State Candidate

Lewis M. Goodrich, candidate for Attorney General of Texas, was in Memphis last Saturday in the interest of his candidacy.

Mr. Goodrich, of Shamrock, stated that the outlook in the race is encouraging. He stated that he feels confident of getting into the run-off, as he believes that candidates from South and East Texas will split up the heavy votes downstate, enabling a West Texas man to be in the finals.

Grasshoppers To Be Plentiful In Area Next Year

"There are enough grasshopper eggs deposited in Hall County for the grasshoppers to hatch out next spring and damage cotton and feed crops heavily," R. R. Reppert, entomologist for the Texas Extension Service, College Station, stated here this week.

The expert on grasshopper control and County Agent R. E. L. Pattillo toured a large part of the county this week making tests for the grasshopper eggs. From four to 13 egg pods per square foot were found in the five tests that were made in different sections of the county, and from 60 to 120 eggs are in each pod.

Reppert suggested that farmers be on guard against the 'hoppers and put out poison for them as soon as they begin to appear next March and April. He said that the state will probably assist in the grasshopper control next year.

MEMPHIS AND McLEAN CLASH IN GRID GAME

Both Squads Primed For Crucial Tilt; Will Play Here

Couch Frank Hubbell's Memphis High School Cyclone football team has been receiving lengthy drills this week in preparation for the crucial conference encounter with the McLean Tigers on the grid turf out at Cyclone Stadium here Friday night this week.

The game is expected to be one of the highlights of the 1937 football season for both teams. Neither the Cyclone nor the Tigers has lost a conference game so far this year, but one of the teams will fall Friday night. And indications received from both teams are that it will be the other to fall.

Both Memphis and McLean boast heavy squads, and the records of the two teams this year compare favorably. Grid fans are rating the two teams as about equal in strength. Memphis has a powerful defense, but is slightly weaker on the offense; while the (Continued on page 5)

WELLINGTON TO ENTERTAIN '38 SINGING EVENT

Towns From 5 States Represented Here At Giant Meet

An estimated attendance of between four and five thousand singers and visitors, coming from Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arkansas, and Louisiana, attended the Ninth Annual Convention of the Northern Texas and Oklahoma District Singers Association in Memphis last Saturday and Sunday.

The Memphis First Baptist Church, headquarters for the convention, was jammed throughout the singing sessions Saturday morning, Saturday afternoon, Saturday night, Sunday morning, and Sunday afternoon.

At the sessions Saturday night and Sunday singers and visitors packed the building, sitting in the aisles, crowding the balcony, and even sitting on the singers' platform. Scores, unable to get inside the building, heard the singing by means of amplifiers erected outside the building.

W. B. Scott, Memphis resident, stated that he counted 394 automobiles parked near the church for the singing convention Sunday afternoon. Scores of towns, cities, and communities from a wide area in the five states were represented at the gigantic singing convention, said to be the largest singing convention ever held here.

North Texas and Oklahoma singers will convene in Wellington for their Tenth Annual Convention next October. Officials for the convention next year will be the same as for this year, with the exception of the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Bryman of Granite, Okla. She was elected to succeed Miss Bernice Hackett of Oklahoma City, who moved out of the association district. Other of (Continued on page 5)

Four thousand six hundred and eight bales of cotton were ginned in Hall County from the crop of 1937 prior to October 1, according to figures released by the Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, Washington, and gathered by C. Lee Rushing, special agent.

This number compares with 685 bales of cotton ginned to October 1 for the crop of 1936. It is estimated that approximately twice that amount has been ginned to date, as all of the 26 gins in the county ran day and night from the first of the month through the 9th.

Makes More From Mules Than Cotton

W. L. Nabers, farmer residing northwest of Plasko, states that he will make more clear money from four mule colts than he has raised this year from 100 acres of cotton, County Farm Agent R. E. L. Pattillo reported.

Mule colts are selling at a premium now, and his four cost him almost nothing to raise. He also worked the mothers of the colts in raising his crop this year.

SPECIAL SESSION OF CONGRESS SET

Farm Legislation To Receive First Consideration; Views Are Cited By President

Congress was called by President Roosevelt to convene in special session on November 15 this week to take up farm legislation.

"We intend this winter to find a way to prevent four-and-one-half cent cotton from ever coming back again. To do that, the farmers themselves want to cooperate to build an all-weather farm program so that in the long run prices will be more stable."

"And when we have found that way to protect the farmers' prices from the effects of alternating crop surpluses and crop scarcities, we shall also have found the way to protect the nation's food supply from the effects of the same fluctuation. We ought to have enough food at prices within the reach of the consuming public. For the consumers in the cities of America, we must find a way to help the farmers to store up in years of plenty enough to avoid hardship in the years of scarcity," Roosevelt stated.

He hinted at further farm rehabilitation and stated that he favored regional farm control.

October Term Of County Court To Open Here Oct. 18

The October term of Hall County Court will begin Monday morning, October 18, with County Judge M. O. Goodpasture presiding.

Monday and Tuesday of next week will be taken up with the setting of the criminal and civil docket; court will then likely adjourn for the week. Judge Goodpasture stated that there will probably be no jury cases the second week of county court, but that all jury cases would be heard the third and fourth weeks.

Both the civil and criminal dockets are light, a check of the court records revealed; and very few new cases are slated to come up for trial.

Local Drug Stores Observe National Pharmacy Week

WIDE SERVICES ARE RENDERED BY DRUGGISTS

Now Is Good Time To Re-Stock Medicine Cabinets, Said

Memphis' modern drug stores this week are co-operating with one another and with pharmacies all over the United States in the observance of National Pharmacy Week.

On this week the nation over leading retail drug establishments call attention to the prominent positions they hold in the community and point out the valuable service which they render to rich and poor alike.

The modern drug stores in Memphis, as in every other city, handle hundreds of lines of merchandise; but their principal service to the community is rendered through their accuracy in compounding physicians' prescriptions for the sick and suffering.

It has been pointed out that the pharmacies of Memphis are particularly well stocked with medicines and drugs of all kinds, and the druggists here are said to be on a par with any in this territory.

Drug stores are recognized as holding an important position in any town, for it is there that men, young and old, congregate to "pass the time of day;" and the phar-

It has been suggested that with cold weather in the not-too-distant future, now is a good time for citizens of this locality to stock up on drugs and medicine that should be carried in every family medicine cabinet.

90th Division To Conduct Reunion

The annual reunion of the 90th Division Association, wartime divisional army men, will be held in Tulsa, Okla., November 5-7 this year. There is a great number of former 90th Division men who reside in the Hall County vicinity.

The 90th Division was organized as a unit of the national army in 1917. The 90th Division Association was organized in Berncastle, Germany, in 1919. This is the 19th reunion of the Association. It is the 20th anniversary of the creation of the 90th Division. The Division was first composed of enlisted men from Oklahoma and Texas. A great number of these men were transferred out of the 90th during the fall of 1917. They were replaced by men from Camp Dodge in Iowa. These men were from Iowa, Minnesota, Indiana, and Illinois, and other states of the Middle-West. There were a total of over 50,000 men during the World War who in some capacity served with the 90th Division. It is estimated that over 25,000 of these men are still living. Over 7,000 of them are living in Oklahoma and over 10,000 are living in Texas. The remainder of them are scattered over various states of the Union and different foreign countries.

This year's reunion is expected to bring the largest attendance the Association has ever had. For the first time both the men and their wives are to attend. Major-General Charles H. Martin, now Governor of the State of Oregon, who commanded the 90th Division in Germany, will be the guest of honor. This will be the first time in many years that Major-General Martin has attended the reunion. He is expected to bring with him all of his former staff officers who are now living.

GIRL'S MOUTH BURNED WHEN ACID TASTED

Liquid Left In Soda Pop Bottle Cause Of Accident

MATADOR.—Estelle Stafford, Matador High School student, suffered painful burns Friday afternoon when she started to drink a bottle of soda water at a filling station east of Matador, only to discover the bottle contained sulphuric acid. She was rushed to a local hospital, where medical aid was given.

The bottle containing the acid had been kept on a shelf near the storage of soda water and is believed to have been accidentally placed in the pop box by someone thinking it to be a bottle of soda water. Frank Stafford, owner of the station and the girl's uncle, also tasted the acid afterwards, thinking that perhaps the pop was soured. He also received burns about the mouth and gums.

Neither the girl nor her uncle swallowed any of the poisonous fluid, but the girl's dress was burned by spilling the acid after she had tasted it. Due to immediate administration of counteracting home antidotes, physicians believe both the girl and her uncle will recover without serious injury.

Legislature Question Will Be Debated By Schools This Year

Periodically the question arises of making the Texas Legislature a unicameral body. This year the topic will be debated by hundreds of schoolboy and schoolgirl orators over the state as it forms the 1937-38 subject for the Texas Interscholastic League debate tournament. A bulletin entitled "Texas Legislature: One House or Two" has been prepared by Dr. Joe M. Ray, former instructor in government at the University of Texas, and has been published by the University Bureau of Public School Interests, which is the state executive office for the League. This bulletin contains both affirmative and negative briefs on the subject, and reading material on both sides, including statements from members of the Texas Legislature, articles by authorities on government, and newspaper and magazine editorials.

Mrs. O. M. Cosby and daughter Mary went to Abilene Wednesday to spend until Sunday with Mrs. Cosby's father, H. B. Smith.

EAGLES AND WHEELER MUSTANGS TO CONFERENCE GRID GAME FRIDAY NIGHT

Coach Bob Clark's Lakeview Eagles will be rated as the underdogs, but for the first time this year the Hall County eleven will be considered as having a good chance to capture a conference encounter. To date the Eagles have played only strong teams.

The Lakeview aggregation has practically recovered from the ill effects suffered a few weeks ago in a school bus wreck at Childress, in which several members of the grid squad were injured. The Eagles, however, are hampered at this time because of the fact that the Lakeview school has turned out for cotton picking, which interferes with school support and with practice sessions for the gridsters.

Wheeler is priming for the Lakeview clash, remembering the 7-6 victory scored over the Hall County crew last year when Wheeler won the district championship. Indications are that the Mustangs are planning an aerial reception for the Eagles.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. J. Wm. Mason, Pastor

The pastor's message Sunday morning will be based on Matt. 25:31-46, the subject being "Three Great Surprises." See if you can find out what the great surprises will be from reading this passage. For Sunday evening the subject will be "Getting a New Start," and the scripture lesson will be from John 3:1-15. We all come to that time in life when we wish that we could have a new start—when we wish that we could begin all over again. How can this be done?

The Sunday school and B. T. U. are growing constantly. All of the workers are taking a new interest in the work, and things are looking better and better all the time. It will make us all happy for you to line up with us for an interesting season's study and training together.

Every member of the church should look forward to the All-Church School of Missions which is to be held during the week beginning October 17. Word comes from J. Walton Moore, a returned missionary from China, and from Mrs. W. D. Howell of the State W. M. U. force that they will be here to assist during that week.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

At different times, and under different conditions many fine people have expressed reasons why they attend church service. On careful examination into these reasons assigned by numbers of lovely people, one realizes that it indicates spiritual life, mental force, strong character not found otherwise. For these good reasons, and many others that might be mentioned, we are profoundly thankful for all who have it in their hearts to be faithful in their attendance morning and evening.

Some of the very best people whom you know, and in whom you have high regard, rarely ever miss a service. Therefore come next Sunday.

E. C. CARGILL, Pastor.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

W. M. Davis, Minister

We hope the improvement in our Bible school the last two weeks will continue. We want all of our members to be present next Sunday morning at 9:45. It is very important to be on time. Christian parents should see to it that their children are in Bible school.

At the eleven o'clock service next Sunday the minister will have for his subject, "A Way That Seemeth Right Unto a Man." Nearly all the mistakes we make in life are caused by following the wrong guide. The evening worship will be at 7:30 o'clock, and the sermon subject will be, "The Glory Due Unto the Lord." The young people's meeting will be at 7 p. m. On Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. the women's Bible class will meet for study. The mid-week Bible study will be Wednesday at 7:45 p. m.

Ted Read, Editor of the Kilgore News, successful East Texas oil field daily newspaper, was in town this week visiting his father and mother, Postmaster and Mrs. J. Henry Read. Despite being an up-and-coming newspaper man, Read still looks like a school boy. He was here only a few days and did not get to visit all of his friends.

"Mrs. Read was tight on me and wouldn't let me out of the house," he said. Editor Read is another reporter to graduate from The Democrat to wider fields.

J. B. Estes of the Chamberlain community is back to this section temporarily from Monahans, where he has been working. He is resting up after receiving injuries to his back while unloading a truck. In speaking of the oil boom that is on at Monahans, he said that almost all of the people there live in trailer houses. If all of the people living in trailer houses packed up and left town, there would not be over 2,000 left. He estimated that the population now is around 15,000.

Mrs. Everett Hughes of near Newlin called at The Democrat office Wednesday this week to spike reports that her husband had been killed in an automobile accident at Chillicothe. An Erwin Hughes of Memphis was reported by the Wichita paper to have been critically injured in an auto accident at Chillicothe Monday. A Democrat reporter asked from 20 to 30 farmers if they had ever heard of him, asked local business men, checked records in the courthouse, but no trace could be found of an Erwin Hughes of Memphis. Relatives of Everett Hughes had read of the accident, and thinking that it was he in the wreck, made a trip to his farm.

The Estelline High School football team will play the Silverton Owls on the Silverton field in a conference game Friday. Turkey, in District 4B with Estelline, plays Quitaque at Quitaque. Both Estelline and Turkey are still in the race for district honors, Turkey having gone so far undefeated in conference play and Estelline having lost only one game—and that on penetrations.

tertained Tuesday noon of this week at the weekly luncheon at the First Christian Church with a talking motion picture show, which was presented by the Ford Motor Company and Ed Foxhall, local Ford dealer. The movie showed the wonders of Yellowstone National Park.

Hall County's second serious gin accident occurred last week. Grover C. Jarvis, employee of the Turkey Gin, was injured Wednesday morning last week when he caught his hand in the saws at the gin. His right hand was cut completely off, according to reports from Turkey. He was rushed to a sanitarium at Plainview by Dr. J. E. Garner and Joe Colvin. The accident occurred when Jarvis reached behind some blades to extract some cotton. A hopper lid fell down and caught his hand in the saws.

Troy Dunn, injured two weeks ago in a gin at Plaska, has received treatment at a large hospital in Dallas; and he is reported to be improving satisfactorily. It is thought that his hand and arm, badly broken and cut in the gin stand, will be saved.

The Memphis Fire Department made two calls to put out one blaze here Friday night of last week. Cotton caught fire in a storage house at the T. T. Harrison Gin about 6 p. m. last Friday. The fire department went out to the gin and put out the fire, but was called back later in the night after the fire had blazed up again. The house was not damaged, and total damage to the seed cotton was estimated at around $30.

Bus stop signs are to be erected on highways in Hall County. The stop signs for school buses will be erected by the state on the Memphis-Estelline and the Estelline-Turkey highways. And it is thought by the county. Decision to ask county officials for the bus stop signs was reached by the county board at its monthly meeting here last week.

Because of the rush season this fall, the next meeting of the county school board will not be held until the first Monday in 1938.

Twenty-inch surface casing was set at 120 feet in the Jacobs-Hanner No. 1 oil test near Turkey last Saturday morning, and drilling was resumed. The crew is working day and night on the Hall County test, and all supplies and materials needed are now on hand.

Deputy Sheriff W. C. Anderson and County Attorney Carl C. Periman returned this week from a trip to Denver, where they went to return Ralph Warren, alias George Kelley, to Memphis to face charges of automobile theft in connection with the stealing of an Amarillo car. Warren is now resting in the county jail here.

The Memphis Chamber of Commerce has expressed thanks to the farmers and citizens of Hall County who helped make the Hall County exhibit in the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo recently a success. The exhibit of farm produce from this county compared favorably with the best at the fair, it was said.

A cooking and flour demonstration is to be held at the American Legion Hall here Thursday and Friday of this week. Housewives are invited to attend, and church women are helping boost the attendance.

There definitely will be no canning kitchen in Hall County this fall, it has been announced by county officials.

A new brick sidewalk has just been completed from the front entrance of the high school building here to Brice street. This will be quite a convenience to students coming to school from the north, as they have heretofore had to walk through the mud in rainy weather, or else walk a few steps out of the way on another sidewalk.

County Democratic Chairman James E. King, County Judge M. O. Goodpasture, Commissioner Butler Morrison, Commissioner A. R. McMaster, and C. of C. Secretary Carroll Smyers attended a "good roads" meeting at Dimmitt Tuesday. Because of inclement weather, Castro and Hall counties were the only two counties represented at the meeting, but both pledged their support to each other.

Marjetta Ewing of Estelline, student at WTSTC, Canyon, is training for Girl Scout leadership.

The West Texas Utilities Company office here will have an electrically-equipped modern trailer house on display in Memphis the first part of next week. Mack Wilson, local manager, invites all local housewives (or neolactresses) and citizens to inspect the trailer. It is equipped with everything from electric hair-dryers to electric ranges and Frigidaires.

from Dickens County.

The new road will be of oil and sand construction, beginning two miles north of Whiteflat and extending to the Hall County line. Efforts to secure the surfacing of this road have extended over a period of years and much of the credit is due to Matador and Turkey citizens.

Ultimate goal of towns and cities on Highway 18 is the paving of the entire route from the north Texas line to Del Rio to connect with a road to Mexico City. This would mean a direct route from Oklahoma and with the International Highway to Kansas, and other northern states to the Mexican border.

No one has been named to succeed Mr. Luna at the First Christian Church here. Numerous improvements have been made at the church during Mr. Luna's pastorate here, one of which was the installation of the church bell.

At Vernon Mr. Luna will serve a much larger church than he has headed here, there being over 400 members of the Vernon church.

Mr. Luna will move his wife and three children, Lois, 6; Elaine, 2; and Don, nine months; to Vernon on or about October 25.

The method of transmission of sleeping sickness is not well established. It seems that most of the infection is spread from mosquitoes or other blood-sucking insects, and the use of insect repellent sprays is a safeguard to be used against infection.

It was estimated that about 10 to 20 per cent of the horses that have taken the disease in this section have died.

will have failed to carry out the President's program for the blind and for under-privileged children which was voted by the people.

I was very happy last week when Senator Clay Cotten of Palestine made a speech on the Senate floor in defense of the President and his program.

"In reply to a statement by the Governor of Texas that the issue now drawn before this Senate is one of human rights against property rights, the Senator from Galveston is quoted as having said: 'Every tyrant from Nero to Franklin D. Roosevelt has used that argument.'

"I am indeed sorry for him or any other man who becomes so wrapped up and warped in his own opinions that he would reach the point where he would brand not only the governor of this state, but our beloved President, as a tyrant comparable to Nero.

"I want and I think this Senate wants the people of the country to know that in his vicious assaults upon President Roosevelt the Senator from Galveston does not speak for the great masses of the people. . . . He does not voice even the sentiments of the people of his own district.

Franklin D. Roosevelt has not only brought back prosperity to the captains of industry, but through his social security program he has ministered to the aged needy and has provided funds which, if Texas will but do its part, will feed the hungry and clothe the naked throughout our borders.

"It is not going to be any pleasure to me to have to vote for taxes . . . but we have no option. The people have spoken at the ballot box. They told this legislature to provide for the needy old people . . . for aid to the blind . . . to help unfortunate children.

"This state is rich in resources. We can provide these funds without substantial injury to anyone by taking only a small portion of the vast profits being made in this state . . . I would respect the wishes of my people by voting for adequate tax revenues at this special session."

TRANSPORTATION

The luxury of a few years ago has become the necessity of today. The automobile has brought widely separated communities into compact areas and promoted the expansion of men's undertakings. Just as the automobile has become one of the nation's greatest industries, so has the selling and maintenance of them become one of Memphis' greatest.

Many of Hall County's citizens gain their livelihood in this and its many allied industries. To these men and women we pay tribute. Many of the firms they represent rely on us for all of their printing needs. We produce quality printing that helps increase their sales—we can do as much for you.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

To the Members of the Winnie Davis Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy:

Since God in His unerring judgment has taken from our midst our dearly loved member, Mrs. Ira W. Neeley, we humbly offer these resolutions of respect.

In the passing of Mrs. Neeley, the Winnie Davis Chapter has lost one of its most faithful and loyal members. A lady of sterling character, sweet, quiet, modest of mien, gentle and consistently kind in all respects was she. Mrs. Neeley will be greatly missed not only in the chapter and the town but, also, in her wide circle of friends.

As a neighbor and friend she could be depended upon under the most trying circumstances. No task was too great for her to undertake and each undertaking was always faithfully accomplished. Her kind nature and keen discernment gave her an ability for reserved judgments that we would do well to follow.

Therefore be it resolved that the Winnie Davis Chapter express to the family of Mrs. Neeley our profound sympathy in this hour of bereavement trusting that the Great Ruler of the universe will give them strength and support to bear her passing.

That a copy of these resolutions be mailed to the family, to the local paper, and one incorporated in the minutes of the U. D. C. chapter.

Be it further resolved that one page in our current year book be dedicated to her memory.

Respectfully submitted,
KATIE V. CLARK,
ELLA NORMAN,
WINNIE DAVIS JOHNSON,
Committee.

Frank Greene of Sapulpa, Okla., arrived Wednesday for a visit with his mother, Mrs. S. O. Greene.

County Is Invited To Have Candidate For WTS College 'Homecoming Queen'

Ex-students of West Texas State Teachers College now residing in Hall County have been invited by the college at Canyon to select an ex-student queen from the county to enter the contest for "homecoming queen" of W. T. S. T. C. on October 22-23.

The girls, all unmarried ex-students of West Texas State, will be judged by a secret committee, and the queen will be crowned at the conclusion of a carnival program on Friday night, October 22.

For this occasion, Cousins Hall, largest dormitory for girls, will be turned into a night club. The dining hall will become a western rendezvous, with a bar, battered piano, old-time dancing and fiddling, costumed entertainers, and appropriate decorations.

The ballroom will take the form of Little Mexico, with similar entertainment and setting, while the main reception hall will be a fine arts room, with good music, an orchestra included, and ex-student art on the walls.

Homecoming day will be October 23. Faculty members and student guides will be on hand to escort alumni and other visitors about the expanding plant of the college. At 11 a. m., General Smedley Butler, famous soldier and lecturer, will be the main speaker. The homecoming queen and her beauty court will be presented.

At noon there will be a barbecue on the football field. The Buffaloes will play the Alva, Oklahoma, Teachers College team at 2:30 o'clock. A second queen—the football queen—will be seen on this occasion. Visiting high school bands will be heard, in addition to the college band.

In the evening, the interclub council will sponsor a homecoming dance at Burton gymnasium.

Ex-students are being urged to attend the night club "mixer" on Friday evening and remain overnight for Homecoming Day.

Sportsmen Can Get In Jail Now Easy

A sportsman so inclined would not have much trouble landing in jail in Texas.

In addition to the general laws applicable to the entire state, there are 545 applications of special county laws on game, fish, and trapping, according to a compilation made today by J. G. Burr, director of research of the Texas game, fish, and oyster commission.

"That doesn't mean there are 545 separate county laws; one special law may be applicable to several counties. But the applications are the same as laws, so that there are 545 ways of getting in jail, not including the general laws," Burr explained.

There are 212 applications of local laws affecting game, including 20 on squirrels, 20 on quails, 64 on turkeys, 121 on deer and nine on doves, Burr said. A total of 218 applications of local laws affect fresh water fishing, two affect the taking of oysters, and 91 govern trapping.

Virtually all of the state's special county laws have been passed since 1925, Burr said. In that year there were no special game laws, and only seven relating to fish. Most of the present special laws have been passed since 1930. The last regular and special sessions of the legislature contributed 47 special county laws relating to game and fish and one general trapping law.

Many of the special county laws provide closed seasons for various species. Four counties have closed seasons on doves, 15 on quails, 45 on wild turkeys, 54 on deer and 57 on foxes.

The game commission, under present statutes, does not have power to regulate open seasons on any species except ducks and geese.

Mrs. A. E. Messer of Trinidad, Colo., left Thursday last week for a visit in Fort Worth after a visit in Memphis with Mrs. John Bishop.

HOSPITAL HERE CELEBRATES ITS FOUNDING DATE

Doctors Odom, Hyder And Goodall On Regular Staff

The seventh anniversary of the Odom Hospital was observed by the institution last week.

Dr. J. A. Odom of Memphis founded the hospital here on October 9, 1930, at his residence, 804 South Eighth street; and the institution has enjoyed considerable success and growth since.

Despite the recent years of financial stress, the hospital has been enlarged; and it now offers complete X-ray service, with Heindrink Oxygen Tent service.

A chemical laboratory has been added and other modern equipment installed. The hospital is well known over this entire section, and hundreds of patients are treated annually.

Fronting north and east, the building is an imposing structure and boasts one of the most beautiful lawns in the city.

The staff of the Odom Hospital consists of Dr. J. A. Odom, Dr. O. R. Goodall, Dr. D. C. Hyder, and Mrs. Ella Whittenberg, graduate nurse, superintendent.

Less Old Age Assistance After October Is Forecast By Texas Board of Control

Discontinuance of old age assistance after October, or a pro-ration resulting in a sharp reduction in grants, was forecast this week by the Texas Board of Control in an official communication addressed to State Representative Harry N. Graves.

The official statement indicated the possibility that payments to the needy aged might not be made in November, December, January and, probably, in February. Cause of the crisis, as explained by the members of the Board of Control, which is the Old Age Assistance Commission, is that all, or nearly all, of the present available state assistance funds will have to be used to take care of $1,627,000 owed a Dallas bank and due not later than January 1.

Further, it was pointed out, the income from present state sources is $100,000 less each month than Texas funds paid to the needy aged, which necessitates a drastic reduction in the size of the averaged grant. Grants average about $14 per month.

State Physician Speaks on Cancer

"The increasing number of persons in Texas dying from cancer justifies a warning at this time against quacks and so-called cancer cures," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"While newspapers, as a rule, do not carry the cancer type of advertising, there are many other ways for misinformation to reach the public. Undoubtedly there are persons who, being thus de-ceived from seeking proper ad-vice, unnecessarily become cancer victims, while others not having cancer are fleeced out of much money for a cure," Dr. Cox con-tinued.

"There are but two ways of treating cancer. First, by sur-gery; and second, by the use of radium or X-ray. Treatment must be started early and in the hands of a competent surgeon. Sur-gery is relied upon to remove can-cerous tumors and is used in nearly two-thirds of the cases.

X-ray or radium is used to ad-vantage in one-third of the cases, frequently the two methods are combined. Self-medication, se-rums, colored lights, pastes, salves, and diets are valueless.

"The great bulwark against cancer is early diagnosis. Every case is an emergency and it is unfortunate that the majority of those with cancer do not seek medical advice until beyond a permanent cure. No hope should be placed in fake cancer prophets and their treatments. Rather, the annual physical examination and an immediate reporting to your physician of any symptoms which may be suspected to be the be-ginning of a cancer, should be re-lied upon. These symptoms are: any unusual bleeding from any body opening, breast or other any persistent on the face or indigestion. These are not cancer, but are forerunners of cancer. Consult your physician at once," Dr. Cox said.

MOUSE BITES ELEPHANT AND CAR HITS TRAIN, EDITORIAL STATES

The following editorial appeared in the "New Orleans Item" of July 24, 1937: "Railway officials, trying to reduce crossing accidents, wonder if the public has not been misled by years of reading that 'Train Hits Auto—Four Dead.' A recent survey revealed that despite redoubled efforts by the railways, crossing accidents are increasing. Most of them occur at crossings protected by bells, lights, and other devices. "Would it be worth while to remind motorists that auto sometimes hits train. 'Mouse Viciously Assaults Peaceful Elephant' would express the railroader's point of view. The fact that the mouse is almost invariably the party demolished is the mouse's hard luck. "The fact that the motorist is often to blame for the fatal encounter should not be cited to obscure the need for abolishing grade crossings and for full warning equipment as long as we have them. The railways are not trying to evade their own responsibility. They recognize that grade crossings or arterial highways must go, but also that abolition of them on many branch lines and sidings is for the present impracticable. The cost would be prohibitive. "It must be said for the railway train that it never deliberately attacks an automobile. Neither does it deviate from its straight and narrow way to deal destruction and death. It stays on its own track, and asks to be let alone. As much can't be said for many motorists. "Their habitual disregard of warning signals, their recklessness in turning sharply onto blind crossings, and their occasional insanity in trying to beat a train to a crossing can be headlined aptly as 'Fools Commit Suicide.' "The September issue of the National Safety News contained the following along a somewhat similar vein: "In approximately 79 per cent of the highway-railroad grade crossing accidents that occurred the past year, the train speed was less than 40 miles per hour, according to a bulletin of the Association of American Railroads quoted by the 'Traffic World.' "This confirms the conviction held by many railroad workers that the train that hardly exceeds the snail in speed is the one that kills most human beings at grade crossings, if not elsewhere. "It may be that 79 per cent of the killings are by slow trains because that percentage of all trains may be classed as 'slow,' but even a mixed train on a branch line should command the motorist's respect. "Joe C. Webster went Tuesday to take his mother, Mrs. D. P. Webster, to Mineral Wells, where they will spend an indefinite time. Mrs. John Ewen of Estaline was a visitor in Memphis Tuesday. FORD'S ANNUAL USED CAR SALE OF WIDE INTEREST TO NATION

Ford car dealers in Memphis and all over the United States are looking forward with anticipation to the announcement expected to be made the latter part of this month or the first of November concerning the new model Ford for 1938.

Not a word has been heard about what the new models will be like, but we are not looking for any radical changes to be made in the new Fords, Ed Foxhall of the Foxhall Motor Company, local Ford agency, stated. He pointed out that he feels there is little to be done to make the popular-priced automobile almost perfect.

"Although Ford is not announcing a new model at this time, Ford dealers over the entire nation this month are joining in the annual nation-wide used car clearance sale, which in itself is of almost equal interest to a new model announcement," Foxhall stated.

The annual Ford used car sale in Memphis has been announced as starting this week-end.

The Studebaker Dealer Convention, with six thousand delegates, is the largest ever recorded in history of the automobile industry . . . After presentation of new models, each dealer and salesman drove home a 1938 Studebaker, insuring plenty of actual first hand knowledge . . . Captain Eyston's new speed wagon, with which he will attempt to beat Sir Malcolm Campbell's record, has a Rolls engine of 3,250 horsepower . . . and has four steering wheels . . . It is reported the Mexican government is flirting with the idea of building and operating an automobile plant . . . Optional equipment, we suppose, to include cactus-proof tires, donkey catchers on the front, and a stake body to take care of pigs, dogs, beloved by traveling Mexicans.

1938 Oldsmobiles Offer 'New Driving Sensa'

MODELS WILL BE DISPLAYED AT POTTS CO.

Safety Transmission One of Highlights Of Oldsmobiles

Oldsmobile today announced its 41st series of cars, the Oldsmobile Six and the Oldsmobile Eight for 1938.

Distinctively different in appearance and styling, the two cars will be on display next week at Potts Chevrolet Company, local Oldsmobile dealer.

Both the Six and Eight present much that is new in performance and mechanical design and both now offer as an extra-cost option the new automatic safety transmission, developed and introduced by Oldsmobile. This new development, regarded as one of the major automotive advancements of modern motoring, was first offered as optional equipment on the Oldsmobile Eight of last year.

Among other features of particular interest is the new Oldsmobile safety instrument unit and safety dash, a departure in the modern manner from the conventional type of instrument panel. The safety panel, free of projecting knobs, is but one of many details which contribute toward passenger security in the redesigned interiors of the new Oldsmobiles. Safety glass, of course, is standard throughout. A choice of new upholstery fabrics is available, tailored to the deep cushions in an effective pleated treatment.

Individual Styling

As was the case in the 1937 Oldsmobiles, the designers have preserved complete individuality in styling the new Six and Eight. Body lines are lower and cleaner than before. Fenders are unusually wide, deeply balanced and of heavier gauge metal than in previous models. Bullet-type headlamps are mounted low on the crowns of the front fenders. While the headlamps appear to the eye as part of the fenders themselves, actually the headlamps are demountable for economy's sake in case of fender damage.

The first major point of difference that strikes the eye in distinguishing the Six from the Eight, is the sharp contrast in the smart front end designs of the two cars. The radiator grille of the Six employs heavy, die-cast horizontal louvers, recessed deeply and plated in bright chrome. The grille of the Eight, however, is a single massive die-casting with two narrow horizontal bars, alternating with a single bar of somewhat greater width. The grilles of both cars taper in a graceful "V" to meet the fender aprons which sweep in an unbroken line, relieved only by slotted louvers across the base of the aprons.

An entirely new type of hood louver has been developed to provide

1938 Oldsmobile Eight Four-Door Touring Sedan

As was the case in the 1937 Oldsmobiles, the designers have preserved complete individuality in styling the new Six and Eight. Body lines are lower and cleaner than before. Bullet-type lines are illustrated in the headlamps mounted low on the crowns of the front fenders. Smart new front ends are the results of the tapering "V" of the radiator grilles. New type hood louvers have been developed to provide invisible outlets for engine heat, while preserving the simplicity of the lines, invisible outlets for escape of engine heat while preserving hood lines of unbroken simplicity. This result is achieved by carrying the body moulding forward along the hood and extending it slightly out from the side. The louver opening is concealed in the bottom surface of this moulding extension. A new "fender to hood" treatment entirely eliminates the gutter which formerly was a source of wind noise.

Rugged Features

Bumpers, front and rear, are of exceptionally heavy construction and carry dual bumper guards, the entire assembly being plated in chrome. Running boards are independently mounted and made of moulded rubber which conceals a built-in aerial, should radio installation be desired. New combination tail and stop lamps mark the rear termination of the body moulding. Rear fender and body contours have been further smoothed and simplified to reduce wind drag.

Interior detail has been redesigned in all body models. Most interesting among the changes is the new safety dash with a raised safety instrument panel which centers all gauges in direct line with the vision of the driver and at a height which minimizes distraction from the road. Made from a single composition casting, the instrument unit carries a dial-type speedometer flanked on either side by the gauges for water temperature, charging rate, oil pressure, and fuel supply.

A large dial at the extreme left of the instrument unit controls a light switch that indicates which of the driving beams is in use. When the upper or highway driving beam is on, a pin point of light glows at the top of the speedometer as a reminder to the driver to "dip" the lights when traffic approaches. Incidentally, larger headlamps and new type reflectors effect a definite improvement in road illumination. The change from driving beam to passing beam is controlled by a toe button on the floor board. Provision is made at the right side of the instrument unit for installation of radio controls which correspond in design to the light control at the other end of the unit.

Battery Change

A radical change has been made in one important detail—the location of the battery. A long, narrow battery of the "end to end" type replaces the conventional battery and is located alongside the engine under the car hood, accessible to service without disturbing the car occupants. The new location permits use of such short battery cables that line loss has been reduced to a marked degree. As a result, the battery cranks the car considerably faster than it would if placed in the conventional location, a factor of importance in cold weather starting. A duct extending from the front of the motor compartment carries cooling air through the battery container, maintaining low battery temperature in warm weather.

Although both the Six and Eight are unusually fast and responsive when equipped with conventional transmissions, they attain even higher peaks of performance when equipped with the Oldsmobile automatic safety transmission. This transmission also contributes importantly to both driving ease and operating economy, the latter resulting from a fourth gear direct drive which reduces the number of motor revolutions and improves fuel economy by 18 to 20 per cent.

Operation is extremely simple. Control is by a short lever on the steering column. There are four positions for the control lever: Neutral; first forward (first and second gears); second forward in the third or pickup gear, he may do so merely by holding the accelerator all the way down. The accelerator at road speed of 60 m.p.h., at which speed there is an automatic change to fourth. If it is desired to move back from fourth to the third gear for hill climbing or quick pick-up in traffic, the driver, at any road speed below 55 m.p.h., may go into that gear instantly by fully depressing the accelerator pedal. On down grades, the driver may flick the control from second to first forward position, thus employing second gear as a decelerating force. "This automatic safety transmission, which was offered only after five years of development and testing, represents one of the most important contributions that Oldsmobile has made to modern motoring," asserts C. L. McCuen, general manager.

The wheelbases of the Six and Eight respectively are 117 inches and 124 inches. The Six develops 95 horsepower and the Eight 110 horsepower. Each car is offered in seven distinctive new body types by Fisher; the Two Door Sedan; Two Door Touring Sedan with trunk; Four Door Sedan; Four Door Touring Sedan with trunk; Business Coupe; Club Coupe; and Convertible Coupe. All closed Oldsmobiles are built with seamless steel turret tops and Fisher Unisteel body construction.

Chevrolet Fittings Always Stylish

Nothing more than a "hint" of the new body lines of the 1938 Chevrolet have been made public. No pictures have been distributed, even to the newspapers. But, the public can be assured that, as usual, the fittings and appointments of the '38 Chevrolet will be the latest in the way of style. As illustrated above, the Chevrolet is always roomy and stylish inside.

Chrysler Dealers See New Models in Regional Meetings

Chrysler's 1938 line was formally presented to the dealer body in a series of one-day meetings that began September 29 in a few of the 36 cities on the schedule and that was completed by October 12.

At this time, distributors and dealers and their salesmen and service representatives assembled in these 36 key points to see the new cars and to hear the story of the many changes and improvements made in the line. To secure uniformity in the presentations and insure that the story will be told in a complete and interesting manner, sound films were used.

Although body styles were on view in each meeting to convey an adequate idea of the merchandise with which Chrysler dealers will seek further increases over the record-breaking sales of 1937, Joseph W. Frazer, vice president in charge of sales of the Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation, in discussing the recent meetings said: "We feel sure that our dealer body will greet the 1938 line with the greatest enthusiasm in our history. Our own conviction that we had produced the most attractive and saleable cars ever to bear the Chrysler name was strengthened by the reception given these cars when we showed them to our Chrysler 100 Club a short time ago. This club comprises the 100 best Chrysler salesmen in the country, based on the records of the years from June 30, 1936, to July 1, 1937. Many of them have made the select circle three times in a row. Surely this group is as well qualified as any to appraise the merits of a motor car. They are the boys on the firing line—the infantry in the sales battle. It may be before we have seen salesmen so enthusiastic as they were over the cars of which their earnings will depend for the coming year.

"The same reaction was given by our field force from all over the country when we assembled it in Detroit a few days ago. Here again was an expert and critical group, one whose success must largely depend on the character of the merchandise we supply the dealers. Like the 100 Club members they had nothing but praise for the appearance and mechanical excellence of the new cars.

"I am not at liberty to reveal any of the details of the 1938 line. That must await our formal announcement later in the month. But I can say that all of our cars are going to be bigger, that they will have new and larger engines that give superior performance with amazing economy and that they will have more eye appeal—more of all the things that make a person want to buy a car just from seeing it.

"So confident are we that this new line will set new sales records that we have enlarged and improved our production facilities in the Chrysler Division. We not only have increased and rearranged manufacturing space, but we have taken care of a greatly increased production schedule, but we have introduced or perfected processes that will enable us to turn out this much larger number of cars with higher standards of precision than ever before. The new Chrysler not only are better than ever in design but they will last even longer and give even more satisfactory and economical service."

Locals and Personals

Mrs. T. N. Copeland and Mrs. G. C. Ewing of Estelline were among visitors in Memphis last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Walker of Berger spent last week-end in Memphis with his father, W. M. Walker, and with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Easterling.

Mrs. A. Womack and Mrs. Harry Womack visited in Lelia Lake and Clarendon last Thursday with Mrs. Sam Roberts and Mrs. Ralph Andis.

Mrs. Sam McAdams of Amarillo, state cosmetology inspector, spent Thursday of last week in Memphis inspecting the different beauty shops.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Partain are spending this week visiting relatives in Childress and Nocona during Mr. Partain's vacation. He is lookkeeper at the West Texas Utilities Co. Mrs. Partain's father, W. A. Ross, of Nocona came for them Saturday.

Engineering Performance To Be Sales Point For Several 1938 Model Autos

Automobile manufacturers of 1938 will base their sales appeal for new models on individual items of engineering performance, the body designs and exterior styling having been changed but little, news sources have announced from Detroit.

There will be less heard about streamlined contours and fancy grilles, with more about engine improvements, transmission development, better ventilation, spring suspensions, and other constructive features.

Of course, very little is known of the new Ford and Chevrolet models, which are of wide interest in this district.

Packard, it is reported, is emphasizing many improvements. In its junior line, wheels have been completely isolated from the body and frame by the generous use of rubber. Also employed in the junior line is a unique suspension, using a controlled friction leaf spring in combination with a special hookup of shock absorbers, sway bar and rear stabilizer.

All the Packard lines have thermostatically-controlled radiator shutters as standard to car owners and service stations is the redesigned lubricating system which requires attention only at intervals of 5,000 miles.

Willys, almost the only four-cylinder car left on the market, points to provision for added protection against dust and heat (of interest in this section) by a new type of hood sealing.

The Willys chassis improvements include a faster steering gear ratio, which promises to add materially to driving ease, and a change in the low and intermediate gear ratios, giving additional flexibility and power on heavy grades. The Willys continues to feature the Tillotson down-draft carburetor.

Nash promises to receive special notice from prospective buyers for its conditioned air system for winter driving. Nash engineers declare that, with their new equipment, it will be possible to drive a car in sub-zero weather, yet maintain a changing supply of fresh air at constant temperatures, controlled by the driver.

The immediate public reaction to the Nash idea is expected to influence other companies in offering air conditioning equipment for their own models.

One of the major General Motors units will follow the example of Oldsmobile in providing improved transmission at slight extra cost. The new transmission will shift itself once the car is under way. The controls will be located just under the wheel, on the steering post, thus eliminating the gear shift lever.

Blowout dangers promise to be greatly reduced by a new suspension employed by Buick. Under proving ground tests, a front wheel blowout required only a slight deflection of the steering wheel, while with a rear tire blowout no additional steering correction was needed.

Hudson will offer improvement in its selective automatic gear shift. Having pioneered with the "electric hand" for easy transmission action, Hudson again will stress this feature.

Other manufacturers are following for 1938 an idea that Hudson introduced a year ago, placing the battery in a ventilated compartment under the hood. This makes the battery more accessible for servicing and also provides adequate cooling and ventilation.

Performance claims of the new hantam car, which will be manufactured in the plant formerly occupied at Butler, Pa., by the Austin Car Company, include: Sixty miles on a gallon of gasoline, a speed of 60 miles an hour, an operating cost of less than three-fourths of a cent per mile for gasoline, oil, and tires.

The over-all length of the hantam will be 120 inches. It will carry a four-cylinder, 20-horsepower engine mounted on rubber with a three-point suspension chassis. The fuel tank will have a capacity of five gallons.

DIVERSIFIED FARMING THE ANSWER?

WE ARE BEGINNING to share an opinion held by our county farm agent that farmers of the South will in time have to turn to diversified farming if they are to continue operation.

It looks as though the United States' strangle-hold on the world market for cotton has become a thing of the past. Although we are opposed to the idea, it seems as though cotton acreage must be cut if any sort of price is to be maintained.

This, then, will force the land to be used for other purposes. Feed, livestock, and poultry will have to take the place of some of the cotton acreage. We know several farmers this year who are making more money on their milk cows than they are on their cotton crops.

If too many farmers go in for dairying, the butter and milk markets will break, the same as with poultry and livestock. So it seems that farmers of this section will have to farm for home consumption, keeping enough cows for their own use, raising chickens and turkeys in a small way, planting extra acres of feed, keeping a few hogs, and raising a horse or mule along.

Cotton, then, would be the cash crop, as it is now; but if the cotton market fell the farmer would still make a living from his farm.

"When every farmer in the South shall eat bread from his own fields and meat from his own pastures, and, disturbed by no creditors and enslaved by no debt, shall sit among his teeming gardens and orchards and vineyards and his dairies and barnyards, pitching his crops in his own wisdom and growing them in independence, making cotton his clean surplus, and selling it in his own time in his own chosen market and not at a master's bidding, getting his pay in cash and not in a receipted mortgage that discharges his debt but does not restore his freedom—then shall be breaking the fullness of our day."

FOOTBALL FEVER HITS MEMPHIS

FOLLOWERS of the Memphis High School Cyclone football team are becoming rabid grid fans these days and are harboring visions of a district championship, despite the dark clouds hovering over in the Wellington, McLean, and Shamrock country.

Memphis business men met at the high school building last week and organized a "sideline gang" to boost the team and to create interest and enthusiasm, and they are doing just that.

Memphis has always been known as a football town, whether the teams were winning or losing. In the past we've cheered such players as Hubert Dennis, Walter Massey, Emmitt Walker, "Pest" Martindale, Bonnie Cohen, Lee May, J. W. West, Tug Sanders, Jack Norman, Ollie Lee, James Hammond, Curtis Bourland, Herbert May, Hiram Crawford, Chesty Walker, and scores of others.

Now we're cheering this year's stars, and they look as good to us as the stars of the past.

The Cyclone grid team plays the McLean Tigers at the Memphis stadium Friday night of this week. The game will be a good one, and close. Memphis citizens should pack the local stadium full this week in backing their team and school.

COUNTY'S HISTORICAL MARKER

THE DEMOCRAT has been requested to bring to the attention of the public the need for providing access to the county's historical marker, which was erected along with markers in other Texas counties last year for the Centennial.

It is safe to say that not one person in ten knows the whereabouts of the historical marker. It is at the side of the road on Highway 5 a short distance southeast of Memphis.

A road, 40 yards or so in length, should be provided to run past the historical slab so that tourists and local citizens might view the marker.

AFTER FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

MEMPHIS joined with the rest of the nation last week in observing Fire Prevention Week, and so far as most of us are concerned thought of fire prevention is now over until Fire Prevention Week next year.

A new bulletin issued by the National Board of Fire Underwriters points out that a large proportion of all fires occur in homes, that home fires are responsible for about one-half of the total loss of life from fire, and that scientific dwelling house inspection can eliminate most hazards.

Fire departments in various cities have inaugurated campaigns to cut down home fires through annual inspections. Co-operation of the public is, of course, essential. Local chambers of commerce can aid by appointing committees to deal with the problem and acquainting residents with the need for inspection. Newspaper publicity can also be invaluable in pointing out that the inspections, far from being just a nuisance, are in the interest of everyone. Women's clubs and school teachers can likewise help the good work.

An excellent follow-up of the Fire Prevention Week would be the inauguration of a yearly home inspection plan.

Trail Dust
 A thick mist, like the dust of doom, belched at intervals from surly clouds and drifted across the muddy ruts before a petulant norther. It froze quickly into a soft sleet on the windshield of my reluctant car, and the wind tore the oilcloth curtains loose from their bailing-wire moorings. The road seemed as two endless brown strands clinging to eerie hills scattered over an ominous Sunday afternoon. We were on our way home for the weather was not auspicious to romancing.
 At an intersection of a faint, dismal road, we were hailed by a group of workmen bearing an injured man, requiring medical attention. He was a thin man with sunken eyes who whimpered when they placed him in the back seat. The leg of his mud-covered overalls had been slit to the knee and a splinter of the broken bone was cutting through the skin; blood was running into his shoe. Pain lay on his face as fear in the eyes of a beaten animal, and each jostle in the long, rough road brought another tear to the brink of his rough cheek. Before the journey had ended he said, "It was Sunday and I didn't want to work today."—Douglas Meador in Matorador Tribune.

New Manager Is Named For Area Security Office

AMARILLO, Oct. 13.—Appointment of Dewey I. Reed as manager of the Amarillo field office of the Social Security Board has been announced by Oscar M. Powell, regional director of the Board at San Antonio.

Reed has been in government service since 1933, and was in the Amarillo regional office of the Soil Conservation Service from the time it was opened in December, 1935, until he was appointed by the Social Security Board last August. Reed succeeds Malcolm A. George, who has been transferred to the Wichita Falls office as manager.

The Amarillo field office, located at 1012 Oliver-Eagle Building, has as one of its functions the assignment of social security account numbers. Workers throughout the Amarillo territory who have not yet applied for account numbers may obtain application forms and assistance in filling them out from their local postmasters. These forms, after being executed, should be forwarded to the Amarillo Social Security Board office, where cards will be typed and returned to the applicants.

At present, the Amarillo service area includes the following counties: Armstrong, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Childress, Collingsworth, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Gray, HALL, Hutchinson, Lipscomb, Moore, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher, Wheeler, Bailey, Cochran, Cottle, Crosby, Dickens, Fisher, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Hockley, King, Kent, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley, Scurry, Stone-wall, Terry, and Yoakum.

In assuming management of the office here, Reed said an intensive effort would be made to inform eligible persons as to their rights and the procedures necessary in filing of claims for lump-sum benefits, now due many workers and estates of deceased workers under old-age insurance provisions of the Social Security Act.

"Up to now, only 13 claims have been filed through the Amarillo office, although 780 claims would be filed in this service area during the year 1937," Reed said.

The small number of claims filed was attributed to the general lack of information concerning this type of benefit and to the fact that amounts of these claims up to now have been relatively small.

All employments in the ordinary commercial and industrial fields are covered by the old-age insurance provisions of the Social Security Act. Workers in such employments who have reached the age of 65 since January 1, 1937, and estates of workers who have died during 1937 are eligible to file claims for lump-sum benefits. These benefits amount to 31-2 per cent of the wages received by workers from employments covered by the Act up to attainment of age 65 or death.

Since the Amarillo office was opened, several lump-sum benefits have been paid to workers and estates in this service area, and it was pointed out that as wages accumulate to the credit of workers, the lump-sum claims constantly will become more valuable.

Monthly benefits will not be paid until 1942. At that time,

SHELTERBELT HEADS VISIT TURKEY AREA

Hall County Strip Is One of Outstanding In United States

TURKEY—State and national shelterbelt officials visited the outstanding shelterbelt project in the United States at Turkey last Friday and were reported as impressed with the rapid growth of the trees during their first year.

The shelterbelt project at Turkey takes in 50 miles of trees planted last spring, with the loss being less than five per cent. A number of the trees show a growth of from six to 10 feet.

According to district shelterbelt officials at Childress, more than 100 miles have been contracted to be planted to trees in this section this fall. Some of this will be in Briscoe County to connect with the strip near Turkey.

Among those in the party to visit the Turkey strips last Friday were G. C. Cook of Washington, D. C., chief of the division of private forestry in the U. S. Service; W. R. Ihanfeldt of the forestry service at Lincoln, Neb.; W. F. Webb, state director from Wichita Falls; J. R. Nelson, state director of Oklahoma; E. A. Kemp of Childress, supervisor of the shelterbelts work in this district; and Jack Burt of Childress, field supervisor for this area.

LARGE GAIN IN COTTON CROP OF NATION IS SEEN

Government Estimate Places 1937 Yield As Next To Largest in History

A government forecast was announced last Friday that this year's cotton crop will be the second largest in the history of the nation. The federal crop report predicted a yield of 17,575,000 bales. This would be exceeded only by the 1926 crop of 17,977,000 bales.

The new estimate, based on October 1 conditions, was 1,475,000 bales above the board's forecast a month ago. Crop board veterans said the increase was the largest ever registered in a single month. They attributed it to almost perfect weather, a record high yield per acre, and little damage by insect pest.

The high forecast drove the price of cotton down.

Mrs. D. T. Eddins, Mrs. T. N. Copeland, and Mrs. Walter Labay were among visitors in Memphis Monday from Estelina.

County Has High Grade and Staple For New Ginnings

Hall County area cotton ginned this season through Thursday, October 7, graded over 55 per cent White Middling or above and had only 18.8 per cent below seven-eighths inch in staple.

All grades: White, Good Middling and above, 3.4 per cent; White, Strict Middling, 32.6 per cent; White, Middling, 19.1 per cent; White, Strict Low Middling, 4.1 per cent; White, Low Middling, .8 per cent; White, Strict Good Ordinary and Good Ordinary, .1; Spotted, Good Middling, 3.2; Spotted, Strict Middling, 25.9; Spotted, Middling, 9; Spotted, Strict Low Middling and Low Middling, 1.7; Tinged, Stained, and Gray, .1.

All staple lengths: Shorter than 7-8, 18.8 per cent; 7-8 and 29-32, 63.8 per cent; 15-16 and 31-32, 16.3 per cent; 1 and 1-1-32, 1 per cent; 1-1-16 and 1-3-32, .1 per cent.

Rather high grades of cotton continue to be reported from Texas ginnings during the past few weeks, according to recent reports of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. The staple length, however, has averaged somewhat shorter as the season progressed.

Slightly over one-fourth of the cotton classed this week was White Strict Middling and above, with a similar proportion shown for White Middling. These are slightly larger proportions than those reported for the previous week.

For the season to date, almost one-third has been of each of these grade groups which also compares closely with that of the same period last year.

So far this season, White Strict Low Middling and Low Middling represents 13 per cent of that classed; all Spotted grades represent nearly 23 per cent as against 17 per cent last season.

To date this season, approximately 14 per cent of the crop is shown to be shorter than 7-8 inch in staple compared with nearly 11 per cent to corresponding date last season. The staples from 7-8 inch to 31-32 inch represent 79 per cent, and one inch and longer staples constituted 16 per cent.

Memphis Gridders Defeat Wheeler Mustangs Friday

CYCLONE WINS 3RD STRAIGHT CONFERENCE GO

Most of Game Played in Rain; Score of 8 to 0 Is Made

In a rain-drenched game, the Memphis Cyclone took the Wheeler Mustangs in stride on the Wheeler turf last Friday night for the third straight conference win of the season.

Although the final count stood at 8-0 in Memphis' favor, Coach Frank Hubbell's boys were at least three touchdowns better than the conference champions of last year.

Memphis' rugged forward wall held the Wheeler team helpless throughout the fray. Only a dozen or so yards were made through the Cyclone line in the entire game, and not a first down was made by Wheeler until late in the game when the Mustangs took to the air despite the slippery ball.

Rain Thins Crowd
Fumbles were few in spite of the fact that rain began falling late in the second quarter and continued throughout the remainder of the game. The downpour sent a large part of the crowd scuttling homeward, but the large delegation of Memphis boosters, headed by the pep squad and band, stayed to see the locals strong-arm a touchdown in the fourth quarter to salt the game away on the win side.

Wheeler's defense was nothing to write home about, and Hall and Pounds found little difficulty in skipping through it for gains of six, eight, and ten yards out in mid-field. But down around the goal line it was something else again, and Memphis found it difficult to get across the pay-off stripe. Poor blocking, a penalty or two, and a fumble or two helped stem the Cyclone goal-line drives as much as the Wheeler tackling did.

Hall Stands Out
In the games heretofore this season it's been Pounds, but against Wheeler it was Hall. The 150-pound Black and Gold full-back was the main cog in the local offensive machine, reeling off yardage almost every time he took the ball. But Quarterback Pounds didn't play poorly himself, backing up the line and driving off guard and tackle.

Hall, recognized as the best passer in the district, tossed the wet, slippery ball with great accuracy, but the receivers could not hold it.

Line Plays Well
The entire Memphis team played well, if blocking is to be overlooked. Evans and Montgomery did not have any trouble in holding down the ends, and the big tackles, Harris and Sanders, had a gala night. Dodson and Clark more than cared for their guard berths, and Robertson, as usual, stood out as a roving center. Foster and Lindsey, halves, looked good, although they did not carry the ball much.

Hagenzieer, J. R. Sanders, Dewlen, the Bruce brothers, and Brannon appeared to play as well as the starters.

Scores Safety
Memphis scored two points early in the first quarter on a safety. Hall took the opening kick-off to his 35. A five-yard gain was offset by a penalty, and Pounds quick-kicked over the safety on second down. Montgomery shot down the field and killed the ball on Wheeler's two-yard line, the punt traveling 63 yards. A. Weeks stood behind his own goal line to kick, but Robertson streaked through and blocked the punt, the ball hitting him squarely in the face. Wheeler recovered in the end zone for a safety.

Weeks kicked from his 20 to the 50. From there Lindsey took the ball around right end for a 15-yard pickup. Hall got a first down at right end, the ball on the Mustang 25. Hall sliced through right tackle for nine, and Pounds rammed right tackle for four, but a 15-yard penalty set the locals back and they were unable to make a first down.

Groves and Green got three in as many drives into the line. Weeks booted to the Memphis 40. Pounds and Hall picked up a first through the line as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter
Wheeler drew the ball when passes were incomplete to Pounds and Evans. Wheeler was unable to gain and punted to Memphis on the Cyclone 40. Hall made three at right tackle and 10 through the center of the line for a first down. Pounds drove into right tackle for five, and Hall slipped through center for 10 and another first.

Pounds got four at right guard, and Hall ploughed eight yards to the Mustangs' nine-yard line for a first down. Hall cracked center for two, right tackle for three, and right guard for one. Pounds hit right guard for no gain, and Wheeler took the ball on their four-yard line. Weeks kicked behind his goal and kicked out to the 87. Memphis' passing attack floundered in the rain, and the Mustangs took the ball on their 20 after the kick. The half ended as Sanders nailed Green for a two-yard loss.

Fumble Is Costly
Memphis opened the second half with a threat. Hall and Pounds bucked the ball to the Mustangs' 15-yard line, where Hall fumbled. The Cyclone held, and Weeks kicked to the 40. The Cyclone attack was halted when Wheeler intercepted a pass on his 35-yard line. The Mustangs were held there, and Weeks kicked to mid-field. Memphis failed to make a first down, and Pounds kicked to the Wheeler five-yard line, where Evans killed the ball. Wheeler tried a pass, which was broken up by Robertson; and then Weeks booted out to the 30 as the quarter ended.

The Cyclone put on a drive as the final quarter opened, Hall reeling off gains through the center of the line for first downs. Hall made a first down on the Mustang 15-yard marker and picked up three on the next play. Memphis' chance to score dimmed when the Cyclone drew a penalty. With the ball on the 18-yard line and with Memphis leading 2 to 0, Sanders was called back to attempt a field goal. The kick was not good, and Wheeler took the ball on her 20.

Mustangs Pass
The Mustangs then opened with a passing attack which failed to pay off when Lindsey intercepted a heave and returned to the opponents' 20. Evans missed a pass, and Hall went through right guard for eight. Pounds ripped through right guard for a first down on the Mustang eight-yard stripe. Pounds got four at center and two through guard. Hall then drove through right guard for a touchdown. Sanders missed the try for conversion. Score, 8-0.

Pitcock returned Robertson's kick to the 37, and Wheeler opened a passing attack. Weeks passed to Pickett for 13 and a first down, and then Weeks hit right tackle for five yards. A pass was good for six yards and another first down. The Mustang offense, however, was halted when Hagenzieer went into the air and brought down an enemy aerial on Memphis' 30. Hall made eight through the line and then cracked tackle for five and a first down. He picked up four more as the game ended. Final score, 8-0.

Mrs. Bertha Padgett, who underwent an operation at a local hospital last Friday, is doing well according to reports.

Safe Auto Racing Gets Contribution From Speed Champ

The new Speed King, Wilbur Shaw, who set a new record at the 1937 Indianapolis Auto Speedway classic has broken countless records and accordingly has been given many titles and nicknames.

One of the most interesting titles was tacked on his name in 1933 when he appeared at the Indianapolis track wearing a shiny red helmet as bright as fire. He was instantly termed the "Bean Brummel" of race drivers and was the subject of ridicule by some.

The helmet, which resembled the British lancer's gear and was of hard composition material, has since become the standard equipment for all race drivers by ruling of the American Automobile Association. As it is more or less "jar proof" it is credited with having greatly lessened fatalities during accidents.

So, thanks to Speed King Wilbur Shaw, what at first appeared ridiculous has since contributed to the safety of auto racing. Whether it is a question of dodging what is a "weir" or what to eat, Shaw's judgment is always sound.
