Junior Armies of County Schools Push Scrap Drive

LOCAL STUDENTS GATHER 60 TONS

Scrap Piled High on School Grounds as Pupils Use Cars, Trucks, Tractors in Drive

There are lots of generals, colonels, majors, captains and lieutenants, but very few privates in the Junior Army of the Memphis school system, Supt. W. C. Davis said today.

Organized for an intensive campaign of collecting urgently needed scrap metals, the Junior Army, into battle like veterans and when the smoke of battle had cleared away, piles of junk estimated at 60 tons cluttered up the school grounds.

Working in mobile task forces, the youthful Rangers commanded trucks, tractors and trailers wagons to forage town and country for scrap. The campaign opened Monday morning and continued through Tuesday, with the great majority of students entering into the work with enthusiasm.

It had been announced that promotions in rank in the Junior Army would be based on the amount of metal brought in by the student, one step up in rank to go with each 50 pounds. Most of the youngsters quickly passed through the non-commissioned grades at the end of the drive many were entitled to a commission and the four started a full "general."

Superintendent Davis today expressed himself as well pleased with the results of the campaign and praised the earnestness and energy the students showed in carrying out the work.

Eagles Drop Hard Fought Battle to Wheeler Mustangs

Blocked Lakeview Punt in First Quarter Gives Only Score of Game to Visitors

The galloping Mustangs from Wheeler grabbed the breaks Friday night to win a hard fought conference football game from the Lakeview Eagles 6 to 0. The game, played at Lakeview, was witnessed by a large crowd of fans, many of whom were from Memphis.

The lone counter was chalked up for the Mustangs in the first quarter when Jones rushed in to block a Lakeview punt, gathered in the pigskin and dashed across the goal line.

Part of the game was played in a brisk shower and the slippery road produced more than a normal number of fumbles for both teams. The battle was ding-dong throughout, with both the Mustangs and the Eagles making scoring threats which failed to click in the crucial moments. In the final quarter the Eagles launched a sustained ground and air attack which accounted for three first downs, but fizzled out in enemy territory.

The Eagles led in first downs. Next Friday night the Wellington Skyrocks will meet the Lakeview gridmen in the Eagle stadium.

ALL SCHOOLS PARTICIPATE

Efforts of Youngsters in All-Out Drive Praised by County Salvage Chairman

If there is very much scrap iron or other salvage material still at large in Hall County, it is pretty well hidden, because the sharp eyes of school children of the county didn't overlook much in their all-out scrap campaign which opened Monday.

All city and rural schools of the county took active and enthusiastic part in the drive which enlisted the aid of pupils throughout the nation. Using trucks, tractors with trailers and any other means of transportation that came handy, youngsters ranged the countryside and city streets, knocking at doors and asking for scrap. Small boys and girls trudging to school lugging pieces of iron and steel which taxed their strength was a common sight all over the county this week.

The Lakeview schools carried out their campaign ahead of other schools since classes were to be dismissed for cotton picking. Supt. H. A. Wallace reported today that 11 tons of salvage was the result. Proceeds of the sale of this scrap went to the FFA boys of the school and the campaign was in charge of Elwin Matthews vocational agriculture instructor.

Reports from other schools of the county were not available this week, but will be published as they come in.

M. J. Draper, chairman of the Hall County Salvage Committee was unstinted in his praise of the good work done by the school children. "Hall County has been out ahead all along in the salvage drives," he said, "and the youngsters have proven they are as earnest and enthusiastic as their which to swat out Axis enemies."

Skunk Invades Perkins Home South Sixth St.

M. O. Perkins is a firm believer in the maxim that "discretion is the better part of valor." More especially where skunks are concerned—he they little, big or medium-sized skunks.

Sunday night, after Mr. and Mrs. Perkins had gone to bed they were awakened by a commotion in the kitchen at their home on South Sixth Street. Not a loud commotion, but just enough noise to advertise that something or somebody was in the kitchen, which adjoins their bedroom.

Remembering that the back door had been left open and that there was a sizeable hole in the screen door, they reasoned a stray cat had entered while foraging for food. Perkins got up to investigate. Snapping on the light he looked around and under the stove saw a small specimen of the genus mephitis mephitis (skunk to you). The little animal did not seem the least disturbed or startled at being discovered.

Deciding the intruder possessed a distinct superiority in offensive weapons and fire power, Perkins beat a strategic retreat, leaving the skunk in full possession of the field. He closed both inside doors to the kitchen and went back to bed. Next morning the four-footed prowler was gone.

Inventory of All Serviceable Tires Must Be Submitted

New Reporting Requirements Apply to All Tire Sellers, Says Chairman County Board

All tire dealers must file September 30 inventory reports of all serviceable tires and tubes before October 15 to comply with the Revised Tire Rationing Regulations, C. L. Sloan, chairman of the Hall County board reminded today.

The inventory report, which is a mandatory quarterly, is to show the stocks of all new and used tires and tubes and retreads and recaps held by all persons who have any of the items for sale.

Filing of the reports is particularly important at this time, Mr. Sloan emphasized, since they will provide a record of persons who are engaged in the business of selling tires, and hence, will be eligible to receive additional stocks of tires if larger inventories become necessary by reason of any changes in the rationing program undertaken to meet the Baruch committee recommendations.

Reporting forms are being sent by mail to most of those required to file the returns, but those who do not get them and have tires to report must obtain the forms from the local War Price and Rationing Board in Estelline.

The reporting requirements apply not only to recappers and dealers in new tires, but also to those who have used tires for sale, and to automobile supply companies, motor vehicle dealers and finance companies. Tires mounted on vehicles, however, are not to be reported.

Neighborhood Kitchen Plan Is Found Helpful in Many Localities, Says Supervisor

How farm women are organizing neighborhood canning kitchens to preserve home produced fruits, vegetables and even meat was explained this week by Mrs. Maggie L. Gaines, home management supervisor for the Farm Security Administration in Hall County.

Mrs. Gaines cited one county in Texas where the county court had set up a community canning center for all farm wives. The county provides large cookers, lights, water, gas and fuel for the project. Women bring their products to the center and can them or leave them to be canned by women of the town.

Where products are left to be canned by workers at the center the farm products and the women who do the canning receive 40 per cent as their share for the work. In either case, the farm women provide the containers.

Another plan reported by Mrs. Gaines provides that women with large cookers make them available to community canning kitchens for use by these farm women who do not have cookers. A small rental fee is charged for the use of the cookers.

Other community kitchens are being established at trading centers, usually county seats.

Another point about this wartime effort mentioned by Mrs. Gaines is that it allows women to exchange surplus products. For example, one family may have a surplus of beans, but no tomatoes; a surplus of pork but no beef. Some families find it advantageous to exchange products.

Although the vegetable canning season is nearing an end, except for late fall gardens, Mrs. Gaines believes this plan can be just as successful for preserving meat and meat products. She announced that the Farm Security Administration personnel will be glad to assist in establishing community canning kitchens in this county this fall or next spring.

Your reporter went to the sewing rooms one day last week and got in everybody's way while Mrs. B. Webster, Hall County production chairman, and Mrs. Randolph packed finished garments for shipping. And we wish you had been there, it was a good sight to see. If you think it is not some job you should volunteer to help next time. We came away with bruised fingers, aching head and limbs. Our head went round in whirls while these two ladies went calmly about tying bundles, packing, labeling, tying and addressing the big boxes and noting the contents in code.

It has been only a short time since the last shipment was made but this one showed a lot of work had been done. It consisted of 289 blouses for girls, 55 navy sleeveless sweaters, 19 navy turtle-neck sweaters, 40 army sleeveless sweaters, 22 navy relief sweaters, 20 pairs of army socks, 5 army helmets, 8 quilts and 3 afghans. The quilts were made by Pleasant Valley, Newlin and Memphis. The afghans by Plaska, Newlin Mothers club and Mrs. Wade Patrick of Ell.

And now the Home Economics girls under the direction of Mrs. Jessie Faye Pitcock are sewing for the Red Cross. They are enthusiastically working on Soldier Kits. They are doing a real favor at this time for many farmers' wives are very busy and do not have the time to sew. We shall hear more from these girls later.

Gifts this week for the Kit fund are: Baptist W. M. U. $7.00; Mystics Weavers Club $5.00; Gam-gange Needle Club $5.00; The Dorcas Society $2.00; Mesdames W. B. Kimberlin, O. V. Alexander, Gordon Maddox (for Smith Club) each $1.00. Several church societies and clubs have pledged gifts which we are sure will come in before the articles arrive for the kit bags. These have been shipped and all depends now on shipping facilities.

PECULIAR REASONING

WITH typical Hibernian disregard for logic, the Irish Archbishop who so loudly complained about the presence of American and British troops in Northern Ireland overlooked a very important point. However irksome quartering of these soldiers may be to the temperamental Irish, there has been no record of the slightest interference with the religious inclinations of the inhabitants or their attendance upon worship services of their own choosing.

The archbishop might well ponder what would be happening to him and his flock if the troops in Ulster were wearing the uniforms of the German Reich. Surely he is not entirely ignorant of what is happening to church people and leaders, both Catholic and Protestant, in Norway, France, Belgium, Holland, Czechoslovakia, Greece, and even in Germany.

The attitude of the Irish is pretty well summed up in a report by an American correspondent who was crossing from England to Ireland. On the boat he struck up a conversation with a husky young Irishman in civilian clothes.

"Why don't you Irish let the British use those bases?" asked the American.

"We don't like the English," replied the Irishman.
"Do you want them to lose the war?" he was asked.
"Certainly not," he answered hotly.
"Well, then, what are you doing to help them win it?"

SCRAP DEALERS ESSENTIAL

IS THE scrap dealer essential to the success of the scrap metal campaign? This question, which has risen in the minds of many people, is answered in the affirmative with no lack of emphasis by Thornton Hall, state director of the Texas Newspapers' Scrap Drive:

"Yes, he is vitally essential—as a matter of fact, he plays one of the most important roles. There is no one connected with the drive other than the scrap dealer who could know how to segregate, grade, process and properly prepare the 75 different grades of scrap metal for shipment.

"Some steel mills require certain grades of scrap metal while others require an entirely different grade. Through years of experience the steel mills have depended upon the scrap dealer for the proper allocation and shipment of this scrap metal, and the purpose of this nationwide drive would be defeated if his professional assistance was not available.

"Do not be misled by idle rumors concerning the profit the scrap dealer is realizing from this drive. Remember, this is his business, just the same as it is the business of manufacturers to manufacture war goods—he is actually a scrap metal manufacturer.

"Nevertheless, he profits very little indeed after paying for the scrap, paying for the grading, processing and preparation for shipment, paying for loading and then selling the scrap at a ceiling price fixed by the government.

"Instead of bemoaning his participation, give him credit for doing a necessary war work, and encourage him to better results.
"These are the facts! Believe no idle rumors."

SELECTED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

When Will I Have to Go?

Due to the fact that the editor of The Post is also a member of the Selective Service Board, the question at the head of this article is perhaps asked us as many as 20 times a day.

The regret of the whole thing is that no member of the board is able to answer it, although they wish they could. A hundred and one things could possibly enter into it—and to be real frank, we don't know any more than you do. At this time we have instructions to not take married men with children, who are maintaining bona fide homes, until further notice.
How far away that "further notice" is no one knows—even the army officials themselves. Every one else within the military age is, to say the least of it, "exposed."

One thing all of us (which means board members or other people) can put down with a pretty assured certainty. This war is going to take every available man who is physically able to do military duty, regardless of what your status, or life or the occupation you are following.—E. A. Carlock in The Paducah Post.

They'll Get the Papers

Ramsey S. Black, third assistant postmaster general, is authority for the statement that newspapers to men in the armed forces, will be forwarded to new addresses, when they are transferred. This service is given only to first class mail to persons other than in the armed forces.—Ochiltree County Herald.

Quandary

We can't figure out which case is more deserving of our sympathy—the one where the husband volunteers for armed service, leaving the wife subjected to the "wolf at the door"—or the case where the wife volunteers for the WAAC's, leaving the husband subject to "the man at the draft board." It is better for the goose or the gander? That is the question.—E. E. Hayley in The Saint Jo Tribune.

Signs of the Times

"We'll sympathize with you if your wife doesn't understand you, we'll hold your horse; we'll tend to your baby—but don't ask us to cash your check!"

"Don't swear before ladies—let them swear first." Royce House

International Thinking

Those who thought in terms of national are now realizing that the average citizen's thoughts must become more and more of an international character. There was a time when the United States was content to let England take the lead in affairs European. Also, to let England dominate and become powerful on the seas was the general idea. Today the prestige of England is no more and India now, and other countries of the world, will not be content unless the power and influences that rightly should be America's is felt in their affairs.—Quannah Tribune-Chief.

That's the Way It Is

A lady just told me some mighty fine logic about rationing. She said: "When they ration something to us here at home, it kinda makes me feel glad, cause I know that's just a little more that the boys are getting." Well, now that's a mighty fine way to look at it.
Much better than the way some folks take it.—Roy Hahn in The Briscoe County News.

On the Home Front War Reaches Deeper Into Daily Living

Controls and restrictions, which have been brought on in many ways and shortages, in many types of materials and commodities, in the last week have been extended to other types. Among those commodities and materials recently brought under stricter control are a variety of things—from hairpins to casket handles and from meat to men's rubber foot wear and used tires and tubes.

Probably of the greatest immediate effect was the Office of Price Administration "freeze" or order forbidding the purchase and sale of used tires and tubes contrary to the provisions of the order pending the announcement of a rationing plan. This order emphasizes the critical situation faced by the nation's transportation system of which every person, car or truck is a part.

Purpose of the plan to ration used tires and tubes, as well as new, is to conserve all of the millions remaining in all tires for the duration and to see that the mileage is used only for essential purposes. Actual rationing of the used tires and tubes, mileage rationing through control of gasoline marketing, and plans for regular inspection of all tires in use are a part of the overall objective to stretch as far as possible the irreplaceable rubber assets of the nation.

In addition to these, additional conservation measures call for national speed limit of 35 miles an hour and individual care of all tires and equipment.

The rubber shortage also is reflected in the order calling for rationing of men's rubber footwear and rubber workshoes.
Stocks of six types of rubber boots and shoes were ordered frozen pending an inventory and start of the rationing plan this week. Now, County War Price and Rationing Boards have available to workmen and company purchasing agent who need the certificates required to make purchases.

In obtaining a certificate, the applicant must establish the fact that the actual work he performs is essential to the war effort. In addition he must supply the local board with identification, including selective service registration card, social security number, driver's license and similar proof.
Where possible, worn-out rubber footwear will be turned in at time of purchase.

Women's and children rubber footwear are not covered by the OPA's orders and may be bought without restrictions.

The shortage of most importance probably to the average family is in the nation's meat supply, which has been increasingly evident in the last few weeks. This is a different type of shortage than has been experienced with supplies with meats and other materials.

We have a greater supply than ever before. But due to the fact that we are feeding millions of men in our armed forces better than they were accustomed to in peace time, due to the huge needs of our lease-lend allies, and due to the fact that our better-paid civilian population is eating more meat, the demand also is greater than it ever has been.

As a fore-runner to actual card rationing of meat which possibly will come by February, orders have been issued by the OPA to slaughterers and packing houses to limit their deliveries for civilian use to specified percentages during the remainder of this year.

Slaughterers of more than 500, 000 pounds in a calendar quarter must hold deliveries to the following percentages of their 1943 deliveries; beef, 80 per cent, pork 75 per cent; lamb and mutton, 95 per cent; and veal 100 per cent. Other slaughterers are held to amount of their 1943 deliveries.

Although these orders apply only to wholesale deliveries, civilian consumers are urged to start rationing their own consumption or a voluntary basis to 2 1-2 pounds per person per week.

Indirectly affecting the average household was another OPA order cutting prices of cottonseed hulls back to their highest prices of March, 1942, effective October 1.
Principal direct beneficiaries to the price cut-back were dairymen whose feedin' costs were increased last month.

On the hairpin front, reduction in production to conserve metal means that in 1943 women will have to get along with one-fourth of the hairpins and bobbins they used this year. Also, because of the needs of the armed forces and lend-lease, housewives and other civilians will get only about 30 per cent as much fats and oils that go into shortenings, mayonnaise and salad dressing; 80 per cent of the normal amount of paints, varnishes and lacquers, and 70 per cent of linoleum, oil cloth and other coated fabrics. There'll also be less pepper and some other spices.

There also will be fewer frill and merchandising inducements.
Pick-up and delivery services will be cut to the bone. These shortages and curtailments will show conclusively that we're out to win this war, and public compliance and cooperation will mean the victory will come sooner.

Rope Soon to Move
The 10 million or more pounds of manila rope frozen in dealers' hands by WPB order soon will begin to move to the production and fighting fronts. Inventory report forms will be mailed to more than 57,000 dealers holding manila rope and owners will be advised that Metals Reserve Co., New York, is prepared to pay 10 per cent more than the net price pre-valing in the market when the rope was bought for such rope as is required.

Zinc Jar Lids Banned
Use of zinc in the manufacture of closures for glass jars and bottles has been banned by WPB after October 10. Housewives, however, can convert easily to war standards, as an excellent substitute for the zinc jar top is available in the porcelain closure with a steel rim. The zinc that will be saved will help to make more than 35,000 tons of brass for ammunition and other war uses.

Salmon Released to Civilians Twenty per cent of the salmon pack between March 1 and October 31, or about one-fifth of the total annual consumption of salmon, has been released for civilian consumption. The entire 1942 salmon pack was frozen in packers' hands to assure fulfillment of government requirements.

No Size Limit for Work Clothes WPB's textile, leather and clothing branch has pointed out that there is no restriction (under order L-181) on manufacture of oversized men's work clothing. Some manufacturers have interpreted the order, that covers production of men's clothing, to mean that overalls and pants over size 50 and shirts larger than size 19 were prohibited.

Materials and Needs Balanced Advance allocations of raw materials for military and non-miltary production in the fourth quarter of 1942 for the first time have been kept within the estimated supply, WPB Chairman Lon-ald Nelson announced. Authoriza-tions to receive materials for the quarter beginning October 1 now are being returned to applicants under the Production Requirement Plan, which governs material supplies to all users of more than $5000 worth of metal in a calendar quarter.

More Steel Saved
A minimum of 15,000 tons of steel will be saved as the result of a WPB order placing non-electric cooking equipment used in restaurants, hotels and cafeterias under strict production and distribution control. Use of iron and steel in such items as broilers, griddles, hot plates, ranges and roasters is restricted. Production of many types of equipment, including roll warmers, waffle irons and warming ovens, is halted entirely. Household cooking appliances are not affected by the order.

Industrial Scrap Drive Planned A "dormant" scrap drive, to urge industrial executives to assume of broken or worn-out tools, equipment, fixtures and obsolete machinery through regular scrap channels, is planned by WPB's conservation division. Regular field men of the industrial salvage section, aided by more than 500 volunteers who have been certified as temporary field men, will contact 70,000 industrial executives during the drive. Seven million additional tons of iron and steel scrap must be prepared for delivery to mills to keep up continuous steel production during the winter months.

More Recaps Available
A supplementary recapping quota of 482,379 for pas-enger car tires has been announced by OPA for the month of October.
This number, which more than doubles the quota already announced for the month, will make it possible for all car owners eligible under rationing to receive recap certificates from their local war price and rationing boards where their casings are worn smooth, thus preserving the tire carcasses. No change is made in the eligibility rules.

New OPA Offices Planned New district offices of the Office of Price Administration will be opened by October 15 at Lubbock, San Antonio and Tulsa, Region OPA Administrator Max Mc-Cullough has announced. They will be staffed to provide essential services in connection with price control and rationing for business firms and consumers. The Lub-

Church Activity

Sunday school attendance has fallen below normal in the past few weeks, since the beginning of the war for a few hours. The church was very busy through the week and very tired on Sunday, but please, folks do come to Sunday school and church and forget about your work and the war for a few hours. The painting job on the Methodist church was finished Saturday and painting was begun on the Baptist church Monday morning. Donations for the Baptist church were raised by Mrs. Felix Jarrell and Miss Alma Rogers.

School Dismissed for Gathering Crops

School was dismissed here and at Estelline Friday for a month's holiday to allow the children to help gather the bountiful cotton crop. The scarcity of help made the move necessary. Several weeks of fair weather will mean the gathering of many bales in this vicinity. The better than average price per hundred has induced many 'has-been' pullers into activity.

P. T. A. Program Postponed

Mrs. Sam L. Smith, president made the announcement that the October meeting of the Parent Teacher Association will not be held because of the dismissal of school. Regular programs will be resumed at the opening of school.

Mrs. Bill Cowan Dies in Colorado Springs

Mrs. Beatrice Pierce Cowan, 38, died at her home in Colorado Springs Friday morning at 1:30 following an illness of several years. Her condition had been serious for the past few weeks. Her mother, Mrs. Rhoda Nelson, went to her bedside Tuesday. Mrs. Cowan is survived by her husband, W. E. Cowan, her mother, Mrs. Rhoda Nelson, Newlin; two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Lokey of Memphis, and Mrs. Dora Mae McElroy of Memphis; a niece, Mrs. Millie Margaret Gregory, and two nephews, Larry Hardie and Jerry McElroy. Interment was made in Colorado Springs. Mrs. Cowan was born and reared at Newlin, and made her home here until her marriage to W. E. Cowan of Estelline in 1927, when they moved to Colorado Springs to make their home. Her sister, Mrs. Lokey, has been at her bedside for the past year caring for her. She has a number of relatives and friends here who mourn her going.

Scrap Happy Kids

In accordance with the nationwide scrap rally being held October 5 and 6, the Estelline and Newlin High School students are scouring every nook and corner for the precious metals badly needed by their Government. Tractors pulling wagons loaded with the scrap hunters are busy going up and down the highways coming back loaded with every piece of available scrap they can find, weighing it and dumping it near the gin lot.

Deaf-Mute Visits Here

Making a house-to-house canvass here with a small household item for sale, an exceptionally well dressed, intelligent young man proved to be a deaf mute. After displaying his wares, he made it known that he was deaf and dumb, spelling his price to me on his hands, he made his sale, smiled and thanked me with his hands and went on his way.

'There's Something About A Soldier'

That attracts young and old alike evidently, for they all gather around when Pfc. Fuller Burnett of Camp Edwards, Mass., and Pvt. Woodrow Murphy of Fort Sill, Okla., came to town. Both are on furlough visiting their families, Mr. and Mrs. John Burnett and Mrs. G. L. Murphy. The youngsters finger the fine woolen material of their new fall dress uniforms, question them about their rank, the meaning of the stripes and the significance of the new dress caps. Youngsters admire them silently and stand in awe of their elegance. Pfc. Burnett states that he likes army life fine and especially the fine country of Massachusetts, where he is located.

The P-T A met last Thursday night to elect officers for the coming year. Officers elected were: Mrs. Glen Stargel president; Mrs. Cecil Whitten, vice president; Mrs. Bufford Burnett, secretary-treasurer. A patriotic program was given by the school children. During the business session it was voted to have a Hallowe'en Carnival on Friday night, October 30.

W. E. Henry presented the school with a red, white and blue flag pole topped with a large V for Victory on Monday.

The scrap iron drive is in full swing. Two pounds of nails were picked up by the pupils and teachers. Our goal is 500 pounds in two weeks. The parents are urged to help with the drive by bringing their iron to the school ground.

Our school board and County Superintendent, Miss Tops Guireath, have made it possible for the rhythm band to have new equipment, the piano tuned, and also the new cafeteria.

School attendance is holding up nicely, it is reported, even though it is cotton picking time.

Why your own car's Zero Hour comes at 00 miles an hour

ON THE OFFENSIVE you've got to be on the instant. Eager fighters, frisky jeeps, and all that's going along, must get going together—exactly at Zero Hour. But on the home front these brisk mornings, will your own precious car and its engine lubrication get going together—without deadly oiling delay? You can be as sure as shootin', with your engine OIL-PLATED for Winter by patented Conoco Nth motor oil . . . oil that OIL-PLATES!

Even while the speedometer snoozes at 00 miles an hour—and you're still snug in your "kivers"—the chilly insides of your OIL-PLATED engine will already be coated by lubricant. Protective OIL-PLATING is really sort of "magnetized" to piston rings, bearings, and straight up the cylinders, by Conoco Nth oil's strong "power of attraction"—created by an added modern synthetic. This keeps the OIL-PLATING from all draining down to the crankcase overnight—over week-ends—and longer.

No complete lack of lubrication then, at 00 miles an hour—starting up cold. No long needless risk till cold oil comes inching along through passages as slim as spaghetti.

You're off safely, because OIL-PLATING safely stays on—ready to lubricate before any oil can circulate. This season don't merely change oil. It's fully as simple and inexpensive to change to an OIL-PLATED engine. Just change to patented Conoco Nth oil at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company tions that may kill or injure another, or damage the mails. Stress is laid on the fact that all parcels should be carefully and strongly packaged, on account of the great distances to be traversed. In short, a Christmas package must not only resist pressure of other mail in the same sack, but may have to withstand the weight of other sacks of mail which may be piled upon it. Furthermore each package is subject to censorship, delay in handling may be minimized by securing the covering of the parcel so as to permit ready inspection of the contents. According to the Postal Bulletin, combination packages are permissible, such as miscellaneous toilet articles, hard candies, soaps, etc. The contents of such packages should be tightly packed, in order that the several articles may not be loosened in transit, damaging the contents of the parcel itself or causing damage to the covering. Christmas boxes should be enclosed in substantial containers. Candles in pasteboard boxes should be enclosed in wood, metal or corrugated pasteboard. Sealed packages of candy, cigars, tobacco, and toilet articles in simple mercantile form may be enclosed within parcels without affecting the parcel post classification. Sharp-pointed or sharp-edged instruments, such as razors, knives, etc., must have their points or edges protected so they cannot cut through their coverings and damage other mail or injure postal employees. Not more than one Christmas parcel or package will be accepted in any one week from the same person to the same addressee. Finally, care should be taken to get the address correct and legible. Parcels addressed to overseas Army personnel should show, in addition to the name and address of the sender, the name, rank, Army serial number, branch of service, organization, A. P. O. number of the addressee and the post office through which the parcels are to be routed.

with the organization set-up headed by M. J. Draper, who with his committees has been doing a fine job through the schools. The scrap-happy school children have been doing a fine job, but the drive is not yet complete. It will not be complete until every individual has turned in a least 100 pounds of scrap metal, and every farm a ton.

It was announced over Radio Station WFAA several days ago that Hall County had turned in enough scrap rubber in a recent drive, and scrap metal in the drive before the one now in progress to place her at the top of the list in Texas—something to be proud of, but not enough to be satisfied. We must do more.

Estelline, Turkey, Newlin, Lesley, Brice, Plaska, Lakeview, and other schools of the county have really been at work. Piles and piles of scrap metal on every school yard in the county attest to the fact that school children can get the job done.
