New Air Schedule To Speed Service To Eastern Cities

Through a change in the schedule of American Airways, Inc. and the National Air Transport connecting planes at Fort Worth air mail from here will reach Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago and New York one day earlier than at present, it was announced by Marshall McCrea, traffic representative of American Airways, Inc.

Although the new schedule, which will go into effect July 1, will delay the departure of the east bound plane at Los Angeles from 3:25 a. m. to 6:15 p. m. arriving here at 6:03 a. m., it will reach Fort Worth at 8:15 p. m. and deliver mail to the NAT planes leaving there at 9 p. m.

The latter plane, Mr. McCrea said, will deliver mail the next morning at Chicago and that afternoon at New York. Under the present schedule the connection at Fort Worth is being missed by a matter of half an hour and air mail forced to remain overnight at Fort Worth is not delivered at Chicago and New York until the second day.

This improved mail service, according to Mr. McCrea, will greatly benefit banks and business institutions in particular and air mail users in particular in cities from Phoenix through Abilene, and will save a day's interest in financial transactions.

The T&P handled 214 cars of cantaloupes within 24 hours last week. With about 60 cars to each train the movement is materially improving employment conditions among engineers and train men.

The other day a special grape train of ten cars made the El Paso Fort Worth "hop" in 14 hours. The boys are taking these trains from here to Baird in four hours.

If there were some accurate method of counting the number of men, women and children who go for outings to City Park every week the figures no doubt would surprise everyone. Before the warm weather season ends the total will have mounted far into the thousands.

Sunday school classes, labor organizations, and dozens of large private parties are spending evenings down there in that peaceful, increasingly beautiful spot.

Big Spring vicinity is richer in scenery than most any other city in West Texas. Scenic Drive, City Park, the city water reservations further south, Signal Mountain, Moss Springs, and other spots are inviting.

We are hopeful that before many more seasons we will have the finest, most modern and sanitary municipal swimming pool in this part of the country.

Then if we'll go out and find a suitable place for a large municipal water reservoir, as near the city as possible, and invoke a fishing ordinance such as that being enjoyed at Abilene now, this will be one of the real playgrounds of the southwest.

After all the value of a town as a place really to live is based more upon such facilities than upon the annual speed of turnover in retail stocks or the market price of crude oil.

Where the string is tied on, though, is that if we didn't have something to afford the things that make life more enjoyable.

A lot of us fret when the mercury hits 100, get as cross as a summer school co-ed in a dormitory cell. But, somehow when Old Sol

Local Woman Attends Funeral Of Uncle Who Shot Himself

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Ryan, 1901 Nolan street, returned today from Tulsa where they attended funeral services for J. W. Kelley, Jr., former county judge of Stonewall county, uncle of Mrs. Ryan, who killed himself there Sunday.

Judge Kelley went to his garage at 9:45 a. m. Sunday, spread a wagon sheet upon the floor, sat down and drew a 35-caliber pistol.

He had left notes inside the house, including one propped up on a dresser and resting upon the outside of the sealed envelope, the words "to my family; you will find my body in the garage." Anna Lou Kelley, his 12-year-old daughter, saw the note as she started to Sunday school. She called her mother and together they ran screaming to the garage. Miss Mary Lee, a neighbor, joined Mrs. Kelley and the daughter. She was the first to see the note.

Judge Kelley had been in failing health and despondent. Burial was at Rule, with services conducted Monday at the Presbyterian church. Rev. Charles A. Tucker, pastor, assisted by Dr. T. S. Knox of Abilene, officiated.

Judge Kelley is survived by his wife, three sons, two daughters and a brother, H. H. Kelley of Abilene. The sons are Alvin and J. W., Jr., of Rule, and Lawrence Kelley of Oklahoma City. The daughters are Mrs. J. W. Hensley of Oklahoma City and Anna Lou Kelley of Rule.

Markers Prepared For Broadway Of America, Tennessee-San Diego

Plans for marking the Broadway of America highway from the eastern boundary of Tennessee to San Diego, Calif., are now being made by the highway association of officials. The route will carry large, attractive markers, placed at all interesting points so that tourists will have no difficulty in staying on the "all-year-high-gear" route.

Actual placing of the signs will start as soon as necessary permission is received from officials "in states where such permission is required.

The association is also working on an illustrated road map showing the entire route from Broadway, New York City, to Broadway, San Diego. This map will not only be absolutely authentic but will carry much useful information for tourists.

Every city and town on the Broadway will be listed on the map. Statistics regarding each city and town will be printed, showing the population, elevation, principal industries, hotel and camp accommodations and interesting points to visit. The map will have wide distribution, particularly in the east and through tourist bureaus.

"Our aim is not only to bring more and more tourists over the Broadway," says F. O. Mackey, president of the association, "but to keep them on the route as long as possible. To do this we must tell the tourists of the many advantages of traveling the Broadway. More and more tourists are using the Broadway now and telling their friends about this all-weather highway."

Par. Accrued Interest Bid At 5 Per Cent

Davenport, Iowa, Firm Is Buyer Of $200,000 Municipal Issue

Big Spring sold her $200,000 municipal bonds for a new city hall, central fire station, and auditorium Monday to the White, Phillips Co., of Davenport, Iowa. The successful bid offered an accrued interest and $67.50 premium on five per cent bonds. The company posted a certified good faith check of ten thousand dollars.

City Attorney Thomas J. Coffee announced that the bonds would be prepared and in the hands of the successful bidder within three weeks. The city was given forty-five days in which to prepare the bonds and have them in the company's hands.

Six bids were placed in the hands of the city commission. The bid of the Weil, Roth, Irvin company ranked first in order but was rejected by the board because of an irregular good faith check. There was no alternative but to throw out the bid in view of stipulations in the instructions to bidders, according to City Manager V. R. Smitham.

The six companies bidding said their good offers were made possible by the city's good financial condition. Bids were: Weil, Roth, Irvin, $1160 premium on five per cent bonds; White-Phillips Co., $67.50 premium on five percent bonds; Gaspell, Vait, Duncan, $462.50 on five percent bonds; Brown-Crummer, $1,825 premium on five and one-fourth percent bonds; A. ### Federal Reserve Bank Review for Month Optimistic

DALLAS, Texas, June 30 (AP)—A well sustained demand for merchandise, an improvement in the agricultural outlook and improved construction activity combined to give an optimistic tone to the monthly business review of the Eleventh District Federal Reserve bank, issued here today.

"A well sustained demand for merchandise in both wholesale and retail channels of distribution was in evidence in the Eleventh District during the past month," the report said. "Department store sales were again slightly larger than in the previous month, and 12 per cent decline from the corresponding month of 1930 was the same as that shown for April. Wholesale distribution was slightly smaller than in April and continued considerably below the volume for May, 1930; yet the size of the decline from a year ago was smaller than as shown in April. Merchants continue to make purchases on a hand-to-mouth basis, and the sustained consumer demand has been reflected in frequent orders from wholesale establishments. While Southwestern carloadings during May reflected a seasonal decline as compared to the previous month, it was less than usual, and the decline from the corresponding month of a year ago was the smallest during the current year."

Temperatures. The prevalence of more normal temperatures since the latter part of May has stimulated the growth of raw crops which are gradually overcoming the handicaps of adverse factors earlier in the season. The lateness of certain crops, particularly corn and cotton, still remains an important factor in the prospective production. Farmers have made rapid progress with field work and reports indicate that crops generally are in a good state of cultivation. While some parts of the district are in need of rain to replenish surface moisture, a good subsoil season obtains in practically all sections of the district, and this will be an important factor in sustaining crop growth.

during the summer months. The district's farmers are now harvesting small grain crops and indications are that the yields will be very heavy. The physical condition of ranges and livestock continued good to excellent throughout the district, and present indications point toward a good supply of grass for summer grazing. Temperatures to some extent the good physical outlook, however, was the drastic decline in livestock prices during May. While cattle prices have shown some recovery from the low point in May, they are still considerably below the level obtaining at the end of April.

Demand Reflected. "The demand for funds for agricultural purposes was reflected in a steady expansion of Federal Reserve Bank loans to member banks. These loans rose from $8,346,000 on May 15 to $10,919,000 on June 15, but on the latter date they were slightly lower than at the middle of June, 1930. The combined net demand and time deposits of member banks reflected a small seasonal decline, the daily average for May being $796,875,000 as compared to $801,150,000 in April, and $864,711,000 in May a year ago. The commercial loans of reserve city banks reflected a further decline during the month and were considerably smaller than a year ago. The exceedingly large amount of funds seeking an investment outlet was evidenced by subscriptions to the June 15 issue of $1.8 per cent United States Treasury bonds totaling $137,870,000, against which

King George Finds Crown Still Safe After Ruling For 20 Stormy Years

By EDWARD STANLEY
LONDON (AP)—With 20 years of his reign behind him May 6, no modern monarch has brought his throne so unscathed through such world storms as King George has weathered.

From the very start he has had to deal with times of stress. Barely three years of his reign could be called "normal," and even while war clouds were still gathering over Europe, the Irish question was pressing dangerously.

In August, 1914, the world war broke with its appalling fury. Until its end the king was outwardly a calm and steady rock to which his people might look for assurance.

Further away from the influence of Westminster, but gave the king added importance as an empire figure.

Then came the Indian round table conference, which the king opened personally. Upon the secure settlement of this problem many observers believe the future of the empire hinges.

There may be dissatisfactions with governments; there seems none with the throne.

He Knows His Job

The explanation is that King George knows his job.

He has brought the theory that England's kings "rule but do not govern" near perfection.

Probably this is the result of the long apprenticeship he served to his father and to Queen Victoria.

He was a mature man, of wide travel and personal knowledge of the empire before his coronation.

He has seen the empire change to a commonwealth of nations, and England go from conservative to socialist governments. And each time he has been ready to meet the trend of public opinion when it reached him.

In other words, he has had to think a jump ahead of the people. Most kings haven't been able to do that.

KING GEORGE

It was the way a king should have acted and, in truth, the only way he could. He came out of the war a monarch very dear to his people as a person.

Led In Irish Settlement

In 1921, he took the lead in settling the Irish troubles with a personal appeal.

In 1926 the general strike, the next big public crisis, found King George making another appeal for industrial peace which did much to keep the controversy friendly and to avoid serious riots.

Then came his desperate illness, which after many months left him in far from robust health.

It was during this time that the public affection for the king was most spectacularly demonstrated. Thousands milled about Buckingham palace while he was sick, waiting to read for themselves the doctors' bulletins. When later he returned to London from his seaside convalescence the route was thronged for miles.

Last year the anniversary of his accession to the throne was made an opportunity for a nation's thanks for his safe recovery. There was a modest celebration and thousands of messages of congratulations poured into the palace.

Last Year Busy

This, his twentieth year, has been packed with events important to the British empire, which has been gradually changing its character.

Early in the year he opened the naval conference, which brought about a cessation of competitive building.

Later in the year at the Imperial conference the dominions pulled

Fifth Monday Program Well Carried Out

Musical Numbers Enjoyed By Large Number Of Women

The Fifth Monday meeting of the First Baptist Church was well attended and greatly appreciated yesterday afternoon by the women's auxiliaries of the churches of the city.

The program was a musical presentation of favorite hymns, with stories of their composition, and their authors.

After congregational singing, Mrs. S. H. Morrison of the East Fourth street Baptist church opened the meeting with a devotional service and a talk on the part the Hebrews played in the religious life of the Hebrews. The talk was concluded with the singing of the one-hundredth psalm.

Mrs. W. C. Barnett, president of the Presbyterian Auxiliary, told the story of the hymn, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee." It was sung by a quartet, composed of Mrs. Robert Parks, Mrs. R. T. Piner, Mrs. N. M. Meiner, and Miss Elaine Jeanette Barnett, with Mrs. H. B. Dunagan at the piano.

Mrs. Willard Read, of the Christian Council, told the story of "Lead Kindly Light." The song was then sung as a duet by Mrs. Read and Mrs. John Marchbanks, with Mrs. H. G. Hill at the piano.

Mrs. W. G. Bailey, of the First Methodist church, told the story of Charles Wesley's composing "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." Mrs. V. H. Fiewellen sang the solo parts, accompanied by a quartet composed of Mrs. J. M. Faucett, Mrs. Olie Cordell, Mrs. Fred Miller and Mrs. Arthur Pickle, Mrs. Chas. Morris was the accompanist.

Mrs. Bruce Frazier, of the First Baptist church, told the story of the song, "I See the Light of Home," written by B. B. McKinney, popular singer in Baptist revivals. It was sung as a quartet by Mrs. Roy Lay, Mrs. R. E. Blount, Mrs. Bruce Frazier and Miss Corinne Day. Miss Katherine Sangster was the accompanist.

The meeting was concluded with the singing of "Home Sweet Home."

Production and Price
 THE East Texas oil fields, subjects of controversy and contention for to these many months, are almost beyond believing in size and potentiality.

A compilation made by the oil editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram recently gave the present production as at 2,026,531 barrels daily. That represents an increase of 147 wells and 471,811 barrels daily since June 1. Eight hundred and sixty-eight wells had been completed and were considered in the new production schedule, but that number has been raised to nearly 800 since the schedule was mapped out.

If that could be sold for the post-war figure, the "depression" would disappear pronto. For that matter, if the time grain crop now being harvested in Texas could be sold at a decent price, business in all lines would whip up immediately.
 But there are large risks.

President Hoover lately it is known that he is greatly cheered by observations made during his swing into the Middle West. One of the things that cheered him according to Washington dispatches was the sight of abundant crops all along the line.

Perhaps the president would be cheered by the East Texas oil figures, too. It is an easily checked. But abundant crops, like a superabundance of oil, mean only one thing—money—low prices.

The big companies are taking steps to insure production. In East Texas they will do it of the market, as in California, they announced that they will pay the increased price for fields that is produced in available quantities.
 That is one way of making the boys like production.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS
Power of Imagination
 Movies are the most popular form of entertainment in the world. It is a form of infinite possibilities.

Imagination is the quality which when not lost in the transition from childhood to maturity enables man to dissociate himself from his surroundings and conceive "epochal inventions," effect revolutionary changes in scientific thought, write masterpieces.

Imagination is day dreaming. It is possessed by few grown-ups, but is the property of every child—regardless of race, color, creed or previous condition of mind.

Day dreaming is the "highest"
 kind of day dreaming. It is at least a source of inspiration.

Down the middle of a switch track on Olive street came a little negro boy. There were sidewalks on either side of the thoroughfare.
 He was not to be seen to gamble between the rails.

JULY FOURTH INJURIES

Despite the movement for safe and sane celebrations of the national holiday, each Fourth of July is the indirect cause of many injuries and not a few deaths.

Most of these street children and are the result of the careless use of fireworks, toy pistols and the like.

The most common type of accidents are burns, gunshot wounds and eye injuries.

Children should not be permitted to discharge fireworks. Particularly dangerous are giant firecrackers, cannons and cap or top pistols.

If the patriotic urge is too great to resist, save your fireworks until evening, when they can be discharged by a cautious adult for the amusement of the entire family.

Even under such conditions there are a number of precautions to be observed. One of these is to discharge the fireworks where they will not be liable to set fire to the house, lawn, woods, etc.

It is better to discard defective fireworks, such as those with short fuses. Take no chances with "duds." They may explode in your hands or face.

Small cannons and toy pistols are liable to burst and their flying fragments can inflict injuries.

If you are determined to have a noisy Fourth of July, you should be ready for emergencies. A fire extinguisher and a first aid kit should be on hand. Do not neglect any injury, no matter how slight.
 If the accident is serious, administer first aid and secure medical help.

Burns should be treated by the use of a five per cent tannic acid solution or ointment. If more than a few inches of skin are burnt, and particularly if the burn is deep,
 medical help should be secured.

Puncture wounds, such as may be caused by the spurs of blank cartridges, are especially dangerous and may result in tetanus lockjaw. They demand expert medical attention, including at times treatment with tetanus antitoxin.

 which can't be verified, that Will pher, is going to take next year off from screen work—and this despite the fact that his pictures have a vogue more good for his employers than other of their players.

Rogers is a Spanish aristocrat, and he is said to be in the

And speaking of temporary screen retirements, many in Holly-

Barrymore frequently has ex-

EXIT

by Harold Bell Wright

SYNOPSIS. In Harriet Noel's dramatic talent Orchard Hill villagers seem wickedness. Surely, they argue, her path has diverged from that of her childhood sweetheart, Tony Latour, whose parents want him to be a minister.
 Headless of gossip, Tony proposes marriage after Harriet's triumph in the Academy play has drawn applause even from the intolerant gossipers. But she fears discord in their contracting careers, rejects him. Then Tony flees with the school play proceeds to seek stage success in New York. His father meanwhile covering the theft but telling him never to return. Among Tony's theatrical associates are Roy Donovan and his stepson, Bruce.
 Not since his proposal has Tony heard from Harriet, but he is surprised to see her at the theater window.

Chapter 3
A FOOTLIGHT REUNION
 As Harriet was inspecting the ticket she had just bought, Tony stood to compose his jumbled feelings. Then he was by her side asking foolishly if she remembered him.

There was every time for Tony to regret that he was living in New York—a student in a school of acting and to receive her promise to meet him after the performance that evening. They went to the restaurant, a tiny little place, and sat together a little supper and they talked.

Soon after Harriet graduated from the Orchard Hill Academy, the old housekeeper had become the new and was placed in an ap-partment, and the girl was forced to abandon her plan to study for the stage and to remain in Orchard
 Hill with her father. Then, "Doc"
 Noel died suddenly of pneumonia.

The druggist had been fairly successful and had provided for his daughter, in addition to the drug store and the home, a small income. There was nothing now to prevent the girl from realizing her dream. She sold the drug store and came to New York to study the art of the theater. This was her first year in the dramatic school.
 She planned to go into a stock company, somewhere, after her graduation in the spring.

Many times that evening Antonio was on the verge of pleading his love and was stuck in an ap-partment, and the girl was forced to abandon her plan to study for the
 stage and to remain in Orchard
 Hill with her father. Then, "Doc"

More Liberal Rules On Divorce Suggested To Episcopal Church

NEW YORK, June 20. (UP)— Elimination of penalties and the right of Episcopal clergymen to marry divorced persons with one of the book of common prayer would be provided in an amendment to the proposed new canon on divorce announced today by the joint co-session on divorce of the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church.

The tentative liberal canon provided for remarriage of divorced persons by priests of the church, but stipulated that the ceremony could not be performed in a church and could not be solemnized by use of the book of common prayer.
 The amendment was written apparently after a storm of protest from liberal members of the church.

 The amendment, however, was not mentioned by the entire joint co-session and was written as a majority report. A minority memorandum has been prepared by a bloc which does not agree entirely with the majority report. A third plan has been put forward by Origin S. Seymour and his met with approval of several members of the commission.

Consider the Garden of Eden. When that old serpent put Eve up to the idea of handing Adam an apple, he may have been doing them both a good turn—for where would we be today, ladies and gentlemen, without our Adam's Apple. If we didn't have our Adam's Apple, we couldn't sing, we couldn't even speak. For your Adam's Apple is your Larynx—your voice box—It contains your vocal chords. So—Consider your Adam's Apple. Be careful in your choice of cigarettes. Remember—the serpent in the smokers' Garden of Eden—harsh irritants are present in all raw tobaccos. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants. Reach for a LUCKY instead. Remember, LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette in America that through its exclusive "TOASTING" Process expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. And so we say, "Consider your Adam's Apple."

Use Of Cotton Move Continues In Texas

AUSTIN, June 26 (AP)—A meeting of state officers and the advisory committee of the Texas division of the National Association for the Increased Use of Cotton will be held in Austin week of which plans will be laid for all educational campaigns in the interests of the cotton industry.

J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture and national vice president of the association, said he was working out preliminary plans for the campaign to be submitted at the meeting. The advisory committee will work with the state officers of the association to stimulate cotton consumption by acquainting the public with the lesser known uses of cotton.

McDonald said he hoped the association would form a link between the research worker who discovers new uses for cotton and the purchasing public to the end that the South may be relieved of a part of its burdensome surplus, estimated at nearly as much as the United States consumes in one year.

T. H. Davis of Austin, W. A. Keith, former state judge, general, and Lawrence Westbrock of Waco are members of the advisory committee.

The Association for the Increased Use of Cotton already has succeeded in obtaining an agreement from cotton mill operators to add seven pounds to the gross weight of cotton bales, provided the bales are wrapped in cotton bagging. This plan will put the cotton bagging on a parity with jute bagging and place the issue of reducing the cotton surplus to some extent on the farmers who produce it. The added seven pounds will offset the difference in the weight of jute and cotton.

Approximately 50 of the leading mills of the south have lined up behind the plan, McDonald reported.

Smuggling Of Aliens From Mexico Via Cordova Island Is Described

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the fifth of six articles on Cordova Island. The last will appear in the Herald tomorrow.

By H. C. MARSHALL
Associated Press Staff Writer
EL PASO, Texas, June 29 (AP)—

Contrary to opinion of many, the struggle of the United States border patrol in the vicinity of Cordova Island, a bit of Mexican territory near El Paso where smugglers flourish, is not always directed against liquor purveyors, but quite as often against aliens seeking illegal entry into this country.

Smugglers are brought across the border at the island without doubt, say patrol officers, but they are so easily concealed that smugglers prefer to attempt passage at one of the international bridges rather than risk a gun battle with patrolmen at the island.

One of the most interesting cases involving smuggling of aliens occurred less than a year ago. Patrol headquarters received information that a large number of Greeks were being smuggled into the United States, and all indications pointed to location of the smugglers' headquarters in the vicinity of El Paso and Cordova Island.

For weeks patrolmen were stationed along the border in the suspected places of passage, and one night a young automobile dealer saw a young woman driving toward New Mexico in a high-powered automobile in the rear seat of which were two men apparently attempting to escape detection.

The patrol called for the automobile to stop, but the woman sped on faster than ever.

"Here was a faster car than ours," said a patrol officer, "but we had more gasoline."

The fleeing car finally drew to the side of the road, after a pursuit of nearly 100 miles, and the patrolmen drew alongside it. The men in the rear seat were Greeks who knew no English.

At headquarters, the woman admitted her identity, saying she was the wife of an army sergeant at Fort Bliss, El Paso, but insisted she had picked up the Greeks on the promise of a man to pay for gasoline she would use on a trip into New Mexico if she would take the men along.

Questioning failed to shake her story until the sergeant was called in. At first he fully sustained his wife's account, but at last, on a threat of prosecution of both himself and his wife, he promised to let the woman go if he would make a clean breast, he confessed details of the fraud. Then the woman confessed.

A Greek who had been deported from the United States on the Pacific coast had established headquarters in Juarez, while his brother had come to El Paso from an interior point in this country. They had enlisted the aid of the sergeant and his wife and for months had smuggled Greeks into the United States. Most of them had walked across the line at Cordova Island.

aided by an elaborate system of spotters, and had been taken by the woman in her automobile. In most cases to railroad stations some miles from El Paso, but in at least one instance as far as Kansas City.

The woman produced a diary of activities of the ring which she had kept meticulously, and through it 26 of the Greeks were located in various cities of the United States and were deported. The sergeant was given an 18-month penitentiary sentence, which he is now serving, while the woman, in accordance with the agreement, was released.

Leader of Famous Texas Dog Pack Takes Last Chase

RAYMONDVILLE, June 30 (AP)—Queenie, famous leader of the most famous pack of dogs in Texas, is dead.

This veteran leader of the lion hunting dogs of the Snow brothers, Luther and Bob, walked up to her master the other day, placed her nose in his hand, and dropped dead.

For seven years Queenie had led the pack of Snow dogs which has created a national reputation by lion hunting. The dogs were taken into Mexico, where they displayed equal ability at jaguar hunting.

Governors and many other noted visitors hunted behind the famous pack of dogs, and always it was Queenie who outsmarted the lions and freed them.

While the Snow brothers frequently lost dogs that were too impetuous, and would charge into lions or other wild animals, Queenie always was careful to avoid being injured by these dangerous foes. She suffered an occasional scratch, but always finished her hunts with only minor injuries.

The entire pack of 15 or more dogs had been grouped around Queenie.

SCHOOL INSURANCE DROPPED

SAN ANTONIO, June 29 (AP)—Fire insurance policies amounting to $2,100,000 on school buildings valued at $7,500,000 have been dropped by the San Antonio board of education as an economy measure. A few frame buildings and spots with special risk remain insured.

Hereafter, according to present plans, the San Antonio school system will cover its own fire losses. An insurance reserve of $7,000 will be placed in a local bank, with additions to be made annually until the emergency fund has reached $60,000.

Premiums on buildings still insured amount to $600 annually. Fire insurance last year cost the board $8,000.

Single Persons Better Credit Risks, Research Bureau Declares

MUSTYEN, June 30 (AP)—Single persons are better credit risks than married persons and women are more dependable than men, according to a recent survey of the retail trade by Arthur H. Hest of the bureau of business research of the University of Texas.

Hest estimated that women do 75 per cent of the family shopping but that 66.4 per cent of the accounts were carried in their husbands' names. Married persons carried 62.1 per cent of the credit accounts and single persons 37.9 per cent.
