HARRIS OPENS NEW LAUNDRY IN ELDORADO

SQUARE DANCERS NOW MEETING IN TWO GROUPS

The decision to split into two groups was arrived at last Friday night, at the weekly meeting of the Pioneer Club. A record-breaking membership has prevented the entire group from square dancing at one time in the space available; the second group is now meeting on Tuesday nights with Instructor Emerson of San Angelo teaching both sections.

The pay-in-advance policy for collection of dues has been inaugurated, and Mrs. Lewis Whitten, secretary, issued membership cards to each couple, which will be necessary for admittance. This measure was found necessary because of the limited space available for spectators, and in order to provide more time for dancing.

Last Friday night, Mr. Emerson brought a group of high school students from San Angelo with him, and these young people instructed local high school students from 6:30 to 7:30.

Funeral Services For A. A. McGill Held February 18

Funeral services for A. A. McGill, 93, retired ranchman, were held at Robert Messie Funeral Chapel at 2 p. m. Wednesday, with Dr. B. O. Wood, Presbyterian pastor, officiating. Burial was in Fairmount Cemetery.

Mr. McGill, who had been ill for some time, died Sunday at 6:20 a. m. at the family residence on Rust Street in San Angelo.

Born May 18, 1854 in Morgantown, W. Va., Mr. McGill had been a resident of San Angelo since 1900. Previously he had engaged in the sheep business in Frio, Concho and Runtels County, and in addition did freighting.

McGill school in San Angelo was named in his honor there, because he, with the assistance of a neighbor, built the first school in the McGill district. Mr. McGill financed the 14x20 foot classroom, and the neighbor superintended the construction. During the recent war, the aged man revealed that both his paternal and maternal grandfathers served in General Washington's army during the Revolution and his sons and grandsons served in both World Wars.

Survivors include the widow; five sons: David of Alpine, A. B. of Rankin, Tom of Eldorado, M. C. of Waco, and Charlie of San Angelo; three daughters: Mrs. J. A. Montgomery of Mason, Mrs. C. A. Bradford of Sweetwater, and Mrs. August Lehman of Auburn, Calif. In addition there are a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren surviving. Relatives living in Eldorado include a son, Tom McGill; four grandchildren, Helen and Wayne McGill, Mrs. Jack Elder and Arthur Montgomery; and five great-grandchildren, Patricia, Rita Ann and Nancy Jo Elder, and Lonnie and Donna Joyce Montgomery. E. H. Coulter of Eldorado was included on the list of honorary pallbearers.

Miss Jane Mund, senior student at the Eldorado high school, will be crowned "Talon" queen by her escort, Marion Wade, at a program given in the school auditorium Friday (tomorrow) night, beginning at 7:30. ## Dealer Learns Facts On Butane Shortage

That the butane shortage was still acute in most parts of Texas, and that the only solution to the situation is for the individual customer to put in larger storage tanks, were facts found out when Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Topliffe, managers of the Topliffe Gas and Electrical Service, made a business trip to Ballinger, Sweetwater and other points last Saturday, discussing the situation with dealers at these places.

To look into the situation and try to get more gas for their customers was the purpose of the trip, and while the local firm has not yet run out of gas, they have found it necessary to ration their customers. Although the shortage still exists, it is believed that if the good weather continues, the situation will get better.

This area has fared better than most places, because most other dealers have run entirely out of gas during the recent cold wave. Reports have come from East Texas that dealers have been out of gas for 30 days or possibly longer. The local firm has had calls from dealers elsewhere trying to obtain gas, but the managers have had to refuse in order to supply their own customers here.

A campaign for larger storage tanks is being planned by the Topliffes soon. These tanks will be put in and filled during the summer months, and will greatly relieve the situation during the ensuing cold months. The local dealers appreciate the cooperation they have had from their customers in conserving gas, but as their ad in another part of the paper points out, the shortage still exists, and careful consumption of gas is still necessary.

Attend Halbert Sale Near Sonora

Schleicher County was well represented at R. A. Halbert's second annual Polled Hereford sale at Sonora Monday. Top price paid for the show stock was $6,500.00 for Domestic Mischief 8th, a polled Hereford bull bought by John Royer of Glenmore, Md. Buyers were present from Indiana, Idaho, Ohio, Maryland, Kentucky, Georgia, Kansas and Texas.

This was Halbert's second show held in his new barn built last year at a cost of $25,000. Three auctioneers were on duty and loudspeakers broadcast the sale throughout the huge building.

Those attending report a royal time and enjoyed to the fullest the barbecue steak dinner and hot biscuits served by the Sonora Lions. Approximately 50 Lions assisted Halbert in entertaining.

*Among those from here attending were the Marvin Logans, Sam McGinness, W. T. Whittens, Jess Koy, the Tom Jones, Henry Specks W. N. Ramsay and J. H. Wagley.

Know Your School

By C. A. Reynolds

THE SCHOOL LUNCHROOM

The lunchroom in the Eldorado schools was opened several years ago and was sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association. The first equipment was made available through the efforts of this organization. A classroom in the high school building was converted into a combination kitchen and serving room. In 1942 it became necessary to convert the vocational agricultural room, which was not in use, into an additional lunchroom in order to accommodate all students wishing to eat at the school.

The purpose of a school lunch room or cafeteria is to furnish at the lowest possible cost a hot, well balanced meal. With that in mind our constant aim has been to serve the type of meals recommended by recognized nutritionists. Our program has been under the supervision of the local home economics teacher until this year, and she still serves in an advisory capacity. The program has always been run on a non-profit basis in order that the best possible meals could be served at the lowest cost. Any revenue derived from the sale of lunches above the actual operating costs has been put into better equipment for the program. Other schools have found that generally it is unsatisfactory for the school lunchroom to be under private management, so the local lunchroom has been under the management of the school since its inception.

In 1943 the school trustees signed an agreement with the federal government whereby the local school would cooperate with the government in providing hot lunches for all children desiring them regardless of the child's ability to pay. The government set up minimum standards for the schools to follow in preparing meals, and provided as much as 9c subsidy per lunch for meals served to school children. In addition, many surplus agriculture commodities were made available, free of charge, except for freight charges. The school superintendent was designated by the trustees the administrator of the program. New agreements have been signed each year in order that the program would continue in effect. As superintendent it has been my duty to see that all rules of the agreement are kept. I am responsible for seeing that all accounts are kept and are accurate, and that the monthly report and claims are made properly and on time.

Mrs. F. D. Schooley is the present manager of the lunchroom and she is assisted by Mrs. Russell

Donaldson. Mrs. Schooley does the buying, meal planning, and is head cook. A classroom teacher serves as cashier. Each day's income from the sale of tickets and lunches, along with the number of lunches served to students and teachers is recorded each day on forms provided by the state. Deposits are made weekly in the local bank into a separate cafeteria fund. All bills for labor, groceries, and supplies are paid out of this fund by check.

During the 1946-47 school term 35,630 lunches and 19,444 glasses of milk were served to school children. The total expense for the term amounted to $9,068.84. The government supplied $2889.98 in subsidy and the students and teachers paid $6403.51. An average of 10 lunches per day were served free to students unable to pay. The largest single expense for the year was $7126.58 spent for food. Labor and supplies accounted for the rest. The last three months of the year the program cost $378.35 more than taken in, but reserves built up earlier in the year took care of the loss.

Beginning with the 1947-48 term it became necessary to raise the price of lunches from 20c to 30c. There were two reasons for this—first, the increase in food prices and labor, and second, the appropriation for subsidy was cut by Congress until only 6c has been available this year per lunch. So far this year the program has operated at a loss but a recent 1½c increase in the subsidy may make up the difference.

For the first five months of the year 10,691 lunches and bottles of milk were served to the students. The cost of operating the program has been $4144.62 for this period; while the total income including subsidy has been $3865.71.

Surplus commodities furnished this year include 168 pounds of processed cheese, 3600 pounds of Irish potatoes, 15 cases of canned tomatoes, 23 bushels of sweet potatoes, 17 cases of tomato juice, and 17 cases of dried peaches.

Since 1943 much needed equipment has been added to the department. Included in equipment is a new 9 ft. Frigidaire, a gas serving table capable of keeping all food warm until serving time, and separate hot water heater, and a dish-washing cabinet. All of this equipment has been paid for out of the income from the lunch room.

The greatest need at the present time is for more room. The cooking area needs to be separated from the serving area, and the seating capacity needs to be enlarged.

The school cafeteria is an important part of any modern school and adequate provision should be made for it in modern school planning.

The afternoon program was concluded with a song "The Lord's Prayer" by the High School sextet, accompanied by Mary Lee Gunstead. Co-Operation on the Party Line

To you young people, if you will think back, you'll remember that one of the first things you learned on the playground was to TAKE YOUR TURN. You learned the important lesson that everyone could have a good time if each took his turn. The same is true in using your party line telephone. By making only your share of calls, you can help everyone enjoy good service. You can also help by making your calls brief. . . allowing time between calls. . . and being sure to replace your receiver. Your telephone company thanks you for your teamwork in taking your turn on your party line telephone.

Free Ride For You—on the Freedom Train!

We had a real thrill in Our Town just the other day—when the Freedom Train stopped by!

You've heard about it, of course—an actual train that's touring the country to remind us again what true Democracy means. It carries such Americana as the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, and other immortal documents that guarantee every citizen his liberty.

A great idea! And from where I sit, we're all riding along with that Freedom Train—right now—by living in a country that protects our individual liberties—whether they apply to our right to vote, to choose our church, to speak our minds, or enjoy a glass of beer with friends.

Only thing is—we've got to prove ourselves worthy of the ride... by guarding zealously against whatever forces of intolerance encroach upon our American concepts of live-and-let-live, in a free and strong Democracy!

HARDEMAN IS SPEAKER AT PTA MEETING

"Our government is the oldest form of government under a written constitution today," stated Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, state senator, who spoke on "Your Government Is You" at the annual Founder's Day program of the Parent Teachers Association Tuesday evening in the school auditorium.

Mr. Hardeman discussed the various documents that have contributed to our democracy beginning in 1776 when General Washington was faced with organizing a free government, and which was finally won for us through sweat and tears following eleven long years of conflict.

"It is our duty to preserve this democracy and to pass on to our youth these rights and liberties, teaching them how to use their talents so that they may be a part of the government themselves. Second only to our duty to God and the home, is our duty to our country," Senator Hardeman said in conclusion.

Tuesday evening's program opened with a prayer by the Rev. F. B. Faust followed by a business session with Mrs. J. C. Ratliff, president, in charge. It was announced that the sixth and twelfth grades won the attendance awards for the last meeting. The executive board reported that the following nominating committee had been appointed: Mmes. Edgar Spencer, Palmer West and C. C. McLaughlin.

J. C. Ratliff introduced the speaker for the evening, and following his address, a social hour was enjoyed in the home economics living room. Mrs. J. C. Ratliff served the birthday cake and Mrs. Archie Mittel ladled punch at the lace covered table, which was centered with a bowl of white carnations on a reflector.

Carpenters started this morning on a renovation project on the H. Z. Pennington house, sold recently to Dr. Pennington's daughter, Mrs. Ross Mickey and her husband of Seymour. The work includes extensive plumbing work and completion of the interior.

6. The right and duty of women to be teachers:

The truth on this subject lies between two extremes: one extreme is to allow women to be preachers to the whole assembly and thus to "teach" and have dominion over men; the other extreme is to prohibit women from teaching other women and children, which the scriptures authorize her to do.

The scriptures place some limitations on women's work. These limitations grow out of the demand that women be in subjection. Note, 1 Cor. 14 vs. 23, defines the meeting under consideration in this chapter, when "the whole church be come together in one place." Vs. 34-35 in such assembly when the whole church is come together, the commanded behavior is "let your women keep silence." I think it is agreed by all that the silence here imposed on women is that they are not to assume the lead in the assembly of the whole church; but this silence does not prohibit women from participating in the singing, and does not prohibit a woman from confessing her faith in Christ in preparation for baptism.

1 Tim. 2:11-12 is another scripture on this subject. This text demands that women be in "subjection" and prohibits women from two things: "to teach" and "usurp authority" and both these prohibitions are qualified by the phrase "over the man." The verse does not prohibit women from teaching their children, other children, or other women; but simply forbids her teaching or usurping authority over men.

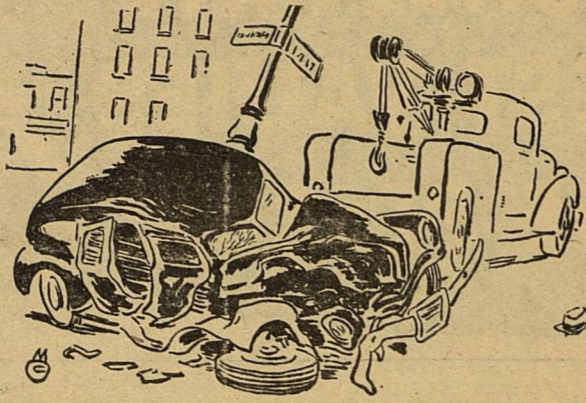

Under the above stated Scriptural restrictions, women are divinely authorized to teach and labor in the gospel. Rom. 16:1-2 says that Phoebe was a servant of the church at Cenchrea. This does not mean that she occupied an official position. It is highly probable that her service consisted, partly at least, in obedience to the command recorded in Tit. 2:3-5 and was a teacher of other women.

Phil. 4:3—"help those women which labored with me in the gospel." Labor in the gospel certainly includes "teaching" it, and Paul approved and commended this work. These women did their work under the restrictions of 1 Cor. 14 and 1 Tim. 2, and women today can render valuable service and labor in the gospel by teaching other women and children.
