Fred Watson Moves Building to Christoval

Fred Watson has bought the gin building and is moving it to Christoval in 8 sections to make a garage apartment. He expects to rent the second floor and to occupy the first floor for a short time while the work is being done.

The building is located on the 46-acre plot of land, known as Mocking Bird Hill, which joins Christoval on the north. A rodeo man keeps his horses on the farm. The family plan later to build a residence at the front of the garage.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson and their daughter, Gloria of San Angelo, have gone on a week's trip to Kilgore to visit relatives. The remaining two weeks of Mr. Watson's 3-week vacation will be spent at Christoval.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Evans were shopping in San Angelo Monday.

IT'S EVERYONE'S MOVE

Because one family moved away from Eldorado:

The Felix Susen duplex apartment, which Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mirike rented before they moved to a ranch near Sheffield, is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Peel.

The Peels vacated the Sammie Cloud rent house on the depot street, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tree and 3 children have moved there.

The Trees had been occupying a first floor apartment at Bearce's, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sellers moved into this from a second floor apartment in the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clary moved into the former Seller's apartment from one room at Bearce's!

Bronte Lets Eldorado Down 11-4 Sunday

Bronte's town baseball team looked like the strongest team Eldorado has played this season when they came here for a game last Sunday. Although we managed to get the same number of hits, we failed to hit in the pinches as well as Bronte could do. Bronte got 6 hits and made 11 runs. Eldorado made 6 hits too but only got 4 runs. Bronte's errors were far less, which was another reason.

Eldorado's Bob Faught and Jack Griffin came through in good style to pick up two hits apiece. Proctor and Corley of Bronte got a couple licks to match these. Bronte got the advantage in walks over Eldorado which in reality spelled the difference in the score. They got 11 walks and Eldorado managed to get only one pass.

Pitcher M. Corley and Catcher J. Corley, the two lanky Bronte brothers, were the winning battery combination that kept Eldorado in hot water.

School Lunches For Children To Continue

Signing of the National School Lunch Act on June 4 by the President assures continuation of the program in the schools of the nation. The Eldorado school is one of thousands which expects to benefit again from this bill.

In signing the bill President Truman commented that it would strengthen the nation through better nutrition for our school children.

The legislation authorized federal appropriations, in amounts to be determined each year, to finance the lunch program in cooperation with state and local governments.

State-local contributions must match federal funds dollar for dollar through 1950, with the government contribution decreasing thereafter on the following basis: 1951 through 1955, one dollar of federal funds for each $1.50 of state-local funds; 1956 and thereafter, one dollar of federal funds for each three dollars of state-local funds.

In addition to the funds for actual provision of lunches for children, the legislation authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to use up to $10,000,000 annually to provide equipment for storing, preparing and serving food in schools.

Revival Closes

A revival at the Church of Christ closed Sunday night after a successful week. Minister Lester Hathaway of Mebeetie did the preaching and Vernal Suddath led the song services. Six additions to the church were reported, three by baptism and three by letter.

Nice crowds attended most of the services.

CASING SET IN JESS KOY TEST IN SCHLEICHER

Cooper Gas Co. of San Angelo No. 1A Jess Koy oil test, which is a north outpost to the Page field, and located on the Jess Koy ranch, encountered a good showing of oil and gas Sunday night. It was cemented in Wednesday after taking of a Schlumberger test.

Setting of casing followed encountering of favorable oil showings with ensuing visits of company officials while the situation was studied.

The three Parker crews are still on duty, and many have been putting in overtime while work was underway on running of casing. It is expected that perforating the pipe opposite three promising Strawn zones between 5340 and 5700 feet will begin Saturday.

Instructor Jones expects to present his band in a public concert within the coming few weeks.

MILLION POUNDS OF 1946 WOOL NOW IN STORAGE

About 1,000,000 pounds of wool from the 1946 clip is now stored in the warehouses of the Eldorado Wool Co., and with practically all of the clip in, Schleicher County's current wool clip is ready for appraisal.

While a little wool remains to be shorn, most of the shearing is completed and shearing machines and crews are already moving north.

Hail Accompanies Light Rainfall

A light rain accompanied by hail fell last Friday afternoon in Eldorado and some parts of the county. The hail caused some but not extensive damage to fruit and gardens.

A report from the Soil Conservation Office shows the following rainfall for the month of May and the average for the year as recorded by the various rain gauges in the county:

	May	Year
Eldorado	1.98	4.65
J. F. Runge	1.70	4.10
J. F. Oglesby	3.11	3.73

Eldorado Students Find Summer Jobs

With the coming of vacation time many Eldorado students are finding employment with local businesses. Among those working all or part time are Johnnie Mae West, new employee in the Red and White Grocery; George Lee Graf and John Lee Jones are employed at Wright's Store; Marselaine Patterson is being initiated into the business of being a telephone operator at the local office.

Edda Lou Meador, Betty Sproul, Dorothy Neill, Joy Winters and Patsy Ballew are working in the drug stores; Jerry Blaylock is employed at the Snack Bar and Jane Mund is working part time at the Ritz Coffee Shop; Eilly Gunstead is back in the print shop; Durwood Rutland is in the Richey Grocery.

Neill Dickens is continuing his job as operator at the Lone Star Theater; Carroll Sproul is employed at the Wagley Magnolia Station, Sammie Calcote assists his father at the Eldorado Motor Company.

There are possibly others working at various jobs, many on their father's ranches and farms.

Farmers' CoOp Gin Undergoes Repairs

Repairs, consisting of regular annual upkeep and some routine improvements, are under way at the Farmers Co-Op Gin, as Co-Op members abandon their plan to rebuild during the present season.

Excessive cost of materials, scarcity of equipment, and drought conditions which have cut cotton acreage, caused the men to decide against razing the present structure and putting up a new building.

Cotton acreage, never large in Schleicher County, is expected to be unusually small this year because of the lack of rain during the planting season.

New Repair Man At Carroll's Shop

Leo Ivy, Schleicher Co., farmer and rancher, has moved his family to Eldorado, and he has opened a repair shop with C. V. Carroll at the Eldorado Welding Shop. He specializes in automobile and washing machine repairs.

The Ivy's and their six children occupy the Jones Station in the south part of town.

Large Crowd Attends Opening of Arena

Eola Holds Eldorado to 7-7 Tie Saturday

Saturday morning at the new airport where the present baseball diamond is located, the Eola town team managed to hold the Eldorado "big dividers" to a 7-7 tie in nine innings. It was a gala hit-fest affair with Eldorado edging Eola 17 to 14 hits. The game was not "called on account of darkness" but both managers agreed to stop and call it a day. The Eolans wanted to go home while the local Big Dividers wanted to be on time for the big barbecue at the rodeo that was under way.

Bob Faught, Louis Goss and Jack Griffin of Eldorado each got two good hits, but Jack Kerr and Halbert went them one better with their bat. They got 3 hits in trips apiece. Left fielder Johnson of Eola did as good as Kerr. Killium and Middlebruck of Eola were each good for a couple of bingles.

During Eola's last inning in the field, Shorty Bagby of Eola playing shortstop, caught a hard hit line drive in which he touched second and then whipped it to first, making 3 outs in one play. It was the fastest and prettiest game of its kind seen this season.

Mrs. Lois Turner Dies On Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Lois Lindsay Turner, 80, were held at 4:00 p. m., Saturday, June 1 from the First Methodist Church with the Rev. F. B. Faust, officiating. Mrs. Turner died at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. F. Edmiston at 5:30 p. m. Friday, May 31, after a long illness. She had been confined to her bed at Mrs. Edmiston's home for the past 25 months.

The former Lois Lindsay was born on October 18, 1865, and was married to C. E. Turner on Sept. 27, 1887, in Mason County at the Lindsay home. Four children and two grandchildren had preceded her in death, and the husband died on April 20, 1927.

Immediate survivors include the son-in-law, Waldo Francis of Great Bend, Kansas; three sisters, Mrs. C. M. Coalson, Poole, Mrs. J. M. Smart of Eden, and Mrs. W. F. Edmiston, Eldorado.

Burial was in the family cemetery at Graham, Texas. The body was carried overland by a Ratliff coach. Pallbearers included the following nephews: J. C. Crosby, Arch and Bill Edmiston, Eldorado; Cole Jones of San Angelo, Was Coalson of Pear Valley and Al Jones of Eldorado.

Relatives accompanying the body from here were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Edmiston, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Edmiston, Arch and Bill Edmiston, J. C. Crosby, and Mr. and Mrs. Moody White of Eden.

Handicapped by a perfect 36 waistline, Jess Koy bowed in defeat before his old rival Henry Speck, as the pair threw loops to decide the outcome of the spot rodeo event of Saturday's big arena opening—a matched roping of 3 calves each between Speck and Koy.

The crowd which witnessed the big show applauded every step of the way, as Speck got his calf on the first try on two rounds, then took his second loop on the last one—easily outdistancing Koy, who missed his first, finishing in 48.9 seconds, got his second by the nose in 37.6 seconds, and missed his third.

Speck and Koy, friendly rivals for years, met in a matched roping 16 years ago, and Speck was winner at that time also—but they have also been rivals in all phases of ranch life. Their current competition, they tell their friends, is the weather—and concerns the question as to which man has the driest ranch!

Large Crowd
Many hundreds of people, including the Eola ball players and others, were served barbecued goat by the Ropers at noon, the rodeo events following soon afterward. Lewis L. Harris, in charge of the barbecuing, was assisted by Howard Belcher, N. E. Britton, A. G. Clark, and others, who worked all night preparing the food.

Among the communities represented in addition to Eldorado and vicinity, in the matched events, were Ozona, San Angelo, Rock Springs, Uvalde, Sonora, Mountain Springs, Ft. Tarrett, with Rock Springs here with unusually large representation. Girls events attracted entries from other places, but few from Schleicher Co.

Announcer for the events was the versatile Bob Page, ex-lumberman, veteran and soda jerker, whose patter was in large part responsible for the smoothness with which the show proceeded through the afternoon.

Some of the business houses in Eldorado were closed during the several hours the show was in progress.

The Eldorado Ropers, who have incurred some expense in building the arena and buying their stock, express satisfaction with the response made by the public, and state that there will be other public shows in the future.

L. G. Edmiston, life-long resident of Schleicher County, announces this week his candidacy for Commissioner of Precinct No. 2.

Mr. Edmiston is a rancher in the Mayer community and has lived in Schleicher since he moved here in childhood with his parents to make his home.

Mr. Edmiston states that he has been urged by his friends to enter this race, and that if elected he will work for the upbuilding of the county as a whole.

Agent's Office Studies Range Grass Proteins

There is being completed in the County Agents office a chart showing the per cent protein in range grasses and the amount of protein supplement needed by different classes of livestock. These charts will be available for all producers in the county.

For the early growth, medium growth, and near maturity of the principal grasses of this county no class of livestock should need a protein supplement, provided proper stocking methods are being observed. All the above stages of growth of principal grasses in Schleicher County contain above 8.75% protein and above. Beginning with your matured grasses, and your slightly weathered grasses there is a need for protein supplement in wet cows and young animals.

When grasses reach moderately weathered, severely weathered and severely leached stages, the protein content of the grasses falls below 5.75%. Therefore a protein supplement is needed for dry cows or ewes.

For instance this is how the chart works: Moderately weathered grasses contain 5.48% protein on the average. Wet cows and young cattle need 8.75% protein to grow off and do well. There, 1.40 lbs. of cottonseed is needed per head as a supplement to meet the protein requirement of wet cows and young cattle. Yearlings will need .80 lbs. of cottonseed cake. The requirements of dry cows is 5.75% cottonseed cake.

This chart is being worked out with the idea to establish the facts of the amount of protein in the principal grasses of Schleicher Co. at all stages of growth as well as the different stages that grasses may go through after maturity has been reached. The amount of protein an animal requires in different stages of life and how much protein he should be supplemented with at the different stages that the grass is in.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

We are happy to announce that our Vacation Bible School is progressing in a very fine way. The third day we have enrolled 115 and there are good prospects that our enrollment will continue to grow throughout the week. Our school will continue through next week; and possibly will close with a commencement exercise Friday night, June 14. The fine support and co-operation from all of our workers is to be appreciated and we greatly appreciate all that is being done on the part of each one.

Rev. Flores our missionary to our Latin-American people is carrying on a Bible School this week and next with the Mexican children and we feel that his work and leadership is very effective. He has two young ladies from our Home Mission Board help him with the Bible School, Miss Thomas of Georgia, and Miss Alexander of Menard. They have enrolled 34 in the school and interest is good on the part of the children.

We sincerely hope that in the summer days all of our young people will be faithful in all of our church activities and if it calls for special effort for our best in the church work and kingdom cause, we will put forth that effort.

Our brotherhood meeting is Friday night at eight o'clock, and we earnestly insist that all of our men will be present. There is no other group who has the responsibility that our men have. The program is "What Constitutes a Christian Home". If you do not have such a home, it is not only your privilege and duty but it is your responsibility.

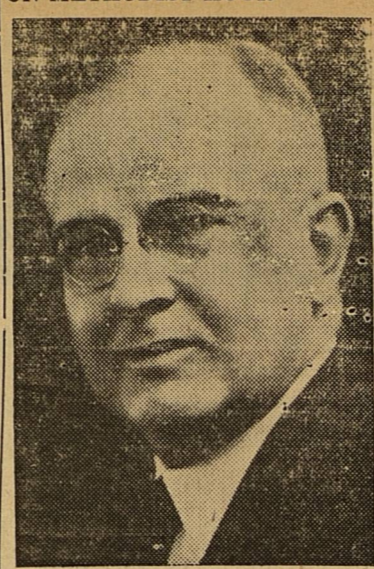

Our church services: Sunday school and worship Sunday, 9:45 and 11 a. m. Training union and worship 7:30 and 8:30 p. m. Our mid-week service is each Wednesday evening at 8:00. The Women's Missionary Union meets each Monday afternoon at 3:00, and the Sun Beam Junior G. A.'s twice a month. The R. A.'s meet each Monday afternoon at 4:00. There is a place for each member of the family in these organizations; and we need not expect to be our best unless we do our best. So may we train ourselves and help train others that all together we serve the best and most effectively.

ATTEND ANGELO MEETING

Rev. and Mrs. D. I. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mittel and a group of young people from the Fundamental Baptist Church attended a meeting of the W. T. Fundamental Baptist Fellowship in Angelo Tuesday. The meeting was held at Delmar Church of which Earl Killingsworth is pastor. There were about 200 in attendance.

Before Ironing
Place sprinkled and rolled up clothes for ironing on a warm radiator for a short time before ironing.

ON METHODIST HOUR

Bishop Costen J. Harrell, resident bishop of the Birmingham Area of The Methodist Church and former pastor of West End Church in Nashville, Tenn., will be the speaker over an independent network of thirty-eight stations on The Methodist Hour Sunday morning, June 9th.

He will use as his sermon subject, "The Question Supreme." Bishop Harrell is the author of a number of best seller books in the religious field, prominent among these titles are "The Bible—Its Origin and Growth," "Walking With God in the School of Prayer," "Prophets of Israel," and "The Radiant Heart." He was elected to the episcopacy of The Methodist Church by the Southeastern Jurisdictional Conference on June 22, 1944 and since that time has been serving as bishop of the Alabama, the North Alabama and the Cuba Conferences of his church.

The Methodist Hour is sponsored by the Southeastern and the South Central Jurisdictional Councils of which Dr. William F. Quillan, Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. Paul Womeldorf, Tulsa, Okla., are executive secretaries and is presented in cooperation with the Southern Religious Radio Conference.

The program, which is on the air every week in June, is heard over WFAA and WOAI at 7:30 a. m., Sunday.

Fixed at Sea
In less than eight months, 176 damaged ships of the United States navy returned to action without the necessity of reaching port. The repairs were accomplished through use of ocean-going dry-docks, floated to far reaches of the Pacific, then welded together in sections large enough to handle a battleship.

Fern Growth
To make ferns or palms grow rapidly a teaspoonful of castor oil every three months or two tablespoons of olive oil at the roots once a month will make a wonderful difference in the growth. Ferns grow toward the sun or light. Turn them each day. This will keep them from growing to one side.

Latin-American News

Rev. E. Flores, Mission Baptist pastor of Sonora, opened a vacation Bible School Monday morning in the Latin American community. Assisting him are two Baptist workers from the Home Missions department of the church, Miss Thomas of Georgia and Miss Alexander of Menard.

The Vacation Bible School will run for two weeks, from 9:00 to 12:00 each morning, states Rev. Jim Hays, pastor of the parent church in Eldorado.

Meetings are held in the schoolhouse as the new church building is not quite completed.

The two Home Mission workers, Mary Frances Thomas and Louise Alexander, are staying at the J. H. Wagley place while they are located here.

Girl Scouts Meet In Summer Session

The Girl Scouts met Saturday, June 1 at 3:00 p. m. at the High School for their first summer meeting. They discussed and worked on badges including Stagecraft, Book Finders, Readers, Cooks, Clothing, Sewing, Handywoman and Hostess badges. Games were played and then the sponsor, Mrs. Bethel Jeffrey took the girls to the drugstore for a treat.

Following this, the group visited the Eldorado Woolen Mill, inspecting the entire plant and each took home a handful of wood. It was decided to meet on the same date next month and at the same place and time.

There were four girls present and Mrs. Jeffrey.

Public Installation For O.E.S. Officers

Good Lighting Adds to Comfortable Living

GOOD home lighting not only adds to cheerful and comfortable living but also provides a cheap form of accident prevention, writes Myrtle Fahsnyder, director of home lighting for Westinghouse in Capper's Farmer, a magazine of national circulation.

"To say 'home is what the abc's of good lighting help to make it' is to take considerable liberty with a very tender expression," she points out in the magazine read by 1,250,000 farm families. "But it's paraphrased with real sincerity. For unless a home is cheerful and comfortable by night, as well as during daylight, it has sacrificed some of the livability good lighting can give. Good light can bring an almost super-light quality of illumination to afterdark eye tasks. It can make or mar the beauty of a home."

Among the basic principles for good lighting are 1—A carefully thought-out-over-all plan for the job; 2—Having enough light when and where you need it; 3—Avoiding harmful glares; 4—Avoiding shadows in the room.

The above photograph demonstrates basic principles for good lighting. The floor and table lamps with reflector bowls give light where the family sits to read, sew or write. Such a pleasing over-all glow of light cheers up the room as sunlight does. Wall brackets and fluorescent tubes placed behind window valances are mainly for decorative effect.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman O. C. Fisher
 After a siege of three months in the hospital and a convalescent period, I am at last able to spend full time on the job. The injuries sustained in an automobile accident on a slick pavement in January continue to improve and I shall eventually have complete recovery.
 To my friends everywhere I express my deep appreciation for their expressions of interest in my recovery and for the many flowers and sympathy cards and the many visits. A total of 66 men contributed blood to replace plasma that was used and for transfusions. For all these kind deeds and expressions I am and shall ever be profoundly grateful.

Labor Legislation

Those of us who have been active during recent years in attempting to secure the passage of much-needed legislation to put curbs on the dictatorial and dangerous powers of labor leaders and protect the Nation against unjustified strikes, were encouraged in recent days by the passage of two bills by overwhelming votes. The House has in the past passed a number of bills on this subject, only to see them pigeonholed in the Senate Committee on Labor and never heard of again.

But the so-called Case bill, which originated in the House Committee on Labor, of which I am a member, was taken up in the Senate the other day and passed by a good vote. The House had passed the measure last February, and has just adopted the Senate amendments to it by a vote of 230 to 106. The bill, at the time of this writing, is on the President's desk where he will either approve or veto it.

The Case bill, bitterly opposed by labor leaders for reasons they never explain, will do no harm whatever to legitimate activities of organized labor. It will not solve all the labor and management problems, but is a step in the right direction. It will, if permitted to become law, be helpful in curbing the now unbridled power of labor leaders. As it now is, some of these men have more control over the nation's economy and are more powerful than the President of the United States. Too many of them abuse that power, become power-drunk and flout and defy the public interest in order to gratify their own vanity and egotism.

The Case bill will make management and labor more equally responsible to the public interest. It will make unions and management liable in damages for violations of contracts; outlaw secondary boycotts; provide for forced mediation of disputes; make unions liable for acts of violence and robbery under the Federal anti-racketeering Act; and contains other helpful provisions. Many additional changes and improvements are needed, but it is better to have half a loaf than no loaf at all. I hope the President will not veto the bill.

President Truman showed firmness and courage in asking Congress for temporary emergency legislation to cope with the railway and coal strikes. With the nation's economy paralyzed and in a stage of virtual anarchy; with strikes going on against the government itself, Mr. Truman asked for drastic powers to deal effectively with a desperate situation.

Within two hours after the President's dramatic message, the House responded by giving him all the additional powers he asked for. The bill, however, did not fare so well in the Senate.

As was expected, violent political threats have piled up on my desk from the CIO-PAC and other organizations, for supporting the President in the nation's dark hour of crisis. The opposition to the Case bill has been even more vitriolic. But the majority of the House members have heard and ignored these threats before.

Use of DDT in Horn Fly Control

by W. G. Godwin

Horn flies are a source of great economic loss to cattlemen. The exact extent of damage is immeasurable, but U. S. Department of Agriculture officials set the figure at an annual loss of not less than three million dollars.

Cattle suffer damage from horn fly attacks in five ways:

1. Loss of blood. It has been estimated that an animal will lose between one quart and one gallon of blood each fly season, depending upon the degree of horn fly infestation. This has a devitalizing effect upon the animal.

2. Loss of feeding time. During the horn fly season cattle often refuse to graze during the day but will seek the protection of trees, brush or noon-grazing rest areas. reduction in potential weight gains or milk production.

3. Spread of disease. Pink eye and anaplasmosis are said to be spread by blood-sucking flies.

4. Predisposes to screw worm infestation. Open wounds produced either by the biting of the flies or injuries caused during the fighting against the flies, such as running through brush, rubbing against posts, etc., are always a potential focus of screw worm infestation.

5. Loss of meat and milk. Work conducted under the supervision of the National Livestock Loss Prevention Board, in which split herds were maintained under controlled conditions, proved definitely that beef cattle kept free of horn flies will produce ½ pound more meat daily over herds infested with horn flies. This weight difference was even more pronounced in calves.

Under tests not controlled so well dairymen have reported 8 to 20% greater milk production when the horn fly was controlled.

How DDT Is Used

The horn fly is quite small and, unless driven away by a repellent, will not leave the animal except to deposit its eggs. It flies only short distances. Spraying with a weak solution of DDT (as low as 0.2%) will result in a complete elimination of this pest from the herd. Stronger solutions can be used, but they are not economical from the standpoint of appreciably better results. A single spraying of the entire herd with a .2% suspension of DDT will completely wipe out the current generation of horn flies, and its additional use is not justified until reinfestation occurs, usually two weeks later. After the second treatment additional spraying is usually not necessary for three weeks.

NOT ON YOUR TINTYPE

Grandma looks calm and collected as she poses for posterity, but she wasn't—not on your tintype! Getting her family ready for this picture was a long, weary business.

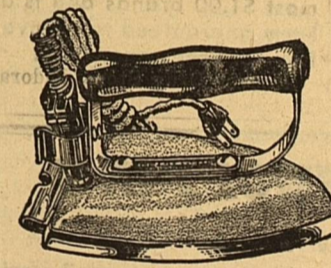

The day this photo was snapped, Grandma was up at dawn, wrestling with the old wood stove, coaxing the kettle to boil, cooking breakfast. And the day before, she ironed the mountain of starched clothes that had needed such hard scrubbing. The day before that—

But that was Grandma's life. She didn't know any other kind. Her way of housekeeping took lots of time, lots of elbow grease. In Grandma's gayest dreams she never imagined the time would come when a woman would have dozens of electric servants daily for the cost of a bar of soap.

Electric service—ready and willing round the clock and calendar—is a modern miracle Grandma missed by being born too soon. But electrical dependability (and cheapness, too) didn't happen by accident. Not on your tintype! They're the result of plenty of hard work and practical experience on the part of your neighbors who operate this company.

Pint of Peaches Yields Three Desserts

WITH wise planning, one pint of peaches can go a long way, writes the Country Cooking Editor of nationally circulated Capper's Farmer. The above picture proves her statement, for there's a pie, a salad and an upside down pudding, all rich with peaches—all the product of one pint of fruit.

Peach Patsys
 1/4 c. flour 1/4 c. whole bran
 2 tsp. sugar 1/2 c. milk
 2 tsp. baking powder 1 large peach half
 1/4 tsp. salt 1/4 c. peach juice
 2 tsp. shortening

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening. Soak bran in milk 5 minutes; add to dry ingredients, stirring only until combined. Slice peach half, and place slices in bottom of 4 greased muffin cups or ramekins. Add 1 tsp. peach juice to each cup, and cover each with heaping tablespoon of batter. Bake in moderately hot oven (400. F.) 15 minutes.

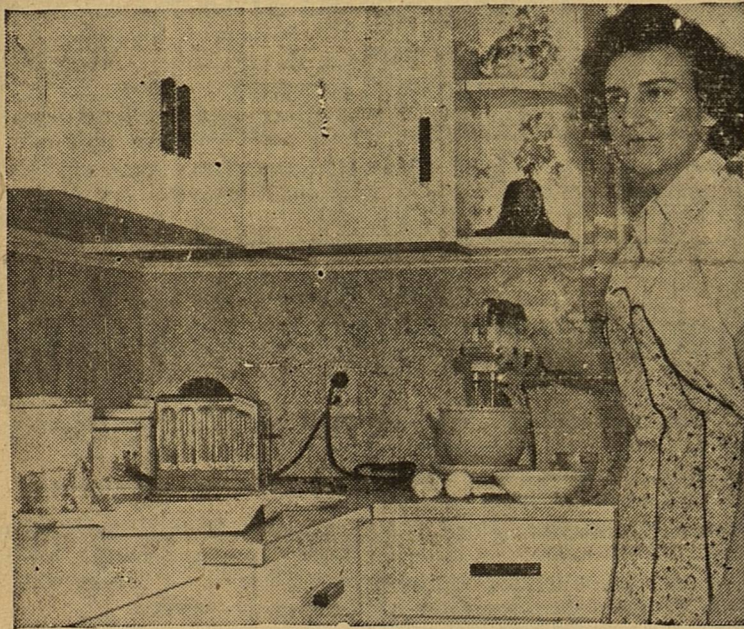

Cheese-Peach Salad
 1/4 c. orange juice 1/2 c. mayonnaise
 2 c. cottage cheese 3 peach halves

Mix cheese, orange juice and mayonnaise and shape in a mound on plate. Arrange thinly sliced peaches over the top in decorative fashion. Serve with mayonnaise or French dressing.

Peach Pecan Pie
 1 9-inch pie shell 1 c. milk
 1 tbsp. unflavored gelatin 2 egg yolks
 1/2 c. peach juice 1/2 c. sugar
 1/2 c. pecans 1/4 tsp. salt
 1 tsp. vanilla 2 egg whites

Soften gelatin in cold peach juice. Scald milk. Beat egg yolks slightly; add sugar and salt. Pour scalded milk gradually into egg mixture, stirring until blended. Cook in top of double boiler until of custard consistency. Remove from heat, add softened gelatin, and stir until dissolved. Cool. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites, vanilla and chopped pecans. Pour into baked pie shell; chill until firm. Before serving, arrange slices of peach and a large pecan half in design on top of pie.

Wire Rural Home With Room to Grow

FARM folks should consider electricity that "extra hired hand" necessary to do a job, according to an article in nationally circulated Capper's Farmer by E. H. Smith of Kansas State College.

"Electricity is an efficient worker that operates milking machines, runs ventilating fans, heats hotbeds, supplies power for electric clippers, dries the women's hair, delivers water to the stanchion cups, water tanks, sinks and bathtubs and runs the corn sheller and drill press—all at an amazingly low cost," says the article in the magazine read by 1,250,000 farm families.

"The future holds a hundred other uses for electricity on the farm. So the smart owner, when he puts in electric service, will insist on a wiring job that will not only take care of present needs but will serve equipment and appliances he is likely to have 5 or 10 years from now.

"Nowhere in the house is the need for convenience outlets so great as in the kitchen. Shown above is a double convenience outlet at counter or working height—an important item from the standpoint of use. Locate the outlets in the work areas and have plenty so it will not be necessary to take the electric clock plug to use the electric mixer, coffee maker or waffle irons. Some homemakers like an outlet near the breakfast or dining table for the toaster. Conveniently located outlets should be provided for the home freezer and refrigerator."

SOFGE ACCEPTS SENTENCE

Carl Sofge withdrew his request for a new trial and has accepted his sentence of two years in the penitentiary, for killing of his brother Clem. It is understood that sentence will be served in Huntsville.

Polly McLaughlin is at home from Sul Ross College until July 15 when she will return there for the second six-weeks summer session.

Mrs. A. L. Tucker of Waco visited here last week with her sister, Mrs. Buster Gunn. Mr. Tucker and their two children came Saturday and the family returned home Tuesday.

Stoker Firing

For stoker-fired furnaces and boilers, use recommended coal sizes. Small sizes make less noise. Keep hopper at least half full. Remove only large-sized clinkers. At end of heating season remove coal, ash and clinkers from system, clean stoker and coat inside with oil to prevent rust. Have annual inspection.

Gelatin Stiffening

Gelatin serves very well as a stiffening, especially for restoring body to rayons. Use two tablespoons granulated gelatin softened in cold water. Dissolve it in two or three quarts of boiling water. Cool gelatin solution to lukewarm, dip garments, squeeze and dry.

First U. S. Tiles

Quantity production of floor and wall tile in the United States first started in Pittsburgh during 1876 but did not reach great volume until after World War I, when its use in baths and kitchens first became widespread. Tile production in 1939 totaled more than 73 million square feet.

Mosquitoes Carry Diseases

Mosquitoes act as agents in carrying diseases, such as malaria, from one person to another. It is only the female mosquito who is so annoying to human beings. The mouthparts of the male mosquito are not adapted to sucking blood. He is not attracted to human victims but leads a pleasant existence in bushes and grass, feeding upon juices of fruits and nectar.

Senator Announces For Re-Election

Penrose B. Metcalfe, of San Angelo, ranchman war veteran, attorney and businessman, has announced for re-election to the State Senate from the 16-county 25th district.

Senator Metcalfe, born in Tom Green County, and a ranchman and farmer all his life, was educated in the schools of San Angelo and Texas A&M College.

One of the spokesmen for the ranch and livestock industry throughout his legislative career, he is the author of the present state-wide tick eradication law, the State livestock sanitary code, the livestock medicine act, and other measures of benefit to ranching and farming.

Enlisting as a private early in World War I, and serving for the duration, he became a pilot in the Army Air Corps. In the last session he was joint author of the constitutional amendment, subsequently adopted by a vote of the people, which gave Texas servicemen the right to vote without the payment of a polltax; he also supported legislation providing for county service officers, measures giving job preference on State payrolls to veterans, and other measures beneficial to veterans of both world wars.

He believes that adequate finances should be provided to carry out properly the constitutional provisions for caring for the old folks, the blind and dependent children, and has consistently voted for revenues to bring this about.

An advocate of "providing for Texas and Texans an up-to-date system of schools with teachers' salaries second to none", during the time he has been a member of the senate teachers salaries have been materially increased, the per capita scholastic apportionment has risen more than 40 per cent, and State allocations for rural schools have been increased more than 200 per cent.

Serving as chairman or member of such committees as Stock and Stock Raising, Agriculture, Finance, Education, Veterans Affairs, and others, Metcalfe at the present time is chairman of the important Committee on Highways and Motor Traffic, and is a member of thirteen standing committees and the joint Senate-House Committee on Rural Schools.

In seeking re-election, Senator Metcalfe points to a record of successful accomplishment in legislation of value to this district and the State as a whole.

He says, "I propose to continue active sponsorship of constructive and beneficial measures. During the past several years we have been able, by using good business methods and practicing careful economy, to get the State on a cash basis and at the same time operate the necessary functions of government. Such a condition should be maintained." "In the coming weeks", he says, "I plan to visit all the counties of this district and confer with as many of the people as possible on matters of needed legislation for the next session."
