"TRAVELETTES"

Since leaving Eldorado at six o'clock Friday afternoon, June 18, we've traveled exactly 3,647 miles, seeing portions of Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana. We had a wonderful vacation saw lots of country, but now we need a vacation to rest up from our vacation.

On the trip to North Carolina most of the travel in Texas was over portions we knew pretty well, and over this part our conversation drifted from first one thing to another. We talked about everything from the price of eggs to what a good road we could build through Schleicher county if we had all the money Texas has spent in erecting historical markers in each county.

As we left the state at Texarkana, we began seeing new territory. One of the first things we noticed was a huge sign: "Standard Oil Welcomes You To Arkansas," but we hadn't gone but a short way until they charged us fifty cents to cross one of their little old bridges, so we figured the welcome wasn't as sincere as it could have been.

We varied from our regular course to go by Hot Springs, Arkansas, the vacation spot and health resort where they place you in boiling water and boil all your ailments out. It was here that our traveling companions, one C. S. McKinney and George Blanton, a native of North Carolina, pulled a fast one on us. We were winding around the mountains, first one way then another when one of them asked which way the water was running. "Any fool ought to know that," we replied, "it's running down hill in the same direction we're going." We were invited to inspect the stream by whose side we were traveling, and we found the thing running backwards. We were glad to get back into Texas where our streams won't double cross you like that.

When we hit a state we tried to find a song that would fit the occasion. In Arkansas it was "Arkansas Traveler"; "Hills of Tennessee" for that state; "Mississippi Valley Blues" when we crossed the "Master of Waters" at Memphis; "Carolina Moon" in the Carolinas, and so on, et cetera.

A short way out of Nashville, we passed a sign saying: "Home of Andrew Jackson." Well, we kinda wanted to visit there, but McKinney hadn't seen his daddy, sisters, brothers and other kindred in ten years and was in a hurry to get home. They finally convinced us that Mr. Jackson wouldn't be at home if we drove by there, so we went on.

As we hit the "mountings" we were reminded of a story we heard just before leaving. A man was traveling through those very same "hills" when he heard a big noise and rattling of bushes by the roadside, which was followed by one of the most expert jobs of cussing he had ever heard. On stopping to investigate, he found a farmer getting to his feet; and, still cussing, the farmer said: "That makes the third time

Utilities Contest To Find New Name For "Housewife"

"INVENT A WORD FOR HOUSEWIFE CONTEST" TO OPEN JULY 5TH

A growing "suspicion" that West Texas women resent being called "housewives" prompts a radio contest to find a new name for the home-maker, N. R. Kennedy, local manager for the West Texas Utilities Company, announced yesterday.

Prizes valued at approximately $500 will be awarded in the contest, he said. The grand prize will be a largesized electric refrigerator (Frigidaire).

The contest will begin July 5, lasting six weeks. It will be conducted over Radio Stations KGKL, San Angelo, and KRBC, Abilene, and will be supplemented by newspaper advertising in their broadcasting radius. Details of the contest, Kennedy said, will be given on the company's woman's news programs over the two stations Monday morning at 9:15 o'clock in Abilene and 9:30 o'clock in San Angelo.

Women will be invited to invent a substitute name for "housewife" and explain why they prefer that particular name in a 100-word letter, it was learned. Second prize will be choice of electric dishwasher or washing machine, and third prize will be a food mixer. The next 10 best names will each win their author a small electric appliance.

Rev. J. W. Leggitt Arrives Tuesday To Begin Work Here

REV. WHEELER GOES TO MILES AS PASTOR

The exchange in pastoral charges of Rev. W. B. Wheeler and Rev. J. W. Leggitt was made the first of this week, with the pastors moving to their new field on Tuesday.

Rev. Leggitt comes to Eldorado well recommended as one of the leading Methodist pastors in this district. He is anxious to begin his work with the local church, to visit his members and to get all phases of the work well organized and under way. He is already known by many Eldorado people, those who met him during the revival which he conducted here recently.

Rev. Leggitt hopes to have all departments of church work well organized and functioning within the near future, and he asks the cooperation of all church members in this desire.

Rev. Wheeler and family made many friends while in Eldorado, and they wish them much success and happiness in their new work at Miles.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Rodgers Held On Sunday

Mrs. Louisa V. Rodgers, age 80, passed away Sunday morning at 6:20 o'clock after a lingering illness for several weeks, and was buried Sunday afternoon in the Eldorado Cemetery as the sun gradually sank into the western horizon, with the Eldorado Funeral Service in charge.

Mrs. Rodgers was born at Henderson, Texas, May 3, 1857 and spent her entire life in Texas. She was a daughter of Matthew Smith, an early pioneer of Texas, and at the time of her death was 80 years, 1 month and 24 days of age. She was the mother of eight children who survive her, four sons and four daughters, namely: Mrs. Jess L. Jackson, Bertram, Texas; Randolph, Rodgers, Farris, Oklahoma; Mrs. W. H. Brill, Austin, Texas; John H. Rodgers, Eldorado, Texas; Mrs. R. E. Smith, Austin, Texas; Mrs. Chas. Yancy Eldorado, Texas; Nelson Rodgers, Ft. Stockton, Texas; and H. R. "Mr. Tucker comes to Eldorado very highly recommended both as a man and as a funeral director and embalmer," J. L. Ratliff, owner of the home, said. "We have reliable information that he is an expert at embalming, and he has spent many years in this profession."

Mrs. Tucker, who is also a licensed embalmer, will assist her husband in handling the bodies of all women and children.

NELL EDMISTON ON ROUND-UP PROGRAM

Miss Nell Edmiston, Mrs. Palmer West and Miss Francis Bowen went to the Experiment Station for the annual round-up on Thursday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Lowe Injured In Car Wreck Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Lowe of Rankin, Texas were badly injured and their car demolished late Friday afternoon on the Mertzon-Barnhart highway. They were returning to Rankin after a days visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Johnson, Mrs. Lowe's parents, who live near Eldorado, and leaving their little daughter, Peggy, with her grandparents.

Mrs. Lowe was driving and Mr. Lowe was asleep, as he had to go on duty at midnight, when she met a Ford pickup coming toward Mertzon. The pickup was driven by Harry Wilson and owned by Bill Friday. Wilson was arrested and charged with drunken driving.

Jimmie Lowe suffered fractures of both legs, the fractures being below the knees, and Mrs. Lowe received a painful cut above her right eye and other bruises about the face. Reports from the Shannon Hospital are that Mr. Lowe will be there several weeks, Mrs. Lowe being released of this week.

The occupants of the Ford pickup were slightly injured.

Lions Club Holds Annual Ladies Night; Installs Officers

The Hotel Eldo was the scene of Eldorado Lions Club's annual ladies night banquet and installation of officers last Wednesday night. A delectable banquet plate was prepared and served by employees of the hotel.

Club members were somewhat disappointed in that more Lions and their ladies did not attend this event. Lions from San Angelo, who were scheduled to have a part on the program, were unable to attend.

Following the banquet, Clarence Knight, chairman of the program committee, took charge of the meeting. He announced each number as it appeared on the program.

Misses Elouise Whitten, Johnnie Ferne Isaacs and Maxine Wilton entertained with several very enjoyable popular songs, and this was followed by talks and stunts by some of the members.

The program was then turned over to J. A. Whitten, Lion President, who was in charge of the installation service. He briefly reviewed the duties of each officer and presented the by-laws and constitution, as well as the president's gavel, to Don McCormick, new president of the club. Officers who were installed are:

In a church conference held Tuesday night, it was decided to give him this time, and work of the church will be carried on as it has been until the new pastor arrives. Rev. Aly has been pastor at Bruni for the past twenty months, and comes to the local church with a splendid record as a pastor and evangelist.

It was also decided last Tuesday night, at the suggestion of Rev. Aly, to begin the Baptist revival meeting on July 25th. Rev. Aly will do the preaching for this revival, and an attempt is being made to get Mr. Joe Russell, of Brownwood, who is a singer and evangelistic worker, to lead the singing for this revival.

FOR A HAPPY HOLIDAY

The "Glorious Fourth" can be just as glorious as we choose to make it. This year the long week-end created by the holiday will intensify the hazards which the Fourth always produces. The watchword should be, "Take care!"

Independence Day celebrates the independence of a nation. The coming week-end will demonstrate vividly the modern interdependence of people. Great streams of traffic pouring over the highways will show how essential are mutual regard and courtesy among drivers. Fireworks will demonstrate it too. A "firecracker thrown by another" is, according to the National Conservation Bureau, the greatest single cause of the tremendous number of fireworks accidents every Fourth of July. At the beaches and lakes, imprudent swimmers will again remind us that human life must be risked to save the life of a drowning person.

Reasonable care divides a happy holiday from the tragedies which mar it. Reasonable care will insure you, your family, and the other fellow against mishap. For instance:

If you drive—see that your car is in good mechanical condition. Check tires, lights, brakes, steering mechanism, windshield wiper, rear-view mirror, horn. Drive skilfully, at a reasonable speed. Observe the rules and courtesies of the road.

If you must use fireworks—give yourself plenty of space. Keep away from children and animals and buildings. Throw firecrackers away from people and incombustible materials, not at them. Never hold an exploding firecracker, nor set them off under a bottle or can. Cauterize the smallest wound immediately—tetanus poisoning works fast and kills.

If you go swimming—swim in safe and protected places. Beware of strong tides and currents. Know your limits as a swimmer. Wait two hours after eating. Avoid shallow places.

I've fell out of that blankety-blank field this morning "

We didn't get to talk to the farmer, but we saw the field. In fact, we saw a number of fields that a person could fall out of as many times as the desire demanded. Folks farm those mountains just up one side and down t'other. Why we saw farms on hill-sides that were too steep for a mountain lizzard to climb, and how they manage to plant, cultivate and harvest a crop is too much for our feeble mind to comprehend.

Our attention was called to several patches of tobacco which were growing in those mountains. It was all kinda young, and try as we might, we couldn't find any cigars or cigarettes growing on those stalks

While in North Carolina we made our headquarters at Shelby, and visited the surrounding country. We were carried through a textile mill, and there we saw cotton, wool and rayon as it was being woven into various and sundry kinds of cloth. This was so interesting that we decided to make the textile industry our pet hobby when our heavily laden ship comes in, but we're serving notice on Mr. Lewis and his CIO that we don't want any meddling with our hobby

At Hickory, N. C., we were taken through a hosiery mill, or "sock farm" as we called it. There we saw enough socks for every person in Schleicher county to put on a clean pair every day from here on out. It seemed that this industry would also make an interesting pastime, but folks who mess around a "sock farm" call it real work.

These and many other interesting things we saw before beginning our homeward journey last Saturday morning. On our return we saw palm trees, banana trees, and many other kinds of trees growing. We traveled some forty or fifty miles along the coast and looked far, far out into the ocean. It was our first view of the "big pond" and we were quick in deciding that it was considerably larger than Schleicher county's biggest lake

At New Orleans we decided to cross the Huey m. Long bridge, even though it took us off our course. We drove over the bridge, then turned around and came back over; thence on to Baton Rouge, where we crossed the Mississippi River for the fourth time, this time on a ferry boat. We viewed Louisiana's great capitol and stood for a while at the grave of Huey P. Long, where fresh flowers are placed each morning by the ladies clubs of Baton Rouge.

When we crossed the Sabine River, near Beaumont, we began to feel like we were really in the United States again! We were anxious to get back to the best county in Texas to spend the days and months until time for another vacation.

Ben Hext went to Menard last Wednesday to relieve an employee of the Shell Pipeline Co. there while he is away on a two-weeks vacation.

ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION SAVES LIVES OF MANY

Austin, Texas, June —"No elaborate equipment is needed to save a life from drowning," is the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "In fact, actual harm has been done by the misuse of so-called lung motors. Modern resuscitation apparatus has been perfected so that oxygen and carbon dioxide can be used without inflicting more damage to cases of asphyxiation and drowning. It is tragic enough to have a drowning accident, but it is far more tragic if no one present at the time knows how to save a life by artificial respiration is of primary importance, and for this purpose the prone pressure method is the easiest, simplest and most effective. This should begin at once and continue rhythmically until natural breathing is established—this may take four or more hours. Procedure:

First: Kneel, and straddle the patient below the hips placing hands on small of the back with fingers over the lowest ribs, tips of fingers just out of sight.

Second: With arms straight, while counting one, two, swing forward bearing weight on body firmly but not violently.

Third: Swing backward while counting one, straightening up and thus relieving pressure—this allows air to be drawn into the lungs.

Fourth: Rest in this position for two counts.

Fifth: Repeat these movements rhythmically, forward and backward, without interruption, about twelve to fifteen a minute, until natural breathing is restored.

Sixth: Meanwhile, if assistance is at hand, a physician should be sent for, the patient's tight clothing should be loosened at neck, chest waist, and he should be kept warm.

The patient should not be moved until he is breathing normally and then should not be allowed to get up but should be carried in a lying position to a place where he can be kept warm and receive medical attention.

Judge C. S. McKinney and Aaron Edgar returned home last Tuesday from a ten days' visit in North Carolina and other points. Judge McKinney was accompanied home by his sister, Miss Ellie McKinney of Shelby, N. C., who will visit in the McKinney home and at Sabinal for some time before returning to her home.

Miss Frances Bowen spent last week-end in Austin, where she underwent treatment for sinus trouble also visited with relatives.

Mrs. Cecil Meador who has been in a Ballinger Hospital was released last Friday, much improved and visited in San Angelo over the week end, returning to Eldorado this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sweatt spent Sunday in Christoval and San Angelo visiting.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

Austin.—Whether the fee system of paying county and district officials for their services shall be restored, displacing the salary system voted by the people two years ago as a constitutional amendment, promises to be by far the most interesting of the constitutional questions voted on in August. A vigorous campaign for and against restoration of the fee system is in prospect, with county officials divided in their support. Generally speaking, officials in the smaller counties favor retention of the salary system, and will seek to defeat the new amendment to bring back the fee method, because they have been able to earn larger salaries than the fees formerly yielded. The larger county officials favor the fee system, for the opposite reason. Gov. Allred, who campaigned vigorously against the "iniquitous fee system" when it was abolished, has charged his position, and announced he will make speeches in favor of returning the fee system, his reason being that he was "honesty mistaken," and he finds the salary plan too costly to the state and the counties. With only half the normal total of poll tax payments made in this "off" political year, the decision—whatever it is—will be a minority one, with a light vote recorded. Atty. Gen. Bill McCraw's office set at rest placed upon the amendment proposal by some—to the effect that the members of the legislature might fix their own pay if it were adopted—when his office handed down a conference opinion holding that pay of legislature is fixed under another section of the constitution, and will not be affected by adoption or rejection of the fee amendment proposal.

Costly, But Resultful

Gov. Allred, despite critics in the senate, demonstrated that he could get results from the legislature in special session, when the solons put them thru, at the $150,000 special session, bills repealing race horse betting, prohibiting dog races and tightening up the laws against bookmakers and other forms of gambling. The special session method, in which the governor can control the subjects considered, proved costly but resultful, and the governor hinted that it may be used to put thru his platform pledge for utility rate regulation, in a speech at Silsbee, when he declared Texas has the highest telephone rates in the south and said he would call special sessions until his program is carried out. With a tax session scheduled for early September that will certainly require all of a 30-day session to raise sufficient new revenue, this indicates at least two, possibly more, special sessions in the fall.

Third Term Talk

Third term talk in behalf of Allred was revived here this week-end with publication of a series of stories, obviously inspired, in which Sec. of State Ed Clark, close political adviser of the governor thruout his public career, broadly hinted the governor was under considerable pressure from those who approve his action on race repeal and sending rangers to the Fort Worth strike area, to run again. In view of information from Sen. Tom Connally during his recent Texas visit, to the effect that the senate will not act upon the Houston federal judgeship bill until after the president's court reform program has been acted upon, many here believed the governor's hope of landing the federal judgeship is, waning. Connally told friends here the president's plan may be amended to provide for "floating" federal judgeships, to take care of crowded districts thus eliminating necessity of creating the new Houston judgeship altogether. Allred unquestionably has thoroly enjoyed being governor, particularly during the Centennial year with all its honors and public acclamation, and, it he believed he could shatter precedent and win a third term, might easily be induced to run. Letters and resolutions from the church and moral element of voters, and from those unsympathetic with the use of violence in strikes, have been coming to Allred in large numbers, and have encouraged him. Meanwhile, Atty. Gen. Bill McCraw is campaigning actively thruout the state, and the return this week from Europe of Col. Ernest O. Thompson, railroad commissioner, regarded as a certain candidate, is expected to add impetus to already highly interesting gubernatorial situation. Jim Ferguson has hinted broadly in recent weeks that Mrs. Ferguson may seek a third term, too.

A Correction

Lobbyist Carl C. Hardin, former senator from Stephenville, has sent to this columnist a statement denying the accuracy of a report, circulated in Austin and chronicled in this column recently, to the effect that Hardin lobbied the bill prohibiting dentists from advertising, on a contingent fee had the governor failed to sign the bill. "I was paid a regular fee, whether the bill was passed or not, or whether the governor signed or failed to sign it," said Hardin. To correct any possible injustice inadvertently done Hardin by publication of the report, his denial of its accuracy is herewith reported.

MRS. WEST AWARDED FIRST PRIZE FOR BEST YEAR AROUND WORK

Mrs. Palmer West, the Wardrobe demonstrator of the Eldorado H. D. Club, was awarded first prize for the best year around work on records and storage in the Wardrobe demonstration. Mrs. West has been active for several years in the clothing demonstration; but she felt, when she took the dem. that she was not as good a seamstress as she would like to have been. She lacked the confidence in herself that she needed to help others with their patterns.

The storage space that Mrs. West planned to improve was in need of some work. She had a curtain across one corner of the room and she kept just about any clothes that she did not use in this place. A local lumber company invited Mrs. West to serve as hostess when they held a wallpaper and paint show. She was paid five dollars for her work and she applied this on her material that she was going to use for her work. Mrs. West's name was drawn and she was awarded wallpaper for any room in her house and she selected it for the room where she was going to put her new closet.

The closet is 8x31/2x2 feet. It has three removable shelves across one end; a top space for storing quilts, luggage, and out of season things. On the door, she has a shoe, hat, and tie rack which measures 60x20 inches. The rod for hanging clothes is an old iron rod cut to fit and can be removed easily. The inside of the closet is papered to match the room and the woodwork is varnished. Mrs. West added eight trouser and shirt hangers at a cost of forty cents. The material for the closet cost $7.65.

Mrs. West began her work as demonstrator by taking a complete inventory of her clothes and of her husband's clothes. She next put all of the clothes that she could in good shape. Then, she made a plan of the clothes that she would buy for the year. Then, as she bought her things, she kept up a purchase account. She found that her total cost of clothing was $5.35 and her husband's cost $59.63. The total amount spent was $123.63, counting the expense of the closet and the clothing.

In addition, Mrs. West has given a machine clinic dem. at a club meeting; a demonstration on children's clothes. She has made one dress for a non club member; a satin coat; 7 dresses—5 of new material and 2 of old; 3 pairs of trousers; one pair of pajamas; and one slip for her niece. She has assisted 3 non club members with cutting and fitting dresses one of them out of the county. She helped two 4H club girls with dresses; gave suggestions to a wardrobe dem. on improving a collar; covered a buckle, made bound buttonholes, and pinked seams on a dress for a nonclub member. Four foundation patterns were checked for wardrobe demonstrators; seven new patterns and a waist pattern were made for five non-club members and three club members. One pattern was made for a Mexican girl and Mrs. West feels that she will make good use of her pattern since she has a limited amount of money to spend. She assisted a demonstrator in taking inventories and making plans.

Sixteen garments have been made either by the foundation pattern or checked by the pattern. She made nine dresses; a suit from one of her husband's; a pair of pajamas; one slip; a house coat; a blouse; and a dress from an old evening dress.

To quote Mrs. West, "I feel that I have profited greatly from my experience as a wardrobe demonstrator. I have learned the use of the foundation pattern in developing 'self personality'; in cutting garments from it. Not only have I kept a record of our clothing expenditures, but I have kept a record of money spent on gifts for other people. I have made a scrap book of all the garments I have made and the material used. I feel that at the end of the year, that I can account for the use of the money we have spent instead of wondering where it has gone."

Guard Your Securities Investments

This is the first of a series of articles prepared by D. Leon Harp, Securities Commissioner of Texas, President of the National Association of Securities Commissioners and Director in the National Association for the Prevention of Fraud in the Sale of Securities.

The results of numerous national surveys show that more than eighteen million people in the United States are owners of corporate stocks, debentures, municipal bonds or other forms of securities. We are, in fact the greatest nation of investors on the face of the earth. Placed upon various estimates, it is safe to say that more than one million people in the State of Texas come within the category of securities investor. One need not look very far to see some of the results brought about by this tremendous pooling of capital. The system has provided not only a means of making money by investing money, but it has brought about the employment of hundreds of thousands of laborers and skilled workers, and has made of America the world's greatest industrial country. This growth of corporate enterprise and joint use of capital has created an economic system that affects the daily lives of each and all of us. If the bed you slept in last night was made in one of America's large furniture factories, several thousand people furnished the capital to manufacture it. If you had bacon for breakfast this morning that came from one of several large meat-packing companies, thousands of other stockholders received benefits from your investment. Very likely, the telephone you use is owned by more than three hundred and fifty thousand people. If your wife's scissors, your razor, the hoe in your garden or the wire in the fence around your farm is made of steel, manufactured by a certain American steel corporation, you made a purchase from a company owned by more than two hundred thousand people. Your radio, your automobile, your electric refrigerator, the pavement on your roads and streets, the books you read and countless hundreds of other things you enjoy were made possible by the contribution of capital, practically all of which is evidenced by some form of securities. Thus, our daily needs come from the furnishing of billions of dollars by millions of people who make money by hiring out their capital.

The issuance and sale of securities has brought about the most technical phase of our business life. Back of your stock certificate, for instance, in a large utility corporation, there are facts and figures that might well baffle the mind of any but an expert on utility financing is fair and honest, but the very nature of this plan of financing, the vastness of its boundaries and the bewildering ramifications that lead here and there has made it possible for men without conscience to cheat and defraud the investing public out of billions of dollars. Some estimates place the losses as high as two billion dollars annually—losses suffered through actual fraud.

It is the purpose of the securities laws to protect the investor against the machinations and unholly schemes of the promoter and salesman. These laws, at the same time, offer encouragement to those who raise capital honestly and who manage corporate enterprise faithfully. Some form of a securities act has been passed by forty-seven of the forty-eight states of the Union. The Federal Government has passed regulatory acts involving the issuance and sale of securities to protect the investors of the whole country. Texas should be proud of the Act of its Legislature has passed and has upheld since its enactment.

In a forthcoming article, your

Girl Scouts Like to Cook

ALMOST 12,000 Girl Scouts of America were awarded cook badges during 1936 and 71,500 passed tests in the homemaking arts, according to an announcement made coincident with the 25th anniversary of the founding of the organization.

Practical experience in domestic arts and sciences is one of the most popular pursuits of these girls of teen age, who choose their individual activities from the many included in the national program.

Three Girl Scouts from New York City are pictured during a cake-baking class at a large eastern utility company, where they were shown the latest features of a modern automatic gas range and taught to employ the most up-to-the-minute baking methods.

Planning, preparing and serving refreshments, and the duties of a hostess are all part of the broad training Girl Scouts receive to fit them for future homemaking tasks.

Commissioner will point out the main features of the Texas Securities Act and will demonstrate to the readers of this paper how it works to protect the investors against the racketeer.

It is unlawful in Texas for unlicensed dealers and salesmen to sell stocks, bonds oil and gas leases and other classes of securities. The investor should help the state of Texas protect him against fraud by refusing to deal with unlicensed salesmen and dealers. Each licensed salesman and dealer carries with him an identification card with the seal of the State of Texas and the signature of the securities commissioner thereon.

Martha Jane Axtell And John I. Jones Wed At Christoval

The marriage of Miss Martha Jane Axtell and John I. Jones was solemnized in the flower garden of the Fred Axtell home near Christoval at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening.

Dr. R. Guy Davis of Brownwood, president of Daniel Baker College, performed the single ring ceremony.

An archway was placed on the lawn with tall baskets of gladioluses and other cut flowers being arranged on each side to accent the natural background of the garden. The improvised altar was located at the archway.

The couple was unattended. The bride wore a navy blue triple sheer garden frock trimmed with white embroidered organza. Her accessories were blue and white, and she wore a corsage of white gladioluses.

As the pre-nuptial music Miss

Ilaree Kennedy, violinist, played "I Love You Truly" with Mrs. Herman Allen at the piano. The two musicians played "The Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" as the couple walked down the pathway from the house to the altar, and during the ceremony strains of "At Dawning" were heard.

An informal garden party followed the ceremony, tables being placed on the lawn. Mrs. M. R. Saunders of Amarillo presided at the cake after it had been cut by the bride, and Mrs. J. M. T. Sparks of San Angelo served the punch. Both are sisters of the bride.

More than 35 relatives and close friends of the couple were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones left for a honeymoon in the Davis Mountains and points in New Mexico. They will be at home on their Schleicher County Ranch after July Fourth. The bride traveled in a biege silk linen suit, using beige and brown accessories.

Mrs. Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Axtell, was graduated from Christoval High School in May. Mr. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Jones, is a graduate of Eldorado High School and an exstudent of A & M and Texas Tech. He is engaged in the ranch business with his father.

Finley Family Have Reunion At Park At Christoval Sunday

The hot summer days causes one to want to get out and away from town and seek refuge on the cool river banks and in the shade of the big pecan trees and enjoy a nice swim in the waters. Sunday proved an ideal day for such an occasion and the Finley family was one of those that had a reunion at Christoval and enjoyed a day of rest and diversion.

Those present at the outing were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kinser, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McCravery and son, Billy, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Kinser and daughter, Patsy, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Finley, Joe, Pete, Fay, Eddie Mae and Anna Pearl Finley, Weatherly Kinser, Doll Weatherly and Margaret Merrill, all of Eldorado.

Mrs. S. D. Harper Remodeling House

Mrs. S. D. Harper has a completely remodeled house as a result of her work as Pantry demonstrator for the Cliff H. D. club. A gift of free wall paper from a local lumber company and a new refrigerator started the work.

The refrigerator was installed in the pantry and new wall paper was put up in both the pantry and the kitchen shelves and woodwork were painted ivory and the whole aspect of the pantry is now light and cool where once it was dull and dark.

A dividing wall between the kitchen and a small dining room was removed and Mrs. Harper now has a large airy kitchen and dining room. There are four doors and a French door and a window opening in the kitchen; so there will be plenty of ventilation even during the hottest weather. Mrs. Harper plans to make a folding screen from wool sacks to place before her stove when she is serving meals.

New wall paper has been added in the bedroom, living room, and the bathroom and Mrs. Harper is planning to paint the woodwork ivory. She is planning to refinish the floor in the living room with linseed oil. Curtains made of unbleached muslin trimmed with brown fringe are being used. These are especially good for a ranch home since they are suited in texture; are inexpensive; and will not be harmed by the dust.

Brady Will Hold Annual Jubilee On July 5 to 7

Brady, June, 26.—After two successful one day advertising trips over Central West Texas, and the polishing up of beautiful Richards Park, officials of the 12th Annual July Jubilee and Race Meet are ready to pronounce the celebration ready to open on July 5th, and to continue through July 7th. The affair will be officially opened, however, Saturday night, July 3rd, when the Queen's coronation ceremony will be held at Richards Park, in one of the highlights to the Jubilee.

Upwards of 50,000 persons attended the festival in 1936, and with people in fine spirits following good grain crop, and the ranchmen never in a happier frame of mind, Chairman G. C. Kirk has expressed the opinion that the 1937 Jubilee will top them all. "We heard lots of favorable comment on our booster trips, and it looks like everybody within a radius of a hundred miles will attend at least one of the three days," Kirk declared.

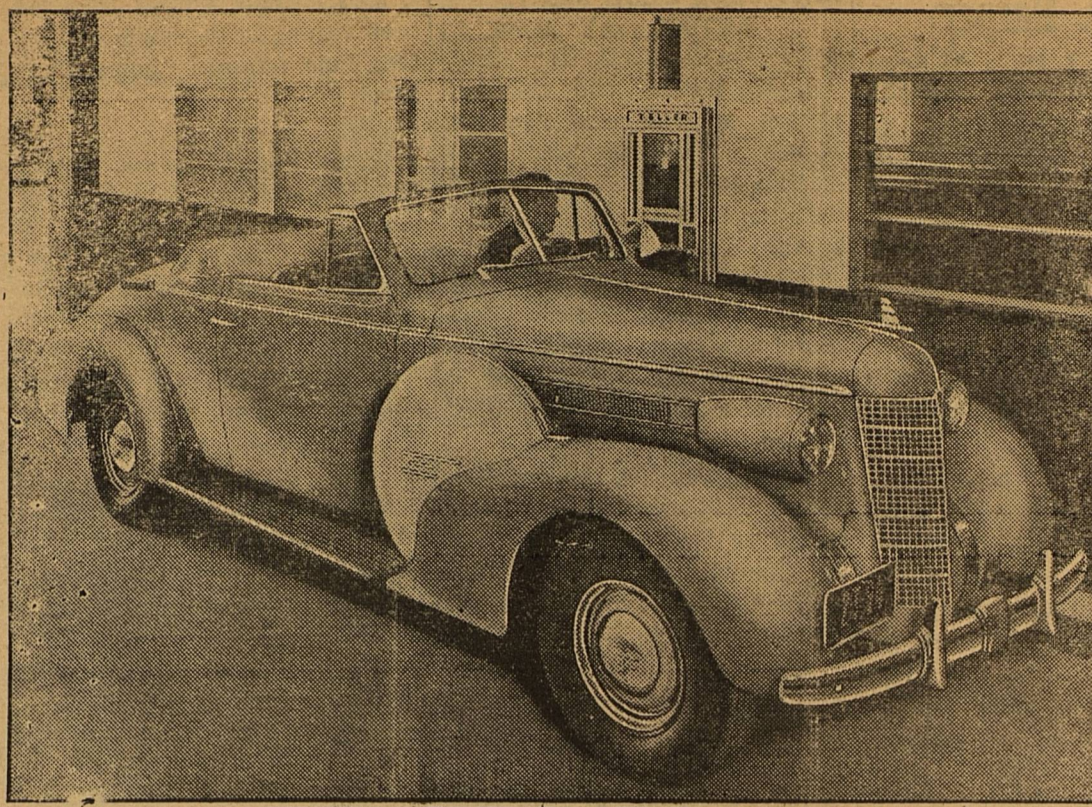

Brady has never heard anything but favorable comment on its celebration, inasmuch as thousands of men, women and children flock here on each occasion of this nature, enjoying the festival without having to spend a cent. The entrance to the picnic grounds is free to all, and there are any number of entertainment features provided gratis by local committees.

Horse races and rodeo events each afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock, will provide the main attraction of the Brady July Jubilee, and officials have been promised a fast field of horses. Other race meets in West Texas will close on July 3rd, enabling all horses to come here for the meet. Purses totaling $2,435 will be awarded the race winners each day, with the rodeo purses aggregating approximately $800. The rodeo events will be held between the races each afternoon.

That the races will be run off in an efficient manner this year is assured, with C. H. McMillian, veteran starter, having been engaged. He will bring his 12-stall starting gate. John H. Mayes of Floresville, will serve as presiding judge; H. H. Sessions will act as superintendent of racing and W. A. Wulff will serve as secretary.

Miss Elnora Andrews and Miss Margaret Combest returned Monday from a visit in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hoover left Thursday morning for Devil's River Lake on an outing and fishing trip.

Watson Family Has Enjoyable Vacation In Western States

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Watson and daughters, Elaine and Gloria Mae, returned on Thursday of last week from a vacation trip through six of the western states.

They visited Yellowstone National Park while on this trip, and Elaine and Gloria Mae, decided on an interesting means of entertainment while driving through the park. They kept check on all cars passed, and saw cars from 26 different states during a twenty minute drive in the park.

The Watson's trip took them through New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho, Arizona, and back through New Mexico on a longer route through the state. They stated that Salt Lake City was the most interesting place they visited, and there they received the most friendly welcome of any other place.

Boys working on a National Youth Administration project at Spindle Top park in Beaumont are converting several acres of the site which has been useless into a recreation area. Thousands of cubic yards of debris have been moved, a 1000 foot drainage ditch dug, stumps removed and the ground leveled on six acres, and on, the cleared site four picnic units have been constructed and shrubs transplanted.

Troubles stay longer when you are companionable with them.

According to federal conservationists, Texas' most beautiful pine forest is on the campus of Stephen F. Austin State Teachers College, Nacogdoches. The perfect state of the pines is due to the fact that the campus was originally the homestead of General Thomas J. ELDORADO, TEXAS

We are not tied to any wholesale grocery house, we pay cash for our merchandise, we only have to consider quality and price when we go into the buying field. We have purchased 60,000 pounds of flour on the very lowest market. This flour is one of the finest milled in Texas, from the finest wheat grown in Texas. We recommend it, its got to be good. Why shop in hot stores and pay more, when you can shop at the Self Serve under four cool electric fans and get the best for less money. We are open each week night until 8:30.
