Widespread Damage In Wake of Ice Storm Here SAVINGS BONDS

A destructive ice storm covering of the new line when the storm ractically all of Southwest Texas came. The San Angelo company practically all of Southwest Texas struck here early this week, causing serious damage to Schleicher County's new county-wide dial and Big Lake. system, crippling communications between points throughout West Texas, putting all REA lines from the central office here out of commission, damaging trees and shrubs and causing livestock shrinkage.

Much of the ice melted during last night, and the fog is heavy today, with no rain, which may mean that the worst of the storm is over. During the storm about half an inch of rain fell.

Conditions were ideal for this catastrophe: a fine mist falling, with temperature hovering around 30 degree

Telephone Lines Down

Probably the most far-reaching damage has been done to the new dial telephone system, which has served the entire county since its completion late last fall.

A few items serve to show how serious the damage has been. A lead line in Glendale went down Wednesday, crippling service there. The Rudd community, long without satisfactory service of any kind until the new line came through, is isolated, several large new pole having gone down, two or three of them obstructing the road unti they were removed. Juice was killed in main electric lines a number of times Wednesday, when REA and telephone lines went down to provide a jumbled mass of wreck age, causing danger to life and to the main dial equipment.

Lines in the Mexican community are also out.

A few freakish events were of interest to passers-by. At the cemetery several poles were turned in their holes, with cross pieces pointing in the wrong direction!

Wednesday long distance lines were in operation to Sonora and for a short time to San Angelo. Today all toll lines are out. Many individual drops, especially in the business district, have been re paired.

While the local telephone crew is working at present on long distance lines, they will begin on Schleicher county telephone lines as soon as the ice melts. It is expected that crews from San Angelo will be sent help on the repairing of th not been able to send telegrams since Monday about noon, since all telegraph wires leading out of San Angelo are down. He has been handling emergency telegrams by short wave. Crews are working on the lines, but it will be some time before service is back to normal. Passenger train service is about normal. Since passenger trains move according to regular timetables, their scheduled trips have not been interrupted. But freight trains, and other trains which must move according to telegraphed instructions, have been hampered graph wires, and freight service Retail Merchants reatly due to the breakage of tels very uncertain and in some cases Elect Directors completely stopped.

Condition of Stock

County Agent W. G. Godwin reports that stock in the county is in he long drouth and the recent ice usually has several cold snaps during the course of a winter. All ranchers who had not yet begun feeding have been forced to tine Hext. start, and those who have already been feeding their stock have had to increase the amount, he said. There is little lambing yet.

Since the weather has moderated and the ice is thawing, stock will come through with little damage. Small grain is the only crop in the ground at present and the moisture will benefit it.

Seismic Crew Indoors

The Magnolia Seismic crew, which has been working in this area, have been forced to stop work for several days because of the on newcomer reports and the exmuddy condition of pastures. SCHLEICHER BUYS LARGE AMOUNT OF NEW DAUGHTER

The people of Schleicher County bought $63,765.50 worth of U.S. Savings Bonds during 1948, accord ing to a year-end report by Harry Owens of Dallas, state director for Savings Bonds, to C. L. Meador, Jr., County Savings Bonds chair man. During the same period, the people of Texas bought $196,448,- 587.50 worth of these securities. Mr. Owens said that Texans now own more than $1.5 billion worth of Savings Bonds which earned $42,372,000 in interest during the vear.

There are more Savings Bonds in the hands of the people today than ever before. Almost 70 per cent of all bonds ever issued are still in the possession of their original owners. The sale of Series E bonds in Texas alone during 1948 was over four million dollars more than for 1947.

Coaches Bud Hopkins and Ted Kirby, and Supt. C. A. Reynolds are completing plans this week for the annual Rangelands Basketball Tournament, to be held here this week end. Lake View, who has won the first place trophy for the was host when pastors of the San last two years, will defend its title Angelo District met for the annual against seven teams from this area.

In addition to first place, second place, and consolation trophies to be given, there will also be individual awards for the all-tournament team.

Ozona and Menard open the tournament with a game at 7:15 Friday night, followed by Eldorado and Sonora at 8:30. Lake View and Rocksprings will play at 9:00 a.m. Saturday, and at 10:15 the final first-round game will be played between the San Angelo Kittens and Del Rio.

Play-offs will include the Lake liew-Rochsprings winner against the Eldorado-Sonora winner at 3:15 Saturday afternoon, and the Ozona-Menard winner against the Del Rio-Kitten winner at 4:30.

Consolation play will include the Lake View-Rocksprings loser against the Eldorado-Sonora loser at 11:30 Saturday morning, and the Ozona-Menard loser against the Del Rio-Kitten loser at 2:00 Saturday afternoon.

Consolation final is at 7:15 and the final for championship at 8:30 Saturday night.

Tickets for the entire tournament are on sale for $1.50, or tickets for each individual game may be purchased at the door. The Eldorado Home Economics Club will entertain the visiting coaches and school officials at a luncheon Saturday at 1:00.

Basketball Team Loses District Game

In the first district game of the season, the Eldorado basketball eam lost to the Ozona team in Ozona last Friday night. The team and the junior team, who also played against Ozona teams, were defeated during the same evening. The A team lost by a 34-25 core, with Hamm and Jones as high point men with 8 points each. Milton and A. Hoover of Ozona made 7 points each.

Well over 50 million pounds of pulled wool annually for cloth and clothing. Thousands of tons of lards and soaps for home and industry. Carloads of animal feeds. Tons of hair for upholstery. The list is almost endless. Research found how to derive life-saving pharmaceuticals from animal by-products. Here numbers are important. For example, tiny glands from many thousands of animals must be saved to produce one pound of adrenalin, powerful heart stimulant. To yield one pound of crystalline insulin, vital in the treatment of diabetes, the pancreatic glands of 20,000 cattle are needed. Now recent research has developed an entirely new line of important chemicals from fatty acids. One chemical from fat makes clothing water-repellent. Another is a flotation agent, useful in the separation of phosphates for fertilizers. Another prolongs the life of synthetic tires by causing them to run cooler. And detergents, "soap substitutes," have been re-covered for use with hard water in the home and industry. So the list grows, from day to day.

Yes, science performs a direct, very valuable business service for you, the livestock producer. Through new products and new markets, it 1) maintains or improves the position of meat on the American menu; 2) often reduces the price we get for the meat to less than we pay for the live animal; 3) enables the meat packer to pay you more for all your livestock.

As you look about your own neighborhood you'll find some men who are assets to the community, others who add nothing to community life. These good citizens may be large operators or "little fellows." You do not rate them by the size of their operations but by their characters, abilities and what they contribute to the good of the community.

This same principle holds true in business. The business that performs worthwhile services to the community is an asset, whether it be a local concern or a big national organization.

In our livestock-meat industry both large and small meat packing plants are essential Two-thirds of our country's livestock is raised and fed west of the Mississippi, where the great grainlands and grasslands are . . . Two-thirds of the meat is eaten east of the Mississippi, where most of the people live. Large packers are needed to handle the processing and distribution of meat for a nation of 145,000,000 people.

Swift & Company has grown with the expan-sion of the United States in the past 65 years. That's because we perform services of value to the people of America-to farmers, ranchers, meat dealers, and consumers of meats. We have to be efficient to provide these services. Meat packers have applied to meat products the economies of mass-production and mass-mar-keting. We have developed one of the lowest cost food distributing systems in the nation. By saving by-products and by reducing waste, we increase the value of producers' livestock.

But so keen is the competition-in both the buying and selling ends of our business-that these services have averaged us, over the years, earnings of only a fraction of a cent per pound of meat.

* *

To all of our friends on the farms and ranches of America, we of Swift send our sincere best wishes for a happy, peaceful and prosperous New Year.

Crossbred or Fine-Wool?

by A. C. Esplin Utah State Agricultural College,

shortening

Logan, Utah Crossbreeding in Western Range herds has long been a discussion point among operators. The ad-vantages of the crossbred over fine-wool are:

1) Crossbred ewes are better A. C. Esplin mothers; 2) they are more prolific breeders; 3) they produce lighter shrinkage wool; 4) they produce high percentage combing wool; 5) they pro-duce better mutton lambs; 6) they are better rustlers on the range; and 7) they are larger sheep.

The disadvantages reported for crossbred ewes are: 1) they are shorter lived than fine-wool ewes; 2) they lose wool on brush and do not hold fleece when past 3 years of age; 3) crossbred ewe lambs must be sold as feeders and ewes bought for replacement; 4) they are more difficult to herd than fine-wool ewes; 5) they are not as hardy as finewool ewes; 6) it is impossible to maintain standards of breeding and uniform wool grades with crossbred ewes; 7) annual death losses are more than with fine-wool ewes.

This, as a whole, expresses the range operator's thinking on problems of breeds of sheep and breeding operations. Length of life, density and qual-ity of fleece, uniformity of herd, and herding in-stincts are considered by the largest number of operators.
