U. S. Annexes Isles as Air Route Links

ITALIAN FORCE MOVES INTO ETHIOPIA

England May Revise German Treaties Is Report

Italy's Somaliland army this morning was announced to be moving up the Webbe Shibeli valley, in the direction of Harrar. All military objectives in the area are being bombed from the air, to clear the way for the advancing troops of Mussolini.

A communique announces the capture of Callafo and Celedi, two villages in the Sciaveli region, following the fall of Dagnerrei.

King George, of England, in ending Parliament, expressed "the gravest concern" over the Italo-Ethiopian conflict and its possible consequences.

Diplomatic circles in Paris are agog over reports from London that Great Britain is considering the revision of treaties favoring Germany, as a result of Germany's stand in the East African struggle.

President Says AAA Permanent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—President Roosevelt today sought to point the farm program away from an "emergency" application to a "long term" plan, asserting that the latter was "developing naturally out of the present adjustment efforts."

He said it was not the intention of the Congressional "farmers of the A. A. A., or its administrators, to let it be either a mere emergency operation or a static agency."

He continued that the program has two principal objectives: the maintenance of increase gains made thus far, and the broadening of present operations, so as to give farmers increasing incentives for conservation and efficient use of soil resources.

Referendum on Corn and Hogs Is to be Conducted Tomorrow

Four Polling Places Designated In County

Four polling places where Hall County farmers can cast their votes in the nation-wide corn-hog referendum tomorrow have been set up in the county, it is announced by James A. Jackson, Hall County agricultural agent.

Only one question will be on the ballot: Are you in favor of a corn-hog adjustment program to follow the 1935 program which expires on November 30, 1935? All operators and owners, or their official representatives, of farms which produced corn or hogs in 1934 or 1935 may vote whether they signed 1934 or 1935 corn-hog contracts or not. Each eligible person is entitled only to one vote.

The schedule of the polling places, which will be open from 10:00 A. M. to 4:00 P. M., together with the corn-hog committeemen who will be in charge, is as follows: county agent's office, Memphis, D. A. Neley in charge; Del Wells' Market, Lakeview, with H. S. Gardenhire in charge; Palace Drug, Estelline, with John W. Ewen in charge; Turkey, John B. Bush in charge.

County results of the referendum will be wired to state headquarters at College Station by Monday noon, and the state results, in turn, will be sent to Washington by Tuesday.

Officials of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration point out that unless a sufficient number of farmers vote favorably, Adjustment Administration point:

CYCLONE PLAYS COLD SPELL IS AT SHAMROCK TONIGHT

Band and Pep Squad Will Accompany The Team

The Memphis Hi Cyclone tonight, on the Shamrock gridiron will decide their destiny as a contender for the district title, when they meet the Irishmen in a game which decides whether the local squad stays in the race, or is merely one of the "also-rans."

If the Cyclone wins tonight, and the Irishmen beat McLean November 22, the three teams will be in a three-cornered tie for the title, providing all win their other games of the season, which see probable.

The band, the pep squad and the drum corps will accompany the team to Shamrock, and a good delegation of rooters also plan to go over for this crucial contest.

Further details of the game will be found in the sports column.

BROKEN WITH NO FREEZE

Rainfall Yesterday Registered .57 Inches

Clearing skies and a climbing temperature greeted Memphis this morning as the city emerged from the first real cold spell of the winter.

All day yesterday the temperature hovered around the 44 degree mark, and a drizzling rain came down almost all day, the combination of dampness and cold making the day decidedly unpleasant.

This morning dawned with the sun peeping out occasionally, but clouds again soon covered the sky, and it was not until after 11 o'clock that the sun came out, as the skies cleared and this afternoon bids fair to be pleasant, but cool.

The fear of either a freeze or heavy frost was unfounded, as the temperature last night did not drop lower than 40 degrees, and no frost appeared.

Rainfall during the day yesterday and last night, according to the government gauge here, was .67 of an inch.

Acquaintances Say Pierson Sane

AUSTIN, Oct. 25.—The State today pitted testimony of Howard Pierson's fellow laborers in the East Texas oil fields and his Austin acquaintances against that of medical experts who testified that he was insane.

Miss Florence Butler, former student of Texas University, who roomed at Judge Pierson's home at the time of the slaying, and G. N. Stovall, oil company warehouseman, both said that young Pierson was sane.

The Weather

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday; warmer Saturday and in north and west tonight.

EAST TEXAS: Mostly cloudy and unsettled, with occasional rains in northwest and north-central portions tonight and Saturday; warmer Saturday and in northwest tonight.

CELEBRATION

WE believe the directors of the Hall County Old Settlers Association are wise in laying plans for the 1936 Old Settlers Reunion so far ahead, and also in affiliating with the Centennial Celebration.

With the publicity the local event will receive from the Centennial literature and publicity, there are no doubt hundreds of ex-citizen of the county who plan to attend the Centennial Exposition who will include the local celebration on their itinerary, and arrange their vacation plans accordingly.

Memphis, especially since the discontinuance of the county fair, needs an outstanding yearly celebration of some nature, and the annual old settlers reunion could easily be made such an affair.

We are heartily in accord with the plans of the directors of the association to make the 1936 reunion one to be long remembered. There is no reason why the event should not be made one of two or three days, instead of just one, and also one which will appeal to the public at large, instead of just to the pioneers.

Of course, the pioneers and their entertainment should always be the primary consideration, but the expansion of the event into one of real interest to everyone would not interfere with this main purpose of the affair.

We bespeak for the association the unanimous support of our people, our business interest and our organization, in making the 1936 Hall County Old Settlers Reunion a real celebration.

With the time we will have to plan, organize and

Looking Over the Prospects

The GOLDEN FEATHER

by Robert Bruce © 1935 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JEAN DUNN, secretary to DONALD MONTAGUE, lawyer, delays her answer when BOBBY WALLACE, young automobile salesman, asks Jean to marry him. At The Golden Feather night club Jean meets SANDY HARKINS, whose business connection is vague. She also meets LARRY GLENN, federal agent. Larry is trying to locate WINGY LEWIS. Bobby arranges to sell some bonds for Lewis. He tells them to Jean's employer.

A few days later Sandy learns police are looking for him in connection with a robbery. He confides this to Jean and she goes with him to police headquarters to establish an alibi for him at the time of the holdup.

Sandy asks Jean to marry him. She agrees to give him an answer after she returns from a vacation in her home town.

Larry locates some stolen bonds and questions Sonny BOYD, gambler, about them. Boyd confesses he bought them from Donald Montague.

Larry sets out to find Bobby. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIX

When Larry Glenn arrived at the sales rooms of the State Auto Sales, Inc., he found that Bobby Wallace was out with a prospect, and he had to wait for more than an hour before the young man returned. When Bobby finally did come in, he came over to Larry with a smile and an outstretched hand.

Larry shook his hand and said quietly, "Bobby, I've got to have a little talk with you. Can you come outside for a while and put over the reunion, it can be made the biggest event we have ever enjoyed.

perch in my car with me?"

"Why, sure. What's up?"
"Tell you when we get outside." They walked to where Larry's car was parked and got into the front seat. There Larry sat for a moment, frowning at the instrument panel, while Bobby looked at him slowly rising bewilderment.

"Bobby," said Larry at last, "I think you've just done the most foolish thing of your whole life, and I want you to tell me everything you can remember about it."

Bobby looked at him in utter wonder.

"What on earth—" he began. "Tell me," said Larry, "all about those bonds you sold to Don Montague."

"Those bonds—" began Bobby. He turned toward the detective. "Why, what's wrong with them?" Larry smiled a wry smile. "Nothing," he said, "except that they were stolen from the National Bank of Neola, a month and a half ago, by the Red Jackson gang. That's all."

Bobby gaped, his mouth open, his vocal chords seemingly unable to function. At last he managed to gulp, "Stolen?"

"Yes. Those were what we call hot bonds, Bobby. We've been looking for them for weeks in the hope that their appearance would lead us to the gangsters. And when we do find them—we discover that you yourself sold them!"

Bobby sat with his mouth open, seemingly dazed. At last he passed a hand across his forehead and said weakly, "Good Lord!"

Larry eyed him for a moment. Then he said gently, "Now suppose you tell me everything about it—where you got them, how you happened to go to Montague with them, what you got for them, and everything."

It took Bobby another minute to collect his faculties sufficiently to tell his story. But at last he managed to do it. In halting, uncertain sentences he told the whole story, aided by Larry's quiet but insistent questions. Bit by bit, Larry learned it all: the meeting in the Golden Feather, the conference in the apartment, his own notion that Montague might be willing to make the purchase, Lewis' desire to raise money to buy a new car.

When the boy finished he sat in the corner of the seat and listened to Larry's brief, succinct explanation of the true circumstances of the deal. At last he shook his head in bitter self-condemnation.

"Did you ever see a bigger fool than me," he asked miserably.

Larry smiled at him. "You have been pretty much of a fool, Bobby," he said. "I think we can arrange things so that the consequences won't be too serious for you."

Bobby's face suddenly became white. It had not occurred to him before that by dealing in stolen bonds he had made himself criminally liable.

"—the main thing," Larry was saying, "is to run down this gang and get them all locked up. First of all, can you remember where that apartment was that they took you to?"

Bobby wrinkled his brows, then shook his head slowly.

"Not exactly," he said. "I remember it was out on the east side in an apartment hotel, but I didn't pay much attention to where we were going. It was off West Park boulevard, somewhere I remember."

"You didn't notice the name of the building?"

The boy shook his head unhappily. "No. Gosh, I'm sorry."

"Think you'd know it again if you saw it?"

Bobby thought this over. "I might. Yes, I think I would."

"Well, there aren't so many apartment hotels out that way

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 25

Scads of New Dealers have been out around the country lately, many of them are now back at their jobs.

A symposium of off-the-record reports from these fellows says they're distinctly more optimistic about the 1936 election than they were one month or two months ago.

They agree Roosevelt will have a "fight" and most of them think it will be the "dirtiest fight" ever seen in an election campaign. They are just as bitter about the millions they expect big business Republicans have been about to billions of work-relief money which the G. O. P. terms a "campaign fund."

Most New Dealers used to regard the work-relief money as part of campaign fund, too. But now they're worried over the content to which the WPA program may also become a liability.

The stronger belief here in the inevitability of Roosevelt's election has been partly due to the good popular reception he had on his cross-country tour. It's much more due to the fact that the traveling observers find as they found a year ago, that neither Republican candidate's issues are stirring up popular enthusiasm. Which perhaps is a lucky thing for Democrats, cause these observers also find almost universally:

1. General resentment about the looseness of relief expenditures. Harry Hopkins can't take that responsibility for this with local administration, but nobody pays any attention. Inefficiency and odor are all charged up to Roosevelt. 2. The cities are still coming that AAA's "slaughter of pigs" is to blame for the price of meat. And most people in the cities judge AAA on the basis of that. 3. People are bewildered as to where we're going from here and young people, especially, wonder what they're going to do for living.

And, in vast numbers, administration men admit, citizens are worrying as to "where all the money is coming from."

In one state after another Democratic politicians have reverted to type and are engaged in vicious factional battles. This is going to weaken the party ticket to a degree and will probably result in some Republican victories in state elections where control is now held by Democrats. (Ohio and Iowa, for instance, seem fairly certain to elect Republican governors.)

Despite all that reports of "fiscal correspondents" as well as interested administration men, impressed by the failure of some to demonstrate any love and affection for the Republican party to indicate any desire to return to the "good old days," or to become particularly steamed up over anything Republicans are now offering.

but what we ought to be able to find it. Now, about another thing, Bobby. You say this Lewis wanted $10,000 to buy a car. I didn't know your fur had more cars that cost that much. "We don't," said Bobby. "Sixty-four hundred is the price with our line. He said it was a second-hand custom job."

Larry was silent for a moment. Then he said:

"Bobby, you'll help me all you can, won't you?"

"Lord yes," said Bobby. "Is there anything I can do?"

"I'm not sure. There might be. You see—that $10,000

"Roosevelt will have most of them in the 'dirtiest fight' election campaign."

"I expect big business to defeat the president."

"I have been about the work-relief money which terms a 'campaign'."

"Dealers used to work-relief money as a campaign fund, too. I'm worried over the WPA program."

course, she saw him two or three times there at the Golden Feather, but that was two weeks ago or more."

"I hope you're right. The one thing that would be worse than letting you get mixed up with this mob would be for her to become infatuated with one of its members."

Bobby's eyes grew wider. "Oh, I don't think you need worry about that," he said hastily. "Jean and I—I mean, we're going to get married . . . at least I think we are. I mean—"

Larry smiled at him. "You mean you think she is too fond of you to become dazzled by anyone else?"

Bobby blushed. "Well, I sort of hope so, anyway," he said.

"So do I," said Larry. "For the sake of both of you."

"Is this Harkins really a gangster?" asked Bobby after a moment.

"I think he is," said Larry. "I think I ought to be able to find them. I ought to be able to find out definitely. But even if he isn't, he's keeping awfully bad company." He smiled. "Surely there aren't two people around town who are as trustingly innocent as you."

He let Bobby out of his car and drove back to the federal building. He had hardly entered his office when his phoning rang. Agent Frank Watson was on the line.

"We located the hangout," he said. "It's in the West Park Hotel, on West Ninety-eighth street."

"Good," said Larry. "Anybody home?"

"No. That's the trouble. They checked out an hour ago. Lewis and the girl."

"Stay there," said Larry. "I'll be out as fast as I can get there." (To Be Continued)

LIBERATOR, NOT CONQUEROR

THREE countries in South America look up to Jose de San Martin as the man who freed them from the tyranny of Spain. Argentina was the first country to declare its independence, and in 1812 San Martin arrived, after secret training in Europe, to command the patriotic forces and drive out the Spanish rulers. What he did, he led a large army across the Andes into Chile, and in 1817, he inflicted severe defeat on Spain's forces. With independence gained there, he went on to Peru, further defeating the Spanish on land and sea until he arrived at Lima. But only as the liberator of the oppressed creoles and Incas did he come, and he refused to enter the country as conqueror. Finally, in 1821, at the request of the people, the great liberator marched on. But when Simon Bolivar came on from the north, San Martin retired from Peru and spent his remaining days in Paris, where he died in 1850, at the age of 72.

Stamps to this great fighter have been issued by Peru, Chile and Argentina. Shown here is a stamp of the latter country, issued in 1923.

RAINBOWS appear in a multitude of forms. They vary in width, and in number and order of colors. A sheet of water, as well as a sun which is reflected by such a surface, may give us a primary and a secondary reflected rainbow in the sky, intersecting the real bow. Eight rainbows have been seen at one time.

Hope Fades For Childress Test

According to the Childress Index, hopes of bringing in a producer at the Mollie Low test near that city have about faded out. At one time the cause of great excitement in our neighboring city, the Alma Oil Company test has apparently failed, encountering salt water shortly after finding a showing of oil at about 5700 feet, the test was deepened without result.

The past couple of weeks, the company has been endeavoring to bring in the oil at the 5700 foot level with the use of a perforating gun, but the results have been discouraging.

The only encouraging feature of the situation appears to be that the Alma Oil Company is renewing its lease on the block where the test is located.

Tom Woodard of Amarillo spent yesterday in Memphis on business, and visiting with old friends. Mr. Woodard was a resident of Memphis some thirty years ago, being among the early settlers of Hall county.

FIREMAN HONOR RETIRING CHIEF

Banquet Is Given At Memphis Hotel For Ray

In appreciation of the services rendered here for the past six years as Chief of the Memphis Volunteer Fire Department, local firemen honored M. G. Ray, retiring chief of the department, last night at 8 o'clock, with a banquet.

Firemen, their wives and friends were in attendance at the banquet last night in the dining room of the Memphis Hotel and ate, drank and made merry in general. G. W. Smith and his "Town Hoodlums" furnished appropriate music for the occasion.

Alvin Massey, newly elected head of the fire department, made a short talk, citing the growth of the Memphis fire unit under ex-Chief Ray and the excellent service rendered by the fire department to the community.

Si Wood, assistant fire chief, introduced the program proper by calling upon every member of the department present for a short talk. Each member responded with impromptu talks, lauding the retiring fire chief for his meritorious work here.

Ex-Chief Ray, who leaves Sunday for Kilgore, where he has accepted a position with the Kilgore Daily News, responded with a short speech.

Those present at the feed were Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Massey, Mr. and Mrs. Si Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Aspgren, Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Wood, Capt. Rosedale James Hammond, Garold Kunkler, J. J. Simon, Red Cough, Joe Merrick,

Refusal to Salute Flag Costs $50

Refusal of Carleton Nichols, 11 (above), 8-year-old adherent of the "Jehovah's Witness" cult, to salute the American flag at school in Lynn, Mass., cost his father and Edward Holton James $25 each the fine imposed following conviction of disturbing the school when they went to explain the boy's stand. Carleton has been expelled from classes.

Famous Cannon Can't Be Found

AUSTIN, Oct. 24.—Where are the "Twin Sisters" of blessed memory? Were they buried, burned, or carried ar from Texas?

The Texas Centennial state publicity department at Dallas, delving into the remote archives of Mrs. W. V. Coursey, and Misses Melba Johnson, Wayne Sanders, Omega Ballew, and Johnnie Wilson.

Texas history, today issued an appeal for old-timers throughout the State to plumb the recesses of fading memory to solve the mysterious disappearance of these "heroines" of the Texas revolution.

The "Twin Sisters" were not girls. They were guns—two six-pound cannons donated by the city of Cincinnati to the struggling Republic of Texas a century ago. They were all the artillery Houston had at San Jacinto, and they were used, history records, "with terrible effect."

The "Twin Sisters" remained in Texas until the republic became a state, when the federal government sent them to Louisiana and they were later sold for junk. But an appeal from the Texas people for the historic guns, which were called the "little darlings" of the revolution, caused Louisiana fifteen years later to contribute $700 to remount the cannons and restore them to Texas. They then suit "grape and cannister" through the War Between the States.

Late in the war, when federal forces landed at Galveston and demanded the surrender of men and arms, three Texas soldiers and a negro cook are said to have slipped away under cover of night and buried the "Sisters" near Harrisburg. That much is legend, to be sure, but it was substantiated years later when one of a group "confessed" his part, those whom he named as his federates had passed away, their stories with them.

There are many who hold that the rusty cannons now at ing guard before the state capitol in Austin are the famed "Twin Sisters", but historians are firmly agreed that they are the San Jacinto pieces.

So now, nearly a century later that warm April afternoon at San Jacinto when they became immortal in Texas history, the "Twin Sisters" are again the subjects of a State-wide search.

Cyclone Is Under Dog As It Loses in Game With Shamrock

Squad Invades Fair of Irish in Crucial Game

Walker and his squad of members of the Memphis High Cyclone left this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in private car for Shamrock where the Gold warriors from there will tangle with the Shamrock Irishmen tomorrow at 8 o'clock.

This is the fifth time in as many years that the Memphis Cyclone will enter the game as under-dogs; however, the Cyclone have come through with every occasion but one. Memphis fans are planning to cheer the Shamrock despite unfavorable weather conditions to cheer the Cyclone to victory.

Weather permits, the entire pep squad, numbering 100 members, the drum and the Gold Medal Band will accompany the football team to Shamrock.

Weather indications point to a probable muddy field. Memphis players will be hampered somewhat, despite their pep. The Irish hold a weight advantage over Memphis by at least 100 pounds to the man. Or, if a team outclassed in Memphis would look to a muddy field as a pleasant aspect, but in the case with the Cyclone, it is their size, Memphis depend on power to gain yardage.

Response Game at Childress

A game between the Lake-County Eagles, leading contenders in the district in Class C, and the Childress Bobkittens, which have been played at Childress yesterday afternoon, was postponed on account of the inclement weather, and will be played on November 21.

In a previous game at Lake-County the Eagles took the measure of the Bobkittens to the tune of 0-0, and were determined that the dose yesterday, had weather not interfered.

Sadie Mae Piland went to Childress yesterday to spend the day with her brother, Leon, and family.

HONOR ROLL ANNOUNCED

Average Grades High For First Six Weeks

The general average for the first six weeks period in the high school was exceptionally high this year. Mr. Bailey stated that the grades, as a whole, were possibly the highest ever to be recorded in this school. Even though the average of the entire student body was high, there were only two students making an average of ninety or above in each subject. These were two members of the Senior class being Latrice Sims and Marjetta Ewing.

The faculty expressed their appreciation of interest that has been shown in the various classes thus far and stated that they hoped that the honor roll list would be somewhat longer at the end of the next six weeks period.

The grammar school must meet the same requirements as the high school in order to make the honor roll. Those making the honor roll in grammar school are as follows:

First Grade: David Duncan, Wanda Lee Moore, James Wise, Bobby Joe Huffmaster, Joyce Garren, Bobby Glenn Garren, Margaret Longbine, Eddie J. Leary, Wesley Clark, Uenita New, Fay Nell Seine, Donald Collins, La Vern Rollins.

Second Grade: Nannie Ellea Robinson.

Third Grade: Bettye Jane Ewen.

Fourth Grade: Warren Gene Bailey, La Verne Adams, Lou Laverne Britt, Velma Carter, Mary Sue Eddins, Juanita Garren, Daisy Virginia Holland, Mary Faye Robinson, Helen Clifton Jr., Dennis Burkhart.

There was no student who made the honor roll in either the fifth, sixth, or seventh grades.

Make Progress In Volley Ball

According to Coach Duncan, Volley Ball is progressing nicely since the girls are working out at a regular forty-five minute period each day and some days after school hours. All the girls seem interested and their main objective is to make this year outstanding for its volley ball team.

There are twenty girls who have shown promise of being good players according to Mr. Duncan and he says that "I have never seen such good spirit as the girls as a whole have displayed this year. I appreciate this spirit toward the sport and also to me. If and when teams can be found after November 15, match games will be played."

Everyone should realize that co-operation has much to do with making a thing successful. Hence, those interested in volley ball are asking for the support of both the school and the community so that this can be made the crowning year in volley ball.

CLASS MEETINGS HELD
The beginning of the first period was set aside for class meeting of all four classes last Tuesday morning. Each class attended to all business which has arisen since previous meetings have been held.

The Junior and Senior classes were particularly interested in finding ways and means of raising the necessary funds to carry out the different activities for this school year.

ADDITIONAL GROWL NEWS ON PAGE TEN

New Teacher Added To School System

Miss Margaret Poole, B. A., Texas University, began work in the grammar school Monday. At the same time Miss Katherine Schellenberg took over the high school English classes and Miss Agnes Nelson will devote her entire time to Vocational Home Economics.

In addition to Miss Poole's departmental work in the fifth, sixth, and seventh grades, she will devote some time to music in the grades. In the other changes Miss Ruth Berry will devote her time to typing and Spanish. Mr. C. M. Bailey will have Mathematics and General Science. Hence, by the addition of the extra teacher, all other teachers have been placed in their major subjects and at the same time gives more time for individual instruction.

These changes have made it possible for crowded classes to be divided and for the elimination of conflicts among the various students. Instead of having nine periods each day and only a twenty minute lunch period, the day will be divided into eight periods having the regular hour for lunch. These changes will work to the advantage of both teachers and students in the future and should make this year's faculty and curriculum more efficient in meeting state requirements.

ORGANIZE NEW HOME EC CLUB

Twenty - four Girls Form Brand New Organization

A majority of the girls in the three Home Economics classes met at twelve-thirty last Wednesday for the purpose of organizing a Home Economics Club. The following officers were elected: President—Nottie Faye Baccus, Vice-President—Annice Wise, Secretary—Gweneth King, Treasurer—Wilma White, Reporter—Eldeen Morehead.

There were twenty-four members present at the first meeting. However, all the girls who will be included were not present due to the fact that there was some misunderstanding about the girls who are eligible for membership. Any girl who has already taken Home Economics or is now enrolled in a Home Economics Class is eligible.

The club is eager to have all girls who are interested join as soon as possible since Miss Nelson, who is sponsor, feels that the club can be made both interesting and beneficial.

Cubs Win From Silvertown

The local football team looked strong in beating Coach Poole's Silvertown Owls Friday. Although the Owls put up a stiff battle, they were unable to withstand the fast Cub offense, and went down in defeat with the final score of 27-0.

Clifton, playing defensive center, intercepted a Silvertown pass on the Silvertown 30-yard line and crossed the goal line untouched for one of the thrillers of the game.

Coach Carnutt seemed well pleased with the playing of the entire team. Special praise goes to Sims and Landers at guard positions, Edmondson, at end and Davis and Adams in the backfield. Leatherwood and Kercher-ville played their usual strong game and the entire line was playing "heads-up" ball.

Davis made one of the touchdowns for the local boys after galloping 40 yards. The other two counters were made by Leatherwood.

Second Stringers Beat Memphis B

The Cub's "B" team journeyed to Memphis last week where they were successful in downing the Memphis "B" team for the second time this year. The teams were evenly matched and neither team made much headway until Rapp took advantage of an opening in the Memphis line in the last half of the game and got away for the only counter in the game making the final score 6-0.

Some of the boys who played during the entire game had only been working out for a little over a week. Those boys were in there scrapping and certainly showed some good material for next year's team. The school should be proud of this team as well as their main string and give them their support since next year's team will be composed of the boys who play on the second string this year.

ADULTS MAY ATTEND

Since the Home Economics Department has been revised, the adult persons of the Estelline community will have an opportunity to attend classes in Home Economics, courses in foods and nutrition, clothing and child welfare. Those interested in this work will have an opportunity to make a choice of the above subjects.

BREAKFAST: Chilled tomato juice, cereal, cream, crisp waffles with honey, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Molded spinach with hard cooked eggs as a border, pop-overs, apple tapioca pudding with lemon sauce, milk, tea.
DINNER: Chicken fricassee with border of noodles and candied sweet potatoes, buttered turnip cubes, stuffed celery salad, graham cracker roll, milk, coffee.

Macaroni, spaghetti and noodles make nice borders, too. Fricassee hen in a border of noodles with a garnish of candied sweet potatoes is so inviting that one forgets it isn't spring chicken.

Stuffed tomatoes, stuffed peppers, glazed and buttered onions, beet marbles and grilled tomatoes add beauty to any hot main dish.

Chicken Fricassee

One four pound fowl, cold water, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 cups noodles.

Cut chicken in pieces for serving and put in kettle with cold water to more than cover. Bring to the boiling point and cook slowly from two to three hours, adding salt and pepper when half done. Remove from stock to hot platter and drop noodles into boiling broth. Cook twenty minutes. Drain from broth and arrange in a border around chicken. Stir flour to a smooth paste with a little cold water and stir into broth from which noodles were drained. Bring to the boiling point, stirring constantly, and boil three minutes. Serve in a separate sauce boat.

SKIN POINTERS' COACH ROOSE

HOW TO PLAY TACKLE

Any coach a good, big pair of tackles and he can build a football team. The tackle is a shock absorber on defense and a irresistible force on offense. He must be able to cover ground in a hurry, hit a ball with nerve-shaking force, and knife through an opposing wall.

The tackle's stance on offense is with the feet under and fairly well apart, the toe of the inside foot being on a line with the other. The head is back and tail low. On defense, he should be down fairly low, with the inside leg advanced.

In straight-ahead plays, the tackle charges directly; on quick-opening plays he uses the outside shoulder of the end.

Against a normal offense he should pass and punt at all time.

NEWSPAPER ADS ARE USED BY VICKS

Well Known Remedy Reaches Public Through Ads

GREENSBORO, N. C. Oct. 25.—"We are using newspapers again this year, as for many years past, as the chief means of carrying our story of better control of colds into homes throughout the world." This statement was made here today by Lunsford Richardson, president of Vick Chemical Company (makers of Vicks VapoRub and other specialized aids for home control of colds.) Mr. Richardson spoke immediately after signing orders for his company's fall and winter advertising.

"We have always placed newspapers at the top of our list," continued Mr. Richardson, "because each paper represents an established institution in its community, and a newspaper talks to its readers in their own language, about things of daily interest in the home. It is only natural then that we should place so much reliance upon newspapers in talking to those homes about greater freedom from colds—a subject of pressing interest to almost every family.

"Of course the biggest advertising behind Vicks is—and always has been—the recommendation of its users...enthusiastic comments passed on by friend to friend and neighbor to neighbor. In fact, this 'word-of-mouth' advertising bulks so large that we never have successfully proved anything in the way of comparative pulling power of different media. But based on past experience, it is our belief that newspapers do the best job for us in carrying reminders to old users and getting new users to give Vicks medications a trial.

"Each year since 1930, and all during the depression, our advertising budget was steadily increased. During each of these years, the daily newspapers have carried more Vicks copy than ever before. We follow this policy in all depression years and find it pays, because with fewer advertisers and smaller advertising space of other concerns, it gives us—in a measure—preferred position and attention value."

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

EARTHQUAKES have taken an appalling toll of life within recent times. The Japanese earthquake of 1923 resulted in the death of nearly 100,000. In China, 150,000 persons lost their lives within a few minutes, in the quake of 1920. The highest toll known was in the Indian earthquake of 1737, when 300,000 lives were lost.

Referendum—

(Continued from page 1) there will be no program. The administration must be assured that a sufficient number of farmers will participate to make a program operative and successful.

Facts upon which farmers can base their judgment have been presented at a series of community meetings. Evidence was presented to show that livestock numbers are far out of line with feed supplies as a result of the drought.

With plentiful supplies of cheap feed in prospect and with rapid rebuilding of swine numbers possible, farmers and consumers face the prospect that the next three years may bring the greatest increase in hog production that the country has ever seen in a similar period and consequent disastrous hog prices.
