FIRE DESTROYS SHACK, TRUCK, AND GAS TANK

Two Blazes First of Week Cause Loss Of Property

Two fires breaking out within the space of 12 hours resulted in considerable damage and property loss here the first of this week. The first fire broke out in the W. E. Gerlach negro shack on South Fifth street Sunday afternoon about 6:15 o'clock, and the second occurred at about 6:15 Monday morning when a Cities Service gasoline tank and truck caught fire.

Horace Duvall of Lakeview, Cities Service wholesale agent for the Memphis territory, was loading a gasoline truck early Monday morning at the wholesale station near the Fort Worth and Denver railway tracks here when the truck suddenly caught fire. The truck was completely destroyed by the blaze, and a 4,000 gallon gasoline tank and platform were destroyed. Mr. Duvall, who was unable to give the cause of the fire, received minor burns on one arm. He said that the truck was ablaze before he realized that it had caught fire. A small explosion took place during the blaze but did no damage.

The property loss sustained by Mr. Duvall amounted to several hundred dollars. The negro shack fire resulted in a loss estimated to be about $200, as it was damaged beyond repair. The fire was thought to have started from an oil stove explosion.

Bob Wills, 'Boy Who Made Good,' Pays Visit to Friends in County Last Week

Bob Wills, nationally-known band director and former Hall County boy, was in Memphis last week renewing old acquaintances, Wills, the first fiddler of the original "Light Crust Doughboys" of Fort Worth, is related to the Willises of Harrell Chapel.

Bob used to "jerk a goose-neck" on a farm on a Red River fork about 20 miles southwest of Memphis, but the work was too hard on his hands, so he went to Amarillo to take up barbering. He learned the barber trade there and went to New Mexico to practice on the Mexicans.

He quit the barber trade to join a medicine show as fiddler for a few weeks, then quit and went to Turkey. He and the law at Turkey disagreed, and he went to Fort Worth, where he sold his barber tools and bought a fiddle and organized a band. He soon got on a flour mill program and immediately became a radio hit. For four years he played over the southwest quality network, which includes Fort Worth, San Antonio, Houston, and Oklahoma City.

Bob had differences with the mill manager at Fort Worth and quit. He went to Tulsa and got a contract with Radio Station KVOO. Ever since he has been "cleaning up."

Bob's Thursday and Saturday night broadcasts have made him nationally famous. His band plays numbers by long-distance telephone requests, and they get calls from all over the United States. They have also had calls from Canada and Hawaii. Bob gets 1,000 fan letters each week, and once received a letter from a man who was within 200 miles of the antarctic circle.

Bob Alexander In Race for Speaker For Legislature

Current interest in Austin centers about the speakership of the House in the 46th Legislature, and Bob Alexander of Childress, representative of this in the congressional district, is in the foreground in the race for the speakership post. Active campaigns have been launched in the interest of Representative Alexander and in the interest of Ross Hardin, Prairie Hill lawyer.

According to an Austin news service, Alexander is less ostentatious than Hardin, more inclined to employ personal contact rather than bombastic oratory. He is a member of committees on Agriculture, Conservation and Reclamation, Constitutional Amendments, Local and Uncontested Bills, and Penitentiaries.

According to the news service, prospects for the governor's race next term remain unchanged.

Colonel Ernest O. Thompson, Amarillo, chairman of the Railroad Commission, and Attorney General William C. McCraw are the outstanding contenders.

GOOD RELIEF of constipation by a GOOD LAXATIVE

Many folks get such refreshing relief by taking Black-Draught for constipation that they prefer it to other laxatives and urge their friends to try it. Black-Draught is made of the leaves and roots of plants. It does not disturb digestion but stimulates the lower bowel so that constipation is relieved.

Texas Farm Land Measurements To Aid Future Work

Accurate measurements of farm lands in Texas will be available for future agricultural programs through the system now employed by the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, according to E. N. Holmgreen, executive secretary of the committee.

In 91 counties of the state, measurements will be by plane table, and only those farms which are participating in the current Agricultural Conservation Program will be measured. Aerial surveys will be made on 89,000 square miles, or approximately 100 counties, and in this case all the land in the counties involved will be measured. The remaining counties in the state will check compliance on farms entering the conservation program on the system used in previous years.

The aerial survey will be continued in 1938 in all counties which have enough participation in the program to warrant the service, Holmgreen said. The aerial survey enabled the state committee to have on hand permanent and accurate maps of each farm and will eliminate the annual expense of costly chain measurements.

Holmgreen indicated that farmers who participate in the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program will receive a blue print of their farms when located in counties where aerial surveys are made.

MATERNITY AND CHILD HEALTH

EFFORTS on the part of the State Department of Health and the State Medical Association to instruct the general public in obstetrics (treatment of the mother before and after childbirth) and pediatrics (medical and hygienic care of children) is welcome news.

And welcome news is the fact that a noted obstetrician and a noted pediatrician will lecture on maternal and child health at the high school auditorium here Thursday night, May 27, at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to attend this meeting and hear the lectures, and The Democrat urges everyone to attend the meeting for the general public good.

The birth rate in this country is so small that we need to take care of all the mothers and children to insure the continuance of the present strong race. Too many American women die in childbirth each year. There are around 12,000 in America to die in this manner every year, and the worst part about the matter is that a large percentage could have been saved from death.

Ignorance, poverty, and disease are responsible for many of the deaths; and all three reasons can be partially erased through public education. Generally speaking it is the poorer class of people who is stocking the country with the citizens of the future, and we would do well to encourage public education in maternity and child health in order to improve the next generations.

GREATER HORIZONS

GRADUATES of today face many problems due to the growing complexities of our natural life. For the past six years the future facing young men and women between the ages of 16 and 25 has been dark. The clouds are lifting now, but improving conditions do not eliminate the uncertainties and the doubts that face all young people at a certain stage of life.

To these young graduates The Leader has this to say: There are distinct hardships and limitations facing you. The chance for easy success and a shallow mental success in life and a great victory in your own soul.

This is nothing new. Great obstacles always have brought forth great achievements. It was so when man emerged from his primitive caves and civilization began. It was thus when a handful of martyrs faced relentless religious persecution, and by their steadfastness, enabled Christianity to encircle the globe. It was true when a group of pilgrims braved the dangers of a hostile wilderness. Your own immediate forbears saw it when the destitute people of the South started in to rebuild their shattered homes. And even in the memory of men still hale and hearty, it was known in this county by the pioneers.

Thus it has ever been and thus it will continue to be. Great obstacles bring forth great achievements. Before you is a glorious opportunity. The westward surge to empire is gone. The undeveloped rich lands have disappeared. The exploitation of raw resources is finished. But the day of pioneering is not done, and the years will teach you that it will never die.

Before you are greater horizons than your fathers ever knew. Today we live in one of the best governed lands in the world, but we are only in our infancy in developing good government. The free land is gone, but we are only beginning to learn how to make our land produce according to its capacity. As a people we have only touched the edges of scientific development. As a nation, we, as well as the rest of the world, are helpless tottering babes as far as working out a perfect economic and social scheme is concerned.

These are only a few of the thousands of opportunities that lie before you, providing you are prepared to grasp them. You can help in solving the present-day problems by finding a place for yourself in life by preparing yourself to fill it. Start now to do that work which is before you. Don't let the present status of one kind of work keep you from it, for tomorrow it may be our most honored undertaking. Know now that distinguished work is achieved. It is a result of some person's effort, and the job itself was only the mechanical means by which they reached their great heights.—Wellington Leader.

PANHANDLE PARAGRAPHS

In recent years it has become a custom that when a section wants anything, they round up the 'boys in the saddle' and give them a feed. The charms of food may be a misnomer. Some two weeks ago a bunch here gave a feed to certain highway officials. It was a supper sailing under the guise of a banquet. Well sir, the bunch didn't promise this section a thing. It wasn't suppers they wanted. It was a breakfast. They went on to Memphis and were given a breakfast. Perhaps a bed over night. Anyway, they promised Memphis a road to Hollis, Okla., or to the state line in that direction. During the breakfast, according to Mayor-Publisher J. Claude Wells in his Memphis Democrat, the "Commissioner instructed Division Engineer Nabers to begin at once to survey (right after breakfast) TWO possible routes from Memphis to Hollis." Ignoring the state line in their haste, perhaps. Now there you are! One feed and TWO Routes.—Donley County Leader.

Personally I'm very much in favor of repeal of the race horse bill in Texas. I decided this at the end of the seventh race yesterday when I doubled up to try to get even and old No. 3 very gracefully and contentedly brought up the rear by about five lengths.—Dalhart Texan.

Women are divided into two main classes—those who don't believe everything their husbands tell them and those who haven't any husbands.—Foard County News.

There are few sessions of the legislature in which it is not proposed to divert some of the gasoline tax to other funds than the purpose for which the tax is imposed. Under the Texas constitution one-fourth of the tax goes to the school fund, which is right and just. At the present time one-fourth of the tax is being used to assume outstanding county bonds on state highways, which is another good use of the money. This leaves one-half of the tax for the highway department. It takes approximately half of the department's money to provide adequate upkeep for highways. Therefore only one-fourth of the tax remains for new construction. So long as the number of automobiles increase, building new highways will never cease. There are many, many legitimate places in the state for building highways, such as the proposed scenic drive from Canyon to Memphis through the beautiful Palo Duro Canyon. All attempts to chisel in on the highway funds have been repelled in Texas. Not so in other states. Some of the eastern states use as much as 65 per cent of the gasoline tax for other purposes. This coupled with the sales tax which is imposed in most eastern states, collects millions of dollars from tourists for the support of various functions of government.—Canyon News.

An odd picture of grief hangs in the bleak corridor which opened to a single door from my childhood. My mother had sent me to a neighbor's home for a cup of sugar and it was sundown. Shadows lay as a carpet on the clean, rough floor, and there was a sweet, enchanting odor in the plain room where a man and a woman sat silently in the gathering dusk. It seemed a long time before the man spoke and invited me to have a chair and some strange spell shook back the purpose of my mission. An awful silence gripped the moment and then I saw a pair of baby shoes on a shelf beside the clock and an empty cradle near the window where a red geranium was blooming. The woman gave me a cookie and placed a soft, cool hand on my brow before I left, gently as if touching the hem of a delicate memory.—Matador Tribune.

No property of any kind in this State shall ever be assessed for ad valorem taxes at a greater value than its fair cash market value nor shall any Board of Equalization of any governmental or political subdivision or taxing district within this State fix the value of any property for tax purposes at more than its fair cash market value; provided that in order to encourage the prompt payment of taxes, the Legislature shall have the power to provide that the State and all governmental and political subdivisions or taxing districts of the State if such taxes are paid ninety (90) days before the date when they would otherwise become delinquent; and the taxpayer shall be allowed a two (2) per cent discount on said taxes if paid sixty (60) days before said taxes would become delinquent; and the taxpayer shall be allowed a one (1) per cent discount if said taxes are paid thirty (30) days before they would otherwise become delinquent. Night Tennis May Be Played In City

Efforts are being made to install lights at the Memphis Country Club tennis courts in order that business men of the city may play tennis at night during the summer, Malone Hagan, Country Club tennis chairman, stated this week.

Mr. Hagan stated that night tennis is an ideal sport and is played successfully throughout the country. He invited the aid of any interested person or persons in furthering the idea.

Memphis Netters Lose Matches To Childress Sunday

The Memphis Country Club tennis team went down in defeat to the accurate and hard-playing Childress netters on the country club courts here last Sunday afternoon. Memphis gained only one victory out of the five matches played.

Most surprising of all was the defeat of Malone Hagan, Memphis ace netman, who went down before the hard drives and accurate placements of Fletcher Carter, Childress number 1 man. W. S. Bennett, number 2 ranking Memphis netter, lost to Woodrow Carter, number 2 man for Childress.

Pat Noel lost to J. W. Hankins of Childress after taking the first set. Sheffy Mahan defeated Irvin Johnsey, and Billy Newman won over Jack Sittin.

In the doubles play Hagan and Bennett lost to Carter and Carter. Hagan and Noel then teamed to down Newman and Hankins for the only Memphis win.

A return inter-city match will be played within the next week.

Mrs. C. S. Compton, Miss Mary Foreman, Mrs. L. G. DeBerry, Mrs. W. B. Kimberlin, Mrs. Forrest Hall, Mrs. H. B. Estes, Mrs. Otho Fitzjarrald, and Mrs. Clifford Lemons are leaving Tuesday for Canyon to attend the summer session at West Texas State Teachers College.

722 Hall County Citizens Enrolled In Adult Classes

Sixty-seven Hall County persons are directly supported by the Emergency Adult Education program, according to T. F. Huggins, county supervisor. There are now 722 students enrolled in the 19 classes of the county, and the annual pay roll amounts to $12,116.

The program supplements the public school system and does not conflict, as all students must be above 16 years of age before they are allowed to attend the adult classes. Mr. Huggins pointed out that the funds are all spent in the county, and that up to this time the local communities have not been called upon to contribute toward the support of the program.

Three new classes are expected to open soon, one at Eli, one at Estelline, and a negro class in Memphis. There are now eight classes in Memphis, four in Turkey, three in Lakeview, one at Webster, one at Lesley, one at Deep Lake, and one at Parnell.

Two new teachers have been added recently to the list in the county, Mrs. Beatrice Huggins at Eli and Mrs. Grace Wise at Estelline.

The Memphis adult program is now under the Amarillo district instead of the Lubbock district, since the recent Works Progress Administration re-districting.

The evening service will be at 8 o'clock. At this time the minister will bring a message to the congregation on the subject, "The Parable of the Sower." FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. J. Wm. Mason, Pastor

Rev. J. C. McKenzie, the District Missionary for the Panhandle District, will be our guest preacher for the services Sunday morning. He will speak on the subject "Universal Salvation." The service Sunday evening will be in the form of a Memorial Day program and you will find the program in full in another section of the paper.

Our Sunday school and BTU attendance keeps up very splendidly. We are trusting that all who should come will be in those services Sunday. Find your place and occupy it each and every Sunday.

We are hoping to have for next week's paper a full account of our plans for the revival June 6-20. We would like for everyone to bear these dates in mind and make no other arrangements for this period.

Baptist T. E. L. Class Has Banquet Honoring Husbands, Other Guests

Members of the T. E. L. Class of the First Baptist Church honored their husbands and a few guests with a banquet Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the basement of the church. The banquet proved to be one of the highlights in the social annals of the class. Roses, larkspur, petunias, and honeysuckle centered the long banquet table.

Mrs. R. W. Carlton, teacher of the class, was toastmistress. She gave a welcome to the guests and told what the T. E. L. class stood for. She then introduced the program. S. T. Harrison gave the response to the welcome address. His address was followed by the group singing the class song, "My Faith Looks up to Thee." "How We Expect to Keep a Good Record During the Summer Months" was discussed by W. C. Davis; Byron Baldwin told, "Why I Consider the Adult Department is the Most Important in the Sunday School." Mrs. J. W. Mason rendered a piano solo and Rev. Mason talked on "What a Good Live Adult Class Means to the Church."

Billie Faye Cypert and Charlene Drake acted as waitresses. Places were arranged for Mr. and Mrs. Claud Harris, Mrs. Isabelle Cypert, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hattenbach, Mrs. A. M. Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Thornton, Mrs. John Barber, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Fitzjarrald, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hill, Mrs. C. Z. Stidham, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Carlton, Billy Vernon Carlton, Mrs. J. S. McMurtry, Mrs. T. R. Second Review Of 'Gone With the Wind' Is Sponsored By Pathfinders

The Carnegie Library auditorium was the setting last Thursday evening for an interesting program, sponsored by the Pathfinder Study Club, featuring a second review by Mrs. Lloyd Phillips of "Gone With the Wind." Small admission fees were charged and 10 per cent of the proceeds were donated to the Library.

An additional interesting feature of the program was a presentation of the main characters of the book in costume. The life of Margaret Mitchell was also given in a clear and comprehensive manner by Mrs. Leon Bullard, who also presented the characters, giving a humorous descriptive remark concerning each.

Mrs. F. W. McElreath, chairman of the finance committee of the club, introduced Mrs. Bullard, who introduced Mrs. Phillips and those representing the different characters.

The book reviewed is now America's best seller, having won the Pulitzer prize for this year. The club plans to present a copy to the Carnegie Library soon.

The book, "Gone With the Wind," is a stirring drama of the "Civil War and Reconstruction which is brought vividly to life. Scarlett O'Hara, born of a gentle bred mother from the feudal aristocracy of the Georgia coast and an Irish peasant father, inherited charm from the one and from the other the determination and drive that enabled her to survive the wreckage of war. Scarlett's friend Melanie Wilks, of finer fiber, meets the same hardships with equal courage and better grace. Scarlett uses any available weapon; Melanie refuses to break with her ideals. Side by side with these are two men who love them: Ashley Wilks, for whom the world died at Appomattox and Rhett Butler, blockade runner and charming scoundrel, who is drawn to Scarlett because she is as unscrupulous as he.

The story epitomizes the whole drama of the South under the impact of the war and its aftermath. The ruggedness and strength of north Georgia's red hills are in the characters. This is not a war novel except as the war affected the lives of the people of the South.

The Pathfinders Club is hoping to sponsor other book reviews in Memphis, this having been the first one in which the public was permitted to attend. The Pathfinders Club is hoping that other clubs will help carry out this plan as it is one of the most educational forms of entertainment, one of the members stated.
