Farm Home Water System No Longer To 'Save Labor'

Inconvenience of Carrying Water In and Out Causes More Work for Farmers

A tendency to consider a farm home water system a luxury and not a labor saving device is gradually becoming overcome in Texas, according to M. R. Bentley, agricultural engineer for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

He cites the paradox that while water is the most necessary and useful item around the home, many families give little attention to making the water supply convenient. "Probably the heaviest work around the farm house is carrying in water or carrying out waste water. This heavy work may be lightened greatly by the installation of a kitchen sink with water piped to it and a waste pipe to dispose of waste water," he says.

The Four Bandits of the Cotton Field

By T. C. RICHARDSON, Associate Editor Farm and Ranch

No part of the Southwestern cotton belt is entirely free from insect depredations and most of this area is subject to attack by all four of the "cotton bandits," at one time or another through the growing season. Happily enough we seldom have all four in the same field in the same season, but no season passes where they are prevalent without some damage to the crop. Like weeds, they are a constant threat, and also like weeds, they can be controlled by the timely use of right methods.

The cotton flea hopper and the boll weevil are the most common and the most dangerous of the four bandits which are annually robbing Southwestern cotton farmers of approximately one bale out of eight. They are first in the field, and often appear together. The flea hopper is difficult to see unless one is trained to look for it, but its presence is suggested when the tiny fruit buds fall off before they grow to be "squares." This is often attributed to lack of moisture or excess moisture, which may be the case later in the season when the plants are loaded with fruit, or take a spurt of growth after a rain succeeding a dry period. At early fruiting time, however, the stalk is not overloaded, and if it is falling to hold the fruit buds, it is highly probable that the flea hopper is responsible.

At this time boll weevils are coming out of winter quarters, and if they are present can usually be found in the cool of the day around the terminal buds. They cannot multiply until squares are large enough for egg deposition. Those which die naturally or are killed by poison at this stage of cotton growth (early fruiting) will never have progeny. "Pre-square poisoning" is therefore a measure of insurance to delay heavy summer infestations of boll weevil.

are present in damaging numbers. The price of a cotton crop is eternal vigilance, with insects as with weeds. Keeping ahead of them is more effective and more economical than waiting for them to get a good start. If a regular dusting schedule for the control of boll weevils and flea hoppers is carried out, the early broods of leaf worms will also be held down. Sulphur also reduces the numbers of aphids (cotton lice) which sometimes dwarf the plant by sucking the succulent foliage.

The "four bandits"—flea hopper, boll weevil, leaf worm, and boll worm—may be defeated with one implement and two materials—a good dusting machine, calcium arsenate, and dusting sulphur. It's too late to get ready for war after the enemy has already done serious damage. Dr. and Mrs. O. R. Goodall and Mrs. Jack Boone were Amarillo visitors Wednesday of last week. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Head and daughter Joyce Ann visited their parents in Wichita Falls the first part of the week.

SUBMARGINAL AND EXPLOITIVE FARMING HAVE IMPOVERISHED BOTH LAND AND PEOPLE

One Farm Problem Concerns Land Which Has Been Robbed of Fertility

Editor's Note—This is the first of a series of six articles dealing with the background of the farm problem. The above sketch graphically points out one of the problems of today.

One reason why America has a farm problem is that too much land that should never have been farmed has been put into cultivation and too much land now farmed under practices that mine the soil of its fertility.

As a result, about 50 million acres of American farm land are now worthless, and another 50 million acres border on abandonment.

Conservation of the nation's soil resources is one of the first steps in solving the farm problem. In Texas, more than half of the cropland has been protected by soil and water conserving practices and the work is spreading to include pastures and range lands.

The state soil and water conservation district law gives farmers and ranchers a tool whereby they can cooperate to speed up their conservation work. Assistance from many sources, including county agricultural agents, teachers of vocational agriculture, the SCS, CCC, FSA, and NYA is available, and the first purpose of the AAA program is to encourage use of practices which build fertility and prevent erosion.

Chemicals Prevent Rotting of Posts

Green, sappy posts of such nondurable woods as sap pine, cottonwood, and post oak will last from 10 to 15 years, possibly much longer, when treated with zinc chloride.

The chemical is applied by the so-called tire tube method, and is inexpensive as compared with many other types of fence posts.

A number of Texas farmers have demonstrated the practicality of this system of post treatment in cooperation with C. W. Simmons, farm forester of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, and with county agricul-

It must maintain production, find and develop new fields, meet competitive markets for its products and pay its total expense bill of 750 million dollars a year, which includes its payroll. The Texas petroleum industry now has to pay 97 million dollars a year in taxes to Federal, State and local governments before it can consider wages and employment. When expenses must be cut to satisfy increasing tax demands, employment suffers, and with it, the buying power that employment creates in our State." ### Call for 4,000 Boys During July Is Made by CCC

Applications May Be Made To Hall County Welfare Office; Are Accepted Now

Adam R. Johnson, director of the state department of public welfare, who has the responsibility for the selection of boys for the Civilian Conservation Corps, has been advised that approximately 4,000 boys will be needed in July to bring existing camps to full strength.

"Boys who wish to be selected for the CCC must be of good character, at least 17 years and not more than 23 years and 6 months of age, and not have already served more than 18 months since July, 1937," explained Mr. Johnson.

Applications should be made to the Hall County Welfare Office as quickly as possible so when final county quotas are announced, those eligible may be sent to enrolling points. At present there are over 16,000 Texans in CCC camps, 10,000 in Texas and 6,000 in Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming. Over $300,000 per month in allotments is returned to the family groups of these boys.

"Members of the CCC cannot be automatically transferred to the Army," continued Mr. Johnson, "as they are considered in all respects civilian employees of the government. Were they at home, at work on the farm, in stores or banks, they would be no safer from Army service than they are as members of the Corps."

"Texas boys will find the CCC one of the most beneficial experiences of their lives, where the best care, food and attention is theirs, while they are able to assist their families with the allotments," added Mr. Johnson.

The CCC is an agency of natural and human conservation that gives dual service to the American youth and to the nation, it was explained. More than 2,400,000 young men have been enrolled in some 4,000 separate camps. While enjoying the advantages of security, discipline and a well-ordered life, these young Americans have planted more than 1,700,000 trees, have constructed more than 100,000 miles of trails and minor roads, have built 75,000 miles of telephone lines and spent more than 5,000,000 man days fighting forest fires, Mr. Johnson said.

who have known him for 38 years were wondering how he would stack up in the rough and tumble of politics. We know now. Reports from every county in this district indicate that his cheerful good humor, and his forthright honesty are doing the same things in other counties that they have done here—winning him steadfast friends. We are jubilant over our chances of electing him to Congress.

"I wish every public official in Texas knew of the record of Deck Wells as mayor of Wellington," was the comment of Fred Lederer, who followed Deskins Wells as mayor of Wellington. "He reduced the bonded indebtedness from $220,000 to $163,000 in four years without sacrificing any essential services, and at the same time $50,000 worth of new streets were built. Furthermore he has continued to help me every time I asked for it in continuing this work."

The farmers in this section are solid in their support of Deck Wells," stated Jack Watson, manager of the Farmers Co-Op Gin, "but a trip to Pampa and Phillips has convinced me that the oil field workers are just as interested in his candidacy as are the farmers down here in his home county."

Deskins Wells' only personal comment follows: "I want this campaign to be one of natural support. In these critical times, my sole interest is in preserving our Democratic form of government and perpetuating our chosen way of life. I believe that I stand for something of vital concern to the people of the Panhandle, and I am more interested in seeing this section and this nation pursue a proper course than I am a few lengths, but the check Wednesday made me sick.

The storage tank has been erected and pipe is being laid. Some way will be found to complete the job, even though nearly 1,600 feet of the main pipe was not recovered after the graveyard thief had got in his dirty work. The job of securing enough funds to provide water at the cemetery has been a hard one, and having a lot of the pipe stolen has made the task doubly hard. The job will be completed in spite of such setbacks.

The chicken barbecue and safety meeting of West Texas Utilities Co. employees of this district at City Park Wednesday night was followed by an enjoyable occasion. Mack Wilson, local manager, was the program director and did a fine job of entertaining. The weather was cool and the park surroundings made an ideal setting for the occasion. The City Park is becoming the recreational center for the entire area. Memphis is to be congratulated for providing such a playground.

Deck Wells is to open his speaking campaign in his home town of Wellington Friday night. The affair will be the greatest ever held in Collingsworth County if it meets the expectation of the supporters who are promoting the meeting. The Collingsworth County Agricultural Association, composed of practically every farmer in that county, has endorsed Deck's candidacy for Congress as follows: "Deskins Wells, during the 15 years he has served as editor of The Wellington Leader, has worked continually and effectively for the farmers and ranchers not only of Collingsworth County but of the entire Panhandle, supporting those measures which are designed to benefit the agricultural section, and opposing those that would prove a detriment. The association goes on record as supporting Deskins Wells in his race for Congress."

Donald W. May, advertising manager for The Democrat, and wife left Thursday morning for Mineral Wells to attend the annual meeting of the Texas Press Association. This is one occasion that I attend if at all possible. This year, on account of backsets in Fairview Cemetery waterworks, the pleasure of meeting friends from all over Texas will have to be passed this year.

Tri-State Press of the Amarillo News in quoting The Democrat staff poet's verse on "Banquet," remarked that it would be awful if the poet attempted to write about Flander's Field, Hitler, or the war. So the following does not concern either:

JUST A NAME By Democrat Staff Poet Would pumpkins be as bright and sweet and to us just as good to eat, if they were called some other name? Would they be pumpkins just the same? If a lion's name was Tabby Cat, and would he be gentle, sleek and fat? Would Little Ronald be as dear if he were known as Maxy Baer? Is there something in a name that causes things to be wild or tame? Would an orchid, sweet and rare be loved as much if called prickly pear? But there's an answer never doubt. It's too deep for me to figure out. If I had kids I wanted tame, I'd take no chance on some wild name.

Food Stamp—

(Continued from page 1) in the benefits which will come to them through the program. "The job of expanding domestic consumption and finding wider farm markets is made more vital by the World War and the resultant shrinkage of foreign outlets for agricultural products. This is a time of national as well as international crisis. The stamp plan program, with the changes in the surplus list during the summer months to meet seasonal farm problems, will help. It will give underprivileged families health-giving food, and it will give our farmers the markets they need."

Authorization—

(Continued from page 1) known, Judge M. O. Goodpasture said Thursday morning. The amount set aside for the county will include work on roads throughout the county, he said, and may include work on the new feeder road from Memphis to the Wellington-Childress Highway 83. Asphalt on the U. S. Highway 287 will call for a widening of the road from the point just south of Memphis where a similar project was closed several months ago. Shoulders along the side of the road will be asphalted, thus widening the road for about four miles south of Memphis. T. D. Weatherby and Mack Wilson went to Byrns Thursday morning to secure "Red" Lyons' rodeo stock for the old settler's reunion and rodeo in July.

West Texas Utilities Has District Safety Meeting Picnic at City Park

Representatives of the West Texas Utilities Company from nine cities attended the quarterly safety meeting of the company at the Memphis City Park Wednesday night. The meeting was held in conjunction with the annual picnic for employees of the local company.

Preceding the program, chicken barbecue was served to those present. Towns represented were Memphis, Paducah, Matador, Quitaque, Childress, Wellington, Snamrock, Clarendon, Hedley.

Mayor J. C. Wells spoke on "What the Public Thinks of the Company's Safety Work," and was followed by W. W. Campbell of Abilene, who talked on "How to Care for an Injured Person Before the Doctor Arrives."

Sam J. Hamilton, company attorney, gave an address on "Safety from the Liability Viewpoint." District Attorney John Deaver, talked on "Fits and Mis-Fits in Safety." Jim Fullington, line superintendent from Childress, spoke on "Summer Automobile Hazards."

Other entertainment included music by Gordon and Ed Gilliam, and a song by Anita Meacham. The meeting was closed with the singing of "America," led by Mrs. J. A. Brewer, wife of the district manager of Childress.

Memphians attending as guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Denver, Mr. and Mrs. Sam J. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Tarver, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Odom, Mrs. Murray Dodson, Mrs. Glynis Thompson, Gordon and Ed Gilliam, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gilliam, Ray Childress, Betty Johnson, Eddie Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Dose, Dave Browder, Mrs. Ola Mae Ward, Anita Meacham.

Memphis company employees present were Mr. and Mrs. Mack Wilson and son Mack Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jack Norman, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Rule and son Billy, H. C. Chemical Treatment of Cottonseed Can Bring Texas Greater Production

Chemical treatment of cottonseed might bring Texas farmers an extra 320,000 bales of cotton in 1940.

In four year tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, treatment increased the yield by an average of 25 per cent at College Station; 12 per cent at Temple; 9 per cent in the Brazos Bottom; and 4 per cent at Lubbock, or an average of 12 1/2 per cent. This average, if applied to the entire Texas crop, would raise the state yield of 162 pounds per acre (for the past two years) by 20 pounds.

The treatment used by the experiment station was an organic mercury dust, known as an organo-ceresan, at the rate of three ounces to the bushel. A new improved organo-ceresan is now available, and recommended treatment is one and one-half ounces per bushel.

Increased yields, according to E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, come because of higher germination. It has been found that the treatment is most effective in unfavorable seasons. The chemical also reduces loss from seed-borne diseases, such as sore shin, or damping off, bacterial boll rot, and angular leaf spot. Directions for treating seed and construction of an inexpensive barrel mixing machine can be obtained from county agricultural agents, Miller said.

McMaster in Race For Commissioner Of Precinct No. 2

Former Office-holder Invites Investigation of Record as Public Official

A. R. McMaster authorizes The Democrat to announce his candidacy for the office of commissioner for precinct No. 2, subject to the action of the Democratic primary July 27.

Mr. McMaster has been a resident of Hall County for 21 years, and his record as a citizen and a public official in the years past is well known to the voters of his precinct. He stated that he decided to make the race only after due consideration, and invites the closest investigation of his record as county commissioner a few years ago.

He said, "While serving as commissioner I handled the affairs of the office in a business-like manner, keeping expenses to the minimum in accordance with the times through which the country was passing. If elected this year I promise to serve the people to the very best of my ability, and to look after the affairs of the office in a capable and efficient manner. I feel that my former experience as commissioner qualifies me for the office, and will appreciate the vote and influence of the voters in my precinct."

Balloting at Leach was 10 to 0 in favor of consolidation, at Wolf Flat 14 to 4, and at Turkey, 34 to 2.

The winning team of the league will be given a trophy, Watkins said, and each of the players a miniature gold softball.

An exhibition game between Memphis All-Stars and some out-of-town team will be played once every two weeks, Watkins said. The next exhibition game will be played Friday night, June 21, with the Amarillo Clowns.

Rules for the league have been outlined by Watkins, and, although they were not enforced this week, they will be in effect next week. The rules are as follows:

1. Each team should have a maximum of 15 players and a minimum of 10 registered and turned in to the softball official by Monday noon, June 17. The official can be found at the schoolhouse.
2. If, by chance, a player wants to change from one team to another, he must stay out of competition within the league for two weeks, before registering with another team.
3. If, within 15 minutes after the scheduled playing time, one team does not show up, the opposing team wins the game by forfeit, with a score of 1-0.
4. Each team must furnish their own balls and bats for competition within the league.
5. Only 15 minutes will be allowed for both teams to warm up.
6. Playing nights within the league will be Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday nights.
7. Friday night of every other week will be set aside for an all-star game with an out-of-town team.
8. Each player must sign a card which will be given to the manager, entitling that player to be eligible for league competition with that team.
9. The games start promptly at 8 o'clock. Warm-ups should be held before that time.
10. Any team caught violating the player rule will be withdrawn from the league competition immediately.
11. If one team is 10 or more runs ahead of its opponents at the end of the 5th inning, the game is automatically called. Otherwise the games will last seven innings.

charge of 10 cents per hour is made on the courts at night to pay for the lights.

A double tennis tourney will start next Monday, Watkins said, and names of all teams must be turned in to the supervisor by Monday noon. Teams may be either men, women, or mixed doubles.

The tennis courts may be reserved by signing the player's name on the blackboard on the north end of the courts, Watkins explained.

Horseshoe pitching is to be started in the next few days. Three sets of horseshoes will be placed next to the tennis courts. In addition, a shuffleboard will be placed next to the courts for use at any time. A ping pong table is also to be moved outside where play may be enjoyed, Watkins said.

Summer band rehearsals, under the direction of James W. West, new bandmaster, continued this week. Beginners meet with Mr. West each morning from 9 to 10 o'clock. The practiced musicians meet from 10 to 11:30 o'clock each morning. In addition, the practiced musicians are meeting each Tuesday and Thursday nights at 8 o'clock for rehearsals, since some of those interested in the summer band program are unable to attend the morning sessions.

THE LOGICAL SUCCESSOR

IT ISN'T OFTEN that The Democrat steps out into the realms of political battles, but when a group of has-been political big-wigs in the Capitol (?) city of Northwest Texas attempt to become Panhandle dictators as far as to whom the people want for U. S. Congressman from the 18th district is concerned, it's high time all the rest of the people in the Panhandle did something about it.

When a man like Marvin Jones is practically forced to jump into something he does not want in, all because a certain group gets selfish ideas, then something ought to be done.

The veteran congressman, when he found out that all was not as it appeared on the surface, immediately did what anyone in his position would probably have done. He withdrew from the race.

Jones, The Democrat believes, did the smartest thing he could have done in withdrawing. He ended an outstanding political career in an honorable way—leaving his post open and still holding the love and admiration of his many friends.

Picking a successor to Jones is another problem. It is well known that most of Jones' work in the Congress has been along agricultural lines—and his successor should be a man who can carry out the same kind of work. Several of the candidates might be able to do this.

Outstanding among the candidates for filling the shoes of Jones, however, is Deskins Wells of Wellington. He was reared on a farm, he knows the conditions and the life of a farmer, he knows their needs.

Wells is not the type of person who waits to be told of the needs of the agricultural class. He is the type of person who finds out these needs firsthand.

Furthermore, Wells knows that in an agricultural section, such as the entire 28 counties which the 18th district comprises, the towns and cities in such a district are almost entirely dependent on the income of the agricultural class.

He has watched, along with thousands of others in the Panhandle, the decrease in productiveness of the land, and has made extensive studies on how these problems can be adjusted.

Besides knowing the needs of this section, Wells has already proved himself to be a leader. He was reared in Collingsworth County, and has always been a leader there. He was a leader in his school work in the Collingsworth County schools, he was a leader in his work in college, holding numerous offices of trust and honor on the campus of the University of Texas, the largest school in the entire Southwest. He has served as president of the Panhandle Press Association, the largest regional press organization in Texas, and has also served as president of the state press group, the Texas Press Association.

The race is still young, yet Wells has already shown that he is able to remain cool-headed in a crisis. When Jones announced that he would allow his name to be placed on the ballot, "at least for the present," Wells did not either withdraw immediately or go back on his word that he would withdraw if Jones did announce. Instead, he coolly stated that he did "not want to run for office bad enough to go back on any statement I have made. The fact that I spent my time and hard-earned money is no excuse for me to fail to keep my word. If Mr. Jones runs, I am out of the race, but before I get out, I want to know for certain that he is in."

Being a leader has not made him egotistical. He is the type of man Will Rogers would have said was a great man, and Rogers also said that the greatest men were the most common men.

That he is a leader can also be shown by the large number of friends he has made, especially in his home county. A man reared in a county who later makes his home there has a double-hard battle to fight. But Wells has won that battle. Every man, woman, and child in Collingsworth County are giving freely of their time and money to help Deskins Wells. What more recommendation for a successor to Jones could be asked?

WHERE DID THEY GO?

SOMETHING IS HAPPENING when a county loses almost 5,000 citizens in a period of ten years. Something is happening when more than 700 farms in a county just vanish.

The loss of such a large number of people will naturally affect all the rest of the citizens in that county, and we remaining citizens will feel this loss.

CULLED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

Just Barely Missed

Shamrock Texan: Shamrock can blame the European war for failure to rate a world premiere of the Warner Bros. picture, "All This, and Heaven Too," and the rare privilege of being host to members of the picture's cast who had planned to make personal appearances here during the film's showing.

Three weeks ago Mayor Bill Walker received a telephone call from New York, asking if Shamrock would like to have the premiere. Bill thought it was a gag or a promotion deal of some sort but cautiously extended an invitation for the movie party to visit Shamrock.

Imagine Bill's surprise a couple of days later when Ben Cohen of the Warner Brothers publicity department arrived in Shamrock by plane from New York, ready to make plans for the premiere. Cohen explained he had hit on the idea of opening the picture in Shamrock and was favorably impressed with the city. He believed he could receive worlds of free newspaper publicity by staging the premiere in a small town like Shamrock. He asked nothing in return and so Bill became interested.

Mayor Walker received an airmail special delivery letter from Cohen Wednesday in which he stated, "because of the war situation they have decided to release the picture as a road show attraction opening it in key cities such as Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, and Cleveland."

And that, ladies and gentlemen, is how close Shamrock came to being host to a group of movie celebrities.

War Stuff

"Tim Moody" in the Odessa News-Times: They told me the other day that sugar was scarce during the last war. One woman said that she worked in a small grocery store, and that a Negro came in and wanted to buy a dime's worth of sugar. Whereupon the lady replied, "I don't have scales delicate enough to weigh out that small amount, but I'll let you look at it for a dime."

The McLean News: And now they say that efforts are being made to grow bananas with a zipper. Maybe they had better concentrate on a non-skid covering first.

A New Idea

Ed Bishop in the Dalhart Texan (written before Marvin Jones quit the Congressional race): Strange to say most of the candidates for Congress are staying in the race regardless of Marvin Jones' announcement. It is pretty tough on them, having spent lots of money and time getting started, it's hardly fair to ask them to get out now. It's a cinch that few, if any, of them would have announced in the beginning had Mr. Jones definitely stated his intentions. According to certain officials in Washington, President Roosevelt has decided to accept a third term provided he is given the privilege of naming his running mate. Then, if elected, the President would, as soon as the war is over, turn over the reins of the government to the vice president. It is said that the only reason he would accept a third term is on account of the war.

Why would it not be a smart thing for Marvin to take the same position? Let the candidates stay in the race and the one that runs second to Mr. Jones (provided the Congressman runs first) go immediately to Washington as Mr. Jones' understudy, stay there for several months or a year. Then let Marvin Jones accept the judgeship, which I understand is to stand open until he is ready to take it, and let the understudy be properly elected by the people.

That suggestion may not be workable but surely something on that order should be decided. The present situation is decidedly unfair to those who have announced. To quit now would make some of them look like cowards, while if they stay in and try to win it means a lot of money and time spent with all the odds against them.

Governor Candidates

J. C. Estlack in the Donley County Leader: Col. Ernest Thompson "announces for governor without music," we read in the dailies through Sunday. "A nickel for grandma," will be the slogan, but is rather behind the times when most of Texas has already decided to vote for the largest bull fiddle in the campaign. Dan Moody needs a few more postals to get him into the race. Moody? Moody? Who is Moody anyhow? Was he the yahoo over in Williamson County who, as a district attorney, sent an old Baptist preacher to the pen for parading in his pasture with a bedsheet over his head?"

Maybe

The Canyon News: This country will be the land of the free as long as it remains the home of the brave.

Personality

Jack Stamper in the Tulla Herald: The return of the town's college class always adds zip and pep to the personal appearance of the community. In addition it provokes thought speculation. For instance the plain home town girl who goes away to college very often comes back at the end of the year a glamorous young lady. A touch here and there, a poise, and an awakened personality has made a new person of her. Personal observation has concluded that often times the most valuable lesson driven home during four years of advanced learning is that which stimulates a reformation or development of a personality. If rightly used, such can easily be a virtue.

War Should Be to U. S.—

Secretary of War Newton D. Baker drawing the first World War draft.

World War taught the States lots of things, how to handle the nation were ever war again.

The struggle ended when the War and armaments went to work. The result is a new industrial mobilization which is ready for America should it.

It will be done. It does say that the last war convinced the War and Navy Departments that next time, if there were a next time, the nation should be fully coordinated, geared for quick action.

That quick action the country is demanding today, and showing in the greatest military program in peacetime.

Evidence of the seriousness with which the industrial mobilization plan is being considered, however, is to be found in the Lee bill, ready for congressional action at the first sign of American involvement.

Prepared by Senator Josh Lee, Oklahoma, the bill would make law of the major points of the Army-Navy plan, impose heavy fines for failure to take the number of bonds allotted, would empower the President to take a census of the nation's net wealth.

Finally, there are other bills, equally drastic, which would take the profits out of the whole war program.

Advice on Your Health FROM ONE WHO KNOWS

By DR. GEO. W. COX
State Health Officer

A number of cases of snake bite are reported each year in Texas during the summer and early fall; however, few of them result fatally.

Most of the bites occur on the hands or feet, which indicates that stepping or falling in the immediate vicinity of an unseen snake or picking up objects under similar conditions are the hazards of contacting snake bite. The pain following the injection of poison is most intense. Other symptoms are swelling, giddiness, difficult breathing, hemorrhage, weak pulse, and vomiting.

If one is bitten by a poisonous snake, such as the rattlesnake, the following first aid measures should be carried out:

After making proper incisions at the site of the wound, apply suction and continue for at least half an hour.

Apply a tourniquet above the site of the wound, releasing same every ten or fifteen minutes for about a minute at a time.

Secure the services of a physician at the earliest possible moment.

DO NOT run or get overheated and DO NOT take any alcoholic stimulants, because circulation increased by alcohol or exercise serves to distribute the poison much more rapidly through the body.

DO NOT injure the tissues by injecting permanganate of potash, which is known to be of no value as an antidote.

DO NOT depend upon home remedies or so-called snake-bite cures, but call a physician immediately.

Increased Interest In Dairy Days Over State Is Exhibited

23 Shows During Year Have Attracted 10,000; 1,233 Cattle Are Shown

The third annual series of official "dairy days" reached new highs in 1940 as 23 shows were held in as many dairy centers of the state. The shows drew a total attendance in excess of 10,000.

Classification of dairy animals according to type rather than on a show basis grew increasingly popular as 1,233 head of cattle were exhibited.

"It is evident that dairymen are learning more about dairy types," G. G. Gibson, assistant dairyman of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, commented. In 1939, seven per cent of the animals shown did not qualify for classification. This year every animal exhibited received a ribbon in one of the four grades. The requirements for the ribbons have been the same each year.

A like improvement was shown in the quality of dairy products exhibited. W. V. Maddox, extension dairy manufacturing specialist, reported. In 1939, 33 per cent of the products shown fell below the minimum classification; this year the number was reduced to 20 per cent.

The dairy cattle judging contest, held in connection with each dairy day, drew 3,622 entrants, while 1,826 people took part in the dairy products judging contests.

Judges included representatives of A. and M. College, the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and both the Texas and American Jersey Cattle Clubs.

Dairy days were held at Houston, La Grange, Dallas, Brownwood, San Angelo, Robstown, Austin, Temple, Eastland, Lamesa, Floydada, Childress, Wheeler, Tulla, Vernon, Bowie, Henderson, Sulphur Springs, Bonham, Sweetwater, San Antonio, and Victoria.

Canning Time Is Near Again—Check Up on Materials

Pressure Cooker, Glass Jars Need Checking Over, Says A. and M. Specialist

Rural housewives who contemplate beginning work on their farm and home food budgets within the next few weeks had better get ready right away if they haven't already. Adequate preparation in advance will greatly improve the quality of the canned products, reduce the actual time of the canning operation, and help insure against spoilage, according to Grace I. Neely, specialist in food preservation for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

First of all, the family's pressure cooker should be checked over to be sure that it is in good condition and safe for use. Frequently county home demonstration agents train local home demonstration club leaders to conduct "pressure cooker clinics" back in their own communities. In some cases it may be necessary to return the cooker to the factory in the event there are major adjustments to be made.

Where glass jars are used, it is a good policy to inspect them for cracks and chips before the canning season. New supplies of lids and rubber rings are means of insuring against canning failures, the specialist points out. Successful use of glass depends upon the quality of the rubber rings or composition tops and upon the rims being free from nicks and chips. The tops should fit and the balls be tight.

If cans are to be used, it is better to secure new ones each year rather than re-plate the old ones. Miss Neely says sanitary or R enamel-lined cans preserve the color of such highly colored foods as berries, prunes, and beets and prevent corrosion in pumpkin and squash. C enamel-lined cans will help to prevent discoloration of products such as corn, peas, hominy, chicken or fish products, but these should not be used for acid products or fat meats.

Weather

The temperature dropped some 20 degrees early Monday morning with a 30-mile gale from the North, bearing cool winds from nearby areas where recent rains have fallen. The official gauge on the Red River showed a 5-foot rise in the water Saturday night. Last week's temperature ranged in the 90's several days, much to the pleasure of the farmers, who want sunny days for the cotton. And speaking of sunshine, I hear that a former Texas resident who lives in Maine is "pining" for a few days of warm Texas sunshine. But cheer up lady, for there will be days when we will be hopping the perspiration from our brows and you will be wearing a light coat with comfort.

Church Announcements

Regular services were held Sunday at the Baptist Church with the pastor in charge. An invitation to attend a picnic at the Waxahachie Baptist Home was given, and transportation will be furnished for some from this charge. Several quilts have been donated and other things are being collected to be sent to the Home from here June 27. Miss Margie Huckaby returned from a week's stay at Abilene, where she attended summer assembly for the Methodist young people. Rev. Alton Vaughn and Robert Knight are preparing to go to Pastors School at S. M. U., which begins June 17.

Batler-Crow Wedding

Miss Hazel Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Butler of Estelina, became the bride of Robert Crow in a quiet ceremony at her home Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock, June 4. The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Crow, brother of the groom. Mr. Crow is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Van Crow, and has spent most of his life here. They will make their home here.

Mothers Club Meets

Newlin Mothers Club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Will Jarrell, with Mrs. Sam Smith as joint hostess. One quilt was quilted and one pieced for the hostesses. A covered dish luncheon which included barbecued and fried chicken, hot rolls, a variety of vegetables and salads and desserts was served at noon. One gift was auctioned. It was decided to hold the annual picnic in July at the Memphis City Park. Two new members were added to the roll, Mrs. Jim Berryman and Mrs. Bill Kesterson. Twenty-six guests were present for the day. The next meeting will be July 11 at the home of Mrs. D. W. Lawrence.

Visitors

Mrs. Emma Roan and son of Electra are visiting this week with her daughter, Mrs. Manuel Burnett. Mrs. Hayden Huckaby and son, Mrs. Jack Garrett, and Mrs. Jim Nelson of Spade, and Mrs. Charles Glover and daughter, Sue Lynn of Sudan spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives here. Mrs. Maggie Harrell has been ill the past week, but is some improved at this time. Miss Isabelle Walker spent Saturday and Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Mary Walker at Hedley. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tucker and children of Clarendon spent the week-end with his parents.

Safe Easy Way TO LOSE FAT

How would you like to safely and harmlessly lose some of that ugly fat in a few weeks? How would you like to lose your double chin and your too prominent hips and abdomen and along with it get the increase in energy and improvement in health which so often accompanies excess fat reduction? Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh. Take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of water first thing every morning. Then eat your fill of foods that lessen caloric intake. After 30 days, weigh yourself again and just see if you haven't lost pounds of ugly fat. Kruschen is a famous English formula made in the U. S. A. Kruschen comes in either the NEW pleasant bubbling form or PLAIN non-fizzy form for those who prefer to take it in hot water. A bottle lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle. Money back if not perfectly satisfied. MEACHAM'S PHARMACY.

"Build-Up" Important Protector of Women

A weak, undernourished condition often enables functional dysmenorrhea to get a foothold; thus leads to much of woman's suffering from headaches, nervousness, and other periodic discomfort.

CARDUI's principal help for such distress comes from the way it usually stimulates appetite; increases flow of gastric juice; thus aids digestion; helps build energy, strength, physical resistance to periodic pain for many.

Another way, many women find help for periodic distress: Take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time." Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years!

Tree Belts Being Concentrated Now

"Concentrations of shelterbelts are now developing in 32 counties in northwest Texas," W. E. Webb, state director of the Prairie States Forestry project, stated recently. Wheeler, Cottle, Hall, Collingsworth, Donley, Wilbarger, Childress, and Motley counties have planted over 100 miles of tree belts during the past five years. Wheeler County alone has over 350 miles of shelterbelts.

Mr. Webb declared that concentrations of tree belts are important in developing farm, and particularly community, stability; this is accomplished by reducing sand blowing and the effect of burning by the hot summer winds. This is one of the big reasons for concentrating tree-planting in the older areas instead of expanding into new areas. The greater the number of shelterbelts in an area, the greater the protection given to the farms.

This year a considerable number of intermediate or narrower three to five row belts were planted to augment the wider ten row multiple use of belts. The wider belts are usually planted a half mile apart and the narrower belts are used as fill-in to provide complete protection to the farm and community. Wolf Flat in Motley County, Dunlap in Cottle County, Pakan in Wheeler County are a few areas where maximum protection is becoming possible as a result of shelterbelt concentrations.

Mr. Webb also stated that applications for shelterbelts to be planted next winter are being accepted by all county agents as well as at shelterbelt offices. Hall County has two shelterbelt sub-district offices, one at Memphis in the First National Bank building, the other at Turkey.

Romance A Modern Linerider on the Range

"Hangin' a pot's like bulldoggin' a steer"

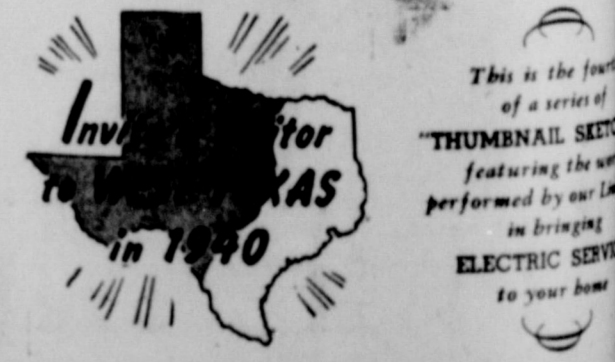

THE modern linerider has a language all his own, much the same as the West Texas cowboy uses a "range" tongue "foreign" to most of us.

These linemen are hanging a pot on a 50-foot Black Diamond. They are using a gut on the hot wires for protection against high voltage juice.

A "pot" is a transformer, fixed high up on a creosote pole. It reduces voltage to 110 or 220 volts so that electric current can be safely used in your home. A "gut" is the rubber line hose placed around the wires to prevent shock.

Until a worker is experienced enough to perch atop the pole without fear and without holding on with one hand, he is known as a "clumb-some." The man working on the ground, sending up tools and handling paraphernalia is called a "Grunt." "Coon that pole" is the signal to climb a pole when not equipped with climbing hooks or spurs. "Suck on it" means to take up the slack in a new wire being strung. A "johnnie ball" is an insulator. A "nigger-head" is a porcelain fuse cutout around which wires are tied on cross-arms for insulation purposes. "The Bear" is the sobriquet sometimes given "the boss."

Although the lineman's life is fraught with danger, he is a normal citizen... maybe your neighbor. He is one of hundreds of men and women working behind the scenes to help make Electric Service efficient, dependable, and economical here... On him we bestow a title of honor — A Modern Linerider.

This is the fourth of a series of THUMBNAILED SKETCHES featuring the work performed by our linemen in bringing ELECTRIC SERVICE to your home.

I'm A Small Town Storekeeper And Like It For Three Reasons

Evans' my name. Roy Evans. Folks 'round here mostly call me just Roy.

I like living in a small town and runnin' store mostly for three reasons. First, I know most of the folks in town and in the country too, and they're my friends. We get along with each other and that means a lot in a world where folks ain't gettin' along as well as they should, especially in Europe. Second, small town folks is progressive. We got good churches, good schools, a nice park for the kids, a swell Rotary Club. There ain't nothin' boresome about bein' a small town citizen and businessman. And third, we got a good live weekly newspaper that gets over the territory, that folks has got confidence in and that reads it from cover to cover. It sure gets my stores advertising around, too!

"What's that? Sure I know somethin' about advertisin'. Been runnin' ads reg'lar in the local weekly for years. Wouldn't skip a week 'less I broke a leg or somethin'. And not even then.

What do I think of national advertisin'? Like magazines and radio, you mean?

Guess it's all right. Never give much thought to it, though. Exceptin' sometimes when some salesman comes in and tells me what a wonderful thing his firm's doin' for me by advertisin' in some magazine I never see—or over the air on some program I never hear.

You know, that kind of makes me smile. And do you know why? Because it's like somebody tellin' you to close your eyes and hold out your hand. Well you think you're goin' to get somethin' mighty pleasant and like as not you find it's mighty disappointin' instead.

You know that what an ad in the home town paper means? It means everybody hereabouts sees it. Yes sir—everybody. Even old Doc Starkey—who says he don't read the paper any more since the editor spelled his name with an "o".
