GENERAL RAINS COVER ENTIRE PANHANDLE TUESDAY NIGHT

RAINFALL HERE REACHES 2.35 INCHES WED.

Crop Prospects Are Revived As Entire Sector Gets Rain

Heavy general rains covering this entire section broke a drought of long standing Tuesday and brought excellent prospects for fall crops to hundreds of farms in this area.

J. J. McMickin, local weather observer, reported a total fall of 2.35 inches up until Wednesday noon. Heavier rains were reported in some portions of the county, with the downpour at Newlin estimated at nearly four inches.

J. T. Dennis reported three and a quarter inches of moisture on his farm near Plaska, and Charlie Williams estimated the rainfall on his place south of Memphis at nearly four inches.

Reports from all over the Panhandle indicated that the rains had spread in a radius of more than 200 miles around Memphis. Heavy rains were reported north to Amarillo and as far west as Tucuman, N. M. The downpour extended to the south plains, with Lubbock reporting good rains, while an inch of rain was received at Pampa and nearly two and a quarter inches at Wellington.

Heavy rains and flood conditions were reported below Quanah and Vernon. McMickin, station agent for the Fort Worth and Denver railway company, reported that trains were being held up at the Pease River crossing at Vernon, and the Red River was rising.

Foxhall Sets New Record As City Golf Tournament Opens

Frank Foxhall, defending champion, burned up the fairways at the Memphis Country Club Sunday afternoon with a blistering 58, ten under par, to set a new course record for 18 holes in the qualifying rounds of the city golf tournament, which got underway Tuesday morning.

Only two weeks ago Foxhall, fresh from winning the Greenbelt championship at Quanah, had broken the old course record with a 61, and was tied for the honor a few days later by O. B. Smith. Already a top-heavy favorite to repeat for the city crown, Foxhall's record-smashing performance in the trial heat placed him on top in the championship bracket.

Thirty-nine golfers made up the largest entry list for a city tournament in several years. Qualifying rounds were played Sunday, and first round matches, scheduled to get underway Tuesday, were halted late in the afternoon by heavy rains.

All first round matches in the championship flight were completed Tuesday, however, Frank Foxhall defeated Jack Walker, 3 and 2; Carl Harrison, also a high-ranking contender, took John Deaver 4 and 3; Noel Woodley defeated Floyd Springer 2 and 1; and Ed Foxhall, younger brother of the champion, defeated another favorite, O. B. Smith, 5 and 4.

Ed Foxhall advanced to the finals in the championship flight Wednesday afternoon, taking Noel Woodley in the semi-final match 5 and 4.

Semi-final matches will pit Carl Harrison against Frank Foxhall. In the first flight, O. J. Jones defeated Russell McClure 3 and 2; T. M. Harrison J-dctR Neo-2; Buster Helm trimmed T. M. Harrison, and Bill D. Hart defeated Leslie Foxhall.

In the second flight, E. E. Cudd defeated G. M. Dial 2 and 1. In other matches Wednesday afternoon Jack Norman took a win (Continued on page 6)

SCULPTOR — Leonard D. McMurry, student at the St. Louis School of Fine Arts, was recently awarded his second scholarship for excellent accomplishment in his field.

Leonard McMurry Wins Scholarship In Art School

Local Boy Awarded High Honor for Second Straight Year at St. Louis School

Leonard D. McMurry, second-year student at the St. Louis School of Fine Arts of Washington University, was awarded the Wayman Crow scholarship and medal, given annually by the faculty to the student who has made the greatest progress during the year, this year for the second successive time.

McMurry, a graduate of Memphis High school and son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McMurry of this city, is a sculptor and has built up an excellent reputation in his field during the past two years at the University.

He was awarded the Wayman Crow scholarship last spring at the close of his first year's work. McMurry was represented recently in the University Art Show with a powerful figure of a crouching negro and a workmanlike head of a boy. His work has attracted considerable attention in St. Louis, and is recognized by the fact that he has received the school's highest award for two successive years.

He arrived in Memphis last week to spend a vacation with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McMurry, here, and will return to the School of Fine Arts for further study.

Attend Funeral of Relative at Tulia

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock at Tulia for Mrs. D. D. Adkisson who died there Saturday. She was the sister-in-law of Mrs. J. A. Whaley and Mrs. J. D. Browder of Memphis, and Mrs. J. W. Reese of Hedley.

Survivors are the husband and one daughter, Mrs. Dean Settle of Amarillo. The Adkissons formerly lived in this county, moving to Tulia about 17 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Browder, Mrs. J. A. Whaley, Mrs. J. W. Reese, Mrs. Hurley Moreman and Mrs. Janice Martindale attended the funeral. Mrs. Browder remained for a few days at Tulia with her brother.

Professionals Barred from Rodeo But Amateur Entries Welcome

A two-day rodeo, which will be one of the main features of the Hall County Old Settlers and Cowboy Reunion here July 27-28, will be open to amateur contestants only, according to Mack Wilson, chairman of the rodeo arrangements committee.

"We are particularly encouraging the cowboy entries," Wilson said, "and will attempt to discourage any professional rodeo entrants." Wilson expressed the opinion that a rodeo for the range hands rather than for professional performers was more in the spirit of the pioneer tradition, and announced that the committee hoped for a large entry from Panhandle ranches.

The two-day rodeo will be a colorful and exciting affair if the plans of the committee are carried out. The show will be staged in Cyclone Stadium, with two performances, matinee and night, on each day.

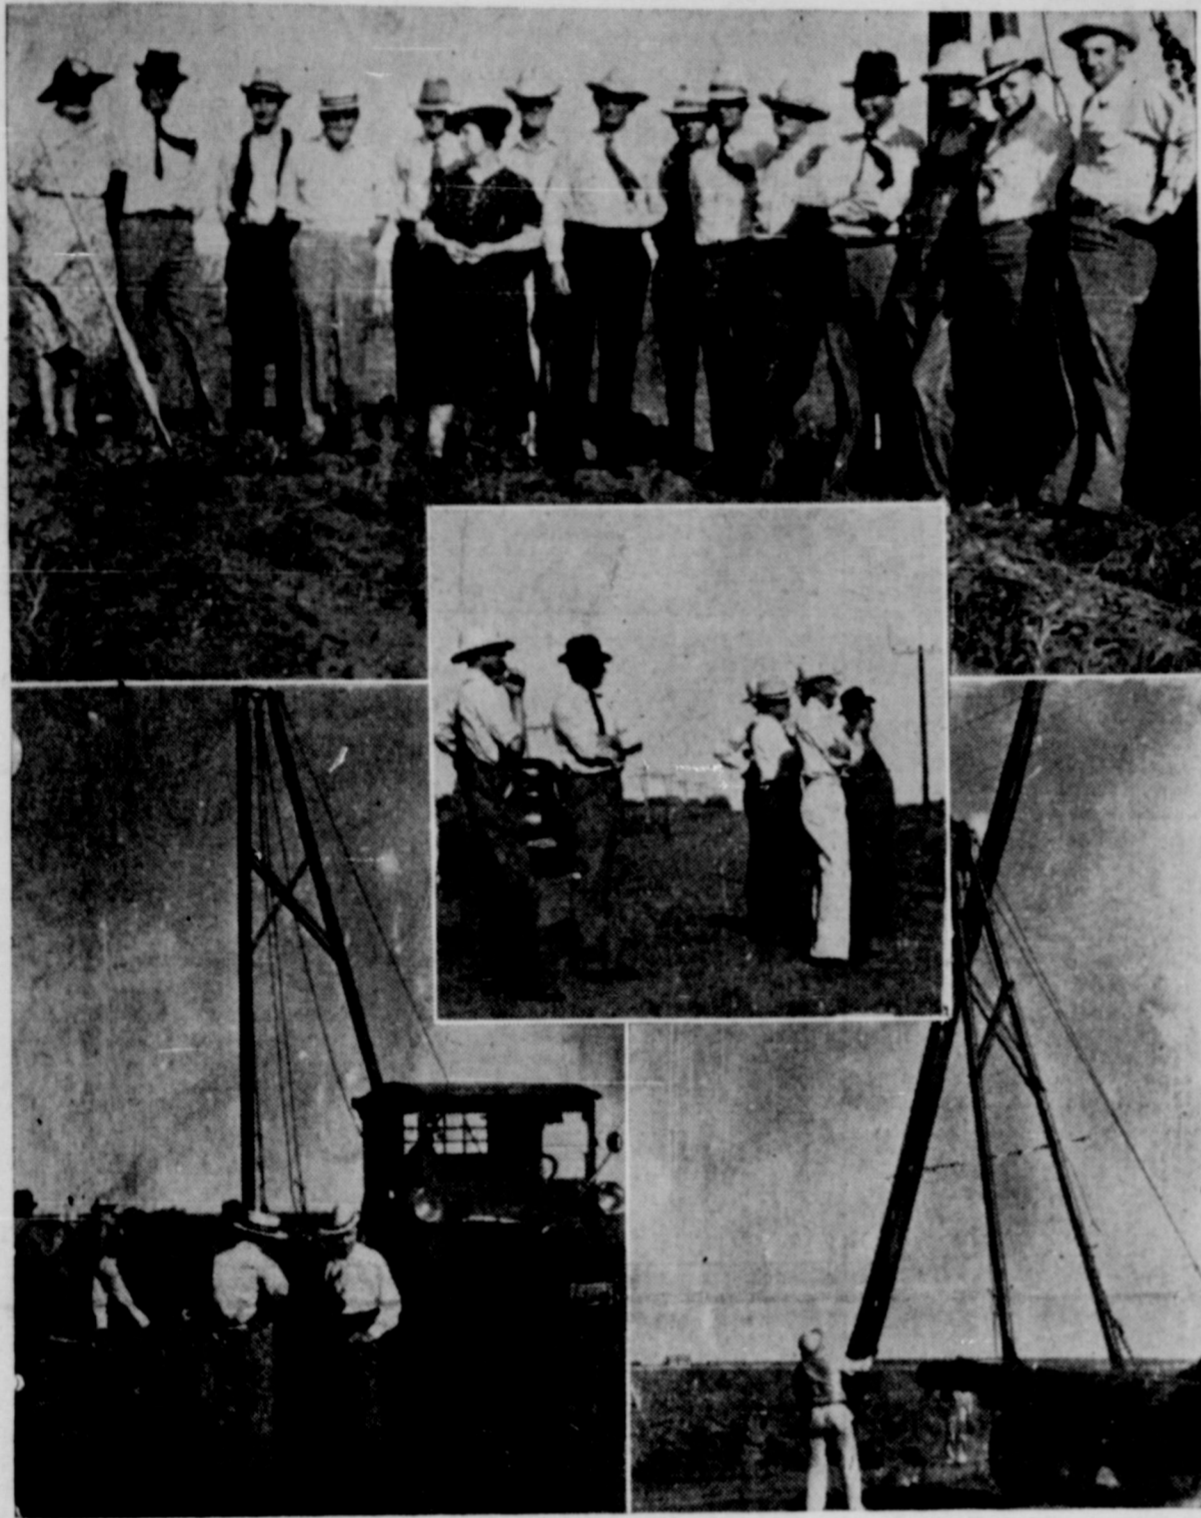

Bob Corley, a well-known figure in Texas arenas and recognized as one of the top rodeo officials, will arrive in Memphis July 15 and remain until after the show closes to assist in organizing and directing the Memphis rodeo. Corley, traveling for the Brown Saddle Company of Amarillo, is giving his services at no cost to the committee.

Wild cow milking, calf roping, bulldogging, bronch riding, and steer riding will be among the featured contests. The show is open to all amateur riders, but professionals will be handicapped at any time the judges see fit, Wilson said. A professional performer may be handicapped either before or after his act at the discretion of the judges, he emphasized, adding that "we want this to be strictly an amateur show."

Adding color to the performance, dozens of towns, communities, organizations and business houses will have sponsors at the rodeo. The girls, in colorful costumes, will ride in the parade and at the grand entry at each performance.

Mrs. Murray Dodson, in charge of sponsors' entries, is urging every Memphis business house to be represented by a sponsor at the show. The girls do not need (Continued on page 6)

Capt. F. W. Maxwell Is Transferred to Denton Command

Commanding Officer of CCC Camp Here To Take Charge Of Camp at Denton

Captain Fred W. Maxwell, infantry reserve officer and commanding officer of the Veteran's CCC camp here for the past year and a half, left Wednesday for Denton where he will take command of Veteran's CCC Camp 3819B.

The transfer was officially confirmed early this week. Captain Maxwell will be succeeded here by Captain Marcellus R. Kunitz, signal reserve officer, who is being transferred from the command of a Junior CCC camp at Waxahachie.

Captain Kunitz is expected to arrive in Memphis within a few days. Until his arrival, the local camp will be in charge of Lieutenant Clay W. Smith, second in command.

Captain Maxwell has been in charge of the camp here since December of 1937, when the veteran's camp at Amarillo, of which he was commanding officer, was closed.

He announced Tuesday that he was leaving immediately for Denton to take over his new command, but did not plan to move his family to that city until July 1.

Cowboy Regalia Order of the Day Beginning Friday

"Howdy Cowboy!" That will be the standard salutation in Memphis during the next few weeks until the annual Old Settlers and Cowboy Reunion on July 27-28—but you'll have to dress to fit the part.

Friday is the deadline set by members of the regalia committee for Memphians to get into costume. Ten gallon hats and bright gold and black shirts are the order of the day.

There's no law against it, but members of the committee are muttering dire threats of dunking in a horse tank for those citizens who insist on appearing in civilian clothes.

Better get a hat—and keep your "yaller" shirt on!

Cotton Checks Now Total $391,597

Seven federal cotton subsidy checks arrived Monday morning to add $808.54 to the total amount received this spring by Hall County farmers, according to F. R. Curtis, assistant county agent.

Payments this year have reached a total of $391,597.42, now nearing the estimated mark of $450,000 set for the present date. Up to the present date, 2,205 checks have been received by Hall County farmers, Curtis said. (Continued on page 6)

Mrs. Fitzjarrald Is T.E.L. Hostess Friday Afternoon

The T. E. L. Class of the First Baptist Church met Friday afternoon, June 16, at the home of the teacher, Mrs. J. W. Fitzjarrald, with Mrs. J. H. Smith and Mrs. Joe Weathersbee as co-hostesses.

Refreshments of ice cream and punch were served to the guests on their arrival.

In the absence of the class president, Mrs. A. M. Wyatt, vice president, presided at the meeting. Mrs. J. N. Cypert brought the devotional, taking as her text Psalms 46. The group joined in singing "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," and Mrs. Claude Harris led in prayer.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and the treasurer's report given. Members voted to have a class picnic on July 21.

During a social hour, pairs were revealed. Mrs. W. Wilson and Mrs. J. M. Ballew had charge of riddles and contests. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to Mesdames J. S. Forkner, H. C. Crow, Claude Harris, E. W. Evans, Maggie Holcomb, W. E. Hill, D. A. Grundy, E. J. Paul, J. N. Cypert, A. M. Wyatt, John Barber, T. T. Loard, C. Z. Stidham, G. H. Hattenbach, W. B. Scott, E. J. Evans, J. R. Harrell, R. H. Wherry, W. Wilson, K. L. Canning, J. M. Ballew, and the hostess.

Fun Day Club Has Meeting June 14

The Fun Day Club met Wednesday, June 14, with Mrs. Walter Thomas. Two quilts were quilted during the afternoon.

Cake and iced drinks were served to the guests and members. Visitors were Mrs. Audra Thomas and son, Cessie Beavers, Misses Ola Faye Benton, Flossie Rousseau, Alene Helms, Mulqueen Thomas and Frankie Masters. Members were Mesdames J. W. Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Weisenburg and Mrs. Hollis Boren went to Dimmitt Friday for a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Morrow.

Wesley Powell of Clarendon was a Memphis visitor Friday.

Jess Rosenwasser returned last Thursday from Corpus Christi, where he has been for several weeks.

Prompt Help For A Listless Child

Scolding won't help a boy or girl who is listless, dull or cross from constipation. But, here's something that will!

If sluggish bowels have your child headachy, bilious, upset, give him a little Syrup of Black-Draught tonight. Like the original famed BLACK-DRAUGHT, its principal ingredient is an intestinal tonic-laxative. Helps impart tone to the bowel muscles.

Children like the taste of Syrup of Black-Draught. It is an all vegetable product. When simple directions are followed, its action is gentle, but prompt and complete. Comes in two sizes: 50c and 25c.

FIVE GENERATIONS—Pictured above are five generations in the family of Mrs. L. O. Dennis of Memphis. . . a rare sight for any photographer. The group was photographed at a reunion at the Dennis home here Sunday, June 4, by Wiley Orr. Mr. Orr, one of the Panhandle's oldest photographers, stated that this was the third time in his 33 years in business that he had had such an opportunity.

Needlecraft Club Meets With Mrs. J. M. Ferrel

The Needlecraft Club met in the home of Mrs. J. M. Ferrel Tuesday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in piecing a quilt. Roll call was answered with household hints.

The hostess served lovely refreshments to the following: Mesdames Carl Wolf, C. L. Simmons, B. B. McMillan, H. H. Newman, Lloyd Phillips, Bess Crump, Freeman Curtis, Glen Carlos, George Hammond and Earl Fritchett.

Baptist WMS Has Circle Meetings Monday Afternoon

The WMS of the First Baptist Church met in circle meetings Monday afternoon.

Circle Nos. one and six met in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Phillips. Those present were Mesdames Lloyd Moore, W. J. Bragg, Byron Baldwin, C. H. Rownds, Ben Wilson, Clifton Burnett, Frank Smith, J. M. Mason, and Richard Patton.

Medical Society Members Enjoy Barbecue Friday

The Three-County Medical Society members entertained their families and friends with a chicken barbecue at Brookhollow Lake last Friday night. This event is staged annually at one of three places—Childress, Wellington and Memphis.

Barbecued chicken with the trimmings, and plenty of cold drinks made the event a most enjoyable one, according to all who attended.

Preceding the dinner, a number of the younger set enjoyed swimming in the lake. Following the meal, the son and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Jones of Wellington furnished music on their accordions, and then conversation occupied the time of all until a late hour.

Drs. W. Wilson, R. E. Clark, and O. R. Goodall were the committee in charge of the annual event.

Entertains With Swimming Party For House Guest

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard entertained with a swimming party and picnic Friday evening at the Pastime Swimming Pool in honor of their house guest, George Conklin of Great Neck, Long Island.

After an enjoyable evening of swimming a delicious picnic lunch was served to Geraldine Kinard, Jeanne Draper, Dortha Sue Fultz, Martha Thompson, Jack Baldwin, Harold Foxhall, Bengie Estes, Dwight Lewis Kinard, and the honoree, Mr. Conklin.

Mrs. B. C. Jackson and daughter Joe Ann of Fort Worth arrived in Memphis last Thursday for a visit with their parents and grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Schoelfield.

"We will operate under the Texaco banner," Mr. Rice said Wednesday. "Marfak lubrication, washing, road service, tire repair, and registered rest rooms will be featured at the new station."

Mr. Rice took over the station June 4. Tom Crow and Lewis Rice will have charge of the new station, Mr. Rice said.

"The addition of the new station will not affect the services already being made by my old station," Mr. Rice said. He will remain in charge of the station at Tenth and Main.

Southern Women Reply to Query

Wherever they go, the "Touring Reporters" find eager answers to their question, "Were you helped by CARDUI?" Of 1297 users queried among those of 12 states, 1206 stated CARDUI benefited them. That is 93 out of every 100!

Users everywhere are glad to tell how CARDUI has made them want and enjoy food; how, with its help, they gained strength, energy, were thus relieved of the symptoms of "functional dysmenorrhea" due to malnutrition. Many also say that, when symptoms indicate the need, CARDUI in larger doses helps "at the time" to soothe pain.

AAA Proposes Aid For Small Farmers In Payment Boost

Five Million Dollars To Be Used in Texas to Hike Payments to "Small Fry"

The AAA expects to use more than $5,000,000 in Texas this year to increase payments to small farmers who, according to the regular schedule of grants, would not earn more than $200 by taking part in the Agricultural Conservation Program.

The ACP feature of the AAA program provides for conservation payments to reward soil and water conservation accomplished through confinement of soil-depleting crops to acreage allotments and adaptation of soil-building and range conservation practices. When total payments to a farm or ranch are less than $200, the checks are increased on a graduated scale. For example, a payment of $50 calculated under regular terms of the program would be hiked by $13, and a payment of $186 would have $14 added to it.

"This is another reason why our program has been called 'a small farmers program,'" Donald Cochran of Caviness, Lamar County farmer and member of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, observed. "In adopting the provision for increase of small payments, Congress intended to make the program as profitable as could be for the many families trying to make a go of it on small plots of land."

Demonstration of Cattle Dipping Draws Big Crowd

Exhibition Is Staged on D. H. Davenport Ranch All Day Monday

A large number of Hall County farmers and 4-H Club boys witnessed a cattle dipping demonstration on the D. H. Davenport ranch Monday. The demonstration, which was arranged by County Agent W. B. Hooser, continued throughout the day.

Nearly two hundred head of cattle were put through the dipping vats. Farmers and club boys brought animals to the ranch to be dipped.

Purpose of the demonstration was to show the use of wettable sulphur and cubae in delousing cattle. The chemicals were supplied for the demonstration through the courtesy of the Texas Gulf Sulphur Company.

Enough material was supplied by the company to prepare 3,000 gallons of solution, Hooser said. The combination of sulphur and cubae effectively kills all three types of lice, the demonstration showed.

Conservation District Groups Are Advised to Study Other States

Any group of farmers who contemplate organizing under the soil conservation district act recently passed by the Texas Legislature should appoint a committee to visit and observe similar districts in other states.

This is the observation made by C. (Dutch) Hohn, soil and water conservation specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, who has just returned from a tour of soil conservation districts in Louisiana, Arkansas, and Oklahoma.

Included in the party that made the tour were the members of the recently selected state soil conservation board, V. C. Marshall, chairman, of Heidenheimer; Horace Fawcett, Del Rio; W. G. Kennedy, Muleshoe; J. P. Martin, Martinsville; and Walter Cardwall, Luling; Paul Walsler, state coordinator of the Soil Conservation Service with headquarters at Texas A. and M.; and Geo. E. Adams, assistant state agent of the Texas Extension Service.

The group visited with supervisors and observed the work being done in districts at Minden, La.; Conway and Russellville, Ark.; and Broken Arrow and Konawa, Okla. A meeting was held with the Oklahoma state board.

Hohn, in a letter to Texas county agents, warned that the Texas law was an enabling act rather than a set-up designed to secure federal aid for direct conservation work. He urged that agents bring this fact to the attention of farmers.

"Many of our Texas people apparently have the idea that all they have to do to receive machinery, materials, and labor from federal sources is to organize a district," he pointed out. "On the contrary, nothing in the Texas act can be so interpreted. We found that some people in other states had the same idea, and that they were disappointed."

He added that technical aid would be available to districts to the extent permitted by the present set-up of state and federal agencies.

"The real value of the soil conservation district act is that it makes available to farmers and ranchmen a procedure whereby they can band together for cooperative action on a united basis, and whereby they can utilize to the best advantage such help as is offered," the specialist stated.

"That is why I advise that committees be sent to existing districts in other states to observe what has been learned by experience there. A district that profits by the experience of others is the district that is going to get the most out of the enabling clauses of the act."

Dairy Advisory Committee Plans Units in County

Development Committee in Every Texas County Is Goal of Association

Members of the Dairy Advisory Committee of the Texas Dairy Products Association, a state-wide organization formed recently to encourage the development of farm dairy herds and improve Texas dairy conditions, in session at Fort Worth June 8 adopted a plan of procedure for contacting Texas farmers interested in balancing the State's agricultural program.

It is planned to have Dairy Development Committees formed in each of the state's 254 counties.

The state organization will handle its educational campaign through these. A general call has gone to county agricultural agents, home demonstration agents, bankers, chambers of commerce, vocational agriculture teachers, business men and breeders of dairy cattle, asking them to meet immediately for the selection of committees and election of county chairmen. It is expected that the entire state organization will be perfected by July 1. Many of the counties now have active dairy committees.

Henry Teubel of Tullia heads the new organization, A. J. Riddle of Denison is chairman of the state dairy advisory committee.

The famous copper tun kept in the cellar of Heidelberg Castle was 36 feet long and 26 feet in diameter, and had a capacity of 49,000 gallons. It is said to have been the world's largest wine cask.

Many taverns of the England of olden days sold ale by the yard. "Yard-o'-ale" glasses consisted of a long, slender tube, which ended in a bulb holding about two pints of ale.

A LOT of folks have had their eyes opened wide by a ride in a 1939 Ford V-8. They just didn't realize how much more value and how many improvements we've put in this car the last few years. Today's advanced Ford is a product of progressive engineering, fine materials and honest construction. It is backed by an experience of building far more cars than anybody else in the world. One ride in today's Ford — with its smooth 8-cylinder engine, stabilized chassis, hydraulic brakes — will prove it's the modern car in the low-price field.

Replica of Real Panhandle Cowboy In Canyon Museum

Former Cowpuncher Poses For Plaster Statue at P-PHS Museum Recently

A life-like plaster replica of an old-time cowboy has captured the attention of every visitor to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum in Canyon recently. The plaster statue is of Fred Scott, employee of the late Col. Charles Goodnight for 18 years.

The resemblance of the statue to its subject was shown recently when Mr. Scott posed with it for a photographer. The likeness was almost perfect, even in the smallest details.

Clothing worn by the replica is typical of that seen on Panhandle ranges a half century ago. The boots, donated to the museum by J. J. Justin & Co. of Fort Worth, are taller than those worn by the modern stockman. Service-scared chaps, given by Henry Mooney of Amarillo, are worn over blue overalls, and the hat for the statue was provided by Mr. Scott himself. A gun and holster, worn about the waist, was given by H. O. Price of Canyon, and the blue work clothes were given by Newton Harrell of Claude.

The statue was made by Harley Goettsche of the museum staff, who is offering instruction in handing plaster this summer at West Texas State College.

Mr. Scott, who now lives in Canyon, came to the plains in 1881, and began work for Goodnight and Adair. Mr. Scott took part in three drives to the northern cattle markets before railroads came to the Panhandle. He was instrumental in the organization of Swisher County.

Milk Pitcher Back On The Table

W. J. COOPER, Consulting Home Economist
Breeder-Feeder Association

Milk pitcher back on the table as a slice or two of bread and butter. Milk has no affinities. It goes with any food or any kind of a meal. Often we hear the remark that fish and milk or ice cream must not be eaten at the same meal. This is a fallacy. Any of the natural foods may be used together. It is the man-made mixtures that offend. Some of our most delicate fish dishes are made with milk. While there are a few people who are allergic to fish and have to avoid all the sea foods, the majority can safely eat them. The question is not one of combinations, but of the condition of the food. If the fish is not fresh, it will cause sickness if eaten in any way. An often heard excuse for not drinking milk is that it is constipating. This is another fallacy. Milk in itself is not constipating. It is readily and easily digested and because of this, leaves no residue. The balanced diet furnishes bulk in the form of fresh fruits, vegetables and cereals for well-being. Milk is a vital part of this balanced meal. Not long ago a food quack went around this part of the country preaching that milk and citrus juices must not be taken at the same meal because the fruit juices curdled the milk. This is another ridiculous fallacy. The curdling of milk in the stomach is the first step in the digestion. Fruit juices aid in the digestion by helping to form a softer curd. The same reasoning applies to buttermilk.

Elaborate Equipment Not Necessary To Save Lives From Drowning

Spells Her Way to Championship

"No elaborate equipment is needed to save a life from drowning," is the opinion of State Health Department officials. "In fact, actual harm has been done by the misuse of so-called lung motors. Modern resuscitation apparatus has been carbon dioxide can be used without inflicting more damage to cases of asphyxiation and drowning. It is tragic enough to have a drowning accident, but it is far more tragic if no one present at the time knows how to save a life by artificial respiration. "The prompt application of artificial respiration is of primary importance, and for this purpose the prone pressure method is the easiest, simplest and most effective. This should begin at once and continue rhythmically until natural breathing is established—this may take four or more hours. Procedure: First: Kneel, and straddle the patient below the hips placing hands on small of the back with fingers over the lowest ribs, tips of fingers just out of sight. Second: With arms straight, while counting one, two, swing forward bearing weight on body firmly but not violently. Third: Swing backward while counting one, straightening up and thus relieving pressure—this allows air to be drawn into the lungs. Fourth: Rest in this position for two counts. Fifth: Repeat these movements rhythmically, forward and backward, without interruption, about twelve to fifteen a minute, until natural breathing is restored. Sixth: Meanwhile, if assistance is at hand, a physician should be sent for, the patient's tight clothing should be loosened at neck, chest, waist and he should be kept warm. The patient should not be moved until he is breathing normally and then should not be allowed to get up but should be carried in a lying position to a place where he can be kept warm and receive medical attention.

Correcting her last rival on "homogeneity," 12-year-old Elizabeth Rice of Worcester, Mass., won the 15th annual national spelling bee at Washington, D. C., receiving the trophy which she holds above.

Pensions Body to Await Ruling by Gerald Mann

Little Announces That No Investigations Set Until Attorney General Advises

W. A. Little, director of the Texas Old Age Assistance Commission, stated this week that no investigations would be made of applicants for old age assistance under the new law until a ruling had been secured from the Attorney General's Department, which opinion would serve in formulating policies and procedure of investigation under the liberalized act. Even after the opinion has been secured, it will be necessary for investigational instructions to be perfected and workers advised as to their use. This will likely require another week or ten days after the Attorney General's Department has officially acted. Little further stated that registrations had reached about 30,000 for the state as a whole, and it was an admitted fact that under the most favorable circumstances, several months would be required to complete records of investigation and to certify recipients for whatever prorata share of available money might be at hand from month to month. In the meantime, a new plan will be submitted to the Social Security Board at Washington, and their final decision as to the approval or disapproval of the plan awaited.

Vaccinate Against Typhoid Before Leaving on Summer Vacation Trips

If you have not been vaccinated against typhoid fever within the last two to three years, go to your family physician and have him give you the three "shots" that will protect you against that disease.

This advice comes from the Texas State Health Department, and is addressed particularly to those persons planning vacations away from home or those who regularly go on camping, fishing or such trips. Typhoid is contracted by way of the mouth. Each case comes directly or indirectly from some previous case. You eat or drink the germs that cause the disease, in food, water or milk contaminated by the discharges from persons who are ill with the disease or who have had it at some time. Modern medical and public health practices have greatly reduced the occurrence of typhoid, but it is still a menace to those unprotected against the disease. Protection of public water supplies from pollution, pasteurization of milk, inspection and supervision of food supplies, improvement in household sanitation and hygienic habits, better sewage disposal and careful investigation of typhoid outbreaks to determine the source of the disease are measures which have contributed to the diminution of the incidence of typhoid in Texas. But there are still sources of infection to which individuals are exposed, that cannot be reached by public measures, and for which vaccination affords additional protection. Persons who are apparently well, but who have had the disease at some time, may continue to discharge the typhoid germs. Such persons are known as "carriers" and if they are not careful in their personal habits they are liable to contaminate any food they touch. Flies carry germs from contaminated sources to food, and are another source of typhoid infection. Health departments, state, city and county, are waging constant warfare against typhoid all the year. Special efforts are made during the vacation period through the sanitary supervision of summer camps, parks, and public eating places to reduce any possible danger of vacation typhoid from such sources. But vaccination and sanitation are the only means to personal safety against the disease. So see your physician today for a vacation and summer unmarred by typhoid.

CARD OF THANKS

To all who were so kind and thoughtful, and for every visit made, and every kindness shown me in my recent illness, from the very depths of my heart I thank you.

Mrs. J. S. Ballard.

Mass Meeting at Gymnasium Friday Gets Small Crowd

Plans for Reunion Are Discussed; Ewen Makes Appeal for Cooperation

A small crowd attended a scheduled "mass meeting" at the Cyclone gymnasium last Friday night and heard a discussion of plans for the 1939 Old Settlers and Cowboy Reunion by members of the executive committee and leaders in the promotion.

E. M. Ewen, president of the Hall County Old Settlers Association, received an enthusiastic response, however, to his plea for county-wide cooperation in making the 1939 Reunion an outstanding success. Several representatives for neighboring communities were present for the meeting.

A thirty-minute concert by the Memphis Summer Band, under the direction of R. E. Martin Jr., preceded the rally. A piano solo, played by Martin on request, a vocal solo, "Mah Lindy Lou," a negro melody sung by Nell McNeely, and several numbers by the band featured the concert.

Ewen was introduced by Carroll Smyers, secretary of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and general manager for the reunion. He recalled the organization of the Old Settlers Association and the first reunion in 1934, and pointed out the value of these meetings, both to the old settlers and to the younger generations. He stressed the fact that this year's reunion is building up to the county's Golden Jubilee Celebration next year.

Smyers told the assembly of the set-up of the planning committee, and stressed the desire of the leaders to have everyone in the county officially or unofficially helping to promote the celebration.

Carl Harrison discussed plans for the two-day rodeo which is scheduled to be one of the main features of the reunion this year, and Judge M. O. Goodpasture told briefly of the plans made by the platform committee. An impromptu talk was made by John Deaver at the close of the meeting.

C. H. Smith Jr. of Duncan is here visiting in the home of his aunt, Miss Imogene King.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard and Geraldine and Dwight Lewis spent Saturday in Amarillo. They visited his mother, Mrs. A. J. Kinard, at Goodnight when they were en route home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Sloan of Estelline were in Memphis Wednesday.

Rodeo Entries—

arily have to live in Memphis, she stated, but may be drawn from any community. Approximately 80 local sponsors and 50 or more from other towns are expected to enter.

Separate prizes will be awarded local and out-of-town sponsors in the Reunion competition. First prize to out-of-town sponsors will be a $100 saddle, and to the winning local girl, a $35 pair of boots. Other prizes will be awarded runners-up.

Several communities have already notified the committee of their intention to enter sponsors in the rodeo here. Entries should be made to Mrs. Murray Dodson.

A number of other outstanding attractions are planned for the rodeo. While definite acceptance has not been made, Wilson said Wednesday that there is a strong possibility that the famous Keys quadruplets will represent Oklahoma City in the local rodeo.

The rodeo clown will, of course, be on hand. Local and state officials are also being invited, and several outstanding performers are expected to attend.

A big feature of the parade will be an old-time stage coach which is being brought here specially from Amarillo. Members of the parade committee are raising the cry, "get a horse"—urging everyone who can or will ride to get on horseback and take part in the huge opening day parade.

Rainfall Here—

out the night and until the middle of the morning Wednesday. The rainfall here was of the slow soaking type which farmers hailed as a "million-dollar downpour."

Clearing skies Wednesday afternoon forecast extensive planting during the latter part of this week. County Agent W. B. Hooser estimated Wednesday that not more than a fourth of the cultivated land in this county had been planted previous to the rains this week. Some cotton and feed had been planted in various parts of the county, Hooser said, but approximately three-fourths of the farm acreage remains to be planted.

The moisture brought considerably lower temperatures and relief from the record-breaking heat last week. Temperatures in Memphis reached above the 108 degree mark on two days last week. Low temperature this week was 68 degrees Tuesday night, McMickin reported.

Carnegie Library Closed for Repair

The Memphis Carnegie Library will be closed all this week while repairs to the interior of the building are being made, Mrs. W. C. Milam, acting librarian in the absence of Miss Bird Presler, announced Wednesday.

The library was closed Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Milam said, when work on the interior of the building was started, and will not be reopened this week.

Repairs include refinishing of interior ceilings, walls and woodwork. New floor coverings are to be laid, and new furnishings installed. The Carnegie Library, built here in 1912, houses more than 4,000 books. The two-story brick structure is located on West Main street.

was built by the county and later designated as a state highway, will be paid from state highway funds.

Harp's wife to Judge Goodpasture stated: "Bond assumption act lacks only Governor's signature. It finally passed both houses this morning." The vote was dated Wednesday.

A long fight has been waged by county authorities all over the state for passage of the bill. Judge Goodpasture, members of the commissioners' court, and President James E. King of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce have made numerous trips to Austin this spring in interests of the measure. Passage of the bill was one of the principal objectives of the chamber of commerce this year.

The measure was passed by the Senate two weeks ago, and sent to the House with amendments which precipitated another controversy. Last week it received another set-back when Attorney General Gerald Mann ruled portions of the bill unconstitutional.

Senator Clint C. Small and Representative Harp have both been active in securing passage of the measure. Small wired news of the passage to James E. King at the same time Harp was notifying Judge Goodpasture.

Wednesday marked the last day of the longest legislative session in the history of the state.

No statement has been made by Governor O'Daniel relative to his stand on the measure which now awaits his signature.

Comments—

Democrat last week. I don't know how many read this column. Surely, there are more people in this area who have loved ones buried in Fairview Cemetery and who would like to be able to grow flowers and shrubbery on the burial lots! This cannot be done without water, and the only way water can be obtained is from a well. It will take money to dig a well and equip it with a pump. And it will take still more to lay water pipe to the different parts of the cemetery.

I am still willing to put $10 into the proposition. Are there any others?

Situated on Main street, we here in The Democrat office observe many things that cause us to wonder why some people are so careless. For instance, people will stop out in the middle of the street and honk for some merchant to come out and take an order when there is plenty of room at the curb for parking. Sometimes, it's a cold drink and it must be drunk before the party moves on. In the mean time traffic must stop and edge around the car for five to ten minutes. The person who has a thought for other people will refrain from blocking traffic when it can possibly be avoided.

Then there is the guy who thinks Main street is a race track, and doesn't slow up even when he is passing the post office, when at times during the day, is the most congested section of the city. Some people, ordinarily are polite in their dealings with their fellowmen, forget all rules of traffic politeness when they get in behind the steering wheel of an automobile.

People of this area waited a long time for rain, but when it came it was a jim dandy. Lots of water fell slowly and soaked old Mother Earth, and very little damage to crops has been reported. Farmers are already anxious for the farms to dry sufficiently for planting cotton and feed.

The best news people of Hall County have had in many days was that of the passing of the bond assumption bill by the Legislature Wednesday morning. If and when the Governor signs the bill it will become a law, and the bonds for the road from Memphis to Frisco will be assumed by the state, thus reducing the county taxes materially. Hall County officials and individuals have worked long and faithfully, and Senator Clint Small and Representative Allen Harp have been real friends to Hall County in the matter.

Finals in all flights will be played over the club course Sunday. No charges are made for the gallery, and the public is invited to see the matches.

Baptist Workers Conference Held Here Tuesday

150 Members from Hall And Donley Counties Are Memphis Visitors

Approximately 150 people from Hall and Donley counties attended the Panhandle Baptist Workers Conference in Memphis Tuesday, the Rev. J. Wm. Mason, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Memphis said Wednesday.

Theme of the conference was the Church Covenant. A lunch was served for those attending by the women of the Baptist Church in Memphis.

The conference was opened at 10 o'clock in the morning with a song service conducted by Burr Willis of Harrell Chapel. At 10:15 o'clock, the Rev. W. H. DeBord of McKnight led the devotional.

The Rev. J. C. McKenzie of Amarillo explained the purpose and meaning of the covenant. Following the Rev. Mr. McKenzie, the Rev. W. T. Lewis of Lockett spoke on who should take the covenant.

Mrs. M. E. Wells of Hedley talked for ten minutes on "Our Obligation to the Church." At 10:50 o'clock, the second song service was conducted. Other talks in the morning were by the Rev. E. J. Evans of Harrell Chapel, who spoke on "Our Obligations to Ourselves," by the Rev. Truman Caldwell of Eli, who spoke on "Our Obligations to Our Brethren," and by J. F. Forkner of Memphis, who talked on "Our Obligation to Carry Out the Spirit of the Covenant." At 11:25 Miss Mildred Cooley of Memphis sang a solo.

The Rev. J. Perry King of Clarendon delivered the morning sermon, which was followed by a business meeting. The women's luncheon followed the business meeting.

The afternoon sessions included a meeting of the program committee, and a W. M. U. and Board meeting.

At 2:30 the Rev. Ray Brister of Lakeview led the devotional after which reports were heard from the following: District missionary, the Rev. J. C. McKenzie; associate Sunday School president, the Rev. J. Wm. Mason; associate B. T. U. president, the Rev. M. O. Evans; associate W. M. U. president, Mrs. J. Wm. Mason and associate Brotherhood president, Olson Sweat.

The conference expected to have other sessions at night, but due to other meetings in some of the churches, the sessions were begun in the morning in order that they might be completed.

Mrs. Craver Browder and children, who have been living in Amarillo, have moved to the Diamond Tail Ranch near Memphis for the summer.

Mrs. Forrest Power was a Childress visitor Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Long and son Charles Henry arrived in Memphis Wednesday for a visit with his sisters, Mrs. C. D. Denny, Miss Ida Mae Long and Mrs. D. M. Jarrell.

Mrs. Roy Dunn and children of Levelland are here visiting her mother, Mrs. C. A. McElroy.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Alkire of Los Angeles spent the week-end here with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. R. L. Brewer. They were enroute to Indiana.

THIEVES TAKE BEDDING

Several pillows and sheets were taken from Camp Alhambra, located on North Tenth street, Wednesday night, when thieves cut screens and entered through windows.

The bedding was taken from the alley, and footprints were found there. C. C. Hodges is operator of the camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Moreland Herring of Waxahachie are here visiting her sister, Mrs. Al Cook, and also with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Sargent at Keller-ville.

Rufus Layton and R. Hughes of Childress were in Memphis on business Wednesday.

Hollis Boren and son Bill and Charles Weisenburg went to Tulia Tuesday on business.

Miss Theima Shankle, who is attending summer school at Canyon, was home for the week-end.

Miss Jane Browder, who has been training in the Santa Rosa Hospital in San Antonio, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Craver Browder, and other relatives.

Mrs. T. M. Potts and daughter, Tommie Ruth, were Childress visitors Monday.

from the Donley-Hall Scout District

The editor and his staff for the new Scouting Herald were selected at a meeting of Troop 35 Monday night in the First Baptist Church. The Herald, sponsored, edited, and published by members of Troop 35, will be published and ready for distribution June 26, scribe of the troop said.

C. H. Smith of Duncan, Okla., visiting in Memphis, talked to the scouts at Duncan manage their troop. Smith is a Second Class scout and senior patrol leader.

Before discussion was opened for the Herald, several of the members took tests for second class scouts. Plans were also made to buy their community stripes, troop numerals, and patrol signs.

Troop 34 decided to take an overnight hike at their meeting Monday night after Scoutmaster Grundy promised to carry sixty pounds of bedding if each of the members would carry twenty pounds, and walk to the camping grounds and back. The place for the hike has not been determined.

Larry Grundy and Jim Deaver returned from Camp Ki-o-Wa Sunday.

Part of Troop 33 went to Camp Ki-o-Wa for their meeting and were given instruction in swimming, life-saving, leathercraft, woodcraft, and first aid. Those who did not go to the camp had their regular meeting Thursday night, studying and passing tests. Plans were also made for an overnight hike June 22.

Next week, on Wednesday and Thursday, June 28 and 29, scouts from all over America will meet in New York City for the twenty-ninth annual meeting of the National Council. Sessions on Wednesday will include discussion groups, the annual business meeting and a report from the Chief Scout Executive, Dr. James E. West, who is editor of Boys' Life.

Alfred E. Smith, former Governor of New York, is to be the principal speaker at the luncheon that day. Dr. John R. Mott, president of the World's Alliance of the Y. M. C. A. will be the guest of honor and will deliver the main address at the dinner program. Other features there will be pageantry presented by the host Scout Council, the Boy Scout Foundation of Greater New York, and the presentation of seven Silver Buffalo Awards for distinguished service to boyhood.

On June 29, the national council meeting will adjourn to the World's Fair, for an inspection tour of the Boy Scout Service Camp adjacent to the federal building and a closing luncheon at the Casino of Nations, addressed by Fiorello H. LaGuardia, mayor of New York City, and Grover Whalen, president of the World's Fair Corporation.

The attendance of delegates and scouts at the National Council meeting is expected to exceed the thousand mark. There are more than 1,200 members of the National Council, living in all sections of the country.

South Sea Islands No Paradise
Memphis Sailor Discovers

"Of all the God-forsaken spots, this takes the cake," Ralph Vandiver, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Vandiver of Memphis, who is in the U. S. Navy, writes of Canton Island, one of the group of the Samoan Islands in the South Pacific Ocean.

Mr. Vandiver, who enlisted about 12 years ago, stayed at the shipyard in Philadelphia on this trip to the U. S. for about six weeks. Then he went to Norfolk, Va., where he was aboard the battleship New York for a month. When the U. S. S. Bushnell, on which he went to the Samoan Islands, came in from South America, he and the rest of the crew spent about two months overhauling the ship. From there he went to Honolulu, and on to Samoa.

"This isn't like any part of the navy I ever knew," Mr. Vandiver writes. "Our only uniform is a sun helmet and a pair of shorts, for officers and men alike. Some of these men look like wild men with their beards and long hair, and their skin burned black from the sun. I'm pretty black myself but never felt better and am gaining weight."

"It may sound like a lonesome duty but we really enjoy ourselves, fishing and swimming and exploring around. The let-down of all the strict discipline we've all been used to on the warships is welcome, too."

Mr. Vandiver is stationed on an island where there is a total population of six men, three of them white and three of them natives. The white men, employed by the government, serve there nine months at a time, taking weather reports and sending from the nearby light-house.

"Our ship is a survey ship, and looks very much like a yacht," Mr. Vandiver writes. "Our job is charting and making nautical maps of the uncharted parts of the ocean and different islands for use in the navigation of the ships of all nations. It is a very interesting duty. We have several civilians aboard who are experts and are employed by the government to work with us. We even have a fish expert to study the different species of fish we find. He has a technical name of some sort about a mile long."

"I do not know how many months we will be down here as we have about thirteen islands to survey. I don't think we will get back to Honolulu until Christmas. We are about 2,500 miles southwest of there now. We go into the island of Samoa once a month to meet the mail steamer, and we are only paid there as we have no use for money otherwise. I am only able to mail this letter now because a tug boat that brought us an airplane down here is going back to Honolulu tomorrow."

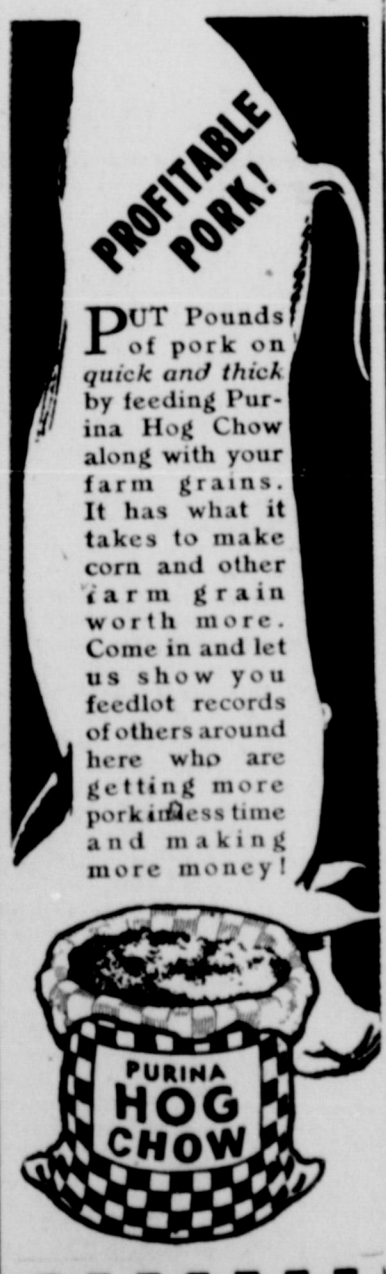

On the day Mr. Vandiver wrote, a steamer arrived from the United States to build a port on the island for the Pan-American Airways Company. The company plans to start flying their ships to Australia soon, and intend to use the island as a stop-over.

"The ship brought one hundred men," Mr. Vandiver says, "and the equipment to build a hotel, a restaurant, a bar, a hangar, and homes for the company employees. So I guess in a few days we will hardly know our little old island. There are only six trees on the whole island, but it has thousands of "goona" birds, rats, and hermit crabs. I don't know how they'll get rid of these."

Mr. Vandiver writes that he intends to stay in California when he gets back there. It took 28 days for the letter to reach Memphis.

Miss Mary Lois Powers went to Dallas Thursday to be interviewed by the superintendent of the Parkland Hospital. She plans to enter training there next fall.

BEAUTIFYING FAIRVIEW

RESPECT FOR THE DEAD is one of the marks of a civilized people. It is a custom of long standing to care for deceased loved ones in a manner which pays fitting tribute to their memory.

Because Death carries with it a feeling of sorrow and grief, as well as awe for the Great Unknown, men have attempted to alleviate the pain of death as far as it extends to those who live by making the last resting place for loved ones a place of quiet beauty and restfulness. Some of the most beautiful spots in the land are cemeteries dedicated to those who have gone before.

It is the custom to carry flowers to a funeral, not only as a mark of respect for the dead but as a balm of friendship for the living who mourn them. In the same spirit, we place flowers on graves, and attempt to beautify these places to remove some of the harshness of dying. There is no place more desolate than a cemetery barren of trees and flowers.

Memphis' Fairview Cemetery has provided a hard struggle for those who keep it attractive and beautiful to the eye. Many who have loved ones buried at Fairview have labored long to keep alive the shrubs and flowers planted there, but the difficulty of securing water has made their battle a losing one.

No water at all is available in the cemetery, and it is necessary to carry it in buckets and pails, a slow, laborious, and unsatisfactory method. For a small expenditure, it will now be possible to put down wells and pipe water into the cemetery itself. A few people have expressed interest in the project, and it certainly deserves the support of all.

The cost, as has already been pointed out in this newspaper, would be small . . . the results gratifying. A plentiful supply of water would make a peaceful garden spot of Fairview Cemetery . . . a place of rest which would be glorious tribute to those who have gone before.

TRIBUTE TO BUILDERS

THE SPIRIT OF PROGRESS is a vital, living thing, and the rural home, long neglected by modern invention and denied many of the modern conveniences which have become necessities to city dwellers, is now coming into its own.

Within a few weeks electricity, with all of the conveniences which it makes possible, will be available to more than 300 rural homes in Hall County . . . and plans are already underway to bring the same service to more than 400 more. This modern miracle is being accomplished through the Hall County Electric Cooperative . . . and like most miracles, has been accomplished through hard and persevering effort.

A great deal of credit is due to the Hall County farmers who led the organization of the cooperative, became members of its board of directors, and have served without pay, giving their time and effort toward making the dream of rural electrification possible here.

The 117-mile power line now under construction, and a proposed 125-mile extension which may be built soon, is the direct result of their efforts. Theirs is an accomplishment to be proud of . . . and the farmers who are directly benefited should show their appreciation by making the Co-op a real cooperative.

FIFTY YEARS IN MEMPHIS

WITH THIS ISSUE The Democrat begins its fiftieth year of service to the people of Memphis and Hall County. The Hall County Herald, which was absorbed by purchase and combined with The Democrat in 1927, was established in 1890 . . . the year of the founding of Hall County.

The fact that this newspaper has been published continuously since that time is proof enough that the faith of its founders was well-placed. Because the founders of The Herald believed in the future of Hall County and had the courage of their convictions, a newspaper was born . . . and still lives . . . a monument to the progress of a great agricultural empire.

The Democrat still holds to that same faith in the future of this section that prompted its pioneer editors, forty-nine years ago, to publish a pioneer newspaper. We hope and believe that when Hall County joins The Memphis Democrat in celebrating a Golden Jubilee next year it will embark on another half-century of progress that will exceed accomplishments of the past.

Few business establishments in the nation can point to a record of fifty years standing. It is with pride, therefore, that we mark this anniversary . . . and with gratitude to the men who have made it possible. Without the continuous support of the people of Hall County, this anniversary would not be.

CULLED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

Critics of education now claim that it is costing too much in Texas. That may be true, and may not be true, depending entirely upon the community in which the school is located or the management of the institution which the students attend. The fact that our jails and penal institutions are overflowing with youths who are largely without educational advantages is certainly a sound argument that there is a very great need for spending more money for education with certain classes of youth.—The Canyon News.

A new drug to cure insanity was recently flown here from Germany. It seems as though there should be a wide demand for the product in the country of its origin.—Miami Chief.

The moon and many of the stars shine from reflected light. Lots of people get by the same way.—The McLean News.

The Texas Press Association is asking the Texas Legislature for an enacting clause to require each and every county in Texas to make periodical publication of receipts and disbursements of all cash received. Strange as it may seem, there has developed strong opposition to this proposal. By all odds, there should be nothing short of a unanimous vote on the proposition. . . . Taxpayers in every county in Texas should have a report on what their tax dollar is being spent for. No sincere patriotic citizen will oppose such. Likewise, no member of the legislature who believes in thrift and money-saving will vote against the measure.—The Paducah Post.

A politician who was defeated for office last year sends a free-from-Austin release to newspapers of the state each week. He headed his column last week: "I hate taxes. And so do most people. And there's a reason." The man who hates taxes hates police protection, the courts of our land, and all other protective arms of a democratic government. Of course, all of us hate some forms of taxes—discriminatory, unjust top-heavy taxes. But to make the unequivocal statement, "I hate taxes," is to brand the writer, at best, as a radical who could best be excluded from the helm of the ship of state.—The Scurry County Times.

President Roosevelt has never been a stickler for American precedents. In fact the third term one is about all there remains that he has not broken. He will dare this one for the sake of his program for he is very sincere in his belief in its merit. The contest is sure to be vicious and giant propaganda machines will soon make clear thinking difficult. The heavy head work should be done now. President Roosevelt has earned more at the hands of the people than the condemnation brought on by idle rumor and vicious propaganda.

On the other hand, to re-elect him means to remove the last vestige of restraint from the executive department and from the pathway of the New Deal. It will clothe with the iron hand of popular will every semi-judicial government bureau in the nation. It means all power to federal agencies everywhere. Congress itself must become little more than a seconding body. Moreover it carries no security of four more years of Mr. Roosevelt, for despite his wonderful resistance he has reached the point where life expectancy cannot for him be indefinite.

He is entitled to a fair verdict, but the jury must charge itself with the responsibility for the fate of the nation.—The Moore County News.

O. K. on Food Stamp Plan Awaits Proof That Farm Surplus Is

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON.—Although the results of the orange and blue food stamp experiment look very good at this stage of the game, Department of Agriculture experts are eagerly refusing to pass final judgment on the venture as yet.

The whole thing is still very much in the experimental stage, it is emphasized, and it will take careful checking for some months to show whether this system of enabling relief clients to buy surplus farm commodities is really working out as it was intended to.

So far, however, the surface indications all seem to be favorable.

In Rochester, N. Y., the figures speak for themselves.

During the fortnight for which most recent figures are available, 7500 Rochester relief families paid $64,000 for the orange food stamps. These are the stamps which are good for any kind of foodstuff; theoretically, that $64,000 represents the sum which these 7500 families would have spent for food anyway during those two weeks, and hence does not indicate any increase in buying.

BUT, by buying those $64,000 worth of orange stamps, these relief families got $32,000 worth of blue stamps free. The blue stamps can be used only to buy six specified surplus farm commodities.

Hence, in that fortnight, the Rochester retail grocery trade was able to sell $32,000 worth more of these surplus foodstuffs than it could have sold if the system had not been in operation.

In Dayton, O., the second city where the plan is being tried out, there is a similar story to tell. The method of distributing the stamps there is slightly different, as many relief clients get straight food orders. . . . buy the orange stamps. . . . blue stamps are stamped them, at the rate of worth of stamps for each worth of food.

At any rate, during five days the Dayton operation, 4800 relief stamps which means that the tail grocery trade is worth more of the stamps than it would have been able to buy.

On the face of it both Dayton and Rochester fit greatly by the Department of Agriculture people point out that other angles to be studied.

When a family buys stamps to make its routine food purchases, . . . isn't it possible anxiety to get as many stamps as possible so the maximum number of blue stamps, it may be more on food than it would? In other words the whole scheme here of diverting money into other trade channels.

THE department's experts think it does. But be sure until they have tended statistical studies, they won't know effect this added spending crop movements, and so on until elaborate checking studies have been made.

For the basic idea apply to give the relief to eat, but to dispose surpluses. In the long run, it doesn't make a general scale contribution of the surplus will be discarded—how enthusiastically clients are hailing it where it is now being

Operations in SCS Erosion Will Cease by July First

Operations in all conservation projects in the Great Plains region will be up to the Department of Agriculture and by state and federal agencies.

"Armed with these facts," Fennell recalled, "soil specialists undertook the job back in 1934 of carrying out effective methods of controlling erosion on the cropland, the pastures, the idle and gullied land and the woodlands."

"These demonstration projects, usually of about 25,000 acres, were set up in areas where erosion was severe and the service technicians worked with the farmers in demonstrating conservation practices. The idea was to operate these projects long enough to get results—long enough to put on a 'show window' that farmers in the surrounding country could see, and copy. Just as soon as this job was done, the service was to 'move out.' That's what the service is doing now," Fennell stated.

During the last five years, in addition to carrying on these demonstration projects, the service also has demonstrated erosion control practices in cooperation with CCC camps in Kansas, Texas and Colorado, and has worked in cooperation with various other federal and state agencies. Most of the projects were placed on a "maintenance basis," that is, actual field operations were ended, a year ago. The last projects to cease operations will be the Cherry Creek project near Colorado Springs and the Clovis, N. M. project.

Soil conservation districts laws now have been enacted in all states included in the Southern Great Plains region for the service, Fennell pointed out. Already the service is cooperating with forty such districts in Colorado, one in Kansas, and three in New Mexico. Farmers of these self-governed districts now are taking advantage of the experience and findings of the Soil Conservation Service demonstration projects the regional director said.

Shelterbelts Are Kept Clean and Free of Weeds

Owners in Hall County Take Pride in Caring For Trees, Pearce Says

Shelterbelt owners of Hall County are taking care of their trees with great interest," remarked I. F. Pearce, local forest officer, "keeping their trees entirely free of weeds. That is the only way to keep them. With no weeds the trees will put on the most rapid growth.

"There appears to be friendly rivalry between the many Shelterbelt owners of Hall County," continued Pearce, "to determine who can keep his tree rows continuously the cleanest and the ground work best. For example, S. D. Posey has his trees spotlessly clean. Also the shelterbelts belong to W. D. Beavers, Mrs. Kittle L. Gammage, J. A. McCready, Peter Ballard, F. A. Whitefield, Uncle Henry and Uncle Charlie Hancock, and many others, are entirely free of weeds."

Hall County citizens are taking much pride in their trees and are making certain that the adjacent countries will not get ahead of them in having the best cultivated belts, it was pointed out.

Best Sportsman's Show Opens In June 26 for One Week Run

From the entire Tri-State sportsman's show in the West—a one that will have some of the best sportsmen from the entire Tri-State area participating in the show at the Amarillo June 26 to July 2.

The show is being sponsored by the cooperation of the News-Globe, the Fish and Oyster Club and the Panhandle Club.

It is a huge building interesting exhibits given by five outdoor sportsmen from the Tri-State area. Ken Wilhelm champion trick shot, Cliff of San Antonio more medals and gold and rifle shooting amateur; David Memphis, Tenn., the sling-shot champion; Alton of Denver, the horsehoe pitcher; Lamb of Houston, the bass casting champion; and the champions who will be at the show.

Exhibits will be a game fish aquarist from San Antonio; the most extensive collection of trophies; small game; an outfit; and a score of equipment displays. Two continuous movies, exhibiting film library of Field and Game and the Texas Game and Fish Commission. There will be conditioned theaters. The hall will be decorated with evergreens from New Mexico and Texas.

An artificial lake has been set for casting and for hunting dog trials. There will be world champion dogs on display in a bench show as well as in field and lake trials.

All this will be available to the visitor on one ticket for which a nominal sum will be charged. It is hoped to pay expenses of the show, because if it is successful it will be made an annual event. The show is not a commercial promotion but a cooperative effort by sportsmen to advance the cause of conservation and outdoor sports.

It is estimated that, with good weather, at least 30,000 visitors will attend the show during the week.

Cunningham Talks To School Man's Club at Tech

Local School Principal Appears on Program of Teachers Organization

Noah Cunningham, principal of Memphis High School and graduate student this summer at Texas Technological College in Lubbock, spoke Monday before a meeting of the School Man's Club on the Tech campus, addressing members of the organization on "Monotonal Program as Used in Memphis High School."

Cunningham, who was recently elected vice president of a companion organization, the Graduate Club, appeared on the program with C. L. Wiseman, professor at Southern Methodist University and visiting professor this summer at Texas Tech.

Methods employed in Memphis high have attracted considerable attention and praise in education circles. Cunningham's discussion Monday concerned a new phase of school administration which has been successfully introduced in the local schools.

Cunningham is doing graduate work toward his Masters Degree at the Lubbock school this summer.

SPEAKER—Noah Cunningham, principal of Memphis High School, addressed members of the School Man's Club at Texas Technological College in Lubbock Monday evening on phases of his work in Memphis schools.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of expressing our appreciation to our friends for the many deeds of kindness, shown us in our bereavement in the loss of our mother and grandmother. We also appreciate the many beautiful flowers. May God's richest blessings rest upon you is our wish.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sims.
J. D. Sims.
Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Osborn and Billie.

ATTEND GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY OF PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Doss and son Jerry went to Lipan Saturday where they attended the fiftieth wedding anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Doss, Sunday, June 18. There were six living children present and six grandchildren.

Mrs. Allie Huckaby of Lubbock who has been the guest of Mrs. Hamp Prater was called home Saturday due to the sudden illness of her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. David H. Davenport and children of Lakeview and Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Potts spent Thursday evening in the John Mahone home in Childress.

CHURCHES

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

It is indeed a pleasure to announce the coming of Dr. and Mrs. Upchurch of Dallas for next Sunday morning and evening. Arrange for your families to attend.

Last Sunday was an unusual day in many ways. Ordination services, and music both morning and evening were special features of the day.

And I now call your attention to special music again next Sunday. Ask your friends to come with you to meet the visitors of the day. Thank the Lord for every drop of rain.

E. C. Cargill, Pastor.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

The pastor's message will be on the subject, "The Expectant Christ" with Hebrews 10:13. Sunday evening the subject for the message will be "Like That Which They Loved," Hosea 9:10. We are trusting that there will be large crowds in all the services Sunday to show our appreciation to the Lord for his marvelous blessing of the rain.

We feel there should be large attendances in the Sunday school and B. T. U. for Sunday. The services for the past several weeks have been well attended, but still there is always room for more. Do not stay at home on account of company, but bring your company to the church and let them worship with us. "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord."—Psalms 122:1.

Rev. J. Wm. Mason, Pastor.

Texas Colleges to Offer Courses in Traffic Safety

Ten State Institutions Add Safety Instruction To Summer Curriculum

Ten Texas colleges and universities—more than ever before—are including traffic safety courses in their curriculum this summer, a state police survey showed today.

Colonel Homer Garrison Jr., state police head, commended the schools for an important contribution to traffic education.

"Most of those taking these courses are teachers themselves—a happy fact that solves one of the problems of getting safety education into more schools. In the past it has been hard to find teachers already trained in safety work," he said.

Most of the safety education courses offered this summer embrace first aid, general safety, including safety in the home, and traffic safety. At the University of Texas, where safety education now is being offered for the first time, John Lawther, assistant professor of physical education at Pennsylvania State College, is teaching the traffic safety phase and E. R. M. Muirhead of the American Red Cross is giving instruction in first aid.

Other schools offering such courses are:

Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos; Sam Houston State Teachers at Huntsville; East Texas State Teachers at Commerce; Southern Methodist University; Texas Tech; West Texas State College at Canyon;
