ARRANGMENTS MADE FOR WEIGHING AND CLASSIFYING ALL COTTON AT SAME YARD

Public Weigher Hightower and Government Classer Har-
well Will Have Offices at Yard. Bulletin Board for Price Quotations at Court House

Arrangements have finally been consummated for concentrating all Memphis cotton at one yard this fall. The arrangement, which has long been desired because of the saying and convenience, makes it possible for the public weigher to handle all of the cotton, which has been divided between two or more yards in the past.

The location selected is the Farmers' Union Yard, where an office will be maintained by the Hall County Cotton association
for the Government Classer, Mr.

Harwell, who, in addition to classing the cotton, will receive and post market quotations subscribed for by the association. These quotations will also be posted on a bulletin board in the court house
as a convenience to those selling cotton.

Under this arrangement it will be possible for the cotton grower
to market his cotton intelligently;
he can ascertain, certainly and accurately, both the grade and price of his cotton at any time and will be in a position to use his judgment in selling.

O. T. WARLICK TO RESIGN DISTRICT ATTORNEYS OFFICE

O. T. Warlick, district attorney, has filed his resignation with Governor Hobby to become effective at once. Mr. Warlick has served the district as attorney for several years and has made one of the best prosecutors in Texas.

It is said that Mr. Warlick has made some oil investments, which have proven profitable and his time is needed to management of his investments. Mr. Warlick is a Childress county boy and his friends here are pleased to know of his success, although they would like to see him continue in office.—Childress Index.

WORK IS DELAYED ON DONLEY TEST SAYS CLARENDON NEWS

Clarendon, Texas, Aug. 25.—Oil activity has been delayed here.
The Lelia Lake No. 1 has a fishing job at near 1,200 feet. When the drill stopped it was still in a blue shale formation. The test is located on the southwest quarter of section 107, block C9, Donley County. Lon Lea well, located on northwest quarter of section 88, block C6, is waiting on casing before further drilling. Buck Creek well, located on southwest quarter of section 66, block 21 started twenty-inch casing on Thursday.

There are six companies in process of organization in Clarendon.

AGITATION TO BRING NEGROES HERE SUBSIDES; OPPOSITION DE VELOPS AMONG THE FARMERS

Prospects for Bumper Cotton Crop Gives Excuse for Pro-nigger Crowd to start Agitation of Old Question.

Evidence of Determined Opposition Causes Cessation of Talk.

The old question of bringing negro laborers to Hall county
which has been considerably agitated here for the past few weeks,
seems to be about to settle itself
as in the past—the nigger is to remain away.

The prospect for a bumper cotton crop and the high price and possible shortage of labor offered an opportunity that the pro-nigger crowd could not let pass without an effort; so, beginning about three weeks ago, the matter was quite industriously agitated in Memphis and other sections of this county.

The agitation, originating probably with the same small bunch
that has supported similar propositions in the past, was, undoubtedly started as a feeler to sound public sentiment; and there seems to be abundant evidence that it was highly successful; though probably not at all satisfactory to the originators.

The farmers, particularly the old-timers who remember similar attempts to use them, almost without exception expressed themselves strongly against the proposition that they would prefer for their cotton to "rot in the fields."

These expressions, and others similar, were so numerous and so emphatic as to leave little doubt of the probable reception of any one who might attempt to bring negroes that the matter has, seemingly been dropped and no one can be found who believes that such attempt will be made.

This easy settlement of the matter will, of course, please all well-wishers of the country who would regret to see the present goodwill and amity of our people disturbed. There is, we think, a probability that plenty of white people can be brought here to gather the crop; the ravages of the bollweevil and resultant short cotton crops south and east of us will likely cause much labor to be available by the time cotton here
is ready to gather.

ARMY COURT SYSTEM CHANGE IS OPPOSED

Department Goes on Record As Opposed to Changing Old
Court-Martial System

Washington, Aug. 24.—In approving the report submitted to him by Major General Francis J.
Kernan, head of the special War Department board on courts-martial and their procedure, Secretary Baker today took the official stand that the present system should not be changed except in minor details. Inferentially, the Secretary upheld General Kernan's views that courts-martial have always been agencies for creating and maintaining the discipline of armies, "rather than agencies for the "nice exemplification of technical rules of law."

OFFERS PRIZE FOR NEW TRANS-OCEAN FLIGHT

New York, Aug. 25.—For the first man to fly between France and New York in a heavier than air machine, a prize of $25,000 has been offered by Raymond Orteig
of the Aero Club of America.

Germany to Form League

Geneva, Aug. 23.—The Munich correspondent of the Journal de Geneva states that Germany intends to found a league of nations
hoping for the adherence of Russia, Austria and Hungary and later on Italy, Japan and the "smaller nations dissatisfied with the Paris conference."

COMMITTEE VOTES TO GIVE CHINA SHANTUNG

Washington, Aug. 23.—By a vote of 9 to 8, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today adopted an amendment to the peace treaty by which German rights in Shantung Province, China, would go to China instead of Japan.

Chairman Lodge offered the amendment under which the word
"Japan" would be stricken from Shantung sections of the treaty
and the words "China" substituted.

R. E. L. KNIGHT MAY RUN FOR GOVERNOR

Dallas, Aug. 25.—According to State Senator W. H. Bledsoe of Lubbock, R. E. L. Knight, prominent attorney of Dallas and member of State Council of Defense,
will be a candidate for Governor
next year. Senator Bledsoe says Knight informed him of his aspirations last week.

beginning the test well near Newlin and that the machinery would be put on the ground within a few days.

Test Well Begun At Matador

Matador, Metley County Texas,
Aug. 23.—Actual drilling has started on the Matador Petroleum Company's lease fourteen miles northwest of Matador.

AMERICAN TROOPS BACK ON HOME SOIL; ACCOMPLISH OBJECT

With Death of Bandit Chief and Capture of Followers Expedition Successful

Marfa, Texas, Aug. 25.—The American cavalry border patrol tonight rested in their home stations along the border between Presido and Hester's ranch after six days spent in Mexico in pursuit of the bandits who kidnapped
and held for ransom two American aviators.

With the reported killing of Jesus Renteria, leader of the bandits, and four other bandits,
capture of nine more by Mexicans and arrest of six suspects by the Americans, Major J. P. Yancy
said today the fourth punitive expedition into Mexico had accomplished its object of clearing away
the bandits from the section below
the border from the Big Bend, Texas, district.

HARLEY FINDS OIL TOWNS "WIDE OPEN"; GAMBLING PREVALENT

Austin, Aug. 26.—The oil towns of Ranger, Burkburnett and Eastland are virtually "wide open,"
declared Adjutant General James
A. Harley, who has just returned from making an investigation of conditions there. Bootlegging, he declared, was quite prevalent and besides there was also gambling
going on as well as dance halls
in operation.

Mr. Claude French, is here visiting his sister, Mrs. D. L. King.
Mr. French has just received his discharge from the army.

BRITISH WOULD SEIZE EGYPT

Increase of 4 Cents An Hour.
Ten Hours Pay for Eight Hours Work.

Washington, Aug. 25.—President Wilson today submitted to representatives of the six railroad shop craft a proposal to pay shopmen about 4 cents an hour increase on a basis of ten hours pay for eight hours work, retroactive to May 1.

The President told the committee of 100 representing the shop crafts that any greater increase now would greatly increase the cost of living and therefore was advisable.

Certain classes of shopmen, car inspectors, repair men, who have been receiving 63 cents and 58
cents, respectively, would be paid 67 cents an hour under the proposed scale.

The shopmen's representatives told the President they would submit the proposition to their members whose original demands were for an advance of 25 per cent.
The President requested that the men not act on the original proposition to have a congressional committee pass on the wage demands. A vote of the shopmen on this proposition is now being tabulated.

1,000,000 BEING SPENT ON STATE FAIR GROUNDS

WORKS AND BUILDINGS SPICK AND SHAN FOR VICTORY EXPOSITION

Behind the scenes at the State Fair of Texas was busy the writer recently in a trip to the grounds and buildings with W. H. Stratton.

As we visited the coliseum, all was bustle and activity. Workmen were busy cutting an entire new set of elaborate scenery. A new drop curtain was painted by a well-known artist. It depicts "Victory," with soldiers marching through a Victory stand, where the high, spectacular and pyrotechnic displays will be held, improvements are being made. About 1,000,000 of dirt are being placed, with gravel and macadam, so as to make a hard-surfaced walk in the stand. A double row of new hand-stands are being erecting. The race track is soon to be re-laid for the auto races. The evacuation of Camp Dick has necessitated repairs, alterations and improvements. The renovating will include a new coat of paint for all of the grounds. A steel structure, the southern turn of Grand Drive is to be erected. This itself makes the buildings look more attractive, seeming to invite one to enter and view the exhibits within the walls.

Eight buildings formerly used as barracks at Camp Dick are being used for the Boys and Girls Educational Encampment, so as to provide commodious and comfortable quarters for the young folks.

PLACES OFFERED IN TEXAS COLLEGES

BOYS AND GIRLS ENCAMPMENT AT VICTORY FAIR

Boys and girls of Texas will have representation than ever at the Victory Fair. Forty boys and twenty thousand girls of the State of Texas are now being prepared for free entertainment at the Victory Fair.

This they are doing through work in the Boys and Girls Educational Encampment, under the direction of the A. S. College of Texas, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

They are being made to house six boys and three hundred and girls in new commodious, comfortable quarters at the Victory Fair, at the Educational Encampment.

County Agents supervising the progress in raising corn, cotton, and the girls in poultry and home demonstration relating the vital importance of work, scholarships in leading colleges have been donated by public-spirited Texas business men as follows:

W. H. Stratton, Company, and the organized L. H. Lewis, Dry Goods Company, Dallas, each offer a scholarship to a girl club member, in the Industrial Arts at DePaul University, Chicago, Ill.

W. H. Stratton & Company of Dallas, Texas, offer a scholarship to some boy in the A. & M. College, and the Junior Colleges of Texas will be made to the Encampment at the Victory Fair.

BY REQUEST

By AGNES G. BROGAN

Jinny stood at the busy street corner and arranged her small stock of flowers. Jinny's father had brought them all fresh and dewy, from the little greenhouse which was his pride and cure. But Jinny on her street corner was more successful in sales than the crippled father in his sweet smelling shop, and the little southern girl's smile of unwavering recognition, her unselfish interest in her customers, may have been accountable for her success.

"Your mother is not with you today," Jinny would say to a woman who had stopped at the stand with an elderly woman upon a former occasion. "I hope she is well," and Jinny would add to the purchase a "memory flower" for the absent mother.

At home, in her room behind the shop, she wondered much concerning the lives of these customers, who were in fancy also her "friends." The one who aroused her greatest interest was the opera singer. Jinny could hardly believe her eyes when he stopped upon his way to the waiting taxi and claimed a boutonniere from her stand. Awe was in Jinny's eyes and her fingers trembled as she handed to him the flower.

Jinny's father told her that she kept the sunshine of the South still in her heart. "But if that sunshine warms nobody?" said Jinny, "of what use is it there?" So she was always looking about for ways to cheer. And, strangely enough, it was the opera singer himself who appeared to be most in need of cheering.

There was unmistakable sadness in his eyes as he lingered each day looking at her violets. And after the second generously paid purchase Jinny's face flushed rose-color as she pressed upon him a dainty boutonniere. "Please," she begged, "do not pay, it is my poor tribute to a great singer."

And the tenor, laughing at the genuineness of the compliment, had left upon the flower stand two tickets to his evening concert. Jinny hurried home that night in a glow of anticipation.

"You and I," she said to the father, "will go." And they had gone.

And the girl as she sat in the concert hall heard a murmured conversation.

"Have you heard?" asked the woman next to her, "of this singer's unfortunate marriage? He married a girl down South it seems, long ago. Against his wishes and the wishes of her family she insisted upon coming to New York to continue her artistic career. If she persisted, they warned her, she need hope for no welcome home again. But the girl got ready, and obstinately came—no one knew where. After a year of silence and absence upon her part it is said that her husband relented and came in unavailing search of his runaway wife.

"Anyway," interrupted the listener, "it's an appealing story to gain interest for a much-advertised singer."

"If you please," asked Jinny next day of the singer, and blushed at her boldness, "will you give me two more tickets for tomorrow night's concert. I would like to come and bring a friend."

The man stared surprised for an instant, then laughed and tossed two tickets upon the flower stand.

"Liked it, did you?" he asked.

"So much!" said Jinny. Bravely she made her request. "There was a song that my mother used to sing: 'Just a-wearyin' fer you'—and I wondered—"

All Jinny's appeal was in her eyes.

"If I'd sing it?" The tenor fastened his boutonniere. "By request," he added laughingly.

"I will," he promised impulsively.

Jinny watched feverishly for a woman's shabby figure as she waited for her father to come and close up her stock for the day. Homeward hurried autos and people everywhere, the tenor's taxi would soon bring the singer to his hotel near by—and there in the doorway at last, lingered fearfully, that small, dark-eyed woman.

"Good evening," said Jinny. The girl came slowly forward.

"I was rather rude in refusing your gift yesterday," she drawled softly.

"Madame!" breathed Jinny, her soul in the effort, "if you would be kind enough but to go with me to the entrance, later, when the concert is well on its way—"

"Why—I will go," the woman agreed. With a kindly air she led the hesitating flower girl through the brilliant entrance and on to the rear of the great hall—then turned to leave, her trembling before the tones of a silvery voice, "Weren't you 'wonderin' when you'll be comin' home again," sang the voice—"Just-a-wearyin'-fer you."

Half consciously clutching Jinny's friendly arm the dark-eyed girl followed down the aisle.

Jinny waited until her companion arose hastily to join the departing throng.

"I didn't realize," she said confusedly, "that I was staying."

Deliberately Jinny blocked the way. "Please," she begged, "stay a little longer, he meant that song for you, and soon he'll be coming—"

But the singer was already there. "Katharine," he said huskily, and put forth his hand.

Jinny saw the dark-eyed girl place her own hand within the man's, before she herself stepped out quietly and happily into the night.

MEXICO WILL EXHIBIT AT THE VICTORY FAIR

INVITATION EXTENDED BY DIRECTORS THRU CONSUL FLORES ACCEPTED BY PRES. CARRANZA.

The Republic of Mexico, for the first time in history, will make an official Government exhibition at the Victory Fair.

Mexican Consul Flores, of Ft. Worth and Dallas and W. H. Stratton, Secretary State Fair of Texas, originated the idea. Signor Albino R. Nuncio, of the Mexican Industrial, Commercial & Labor Department, made a trip all the way from the City of Mexico to Dallas, a few days ago to complete arrangements. Signor Nuncio is an expert in preparing displays for exhibitions. He had charge of the Mexican Government's exhibition at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, N. Y. and at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco, California.

The display at the Victory Fair will consist of agricultural, industrial, official, and artistic exhibits. Pottery, Indian Blankets and wicker-ware are among the commodities, in many different sizes, color combinations and unique designs that are made by the Mexicans and the Indians of Mexico, that will be shown.

The Dallas Trade Trippers, who visited Mexico recently, inspected their national museum of commercial and industrial arts. They are filled with admiration for the many interesting and handsome articles they saw there. Many of these, together with a famous Mexican art loan collection, it is planned, will be shown at the Victory Fair at Dallas in October.

One, or more, of their excellent Police, or Army Bands, may come. Secretary Stratton has sent a special request of this nature to President Carranza.

Twenty thousand square feet of floor space have been set aside for the Mexican Government exhibition. Advances have been received that thousands of representative Mexicans will attend the Fair. At this time an immense amount of business can be transacted between Mexicans and Texans and many cordial personal friendships will then be made.

HORACE GOLDIN, MAGICIAN STAR FOR VICTORY FAIR

WITH COMPANY OF ORIENTAL MYSTICS WILL MYSTIFY COLLEGE AUDIENCES.

Horace Goldin, Master-Magician, Historian, and Inventor of Lezerdemans, with his company of Oriental Mystics, will be a star attraction at the Victory Fair at Dallas in October.

Goldin presents some of the most mystifying spectacular illusions ever seen anywhere. He himself is a "whole show of whirlwind magic."

A beautiful maiden walks through a big plate glass mirror—Goldin disappears from a wicker basket suspended from an airplane—a dainty damsel appears to be torn to shreds by a raging tiger, only to walk forth presently unharmed. Goldin climbs a rope dangling from nowhere, until he disappears into—nowhere. These, and many other tricks which appear to defy all the laws of nature and of mechanics, will be presented by Goldin, the Royal Russian Magician & Company.

GIANT SEARCHLIGHTS WILL ILLUMINATE VICTORY FAIR

THREE HIGH POWERED LIGHTS MADE FOR RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT SECURED.

Three immense electric Searchlights, that will prove a revelation in illuminating possibilities, have been secured for the Victory Fair. These were obtained through the co-operation of J. F. Strickland, President, and J. W. Carpenter, Vice President, Dallas Light & Power Company.

The combined strength of these searchlights is 4,500,000 candlepower. They were procured in Chicago where they were originally made, for the Russian Government prior to the revolution in that country, but were never shipped there. The additional light will be found a great convenience and protection to the visitors. Light is emblematic of progress and knowledge and these giant searchlights will be especially appropriate for the Victory Fair at Dallas in October.

I have opened a shoe shop opposite Slaton, Miller Hdwe Store. Have a first class workman and will do your repair work at moderate prices.

HANDS, ARMS, LIMBS ASLEEP

And Was Run-Down, Weak and Nervous, Says Florida Lady.

Five Bottles of Cardui Made Her Well.

Kathleen, Fla.—Mrs. Dallas Prime, of this place, says: "After the birth of my last child... I got very much run-down and weakened, so much that I could hardly do anything at all. I was so awfully nervous that I could scarcely endure the least noise. My condition was getting worse all the time..."

I knew I must have some relief or I would soon be in the bed and in a serious condition for I felt so badly and was so nervous and weak I could hardly live. My husband asked Dr. Cardui about my taking Cardui. He said, 'It's a good medicine, and good for that trouble,' so he got me 5 bottles. After about the second bottle I felt greatly improved... before taking it my limbs and hands and arms would go to sleep. After taking it, however, this poor circulation disappeared. My strength came back to me and I was soon on the road to health. After the use of about 5 bottles, I could do all my house-work and attend to my six children besides."

You can feel safe in giving Cardui a thorough trial for your troubles. It contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs, but is composed of mild, vegetable, medicinal ingredients with no bad after-effects. Thousands of women have voluntarily written, telling of the good Cardui has done them. It should help you, too. Try it.

STRONG SENSE OF HONESTY

Of Course It Was That, and No Other Reason, Which Caused Volunteer's Action.

Loton Horton, the milk magnate, was talking about the terrific New York milk strike.

"Oh, well," he said, apropos of an opponent's honesty—"oh, well, we're all honest when it pays to be. We're all more or less like the volunteer."

"The volunteer?" said the reporter.

"It's a story," Mr. Horton explained.

"A movie actress, the prettiest movie actress in Los Angeles, was conducting a recruiting campaign at a bar, and she guaranteed to kiss every young man who would volunteer to fight for Uncle Sam."

"Well, there were lots of volunteers, of course, and the actress permitted each of them to kiss her, and they did so, while the crowd laughed and applauded, in a polite, gentlemanly manner."

"But one volunteer seemed to lose his head. He threw his arms about the lovely actress and kissed her with such abandon that she was almost suffocated, and had to push him away. Yes, she pushed him away, her eyes blazing, but he stalked off to the recruiting office without a word of apology."

"An hour later the fellow dashed into the hall again, seized the actress once more in his arms, and pressed his lips to hers in a kiss more passionate than before. Again she pushed him off."

"You fresh chump," she hissed, "what do you mean? You had your kiss an hour ago?"

"But the recruiting office turned me down," he said, "and so, like an honest man, I had to give it back to you, didn't I?"

DRANK TOAST TO WILHELM

Field Marshal Hindenburg and Army Staff Observed the Birthday of the Former Kaiser.

From a report of the Casseler Allgemeine Zeitung, as cited in the Vossische Zeitung, it appears that, despite all details, the ex-kaiser's birthday was celebrated at the German army headquarters. The journal says that Marshal von Hindenburg referred to the ex-kaiser as follows:

"Even people of different views would consider it cowardice and disloyalty if we should hesitate to admit frankly that we are thinking today with love, gratitude, reverence and great sorrow of the kaiser, to whom we have hitherto devoted our lives and our actions, and for whom we were ever ready to stake our blood and our treasure for the welfare of the fatherland. May God bless him and give him strength to bear the heavy burden which God's inscrutable will has placed upon him. Let us drink a silent toast to his health with this sincere wish from our loyal hearts."

Tanks Like a Deck of Cards.

In the open stretch, beyond the last fringe of wood, we struck the field where the American tanks attacked the Huns on flank and rear and finished the battle of Argonne wood. Elizabeth Frazer writes in the Saturday Evening Post. Later we saw a complete outfit of these grotesque monsters go wallowing across a shell-torn field. Their insignia were the characters on a deck of cards, and they always followed suit. Thus an ace of spades was always followed by the king of spades, the king by his spouse; and so on down to the tray. As we passed, the knife of hearts thrust forth a grinning face and waved a grimy paw. Close on his tail waggishly tangoed the ten spot. It was like some mad scene in "Alice in Wonderland."

Where It Couldn't Be Lost.

When I was asked to be the best man at a friend's wedding I thought right away of losing the ring and not being able to find it at the right moment. As I walked to the altar on the wedding day my fear grew, so I reached in my vest pocket, found the ring, and slipped it on my finger. I felt relieved, but after the last "I do" had been said and the ring was asked for I found that I could not get it off. My hands got cold and perspiration came out on my forehead. I twisted and pulled—moments stretched into ages. At last, in desperation, I put my finger in my mouth and sucked the ring off.—Exchange.

Literal Obedience.

My little nephew, who was continually saying that he was mad at one of his playmates, had been told by his mother to say "provoked" instead of "mad." One day he came running into the room where I was sitting and in gasps told me he had just seen a provoked dog running down the street.—Exchange.

Card of Thanks

We wish to acknowledge, and express our heart-felt thanks for, the many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy extended us during the illness resulting in the death of our darling wife and daughter. Words can but feebly convey our grateful feelings to those kind friends who sought to comfort and relieve the suffering of our loved one. May the blessings of a loving God be with you.

Not New to Her.

Beatrice was invited to a birthday party and, womanlike, she wanted a new frock. Her mother, finding the child's party dress in good condition, refused to buy another. Her father, trying to console his little daughter, said: "Let me see the dress, Beatrice."

She brought it and he said: "Why, Beatrice, it is very pretty! I've never seen it before."

"Well," responded the child, "I've seen it often."

Alaska's Government.

Alaska is an unorganized territory, controlled by the laws passed by the United States congress and its administrative and judicial officers, including the governor, are appointed by the president of the United States. There is no general legislative body, but the larger towns are allowed to incorporate and elect governing officials.

Wedding Bells.

A diversion was created at my wedding which has caused many a laugh since. Just as the minister was saying, "Dearly beloved," etc., the fire alarm sounded in the hose house across the street, upsetting the solemnity of the occasion and causing a ripple of laughter among the guests. A dear, sentimental auntie, who is slightly deaf, said after the ceremony, "O, I thought it was so sweet to have the chimies while the service was being read."—Chicago Tribune.

Criminals Made Good.

All the 299 petty criminals who enlisted in the army at the urgency of the city's reform agency in Philadelphia distinguished themselves in war service "over there," and many have come back ideal citizens.

Where Huns Were Inferior.

There is a noteworthy example of the preservation of valuable military secrets in the interesting article written by the secretary of the British Geographic society entitled "German War Maps and Surveys." British methods of survey and mapmaking were far superior to the enemy's, and one conspicuous success was scored in the scientific development of sound ranging for artillery. They used a self-recording apparatus, an ingenious and delicate piece of mechanism, which was used during the battle of Arras in April, 1917. The idea upon which it was based must have been known to a great many persons, both soldiers and civilians, but it never reached the enemy, though how much he desired to obtain it was revealed by Ludendorff's issue of an order in which he insisted upon the importance of capturing a set of these instruments. Until practically the end of the war German sound ranging was done with stop watches, a hopelessly crude and inaccurate arrangement in comparison with the scientific British system.—Indianapolis Star.

A red cedar chest readily killed all adult moths and showed considerable killing effect upon young larvae, but did not prevent the hatching of eggs, but killed all of the resulting larvae almost immediately. Red cedar chips and shavings, while not entirely effective in keeping the adult moths from laying eggs on the fannel treated, appeared to protect it from appreciable damage when used liberally.
