

MEDITATIONS
By the Editor

No definite determination of damage has been estimated as the result of the hail which fell over the county last week, but Jack Ratliff, local insurance man, might be able to come as near guessing the extent as any one we know. However, Jack was unable to make a "conservative guess" early in the week, but later he had had enough reports to make an estimate.

The sleeping population awakened to a noise that sounded somewhat akin to the throwing of golf balls against roofs and through window panes early in the morning. Crashing glass proved to be in an amount that local carpenters were kept busy several days answering calls to replace the glasses.

Schleicher County's courthouse no doubt, was near hardest hit in respect to loss of glass. It was estimated that over forty panes were broken, the school buildings and First Baptist Church are other buildings reported to have suffered heavy losses. The Masonic Hall over The Success Office, lost a number of glasses. Windshields and car glasses suffered also.

Many roofs on downtown buildings were beaten badly. Then on Saturday night, home-owners who had roofs of several years' age found that the rain "got through" proving the hail did no little damage in that capacity.

Despite all this, however, there were many broad smiles as the result of the splendid moisture that has fallen—an assurance of a good ground season for crops and pasture lands, which will be a boon to ranchers and farmers.

It is hard to realize that "it's after Easter" now. Spring is well at hand, and the Easter dress parade is a thing of the past for 1945.

Further evidence of Springtime is the attractive new jackets seen on the Eldorado Eagles football lettermen for the past season. The garments are really beautiful and serviceable, too. Coach Sutherland must be well-pleased with the election. From all accounts he is whipping the squad into shape to really get into spring training in earnest. Some of the boys are limping around from sore muscles due to lack of strenuous exercise the past several weeks, while others are showing little signs of charlie-horses, for they have been out for track, tennis and other activities.

A safe wager would be that Coach Sutherland would like very much to retain one or two of the husky lads who are graduating and bidding adieu to EHS. These boys have done well in athletics and will be sorely missed. However, they will have other positions to fill, most likely every one of them will enter the service of their country soon.

Eldorado Tank Gunner Kills Four Nazis and Captures Fifth of Crew; Gets Silver Star

Corp. Joseph C. Schooley

Following is a release received from the European Theatre of Operations concerning a gallant service by Corporal Joseph C. Schooley, son of Mrs. J. H. Schooley of Eldorado.

The communication is as follows: HDQS. OF 82ND AIRBORNE DIVISION, OFFICE OF DIVISION COMMANDER—Award of the Silver Star Medal to Cpl. Joseph C. Schooley, 740th Tank Battn. for gallantry in action on 4th of January, 1945, near * * * Belgium.

When two tanks from his own platoon had been knocked out by German anti-tank fire which disabled his own, Corporal Schooley, tank gunner, dismounted and attacked the anti-tank gun. He crawled for 250 yards through intense small arms fire and approached the enemy weapon. He killed four of the crew and captured the fifth. Through his intense devotion to duty and gallant courage, Corporal Schooley eliminated a serious obstacle to the advance of our troops and enabled them to continue to the successful accomplishment of their mission. His conduct reflects great credit on himself and the Armed Forces of the U. S. Army, concluded the information of the division commander.

$5,000 Damage To City Property From Hail Is Estimated

Damage estimated at $5,000 to date, was suffered in town property loss due to heavy hail which fell in the town section early last Friday morning, according to Jack Ratliff, local insurance agent.

Some fifty claims have been turned in on town property damage, with two from the rural section, Ratliff stated Tuesday morning. The school buildings suffered the largest damage with some 50 odd windows being broken and roofs of both buildings damaged.

Forty windows in the First Baptist Church and 30 in the courthouse were broken, with many others about town broken, and roofs in both the residential and business section damaged.

Ninety-five per cent of all losses are covered by insurance, Ratliff said. Insurance adjusters were on the field Monday estimating the damage and property losses.

Hailstones which fell during a brief period of some twenty minutes ranged in size from bantam eggs on down to the size of large marbles.

Schleicher County Airman Credited With Playing Big Role in Burma; is Brig. General

Some time ago the Headquarters Army Air Forces, India-Burma Theatre, released the following concerning Alvin R. Luedecke, a Schleicher County man who has achieved the rank of Brig. General since the Success published its service man's book. The article from the East follows:

Brig. Gen. Alvin R. Luedecke, 34-year-old Texan, has played an important part in achieving the unquestioned supremacy which the Allied air forces have held over the Japanese airmen on all the Burma fronts last year.

Brig. Gen. Alvin R. Luedecke

Luedecke serves as deputy chief of air staff in charge of operations, plans, training and intelligence for both the Eastern Air Command and the U. S. Army Air Forces in the India-Burma theater, both of which are commanded by Maj. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer. In the former capacity he has direct staff supervision of the integrated RAF and USAAF operations on all the widely scattered fronts in Burma, where the air is playing probably as important a role as it is in any theater in this war.

During last year, Eastern Air Command aircraft have kept the vital hump route from Assam to China virtually clear of interference by enemy fighters. Its dive-bombers, fighter bombers and mediums have kept up an unremitting attack against enemy lines of communications, destroying hundreds of bridges, motor vehicles, railroad cars, locomotives and river craft in Jap held territory. Its heavies have blasted the principal ports in Burma and Siam, denying them to the Jap, and have also operated effectively against railroad yards and other strategic objectives. Its fighters and dive-bombers have given effective support to the Allied ground forces as they advanced along all the Burma fronts.

Luedecke, a command pilot has made many trips to the forward areas to acquaint himself at first hand with the execution of the complex operations which have been planned at EAC headquarters. He arrived in India in August 1943 as a colonel, with Stratemeyer and other members of his staff. His promotion to brigadier general was announced last August 15.

For outstanding service he holds the Legion of Merit and recently was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for his work with the 1st Air Commando Group last year, shouldering "the additional staff problems inherent in the training, employment and co-ordination of an entirely new type of air unit."

He also wears the Cruz de Boyaca of the Republic of Colombia.

Commissioned a second lieutenant in May 1932 on graduation from Texas A&M College, Luedecke completed his flying training in February 1934. He served for more than three years with the 7th Bombardment Group, now operating in the India-Burma theatre as a unit of the Strategic Air Force, Eastern Air Command. Subsequently he was assigned to a heavy bombardment group in the Canal Zone and then served as assistant military attache in several Central and South American countries.

His wife, the former Miss Gussie Lee Calhoun, and three children live at Grapeland, Texas, and his mother, Mrs. John Luedecke, lives here, where he was born.

The committee stressed that clothing must be serviceable and of some use to the individual who will finally receive it.

Persons living in the country are urged to bring in their donations as there will not be a canvass made out of town due to gas and tire rationing.

If a person to have clothing cleaned they plan to donate, a reduced rate is available at Coulter's Man's Shop providing the donor states to the cleaners that the clothing is to be donated. This rate applies to cleaning only, and not laundering. Clothes will be cleaned, but not pressed, and are to be left at the cleaner's shop until picked up by the local committee or someone who will assist in the drive.

"Please have your bundles ready for the Scouts to pick up each Saturday, or bring your donation to the designated depot," the collection committee urges.

egg hunt sponsored by the Lions Club Sunday afternoon. Due to heavy rains which fell Saturday, the hunt for white children was held on the courthouse lawn.
Lions were assisted in hiding eggs by Boy and Girl Scouts and other young people of the town.
A good representative group of Mexican and colored children of the community also enjoyed a hunt in the colored section of town.
Sixty dozen eggs, dyed by the Girl Scouts, were divided among the three groups.

said to draw around the sweater on brown paper before washing the garment, then take three quarts of hot water 100° or just hot enough to hold the hand in. Soak garment for 20 minutes. Brush spots with a soft brush only one way. If garment is too dirty, put in second solution of one teaspoon glue to three quarts of 100° water. Let soak 20 minutes. Rinse twice in clear water 100° and try not to wrinkle garment. Press water out between towels. Finish drying at ordinary room temperature.
Keep garment in shape according to your measurement or drawing.
Press if necessary.
If you dye a woolen garment it is well to size it with a glue solu-

Farm Machinery Industry Has Major Role in War

Agriculture is as essential to the war effort as our fighting men on the fronts and the backbone of agriculture is the farm machinery industry. Napoleon said that an army travels on its stomach, so that without food our armies could not function. Without the farm machinery industry, agriculture could not function.
The part that the farm machinery industry has played in the development of American agriculture and in its present role in the war effort is given tribute by George L. Gillette, president of the Farm Equipment Institute and vice president and general sales manager of the Minneapolis-Moline Power Implement company.

GEORGE L. GILLETTE

"If it were not for farm machinery, most of us would have to spend our days eking out a meager existence from the soil," Gillette says.
"Once it required 57 man-hours to grow and harvest an acre of wheat yielding 20 bushels. Today we can produce an acre of 20-bushel wheat with less than four man-hours of labor.
"Once there were vast stretches of eroded land that defied the farmer. Today much of this land has been reworked to produce food.
All this has been possible only through advanced farm equipment.
"Much progress had been made by agriculture before 1941, but when the war came, the farmers were called upon to produce even more. Although the farm equipment manufacturers were too busy making the tools of war to manufacture any new types of farm machinery, we have continued to turn out repairs for machines already on the farm and as many complete units as government limitation orders permitted; and the American farm has demonstrated the blessing of mechanized agriculture by achieving astounding increases in food production.

"These dealers believe in the future of the American farm and equipment industry," Mr. Gillette says. "They, like the manufacturers, believe in our country's future, an America in which there will be food for all, and—with progressive agriculture as a foundation—an ever-advancing standard of living for a world at peace."
Mr. Gillette feels that all people, particularly those living in cities and towns, should realize that practically all food, clothing and other essentials come from the farms that produce these things at low cost because of the miracles accomplished by modern farm machinery.

Most popular items are American-made "smokes", candies, soft drinks, beer, toothpaste and shaving soap. Much American-made beer goes overseas in a lightweight non-returnable bottle that will become available to civilians in post-war years. Many of the larger Post Exchange units resemble a well-stocked, small-town department store.

Mister Peltz Is Peeved!

Mister P. sells charts. Pie-charts, bar-charts, fever-charts—in pink and green and purple—proving anything you want.

He has a nice new chart on the cost of living. It shows the price of practically everything curving sharply up after war began.

But one price stubbornly stays down at pre-war levels. It's the price of electricity. It upsets the neat cost-of-living curves. It upsets P. P. Peltz. He's peeved.

We're sorry to offend Mister Peltz, but glad that we've been able to keep electricity plentiful and cheap when so many things are scarce and expensive.

It hasn't been easy to serve busy homes and booming war plants at the same time—with the friendly, efficient service we like to give. But all our folks have pitched in and worked hard to make it possible.

U.S. Signal Corps Photo

MANILA, P. I.— In contrast to numerous pictures of destruction and death in Manila, this scene of youngsters of the city, formerly interned in Santo Tomas camp, shows a lighter side of contemporary life on the "Pearl of the Orient." They are applauding an act of a show sponsored by a Signal Corps Photo company unit.

U.S. Navy Crosses Rhine

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Soundphoto—The U.S. Navy went inland to help in the Rhine crossing. A medium Sherman tank rumbles down the ramp of a LCM, "Landing Craft Mechanized" during the meticulous rehearsal for the actual assault across the river. The tank weighs about 32 tons but the LCM, scaling only 26 tons, gets the tank across the water.
