MITTEL COMBINES 680 LBS. K. R. BLUESTEM
 "Can you top this!"—would be what Henry Mittel of the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District would probably say if asked about the 4½ acres of King Ranch Bluestem he harvested this fall.

Mittel planted 4½ acres of K. R. Bluestem on his farmland the last of March. Following the planting he watered the field with the sprinkler irrigation system on his place. The grass did not come up following the watering because of the high winds which followed. After the good rains the last of April and first of May the grass came up to a good stand in spots with only a fair stand in others. The only watering the grass received after it came up was on August 30th.

Mittel began harvesting the 3½ acres of K. R. Bluestem the 5th of October. Soil Conservation Service technicians assisted him in making adjustments on his combine. All the wind was cut off and a tarpaulin was tied behind the combine to catch all straw for a re-run through the combine.

To date Mittel has harvested 525 pounds of seed from the 3½ acre field and expects to get approximately 30 pounds more when he runs the straw through the combine again. The 1-acre field was combined last week and turned out 50 lbs. of seed the first run through the combine. Mittel expects to get 75 lbs. or more seed when he runs the straw through the combine again. The 575 lbs. already combined plus the 105 lbs. he expects to get when he runs the straw through again will make 680 lbs. of seed for the 4½ acres.

Mittel is well pleased as well as surprised with the good seed crop he is getting. He expects to get another seed crop this year if we do not have a killing frost in the next week or ten days.

Mittel plans to plant more of his cultivated field to K. R. Bluestem as well as scattering some in his pastures next spring.

The present market price for K. R. Bluestem seed is approximately $3.00 per pound.

New Wildcat Started On Weddell Place

Ralph Stewart et al have made location for a test on Mrs. Sadie Weddell's land, sec. 84—660 feet from south line and 1980 from the west. Surface casing has been set, and rotary is being moved in.

Abercrombie of Houston who will drill a Shell farmout on the Frank Meador place, has been granted an extension of time and will start drilling on or before November 15, instead of October 15.

Honolulu is nearing contract depth on the Mrs. Willie Tisdale wildcat, and it is reported that it does not look favorable.

Presbyterian Board Quarterly Meeting Held Monday Night

The elders and deacons of the Presbyterian Church held their regular quarterly meeting Monday night at the church, with their wives as guests. A supper was served after the meeting, and routine business was conducted by the official board.

QUARTER HORSES WIN

Wallace and Pat Joiner's quarter horse, Rina, racing for a purse of $250 at Del Rio, won first in the 440 yard events Sunday, after winning second in a similar race earlier in the week. Don Severns' quarter horse, Poky Star, came in second in the 350 yard race. Mrs. Severns and the children joined Mr. Severns there for the Sunday events. The men are expecting to enter the races at Eagle Pass.

DON'T "TROMP" COTTON, SAYS COUNTY AGENT

W. G. Godwin, Schleicher county agent, stresses the proper handling of cotton to avoid lowering of grade.

He points out that "tromping" of cotton into vehicles to convey it to the gins will work dirt and trash into the bolls to such an extent that gins cannot remove it; this will further lower the grade of the cotton, which may already have been graded down because of the rains.

Growers are urged to stress this point with their hired help, who are sometimes careless and overload their vehicles without regard to the welfare of the employer.

F. L. Powers of Independence, Kansas, arrived here Friday, and took his wife and daughter Linda and son Michael back home with him. The family left Eldorado Tuesday after a two months visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Doyle and other relatives.

O. R. Burden and Mr. Tipps of Wichita Falls stopped Thursday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johnson, on their way to San Antonio.

Mary Sproul spent the week end at Sweetwater where she visited her sister Jean.

'49 In Schleicher May Be Wettest in 10-Year Cycle

With practically double the rainfall total of the past several dry years, and six inches' gain already over the 45-year annual average for Schleicher county, ranchers and farmers are jubilant over prospects for a good winter.

Month	1949	45-Year Average
January	3.17	0.86
February	2.76	0.85
March	0.50	0.93
April	2.68	2.02
May	3.70	2.94
June	1.43	1.94
July	1.60	1.76
August	2.34	2.15
September	3.72	2.80
October	4.46	2.19
(until Oct. 25, 1949)
TOTAL	26.36	20.74

Drouth Broken

Rainfall for the past four unusually dry years was:
 1948—16.83 inches
 1947—13.66 inches
 1946—7.13 inches (lowest rainfall in 46 years)
 1945—17.11 inches

In 1944, the rainfall was 22.73, a total which was a little over the 55 year average of 20.74. 1949 definitely breaks the five year drouth.

Wet Cycle Returns

Careful study of the figures on annual rainfall for the past 45 years reveals the fact that 1949 may be in the ten-year wet cycle. Approximately every ten years (it may be 9, 10 or 11 years) there is an unusually wet year, and the cycle seems to have been completed with 1949 as it. If this is true, the county, already absorbing 26.36 inches of rain in 1949, may be expected to further increase its total before the end of the year.

The rains will serve to start the winter off with soil in excellent condition, and sub-soil thoroughly drenched. The rains of the past week end, ranging from a low of three inches to a high of over six, provided the heaviest general precipitation the county has had at one time in several years.

With the exception of cotton, which will lose by lowering of grade, there has been no loss to the county, and on many farm and ranch units there is only gain.

County Provides Contrasts

Dry 1946, with its 7 inches of rain, provided only a sixth of the moisture which the county had in 1936—a fact which proves the point that a cycle is approximately, not exactly, 10 years.

In 1936, older residents recall, the county's rolling ranchlands, which normally do not offer any incentive to high-flying ducks to stop, turned suddenly into a duck hunters' paradise, with thousands of ducks placidly swimming up and down flooded rows of ripe feed, causing heavy loss to growers.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Oglesby, Billy Oglesby and Mrs. J. L. Neill returned Thursday from a ten-day trip to El Paso, Chihuahua City, Mexico, and Boquilla Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ratliff and sons spent the week end in Austin and on their return trip visited an aunt, Mrs. Ola Shelton, at Santa Anna.

Juniors Beat Ozona; Two More Games Will End Season

The Eldorado junior football team defeated the Ozona juniors 12-6 in a hard-fought game here last Thursday night.

With the two teams battling on even terms the whole first half, the Ozona team scored on a pass interception just before the half ended. The extra point attempt failed, leaving the score at half-time 6-0 in favor of Ozona.

To begin the second half, Ozona kicked off to the local team, and without losing possession of the ball, drove the length of the field to score, with Pinkney Craig going over for the touchdown.

After the kickoff to the Ozona team, and after their making one first down, they lost the ball when Jimmy Doyle made a tackle and Tommy Griffin recovered the fumble. The locals again scored without losing possession, the last few yards being covered by Jimmy Conner. The final score was 12-6. Both of Eldorado's extra points failed.

Coming Junior Games

There will be no junior game this week. The next game will be with Junction in Junction next Thursday night, Nov. 3, at 7:30. The last junior game of the season will be November 10 when Junction plays here at 7:30.

Eldorado and Mason Chiefs Trade Jobs

Fire Marshal Roy Andrews went to Mason October 18 to make fire inspections, exchanging places for one day with the Mason fire inspector. Andrews inspected 23 places and found 3 unsafe.

O. D. Tinsley came to Eldorado October 19, and made a city-wide inspection. He found Eldorado almost 100 percent safe.

Once each year the two towns trade marshals and make inspections.

Rain Drenches County During Past Week-End

Week end rains ranging in amounts from three to six inches were welcomed by Schleicher county ranchers whose pastures quickly absorbed the heavy precipitation. The rain was not an unmixed blessing. Cotton is in the height of the harvest season and several days delay in picking, washing in some fields, and lowering of the grade will occasion some loss to cotton growers.

As the rain is the heaviest the county has had in many months, much of it was absorbed by the parched soil.

Reports, many of them unofficial, from over the county give the following totals:

City of Eldorado 3.35; J. H. Carter (Hugh Campbell ranch) 5½; Mrs. Dena White 4¼; Dan Adams 4; R. J. Hill 4; Will Isaacs 3; M. W. Jones 3¼.

Robert Nixon 6; Leonard Lloyd 5½; Jim O'Harrow 4; Perry Mittel 3.2; E. E. Moore 4¼; Andrew Nixon 5.; Robert Milligan 3.91; Archie Mittel 4.

Freeman Yardley on the Lawrence Steen place reports all water gaps washed out and all draws running high, with a total rainfall of 6 inches.

Marion Wade reports 4.54; J. H. Wagley, 3.25; Ello Wilde, over 4; Carroll White 3.25; W. S. Carroll in three days, 4.75; Jim Willoughby over 5.

Mrs. C. M. Reynolds 5.25; Curtis Stockton 5; Forrest Runge 4¼; Thomson Bros. ranch 4¼; George Williams nearly 4; Jimmie West, over 6 (5 Friday, 3.4 Saturday, 2.4 Sunday); Mrs. Elizabeth Powell nearly 4; Sam McGinnes 4; Ray Bruton 5¼.

Rains covered much of south Texas and in many places draws and creeks were running high. Sonora received 3.54, Ozona 5.8, Christoval 6, Eden 3.5; Bronte 5.3, Robert Lee 1.25, Mertzon 3.1, and San Angelo 3.7.

The rains fell in Schleicher county over a several-day period, including Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

Review of 10 Amendments to be Voted on November 8th

Ten amendments will be voted on by Texas citizens in November, and if they are approved by the voters, will become law.

Many Schleicher county citizens do not feel qualified to vote intelligently on these amendments since they are not acquainted with the issues involved. A great deal of publicity for and against various amendments has been circulated by pressure groups, but is of no help to the average voter. The Texas League of Women Voters has compiled the following arguments for and against each amendment. The League is interested in getting every voter to the polls on election day. They urge each voter to study the questions below so that he may cast an intelligent vote. The League is a non-partisan organization and has no opinion on the amendments; they are interested only in informing the public so they will use their right to vote on election day.

(The wording of each amendment is condensed but appears in the order it will appear on the ballot.)

No. 1. To authorize counties of over 75,000 population to adopt civil service systems for county employees by popular election.

Those who are FOR, say that—Public employees must have some guarantee of tenure; control of employees by elected officials tends to build up political machines and perpetuate the elected official in office. Turnover every two years is wasteful of training and experience and results in inefficiency.

Those who are AGAINST, say that—Adoption of this amendment would guarantee tenure to inefficient employees; it removes control of employees from the officers entrusted by the people with administration of public offices and tends to build up a bureaucratic machine worse than one which may be purely political but can be terminated by the people at election; it destroys efficiency since, without control of employment, the elected official cannot enforce discipline.

No. 2. To provide annual legislative sessions and annual salaries for legislators.

Those who are FOR, say that—Only .0002 of each $1 expended for state government goes for legislative expense, adoption of this amendment would not increase that amount too much in proportion to the service rendered by the legislature. Higher pay will attract candidates of higher caliber. The Council of State Governments believes salaries should be adjusted to economic changes as they occur. It recommends that all legislators be paid an annual salary in keeping with their responsibilities. This would enable them to spend time on state problems the year round, rather than only while the legislature is in session. There are many who favor the yearly session, feeling that the Legislature cannot adequately foresee either the needs or the income of the State for a longer period. They point out that the second session called for in this amendment is necessarily limited as to its length by the fact that only appropriations and constitutional amendments can be considered unless other subject matter is approved by a four-fifths vote of the members of both houses.

Those who are AGAINST, say that—If this Amendment had been in effect during the last biennium that close to $1 million additional would have been spent for salaries of legislators alone, not taking into account other expenses incidental to legislative sessions. They disagree that higher pay will attract candidates of higher caliber. They fear that higher pay might attract candidates who are solely interested in financial returns rather than the welfare of the State. They point out that since there is no specified length of time for the second session designated by this amendment, there might be a continuous session of the legislature. The Governor is empowered to call special sessions when needed. States that have annual sessions spend more money which means more taxes.

No. 3. To provide for creation of hospital districts.

Those who are FOR say that—This is a permissive provision which authorizes the Legislature to provide by law for the creation of hospital districts and would have no effect until the people in each locality had voted favorably on the creation of such districts. It is customary when amendments of this kind are adopted that all rules and regulations governing the creation of such districts be set up by the Legislature in the Act providing for the creation of such districts.

Those who are AGAINST say that—The amendment gives extremely broad powers to the Legislature. There is no limit as to the amount of tax that may be levied and it does not provide that voters in the election authorizing tax be either property owners or taxpayers.

No. 4. To abolish the poll tax as a requirement for voting.

Those who are FOR say that—As a matter of principle, payment of a tax should not be a prerequisite for voting. If the poll tax is not abolished at the State level, it will be forced upon the state by Congress at the national level, thus creating inconsistencies in voting regulations.

Those who are AGAINST say that—The registration law written by the Legislature in anticipation of the adoption of this amendment provides for a fee up to fifty cents as a registration fee. Every person desiring to register will be required to pay this fee, including those now exempt on account of age. The bill also provides that voters must declare their party affiliations in registering and they will not be permitted to vote in any other party primary unless they file notice of change of party a specified length of time before the election. That section of the Constitution which provides that the Legislature may impose a poll tax is not affected by this amendment.

No. 5. To authorize creation of city-county health units.

Those who are FOR say that—This is a permissive provision and would have no effect until proper legislation had been enacted, and voters in each locality had agreed to the creation of such districts by voting a tax levy for their support. 47 Texas counties are now operating combined city-county health units, under a gentleman's agreement. This provision would permit those counties and other counties desiring to do so to set up, legally, combined health units after approval of the voters in such counties. It is customary when amendments of this kind are adopted that all rules and regulations governing the creation of such districts be set up by the Legislature in the Act providing for same.

Those who are AGAINST say that—This provision is loosely written. It does not provide that voters be either property owners or taxpayers, and does not provide that voters shall vote on the establishment of the district, but only on the rate of tax to be levied.

No. 6. To authorize a statewide system for retirement and disability pensions for appointive county officials and employees.

Those who are FOR say that—The proposed statewide system of retirement and disability pensions would be one which each county could take or let alone. Administration costs would be less for the one system than for many separate systems. The amount of money involved and the broad coverage could be advantageous to the employees of all counties, particularly the smaller counties.

Those who are AGAINST say that—In 1946 a constitutional provision was adopted whereby each county should have the right to set up and administer a retirement, disability and death compensation fund for its appointive officers and employees. That provision provides that both employees and the county contribute while the provision proposed would permit a system entirely paid for the county. There is no provision for the levying of a tax by the legislature to support the statewide system, but it does not prohibit an appropriation for that purpose. Under the constitutional provision providing for a municipal retirement system it is provided that the Legislature shall never make an appropriation to pay any of the cost of any system so authorized, but the Legislature at the last session loaned $50,000 to the Municipal Employees Retirement System.

No. 7. To require district judges to conduct proceedings at the county seat of the county in which a case is pending, except as otherwise provided by law.

Those who are FOR say that—This permits the Legislature to provide for proceedings of the Court at places other than the county seat of the county where the case is pending and would facilitate proceedings in districts composed of more than one county. It does not give the legislature power to eliminate the two regular terms each year.

Those who are AGAINST say that—(This proposal appears to be a necessary technical change of court procedure and no adverse comments have been found.)

No. 8. To authorize creation of rural fire prevention districts.

Those who are FOR say that—This is a permissive provision which would give rural communities the right to levy taxes for the creation and operation of fire prevention districts if they so desire, after passage of proper legislation creating such districts. The proposed rural fire prevention districts may include forestry and various other forms of preventive action and legislation. Creation of such districts might result in lower insurance rates to property owners

No. 9. To provide for trials with out a jury in lunacy cases.

Those who are FOR say that—This amendment would improve the administration of laws relating to the insane, save the State the expense of a jury trial and relieve the person under trial and his family from embarrassment or humiliation. It was sponsored by the Mental Hygiene Society of Texas, with the hope of bringing about a more human legal procedure for the mentally ill, by allowing the County Judge to hear lunacy cases in private with the assistance of qualified psychiatrists, rather than a jury of ordinary citizens. It is said that tension of affected persons is increased by the excitement caused by jury trials and hates are built up against their loved ones because of this. The person involved may demand a jury trial or waive such proceedings, except in the cases of criminal insanity.

Those who are AGAINST say—It might at some time result in the commitment of a person of sound mind. There is a question as to whether a person of unsound mind is capable of exercising properly his right to a trial by jury or to a waiver of that right.

No. 10. To qualify women to serve on juries.

Those who are FOR say that—37 states now have jury service for women. In Texas a woman can hold any office, preside over courts and rule on points of law and procedure, but she cannot serve as a juror. There are many exemptions for men and there would also be exemptions for women. Those who are AGAINST say—Women should not have to listen to the sordid things they will hear as jurors. Courthouses do not provide facilities for men and women jurors. Women are more emotional than men.

Miss Danell Baker, Mr. McCormack To Wed In November

At a tea given Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. C. McLaughlin, the engagement of Miss Danell Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie L. Baker, to Mr. A. G. McCormack was announced. Hostesses were Mrs. McLaughlin, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. J. T. Ratliff and Mrs. Jack Shugart.

The words "Danell and Mac, November 19" which were written in pink on bell-shaped cookies iced in white, announced the wedding date. The cookies were served with punch, open faced sandwiches, and mints.

The refreshment table was laid with a lace cloth over pink. A miniature bride and four bridesmaids, standing under a small arch covered with pink carnations, formed the centerpiece, over which was a wedding bell covered in white satin. Satin streamers in pink and white, the honoree's chosen colors, led to the four corners of the table and were fastened with pink carnations.

A similar arch, covered with white tuberose and fern, stood on the table where the guests registered. Bouquets of pink and white fall flowers were used as decorations throughout the house.

Mrs. S. E. Jones Jr. and Mrs. Joe Ed Hill registered the guests. Mrs. Patton Enochs, Mrs. Ray Hudgens and Mrs. E. C. Peters served punch.

flushes away food waste before it becomes garbage

With a G-E Disposall unit installed in your sink, garbage collecting is a thing of the past. Peel apples in the sink—let potato peelings fall there. Put bones, fat, gristle, wastage from lettuce—in fact, food waste of practically all sorts—into the drain outlet of the sink.

Then give the Safety Twistop Control a twist to the left. Let the cold water run a few seconds. The Disposall unit automatically goes into action, and whisk!—food waste is shredded into tiny particles and flushed down the drain!

Safe, simple, sanitary. Drain lines are scoured—won't clog. The Disposall is self-cleansing—it and your sink remain glistening bright, sweet and clean.

Usable with either sewer or septic tank.

LOOPHOLES in the Law

By WILL WILSON

Past President, Texas District and County Attorneys Association

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of short case histories, all taken from court records, showing how legal loopholes often enable criminals to escape punishment in Texas. Will Wilson is chairman of a special steering committee of the State Bar, which is working for revision of the antiquated criminal code and code of criminal procedure in order to eliminate these loopholes.)

Joe was a small town tough. He had the reputation of being mean and when he got drunk, which was often, he was meaner than ever.

He was both drunk and mean one day at high noon. He staggered down Main street in his home town, shouting and shooting a pistol into the air. He was arrested and charged with unlawfully carrying a pistol.

The charge read, in part, as follows:

"... that Joe — did, on or about the 4th day of October, 1939, in the County of Harrison, the State of Texas, then and there unlawfully, on or about his person, carry a pistol. . . ."

Joe was brought to trial, but then the charge was dismissed and he was released.

The reason for this action was that the word "and" should have been used instead of the word "or" in the sentence about "did then and there, on or about his person, carry a pistol." Joe couldn't be convicted of the charge because the court ruled this should have read, "did then and there, on AND about his person, carry a pistol."

Technicalities like that one often defeat justice. The State Bar is working for the elimination of such technicalities by seeking to bring about revision of Texas' criminal statutes.

Eldorado School Releases
First 6-Weeks Honor Roll

Foundation Work
Proceeds This Week
On School Building

Work is well under way on excavations for the foundation of the new school building program this week. Work began a week ago Monday.

The street has been closed from the highway corner to the grammar school, on the south side of the school block. The purpose of the road block is two-fold: first, to protect children who are going to the adjoining school property to play; and second, to provide more playground space. Construction is taking a large portion of land formerly used for playgrounds, and grade school students are playing on land across the street. The blocking of this area should prevent traffic accidents which might otherwise occur with the children running across the street.

Supt. C. A. Reynolds assures parents that children will be supervised carefully during school hours, so they do not go near the construction area. Parents are asked to cooperate by making sure their children leave the school grounds as soon as they are dismissed, and by making sure the children do not play near the construction areas on week ends. These precautions will help to avoid accidents.

The boy and girl with the most unusual costumes will be crowned king and queen (regardless of their ages) at a jester's coronation. A recording will be made of the coronation ceremony and will be presented to the two winners as prizes.

Immediately after the coronation, a greased pig will be set free and the contestants will try their skill at catching it.

The booths for the evening will be set up in the memorial building, and on the grounds adjoining if the weather is fair. All of the proceeds will go into the PTA general fund for its work through the year, except money raised by the junior and senior classes.

Among activities during the evening will be:

- 8th, country store.

- Sophomores, "surprise" booth.
- Juniors, miscellaneous foods and short orders of all kinds; sandwiches, hot dogs, hot and cold drinks, candy, etc.

Seniors: baked chicken dinner, served in the basement, beginning at 5:30 and continuing through the evening. The menu will consist of baked chicken and dressing and all the trimmings, with pie for dessert. Charge will be $1.00 for adults and 50c for children. The seniors will also give away two lambs and a blanket about 8 p. m.

The home economics girls of junior high and high school classes will have a booth and will sell articles which they have made in sewing classes, including handmade aprons, cup towels, dresser scarves, dollies, pot holders, etc. Patrons are reminded that Christmas is only two months off and attractive Christmas gifts may be found here.

The band will sponsor a turkey and hen shoot, the only activity scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

Panther Seen at Bronte

Some local citizens say they saw a panther on the highway near the river bridge south of Bronte, Tuesday night. After spotting the beast, they returned to Bronte where trailing dogs were secured. The dogs apparently picked up the scent of the animal, but were unable to corner him.

A weary group returned to town Wednesday morning about 4 o'clock but there was no panther with them. It was just another story about the one that got away.—Bronte Enterprise.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Now They're Sitting Pretty

Squint Miller, who's working as a telephone lineman, was telling me about some birds that got into a fight with his company.

Seems a couple of woodpeckers set up housekeeping in a telephone pole. Nobody minded them living there, but they kept pecking at the wires—causing one short circuit after another.

Finally, the telephone people—who had nothing personal against the birds—just stopped up the hole where they lived. But they kept coming back. At last, the company donated that pole to the woodpeckers and set up a brand-new one for their own use!

From where I sit, we'd all be better off if we were as tolerant with our own kind as that telephone outfit was with the woodpeckers. Let's consider the other fellow's point of view—whether it's his right to live where he wants, or to enjoy a friendly glass of temperate beer or ale when and if he pleases.

48 lb. HEAVIER CALVES TO SELL...than on cake

The big difference was proved by Purina in a ranch feeding test. 50 cows winter-fed on Purina Range Breeder Checkers weaned 48-lb. heavier calves than 50 cows fed on cake. Both groups were fed exactly the same amount. The 48 lbs. difference in weight per calf meant about $9.60 extra income per head.

Here's why Purina Checkers do the job — correct protein percent (not too high) . . . more carbohydrates . . . more calcium and other minerals . . . more vitamin A. See us now for your winter feeding needs.

Styles In Cowboy Boots Undergo Change

NOT LIKE GRANDPA USED TO WEAR. Fancy, short-topped boots ranch folks wear now are a far cry from the 18-inch old timers shown in the inset. And oddly enough, although there are fewer cowboys now, there are more cowboy boots worn than ever

Ever since there has really been a Southwest, there have been cows and cowboys and cowboy boots. So it may come as something of a surprise that so sturdy, steady and traditional an "institution" as cowboy boots have acquired a "new look". No overnight change such as characterized the transition in women's apparel a year or so ago—but a remarkable change, nonetheless.

During October, H. J. Justin and Sons, Inc., of Fort Worth, famous makers of cowboy boots, are celebrating the company's seventieth anniversary, and in the old records are many interesting and historical papers. Among these are copies of a self-measuring chart, the invention of H. J. Justin, that was used by cowboys to mail in their orders for boots. The chart used in 1900 shows the boot which was the standard of the range at that time. It was about as high as a gum boot, 18 inches from sole to the tip of the top, not counting the heel either. By 1924, the standard height was only 15 inches, and now the most popular height is 10 inches.

The heel, in those long ago days, was usually two inches, and sometimes it was a quarter of an inch or even half an inch higher than that. Today the standard heel is one and five-eighths, and within the last year, boots with a "walking" heel or "roping" heel (very little higher than a regular shoe heel) have become popular.

Most boots today are square-toed, whereas in the olden days they were round-toed. Cowboys in Washington, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming still prefer the round toes.

The old-time boots were regular "mule ears" — they had prominent flaps at the top to be pulled when the cowboy was putting on the boot. Nowadays, the tops of the flaps barely show above the boot top.

Reason for the change to shorter boots? Ranchers and cowboys spend less time now in the saddle and more on the ground or in an automobile, so the shorter top is a means of saving weight and bulk. But a still more important factor is the far wider use of cowboy boots now than in the old days. And a paradoxical thing is that, although there are fewer cowboys than ever in this mechanized age, more cowboy boots are being worn!

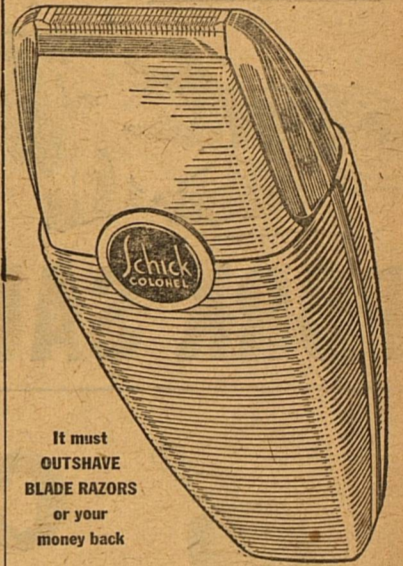

Many who wear boots are not cowboys at all. Many of them have never so much as seen a ranch; most of them do little or no riding. While thousands wear cowboy boots because they have discovered they are comfortable and restful, still more thousands wear them because of their picturesqueness and sentimental associations with the Old West.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Edmiston and two children returned Monday from a three weeks trip. They visited Mrs. Edmiston's sister, Mrs. Claude Roth and family in South Dakota, and returned by way of Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico and points in Texas, where they visited friends and relatives. They went through Carlsbad Caverns and did other sightseeing along the way.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mirike and baby of Sheffield visited last week with Mrs. Felix Susen.

Jonnie Lee Dickens spent the week end in Dallas visiting friends and attended the state fair.
