N. Y. U. students and Reds.

Ann Andrews keeps a collection of press clippings, but they are not valentines written to her by the critics. . . . They are the hilarious typographical errors which sometimes creep into newspaper and magazine stories.

Here is evidence of broadmindedness in an actress—a much-wedded actress who changes husbands so frequently that the gossip writers have trouble keeping up with them. . . . At a recent soiree of sorts I hailed her by the title of "Mrs. (no I thought) most recent spouse. . . . "Hello, darling," she yelled (she calls everybody darling) giving me a peck on the cheek (she pecks everybody's cheek), and then she took me off in a corner and said: "I feel that you are old enough to be told now, Reggie, and I aren't married any-

Lewis credited with defeat of coal sit-down ban.

Union chief said to have phoned 30 senators.

Garner-Roosevelt clash laid to labor leader.

C.I.O. head reported fearing loss of control.

Influence

WASHINGTON, April 10.—It was not President Roosevelt who blocked the congressional move to outlaw coal sit-downs. Nor was it entirely floor Leader Robinson, although he has received the credit. The job was done by a man on the telephone with the voice of a Hamlet in rage. No senator needed to be introduced. There is only one voice like that in the United States.

John L. Lewis has influence. He has not only introduced to America the technique of winning minority strikes against the law and court orders, by force, but he has become a major economic influence. He has raised the price of basic commodities as much as the armament boom in Europe. He has shortened hours, increased wages, and consequently prices, in steel, coal and probably eventually autos. He has done it at a time when the government professes to be frightened by price inflation and is working to prevent another boom and collapse.

To anyone who can do these things, senators are not so tough.

Argument

Lewis got busy on the phone when he heard about the Byrnes amendment to his Guffey-Vinson coal bill, proposing to legalize sit-downs in the mines. Those around the democratic telephone booths that day say he must have talked to 30 senators. Some say he changed only half a dozen votes or so, but he strengthened many.

His argument was this: There cannot be a sit-down in coal. The men could not live in underground darkness without food or comforts. Guards at the mouth of the mine could easily isolate the strikers. Consequently, he never intended to have a sit-down in coal. The proposal, therefore, was just a gratuitous insult to the auto workers who had won their strike and effected a settlement.

There was just enough truth in what he said about coal sit-downs to convince some wavering senators who might otherwise have been unawakened by his voice.

Words

Unseen compliments to the talents of Lewis have developed here lately.

The story may be challenged, but there is no good reason to doubt that the president and vice president have exchanged some warm unreported words on the subject of Lewis. This said, unquestionably, that Garner challenged the truth of reports being received by the president concerning sit-downs. The vice president implied Mr. Roosevelt was being misled as to the seriousness of the situation and the probable consequences of letting sit-downs encourage the flouting of laws which are enforced against citizens outside the C.I.O.

The conversation got down to the desk-pounding stage when Garner said something like this: "You have got to get these men out of those factories."

The nature, if not the exact wording of the president's reply was: "I cannot do it without bloodshed."

"Well," said Garner in substance, "John Lewis did. I guess that makes him bigger than the president of the United States."

Fear

Despite his successes, Lewis is inwardly scared. Those who know him best would say that several things have come up which he did not reckon with in the beginning.

The main thing is the little union affiliated with him are getting away from his control. Ambitious local leaders do not realize they can destroy the whole C.I.O. movement by carrying on sit-downs.

They want to get theirs. Consequently, the immediate outlook indicates a further expansion of sit-downs, but no more big ones. Lewis can and probably will prevent the big ones, because he knows one more big one may ruin him.

Things like the senate resolution and the Hershey incident have shown popular disfavor. They also show that the growing popular impatience may force the government to act more strongly next time.

To get away from lawless strikes, Lewis must have the sympathy of those in high authority. He had it in the beginning, but he will not have it in the next one. That much seems to be certain.

Ford

The current flag-waving about a big Ford strike may not be justified. The inside on that situation bears a distinct topographical difference from General Motors and Chrysler.

It seems that all of Ford's important plants, except one, sit back far from public highways and public property. They are surrounded by high barbed fences a considerable distance from the street. The feeding of sit-downers in his plants, therefore, would be a difficult proposition.

If some of Ford's men sit down, more. I'm married to a very ugly but fascinating fellow by the name of Tom.

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

THE CHOCOLATE CIGAR

his ample guard force will just surround the building and prevent outside trespassers from coming on his property. If trespassers attack the guards in trying to get food to the strikers, you will have civil warfare, or something so closely related to it that Lewis might find himself sitting down involuntarily and permanently, per'ps in a room with ste wallpaper.

Hollywood

Sights and Sounds
 By Robin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—Stark drama at sea nearly 400 years ago was restored to light in unusual fashion to provide a new sea epic of the films and, incidentally, other interesting results.

"Souls at Sea," co-starring Gary Cooper and George Raft, restored Raft to the Paramount fold, enabled him to collect $18,000 back salary (for his suspension during his "Temple Drake" walk-out) and persuaded him to sign a new contract.

Ted Lesser, smart attorney who brought the idea for the film to Hollywood, profited as directly as Raft. Adolph Zukor first made him his assistant, later chief of the talent department.

Based On Fact

The film is based on the Philadelphia trial in 1842 of Alexander Holmes, seaman, for manslaughter on the high seas. The packet William Brown, Liverpool for Boston, rammed an iceberg. In an overcrowded lifeboat sailor Holmes took charge, with two other crew members, of lightening the load. Before rescue, had lightened the load by seven passengers. Pleading stark necessity, he was convicted with recommendation for mercy.

An international news sensation at the time, the story was unearthed because the Philadelphia Public Ledger was celebrating an anniversary, which set an employe browbeating through the files. Lesser heard about it, took photostatic copies of the trial reports to Hollywood, and sold Paramount on making a movie.

Pyromaniac Fires Ship

Scenarist Grover Jones romanced around the original material. He worked up a plot involving slave-trading, the brotherly affection of rascally Raft for manly, taciturn Cooper, Cooper's love for Frances Dee and hatred for her brother, Henry Wilcoxon.

Miss Dee and manly, Olympe Bradna (romance for Raft) . . . aboard when Porter Hall, pyromaniac, sets fire to the ship. The vessel is panic-ridden, the officers dead, by the time the fire is conquered. Cooper takes charge, heroically protects the one lifeboat, fights it, looses photostatic copies of the trial reports to Hollywood, and sold Paramount on making a movie.

EVE IN THE ORCHARD

By MARGARET WIDDEMER

Chapter 11
 UNCLE HENRY HELPS CLEAN
 They got quite friendly over the hot creamy coffee, the buttery rolls and the too-hard eggs. Nothing had ever tasted better. It was pleasant not to have to hurry through, to sit there with this man, harmless enough, between the crackling fire and high bright windows, fresh from exercise in the spring outdoors. George talked on about his work with the Reynolds' trees. They were on the third cup of coffee when a knock sounded at the door, which was swung open immediately on the knock.

Eve sprang up and threw out welcoming hands to the man who came in. "Uncle Henry De Remer!"

He was unmistakably a farmer; tall, thin, elderly, in a sheepskin coat over a sweater and blue overalls, with an old felt hat pushed back on his gray hair. He had a kind, leathery face criss-crossed deep with lines, and a high nose. His bright dark eyes smiled as he took her hands.

"Heard you were here, down at the post office, daughter. Came over to see what I could do. Well, you don't look much different. Morning, George." He eyed George sharply.

George greeted him with his usual quietness. Eve offered him coffee, which he accepted, saying he could always drink more coffee.

The De Remers had been old friends of Aunt Elna's. A childless couple since the war took their only son, they had a farm out toward Torrington. Eve remembered Aunt Elna De Remer as a plaining semi-invalid, endlessly talking and rocking by the stove or the window; Uncle Henry as her own aunt's helper and adviser, working the vegetable garden and gathering the apples on shares. A quiet hard-working elderly man with a pair of spectacles on the Napoleonic wars.

"Come over to see if I could help you settle in," he said, when breakfast was leisurely over.

"You certainly can!" Eve said gratefully. "And how is Aunt Elna and can you spare time from the spring plowing?"

"She died last fall," the man said briefly. "And I don't have to worry over plowing, not now. Living with my niece Emily till I can turn around."

The farm was gone, then. With quick sympathy, she said, to make him feel she wasn't lucky either. "I'm out of a job too!" No use saying she had given it up herself.

"So you came home? That was right. What do you plan on doing?"

But when she told him that she wanted to rent for the summer, or sell, he shook his head.

"Not much doing. You'd make money living here yourself, if it was fit for a young girl. You ought to have some friend with you, another woman."

"Oh, we don't do that any more," she said lightly.

He said no more, but bent over the fire, managing to arrange two thick boughs across the embers so that a dishpanful of water would heat.

He put a hard old kind hand on her shoulder. "You pitch right in now and get the house to rights."

He said it with genuine enthusiasm; she realized that he was glad he had something to give and do. He had always been a proud man.

"Evelina Was a Gatherer"

"The telephone will be connected this afternoon," George told them. "And the electricity. But Adriano is having a hard time getting anybody to clean—it's a busy time. I'd offer you Mattie, but my mother's here just now."

Uncle Henry looked at George approvingly. They knew and liked each other. Eve could see.

"That's good."

George nodded, repacked the picnic kit with quiet deftness, then went, with some remark about his grating.

Uncle Henry dug about, discovering a disgraceful broom stump and a mop handle and some rags.

"The Jenningses were always destructive," said Uncle Henry, looking disapprovingly at the torn rag carpet nailed over the old polished boards and the worn places in the trade of the beautiful massive staircase with its square half-way turn. "No wonder they couldn't make a go of your aunt's business. Your aunt wasn't like that, she took great pride in keeping up the house as near as she could to the way it had always looked. There's water-lans and gatherers. Evelina was a gatherer."

"I'm afraid I'm the scattering kind," Eve said with amusement, remembering the silver sticks of furniture that Deany was housing. "Where would anybody put anything they gathered, these days?"

"You have somewhere to put them if you're the right sort, daughter," said Uncle Henry earnestly. "I take notice you still have all your aunt's good rugs. Unlike them and I'll get around to beating them."

Eve felt swept away—then decided there was no use fighting his assumption that she was getting ready to live here. After all, the rugs belonged on the floor if she was only here a week. So she obediently untied rugs, and began to polish the banisters.

"You haven't any mortgage, have you?" he asked her anxiously, passing beneath her with the rugs.

"No. I suppose that makes the house harder to get rid of." Eve said in rhythm to her rubbing.

"Horror was in the old man's voice. "You don't want to get rid of it?"

"All my work and my friends are in New York."

She was about to add that she wished George Cleveland had bought this house instead of the other, but something checked her as she stood looking down the wide shallow staircase to the half-penciled hall, with its beautiful mahogany doors and simple, exquisite

FEBRUARY CRUDE OUTPUT A RECORD

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The bureau of mines said today the daily average production of crude petroleum in February was 3,377,000 barrels—a record.

The daily average was 148,000 barrels more than the previous high of January and nearly 500,000 barrels above the average of February last year.

The bureau said the only important fields showing a decline in February were Rodessa in Louisiana, and Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. Among the new production records established during the month were those in Kansas, New Mexico, Coastal Texas and Coastal Louisiana. Production in East Texas continued steadily at just above 450,000 barrels daily.

NEW TEST RIGGED IN NORTHWEST DAWSON COUNTY

Location Southwest Of Albaugh Discovery; Well; New Location In Mitchell Co.; Two Completions In This Area

Two completions, four locations and the starting of a new and important test in Northwest Dawson county stood out in the oil news here this week.

W&E Production company moved in materials and erected a rig on the Wilson and Pickens lease south of the Ray Albaugh No. 1 John Robinson, in the southwest of the northwest quarter of section 46-3-EL&RR, Dawson county. The test is to be situated in section 45-M, EL RRRR about a mile south and two locations east of the Albaugh test, the discovery well for what is believed to be Dawson county's first oil pool. Because of a peculiar lease, the test cannot be spudded before April 12.

Plymouth No. 12 Klon, 1980 feet from the south and 1320 feet from the west line of section 5-23-22-T&P, treated with 2000 gallons of acid on March 20, was given an official restoration rating of 343 barrels a day on test. It made 52 barrels on the first hour's run and 58 on the second. Pay was topped at 1540 and the hole is bottomed at 2443 feet.

717 Barrels Daily
In the East Howard field the Dwen D. Murray, et al No. 6-A Davis, section 2-30-18, T&P, was gauged at 717 barrels a day.

Mitchell county got its first new location in months with that of the Mitchell Oil and Gas company No. 1 Zilpha Morrison, 350 feet from the south and 2310 feet from the west line of section 35-29-11, T&P. It is about four miles east and one north of Iatan and is about five miles east of the abandoned test drilled two years ago just north of Iatan by Gib Sawtelle.

Pure Oil No. 1 Chalk, section 125-25, W&NW, was drilling and swabbing at 3020 feet in lime after picking up a pay from 2910-25 feet.

Shows At 2420-30
Fred Hyer No. 2 Clay, section 126-25, W&NW, was preparing to test the 2400 foot pay after getting shows from 2420-30 feet. It was carrying 600 feet of oil in the hole.

Merrick & Lamb No. 15 Clay, section 140-29, WNW, was drilling at 2380 feet in gray lime and the Merrick and Erntow No. 4 Hook, section 140-29, W&NW, was 2720 feet in the same formation.

Superior No. 34 Roberts, section 154-25, WNW, was standing cemented at 1813 feet. It had a pay horizon from 1337-42 feet.

Continental No. 1-C Chalk, section 124-29, W&NW, drilled to 3107 feet in lime after picking up a pay streak of pay from 2902 feet.

Continental No. 13-A Clay, section 129-25, W&NW, was drilling up tubing at 1844 feet. Total depth is 1850 feet. The same company's No. 29-8 Settles, shallow sand test in section 159-129, W&NW, had drilled to 172 feet in lime where a 5-8 inch casing was set.

Other Tests
Shell No. 3-A Roberts in section 3-33-22, T&P, was drilling at 2215 feet after setting 8 inch casing. Cecil B. Raines No. 1 Chalk in section 140-29, W&NW, was still fishing and Otis Chalk No. 1 Chalk, section 114-29, WNW, was drilling at 850 feet in redbeds. Ward Oil Co. No. 26 Roberts, section 137-29, W&NW, was spudded and had made 100 feet of hole before shutting down for engine repairs.

Among locations listed for Howard county during the week were Phillips No. 2 Land, 330 feet from the north and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 2-30-15, T&P; Phillips No. 4 Lane, 960 feet from the north and east lines of the west half of the southeast quarter of section 2-30-15, T&P; Standard Oil Co. of Texas No. 7 Dodge, 2410 feet from the south and 330 feet from the west line of section 1-9-31, T&P.

MOVIE PLAYER MAKES LUNCHEON STOP HERE

Teddy Hart, remembered by movie fans as the little man with the high-pitched voice in "Three Men On A Horse," "After the Thin Man," and "Ready, Willing and Able," was a brief visitor in Big Spring Saturday, stopping here for lunch. He was en route from the West coast to New York where he will confer on a radio contract.

Another Pool Indicated For Hawley Area

Showing Encountered In Bluff Creek Sand At 1,925-30 Feet

ARILENE, April 10—Possibility that a new Jones pool, about four miles northeast of Hawley, loomed this week as operators on the Fain-McGaha Oil corporation No. 1-A Claude Lewis lowered six-inch casing to test a showing of oil encountered in Bluff Creek sand at 1,925-30 feet.

Bailing gauge showed about two barrels per hour, and the test at present was estimated good for 25 to 50 barrels daily. The test is the second started by the Wichita Falls operators on the Lewis tract, their No. 1 Lewis having been abandoned at 1,585 feet when tools were lost in the hole.

Location is 1,980 feet from the south and 1,100 feet from the west lines of section 37-15-T&P survey. It is on one of four southeastern Jones county blocks totaling nearly 3,000 acres which were assembled last fall and winter.

The Wichitans were moving rig this week from their second dry hole, the Fain-McGaha No. 1 Swenson, northwest of Lueders, to location for a new outpost to the Hawley field which is slated for spudding soon.

It is to be the No. 2 Hayden, about a mile northeast of the field, and has been staked in the southeast corner of section 3, G. Martine survey No. 15.

Fain-McGaha No. 1 J. H. Wheeler, six miles east of Anson, was also announced this week, to be drilled two miles west of the Sandy Rilce pool, and 3,448 feet from the north and 220 feet from the west lines of the east half of section 35, O&L survey.

Ungren & Frazier No. 1-G Dorsey was announced as a quarter-mile western outpost for the Hawley field, and will spud as soon as a special permit is obtained from the railroad commission. It is 145 feet from the north and south lines and 220 feet from the east line of the north 10 acres of the east half of subdivision 2, Earlett survey No. 198.

Golden Petroleum company of San Angelo had moved rig on a new location six miles northeast of Abilene in Jones county this week.

Shell No. 2 University, quarter mile east of Shell No. 1 University, in the southwest of section 20-A21-pal, 1-2 miles northeast of Landreth No. 1 Kirk, Gaines county's first oil producer, was abandoned a failure at 3,015 feet. Amos G. Carter and Continental No. 1 Wagon, northern Gaines wildcat, in the southwest of section 48-Ax-pal, struck an air pocket from 2,944-50 feet that cleaned the hole of rotary mud. The last eight feet of a core from 4,500-15 feet was all lime. Elevation is 3,549 feet.

Argo Royalty Co. staked a tentative location for No. 1 Dr. E. H. Jones in northwestern Gaines county, in the center of the northeast of section 2-A7-pal.

E. L. Wilson of Dallas and others began building derrick for No. 1 Texas Land & Mortgage Co., in northwestern Tarrant county, 1,980 feet from the south and east lines of section 45-M-EL&RR. It will be 1 1/4 miles southeast of Ray Albaugh and others' No. 1 John Robinson, lone producer in the county.

Tentative location was staked in northern Terry county by R. L. Foree of Dallas and others for No. 1 W. E. Poole, in the center of the northeast of section 54-D11-pal. It will be 1 1/2 miles south by southeast of Texas No. 1 Slaughter, Hockley county discovery well.

Magnolia spudded No. 1 Taylor, Yoakum county wildcat, in the northeast corner of section 301-D line and 2,310 feet from the west line of section 23-B16-pal, one mile due west of Shell No. 1 University.

4 Barrels Hourly
Gulf No. 4 Waddell in western Crane county topped the Simpson, middle Ordovician, reported at 5,824 feet, 3,285 feet below sea level, cored to 5,588 and during the last three minutes of a 25-minute drill stem test from 5,500 to 5,989 feet flowed oil at a rate estimated at four barrels hourly. Gulf No. 1 Waddell, three-quarters of a mile northwest of Gulf No. 4 Waddell, initially pumped only 122 barrels of 34.7 gravity oil at a plugged back depth of 6,317 feet, while Gulf No. 2 Waddell, 1 1/4 miles northeast of No. 1 Waddell, recently was completed at a plugged back depth of 6,186 feet for 45 barrels of 34 gravity oil in 12 hours, pumping off No. 4 Waddell in 1,380 feet from the north and east lines of section 4-E27-pal.

The first and only other Ordovician producers in West Texas are in the Big Lake field in Reagan county, where high gravity crude from the Ellenberger, lower Ordovician, is obtained at depths ranging from 8,534 to 8,020 feet and commands a premium. The search for more Ordovician crude in West Texas is widening constantly.

To Acidize
Gulf No. 1-B State, half mile north and slightly west of the highly productive Waddell pool, showed only a minnow of oil at 3,500 feet in drilling to 3,022 feet and prepared to acidize. It is in the southwest quarter of section 11-35-University land. Far to the northwest, toward the Penn pool in Ector county, Sinclair-Prairie No. 1-27 University, in the northwest of section 12-35-U, had reached 3,430 feet in lime, and No. 1-24-U, in the southwest of section 12-35-U, had drilled to 3,333 feet in

Extensions To Fields In Jones County

Larger Production Seen In The Guitar Pool Territory

ABILENE, April 10—Extensions of three Jones county pools and possible discovery of another featured a week of oil development in this area.

Cement plugs were to be drilled this weekend on the Lewis Production company No. 2 Henry Sayles, showing for another half mile south extension to the Condor-Sayles-Holt field eight miles north of Abilene in Jones county.

Two feet of saturated sand had been drilled, with a good show of gas, encountered at 1,961-63 feet. The hole filled 150 feet with fluid immediately and operators cemented casing.

The test is half a mile south and slightly west of the Condor Petroleum company No. 1-B Sayles, which last December extended the field three-quarters mile to the south with a 352-barrel producer.

Following completion of the Condor extension, Lewis Production company, Selby Oil and Gas company and others purchased 320 acres at a reported price of $64,000 cash. The first test was abandoned at 2,182 feet without a showing, and operators moved rig to the west for the No. 2 Sayles.

Cleaning After Shot
Location is 340 feet from the north and 1,810 feet from the west lines of section 6-20-T&P, in the northwest corner of the 320-acre lease.

Sandy Ridge Oil corporation No. 1 Percy Jones et al, showing for an east extension to the Sandy Ridge field in eastern Jones county, was cleaning out late this week from a 28-quart shot in sand which logged saturation from 1,926 to 1,945 feet. It is reported to have topped structure higher in relation to the main part of the field, a quarter-mile west and north.

It is 1,560 feet east of the discovery well for the pool, and is 220 feet from the south and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 5-15-T&P survey.

Three tests were in process of completion on the west side of the Guitar pool, northeast of Hawley, showing for probably the largest wells of the pool.

Danciger Oil and Refineries No. 1, in the center of the northeast of section 420-D-John H. Gibson, stopped at 715 feet in red rock to drill a second water well.

E. L. Wilson of Dallas and associates awarded contract to Herzbach Drilling Co. to drill their No. 1 Yellow House Land Co., wildcat in the southeast corner of Bally county, 960 feet out of the northeast corner of labor 4, Abner Taylor league 700.

Andrews Tests Are Plugged

Gaines Exploration Also Abandoned As A Failure

SAN ANGELO, April 10—In Andrews county, Humble No. 1-B Means, in the northwest of section 11-A45-pal, 2 3/4 miles southeast of the Means field, Andrews county, this week plugged to abandon at 5,277 feet after striking sulfur water. Wm. Hanagan No. 1 Lotus Oil Co., in the northwest of section 18-A48-pal, nine miles northwest of the Deep Rock pool, was abandoned dry at 5,002 feet. Hanagan staked a location for No. 1 Llano-W. E. Scharborough in the center of the northeast of section 16-A26-pal, on a 3,000-acre farm out by Llano out of its 4,300-acre block.
