SHILLING LEAVES FOR CONFERENCE AT SAN ANTONIO

The Rev. Roy Shilling left Wednesday for the Methodist Conference in San Antonio, accompanied by Mrs. Shilling, and their children, Roy Jr., Sue and Beth, also Edward Meador and Clovis Taylor.

The local church, of which Rev. Shilling has been pastor two years, has asked for the return of the pastor, and he has asked to be returned to this charge. During his two years of service to the local church, the membership has doubled and the church is continuing to grow under his direction.

Outstanding talent will appear on the program during the days conference is in session.

Outstanding Program

On Wednesday, the Circuit Rider Quartet, representing four early Methodist leaders, appeared with Dr. Roy L. Smith, Publishing Agent of the Methodist Church, in celebration of the 160th anniversary of the Methodist Publishing House. Reminiscent of the days when circuit riders on horseback carried Methodism to the people of the American frontier, the period-clad quartet sang the songs popular in camp meetings of the late eighteenth century as they portrayed Bishop Francis Asbury, John Dickins, Ezekiel Cooper, and Nathan Bangs, all of whom were influential in the founding and early life of the publishing concern that is now the largest Protestant religious publishing house in the world.

Portraying the early Methodist leaders are four young ministers recently graduated from the Candler School of Theology of Emory University. Hugh G. Allen, of Madisonville, Ky., represents Bishop Francis Asbury, the most renowned of the Methodist circuit riders. John Dickins and Ezekiel Cooper, the first two Publishing Agents, are represented by James Lamar Ray of Lincoln, Neb., and Fred E. Stinson, of Gate City, Fla. Nathan Bangs, the Publishing Agent who started the Methodist Publishing House in its printing business, is portrayed by Lucian E. Sine, of Louisville, Ky. All have sung with the glee club of the Candler School of Theology, and for their participation in this program have been trained by Dr. Robert G. McCutchan of Claremont, Calif., one of the nation's foremost authorities on early church music. Dr. McCutchan was a guest professor at SMU this spring.

Dr. Smith, who now holds one of the highest offices in the church, was formerly editor of The Christian Advocate, the official church paper. Early activities as a lecturer and Chautauqua entertainer and his many years in the preaching ministry have made him one of the most sought-after speakers in the country.

In a letter received early this week, he informs his parents that he and his family will leave Venezuela about June 19; upon being asked where he wanted to be stationed he told the company "Texas is big enough for me."

He is pipe line superintendent for the Texas Oil Company, and has been located in Venezuela several years.

HEAVY RAINS ARE WELCOMED IN THIS COUNTY

A big rain, which promises to put many dollars into the pockets of Schleicher County ranchers and farmers fell Saturday night, bringing moisture to all parts of the county.

Hail in the Reynolds community damaged cotton on the W. E. Bruton place. While it is too early to estimate the amount of the loss, the Brutons state that they are certain that the stand is badly damaged. The hail covered 190 acres on the W. E. Bruton place, and reached the east side of their son's field. They report 1.25 inches of rain with the hail.

As far as is known, this is the only damage done—everywhere in the county, farmers and ranchers report a most satisfactory amount of precipitation, with general benefit to crops, pasture and livestock. A busy season for agriculture is under way. Farmers are cultivating their cotton and other row crops, and report a good stand. Ranchers are winding up the shearing season, and wool is selling rapidly. Grain harvest is about to get under way.

Legion To Sponsor "Welcome" Signs

Plans were completed this week by Commander E. W. Brooks and Adj. Elton McGinnes of the Bev. McCormick Post of the American Legion for the sponsorship of two large billboards at the north and south highway approaches to Eldorado; possibly a third sign will be erected on the east approach.

The center one-third of the sign will be devoted to a warm welcome lettered in brilliant and colorful Scotch-lite, to tourists and travelers from the American Legion and the city of Eldorado. A pictorial will be painted in the background showing cattle, sheep and cotton as the main industries in this area. Elevation will be shown as 2441 feet. The city's slogan "Top of the Divide" will be boldly displayed in Scotch-lite also.

The overall size of the sign will be 9x36 feet. Individual panels 5½ by 3¼ feet, checker-boarded in color will be sold to local merchants on a four year contract giving them an option for two year renewal. Rates will be in line with plain painted or poster board advertising.

The Western Sign Co., of Lubbock will handle contracts for erection, painting and maintenance of the boards. The boards will have an all-metal face and will be constructed with heavy durable timbers and utility poles. These welcome signs will be completed and up within approximately 30 days it was estimated.

NEW LIBRARY FURNITURE RECEIVED RECENTLY

The county has received delivery recently on a new table and four chairs for the reading room in the library. The furniture is finished in light varnish, and is of hard wood. Order for these five reading room pieces was placed by the Commissioners' Court some time ago, but delivery was made only recently.

COURT ACCEPTS JURY-OF-VIEW ROUTE FOR ROAD

The Commissioners Court ordered the building of a new road at their last regular meeting. The new road, according to the recommendations of the jury of view, will start at a point south of Adams School, intersecting with the old Rudd road south of the school, and extending south two miles, west about two miles, then 1¼ miles south to the State Highway No. 151, known as the Menard Road. The road will go through the Sam Williams Estate and Mrs. W. F. Williams ranches, a total of about 4½ miles, and will serve the ranchers in that locality.

County equipment will be moved to location soon, and work will start in the immediate future, according to present plans of the Commissioners Court.

The route was laid out by a jury-of-view, composed of Henry Speck, Dick Preston, Lawrence Steen, and Ford Oglesby.

Valedictorian Joins Staff Of Success

Miss Jonnie Lee Dickens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Dickens, valedictorian of the 1950 graduating class, has joined the staff of the Eldorado Success, and will begin work Monday. She will assist with reporting and do other work in the shop. She will be on duty each week until noon Saturdays.

She was editor-in-chief of the Eagle Scratches this year, and has done some reporting throughout her high school course.

She will spend her mornings on the phone, and will appreciate the cooperation of the public in turning in news items. Being reared in the county she is well acquainted with most families in this locality, and should be familiar with the field.

Texas Highway Department Opens War on Rural Traffic Accidents

Barrier Lines For No-Passing Zones

Take a look at the broken or dashed line in the sketches below and then look again. This is a barrier line for a no-passing zone, and it can be readily recognized on the road because it is yellow paint covered with thousands of small glass beads that reflect light from car headlights at night to make the stripe more visible.

This is a companion line for the center line on two lane roads and lane lines on three lane roads at points where you do not have a clear view of the road ahead for a distance of at least 1,000 feet, and there are some 23,000 miles of highways on the State Highway System on which such points are marked. The broken yellow barrier line is one of the big guns fired by the Highway Department in the battle for traffic safety. The Highway Commission recently provided ammunition in the form of a $500,000 appropriation for highway markings during the year 1950.

What does the broken yellow barrier line mean? It means that you are violating the law when you cross a barrier line that is on your side of the center line, and you are subject to arrest and fine if you are caught. Even if you are not caught, it means that you are inviting a chance to shake hands with death.

Remember that it takes about 2,400 feet or six and one-half blocks for you to pass a car traveling 50 m. p. h. when you are traveling 60 m. p. h. and there is a car in the opposite lane traveling toward you at 60 m. p. h. When the dashed line is in your lane you cannot see the roadway ahead for more than 1,000 feet, or three blocks, and blind flying is hazardous.

Last year's toll from violations of the broken barrier line was 22 dead, 109 injured, and $689,350 in economic loss. The accidents that resulted in this toll of deaths, injuries, and property damage cannot be justified on the basis of a mistake in judgement on the part of motorists—they were violations of the law: violations in which the innocent as well as the guilty paid the price.

Don't let your impatience get the better of you and try to pass when there is a broken yellow barrier line in your lane unless directed to do so by an officer, for you are not only endangering your own life but that of an innocent motorist as well.

Early Season Control For Cotton Insects

Records prove that early season control of certain cotton insects is both effective and profitable. According to Allen C. Gunter, associate extension entomologist of Texas A&M, early season control insures early fruiting in areas where thrips, aphids or cotton lice, fleahoppers and boll weevils, alone or in combination, cause damage every year.

In addition to the early fruiting, he says it insures earlier maturity of the crop and better grade; reduces boll weevil hazards; makes possible earlier harvesting; earlier destruction of the stalks and under favorable conditions yields will be increased.

Gunter points out that the early season control program for cotton insects will be more effective if it is carried out on a community or county-wide basis, however the individual farmer can expect considerable benefit if he carries out a good program.

The first application of the insecticides should be made when the cotton plant is in the four leaf stage and this is usually about chopping time. Gunter says from 2 to 3 applications are usually necessary but this will depend upon the infestations and weather conditions. Regardless of the number of applications, the last one should be made before blooming time or thirty days before the bollworms usually appear. This is very important and the final results of the control program may well hinge on the stopping time. This period of time is needed to allow the population of the beneficial insects to develop as protection against bollworms. Contact your county agent for specific information on when the early season control program should end, as it varies in different sections of the state.

Cotton farmers should remember that boll weevils emerge from the winter hibernation and begin feeding on the young cotton plant soon after it is up. Later, they start laying eggs in the squares. If they can be controlled before the eggs are deposited, their numbers will be reduced and later control will be easier and less expensive.

Even though the early season control program may have been highly successful, later applications of insecticides may be needed. This will depend upon weather conditions and the extent of later infestations.

In the case of bollworms, the earlier maturity date made possible by early season control, has in many cases actually matured the crop before normal bollworm time and no control was necessary. Bollworms are not attracted to mature cotton plants.

You should check with your county agricultural agent on the proper insecticides to use in this early season control program. By doing this, you can get the experiences of local demonstrators who have followed the program and this may save you time and money.

Freeze Bread & Rolls — Time Saver

Most homemakers, at different times, have wished for an extra supply of bread or rolls to take care of unexpected guests and to cut down on the baking chores. The home freezer has made that possible.

Bread and rolls may be frozen baked or unbaked, and if the proper methods of packing, freezing and storage are followed, baked rolls will be just as light and tender after freezing as before. But if unbaked rolls are put into the freezer, the results cannot always be predicted. Unbaked dough seems to lose some of its ability to rise after being thawed and the texture of the rolls may become tough and the volume lessened.

For the frozen baked rolls and bread, use a favorite plain or sweet dough recipe and bake in the usual manner. After baking, remove from the pans and cool to room temperature. Then wrap in moisture proof paper or package in frozen food containers.

Reheating frozen baked rolls in their sealed wrappings in a 250-degree to 300-degree oven for 15 minutes will get them ready for serving. If the container is such that it cannot be placed in the oven, then remove the rolls and place them in a paper bag or aluminum foil. Heat them in the oven just as you would day old rolls except for a longer time. The reheating freshens the rolls. Thaw baked breads in their original wrapper at room temperature. Bread thaws rapidly because it contains very little moisture and if you are in a hurry, slices of frozen bread can be put into the toaster before it is thawed.

Baked products should not be stored for periods in excess of three months.

BUSINESS SHOWS GOOD INCREASE IN THIS COUNTY

Retail and service establishments located in Schleicher County, Texas showed a substantial expansion in dollar volume of trade from 1939 to 1948 according to preliminary figures from the 1948 Census of Business released today by the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce.

Retail sales in the county during 1948 aggregated $2.1 million, an increase of 250 percent over the $0.6 million in 1939, when the preceding Census of Business was taken. The service trades included in the Census of Business recorded receipts totaling $35,000 in 1948 compared with $17,000 in 1939.

Employment in the county also rose over the 9-year period between 1939 and 1948 for the above trades. Establishments in these trades reported a combined total of 94 paid employees for the work week ended nearest November 15, 1948. This compared with a total of 68 employees reported for the week of November 15, 1939.

These preliminary figures have been derived from a Census report on Schleicher county.

Old Days Were Dark Days For Wildlife

The dark era for Texas wildlife back in the 1870's and 1880's is described by A. S. Jackson, wildlife biologist for the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, in the May issue of "Texas Game & Fish," soon to be distributed. His article, headed "When Game Was Plentiful," emphasizes that the doom of the once mighty herds was sealed by the advent of repeating rifles, models of 1873 and 1876.

Jackson's research yielded a Henrietta Journal item about a man "living near the Red River" killing 278 head of deer in a circumference of ten miles from his house. The San Antonio News on August 31, 1877, told about two brothers in two weeks time, shooting 67 deer, 219 turkeys (104 in one day) 3 bears, 46 ducks and 30 quail and that they also bagged 275 pounds of wild honey.

A Hardin County newspaper, on July 21, 1878, quoted venison hams at 25 cents each. A Mason County news item carried in the Galveston Daily News on August 24, 1879, reported a man killed more than 100 deer "so far this year." The article continued: "Our woods are alive with deer and other game. We hear of a number of men in this section who are following no other pursuit this year but that of killing deer (because) the skins when dressed bring a fancy price." One month later, a news report stated that a Mason man "made $112 this year from deer pelts."

The Brownsville Cosmopolite on December 26, 1880, quoted the current price of mallard and teal ducks in the local market at a little over four cents each. The same month, the Henrietta Shield stated that "A load of wild turkeys was brought to town last Sunday and sold at fifty cents apiece." But, about the same time, another quotation for turkeys was 25 cents each.

Jackson, in his graphic account of the wanton destruction, continued, "Throughout the newspaper record of game slaughters was found no note sounding the word conservation. Indeed, public opinion seems to have been asleep to what was happening."

Then Jackson concludes: "If one is sickened after reading the entire collection of notes at one sitting, he must be at the same time heartened by the changes which have followed, changes which reflect by contrast, an awareness on the part of news editors to wildlife, values and needs, and an awakened public consciousness."

Belief In Christ

John 3:16
"For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have everlasting life." This, a beautiful passage in the Bible points out the first step a man must take in becoming a Christian. We must all believe in Christ in order for us to be saved. There are several points that I wish to discuss in regard to believing in Christ. They concern some modern conceptions of the act.
First of all, many professed Christians today claim to have been saved by faith, and faith only. Their key passage is John 3:16. They believe that all you have to do to be saved is believe in Christ. Yet, these same people know that you must repent in order to be saved, yet John 3:16 says nothing about repentance. Now we read in Luke 13:3, "Except ye repent you shall all likewise perish." Both of these commands are binding on us today, yet neither mentions the other. So a man cannot be saved by merely believing and not repenting can he? No, for the "Devils believed and trembled." James 2:19. Now if we can see that we must repent before we can be saved, yet it isn't found in John 3:16, could we not see that other things not found there would be just as binding?
Next, I'd like to take up the thought that a man

Remember Your Loved Ones

With Flowers From Woodward's

IN MEMORIAM:

SPRING is almost gone; summer almost here. The sun plays tag with scudding white clouds and a warm noonday breeze softly brushes new leaves on alder and vine maple.

It's chill in the evening; but the earth is fresh ploughed in the fields, and damp, and fertile, and the smell of the air is good. Green things are growing.

In the old cemetery, the feel of warm rain and sunshine has brought the briar roses to budding. Cemeteries take kindly to hill-tops, where headstones, like sentinels of old, keep watch the long way across the valley, beyond the village, the farms, the timber and the mountains, yes, beyond the horizon.

Tuesday we climb the hill to lay wreaths by the headstone . . . and talk of them . . . and they . . .

New Phone Line

With the receipt of 7,000 pounds of equipment this week, work will start Monday, May 22, on the rebuilding of the rural telephone line to Fort McKavett. This is a part of a general rebuilding of the telephone lines for Menard County. The poles for the lines to Fort McKavett have already been set, and the lines should be up shortly. —Menard News.

Bid Rejected

General contract bids submitted for the construction of the new First Baptist Church were rejected yesterday afternoon by the building committee upon the grounds that they were too high. Deeming it unwise to alter the original plans and specifications to lower the cost, and acting upon the advice that building construction is at its highest peak, the committee voted to wait a period of 30 to 90 days before asking for bids again.—Big Lake Wildcat.

Road Contract Awarded

Killian and Keller Construction Company, San Antonio, was low bidder on the 19.3 miles of construction on the Juno road, with a bid of $186,800. No contract has yet been awarded. C. C. Stroud, resident engineer, State Highway Department, said Thursday. Killian and Keller Co., has the contract for the farm-to-market road now under construction in Schleicher County.—Devils River News.

Hail At Eden

It was a short "harvest" for lots of Concho county grain this year. Probably twenty-five per cent of it was "gathered" in about a quarter of an hour Monday evening around 7:00 o'clock.

A quickly-formed, fast-moving hair bearing cloud swooped out of the northwest, without a great deal of warning, and cut a devastating path through about half of the county. The area covered is not clearly defined, the intensity of the storm varying as it went. The principal path was in a northwest-southeast diagonal all the way through the county, hitting Eola and a few miles west into Tom Green county, then heading for Eden, to diminish its fury as it went on southeastward.—Eden Echo.

Softball Park for Ozona

Formal dedication of the beautiful new Lions Club softball field will be observed Friday evening of this week.

The Lions Club has sponsored a complete renovation of the park this spring and has made it one of the finest in the area. A new board fence encloses an enlarged area, surrounding drives and parking areas have been smoothed, new backstops installed, the playing field filled and leveled and the infield sodded. A complete new lighting system has been installed, additional bleacher space provided and there is plenty of room around the field for those who prefer to sit in cars to watch the games. —Ozona Stockman.

Junction Census Estimated

The nose count still goes on. A lot of people seem to think that the giant census operation was complete as of the last day of April but we are still going, W. B. Norton said Tuesday.

It is a good guess that instead of the 3,500 and 4,000 estimates made by many people for the city of Junction that the figure will be a little over 2,100 and another guess for the rural sections would be a little over 2,500.

Lubbock fell some 25,000 below its expectations while Abilene some 15,000. San Angelo barely made over 50,000, way below expectations, and we hear now all Texas will be short of fond hopes. —Junction Eagle.

Paving To Big Bend

A contract will be let by the State Highway department next month for completion of the fifth and sixth 10-mile sections of State Highway 118—Alpine to Big Bend park road—Geo. J. Kemper Jr., resident engineer, announced this week.

The first 40 miles of the road has been built by highway maintenance crews. Twenty miles of the road has been completed for some time with another 10 miles ready for topping. Work on the fourth 10-mile section will be ready for topping within the next six weeks, it was stated this week, and this work will be done this summer, completing the road for a distance of 40 miles from Alpine south.

Completion of the 20-mile section to be let next month will extend the paving south to Adobe Walls, approximately 60 miles south of Alpine. The route from that point, to the park boundary, has not yet been definitely decided, it was stated.—Alpine Avalanche.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Why "Moose" Changed His Mind

Last week, parents were calling Moose Jackson on the phone—and kids were hooting at him in the streets. All because Moose fenced in his field near the depot, where the kids like to play ball.

Moose got sore the way folks acted—refused to budge. Then Doc Sherman, who likes to play center-field himself sometimes, decided to "use a little psychology."

Over a friendly glass of beer at Andy's Garden Tavern, Doc says, "Sorry this came up, Moose. We were thinking of asking you to umpire—what with your professional experience and all." (Moose used to play a little semi-pro ball.)

That did it! Next day Moose put up a stile over his fence. In return, the kids promised not to cause any damage. From where I sit, when you try to understand the other fellow's point of view—like his personal preference for beer or coffee—and then take into consideration the will of the majority, why, things seem to go better all around.

OFFERS TO PAY FRIENDS IF HADACOL DOESN'T HELP

HADACOL HELPS SUFFERERS OF VITAMIN B₁, B₂, NIACIN AND IRON DEFICIENCIES

Mrs. Wallace tells her granddaughter, Maynell Wallace, over the phone how HADACOL brought relief to her.

Mrs. Belle Wallace, 449 Formwalt St., S. W., Atlanta, Ga., is so grateful to HADACOL for the blessings it has brought her that she has recommended HADACOL to a number of her friends. She told them she would pay for their bottles of HADACOL if it didn't help them. She explains with a smile that she hasn't had to pay any of her friends, because HADACOL has helped them.

Mrs. Wallace, who is 74 years old, has five children, seven grand-children and two great-grandchildren. She was suffering from a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Mrs. Wallace said: "I couldn't sleep or eat until I started taking HADACOL. I'd lie awake and toss and turn until the small hours of the morning. I was highly nervous. I couldn't even thread a needle. But, since I've been taking HADACOL, my nerves are as steady as can be. I couldn't eat because when I did my stomach would puff and bloat and fill with gas. I am on the 7th bottle of HADACOL and my stomach is so much better."

Appetite Good

"I have a good appetite and my stomach does not bloat or fill with gas. I sleep like a log. I have recommended HADACOL to a number of friends and have told them that if it didn't help them, too, I'd pay for it, but I didn't have to because HADACOL did help them. HADACOL has done me more good than anything I have ever taken."

Why Be Satisfied With Temporary Relief?

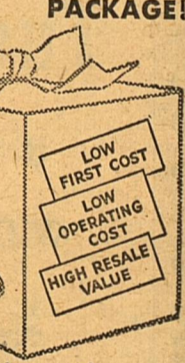

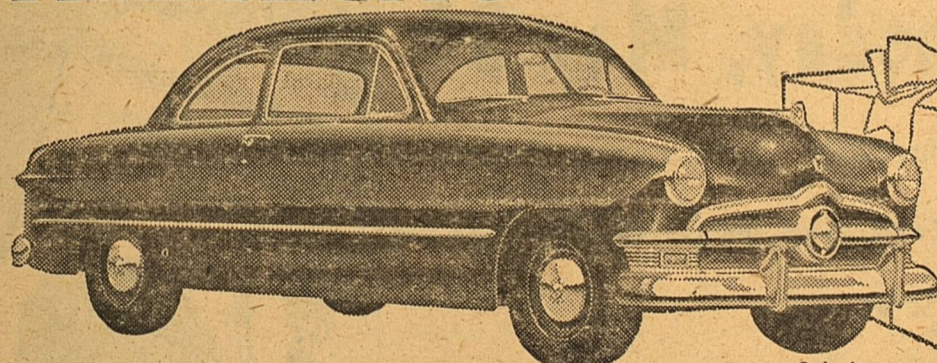

HADACOL also helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (where Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body—to the heart, liver, kidneys and lungs—even to the eyes, hair and nails) to help repair the damage that such a deficiency may be causing there. Countless thousands are benefiting from HADACOL. Why don't you give it a chance to help you? Why continue to suffer? Remember, HADACOL doesn't give temporary relief. Instead, it treats the real cause of your illness when, as so often, it's due to such deficiencies. That's why it's so effective; that's why it is accomplishing such amazing results.

You'll Feel Great . . .

. . . with the first few bottles you take, or your money back. There is only one HADACOL and it is sold on a strict money-back guarantee. So give this remarkable HADACOL medicine a chance to help you. It's never too late to start taking HADACOL. Many who despaired of improvement found that HADACOL was almost like a miracle for them. Remember that HADACOL is amazingly different and amazingly effective because it treats the real cause of deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. Make up your mind to take HADACOL regularly. Refuse substitutes. Insist on the genuine. You can't lose a cent, because it's sold on a strict money-back guarantee. Only $1.25 for Trial size, Large Family or Hospital size, $3.50.

Economy Minded Congress Reduces Appropriation Bill

By Cong. O. C. Fisher

An economy minded House clipped a billion dollars from the $29 billion omnibus appropriation bill before passing it last week. The big money bill has been under debate for more than a month and ended with a series of record votes on proposed retrenchments. The appropriation committee had already cut the President's budget requests by $1.3 billion.

The economy forces were in control as final action was taken, with Republicans and Southern Democrats joining in the reduction move. I voted for each of the five economy amendments, as did the majority of Texans in the House.

But even with this saving—if the Senate should concur in it—we will still go in the red during the next fiscal year by four or five billion dollars, according to budget estimates. The cut-back, which will involve a reduction of some 200,000 federal employees, is a step in the right direction and actually should not effect the essential operation of the various departments and agencies.

Highway Aid Bill

Because of pressure of business I was unable to attend the celebration of the completion of two farm-to-market road links connecting London and Harper last Saturday. I had accepted an invitation but was forced to ask my friends there to excuse me from appearing. Having been reared in that community, I was hopeful I could attend.

Beginning in 1946, the Congress has each year provided federal funds to be used in the various states, on a matching basis, for farm-to-market and other highway construction purposes. A bill to continue this program is now pending in the House and is likely to pass within the near future. It will authorize $150 million for the rural roads, of which Texas will benefit to the extent of about $10 million.

While such road projects are essentially local in character, it must be remembered that Uncle Sam thru gasoline and road user taxes takes around a billion dollars a year from the people who use the highways. The new bill provides for a total of $500 million for assistance in all phases of interstate highway construction projects. In recommending this allowance, the committee pointed out that, according to the best evidence now available, the total number of motor vehicles registered during the year 1949, will approximate the all-time record of 44,350,000. This exceeds by some 10 million the number registered before the war.

Unopposed in Primary

Eight Texas congressmen will be unopposed in the primaries this year according to news reports, and I am so honored and pleased to be included in that group. The dead line for filing was May 15. I regard this lack of opposition as evidence of good will and confidence and I shall continue to strive to justify the faith the people have shown in me.

One doesn't need to stay here long to learn that he is but one small cog in a tremendously big operation—one of 435. During my 8 years in Congress I have seen 'em come and go. Of the 435 who were here on January 3, 1943, when I was sworn in, 210 remain in Congress today. And of the 106 new members who were elected when I was, only 49 remain today, and no doubt a few of these will drop out at the end of this year.

In the Texas 21-member delegation, the average turn-over is about the same. I was the only new member to join the Texans in 1943. Yet after eight years there are now only eight in our group who have been here longer than I have—Rayburn, Patman, Thomas, Poage, Gossett, Mahon, Kilday, and Beckworth. Since I came, three Texas members—Luther Johnson, Thomason and Worley—have resigned to accept Federal judgeships, while one—Lyndon Johnson—went to the Senate.

Speaking of longevity of service, it is interesting to note the length of service of the old-timers. Adolph Sabath of Chicago, chairman of the Rules Committee is dean of the House, having served since March 4, 1907—43 consecutive years. Next is Robt. L. Doughton of North Carolina, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, who has been in Congress since 1911.

Third is Speaker Sam Rayburn now 68, who was sworn in on Mar. 4, 1913, followed closely by Carl Vinson of Georgia, chairman of the Armed Services committee, who entered the following year.

A glance at these facts makes the importance of seniority self-evident. Those who have served for longer periods automatically become committee chairmen of their respective committees, if their party is in power. Real influence and power is wielded by committee chairmen.

So being re-elected really constitutes a promotion because it means the member moves up the ladder in rank on committees, as others above him drop out, and with this increased seniority goes added committee responsibilities and more recognition in other ways.

As a member of the House Armed Services committee, there are six democrats below me in seniority and 12 above me. Assignments on this committee are much sought after, and the work is highly important to the nation's security and very interesting.

About all one can do here is to keep as well informed on pending issues as possible, vote independently on issues involving principle, get along with other members, measure expenditures in terms of what is essential and what is non-essential, work hard for the welfare of one's district and try to reconcile every issue with what is best for the nation.

It's Time To Creep-Feed the Calves

College Station.—Many ranchers and stock farmers in the state have found that creep feeding for calves is a practical and economical practice to follow. According to U. D. Thompson, assistant extension animal husbandman of Texas A&M College, now is the time to start the young calves on creep feeders.

He says the feeders are easy to build and are not expensive. The enclosure or fenced area should be constructed with an opening large enough for the calves to get through but too small for older cattle. Place the feeder inside the enclosure and fill with whole grain. He points out that it is a good idea to confine an older animal in the creep pen as a decoy for the calves and also as an aid in getting them to eat from the feeder.

He points out that as much as 100 pounds of meat may be added to the calf's weight during the first six to eight months through the use of creep feeding. It has other advantages too; permits marketing at an earlier age; the mother cows stay in better condition; calves are more uniform; shrinkage is less at weaning time; it shortens the feeding period after weaning and serves as a good market for home grown feed grains.

There are certain disadvantages that might make creep feeding impractical on some farms and ranches and Thompson points them out. Extra equipment may be needed and there is the problem of getting the calves to eat. Hogs, sheep and goats must be kept out of the feeders and it would be well to check the prices you can expect for the calves when they are ready for market, the extra cost of production might not be justified. Creep feeding doesn't work so well in pastures that contain more than two sections and sometimes the location of the creeps creates a problem.

Thompson suggests that you check your own situation and if the advantages outweigh the disadvantages, give the creep feeding program a trial. Your local county agent can help you with plans for the enclosure as well as plans for the creep feeder. He can give you a suggested ration or two for use in the feeders and can probably help clear up a lot of other questions that you might have on creep feeding.

LAYETTE SHOWER HONORS MRS. CLIFFORD SCHOOLEY

Honoring Mrs. Clifford Schooley, the Sewing Circle gave a layette shower at the home of Mrs. Jack Montgomery. About 25 attended and others sent gifts. The color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the refreshments and in the floral table centerpiece, which was composed of pink spring flowers.

Judy Belcher presented the gifts to the honoree from a doll buggy, and gave a reading. Record music completed the program.

Give Food A Touch of Spring

College Station.—It isn't much trouble, and it will not upset the food budget to add a touch of spring to the menu. A clever home maker with a dash of imagination and a sharp paring knife can work wonders with crisp little radishes, green leaf lettuce, snowy onions and golden carrots, says Louise Mason, extension foods and nutrition specialist of Texas A&M.

She says the family will enjoy the added touch of color and the nice crisp vegetables are just good tonic for everyone. Here is her suggestion for giving macaroni and cheese a touch of spring. Stir a couple of chopped green onions into the cheese sauce before folding it into the macaroni. She likes to use the whole onions including the green tops.

If only a few spears of fresh, green asparagus are available and you want to share them with the family, the macaroni and cheese casserole makes a good setting for them. She says the cooked spears should be cut into even lengths and folded into the cheese sauce along with the macaroni.

The use of a few crisp green pepper rings on top of the casserole is another good way to perk up the macaroni and cheese. The crunchiness of the pepper is a pleasing accent to the smoothness of the main dish, she says.

Fresh tomatoes, cut in thick slices and placed on top of the casserole before it is baked, add to the dish.

Crisp relishes served with the macaroni and cheese casserole set it off to good advantage. The color of the relishes plus their crunchy texture is just right for the smooth casserole dish, says Miss Mason.

Here's something different. Instead of making fancy radish roses, try slicing the radishes in thin slices, to within about an eighth of an inch of the underneath side, and then placing them in ice water so they can fan out. Maybe you'd like to try carrot curls for a change. Here is Miss Mason's suggestion for doing the job. Slice the carrots lengthwise and very thin. The potato peeler is an excellent tool for the slicing job. While the slices are still pliable roll them up and place the curls immediately in ice water.

To get those crunchy celery sticks, she says, cut the small green stalks to a point at each end and then split them in one-eighth inch strips, cut about half way to the center from each end of the stalk. The strips will spread apart when placed in ice water.

Miss Mason says foods deserve a lift and the plentiful supply of spring vegetables now available from the home garden or the grocery store can be used to add color, vitamins, minerals and that touch of spring to the family table.
