By The Editor

Remember when we used to get a premium with everything we bought—and another when we paid our bill? Now the only premiums we seem to hear about are the insurance ones.

If the paper shortage continues they are going to have to make our shoes out of leather again.

Heard an unmarried woman say: "I have a dog that growls, a parrot that swears, a fireplace that smokes, and a cat that stays out all night. Why should I want a husband?"

Some of the soldiers back from New Guinea report having seen tribes of wild women without tongues. No wonder they were wild.

Police are reported to have detected a German spy disguised as a woman, when he passed a millinery shop in a city and didn't stop to look at the hat.

It is now revealed that the cocktail major general drank in England, which caused him to give the tip off on D-Day, was a "radio special." Three drinks and you start broadcasting.

The world's most out-of-date book must be "All Quiet on the Western Front."

Some men are known for their deeds. Others for their mortgages. Most of us were known to pay an income tax, too.

What's become of the proposed Schleicher County War Memorial project started a few months ago? Could it be that interest is dying down? Our men are still fighting, others are still going into service, and we on the homefront have a tribute to pay.

Eldorado in the postwar period is going to have to have a modern, approved airport for aircraft that is to be as prominent as automobiles are today. Crafts will be used for business, pleasure and commercial transportation.

A site should be selected in the very near future that would be approved by the Civil Aeronautics Authorities. The expenditure for the purchase and improving of a modern equipped field is not nearly so much as the average person might anticipate.

CITY'S CLEAN-UP DRIVE IS SLOW IN GETTING STARTED

In an effort to get the town's appearance and sanitary condition in a stage of desirability, the City of Eldorado has appropriated a sum necessary to pay expenses of disposing of rubbish and have secured means of transporting it to the proper discarding place.

However, it was announced this week that little effort had been noted on cleaning up by property owners over the townsite.

Alleys in the town have become unsightly and dangerous to health and must be cleaned.

This is particularly true in the residence districts, and if patrons will place their discarded materials on alleys in piles where it is accessible, before Thursday, Jan. 25 it will be removed and disposed of without cost to the citizens.

When president E. W. Brooks of the local Lions club appointed a committee to investigate, and if they deemed it advisable to sponsor a banquet for a committee from the club who worked on the new REA coop project, together with local and district officials and consumers of the line, the committee lost no time in getting to work on the assignment.

Marking Time

There is not much to report that Congress is doing. There is always a slack period between the opening of a new session and the making of committee assignments and the inauguration of the President, which comes this year on Jan. 20.

Breaking a long precedent, the inauguration is being held on the grounds of the Whitehouse. Because of limited space, the public, generally will not be permitted to attend. The ceremony is to be inexpensive and marked by simplicity. That seems to be in keeping with the solemnity of the times.

Odds and Ends

General Dwight D. Eisenhower was never known to seek air raid protection in a shelter until the robots came over England. . . . There are hundreds of beds along the walls in the London transit subways. Many people carry their bedding with them and sleep there whether air raid alarms are sounded or not. Yet it would be hard to find a place with more noise.

Eighty percent of all moving pictures that are shown in England are American—filmed in Hollywood by American actors. . . . In the leather shops of London may be seen many side-saddles that look exactly like the old-fashioned side-saddles our grandmothers used. . . . Col. Carl Nesbit, former Adjutant General of Texas, is one of those in charge of the Port of Liverpool, where so much of our war supplies are unloaded and distributed.

Sir Harry Lauder

Most Americans remember Sir Harry Lauder, who beginning in 1908 made 23 tours of America. Clad in native Scottish kilts, he entertained millions with Scottish folk songs and stories.

Sir Harry is now 75 and in the best of health. His home overlooks a wide green valley near Strat-haven ("Strat" in Scotch means "valley"), 40 miles from Glasgow. For four hours he entertained several of us who visited with him in his home on a Sunday evening in Early October. It was interesting to hear him recount incidents in his life, interspersed with some of his favorite folk songs.

Since the war began, Sir Harry has not appeared on a commercial program and says he will not until after the last shot is fired. His only son was killed during the last war. Much of his time is now spent in entertaining American troops, mostly in hospitals. He told of an American soldier among a group of wounded he sang to, who had lost a foot. The soldier had a picture of the Statue of Liberty. As he showed it to Sir Harry, he said: "It will be good to go back to—even without that," pointing to the stub from which his foot had been shot away.

The Lauder home is four miles from the estate of the Duke of Hamilton where Hess landed by parachute during the Battle of Britain, and then proceeded to tell the English they were fighting a hopeless war and should surren-

County H. D. Council Has First Meet In New Year's Work

Miss Ryan stated that the training school for officers would not be held on Jan. 19, but a new date will be announced later.

Mrs. J. E. Spencer, W. G. McAlpine and Robert Milligan were appointed on a committee to help with the training school for officers and Mrs. Will Isaacs, Palmer West, and C. N. Shaw were appointed on a committee to investigate the giving of Red Cross gift boxes to hospitals.

Life Member Of P-TA On Program Tuesday

Mrs. D. C. Hill, a life member of the Parent-Teacher Association, spoke on "The Influence of the P-T.A. on Legislation, when the organization met Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium.

The program opened with a group singing led by Mrs. Maxine Page, followed by the P-T.A. prayer. Miss Avis Deavers presented the Junior Class in an original short skit, "On Impersonation of Movie Stars."

In the business session, it was voted to donate $5.00 to the Eldorado Public Library; to make a donation of $10 to the March of Dimes; and a donation of $50.00 to the Grammar School Library.

The secretary announced that the sixth and 10th grades won the attendance awards for last month, and the fourth grade won the prize for having the most attractive invitation.

Mrs. Corrine Robinson was presented with her life membership certificate by Mrs. S. D. Harper, president.

Mrs. Harper announced that at the next meeting... a volleyball match will be played between a team from the P-T. A. and the high school girls. Mrs. Ernest Sutherland was appointed captain of the parent's team.

Following Mrs. Hill's address, Supt. C. A. Reynolds addressed the group, giving the highlights of a recent superintendent's meeting which he attended at Austin.

During the social hour, hostesses served sandwiches and bottle drinks to about 35 members and guests.

der.

Sitting by a glowing open fireplace, Sir Harry spoke repeatedly of his many pleasant experiences in America. With a glitter in his eye, he said: "When this war is over I'm going to make one more tour of America. And that will be my last one."

4-H Clubbers Elect New Officers; Club Show Is Planned

By BILL BREEDLOVE
(Club Reporter)

A sizeable group of boys turned out for the 4-H Club meeting on Wednesday of this week and officers for the club were elected.

Among those elected to office included President, Joe Turner Logan; Vice-President, Arthur Mund, Jr.; Secretary-Treasurer, Hensel Matthews, and Reporter, Bill Breedlove.

Among the things coming up for discussion was the Club Show to be held here February 24; also a wool show to be held in June or July.

A committee was appointed to see that pen panels were built for the show. Arthur Mund, Jr., was named chairman by the president, Joe T. Logan. In turn Arthur appointed three others to be on his committee to help. They were: Billy Whitley, Fred L. Speck, and Billy Jack Corbell.

Another committee was appointed. To most of the boys this was a very important committee. It is the entertainment committee. There were four elected to this assignment and is known as the entertainment committee. The chairman is Hal Whitten, and others were: Stuart Williams, Jackie Hodges, Bille Harrison. These will be responsible for our barbecues, picnics and other entertainment throughout the year.

There was one other thing of interest discussed at the meeting. The Club is going to publish a club paper very soon. The editor and publisher will be announced next week. A vote was taken on this matter and it was passed by a majority.

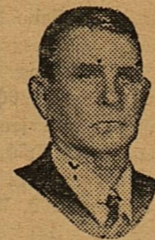

Our sponsor is County Agent Jack Welch.

One other officer is to be introduced. He is our "Watch Dog." A club couldn't get along without the old "Bouncer!" He is Olge Holbert.

With this our meeting was adjourned.

Seabee Writes Letter Telling Of Duties

The great and very necessary work which our "Fighting Seabees" are doing in support of our Army and Navy is explained in a recent letter from Vernie Logan, CM 1/c to his mother, Mrs. T. W. Logan of Sonora. Seabee Logan resided in Eldorado before entering the service and has spent the greater part of three years overseas.

The letter reads in part:

"I cannot tell you just what we are doing now, nor any definite place or time, but to answer your question of what our duties are is easy. The Seabees are Navy Construction Battalion men with experience in every trade known to construction. Many are learning trades which will be of use to them in the future. Some are working that have not learned what the work meant. On every job, I learn something which is of use to me in my line of work. It is one of the best places known for a young fellow to be taught a trade that he wishes to learn. If he does not want to work, this is no place for him.

"Over the period of time that I have been in we have built bridges, docks, airfields, hospitals, roads, complete camps, anything that is construction, we do it for that is what we are for, or what our branch of service is doing.

"It is also, as you know, a new branch of the Navy. Born the 28th of December, 1941, and I might add if I ever were to join again in the future it would be the Seabees.

"We have seen our work projects in use after they were completed. It brings to one a proud feeling to know that he has helped complete some job, which helps the boys make and keep the loss of lives as low as possible. We do our fighting mostly with tools, which can be as near as the front itself.

"I have heard the blast of both naval guns and batteries on land in actual combat; seen plans come down in flames, and in dog fights, felt the concussion of bombs that landed nearby. We have no picnic as some might say, for we hope to be as skilled with our tools as they with their guns, and it takes both to win a war. We have built ourselves a name; the Fighting Seabees, and every man and boy will help keep it so."

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wills and his brother, Dan Wills of Temple visited in the A. J. Halbert home last week. Mrs. Wills and Mr. Halbert are brother and sister.
