MAINTENANCE PROGRAM FOR STATE SOIL CONSERVATION IS ANNOUNCED

As farmers gradually assume responsibility for controlling wind and water erosion and for conserving moisture on their land in areas where demonstrations on private lands are being conducted by the Soil Conservation Service in Region Six, these projects will be continued on a "maintenance" basis for approximately five years, according to H. H. Fennell, Regional Conservator.

Active field operation in the entire United States were concluded in 10 areas during the past year, and will be concluded in approximately 75 more areas by July 1, 1937. H. H. Fennell, Chief of the Service in Washington, has announced.

Under the maintenance program, a staff will be retained to complete minor details of work unfinished because of seasonal or other causes. The staff also will assist in making revisions and adjustments in the original cropping and land use plans when necessary, and study the effectiveness of methods being utilized.

More than 550 soil erosion control projects, including ECW project areas, now are being carried forward by the Soil Conservation Service in 43 states, including the ECW camp in Memphis.

In many cases, actual work operations on the land can be practically completed within two years. Where this is true, the area is placed on a maintenance basis, and, although responsibilities of the Government do not cease, the work shifts from introduction and application of practices to maintenance.

Farmers cooperating with the Soil Conservation Service in the area are expected to assume responsibility for continuing the practices outlined in their cooperative agreements. In carrying on their conservation work they will have, in addition to the assistance of the Soil Conservation Service staff, the aid of the various agricultural agencies cooperating in the program.

In areas where the farmers have voluntarily organized themselves into local soil conservation associations to continue conservation programs, there is assurance that local organizations will assume primary responsibilities for the program and maintain the practices originally outlined. Government activity in these areas will be limited to technical advice and assistance.

In carrying forward its erosion control program on private land, the Soil Conservation Service has entered into cooperative agreements on 1,265 farms of 768,838 acres in Region Six, under which the Service has agreed to furnish farm erosion surveys, technical advice, cropping plans and a limited supply of materials and labor for constructing mechanical devices where necessary, according to Fennell. In turn, the cooperating farmers have agreed to follow the cropping and land use plans over a period of five years and to keep all structures in repair during that period.

Favors Extending Low Interest For Loans To Farmers

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Senator Tom Connally declared early this week that he will actively urge the extension of the 3-1-2 per cent interest rate on certain federal land bank farm loans.

House Bill Number 6763, which would extend the 3-1-2 per cent interest rate, has been favorably reported to the House of Representatives. Unless this or some similar bill is passed before July 1, the interest rate on such loans will automatically revert to the original higher rate of 4-1-2 to 5 per cent.

Senator Connally's views on the matter are set forth in the following statement:

"I strongly favor and shall insist upon the passage of a bill to continue and extend the 3-1-2 per cent interest rate on federal land bank farm loans. It would be utterly unwise to increase the interest rate on loans to the Federal Land Banks at this time. One of the greatest services which the government can render is to make it easy for farmers to become the owners of the land which they till. The establishment of farm homes ought to be one of the cardinal policies of the federal government. Those farmers who have purchased homes and have loans on them in the federal land banks are making earnest efforts to complete their payments and become the absolute owners of the land upon which they live.

"The government can afford to continue the 3-1-2 per cent interest rates on such loans. By doing so it may enable farmers to meet interest payments and to also pay a portion of the principal indebtedness. To increase the interest rate at this time would have the opposite effect.

"In the Senate I shall advocate strongly the enactment of the bill providing for the extension of the 3-1-2 per cent rate."

Recruited by Entertainment Director George P. Marshall from the stage, radio and movie worlds, this glittering array of talent will satisfy the particular tastes of all visitors. Flo-Rito and his rhythms and dances themselves admit that "I strongly favor and shall insist upon the passage of a bill to continue and extend the 3-1-2 per cent interest rate on federal land bank farm loans. It would be utterly unwise to increase the interest rate on loans to the Federal Land Banks at this time. One of the greatest services which the government can render is to make it easy for farmers to become the owners of the land which they till. Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta Grounds Present Busy Scenes

day." It's Billy Rose, Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta chief, answering his umpteenth 'phone call of the day. Great Casa Manana scenes from drawing boards grow! Here is Albert Johnson, famed scenic designer, at work on one of four massive sets to go into the Casa Manana Revue of 1937. It'll be carpenters' turn next. Then painters. On June 26, a cast of hundreds will be in the wings, ready to dance into a scene of glamor. Familiar looking, eh? Texas saw a great show on that giant revolving stage last summer. Here you see workers laying new footlights for a greater Casa Manana show promised for June. Lagoon, in the foreground, will glow for the first time with underwater lights of many hues. A rainbow water curtain will spurt into the air. Busiest man on the show-grounds just now is genial James F. Follock, Frontier Fiesta business manager. He's saying "no" to a man who sells hail-and-snow insurance.

noted doctors will lecture on maternal and child life at a public meeting of the citizenship. There is certainly no greater movement than that for protection and preservation of life, and for that reason the high school auditorium should be crowded to standing room next Thursday night.

Under the caption "New Opportunity for Neighborly Co-operation" the following editorial appeared in the Clarendon News May 14:

Memphis leaders want an East-West highway—a scenic route up through Palo Duro Canyon.

Clarendon leaders want an extension of Highway 88, South to Turkey—a North-South Highway international in its concept and needed from the Panhandle to the Rio Grande.

It just so happens that each of these proposed routes has as a major obstacle, an expensive bridge crossing Red River in the Brice country. This is one of the strong reasons why the Highway Department hesitates to consider the immediate needs for the two routes. Aside from the costly bridge both projects might be much further up the ladder of probability.

On the other hand it just so happens—a rare circumstance—that ONE bridge can easily traffic for both routes—North-South and East-West highways can both get over Red River on the SAME bridge.

Obviously this means that with the prorate cost divided between TWO highways, the expensive bridge becomes just half as much an obstacle as it is considered in the light of only ONE highway.

This brings the logical mind to the conclusion that the interests of North-South and East-West proponents can be best served by a co-operative effort, hinging their arguments on the dual facilities of the Red River bridge. In other words, Memphis and Clarendon have a new opportunity to prove the value of co-operation—neighborly co-operation—by working side by side on their projects and the ONE indispensable bridge.

The News believes that Memphis is going to get her East-West route—her scenic road through the Palo Duro Canyon. It believes that Clarendon is going to get her North-South outlet to Turkey and Del Rio.

But both Memphis and Clarendon will get their pet projects at a much earlier date, if they will join forces and work jointly and happily toward that end. The News is in position to know that Clarendon highway workers are ready and anxious for just that sort of neighborly co-operation—and early victory!

Memphis! Clarendon! Let's go—and go together!

Sam Braswell, editor of The News, has given the matter of highways much thought, and his suggestions of co-operation are timely. The Panhandle section of Texas is way behind other parts of Texas in highway building, and citizens of the Panhandle should work shoulder to shoulder in attempting to secure any highway, no matter if it is to be located in another county or still farther away.

At the present time it seems that the Texas Highway Commission will not consider any road except the extension of the Hollis road from High 4 in Childress County west to Memphis. Later, they will likely want to extend the highway west through the Palo Duro Canyon. Memphis and Clarendon should keep in touch and at the proper time use every possible influence in getting the North-South and the East-West roads designated by the Commission.

Memphis and Clarendon have always been friendly and neighborly, and with roads to be built in the future that will vitally affect all, this neighborly feeling should be fostered and kept alive.

extra work instead of waiting until next summer, Mr. Cowan pointed out. The summer session will last six weeks. Classes will be held in the mornings six days a week, and the time devoted to each subject will be the same as during the regular school term. All who are interested in attending the summer school should contact Mr. Cowan before the last of the month.

Mrs. D. A. Grundy and son Robert returned Sunday night from New Orleans where they attended the Southern Baptist Convention. They also visited in Dallas.

the class are canning vegetables and fruits and meats, sewing, quilting, cutting out patterns, working over old furniture, caring for children, and the study of first aid.

Full Time Job

So interested in her class is Mrs. Bowerman that she devotes all of her time to it, notwithstanding the fact that she gets paid for only 18 days a month. And, too, she only has to have a mere eight members in attendance to draw her pay. But she has never had less than 14, and her average daily attendance is around 35.

The class is a community affair and a part of the regular community life. Mrs. Bowerman has lived in the Lakeview vicinity for over a quarter century and is well known and well liked by everyone.

T. P. Huggins, Hall County emergency adult education supervisor, stated that Mrs. Bowerman's class is one of the most successful in this entire section and that it is pointed out as an example to other adult teachers.

Place for Children

Women of the Lakeview community visit the class every day, taking their children with them. Supervised games are conducted for the children, and a screened-in porch forms a good setting for the games. The children romp and play while their elders work and discuss the news of the neighborhood.

Mrs. Bowerman is proud of the fact that she attended college at Lubbock in preparing herself for her teaching duties. She began teaching in July, 1935. Her husband, R. A. Bowerman, had died in November, 1933. She lives alone in the large frame house at Lakeview where she conducts her class for adults. She has one son, who lives in Pampa.

Ages Are Varied

The ages of the members of the adult group are as varied as are the activities. The ages range from 17, that of Miss Fay Ward, to 73, that of Mrs. W. C. Wyatt.

"Whenever you are in Lakeview, come and visit our class," invites Mrs. Bowerman. "And if you don't know where it is, ask anyone; he'll know."

With a Simple Makeup Formula by Eve Hogarth has made good! Maybe she's private head of the firm. Maybe she married block. Maybe she is starring in the movies. and more American women are learning their appearance and personality in a way from glamorous over-seas beauties.

gan, a newcomer to the movies from radio, put almost the same idea in different words. "I look best in warm, orangish shades," she said emphatically, "So I carry that color scheme through my whole wardrobe."

"It's stupid to think you can only wear one color, however. With the right makeup you can wear certain shades of every color. I match my makeup to my eyes, since I think of them as my personality color. Then, even if I try my luck against blondes and wear blue, I make sure that some where about the throat of my dress there's a bit of rust or gold, something to bring my frock into focus with my personality color."

Every woman knows that certain shades are much more becoming than others. Not just certain colors, but particular shades of those colors. If she analyzes this she will find that these are the shades which reflect the color of her eyes.

If this is true in the case of clothes, how much truer it is in the case of makeup. The hazel-eyed girl like Doris Nolan should look for sunny, rusty reds for her nose and lipstick, subtle bluish greens if eye-shadow and mascara are to help her to achieve scientifically sure beauty and not just guesswork good looks.

The blue-eyed woman will find her best makeup bet in dresden-like shades that are keyed to the blue of her eyes. Blue-eyed Gertrude Niesen, gray-eyed Jantice Jarratt both solve the problem of off-stage makeup in this same simple way. And certainly it seems an easy, effective guide to good looks that is more than worth the trouble of a little experiment on the part of any woman.

ARE MEMPHIANS HARD TO KNOW?

IT CAME to our attention the other day that Memphis is a hard town in which to get acquainted. We had heard this before but had never given it much thought. We have lived here for, lo, these many years, and know almost everybody here and expect everyone to know everyone else.

A young couple moved to Memphis a short time ago from a town not too far distant. This couple had been popular in the younger set of their home town, and when they were met with indifference here, they were at a loss to explain it. They came to despise the town and wished to move. The young man's job, however, kept them here; and after a few months they became acquainted, and acquired a liking for Memphis.

The citizens of Memphis and Hall County seem to us to be very hospitable. But we may seem unsocial to others. With a view towards improving and enlarging our town and our lists of friends we should meet all newcomers with a welcoming hand, and invite them into our homes and into our community life.

KEEP THE ECW CAMP IN MEMPHIS

THE FISCAL YEAR of the Memphis Emergency Conservation Work camp closes on June 30th. As yet no information has been received from the federal government as to whether or not the camp will be kept in Memphis for another six months or a year. We sincerely hope that the camp will be kept in Memphis for many months—years—to come.

Perhaps it might not be a bad idea if a few of us dropped a card to our United States congressmen urging them to help retain the camp here. The SCS and the CCC camp is doing a worthy work, and, too, we are not overlooking the money that the organization draws into Memphis.

MEMPHIS-PALO DURO HIGHWAY

HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER Harry Hines calls special attention to his plan to build a highway down the Palo Duro Canyon from Canyon to Memphis. This is a big undertaking. It cannot be accomplished in one year, or even two years. But it is an undertaking that will be approved by all citizens of West Texas.

No greater scenic highway can be conceived for Texans than this proposed route. The venture is entirely feasible. Perhaps it cannot be undertaken until the gaps in existing highways are completed. Nevertheless, it is an undertaking worthy of consideration.

All counties through which the proposed highway passes have heartily approved the undertaking, and will give full 100 per cent aid and assistance.—Canyon News.

IT'S TIME TO HOLLER

CONGRESS seems to be up to its old tricks again. About the time when it seemed the American farmer was going to get a fair break, the Senate starts cutting expenditures for soil conservation.

A bill authorizing the start of work on a $112,000,000 TVA dam at Gilbertsville, Ky., was passed by the Senate Wednesday after a heated debate in which admonition to economize was shouted to the house-tops. But while the Senate was wrangling over the TVA project, its appropriations committee voted to slash $60,000,000 from the proposed $500,000,000 soil conservation fund.

Now, since the boys in Washington are talking economy, the News wants to say that to build a $112,000,000 power-generating dam on the Tennessee River and to cut more than half as much from the soil conservation fund is mighty poor economy.

Here in Texas we have had some unpleasant experiences with big dams. Several of them have been built downstate and the engineers dreamed of great bodies of water impounded to generate electricity, or furnish water for irrigation. But what happened? They filled up with silt.

Big dams may check the flow of a lot of water which might flood down-the-river territories, and while they are doubtlessly very worthwhile, the News firmly believes that the place to spend the money first

SOIL CONSERVATION SERVICE HERE BEGINS TREE PLANTING PROGRAM

Two million trees and shrubs will be planted in the Southern Great Plains region this season as a part of the program to control wind and water erosion. Several thousand trees have been planted this spring in Hall and adjoining counties by the Memphis Emergency Conservation Work camp. Seventy-seven thousand trees were set out in Hall and adjacent counties by the ECW workmen last year, 58,000 of which were set out along roads and on farms. The rest were set out for gully control.

Windbreaks for border protection and in some instances plantings above the terraces in the fields are receiving much attention. The planting of all trees that conditions will permit are being suggested for border protection where there is sufficient moisture available.

The windbreaks tend to reduce the high velocity of the wind close to the ground, thus curtailing the blowing away of valuable top soil. They also reduce evaporation, and aid in holding moisture in the ground where it can benefit the crops. Gully plantings of trees and shrubs are confined mainly to eastern Colorado where water erosion is a problem. Tree site plantings about farm homes are being limited to localities where a wind erosion problem exists. Although no ornamental plantings are made by the Soil Conservation Service, it is pointed out that wind-breaks about homes create favorable conditions for the planting of such shrubs and trees which can be obtained from nurseries.

Only trees that are adapted to semi-arid conditions are being used in the plantings. These include the Chinese elm, the honey locust, and the desert willow, the latter affording protection close to the ground in windbreaks. The black locust also is being used where moisture conditions are favorable. Several other species including olive, green other species, Russian olive, and Russian mulberry, are being tried out on a small scale.

Trees being planted vary in height from 12 to 24 inches. Three million trees and shrubs were planted in this region in 1936, and practically all the trees have more than doubled their height in the one growing season, some species attaining a height of five feet. The mortality rate has been from 15 to 25 per cent, mainly from inferior stock and low vitality when planted.

If Wednesday's action by the Senate Appropriations Committee is any indication of the future policies in Washington, every farmer and every man interested in the farmer ought to get up on his feet and holler—holler loud!

America's greatest asset is its soil. And it is an asset declining in value very rapidly. We insist that it's poor economy to build big dams at the expense of the farmer—the only man who, by employing soil and moisture conserving methods to the fullest, can minimize America's devastating floods.—Amarillo News.

The wholesome, practical, clear-eyed manner in which the youth of today is arriving at manhood and womanhood, typified largely by emergence from high school days, is like very much. Don't tell us these are not better equipped than those of another day—even if they can't spell!—Floyd County Hesperian.

Too many of the people who have received subsistence from the federal government the past three years are now looking to the government as the only means of support. They are only convinced the only way they will ever improve their standards of living and their positions in life is for the government to dish them out money faster and in larger quantities. When once they were satisfied with a bare living, now they think they are entitled to automobiles, mechanical refrigerators, and radios.—Shamrock Texan.

It requires a great deal of boldness and caution to make a fortune, and when you have got it it requires ten times as much wit to keep it.—Foard County News.

Remembering her now standing behind the silver web of years, she was not a beautiful girl, but exquisite with a strength of loveliness as enduring as a bois de arc post half buried in the earth. My adoration for her was that of a moth attracted by the moon but there was never a flame at which I could singe my useless wings or a smile to remember when the mockingbird fluttered above the tall cottonwoods on summer evenings. Yet from the morning a message arrived saying she would not return to the white school house or walk again over the lanced, red hills, there was a plaintive voice in the breeze and pale smoke from a purposeless fire drifted out through the chimney of clouds. The sweet, impotent wine of youth is tempered through charcoals of tragedy.—Matador Tribune.

Governor Allred is making some mighty broad hints about a third term. Every second term governor feels that the people are calling for him, and would like to have the job again.—Canyon News.

STRETCH YOUR MILEAGE

...with this Custom Tailored Gasoline

Let's get right down to the facts. Let's talk about why and how Phillips 66 Poly Gas saves you money.

The reason is simple. Into every gallon of this new-type, cost-cutting gasoline, Phillips packs extra energy units by means of the patented POLYmerization process. The result is twofold. Your motor not only gets more power out of every gallon, but also delivers more miles.

But sudden changes in climate would endanger the economy and improved performance of Phillips 66 Poly Gas, if it were not 100% custom-tailored, matched in advance to your weather in accordance with U. S. Weather Bureau standards. Why 100%? Because Phillips pioneered the idea of custom-tailoring gasoline to break the vicious connection between changes in weather and changes in motor performance. Because Phillips has carried the process further and made it function more successfully. Because Phillips has greater facilities for custom-tailoring than any other refiner.

That is why no other gasoline, not a single one, is so accurately matched to your weather as Phillips 66 Poly Gas! The Orange and Black 66 Shield is the sign that you can get this improved gasoline which does more—but costs no more.

15,000,000 MILES OF WRITING PAPER

788,800,192 POUNDS OF PAPER EQUALS IN TONAGE TEN SUPER-DREADNAUGHTS

EVERY LIVING SOUL ON EARTH COULD WRITE AND SEND 20 LETTERS

EVERYONE asks at least once in his life, "I wonder how much paper is used in this country"—either how much every year, or every day, or perhaps since American business really found its stride during the last half of the last century.

Any such question has as much chance of being answered correctly as a child's old query, "How much wood would a woodchuck chuck" because the uses of paper are innumerable and the companies that make it and use it are many.

However, the country's largest manufacturer of bond paper for business use has just released some figures that help one to realize the magnitude of the paper industry in this country.

This one company has made, in the last quarter of a century, 788,800,192 pounds of its top grade paper for business use. That is a hard figure to visualize, being in astronomical figures, so let's translate it into some understandable terms.

Suppose you were to print bill-headers on this amount of paper—business firms all over the country do. If each bill were made out of the modest sum of one dollar and fifty cents, the total sum of money involved would be about four times as much as all the property losses in the World War—four times as much as all the houses and towns destroyed, all the ships sunk, all the cargoes lost at the bottom of the sea.

If you started to run this paper through a typewriter in one regular width strip, it would run on and on for fifteen millions of miles—enough to go around the sun five and a half times! If two firms in the Empire State Building in New York and in the Merchandise Mart in Chicago decided to merge, and stretch a cross-country row of desks with stenographers between their two buildings, these million girls could type for eight hours a day at their regular speed for more than three years before they used up all the paper.

If this twenty-five-year production were made up into business writing paper and envelopes and parcelled out to the people of the world, every living soul on earth could write and send twenty letters. In writing paper and envelopes, this twenty-five-year mass of Hammermill Bond equals more ordinary mail than would go, on the average, through the New York City post office in fifteen years.

Or look at it this way: If a wide-awake business executive, who dictated a letter on a separate sheet every five minutes for eight hours a day, tried to use up this amount of paper, he would still be dictating (probably with a sore throat) at the end of two and a half million years!

Effective Christian service. We shall be happy for you to find your place with us.

The Sunday evening service will be given over to the Baccalaureate for the Senior Class of our High School. We take this method as a church in wishing for each one of these seniors the very best which life can have in store for them. May each life be rooted and grounded with the great Christian principles of living and may each one come to share in the real meaning of a world brotherhood, in our most earnest prayer for all.

CHURCH OF CHRIST W. M. Davis, Minister The Bible school will begin at 9:45 a. m. Morning worship and preaching at 10:45 a. m. The sermon will be based on the language of Christ in Luke 10:20, "But rather rejoice because your names are written in heaven." One's name may be written in the church record on earth, and still not be written in heaven.

The evening service will be held one hour earlier than usual, so that those who wish may attend the baccalaureate service. The service will start at 7 p. m. instead of 8 p. m. The evening sermon will be on the subject, "Conformed or Transformed."

The women's Bible class will meet for study Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. Prayer meeting Wednesday at 8 p. m.

CHURCH OF CHRIST Lakeview, Texas C. L. Taylor, Minister. Preaching the first and third Sundays in each month. Bible study each Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH Rev. J. Wm. Mason, Pastor For the services Sunday morning the pastor and those who attended the Southern Baptist Convention meeting in New Orleans, La., will bring a report of the convention. The meeting of the W. M. U. Convention as well as the Southern Baptist Convention will be briefly reviewed. It is hoped that you will want to hear these reports.

The Sunday School and B. T. U. have been having a fair attendance for the past several Sundays. We are hoping that this Sunday will be no exception except that the attendance in both these services might be larger. Everyone should attend Sunday school some where every Sunday, and all should be training for more ef-

CRAZY MAN GOES WILD A man held in the county jail here Sunday and Monday until he could be carried to the institution at Wichita Falls went on a rampage and tore up most of the plumbing fixtures at the jail, tore up the bedclothes, and tore a pair of handcuffs to pieces that had been placed on him to quiet him. He shrieks. Sunday night and Monday night disturbed the sleep of Memphians several blocks away from the jail.

CHAMBER of COMMERCE NOTES

By BURTON SHANNON

Five million dollars of emergency funds for soil conservation practices in the five-state so called "dust bowl" area has been authorized by the House of Representatives, according to Congressman Marvin Jones. It is expected that $2,000,000 of the amount will be available to the Panhandle of Texas. This fund is to be available immediately from the unexpended balances of certain relief funds and provides up to 75 cents an acre for listing, contouring, and other types of work necessary in soil erosion control.

The Senate Agricultural Committee has approved a bill extending the soil conservation act to December 31, 1941.

Highway No. 138, commencing about 18 miles north of Childress on Highway 4 and running some 11 miles east to the Oklahoma line, is now under construction and surfacing is expected to get started soon. A crushed limestone base will be treated with an asphalt topping.

A free school under the W. P. A. Educational Administration is being opened in Memphis and several other communities in Hall County. Any person over 16 years of age may attend this school.

The W. P. A. sewing rooms in Hall County, located in Turkey, Esteline, and Memphis, are doing a real job of giving employment and valuable instruction to a large number of women.

It is computed that last year we lost nearly four million dollars and more than one hundred thousand lives through accidents. The automobile accounted for 38,500 deaths, of which 16,650 were pedestrians. We are accustomed to think of home as the safest of places, but 39,000 persons were killed in our homes last year. Burns destroyed 9,000; firearms 3,000. Railroad fatalities amounted to 4,000.

This is a day of change. Old ideas are giving place to new. The science of merchandising, too, is being overhauled. Methods of doing business 10 years ago, five years ago, or even one year ago, are now out-of-date.

The National Industrial Conference Board has announced that employment in March in manufacturing, agriculture, the service industries, and trade, distribution and finance combined topped the records of 1929.

In the efforts all good citizens are now making to increase employment and restore prosperity and happiness to this community, nothing is of more vital importance than to see that our buying is done in Memphis. Money spent elsewhere is of no benefit to our community, but money spent HERE benefits every adult and child, every business and professional man and woman, every firm and corporation, and every church, school, club, and theatre in our community. Whether it be a spool of thread or an automobile—buy it here.

Help yourself—by helping the Chamber of Commerce in its efforts to secure the things that will build up Memphis and make it a better city in which to live and a more profitable city in which to conduct a business.

If we were called on to pay for the services of individuals, working independently to perform the work of the Chamber of Commerce, it would bankrupt most of us.

Why I Belong to My Chamber of Commerce:

Because membership in the Chamber shows my sympathy with an organized effort to better my city and improve the conditions of life within it.

Because active participation in community affairs is both a personal privilege and a civic responsibility.

Because I consider that membership in the Chamber of Commerce pays a high rate of interest in community service, personal contacts, community betterment, and civic pride.

Because the Chamber of Commerce is the gauge of a city's enterprise, prosperity, and ambitions, and reflects the combined wishes of the community.

Because I profit in dollars and cents, both directly and indirectly, from the work of the organization and in personal satisfaction in working toward a goal that is not entirely in the range of self interest.

Be a member of the biggest business organization in Hall County.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hamilton went to Esteline Monday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Ewen. Mr. Hamilton went from there Tuesday morning to Turkey on a business trip.

Why eat breakfast at home when you can eat the new low priced club breakfast at Rube's Coffee Shop.

Patio and Entrance to Pan American Hostess House.

Activities of women at the Pan American Exposition, opening June 12 in Dallas, will be centered at this $60,000 Hostess House. Available to clubs and organizations of Texas, the air-conditioned building is fitted with offices and committee rooms, and has a secretary on all-time duty. Use of the building was given by L. B. Denning. The gas company of which he is president erected the building.

Mary Jane graduating? Good lands, she had her hair in pig-tails only yesterday! And Johnny, the boy who never washed behind his ears... how proud and straight he looks in his cap and gown. There's "Tank" Johnson, the football center; they called him "Tubby" back in grammar school; how the team will miss him in the fall. Pretty little Polly Swain has her diploma now... next month she'll be married. There they go, one by one, graduates all... so proud, happy and unafraid.

Pan American Games Set For Dallas June 30 to July 3

Dignity of the Olympic tradition is borne out in the official emblem of the Pan American Games, in which athletes of two continents will compete at the international fair in Dallas, Texas, opening June 12.

The design, approved by a smiling Texanita, depicts a modern Mercury, god of speed, skill and strength, testing the "friendship links" of the two Americas in his powerful grasp above the globe of the Western Hemisphere.

Athletes of Mexico, Central and South America will compete with United States' entrants in the Olympic events of track and field, soccer and boxing scheduled for June 30, July 1, 2 and 3.

Estelline Faculty Has Few Changes For Next Session

Members of the Estelline school faculty next year will be practically the same as for the past year. Miss Doris Rogers, primary teacher, will not return, having accepted a place in New Boston. Mrs. Walter Labay, who has been the fourth-grade teacher, will not be on the faculty next year. Coach Edsel Curnutt will go to Mountain View, Okla., to coach next year; his place has been filled by Greer Cottingham from Panhandle A. & M., Oklahoma.

Following are the plans of the faculty members for this summer: V. O. Smallwood will go to school at Texas University in Austin this summer. Mrs. Daisy Kennedy will study toward a degree at Canyon. L. B. Penick will go to school at Lubbock, and Carl Bailey will also attend Texas Tech at Lubbock. J. T. Duncan and Joe Allen Ballard will remain in Estelline.

Coach Curnutt will spend the summer in Gould, Okla., his home. Miss Catherine Schellenberg will be at home in Dalhart. Mrs. Blanche Davis will be in Estelline for two months, after which she will go to Denton. Mrs. A. J. Brown will be in Childress, as will Miss Vida James. Miss Doris Rogers will be in Paris, her home town. Mrs. Velma Tucker will remain in Estelline.

JUNIORS PLAY LEADING ROLE IN HIGH SCHOOL ACTIVITIES HERE

At the first class meeting of the juniors, Jeanne Draper was elected as president; Billy Polk Hall, vice president; and Joyce Read, secretary-treasurer. Miss Anna Belle Perkins was the sponsor for the year.

The juniors took a large part in this year's athletics. Five of the lettermen from the football team and two of the most outstanding men on the basketball squad were juniors. Others of the class, although not lettermen, did their best in this season's athletics. Two of the most outstanding tennis players this year are Jack Walker and Amilda Thomas, who are classified as juniors.

This year twelve students were selected by the teachers to appear in the Who's Who section of the annual. Four of those selected—Jeanne Draper, Joyce Read, Billy Blackwell, and Martha Jeanne Parks—were juniors.

Billy Blackwell was selected as the most popular girl in high school.

One of the main events of this year was a carnival given by the juniors. Then to top the year off the juniors gave the seniors a banquet at the Memphis Hotel.

Young Democrats Are To Convene At Dalhart Saturday

DALHART, May 19.—"The ad valorem tax system in Texas is a failure," declared Dallam County Judge Wilson Cowen today. There are many other moot topics such as the Dust Bowl, poll taxes, natural gas conservation in the Panhandle, local law enforcement, which should be discussed at the West Texas Young Democrats annual convention in Dalhart Saturday, May 29, because into the hands of these Young Democrats these issues are being rapidly given.

Continuing on the ad valorem tax system, Judge Cowen said, "It shows a high per cent of delinquency; is unfair and in some cases discriminatory in valuations between counties and between sections of the state, because each county and therefore each section has a different board of equalization, each of which figures valuations from a different basis. This brings on a host of problems. The older Democrats as well as the young ones should take a hearty part in it at the coming convention in Dalhart. The tax situation is moving rapidly to a crisis."

Wellington Coach Picks Memphis To Win Football District Next Season

WELLINGTON.—The Wellington Skyrockets wound up their spring practice Monday, May 2, with prospects for a much stronger team than last year, thereby labeling themselves as a real threat for the district crown during the coming gridiron campaign.

After turning in their suits Monday, the "Rockets" will be idle until August, at which time they will resume practice for the initial opener against the Paducah eleven on September 10.

The nine clubs of District 3-B may wage a hot fight all the way for district honors, according to Coach Joe Coleman, as practically every team in the district during spring drills displayed vast improvements over the lineups of last season.

When asked whom he considers the strongest contenders for first place in the district, Coleman said that at the present time the Memphis Cyclone is favored, although a pre-season estimate of any club is hard to make.

The Cyclone will probably come up with a great passing offense together with one of the heaviest lines in the district which will average 175 pounds to the man. With 11 lettermen returning, McLean also appears to be a strong contender. According to this rough estimate, the fight for top honors will be centered in McLean, Memphis, and Wellington.

A total of 69 lettermen will return to the schools for the season. The number returning to each club are as follows: McLean 11, Memphis 10, Wellington 7, Wheeler 5, Mobeetie 12, Lefors 8, Clarendon 8, Shamrock 7, and Lakeview 1.
