The 1948 line of Ford trucks will be previewed by dealers and salesmen of the southwest and deep south at a series of large showings in six principal cities starting in Memphis Dec. 15, and continuing until Dec. 18. Charlie Trigg, Eldorado Ford dealer, will attend the Ft. Worth meeting Dec. 18.

Simultaneous showings of from 10 to 15 different models of the new truck will be staged in all the six Ford Motor regions from Dec. 10 through Dec. 19.

Conducting the Southwest region meetings will be Ford district managers and their assistants, along with the district truck and fleet sales managers. Ira B. Groves, southwest regional manager, and Vernie W. Helard, regional manager of truck and fleet sales, both of Kansas City, Mo., and other members of Mr. Groves' staff will attend the showings.

Shell Maintenance Man Arrives Here

T. A. (Jack) Smith, who has been transferred from the Shell Pipe Line Co. at Houston to the Eldorado station, has assumed his duties as maintenance foreman at the station, taking the place of T. A. Lauderdale, who was transferred to Kilgore on Dec. 1.

Mr. Smith is a veteran of the first World War, having served with the 142nd machine gun co. in the 36th division. In 1928-29, he worked on this line when it was originally built, and with the exception of about 18 months he has been in service with the company since that time. He has worked with the company as welder, maintenance foreman, and welder foreman, and comes to this station from the construction job on the Sheridan 6-in. Products Line.

Mr. Smith is originally from Jones County, and Mrs. Smith, the former Edna Wisdom, comes from Palo Pinto Co. The couple expect to move their furniture here as soon as they can secure a house. They are members of the First Baptist Church.

Lauderdale had been at the Eldorado station as maintenance foreman since 1940, with the exception of three years spent in service with the Seabees. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lauderdale were active members of the First Baptist Church.

BUS ROUTE CHANGED

HOSPITAL DIRECTORS HOLD FIRST MEETING; LAUNCH MEMBER DRIVE

The seven temporary directors elected at a recent meeting to start off the community hospital project held their first meeting Tuesday night at the First National Bank, and set up a working organization.

The principal business conducted by the men was election of officers from within their group. Heading the temporary board as chairman is Tom Jones, with Dick Bearce as secretary and Ollie Alexander as treasurer. Other directors are Carroll Ratliff, Shorty Doyle, J. H. Wagley and Ford Oglesby.

The men decided to go ahead in an intensive canvass of the county, and get signers for life hospital memberships at $50 each family.

They also divided the county into eight localities, and selected a captain to be responsible for the people in each division. There will be four workers in Eldorado.

Personnel of this canvassing committee will be definitely known this week, in time to call the entire group together at a meeting Friday night, Dec. 19, at 7:00 at the bank. At this meeting plans for the 100 percent canvassing of Schleicher County farm and ranch families and Eldorado city residents will be perfected, in preparation for a whirlwind campaign for 500 memberships.

Mass Meeting Last Tuesday

Preparation for the above mentioned meeting was made at a mass meeting at the court house Tuesday of last week. At that time, I. A. Goss and Fred Watson explained the project and Tiny Godwin, J. H. Wagley and S. L. Stanford acting as a nominating committee appointed by Watson presented the seven above-mentioned directors' names for approval. People present at this meeting were enthusiastic and confident that the project was well launched.

Pattern Hospital Chosen

A delegation from Schleicher County representing the Lions Club visited a co-op hospital at Amherst, early in December, and were so favorably impressed with the set up that they hope to pattern the co-op here after it, making such changes as circumstances warrant. On page 2 of this issue of the Success appears an announcement concerning dues, services rendered by the hospital, and answers to some of the questions asked.

Outlook is Bright

The outlook for the hospital project is bright, state boosters, and workers; they stress the fact that there will be work ahead (a location, building, doctors, etc., must be provided) but that the main thing will be securing of 500 memberships—which will help to solve all of the other problems!

Any who are interested in joining are urged to contact one of the directors or assistants AT ONCE!

It was the second straight win for Edorado. The score at half-time was 21-8. At the end of the third quarter it was 31-17. The Eagles were never behind and never in danger. Their defense was hard to break the first half, allowing four points each quarter. The Eagles were somewhat lax on defense in the last half, allowing the Chiefs to make 23 points.

2-INCH SNOW FALLS SUNDAY IN ELDORADO

Approximately 2½ or 3 inches of snow fell in Edorado and vicinity Sunday morning, putting much needed moisture into the ground, and following a two inch rain which fell Saturday, Dec. 6, brought more smiles to the faces of ranchmen and farmers, who are already starting their winter feeding.

The snow, which came as a surprise to most people, started out as a light sleet, gradually turning to snow flakes, which grew "bigger and better" throughout the morning. Most of it was melted by nightfall.

LEARN TO KNOW YOUR BIBLE THROUGH THE CHURCH SCHOOL

CRUSADE FOR CHRIST IN THE CHURCH SCHOOL

AMERICA NEEDS RELIGION

Freedom of the human will makes religion an "elective", and that is as it should be. But too many people have voted to leave it alone.

There was a time when a state church had responsibility for the religious training of all citizens. We have decided—rightly so—that it is not the function of the state to sponsor a religion. As a result religion has become an elective in civil life—something to take or leave alone. We have been coasting on our accumulated reserves of religious training.

There are a good many cracks in the wall: increasing juvenile delinquency, an alarming divorce rate, a distressing number of alcoholics, frequent tragic consequences of trial and error living on the part of many youth. The news any day presents exhibit after exhibit of these situations.

It seems clear that our way of life will go to pieces unless we keep the resources of religion strong. We have reached the point that calls for action. One of the best ways to encourage religion is to teach children and youth to practice it. This must be done primarily in the home; it also needs the guidance and focusing that comes through religious teaching in the churches of the nation. The church schools, though far from perfect, remain the ONLY agencies devoted entirely to religious nurture. These schools for religious education are just as good as we Americans make them.

The churches throughout our nation are stressing the importance of religious education. They should have the support and cooperation of every intelligent citizen.

Former Resident In Newspaper Story

Friends of Johnny Clement, now outstanding football star for the Pittsburgh Steelers, will be interested in reading the following article from a northern daily regarding Johnny, who came to Eldorado High in his junior year, and following his graduation here, received his degree from SMU in 1942. While in Eldorado Johnny stayed in the home of C. L. Meador, who accepted him as one of their own boys, and who have kept close contact with the young man and his wife.

Part of the newspaper account, which carries also a picture of Johnny and his wife, follows:

"John Lewis Clement, so runs the old biographical formula, was born of honest and consequently far from wealthy parents in the oil town of Stone Bluff, Okla. Johnny said he thought the town disappeared from the map after the wells went dry. But it hasn't. It's still there, says Rand-McNally, just a few miles from Broken Arrow.

"His father, Lemuel, followed the oil fields for a living, from Oklahoma to Louisiana, from Louisiana to Texas. Johnny never saw a football game until he entered high school at Big Lake. He went out for the squad in his sophomore year, but at 125 pounds, was too light.

"Attending Eldorado High in his junior year, he became an end at 135. One year and ten pounds later he was a left halfback.

"I planned to go to Washington State," said Johnny, "because Buck Bailey, the assistant coach there, was from Eldorado. Then Matty Bell dropped in to see me one day and dropped a scholarship to Southern Methodist in my lap."

"Johnny alternated with Ray Mallouf, now with the Chicago Cardinals, at left half-back. During the summer he worked in the oil fields.

"Jimmy Conzelman followed the same system of alternating Clement and Mallouf at half when both were signed by the Cardinals. During his first year of pro ball Johnny married Anita.

"And since then we've moved 56 times in six years," said Anita, putting her foot down.

"Was it that often?" Johnny asked dazedly."

Mrs. M. O. Lohse and daughter, Barbara, have been in Tokyo, Japan since Oct. 15 where they joined their husband and father, Warrant Officer Lohse, stationed there with the U. S. Army. Xmas Tree Fire Danger

One of the most exciting and beautiful symbols of Christmas is the greatest cause of holiday fires. The Christmas tree and its ornaments are yearly responsible for an unbelievable number of tragedies. It is impossible to make a tree fire resistant. Highly flammable after it begins drying out, a Christmas tree will stay completely green only a day or two after it is cut.

It is best to bring in a fresh tree as short a time before Christmas as possible, and to remove it soon afterwards as you can. The tree can be kept fresh if you set it up in a pan of water. Cut off the base of the tree at an angle at least one inch above the original cut, and keep it standing in water during the entire period that the tree is in the house, adding water to the jar or tub in which the tree stands at intervals to keep the water level always above the cut.

This method when used with fresh trees reduces the flammability as effectively as any fireproofing chemicals. Chemicals may cause the tree to turn brown or yellow or to lose its needles.

The place you select for your tree should be in the coolest part of the house and well away from stoves and radiators. When you smoke keep away from the tree and keep matches out of the reach of small children.

Your tree can be well secured against falling by inconspicuous wires holding it against the wall. The tree should be so placed that standing or fallen, it cannot block a doorway which might be needed to escape from the room.

Christmas candles are still taking their yearly toll of lives and property. Although they are rarely found on Christmas trees now they are used unwisely in many other places during the holiday season. Open flame lighting is entirely out of place unless candles and lamps are set well away from the Christmas tree, window curtains and burnable decorations. Even then, a fire extinguisher should be kept handy and then a constant watch kept over them. Such precautions are not needed for the equally attractive electric light made especially for decoration.

However, it is important that your strings of Christmas lights be in good condition. A short circuit in worn wiring might be sufficient to start the tree burning. Sets bearing the label of Underwriters Laboratories have been tested for fire hazards and pronounced safe by experts.

Should a fuse connected to your tree's light string blow, it means you have overloaded the outlet. You should eliminate some of the lights and replace the blown fuse with another of the same size and rating. An overloaded circuit is extremely dangerous for fires may start in the walls.

Regular checks should be made to see if any needles near the lights have started to turn brown—if so change the position of the lights.

Although they give a warm and friendly glow from the street, the Christmas tree lights should be turned off before the family leaves the home, or even the room, for any length of time at night.

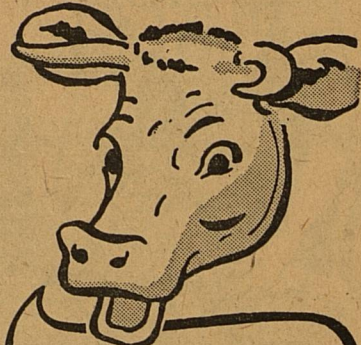

Non-inflammable decorations should be purchased for the tree and absolutely nothing but safety cotton should be used at its base for snow. Don't use paper trimmings.

The extreme flammability of a Christmas tree can be illustrated by this typical holiday fire. A Christmas Eve party was turned from joy to tragedy when a friend of the family struck a match for his cigarette. The match head exploded, landed in the Christmas tree decorations and set them ablaze, cutting off escape for the mother and three children, all of whom were burned to death upstairs.

JUST IN TIME . . . Youngsters all over America will sleep with one eye open on Christmas Eve—if they are lucky they might see Santa's feet as he hurries on his way. These youngsters arrived in time to hear, "Merry Christmas to all, and to all a goodnight."

Ornament Making A Cottage Industry

Those colored glass ornaments that we hang on our Christmas trees used to come from Germany, Czechoslovakia and Poland. A small number were made in Japan. When the war cut off these supplies, American glass manufacturers, who had never bothered with these products before, turned part of their facilities over to making the pretty gewgaws. Mechanical methods were soon developed that could blow as many ornaments in an hour as a European glassblower could make in a month. Thus modern efficiency may doom this picturesque little industry, carried on in the mountainous towns of eastern Europe.

Ornament making is a typical "cottage industry" in the little villages that cling to the steep mountainsides. Families specialize in certain shapes and designs, patterns that may date back for hundreds of years unchanged. The father, using a bunsen burner, carefully blows the thin glass tubing to the desired shape, with the aid of an iron mold. His son acting as mold boy, removes the hot ornament to a cooling table. Next the mother silvers the inside, and finally the daughter applies paint and perhaps decorative designs.

Christmas Rose Has Real Significance

Legend tells us that a young shepherd girl was weeping bitterly as she watched the Wise Men on their way to take gifts to the Christ Child.

An angel appeared, and after ascertaining why the young girl was crying, she waved her wand, and instantly the ground was carpeted with glittering white Christmas roses. The young girl quickly gathered these blooms. When she presented her gift, the Christ Child smiled, and as his fingers touched the white flowers the petals became tinged with pink.

This custom originated with the Dutch. They used their wooden shoes instead of stockings.

When the Dutch came to New Amsterdam, this custom came with them—the wooden shoes being gradually replaced by stockings made for the occasion out of net-like materials. As nearly every home had a fireplace the usual place to hang the stockings was over the fireplace.

Nutrition is Your Business and Ours

In this wintry month, as America prepares for that feast which celebrates the birth of the Prince of Peace, men and women of good will take spiritual stock, give thanks for many blessings.

Well-nourished bodies and minds are the wealth of America. One of the great blessings that this country enjoys is the food it produces in such abundance. Farmers and ranchers who produce this food, and we at Swift & Company who process and distribute it, have an occasion for satisfaction in our teamwork. Together we can say—and proudly—"Nutrition is our business."

Good nutrition begins with soil itself. Out of the soil come the crops—the fruits and grains and vegetables we eat. Out of the soil also come the grasses and legumes and grains on which livestock feed—the very foundation of the meat and dairy products that are the protein backbone of our nation's food.

Today the American people are better nourished than ever before in history. This is cause for pride and rejoicing. For a better fed, healthier people leads to a stronger nation with greater capacity for clearer thinking, for work and production.

Good nutrition adds life to your years and years to your life. Good eating, which today we call the science of nutrition, is not an accident. It must be planned—beginning with the preparation of the soil and continuing through the raising of the crops and livestock, to the selection and preparation of meals for the table. This is an activity in which we all play an important part. Swift men of research and technology, like you farmers and ranchers all over America, are seeking ways in which the food of our people may be improved and our joint operations made to thrive ever more abundantly.

1 pound cooked beef shank, chuck, or neck meat	1 1/2 pounds brown sugar
1 cup meat stock	1 quart cider
1/2 pound suet	2 teaspoons salt
4 pounds apples	2 teaspoons nutmeg
1/2 pound currants	2 teaspoons cloves
1 pound seeded raisins	3 teaspoons cinnamon
	5 tablespoons lemon juice

Pare, core, and chop apples. Chop together currants and raisins. Add apples, sugar, cider, and meat stock. Cook about 5 minutes. Grind meat and suet. Add with seasonings to apple mixture. Simmer 1 hour, stirring frequently to prevent burning. Add lemon juice. This mincemeat may be made ahead of time and canned for use throughout the holiday season. (Yield: 4 quarts)

Track Down the Facts

The beaver is an industrious and intelligent animal. He fells trees, builds dams, and wastes little effort or material. A "by-product" of his building operations—the bark of limbs and logs—provides his supply of winter food.

We in the livestock and meat industry have been "busy as beavers" developing methods of saving the different by-products of livestock. These products benefit the human race in many ways. Many ailments are relieved by extracts from livestock glands. Numerous ordinary articles, such as glue, buttons, combs, knife handles, soap, etc., originate from livestock.

Under normal conditions the returns from livestock by-products are almost large enough to offset the operating and marketing expenses of the meat packers. The value of by-products has reduced the average cost of meat to consumers and has increased the prices the producer receives for livestock.

Business is Built on Faith

The American business system is based on keeping faith with the people whom business serves. For example, if Swift & Company is to continue to be successful, five distinct groups of people must have faith in our ability to serve them: producers, stockholders, employees, retailers and consumers.

Farmers and ranchers look to us to provide a daily cash market, and to compete in buying their livestock and other products. We, in turn, depend on you for raw materials. Our operations and yours are interdependent and based on mutual trust in each other's fair dealing.

The 64,000 stockholders invest their savings in Swift & Company with faith that good management will earn them a fair return on their investment. To keep that faith, the company must earn a reasonable profit.

Another definite responsibility of management is to provide regular employment, good working conditions, plants and tools for the 74,000 employees of Swift. Here again, mutual faith and understanding is essential.

In serving retailers in every city and town in the nation, Swift is very conscious of its responsibilities to this fourth important group. Through exacting quality-control we are able to supply the retailers with the grade and type of products their trade demands. To serve them faithfully, we have to study and understand their problems, and give them an understanding of ours.

The fifth and largest group served by Swift is the consumers of the nation. Their faith in the Swift name and Swift's branded products is the very basis of our business—and a great asset to both you and us.

As we review the operation of Swift & Company at year's end, we again resolve to do everything in our power to justify the faith placed in our business by so many people.

John Holmes
President, Swift & Company

OUR CITY COUSIN

Why does City Cousin cry?
He has no room for his Mince Pie!

COMPETITION SETS THE PACE

There's lots of competition in the livestock and meat industry—both in the buying of livestock, and in the selling of the meat and by-products. U. S. Government reports show the best evidence of this competition when they list a total of more than 4,000 meat packers and more than 22,500 other commercial slaughterers operating in the United States. Of course, Swift & Company does not bid against every one of these 26,500 slaughterers at every point at which it buys livestock. However, there isn't a purchase of livestock or a sale of meat made that doesn't have to meet a considerable number of actual or potential bids of competitors.

To all our friends on America's farms and ranches, we at Swift & Company wish

Norris Lee Taylor, Miss Webb Married In San Angelo Sat.

Miss Billie Jean Webb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Webb of San Angelo and Norris Lee Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith of Eldorado, were married Saturday evening in the parsonage of the First Baptist Church in San Angelo, with the Rev. James B. Leavell, pastor, officiating at the single ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white velveteen ballerina-length dress fashioned with fitted bodice, with small covered buttons to the neck, long fitted sleeves and full skirt. Her accessories were in cinnamon color and her halo hat was of white velveteen with rhinestone clips. She wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Mrs. Jack Webb, who attended her sister-in-law as matron of honor, wore a palomino wool dress with red accessories and a corsage of red carnations. Jack Webb, brother of the bride, was best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. J. C. Peters, sister of the bride, presided at the three-tiered wedding cake which was topped with a miniature bridal couple, standing before an open bell. Mrs. James Webb, sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Frank Newman was at the guest register.

Mrs. Taylor is a graduate of the Coleman High School, and attended San Angelo Business College. Mr. Taylor graduated from the Carlsbad, N. M. high school and served in the navy during the war. He is now attending San Angelo Business College and the couple will be at home at 215 S. Abe.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Only time will tell whether the winter relief measure for three European countries will accomplish its avowed purposes. Those responsible for our national security are nearly unanimous in viewing the present extension of relief as vital to America's national security.

Perhaps few people realize that in this atomic age a major source of the fissionable material for the atomic bomb is under the control of certain European countries where continued independence of communist domination is of the highest importance to the United States and its future security.

The temporary relief measure, which is not to be confused with the Marshall plan, will be mainly in the form of goods and commodities to France, Austria and Italy. We have some surpluses that can be spared this winter, particularly wheat. Our wheat production this year amounts to 1,400,000,000 bushels, which is about twice as much as we have ever consumed in this country in one year. An amendment to prohibit export-for-aid of commodities in short supply in this country, which I supported, was not adopted. Controls over such exports, however, will be in the hands of the president. I also voted for amendments to restrict the exportation of fertilizer and farm machinery which I felt should not be exported when our own farmers can't get them.

An amendment to terminate assistance to any country if such country should become communist-dominated, which I offered on the floor, was adopted by a vote of 210-1. I am opposed to advancing any more American help to any country that is under control from Moscow.

One surplus we can easily spare at this time is mohair. A considerable surplus has developed in Texas warehouses and the market has been very dull this fall. Because of that condition, I have renewed my request, made in October at the suggestion of Mr. Frank Montague of Bandera, that the officials in charge of relief make use of some of this surplus and thereby relieve our own mohair industry of a cloud on our domestic market.

It is expected that the present session will end this week end. I have accepted an invitation to be in Kerrville on Dec. 19 to take part in dedication ceremonies of the new $2 million veterans hospital addition at Legion.

With the expansion of the buildings there, and with the installation of the very best and most modern equipment to be found anywhere, the hospital at Legion will be one of the largest and best facilities for tubercular and other types of treatment in America. We have good reason to be proud of that institution.

I will spend Christmas in San Angelo with my wife and daughter, and during the vacation period I hope to visit briefly over the district, particularly at places where time did not permit me to go before I was called back to Washington in October. In the meantime, my Washington office will remain open and prompt attention will be given any matters that come in.

This being my last news letter of the year, I extend thanks to all the publishers of the district, and to all my friends for their fine cooperation in the past. To every one I extend my very best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy, Peaceful and Prosperous New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Luedek and children, Mickey and Sherry of Kent are visiting this week with his mother, Mrs. John Luedecke and other relatives here.

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST in Eldorado cordially invites you to all services. Kenneth J. Arrington, Minister THE BIBLE TEACHES The Bible teaches that "he that doeth the will of my Father who is in heaven... shall enter the kingdom of heaven." (Matt. 7:21) Peter asks the question, "What shall be the end of them that obey not the gospel of God?" (I Peter 4:17). Paul answers to the church at Thessalonica, "Them that obey not the Gospel of our Lord Jesus; who shall suffer punishment, even eternal destruction." (II Thess. 1:8,9.) Paul preached "obedience of faith" (Rom. 16:26) to all the nations and also said of Christ, "Having been made perfect, he became unto all them that obey him the author of eternal salvation" (Heb. 5:9). Added to this is the statement of James who said those refusing obedience were under a delusion. "Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deluding your own selves." (James 1:22.)

Why then will people be deceived by thinking that obedience to Christ is non-essential. Upon our obedience rests our eternal destiny, the salvation of our soul. Neither let anyone say that such a doctrine destroys the value of the grace of God for Christ has said, "When ye shall have done all the things that are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants: We have done that which was our duty." (Luke 17:10.)

God did his part in that He "so loved the world that He gave." Christ did his part in that He "tasted of death for every man." The Holy Spirit did His part in making known "the words of life." Man's responsibility is to hear God's word and believing it, to walk in the "obedience of faith."
