CRIMINAL CASE TRIALS ARE SET FOR NEXT WEEK

Ferguson to Be Tried for Theft Of Fairview Pipes

With criminal cases scheduled to come before the Hall County District Court next week, activity was slight this week as District Judge A. A. Moss heard only divorce cases.

Highlighting criminal cases will be that against J. L. Ferguson, who was indicted in a previous term of court for theft. Ferguson is charged with the theft of pipes from Fairview Cemetery in Memphis, San Diego, Calif., last week by Sheriff W. C. Anderson and Chief of Police Edd McCreary.

Ferguson's case will probably be the first to come before the court. Other indictments, made by the Grand Jury last week, will be acted upon in their turn.

Petit jurors, if needed for next week's session of court, will be selected from the following: M. L. Pittman, O. B. Hoover, H. H. Newman, S. W. Brewer, A. D. Britt, J. R. Browder, R. N. Clark, A. O. Phillips, Leslie H. Calhoun, Jake Morrison, Clarence Moore, T. H. Deaver.

No More Bonds

est. To make this possible, the roads on which the money was to be spent would have had to be designated as state highways.

The law permits the commission to accept county and road district funds from bond issues where the issues were voted prior to Jan. 2, 1939. Proceeds from these bonds, when used on state highway construction, would be eligible for payment from the road bond fund on the same basis as bonds assumed under the original law passed in 1932 and its subsequent amendments.

It also was pointed out that as a result of the war there was a critical deficiency in many of the materials needed in heavy highway construction and that highway construction costs had increased substantially. More economical construction would be obtained after the war when prices return to their former levels, the commission indicated.

"Restrictions on the motor industry will necessarily bring about a substantial reduction in the gasoline tax revenues at least for the duration of the war," the commission stated. "It appears that such reductions in revenue will present a most serious problem to the Board of County and District Road Indebtedness in providing funds for servicing of bonds heretofore assumed by the state. Therefore, it shall be the policy of the commission to refrain from the acceptance of funds from bond issues and insofar as the commission is concerned all future construction of highways shall be on a 'pay as you go' basis from funds currently available."

The commission directed that a copy of its statement of policy be sent to all county officials with the suggestion that "a similar study in the individual counties be made with the expectation that such studies will reveal to the county officials that bond issues for the construction of roads are not advisable, at least under present conditions."

The Navy sent 2,500 books to its men in Iceland and are adding 1,500 more; fiction and non-fiction.

The Civilian Defense Auxiliary met Tuesday afternoon at the American Legion Hall. Mrs. Gene Barnett discussed victory gardens, stressing the need of a greater variety of vegetables. 16,000 jars of fruit and vegetables were canned for the county schools last year and Mrs. Barnett asked that each gardener plant two extra rows this year for the school. "Regimentation for Women Foreseen," by Kathleen Norris, was reviewed by Mrs. Sid Baker. We were delighted to have with us Sam Gardner of Childress, highway patrolman, who told of ways in which women could serve in civilian defense. The next meeting of the auxiliary will be the last Tuesday in March.

Following is a list of finished garments shipped this week from the sewing rooms to Red Cross headquarters: 52 children's dresses, 36 girl's dresses, 29 women's dresses, 78 children's gowns, 90 hospital bed shirts, 100 hospital heavy pajamas, 71 skirts, 113 children's sweaters, 29 women's sweaters, 19 men's sweaters, 10 mufflers, 40 pairs of socks, 50 layettes consisting of 30 items each, making a total of 2,157 garments. The packing and storage rooms have been cleared out and we are ready to start on a new quota. There is plenty of work for every one.

Visitors to the sewing room the past week who were returning finished garments or who came for work for their communities were: Mrs. Roy Cooper and Mrs. Armstrong of Turkey; Mrs. C. J. Winn of Parnell; Mrs. Don Wright of Lakeview; Mrs. Fred Hemphill of Newlin; Mrs. E. W. Pate of Pleasant Valley; Mrs. Ruth Richardson of Estelline. Each community in the county is keeping ahead of its quota in sewing. Many are making afghans which will be used in the army and navy hospitals and many are turning in lovely quilts which will be sold and the proceeds given to the Red Cross.

Be sure to attend the nutrition class each Tuesday at 4:45 p. m. in the home economics rooms of the high school. Sugarless desserts will be discussed at the next meeting.

About the cutest thing we have seen was a little girl about eight years old with her knitting needles and a ball of bright orange colored yarn. Some sick soldier's eyes will brighten as he fingers this square in the finished afghan. We wish he could know who knit it.

One gentleman who brought packing boxes to the sewing room requested that we tell his wife. "She says I am not patriotic. May be if you will tell her she will change her mind," he said. So we are passing the news along.

The winner of the present series will be one of eight Class A teams remaining in the running for the state championship.

Navy Recruiting Party to Be in Memphis March 4

Memphis will be one of the stopping points when a special Navy recruiting traveling party swings through the Panhandle next week, Chief Torpedoman C. M. Norman, recruiter in charge, has announced.

The party, headed by Chief Signaller H. P. Jones, will be in Memphis all day Wednesday to interview and accept applications in the regular Navy and Naval Reserve.

Chief Jones will also accept the applications of those who wish to enter the special Construction Regiment, currently being recruited for duty outside the continental limits of the United States. All types of skilled tradesmen are eligible for enlistment in this corps, provided they possess the necessary physical qualifications. The corps is a part of the regular Naval Reserve.

Bakers, cooks, mechanics, concrete and steel workers, electricians, carpenters, welders, firemen, and many other types of workers are eligible for enlistment in the corps.

H. V. Hamilton, former Panhandle director of the National Youth Administration, will accompany Jones on his trip to Memphis. Hamilton was recently enlisted in Dallas and assigned to the Amarillo station for recruiting duty.

on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

Now, that the Memphis Civilian Defense organization has been set up and ready for work, I want to appeal to all civilians—men, women, and children—to volunteer for service in any one of the divisions. From the list of volunteers, the heads of the divisions will be able to pick the workers that will be needed in case of emergency. Government authorities have asked for and insisted upon such an organization. They evidently believe that such organizations may be needed, else they wouldn't have asked for it. Surely, no harm would be done if no emergency arises. Appeal after appeal has been published in The Democrat, and few have heeded. If the armed forces were to do as we civilians of Memphis and Hall County are doing, the slant-eyes and Hitlerites would soon be taking possession of our homes and families.

L. L. Doss, chairman of Demolition, Clearance and Rescue division Defense organization, asks that all ex-service men call and enroll with him, as well as any others who want to do that kind of work in case of an emergency.

M. J. Draper, chairman of Conservation and Salvage, for Memphis and Hall County, appointed by Judge Goodpasture and the city coordinator, expects to start a drive for waste materials badly needed for defense purposes within a few days. In the meantime, he urges all civilians to gather up all scrap material and have it ready when the time comes to take it to the junk dealers or give to charities, schools, or other organizations which may collect them. Watch for further notice regarding the matter.

R. A. Massey wants to enroll a number of men who want to serve on the auxiliary fire department. Edd McCreary wants a number of enrollees on the emergency

Heels Wanted DEFENSE RUBBER

Joining the ranks of the worthy group of collectors for defense is the headquarters recently installed at Selby's Boot and Shoe Shop for the purpose of gathering together old rubber.

Old shoes—you probably have a closet full or an attic which harbors boxes crammed with boots, shoes, and galoshes that you have just ignored. It was suggested, thinking Time would eventually get them out of the way. Examine these for now's your time to help our defense program in another small, but essential, way. Take off the rubber heels, and pull out the nails, bundle up the rubber boots and galoshes, and take the entire collection to Selby's Boot and Shoe Shop. It was urged.

Don't confine your efforts to just shoes—any other article made of rubber will reappear in war production materials as a result of your contribution to the collection. These are needed for defense and will be directed to the right channels, according to Mr. Selby, owner of the shop.

WHY WORRY

Why worry when we know our time to be slowly and surely drawing near when we shall meet old friends and loved ones over there. Of course, our friends we see each day, we'll miss them, this is true. But remember Pals, it won't be long until you'll be with us too. Place no flowers on my grave, shed not a single tear, for me—I'm just going home to those I hold very dear.

If Only the Iron
Had Burned Coat,
What A Story!
By MRS. FRED HEMPHILL
An elderly couple, living in the Newlin vicinity, were preparing for a few days' visit with relatives in Oklahoma last week, when the man of the house dropped his false teeth and broke them into a dozen pieces.
The woman had hung her coat on the clothes line in the back yard and left it until after dark. She reminded her son to get it, he started after the coat, smelled a skunk nearby, and returned to get his gun. He missed the skunk, shot one of the family car's precious tires instead, and forgot to get the coat.
As they prepared to leave the next morning, the coat was remembered, the son went after it, only to find that it was soaking wet from a rain which came during the night.
The coat was ironed dry, the family left for Oklahoma—but not without each crossing fingers for luck.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

TIME WILL TELL

THIS WAR WE'RE in is slowly beginning to tell its effect on people here in Memphis and Hall County, although most of us are rather slow in realizing that we are in a war.

Time will tell, however. In a few months, perhaps in a few weeks, the effect of the war will be felt even more plainly in many cases than it is now. It won't take very long for people to realize that war is more than mere fighting.

Auto tires and tubes are already being rationed, and any gasoline agent in Memphis will tell you that his business is decreasing. Not decreasing just a little, but a lot. In addition, some of these operators are tire dealers—and their business has practically halted.

Sugar is going to be rationed soon. Grocers, as well as customers, will feel the effects of this. Other food is likely to be limited before the war is over. There is not going to be a plentiful supply of food for a long war—and this is going to be a long war.

Probably the hardest hit merchants are those who deal mainly in appliances. These merchants are being hit hard right at the first of this war. Radio production is being stopped, and so is the production of mechanical refrigerators. This type of merchant will not be able to replenish his stock when his present merchandise is gone. These people will have to find some other means of making a livelihood. There are ways, and they will probably find these ways.

But at the same time, the manufacturers are not being hit very hard. Practically all factories are under the process of changing over to manufacture tools of war. The big firms are not suffering now, and likely will not suffer, as long as they are given big orders from the government. It's the little fellows who are suffering and will suffer more in the future.

War is coming home, brother, and you can't keep it from coming home. Right now farm products are bringing a nice price, but war can do some terrible things to prices. And when this war is over, those prices will drop so close to the ground bottom that even a snake will look like a ten-story building.

A war is not fought on battlefields alone. It's fought at home. Everybody suffers, maybe not right at the first, but in the long run. Those big fellows who run the big factories and who are getting the large government orders will suffer too, before the war is over and after it is over.

For this reason, we must prepare ourselves at home for the war—not take it for granted. It's true that it's being fought in the Pacific now, and may never get close to Hall County. But, let us remember that fighting is not the only part of a war.

SMYERS LEAVES

CARROLL SMYERS, manager of the Memphis chamber of commerce for the past few years, left this city last week, and is not likely to return to his work here.

We were not particularly fond of Smyers, and in many instances did not agree with his policies or with the things which he did while serving as the C. of C. manager.

But at the same time, there were certain points about him which we admired. When he became enthusiastic enough, he served quite efficiently and did his work well. He worked for Memphis and for Hall County on numerous projects and instances.

For this reason, we wish him well in his future life, and express the belief that he will be a success in the work he takes up. In many ways, he was a good servant while working with the chamber of commerce, and we believe he will prove to be a good servant in his future work.

Press Paragraphs

CULLED FROM THE DEMOCRAT'S EXCHANGES

Survival

The Amarillo Globe: Like our forefathers of the Revolution, we are in for a battle for survival. Let us serve notice on the world, by actions, not words, that we propose to survive—and how!

Politics

Ed Bishop in the Dalhart Texan: Aha, aha. Success at last. A political announcement. And even if it doesn't appear until Thursday it's a starter. Line right up, ladies and gentlemen, the line forms to the right, and we'll take 'em as they come. If you want a nice fat, easy job—if you want something for nothing—if you are willing to be nice to people when you want to slap 'em down—if you are willing to be the topic of conversation on street corners, in homes, and in columns and not talk back—if you are willing to contribute to every known and unknown organization, join 'em all with a smile—then just get in line and announce for office. We'll be delighted to take care of you. Just get the dope together about what a good citizen you are, the cash in hand and then throw yourself on the mercy of 2,000 people who, ten days after the election, won't even recognize you.

Democracy

The State Observer: Further proof that the democratic way of life gives every man a chance to be heard was evidenced last week when a delegation of small businessmen met in Austin, revealed that they had a Special Legislative Coordinating Defense Committee, which had a Citizens Committee, which had an Advisory Committee, which had an Executive Committee.

God bless America.

Employment

The Stephenville Empire-Tribune: There will be no unemployed soon, save for a scattering of unemployables. The Army will be doubled in size and that will mean that 4,000,000 or more American men in the prime of life will be serving in uniform. Plans are on foot for putting women to work in jobs that used to be done entirely by men—driving trucks and taxis, etc. Six months from now it will be hard to find enough workers. This arms program will require the use of every pair of capable hands in the country.

Business Is Not "As Usual"

The Ochiltree County Herald: This is war and it's our guess that it will last from two to four years. Every single one of us is going to have to make sacrifices. We're all going to have to do things that we do not like. Just doing the things that do not interfere with our regular routine of life will not produce victory. Business as usual is out and so is life as usual for the duration.

Woman

The Claude News: A woman is an individual who can race thru a department store aisle twenty inches wide without knocking off a single piece of glassware display, and then drive home and tear off one of the doors of a 14-foot garage.

Church

The Donley County Leader: Ain't it grand to live in a country where you can belong to any church you want to stay away from on Sunday for golf or a fishing trip.

Hall County Farmers to Cooperate With 'Plant for Victory' Campaign

"History repeats itself, as evidenced by the fact that for the second time in a generation farmers and ranchers of the Hall County Soil Conservation District have been called upon to produce food for our nation, and also for all the free nations combined with us in this war," B. F. Parsons, district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, states.

"During World War I we were asked to produce an abundance of small grain, which cost us an enormous amount from a soil erosion standpoint, but at this time we have an abundant supply of these foodstuffs. What the farm and ranch folks are asked to produce this time is livestock for slaughter, livestock products, beef, pork, poultry, eggs, milk, butter, etc., the production of which can be accomplished and at the same time take care of our precious soils.

"The enormous demands for these products goes hand in hand with a sound soil and moisture conservation program, because they call for the same type and changes in land use and farming methods," Parsons states.

Every farmer and rancher in the Hall County Soil Conservation District can make a big contribution to the existing emergency and to the "all-out" War effort by applying sound soil and moisture conservation practices, and by the proper use of the land. National defense, now and for the rest of time, will be strengthened if the Nation's basic resource, the soil, is properly conserved, and at the same time the needed food products for Victory will be increased, it was explained.

The board of supervisors of the Hall County Soil Conservation District and every cooperater are giving their full support to "Plant for Victory Week," which is set for March 1 to 7, inclusive.

Here are a few precautions to observe. This all-out for Victory slogan does not mean the abandonment of the basic principles of proper land use and conservation farming. The anticipated shortage of farm labor and machinery, along with the demand for increased quantities of livestock products and the need for conserving the soil, would naturally call for more legumes, grass, feed and pasture crops. During the World War I the U. S. produced the small grain asked for, the food, fibres and vegetable oil necessary for Victory, but millions of acres of good productive soil were ruined throughout the nation by not applying the soil and moisture practices that are in use today.

Experiment stations' records show that more beef, and a better quality of beef, can be produced per acre when the number of cattle on the pasture or range does not exceed the actual carrying capacity of that pasture or range land.

Just A Reminder

Be Good
to your Electric Appliances and they'll be good to you!

We're ALL soldiers and in the army NOW. And that means new responsibilities.

For us, our salesmen no longer blithely offer you this or that appliance. We must advise that you take good care of your electric refrigerator, your washing machine, your sweeper, radio, food mixer, and every other appliance. The factories that make these marvelous time and labor-saving servants are being turned to the manufacture of war materials. Be good to these appliances—and they'll be good to you.

It is true that meats shrink less and vegetables lose less of their vitamins with electric cooking. It is true that there is less food spoilage with electric refrigeration. It is true that the electric washing machine, the sweeper, and the food mixer all have greatly relieved women of tiresome, unnecessary household drudgery and save time and energy for wartime work. And it is true that both workers' and children's eyes show less strain when the lighting is good.

So, as soldiers fighting for our American way of living, it is our duty to provide electric service for all these things which are normal in peacetime and imperative in wartime.

Hence, it is proper also to urge that you keep your electric appliances in good condition... get longer wear out of them.

Whenever needed, ask the advice of our servicemen. They, too, are in the war... rendering an essential service.

TO WIN THIS WAR THE PRESS MUST REMAIN FREE

Despite the horrors of war which are now in progress and despite the fact that there are numerous other countries where the residents themselves do not know what is going on, we live in a nation which still has a free press.

There is some suppression of news, of course, but that suppression is voluntary to a large extent on the part of the newspapers. Vital information which might aid the enemy is withheld, but news of how we are faring in the war—whether it's good or bad—is not withheld.

The weekly newspaper is not expected to report the daily happenings of the war, but the weekly newspaper is expected to do its part by keeping the public informed on matters which daily newspapers are either likely to exclude or bury on an inside page.

The weekly newspaper is expected to carry columns and more columns of publicity for governmental agencies at no expense. The Democrat is doing that, although at times the added burden turns out to be a great burden.

This is the place of a weekly newspaper. Yet even a weekly newspaper must have revenue from some place to continue publication. Much of this revenue has been cut off, since tire and auto manufacturers have curtailed their advertising.

The local merchants must now do their part if they wish to keep a free press. This is true even on large newspapers. No business can be run successfully without funds.

Continue your advertising. It certainly will help you. Merchants still have merchandise to sell, and it can be sold through advertising. Don't let the war depress your business as it is depressing your thoughts. To think depressingly is bad enough—to live that way is worse.

NEW INCOME TAX PAYERS

Note: This is the 6th of articles concerning present income tax law. Other articles will appear weekly.

The tax must be paid to the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer's return is required to be filed, that is, to the collector for the district in which is located the taxpayer's legal residence or principal place of business, or if he has no legal residence or principal place of business in the United States, then to the Collector of Internal Revenue at Baltimore, Md.

The tax due, if any, should be paid in cash at the collector's office, or by check or money order payable to "Collector of Internal Revenue." In the case of payment in cash, the taxpayer should in every instance require and the collector should furnish a receipt. In the case of payments made by check or money order, however, the cancelled check or the money order receipt is usually a sufficient receipt.

Lester Boone, Fort Worth legislator, jumped into the Railroad Commission race this week with the payment of his filing fee to E. R. Germany, chairman of the Democratic state executive committee and by declaring that he was carrying an aggressive campaign to all parts of Texas.

He attended college at Texas Christian University, and at the University of Texas. He is married and has one son eight years of age.

The Winds Blows High

You might not think much about a cat falling in a cistern and losing all nine of its lives, but you might be surprised to learn that a big Rhode Island Red rooster was blown into a cistern and then lived to crow about it, wouldn't you? Mrs. Woodrow Cheves went to her cistern last week and upon looking inside discovered a rooster in her cistern. The water was low and the fowl had perched on a brick curbing near the water's edge. He was rescued and brought out safely, seemingly none-the-worse for his accident. It was supposed he had flown on the cistern top and been blown inside during the high wind of last week.

King's New Display Room Remodeling Nears Completion

Work is now nearing completion on the remodeling of the old Ford garage building east of the King Furniture store, in which King's will have a new furniture display.

The building was recently bought by King's and is being completely remodeled. The front portion will be used to display furniture, and the rear portion will be used for a storage room.

Purchase of the building gives King's the entire row of buildings, with the exception of the corner building which houses the P. and J. food store, on that half of the block.

The front portion of the building has been enlarged with the partition being moved toward the rear end of the structure. A door opens into the display half from the front of the building already in use by King's, and a large door connects the new and old buildings in the rear.

The interior of the display room has been painted in white, and a hardwood floor has been installed and polished. Fluorescent lights will be used.

The rear of the building will be used for storage purposes, and will also be used for a garage for some of the King ambulance cars.

May We Suggest Early Buying Of The Things You Will Need For Your Spring Wardrobe

We don't want to appear as an alarmist, but facts are facts and we know that the price of wearing apparel is advancing every day, and there is developing a shortage in many lines. This is particularly true of materials made of wool, silk, nylon, rubber, and leather.

We have been advised by several lines that our quotas, as compared to our purchases for the same season last year, are used up well into the summer.

Our stocks are reasonably complete now. We wouldn't suggest buying more than you need, but would suggest buying what you do need and buying it NOW.

Selections and materials are better and the prices lower than they will be a little later on.

Crop Production Loans Available At FCA Office

Crop production, vitally important this war year, is being financed by the Emergency Crop Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration through loans to farmers in need of credit assistance. These loans, usually known as "seed loans," are the oldest form of federal aid to farmers in producing crops, having been successfully administered by this pioneer agency for many years.

In addition to cash crops, this bureau has always urged its borrowers to follow a balanced program with ample acreage of feed and food crops. Planting a home garden has been a prime requirement in securing a loan but this year the growing of a bigger and better home garden is being emphasized more than ever before, according to W. E. Farwell, regional manager of the Dallas emergency crop loan office, which administers these loans in Texas. Clyde F. Milam, who supervises these loans in Hall County, states that applications for "seed loans" and also for loans to purchase feed or produce feed for livestock, may be made at M. E. McNally's office in Memphis. Advances are made for seed, fertilizer, feed, and necessary incidental expense. Eligibility rules are the same as in the past, according to the supervisor.

Little Thing Like Fire Didn't Worry 5-Year-Old Lad

He may be only five years old, but the small son of James Freeman, who lives in a rent house on the farm of Mrs. S. E. Ross which is now being managed by N. A. Hightower, is certainly a calm young man.

Sparks from the stove pipe of the 6-room house apparently set fire to the roof, and Mrs. Freeman sent her two children, John and Jimmy, ages 4 and 5, to Hightower's home for help.

When Jimmy reached help, Mrs. Hightower asked him what he wanted. Calmly, although he had made a three-quarter-of-a-mile trek, he said, "Our house is on fire."

Members of the Memphis fire department answered the call, utilized water from a tank, and extinguished the fire with a damage of only about $250.

Attention, Citizens!

The street and alley committee of the City of Memphis announces that hauling of cans and such like will be done about the first of each month. Citizens are asked to have such articles in sacks, boxes, or barrels and placed conveniently for the truckers when they call.

Attention is also called to the fact that a number of citizens place limbs, trash, weeds, and grass in the ditches. This should not be done, it was pointed out, because such things stop up the culverts, and cause needless washing out of streets.
