

At least two local people know last Friday was the 13th. Ray Boyer was painfully burned and Mrs. Rosa Owens broke her arm.

Elder Station is advertising mud chains this week! Of all things!

Out of the scattering little sun-showers that hit various parts of this area Sunday Hop Cheatham (lucky hound) got 1/4 inch of rain and Harvey Dannheim 9-tenths! T. K. Jones reports a 31 inch shower Tuesday afternoon, and showers fell Wednesday and also Tuesday in the neighborhood of the new Baugh wildcat.

The following note accompanied a subscription check, received by the Success this week:

It's hot and dry out here, needing rain badly. Tom Jones and Joe Reynolds came out to the ranch and spent most of the afternoon. We always enjoy a visit from friends down there.

Hope to get back and see everyone at Homecoming. Your friends, Gene and Mabel Koy; Roswell, New Mexico.

F. H. Pryor, pastor of the Fundamental Baptist Church, has opened a radiator shop in the Eldorado Welding Shop building. He has been rigging up the shop for two or three weeks, and now announces that he is ready to go.

Another fine new ranchhouse for Schleicher County! Mary Davis Coupe is building a large, native stone ranch style residence on her ranch west of Eldorado. Workmen are dismantling the old house completely, in preparation for laying of the foundation for the new house.

Mrs. Davis has had major improvements made in a garage apartment, into which she has moved while the house is being built. Logans are in charge.

The dimensions for the house are 46x84.

Way out on the edge of the county, near the old McKavett-Sonora road, Gay Copeland is putting up a large new barn—it is reported to be a BIG one.

Bill Oglesby, who is in service, has started construction of a new house in Eldorado at the rear of the Sam Oglesby house, facing south on the Merton road. It will be a five-room modern house with two bedrooms, and will be of frame construction. Work started Wednesday.

Here is how they have solved the problem of combining the Soil Conservation and PMA offices in Eldorado:

Due to the lack of building space large enough to take care of personnel of the Soil Conservation Service and the Production and Marketing Administration, permission has been granted by the State Offices of the above mentioned agencies that the local offices remain where they are for the present time. However, it has been decided that a desk be set up in the local Production and Marketing Administration office for the use of the Soil Conservation Service technician assigned to work with them. The technician will spend enough time in the PMA office to take care of requests for assistance in the permanent types of soil conservation work.

Local office personnel don't know at this time how long this arrangement will be maintained.

HEAR C of C MANAGER

About a dozen local business men heard Fred Husbands, general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, tell about the aims and purposes of that organization, at a meeting last Friday noon.

Mr. Husbands said that the Chamber reserved the vast West Texas area with information on such problems as water resources, legislation, tax information, and promotion and publicity. New personnel and new committee setups, he pointed out, would increase facilities of service.

Accompanying Mr. Husbands were George Logan and Wendell Bedichek, also of the Abilene office.

Ralph Bates, who is working at Andrews, spent the weekend in Eldorado with his family.

Sheep Improvement Gained As Result Of Demonstration

COLLEGE STATION—Houston E. Smith, Presidio county agent, reports that better uniformity of lambs and general improvement in the quality and yield of wool from yearling ewes has resulted in a Complete Sheep Production demonstration being conducted on the Ira Y. Blanton ranch.

This demonstration has been in progress for three years. Blanton has set a goal of better than 100 per cent lamb crop and better than 10 pounds of wool per ewe. This year he had a 95.4 per cent lamb crop after shearing.

At shearing time this spring, slightly over five pounds of wool per ewe was obtained from the entire flock of 1892 at eight months. The yield from 287 ewe lambs was slightly over seven pounds. Blanton will keep all of the ewe lambs produced this year and cull better than 1,000 of the older ewes out at the fall shearing. He expects this to reduce stocking a great deal, reduce feed costs and improve the wool yield next year.

W. G. Godwin, Schleicher county agent, reported that 300 ewe lambs were culled for length of staple, size, open faces, wrinkles, absence of medial folds and general appearance recently in a demonstration held on the John Ray Powell ranch. Of the 300 lambs, 104 were culled out, leaving 196 for replacement.

This is the third year that ewe lambs have been culled on the Powell ranch. Powell's oldest ewes are now coming four years old.

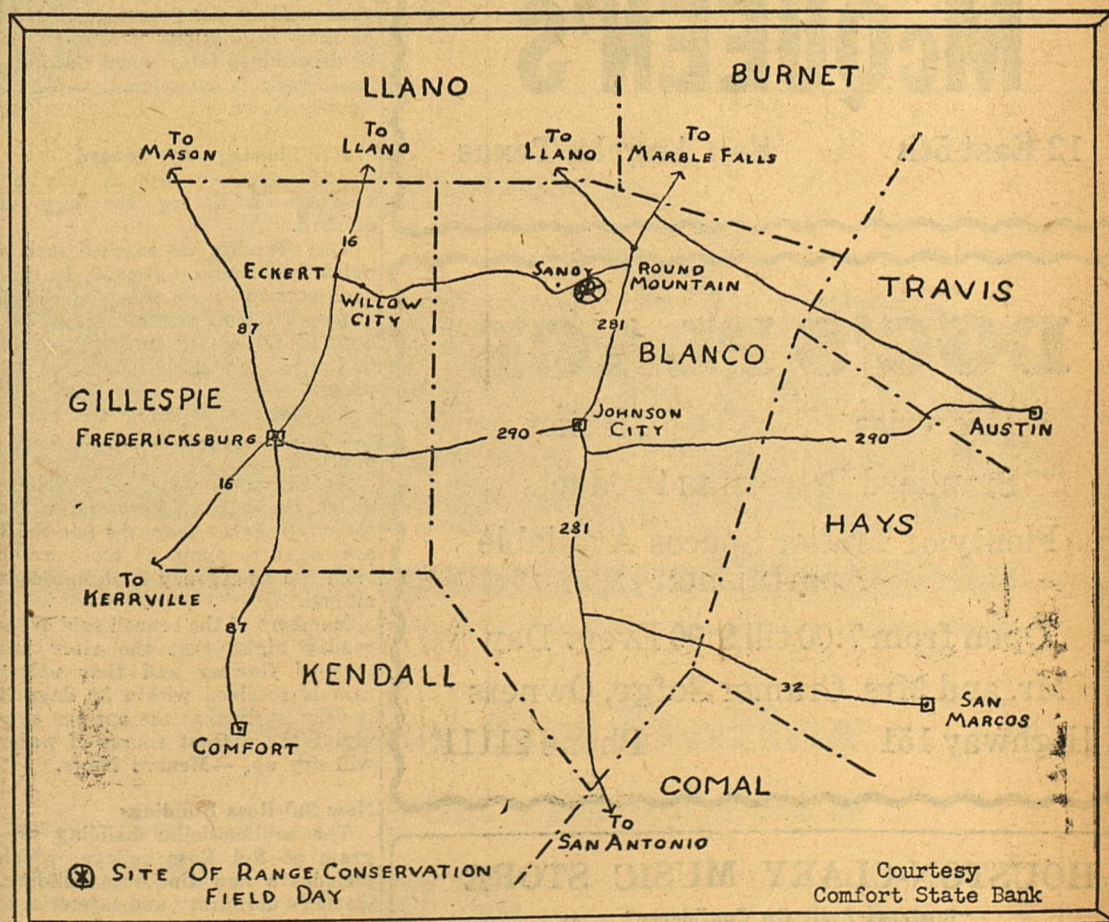

Staple length has increased from 52 per cent to 76 per cent the second year to 87.5 per cent in 1951. There was not a clothing fleece in the flock this year. Average weight of the fleece has increased with the length of staple.

Totally destroyed were the garage and a Ford coupe which was parked inside, a bunk house, storeroom and two deep freezers, and commissary.

Local firemen answered the call but the headstart the fire had plus a shortage of water made it difficult to halt the blaze. The direction in which the wind was blowing was all that saved the house, Halbert said. —Devil's River News.

Home Ceremony Unites Couple Last Saturday

Arvella Barber, daughter of Mrs. R. S. Cress of this city, became the bride of T. A. Gable of San Angelo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gable of Bangs, in a home ceremony Sunday morning at 9:30. Rev. Henry Pryor, pastor of the Fundamental Baptist Church, performed the double ring ceremony in the living room of the family home near Eldorado.

For the wedding Miss Barber wore a street length dress of summer fabric. The full skirt of taffeta had an overskirt of sheer navy nylon; the short-sleeved blouse was made of the sheer material, with horizontal tucks as the sole trimming.

She carried white carnations, and wore white shoes.

Present for the ceremony, in addition to the family, were S. L. Stanford, and several neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Young and three children, the bride's uncle, Mrs. Aaron Steward and Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Moore.

The bride was reared in San Angelo. Five years ago, when she was in San Angelo Junior High, she moved with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Cress to Mount Pleasant and she was graduated from Mount Pleasant High School with the Class of 1950.

For several months she worked at Gamble's, in San Angelo, and in March came to Eldorado to join the Cresses, Mr. Cress having moved here from Mt. Pleasant to start work as sexton at the Eldorado Cemetery. Later that month she started work as clerk at the City Variety Store, resigning last week to complete plans for her wedding.

The groom attended high school at Indian Creek, and served in the European area in World War II. He is now employed at B. F. Goodrich Co. in San Angelo.

After a wedding trip to Carlsbad and other points in New Mexico and several days' visit with relatives of the groom in and near Brownwood the couple will be at home at 43 1/2 W. Harris, in San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bradley of Midland spent the week end with their parents Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Graves and Mrs. Frank Bradley.

Joneses Entertain Night Bridge Club

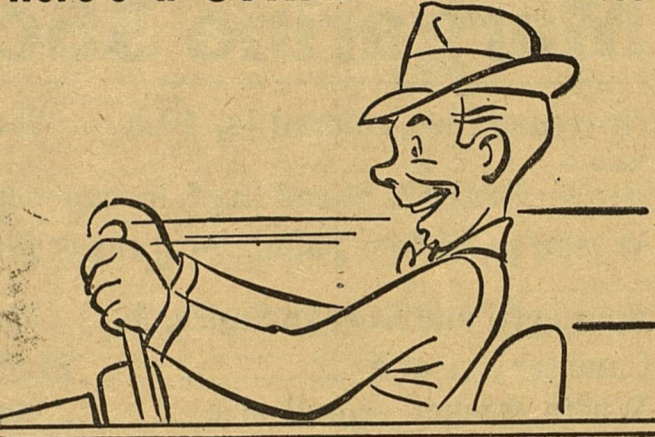

Thursday was the date chosen by Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Jones, Jr., to entertain the Wednesday Bridge Club. The party and social evening began with supper at the Memorial Building, and this was followed by seven tables of bridge at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Finley.

Present in addition to the members were a number of guests: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Luacs, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Speck, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Barber of San Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Lewis Whitten, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Whitehead of Sonora.

Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Joe Ed Hill, traveling, Jim Lucas, high guest, Mrs. Wilson Page, bingo, and Mrs. Elmer Peters, high club.

Mrs. Jerome Mitchell and daughter Maudie have returned from Abilene, where they visited Mrs. Mitchell's brother, W. A. Hughes, and his family. Glendon Aldridge, who is in service at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, met his mother, Mrs. Mitchell, at the Hughes home, and spent the day there.

Guests recently in the Ben Biggs home were the Bob McElroys of San Angelo and Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. McElroy of Chicago, Illinois. The Chicago visitors were intensely interested in things they saw around here, especially the roping, which they had never seen except in pictures, and the oil wells, which were also new to them.

The Biggses report that Glenn seems to be doing well at Howard Payne, where he is starting study for Baptist ministry—and that he had filled the pulpit several times for pastors, one of whom was Squirrel Cunningham, who was here for two revivals in the past couple of years.

A week packed with lots of interesting things to do—that is the report of Barbara West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie West, who has returned from Memphis, Tennessee, where she visited her aunt, Mrs. Adah Riedale West Bowder, accompanying her home from the Mias Amigas meeting.

One party which she found to be lots of fun was given by Nancy Nurnberger, daughter of Dr. Nurnberger, who is head of the Cancer Bureau of Memphis, and who had lived three years in China. This was a hamburger party which Nancy gave in her honor.

The two did some riding, especially in Germantown where the Bowders had several horses. A swimming party was also given for Barbara at Clean Pool, four miles from Memphis.

A high point of the week was attendance at the Opera, the Three Musketeers, with Ethel Barrymore. This was at the Outdoor Opera Theater in Memphis.

She brought back a Palomino stallion for her brother Charles. The Wests took a horse trailer to Texarkana and met her there, and she—and the horse—are now back on the Jimmie West Ranch.

A former Eldorado teacher spent some time in Eldorado this week. She is the former Jewel Flanagan, English teacher in Eldorado High School from 1927 to 1930. Her husband, Mr. Borrel, is a real estate dealer in Pomona, California, and the couple have one young daughter.

She spent the night with Mrs. Seth Ramsey, her former landlady, and gave her a book of poems she had written.

She was looking after the sale of a lot which she owns in Eldorado, in addition to visiting old friends.

Local relatives are back from Harper where they attended the Golden Wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stevens, brother and sister-in-law of A. J. Stevens of this county.

Relatives who returned early this week report that there were 275 people in attendance, and that a big barbecue took care of the food problem.

Among those who went were Mr. and Mrs. O. Sudduth and Wenonah, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stevens of Schleicher County—the Phil Swatzels of Cleburne—Mrs. Mark Holland of San Angelo—we haven't room for the other 265 names!

Vacationers this past week were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Henderson who spent several days sight-seeing and visiting in South Texas. Leaving Eldorado Wednesday they stopped first at Brookshire, where they visited Rev. and Mrs. Jim Hays, formerly of Eldorado. They report the Hayses pleased with their new location, and describe the parsonage as unusually nice, with the pastor busy, as usual, and about to start on the project of building a new church, to accommodate the growing congregation.

The Hayses and Hendersons went from there to Galveston, returned to Brookshire—then the Hender-sons went on to Victoria to visit relatives of their daughter-in-law, Mrs. G. A. Henderson of Tokyo.

They returned home Sunday—and are now looking forward to the return of Gerald, Capt. G. A. Henderson, and his family from Tokyo in September. Gerald and his wife have a child five years old, and a baby whom the grandparents have not seen.

The Hendersons' son Mike, who changed his mind about going to summer school at North Texas and will remain on the job at Shaw's—went to Denton Monday to get measured up for a special uniform—he'll be a cheer leader next year.

These represent towns from all over West Texas.

SHELL EMPLOYEES TAKE VACATIONS

Vacation time is on for Shell pipe line employees, and those who are on the job are pinch-hitting for the ones who are gone.

P. A. Smith and family, with a 2-weeks vacation, are spending one week in California and will spend the second week in Oklahoma. Steve Blanyer is on vacation, but is staying around this county. The Fred Watsons are leaving for Cassville, Mo., and will spend their vacation in the Ozarks.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Otis of Fredericksburg spent Tuesday and Wednesday with the Watsons.

LIBRARY NEWS

Mrs. Cecil Meador brought us a nice lot of children's books recently. A few of them are: "Happy Giraffe," by Cavanaugh; "Let's Play Indian," by Chastain; "Donald Duck's Toy Train," by Reed; "Albert's Zoo," by Werner; "Susie's New Stove," by Bedford; "The Make-Believe Parade," by Margo. There are several Peter Rabbit books in the group.

CHILD IS HONORED

Mrs. Sylvia Capansky, who lives in the Skeet Griffin house, entertained at her home with a birthday party Tuesday for her daughter Karen, who was eight years old.

The three-layer birthday cake was decorated with pink, with white candles in pink rosette holders. The children played games and refreshments were served to 19.

Mrs. R. A. King was in a Brady hospital recently and at present is in a hospital at Christoval, where she is taking treatments.

Ray Boyer Sustains Burns From Explosion

Ray Boyer was hospitalized over night, and has been unable to work this week, because of facial and hand burns sustained while he was working on the Mary Davis Coupe ranch last Friday.

He had been doing some work on the place, such as moving pipes and changing connections—made necessary when workmen started dismantling the old house, and equipment was moved into the garage apartment and elsewhere while the new ranchhouse is being built.

At the tenant cottage, occupied by the Lee Wells family, he encountered some difficulty getting air out of a gas pipe—he lit a number of matches, but the flames did not catch. Suddenly when he lit one there was a small explosion, which knocked him back, burning him about the face and on the neck of his hands.

When he was receiving attention, a closet caught on fire, evidently from gas which had collected there. The Eldorado fire department was called but the blaze was put out before they arrived. The flames had burned the clothing in the closet, but did little other damage beyond smoking up the rooms, and discoloring the closet.

VACATIONERS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Childers and four children have returned from a two weeks' trip to Western states. They visited in Clovis with Mrs. Childers' father, A. C. Anderson, and in their drive through New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Colorado saw such interesting sights as the Painted Desert, the petrified forest, Grand Canyon, and Royal Gorge.

Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Jones have gone to Roswell, New Mexico, to visit their daughter Mrs. Joe Reynolds and her family. They will return home via Van Horn where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Sammons.

T. WILLIAMS FAMILY HERE FOR A VISIT FROM COLORADO

The B. T. Williams family—Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Williams and children Steve and Dorothy—arrived here late Wednesday evening for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sauer and family and Mr. and Mrs. J. Tom Williams and family. This is Mrs. Williams' first trip home since he family sold out and moved away two years ago; Mr. Williams has been here once since that time. They recently sold out their ranch at Texas Creek and bought place at Gurnison, about 90 miles to the west on the same highway. They will be here for a few days, possibly a week.

Seal Coating Starts On Eldorado Streets

Crews started yesterday to put new seal coat on local streets, starting in the South end of town. Palmer West and Lum Burk are in charge of this work, which is a beginning of 50,000 square yards of seal coating authorized by the City Council for this year. Council members said that paving left would be sealed next year.

Mayor Carrol Ratliff asked the cooperation of citizens in staying out of restricted areas while the construction is going on. Eldorado's five miles of paved streets, which were built a few years ago, are already showing a need for this work, Council members pointed out.

LAYENA EGGS Really Taste Swell

Folks agree there's a difference in the taste of eggs. Purina Research shows that hens fed Purina Layena lay fine-flavored eggs. Layena Eggs have firm, yellow yolks and thick whites that stand up, don't run all over the pan. And the flavor—Ummmmmm! Layena Eggs can't be beat for flavor. Some morning soon, please your husband with breakfast of Layena Eggs.

Look for Layena Eggs—the standard of egg quality the nation over!

Quality Improves, Number Decreases,
In Texas Sheep

Although Texas' ration of the nation's sheep and goat population maintained the normal of approximately 25 and 90 per cent, respectively, in 1950, the total number of sheep was about 2,800,000 fewer than during the 1939-48 ten-year average. This was attributed largely to the absence of uniformly good range conditions and secondary abuses. Toward the end of the year it was apparent that the number of sheep, as well as goats, were increasing due, seemingly, to excellent market conditions and the increasing practice of ranchmen in certain areas to graze more sheep on small grain pastures.

During the year the A & M College Extension Service animal husbandman, J. A. Gray, working with sheep and goat producers held 27 meetings with county agricultural agents and special groups on flock improvement through selection. The specialist believes that the most outstanding improvement has been shown in the Delaine Merino group. These animals have increased in size, vigor and vitality. As a result, wrinkles have been removed and the amount of grease lessened. Demonstration flocks have been set up by 4-H Club members in several counties, and the cooperative Extension Service-Sears Roebuck Foundation 4-H Rambouillet sheep program now operating in three counties has been especially helpful in creating interest in flock improvement.

Further activities of the specialist included 15 meetings with special groups at which proper shearing and method of preparing wool and mohair for market were emphasized. Proper rolling and tying of fleeces were demonstrated as well as proper packing of bags. Internal parasites and their control were discussed at five meetings. Most ranchmen are familiar with control methods and many practiced drenching out of the shearing pens during the year. Others adopted phenothiazine salt for control.

Lamb feeding programs were outlined with several county agricultural agents who were encouraged to use home grown feeds. Other agents were trained in flock improvement through selection by being requested to select animals under supervision. Wool and mohair judging schools were held to instruct agents, adult leaders and 4-H Club members on the several grades of wool and mohair, and the principles of judging. Several tours and field days were held along with visits to demonstrators and cooperators in several counties.

The "Make-it-with-wool-and-mohair" contest, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association, was active in bringing fabrics made of wool and mohair before the public. County home demonstration agents cooperated and helped to make the contest a success.

hair judging schools were held to instruct agents, adult leaders and 4-H Club members on the several grades of wool and mohair, and the principles of judging. Several tours and field days were held along with visits to demonstrators and cooperators in several counties.

COMMUNISM, socialism and democracy should be defined in such simple terms that every one can understand clearly the difference between them, is the thought of a librarian of Eldorado as expressed in an answer to one of the questionnaires I sent out. It's a thought-provoker, and perhaps you would like to try your hand at delving into the subject.

"I don't know that you could do anything about this, wrote the librarian. "I would like to find definitions, explanations and examples of democracy so detailed, yet so plain and simple that every child at least from the sixth grade up could read it with understanding and appreciation. They need to know clearly the difference between democracy, communism, and socialism.

"They need, along with all the rest of us, to recognize principles, ideas and laws that are democratic or communistic.

"I would like to find material just that simple and in quantity for every student at a nominal price. This is a big bill, I know, but we need to work toward it."

There were several other suggestions along this same line. I am going to attempt to collect some ideas on the subject, and would be glad to receive any suggestions from interested people. Two or three years ago the House had published a pamphlet entitled "A Hundred Things You Should Know About Communism," which has proven very informative and popular in schools and elsewhere.

In a talk I made at Coleman on July 4 I discussed the preparedness program and our stake in world events as they are shaping up. It has been said that Russia can out-control us but she cannot out-produce us. The Soviets, while lagging far behind us in productive capacity and know-how nevertheless are making strides in production, particularly of military equipment to which a large part of their manpower and economy is devoted.

A few examples will illustrate some of our own strides in post-war production progress. Our steel capacity is up 13 percent and is four times that of Russia. Our proven oil reserves have been upped by one-fourth, and our production is about seven times that of the Soviets.

Our aluminum production will soon be much higher than the peak of World War II.

Our electricity production has been increased by 65 percent.

Our chemical industry has doubled its capacity.

In Agriculture, today we find four million farm tractors in use compared with only 2½ million at the end of the war.

American ingenuity under our system of competitive free enterprise, has made our nation the envy of the world. With one-sixth of the population of the world and one-seventh of the land area, we have about one-half of the industrial productive capacity of the entire world.

Many experts believe that the shortages of steel, oil and uranium are the principal reason why Russia does not make positive war. In other words, she is deterred by our great productive capacity. It is therefore important that we strive to maintain that advantage ourselves and preventing the Reds from getting to sources of raw materials which she sorely needs if her lagging productive capacity is to be ample to support a global war.

A waste of pennies...

Probably you know a farmer in your community who uses electricity in many different ways, both in the house and on the farm. His bill may be two or three times what yours is.

Probably you say, "I wish I could afford it. He has the money to be able to buy the electric equipment and pay those big bills each month."

You may be putting the cart before the horse. That farmer is making money through the use of electricity, not wasting it on electricity. He is using electricity to free him from chores for more important work.

He is using it to prepare and preserve his output so that he can get top prices. He is using it to cut his labor costs.

His wife uses electricity for all of these purposes and also to add a note of luxury and comfort to their home and life. But the luxury is just a by-product. The primary purpose of their use of electricity is making money, not spending it.

Ask your neighbor to give you a profits and loss statement on the use of electricity. Maybe you can also profitably invest some money in electrified farming and living.
