A QUICK READ OF THE NEWS

Anything for free shoes

SCRANTON, Pa. - The 14-by-48-foot vinyl sign attached to the billboard was very clear: "Bring in this ad and you'll get a free pair of shoes."

So three people did exactly that. They took the sign down from the North Scranton Expressway and contacted Shoestrings, the store that purchased the billboard, to claim their free shoes.

Mary Ellen Coleman, general manager of Chancellor Media Group, which installed the sign, couldn't believe the 70-pound sign had disappeared until she drove by the billboard.

"It's funny but it's not funny," she said. "We understand the humor of all this. We're sort of humorous people ourselves." Coleman agreed to pay for three pairs of shoes in exchange for the undamaged sign.

"How can I prosecute? They did what we told them to do," she said with a laugh. A disclaimer will be placed on their next billboard.

Furby flury leads to lawsuits

NASHVILLE, Tenn. - Two angry shoppers are suing a Wal-Mart, claiming they were injured this past holiday season during a stampede for the Furby toy.

Sherry Smith and Jaquiline Dyer allege in the federal lawsuit that Wal-Mart didn't properly manage the crowd, which had lined up outside the store the day after Thanksgiving for the plush gremlin-like creature.

"Crowds gathered in anticipation, and they know that they've got 25 to 50 of the toys, and there are over 200 people waiting to get them," said attorney Joseph M. Dalton Jr., who represents Smith and Dyer.

Smith and Dyer are asking for $250,000 each in compensatory damages for personal injuries, physical pain, suffering and mental anguish. Smith suffered a dislocated jaw and Dyer a knee injury, according to the lawsuit.

Superintendent may be announced May 4

A new Muleshoe School superintendent is expected to be hired at a special meeting of the School Board at 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday, May 4.

The special meeting will begin with a closed session to discuss the hiring of a new superintendent. A School Board subcommittee visited Tahoka last Wednesday to talk to community members about MISD superintendent finalist David Loren Hutton. The subcommittee reported to the full board at a closed meeting

April 29. Hutton is one of two announced finalists for the job. The board has not scheduled a community visit to Grand Falls, where the second finalist, Charles Carter, is superintendent of Grand Falls-Royalty.

The May 4 meeting will be opened to the public following the executive session and action by the Board on a new superintendent is expected. The meeting will recess for a general faculty meeting at the High School Auditorium, at which time the new superintendent, if approved, could be introduced.

The meeting will resume at 4:30 p.m. for the Board to canvass the results of the May 1 election, to swear in newly-elected Board members, and to reorganize the Board leadership.

The new superintendent will replace Bill Moore, who will retire at the end of the school year. For more information on the meeting, contact Moore, 272-3389.

Beef producers, packers meet to seek common ground

The Subcommittee on Livestock and Horticulture, led by Chairman Richard Pombo (R-CA), held a hearing this week to review issues surrounding mandatory livestock price reporting and its possible implications and benefits for both producers and packers.

In March, Agriculture Committee Chairman Larry Combest (R-TX) joined with Ranking Member Charlie Stenholm (D-TX) in issuing a statement calling on both packers and livestock producers to sit down and explore the possibility that a workable solution could be achieved. For the last several weeks, key representatives from both groups have been meeting in an attempt to reach a mutually beneficial solution.

"Hopefully, everyone involved understands that an agreement pounded out among themselves is certainly preferable to any 'solution' that Congress would impose on them," Pombo said. "Currently, they now have ownership of this process — they are breaking down the barriers of suspicion and mistrust, and are examining and evaluating

Armbrister (D-Victoria) introduced S.B. 737 earlier this session, a companion to HB 2000. If approved by the senate and signed by Governor Bush, congress must also give its blessing to Texas working with a group of eleven Southern states which have already approved

Rolling Plains approves weevil eradication plan

AUSTIN — The Texas Department of Agriculture announced today that cotton producers in the Northern Rolling Plains Boll Weevil Eradication Zone have voted to establish a boll weevil eradication program in the 14-county zone. Final 785 voting "for" and 325 voting "against" establishing an eradication program.

In addition, producers in the zone voted to set a maximum annual assessment for the program not to exceed $15 per planted row acre for irrigated cotton and $10 per planted row acre for dry-land cotton.

To officially establish a boll weevil eradication program in the Northern Rolling Plains Zone and set an assessment, the propositions had to be approved by a two-thirds vote, or those voting in favor needed to farm more than 50 percent of the zone's acreage.

"Producers in the Northern Rolling Plains have shown they want an eradication program," said Agriculture Commissioner Susan Combs. "We look forward to working with them and the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation in eliminating this costly pest in Texas."

The Texas Department of Agriculture issued 1,975 ballots to cotton producers in the zone who were eligible to vote in the referendum. Some 1,121 valid ballots were post-marked by the April 22 deadline and counted.

Cotton producers also elected John Inman of Childress County to represent the Northern Rolling Plains Zone on the state-wide board of directors for the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation

Inc. Inman is a cotton producer who farms in the zone and has been serving as the Commissioner-appointed director for the Northern Rolling Plains zone.

"This is a significant opportunity for American farmers and ranchers to do what they do best - sell high-quality agriculture goods around the world. On June 9, our hearing may well determine whether today's action has been meaningful in setting up a process that will make these sales. Trade sanctions aim for the dictators and generals, but hurt American farmers and ranchers who work all season to sell food to starving people," said Combest. On March 19, Chairman Combest called for the president to use his administrative authority to modify agricultural sanctions placed on Iran, Libya, North Korea and Sudan. A Smaller World Is Not Always a Blessing

This smaller world we live in is a mixed blessing. We can now focus far past the point of nausea on up-to-the-minute details of the hideous catalog of wars, tragedies, problems, and pains this fallen planet offers. From early in the morning to late at night, talking heads, talk shows, and news magazines walk us back through the blood and carnage. Over and over. Just when the

Focus On Faith
Curtis Shelburne

Clinton mess was mercifully in the rear view mirror, here we go again with our frenetic media engaging in new feeding frenzies.

It would be one thing, you know, if the media deluge did any real good. I can't see that it does.

All that this week's focus on Colorado has done is create national paranoia. Of course, we need to do all we can to make our schools safe, and, of course, school violence is deplorable. But the fact is that across this nation statistically our kids are still safer in school than they are at home. That's a sad fact, but it is a fact, and it hasn't changed. What has changed is that this week the FBI must be chasing their own tails chasing down bomb threats. (It'd be a great week to rob a bank, though I don't recommend it). I know it won't happen, but the fact is that our nation would be better off hearing a lot less about tragedies like the one in Colorado.

The mess in Kosovo is itself a matter for genuine tears. But I doubt our presence there is going to change a genuinely tragic scenario that's been going on for centuries. I am very sure indeed that, though I hope we're all much in prayer for the people there, and now for our own people there, I'm not willing to send even one son of my four to fight in a no-win war. Our nation should've had its fill of those. And if the media frenzy escalates the mess, this papa would vote for unplugging the TV.

Maybe next week I'll be more in the mood for mayhem, murders, massacres, madmen, and misbehavior. But I'm pretty much tired of hearing about them now, and switching channels is not difficult.

Yes, I know. The Littleton parents and the Kosovo refugees can't switch channels, and when I think about them, which has been often, I'll do the only really practical thing I can do. I'll pray. And I hope you do, too. That will help a lot more than bathing ourselves in broadcasted blood.

For now, I'm watching the weather channel and the home gardening channel, and I'm avoiding Peter Jennings and Ted Koppel like the plague.

I'm planning to spend more time with my kids. I'll be sure they're not building bombs. And I'll be praying they never have to dodge them.

Curtis Shelburne is minister of the 16th & D Church of Christ in Muleshoe.

REBEKAH NEWS

Noble Grand June Green called the Muleshoe Rebekah Lodge #114 meeting to order at 7:30 p.m., after a potluck supper. Ruby Green gave the opening prayer, and Patsy Chance called the roll with 10 members answering. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

It was reported that Brother Charles Lawrence from Lubbock went to see the doctor due to swollen feet.

Rebekah members still have tickets to sell for our raffle on May 6. Tickets are one dollar each or six for five dollars. The main item of this raffle is a quilt. We will have a traveling bake sale, Thursday morning before the drawing.

We missed those that weren't able to make it to lodge this week, hope to see you next week. With no further business the lodge was closed by Acting Vice Grand Mary Ann Ramirez with the Rebekah Creed, and 2 verses of the song "An Evening Prayer".

The previous week, Rebekah's didn't have enough members to open lodge (April 20). Those present were June Green, Alene Bryant, Joyline Costen, and Patsy Chance. Sylvia Lira went to Logan to a funeral and Ruby Garner worked in her yard and was too tired. The four sisters then went out to Tino's after locking the doors for the evening.

District Deputy President Mary Ann Ramirez, Ina Wilemon, Thursie Reid and Ruby Green went to Hereford. After a great meal, lodge was opened by Anna Conklin and there were 8 members to answer their roll call. May 25 the District Deputy will be going back to Hereford for a school of instruction.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

PROVERBS: THE MOTTOES THE ISRAELITES LIVED BY!

THE WESTMINSTER DICTIONARY OF THE BIBLE DESCRIBES THE BOOK OF PROVERBS AS A POETICAL WORK ON PRACTICAL PIETY! IT ALSO INCLUDES THE FABLE, THE RIDDLE, THE SATIRE, AND THE PARABLE. TRADITIONALLY, THE PROVERBS ARE ASCRIBED TO KING SOLOMON. ALTHOUGH MANY EXPERTS HAVE RECOGNIZED THAT SOME OF THE CHAPTERS, PARTICULARLY TWENTY TWO AND TWENTY THREE, ARE BASED UPON THE WISDOM OF THE EGYPTIAN PHAROAH AMEN-EM-OPE! NOT WITHSTANDING, THE PROVERBS HAD A CONTINUING INFLUENCE UPON THE LIVES OF DEVOUT ISRAELITES.

"PROUD AND HAUGHTY SCORNER IS HIS NAME, WHO DEALETH IN PROUD WRATH."
(PROV. 21:24)

BUT... "CAST OUT THE SCORNER, AND CONTENTION SHALL GO OUT; YEA, STRIFE AND REPROACH SHALL CEASE."
(PROV. 22:10)

...IN SUCH A WAY AS THIS, DID THE ANCIENT ISRAELITES PUT INTO PRACTICE, IN THEIR DAILY LIVES, THE SAGE ADVICE GARNERED FROM THE BOOK OF PROVERBS!

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HONORS

Chamber Business of the Month

Members of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture called on Hereford Feed Ingredients Friday as its Business of the Month. Accepting the designation were Ivan and Martha Tipps, who established the business in Hereford 25 years ago. They stood in for their son and daughter-in-law, David and Liz Tipps, who were out of town watching their daughter compete in the Region 1-3A track meet in Odessa. David and Liz bought the business in 1996 and moved it to Muleshoe in 1997. Pictured are (from left) Chuck Smith, Chamber Manager Pam McCaul, Sheila Stevenson, Martha and Ivan Tipps, Joe Flores, Hereford Feed Ingredients secretary Darlene Stiles, Mark Washington and Chamber President Adrian Meador.

Chamber Employee of the Month

GROUND WATER MANAGEMENT TIPS

For Water Week from Bailey County Extension

Underground Pipelines

More than 10,000 miles of underground pipeline have been installed within the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 service area to reduce water losses caused by deep percolation and evaporation from open, unlined earthen ditches. Studies by the Water District indicated water losses of 10 to 30 percent per each 1,000 feet of ditch. The total water loss per foot of ditch in a 2,000 hour irrigation season averages about 5,000 gallons of water.

Center Pivot Sprinkler Systems

High-pressure above-line discharge center pivot sprinkler systems had an irrigation application efficiency of about 60 percent. Wind drift and evaporation losses equaled about 40 percent. The High Plains Water District has worked with agricultural researchers, producers, and manufacturers to convert these systems to partial dropline of full dropline LEPA center pivot systems. As a result, very few of the high-pressure systems are in operation today.

The partial dropline center pivot discharges water between the top of the pivot and the ground. The irrigation application efficiency of this type of system is about 80 percent. Wind drift and evaporation losses are about 20 percent of the water pumped.

LEPA Center Pivot Sprinkler Systems

A center pivot sprinkler system, equipped with full drops, is known as a Low Energy Precision Application (LEPA) system. This system can achieve irrigation application efficiencies of up to 95 percent. Since water is applied at low pressure in the furrow, wind drift and evaporation losses are virtually eliminated. As a result, only five percent of the water pumped through the system is lost. Most irrigators use furrow dikes and/or chiseling in the furrow beneath the LEPA system to maximize the uniform water application.

Surge Irrigation

When added to a conventional furrow irrigation system, a time-controlled surge valve can eliminate irrigation tailwater losses, minimize deep percolation losses, and reduce the length of time that water in the furrow is exposed to evaporation. Water savings from 10 to 40 percent have been measured after the addition of surge valves to conventional furrow irrigation systems.

call before you dig

It may seem like a simple task, but it can save your life. If you dig into a natural gas line, you could cause a fire or explosion. With more than a million miles of pipeline in the country, there's only one way to dig safely. Call 1-800-545-6005 two days before you plan to dig.

Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America (NGPL) and MidCon Texas Pipeline Company (MTPL) clearly mark where gas lines are located, and where you shouldn't dig. Calling for locations of natural gas facilities is more than just a good idea—it's the law.

And if you ever smell natural gas, leave the area immediately. Don't operate any equipment, don't flip any electrical switches. Simply get away and call NGPL or MTPL from another location.

Please take the time to call before you dig. Your family will understand if you forget to pick up the milk.

Watson Junior High Band competes in UIL Contest

The Watson Junior High Band competed in the UIL contest on April 20 in Plainview.

The Band played "March for a Celebration," "Theme and Variations," "Soldiers Procession," and "Sword Dance" for a panel of three judges.

The band then sightread for a panel of three judges. The judging was extremely precise, with only one band in the Watson division receiving a Sweepstakes award.

Watson Jr. High Band received a rating of III in concert and a II in sightreading.

"There were many good comments as well as areas that need improvement given by the judges," said Watson Director Becky Jones.

Jennyslippers working toward opening of Mule Putt Golf

The only topic on the agenda at the Jennyslippers meeting on April 16 was the Putt Putt Miniature Golf Course. President Ruby Green gave a short report on what has been done and what needs to be done.

1. Carpet has been removed, all carpet will be replaced.
2. Water faucets need replacing.
3. Refrigerators need to be cleaned and started.
4. Removal of trash.
5. Trees trimmed and some shrubbery removed.
6. Cleaning and repainting.
7. New roof, if old one is not repairable.
8. Ask community for support in the form of donations of money and labor.

The course is reported to be in bad condition, but can be made into a place Muleshoe can be proud of. It will take time, money, and labor. Anyone interested in donating, please send to Jennyslippers, PO Box 86, Muleshoe, or give the donation to any Jennyslipper member. If you would like to help with the labor, call Glenda Powell at 272-5676 or Nelda Merriott at 272-4071.

Patsy Chance made a motion to buy the carpet now at the best price. Glenda Powell seconded and it was approved.

Before the meeting began, Jennyslippers enjoyed a delicious salad supper. A meeting is scheduled the 4th Monday of every third month at night. Jennyslippers present were Alene Bryant, Patsy Chance, Joyeline Costen, Billie Downing, Ruby Garner, Ruby Green, Ellen Ladd, Glenda Powell, Doris Wedel, and one guest, Maxine Kimbrough.

Jennyslippers meet on the 2nd Tuesday at the Carrousel at noon, and on the 4th Tuesday at the Girl Scout Hut. Anyone and emitters are used to apply slow, frequent applications of water to the soil directly surrounding plant roots. Water losses caused by evaporation, deep percolation, and runoff are virtually eliminated. Drip irrigation can save as much as 30 to 40 percent of the water required by some other types of irrigation to provide the plants with an equal amount of water.

In response to producer interest in the latest irrigation technology, the High Plains

Water District has just installed a drip irrigation demonstration plot in Deaf Smith County, Texas. These demonstration plots are installed to give area producers the opportunity to learn more about drip irrigation and how to use it in crop production. Previous sites have been installed in Hockley, Lubbock and Lynn Counties.

Soil Moisture Monitoring

Soil moisture monitoring is a simple, cost-effective technique producers can use to improve their irrigation water management. Soil moisture monitoring devices, such as gypsum blocks and resistance meters, and tensiometers, help producers determine how much water they need to apply during an irrigation to fill the root zone soil profile. This reduces the likelihood of applying too much or too little water.

Furrow Dikes

The formation of small earthen dams in the furrow helps conserve precipitation or irrigation water that would otherwise run off the field. Water collected in the furrow dikes is held in place until it can soak into the soil.
