Five thousand Texas boys will be allowed to enroll in CCC camps October 17 and 18, Washington and Austin authorities have announced. Every county in the state will be allotted a certain number of boys for enrollment.

Applications are now being taken at the Hall County Welfare Office in the old Hall County National Bank building in Memphis. The office is in charge of Misses Frankie Barnes and Helen Boswell.

Admission to CCC camps does not make a boy more liable for military call, it was pointed out. Enrollees are not given distinct military training, but are instructed in non-combatant training, which, of course, is intended to aid the county in case of national emergency.

Vocational and business training of a number of types is given in the camps, as well as is regular school work for those needing it. A staff of technical and academic teachers is used at each of the camps.

COC rules now permit enrollment of six months for all boys "employable and in need of employment." This includes not only the sons of families receiving some type of public assistance, but also those who are in need of employment and training.

Ages of enrollees accepted are from 17 to 23 1/2 years. Applicants must be able to pass a reasonable physical examination, and must be of good moral character, it was explained.

Each boy is paid $30 per month, $22 of which is remitted to their families or other dependents. Those without dependents are required to deposit the $22 with the government's finance officer, and it will be returned to them at the end of their enrollment period.

Form of Leasing, Rental Agreements To Cause 4 of 10 Tenants to Move

Soon thousands of Texas tenants will be on the move and thousands of Texas landlords will be selecting new tenants for 1941. Four out of ten Texas tenants and sharecroppers will move this year.

At least part of the blame for this situation can be placed on the forms of leasing or rental agreements in use in Texas, almost all of which have four common faults: Failure to put the terms of the lease on paper; short—usually one-year—leases; heavy emphasis on cash crop farming; and failure to encourage improvement of the farms.

The need for introducing or adding cattle, sheep, and swine on tenant farms, the necessity for soil conservation and soil improvement measures in most sections of the state, and the need for crop rotation extending over a period of years all make it imperative that the turn-over in tenants be slowed down.

That is the way Tyrus R. Timm, extension economist in farm management, sums up the situation in announcing that the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Texas A. and M. Extension Service have worked together to prepare five lease forms calculated to meet almost all situations.

Copies of the agreements can be secured free from county agricultural agents, he said.

The forms include a Standard Flexible Farm Lease, a Flexible Share Lease, Flexible Sharecropping Agreement, and supplements to the share and sharecropping agreements.

"We realize, of course, that these lease forms are not in themselves the solution to the tenant problems as a whole or to individual problems between landlords and tenants, but they are instruments through which these problems can be approached in a definite and concrete way," Timm pointed out.

Dr. Jackson told the club women, and those are the United States, Western Europe, Russia, and Japan. The United States, he added, is the only "workshop" where freedom still remains.

"If Britain falls," the educator pointed out, "our industrial world will face a situation or regimented collectivist production."

Three years ago, Dr. Jackson said, a Nazi propagandist asserted that South America "is a most vital frontier, a chance for German colonies, which may act as a bulwark against the United States." The propagandist added that it was the job of his co-workers as propagandists to prepare the bulwark for Hitler.

Most of the Germans in South America today are as much German as were their forefathers, Dr. Jackson explained. Many sections are so predominantly German that the natives speak the German language.

In his address to Rotarians, Dr. Jackson presented facts based on a nation-wide survey of 217 typical towns. The size of the town, he said, has nothing to do with the quality of citizenship or business relations.

Other points of a good town, as outlined in the survey, were few Negroes, no monopolies, few newspapers, few hospitals, more and better schools, churches, low birth rates, a number of people who read more and better material, civic progress, a large number of cigar stores—but small number of drug stores, and city plans for development.

Thirty-five per cent of the town's reputation as a good place in which to live depends on the wealth and income, Dr. Jackson said. The character of the people counts for 55 per cent, and the remaining 10 per cent is allotted to miscellaneous reasons.

Intelligence, Dr. Jackson told the audience in his address at the Memphis High School, may be defined as the ability to cope with novel situations quickly and efficiently.

He pointed out that education gives equal opportunity to all, and distinguished between equal education and equal opportunity. He explained that there will never be equal education since all children are not alike, but, when each student is given his chance, that may be termed as equal opportunity.

As an example of his definition of intelligence, the professor said that a person might be a "walking encyclopedia," yet have no practical knowledge of the affairs of life.

week due to an injured knee, is still unable to play. He will probably miss at least one more game, and possibly more games than that.

Back in the line-up will be big Ted George, who missed last week's affray due to illness. Bob Robertson, another veteran line-man, will probably miss action due to injuries received this week.

Louie Grimes, backfield man during the first three games, has been shifted to the center slot, and Jim Caviness, who has seen little action so far, will start the game in the blocking back position. Bob Lindsey, who played his first game last Friday night after only three days' practice, will also be a starter.

The Shamrock game is the first conference tilt for the Irishmen, although they have lost two and tied one non-conference game. Memphis won over Lakeview in its only conference battle.

Feeding of Dog Is Important to Farm

Proper feeding of the farm dog is becoming as much of a science as the feeding of other farm animals. At least it should be, for the well-trained dog on a Texas ranch or livestock farm fills a real need and works as hard as anybody.

In Louisiana a dog lover initiated the practice of filling a canning budget for her dog at home butchering time, and numbers of other homemakers have followed her example in providing for the farm dog.

Work done in the last four years by the Alabama Experiment Station has revealed that the home mixing of a dog's rations is both practical and economical.

These rations have been found to be complete for the growth and maintenance of dogs:

(1) 58 pounds of ground yellow corn, 20 pounds of wheat shorts, 20 pounds of meat scraps, 1 pound of salt and 1 pound of cod liver oil.

(2) 46 pounds of ground yellow corn, 20 pounds of wheat shorts, 29 pounds of peanut meal, 2.5 pounds of bone meal, 1 pound of salt, 1.2 pound of limestone and 1 pound of cod liver oil.

(3) 55 pounds of ground yellow corn, 20 pounds of wheat shorts, 10 pounds of meat scraps, 12 pounds of peanut meal, 1 pound of salt, 1 pound of limestone, and 1 pound of cod liver oil.

The cod liver oil may be omitted from these rations if the dogs are mature. These dry mixed rations may be moistened and fed raw or they may be baked in the form of bread. The food is more palatable when baked and is utilized more efficiently than when fed raw.

Were all automobile and truck drivers as safe as drivers for the petroleum industry, 13,700 lives would be saved each year in automobile fatalities.

Annuities paid by some Texas oil companies to retired employees total from three to six times those prescribed under the social security law.

Farmers Begin—

ments will finally total, Thompson said. About 1,350 applications are to be signed, and they will be sent to the state office for approval and for the checks as quickly as they can be prepared and signed.

Another shipment of parity payments were received Monday—214 checks for a total of $18,074.50, to bring the total number of checks to 1,650, and the total amount of money received to $154,842.82, Thompson said.

All applications with the exception of about 25, have been sent off for the parity payments, Thompson said. These applications are those in which there is some slight irregularity, and will be sent off as soon as possible.

How soon the conservation payments will start arriving this is not known, Thompson said. Farmers will be receiving them, as soon as they are received.

The conservation pay- composed of three parts: cotton conservation, and filling soil building. The estimated $275,000 total all three of these does not take into account the amount allowed for units and feed costs earned by the farmers. The cotton conservation of the total amount is about $49,000, and the unit portion about $192,000, the feed unit portion about $192,000, and the unit portion about $192,000.

Some cotton yards 50 miles of it are made at the Southern Research Laboratory.

pose of the party was to create a closer friendship and better understanding between the people of the two communities. The Memphians expressed pleasure at being invited to attend a party where all could have a good time in a social way, and voted the Plaska people perfect hosts.

The party was a pioneer movement, in that it was the first time that Memphis business men had been invited, as a whole group, to attend a social function in a neighboring community given purely for friendship building.

The Shamrock eleven will go into the contest with everything to gain and nothing to lose since they dropped their first two non-conference encounters by heavy scores and just managed to tie the Perryton Rangers in last week's battle by a 6 to 6 count. It will be the opening conference encounter of the season for the Irishmen; therefore, they will be fighting for their first win of the season in addition to their first conference victory.

The Irish lads will be badly out weighed, giving about 16 pounds to the man, but that is nothing new to Shamrock teams since they have seldom ever put a team heavier than their opponents on the field during the past few seasons.

Cotton Marketing Quota Voting Set For December 7

Balloting Procedure to Be Same as Last Year When 91 Per Cent Voted 'Yes'

Voting procedure in the cotton marketing quota referendum, December 7, will be the same as was used in the referendum last year.

All cotton producers in the state will be given the opportunity to vote in the referendum to decide whether quotas will be in effect in 1941, George Slaughter, state AAA committee chairman, pointed out. In last year's referendum, 82 per cent of the cotton producers in Texas favored quotas, while 91 per cent of the producers in the nation voted "yes."

A national cotton marketing quota of approximately 12,000,000 bales, the same as in effect for the current year, has been proclaimed by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard. The county AAA committees will be in charge of all arrangements for the referendum in the various counties, the chairman said, and the voting will be handled just as in any regular election. The committee will choose three local farmers to serve as election officers in each community. Voting places will be provided for all communities where cotton is produced, the county committee designating the places and providing ballot boxes. Voting places will open at 9 o'clock in the morning, December 7.

All voting will be by secret ballot, each farmer marking his ballot and casting it in the customary manner used in secret balloting.

To be effective in 1941, cotton marketing quotas must be approved, quotas will apply to all states, counties and communities where cotton is produced.

Best Shooting in Five Years Ahead for Duck Hunters

Birds of a feather. . . There are more on the wing this year.

SOME 65 million ducks, geese and other migratory waterfowl are currently observing an annual custom that has long puzzled the scientific world. They have turned their beaks southward and are quite unobtrusively winging their way toward the sandy, sunlit beaches and the warm winds of lands below the equator.

Thousands of these will never reach the warmer clime. Some will be unable to complete the long, hazardous flight over the water, to stand the strain on the flight muscles that move their wings. Others will never even reach the open sea. They'll wind up on platters on the tables of American hunters whose aims are true.

For the time has come to bring out the shotgun, perhaps whistle to a dog, and begin tramping the fields and marshes of autumn for game.

AMERICAN duck gunners cannot set forth, as their ancestors did, to kill birds when and how they like. This ancient branch of the art of fowling is played under rules these days. There are seasons to be observed, limits set on the daily bag, and times of day when hunting is restricted.

Some hunters grumble at these regulations. They like to think of Pilgrim days when there were birds on every bush, when the slaves of Virginia complained they were fed quail so often they got sick. But there would be little left to hunt today. Game regulation in America dates back to 1629 when hunting privileges were granted to persons establishing colonies in what is now New York State. There followed an ever-increasing volume of legislation to control the taking of game. By 1860, 31 states had hunting laws, as our forefathers began to realize the rich wildlife heritage of the continent was threatened with extermination by constant slaughter.

TODAY the migratory waterfowl picture is far from pessimistic. Government biologists predict better shooting for "U. S. duck hunters this fall than they have had for the last five years. The current bird "census" reveals that the wildfowl population has more than doubled since 1935.

The nationwide establishment of 266 federally operated refuges and sanctuaries has played an important role in bringing back the ducks. Observance of the rules by veteran hunters, and the poor aim of novices, will keep the skies dark enough with birds to suit every sportsman.

A number of Hall Counties have asked that some analysis be made of the four state constitutional amendments which were printed in The Democrat recently, and Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe, when written, sent the following brief explanations of the amendments:

(Citizens will cast their vote on these four amendments at the November election.)

Amendment No. 1—Applies only to Red River County, which desires to refund a heavy bonded indebtedness and secure a lower interest rate. An amendment to the constitution is necessary to take the action. Red River County is in favor of the amendment, it has been explained.

No. 2—Provides that notary public may be appointed at any time. At present, Notaries may be appointed only when the Legislature is in session, and, if the amendment is adopted, the secretary of state may make the appointments at any time. Observers have pointed out that the amendment can do no harm and might do some good.

No. 3—Applies to civil service for state, county, and municipal appointive employees, with particular reference to the appointment of an employee for more than two years. Little objection to this amendment has been voiced, it has been explained.

No. 4—Hastens court procedure so that the constitutionality of a law may be more quickly determined. Appeals may be taken directly from the trial court to the Supreme Court when the point at issue is the constitutionality of a law.

"Hot Time!" Cold Night. Parked Late? Never mind...start up in jig-time

Bad days ahead. But here's how Winter OIL-PLATING maintains needed lubricant in advance—for Safe Quick Starts...

Your engine is up around 2 feet tall. But where is its highest oil-level? Barely 3 or 4 inches off the bottom during parking. So if you depend on crankcase oil alone, when starting up cold, you'll wait till it climbs a good ways—and goes warming around. But now!...no more hard risky waiting for that first badly needed lubricant...not with your engine OIL-PLATED for Winter by changing today to your correct Winter grade of Conoco Germ Processed oil.

Processed into this patented oil that sells at a normal price is a rare extra substance—created by man—to fasten lubricant firmly to metal. The result is OIL-PLATING, attached to inner engine parts as closely as chrome plating is attached to bumpers. And like chrome plating, OIL-PLATING doesn't all drain down during parking, but stays up as high as the highest piston rings reach—ready to smooth out starting stroke No. 1—ready to fight for oil economy by fighting the wear of oil-starved starting. (And the less wear, the more gasoline economy, too!) Then OIL-PLATE now—at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

COSTLY, BUT WORTH IT

THIS BUSINESS of national defense, the kind of national defense the United States is working for and is in need of, is a costly thing, costly in money and that means costly in a lot of other ways.

The modern housewife, if she should go to town in 1942 to buy an automatic refrigerator, may be told she will have to wait a month or two because of a shortage of materials at the company's factory. The material, the salesman may have to tell her, is being used in carrying out the national defense program.

More than likely, however, this will hardly be the case. The production capacity in all lines averaged together is only about 80 per cent, according to estimates, and that 100 per cent capacity is with the machinery we have today.

In two more years, various industries could possibly speed up and increase their production capacities far beyond anything now conceivable. But private industry is somewhat worried about increasing production. They figure there will be a let-down at the end of the defense program boom, and they are probably right.

During the World War, production was increased, and the United States government went into debt to the tune of $21,850,000,000, the largest debt the nation had ever had. Now, with modern warfare what it is, the lowest estimates are that at least 25 billions will be required for an adequate national defense.

Congress has already authorized 15 of those billions to get the program rocking along at what now is top speed. Naturally, the government has to have some way to get the money to appropriate, and new methods, new taxes are being thought of. The nuisance tax, as it is generally called, was the first, and it is expected to bring in about one billion annually. That is hardly enough, however.

The next will be the excess-profits tax, expected to bring in another one billion per year. But both of them together will bring in only two billions each year, and that's a small shot at the 25 billions.

Borrowing is the only other answer, and it will probably start in the near future. Bonds, similar to the Liberty Bonds of the World War, will probably be sold to get idle money into the pockets of Uncle Sam so that he can pay for the defense program.

The national debt is now above the 44 billion mark, and the limit is 49 billions. Congress will have to raise the limit again in the near future, or more money cannot be borrowed.

Twenty-five billions—or maybe one hundred billions, as one estimate of the final cost of the defense machine states—is a pretty high price to pay before a gun is even fired at an enemy. France, however, skipped payment of the cost of a defense program, and now look at that nation. The cost of a defense program to save this republic will be much less than the price we would have to pay if our democracy were lost.

THE STORY OF MARY

IF YOU DON'T believe that advertising pays, then read this little story of that famous little girl called Mary.

This isn't the story, however, of the same Mary who was the proud owner of a lamb. This Mary was a little different, and a lot bolder. She owned a goat—not a lamb—please keep this in mind.

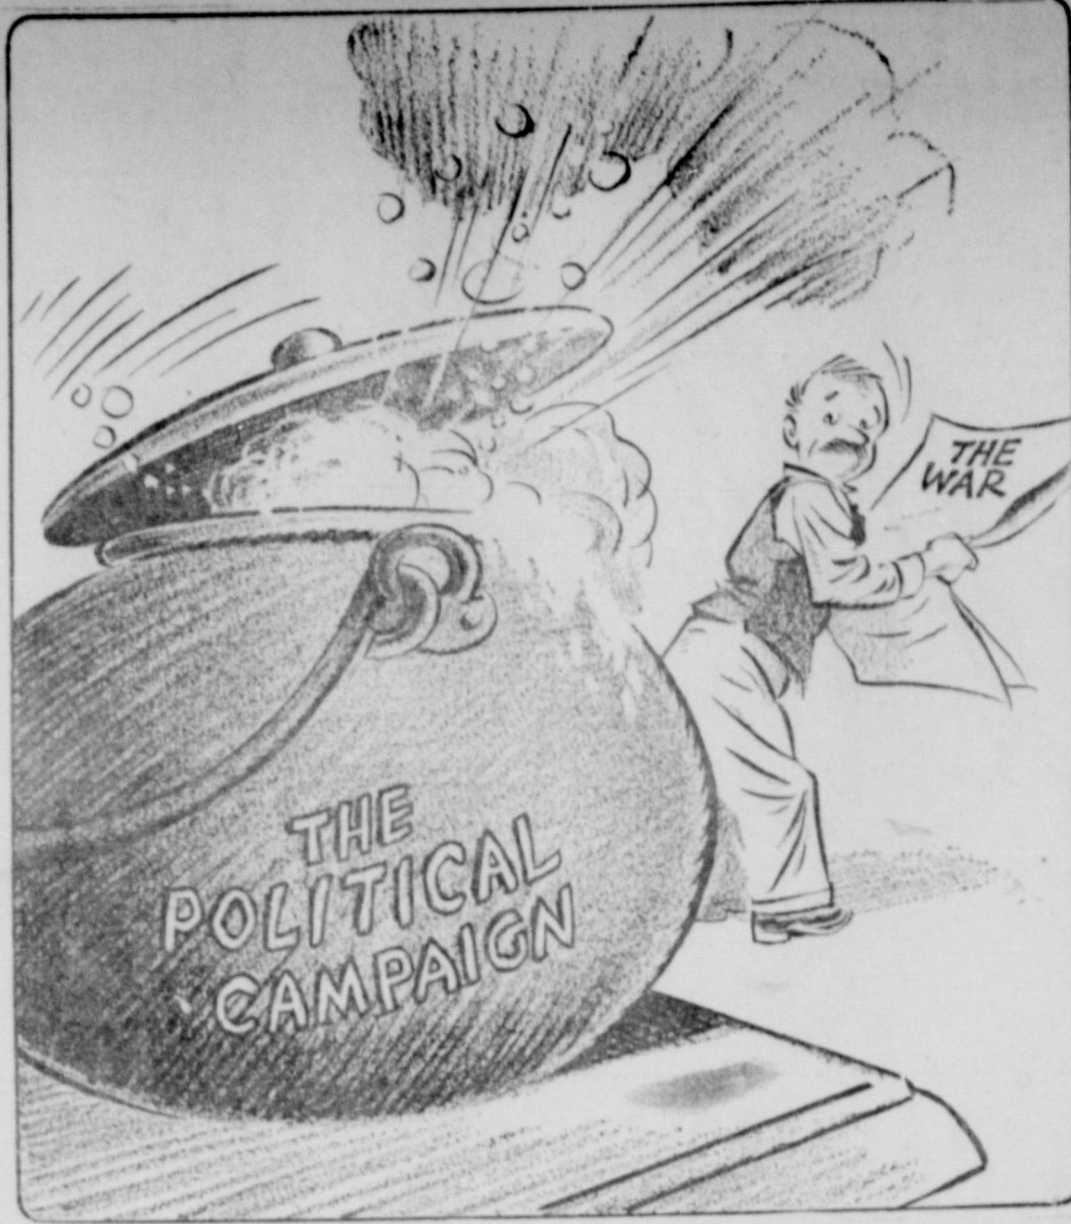

One day, though, Mary's mother decided that Apple (which was the name Mary gave to her goat) was not exactly the type of playmate which Mary should have.

Mary's mother decided that Apple should be sold. Mary argued, then she fussed, then she cried. But sell Apple Mary's mother would, so she placed an ad in the local paper, telling all the good points about Apple, how nice a playmate little Apple would make for some other girl, and all the good things she could think of about Apple.

Back to the advertising pays business again. If you are one of those persons who don't believe that advertising pays, well, you should have been at Mary's house the day after the paper came out.

Yes sir, people came from miles and miles around—just to see Mary's Apple butter.

THE UNWATCHED POT

Press Paragraphs

CULLED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

No, No
The Canyon News: We have been seeing some funny buttons worn by a few people. "No" (in great big letters) and just under this in small letters "third term." That is the silliest idea we have ever seen used in a political campaign. It is a bold admission that candidate Wilkie has nothing more to offer than opposition to the third term. But that is the plan adopted by the candidate himself. We have never heard a candidate running for a precinct office who used the words, "Please, please vote for me," until Wilkie spoke in Amarillo. It is certainly not very patriotic to vote for a candidate who has nothing more to offer than a burning desire to fill the great office of President of the United States.

The Draft
Ochiltree County News: What will be the effect of the draft on our economic order? Only time can answer that question fully, but some of the results can be easily foreseen. The bulk of healthy, single young men will be temporarily taken away from the society they are used to. They won't be marrying and building homes. They won't be earning good wages and spending them. Their places will be taken by older men, or by men whose physical status makes them unfit for military life. And when, the year's training is over, these young men are released, another dislocation will take place. The draft law provides that every employer who is able to must take the conscripts back, and put them in the same jobs at the same wages. That will mean that men taken on in the meantime to do the work must be discharged. In some cases, men who have spent a year in the army will be slow to get back again into the routine of their jobs, and that will involve loss of time and money. All in all, the draft law will unquestionably create many a problem for industry no less than the individual.

Bathing Suits
The Apostle of the Donley County Leader: The bathing suits for the coming season are already designed, our scientific snooper of woman's fashion for this department announces. The bathing suit for 1941 will be abbreviated to the extent that it will only cover that portion of the anatomy preventing a tan where she ought to be tanned.

Hungry
Douglas Meador in the Mator Tribune: My mother used to send me away from the table when I spilled gravy on the Sunday tabicloth. However, the punishment passed without impression or improving my manners, but it did provide valuable training. During subsequent years I was to know hunger from missing more than one meal in succession, from the clumsiness of my thoughts rather than my hands.

It's Nearly Thanksgiving
The Floyd County Hesperian: A new Thanksgiving date in Texas this year. Not like your calendar probably shows—Noember 28—but like the President will proclaim, November 21. A week ahead of the old date, the President says. For whatever reason he has, the president's prerogative to proclaim the date will be followed by the Governor of Texas this year. Last year the change was announced so late as to be somewhat confusing and Texas had two Thanksgiving Day dates. This year, the governor announced away last fall, only one day will be proclaimed. Don't forget that your calendar is wrong if it says Thanksgiving Day is November 28.

Repetition
The Amarillo Globe: The formula will always be the same; first war, then famine. One may be more spectacular than the other, but the end is the same. The sufferers will be those who never sought war. They will be the women and the children and the poor—the survivors among the civilians who were targets for aerial raids.

It Won't Work
Gertie Haskett in the Childress County News: Someone wrote, "If you want to save $100, you know perfectly well that if, tomorrow morning, you begin saving 10 cents a day for 1,000 days you will have $100 in considerably less than three years." Figuratively correct—but not being a magician, how am I going to save a nickel a day to pay on delinquent taxes three years hence?

Not to be Published
Quannah Tribune-Chief: Anonymous communications reflecting upon somebody else will not be published in the Tribune-Chief. We have plenty of troubles of our own!

Luke's Gospel the Fullest of

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Oct. 6. Text: Luke 1:1-4; Acts 1:1; Colossians 4:14; II Timothy 4:11a

WE turn again to studies in "The Universal Gospel," based on the Gospel of Luke. These studies, following a quarter's lessons with the poets and philosophers, will extend over a six months' course.

Despite indications given by the writer, the Gospel of Luke was not the first to be written. Luke himself says there were others who had "drawn up a narrative concerning these matters which have been fulfilled among us," and the things that had been preserved by these writers from eye-witnesses.

Why, then, did Luke undertake to write it? Partly because he had the advantage of all these records and could be an editor and compiler in a way in which those who first set down the narrative could not be.

Luke was a highly skillful writer, as the descriptive passages of his Gospel show and as many vivid pages in the Book of Acts, which he also wrote, make clear. He may have had the belief that he was in a position to tell a fuller and more complete story, and that he could tell it with more color and vividness than his predecessors.

Each Gospel writer supplements the others, and it is in reading them all that we get the full impression of our events and an appreciation of the Gospel reveal.

It is interesting to compare the four Gospels. The course of these studies will be instructive to many others do not. He is much fuller, for instance, concerning the early life of Jesus as it is the story of the resurrection post-resurrection.

Who was Luke? He knew a great deal about the friend and the companion of Paul, the apostle, and he was a faithful chronicler while he is mentioned in a portion of our letter to the Romans along with Demetrius and others. He was a later forerunner Paul, he says that Luke is him.

There is a note of Luke's in the Book of the Acts. Events always in detail and full significance in all that he wrote.

He is not simply writing down old facts, but by these facts, with the reality and power of the Gospel that has passed into the world as his Gospel.

There is about his Gospel a lack of directness and simplicity that characterizes the Gospel of St. Mark, but Luke's story is fuller and more elaborate. We are fortunate in having more than one Gospel record in the New Testament.

Organization to Donate Monthly to Milk Fund Of School Lunchroom
The High School Parent-Teacher Association, in the regular meeting last Thursday, voted to aid the band in purchasing uniforms and equipment, and to contribute monthly to the milk fund for the school cafeteria.

A large number of parents and teachers was present. After the introduction of new officers by Superintendent W. C. Davis, of teachers by Principal Noah Cunningham, and of new high school mothers by Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard, Mrs. L. S. Edmondson had charge of the program.

Mrs. Henderson Smith read the P-T. A. creed and prayer. Mrs. Roy Guthrie gave a review of the novel "Abel Daytons," pointing out the perplexing problems facing the adolescent Cajobjima boy and his solution of the difficulties.

FFA Group Plans For Initiation Day

The first chapter meeting of the F. F. A. was held Monday night in the high school building, when committees and captains were appointed and initiation plans for the Green Hands were made.

Carl Hamilton and Bobby Lee were appointed captains for the past eradication campaign, closing April 15. The chapter will be divided so that each captain will have a group.

The president appointed a committee made up of Cecil Taylor, James Chappell, and James Bray to plan for initiation of the Green Hands. Billy Joe Tomlinson was appointed to get the green hands for the boys to wear. It was decided that the boys who wanted F. F. A. buttons would buy them.

The chapter voted to put on a radio program some time in the near future over station KGNC, Amarillo.

Dr. Doyle Jackson Is Rotary Speaker

Dr. Doyle Jackson, a member of the department of education at Texas Tech, was guest speaker at Rotary luncheon Tuesday. He was brought to Memphis by the Delphian Club, and was introduced at Rotary by Mrs. Roy Guthrie.

Dr. Jackson spoke on town building, and gave facts and figures obtained by an extensive survey of towns of the United States. According to the survey good towns are those that have civic-minded and co-operating citizens, Dr. Jackson said.

Mrs. Lee Lewis of Los Angeles is here visiting her brother, Lawrence Durham of Lakeview. She was a guest in the W. E. Hill home last week-end.

Mrs. J. F. Bradley and daughter, Cleo Bradley and Mrs. Bessie Simmons of Amarillo, visited in the W. E. Hill home here Saturday.

Students Take Up Skating, Archery

The physical educational department of the Memphis High School has started a class in skating. The old gym has been converted into the rink and now the entire floor resounds to the rumble of the rollers. The department recently purchased forty pairs of rink skates.

To add more zest to this department, the school has purchased five thirty-pound bows and thirty arrows for the study of archery.

Cafeteria Weighs Students Served

The Memphis High School cafeteria is recording the weights of the students eating at the cafeteria at the beginning of the year, and each month the student will be weighed and the amount each student gains recorded.

A balanced diet and milk is served each day to all students for ten cents per meal.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank each and every person who assisted us so kindly and were so generous with their sympathy during our time of grief, not only after our dear one had passed away, but also during his period of illness. We are also extremely grateful for the many floral offerings. May God rest with you, and may your friends return these kindnesses in your times of stress.

Vegetable Laxative Has Important Points

Most people want a laxative to do three things: (1) act punctually, (2) act thoroughly, (3) act gently. Here's one that usually fills all three requirements when the easy directions are followed. It's an all-vegetable product whose principal ingredient has medical recognition as an "intestinal tonic-laxative."

Williams and May Cross Goal for Lakeview Scores

Two Hall County teams battled furiously on the Lakeview gridiron last Friday afternoon, but the Lakeview Eagles held the edge most of the game and downed Estelline High's team 12 to 0.

The Eagles were outweighed by the Estelline team, but were in danger only once or twice during the entire game. Estelline's most serious threat came just before the half, and the team had the ball on the Lakeview 15-yard line when the half ended.

Lakeview's first tally came in the second quarter, after both teams fought on almost even terms in the first period.

Quarterback Williams for the Eagles intercepted a pass tossed by Greer on the Estelline 40-yard line, ran in "jackrabbit" style down the side of the field for a touchdown. Scott missed the kick for the extra point.

The second tally for Lakeview came when Estelline fumbled on their own 20-yard line, and Lakeview took over on the Estelline 19-yard stripe.

May picked up 5 yards, Wansley 2 more, and Williams went through for a first down on the 9-yard line. Wansley picked up 2 yards, Thompson tried for no gain, Wansley got another yard, and then Williams, May, and Thompson starred for the Lakeview backfield, with Bownds showing up well at center. Leading the Estelline backfield was C. B. Bowman, who made good gains on several runs. Greer tossed several yard-making passes, with Gilbert and Bowman on the receiving ends.

It's rushing the season
a little to broadcast the picture of the great American bird before Thanksgiving... but it dramatizes and high lights the money-saving facts about a remarkable motor fuel which does not rush the season!

NEW Phillips 66 Poly Gas is not merely high test without higher price. It is the right high-test for the month in which you buy it. Matched and re-matched to your weather every thirty days. Proved by continuous laboratory and field surveys to be more accurately engineered, all year 'round, to the month-by-month differences in climate than any other gasoline.

Today, NEW Phillips 66 Poly Gas is better than ever. At regular price... mind you, no premium... it delivers practically the same kind of anti-knock performance for which you formerly had to pay 2¢ extra per gallon. And even now, premium price gasolines only infrequently equal or exceed the volatility (high test) of NEW Phillips 66 at its lower cost.
Let your own motor convince you. Feel that difference after stopping for a trial tankful... at any Orange and Black 66 Shield.

Extension Expert To Explain Cattle Dipping in County

Methods of Ridding Cattle Of Lice to Be Shown in Demonstrations in County

Announcement has been received this week by W. B. Hooser, Hall County Agent, that Geo. W. Barnes, animal husbandman of the state extension service, will be in Hall County to demonstrate approved methods in dipping cattle for lice.

According to Mr. Hooser, Mr. Barnes will hold these demonstrations on the ranch of D. H. Davenport near Lakeview, the first demonstration to be held October 28 and the second November 15.

Mr. Hooser pointed out that this demonstration was of an unusual nature and very vital to cattlemen in this section of the country and urged that all ranchers, cattlemen, and others interested in livestock to attend these two demonstrations.

There will be no charges made, Mr. Hooser stated, since the Gulf Sulphur Company of Houston is furnishing the material for use in these demonstrations.

Mr. Barnes will be accompanied to Hall County by Dr. Clark, as associate in the extension service.

Dr. D. M. Higgins Dies in Gainesville

Attending the rites from Memphis were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Broome, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Broome, Mrs. Janice Martindale, Mrs. Bess Edmondson, Mrs. T. E. Whaley, Elmo Whaley, Miss Ruth Whaley, Miss May Anthony, Scott Anthony, and James Arthur Anthony. George Broome of Anton also attended the services.

BILL JOE BOREN

Boren Head Yell Leader at School

According to a news dispatch in the T. C. U. Skiff, official publication of Texas Christian University at Fort Worth, Bill Joe Boren of Memphis has been named as head yell leader for the football cheering section this season. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Boren of this city.

Quoting from the article, which appears in last Friday's issue of the Skiff, it says:

"Meet Bill Boren, Frogland's new head yell leader, a tall, good looking blackeyed lad from Memphis, Texas, with an insatiable liking for fried chicken, blondes, and brunettes.

"Next to fried chicken, Bill likes T. C. U.—everything about it. When asked to name his favorite band and song, the T. C. U. band and the school song was his quick reply, but he will admit that Dick Jergens is good and 'I'll Never Smile Again' is a nice song.

"Bill toots a mean tenor sax himself and played in his high school band. While in high school he also played guard on the football team, was an honor student, and was president of the freshman and sophomore classes.

"Inaugurating a glamour policy, he has appointed two girls to the cheering brigade in addition to the usual two boys."

Boren is in his junior year in T. C. U.

Three Teams Tie For First in Grid Race of District

Memphis, Clarendon, and Wellington on Top; Wheeler Defeated by Skyrocks

The Wellington Skyrocks after dropping their first two non-conference grid encounters by large scores, climbed up along side Memphis and Clarendon in the District 3-A conference race with a 7-6 victory over the high-rated Wheeler Mustangs.

The Wellington victory likewise dropped Wheeler out of the tie with Clarendon and Memphis. Clarendon downed Lefors for its lone victory, and Memphis won over Lakeview. Wheeler also won over Lakeview and now stands fourth in the contest with one loss and one victory.

The Wellington-Wheeler game was the only conference game during the week-end.

Memphis was downed by Paducah in a 40 to 0 affray, but still retained its lead in full season standings over the other conference teams. Memphis has won two and lost one for a percentage of .667, while its nearest rivals, Clarendon, Wheeler, and Lefors have won one and lost one for percentages of .500 each.

In last week's play, Clarendon lost 18 to 13 to the strong Claude Mustangs. McLean dropped its second game of the season when the Panhandle Panthers walloped the Tigers 25 to 0.

Shamrock and Perryton wound up in a 6 to 6 tie, although the Irishmen went into the game as the underdog. Lakeview, changing its schedule from Flomot to Esteline, won by a 12 to 0 score.

In the conference race, Memphis, Clarendon, and Wellington rest precariously on top with one victory and no losses; Wheeler is on the fence in fourth place with one victory and one loss; McLean and Shamrock have played no conference games; Lefors has lost one; and Lakeview has lost two.

Next week's schedule is as follows: Shamrock at Memphis; Clarendon at Wheeler; Lakeview at McLean; and Wellington at Perryton.

PLASKA

By BILLIE F. MURDOCK

Mr. and Mrs. Fete Cannel were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Grant Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. W. T. Davis visited her daughter in Conway last Wednesday.

The boys of the Lakeview school defeated the Plaska boys 38 to 6 last Friday.

The Plaska girls' chorus and the primary children presented a number at the Memphis High School auditorium Saturday for Anthony Hunt, deputy state superintendent.

There was a chicken fry at the Plaska school Tuesday night. A large crowd was present and plenty of chicken was prepared.

D. D. Fletcher was an Amarillo visitor Friday afternoon after school.

Emmit Harper's father of Clovis, N. M., died last Sunday.

Mrs. Taylor, mother of Mrs. Chappell of this community, died Saturday and was buried Sunday.

The Hall County Singing Convention was held in the Peden Memorial Baptist Church last Sunday. A fair-sized crowd was present, and lots of good singing was done.

Mrs. W. L. Nabers spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Murdock.

Mrs. E. T. Montgomery was removed from her home to a Memphis hospital Tuesday.

Miss Johnnie Campbell was the guest of Miss Jimmie Frank Grant Sunday night.

Joe Findley, pastor of the First Christian Church, manages to hold his own repartee. Sunday night at the farewell service given by the Presbyterian Church for Rev. E. C. Cargill, Miss Russell, missionary to China, sang an old familiar song in Chinese. Joe said the tune is very familiar, but the words must have been from the third verse that is always omitted.

Rev. Cargill, during his four years in Memphis as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, endeared himself to all the citizens of the community, whether members of churches or not. No day was too hot, no night too dark, and no place too far for him to call and spread words of cheer and comfort to those in distress or need of consolation. The different churches of Memphis have their pastors, but the whole community claimed Rev. Cargill.

Sam Brown, at the court house, is exhibiting an 82-pound watermelon which he claims grew on his farm near Quail. He has it on display at the courthouse and it shows that this country is still capable of producing if given the rainfall.

The Plaska people are to be complimented for the party they gave Tuesday night for Memphis people. It was a movement in the right direction, for it will tend to bind the people closer together. This is strictly an agricultural country and farmers and businessmen alike depend upon the production. If crops fail, all suffer alike. If the people of the entire area would unite as one body in working for a greater and better country, much could be accomplished.

By the way, Arthur Gidden, who was in charge of the program at Plaska Tuesday night, asked me to thank Jack Boone and his coffee company for the coffee, urn, cups, etc., furnished free for the party.

Bob Baskin of the Wichita Record-News has about come to the conclusion that I am not the Staff Poet of The Democrat. At least he leaves just a little doubt in an article this week: "Editor J. Claude Wells' (notice the apostrophe) slinger of iambic pentameter is still gracing the pages of The Memphis Democrat each week. Usually The Democrat's 'staff poet' (notice the quotes) writes in a gay, carefree manner. But this week his lines assail the beast of the highways, the drunk drivers." (Note: The above parentheses were my own to show how Bob slyly questions my veracity when I tell him I do not write the poetry.)

The Staff Poet this week tells what he would like to be: "I'd like to be the biggest man and from all sides get a bow. I'd like to strut around the town and show the people how."

I'd tell the mayor what to do, the preacher what to preach; I'd make the school board do my way and tell the teachers what to teach.

I'd purchase the fleetest horse, and a fast imported car, and in my plane I'd fly above the clouds and say, "Look at your mighty Car."

Mrs. Lena Meador, Former Resident, Dies in Lubbock

Rites were conducted from the First Presbyterian Church in Lubbock Monday afternoon, and burial was in the Lubbock cemetery. The services were in charge of Rev. Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of the church in which Mrs. Meador's husband has been an active member for a number of years.

Survivors include her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Fred H. Schmidt of Slaton, Mrs. Roy N. Hagerty of Fayetteville, N. C.; one sister, Mrs. Henderson of Memphis; one brother, Ben F. Wright of Lubbock; and four grandchildren.

She was a member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, past treasurer of the chapter AK of the PEO sisterhood, member of the 1928 Luncheon Club, and past member of several other organizations.
