As Clyde and Bonnie 'Wiped Out'

Here is the car in which Clyde and Bonnie rode to their rendezvous with death. More than 70 bullet holes are shown in this picture, and it was thru this window the six officers poured their stream of lead into the desperadoes.

Inseparable in their wild career of murder and banditry, Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker posed for this picture before the law had chased them to their last hideout.

Clyde Barrow went to his death grabbing for a sawed-off shotgun, but before he could bring his weapon into play effectively he went down with approximately 60 bullet wounds in his body. This picture shows him being taken from the death car.

Living by the gun, Bonnie went to a violent death by the same route with her hand-picked partner in murder and banditry. Like Clyde, she grabbed for a gun; like Clyde she went down with half a hundred bullet wounds. Above she is being taken from the car in which she took her last ride.

Lyrel Davis, 21, yesterday afternoon was slightly hurt by the same gun that Wednesday seriously injured Miss Ella Mae Baker, Salisbury school teacher.

Lyrel was struck on the forehead between the eyes after the bullet had been fired into water, glanced off and spent most of its strength flying more than 100 yards.

He was brought to the Clark and Goodall hospital here, where an examination showed that the lead had cut through the flesh but had not injured the skull. It did not remain in the flesh after striking.

Lyrel was on a fishing trip yesterday afternoon at Salt creek about 10 miles east of Newlin when the accident occurred about 3 o'clock. With him were his brother and sister.

SENIORS MAKE CASH DONATION

Give Between $80 and $90 To High School's General Library Fund

The Senior class of Memphis High school of 1934 left between $80 and $90 to the school this year to be given to the general library fund.

It was decided at the last meeting of the class to buy either a machine similar to a mimeograph machine or to leave the money to the library. The funds were not sufficient to buy the machine, so the money automatically went to swell the library fund.

Dallas Tour Visitors Still Lauding 'Wonderful Reception In Memphis'

Visitors who came to Memphis on the Dallas Chamber of Commerce and Wholesale Merchants association tour recently are still acclaiming the reception they received here.

Mayor Bascom E. Davenport received a letter yesterday in which Homer D. Puckett, general chairman, and E. F. Anderson, secretary of the tour, expressed their appreciation for the reception.

"We cannot find the words, Mayor Davenport, to express our appreciation for the wonderful reception we received in Memphis last Friday, May 11," the letter read. "It was one of the outstanding receptions that we received on our 33rd annual business tour and it has not been excelled by any reception in our 33 years. It was so thoughtful of you to have your band meet us and escort us.

"Your address of welcome was particularly enjoyed, also the privilege of meeting the committee at Childrens, composed of Tomie Potts, Drs. Dickey and Hicks, Lyman Robbins any you.

"The response that your people gave our concert at 8 p. m., will never be forgotten by us. The dances you arranged, both at the country club and the American Legion hall, will go down in history as one of the nicest on the entire trip.

"It was a privilege to be with you and the citizenship of Memphis on our night stop. May the cordial relations between Memphis and Dallas be long continued."

Body Of Murdered Dairyman Located

MEXIA, May 25.—The body of John L. Adams, dairyman, missing since Monday night, was found in a tank a mile south of Groesbeck today, with a bullet hole in the temple and a belt strangling the throat.

The victim's pockets were turned out by the murderers, who threw the body into the tank.

Officers believe that Adams, 50, was killed by kidnapers who got the "wrong man." Adams lived next door to Joe Morris, a wealthy man.

A note was received Tuesday by Dwaine Adams, son of the murdered man, which said "Your old man safe—excuse us, we got wrong man."

The memorial service will consist of ritualistic ceremonies, the firing of three volleys over the graves of the soldier dead and concluded by "taps."

A detailed program is being prepared and will be announced Sunday morning.

Graves of the war veterans are to be decorated, and the American Legion Auxiliary have placed 200 bronze grave markers, the official legion marker, at the graves.

The public is urged to take part in this Memorial Day ceremony.

BORN THIRTY YEARS TO SOON

DONNA of the BIG TOP by BEULAH POYNTER

BEGIN HERE TODAY DONNA GABRIEL AND MAD... LINE SIDDALL who call them... "The Gabriel Sisters" are...

Donna grows stronger and soon is able to get about in a wheel chair.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XII

With $25 in his pocket, the result of two weeks' labor on the Siddal farm, Nub Planter considered himself affluent and due for a period of rest.

Wandering along the main business section of the city and staring in shop windows, he was accosted by a small colored boy who thrust a handbill toward him.

"Saturday Afternoon in the Arena Con David, King of Wild Beasts, Star of the Greatest Circus on Earth, and Madeline Gabriel, Superb, Beautiful, Glorious Aerial Gymnast, Will be Married in the Presence of Thousands of Spectators! Who will Join Them? To the Young Couple Who Will Join Hands in Holy Matrimony at the Same Time, at the Same Place the Management of Renfro's Colossal Three Ring Circus Will Give $100 and Furnishings for a four-room Apartment. Let's Hear From the Boys and Girls! Who Will Have This Supreme Honor?"

Only the first part of the announcement registered with Nub Planter. So Madeline Gabriel, who was really Madeline Siddal, was to be married Saturday afternoon! How could this be possible? Nub had left Madeline in a wheel chair in a farm house just outside of Lebanon only two weeks before.

ADLERIKA

Nub decided that he would see the circus. He wanted to see the wedding ceremony and the girl who was using Madeline's name. Since Nub's $25 had vanished, the only way he could secure a seat at the circus was to produce a bride and take part in the ceremony or else to find some sort of employment and earn enough for a ticket.

It was three o'clock when he reached the fair grounds, leased for three days by Renfro. The afternoon performance was in progress and Nub could hear shrieks of laughter occasioned by the clowns' antics.

Nub watched a farmer lose three dollars at a shooting gallery, then strolled over to the owner of the concession and offered his services. The other man, black-browed and heavy-eyed, sized up Nub and told him he would pay him 50 cents as a "come-on."

Part of the 50 cents went for "hot dogs" and root beer. Then Nub sauntered on, looking for more employment. By 7:00 o'clock that evening he had the wherewithal to buy a ticket for the show, but having remembered how he had wriggled under the canvas and dodged policemen in his youth, he tried the same stunt again and found a seat (unreserved) and settled into it without any qualms of conscience.

He was too far from the arena to get a clear view of Madeline's face and since three acts were presented at once, he left after the performance, disgruntled and no wiser. No announcement of Madeline's identity had been made and he did not know which girl on the flying bars or trapeze was to be the bride the following afternoon.

Mrs. Planter, on receipt of the document, did nothing at all. She asked no questions and gave Donna no information, and folded the handbill carefully and put it among her treasures in a battered cigar box in the bottom of an old camel back trunk.

Secure in the knowledge that Lebanon citizens would be most unlikely to see the Louisville newspapers and that nothing concerning her marriage would reach the ears of her grandfather, Madeline had agreed to the public wedding. At first she considered asking to have the announcements read, "Donna Gabriel," but that would have called for a great deal of explaining and might get her into further difficulties with Renfro, just as refusal to do what he asked would have done.

to Con, it would make small difference to Madeline what Donna's position might be. The ceremony that tied her for life to the man she adored was all that mattered.

Con at first rebelled against making a "holy show" of himself. He wasn't ready to marry yet. He wasn't going to become a benedict before a lot of gawping yaps!

So Con consented. Renfro was a sagacious showman, but even he was surprised at the number of applicants to share honors with the animal trainer and his bride. Ten couples appeared and offered to be married in the arena for the prize of $100 and furnishings for a apartment. Knowing the value of a laugh, Renfro chose the most unprepossessing couple in the group. The man was little, wizened and well past 60. The woman

HOLDUP AT GAS STATION

Victims Lured by Bargain Price Low Gravity Gas Robs You of Money Steals Performance from Your Motor

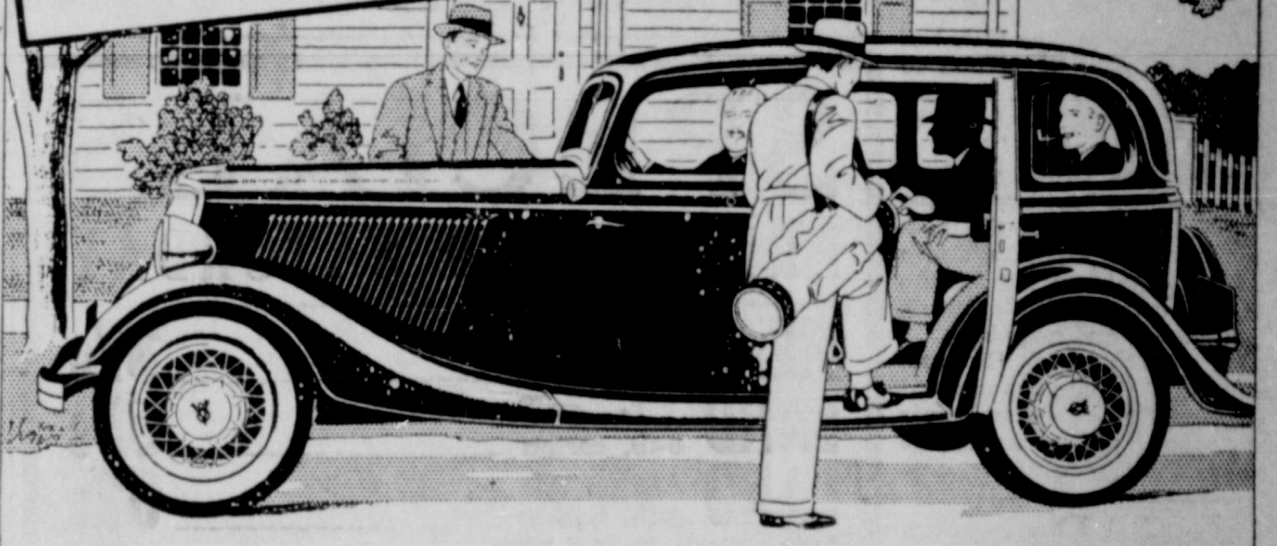

This holdup is the unseen drama which may take place every time a motorist buys gas at a cut-price pump. Some day, of course, he will know better! Like millions of experienced drivers, he will learn the money-saving benefits of Phillips 66 . . . the honest high test gasoline which sells at the price of regular. You get more power and more miles. Better miles, too. Smoother, swifter, quieter. And your engine is so respon- sive and flexible that there is added pleasure in motoring. But five gallons tell more than five thousand words. Hence we make this worth while suggestion: Before you buy your next tankful of gas at just any station which you happen to pass, look for the Orange and Black 66 shield. Because Ford measures roominess in terms of usable body room. Not in terms of the distance between bumpers, which means nothing when you come to analyze it. The Ford V-8's very engine construction gives you more body room, as the diagram explains. Cylinders are "doubled-up" saving space, not strung along in a line to waste it.

BAPTIST CHURCH "DOING AS THE LORD SAYS" DO" s the pastor's subject for the sermon Sunday morning. The text is Jno. 2:5. Are we to follow our own plans or His? This is the question. Is there a blessing in doing what the Lord says do? If there is why will we not do it? Do we fully know what the Lord wants us to do? If we do not know what the command of the Lord is can we find out what it is? If there is a way of finding out what he wants us to do why do we not search until we find? These are some of the questions that will be answered in this message. Plainly slugging and finally bullets. The militiamen had bayonets fixed but did not use them.

do we want to do the will of the Lord or the will of our own? This is a good test whether we are truly the children of God or the children of the devil. Come praying for the service and come at 10:50 for the services begin then.

Next Sunday evening is also Young People's Night. We will have the young people taking part in the service and attending in large numbers.

Invite your friends. The evening service is a special service. It is the beginning of a series of sermons on the Ten Commandments. The pastor will preach on Sunday Night on "NO OTHER GOD BESIDES JEHOVAH." In this series he will preach on down the line on the commandments. One night he will discuss the commandments against "taking the name of God in Vain." This sermon will deal with the common "cussing" that is so common. He will preach on the sin of killing, stealing, adultery, etc. Get started to these evening services. Get the habit of considering your ways and let the Lord mend them for you.

You will find friendship at this church. Come and shake our hand. Do not forget that Our Sunday School is at 9:45 each Sunday Morning and B. T. S. at 7:00 each Sunday evening. These services have a place for every member of your family. Do not send your children. Bring them.

WEST TEXAS TO GET RELIEF

HARRY L. Hopkins, Federal Relief Administrator, yesterday promised a delegation of Panhandle representatives that over $3,000,000 will be spent in 25 or more counties in West Texas as a means of drouth relief.

When the delegation intercepted him in Kansas City on the way to the Pacific Coast, Hopkins was not long in "coming through" with satisfactory answers to their demands. Evidently he knew that the Panhandle folks meant business when they demanded that something be done immediately to relieve unemployment and poverty situations in this territory. Perhaps he did not want them to go to the President with their complaint, as he certainly knew they would have done. Of course, there is also a possibility that they showed him the need of such relief for the first time, but that is very doubtful.

At any rate, the relief work that has been delayed so long should get underway promptly. It must be remembered, however, that Hopkins only agreed to the expenditure of this money. He has not taken a definite step to put the machinery in motion yet. He has not vindicated himself.

The agreement calls for the expenditure of $2,670,000 for materials and approximately $400,000 monthly for labor in the drouth stricken counties.

Of course, plans have not been worked out as to where this money will be spent, or how much different counties will get. That is all to come later. Donley county should get its share. The paved highway that was started through the county months ago should be finished, and federal money will have to do the work. It is up to Clarendon citizens to lead the way in seeing that the county is properly represented.

Hopkins also stated that the relief administration would co-operate with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in solving the troubles of farmers in areas where crop losses have been heavy. The administration will buy cattle, where necessary in douth areas, for canning into relief beef, while the Federal Relief Administration will provide seed for forage crops, food crops and feed for livestock. A program for farmers, to augment their cash income, will be developed. This work is supposed to be done in eight states, including Texas.

In this part of the country there is no time for delay. The farmers need these seeds at once if they plan to raise the crops this year.

The relief beef that Hopkins mentioned is put up in canneries the government has established at different points as a relief measure. Such is the type of cannery that may be opened here.

The idea of this plant here was advanced by Miss Ruby Mashburn, head of the district home demonstration agents by extension from College Station. The effect of her inquiry will not be known until the next meeting of the county commissioners' court, at which time it will be decided if the county is willing to share the expense of such a project with the state relief organization.

HIGH COST OF 'JUNK'

AN odd little footnote to the automobile age was furnished at Woburn, Mass., the other day, when a man bought a used car for $5, drove it out on the highway, and a few hours later got into a traffic accident that did $100 worth of damage.

The incident emphasizes our need of some kind of strict regulation to cover the use of aged and decrepit machines. You can doubtless imagine the kind of a car that can be bought for $5; not much thought is needed to convince one that such a car must be inherently unsafe, to its driver and to others.

Why shouldn't we get busy and rule all such wrecks off the road? The highways are dangerous enough even when all cars are well equipped and in perfect condition.

To permit $5 cars from the junkyard to operate is sheer folly.

THE BIG LEAGUER

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
The Democrat Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson and Don Richberg are almost as confused about the future of NRA as are all the rest of us. They do think it's going to be a permanent part of the American scheme. They think they are drawing out of the experimental stage into a routine phase where consistent policies can be maintained and that now have a fair idea as to what things can be entrusted to code authorities with reasonable assurance that they will not take advantage of labor and the consumer.

But in virtually every attempt to achieve a more workable, fairer set-up, they encounter terrific pressures—and often those pressures come from half a dozen directions.

Both bosses of NRA are convinced they can never get far without public support, but where the preponderance of that support lies is often impossible to determine.

The present effort to shunt aside the minor codes—conspicuous among them those of the tailors and cleaners—is an example. It seemed like a swell idea, since industries and codes affecting less than 15 per cent of the recovery program were using up 85 per cent of NRA effort and funds.

The thousands of telegrams of protest promptly received caused Johnson and Richberg, behind closed doors, to throw up their hands.

Administration of those codes is sure to be decentralized, but the pressure is modifying original plans.

Confronted with the fact that NRA has employed no more than a fourth of the unemployed army of a year ago, the NRA leaders are fearful of putting further stresses and strains on industry at this time by pressure for shorter hours.

The cotton textile industry, for instance, must cut production to avoid a glut. Labor demands that hours in the industry be shortened—with no decrease in weekly wage. Increased wages would mean increased prices—on goods the prices of which already cause complaint—in face of a declining market.

Pressure from industry is far stronger than that from any other direction and NRA seeks a breathing spell in which it can check what it has done to date. In that period, Johnson and Richberg would like to weed out code provisions allowing price fixing and monopolistic practices, getting as near as possible to provisions which merely prevent below-cost selling and other practices which result in insolvency or the ruination of competitors. But the shrieks of industries when their threatened Job NRA faces focus attention alone.

HEALTH

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

As soon as your doctor diagnoses a sickness in your home as diphtheria, you will find that the very first thing he does is to inoculate the sick person with antitoxin. This is of utmost importance, for a delay of two, three, or four days in giving antitoxin may mean damage to vital organs in such manner that they never recover completely.

Moreover, the first dose of antitoxin should be large enough to control the disease. This antitoxin is usually injected in the back, below the shoulder blade, but sometimes into the thigh or under the breast.

In very severe cases, it is forced into the muscles; in the milder cases, under the skin.

In the vast majority of cases, a striking improvement is seen shortly after the antitoxin is injected. The improvement is demonstrated by a fall in the fever and a favorable change in the general condition of the patient.

Usually within 24 hours after a sufficient dose has been injected, the membrane in the throat stops spreading, becomes softened, loosens, and the swelling goes down.

If you delay treatment for diphtheria, the antitoxin may be of little help, but even in such cases it exercises a tremendously beneficial influence in comparison with the effects when no antitoxin is given.

In an occasional case of diphtheria, there is sensitivity to the antitoxin, so that the patient may have a severe eruption or a reaction. These are exceedingly rare, developing perhaps in one of every thousand people.

So far as is known, death from severe reaction to the serum occurs in only one out of 70,000 people. These reactions occur more often in people who have severe asthma or who have developed sensitivity to horse serum following a previous injection.

The heart is subjected to a severe strain in diphtheria, so that the patient should always be at rest in bed. Moreover, the heart must be watched carefully for several weeks after the patient recovers, to make certain that it has not

Greene-Harrison Team Captures Country Club Scotch Tournament

Downs Johnsey, Jones, 5-4, in Final

Six Entries Added To List In Club Championship

While other members were preparing for the annual golf championship tournament of the Memphis Country Club, T. M. Harrison and R. S. Greene went out yesterday afternoon to capture the title of the club's scotch tournament in a long delayed final match.

They defeated Oren Jones and Irvin Johnsey, 5 and 4, in the 18-hole final match over the country club layout.

Four Above Par

The championship team toured the first nine three above par, holding a 1 up lead over their opponents as they made the turn. On the remaining five holes, Greene and Harrison were one above, while Jones and Johnsey climbed to five above.

Starting with a birdie on No. 1, the champions took an early lead and increased it rapidly for a few holes, only to lose the margin more quickly than it was gained. The teams halved No. 2 and the champions took three and four in par figures to go 3 up.

Square Match

Johnsey and Jones came back with a streak of par shooting that won the fifth, sixth and seventh to square the match.

However, the Greene-Harrison combination was never down. They took the eighth to gain another lead, and retained that margin with a halve on No. 9.

Starting the back nine, the titlists were unstopable from that point. They won the 10th and 11th in par figures, halved the 12th when they went one over, and then equalled par on the 13th and 14th to end the match with a wide margin.

Six More Entries

The entry list almost reached its limit yesterday afternoon and this morning, when six more players were added to the list, running the entry to 27 players. About 30 or 32 are expected to take part in the tournament.

Entry closes tomorrow, and pairing for qualifying rounds in the club championship Sunday will be made tomorrow night. First round play starts Monday, after the golfers have been divided into flights of eight players each according to qualifying scores.

Finals Next Sunday

Play in each flight and flight consolation continued throughout the week, with the championship matches scheduled for next Sunday.

ALL'S WELL AT WISCONSIN

Madison, Wis., May 25.—Football prospects at the University of Wisconsin took on a brighter hue when Walt Winderker suffered a change of heart and asked for a suit. The 245-pound freshman turned in his suit a week ago, giving no reason for his withdrawal from the team. He was readily reinstated by Coach C. W. Spears.

Rejecting and blocking desirable reforms will result either in national suicide or in complete revolution.—Henry I. Harriman, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Champion Fires His Manager

An amazing situation exists at Primo Carnera's training camp, where he is preparing for the defense of his heavyweight boxing title against Max Schmeling on June 14.

To date one of the most managed boxers in history, the Champ trains alone, for one of his handlers, Bill Duffy, at left in photo, is in jail (income tax troubles put him there), and Carnera is not on speaking terms with the other, Louis R. Soresi, right.

So Carnera does his own brain work, aided a little by his rubber, Billy DeFoe, former featherweight, while his absent managers have a contract for half his earnings.

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEW YORK. — Irishmen who haven't forgotten the sports at home cannot understand how a team from County Cavan could have captured the all-Ireland football championship, but the farmers are here and New York wearers of the green are paying them homage.

County Cavan's squad is the fourth representative of the Ould Sod to play in the big town and other eastern cities.

A County Kerry aggregation introduced the Gaelic game here in 1927, being beaten by the all-New York. The same outfit returned four years later to sweep a three-game series. Mayo came over in 1932 to drop three consecutive contests. Last year it again was Kerry, and the Kingdom Kickers bagged three games, after being held to a draw while shaking their sea legs.

Center halfback is the key position in Gaelic football. Consequently, the athlete playing the position usually is the outstanding star.

Mike Doyle, who patrolled the post for Kerry, was called the Red Grange of Gaelic football. But his most ardent admirers do not compare him with the six-foot-four Jim Smith the policeman who runs the beat for the Cavans. They call Smith one of the greatest Gaelic footballers of all time.

O'Hanlon—There's a Player!

The Couriers of County Cavan appear in Philadelphia on May 27 and at Jersey City on Decoration Day, before ending their American invasion in a second meeting with the all-New Yorks at the Yankee Stadium here on June 3.

I saw my first game of Gaelic football just a year ago, when not even his teammates knew a great deal about James Francis O'Hanlon.

So few, if any realize how much it mattered when this slip of a lad was knocked as cold as an iceman in January when his noggin struck the ground as he made a second brilliant save before the initial 1933 battle between the Kerrys and the Selected New Yorkers was two minutes old.

O'Hanlon got up rubbing his head after several minutes and went on to turn in as fine a performance as goal as any Gaelic graybeard could recall.

He probably made 15 saves, and it was his work that held the visitors to three points in the first half and ultimately enabled the metropolitan lads to tie them, 4 to 4, when Bill Mangam shot a penalty kick between the uprights

Owls Defeat Hollis Nine,

GAME HALTED AT END OF SIXTH BY RAIN

Local Club Returns To Prepare For Amarillo Tilt

Scoring a run in the sixth inning to break a deadlock just before rain halted play, the Memphis Owls turned in a 5 to 4 victory over the Hollis, Okla., nine yesterday afternoon on the Sooner diamond.

The Owls returned last night and today started work for the invasion of the Amarillo Merchants Sunday afternoon.

They have pledged themselves to "no more losses on the Fair Park diamond," but they expect to have their hands full Sunday.

Highly Quoted Club

The Merchants come here touted as a club equal to that of the Pampa Danciger Roadrunners, who beat the Owls, 6 to 3, here recently.

The game starts at 3:30 o'clock. Admission is 25 cents general and 10 cents for women and children.

Hollis pounded Clifford Stewart hard in the first inning yesterday, getting five safe hits and scoring four runs to make things look bad.

Four Run Rally

Memphis came back in the first of the second frame, however, to stage a similar spree that ended with the score knotted at 4-4.

After the first Stewart started to work and did not give up another hit through the sixth.

The Owls broke the deadlock in the first of the sixth when Jake Leggett singled and stole second. He advanced to third on Matthew Allen's sacrifice and came home on Jack Boone's single into right field.

Rain Halts Game

Rain started falling in the last half of the game and almost wiped out the Owl's margin. The game was delayed for a few minutes, but the club returned to finish the inning and give Memphis the victory.

The line score:
MEMPHIS 5 0 40 0 0 1-5 7 2
HOLLIS 4 0 0 0 0-4 5 2
Stewart and Leggett; A. Wilson and C. Wilson.

Stars at Soccer, Too

O'Hanlon, who now is 26, started playing Gaelic football at St. Laurence O'Toole school on the North Side of Dublin when he was 10.

He scintillated with the O'Toole parish team before coming to the land of the free a half dozen years ago, but being unacquainted with any of the Manhattan Gaelic football bunch did not again play the game until the local Roscommon team picked him up shortly before he electrified the customers in the big series.

Meanwhile, he had stood out as goalie of the soccer squad, the Dublin Free Booters, of the Bronx.

COLLEGES CAN RING NOISE

NEW YORK, May 25.—A paragraph in the National Collegiate Athletic Association's boxing rules asks the spectator to refrain from applauding during actual action in intercollegiate boxing meets. Cheers should be withheld until intermission between rounds, it is suggested.

PRESBYTERIANS, METHODISTS TO BATTLE

Yesterday's Tilt Is Rained Out: Move To Fair Park

The Methodists are slated to make another attempt to climb out of the cellar of the Sunday School softball league this afternoon in a battle with the Presbyterians.

At least, they hope to release their lone claim to the bottom position. A victory over the Presbyterian outfit would throw the two clubs into a tie for third and fourth positions.

Yesterday's tilt between the Christians and Baptists that was to have determined the leadership was postponed because of rain. It was not announced if this game will be made up Tuesday, as is usually the case in postponed games.

The Baptists retained a one-game lead over the Christians and Presbyterians when yesterday's tilt was postponed. The Presbyterians can do no better than move within half a game of that lead today.

DO YOU REMEMBER

One Year Ago Today—The U. S. Polo Association ruled that a championship game should consist of eight periods rather than six, as advocated.

Five Years Ago Today—Illinois won the Big Ten outdoor track and field championship for the third successive time.

Ten Years Ago Today—Willie Ritola, Finnish Olympic star, established a new world record for the 10,000 meters. His time was 30 minutes 35 2-5 seconds.

Only about 300,000 men have been killed since 1933 in the fighting between Paraguay and Bolivia. Not such a good record for munitions manufacturers to hold up to other nations.
