LION OFFICER INSTALLATION NEXT TUESDAY

Installation ceremonies for incoming officers of the Lions' Club will be held at Fair Park next Tuesday night, with Lionesses as guests. Preceding the program, Lions will gather at 4:00 for their annual bitter weed pulling in Eldorado. As drought and many previous pullings have nearly eliminated the weed, a comparatively easy task is anticipated.

San Angelo College May Run School Bus To and From This City

W. H. Elkins, president of San Angelo Junior College, was in Eldorado this week discussing the feasibility of running a college bus between San Angelo and Eldorado during the coming school year.

As explained by Mr. Elkins, the plan is to employ a more mature student as driver, and pick up students at Christoval and Eldorado. As many as six from Eldorado, at a charge of $7.50 per month each, would be required to justify putting on the bus. The bus would leave this city at 7:00 a. m.

He points out that the plan would enable students to stay at home and still avail themselves of the educational facilities of San Angelo Junior College, at a nominal cost. A few scholarships are available for deserving students who need assistance.

All who are interested are asked to leave their names at the Eldorado Success office, or write direct to President Elkins at San Angelo.

Washington News Letter

By Cong. O. C. Fisher.

The closing days of the session witnessed confusion aplenty. Most of the legislation brought up the last two or three days was "suspension of the rules", which means that by a two-thirds vote a bill can be called up, debated forty minutes and passed without being open to amendment on the floor.

The suspension method is a customary one when a session is about to end. The usual parliamentary procedure is too slow and cumbersome to get much done when time is limited. The result is that members often find themselves faced with the alternative of either voting to bring a measure up by suspension or of voting the other way, which means the bill is dead for the session. And since under such procedure amendments are not in order, one is often forced to vote for a measure in order to get its main purposes enacted, while being opposed to some of its provisions that are not subject to amendment. But the Senate also acts and often amends, and finally a conference committee of both Houses makes compromises and changes before the finished product is turned out.

The House, in effect, turned "thumbs down" on the T. E. W. Housing Bill by passing instead a bi-partisan measure to resume Government mortgage insurance on new houses up to 90% of value. The bill also gave veterans priority in buying war-built Government housing, and included a provision to speed-up a system of figuring depreciation allowances, which means a slight tax reduction as an incentive to get people to invest in apartment projects. The bill was approved by a majority of both Democrats and Republicans. The vote was 318 to 90.

The simple fact is that there are three essential elements in getting housing—material, labor, and capital. No legislation is going to increase the supply of either material or labor. Legislation can provide credit to make available needed capital. The new House-approved bill will help in that respect. A year ago the R. F. C. secondary market for G. I. home loans was suspended. It was claimed private capital would handle all such paper. But it has not worked that way and war veterans have been unable to get many loans approved.

A bill to admit 200,000 displaced persons was enacted. I voted against it because I doubt the wisdom of bringing in so many immigrants during the next two years. The measure, however, contains many conditions, and one authority said if it is properly administered probably not more than 50,000 will be admitted under its terms.

The Republican-controlled session enacted some good legislation, particularly with regard to national preparedness. But it has a record of failure in a number of respects. The Mundt-Nixon Communist-control bill passed the House overwhelmingly, but fizzled in the Senate. The Tideland Bill, in which Texas has a billion-dollar stake, passed the House but went astray in the Senate. And there were others.

The swivel-chair experts will spend a busy week trying to figure how good and how bad was the recent session. Probably no two of them will agree.

Installation Ceremony Tuesday Returns Fire Chief Palmer West To His Post as Head of Fire Dept.

Installation of new officers for the coming year highlighted the evening for the volunteer firemen and their wives at Ladies' Night on the lawn of the West Texas Utilities Co. Tuesday night.

Installing officer was H. T. Finley, who traced the history of the organization since its establishment in 1939, with 10 charter members. He pointed out that the old fire insurance rate of 90 cents had been reduced to 47 cents since the city had been given this fire protection.

He mentioned the fact that the members are serious in their desire to be efficient, holding several drills per month, and that with two trucks at their disposal they could render a maximum of service to the community.

Old officers who were recognized included: Chief: Palmer West 1st Assistant: J. H. Mace 2nd Assistant: Marvin McAngus

State Fair To Open On 6th Of October

October 9 was adopted as official Press Day at the 1948 State Fair of Texas by the Texas Press Association at the conclusion of its annual meeting in San Antonio.

Nearly 2,000 Texas newspaper and radio representatives were guests of the Fair on opening day in 1947.

Tom Jones Family To Have Homecoming

For the next two weeks, relatives and friends of the Tom Jones family will enjoy meeting and greeting each other at the Homecoming celebration of the family which will probably become an annual affair.

Opening at noon Tuesday with a barbecue lunch served to 20 relatives and guests in the back yard of the ranch home, amid a setting of native liveoak and pecan trees, the homecoming will extend through July 6. The outdoor living room, carpeted also with native grass, has gradually become a gathering place for the family and their friends through the spring and summer months, and a nearby concrete tank provides swimming facilities.

Tuesday's lunch was prepared by Jose, Latin-American cook for the family. Using old time skilllets and lids, he served a delicious meal including hot biscuits, barbecued chevon and all the "trimmings". All of the children are present for the homecoming including Mrs. J. B. Sammons and sons, Blaine and Bubba of Van Horn; Mrs. A. L. Ohlenburg and sons, Johnny and Eddie of McCombs; Mrs. Joe Reynolds and Ronnie of Yeso, N. M.; Richard Jones and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jones and Miss Pauline Jones of Eldorado. Other out-of-town guests present this week included Mrs. Fred Barney and granddaughter, Susie of Ft. Worth, and Mr. Reynolds, who will be present for part of the celebration.

Friends of the family are cordially invited to visit with them during the open house.

Broken Batteries Delay Installation of Main Dial System

The fact that batteries for the main telephone dial equipment were broken in transit and must be replaced by the company will delay the work of completing installation of the system, states C. C. McLaughlin, local manager.

Meanwhile, work is proceeding throughout the county on other phases of the installation project, and officials are still hopeful that the switch-over can be made this summer.

Work started Wednesday on a new 17-mile San Angelo telephone company line to the DeLong ranch, to serve about 18 subscribers.

Installing the dial phones in the homes of farmers and ranchers of the county is under way, with indications that the work will be completed in two or three weeks.

It is understood that the company plans to start soon to install the phones for new subscribers in Eldorado. A total of about 600 subscribers is anticipated.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Hamm and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Logan spent the week end fishing at Lower Lake. They report a good trip and lots of fish.

Home from Germany

When the above picture was taken Nolen L. Potter was a lieutenant in the air corps. Now back home with his parents in Schleicher Co., with the rank of captain, he reports that he likes army life so well that he has signed up for another three years, and expects to receive his new assignment soon.

He reports that food restrictions in Germany, where he has been stationed, are such that there is scarcity of some items—meat, for instance, is rationed one pound per month per person. He states that there is an abundance of such foods as potatoes, cabbage and other garden vegetables, but that the depleted soil in general suffers for lack of necessary fertilizer.

Food for the Americans, obtained from army stores, is plentiful, he states, and priced about as it is in the States.

Schooling for the children of occupation troops is provided by the government. The teachers are put on nine-months' duty, then are given a free three-months' tour of Germany and neighboring states. Even with this incentive, the turnover is high, and many teachers remain there only one year.

Grade schools are maintained at various points, also high schools in designated urban centers, where the children can be boarded nine months during the school term, if necessary.

Capt. Potter states that his own work as operations officer seldom necessitates use of the German language, but that his wife speaks it, as she studied languages in the States.

Little Tommy, age 4, who with his two little brothers completes the Potter menage, is a bi-linguist, speaking pure high German as well as English. He learned the German language from a neighbor girl, small daughter of well educated Germans, with whom he played. Because the Potter maids spoke a low-class Bavarian, the little girl's mother objected sometimes to Tommy's occasional use of illiterate expressions he had picked up from the servants.

How long Tommy will remember his German is a question—but delighted relatives here consider him quite a prodigy and have been asking him often to speak German.

Billy, youngest of the Potter trio of boys, has the interesting distinction of having been born in Germany.

Capt. Potter, now a long distance away from the defeated country in which he spent two years of his life, states that in his opinion the Germans have taken their defeat better than might be expected, a fact which he attributes to their past years of regimentation. "I believe they take it better than we would," he says.

Mrs. J. F. Jeffrey had as her guests last week her niece, Mrs. W. J. Jeffrey and three boys of Tullahoma, Tenn. On Sunday her brother-in-law, Odis Jeffrey and wife of Valley Springs came for the family, who will visit with them for awhile. Mrs. Jeffrey's husband, Sgt. W. J. Jeffrey is stationed in Japan with the Signal Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Yates and children of San Angelo visited Sunday with her mother, Mrs. C. M. Mund and other guests for dinner included Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Mund and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Orval Edmiston and family.

MRS. LUEDECKE BURIED HERE ON SUNDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Josephine Luedecke, 89, were held at 2:00 p. m. Sunday from the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. F. E. King officiating. Interment was in the Eldorado cemetery with the Ratliff Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Luedecke passed away at 8:55 p. m. June 15, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Benson at Van Nuys, California, where she had made her home for the past four years.

She was born in New Orleans, Louisiana, on December 4, 1858 and came to Texas with her family at the age of nine years. She was married to Albert Luedecke in 1875 at Cat Springs, Texas, moving to Lockhart in 1879, and to Eldorado in 1907. After the death of her husband, she made her home with her sons in Eldorado until four years ago when she went to live with her daughter. She had been an invalid using a wheel chair for many years, and was bedridden for the past nine months.

Mrs. Luedecke was the mother of six children including four sons, August, Will and John, who preceded her in death, and Sam Luedecke of Aaska; two daughters, Mrs. Clara Doyle, also deceased, and Mrs. Benson of Van Nuys. She is also survived by 31 grandchildren, 50 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Out of town relatives attending the services included Mrs. Benson, who came with the body from Van Nuys, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Strickland and family of Luling; Miss Garnett Luedecke of Austin; Mrs. B. E. Brady, Archie Doyle and son of Eric, Oklahoma; Clinton Luedecke of Colorado; Bruce Luedecke and family of Menard; Mr. and Mrs. George Draper and family, and Mr. and Mrs. John Mayo and family of San Angelo.

Ira McDonald, Prominent Rancher, Former Gin & Country Store Owner, Celebrates His Eightieth Birthday

The ranch home of Ira McDonald was the scene of an informal reception on Sunday afternoon honoring Mr. McDonald on his eightieth birthday anniversary. A host of friends and relatives called during the afternoon to greet the beloved "Uncle Ira" or "Mr. Mac" as he is affectionately called. He received a large number of gifts from relatives and friends, as birthday remembrances.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mr. and Mrs. McDonald and daughters, Etta Ruth Dannheim and Lara Farrington. Myra Farrington, a granddaughter, presided over a hand-painted guest register in the form of a large birthday card.

Refreshments were served in the dining room from a table centered with an arrangement of red and white carnations. Wanda Dannheim, granddaughter of Mr. McDonald, served the birthday cake and punch was served by Lolita Farrington, another granddaughter.

An interesting feature of the afternoon was the home movie made of the guests as they were being served.

Mr. McDonald is a retired rancher, having been one of the leading pioneer breeders of registered Delaine sheep in Schleicher county. His other business enterprises in the county have included the operation of a general store on his ranch and the construction and operation of a gin at the same site.

Ira McDonald was born twenty miles west of Fredericksburg, in Gillespie county, on the old Stucken ranch, on the 16th day of June, 1868, a son of the late W. A. (Gus) McDonald, and Mrs. McDonald, nee Lacy. Ira McDonald attended school near his home as a boy, and after leaving school herded sheep. He bought his first flock of 200 Delaine sheep in partnership with John Spencer as a young man. He also built and operated gins in Gillespie county. During this period he engaged in the ranching business in Kimble county from 1905 until 1907, when he bought his Schleicher county ranch.

Mr. McDonald was married in Gillespie county July 15, 1900, to Miss Myrtle Spencer, a native of Kimble county and a daughter of Frank and Agnes (Campbell) Spencer. The McDonalds have had four children, two of whom are deceased. The two surviving are Mrs. Floyd Farrington of Abilene, and Mrs. E. H. Dannheim of Eldorado.

Mr. McDonald is a Mason, Blue Lodge, Royal Arch, at Eldorado, and belongs to the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association. He has served as an appraiser for the Federal Farm Loan Bureau here and as county commissioner of both Kimble and Schleicher counties. At the present time he is on the county school board as a member at large. Mr. McDonald has been interested in all constructive activities in the county since his arrival and is beloved by all who know him.

Gospel Sermon

THE CHURCH OF CHRIST
in Eldorado cordially invites you to all services.

Kenneth J. Arrington, Minister
What Doth Jehovah Require
Of Thee?

"He hath showed thee, O man,
what is good; and what doth Jehovah require of thee, but to do justly, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with thy God?" (Micah 6:8)

The Lord has not left man to judge for himself what is good, but has shown him. That which he has shown to be good we must observe in order to be pleasing to Him. If, then, we please Jehovah we must heed His teaching. We can not learn what He requires from worldly sources for the world in its wisdom knows not God. (1 Cor. 1:21)
We must turn to the Bible, the Book which reveals God to man, in order to learn of Jehovah and what He requires of men.

Our text states three requirements Jehovah has placed upon man. In observing these commands man fulfills his obligation to himself, his fellow man, and to God.
Solomon said man's duty to himself is to "Fear God, and keep His commandments, for this is the whole duty of man." The Lord has showed us what is good; Solomon is our object-lesson demonstrating man's duty to himself. Solomon was granted the privilege of searching out "what is good for the sons of men that they should do under heaven all the days of their life."
He had all that his eyes desired and withheld not from his heart any joy. Of this he said "All is vanity."
His conclusion at the end of this test God permitted him to make is,
"Fear God and keep his commandments." (Ecc. 12:13).

Man also has an obligation to fulfill toward his fellow man. He must love his neighbor as himself.
Love does not prompt one to do evil but to do good, even at one's own expense, as the parable of the good Samaritan teaches. Proper love for Christ instills within one the desire to do good for others.
Doing good is a part of the life of a Christian, "To him that knoweth to do good and doeth it not to him it is sin." The greatest good one can do for his neighbor is to direct him to the word of God where he can learn what Jehovah requires of him who desires eternal life.

Man's duty to God is to walk humbly with Him. We should not bow before him and remain in that position, but should work as the Saviour taught, "Let your light so shine before men; that they may see your good works and glorify your Father who is in heaven."
The Christian life is an active life;
we must work that men may be influenced to obey the Lord. We should be exceedingly careful to observe the instructions of the text, to walk with God, To walk behind Him is to fall short in one's duty;
to walk before him is to go beyond;
we must walk with Him. "Shall two walk together, except they have agreed?" (Amos 3:3) Those who walk with God observe the teachings of his word, not men's word; and are obedient to his commandments.

One commandment that those who walk with God must observe is to "Forsake not the assembling of yourselves together." (Heb. 10:
25) The Church of Christ at Eldorado invites you to assemble with it.

WAA To Wind Up Fiscal Year With Sales In Southwest Region

Still hitting on cylinders while its ultimate fate is being decided by Congress, the War Assets Administration will wind up the fiscal year June 30 with a flurry of sales in all parts of the southwest region. Largest of these liquidation clearances will involve $500,000 worth of war surplus in Houston. A synchronized clearance will be staged at the following locations: War Assets warehouse no. 6, Reed Roller Bit plant, Hughes Tool Strut plant, the Goodyear Rubber Company, and WAA's Customer Service Center in Houston. Inspection is invited at all sites through July 8, and sale to all buyers is scheduled for July 9.

A survey of surplus property inventory indicated this week that the Grand Prairie region still contains approximately one third of the entire nation's government owned real property. That is, of an estimated two and a half billion dollars worth of real estate now in WAA inventory nationally, approximately $875,000,000 worth is located in the five states of the southwest. Much of the large valuation is due to the fact that the region contained nearly half of the nation's surplus airport property, a considerable part of which has been disposed of. And most of the remaining industrial property consists of so-called "scrambled facilities", difficult to dispose of because ownership of the land, buildings and improvements is divided between the government and other owners.

Southern Aircraft company of Garland, wartime makers of plane engines and other parts, will be cleared of approximately $9,000 worth of government owned surplus on June 24 and 25. Anodizing and plating tanks, pumps, spray guns, drill presses, beading machines and other industrial machinery will be in the offering. The plant is open for inspection through June 23, and the competitive bid awards will be subject to veteran and other WAA priorities.

June and Jane Craig are visiting in Hobbs with their mother, Mrs. Lillie Craig and their sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny O'Harrow of Seminole spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Van O'Harrow.

They let the Wives in!

The ex-GI's of our town entertained their wives the other night at one of their "feeds" of ham-burger sandwiches and ice cold beer. (The girls had hinted that they'd like to see what went on when their husbands got together!)

Being wary, the boys provided chicken sandwiches and cake and cider—for those wives who might have other tastes. But though they were grateful for the choice, most of the wives agreed that ham-burger sandwiches and beer were a mighty pleasant combination.

After the "feed" the husbands took their wives on at a game of darts, and later they played "Indications." The party broke up around ten, with the boys agreeing that it was mighty successful.

From where I sit, it's this companionship among young couples today, and their moderation in a sensible beverage like beer, that's won the younger generation such a wholesome reputation.

YELLOWING LEAVES CAN BE REMEDIED WITH FERTILIZER

Shrubs, shade trees or fruit trees in the yard that have yellow leaves on them can be given a little medicine to turn the leaves green again. To correct the yellow color that comes into leaves about this time of year, add about a pound of copperas and sulphur for every large shrub or small tree. Fertilizers mixed with the soil at the same time will also help prevent yellow formation in the leaves. Spread a vegetable mulch four to five inches deep around the shrubs to keep their roots from drying out when the temperatures soar this summer. The mulch holds the moisture in the soil where the plants can get it. The mulch, spread over an area of several square feet and several inches thick, will gradually work itself into the ground. Several different things can be used for mulching plants. Compost, grass cuttings, straw or any other kind of decaying plant material are all good. The grass cuttings are good plant materials furnishing nitrogen and other plant foods. Another advantage of grass clippings is that they help make the soil acid, making iron available to the plants. Most of the Texas soils have enough iron in them, but sometimes it is combined with other minerals and cannot be used by the plants. However, when the soil is made slightly acid, the iron is released and taken up by the plant.

SUGGESTIONS GIVEN FOR IRONING DAY TO LIGHTEN WORK

Ironing day comes around once or twice a week in most homes—and there are a few suggestions that might make the job a little easier for the housewife. The job of ironing can start when the clothes are hung out on the line. If the clothes are shaken well and hung neatly on the line, there will be fewer wrinkles in them to iron out later. Some of the clothes, of course, don't have to be ironed at all, so they can be folded out in the clothes yard. In this "no-iron" list are the sheets, bath towels, diapers, knitted underwear, cup towels, and so on. Seersucker and some of the other materials that don't need ironing are good for work dresses and play clothes.

You can't expect to do your best ironing with an iron that's too heavy, a rickety board and an ironing board cover and pad that doesn't fit right. The best board to use is one adjustable to the height most comfortable for you. It's the standing up to iron that makes it such a tough job. It is possible to sit down and iron, and much easier on you, too. Sleeve boards, pressing cloths, and a gadget for holding the cord back out of the way are handy things that will save time and help turn out a better job. Also a drying rack near the ironing board will be convenient for the things you have finished.

A little organization in the process will help, too. Keep together all the pieces that are alike, and stack them in the order you'll be ironing them. And here is something the housewives might have been wondering about. Is it the weight of the iron or the heat that does the job? It's the heat of the iron, so don't wear yourself out by pressing down as you iron the clothes.

Presbyterians to Build
Sunday School Annex

The first of what may be a series of improvements in the Presbyterian Church property will receive immediate attention as the result of a decision reached at a joint meeting of elders and deacons Wednesday night.

To relieve crowding in the Sunday School and to provide more adequate classroom facilities, it was decided to extend the church building. It is planned to build a two-story addition to the present structure at the rear thus centering all present building activities around the Church School.

Details have not been worked out, but plans will be completed to enable workmen to start actual construction in about two weeks. It is thought that the building fund which was raised early in the year will be sufficient to handle this project.

Other improvements are not out of the planning stage, but these may receive attention when the Sunday School annex has been completed.

DOBBS LOCKLIN PASSES AWAY
WEDNESDAY

Dobbs Locklin, 43, died at 2707 Clairview, Austin, Wednesday evening, June 23, at 8:00 o'clock, after a long illness.

He had been hospitalized four months before his death, then a few weeks ago the family rented a residence at his request, and provided nurses and the services of his doctor there.

Among those who were at his bedside when the end came were his wife, and her brother, Edwin Jackson of Eldorado, and others.

The body will be brought overland today, Thursday, and is expected to arrive at the family home at Ft. McKavett this afternoon.

It is understood that a former priest of the Ft. McKavett Episcopal church, of which he was a member, will officiate at the funeral services which will probably be held Friday afternoon.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Mary Helen Jackson, of Eldorado, a daughter, Patsy Jo Lively of Menard; several sisters and brothers, and his father, of Sheffield.

Jack and Jill tore up the hill,
Passed a car on the way;
A truck coming down broke Jack's crown,
And Jill a harp doth play.

Thousands of foolhardy Jacks and Jills ride to ruin over the center line of safety. Wrong-side-of-the-road driving ranks third as a cause of highway deaths.

A good driver develops a safety state of mind. He keeps to his own side of the road except when vision is absolutely clear ahead. Do you do this? Hills, curves and winding roads are death traps for the reckless and careless. Spend seconds to save lives—those in your car—and in the unseen car that may be coming!
