Signs 3-Year Contract; Has Been Head of Schools Here Since '35-36 Term

W. C. Davis, superintendent of the Memphis Public Schools for the past four years, has been elected by the Memphis Independent School Board for three more years, it has been announced.

Mr. Davis began his work as superintendent of the Memphis schools with the 1935-36 term, and since that time has made numerous improvements in the school system. He is also active in a number of civic enterprises.

In signing the three-year contract, the superintendent turned down an offer to act as deputy state superintendent in Childers. The position was offered him by State Superintendent L. A. Woods.

Mr. Davis came to Memphis from Childers, where he was principal of the high school for 10 years. He was a student at the University of Texas for two years, and later received his bachelor of science degree at Southwest State Teachers College at San Marcos.

Fifteen old criminal suits, the indictments of which were made in former grand jury sessions, are listed, and the number of new criminal suits will depend on the indictments made by the grand jury.

Six new civil suits have been filed with the district clerk, Mrs. Isabel Cypert, since the February term of court.

Grand jurors will be selected from the following: R. A. Eddleman, R. A. Hutcheson, A. B. Stephens, Jim Webster, Roy Sweatt, J. F. Solomon, Jay Russell, J. B. Reed, N. A. Hightower, B. E. Davenport, Bill Mullins, Wade Davis, George E. Dickson, A. S. Bevers, L. H. Price, M. N. Orr.

Get Ready to Relax, for Next Monday Is Labor Day—Another Legal Holiday

You may not be aware of it, but next Monday is a legal holiday.

It's Labor Day, and presumably you are supposed to drop your pick and shovel, pen and pencil, grocery basket, or what have you, and take the day off to rest.

Of course, down here in Texas, where large industrial concerns are few and far between, and where labor organizations do little in the way of leading strikes, etc., Labor Day is seldom observed by very many people.

Here in Memphis, the post office will be closed for business, Postmaster J. H. Read said this week. A few other businesses, including the banks and barber shops, will also be closed to observe the legal holiday.

The laborers' holiday was started in 1882, when the Knights of School is starting. Just those three words mean a great deal to practically every person in Hall County, affecting all of them in some way or another.

The phrase will apply to Turkey, Newlin, Plaska, and Estelline schools next Monday, when the four schools open their doors to children. The following Monday, September 9, will find the last of the county schools opening for business—Memphis and Eli. Memphis students, however, will enroll next Thursday and Friday.

Part of the county schools have already started regular activities—those schools at Lakeview, Lesley, Brice, Deep Lake, Pleasant Valley, Parnell, Buffalo Flat, and Weatherly. These schools were started earlier to allow time for a brief period this fall when students will have to stop attending school for cotton picking.

Here in Memphis, a general faculty meeting will be held next Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, Superintendent W. C. Davis has announced. Thursday morning will find enrollment of students taking place, with the accompanying phases, such as sectioning students, checking out books, etc.

Actual teaching and class instruction will not be started in the Memphis schools, but a short schedule will be run through to acquaint students with their daily routine, as well as to explain to

Thieves Rob Two Service Stations

Two service stations were looted Saturday night, but the thieves apparently became uneasy about their safety at one of the stations and left without taking anything except a small amount of candy.

The station reporting the heaviest loss was the Vallance Community Service, where the night looters took several cartons of cigarettes, several cartons of smoking tobacco, some chewing tobacco, candy, and chewing gum. About $150 in pennies was taken from the cash drawer.

The other station was the Log Cabin station, but the only merchandise missing was a few bars of candy. Cash in the register was not bothered. Fingerprints were found, and were taken Sunday to Amarillo by Sheriff W. C. Anderson.

Worley Grateful For Friends' Aid

Eugene Worley, winner in the race for Congressman from the 18th District, this week thanked his supporters for their help in his campaign.

He has issued the following statement to the voters of the 18th District:

To say that I am grateful to the people of Hall County for their loyal support would be putting it mildly. I shall devote my full time from now until Congress convenes in thoroughly familiarizing myself with all pending legislation.

I also plan a trip over the entire district before January and will appreciate the people calling my attention to any local problems which they might have.

Plane Crash Kills Former Resident

Funeral services were held Sunday in Irving for Clarence L. Hobbs, former resident of Memphis, who was one of nine killed when an army bombing plane crashed near Denver, Colo., Thursday night of last week.

Mr. Hobbs lived in Memphis in 1906. His mother, Mrs. Sallie Hobbs, died here in 1911.

Attending the funeral services were Mrs. E. T. Prater and Mrs. John Martindale of Childress, aunts and uncle of Mr. Hobbs. He was also the grandson of J. W. Martindale of Memphis.

The body was cremated, and the ashes flown Tuesday to a Texas coastal city, where services were also to be held.

Mr. Hobbs is survived by his sister, Mrs. Vance Reynolds of near Irving. He had been in army service for the past 16 years, and had made his home with his sister when he was on furlough.

We praise God for those who accepted Christ. May His spirit guide them. Because of the revival at Friendship, the pastor will not appear to fill the regular appointment, but will pray earnestly for Brother Evans, and for the services there. How to Use Sour Cream Explained The tragedy of sour cream may be turned into a triumph if it is used in a baked fish dish, or for veal chops or cutlets, or for gravy. Nora Ellen Elliott, foods preparation specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, comes up with this argument: Fish and veal are often seasoned with lemon and butter. The acid of sour cream corresponds to the lemon and the cream supplies the fat. The method is to season the fish with salt and put it in a very hot oven for about five minutes. Then add sour cream to cover, sprinkle with bread crumbs, and bake at a moderate temperature until the fish is tender and the crumbs are brown. Veal chops and cutlets are first pan-broiled and then baked in the sour cream. And Miss Elliott points out that sour cream makes a gravy that goes extra well with chicken, chopped beef, and such vegetable, as fried tomatoes, snap beans, and spinach.

Private Signal Code Saves Man Near Death In Isolated House

Lewis W. Shepard, who, alone and without telephone, obtained neighbor's aid in time for critical operation.

"I not only live well out in the country," he said, "but my nearest neighbor is a quarter of a mile away. When one is alone under such conditions, and has no telephone, it is a problem how to get help in a sudden emergency, especially in the night. But my neighbor's house and mine, while a considerable distance apart, are in sight of each other. So I had arranged with him a sort of signal code to use if I ever got in a tight spot. "I was by now so sick that I could hardly move. I was afraid I might become unconscious from pain if I tried to exert myself, and then I would be done for. But I had to take the chance. "I got where my flashlight was. There I had to stop. I could go no farther. After a while I pulled myself together for one more try. It was slow going. But at last I worked my way to a window. "As part of my emergency system—I guess now it was the most important part—I kept fresh batteries in my flashlight. If I hadn't, I don't know what would have happened. The night was so foggy that my neighbor could not have seen anything but the brightest kind of beam. "That brightness was what saved me. I think I would have died there if he hadn't come, for I was then too weak to help myself any more. "As soon as he arrived he got me to his house. They worked over me all night and as soon as morning came they took me to the hospital. The surgeons found that my peritonitis had set in. "Shepard indeed reached the hospital with not a minute to spare. His condition was so critical that it was agreed, following the operation, that the slightest delay would in all probability have caused his death.

A SMALL circle of light, flashing a quarter of a mile through the darkness, saved the life of Lewis W. Shepard, near death with acute appendicitis. Shepard lives alone some distance from the village of Rodman, N. Y. He began to feel sick in the afternoon but did not suspect his ailment was serious until night. Then, alone in his house, the pain increased rapidly. It finally became so sharp that Shepard felt he could stand it no longer.

Shape of Mrs. Average Woman Being Determined by Measurement Study

Are you a perfect "18" or "20" holes. Probably not. Because women's ready-made clothing frequently has to be altered in one place or another, workers in the Federal Bureau of Home Economics are making measuring studies to determine what shape Mrs. Average Woman has these days. At present most women's ready-made clothing and dress patterns are designated by bust measure alone. Fifty-nine body measurements are taken on each woman who cooperates in the study. These come from all walks of life in different parts of the country, and many are being measured through women's clubs, parent-teacher, and other organizations, and at retail stores. Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service, explains that when a woman buys a dress by bust measure she may find it tight at the hips or loose at the waistline. Some women complain that dresses "pop" at the skirt seams when they sit down. Other points where garments are subject to strain, if a woman is quite active, are in the back between the shoulders and around the arm-

Manufacturers and retailers in the country requested the survey after the Bureau completed a study of 147,000 children ranging in age from 4 to 17 years. Some of the measurements have been requested by manufacturers of special garments such as slips, corsets and foundation garments, and stockings. About 45 minutes is required to record the 59 measurements. The study is being financed by the Works Projects Administration.

SOIL CONSERVATION

DATE FOR THE Soil Conservation District election has been set as October 19, and educational meetings to explain the state conservation law are scheduled to be held in nearly every community in Hall County between now and the date of the election.

Cost of holding the election will be very low. Judges and clerks, as well as the polling superintendent, are not paid for their services. These men, most of whom are landowners, are giving of their time in order to determine whether the majority of landowners in the county want the soil district.

A two-thirds majority will be necessary to carry the election. To be eligible to vote, the person must be a landowner, and must live within the boundaries of the area which the district is to serve. Furthermore the person must be a qualified voter under the Texas election laws. Wives of landowners will be allowed to vote. In addition, any person, who as an individual owns an equity in land within the area and who lives within the area, will be allowed to vote.

A total of 783 people are listed as landowners in Hall County, all of whom, if they are otherwise qualified voters, will be allowed to vote. There will be many of these who have wives, and then there will be those persons who own equity in land. In other words, there should be more than 1,200 who will be eligible to vote.

Each of these should vote in the election, since the state soil conservation board can disregard the election returns as not being representative if only a small number of ballots are cast.

Conservation of our natural resources is one of the main problems of today. Every landowner, as well as every other person, should be interested in preserving the qualities of our land for the generations to come.

The best explanation for conserving land was expressed by a witness at the soil district hearing last spring. That witness said that he believed landowners are only tenants on any land they may have during their lifetime. He said further that he believed the Supreme Being intended that the people on earth hand down their land to the next generation in at least the same condition of fertility, if not better, than the condition in which they received it.

Establishing of a soil conservation district in Hall County is one means by which landowners can restore their land to the fertility it once enjoyed before a portion of its life-giving qualities were used in producing cotton, feeds, and other products for which man has been using it.

A large amount of work in the conservation line has been done by the Soil Conservation Service office at the veterans' CCC camp in Memphis during the past five years. But the purpose of locating the CCC camp here was not to carry out the conservation practices on every farm. The work has been done on some farms to demonstrate to all Hall County farmers the value of soil conservation work.

Landowners now have the opportunity to realize what conservation work on a broad scale can mean to Hall County. It has been done in other localities, and has proved to be a success. Why can't we in Hall County profit from the experience of others?

WE HAVE NO REGRETS

ALTHOUGH VOTERS in the 18th Congressional District chose as their Congressman the man who opposed the Democrat's choice for Congress, The Democrat wants to take this opportunity of congratulating Eugene Worley on his successful campaign.

It is only logical that when only two men are in a race for office, one of them must lose, and naturally the supporters of the losers also have to face the consequences.

The point we want to make here is that The Democrat was not fighting AGAINST Worley, but FOR Wells. We likewise hope that the voters who were on the winning side were casting their ballots FOR Worley, and not AGAINST Wells.

The Democrat supported the man the newspaper believed would be better qualified—we lost—we have no regrets.

Another Error
Errors quite often creep into newspapers, no matter how carefully the news is compounded. In last week's Childrens County County News, one of those errors was made. It was so glaring that we hate to pass it up. In the new arrival column, "Who's New in Childrens," one of the paragraphs reads as follows: "Present were the honoree's mother Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hash was born Wednesday afternoon in a local hospital." Personally, we don't get it.

Democracy vs. Dictatorship
The Quannah Tribune-Chief: Democracy is a system for peace time; dictatorship is geared for conflict. Dictatorships have the advantage of achieving unification by force and propaganda, but a democracy can by voluntary action equal this effort when the emergency comes and sustain it over a longer period of time.

Just the Trouble
The Plainsman in the Lubbock Morning Avalanche: Another great disadvantage to being unemployed is that you have no payday to borrow money until.

Character
The Canyon News: Politics leads us to queer conclusions. The favorite political cry of 1940 was being poor. The more the candidate would holler about being poor and needing the public job, the surer his chances were of election. Being poor is no disgrace, but it is certainly no virtue. Being well off, or even rich, is no crime, if the wealth was honestly secured—as most wealth is

The Richardson Echo: Bragging may not bring happiness, but no man with a large fish goes home through an alley.

Proud?
Douglas Meador in the Matarador Tribune: Apparently asleep in the shady dust outside the ill-fitting door, a young rooster opened one eye at intervals. During the rush of summer, nature had neglected to properly feather the fowl... and the sun had blistered exposed extremities. But the cockerel heid no malice to fate, instead he walked with a Man a Worshipping Creature

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Sept. 1.
Text: Psalm 103:1-5, 10-18

INEVITABLY, man seems to be a worshipping creature. From the dawn of history, there are the evidences of the altars he has set up, and the sacrifices he has made, in obedience to some higher power than himself.

Where he has not had come intelligent being to worship, he has set up his altars to the unknown god and he has bowed before idols. This worshipping feeling in man has had its noblest history and expression in the Jewish Scriptures, which came out of Jewish religious experience, the Christian Scripture, and the Christian experience, which have had their origin in the same great source.

The man who feels no impulse to worship is surely lacking in something essential. The impulse of praise is inevitable to a man as he gazes upon the sunrise or a beautiful sunset, or beholds the marvels of nature.

The impulse may find varying forms of expression. It may, in fact, well up in the soul of a man who is not able to express it. But the worshipping feeling is there, and it is fortunate for those who cannot express what is in them that they have a heritage of saints and poets who have shared with common men their deepest expressions of joy and praise.

THE 103rd Psalm, from which the passages in this lesson are taken, is one of the greatest of these songs of praise. It was evidently written in a mood of great happiness, but it comes out of the hard and bitter, as well as the sweet experiences of life.

It has reference to iniquities and diseases and destruction, and certain glamour in his stride, to the radiator of the steaming automobile. With leisurely nonchalance the bird extracted a generous quantity of bugs and grasshoppers from the grille, then returned to the shade. Pride is an asset only while under control.

Guardsmen Not Equipped To Face Active Duty Call

WASHINGTON.—Just how tough a time the United States is going to have equiping national guardmen called up for extended active duty has been vividly shown during the big nation-wide war maneuvers.

For the war "games" were just that—guardsmen had to drill with trucks labeled "tank" and with "machine guns" improvised of wood and pipe.

Citizen soldiers called up under terms of the national guard bill will lack modern rifles, ammunition, heavy guns, mortars, tanks, winter clothing and even military leadership.

Production is being stepped up as rapidly as possible, but the regular army is getting most of the modern war materials. Naturally the problem will be aggravated by an increase in the size of the regular army.

The War Department lists 252 items as "critical to a soldier's combat efficiency"—and it's those very items the guard has least of.

THE army is getting all the modern Garand rifles the country's arms plants can turn out and even so won't be fully supplied for at least two years.

The tank situation is similar—the army's first "Panzer" division will have to wait until next spring before it's equipped; no one knows how long the guard will have to wait.

There are two serious artillery deficiencies—guns and ammunition. Guardsmen will have to get along at least until the end of this year with outdated 75's.
Best anti-tank weapon is the 37 mm. gun, but again the army's store is deficient, so the guard can't hope to get a supply in the near future.

So it goes. Everything the guard needs, the army needs too, and the army gets first crack.
Ordinarily it's not much of a problem to clothe and feed the guard, but calling up 400,000 young men to the army under the terms of the selective service bill might leave a shortage of heavy clothing.

ALSO subject to call for extended active duty are the 100,000 organized reserve officers of the nation. If the selective service act works out according to schedule, they'll all be needed —and more. It's estimated 42,000 will be called up during the coming year.

Reserve officers come principally from the guard, from citizens' summer camps, and from college training corps. Other sources are the enlisted reserve and the ranks of World War veterans.

Each officer attends regular conferences, studies correspondence courses, and spends about two weeks each summer in active training—either in special reserve camps or attached to guard or regular army inactive groups.

Chief handicap of reserve officers is that their training has been, for the most part, theoretical, without practical experience in handling enlisted men. This fact tends to reduce combat efficiency until proper co-ordination can be effected.

"Build-Up" Good News For Suffering Women

Much of women's periodic distress may be unnecessary!

Many who suffer from headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain, other symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition are helped by CARDUI.

Main way it helps relieve periodic distress is by increasing appetite and flow of gastric juice. Thus it often aids digestion; helps build strength, energy, resistance to periodic disturbances.

Others find help for periodic discomfort this way: Start a few days before and take CARDUI until "the time" has passed. Women have used CARDUI more than 50 years.

Did I get the Horselaugh when I said electric rates had been cut in half!

YOU see, I work for the electric company and so the other night at a little party I got to sounding off about the way electric rates have been steadily reduced to about half what they were twelve or fifteen years ago.

Boy, did I get the horselaugh!

"Sure," says one of the fellows, "I suppose that's why my electric bill is higher than it ever was."

"Hold on," I said. "I know what's bothering you. Your bill is as big as it ever was. Maybe bigger. So is mine. But you forget we're using more juice. We didn't always have radios, refrigerators, clocks, and percolators, and irons, and maybe a dozen other things."

"That's not all," I said. "You not only get twice as much juice for your money. You get better service than you ever got. And what does it cost?" I ask. "For most of our customers it's less than a dime a day. Light, music, refrigeration, cool breezes, good coffee, hot toast, cool ironing, and it costs about a dime a day. It's the biggest bargain there is, and it's getting bigger all the time."

When we were saying goodbye on the porch I gave them one more shot.

"You not only get twice as much electricity for your money," I said, "but you cut your own rate every time you use more. The way modern electric rates are now, the more you use, the lower the price." So I say good night and what a good time I had.

P.S. It sure was a swell party! They asked me to come again.

Recruiting Officer Cites Advantages Of Army to Youth

Drive for Enlistment of Men Between 18 and 35 Years of Age Is Now On

As all signs point to Congress enacting a law raising the base pay of army recruits from $21 to $30 a month, interest is increasing among young men as to what the army has to offer them, Sergeant Andrew J. Williams, Childress recruiting officer, said this week.

Sergeant Williams has issued the following statement concerning the drive for recruits: "The army is putting on a big drive for young men between the ages of 18 and 35 who are of good character, good health, and who have no criminal record. If under 21, they must have the consent of their parents or legal guardian.

"I know there are many boys in this section who would join the army if they had someone to talk to them and explain the advantages the army has to offer a young man. I can't visit every young man in this section, but I am glad to talk to all who call at my office in the district attorney's office at the Childress County courthouse.

"There are literally thousands of boys in this nation roaming the country without jobs or prospects. The army has a job for these young men, but they must meet our standards.

"They must be willing to learn, and we prefer young men who wish to learn some trade that will support them when their term of enlistment is over, such as automobile and radio mechanics, cooks, bakers, and many other trades.

"The army maintains many schools the ambitious recruits may attend, and when their term of enlistment is over, they will find they have learned things which will make jobs much easier to find.

"I know most boys growing up now find it difficult to secure a good job because they are not prepared to fill them. The army will prepare them to fill good jobs. The army is not just a military machine. It is a mighty force in building and educating men."

Last of Softball League Games to Be Played Tonight

Lakeview, Sinclair Teams To Vie for Title as Winner of Second Half of League

The last game to be played officially in the Hall County softball league will be held tonight, Robert Devin, supervisor, said this week.

Two teams, Lakeview and the Sinclair team, will be vying for the title as winner of the second half of the league. Lakeview won the first half of the league with only one loss.

The second half ended in a three-way tie among Lakeview, Grocers, and Sinclair. The Grocers were defeated by Lakeview in the opening of the play-off Tuesday night, 13 to 12, thereby giving Lakeview the right to meet the Sinclair team for the title.

Plans now are to end the softball play with the game tonight, since football season will be starting in about two weeks, and the lights will have to be removed from the softball field and re-installed on the poles at the Cyclone Stadium.

Softball play has been in progress throughout the summer, operating in connection with the summer recreational program sponsored by the Memphis Public Schools.

Candidate Cards On Poles Removed

Candidate posters and placards, which were tacked to telephone and light poles during the recent campaign, are being removed this week under the sponsorship of the chamber of commerce, Carroll Smyers, secretary, said Wednesday.

Since the cards no longer are of any use to the candidates, Smyers said, they are being removed to prevent their marred the beauty of the city. The cards will be burned after they are removed.

Named Best Boy Driver in Texas

Clark Douglas, 17, of Cleburne, Texas, selected as champion good driver of his state in a contest conducted by the Ford Good Drivers League, receiving congratulations from Mayor T. S. Moon in front of the Cleburne city hall. The boy's father, F. M. Douglas, looks on as his son proudly displays his state winner's certificate signed by Edsel Ford. The lad will compete for the national crown and a $5,000 university scholarship with champion boy drivers from forty-seven other states in the finals of the good driving contest to be held at the New York World's Fair.

Cleburne Youth to Represent Texas In National Good Drivers Contest

Chosen from among hundreds of Texas teen-aged lads as the young man best able to drive an automobile safely and well and describe how he will attempt to reduce traffic accidents, Clark Douglas, 17 years old, of Cleburne, will represent his state in the national finals of the Ford Good Drivers League contest to be staged in New York during the week of August 26.

Forty-eight young men, representing as many states, will take part in the final tests which will include a series of grueling maneuvers in the traffic of New York City and suburbs, followed by psycho-physical reaction tests in the Ford building at the New York world's fair. The final examination, held under the direction of Dr. A. R. Lauer of Iowa State College, will rate the boys on their vital driving characteristics, including their reactions to road and traffic conditions. A $5,000 university scholarship is the first prize.

The national champion good driver will be announced on Thursday night, August 29, by Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Good Drivers League. The runner-up will receive a $2,000 scholarship, while scholarships amounting to $500 each will be given the three next best drivers. In addition, scholarships amounting to $250 each will be presented to the next eight best contestants.

Each of the state winners, no matter what his final score, will receive a $100 scholarship in addition to the cost of his trip with a friend or relative to the New York fair.

The Texas winner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Douglas of Cleburne, where his father is cashier of the City National Bank and is the great grandson of Governor Edward Clark of Texas, who held office in 1861.

Young Clark was graduated from high school this year with highest honors in the senior class, of which he was valedictorian. In addition he was a student director and played in the school band. Two years ago he won the Citizenship Award presented by the Rotarians of his town. The boy already has driven some 40,000 miles without an accident, and so at seventeen he considers himself a veteran driver.

Max Boyer Thanks Friends for Help

Representative Max Boyer of Perryton, issued a statement this week in which he expressed appreciation to the friends and supporters throughout the state who worked for him during the recent campaign in connection with his race for State Senator.

"The many fine friends I became associated with in the campaign which just closed afforded me an opportunity to more clearly know the type of people who live in the Panhandle.

"There are no alibies or excuses which I have to make as to our defeat. I ran the kind of a race that I have always conducted and if I were running again, I would act the same way as I did in this campaign.

"As a citizen, I shall continue to observe closely all legislative activities in Austin. I wish I had the time and money to thank personally each friend who did his bit for me."

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to the dear friends of Lesley and Lakeview communities who assisted in any way during the illness and death of our husband and father, Mrs. W. C. Skinner and Family.

New Market For Cotton Discussed By Local Dealer

Manufacturing of Tires Will Use Many Bales of Cotton From Coming 1940 Crop

In a discussion of the new markets for cotton, E. E. Cudd, owner of the Cudd Service Station, local Firestone store, mentioned one new channel which would absorb 10,000,000 pounds of cotton from this year's crop and which would, at the same time, save many thousands of dollars for cotton growers throughout the South. He referred to the fast growing market for farm tractor tires.

"This market did not exist eight years ago," Mr. Cudd stated. "Today it is an important part of the $55,000,000 cotton order the rubber industry will send to the South for 1940, and it owes its origin to the foresight and pioneering work of Harvey S. Firestone, the man who 'put the farm on rubber'."

The fact that an average 10.00-38 Ground Grip tractor tire uses 17.7 pounds of cotton does not impress the average cotton grower until he realized that early in 1940 nearly 600,000 tractors were rolling on rubber tires, and that today 85 per cent of all tractors turned out are equipped with rubber tires, many of which contain far more than 17.7 pounds of cotton apiece.

During the current year, it is estimated that 12 per cent of the total cotton consumed in the United States will be used by the rubber industry, largely because cotton mills continue to meet new demands of the tire companies for stronger cotton cord. The better engineered cotton cord now used in truck and bus tires, results in an average of 30,000 to 40,000 miles which is a tremendous increase over tire mileage of ten years ago.

The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company, one of the largest cotton purchasers in the industry, estimates that it will spend $9,000,000 for cotton in the primary markets throughout the cotton growing states.

new students the locations of their classrooms.

Enrollment in the Estelle schools for juniors and seniors will take place Friday and Saturday of this week, Superintendent J. T. Duncan has announced. The schools, however, will not officially open until Monday.

The Plaska school, which opens Monday at 9 o'clock, will start with a short program, and plans now are to dismiss by noon. Although the school has lost one teacher, all the remaining instructors have degrees. Principal Dean Fletcher now has his masters degree, and Mrs. Brunetta Borris and Mrs. Henry Foster have bachelor degrees. Some work has been done on the school this summer, including refinishing of the woodwork on the outside.

Memphis Public Schools will operate on the 12-grade system this year, it has been announced, with the additional grade being added for the beginning class. All other classes will be moved up one grade in name only, with the subject matter remaining the same.

Parents have been asked by Superintendent Davis to note the change in classes to prevent any confusion on enrollment day. The 7th grade will become the 8th grade, and students will attend school in the high school building instead of the junior high building.

The 3rd grade will become the 4th, and students will attend school at the junior high building, Mr. Davis said.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Devin and daughter attended a family reunion at Ceta Canyon Sunday.

"I wish to take this means of thanking my friends who stood by me so loyally during the congressional campaign. Due to the fact that I have spent all the money I had saved and still have bills to pay, it will be impossible for me to even write you a personal letter at the present time.

"I take this means of thanking you, and I want each and every one of you to know that even in defeat, it warms my heart to think of your consideration and your steadfast friendship.

Bears Biggest Threat Packers' Pro Grid Crown

BY ART BRONSON

THE mercury continues to boil away and the old swimmin' hole is still a busy place, but football is very much in the air for the boys who play for pay.

And as the pro stars sweat off excess poundage accumulated over the summer, talk once more centers around the tradition in the National League that the champion never repeats.

THE Green Bay Packers not only have to beat tradition, but a general improvement in the entire loop, as well.

The Packers will again raid the air lanes with Cecil Isbell and Arnold Herber throwing, and the brilliant Don Hutson catching. No one yet has discovered a way to stop Hutson.

BUT tough as they're figured to be, the Packers have a very big fear for the Chicago Bears, who had a whale of a club in 1933 and who are coming up with the same bunch, plus some likely-looking rookies.

Bill Osmanski, the hard-hitting fullback from Holy Cross who made the All-League team as a recruit last year, heads a backfield that contains Joe Maniaci, Billy Paterson and Sid Luckman, the former Columbia aerial artist.

The Bears also drafted a flock of rookie linemen with great possibilities, including Ken Kavanaugh, Louisiana State's All-America end; Ed Koleman, a powerful tackle from Temple, and Clyde Turner, star center from Hardin-Simmons.

PARKER HALL, who set a new passing record in his first season, makes the Cleveland Rams a dark horse in the western division. The Detroit Lions under new management will be tough, but hardly a pennant contender. The Chicago Cardinals, with Jimmy Conzelman taking the coaching reins, will attempt a rebuilding job.

Bill Osmanski... he's Bears' big battering ram.

The New York Giants look like the class of the eastern division with Grenville Lansdell, former Southern California star, and Kay Eakin, formerly of Arkansas, providing new and versatile backfield talent.

The Washington Redskins look like the Giants' competition in the east, with Philadelphia, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh bunched behind.
