A QUICK READ OF THE NEWS

He's leaving on a jet plane

Dog bites man is commonplace. Man bites dog, a little weirder. But dog bites man? Authorities at Boston's Logan Airport said an Irish wolfhound freed itself from a kennel during a United Airlines flight to San Francisco and chewed up the cargo area.

The dog managed to gnaw into wires for the Boeing 767's landing gear. Airline officials said the pilot was able to land the plane safely in San Francisco, albeit at a slightly faster speed than normal because of the impaired flaps.

The July 24 flight was carrying 159 passengers and a crew of nine.

Federal Aviation Administration officials say dogs have damaged airplanes before, but this is the first time a dog is believed to have caused service difficulties for a plane.

The airline is still investigating how the dog got loose.

Here she is, Miss Crustacean

This beauty pageant winner has no problem showing her legs — all eight of them.

Crab Cake, a hermit crab decked out in a wedding-style cake, won top honors Wednesday in the 24th annual Ocean City (N.J.) Miss Crustacean crab beauty pageant, in which children decorate crabs in elaborate costumes and get-ups.

The entry, which bested 60 others, was made by sisters Alessandra Cerchione, 12, and Francesca Cerchione, 8, of Brooklyn, N.Y., and cousin Meghan Dougherty, 12, of Philadelphia.

Crab Cake "will have pretty big shells to fill, including those of such legendary past winners as Crabunzel, Crabahontis, Phantom of the Opera Crab, Crab Salad, Crab McMuffin and last year's Miss Crustacean, the exotic Crabopatra," said Mark Soifer, the city's public relations officer, who conceived the contest.

Group discusses survey of city's good and bad

By RONN SMITH
Editor

A small but enthusiastic group met Tuesday night at Muleshoe City Hall to go over a January survey of what people like and dislike about Muleshoe.

Susie Pierce, administrative assistant to City Manager Rick Hanna, presented the survey results.

"When you ask for community input, particularly in the public sector, you expect a lot of negatives, and I was really pleased at this," she said, adding that residents demonstrated a fairly positive view of the city.

Two points were far and away the most common choices for Muleshoe's strong point: "friendly people and atmosphere" and "people who are willing to help those in need."

Likewise, there were two choices that were by far the most common criticisms: "lack of community unity, communication among organizations, and inability to work together" and "no good family entertainment/recreation," especially evening and after-school events for

Duane Lloyd to EDC: 'Don't forget Three Way and Lazbuddie areas'

By RONN SMITH
Editor

Several Muleshoe-area residents expressed strong opinions on economic development during a Tuesday-night meeting at city hall.

The comments came during discussion of the results of a survey of the city conducted during January for the Muleshoe Economic Development Corp.

Duane Lloyd addressed several points, one of which amounted to commending the EDC for not limiting its support to projects within the city limits.

"Don't focus just on Muleshoe — focus on the trade area," he said, pointing out that residents of the Three Way and Lazbuddie school districts are valuable assets for Muleshoe's business community.

"If the school ever leaves Lazbuddie, those people (school employees) are going to move to Fort Worth. We can't afford to let that happen," he said.

He also got onto the subject of zoning. "Our issue all through town is zoning. That's the No. 1 issue if you want your community to grow," he said. "If you have rundown buildings and old fruit stands on the main road, that's an eyesore."

Pat Angeley asked if Muleshoe actually has any zoning. Susie Pierce, administrative assistant to City Manager Rick Hanna, said there is none — deed restrictions in residential areas provide the means of control.

Lloyd said, "I have never understood why in Muleshoe we have restrictions on construction in residential areas, but you can put anything you want on American Boulevard."

"It doesn't make any sense," Wanda Hooten responded.

Alberto Daniel asked for a definition of exactly what the other speakers were meaning by referring to "zoning."

Daniel added that if fruit stands are one of the reasons Muleshoe hasn't grown, "what about farmers who park their trailers along the highway?" He said he just wants to make sure that whatever action might be taken would be fair to everybody.

He said he thinks expansion of recreational opportunities to give tourists something to do here would be a higher priority. "Why do we need the city to look pretty if people don't have anything to do so they'll stop here?" he asked. "I just want it to be fair to all the people."

Angeley said later that some good points had been made. "We sometimes get focused on the idea that we need to look out for the high-class part of town," she said, adding that the decline in migrant workers coming to the area has had an obvious impact on local business.

Lloyd said that it's definitely time people got over their apathy and realized things need to change.

"If we don't do something pretty soon, our county is not going to be able to operate," he said. "We can't pay our people enough, simply because we don't have the tax base."

And Pierce said efforts to change things are not

Hospital district schedules tax hearing

By RONN SMITH
Editor

The board of directors of the Muleshoe Hospital District have scheduled a tax hearing for 6:30 p.m. Aug. 19, just before the board's 7 p.m. regular meeting.

Hospital administrator Jim Bone said Thursday that the hearing is necessary because the district's tax revenue is expected to increase by about $12,000 next year if the tax rate remains the same.

State law requires that a hearing be held if an entity's tax revenue is expected to increase by even $1, Bone added.

Board members also have approved the design for the proposed new nursing home to be built adjacent to City Park.

The approved plan is based on designs discussed earlier, but the rooms are arranged in three wings instead of four and the plan was swiveled to face J Street directly rather than facing due north.

These changes were made at the recommendation of nursing home administrator Ed Dudley.

Bone said he could endorse the revised plan because he feels it meets the criteria originally set out by the group that studied the proposal.

Among those are:

- A design that would be comfortable and serve the residents but not necessarily be a "generic" nursing-home project;
- A design that would take advantage of the site;

School board continues to dissect budget possibilities

By RONN SMITH
Editor

Muleshoe School Board members continued to explore the district's financial position during a budget workshop Wednesday.

Superintendent David Hutton and business manager Jo Mayhugh presented the board with a breakdown of the district's roughly $10 million budget.

Nearly $8 million of the expenditures go to salaries, up more than $500,000 from last year because of the state-mandated pay increase.

Board to consider closing campuses for lunch

During its regular meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, the Muleshoe School Board will consider restricting students to campuses for the duration of the school day, including during lunch periods.

The second largest bloc of money — $1.227 million — goes out for contracted services. That category is down about $150,000 from last year's budget.

Other portions of the budget include a "very broad" category labeled supplies, which is proposed at $702,000 this year after last year's $832,000; travel and subsistence, down slightly from $341,000 to $329,000; and the capital outlay or depreciable item category, down sharply from $271,000 to $45,000.

Of the budget, the state allocates

the district about $6 million, though it "recovers" some of that money automatically for services provided.

Also, much of the state money is earmarked for specific uses.

"Just because we're going to get $6 million doesn't mean we can spend it anywhere we want to," Hutton said.

Board member Thurman Myers asked whether the district's special education teachers get paid anything extra.

Courthouse renovation funds available to Texas' counties

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL

Bailey County isn't the only one in Texas that is looking to renovate a courthouse that has seen better days.

Through the Texas Courthouse Preservation Program, established in House Bill 1341, the Legislature and Gov. George Bush have made $50 million in matching grant money available to those counties.

The program is designed to provide partial funding to courthouses that are at least 50 years old.

Texas courthouses have been in the national spotlight since 1998, when the National Trust for Historic Preservation named them to its list of "America's Most Endangered Historic Places."

Many of these landmarks have fallen into disrepair because of lack of funds for routine care and maintenance.

The first informational meeting, held Aug. 13 in Austin, focused on how to complete a courthouse master plan.

Details are available on the Internet at www.thc.state.tx.us.

More information also is available by contacting Dan Utley in the state commission's architecture division at (512) 463-6218.

Clovis police chief out

Clovis Police Chief Harry Boden, who has said he'll file a $1 million lawsuit against the city, left the department Monday.

City Manager Rodger Bennett announced Monday that Boden had resigned effective Friday. Boden said he never told Bennett he was resigning and said he felt he had effectively been terminated.

Bennett said later that Boden would remain on administrative leave until Friday.

Assistant Chief Raymond Mondragón is running the department. Bennett said no interim chief would be named, pending action by the city commission.

The chief has accused Bennett and Mayor David Lansford of conspiring to fire him in violation of his civil rights.

7-month-old's death called accident

Cannon Air Force Base officials have said they believe last month's death of a 7-month-old boy who was locked in a vehicle all day was accidental.

The U.S. Office of Special Investigations is investigating the tragedy.

The child was estimated to have been in the car for about eight hours while outside temperatures reached 95 degrees.

The baby was not breathing when he was found and was rushed to Plains Regional Medical Center in Clovis, where he was pronounced dead.

The child was in a car seat in the back seat of a car driven to work by his father, Staff Sgt. Damon Ellison, who went to pick up the baby after getting off work. Child-care workers told him the baby had not been dropped off that day.

The boy's mother usually dropped him off at day care.

Cottonseed-oil merger progressing

The merger of Plains Cooperative Oil Mill of Lubbock and Yazoo Valley Oil Mill Inc. of Greenwood, Miss., continues to move along.

The merger plan, announced in May, would result in a union that could control as much as 30 percent of the market for U.S. cottonseed.

The transaction was expected to be completed with the creation of a new cooperative, by Aug. 31.

The results of a vote of the members of Plains Cooperative Oil Mill were announced Tuesday afternoon and overwhelmingly approved the merger.

The vote of members of Yazoo Valley Oil Mill were released Thursday afternoon.

If the Greenwood group also approves the merger, a management agreement will go into place authorizing continued operation through August and September.

Effective Oct. 1, the new company of PYCO Industries (Plains Yazoo Cooperative Oil Industries) will take over all operations. The new company will be headquartered in Lubbock.

Charity golf tournament scheduled

The sixth annual José Alemán Scholarship Fund-raiser is scheduled for Sept 11 at the Farwell Country Club.

Robertson reunion set for Aug. 15

The annual Robertson Community Reunion is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Aug. 15 in the Lorenzo Club House (a block west and half a block north of the bank in Lorenzo).

A meal will be catered by Virgie Rowan.

SPS expects rate cut

Amarillo-based Southwestern Public Service Co. filed documents July 29 stating that the company expects a slight decline in prices it charges for electricity if a planned merger goes through.

The merger would unite the company's parent corporation, Denver-based New Century Energies, with Northern States

Power, a Minnesota-based company.

SPS said in documents filed with the state of Texas that a residential customer in Texas using an average of 800 kilowatt-hours a month will see a cost decrease of about 30 cents a month.

Feedyard Rodeo coming up

The sixth annual Parmer County Feedyard Rodeo is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Aug. 21 at the Friona Riding Club Arena.

Participants (feedlot employees) will vie in team penning, trailer backing, a feedbunk race, team branding, manager's "chip shot" and team roping.

Also included but open to anyone is the calf-dressing event, in which a three-member team attempts to put a pair of shorts on a calf. Participants must be age 18 or older.

The rodeo also will include a calf scramble for children ages 6 to 10.

Prizes for the calf scramble will be given in Friona Bucks. Top contestants in other events will receive ribbons through third place along with cash awards of $15 (first), $10 (second) and $5 (third).

Miss Friona deadline near

The deadline for entering this year's Miss Friona pageant is Aug. 16, and organizers of the event have mailed out lists of 132 young women known to be eligible to enter the pageant.

The fee for a business or individual to sponsor a candidate is $65 for members of the Friona Chamber of Commerce and $80 for non-members.

The pageant is scheduled for Sept. 11.

BOARD

Hutton's answer was: "From a reality standpoint, probably no."

The breakdown of the district's special education allotment showed that Muleshoe enrolls 68.502 full-time equivalent students in special education.

To illustrate how such a figure evolves, Hutton pointed out the figure of .242 of a homebound student and said this usually occurs because a doctor orders a student kept at home for a few days or some similar situation.

"I think that figure (68.502) is pretty low compared to the state average," he said.

But the process is more complicated than that: The state actually pays on "weighted full-time equivalents," not actual full-time equivalents. Some types of special education students count as more than one unit because of the amount of special attention they require. (As an example, Hutton said one teacher can handle only about five homebound students.)

The district's weighted FTE is 211.928, which earns it $724,151 in state special education money.

Cooperative sends area students to D.C.

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL
Kelley Dunn of Bledsoe and Jeff Vaughan of Earth were among 117 students — primarily from Texas — who made a 12-day trip to Washington, D.C., earlier this summer as part of the Texas Electric Cooperatives' Government-in-Action Youth Tour.

Dunn and Vaughan were sponsored by Bailey County Electric Cooperative. They won a local essay contest, as the other participants did in their areas.

The largest group ever to participate, they traveled by chartered bus accompanied by 12 chaperones.

While in Washington, the students maintained 12- to 14-hour days and included as much sightseeing as possible.

Dunn is the daughter of Stacey and Michelle Dunn of Bledsoe and will be a junior at Whiteface High School. Vaughan is the son of Kent and Paula Vaughan of Earth and will be a junior at Springlake-Earth High School.

Both students say they believe anyone who is eligible to enter the youth contest should do so, calling it an experience they will never forget.

In 1957, then-Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson suggested in a speech that electric cooperatives send young adults to Washington to learn about their federal government.

Since 1964, the Austin-based statewide organization of cooperatives has coordinated the Texas participants in just such a tour.

This is the first year since 1976 that the Bailey County Cooperative has sponsored participants. A speech and essay contest was held at schools within the Cooperative's service area, and two finalists were chosen from each school that participated.

Surrett, Melton exchange wedding vows at First United Methodist in Sudan

Meghan Elizabeth Surrett and Andrew Douglas Melton exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening, July 17, 1999 in the First United Methodist Church of Sudan, Texas.

Scott Tarkenton of Grand Junction, Col. and former minister of Duggan Avenue Church of Christ officiated for the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. James Grimes and Loretta Cornelius, all of Littlefield.

Three brass candelabras and a brass cluster tree were grouped together in the choir loft to create a tier of candlelight. The center candelabra was adorned with an arrangement of fresh summer flowers which included deep rose gladiolus, purple iris, pink bridal roses, pale yellow button mums, orchid larkspur, agapantha, million star gyp and snapdragons in various shades of pink. Large floral arrangements of like flowers were on either side of the altar. The church pews were decorated with eggplant satin bows and accented with misty blue fern, orchid larkspur and white bridal roses.

Registering guests was Kristy Synatschk of Sudan.

Ushers were Ryan Grimes, of Littlefield, cousin of the bride and Melton, of Munday Texas, nephew of the groom.

As the guests were seated, Christian instrumental music was played. Prior to the wedding, the audience listened to Butterfly Kisses, by Bob Carlisle.

The Wedding March, an instrumental song by Kenny G, was played as the bride and groom's mothers were escorted onto the podium where they lit the candles for the unity candle.

Escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a white dull satin wedding gown by Mor Lei'. The lovely sleeveless, jewel neckline bodice was accented with an overlay of Battenberg lace, trimmed with pearls and sequins. The Basque waist met a very full semi-cathedral train enhanced with cut out medallions of Battenberg and studded with crystal sequins.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a beautiful pearl and crystal rhinestone tiara. The bride carried a bouquet of cascading silk rose lilies, purple iris, pink bridal roses, and baby's breath. Following tradition, the bride wore something old which was a wedding ring belonging to her late great grandmother, Lois Offield. Something new was her dress and she wore pennies in her shoe minted in the years of the bride and groom's birth.

As the bride's attendants were escorted into the church, Shelley Chester sang, "Your My Inspiration."

The Matron of Honor was Courtney Montes of Amarillo, sister of the bride.

Bridesmaids were Holly Ellis of San Angelo, cousin of the bride and Kimberly Doty of Sudan, niece of the groom. Junior Bridesmaid was Stephanie Brown, niece of the groom. They wore floor length evening gowns of eggplant casa satin. The dresses featured empire bodices with an overlay of sheer silk organza. Attendants bouquets were of pink roses and baby's breath carried in lily of the valley glass vases.

The groom wore a Christian Dior black tuxedo with tails. He wore a deep rose and purple iris boutonniere.

Best man was Dennis Gore, of Midland. Groomsmen were Matt Cox of Sudan and Emy Montes of Amarillo and Junior Groomsman, Chance Doty, nephew of the groom, of Sudan. The groom's attendants wore black tuxedos styled the same as the groom. They each wore pink rose boutonnieres.

Adam Martin, son of Mike and Kari Martin of Littlefield was the ring bearer. He wore a classic black tuxedo. He carried the rings on a bride and groom stuffed bear. Patlyn Melton of Munday, niece of the groom, was flower girl. Her calf length, sleeveless dress was of white bridal satin with a casa sheer overskirt. The waistline featured sashes which tied on each side. She carried a white satin basket trimmed with lace and carried love knots in the bride's chosen colors of teal, rose and eggplant.

Shelley Chester sang, "In This Very Room" after the wedding vows had been repeated and sang,

"From This Moment On" during the lighting of the unity candle.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was served in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table featured a wedding cake made by the bride's aunt, Sharleta Ellis of San Angelo. It featured a combination of two solo cakes, a pair of double tiers, a trio of tiers, shimmering stairways, sparkling pillars and a cascading crystal fountain which flowed into an illuminated pool surrounded by purple gladiolus, mauve roses and white baby's breath. The towering trio featured crown borders, precise double drop string work, cornelli lace and was supported above the fountain by elegant crystal pillars. Double tiered cakes were bridged to each side of the trio by crystal bridges. Kim Anderson figurines holding pictures of the bride and groom as children highlighted the foot of the stairway. The Kim Anderson theme was repeated on the stairways with the placement of a Kim Anderson cake top.

Attendants at the bride's table were Courtney Legg and Danya Lance.

The groom's table featured a chocolate cake. Coffee was served from a silver coffee service. Completing the table decor was a potted plant decorated with teal, rose and eggplant ribbons and a Kim Anderson figurine, entitled "One of Life's Sweetest Moments Was When I Found You." Serving at the groom's table were Erica Wallace and Caci Schovajsa.

Passing out bubbles and birdseed was Karissa Surrett Rios, cousin of the bride and Presley Melton, niece of the groom.

Following a honeymoon to Crown Paradise Resort in Puerta Vallarta, Mexico the couple will live in Littlefield. The bride and groom are both graduates of Sudan High School; and attend South Plains College. Andrew is employed by R & W Supply in Littlefield.

Courtesies: A miscellaneous shower was held in the home of Jana Synatschk of Sudan on June 26. Hostesses were Mary Kay Baker, Polly Chester, Joyce Conn, Billye Doty, Kelli Flowers, Karen Gore, Nell Ingle, Peggy Lowrance, Donna McAdams, Tammy Richards, Susan Baker, Shelley Chester, Pat DeLoach, Michelle Edwards, Lisa Gonzales, Gloria Humphreys, Cindy Legg, Pam Maxwell, Rhonda Roberts, and Lanette Whitley.

Meghan was honored with a lingerie party hosted by Courtney Legg, Caci Scovajsa, Danya Lance, Andrea Roberts, Lauren Ray and Kristy Synatschk.

On the eve of the wedding, the couple was honored at a rehearsal supper in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church. It was hosted by Joyce Thompson, mother of the groom, Terri Brown, and Sherri and Craig Doty, sisters and brother-in-law of the groom.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

THE FINDING OF THE BOOK OF LAWS!

IN THE EVENTFUL LIFE OF JOSIAH, KING OF JUDAH, ONE IMPORTANT EVENT HAD TO BE THE FINDING OF THE BOOK OF LAWS. EARLY IN HIS REIGN, JOSIAH BEGAN TO SUPPRESS THE IDOLATRY THAT WAS RAMPANT THROUGHOUT THE LAND HAVING DONE SO, THE KING NEXT TOOK ENERGETIC STEPS TO REPAIR AND ADORN THE TEMPLE. SO ENTHUSIASTIC WAS HE THAT EVEN THE WORKMEN WERE MOVED TO GREATER AND MORE FERVENT EFFORT IN THE RECONSTRUCTION OF THIS HOLY EDIFICE (II CHRON. 34:12) WHILE THE REPAIRS OF THE TEMPLE WERE BEING EXECUTED, HILKIAH, THE HIGH PRIEST, FOUND THE BOOK OF THE LAW IN THE HOUSE OF THE LORD. THIS WAS SAID TO BE THE AUTOGRAPHED COPY OF THE LAW, WRITTEN BY THE HAND OF MOSES WHICH HAD BEEN DEPOSITED BESIDE THE ARK OF THE COVENANT IN THE SANCTUARY. IT WAS HANDED OVER TO SHAPHAN, THE SCRIBE WHO THEN READ IT TO THE KING. JOSIAH WAS DEEPLY IMPRESSED BY THE PROPHECIES THAT IF THE PEOPLE DEPARTED FROM GOD, DREADFUL CONSEQUENCES WOULD ENSUE, HE RENT HIS CLOTHES AND HUMBLED HIMSELF BEFORE GOD (II CHRON. 34:19). GOD WAS PLEASED TO GIVE HIM THE GRACIOUS ASSURANCE THAT THE THREATENED CALAMITY SHOULD NOT COME IN HIS TIME (II KINGS 22:8-20, II CHRON. 34:15-28).

Genuine Worship Centers on God, the Source of All Beauty

A neat thing happened to me at church the other Sunday. I think I worshiped. You think I'm kidding. I mean, you know I'm a preacher, and I help lead worship in a church, and I worship, and we worship, every Sunday, right?

Well, yes. But leading worship and worshipping are not the same things. And sometimes they are actually very difficult to do at the very same time. If you've tried, you know what I mean. It's very easy we open our hands to receive a blessing, and He reaches down to give it. We lift our hands (literally, figuratively, or both), and He reaches down to impart His touch.

Sometimes, though we worship-leaders mean well, the way we structure worship makes worshipping harder. About the time worship really begins to happen, we short-circuit praise to call out hymn numbers. About the time we're really centering on the Healer of our souls, an ill-timed and lengthy announcement calls us back to Sis. Jenkins' gall bladder. We're just about to feast at the banquet prepared by God, and suddenly next Wednesday's church picnic takes center stage. We're about to really worship (though the service has already started), but then thoughts about worship intrude, tastes or scruples about forms of worship stifle, and the Life-connection that God graciously gives when we freely adore is lost when we slavishly focus on ourselves, our leaders, our rituals.

Make no mistake, the most important ingredient in worship has far less to do with the quality of the service than it does with the quality of the worshiper's heart, but leading worship is still a big responsibility. To plan worship. To structure worship. Do it badly, and a shoddy and ill-prepared service calls attention to its shoddiness. Plan it and execute it well, and even then, if our attitudes are wrong, the attention may focus on the messenger and not the Message, the singer and not the Song.

To worship can be tough. But it can also be breathtakingly beautiful if, only if, it helps us connect with the One who is all Beauty.

Curtis Shelburne is minister of the 16th & D Church of Christ in Muleshoe.

Focus On Faith

Curtis Shelburne

for conscientious worship-leaders to get so caught up in the nuts and bolts of leading worship that they themselves hardly worship at all. Some of that can't be avoided. Oddly enough, trying to help worship flow smoothly, feel genuine and spontaneous, necessarily takes a great deal of the kind of planning, preparation, and hard work which is not spontaneous at all.

I am absolutely sure that the best worship, the truest worship, really occurs when that which we do and see and say and sing and hear in worship points beyond us, when everything that happens ceases to be the focus because through it we've been helped to focus on God. Worship happens when what we're doing or what is being done has helped us to forget about what we're doing and what is being done. And we focus on who He is, and what He has done. In worship,

Glickman announces $20 million grant to assist farm workers

WASHINGTON — Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman announced Tuesday that the U.S. Department of Agriculture will provide $20 million in grants for emergency services to low-income migrant and seasonal farmworkers.

Grants will be made available in areas experiencing a local emergency or a state or national disaster declaration.

On Monday, Glickman designated the state of West Virginia a disaster area, making low-interest loans and other assistance available to farmers in that state and contiguous counties in surrounding states.

"USDA has a long history of responding to farm owners who have seen their crops and farmland suffer from natural disasters and local emergencies," Glickman said.

"With this funding," he added, "USDA now will be able to bring relief to the many migrant and seasonal farmworkers who have lost their sole source of income because there are few or no crops to harvest."

In California alone, between 20,000 and 30,000 farmworkers lost their jobs when freezing temperatures devastated the citrus industry. Workers who had previously picked crops, processed produce or shipped commodities all felt the effects of the disaster.

USDA grants will benefit not only the farmworkers, but also their families and surrounding communities.

Grants will be given to tax-exempt public agencies or private organizations that have experience in providing emergency services to low-income migrant and seasonal farmworkers.

The type of service could include assistance for rent or mortgage payments, utility bills, child care, transportation, school supplies, food, construction of new farmworker housing units, repair or rehabilitation of farmworker housing and construction of facilities related to farmworker housing, such as health clinics or child-care facilities.

"Farmworkers and their families are some of poorest people in our nation, and they are among those hardest hit by the depressed farm economy," said Jill Long Thompson, undersecretary for USDA Rural Development.

"It is sad to see that the American workers who ensure food is available to all of America are finding it difficult to feed or house their own families."

USDA will accept proposals for grant assistance from interested state and local non-profit community development organizations.

Procedures for submission were published in the Aug. 2 Federal Register. Proposals must reach the Cooperative State Research, Education and Extension Service by 5 p.m. Aug. 15.

USDA Rural Development provides loans and grants to finance affordable rental housing for farm workers and is the only national source for farm labor housing construction funds.

Rural Development also provides funding to finance essential community services, such as child-care centers and health-care facilities.

For more information about Rural Development programs, visit a local USDA Rural Development office or USDA Service Center, call the Rural Development national office

1999 Property Tax Rates in the City of Mulshoe, Mulshoe Area Hospital Dist., Bailey Co. General Fund and Bailey Co. Farm Road

This notice concerns 1999 property tax rates for the City of Mulshoe, Mulshoe Area Hospital Dist., Bailey Co. General Fund and Bailey Co. Farm Road. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value. This notice was prepared by Kaye Elliott, Chief Appraiser on August 4, 1999. You can inspect a copy of the full calculations at 302 Main St., Mulshoe, Texas.
