States' Rights Party Formed At Dallas Meet

DALLAS, Sept. 9 (AP)—Texans can carry their States Rights yearnings to the polls in November. The States Rights Democrats, anti-Truman offshoot of the regular Democratic Party, made certain of this yesterday.

In other southern states, the party is known as the States Rights Democrats. On the general election ballot in Texas in November however, it will be the States Right Party.

Claims Yugos Invade Greece

ATHENS, Sept. 9 (AP)—War Minister George Stratos said tonight Yugoslav troops invaded Greece yesterday and that Greek troops killed nine of the Yugoslavs.

The minister appealed to the western allies and the United Nations to intervene before Greek soldiers lost their tempers over what he described as provocations by Albanians, Yugoslavs and Bulgarians, and set off a general conflagration.

Stratos said Greece will consider accepting an international military force to seal off 500 miles of borders of the neighboring countries, which he accused of continuing to aid the communist guerrillas of Markos Vafiadis.

Stratos said Yugoslav soldiers and rebels had entered Greece in the Kajmacthan area and took a peak from the Greek army. The Greeks counterattacked and recaptured the mountain.

The retreating forces left eight Yugoslav soldiers and an officer dead in Greece, Stratos declared. Stratos said the Greeks also captured three Yugoslav soldiers.

Crowd Stones A Jeep-Load Of Russians

Anti-Communist Demonstration Precedes Fight

BERLIN, Sept. 9 (AP)—Russians and Communist-controlled German police fired on Berlin anti-Communists tonight after the crowd stoned a jeep-load of Russian soldiers just inside the Soviet sector.

Part of the crowd of 200,000 Germans who took part in a massive anti-Communist demonstration just inside the British sector surged toward the Soviet area as the mass meeting ended.

At the Brandenburg gate, inside Soviet territory, the crowd attacked a jeep bearing five Russian soldiers and stoned and beat its occupants.

British sector police attempted to keep the crowd from entering the Soviet zone, fearing incidents might provoke shooting.

At least one German anti-Communist was seen to have been hit by the fire of the Russian sector German police.

Associated Press photographers on the scene said they believed Russian military police who rushed up aimed their fire high in order to disperse the demonstrators.

The Soviet commandant earlier in the tense day rejected American and French protests against the arrest and kidnaping of 38 western zone police from city hall.

The luncheon session, arranged by W. D. Berry, a committeeman in the Texas States Rights movement, was made up of joint meetings of three service clubs, and Walter Reed, of the "host" Kiwanis club, opened the program.

Among visitors here to greet Gov. Thurmond, and to escort him on to Lubbock tonight, was Sen. Joe Hill of Austin, executive vice president of the States Rights committee in Texas.

Increasing number of transients have been enrolled here during the past few days, especially Latin-American agricultural workers who have started moving in for the cotton harvest.

Amarillo Blaze Destroys Hanger

AMARILLO, Sept. 9 (AP)—Fire early today destroyed a large hangar and its contents—including two twin-engine airplanes and 11 new automobiles—at Amarillo Field.

The loss was unofficially estimated at $250,000. Besides the two planes and the new cars, the loss included three used automobiles, a used truck, shop equipment and furniture.

HERMAN TALMADGE "... victory is ours" GOV. M. E. THOMPSON "... won't challenge claim

Talmadge Landslide Recorded In Georgia

Georgia Democrats dusted off the governor's chair today for Herman Talmadge, who occupied it for 87 hectic days last year.

The 35-year-old son of the late red-gallied Gov. Eugent Talmadge held a widening vote margin over M. E. Thompson, his 1947 successor, in yesterday's primary election.

Talmadge's claim that "victory is ours" went unchallenged by Thompson, now the acting governor. With the returns showing a three to one margin against him, Thompson said "apparently Herman Talmadge has won."

Young Talmadge had campaigned under his father's banner of "white supremacy" and there were scattered reports of efforts to hold down the Negro vote in the primary, which is equivalent to election in Georgia.

All three incumbents in contested congressional races—Reps. Eugene Cox, W. M. Wheeler, and James Davis—apparently won a return ticket to Washington.

Staking his campaign on a fight against President Truman's civil rights program, Talmadge led today with an indicated county unit vote of 314 to 92 for Thompson. Only 206 units are needed to win under Georgia's unusual county unit system, similar to the national electoral college. The system keeps political power in rural areas.

But unlike his father, who trailed in popular votes in 1946, young Talmadge also held the upper hand in the total count—288,025 to 237,632.

The editor of the Freer Enterprise said yesterday he voted for Johnson but that he "didn't go with George Parr."

He said several Austin and San Antonio political leaders visited him during the week. "They were going to get affidavits from about 70 people in Freer that they had voted for Stevenson."

"They might as well save their time and effort," Shomette said. "If you open the ballot boxes you'll find a ballot for every vote cast. The ballots will be correctly marked and the count will be just as reported."

"I told them I'd buy them a Stetson hat if they could find 40 people in Freer that had voted for Stevenson. Furthermore, I told them that they couldn't find 40 people in the whole county that voted for Stevenson—at least they wouldn't admit it after the election came out like it did."

CASE INVOLVES OVER $1 MILLION IN SHIPMENTS

Senate Investigators Ready To Name
Man Who Forged Many Export Licenses

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. (AP)—Senate investigators declared today they are ready to identify a man said to have supplied "forged export licenses" for more than $1 million worth of lard and flour shipped to Latin America.

A name—"James McGuire"—already has been mentioned in Senate hearings. Further identification may be made today or tomorrow, it was learned.

Meanwhile, youthful John A. Quinn, president and manager of the Keystone Soap and Chemical Co., was back in Jersey City today conferring with his attorney about whether to answer questions concerning export licenses senators say were forged.

"On advice of my attorney, I re- fuse to answer on the grounds that I might incriminate myself," Quinn said late yesterday when Senators asked him about 15 export licenses he allegedly sold to a New York exporter.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) of the Senate investigating subcommittee assured Quinn that he was not the main target of the inquiry. "Primarily we want to ascertain how goods could be shipped on forged licenses and this has not been discovered," Ferguson said.

William Rogers, committee counsel and chief investigator, reminded Quinn that previously he had told the Senate Small Business Committee he obtained the export licenses from "James McGuire."

Earlier, Harry H. Levey, New York exporter, testified that he paid Quinn $29,255 for the 15 licenses which Senate investigators say were forged.

Under the licenses, Levey shipped about 1 1/2 million pounds of flour and more than 2 million pounds of lard. A committee tabulation showed his export sales on the 15 licenses amounted to $1,051,298.

"Jack Quinn told me he had in- fluence with Mayor Hague, a senator from New Jersey and a Mr. Hanson of the Department of Commerce of New York," Levey said.

Ferguson said the committee has been unable to verify any of this. Rogers and other senate investi- gators testified that all 15 of the licenses used by Levey and pro- vided by Quinn were forgeries. They said a false perforating ma- chine was used to "validate" them and that a check against bona fide export license serial numbers showed them all to be forgeries.

TROUBLE BREWS IN INDIA STATE

Americans Being Evacuated From Hyderabad By Aircraft

NEW DELHI, Sept. 9. (AP)—The United States embassy announced today that aerial evacuation of American and British nationals from Hyderabad will begin in a few days.

The announcement said the step was being taken "in view of the latest developments regarding Hy- derabad." This could be a hint that trouble is coming in the dis- pute between India and the huge independent south central state.

The Muslim Nizam of Hydrabad had rejected as "out of the ques- tion" earlier this week a sugges- tion by the Dominion of India that Indian troops be garrisoned in his state, which is predominantly Hindu.

The Nizam has resisted previous demands that his state become a part of the dominion and has ap- pealed to the United Nations for help.

India contends Indian troops should be in Hyderabad to pro- tect life and property. The Nizam says his troops can do it. Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of In- dia sent a "last demand" Tuesday for re-entry of the Indian troops and disbanding of the Raakzars, a volunteer Muslim armed group.

Hyderabad's deputy premier said yesterday the demand had not been received.

The embassy here estimated there are about 40 Americans, 300 Britons in Hyderabad. They will be taken by plane to Madras after being concentrated near Hyderabad City under the direction of a member of the United Kingdom high commissioner's staff.

Nationals living near the borders and unable to get to the rendezvous, governments have been advised of the evacuation plan.

Nearly all the Americans in Hy- derabad are missionaries.

M. D. Lepard
Funeral Held

Funeral for Melton D. Lepard, 23, one of three victims of a head on highway crash Tuesday near Midland, was to be held at 3 p. m. today at Nalley chapel.

Lepard died early Wednesday morning of injuries sustained in the collision which also claimed the lives of D. B. Snider, 69, Midland, and a young man identified as Havner Tucker, Big Spring.

Tucker's brother, R. H. Tucker of Manchester, was in town Thurs- day morning seeking to locate his place of abode and gather his per- sonal effects. Havner Tucker had been working for George J. Col- lins, drilling contractor, said Sher- iff R. L. Wolf. Identification by his brother resulted from a registered letter receipt on his person. The body probably will be returned to Manchester.

The Rev. A. C. Hodges, pastor of the State Street Baptist church, was to officiate over rites for Lep- ard, a former serviceman. Burial was to be in the city cemetery with John Wolf, Jr., Leo Eggleston, Charles Wolf, Charles Ray, Clyde Wolf, W. D. Ellison, Dick Hollo- man and Chester Brown as pall- bearers.

According to legend the stimulat- ing effect of coffee was accidentally discovered by an Ethiopian priest who noted that a flock of goats ate some of the berries and then ne- glected their proper sleep.

Army Recruit Blamed For Dud Explosion Which Killed Three

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 9. (AP)—A 21-year-old Army recruit faced arraignment today on a charge of first degree murder in the "Japanese noose" slaying of a New York State Commerce Department employe.

The soldier, Howard Smith of Gloversville, N. Y., was brought here last night following his arrest at Fort Dix, N. J.

The arrest climaxed a four-day investigation into the bizarre death of Theodore F. Allen, 51, recently employed in the radio publicity bureau of the state commerce department and a former National Broadcasting Co. employe.

Dist. Atty. Julian B. Erway quoted Smith as saying that Allen had made "improper advances" in a hotel room early Saturday morning.

The district attorney said Smith admitted trussing Allen with the sheet, stuffing a gag in his mouth and robbing him.

Soviet Order For $48 Million In Tools From British Creates Aid Plan Problem

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. (AP)—A reported Russian order for $48 million worth of machine tools from a British firm promised today to dump a tough problem in the lap of European Recovery Administrator Paul G. Hoffman.

The Russians were said to have been unable to get the tools from the United States.

Hoffman has authority from Congress to shut off billions in aid to the British if they ship the Soviet Union "war potential" goods which the United States won't let Russia buy here.

But Hoffman and other officials have emphasized that trade between Western Europe and Russian-controlled Eastern Europe must be revived in order to promote Western European recovery.

The question now is: What kind of tools have the Russians ordered? Officials said they are waiting to find out.

The order was disclosed this week by a Southport, Eng., city councillor, W. H. Russell.

He said the United States is the "only other place" which could supply the tools, but that he understood "America turned down the order."

A $48 million order bulks large against total U. S. exports to Russia, which have dwindled recently under government restrictions to a rate of less than $2 1/2 million a year.

Russell indicated the English firm which received the order would have to expand operations to fill it. He said the firm, Craype Brothers, Ltd., would have to put up 300 to 400 buildings just to house workers.

Russian Planes Create Excitement In Berlin Flights

BERLIN, Sept. 9. (AP)—A flight of about 12 Russian YAK fighter planes soared over Berlin today, leaving vapor trails across the sky.

American officials said the flight apparently was part of air maneuvers the Russians previously had announced they would be holding over Berlin and their surrounding occupation zone.

The Soviet plans caused considerable excitement among the Germans.

Lt. Col. B. E. Steadman of the U. S. Military Government's Armed Forces Division, watching the flight from his office window, estimated the YAKS flew at an altitude of 28,000 to 30,000 feet. He said the flight was not a violation of four-power flying regulations over Berlin, since they apply only to flights at 10,000 feet or less.

Kitty Roberts, Billie Jean O'Neill and Jackie Marchant are to be heard in organ numbers.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just get your detergent and ask for a ounce of liquid Barrestrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if possible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 47 Pounds

"When I commenced to take Barrestrate, I weighed 215 pounds. I now weigh 168. I lost 47 pounds on the first two bottles. I feel so much better after using that weight. I think it is a wonderful medicine and thanks to Barrestrate."—Mrs. George Gregg, Chalmers Courts 4, Apt. 1, Austin, Texas.

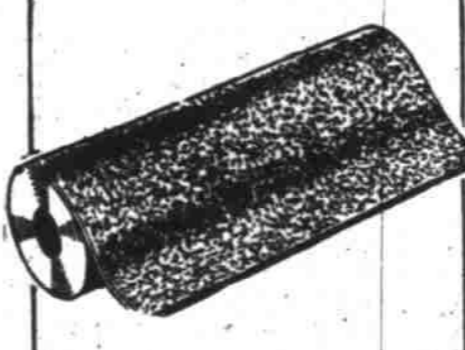

Lost 20 Pounds

"I lost 20 pounds taking four bottles of Barrestrate and I feel fine."—M. K. Goss, 412 25th Street, Corpus Christi, Texas.

Federal Reserve Move To Cut Loans

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. (U.P.)—Borrowers may find it tougher to get money from the banks as the result of a new Federal Reserve Board action aimed at cutting down on inflationary lending.

At least FRB officials hope so. Yesterday, in an effort to make lending funds scarcer, they ordered their member banks across the nation to put another $1,000,000,000 into reserve vaults—where borrowers can't get at it.

While there is no guarantee that the banks will tighten up on lending, officials said they probably will do so a little, at least for psychological reasons.

By inducing banks to lend less, the FRB hoped to put a damper on buying and thus relieve some of the upward pressures on prices.

Its new action, using anti-inflationary power voted by the special session of Congress a month ago, raised the amount of money banks must have in reserve by an additional two per cent on checking accounts and 1 1/2 per cent on savings deposits.

As a result:

1. New York and Chicago banks must keep as non-lendable reserves 26 per cent of their checking—or demand—deposits and 1 1/2 per cent of their "savings" or time-deposits, effective Sept. 24.
2. Banks in other big cities must keep 22 per cent of their checking account deposits and 7 1/2 per cent of their time deposits in reserve, effective Sept. 24.
3. "Country" banks must maintain as reserves 10 per cent of their demand deposits and 7 1/2 per cent of their savings accounts deposits, effective Sept. 15.

Under the new law the reserve board could have made the terms stiffer on demand deposits—another four per cent for New York and Chicago banks and another two per cent on all other banks.

But it apparently wants to keep some ammunition in reserve while it waits to see what develops from this shot at inflation. Many finance experts have expressed fear that overdoing anti-inflationary measures would bring a deflationary swing that would be even worse.

Doctors Save Life Of Baby After Its Mother Succumbs

SALEM, O., Sept. 9. (U.P.)—Two doctors who didn't even take time to put on aprons or rubber gloves were credited today with saving the life of a baby girl by Caesarean section fifteen minutes after the death of the mother.

The physicians, L. C. Ziegler and Paul Corso, took over the job of saving the baby while the attending physician, Dr. W. S. Elliott of East Palestine, tried frantically to save the mother, Mrs. Florence McRoberts, 45, of Enon, Pa. She died Tuesday of a heart artery failure. The baby weighed nine pounds, 14 ounces, and was reported favorably in an incubator today.

Pope Pleads For Truth And Justice

CASTEL GONDOLFO, Italy, Sept. 9. (U.P.)—Pope Pius XII today told an international gathering of legislators that "truth, justice and peace" should be their great concerns, members of the audience said.

The Pontiff spoke to delegates to the 27th conference of the International Parliamentary Union, meeting in Rome.

Among those at the audience was Sen. Alben Barkley of Kentucky, democratic vice presidential candidate, whom the Pope later received in a private audience. The senator said the Pontiff gave him a message of "good will and friendship" to President Truman.

Big Earthquake Recorded Near Fiji

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 9. (U.P.)—A big earthquake, between Fiji and Tonga, was recorded on the seismograph at Riverview College Observatory in Sydney today. The observatory at Wellington said it recorded an abnormally large earthquake in the vicinity of the Tonga group.

A message from Auckland said there was a tidal wave at Rarotonga, in the Cook Islands 800 miles east of Tonga, but that no damage was reported.

Those Who Mess With Fire Are Liable To Get Burned

The other day when Robert Mitchum, who acts before movie cameras for a living, was picked up and booked on a charge of possessing marijuana, a curious reaction was expressed.

His estranged wife said he was being singled out and persecuted just because his name would make news. His studio issued a statement in which they said he was being made the goat by authorities, because he wasn't the only one smoking reefer. His attorney chimed in and asked if the defendant had not been spotted by officials just because of his position and wealth. A psychologist volunteered that the actor and his friends were following a pretty common habit in that quarter in resorting to a stimulant he jaded outlook. He went on to simply give a sales talk for marijuana—it simply prolonged romantic sensations, he said, making them seem like a week instead of moments. Unlike narcotics, he said the weed isn't habit forming.

Such tragic attitudes and such silly talk! It is getting to where no one except the great in-betweens can't get into trouble without persecution. The wealthy and well known are persecuted because they are wealthy and well known. The poor and unknown are persecuted because they are without means or influence. It's never their fault they are in trouble but always the fault of the law that they are being picked upon.

As for the feeble defense of marijuana, there's no sense in it. It's habit forming enough the federal government classes it along with narcotics. Criminologists are agreed that some of the most ghastly, hideous and inhuman crimes have been committed by people under influence of marijuana. There's no defense for it. People who play with fire will get burnt.

Patrons Need To Exercise Patience Over Congestion

It is too early yet to ascertain the level of enrollment for Big Spring schools. Initial figures indicate a substantial gain, possible more than five per cent. This may prove that the increase will be sharper than indicated. It will take about a week to see which course develops, but in the meantime it is certain that the congested situation of last year will not be any less.

That poses a challenge for the patrons of the district. Additional buildings are out of the question just now, and even if they were involved a full year would be required for completion. We say this not to stir any building speculation but to point out that for quite a while yet we will have to make out with what we have.

Of necessity, many adjustments will have to be made in order to make the present classroom facilities go around even on a "double day" session plan. To achieve this some patrons will be asked to send their children to school in the morning, some in the afternoon, some will be asked to transfer their youngsters to another ward school; some will be denied transfers where these would add to impossible congestion.

In other words, things are going to be pretty messed up for a while. The patience, understanding and cooperation of the public will go a long way towards meeting the problem. Let's help school officials cheerfully.

Nation Today — James Marlow

Here's ABC Of Situation Now Existing In Berlin

WASHINGTON, SEPT. 8. — THIS IS an ABC on the mix-up in Berlin. There's been one crisis after another in Berlin for months.

The latest arose Monday when German Communists, backed by Russian troops, burst into the city hall.

Since the war Germany has been divided into four big zones: American, Russian, British, French.

And Berlin, Germany's biggest city, has been divided into four sectors: American, Russian, British, French.

Each nation is sole boss in its own zone and its own sector. This was agreed on when Germany fell and relations between Russia and the three western nations were pretty good. They're not good now.

The job of Communizing Germany would be duck-soup for the Russians if, short of war, they could get the Americans, British and French out of Berlin and out of Germany altogether.

ALL BUT 34 OR 35 OF THE ASSEMBLERS were scared so badly that they fled from the city hall and the Russian sector into the American-British-French sectors. The fugitive assemblers are talking of carrying on their work there.

The 34 or 35 assemblers who didn't flee are talking of carrying on the assembly's work in the Russian sector. They're members of the Socialist Unity party, made up of Socialists and Communists controlled by the Russians.

So we may yet see two separate assemblies, each claiming to be the only lawful one, trying to work in Berlin. That would add to the confusion.

The confusion started some time ago among the four military governors in Germany. The top representative of each of the four occupying powers is called a military governor.

ALTHOUGH THE FOUR NATIONS have not been able to agree on setting up a new German government for Germany as a whole, in 1945 they agreed to get the people of Berlin have a city government.

So they let the Germans in all four sectors of the city elect an assembly of about 130 members, a kind of legislature, which laid down laws and rules and appointed city officials to carry them out.

This assembly, of course, remained under the thumb of the four nations which occupied Berlin.

Three times recently the assembly tried to meet but couldn't because German Communists raised such a rumpus at city hall. That city hall, by the way, is in the Russian sector of Berlin, and Berlin is in the Russian zone of Germany.

On Monday the assembly tried to meet again. German Communists, backed by Russian troops who patrolled the streets outside, stormed the city hall.

THEY HAD MET MORE OR LESS steadily since the war's end to work out plans for getting Germany on its feet. Their relations grew steadily worse. Last March the Russian governor said the meetings were useless.

He did more. He said the Americans, British and French no longer, by train or truck, could send supplies from their zones of Germany into their sectors of Berlin.

If this blockade had worked the Americans, British and French in Berlin would have been starved out and would have been forced to quit the city and leave it to the Russians, a rich prize.

At first it seemed it might work since Berlin is entirely within the Russian zone and is surrounded by Russian troops.

But the Americans got around the land blockade by sending in supplies by plane, an expensive job. They're still doing it.

The city hall raid was just one more Russian effort to make life in Germany unhappy for Russia's wartime allies.

There's No Real Vacation From Work Of The Theatre

By THERESA HELBURN
For JACK O'BRIAN

Since the presiding officer of this column is on vacation, I have, ironically enough volunteered to substitute with a few words on "vacation time in the theatre." I don't resent the task because there really is no vacation in or from the theatre. If you're really in "the work," as George Kelly calls it, you are in it 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

No matter how far away you go, you can't get away from the theatre. Everything you see or do reminds you, or feeds you, or stimulates you, with theatrical ideas. You may be motoring in Maine and you pass an old red barn, a yellow haystack and a gray silo... you may be in the deep South and you see an old shack sagging against cypress trees and "This is almost as good as a stage set by Lem Ayers or Bobby Jones!" You stop for the weekend in a beautiful mansion and you find yourself taking notes on the French interiors. After a cocktail party of the local gentry you come home with costumes notes and character sketches for an occasionally hungry playwright. There is no use reading novels for a vacation—they are too full of story plots; biographies turn into star vehicles, and even scientific books give you ideas—how!

However, to be concrete about the so-called vacation months of July and August, it is true that in the good old days before the war and air-conditioning we used to take a busman's holiday in June or July, July and August, and go to Europe in search of new plays and new authors. At least I did. But that was before the Guild became musical comedy producers. If anything runs in the summer it is usually a musical comedy. And even though at this moment of writing, the Guild has no play in New York, we still have on our two companies of "Oklahoma!", one company of "Carousel," one of "The Winslow Boy," and a company of "Oklahoma!" in London.

Far Eastern Affairs Discussed By M'Arthur, Aide To Chiang

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
For DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON. — Gen. MacArthur is holding quiet conferences in Tokyo with a special emissary of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek that may have far-reaching reverberations in Far Eastern Affairs.

The emissary is Gen. Chan Chun, former Chinese premier and a long-time Chiang intimate. Chan Chun stands high in Secretary of State Marshall's esteem. They worked together when Marshall was in China trying to establish a stable government.

While the MacArthur-Chan Chun conversations are cloaked in considerable secrecy, it can be authoritatively reported that three chief items are under discussion:

1. A visit by Chiang to Tokyo for a personal parley with MacArthur.
2. The creation of an anti-Communist front in the Far East.
3. Reopening of Chinese-Japanese trade.

Prospects of Chiang going to Japan are uncertain. His home situation is very precarious. Chinese economy is in a desperate plight, and the Nationalist military position is little better. Due to Nationalist incompetence, reactionism, graft and treachery, Communist strength and armed inroads are greater than ever before. With Chiang now far from a popular hero, he may find it difficult to return if he should leave China.

BRUSH-OFF

Navy chiefs would be well advised to scrutinize the conduct of reservists of certain regular officers of the 13th District on the West Coast. It smells to high heaven.

While the Navy command in Washington is doing a lot of buffing and puffing about its love of reservists, these West Coast "host shots" are treating reservist like unwanted stepchildren. A certain captain, a commander and a second class hospital corpsman are particularly offensive. This is the sort of thing they are doing:

A group of college educators, holding war-earned reserve commissions, reported for a two-week tour of duty. All were making a personal sacrifice to do this. The commander in charge of reservist training repaid them for their patriotism by loudly and pettishly informing them that the Navy "already had too damn many professors."

The corpsman, while giving the reservists a physical check, was even more disparaging, and the captain of the ship to which they were assigned acted as if they were plague-bearing pests. Although some of them earn several times their pay in their profession, being in uniform, they naturally couldn't say anything. But now returned home, they are saying a lot—and it's doing the Navy no good.

PENOLOGIST

Boston's irrepressible Mayor Jim Curley is turning his recent prison experience to a novel purpose. He is lecturing penologists on how jails should be run.

Curley served time in a federal penitentiary on a war-time mailfraud conviction. When the American Prison Association met in Boston, he readily accepted an invitation to address the penologists.

"I had the good fortune to be a guest of the government for some months without having to pay," Curley told them. "I learned many things. I learned, for example, that if a judge had a "good breakfast and was on good terms with his wife when he came into court, a defendant usually got a light sentence. But if the judge did not enjoy his breakfast and came into court ill tempered, it was, too bad. The defendant would get soaked."

Another thing I learned was that practically every college in the country, including Harvard, Yale, Princeton and Columbia, was represented in my jail. They even had one man from West Point and another from Annapolis. One day I went into the prison library and saw a kindly old man who asked me if I didn't remember him. It turned out I had attended the graduation class when he got his degree at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology."

BIG QUESTION

The mysterious sudden death of Col. Gen. Andrei Zhidnevov has given new impetus to a long-baked question in foreign chancelleries—what will happen in Russia when Joseph Stalin dies?

Now 68, he has been in poor health for several years. Zhidnevov was reported to have been one of three potential successors to Stalin. Now that Zhidnevov is out of the way, pan-faced Foreign Minister Molotov looms higher than ever as the most likely choice. However, nothing is certain on what will happen in the inner recesses of the Kremlin. Molotov, too, may pine away!

SALES TAX

President Truman has it all figured out how he's going after the GOP on the tax issue.

He will charge that the Republican income-tax reduction was part of a secret scheme to flog a sales tax on the country. This will be his line of argument.

As a result of the GOP bill, there is a strong possibility of a federal deficit next year. To balance the budget, the Republicans, according to the presi-

Actor Bob Ryan Likes Rough, Tough Stories

For BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD. — "I like stories about guys who get knocked around," tall, raw-boned Robert Ryan told me, "because most people do get knocked around."

He was referring to his forthcoming picture, "The Set-Up," about a declining club boxer. Not a champ on the skids, but a fighter who never was much good. "Just guy, kinda dumb, who boxes because that's the only job he knows. The world is full of people like that, and they are not all boxers either."

The part is tailored for Ryan. He boxed for four years at Dartmouth and fought one professional match under an assumed name to raise a little cash after he got out of school.

On the screen too, Bob has been knocked around plenty. Even if he is the tallest star in Hollywood. He has been working in two pictures at once and training with Johnny Indrisano, ex-pro for the prizefight film.

"Ryan says hard work makes film gain. 'I'm 12 pounds underweight right now. I should weigh at least 200, or I look gaunt on the screen. Not only that, but when I'm thin I get tired too quickly. Cary Grant told me the other day he goes home bush-

MONKEY WRENCH

Behind-the-scenes, the State Department has just tossed a ripping monkey wrench into one of the President's favorite projects—the St. Lawrence Waterway.

With enthusiastic Federal Power Commission support, New York and Ontario worked out an agreement on the construction of a power dam at International Rapids. This has long been a major stumbling block. The accord was sent to the State Department for what was assumed would be routine transmittal to the International Joint Commission, which has the last word. Instead, state has pigeonholed the agreement.

irate proponents of the project are charging that secret deal and railroad pressure is behind the State Department's mysterious forbearance.

FLASHES

A congressional committee is quietly scrutinizing the mammoth-sized historical division of the Army. Heavily loaded with high-paid "historians," the agency is grinding out more books about rear-echelon operation than about combat troops. Also, Hugh M. Cole, one of the "historians," gave a talk before Detroit reserve officers vigorously criticizing the late Gen. Patton.

George Kilion, head of the government-owned American President Steamship Line, may be recalled by the Democratic National Committee as treasurer in an effort to unearth some desperately needed campaign funds. . . Rep. George Bender, R. Ohio, is investigating charges of neglect of Negro patients at the Tuskegee (Alabama) Veterans Administration Hospital.

Around The Rim — The Herald Staff

Kids In Our Block Aren't Fettered By Real World

Sometimes I think the high cost of living and the daily grind would put me in bed if it weren't for the kids in our block.

Every time the cause of living seems hopeless after a hard day's work, I like to go out on the front porch and look in on their imaginary world where there is no limit to what a person can become or what he can do—all in the flick of an eyelash.

The by-shorted, brown adventurers of our block aren't bound by the conventions of time and history.

For instance, take the case of Robin Hood. The Hollywood chiefs had recently issued their annual dish on the legendary righteous robber called "Prince of Thieves," and most of the local youth contingent had just waten with relish at a downtown theatre. So, Robin was the order of the day for play.

Ah, but he wasn't confined to Sherwood forest, medieval damsels beset by danger or a corrupt officialdom of long ago. Bows and arrows may have been necessary props to filmmakers who have to satisfy convention-bound adults, not our doughty band however.

Down the sidewalk roars Robin Hood, himself with six guns blazing over the side of his big red wagon.

"Calling all cars, calling all cars. This is Robin Hood. Report to the corner at once. Band of thieves attacking."

Now I wonder what ever happened to that man sheriff. Must have had an election and given Robin the law's big stick.

The other day, Bill, our little next-door neighbor came up on the front porch to converse with Margaret, my wife.

Poor old Bill had been having a rough time. The way he tells it, he has a mechanical man that is dissatisfied with his lot in life. The other day, the little fellow escaped and made his way to the Big Spring municipal airport.

Bill gave chase and reached the field just as the little man climbed into a plane and took off. Still giving chase (he didn't say just how) Bill saw him parachute from his craft.

Immediately upon reaching the ground, the mechanical man jumped into a car which he had with him. Ah! But as he was speeding away, Bill took out his bow and arrow and shot out a tire, thus curtailing his runaway toy.

Poor Bill. And I thought I was a big shot. —ADRIAN VAUGHN

What Happens When Man Tackles A Woman's Job

NEW YORK. — TELLS MAE PEEBIE, like any other housewife, often complained that "woman's work is never done."

And—like any other husband—Wilbur Peebie could never understand why.

After all, didn't he get his work done at the office? Sure. And why? Efficiency, organization.

Sometimes he got a little weary of hearing his wife complain she had more bureau to clean out than Congress, more floors to sweep than a street cleaner on roller skates.

It was Wilbur's contention that any woman could cut in half the time she spent doing housework if she only organized her tasks.

Reading his Sunday newspaper the other day Wilbur came across a story by a man who had proved this to be true. He was a young Navy commander whose wife had broken her ankle. For five weeks the commander had run his home and office both.

WILBUR READ A FEW PARAGRAPHS recounting this man's victory over women's age-old problem of housecleaning, and how easy he had found it by discovering time-saving short cuts. With a yelp of joy Wilbur tossed the paper over to his wife.

"Looky here. Read this. What'd I always tell you? Here's a fellow cut down the time it takes to keep house from 6 hours and 37 minutes a day to only three hours. Boy, does he make women look pitiful!"

Grimly Tells Mae took the paper. Silently she read the article.

"I see," said Tells Mae, when she had finished, "that he bought an electric dishwasher and an electric ironer."

"I didn't read that far," said Wilbur uneasily. His smile fading.

"And one of the ways he saved time was to cook dinner in the morning, put it in the icebox and then heat it up again in the evening. That might be a good idea at that."

"You know I don't like warmed-over food," crumbled Wilbur.

"WHEN THE WIFE'S ANKLE GOT WELL," continued Tells Mae, "they divided up the housework. The man says they run their house like a ship now—every member of the family has certain duties. He says it's lots of fun."

"Uh-huh—uh-m-m," said Wilbur, burying himself behind the sports section, of the paper.

"We could do that—let's try it," said Tells Mae brightly. "You could scrub the bathroom twice a week, do the beds, and wash the windows. We could save enough time to do all the things we don't find time for now."

Wilbur made a strangled sound.

"Did you say 'aye, aye?'" purred Tells Mae.

"I did not," said her husband. "Can't you take a joke?"

"Well, I'm tired of that one," snapped Tells Mae. "If you don't like the way I keep this house, Admiral, then we're going to start playing houseboat, just like the Navy man you seem to admire."

Wilbur shut up. Next month when Tells Mae handed him the household bills, he saw two strange items: "Electric dishwasher and electric ironer."

Tells Mae saluted him and said: "Aye, aye, Skipper—everything 'ship-shape?!"

Monarchies Hold Trend Toward Middle-Of-Road

THIS OLD WORLD OF OURS IS THE melting-pot for a weird mixture of humanity.

Everywhere forces of the "left" and of the "right" are at each other's throats, while unhappy "centrists" battle to keep the pendulum from swinging too far in either direction.

It needs only a quick appraisal to make it clear that virtually the whole globe is involved in a tremendous social upheaval.

What set your correspondent off on this speculative line of thought was the ascension of the Netherlands throne by Queen Juliana in place of her mother, Queen Wilhelmina, who abdicated because of the weight of years after half a century's reign. It was a moving ceremony.

global political trend is towards a middle-of-the-road set-up in which all hands will get a fair break.

WELL NOW, HOW DOES A CONSTITUTIONAL monarchy fit into the picture of our changing world? We can't forget, of course, that unrest is seething in Holland's rich East Indies, some of which want complete severance from the mother country.

If the Dutch themselves want (as they do) a constitutional monarchy with a parliamentary system, there is no clash with Democracy in that. Parliament rules. However, the time is rapidly passing when a nation can impose its rule on people of another race. Empires are on their way out—and fast. Thus Queen Juliana comes to her throne at a moment when her empire is breaking up.

Britain has recognized the changing times and has granted both India and Burma their independence. She retains colonies, to be sure, but they will become independent in due course. Meantime, however, Britain herself likes her royal house.

It Happened Back In—

FIVE YEARS AGO—Launching third war bond drive is program of maneuvers by 15 bombers over city; patriotic parade including review of cadet squadron and courtboise with the Rev. P. D. O'Brien as emcee; Worth Peeler, stationed at local AAFBS, is promoted to sergeant.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO — Ralph Cathay leaves for California where he will enter Pasadena Junior college; Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock is speaker here; Murph Thorp, Jr., and Cecilis Westerman present musical program for AB-Club.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO—All-city tennis tourney opens; two clubs organized for purposes of studying in detail the Culbertson bridge system.

OF COURSE ROYALTY AND THE EXTREME political left don't mix. We saw what happened to young King Mihail of Romania.

However, both the Netherlands and Britain at the moment are politically close to the middle-of-the-road, and they find no inconsistency in maintaining royal houses.

This trend among the constitutional monarchies naturally can't be taken as conclusive of what the future will produce. The one thing we do know is that the world is in the midst of a social upheaval which is going places. However, we might not be far out in concluding that the

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Members of the Big Spring country club did a commendable job in making the 18th annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament the best of them all.

Two of the fellows who worked as hard as anyone to make the big show a success were James Edwards, tournament chairman, and Ray Snyder, who as Edwards' lieutenant handled a thousand and one details necessary in the promotion of such an event.

It was Snyder's job, among other things, to get the prizes for the winners. Cost of the premiums Ray obtained ran to about $1,100. Practically all the linkmen who competed in the Labor Day show promised they would be back here for the 1949 tournament.

BIRD DESCENDS TO SEE WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT
One of the funniest incidents to happen in the tournament occurred while J. R. Farmer was lining up his sights for a putt in his championship consolation match with Bob Craig of Colorado City.

About the time J. R.'s legs and onto the green, oblivious of the people encircling the green. Activity was halted until the creature was ensnared.

SWEETWATER MAY DROP OUT OF LONGHORN LEAGUE
Gene Gregson, the former Odessa scribe now noting for the Abilene paper, suggests that Sweetwater may step out of professional baseball soon.

The Organized game has laid the law down to Sweetwater. Build a new park or resign. Five persons control the Sweetwater club but a municipal park was used. According to reports, the men do not feel building a new athletic plant would be a sure investment in these days and the city simply cannot see the point in laying the money on the line for a stadium.

NON-THINKING FAN INJURES BIG SPRING WOMAN
Some clown in the stands, whose brain obviously is all thumbs, tossed a pop bottle in the direction of the playing field and hit a Big Spring woman in the head during the Midland-Big Spring twelfth Monday.

Six stitches were required to close the wound. The incident was never reported to Harold Webb, the big chief of the Indian reservation, who no doubt would have done his best to find the individual on the throwing end of the bottle.

Webb, and all other Longhorn league pilots, for that matter, wish that such abbreviated pieces of nothing would rub themselves with vanishing cream and seek other forms of entertainment.

GERRY RODRIGUEZ PITCHING FOR ANGELOANS
Gerry Rodriguez, the former Big Spring Bronco hurler is now pitching semi-pro baseball for the San Angelo Greyhounds. He recently made a Dallas nine in an exhibition bout.

STASEY PLANNING ON STRENGTHENING INFIELD
The Bronco's skipper, Pat Stasey, is quietly going about with plans to build himself a better infield in 1949.

Last year, the Hoses finished second in team batting but first in fielding. This year they were first in batting but a poor fifth in fielding.

The Steeds pulled fewer double plays this year than any team in the league, with the exception of Del Rio.

MEN! FEEL YOUNG AGAIN

Brown Slated To Hurl Sunday

Bill Brown, who received credit for two victories over Howard County Junior college in Tri-County playoff games, will probably be the pitching rubber when the Forsan Oilers play Welch in Welch Sunday afternoon.

The contest will be the first of the best two-of-three game series. The second will be undecided either in Big Spring or Forsan Sept. 19.

Rodriguez May Twirl Tonight

Freddy Rodriguez, who has enjoyed modest luck against Vernon this season, will probably take the pitching rubber tonight for Big Spring as the Bronco try to get back on even terms in their Longhorn league playoff set with the Dusters in Vernon.

Rodriguez boasts a record of 10 wins and five losses for the season. He struck out 179 in regular season's play.

The ace righthander is due to be opposed on the pitching rubber by rubber armed Eddie J. C. O. M., whose worst record for the year was 22-10.

The two teams switch their scene of operations to Big Spring Friday night.

VERNON, Sept. 9. (P)—The Big Spring Bronco, failing to take advantage of scoring opportunities presented them in the first two innings, went down to defeat before Gerald Fahr and the Vernon Dusters, 2-0, here Wednesday night.

Frank (Pancho) Perez opposed Fahr on the hill and gave up only five hits, one more than Fahr surrendered, but let Fahr himself turn the tide with a scratch single in the fifth inning.

The Vernon tosser hit safely to drive home Morris Cowser from third base. The play came with two away.

Vernon also scored in the following inning when Harry Scherting went all the way to second on a misplay by Justo Apizaco at first and Cotton McCaskey hit safely. The blow took a bad hop over the infield.

The Hoses had three chances to score but muffed them. Ortilio Bosch doubled as the leadoff man in the first and, perished on third. Apizaco hit a two baser as the top end of the batting order in the second but couldn't get past third. Pat Stasey doubled at first man up in the second but succumbed at the far turn.

Cowser and Fahr each got two hits for the home club.

BUFFS EXPECTED TO BREAK MARK
It looks like Houston will be the first team in Texas League history to draw 400,000 in one season.

The Buffs boosted their home attendance to 392,882 last night when 2,626 fans turned out to watch them beat Shreveport, 5-3.

Houston has four more days to reach the 400,000 mark in attendance and may crack the figure by tomorrow night.

Dallas finally managed to beat Tulsa, downing the Oilers, 5-4, last night while Oklahoma City nosed out pennant winner Fort Worth, 6-5.

San Antonio and Beaumont were rained out.

Solly Hemus' double in two runs in the seventh inning to give Houston its second straight victory over Shreveport and Hank Wynn.

The Buffs' three-run lead melted in the sixth inning when Shreveport splurged for three. Wynn came into the game in the seventh with Joe Niedson and Eddie Knoblauch on base. Niedson homered for the Buffs in the fourth.

Bob Brady led Dallas to its narrow decision. He drove in three of four runs in the second inning with a home run. Milan Vucelich's long fly scored Marty Errante with the winning Rebel run in the seventh.

Oklahoma City broke loose for two runs in the eighth inning to erase a 5-4 Fort Worth lead.

The same teams wind up three-game series tonight. San Antonio and Beaumont will play two.

New Prep Grid Season Begins This Evening

By the Associated Press

Schoolboy football teams in the City Conference and Class AA open the 1948 campaign tonight.

Brackenridge of San Antonio, last year's state champion, and Austin tangle in the top game tonight while tomorrow and Saturday 71 teams from these two divisions go into action in 42 games.

Roswell, N. M., and El Paso High play the only other tilt tonight.

Three champions will be decided this year in the Interscholastic League's program.

The City Conference matches schools from San Antonio, Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth.

Class AA has 84 schools playing in fourteen districts. Class A, composed of schools with less than 500 enrollment but more than 200, will play to a division title for the first time.

Most of the City Conference and AA games this week are inter-district affairs.

Eight of last year's 16 district champions see action the first week.

Lufkin and Longview, two East Texas powers who won district championships in the 1947 race, tangle in one of the feature games tomorrow. Longview advanced to the semi-finals of the state race last year, when both AA and city school competed in the same division.

Tonight—Austin at Brackenridge (San Antonio), Roswell, N. M., at El Paso High.

Friday—North Dallas at Pampa, Paschal (Fort Worth) at Ennis, North Side (Fort Worth) at Tyler, Austin (Houston) at Harlingen, Kerrville at Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio), San Antonio Tech at Port Arthur, Kingsville at Harlandale (San Antonio), Alamo Heights (San Antonio) at New Braunfels, Poly (Fort Worth) at Plainview, Odessa at Lubbock, Quannah at Memphis, Denton at Graham, Electra at Paris, Sweetwater at Vernon, Ysleta at Midland, Abilene at Breckenridge, Big Spring at Brownwood, Denison at San Angelo, Galena Park at Bowie, El Paso, Grand Prairie at Galveston, Sulphur Springs at Texarkana, Hillsboro at Mineral Wells, Cisco at Cleburne, Ballinger at Stephenville, Weatherford at Gladewater, Jacksonville at Henderson, Fair Park (Shreveport) at Marshall, Kilgore at Port Neches, Longview at Lufkin, Conroe at Temple, Waxahachie at Corpus Christi, Palestine at Athens, Texas City at South Park (Beaumont), Pasadena at St. Thomas (Houston), Laredo at Al. Victoria at El Campo, Robstown at Sinton, Edinburg at Pharr-San Juan, Alamo, Mission at McAllen.

Saturday—Cameron at Burkank (San Antonio) Central (San Antonio) vs Lanier (San Antonio), Austin (El Paso) vs Cathedral (El Paso).

Yale football team for two seasons. Eighteen members of the present squad of the Cincinnati Reds served in the Armed Forces—11 in the Army, five in the Navy and two in the Coast Guard.

Like Steers, Brownwood Has 4 Returning Vets

Weights Will Be About Same

Like the Big Spring Steers, the Brownwood high school football Lions have only four lettermen back this season but the Friday night opponents of the Bovines obviously can call on more experience than the locals.

Hold-over monogram winners of the Lions are Roland Elledge, a 190-pound end; Capt. Ralph Wallace, a 165-pound tackle; the 172-pound Louis Holt, an end; and Buddy Fair, 172, right half.

Coach John A. Houston will send a team averaging slightly more than 150 pounds into the fray, which takes place in Brownwood. The backfield will average only 151 pounds while the line's average is up to 168. The overall average compares favorably with that of the Steers.

Two heaviest men in the Brownwood forward wall are Elledge and Raymond Coppie, a 189-pound tackle. After that, the tonnage trails off sharply.

Other starters include Vernon Pester, center, 155; and Harold Moore, right guard, 149.

Opening with Fair in the Lion secondary will be Eddie Burt, 150; Dou Low, 150; and Billy Bishop, 123.

Brownwood is fairly deep in reserves and that may tell the tale in the game with the Big Springers. After Coach Mule Stockton of the Big Springers gets past his starting string, the ability and the experience slacks.

The Steers are in fair trim for the outing. Billy Van Pelt is still favoring an injured finger but will man a guard post. Arlis Davis, at the present writing the Steers' best back, also has a busted digit but will play.

Midland-Odessa Game Postponed

Showers and cold weather caused a postponement of the Midland-Odessa Longhorn baseball league playoff opener, which was booked to be played last night in Odessa.

The two teams will try to get in the series underway this evening but will lay off Friday, regardless of the weather.

Boston Sockers Take 2 1-2 Game Lead By Thrashing Yanks, 10-6

Associated Press Sports Editor

The outlook appeared gloomy for the rest of the American League today as Joe McCarthy's battering Boston Red Sox boasted their largest lead of the season.

Coming from behind in typical Red Sox hitting fashion, the murderous hitting Hubman overcame their arch rivals, the New York Yankees, 10-6, last night, to increase their margin over the runner-up New Yorkers to two and a half games. Their previous best advantage was a game and a half.

In drawing first blood in their all-important three-game series with the Yankees, the Red Sox kept two streaks alive. They extended their latest winning skid to eight straight, and now own six consecutive triumphs against the Yankees. They have copped 22 of their last 26.

The Sox gained their latest triumph the hard way. Five singles off starter Joe Dobson gave the Yankees four runs in the first inning. Undaunted, the Red Sox bounced back with six hits off Frank Shea in their half of the same inning to take a 5-4 lead.

Birdie Tabetta's two-out triple off the center field wall drove in Wally Moses and Billy Goodman with the tying runs. Billy Hitchcock followed with a single to score Tabetta.

After the Red Sox moved in front, 6-4, the Yankees tied it up with single runs in the sixth and seventh innings. Yogi Berra's 14th home run furnished the fifth run and Hitchcock's fumble, Tommy Henrich's single and Hank Bauer's long fly produced the other.

The Sox quickly untied the score in their half of the seventh. With Lefty Joe Page, third Yankee hurler, on the mound, they put together three hits and three walks to four runs across and put the game out of the Yankees' reach.

Lefty Earl Johnson, who had replaced Dobson in the seventh, was credited with his eighth victory against two defeats.

The third place Cleveland Indians scored an unearned run in the last half of the 11th inning to nip the Detroit Tigers, 8-7, and remain four and a half games behind Boston. Larry Doby, who rapped out four singles to extend his consecutive hitting streak through 19 games, scored the winning run when second baseman Connie Berry threw wild to the plate on Wally Judnich's bouncer.

The Tigers had overcome a 7-3 deficit to force the game into extra innings. Bob Lemon, trying for his 20th victory, was shelled in the seventh. He allowed seven hits and gave up eight walks. His string of scoreless innings ended at 31 in the fourth. Sam Zoldak, fourth Cleveland pitcher, was credited with the victory. Art Houtteman, charged with the defeat, dropped his 16th game. He has won two. Philadelphia's fourth place Athletics swept a twilight-night doubleheader from the Senators of Washington, 10-7 and 5-2, to reduce Boston's margin over them to nine games.

The defeats ran Washington's losing streak to eight games.

Explosive for four runs in the eighth inning, the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Reds in Cincinnati, 5-3, and strengthened their second place position in the National League pennant race. They now own a half game advantage over the Brooklyn Dodgers and trail the front-running Boston Braves by three and a half games. The Braves and Dodgers were idle.

NOT ON SPOT NOW
Rice Owls Plan To Go Overhead

(This is a first of a series discussing southwest conference football prospects)

By the Associated Press

HOUSTON, Sept. 9. — Look for passes and more passes as the Rice Owls make their bid a year late for the Southwest Conference football championship.

Everybody picked them to win last year and they lost out before the season was half over. Had they started like they finished they would have justified their press clippings, pre-season clippings, that is.

This time they're not on the spot and the schedule is very favorable. They do not appear quite as strong as they were in 1947 but they should have a better chance of coming through.

The greatest array of passers in the school's football history makes the Owls' potential high-pointers. Slower than usual, their ground game may not be up to average, and they look weaker on defense. But it's likely to take plenty of touchdowns to lick them.

Rice has 19 lettermen if you include a couple who got their numbers before 1947. From last year there are 17, giving them veterans two deep at end and three deep at center. Starting tackles and guards are good but reserve strength at these positions is difficult to gauge.

Coach Jess Neely says his most telling losses are three strong defensive backs—Hal Stockbridge, Dick Hoerster and Don Anderson. Neely places these above the loss of Carl Russ. A great fullback in 1946 who was slowed down by injury much of last season but who had been expected to return to his old form this season. Russ became scholastically ineligible.

From the line went All-Conference Guard J. W. Magee and two fine tackles, Henry Armstrong and Jim Spruill. They left those positions pretty thin for 1948.

Tobin Rote, spark of the Rice mid-season surge last year; Vernon Glass, talented freshman; Harmon Carswell, the former Lufkin high school all-star who was injured last year, and Charley Eastler, two-year squadman, furnish the quadruple pass threat.

Huey Keeney, playing his fourth varsity year and one of the greatest punters in the country, causes this laconic comment from the conservative Neely: "Our passing and punting will be all right."

Rote is one of the best backs in the conference. Neely says that, too. Glass might well be the sensation of the campaign. He does everything. He is of course, untested in conference competition but he has the talents to make his test a good one.

James (Froggy) Williams, Fick Lanza, Jack McBride and Bill Taylor are lettermen returning at end. There's pass-receiving and tough defense embodied in the array of wingmen headed by those four.

Three lettermen are back at tackle—Billy Wyman, Ed Parker and Ralph Murphy.

Three lettermen are also available at guard. They are Tom Parsons, S. J. Roberts and Carl Schwarz.

No other squad in the conference boasts as many top centers as Rice. If the Owls were as well-manned at tackle and guard as at the pivot post optimism would be unbounded.

Joe Watson, a 240-pounder who made all-conference in a walk last season; Gerald Weatherly and Jack Price, are a fearsome threesome in the middle of the line.

Rice has a letterman at each backfield spot. This means that outside of Glass, the freshman star, backfield reserve strength will come from squadmen. Rote is the starting quarterback. Keeney the left halfback and Harold Riley the right halfback. John Kelly is the returning letterman fullback but may not play as much as big Bobby Lantrip, who has been on the squad two years.

Neely likes squadmen Van Ballard at left half and expects major backing for Riley at right half from Oather Pugh and Don Campbell, 1947 squadmen, and freshman Gordon Wyatt.

Rice gets Southern Methodist, Texas, Texas Christian and Baylor at home, the best schedule in the conference. Neely thinks he'll need it and some other help, including a season of non-injuries, to win the title Rice was picked to capture in 1947.

Korean President Fears An Attempt At Assassination

SEOUL, Sept. 9. — An assassination rumor kept President Syngman Rhee from a farewell gathering at Kempo Airport today.

The head of the Korean republic in South Korea was persuaded not to appear at the airport, after Seoul's police chief reported the rumor. He said he had heard that "Communist youngsters" had attempted to learn where Rhee would be.

The crowd had gathered to see the departure of two groups of South Korean goodwill emissaries. One group is bound for the United Nations general assembly session at Paris, the other plans official calls in Nanking, Manila, Washington, London and Paris.

Mrs. Nell Frazier returned home Tuesday from a visit in Bryn Mawr with her son and on to Dallas where she saw her daughter, Cornelia, off to New York to resume her studies. Mrs. Frazier will be back in the studio Friday to meet old and new students.

Seymour Man Named To Head Convention Credential Committee

HILLSBORO, Sept. 13. — J. D. Rickson of Seymour today was appointed chairman of the credentials committee for the democratic state convention at Fort Worth Tuesday, Sept. 14.

The committee will meet at the Blackstone Hotel at Fort Worth Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and remain in session until all county delegations have appeared before it. Chairman R. W. Calvert of the state executive committee said this morning.

France Agrees On Big Four Meeting

PARIS, Sept. 9. — France joined the United States and Britain today in agreeing to a big four meeting before Sept. 15 on the Italian colonies.

In a note delivered to the Soviet embassy here today, France also agreed the meeting should be held in Paris, but left the question of the exact date for the session open.

Petroleum Industry Is OK If Government Keeps Out

SEATTLE, Sept. 9 —An industry spokesman said the future for petroleum supplies in the United States is encouraging and will remain so if the federal government leaves the industry alone.

Russell B. Brown, general counsel for the Independent Petroleum Association of America, expressed that view in addressing the mineral section of the American Bar association.

Brown said "there is ever present in bureaus the germ of government control, like the presence of a tubercular germ in the human body."

"Since the early 1930s," he said, "there has been in Washington a determined group who have used as their text the report of the National Resource committee headed by Frederick A. Delano and Harold L. Ickes, which stated that 'when the American people are impressed with the threatened shortage of petroleum it will be easier to effect the desired result of federal control of the petroleum industry.'"

Brown said the future for petroleum supplies will remain encouraging so long "as the danger of the intrusion of the federal government in the nature of a controlling agency is removed." Since restrictions on materials and price control were removed, he added, the industry has brought production to the highest point in its history.

Air Force Day Is Proclaimed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 —President Truman has proclaimed Sept. 18 as Air Force Day in tribute to the men and women who have "contributed to the growth of American air power."

Air Force Day has been observed in the past on Aug. 1. The date was changed, a spokesman said, because Sept. 18 is the first anniversary of the creation of an independent air force under the national military establishment.

Mr. Truman also named Col. Reginald C. Harmon to a four-year term as the first judge advocate general of the Air Force with the rank of major general.

More Jobs Needed For Disabled Vets

AUSTIN, Sept. 9 —The rise of national employment has not created enough job openings to assure gainful jobs for disabled veterans as rapidly as they are ready to go to work, a Veteran Employment Service representative said today.

The statement came from Thomas L. Ward in a news release from the Texas Employment Commission.

Ward estimated a minimum of 4,000 disabled veterans will seek work through the TEC this year. The backlog of disabled veteran applicants in Texas has been reduced from 13,000 in 1946 to 4,000 in 1947, Ward said.

Fire Prevention Week Set Oct. 3-9

AUSTIN, Sept. 9 Gov. Beauford H. Jester today designated Oct. 3-9 as Fire Prevention Week in Texas, coincident with national Fire Prevention Week proclaimed by the president. The Governor also designated Oct. 18-23 as Parent-Teacher Membership Week in recognition of the founding of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers on Oct. 19, 1909.

Polio In Bavaria

HOF, Germany, Sept. 9 —American military government officials announced 759 cases of infantile paralysis, 37 of them fatal, have been reported in Bavaria.

DDT Works On Mass Scale To Combat Jungle Malaria

NEW YORK A careful field test of DDT to control malaria worked so well that it has become a full-time project in the jungles of Venezuela.

During a year's use of the DDT in one area, the number of workers hospitalized with malaria dropped to 77. For years, it has averaged 400.

The test and results are described by "El Farol", publication of the Creole Petroleum Corp., a subsidiary of Standard Oil Company. Malaria in that working district ranked first among diseases that put residents in bed or made them too weak to work for weeks at a time. The disease is spread by female Anopheles mosquitoes.

Chosen for the DDT war was the Caripito District of Venezuela, a lush jungle area on the San Juan River a short distance inland from the coast. The camp and outlying oil fields are surrounded by rivers, swamps, heavily wooded mountains and plains. Entomologists surveyed the area and studied the habits and kinds of malaria-bearing mosquitoes. There the cooperative program by the government and oil company was launched in April, 1947.

Special squads of men sprayed the DDT through the work areas, covering every home inside and out. Covering the whole area took three months. Then the process was repeated again.

The number of mosquitoes declined appreciably, along with such other pests as flies, cockroaches, scorpions, spiders and fleas. Records at the year's end showed an 80 per cent reduction in the number of malaria cases severe enough to be hospitalized. The saving in health among national employees was estimated at $149,000.

Dry Weather Slows Farmers Over Texas

AUSTIN, Sept. 9 Dry weather favored Texas harvests last week but left other field operations at a near standstill, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported today.

Soil moisture remained fair in northern Panhandle counties and in some central, southern and coastal counties but effects of recent showers in these areas have largely worn off. USDA reported.

Rains were said generally needed over the state.

Cotton harvest, which was well underway, was favored by dry weather in north central Texas but late cotton needed rain.

Some wheat was reported seeding during the week in the Panhandle but in remaining areas there was virtually no small grain seeded. Preparation of seed beds was mostly awaiting rainfall.

Man's Death Plunge Stops Electricity

LONG BEACH, Calif., Sept. 9 —Electrical service was cut off from a section of Long Beach yesterday when John J. Kreher, about 74, retired business man plunged to his death from his seventh-story apartment and hit high tension wires.

Police Inspector Russell M. Wadt said the man, whose body was severely burned, left a note asking that his remains be cremated and that there be "no flowers or prayers."

LIVE ON VA LAND

Homes Cost Vets Right To Ballot

DENVER, Sept. 9 —More than 300 veterans and their families are barred from voting in the 1948 election.

The reason: the land on which they live—part of Fort Logan—belongs to the Veterans Administration.

The Army post is one of the oldest in the west. Still posted on the old barracks walls when World War II started were signs instructing the soldiers not to shoot buffalo from the windows.

It was used as an induction center during the war. Once the war ended, the War Department turned part of it over to the Veterans Administration.

The VA gave a use permit to the Federal Public Housing Authority to operate it as a housing project. That's the gimmick which is keeping the 331 veterans and their families from registering to vote.

Duke Dunbar, deputy state attorney general, says the VA—unlike the FPHA—does not have limited jurisdiction over the land. It has exclusive jurisdiction. That makes it the same as an Army reservation, so the residents can't vote under Colorado law.

Local officials of the VA say they can't transfer title to the land to the FPHA. They say the FPHA blocked preliminary moves in that direction.

C. L. Harrison, attorney for Arapahoe county, in which Fort Logan lies, says the county commissioners will abide by the attorney general's ruling.

Delegations from the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign War and other groups have appealed to Gov. Lee Knous to do something about it.

Candidates for political office have suggested that the state supreme court be asked for a declaratory provision enabling the veterans to vote.

Wheat Yield Up

WINNIPEG, Sept. 9 (AP)—Western Canada is expected to harvest a wheat crop of 365,500,000 bushels this year compared with 319,000,000 bushels produced in 1947, the Winnipeg Tribune said today in its sixth telegraphic crop report.

Report On Polio

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 — The March of Dimes fund of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis spent $4,675,971.39 for polio research, education and emergency epidemic aid during the seven-month period ending Dec. 31, 1947.

YANKS' AIR-LIFT SLANGUAGE KEEPS GERMANS UP IN AIR

BERLIN—The Germans, especially newspaper editors, are having quite a time translating these flamboyant names of American planes engaged in the Blockade-busting air lift.

When a giant C-74 Globemaster arrived with a cargo of flour, the American-licensed newspaper Tagesspiegel hailed it as the "meister des erdballes (master of the earth ball)."

German kids who watch the day and night procession of the air shuttle have grown familiar with the types of planes involved. They can point out a C-54 Skymaster or a C-47 Dakota merely as C-54 or C-47.

Some newspapers also have adapted these designations. However, some Russian-controlled newspapers, often sneeringly, try to translate Skymaster into "himmel meister (master of the heavens)."

The German press finds much simpler such British aircraft names as Yorks, Sunderlands and Lancasters.

Safely in DC-4 Fire

TAMPA, Fla., Sept. 9. (AP)—A national Airlines pilot brought a DC-4 to a safe landing here with one of its engines after yesterday and aided 13 passengers in fleeing from the craft without untoward incident.

Capt. Mike Morse said he saw fire blazing from the engine as he came in for a landing, but knew the plane, was in no immediate danger.

The plane, with a three-man crew, was en route to New Orleans, La., from Miami, and made a scheduled stop at Drew Field here.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

One Great American Trait

I always think it does a newspaper editor good to get out from behind his desk and see how folks in other parts of America look, and think, and act.

And that's what I've been doing these past weeks, touring the country from Michigan to Texas, California to Maine. It's a mighty encouraging experience. Not only because of the different points of view you run into—but because of the tolerance which reconciles those different points of view.

I mean the tolerance of a Pennsylvanian farmer for the habits of his city cousin; the tolerance of folks who vote one way towards those who vote another; the tolerance of those who prefer spring water towards those who enjoy a moderate beverage like beer.

From where I sit, it's that great American trait of tolerance—respect for individual tastes and liberties—that makes this country strong. Let's never lose it!

Freed Of Child Desertion Charge

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Sept. 9. (AP)—Movie Actor Elbert John Calvert of Los Angeles today was freed of a child desertion charge filed against him by his former wife.

The charge was dismissed in Warren County court yesterday at the request of Mrs. Jessie McCormack Calvert after she and Calvert signed an agreement concerning custody and support of their 13-year-old daughter.

A suit filed by Mrs. Calvert in circuit court also was dropped after reaching of the agreement, which calls for Mrs. Calvert, to retain custody of the child and for Calvert to pay $100 monthly toward her support until she is 18 years old.

Calvert obtained a divorce in Reno, Nev., in 1942, it was brought out yesterday, but the custody of the child and provisions for her support were not settled at that time.

STATE FUNERAL IS CLOSELY GUARDED

Private Burial Rites For Benes To Be Held At His Country Home Friday

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 9. (AP)—Private burial rites for former President Eduard Benes will be held at his country home tomorrow, official sources said today.

The body was taken back to Sedmimovo Usti, where Benes died last Friday, after a closely guarded state funeral which displayed Communist apprehension over possible anti-government demonstrations.

occupied during his many years as president.

The change in route protected President Klement Gottwald from more than a brief exposure to the crowds that jammed Prague streets for the funeral. Gottwald succeeded Benes after the latter resigned rather than go along with the Communists.

President and Mrs. Gottwald arrived five minutes after the scheduled starting time for the rites in the Hall of Fame at the national museum and left before the group in the hall. Gottwald did not appear in the funeral procession nor did he take part in the ceremonies at Pankrac Prison.

Pankrac Prison was chosen because it was on the route back to Sedmimovo Usti. Members of Benes family, the cabinet, diplomatic corps, members of parliament and Archbishop—osef Beran assembled there to hear a final discourse by the Lord Mayor Of Prague, Vaclav Vacek.

Polio Chapter Approves Bills

Bills totalling more than $300 were approved Wednesday by the executive committee of the Howard County Infantile Paralysis chapter.

These were expenses incurred in extending aid for victims of poliomyelitis. Of the amount $214 was aid given initially to one case and the remainder was in assisting in post-treatment of children which suffered involvement in previous years.

C. S. Blomshield, chapter chairman, reported that the iron lung, on loan from here, was still in use but that the national foundation had given assurances that another would be rushed here in event an emergency arises before the local iron lung is returned.

He also mentioned the probability of a $3,000 goal next January in the March of Dimes campaign in order to undersird the chapter for meeting local needs in event of heavy demands. An appeal for chapter support of a special emergency polio fund for affiliated Texas areas was referred to a committee for recommendation to the next meeting of the board.

Mrs. Louise Horton, health nurse for the city-county division of the Midland-Ector-Howard health unit, said that there had been a total of five polio cases reported here for the season, none of them within the past month.

The Czechoslovak statesman will be interred Friday in a tomb on a hillside of his little country estate overlooking the winding Luznice River, which rolls through the countryside of southern Bohemia.

Premier Anton Zapotocky mustered hundreds of troops, police and factory militia for yesterday's state funeral in Prague. Hundreds of thousands of mourners who packed the line of march were cut off by a wall of human flesh and steel from any chance at what the ministry of interior said might be an attempt to "desecrate" the funeral.

Among the precautions was a change in funeral plans which saw the body carried to Pankrac Prison for official rites, instead of Hradcany Castle, the palace Benes

102 YEAR OLD YET TO GET DIVORCE

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 9. (AP)—Thomas E. Riddle, 102-year-old confederate veteran, has filed suit for divorce from his 74-year-old wife, Shrida.

The petition filed here yesterday in district court cited alleged cruelties.

The couple, according to the divorce papers, was married on Sep. 12, 1936, at Sunset, Tex. It was the third marriage for Riddle, who celebrated his 102nd birthday here last April 16.

Progressive Party May Use Dallas Band Shell After All

DALLAS, Sept. 9. (AP)—The Dallas park board has ordered the Progressive Party use of the fair park band shell for a Wallace rally any day up to and including Sept. 21.

The board last week turned down a request for use of the band shell on Sept. 28 when Henry Wallace, the party's presidential candidate, is scheduled to be in Dallas. Party representatives were informed the bandshell would be undergoing preparations for the state fair.

'U' OF THE SUN

Students To Bask At Miami School

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Sept. 9. (AP)—Planned to give students the feeling of being out-of-doors while in dormitory and classroom, the University of Miami's new main campus is a breeze-swept vista of modernistic buildings, tropical foliage and an 8-acre lake.

Acres of grass which let in the sun take the place of ivy-covered walls, and shaded breezeways supplant the traditional darkened halls. Much of the $6,000,000 construction program has been completed on the 265-acre campus, but some work goes on. A student activities building is going up on the lake-side, and landscaping is going forward.

Twenty-nine buildings, of which 27 contain living quarters, have been completed. All were designed by Robert Law Weed, architect, and Miss Marion I. Menley, associate.

Even single rooms have full housekeeping facilities, and some living units have three-and-a-half rooms. Lighting fixtures automatically compensate for a decrease of natural light. The individual units are not very large and are set at angles. Should storms come, the individually small panes of glass set in steel frames should withstand its force.

Strangely, the new campus brings the University of Miami "back home." When chartered in 1925, this was to have been the main and only campus. But the Florida boom popped, the depression came on. The University moved into temporary quarters in Coral Gables several miles to the north.

A university building remained a skeleton—and still is. But it will be completed soon and probably will become the liberal arts college. The "temporary" building in Coral Gables proper is the law school, houses advanced laboratories and contains two theaters.

The new main campus is to have many additional buildings, all designed to fit into the scheme of a "University of the Sun."

NEW! FASTER-WORKING SUDS FROM LEVER BROTHERS COMPANY

SHOVEL and HOE

A Garden Column by Virginia Scott. Presented by the Big Spring Garden Club.

September brings with it the old back to work feeling. No matter how hot and dry, there is a definite urge to do or start something. Perhaps this is a hand-over from school days with most of us.

Anyway, we mustn't squelch the impulse. There are many things the gardener can do. Look over your house plants that have spent the summer outside. Gradually move them to more sheltered places before bringing them into the house for the winter. Cool nights will tell you when to bring them in.

MAKE IVY CUTTINGS

Cuttings of English ivy made now will be better than those taken in fall. Pieces of new growth, cut planting with a sharp knife, can be rooted outside in the shade, either in water or soil. Cuttings should not be crowded at any time. They need free circulation of air. Lower leaves should be removed to keep from decaying in water. Bring ivy indoors before frost. Must be given fresh air. Keep foliage clean. The miniature variety, Hedera helix gracilis is also easily grown.

PERENNIALS FOR FALL PLANTING

After the rains start, usually this month, perennials can be planted. It is much safer to get this planting made early, although they have gone through winter very well when planted later in October. If small plants are used, they must be given time to establish good root systems before the freezes begin.

Large clumps can be moved almost any time, but the sooner the better. But it is best to be sure that dry weather is definitely over before any quantity of plants are to be moved. Columbine, Candytuft, Arabis, Anchusa, Alyssum, Viola, Pansies, and Dianthus can all be moved and propagated this month.

LOOK FOR ROSE VARIETIES

Roses will bloom again this month as well as they did in early spring, if they have been given the right care and have plenty of moisture. It is a good time to look around for the kinds you may want to plant in November. See the n in bloom and know what you are getting. That goes for many other plants also.

While looking, consider the Door-yard Roses. Maybelle Stearns is a good one which will bloom all summer. If given the right conditions. This rose grows about two feet tall and spreads from five to six feet. It is good for ground cover or edging for tall shrubs or roses. Good foliage. Peach-blossom-pink color. Flowers in panicles, fully double, good for cutting. Hardy in Temperature one.

Shrub Roses are very useful. They are supposed to bloom all summer. Best blooms are in spring and fall. Lipsitch and Red Ripples are two dependable varieties. May be used like other shrubs or in the Rose Garden. Most of the Shrub Roses are tall and grow upright.

AIDS GLOBE-GIRDLING BOMBERS

Flying Filling Station Latest Development Of Air Force

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8 (AP)—Flying filling stations are going into business for the trans-global bomber. Just when and how is an Air Force secret. The military acknowledges, however, that refueling-in-flight experiments have shown three points:

1. It is useable in long-range bombing operations.
2. It will add from 40 to 75 per cent to normal bomber range.
3. It probably can be done high over the arctic wastes.

Many B-29 and B-50 bombers now are being modified for aerial refueling.

The standard B-29 bomber can strike 5,000 miles or more. Its bulky off-spring, the B-50, probably will develop a 6,000 or 7,000-mile straight-line reach. Conservative appraisals indicate 8,000 miles and eventually perhaps 10,000 miles for the B-36.

Add up to 75 per cent to those figures and you get a mighty long arm. By great-circle or air-line route, the farthest spot in the world is 12,500 miles. Bombers will have such range in the foreseeable future with mid-air refueling.

Present refueling systems are improvements on the methods used by endurance fliers 12 to 25 years ago.

Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, retired chief of the Air Force, commanded the "Question Mark," one of the most famous of the endurance planes, which stayed aloft 150 hours in 1931.

Six years later Fred and Al Key of Meridian, Miss., pushed the record to 653 1/2 hours (27 days), and there is rests. Such flights no longer receive official recognition in sporting aviation.

Fueling usually was done by hose but in one stunt an automobile sped along under the low-flying plane and a man on the roof handed up cans of gasoline. That would not do, of course for today's behemoths. They use gasoline by the thousands of gallons.

A bomber uses a tremendous amount of fuel from takeoff to the point of leveling off at his cruising altitude, say 25,000 feet. A B-50, for example, would use around 800 gallons just for the climb. A B-29 would use about three-fourths as much and a B-36 might use twice as much.

But once altitude is reached, the bomber can be throttled back and cruise at an economical speed. A bomber with full tanks at altitude has much more range than one with full tanks at takeoff.

Refueling in flight can be used in another important way. A bomber can take off with less fuel and more bombs. Then, having reached altitude, its fuel tanks can be filled.

The Air Force withholds details of its refueling method, but it is believed to be similar to that used by the British in experiments on trans-Atlantic passenger flights.

The British used four Lancaster modified for the tests.

Here is how the British did the job:

The tanker takes a position to the rear and right of the receiver. The receiver plane releases from a housing under its tail a steel cable, tipped by a cone-shaped weight and a grapple, or hook. As that handling line trails out behind, a light steel contact line is fired from the tanker. It falls across the hauling line, which then is pulled aboard the tanker.

The fueling hose is connected to the hauling line and the hose is pulled down to the receiver plane. Meanwhile the tanker has climbed to a position above and slightly behind the receiver. The fueling hose is 250 feet long.

When fueling is completed, the receiver plane feeds the hose coupling out on the hauling line. This line has a weak link which breaks when the tanker plane turns away.

Most Versatile Of Oven Products Is A Loaf Of Delicious Quick Breads

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

One of the most versatile of all oven products is a loaf of quick bread. It's delicious at breakfast, lunch or snacktime, and wonderful at buffet suppers, too. Somehow a good loaf of this kind has the ability to "pick up" the simplest meal. Spread with butter or margarine it can be served with the main course or used as a dessert; or fashion delicious cream cheese sandwiches of it to accompany a fruit or vegetable salad.

Your family will love Pineapple Nut Bread served for breakfast. If it's sliced, spread with butter and broiled lightly it will make a sweet, crisp toast that's delectable to taste. Here's the recipe:

Pineapple Nut Bread
Ingredients: 1½ cups sifted enriched flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 2-3 cup pineapple juice, ¼ cup crushed pineapple (drained), 1½ cups rolled oats, 2-3 cup chopped nuts, 1-3 cup melted fat.

Method: Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into a medium-sized mixing bowl. Beat the eggs in a small bowl, add the pineapple juice, mix well and add to dry ingredients; mix only until dry ingredients are dampened. Add pineapple, rolled oats, nuts and melted fat and fold in. Turn into bread pan (1 pound size) that has been lined with waxed paper and bake in a moderate (350 F.) oven for 1 hour to 1 hour and 15 minutes. Turn out of pan, remove paper at once and cool on rack. Store in bread box one day before slicing.

these quick breads is that even a novice can not fail with them—they're so easy to prepare. Make this Banana Nut Bread ahead of time when company's coming. I served it recently with a small "daisy" ham, griced sweet potatoes and a head lettuce and tomato salad, and it was a great hit. My guests ate it right through the meal and then let it double for dessert with lots of good strong coffee.

Banana Nut Bread
Ingredients: 1-3 cup fat, 2-3 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 cup sifted enriched flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup mashed bananas, 2 or 3 ripe bananas, 2-3 cup chopped nuts, 1 cup rolled oats.

Method: Cream fat, add sugar gradually and cream well. Add eggs, one at a time beating well after each addition. Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Add to creamed mixture alternately with "mashed bananas". Turn into greased taper loaf bread pan (1 pound size) and bake in a moderate (350 F.) oven for 1 hour or until done. Store in bread box one day before slicing.

One of the best things about these two recipes for quick breads is that they make such good use of nutritious economical rolled oats. What with the high cost food it's a good idea to serve oatmeal not only as a breakfast cereal but to feature it in other dishes—it will help give your family the energy and body-building energy material they need with no drain on the budget.

Cauliflower With Cheese And Crumb Topping Adds Vegetable Variety

Ingredients: 1 large head cauliflower, 1 cup boiling water, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk and cauliflower liquid, dash of freshly-ground pepper, ¼ cup coarsely grated soft yellow cheese (firmly packed), Topping: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ cup coarse cracker crumbs.

Method: Cut leaves and heavy base of stalk away from cauliflower. Slice off any brown spots on flower head. Separate the flowerets, slicing through bottom stalk when necessary—you should get about 24 good-sized flowerets from a large head. Wash well in cold water. Add ¼ teaspoon of the salt to the boiling water in a saucepan, put in the flowerets and bring to a boil again; cover. Keep gently boiling, and cook until tender—this may take from 15 to 25 minutes. Remove flowerets, pour liquid into a measure and add enough milk to make 2 cups. Melt the butter or margarine in the saucepan in which the cauliflower was cooked, over moderate heat, add the flour and blend; remove from heat and add the milk and cauliflower liquid a little at a time, blending until smooth after each addition. Return to moderate heat and, stirring constantly, cook until thickened and bubbly. Remove from heat, season with remaining salt and a dash of freshly-ground pepper and stir in the cheese; stir quickly and thoroughly so hot sauce will melt cheese. Arrange the flowerets in a baking dish and pour sauce over.

them evenly. Melt the butter or margarine for the topping over moderate heat, add the cracker crumbs and stir until a light golden color. Sprinkle buttered crumbs overtop and reheat in a moderate oven or under the broiler. If broiler is used watch carefully so as not to burn topping. Makes 6 servings.

Veal Creole Makes Tasty Main Dish For This Suggested Menu Any Day

VEAL CREOLE
Ingredients: 1½ pounds boned breast of veal, 1½ tea spoons kitchen bouquet, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons salad oil, 1 clove garlic (minced), 1½ cups sliced onion, 1½ cups sliced carrots, 2 cups diced fresh tomatoes, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, ¼ teaspoon powdered oregano, ¼ teaspoon chili powder, 1 cup water, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 2 tablespoons cold water.

Method: Cut veal in 1-inch cubes. Place in mixing bowl and sprinkle with kitchen bouquet, salt and pepper; turn to season evenly. Heat oil in Dutch oven or heavy saucepan over moderate heat. Add garlic and cook 2 minutes. Add meat and brown on all sides, about 10 minutes. Add onion, carrots cut in ½ inch slices, tomato and sprinkle with parsley, oregano and chili powder. Pour 1 cup water over top. Cover and cook over low heat until meat is done and the vegetables cooked tender, about 45 minutes. Blend cornstarch and 2 tablespoons cold water together and add to meat. Stir until sauce thickens and boils. Serve over hot cooked rice. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Soil Conservation Essay Contest Set

"How Soil Conservation Pays" will be the topic for the fourth annual essay contest in the Fort Worth Press Save the Soil and Save Texas Awards Program this year, the Press has announced. The Press sponsored essay program is open to all elementary and high school students in Texas and is limited to 200 words or less. All entries must be in the hands of Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District Supervisors or the conservation director of the Fort Worth Press by March 1, 1948. As last year, there will be $500 divided equally among the five regions of Texas with the grand award an all expense trip to Colorado.

W. D. Miller, district cooperater in the Richland Soil Conservation group, will plant blackeyed peas for soil improvement on his terraces this fall. Miller will plant a strip of peas about 40 feet wide on each terrace and plow them under with a one way working the litter into the top of the soil. Miller says the deep rooted legume plants will open up the soil and make it soak up more water. This will keep water from standing too long behind the terraces. The crop will also build up soil by adding nitrogen and organic matter.

Miller also plans to make his terraces wider and shape them up so they will be easier to farm. District cooperators are turning to soil building cover crops in their coordinated soil conservation program. Frank Loveless, district supervisor in Zone III, reported this week. A partial survey of cooperators made by the supervisors this fall indicates that more than 3,000 acres of cover crops will be planted to protect the land from blowing and washing and to build up the soil by adding nitrogen and organic matter. Included in the crops to be planted are Abruzzi rye, hairy vetch, Austrian and Dixie Wonder peas and Hubam and Madrid Sweet clover.

Albert Davis, district cooperater in the North Big Spring conservation group, planted 80 acres of Abruzzi rye last week on his farm three miles northeast of Big Spring. Davis had Abruzzi rye last year on a field of blow sand. He said the cover crop kept his land from blowing and furnished good grazing for his cows. A 3,800 cubic yard stock tank was completed last week on the Donald Lay ranch east of Combs. Lay built the stock tank to furnish more water for his livestock, and to give better distribution of grazing on his pastures.

European Farmers Fight Potato Bugs

LONDON, Sept. 9.—While European diplomats worry about an east-west crisis, the continent's farmers are fighting a real down-to-earth invasion—by the lowly potato bug.

If there really is an "iron curtain," the potato bug—otherwise known as the Colorado beetle—has squeezed through. For the first time in history the fearsome little farm pest is gnawing potato plants in Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Poland. The bright gold-and-black striped beetle, which spread all over the United States since it discovered it liked potatoes in Colorado some 70 years ago, also likes wars. The beetle spread to western Europe in World War I, presumably getting free rides in troop transports and in war cargoes.

and Germany between the wars, the beetle got out of hand in World War II when people were devoting their efforts to exterminating each other. Now the menace on a continent where potatoes are a vital part of the diet is so serious that an international conference on potato bug control has been called for this fall.

All over Europe are posted placards showing pictures of the beetles and their hungry offspring, the bright red grubs. Radio announcers in a dozen languages regularly warn the farmers to keep a lookout for the transatlantic invader.

The International Conference on Control of the Colorado Beetle in Geneva in October hopes to standardize control methods. Britain, comparatively free of the beetle because of vigilant control measures, has taken a leading part in organizing the conference. The little bug has been causing some big political arguments. In Romania some local political leaders have been telling farmers that Colorado beetles have been dropped by American planes in secret night flights.

House Plans Asked For Paraplegics

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The Veterans Administration asked a New York City architect today to design houses for people who can't walk. The agency said it will pay John Shober Burrows, Jr., $3,000 for the plans. The government wants basic house-plans to send free to each paralyzed war veteran who applies for a federal grant for a "wheel chair home." The houses which Burrows designs will have extra-wide halls and doorways, special bathroom arrangements and ramps instead of steps. Some may be fitted with exercising facilities. Each house will have a one-car garage.

Reno City Official Gets Demo Nod

RENO, Sept. 9. (AP)—Nevada Democrats have nominated a 36-year-old Reno city councilman for the state's single congressional seat. The nomination in Tuesday's primary election went to Walter Baring, a wartime Navy radar specialist. Baring led Simon W. Conwell, a Rawhide, Nev., mining man, by 11,067 to 4,286 on the basis of complete unofficial returns from 204 of the state's 301 precincts.

Baring will oppose Rep. Charles Russell, Republican incumbent, in the November general election.

Johnson To Moscow

LONDON, Sept. 9. (AP)—A reliable source said today Eric Johnston, American film boss, will fly to Moscow from Paris about Sept. 20 on an unofficial visit that may take him to the Kremlin.

Oatmeal Raisin Muffins Are Tasty For Breakfast

Orange Cup
Scrambled Eggs with Fizzled Beef Oatmeal Raisin Muffin*
(Recipe for Starred Dish follows)
OATMEAL RAISIN MUFFINS:
Ingredients: 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup quick-cooking or regular rolled oats, 1/4 cup seedless raisins, 1/4 cup shortening, 1-3 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 2-3 cup milk. Method: Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt on to a piece of waxed paper; add rolled oats and raisins. Cream shortening and sugar. Beat eggs in a small bowl with rotary egg beater until thick and pale colored; add to fat-sugar and mix well. Add flour mixture alternately with milk in 3 additions, mixing enough to combine ingredients each time. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full and bake in hot (400F.) oven for about 25 minutes. Serve hot immediately.

Tomato And Pea Sauce Adds Flavor To Omelets

TOMATO AND PEA SAUCE
Ingredients: 2 tablespoons flour, 1/4 cup milk, one 10 1/2-ounce condensed tomato soup, 1 cup canned peas, 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/4 bay leaf.
Method: Mix flour with 1/4 cup of the milk to make a smooth paste. Put the tomato soup in a saucepan, add the remaining 1/4 cup milk, peas, Worcestershire sauce and bay leaf. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and bubbles. Remove bay leaf. Makes 2 cups sauce, 4 to 6 servings.

Squash, Wax Beans And Tomatoes

When the family gets tired of eating vegetables in the usual fashion and you want to save washing pots and pans put two or three of the vegetables together with good seasoning, as suggested in the following recipe, and everyone will lap them up. Serve the vegetables in sauce dishes, if you like, with the well flavored vitamin full pan liquor
Squash, Wax Beans and Tomatoes
Ingredients: 1/2 pound wax beans, 1/2 cup water, 1 pound thin-skinned yellow summer squash, 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 2 large tomatoes (peeled and cut in eighths), 3 tablespoons diced green pepper, 1 1/4 teaspoon salt, freshly-ground pepper (to taste) 1/4 teaspoon finely crumbled dried basil, 1/2 teaspoon sugar.
Method: Cut the ends from the wax beans, wash in cold water with a vegetable brush, drain; put on cutting board and slice into short diagonal lengths. Put water into deep 10-inch skillet and bring to boiling; add wax beans, cover, and cook over moderate heat until partly tender and water has evaporated, about 8 minutes. Meanwhile wash squash (it is not necessary to peel) and slice thinly; wide slices may be cut in half. Add butter or margarine to skillet when beans are ready and allow to melt; add squash, tomatoes, green pepper, salt, pepper, basil and sugar. Mix well, cover and cook over moderate heat about 10 minutes, until squash is tender but crisp and tomatoes still hold shape. Makes 6 generous servings.

Orange Cake Is Tasty Dessert

Spaghetti with Tomato Sauce
Green Salad with Anchovy Dressing
Hot Crusty Garlic Bread
Orange Cake Beverage
(Recipe for Starred Dish follows)
ORANGE CAKE (Small Loaf)
Ingredients: 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup butter or margarine, cup sugar plus 2 tablespoons, 1 egg, grated rind of 1 orange (about 1 to 2 teaspoons), 1-3 cup strained orange juice.
First Preparation: Grease bottom of a small loaf pan (about 4 x 8 inches), line bottom with waxed paper and grease surface of paper lightly. Before squeezing orange juice grate or shred rind onto piece of waxed paper. With a spoon blend it well with 2 tablespoons of the sugar; reserve.
Method: Put flour, baking powder and salt into sifter. Cream butter and cup sugar together thoroughly. If you have an electric mixer add the egg (unbeaten) and beat for several minutes. If not, beat the egg with a rotary egg beater until it is thick and pale-colored, and add it to the creamed butter and sugar, mixing well. Sift in flour in four additions, alternating with one-third of the orange juice each time; begin and end with flour. Beat only enough after each addition to combine; do not overbeat. Turn into prepared small loaf pan; sprinkle top with blended orange rind and sugar. Some of the topping will trickle down into the cake batter during baking but there will be enough left to give a delicate, sug-ary orange-flavored crust. Bake in a moderate (350F.) oven for 35 to 45 minutes, or until toothpick stuck in center bottom comes out clean and crust has shrunk slightly from sides. Loosen cake edges with spatula, turn out on cake rack, peel off paper immediately, and turn rightside up on another rack and allow to cool. Serve with a sauce, sweetened whipped cream or fruit, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

(Recipe for Starred Dish follows)
Here's a spicy, hot luncheon dish that does surprising things to carrots.
CARROT RAMEKINS
Ingredients: 1 pound carrots, one 8-ounce can tomato sauce, one 3-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon powdered marjoram, 1/4 cup grated Parmesan-type cheese.
Method: Scrape carrots, cut off ends and shred; three should be about 4 cups. Put carrots in mixing bowl, add tomato sauce, contents of can of mushrooms, salt, pepper and marjoram and mix well. Turn into 4 individual greased 8-ounce casseroles. Sprinkle tops with grated cheese. Bake in moderate (350F.) oven until carrot is done, about 45 minutes. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.
