Miss Lucy Hudgins Is United In Marriage Wednesday To Mr. Lon Webster In Ceremony At Methodist Church Here

A simple, but beautiful, wedding was solemnized Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the First Methodist church here when Miss Lucy Hudgins, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Hudgins became the bride of Mr. Lon Webster, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Webster. Dr. Ernest E. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church performed the ring ceremony.

A prenuptial solo was rendered by Miss Mary Helen Hardin of Childress, "Devotion" by Hayden Wood. Miss Hardin was Mrs. Webster's roommate at Texas Woman's College last year. The bridal party entered to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" played by Mrs. Elmer S. Shelley. The bride was attended by Miss Bernice Guthrie as maid-of-honor. Miss Guthrie wore a frock of brown crepe trimmed with lace, with hat and accessories to match. She carried a bouquet of sunburst roses.

The groom entered with his best man, Mr. Henry Ellis of Amarillo. The bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of black chiffon velvet with touches of white and carried a bouquet of white roses.

The bridal party proceeded to the altar of green and white, the chosen colors, where Dr. Robinson read the ceremony. Throughout, Mrs. Shelley played softly "Liebsträume" by Liszt. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the bridal party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left for a honeymoon in Fort Worth and Dallas. They will be at home in Shamrock after November 1.

Mrs. Webster is a charming member of the younger social set in Memphis. She was graduated from Memphis High School last year and attended Texas Woman's College, Fort Worth, for a year. She is a singer of rare talent. Mr. Webster was graduated from the local high school in the same class with his wife. While in school here, he played on the football team, was a member of the band and took part in all school organizations. He has an important position with Webster Bros., in Shamrock.

Mrs. Webster's going away costume was an attractive model of black and yellow tweed. Their many Memphis friends wish for them much prosperity and happiness in their married life.

Shower Is Given By Miss Estes For Bride-Elect

A miscellaneous shower was given last Saturday afternoon by Miss Jo Ann Estes at her home for Miss Lucy Hudgins, bride-elect. Miss Estes was assisted in entertaining by friends of the bride. Upon arrival, the guests were greeted by Mrs. Herbert Estes who also presided over the guest book in the shape of a wedding bell.

After the guests had been seated, the bride's mother called her daughter to come by the come of Jo Ann. Loreece Webster and Annie Louise Hudgins brought her to the home. The bride was ushered into the spacious reception room and seated. At this time, Guthrie Bennett and Betty Dale West, representing Lon and Lucy, came in dressed as hitchhikers and Guthrie sang, "Highway to Shamrock." Following this, Arnold Shelley and Mary Jones came up in a toy automobile dressed as the bride and groom and Arnold carried suitcases and hat boxes in which were lovely gifts for the bride-to-be. After the packages were opened, Mrs. Shelley played several piano selections.

Hot tea, bread and butter sandwiches, cookies and cheese were served to about fifty guests. Wedding bells were given as favors. The reception rooms were beautiful in a color scheme of white and gold with autumn flowers everywhere in evidence.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Harrison went to Amarillo Saturday to attend the football game between Amarillo and Pampa and to visit their son, Claud Benton, who is attending the Amarillo Junior College.

Pictured above are Lon Webster, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Webster and Mrs. Lon Webster, who, before her marriage was Miss Lucy Hudgins, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Hudgins. The young couple were married at the First Methodist church Wednesday morning and will make their home in Shamrock.

respectfully brings this message to its customers and friends

Spend Wisely!

DURING general depression people often turn to low prices in such a frenzy that value per dollar is forgotten. We would remind and caution consumers that the mere act of paying less for an item of merchandise does not always constitute a saving. Far more often the thrifty and economical thing to do is to make sure of quality before considering price. Wise buyers always consider quality first.

If you are an average citizen, you need to save money, but it is our observation that your purpose is defeated at the very outset when you buy "mill ends" and "seconds." Hanna-Pope & Company enjoys a reputation in Memphis of which it is proud, and it is not the intention of this institution to be lowered in the public's estimation by stocking disreputable and shoddy merchandise that it cannot guarantee. Spend wisely buy quality.

He was born in Ohio on September 12, 1842, and was 88 years of age at the time of his death. His passing was brought about from a great trouble. From Ohio, he went to Indiana and Missouri, and finally to Jones County, Texas, where he has lived since. He was survived by his widow, two daughters and three sons: Chas. Oren, Memphis; Jesse Oren, Denison, Texas; and Mrs. A. E. Abbott of Colorado. (Continued on page 4)

Christmas Musical Program Rendered By Choirs Sunday

Christmas musical programs featured the Sunday night services at both the Baptist and Methodist churches last Sunday evening, as well as Christmas messages delivered by both Rev. E. T. Miller and Dr. Ernest E. Robinson. A large crowd was present at both services. The Presbyterian church had also planned to have a Christmas program, but this had to be called off on account of sickness, it was stated.

The program at the Baptist church was as follows: Christmas carols by hidden choir; "Joy to the World"; "O, Come All Ye Faithful"; "Silent Night"; "Day Is Dying in the West" was sung as the choir marched to their places. This was followed by an anthem, "Prince of Na'ons" by the choir with special parts being taken by Miss Vernadine Jones and Mrs. Ethel Penton; solo; "O, Little Town of Bethlehem," by Redmer, V. L. McGlocklin; anthem, "Glory to God," by Lane, choir. Mrs. Margaret G. Morgan played the accompaniments and the music was under the direction of Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard. Following the musical program, Rev. Miller spoke on "God's Gift to the World."

At the Methodist church, the following program was given: organ prelude, "Glory to God in the Highest," Mrs. J. C. Crowell has her last year's team practically intact and is looking forward with (Continued on page 4)

Smallpox Epidemic In City Reported As Under Control

According to Dr. C. Z. Stidham, the smallpox situation in Memphis and Hall County seems to be well under control, with no new cases reported lately. It was thought at one time that it might be necessary to close the city schools on account of the disease, but since the Christmas holidays came so opportunely and since such a large number of the students were vaccinated, it is not believed that it will be necessary to resort to such a measure.

In Rather Mild Form

Dr. Stidham reported quite a number of cases between here and the river, but none have been reported on the other side of it. (Continued on page 4)

Empty Stocking Crusade Packages Are Delivered To Families Christmas Eve

The committee in charge of the Empty Stocking Crusade completed their purchases Monday afternoon. The toys and fruit were assembled at the home of Horace Tarver, chairman of the committee, and was parcelled out to many homes where there are children expecting a visit from Santa Claus. Substantial, chased unsive, toys were purchased. In addition, each child gets plenty of candy and fruit.

The committee of five started distributing the gifts Wednesday afternoon. A hundred or more children were the beneficiaries of the Crusade. Many of the families on the list were given to church organizations, such as church societies, Girl Scouts, Sunday School classes and even to individuals, who saw that Christmas cheer was taken to homes which otherwise would have been lacking in it.

Post Office Proves Busy Place In Dispatching Christmas Mail

Employees of the local post office have had their hands full during the Christmas mail rush that has been on for the past week. Long hours and fast work have cared for the situation admirably. It was reported that postal receipts for this season of the year compared very favorably with Christmas mail receipts in other years, despite the business depression that has this section of the country in its grip.

Thousands of Christmas cards have been dispatched by the local post office, as well as hundreds of Christmas packages and letters. Almost as many have come in for delivery. The facility with which the holiday mail has been handled points to the efficiency of the local office which will be even more in evidence when adequate quarters are provided for the staff.

And Amarillo did NOT win the state championship. Like Corsica, Tyler presented a strong passing attack, found the Sandie weak spot and played them to their feet. However, the Gold Sandstorm blew its way to touchdowns and outplayed their opponents in almost every part of the game. Asarillo put up a wonderful fight and at last had the honor of being the first Panhandle team to ever go to the state finals.

Central and East Texas teams have always played in the leading state games; Panhandle squads have never been recognized. In 1925 Cisco ran up over 70 points. Sandie squad, and other scores have been about the same. The Panhandle pushing hard the front now, and each year should see this section with at least one good big for the state race.

Now Pampa has a chance to "holker." The Sandstorm defeated them 2 to 0 on a very muddy field, and it has been the belief of all Pampa supporters that this is the stronger team. Pampa may believe that they could have won the state championship. As both teams that Amarillo played in the final race were strong passing squads and as that is to a great extent Pampa's game, they would likely have stopped the opposition better than did the Amarillo Goldies, but it is very doubtful if Pampa could have presented so strong a defense.

Memphis Cyclone cagers go in to their first scheduled game here on Friday of next week. Crowell was picked, or at least are themselves, as district players this year. Although the during this game will not gain anything, it offers a opportunity to judge the local squad and to begin to speculate on how far they might go this season.

The local squad must play all their conference games away from home because their gym is not of regulation size. This in itself is enough to ruin the spirit of the cagers. There is only one thing that keeps the school from having a large gymnasium—that is the small attendance at basketball games here. When football season is over, many of the ardent fans pack away their spirit to wait for the coming grid year. This is hard to understand.

Basketball is a much faster game than is the gridiron fray. It is a harder game to play, takes more head work, more stamina and if studied carefully, has more thrills packed into one game than is found in six ordinary football battles. Back the Cyclone cagers; enjoy real battles that you never knew were taking place, and most of all, make it possible for the Cyclone to play their conference games here within the next year or two.

rain. It seemed that the heavens found this the only way in which to give vent to pent-up sorrows and emotions at the butchery of humanity.

Football games, track meets, baseball games, polo matches, horse races have been conducted in "seas of mud," with the breaks of the game determining the victors. Crop reports, crop estimates have been affected by the rain. In almost every human activity, somewhere, either in the background or foreground, rain has played a part.

Rain can be terrible to storm sufferers when floods devastate fertile acres or it can be the most comforting of sedatives—lulling tired minds and bodies into the profoundness of slumber. Somehow, I like to look upon rain as a benefit to humanity, rather than as a hindrance, even though I know full well the disasters it has wrought and how discouraging it can become at times.

To me, the greatest boon offered by the elements is not a hard downpour, but the soft, gentle splatter of the rain as it falls upon the roof of home at night. No matter how tired I am or how obsessed with the cares and responsibilities of the present, I am soon at peace with the world as the last faint echoes carry me into the land of dreamless sleep, where rest is its own excuse for being.

to dispondency and indifference many times which result in people neglecting church attendance and church support.

Services Well Attended
"The meeting just closed was of a type that warmed the Christian people back into service and encouraged them to carry on with their religious activities in these testing days. All of the services were well attended, not only by members of the Baptist congregation, but by many from the other churches. Busy merchants and farmers took time to take a part in the meeting. The splendid attendance during the busiest season of the year is proof that Memphis people are church going folks. The city of Memphis can point with pride to her churches as being among the very best to be found anywhere. This is due to the fact that the churches are supported by the very highest class of Christian people. Dr. B. M. Jackson and Brother Johnnie Cohen led in a great way with their masterful preaching and singing.

Appreciate Cooperation
"The pastor and members of the Baptist church wish to thank all who cooperated in helping to make the meeting successful. Especially do they appreciate the splendid publicity the Memphis Democrat and the Memphis News gave to the meeting. An editorial in The Memphis Democrat was timely, and no doubt, contributed in a large measure to the happy results of the services. The Cameron Lumber Company was very kind in furnishing lumber for the platform free of charge. We are persuaded that the people of Memphis are better prepared to press on in their Christian endeavors because of the meeting which has just closed."

No Opposition Seen
Mr. Daggett states further that he has conferred with the chambers of commerce in the principal cities between Dallas and Amarillo and finds while they regret conditions are such that it is necessary to take the proposed action, yet he has received assurance there would be no opposition interposed by the respective organizations in this regard.

Hard Fight Expected
The Cyclone team, as a unit, is hopeful that Memphians will be on the sidelines at Turkey in large numbers, lending encouragement to what is conceded to be a hard fight. The locals know that if they fail to win the contest Friday, they are definitely out of the running for district honors this year. Colvin is the mainstay of the Turkey team, and the boys here are out to stop him, for they realize that when Colvin is stopped, the entire Turkey team is held. "On to Turkey" is the battle cry of the Cyclone this week, "and then Clarendon."

KNOW YOUR SCHOOL

By H. J. Gore

Principal Junior High School
The chief purpose of the Parent-Teacher Association is to benefit the child. There is no question but that the problems of the parent and the teacher overlap. The more thoroughly the field is studied the more the realization grows that these problems are common ones. While it is true that nothing can take the place of the right kind of home life, it is equally true that the right kind of school life is of vital importance. For nine months of the year, the child spends the largest part of its day in the school. Should not the parent know what it does during that time? The only way that this knowledge may be had is by a close personal contact with the school.

The question arises as to what benefits may accrue to the child from this contact of the parent and school. In the first place, no one knows the child as the parent does. At least, this is true of the right kind of parent. The teacher may then gain a great deal of helpful knowledge as to how to handle the child from a frank talk with the mother. Every child has its time may be saved and often real individual peculiarities. Much harm may be averted if the teacher knows these things in time. In the second place, it is necessary, if the greater efficiency is to be obtained in the education of the child, that the parent understand the teacher, her methods, her peculiarities, and above all what she expects of the child. This last is of great importance. Some parents make the mistake of trying to help the child without knowing what the child is expected to do. If the parent is trying to teach the child one thing and the teacher another, confusion and bewilderment are the only results. Know exactly what methods the teacher is using and try to help in carrying out these methods. A conference with the teacher will save much time and much confusion.

The above benefits can only result from a personal contact with the school. The parent should find time to visit the school, attend the different classes, meet the teachers, talk with them about the child. Every real teacher takes pleasure in anything that will work for the good of the child. They appreciate these visits if they are made in the right spirit. In the past, it has often been that the parent only came about the school to raise a fuss, to find fault with the teacher or the method. If this attitude is taken, the teacher will naturally resent it as will the child. It is needless to say that no good will come from such association. It is the purpose of the P. T. A. to cultivate a feeling of mutual aid between the parent and the teacher, a feeling that will permit the parent to come into the school at any time without embarrassment to the parent, teacher or child.

One of the greatest difficulties the Association meets with is that

by A. J. Dunlap

The biggest day back on the farm
Was when the threshing crew
Along the hillside, down the road
Swung boldly into view.
The sturdy horse-power led the way,
With grease-smeared cog and gear;
The separator rocked along,
With wagons in the rear.

With about and sledge they staked er down,
The boss called, "let er rip."
The driver unked the chousy beam
And cracked the long lashed whip.
The tumbling rod began to roll,
The separator whined,
And from its worn spout poured the grain
And piled the straw behind.

At dinner time we laughed and joked
In wholesome, friendly style,
When Pansy passed the pie to Pete
With shy and winning smile.
But when the jolly crew was gone
To thresh the next month's grain,
Somehow we felt a loneliness
We couldn't quite explain.

of arousing the interest of the parent. This is no doubt due to the fact that the parent does not know the aims and work of the P. T. A. The purpose of this article is to call to the attention of the parent that the P. T. A. wants to help you to know your school and to know your child. You are invited and urged to take part in this work. Give the P. T. A. a chance to help you solve your problems. In return, help it to solve its problems.

subject will be along that line. Fire cannot occur unless oxygen combines with some inflammable substance, the oxygen ordinarily being absorbed from the air. It is possible for oxidation to take place without a flame developing. In fact, this occurs continually with various substances under ordinary conditions. Anything that rots suffers oxidation, although it may never become hot enough to catch fire. It may be as in the case of rusting steel or iron, a substance that will not ignite. Spontaneous ignition occurs when the flame actually develops as a result of internal chemical action.

It was only about a century and a quarter ago that the chemical nature of fire became known. Before that time, comparatively little progress had been made in the field of chemistry. About 1800, it was recognized that fire was a combination of oxygen with a combustible substance. For fire to occur this merging must take place at a temperature known as the kindling point, and the three factors necessary to start a flame are oxygen and a combustible substance plus a kindling temperature, which varies from 112 to 1200 degrees Fahrenheit. The kindling temperature may be reached because of chemical action, friction, direct heat or flame, electricity, the sun, or from a stroke of lightning. Only the first named cause, however, is spontaneous.

Certain substances, because of their affinity for oxygen are subject to spontaneous ignition, such as rags or litter saturated with fish oil, linseed oil, soya bean oil, or cottonseed pressings. Mineral oils are not dangerous in this respect despite their inflammability, but practically all vegetable and animal oils or fats have a tendency to oxidize and heat. Dairy feeds containing the vegetable oils mentioned and wheat middlings, oats, barley, distilled grains and similar fodder are also subject to spontaneous combustion and ignition if they become damp and are not properly stored with provisions for ventilation. Damp hay will likewise burst into flames if stored in stacks or mows.

When the dairy grains referred to start to decay because of a dampened condition, nitrogen and carbon dioxide are liberated. Later, methane and hydrogen are released. These gases are inflammable and explosive. They are highly dangerous for anyone to enter pits or bins carrying open flame lights. For example, a few years ago, at an elevator fire in this city thrashed maize became so hot that it exploded and as a result one of the boys was rushed to a hospital and two more were left in no shape to continue fighting the fire.

Sawdust, grain, lime and charcoal are also likely to ignite spontaneously. Gasoline will also ignite spontaneously. For example, a garage on Main street was almost destroyed a few weeks ago caused by gasoline fumes mixed with dust and air that had been closed up in the building for several hours, or long enough for it to become so heated that it exploded.

Two Noted Negro Baseball Teams Clash Here Friday at Owl Park

COLORED TILT PROMISES TO BE GOOD

Expect Large Crowd To See Dusky Pill Tossers

Local fans are promised real post-season baseball entertainment when the Michigan Wolverines of Detroit and the Milwaukee Giants meet in combat here at Owl Park Friday, October 17 at 3 p. m. Both teams are composed of noted colored players.

The Michigan Wolverines, eastern colored champions, en route to the Pacific Coast, are composed of players from the Eastern League such as Jack Smith of the Hilldale club, Darby of Pennsylvania, Neal Pullen, one of the greatest negro catchers of today, of the Los Angeles Royals, and stars from the Oklahoma and Texas league. They have the enviable record of only 14 losses out of 103 games played. Several of the entries in the recent Denver Post Tournament are among the clubs that have been defeated by the Wolverines.

"The board of directors of the Memphis Owls Baseball Club will greatly appreciate a large attendance of fans in this section at the negro game Friday," Edwin Thompson, president, declared yesterday. "The Owl Park fund will receive a liberal commission from the game's receipts and the money is badly needed to help clear the park of indebtedness before the 1931 season starts. We urge fans to see this game and believe they will enjoy good entertainment by doing so."

The Milwaukee Giants club is composed of ex-league players like George Carr, of the Kansas City Monarchs, and Gardner and Hunter, greatest known negro speed-ball artists. This club is undefeated in five states.

In addition to real "leagueish" baseball, those who attend Friday's game will see many novelty plays and stunts, including a speed ball exhibition and slow motion. Clowns will handle the baseball faster than the eye can watch.

In addition to the grandstand at Owl Park, bleachers on the ground will accommodate between five and six hundred people, and ample free parking space for automobiles is available. The admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children under 14. Special baseball officials and an unusually large crowd will be called promptly.

Let's Chat Awhile

BY DOROTHY B. ROBBINS

This last brilliant adventure of the air had, I thought, thrilled me as thoroughly as I had capacity for until I read another "Wanamaker First"—a detailed description, artistically written and appearing in half of the big ad for John Wanamaker's store, of the cargo carried by the red plane, Question Mark, from Paris to New York. That cargo was a small, black package with seals of red wax, yes, of long lines and a lovely addition to the package an embroidered mark, small and white! The package's hunt for the inquirer after time had passed left a gay, tired little reader. At last, it was done up so neatly—a small, black package with seals of red wax, testifying to the fact that the chic air of the French is carried out even in wrapping up merchandise. A photographer's appearance and the Customs man's inspection added reality to the dream of red. The original model by Callot is on display at the Wanamaker Store in New York City—"Le Point d'Interrogation."

In the early part of September, they advertised their exclusive model of the original model made the same fine Crepe Mongol ready within a few days. Successes for evening this winter as one result of the successful flight of Coste and Bellonte! Worn from New York to Dallas, Texas, and perhaps, as far in a westerly direction! Wouldn't surprise me if a social even took on a decidedly interrogatory air as the flashing "Le Point d'Interrogation" gowns walked back and forth. This red plane will have its effect on masculine apparel, too—red ties are nothing new—will socks or headgear become the warm note this winter?

"Her Unborn Child" To Show Here Next Week Has Preview

A preview of "Her Unborn Child" was held at the Palace Theatre Thursday morning beginning at 9:30 o'clock to allow local critics, professional men and mothers to view one of the most unusual dialog pictures of the day which is scheduled for presentation at the Palace Theatre Monday and Tuesday of next week. Of one accord, those present complimented Manager Hollis Boren on securing this picture for a showing here. There is a great lesson taught in the production—one that will be hard to forget. It is gripping, realistic, surcharged with great moments and great decisions. It unravels and strips to the bone a cross-section of human life and experience.

Nothing Vulgar or Obscene
There is nothing obscene or vulgar in the entire performance, but children of a tender age would obtain nothing from the picture. Older folk, fathers, mothers, boys and girls, should by all means view this offering. Dr. C. Z. Stidham, in commenting on the picture, said: "It is the most wonderful, wonderful picture I ever saw. Every adult in Memphis should see it."

Has Thrilled Millions

As a stage play, "Her Unborn Child" has thrilled millions of playgoers for the past ten years, including its run of one year at the Eltinge and Forty-Eighth Street Theatres in New York City. The pungent dialog, unconventional situations, delightful comedy interludes and smashing dramatic power which startled legitimate theatre audiences, has been carefully preserved in the talking version, produced by Windsor Picture Plays, Inc., and recorded by De Forest Talkie System.

Touchingly Human Story

The touchingly human story of a boy and girl in love, forgetting everything else, presents one of the most unusual subjects yet selected for the talking screen, and "Her Unborn Child" will afford patrons of the Palace Theatre many breathless moments during the unfolding of its moving drama.

The talkie of the famous stage play presents a cast of unusual merit, recruited in the main from the ranks of Broadway stars, among them being Adele Ronson, Harry Davenport, Frances Underwood, Pauline Drake and Elisha Cook, Jr. The picture will be presented at the Palace, matinee and evening, Monday and Tuesday of next week. Single admissions will be forty cents.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

A young hunter friend has given a recipe for the popular dishes of 'possum and rabbit.

Bake them together, he says. The richness of the 'possum counterbalances the dryness of the rabbit and the two flavors combining produce a dish not to be excelled. The popular sweet 'aters must not be omitted. Brer' Rabbit has no objection to such a garnish. Next time your son brings in the two, try the combination, Mrs. Housewife.

It isn't very clear but I hope if anybody reads what I write they can catch the drift. That old bit of a poem, "Isn't God upon the sea just the same as on the land?" has com- forted me hundreds of times.

So we are back to the two fliers' wives and an amusing in- cident that happened to Com- mander Byrd recently, when there a gathering of celebrated to honor Coste and Bel- Modest to the degree that I be passed without notice, assumingness placed him a- ward predicament. A dark blue suit started the grounds but was accosted by a guard who asked for identi- fication papers. The man was reaching in his pocket when a friend recognized him calling out, "How do you do, Admiral Byrd?" It is related that the guard coughed and Byrd passed him to join the group of notables on the White House lawn, an invited guest.

Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, who has delighted thousands for more than half a century, is not content merely to do the work of a day. She wishes to do for the future what few, if any, have done. Feeling that she has yet five good years in which to work hard, she seeks voices that give promise and says she hopes to see her pupils make names for themselves. Knowing the difficulties that beset a young singer, this grand woman wishes to make the talented ones path easier.

In outlining her course of training, Madame Schumann-Heink makes it sound so easy and natural that one possessed of no extraordinary talent might be fairly successful. She thinks a woman singer is better qualified to teach women and that men teachers should train their sex.

Having contributed to the men during the world war with her talent, she now feels the time has come when she must help the girls.

Beginners who have never had a lesson, as well as those who have enjoyed instruction, will be heard, but she specifies that candidates must have exceptional song possibilities and wish for a professional career. If a pupil is unusually gifted, the charge for lessons will be according to her means.

The limit in number is forty and the instruction will first be in groups. The auditions will begin at the National Broadcasting Company studios early in October with lessons commencing two weeks later. The great singer was interviewed at the Hotel Buckingham, New York City, and discussed her plans.

Strange Mystery Unfolded In Book Available In City

"Destruction—The Strange Case of A. D. Payne," giving the complete story of one of the world's strangest mysteries, and including all the writings of the wife-slayer and suicide is on sale in Memphis at Tarver's Pharmacy.

The new volume, which has been referred to as one of the most unusual documents of modern literature, contains the diary the attorney kept while held in jail on a charge of killing his wife with a dynamite blast, an "explanation" he left to his children, and a study in psychology in the form of an interview granted J. L. Dufflot, head of the sociology department at West Texas State Teachers' College, Canyon.

In addition to the unpublished material mentioned above, the book contains a complete story of the wife-slaying and suicide, illustrated with actual photographs.

The book was prepared by Harry Montgomery, crime reporter for

HOW OLD ARE YOU? Gloriously Alive At 45

My Friends: Correct Your Eating Faults and Lose Your Fat With Kruschen Salts

Yes, I'm forty-five today—built like a race horse, my friends say—and I know I feel 10 years younger than I did three months ago—and I'd hate to tell you how much fat I lost with Kruschen. I call Kruschen Salts the "Magic salts" because when I was fat and wretched, despondent and half sick all the time—it took only one bottle that I bought for 85 cents at Tarver Drug Co. to live me up—put ambition and energy into me—make me feel years younger and with the help of a change in diet show me how to lose the fat I was so ashamed of.

Cut out pastries and desserts—go easy on potatoes, cream, cheese, and butter—eat lean meat, chicken, fish, vegetables and fruits and never fail to take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

Every drug store worthy of the name in the World sells Kruschen Salts—an 85 cent bottle lasts 4 weeks—not much to pay for buoyant health.—Adv.

The News-Globe, Amarillo, who followed the case from the time of Mrs. Payne's death until the indictment for murder against Payne was dismissed after his dramatic suicide. The book has been copyrighted by S. J. Payne, administrator of the A. D. Payne estate, and proceeds from sale of the volume will go to the orphaned children.

The diary is believed to be the most unusual document of its kind ever written. It and Payne's other writings are filled with his strange philosophy of life and death. The final entry in his diary was made immediately before he crashed himself into eternity, and he writes down his last mental reactions.

No effort is made in the volume to vindicate the slayer, or to prove him insane. The reader is left to form his own opinion, after both sides of the case are presented.

But such questions as the following are answered: Did Payne love his wife? If so, why did he kill her? Why did he call himself the meanest man in the world? Was he sincere in his desire to plead guilty and pay with his life? Why did he not want to live and plead insanity? Why did he take his life just at a time when efforts were being made to find him insane? Why did he not take his life before being arrested, or before confession? What did he use to destroy himself, and where did he get it? These and a thousand others are answered.

One new mystery is created in Payne's diary. He gives reasons for killing his wife, and then says "There is one reason I will never tell."

The book is the product of Russell Stationery Company, Amarillo, and copies may be ordered by mail direct.

When the honoree arrived, Miss Margie Sigler rendered a beautiful musical number while Mrs. Hampton was escorted to a throne decorated with the bride's chosen colors, blue and white. Somebody Cares

by A. J. Dunlap

The old plow hit a snag one day,
And in an angry fit
Exclaimed, "Oh! What a lie I told!
It's time for me to quit.
They drag me through the stubble fields
Until I'm nearly dead,
And no one cares how hard I work,"
The old plow sadly said.

An autumn zephyr heard the plow
And cried, "Oh! What a pity
You cannot follow me about
Through countryside and city.
Why, everywhere, the children sing
About your patient toil,
And everybody prays you
And how you turn the soil."

The zephyr said, "I must be gone,
But I am sure somehow
The old world knows and cares a lot
About your work, Friend Plow."
The old plow heaved a happy sigh,
For plows are just like men—
They like to feel that someone cares
About them now and then.

Class of 1929 Extends Greetings To Newlyweds

To Mr. Lon Webster and Miss Lucy Hudgins, we, the Senior Class of '29 do wish them a long and happy married life. May their affections, one for the other, be always true to the principle of the high living of man and woman, as husband and wife. May each one step on every rung of the ladder of life, hand in hand, striving, pushing, pulling and endeavoring to do the right.

Lon, the High School clown, was, in our school career together, a real chap. He was in the midst of every noise, especially in History class. His delight was in frolic and good times. Still Lon was O. K. He had a heart of gold for his many friends, which were, and still are, many.

We sincerely hope that life holds for him many good things. He deserves them. He gave and he received but all those who knew him will gladly say that he gave more than he received. We will always remember his ready smile, his cheery step and his work with us.

Lon is indeed lucky in his choice of a mate. Lucy stood out in her school life. And boy, could she sing and was she a beauty? And how? Always willing to do her part and more if necessary. We can't blame Lon for falling for that smile. And she is as nice as the smile, which is saying plenty, too. And how.

Matrimony is a proposition of give and take. We feel confident they are prepared to meet the demands. Side by side on the journey of life. There will not be roses at every corner nor beds

Jo Ann Walter Arrives Early Sunday at Home of Grid Coach

If any one should happen to see Coach Nolan Walter going around this week with a wide grin on his face, it may be taken for granted that there is a reason. In fact, there is a seven and one-half pound reason, for shortly after one o'clock last Sunday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Walter were presented with a fine baby girl. Since Skinny cannot make a football player out of her, it stands to reason that she will excel as a basketball star in her own right.

Is Named Jo Ann

The young lady has been named Jo Ann and when the coach was asked for whom she was named, he said he didn't know, unless it (Continued on page 8)

Minister Returns Monday From Meet Of Presbyterians

Dr. J. Hardin Mallard returned to Memphis Monday night from Seymour, where he had been attending the meeting of the Texas Synod of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., as one of five delegates representing the Amarillo Presbytery. The meeting convened Thursday of last week and continued until nine o'clock Monday morning. Eleven Presbyteries were represented by 87 delegates. (Continued on page 8)

Turnip Greens Are Available To Feed All Needy Families

Turnip greens sufficient to feed all of Memphis and Hall County! That is what Rev. E. T. Miller says can be accomplished from the four and one-half acres planted in greens in the "Whaley and Ed Thompson additions to the city of Memphis. Rev. Miller conceived the idea that in order to feed a number of unfortunates who from time to time make calls on the United Charities that greens should be planted to help in a worthy undertaking. At small expense, the charity organization had the ground broken up and greens planted. Now, the minister states, it seems there are enough greens to feed everybody in Memphis and quite a number over the county.

PLASKA BOY IS FATALLY HURT LAST FRIDAY

Believe Hit And Run Driver Responsible For Youth's Death

Herbert Benton, 20 years of age, of Plaska, was fatally injured early last Friday morning about seven miles south of Memphis on Highway 5, when he was struck by what officers believe to have been a hit and run driver. He was brought to a local hospital, but died without regaining consciousness. Benton was found by the side of the highway at about six o'clock Friday morning. An ambulance was called and officers notified. J. Y. Snow, deputy constable, investigated the case and found nothing to indicate that the youth had been slugged or robbed, as none of his personal belongings had been taken from his pockets. Cotton Picker Is Shown In Action On McQueen Farm

A demonstration of the new Smith-Conrad combine cotton picker was held Thursday afternoon of last week on the W. B. McQueen farm, about three miles southeast of Memphis. A number of cotton farmers and gin men were present. John Bishop, local representative and C. R. Alexander, district representative, gave the demonstration and W. N. Smith and J. C. Conrad, inventors of the picker, were present from Fort Worth to see how their machine met with the approval of those present.

Strict Middling Bale

A bale of hand picked cotton was run through the machine and taken to the gin to show the improvement in this method of cotton picking over the hand method used. The bale was ginned Friday morning at the Farmers Union Gin and Mr. Bishop said it made a strict middling bale, whereas if it had not been run through the (Continued on page 8)

CYCLONE LOSES TO WELLINGTON SKYROCKETS LAST FRIDAY WHEN VISITORS GET BREAKS OF GAME

Heartbreaking Contest Is Lost By Score of 18 to 14; Locals Are Still In Running For District Honors.

One of those heartbreaking games of football in which the breaks all went the wrong way brought defeat to the black and gold grid warriors of Memphis High and enabled the fighting Skyrockets of Wellington to luck out on the heavy end of an 18 to 14 score at Owl Park Friday afternoon of last week, while 800 football enthusiasts looked on and gasped. In nearly every game of football, there is one player who stands out. It may not be that he is a star. The chances are he will be an obscure substitute. The game last Friday had its outstanding player—a man who fought terrifically, who was in on every play, fighting, slashing, plunging, breaking through the opposition time and time again. That player's name is James Hammond.

Courageous Fighting

What a captain James is making and what a football player he is! Despite the fact that he had to do the punting and several of his punts were blocked and notwithstanding the chances when his passes were smothered, James fought away, courageous and unrelenting, setting an example for his team-mates that will be an inspiration for them to get somewhere this season.

Breaks Against Memphis

Ezell Champion, whose trusty boot was needed badly on the field of battle, had to sit on the sidelines with a broken nose. If he had been in the game, what a different version might have been written of it. But the breaks demanded his absence from the lineup. Equally as hard to take on the part of the Cyclone and Cyclone fans was the way in which passes, Hammond to Jackson, were broken up. Time after time, (Continued on page 8)

Score Two Touchdowns

It took Memphis a long time to get going. The entire first quarter appeared to be one of those upsets that occur when least expected. It was in this period of play that Wellington scored two touchdowns. The Cyclone seemed a bit wobbly and unsure. The local boys came back, however, in the second quarter and neither team scored. When the battle clouds lifted between halves, Memphis went off the field with (Continued on page 8)

HIGH SCHOOL ORGANIZATIONS

(An Editorial)

The outstanding organizations in the high schools over the land today are the Hi-Y and Girl Reserve Clubs. The Hi-Y club is for the boys, and the Girl Reserve is for the girls. These clubs stand for the higher ideals of life and help to build a strong Christian character. They broaden and enrich the life of the individual and help the students to use Christian aims and ideals in pursuing their studies. They assist in developing leadership and co-operation among the students. These clubs help the students to become better acquainted in a social way. These are very worthy organizations and should not be omitted from our school life.

The girls have had their club, the Girl Reserve, organized for two or three weeks and have been doing their best to get the club functioning properly. Why is it that we, the boys, have failed to organize our club this year? Is it because we are waiting until the football season is over? If this is the reason, it is no reason at all. We should not have to wait upon sports for organizations of this kind. If we do, we shall be waiting all the year, for the basketball season will soon be here, and others will follow soon. The M Club, also a worthy organization for the boys who have received letters from Memphis High School, has not been organized. Last year these two clubs were well organized and functioning properly by this time. Have we lost the old spirit and enthusiasm for our clubs? Boys, let us not wait on anything, but organize our clubs before the year is gone!

High School Boys Start Basketball Practice Recently

Boys of the high school who are not playing football started basketball practice last week to receive credit in physical education. Some good material is already showing among the boys, who are working hard in order to have first chance at a position on the squad when basketball season opens.

Frank Jarvis, Weldon Dial and Barton Durrett will be new members on the squad this year. Each of them have had a year or more of work and are expected to make good material for the team.

Enlarged Pep Squad To Give Better Backing To Grid Team

The football team is now getting the backing from the high school that it deserves. This comes as a result of a drive for a large pep squad. The drive started last week before the Wellington game, and many students responded. For several weeks, the girl's pep squad had been meeting after school to practice on their yells, but this squad was too small, and a drive for new members was started.

Talk on Loyalty

The drive started last Thursday morning when H. A. Jackson called a special chapel meeting for this purpose. He gave a talk on loyalty, in which he insisted that every student should take part in some school activity, if not in the game itself, at least on the sideline. Miss Margaret Bell and Miss Volva Mae Sharbutt, pep squad sponsors, made short talks at the meeting. Miss Bell stated that all students in the pep squad who were loyal throughout the season would receive a small letter "M".

Four Cheer Leaders

Following this program, a pep rally was called for Thursday night at the Legion hall. This rally completed the drive when more

Junior Study Hall Has Been Made Into A Gymnasium

The Junior study hall has been made into a gymnasium for girls for physical education work. The seats and desks were removed from the hall last week, and the hall was converted into an ideal gym, according to Miss Volva Mae Sharbutt and Miss Nola Sherman, directors of physical education, and real work will now be started in earnest.

The windows of the study hall have been painted blue, as have the doors leading into the hall and "Sandstorm" office. This was done to prevent other students from interfering with the gym work.

Class Pins For Juniors Are To Be Ordered Soon

The Junior class held its second meeting of the year Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock to decide upon the type or pin the class would get this year. It was decided that they would have the same design as those purchased by the Junior class last year. Two kinds of pins were chosen, sterling silver and gold, and each kind was ordered by members of the class. These pins are being ordered from the Star and Southwestern Engraving Company of Fort Worth.

Every member of the class was urged to get a pin, and all were asked to place a one dollar deposit with their order as soon as possible so that the order might be sent off in the next few days. The pins will be here only a few days after the order is sent to the engravers. B. F. Shepherd, president of the class, asked that all instructions be followed closely in order to prevent delay in receiving the pins.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS SEE AMARILLO-PAMPA GAME

Several high school boys, most of them members of the Cyclone squad, attended the Amarillo-Pampa football game at Amarillo last Saturday. The game was one of the best ever played in the Panhandle and offered the boys some good instructions about the game.

The boys who attended the game were James Hammond, J. D. Jackson, J. W. West, Albert Pearson, Tug Sanders, Weldon Dial, Weldon Massey, Frank Jarvis, Regnal Greenhaw, Carl Melear, Barton Durrett, Bennie Parker and Bill Parker.

SPECIAL SERMON IS GIVEN FOR STUDENTS

Football Players and Pep Squad Attend Church In Group

A large number of students from the high school attended revival services at the First Baptist church last Friday night after the Wellington football game in response to an invitation extended to the football team and pep squad by Dr. B. F. Jackson and Rev. E. T. Miller. These students assembled on the corner of Eighth and Main streets, and at 7:30 they marched to the church and sat together in a section that was reserved for them.

Several yells were given before the services, and the high school song was sung. These were led by Betty Dale West and V. L. McGlocklin. Dr. Jackson's sermon was directed to the students. After the services, two of the students joined the church.

20 Girls Are Out This Year To Make Basketball Squad

The Memphis Cyclonettes began basketball practice last week under the coaching of Ruth Pendergrass, a former member of the squad. Twenty girls reported for practice at the first call, and others are expected to report for training later in the season.

Miss Pendergrass reports that the girls are entering into the work wholeheartedly, each striving for a position on the team. She has some good material to select from, she said, and the task of placing the girls will be a very difficult one. Wilma Gilreath is captain of the team and is expected to pilot the girls through a successful season.

Varied Chapel Programs Hold Interest Of High School Students

Chapel programs throughout the week have held the interest of the students in that they have been the most interesting and diversified programs of the year. They ranged from interesting talks and popular songs to pep rallies and "war dances" given by the students and faculty. Although some time was given to serious thoughts, most of the periods were taken up with fun.

On Wednesday morning of last week, the entertainment was furnished by Johnnie Cohen, who found a hearty response to his offering of popular songs. He sang several of the latest "hits," and showed much interest in the Wellington football game.

The chapel period was turned into a pep rally Friday morning. Several business men were present to assist in the program, and the faculty did its part. The entire student body joined in the yells that were given and in singing the school song. Mrs. Elmer S. Shelley had charge of this program. Talks were made by business men present. They were R. D. Stuart, Lyman Robbins, F. V. Clark, W. R. Cabaness, Adrian Odom, L. M. Hicks and Russell Clark.

On Monday morning, Mrs. Elmer S. Shelley dedicated the program to Coach Nolan Walter on the arrival of his little baby girl Sunday morning. Several yells were given for the football boys and little Jo Ann Walter. Guthrie Bennett sang, "Highway to District," and Royce Brooks offered

Orchestra Will Appear In First Program Monday

The high school orchestra held their second meeting last Friday night at the home of Miss Pauline Ross, director of the orchestra. The organization has arranged to make their initial appearance in chapel Monday morning and are working hard on several selections to play on this occasion. They are also arranging to play for plays and entertainments to be given at the high school. Other meetings were held on Tuesday and Thursday to practice on some popular numbers. On Sunday afternoon, the orchestra will complete the program that it will give Monday.

This organization will be one of the best high school organizations in the Panhandle as soon as they have had more practice and are better organized. Almost every member of the orchestra was in the high school band last year and some of them have been in it for several years.

as a solo, Rudy Wiedocft's "Valse Eireka" and "Lady Jazz." Mrs. Shelley sang "Little Boy Blue," "Little Bo Peep," "Baa Baa Black Sheep" and "Hey Diddle Diddle," and dedicated them to Jo Ann Walter.

CONTEST SLATED TO BE HARDEST OF SEASON

Loser of Game Is Out Of Race To Capture District Honors

When the curtain rises on Friday's grid contest, the Memphis Cyclone will go up against Turkey in one of the stiffest contests of the season. The game will be played at Turkey for the locals first conference game on a foreign field.

The Turks are doped to win this contest in that they defeated Wellington two weeks ago to take a nine point lead over the Cyclone, and as the game will be played on their home field, they have a distinct advantage. The Twisters will offer the hardest fight they have ever shown, however, to revenge their defeat at the hands of the Rockets. With the fight that the locals will give in this contest, dope will count little, and the Cyclone will be hard to stop on its march down the field.

Loser Will Be Out of Race Friday's contest will be one of the most important games of the season for both teams. Each has lost one game; therefore the loser of this game will be practically out of the running for district honors. With both teams having such a prize at stake, the game

Champion May be in Game
Ezell Champion, who has been of the line-up because of a broken nose, may be able to return to the game, Friday. This may be done with the assistance of a special made head gear that protects the nose. If he returns to the game, the Cyclone will be assured of a punting combination that will be hard to beat.

Colvin is Turkey's Threat
Colvin, Turk fullback, around whom the team is built, is reported to be in excellent condition for the game, despite the fact that he was said to have sustained a broken arm in last Friday's affair. He is Turkey's one threat and is a player that the Cyclone will have to keep covered throughout the entire game.

students reported than have been at a meeting of this kind in several years. This large pep squad plans to function under the leadership of Iris Hollis, Betty Dale West, V. L. McGlocklin and Darrell Grundy as leaders, throughout the entire year.

GYM SUITS ARE TO BE ORDERED FOR CLASSES

According to Miss Volva Mae Sharbutt, instructor in Physical Education, some samples for gymnasium suits were received the earlier part of last week. As it is required that the school adopt a regulation suit, a selection will be made and they will be ordered this week.

The classes of Physical Education are showing improvement every week, and when the suits arrive, they will be able to do more work in the gym, and are expected to show much improvement during the coming weeks.

Cyclone Loses

At a lone tally, while Wellington had garnered 12 points, Memphis showed a vast improvement in the third quarter, but allowed the Skyrockets another touchdown. Memphis achieved their first score in this quarter when a pass, Hammond to Pearson, was taken down the field by Albert for 50 yards and the counter. Cyclone penalties in this quarter made possible the third and last tally for the visitors.

Game Sewed Up

Memphis scored again in the fourth quarter, but the game was practically sewed up and while James Hammond led his men through one of the most glorious victories any Cyclone team has known through it, it was no small feat. The Skyrockets had singled Hammond out early in the conflict and by the time the game reached its final stages, they pounded him unmercifully. When he would be tackled, the Wellington boys seemed to take delight in piling on top of him, but Jimmie would get up, shake his head a time or two, and get back in there, giving everything he had in him and then some. It might be stated here that during the latter part of the fourth quarter, Hammond was in a daze, and it is remarkable that he played as he did when he was not at himself.

Head-up Football

Jarvis was given the opportunity to carry the ball in the third and fourth quarters and, as usual, he played a head-up brand of football, making gain after gain. In fact, it was Jarvis who carried the ball in striking distance allowing Hammond to go over for the second touchdown, for the Cyclone. Some question seems to have arisen as to why the quarterback did not give the ball to Jarvis much in the first half. A number of reasons could be assigned, but certain rumors that are going the rounds that the captain and quarter did not want to use Jarvis are entirely without foundation. Jarvis is recognized as one of the mainstays of the team and there is absolutely and positively no jealousy in Cyclone ranks. That is definite and final.

Visitors Had Good Team

After everything is considered, Wellington had a mighty neat grid squad. The boys were on their toes for this game. They were out to win and played far above their usual game. But their usual game is good, of itself, and when they outdo themselves, as was the case Friday of last week, when practically every break went in their favor, victory is almost certain to follow. They beat Memphis on points, but the spirit of the Cyclone is just as high today as ever. The boys realize they are still in the running for the district championship, and from here on out, fans may expect a real battle.

More spirit, more pep, more enthusiasm, more people, more money, more of everything was realized in the game last week than at any time during the current season. The only needed thing to make the afternoon complete would have been a Cyclone victory. But since such was denied, the team, as a whole, is forgetting the past and anticipating the future.

As long shadows of a waning day fell athwart the field, with the roar of Skyrocket yells ringing in their ears, the black and gold warriors left the field, tears streaming down their faces, defeated but unconquered, more glorious in defeat than in victory, and ready to do and dare again for their school, their coach and each other.

The Lure of the Younger Woman

Ten years Eleanor and her husband, Albert, had lived happily. Even now, at middle age, still sweethearts. Then into came Erva, a pretty orphan girl Gypsy, half English. They loved her, loved her like a daughter.

gradually, as Erva blossomed into beautiful woman, Eleanor sensed a subtle change in her husband's regard for the girl. With aching heart she realized that Albert and Erva were falling in love with each other. Yet neither realized the misery and unhappiness that would result.
What could Eleanor do? What would you do in her place? What could any woman do?
What actually did happen makes one of the most engrossing stories that was ever lived. It is published complete in the November issue of True Story, now on the newsstands. Entitled "The Girl We Took In," it is told by Eleanor, the woman who had to sit by while the lure of a younger woman stole into her husband's heart. A living tale of human emotions that will hold you enthralled. Don't miss it!

THE DEMOCRAT'S PROGRAM FOR 1930

- (Check Mark Indicates Project Has Been Realized)
1. Less selfishness and more selflessness in the business, professional and social life of Memphis and Hall County.
 2. The placing of agriculture on a higher plane, with emphasis being put on diversification, live at home movement, and the cow, sow and hen route to contentment and general well being.
 3. A better understanding between Memphis and the towns and communities in Hall County.
 4. More respect for city ordinances in connection with parking of cars in the downtown district, observance of fire rules and regulations, and keeping the streets of the city in a clean condition.
 5. More general cooperation in all movements seeking the betterment of Memphis and Hall County.
 6. A municipal auditorium.
 7. More paved streets.

THE RED CROSS ROLL CALL

THIS week, the people of Memphis and Hall County will be put to a test and a severe one it will be. It will be reasoned by some that at all times in the world to start a drive for funds, the present is inopportune. That may well be and at the same time, exigencies of the moment demand that action be taken. That is really the situation. The drive for Red Cross funds has a two-fold purpose: to obtain memberships in the organization that does more constructive good than any other in the world, and to pay back the sum of $1,000 advanced by the Red Cross for seed wheat relief in Hall County.

In other words, it will be necessary for those who are in the habit of paying a membership fee of one dollar in the annual roll call drive to contribute an additional amount in order to adequately care for the situation. Those who are in a position to do so should contribute much more than one dollar. All the money goes for relief work and a considerable portion of the $500 asked as membership fees will be kept in the county to prosecute the work of relief here as it may arise.

Many of us will have to make sacrifices in order to give of our means to the cause. That kind of giving is the best kind after all, for, as the poet said, "the gift without the giver is bare." When we actually deny ourselves some pleasure or luxury, we are showing that we appreciate the work in which the Red Cross is engaged, not only in our county, but everywhere. When a solicitor comes our way, suppose, for once, that we come across and hand over our membership fee and a little extra to carry out the invaluable work which is being undertaken.

A GAME HARD TO LOSE

THE football game between Memphis and Wellington last Friday afternoon was a hard battle to lose. It was such a game that is not frequently seen here. More genuine enthusiasm, more spirit, more pep was brought out in connection with this contest than at any other school event we have witnessed during the past three years. Memphis people, almost as a unit, wanted to see the Cyclone "come through." That they did not do so should not be held against them. They did their best, but the best happened not to be good enough.

Instead of finding fault with the team, the coach, the players and the school, we should be in there backing our home boys just so long as there is a game to be played. If they ever need encouragement, it is after having lost a closely contested game. A word of cheer, a hearty handshake, a pat on the back makes a fellow feel mighty good when he is down and out. But Memphis is far from being in that condition. The boys are ready to meet Turkey Friday afternoon, and in face of whatever competition the Turks have to offer, the chances are that they will taste disaster and that Memphis will emerge from the battle still in the running for the district championship.

CONGRESSMAN MARVIN JONES

ALTHOUGH we knew that Congressman Marvin Jones was well liked over his district, we did not know until last week much about the man except insofar as his public career would admit. We had a long chat with him and we found him to be an astute observer, a politician of splendid ability, a conversationalist of rare charm, and withal, a very cordial and likable man with an extraordinarily good personality. His personal charm and magnetism have probably gotten him as many votes as any other one thing.

And believe it or not, Congressman Jones is interested in Memphis. He seems to be just about as anxious as we are to obtain a federal building for this city and is working indefatigably towards that end. He has ably represented his district in congress for a number of years and the creditable showing he has made in Washington has been a boon to West Texas in general and the Panhandle in particular.

Early last year, we announced in these columns that should Senator Clint Small make the race for Congress, he would have our unqualified support and such would have certainly been the case. However, it seems that each year Mr. Jones becomes more firmly entrenched in the affections of his constituency and we believe he will be a hard man to beat for the office of Congressman. We are hereby giving advance notice that should he want to return to Congress at the expiration of his next term and we are in a position to do him some good, however little it may be, we will come through with the best support we are able to muster.

A LARGE INCREASE IN FARMS

A STORY was published in last week's issue of The Democrat in which attention was called to the fact that over a period of ten years, farms in Hall County increased 74.6 percent or nearly 800 farms over the census figures for 1920. That is a healthy indication, it seems to us, that people are being attracted to this section of the state. No matter how difficult times may become, this country is noted for its quick recovery.

The present period of business inflation is a natural trend. We have been enjoying a bounty that is not due to last forever. There must be some let-up sooner or later in business and the slump came at a rather inauspicious time, but at that we will weather the storm and come through bearing few marks of the current disaster, for such it has been construed.

We firmly believe that the census reports for 1940 in regard to the farm population will be even more interesting than those reaching us this year. We are adapted to growth and expansion. The very nature of the country gives us an outlet. We live in a big place, rich, as yet, in untried possibilities. There is always room for the right kind of people in Hall County, and more especially, the right kind of farmers.

Here and There

IN SPORTS

BY ADRIAN ODOM

The Cyclone went down last Friday in a defeat that leaves only slight hope for them to go into district finals this season. This week-end they must defeat Turkey and on Friday of next week, they must defeat Clarendon in order to stay in the race. Clarendon now leads this section with no defeats, but still must win over Memphis and Wellington to remain on top.

The defeat suffered by the locals here last Friday was the result of Champion being out of the line-up. The Rockets scored two touchdowns at the very start of the game without making a first down. This was the result of obtaining the ball deep in Cyclone territory on bad punts. Hammond does not receive the blame for these punts; the Cyclone line was weak and the punter was rushed on almost every kick.

The Twisters showed that never say die spirit in the last half of the game. They came from the bottom and started a fight that almost proved fatal to the visitors. After completing a 30 yard pass and 50 yard run for their first touchdown, they came back to start a line drive for another counter and were going for another one when the end of the game stopped them in defeat.

In this section, McLean upset a well filled dope bucket last Friday by taking a hard fought contest from Turkey. This defeat placed the Turks in second place to be tied with Wellington and Memphis and for only a fighting chance to remain in the district race. Clarendon downed Shamrock to take the lead in the section. In class "A" contests, Amarillo was the underdog in the fight but winner of the game with Pampa. This victory places Amarillo at the top of the district. Lubbock trounced Childress, and now they must defeat Amarillo to put Amarillo, Pampa and themselves on an even basis.

T. C. U. has again set the pace in Southwestern football by trouncing Arkansas. The Rice Owls are still holding strong, but have not played any games that might give their standing with T. C. U. For this reason, the real power of the Owls is not known, and all sports writers in the state are wondering about them. The Owls are known to have a stronger line than that of the Frogs, but their backfield is still unknown. S. M. U. is still holding a high place as a possible winner of the conference honors.

In the five games played, the Cyclone has gained 1,779 yards to its opponents' 1,684. Hammond has gained through the line 59 times, averaging 3.8 yards, has lost 52 yards on 8 plays and has been stopped 6 times for no gain. Flanery has gained 8 times, averaging 3.8 yards, has lost two yards on as many plays and has been stopped twice for no gain. Pearson has gone through the line 17 times, averaging 6 yards, losing 9 yards in three attempts.

Jarvis has led the backfield with gains. He has carried the ball through the line 49 times and has averaged 8.3 yards each time. He has been thrown for 20 yards in losses on six attempts. Stargel has carried the ball 23 times for an average of 2.2 yards, gaining 14 times and losing three times for nine yards. He was stopped 5 times for no gain. Greenhaw has carried the ball 26 times for an average of 2.7 yards and has been stopped three times for no gain. McLearn has carried the ball 18 times for an average of 3.7 yards.

Max Nail and Elmo Powell were visitors in Lubbock from Friday until Monday.

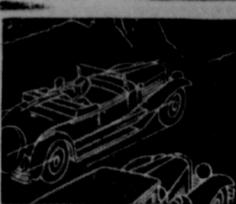

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Thompson and grandson, Joe Peddie, spent Saturday and Sunday in Childress visiting their daughter, Mrs. Frank Houston.

Mrs. J. D. Shankle left Thursday night for a visit with her son, C. E. (Fritz) Shankle, at Lawton, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Ben Kimbrough and Miss Lena McLearn went to Altus, Oklahoma, Sunday. Miss McLearn returned Monday and Mrs. Kimbrough remained for an indefinite stay.

Mrs. B. M. Roberts of Amarillo visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hattenbach Thursday of last week. She was accompanied by Mrs. James Roberts, also of Amarillo.

Miss Hazel Delaney has accepted a position with the Northern Texas Utilities Company.

The Electric Man Presents His Low-Cost Burglary Insurance

"Police records show that sufficiently lighted houses rarely suffer depredations from prowlers or thieves. For this reason, many people make it a practice to leave lights burning when they spend a part of the evening away from home. On their return, they feel secure in the knowledge that their possessions have been safe in the keeping of protective lighting.

"Normal household necessities utilize the first two steps, so with the new Home Comfort rate, this burglary insurance is even more economical, for it is billed on the low rate of 4c per kilowatt-hour—3c where service is also used for heating or cooking.

"The next time you spend an evening out—leave lights burning in one or two of your rooms. Notice the sense of security with which you enter your home—then check your light bill. You will be surprised at the extreme economy of this efficient Burglary Insurance. Watch for me next week, I'll have some more ideas for you."

Dear Mr. Robbins:

We want to express to you our sincere thanks for the thoroughly gratifying results obtained through the advertising columns of your newspaper. In your issue of October 3 we used a half-page advertisement to announce a special event at our store for Saturday, October 4. No other medium was used and no circulars were distributed. Minister Returns—

Poe Elected Moderator
Dr. Mallard stated that Dr. Floyd Poe was elected Moderator of the Synod and that quite a number of visitors from other Synods were present and seated as corresponding members of the body. The Presbyterians went on record for the retention and enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and the ministers were admonished to exercise diligence in the defense of the amendment and to assist in every way possible in the enforcement of all the laws of the land.

Missionaries Speak

A report submitted showed that Trinity University, Waxahachie, Texas, was in splendid condition and that general conditions in the church were good considering the depression period. The Synod was addressed by returned missionaries from China and other foreign fields.

The next meeting of the Synod will be held at the Taylor Street Federated Presbyterian church at Fort Worth next October, and at this time, the Synods of both the American and Southern Presbyterian churches will be held at the same time in the same church building.

Plans Evolved—

discussion followed as to conditions as they exist in this particular section of the Panhandle.

Optimistic Views

According to W. C. Dickey, president of the Hall County National Bank, the bankers made definite plans for the solution of financial problems in the four counties, but Dr. Dickey declined to make any definite statement at this time as to what these plans are. He said, however, that throughout the meeting, every banker present expressed optimistic views as to the outcome of the present period of depression. Plans of the association will be revealed at the proper time.

Officers Are Elected

W. W. Taylor, of the First National Bank of Clarendon, was elected president of the association for the ensuing year and J. D. Swift of the Farmers' State Bank of Clarendon was elected secretary. The association meets three times during the year and the next meeting will be held in Memphis on the second Thursday in February.

Benton sustained a broken jaw, bruised shoulder and his breast was caved in, which caused officers to think he had been hit by an automobile. He died at 3:15 o'clock last Friday afternoon. Herbert was the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Benton who reside about two miles northeast of Plaska. He is survived by his father and mother, one brother, Willie and two sisters, Ruby and Ola Fay. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Plaska Baptist church with interment taking place in the Plaska cemetery.

machine, it would have made a strict low or possibly a low middling bale. He also stated that machine picked cotton is worth from ten to twelve dollars more than the hand picked bale.

One of the interesting facts about the combine cotton picker is that it leaves the burrs and stems on the field. This is worth about $10 per ton as fertilizer, it has been estimated.

The machine used in the demonstration here was a two row picker and is said to cover about 15 acres per day, regardless of the amount of cotton in the field. Another demonstration is planned near Memphis in about two weeks.

Jo Ann Walter—

was for Joan Arc. Not knowing the person to whom he made reference the matter was not pushed. Anyway, the young lady is creating considerable attention and notice. The chapel program at the senior high school was dedicated to her last Monday morning. Sunday night, members of the Cyclone football team called on Coach Walter and presented him with a large bouquet of chrysanthemums for Mrs. Walter, Jo Ann and himself. Captain James Hammond made the presentation on behalf of the team.

Both Mrs. Walter and Jo Ann are getting along nicely and while Skinny is still a little nervous, it is believed he will recover.
