Way Cleared For Tax Boost And A Vacation

Lawmakers Pledge To Act Later To Get At Profits

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18. AP)-A compromise pledge that Congress will act later to tax excess war profits apparently cleared the way today for approval of a $4,508,000,-000 tax boost and the start of a vacation for lawmakers late this week.

But it may mean that Congress will be back in November. Agreement on the knotty cor-coration excess profits issue was reached at an unusual Sunday session of a House-Senate conerence committee.

The conferees, now smoothing out differences in the House and Senate versions of the general tax bill, approved — subject to House and Senate approval — that Con-gress will act either later this year, or early next, on a levy on excess corporation profits. This levy is to be retroactive to Oct. 1 or July 1 of this year.

This is intended to postpone the profits issue and enable quick, fi-nal approval of the general tax boosting bill in time for higher levies to become effective Oct. 1 on the incomes of more than 50 millich individual taxpayers. The Senate had gone on record as favoring action on an excess profits tax next year. But the House overwhelmingly called for action this year. The conferees calls for enactment of such a tax Congress is in session after the November elections - otherwise, next year.

But Sens. Connally (D-Tex) and O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), leaders in the light for immediate excess profits legislation, said they will insist on a definite understanding that the lawmakers return after the elections to act on the matter. The tax bill is one of the major items in the way of congressions?

recess or adjournment this week. Its major provisions: Individuals - a $2,700,000,000 increase in levies on incomes of over 50 million persons, effective Oct. L On that date the withholding from wages and salaries, after personal taxpayers by one-fifth. Corporations - an increase of $1.500,000,000 a year in normal corporation income taxes, to apply to one-half of 1950 income.

millionaire told me this...

THERE AREN'T many millionaires left today, I guess.

But my dad went to college with a man who is now a millionaire. Dad took me to lunch with this man a year ago-let's call him Murray Goodwin.

While they were lighting up their cigars, Dad asked Mr. Goodwin if he had any good advice for a youngster like me. The millionaire looked at me thoughtfully.

"I've got some good advice for any man who's working on a salary today. In fact, you'll never hear better!

"Always remember," said Mr. Goodwin, tapping the table, "that the only money you'll ever have is the money you're saving right now! Saving part of each pay check is the ONLY way to save!

"And the BEST way to do it is to buy U.S. Savings Bonds through your company's Payroll Savings Plan! These Bonds are the safest, wisest investment you can make. They're backed by the U. S. Government.

"And," concluded Mr. Goodwin, knocking the ash off his cigar, "U. S. Savings Bonds return $4 for every $3 invested-ten

"This kind of saving is automatic, painless. You never feel it. Try it!"

I went on my firm's Payroll Savings Plan the very next day. And everything the millionaire said about it is true!

Automatic saving is sure saving-U.S. Savings Bonds

Study May Form Basis For Clear Policy On Trucking Regulations

questions revolving around phenomenal expansion of the trucking industry in this country-trucks now number about 8,000,-000- is by way of being answered in Maryland, where tests are being carried out with the cooperation of eleven states and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

Eight heavy trucks, fraveling day giving the road the eqivalent of twenty years of service in the space of six months. The findings in these tests are expected to form the basis of future state highway policy respecting truck loads and

A writer in this week's Saturday Evening Post tells of the open warfare that exists between state highway authorities and the trucking industry, with the states trying to enforce the load-limit law and the truckers just as persistently shooting it full of holes. The problem is complicated because load limits vary from state to state, and so do the width and length as it is,

At least one of the many controversial of trucks allowed. Adoption of a uniform code in these matters has been urged. but so far without effect.

Evasion of the weight limit is widespread in the East with which the Post article is chiefly concerned, and many large trucking firms are involved in this disregard of the law. One large outfit, according to the story, had been fined -177 times for overloading its trucks. Constant arrests and finings have not broken unithe practice, but it is obvious that a simple state statute would break it up in a hurry. This would be a provialon sus-pending for varying periods the use of the highways by any firm that persistently violated the weight limit. The Post article says that trucks now handle about one-fourth of the nation's freight-hauls. The railroads charge that etruckers are not only ruining the highways, but pay an insignificant tax for the right to do so. The truckers retort that it isn't so, they they are taxed too heavily campaign leaders were encouraged by the estimate of one of their executives who announced that the party's minimum gain as of today, would be six Senate and 31 House seats in the November election, That is, if the GOP makes the most of Democratic mistakes.

This estimate of Republican gains would throw the Senate in a 48-48 tie, the present division being 54 Democrats and 42 Republicans. Gain of thirty-one seats in the House, however, would still leave the Republicans on the short end. But the unidentified spokesman was more optimistic than his "minimum estimate" indicated; he said "the ball is just starting numbered and outgunned forces there. This build up of criticism of Democratic "bungling" would collapse if, as now, seems likely, our offensive against the Korean Reds produces early and tremendous results. There is nothing like a winto attract bandwagon riders; while the Korean success is not a Democratic achievement, a quick victory there would make the Republican criticism of the conduct of that operation seem untimely.

President Goes To Any Measure For Marshall, Whom He Greatly Admires

"Vicious Characters. When Attacked They Fight Back"

WASHINGTON-The close personal friendship existing between President Truman and George Marshall-amounting almost to hero-worship-was illustrated by an incident at Leesburg, Va., some time ago when Gen. Marshall notified the President that a former U. S. Senator, killed in the civil war, was inappropriately buried near Marhome.

The late senstor was Col. Edward D. Baker of Oregon, and Gen. Marshall informed the President that only a moss-covered stone, overgrown with vege-tation, marked his grave.

The President, who was in frequent touch with Gen. Marshall even during his retirement, telephoned Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Republican, and suggested that since Col. Baker was from Oregon they both go to Leesburg. visit with Gen. Marshall, and examine the grave.

Sen, Morse accepted. But be-fore leaving, he took the trouble to ask the Library of Congress to check on the late Sen. Baker. and found that although he had been killed at Ball's Bluff, Va. his body had been carried back to San Francisco and he was buried there.

dent Truman that he was afraid Gen. Marshall was mistaken about Sen. Baker being buried at Leesburg.
The President's reaction was most interesting. "Poor Gen. Marshall," he said. "We mustn't hurt his feelings. You leave this to me."

After lunch, as Marshall escorted the party to the supposed grave of Sen. Baker, Truman finally broke the news that he wasn't buried there after all. However, Marshall, unconvinced, led them to the grave, where they found that the Library of Congress was right. The market stated that Col. Baker was "killed here, Oct. 21, 1861." There was no indication that he was butled there. Gen. Marshall apologized profusely for bringing the President and Sen. Morse on the long trip for nothing. But they told him they were delighted at the excuse to get away from Washington.

VS. WASHINGTON It's no longer a secret that there have been important differences of opinion between Gen. MacArthur and the joint chiefs of staff in Washington, It was to iron out some of these differences Driving down to Leesburg, that Adm. Forrest Sherman and therefore, Sen. Morse told Presi-Gen. Joe Lawton Collins recently went to Tokyo.

One of these differences, still not ironed out pertains to geurrilla warfare and sabotage beenemy lines. Such tactics have been urged on Gen. Mac-Arthur but he has been reluctant to adopt them.

THE MADERITY PARTY

Italian sabotage behind German lines was an important fac-tor in the Italian campaign; likewise French sabotage of the Germans after the Normandy invasion. Strategists in Washington believe that we can do the same thing in Korea, and reverse what the North Koreans have been doing to us.

So far, we have tried to break up North Korean supply lines by serial bombing and artillery, and while this has been partly successful, the enemy continues to move up supplies by night. When the Communists take over a town, for instance, the entire community is drafted. The popu-lation is told: "Here are the supplies. Get them to the next point." So men, women and children transport them, sometimes without even using roads, which makes bombardment difficult, and is why Washington has urged MacArthur to infiltrate South Koreans behind North Korean

Nothing More Inspiring Than A Church Spire Piercing Sky

If there's one thing that goes perfectly with stained glass windows and church bells it's a steeple. One of the churches now under construction here has an honestto-goodness old-fashioned steeple atop it.

There's nothing more inspiring than a church spire rising from a hillion to pierce the blue and white sky above. A white shaft stretching upward to spear cloud banks and reflect the sunlight seems to lift the whole building above the others around it. And it seems to symbolise the

Maybe a church steeple is nothing to wax poetic about. Thoush it took the poetry of a man who loved the weathervanes on the little white churches of Maine to saivage them when practical men would tear them down. And one of the world's greatest playwrights wrote into his most immortal play the story of a great builder who erected churches with high, skyward steeples, then climbed to the top of them when they were finished to place a green

Such was the one Paul Pevers saw lanterms shining from one night, and such was the one in Philadelphia that came to be known as the old Independence Hall. And they still haven't achieved the impressive simplicity of the style our fathers brought over from the countrysides of the old world

Present-day church designers have introduced modernism and other conglomerates until it's often hard to distinguish some churches from drive-ins and night clubs The steeple, a hybrid offspring of the gable or some quirk Sir Ch; is Wren had way back in another century, lan't as often seen now as it used to be. Capitol Hill Shares Truman Confidence In Gen. Marshall man telephoned General Marthall at Lees burg, Va., to ask him to be Secretary of Defense, the General expressed his appreciation of the honor but said he had promised to consult with his wife before making any commitments.

Within a very few minutes the General cailed the Pr. sident. In a voice vibrant with happiness, the old so dier said: "Mrs. Marshall says she will be very happy to have me do that job because she thinks it is suited to me and I feel exactly the same way.

"When you sent me to China, I had misgivings," General Marshall told Mr. Truman. "When you made me Secretary of State, I had misgivings too and pergivings were justified. But I feel that I haps time showed that some of those miscan really do this one and I will not worry shout it at all."

The Truman-Marshall confidence is widly echoed on Capitol Hill where Republican leaders are predicting ready confirmation and Democrats insist they will hardly have a break in their ranks. It is a remarkable tribute to General Marshall and reflects extreme credit on the genius who thought up what from every angle looks like a ten-strike.

Because the President considers Marshall the greatest living American, it had been assumed he did. Friends of Louis Johnson state that he had the 'dea on his own which he incorporated in his letter of resignation.

"It is my recommendation that you . name as my successor a man of such stature that the very act of naming him Secretary of Defense will promote nanational and international unity . . . General George Marshall is such a man and I recommend his name to your thoughtful attention," Johnson wrote in the missive he handed to Mr. Truman.

The retiring defense chief shaped in his mind his letter of resignation at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning as he was walking back from the Chevy Chase Club in the suburbs of Washington. Johnson has the 'abit of this year.

The conference which only the two men can describe took place Tuesday on schedule and by dinnertime the well-kept secret was out.

Attorney General McGrata led a procession of callers to the Pentagon office of the retiring defense secretary Wednesday. The attorney general was chairman of the Democratic National Committee in 1948 when Johnson accepted the hard task of raising funds for what looked like a losing campaign by Mr. Truman. The defense post was his political reward. The Johnson camp is also taking comfort in a flood of messages express-ing confidence in him.

The exuberant Democrats who have taken a new lease on life since the .Maire and New Hampshire election returns, the final vote on the McCarran anti-subversive bill and the Marshall appointment, even thought up a successor to the General in the $22,500-a-year job as chairman of the American Red Cross.

Acheson's View

In his television broadcast Secretary of State Acheson said, in answer to a question, that it is "very hard" to put major attention anywhere in the world, that all points of tension must be looked at.

"But I think," he continued, "we must put our major effort at the present moment into creating strong North Atlantic defense

Sheep Can Bear Lambs Twice In One Year Now

CHICAGO, Sept. 18. UB-Armour and Co. reported yesterday that hormone experiments on sheep shown they can be made bear lambs twice a year instead of once a year.

Researchers for the packing company announced results of the experiments at the Colorado A&M experiment station at Fort Collins. Dr. Frank X. Gassner, professor of endocrinology at the achool, conducted the experiments, tions of the hormone, gonadotrophing, in 535 sheep. All of them elready had lambed once in the year, Dr. Gassner reported, but after the injections 320 of them reacted to the hormone and were bred 100% again.

Republicans have accused the administration of short-sightedness in "washing its hands" of China and paying too great attention to Europe.

The question of where to concentrate our strength came up in a major way during the first two years of World War II.

A fundamental decision had to be made whether to knock out Hitler first, while fighting a holding action in the Preific, or to go after Japan first and then finish Hitler off. The decision, of course, was to settle the European war first.

Only Greed And Selfishness Will Bring On Govt. Control

WASHINGTON, (A) - Americans have a good chance to prove the Communists are right. It will be ironic if they do.

The Russian Communist leaders take a pretty dim view of the instincts in mankind, For instance, selfishness.

They don't trust people to curb their own selfishness and, by reasonable and fair conduct with ope another, keep the economy intact. So the Communist leadership inposes iron controls on all phases of living, including prices, wages, owernship of property, and so on. By their controls of prices and wages, for example, they can limit the ability the people to buy or hoard goods or food. The theory behind the American gov-ernment is that people by themselves can act reasonably and fairly, curbing their greed without government interference and in this reasonable way keep the economy intent

SINCE THIS GOVERNMENT BEFRE sents all the people—and is really all the people—when it does interfere, it's supsed to do so for the general welfare and to protect the majority against sorile minority unfairness.

This American hatred for government interference is the basis of the poeple freedom. And this country now is involved in a struggle with communism to keep it from winning and swallowing up the free-

It is too soon to say—unless there is a great emergency—whether any goods will become scarce enough to pinch anyone. They may. And therein lies the challenge people of this country: Will they let greed and selfishness get the better of them? Will they start hoarding and buying more than they need? Will business men take advantages of shortages to hike prices unnecessarily or try to hoard scarce materials?

How did the Steers look from the pressbox?

Answer: Surprising and prom-

They showed promise of being able to "mix it" even with the stronger clubs on their 1950 chedule. The degree of their success, of course, will depend upon their ability to improve profit by experience as they move through the season.

Glaring weaknesses most always appear in opening games, especially when experienced manpower is scarce. Let it be said, however, that most major weaknesses of the Steers had been detected before Quanah came to town and work had been started real speed merchants to maneuver to improve them. Two weeks is under Cobb's tosses. Robert throws short time . . . too short, in fact on. The Steers were slow, just as Coach Carl Coleman said they would appear, but on the other ide of the ledger, and of more mportance, we believe, the boys ooked as if they enjoyed playing football.

Their lack of speed demon tactics made their feat of Friday night surprising. This day and time, a ootball team must be able to ofer a scoring threat from any position on the field if it gets anywhere on the victory road. The a double measure of credit for season. We think the ordinary inexperi-
