Only Licensed Men to Give Tests

That all cows, from which safe and pure milk and butter are to be produced, must be tested by a veterinarian approved by the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission to make valid the certificate showing that cows are free from Bangs Disease was emphasized by City Health Officer O. R. Goodall this week.

At the same time, County Health Officer H. L. Schoolfield urged that the drive for production of pure dairy products be made county-wide, stressing the fact that undulant fever cases in the county, caused from the use of infected dairy products, are increasing in number.

The drive toward ridding this vicinity of cows infected with Bangs Disease was started last week by Dr. Goodall, due to the large number of cases of undulant fever reported. The fever is caused by the use of dairy products from cows infected with Bangs Disease, it has been explained.

"The Texas Milk and Milk Products law," Dr. Goodall said, "clearly states that cows 'shall be tested before any milk products are sold, and that the tests must be made by a veterinarian approved by the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission.'"

A portion of the Texas law reads as follows: "Cows, tuberculosis and other diseases—A physical examination, and, except as provided hereinafter, a tuberculin test of all herds and additions thereto shall be made before any milk therefrom is sold, and at least once every 12 months thereafter, by a licensed veterinarian approved by the State livestock sanitary authority. Said tests shall be made and any reactors disposed of in accordance with the requirements approved by the United States Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Animal Industry, for accredited herds."

In addition to the fact that the (Continued on page 6)

Soil Election Date Changed to Dec. 14

For the second time, the date of the election to determine whether a soil conservation district will be organized in Hall County has been changed, County Agent W. B. Hooser was informed this week.

The date has been changed from December 7 to December 14, V. C. Marshall, chairman of the state soil conservation board, wrote Mr. Hooser this week. The new date has been approved and is final, Mr. Marshall said. The first date for the election was set as October 19, but was later changed to December 7.

A similar election will be held in Childress County on the same date, Marshall said. A total of 21 counties will vote on the issue on that date.

LAKEVIEW HIGH PROJECT BEGINS

WPA Work to Improve Gridiron; Wall, Curbing for Field to Be Constructed

First work on a $19,300 WPA project on the Lakeview High School football field was started last Thursday, Superintendent W. V. Swinburn and O. E. Bevers, school board member, said this week.

Lights will be erected within the next few days, Mr. Bevers said, and will be ready for the game with Clarendon, to be played on the Lakeview field November 1.

"A special invitation is extended to Memphians for the Clarendon-Lakeview game," both Mr. Bevers and Mr. Swinburn said. "This will be the first to be played under the Lakeview lights, and we especially would like to have a good representation from Memphis present."

Sidewalks and a rock curbing are also included in the project, and they are under construction now. As soon as these two portions are completed, work will be started on an 8-foot wall to be built around the field.

The site will be landscaped and the field sodded next spring, Mr. Bevers said. The officials hope that by the time the 1941 football season opens the field will be covered with grass.

Junior High P-TA Meets for Study Of Social Sciences

The Junior High Parent-Teacher Association met in the library of the school last Friday afternoon for a study in social sciences.

Principal Clinton Voyles explained that the Memphis Junior High School is endeavoring through its social studies to teach pupils how to live in society as good citizens. Ample opportunities for such instructions are found in its history, geography, and other social sciences, he pointed out, because these particular fields offer an abundance of illustrative material.

Present happenings, the principal said, are partially explained through a study of past situations. The pupils are led to see that each generation may have its own individual problems, arising from new industries and different modes of living. Each child, he added, is taught how to adjust himself to new experiences and new environments, to accept his responsibility as a good citizen, and to develop initiative and self-reliance.

It was pointed out that the ultimate purpose of the social science department is to prepare the student for a well-balanced social life, and make him a well-informed citizen with concrete ideas and ideals which will contribute toward making him a worthwhile citizen.

Teachers taking part in the discussion were Mrs. Hall, Mrs. DeBerry, and Mrs. Fitzjarrald. They brought out that the social science department of any well-regulated school has for its outstanding aim the development of citizenship. History, geography, and all other social sciences contribute toward this aim, they pointed out, by furnishing the means of instruction through stories, illustration, projects, and problems. Through these avenues children are brought in contact with situations from which they may derive lessons

their own lives.

High School Cafeteria Trades for Food Given by Parents

FROM THE Superintendent

WHAT MAKES A TOWN

Memphis in high school is... for food furnish... parents of boys and... school.

Memphis has no oil fields, no large manufacturing plants no railroad yards, no great ranching industry, no army post with large pay rolls, as an income for school revenue, but Memphis does have a fine crop of young people; the greatest asset for any town, of whom we are proud to boast.

Last week a drive for new uniforms for the Black and Gold Band of high school was sponsored by the F.-T. A. club women, and business men of this city. Never in the history of Memphis have the citizens been so generous in their donations for uniforms for the band.

The townspeople realize that when the band goes on a trip, plays for football games, concerts, and celebrations, Memphis is being seen and judged by those who stay out in front. A favorable impression is made on visitors and well-wishers if the band is neat and well-uniformed. Everyone of our citizens want to be proud to single out the Black and Gold Band and say, "That Band represents Memphis."

The school and school officials express their profound appreciation to F.-T. A. club women, and business men of Memphis for your splendid cooperation and the excellent response you have shown the committee in their campaign to uniform the High School Band.

THE MOST IMPORTANT NEW CAR ANNOUNCEMENT DODGE HAS EVER MADE

DODGE presents to America a Great New Car with FLUID-DRIVE*

For 26 years, the public faith in the Dodge printed word has been a valued Dodge asset. Dodge has found it sound policy to make the performance of its cars exceed its promises in print.

The enthusiastic adjectives used in this advertisement represent no departure from this policy. They are used because the facts demand them.

This IS the most important new car announcement Dodge has ever made. This IS the story of the greatest car Dodge has ever built. To say less would be to slight the full and simple truth.

H. J. Opel President DODGE CORPORATION

THE GREAT NEW DODGE for 1941 is longer, lower, roomier. It is completely re-designed; beautiful and distinguished in its sweeping new lines. It reflects what smart Americans call "good taste."

These things your eyes will tell you. But you'll need to "feel" as well as "see," to get the full thrill of the new Dodge Fluid-Drive.

Only by taking the wheel, on the road, can you experience the miracle of this new and wholly effortless way of driving.

Dodge Fluid-Drive frees you from the nuisance of gear-shifting and clutch-coddling. A touch of your toe on the accelerator or the brake becomes the complete driving operation. You use your hands merely to steer.

DODGE FLUID-DRIVE lets you start off in high and accelerate to top speed without shifting gears. It lets you slow down to one mile an hour... then move quickly through traffic without shifting. Halt at a stop light, then glide ahead without shifting or declutching.

You can climb hills at one to five miles an hour in high, come to a dead stop on the hill, then start up again... still in high. You can creep through heavy sand, dig out of rutted roads, plough through snow...all without declutching or shifting gears. And without stalling the engine!

Like many truly great things, Dodge Fluid-Drive is simplicity itself in design and operation. There's nothing new to learn. You simply cut out two old and irksome driving motions... gear-shifting and declutching.

And when you want extra-fast get-away, Dodge Fluid-Drive gives you an EXTRA surge of power at a flip of a finger, in "second"!

IT IS OFTEN SAID that Dodge is one of America's most economical cars, in its consumption of gas and oil.

Now comes Dodge Fluid-Drive teaming up with Floating Power (which banishes engine vibration) to give you a new standard of silken engine performance. An oil-like smoothness that makes you forget that old mooted argument about the number of cylinders.

Now for the first time, you get the remarkable economy for which Dodge has always been famous, plus a new velvet-smooth flow of power that puts to shame many an engine with more cylinders.

THE 1941 DODGE was conceived in the industry's newest and best-equipped engineering laboratories. It is the result of years of testing and re-testing. Even such a factor as the type of rubber used in Dodge was specified as a result of research by our engineers.

And there are no less than half a hundred other new improvements in Dodge for 1941 that came from the minds of these same metallurgists, physicists and chemists.

We're tempted to tell you about all of these exciting innovations. But you'll get the thrill of them best if you go to see the car...and discover for yourself its vast wealth of new comforts, new conveniences, new luxury features.

A TRIP TO THE DODGE SHOWROOM will confirm every word of this message. A ride behind the wheel will supply an experience no words can convey.

No matter how much MORE, or how much LESS, you expect to pay for a car this year...by all means look at the big new...great new...dependable Dodge. Ride in it and experience the thrill of Fluid-Drive for yourself. Ask your dealer for a free book that gives you the inside story of the car.

Once you take the wheel of a 1941 Dodge with Fluid-Drive, we believe you won't be content until you own it!

*Fluid Drive optional at slight extra cost

Memphis Cyclone Rallies To Tie Lefors 13 to 13

A last quarter rally good for two touchdowns gave the Memphis Cyclone an even break with the Lefors Pirates in a District 3-A conference grid battle here last Friday night, and the Memphians tied the Pirates 13 to 13 in one of the most exciting games to be played here this year.

Lefors took the lead in the first quarter, 7 to 0, added 6 more points in the third period, and it looked for a while as if the score would end 13 to 0. But in the final period, the Cyclone perked up, marched down the field for one touchdown, and then an alert Cyclone linebacker blocked a Lefors punt to set the ball up for the other corner.

At the half, the Memphis High School band made the formation of an anchor, the Lefors school symbol. The band played "Anchors Aweigh" while in the formation.

In the first quarter, the Cyclone gambled on the chance to pick up a needed two yards on their own 40-yard line for a first down, only to lose. The Lefors team took over there, and Ammons, one of the three fast backs on the Pirate team, raced around right end from the 40-yard stripe for a touchdown. The ball was run over for the extra point to place the Pirates in front 7 to 0.

The rest of the first half went scoreless.

In the 2nd period, with the ball resting on the Lefors 20-yard line, Ammons once more got loose, streaked 80 yards, outdistancing the Memphis pursuers, to make the second Lefors counter. The try for the extra point was no good.

The Memphians lost a chance for a good scoring position late in the third period. The Lefors backs were forced to punt out from behind their own goal line, and the Memphians carried the ball back to the Lefors 20.

Booes greeted the decision of the officials, however, when the ball was given to Lefors on their 20. The penalty, it was explained, of 15 yards was assessed against Memphis since a Memphis player had clipped a Lefors player while the ball was still in the air. The ball, technically still in Lefors possession, was given to the Pirates on their own 20-yard line, and the penalty of 15 yards gave them a first down.

In the final period, the Cyclone started a drive down the field, making five first downs on power plays to set the ball up on the Lefors 20-yard line. Zig Ted George passed to Stilwell, who went over for the Cyclone's first counter. The try for the extra point was no good, and the Pirates still led 13 to 6.

The Lefors team was penalized 15 yards for holding after Memphis had kicked off to them, and the ball rested on the Lefors 6-yard line. The Pirates tried on three occasions to advance the ball, but made no gains.

On the fourth down, the Pirates punted, but "Big-Go" Floyd Melton, 200-pound tackle, rushed in to block the punt, and the Cyclone recovered the ball on the Lefors two-yard line. George, on the first play, went through the line for the second Memphis touchdown. The kick was good, and the score was 13 to 13. The game ended shortly after.

Highlighting the Pirates team was the speedy running of Ammons, Earhart, and Twigg. Glenn Stilwell, Cyclone end, turned in his best game of the season, and Floyd Melton showed up well at tackle. Noel Bruce, at the other tackle position, also turned in a good performance.

Memphis made nine first downs to eight for Lefors.

NEWLIN

By MRS. FRED HEMPHILL

Light Frost Here

With the sharp drop in temperature last Wednesday and Thursday, the thermometers registered 38 and 40 degrees with a light frost which did not kill any vegetation, but caused the citizens to put up beating stoves, and hunt up sweaters and coats. Following the cool spell Friday and Saturday, the weatherman sent some mid-summer weather, which is called Indian Summer by the oldsters, and is ideal weather for gathering crops.

Jehovah's Witness Here

One of a band which number themselves in the thirty thousands, who have been causing widespread publicity by being branded "Fifth Columnists," and who have been driven out of towns over the United States, was seen peddling his wares from door-to-door Sunday in Newlin—with apparently very little results. The man, a lone pedestrian, would knock at the door and present a small printed card, then show a small book, and name his fee. After a polite refusal, he would walk to another door. He was seen later in the afternoon several miles in the country, walking from house to house.

Car Wreck on Highway

Friday night about dusk, on the highway two miles above town, as a farmer was pulling onto the highway with a bale of cotton behind a tractor, a car traveling at about 60 or 70 miles per hour coming around the curve toward the farmer, had to pull into the bar ditch to avoid hitting the tractor. The car hit a telephone post, turning the car completely over. It was badly damaged, but the driver was not injured.

Tacky Party at P.-T. A.

Patrons of the school, children, and teachers had a gala time at the Tacky party sponsored by the P.-T. A. Thursday night, when out-of-date clothing, be-flowered hats, and red, red cheeks and lips were in vogue for a while. The contestants paraded before the judges, trying to "outshine" each other as the tackiest person. Awards were given to C. H. Cheves and Mrs. Frank Ellis for the most outstanding attires. Refreshments of doughnuts and oranges were served to the entire group. A short business session of the P.-T. A. was held.

Transients from Everywhere

A small party of America's shifting population is seen in the Newlin vicinity now during the cotton-picking season, when a large number of extra workers are employed each season. Workers from other states and from other parts of Texas are living here temporarily—some in good cars and trailers, others in jalopies and trucks with a camping outfit with them. One group whose license was from Michigan told how they spent a part of each year in Michigan near Ann Arbor, which is about 50 miles from the west end of Lake Erie, and which territory is devoted entirely to fruit farming. Farms of from 10 to 50 acres of all kinds of fruits are grown there. Fruits as late as June and as early as September make the season short but fruit trees are protected by heavy smokes whose warmth keep off the freeze. These workers, whose home is their car, here today and gone tomorrow, seem content with their lot and eager to "move on."

Marjorie Hemphill Celebrates Birthday

Marjorie Hemphill celebrated the occasion of her 13th birthday anniversary Sunday afternoon with a picnic for her girl friends, who gathered at her home at 1 o'clock, and who were loaded into a car with picnic provisions and driven 15 miles to Salt Creek. After exploring awhile the girls doffed their shoes and socks, and waded the warm water of the creek for a mile or so each way from the bridge. Then they were served apples, oranges, bananas, cookies, and candy in the shade of the bridge. After tiring of the "wilds," they were driven to the Salisbury "Mountain," where they climbed and tried their skill at tossing rocks down the hill. Shortly before sunset the girls returned to their homes very tired and happy, having enjoyed the occasion a great deal.

Newlin Gin Very Busy

3 Hall Counties Register Under Draft Act Provisions

Number-Happen Under No. 1

When the national government officials draw numbers in the lottery, order numbers will then be issued. If, for example, the first number drawn is 215, then the person with the serial number of 215 will be in order No. 1. He will be subject to call in the first order.

If the second number drawn in the lottery is 3,435, then no one in Hall County will be subject to that call, since the serial numbers for this county do not run that high.

After a person's order number has been allotted, he will be sent a long questionnaire. The questions must be answered correctly, and the truthfulness of the answers must be sworn to.

When the local board receives the filled-out questionnaires, the board members will then classify the registrants according to their availability to service.

Class I will be those persons available for training and service in the land or naval forces. Class II will be those persons deferred because the public interest is best served by their staying at their usual work. Class III will be those persons deferred because others are dependent upon them for support. Class IV will be those persons deferred from service either by the law itself, or for physical disability, or other reasons.

From time to time the local draft board will get a call for a certain number of men from this county. Those in Class I will enter upon training and service according to their order numbers.

blood samples must be made by a licensed veterinarian, the city health officer said, the tests must be made in a laboratory also approved by the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission.

Dr. W. G. Brock, chairman of the contact committee of the State Veterinary Medical Association of Texas, in a recent letter to County Agent W. B. Hooser, explained that a competent veterinarian must take the blood samples to prevent the spread of the disease from animal to animal.

Approximately 1,500 cows in Hall County have been properly tested during the past year, Mr. Hooser said this week. Two hundred of these have been tested during the past week by two veterinarians from Amarillo, he said.

More than 15 cases of undulant fever have been reported recently in this vicinity, Dr. Goodall said last week, and it is possible that the disease may spread even further.

Citizens were warned last week to make certain that their milk dealers have had their cows tested for Bangs Disease, boil the milk used, or use pasteurized milk. A large number of dairymen in the county have their cows tested and have done away with the infected

POPPY SALE TO BE NOVEMBER 9

Funds Derived to Be Used To Aid Disabled Veterans, Mrs. Roper, Chairman, Says

Every penny of the money contributed for memorial poppies on Poppy Day, Saturday, November 9, will go to aid disabled veterans and the families left in need by the death or disability of a veteran, Mrs. J. E. Roper, poppy chairman of Chas. R. Simmons unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, said this week.

Distribution of flowers will be conducted by volunteer workers and all contributions will go in their entirety into the rehabilitation and welfare funds of the Legion and Auxiliary.

"The dimes, quarters, and dollars which are dropped into the boxes of the poppy workers on Poppy Day form the principal source of support for the relief and welfare work carried out by the Auxiliary throughout the year," Mrs. Roper said. "There is a vast amount to be done for the disabled veterans, for their families and for the families of those who have died, and we believe that those in distress because of patriotic sacrifices are entitled to everything which can be done for them."

While the government has made provisions for care and compensation of the war disabled, justice is never automatic and the aid of the Legion and Auxiliary is often needed to bring the veteran's case properly before the government. A great number of the disabled do not come within the provisions of the law and receive no compensation. Real hardship faces their families when they become unable to work or require hospitalization. Naturally, their comrades in the Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary are their first source of aid.

"Through wearing a poppy on Poppy Day, everyone can help us be ready to respond to the calls for help which will come to us during the year ahead. The poppy, which honors the war dead, also aids those who did not die but who lost health and strength in the nation's service."

Members of the local draft board, W. J. Bragg, John Sharp, and J. B. Smith, began work immediately after all the registration cards were in last week. Cards of those living outside of the county were separated from the Hall County residents, and have been sent to their proper addresses.

The cards of Hall County residents were then shuffled thoroughly, and the serial number assigned in numerical order.
A total of 286 out-of-county people registered in the Hall County boxes. Of these, 303 were from other Texas counties, and 83 from other states.
A number of Hall County residents who were either visiting, attending school, or out of the county for some other reason on registration day signed up in other places. So far 75 of these have had their cards sent to Memphis, and a few others are expected to be sent here.

October Marks 150th Anniversary of Invention of Cotton Gin by Whitney

The month of October, 1940, marks the 150th anniversary of the invention of cotton ginning by Eli Whitney.

Prior to 1790, seed and lint were laboriously separated by hand. No other event can claim equal economic importance in Texas and the South. F. E. Lichte, ginning specialist of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, has pointed out. It paved the way for great development in agriculture, industry and world trade.

While the first cotton was ginned on Whitney's gin at Mulberry Grove Plantation near Savannah, Ga., the first complete bale was turned out in Wilkes County in the same state, where Whitney established a gin house in 1795. He made many improvements on his gin in Wilkes County. One of these was removal of the lint from the saws by means of a brush.
When Whitney's patent was granted March 14, 1794, by President George Washington and signed by Thomas Jefferson, it was for a period of 14 years. At the end of that time he faced competition from a number of gins that had been developed in the interim.
When his application for renewal of the patent was refused, Whitney became discouraged with the whole cotton business and moved to New Haven, Conn., where he was successful in the manufacture of fire arms.
Although many improvements have been made in gin machinery, the actual principle of ginning as worked out by Whitney remains unchanged.

Feeding Practices Bulletin Available At Cotton Oil Mill

Booklet Has Information On Feeding Livestock, Use Of Feeds Grown in Area

Copies of the new "1941 Feeding Practices" bulletin are available to help local livestock raisers in the efficient use of their home-grown grains, roughages, and cottonseed products, F. W. Foxhall, manager of the local cotton oil mill, has announced.
"Free copies of the bulletin will be furnished to livestock feeders who visit or write to our mill," he said. "Practical feeding information, using home-grown feeds of this area, is given in the bulletin for dairy and beef cattle, horses and mules, hogs, sheep and goats, chickens, and turkeys."
A natural-color photograph on the cover, and many pictures of Southern livestock scenes add to the interest of the feeding information, which is based upon Experiment Station and College recommendations and scientific knowledge. The 1941 edition is dedicated to Future Farmers of America Club livestock raisers, the members in whose factories the cotton oil mill is located.
"Our mill is glad to be making this practical information available, to livestock raisers in whose factories the cotton oil mill is located."

JOHNNY WAS LIKE THE AVERAGE American youth.

He liked to play football, he liked to ride horses, he liked to swim, he truly enjoyed athletics.

He wanted to grow to be a large, strong man. He heeded the advice given by his parents, and was careful to eat the foods which he thought would make him big and strong like the star football players on his favorite college team.

Every day he drank at least a quart of milk, sometimes more. He liked milk, and the beverage was one of his favorite foods.

Finally, however, Johnny began to come home extremely tired at night. He was sluggish all the time, began to lose interest in his athletic endeavors. He preferred loafing around, and sleeping rather than participating in a rough-and-tumble game of ball.

His parents noticed the change in their son. For a while they did nothing about it, then they took Johnny to see a doctor. The doctor made several tests, and found that Johnny had a case of undulant fever.

Treatments were started on Johnny immediately, and in a few months he was all right again. But the disease was found in plenty of time. It could have been fatal.

Johnny's parents had failed to determine whether their dairyman had had his cows tested for Bangs Disease. The dairyman did not intend to make any of his customers pay in suffering for his not having his cows tested. He just didn't think it necessary.

The majority of milk dealers in Memphis have had their cows tested, and have done away with the cows which are infected with Bangs Disease. Their milk is safe.

But there are still some who sell either milk, cream, or butter from cows which are infected, because a large number of cases of undulant fever (the disease caused by the use of dairy products from cows infected with Bangs Disease) have been reported to the city health officer.

The city council has issued warnings to sellers of dairy products, but the warnings have still not had effect on a few of the cow owners. They still persist in selling the infected products, despite the fact that a number of people are suffering daily from the disease which their products is causing.

Naturally, publicity to the fact hurts the business of those who are selling pure, safe milk. That is only to be expected. But at the same time, those persons who deal in pure milk should do something to protect themselves, as well as to protect the citizens from the further spread of the disease.

Perhaps an association could be formed by dairy products dealers—an association to show that their products are pure and safe and free from disease. Such an association could admit only those dairymen who could prove that their cows are inspected regularly, that their herds are free from Bangs Disease.

Publicity could then be given, in one form or another, to the fact that such an association had been formed. Officials would no doubt place their approval on the association.

This could be the first step toward stamping out the spread of the undulant fever disease. There can be no doubt that it should be stopped. The safety of the county citizens should not be placed in jeopardy simply because some non-conformists are afraid and not willing to have their cows tested, and consequently, free their herds from disease.

RETAINING A DEMOCRACY

LAST WEEK WHEN MEN from 21 to 35 years of age were registering for America's first peacetime draft, a man of 58 went before one of the registrars in Memphis and tried to register.

When questioned, the man admitted he was overage, added that he is "still a man."

Those who believe in democracy and what it stands for should be extremely grateful for all people who are interested enough to want to do their part—even if they are too old according to the law.

The man of 58 knew he was too old, but merely wanted to do his part. He is representative of a large majority of the citizens of the United States. He is a man, yes, and he is the type of man who will keep this democracy safe for the world.

With such cooperation as this, this nation need never fear the tread of a dictator's heel.

CULLED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

Taxation
 The Menard News: The burden of taxation tends to equalize itself. In the long run we all must bear our share. By the same token we all must bear our share of debt. Talk of taking more away from one group than another group is just so much political conversation.

France Pays
 The Foard County News: France is paying eight million dollars a day for the support of the German army of occupation. More evidence that a country can afford to spend most any amount of money to make impossible its occupation by a foreign government.

An Offer
 The Canyon News: If any of our friends would like the Empire State building or the Brooklyn Bridge, just go up to New York and take charge, so far as we are concerned. That is the sort of generosity which Mussolini exhibited toward the United States. He offered us a lot of British territory—in fact most all that we might want—provided we took the territory from Britain, thus aiding the unholy hand of thieves and robbers. And he expressed surprise that Uncle Sam was not impressed by his generosity.

Passing of the Jitterbug
 The Amarillo Globe: The other day a Seattle man was doing a bit of jitterbugging with his wife when he slipped on a rug and dove out the window.

Maybe the rug-cutting craze had already ended before this incident. Maybe it will drag on a little longer. But the symbol is clear: The jitterbug is leaving the American scene. And there are no laments. What forces in American life caused him to spring up in the first place? Psychologists advance the theory that all dance crazes reflect something of the social attitudes of the people. What brought about his demise? Maybe he just ran out. What will take his place? Perhaps it's too early to tell. The jitterbug has not yet been decently interred.

Only this much is certain. Something new will come along. It always has. Americans would find life pretty dull without their successors of Charleston, Black Bottoms, and Jitterbugs.

Answer
 Ed Bishop in the Daihart Texan (who is conducting a question-answer bureau in his column—be goes by the name of Seall Knowall): Worrie Brunette Wife says: "My husband has been working at the office every night this week. Yesterday I found a long blonde hair on his coat sleeve. Should I go home to mother?" And the Seer says: "Yes, by all means. Go to mother and see if her hair is blonde."

(And another): Seall Knowall: "Most people want to know their future, but I want to know my past. Please help me. I have a mole on my left shoulder, two corns on my right foot, astigmatism, and woke up with a terrible hangover Tuesday morning." Amnesia victim: "Feed the corns to the mole, get a pair of dark glasses, a tin cup, and cling to that hangover. Not many folks can afford one nowadays." The courthouse records reveal that you are past draft age, married twice, drive a mortgaged car, have a house but not a home, have a fondness for anything with pants on, have green eyes, brown hair, you're five feet four, attractive and have a mind of your own. My advice is to let the dead past remain dead."

The Weak Suffer
 The Paducah Post: Hitler and Mussolini are facing the task of feeding Europe's hundreds of millions of people on a reduced production and without imports. Soldiers and factory workers will be fed because they are necessary to war, but millions of old people, women, and children will die of starvation. That is the special horror of war. The weak must suffer.

Numbers
 Jack Stumper in the Tulia Herald: We never really expected to become mean enough that the government would give us a number. But we got one nevertheless yesterday, as did some 16,000,000 other young men 21 to 35 years of age. Our biggest surprise was at the brevity of the registration questions. A bigger surprise will be to see our number succeed in hiding out in some nook and evade the fingers of the persons who will determine those who will fill up the ranks. If it were only bank night, we would have a chance.

soldiers by December, ten houses per day is the schedule in the big army camp. One crew builds a house in four hours. I'll bet it ain't WPA labor.

New Furs
 "Cracks" in the Chillythe Valley News: That's all right, old man, other wives are asking their husbands for a new coat.

The Wiser Course
 The Moore County News: To remain unfettered by war, to pour all of our resources into aiding England is a wiser course than joining in a war that would leave Russia the only country untouched by the course of Mars.

Just Enough
 The McLean News: Another peculiar thing about this old world is that just enough happens each week to fill a home town newspaper.

The Motive of Moral Discipline

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Oct. 27
 Text: Luke 1:13-16; 2:40; 4:4; 6:21, 25, 43-45

THIS fourth lesson on temperance is assigned for National Temperance Sunday. There are various motives for abstaining from the use of intoxicating liquor, but the motive in this lesson—moral discipline—is the highest motive of all.

Various motives have influenced those who have followed abstinence without this motive in mind. There has been the motive of economy, the motive of good health, an unwillingness to take into the body anything that is harmful in its effects, the motive of avoidance of evil consequences, and the motive of common sense which has enabled many to see that indulgence in alcohol is a needless and useless, if not an actually harmful, thing.

No one ever suffered from temperance and total abstinence, but thousands—millions, in fact—have suffered from intemperance.

THE motive of moral discipline, or, as it is put in the title of the lesson, "The Christian Motive for Abstinence," finds its exemplification in the lives of individuals who have been conspicuous for the purity of their lives and their devotion to the highest ideals.

The example of this in our lesson is John, the Baptist, who was not a "Christian" in the technical sense, but who was the forerunner of the Christ who brought in the Christian era. But John is only one example in the Scripture of his discipline in abstention from toxicants on the part of those who were called to service and leadership. We are tempted to tend nevertheless to the whole discipline of ordered life. In a day, the courses of the individual are greatly affected and it is important to preserve even to health, not to speak of important things of spiritual health.

A scientific age of of this dispensing is teaching us a great concern for food, and constitutes normal living.

Happy is the man amidst these conditions can find for himself and the best way of recovery of that way which will prove to be the great examples of have kept their long strong, and full of toward their follow-

Youth of London Writes Memphian Of War; Tells of Spirit of Britishers

PARNELL By MRS. W. W. RICHARDS

Rev. Knight filled his regular appointment here Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ferrel had all their children for dinner Sunday. They are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ferrel and daughter Bobbie of Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Martin of Memphis, and Mr. and Mrs. Crump Ferrel.

Editor's Note: Jim Deaver, Memphis youth, is corresponding with a young man of his age in London, who is in the midst of the war there. Below is reprinted a portion of a letter received by Deaver several weeks ago, which was written early in September. Enclosed in the letter was some shrapnel, and a shell.

Dear Jim, ... The last fortnight has been a busy one, for the sirens, that is. Every night except two we have been down in the shelters. A few days ago we had a dogfight over our heads, when two "Spitfires" engaged two Heinkels and one Dornier. Gosh, I have never heard such a din in my life. Anyway, a Heinkel went back home damaged, but the other two were shot down.

I can tell you one thing that the average Britisher is very keen to learn. That is "What does America think about the war?" Personally I don't think there is much doubt about it, although it will take time. The way the air force is bringing down Jerry I shall soon be able to send you a complete aeroplane.

Well, to get away from the war I propose to tell you something about London and England. London is the seat of the central government. The City of London is one square mile and contains no roads—they are all called streets, e. g., Threadneedle Street. Greater London has an area of roughly 900 square miles.

Since you enjoyed reading those newspapers I am sending some more, and I hope you will like these because you will be able to judge for yourself what life is like inside Britain at present. I should imagine that if you listen to the yeoman version of what is happening in Britain you would think we are starving and on the verge of a revolution. Well, judge for yourself by the papers.

Excessive Charges For Making CCC Loans Being Made

AAA Committeeman Says Method of Handling Loans May Have to Be Changed

Reports have reached the College Station state headquarters of the AAA that in some instances excessive charges have been levied for executing papers in connection with the Commodity Credit Corporation cotton loan.

When the loan was announced, it was thought that the storage and interest rates allowed on loan cotton were sufficient to cover all costs to the farmer in obtaining a loan, George Slaughter, chairman of the state AAA committee, said, but some agencies evidently had not agreed that such charges were sufficient and had adopted a policy of charging so much per bale for handling the papers.

ESTELLINE By MRS. FRED BERRY

It is not pleasant in London now. I can assure you of that. Every evening regularly at eight we put some tea in the flask (thermos) and wait for "Wailing Winnie," who signals the approach of the "low, murdering, Nazi swine." "Spawn of the Devil" my mother calls them, quite a good name in my opinion, for it is quite pathetic to see houses bombed and small piles of furniture standing in the roadway.

The guests were received by Mrs. L. E. Cobb, and approximately thirty registered in the bride's book. Hostesses were Mrs. L. E. Cobb, Mrs. A. Bailey, and Miss Grace McClendon.

As a former newspaperman, Miller has edited several papers. In addition, he was one of two men to begin the writing of the now well-known "Washington Merry-Go-Round" column, which appears in a number of papers over the United States.

Old Man Winter evidently forgot his visits to Memphis early last week during both daytime and night, for the temperature leaped up to the 96-degree mark last Saturday afternoon. The nights remained cool, however, the lowest during the past few days hitting Memphis Tuesday night, when the thermometer dropped to 42 degrees, according to a report from J. J. Sam T. Harrison, who was buried here Sunday, was Citizen No. 1 of Memphis. His place will be hard to fill in business, church, and civic life. When any kind of civic work needed to be done and he was given the job of doing it, he never stopped until the task was completed. Memphis has certainly lost its best citizen and will miss him for years to come.

Less than two weeks from now the general election will take place. It will be a relief to the citizens, who listen over the radio, to listen to something more entertaining than the speaking by candidates and their oratorical supporters. The Woman's Culture Club met in regular session in the home of Mrs. Jack Norman, with Miss Topsy Gilreath as hostess, Wednesday afternoon.

In the absence of the president and vice president, Mrs. A. W. Howard presided as president-pro-tem. Mrs. R. C. Holland Gives Review of War Novel Here

Summing up the entire book, "Stars at Sea,"—that of Abraham Lincoln—the government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth—Mrs. R. C. Holland of Childress told of the struggles of Americans during the Revolutionary period before members and guests of the Current Book Review Club in the home of Mrs. C. W. Kinslow Tuesday night.

The novel, a story of the lives of several fictional characters during America's time of revolution from England, deals with the type of people—their thoughts, their loves, and their hates—from which the Americans of today are descended. Mrs. Holland explained.

Throughout the story, as related by the reviewer, the author keeps the reader in contact with several characters, two of whom are killed, and one of whom joins the U. S. Navy to aid in keeping the colonies safe by having power on the seas.

The meeting of the club was given for both club members and their guests in the first "Gentlemen's Evening" program of the year. Mrs. Tom Draper played several piano numbers as the guests arrived, and before Mrs. Holland spoke, the group sang "Hall Columbia," led by Mrs. Jack Jarrell.
