

The Jimmie Wests have contracted their wool, about 15,000 pounds, at 1.30 per pound. They made the deal last week.

Friends are rejoicing over the fact that capable Leslie Baker was recently promoted to the post of Cashier in the First National Bank of Eldorado. We understand that the other positions remain the same. Mrs. L. D. Ochsner started work last week as a bookkeeper in the bank.

For a short time Friday afternoon there must have been some excitement out at Runge. They were bringing in the new Runge well, and gas and oil were spewing out—and nearby there was a pasture fire! The well was soon closed in, and the fire was brought under control before it had damaged too much pasture land (we assume that Rancher Runge is still interested in his stock).

The day the Keno Ogdens have looked forward to for many months arrived at last—Keno's Courts has had its first customer!

The first patron is Bill Clarkson, geologist with Ohio Oil Co. The company maintains a phone there and has rented the unit permanently—when Mr. Clarkson leaves, someone else will be sent here.

Mr. Clarkson occupied the unit before the furniture for the courts arrived, using a bedroom suite which the Ogdens own. He has been living at the courts nearly two weeks.

The furniture for the units is of solid oak, and consists of bed, dresser and bench, and night stand, delivery on the chairs to be made as soon as they are completed. The furniture, made to order by an Eden resident, is plain, substantial, and very attractive in appearance. The furniture was delivered Saturday and was completely installed by 6:00 Sunday afternoon. TWO HOURS LATER FOUR UNITS HAD BEEN RENTED!

The apartments are as fireproof as they can be made, with tile floors, and fireproof material in walls and ceilings. The units are warmed by wall gas heaters. Air conditioning is to be put in also before warm weather comes.

A neon sign has been installed, and this with its message of "vacancy" or "no vacancy" may help the Ogdens out in conveying its information to passing motorists. Every day for many weeks they have had from one to four motorists stop to inquire about cabins.

It looks now as though at least part of the units will be rented on a permanent basis, judging by calls received to date.

"We've had lots of compliments on the courts and we hope people like them," say the Ogdens modestly. It is our opinion that anyone who has gone through a major construction project of that kind in these trying times deserves the chance to sit back, be pleased with the finished product—and let the shekels roll in.

The courts are a credit to the Ogdens and to Eldorado.

This publisher and his wife have been on a couple of those "know-your-county" trips which they will recommend to any and all who have not taken them.

Gripping over the fact that most of the new oil derricks can't be seen from the Angelo highway, we decided Saturday to take the loop which follows the Rudd road out quite a few miles, a caliche road north past the Ernest Nimitz place and Runge, and out to the San Angelo highway and thence home. The trip took an hour and a quarter.

The Runge neighborhood was overlaid with a thick layer of dust—the result of the excitement of striking oil in the Runge test. But the trip affords a rear view of the nest of derricks around the discovery Thomson well, and takes the motorist close to the new prospective producer at Runge's.

We even located the fence line along which the proposed new county road will lie—between the Thomson and Blaylock places.

A visit in that hot spot in Schleicher County's oil development leaves a person with the feeling that he is watching history in the making.

Then Sunday afternoon we made another of our periodical checks on the new west road.

We drove straight out on it, and nearly touched our front fenders to the fence which cuts off its end. We found the road bed shaped up, much of the caliche done, all fencing completed.

The motorist who wishes to take this trip will be interested in knowing that it goes nearly ten miles past the point at which the Reynolds road branches off—that the road bed is reasonably smooth in most places—and that the route provides a nice view of the fertile and smooth University land, dotted with water wells, and stocked with sleek cattle and sheep.

It is a nice thought that before too long another new stretch of highway will come in from the other way, join up with this one, and enable the motorist to see what is on the other side of the next hill and go farther if he wishes.

Pat Finley Buys Mexican School

Pat Finley was high bidder on the old Mexican school building, at $480, out of several bids submitted for consideration of the school board on sale of the property. He is taking the building and annex out to his farm, where he expects to use it as a barn. When the school brought the Mexican children into the general public school, there was no longer any need for this building. The property was moved away Tuesday afternoon.

YOUTH RETURNS TO COUNTY

A January graduate of A. and M. was Bobby Oglesby, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Oglesby of this city. He received the B S in animal husbandry and agriculture. The Oglesbys went to Bryan Sunday, and helped the couple move to Schleicher County, where they are making their home on the Sam Oglesby Ranch.

Operators are testing what looks like another good producer on the Runge Ranch near Huldale, and royalty in that neighborhood is selling high.

At 10:00 this morning there is nothing definite to publish concerning the new producer, except that two storage tanks were put up yesterday and there are signs of activity around the test today.

Interest in this locality is indicated by the fact that royalty on a $500 acre basis was recently sold by the H. F. Thomson heirs, on four sections between the Hiawatha discovery and the Runge well. Total consideration was $271,125.

One-eighth royalty under sections 71, 80, 81 and 82 was sold to M. D. Bryant of San Angelo for $155,562.50, and one-eighth under sections 80, 81 and 82 to Southland Royalty Co. of Fort Worth for $115,562.60. Section 80 comprises 569 acres, the others 640 acres each.

Here is the history of the well for the past week:

Operator has cemented seven-inch casing at total depth of 5,624 feet in the Strawn line of the Pennsylvania at Hiawatha Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Forrest Runge, discovery in North-Central Schleicher County.

The prospector proved for a new field opener on a drill stem test from 5,594 to 5,614 feet. The tester was open for 32 minutes.

In one and one-half minutes, gas showed to the surface at the estimated volume of 1,400,000 cubic feet daily. Oil surfaced in 12 minutes and flowed at the rate of 15 to 20 barrels per hour for 20 minutes.

The flow was gauged through a five-eighths-inch bottom hole and a one-inch choke.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 950 pounds. Shut in pressure after 15 minutes was 2,275 pounds.

A core was cut from 5,614 to 5,620 feet. Recovery was gray lime with pinpoint porosity, well saturated with oil.

Another core was taken from 5,620 to 5,624 feet. It showed some signs of saturation, and streaks of shale.

Operator is now waiting for cement to set before drilling out to total depth and to complete as a discovery.

Location of the new field opener is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 66, block M, GH&SA survey.

The top of the lime was picked by samples at 5,596 feet, 2,281 feet below sea level.

That makes it 35 feet low to Delta Gulf's Huldale pool opener, two and three-quarter miles to the southwest.

SANTA FE PUTS NEW DIESEL ON LOCAL TRAIN, PAINTS UP COMPANY PROPERTY, REPAIRS ITS BRIDGES

Eldorado's one train is arriving in town in style these days—pulled by a Diesel, an ultra-modern, stream-lined brand new engine.

The Diesel made its first run into Eldorado Monday, on its new schedule of 24-hour service. It comes into San Angelo from Dallas on freight No. 81, arriving there at about 7:30 a. m. It returns to Dallas on No. 82, leaving San Angelo at 6:00 p. m.

During the day it is now scheduled to come through here and return to San Angelo in time to leave for Dallas at 6:00 p. m. If it is late on its regular Dallas-San Angelo run, the old steam engine will be put back in service for the run through Eldorado for that day. A bridge and building crew has

Mothers To March On Polio Wednesday

Twenty-seven Eldorado women will scatter through town next Wednesday night when the fire siren at 7 o'clock will signal the beginning of the Mothers' March on Polio. At that hour porch lights will go on to welcome these volunteer workers to homes to take up donations for the 1951 March of Dimes.

Palmer West and his committee were completing plans this week for this spectacular new twist to the polio fund drive. The marching mothers will carry a scroll and a container for the money they take up. The leaders urge persons who have no porch light to light a candle or hang a towel on the door knob or in some other way to signal the neighborhood mother, and welcome her when she calls.

Pointing to the obvious need for supporting the polio drive, West said that this new method was designed to reach the largest number of people in one concentrated effort. He urged everyone to be ready to give generously between 7 and 8 o'clock Wednesday night, Wednesday, Jan. 31, is the last day of the March of Dimes in Texas, as proclaimed by Governor Shivers.

Learning that Texas had again exceeded in expenditures for patient care its 1950 March of Dimes campaign receipts, Palmer West was just one of 254 Texas county campaign directors redoubling his efforts to put his county and state over the top. They rushed to complete distribution of coin collectors, posters, school cards and other campaign supplies, in order that every Texan might have an opportunity to redeem Texas's good name in the fight against polio.

Governor Allan Shivers pointed out in a recent memorandum: "The record shows that 432 more polio patients were reported in Texas during 1950 than in 1949; with a total of 2,778 cases in 1950."

"Every penny raised in Texas during the past three March of Dimes campaigns has been spent for patient care of Texas polio patients and supplemented with $377,000 sent into Texas by other states through the National Foundation."

West pointed out that as always, half the money raised in this drive would be kept in this county, and the other half would be sent to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Civic, religious, patriotic, veteran, and other groups, have given the drive their full support. The Mothers' March on Polio is Eldorado's answer to the challenge.

Schleicher county gave about 4 1/2¢ per capita to the drive last year, West pointed out. He urged all people of the city to be ready next Wednesday night to improve this record.

Ringles To Move To Albuquerque

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Ringle are closing out their affairs in Eldorado to move to Albuquerque, New Mexico, where they have business interests, and plan to leave next week.

Because of his poor physical condition since his burning accident some time ago, Mr. Ringle decided to resign from his position with Cooper Gas Co., after 3 1/2 years of service. His friends will remember that he "cracked the line" for the first Koy oil well about five years ago. After moving from Schleicher County, where he and Mrs. Ringle have been living in a house on the lease, he expects to rest for awhile, then go into the lumber business, in which he owns part interest. They will live at 3433 Purdue Place.

Mr. and Mrs. William W. Gruber, old friends and business associates, honored the Ringles Tuesday night at their home in San Angelo with a dinner and canasta party for 12.

Section Lease Is Sold At Price of $80,000, Adjoins Runge Well

Lease of a section east of the new Runge well in Huldale has been sold by Richard King, Jr., of Edinburg and San Angelo to Jerry Hawkins and associates. The price paid was $80,000, plus a 3/32nd over ride. The land is section 65, block M, GH and SA Ry. Co. survey. The section is part of the Clint Pinson Ranch, previously under lease to Cities Service.

Principals in the deal are connected with the field in this way: King is president of Delaware Drillers, Inc., San Angelo, who contracted the Hiawatha No. 1 J. Forrest Runge test, the new producer in the field. The purchaser is vice-president of Delta Gulf Drilling Co., opener of the Huldale Field with the Thomson Estate well.

Scheduled for drilling is a 1500-foot cable tool wildcat, 10 miles south and a little west of the city of Eldorado. It is a quarter of a mile from the Sutton County line. The test, to be known as R. B. Faris of Ft. Worth No. 1 H. A. Thomson estate will be 330 feet out of the southeast corner of section 89A HE&WTRR Survey. This is the "Brushy Top" neighborhood.

CO-OP TO ENLARGE OFFICE QUARTERS; ASHMORE TO MOVE

J. D. Ashmore has rented the Patton building, formerly the location for Carr Studio, and will move there in a week or two.

The Southwest Texas Electric Co-Op has rented his former quarters, which are part of the Gus Love building now occupied by the Co-Op, and will use the entire building for operation of their business.

The REA has been renting all of the building except the front part of the north half. This will be repaired and remodeled by the Co-Op and used as the office for Manager Don McCormick and the directors. The folding doors which constitute the front of the new office will be removed, and a new front built, to match the front of the main office. Work on the project will start when Mr. Ashmore gives possession, which will probably be late this month, or in early February.

The additional space is needed because of the steady expansion of the Co-Op, all of which necessitates handling of an increasing amount of office work.

4-H Awards Presented At Lions Meeting

County Agent W. G. Godwin and five 4-H boys were guests of the Lions Club at their regular meeting yesterday, at which Mr. Godwin presented some awards to the boys in recognition of their outstanding club work.

The five honored were: David Powell, 4-H Club president; Bill Cheek, vice president; Truett Kent Stanford, Jack Stanford, and Jack Mund.

Mr. Godwin presented the Soil Conservation Award for 1950 to David Powell, in addition to the Gold Star Award.

Godwin then gave an account of the four Stanford brothers, who since 1946 have been in the registered Corriedale business. Jack and Truett Kent Stanford, respectively of the freshman and sophomore classes in school, received the spur clip award from the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association. The other two brothers are Sonny, now a student at Texas Tech, and Joe Ray. Godwin showed a number of ribbons and other awards to the club that the Stanfords had won in the past.

In concluding the presentations, Mr. Godwin urged Lions and everyone else to attend the 4-H show this Saturday at the barns near the stadium.

New members admitted at the same Lions meeting were Jack Halbert, E. W. Craig, G. C. Joiner, and Carrol Howard.

Desmond King Sells, Builds New House

B. A. Whitten has sold his place in Schleicher County to Jack Neill and Andy Moore of Sonora, and has bought the Desmond King place here.

The King place, located in Orient Heights, originally consisted of house, outbuildings and six lots, and Whitten has bought two lots and improvements from the Kings, and the other four lots from the last owners, A. J. Roach and Archie Wright.

King will give possession when he has moved a house from San Angelo and located it on a lot at the rear of the McClatchey house. When moved and completed it will have living room, dinette, kitchen, three bedrooms; the outside is completed and King will do some of the interior work. The job will probably take until mid-February.

GOODWILL CARAVAN COMING THRU ELDORADO

Eldorado will be visited by the San Antonio Livestock Exposition's goodwill caravan Feb. 7 at 4:00 p. m., according to announcement received here this week. Arriving in a chartered bus the caravan will give a free half hour western show, featuring the KABC Texas Top Hands. A U. S. Army and Air Force recruiting sound car will accompany the caravan.

WATSONS BUILD RESIDENCE LOCATED IN SAN ANGELO

The house will be occupied by the Watsons' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Perry. The house, which is partly of Austin stone, has two bedrooms, den, living room, dining room, kitchen and built-in garage. The Watsons have sold their property near Christoval, a two-story house and 46 acres of land.

A.M. Nixons to Observe Golden Wedding With Open House Sunday, 28

A couple who went to church on the morning a home ceremony united them in marriage will celebrate their golden wedding next Sunday.

In observance of fifty years of wedded life, Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Nixon will hold Open House Sunday afternoon, January 28, at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Ray Jones, from 2:00 to 4:00.

They have issued no formal invitations, but extend to everyone a cordial invitation to call at some time between those hours.

The couple have written to out-of-town friends inviting them to call Sunday. Local relatives and friends will assist with the Open House, including their pastor, Rev. Jim Hays of the First Baptist Church here. They have also invited the pastor who performed the original ceremony, Rev. W. H. Price.

Wed at Home

The couple were married Sunday morning at 9:00, January 27, 1901, on the veranda at the home of the bride at Doss, the Rev. W. H. Price of Bandera officiating. One hundred people attended the wedding. Afterward the bride and groom and many of the guests attended church at Harper, then returned to the bride's home for a big wedding dinner.

Because the bride was a little under 18 and the groom not quite 21, the consent of their two sets of parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Nixon, had been obtained.

(Reads the marriage license: "Albert M. Nixon and Hulda F. McDonald, issued the 23rd day of January, 1901, —Wm. Bierschwale, clerk of Gillespie County. Filed 31st day of January, 1901—Rev. W. H. Price. Recorded Feb. 1, 1901, by Albert Koennecke, deputy, and Wm. Bierschwale, clerk.")

For the wedding the bride wore a floor length dress of cream colored cashmere, with tight fitting bodice, and side panels defined with numerous bows of grosgrained ribbon.

Her second-day dress was of blue worsted. Both dresses had tight fitting bodices—a becoming style for the slim bride, and a fashion which was quite the rage at the time.

They're Children Together

The young people who were wedded on that long ago day had known each other all their lives and their parents had been interested in each other's children, even naming them occasionally.

The children went to school together in the little building on Mormon Creek, continuing in this school after the structure had been moved to Doss and enlarged to take care of the needs of the growing community.

"Paw, can I have the hack to-night?" was the plea of the youth of that day, and Nixon was no exception. He courted Hulda in the family hack, or made the trip on horseback when he couldn't borrow it.

The two-year engagement of the couple was not interrupted when the McDonalds moved to Flat Rock, Kimball County. Farm backgrounds for both also started the youthful pair out with similar childhood experiences and similar outlook on life.

They Start Their Home

In a home of their own at Doss the couple set up housekeeping, later moving to Doss Valley, and with two young children, to Reservation, near Harper, and finally locating in Eldorado.

The young bride found cooking for two an easy task. She had grown up in a large family and the ten girls had all been taught to cook.

Sewing was something else—poor eyesight, a failing inherited from her father, had hampered her work at school, and made it difficult for her to learn to sew well. Her eyesight is better today, she says, than it was during her earlier years.

Nixon was not the only bridegroom whose sentiments, expressed in love letters, later backfired. His bride had kept those letters, and after their marriage enjoyed reading them to him—especially those parts in which he had made elaborate promises. One day she returned home to find the love letters burned, and the young husband's mustache shaved off! "I cried over that," she says.

Religion Is Important

The Nixons have always been a religious couple. Because of their childhood conversion which resulted in their uniting with the Baptist Church, they had a similar religious background on which to establish their own family-life. Mr. Nixon has been deacon and Sunday School superintendent, and Mrs. Nixon has always worked in the women's organizations, beginning her service as a young matron in the Ladies' Aid (now W. M. U.) driving there and to prayer meetings in a wagon.

"I had a religious home," says Mrs. Nixon, "for my mother was a consecrated woman and my father was a minister. We never had too much money, but we were brought up to be Christians and to go to church."

The couple have helped, as they could, as members of congregations in various places, with the building of 13 white churches, two for Mexicans, and one for Negroes; they have also given away 25 Bibles and Testaments. They have ridden 15 miles on horseback to go to church.

Advice to the Young

Mrs. Nixon advises young people: Start your home out as a sacred place.

When children come, see that they have a place at the family altar.

Find happiness in your religion, then it won't be hard to do without other things.

Tithe—and give time, talent and money to the church.

Children, Grandchildren

The couple has three children, six grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Mrs. Ray Jones, a daughter, has one son, C. F., a band instructor in San Angelo, and father of three children, Kathie Sue, Shirley Beth and Steven Lynn.

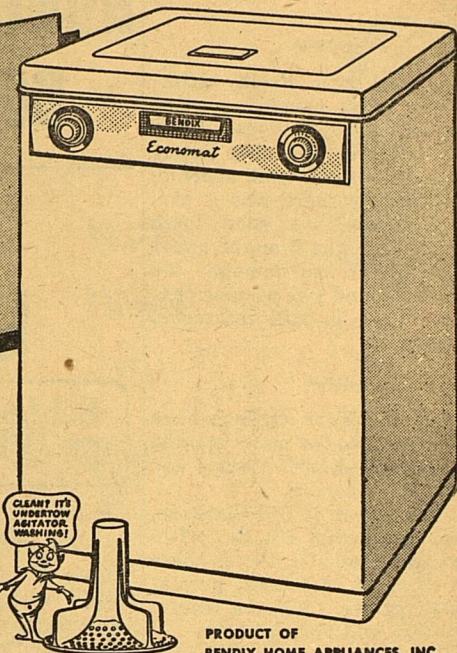

Rev. A. T. Nixon, a son, is pastor of the Baptist Church at Enochs. At one time, when he served the charge at Medina, he had Rev. Price, then retired, who had married his parents, as a member of his congregation. Rev. Nixon has two children, Novella, now Mrs. Elmer Hitt of Pleasant Valley, near Post, and Stanley, a high school student at Enochs.

Jefferson, another son, lives at El Campo. He has three children, Billy Ed, Donald Jefferson and Linda Kay, all at home.

The children and their families all expect to attend the Open House Sunday.

★ AL-TRUISMS

—By Al G.

We business gals have a world of sympathy for other business gals, when something happens to upset established routine. Remembering that Mrs. A. G. Clark had only recently had a major operation, we were duly sympathetic when we phoned there Monday for news and heard her tell about how she could have been employing her time better than just sitting around the house.

The Clarks had more than their share of the unexpected. In addition to her operation, there has been surgery for another member of the family, Jimmie Cook, their son-in-law, who underwent an appendectomy last week when he and Earnestine were here awaiting the date for his physical. Uncle Sam will probably have to wait a little while to swear in that particular enlistee.

The children of the Chester Biggs have been at home. Bud, who has been working in Albany, is here to stay until he enlists—he is 18—and Bonnie and Vera Fay were here from Abilene for the weekend. Everyone is always glad to report "The children were home."

Women clerks and typists seem to be moving around. Mrs. Kenneth Cheek resigned as office assistant to the county judge, and her place has been taken by Mrs. C. N. Shaw. Mrs. Jim Hoover has resigned as clerk at the City Variety Store, and the owner of the store, J. L. Ratliff, has employed Mrs. Ed Finnegan and Mrs. Jud Brannon to work a half day each. Mrs. Davidson is clerking at Ratliff's, Mrs. Happy Kerr is employed at Western Auto, and Mimi McAngus is helping out with Cameron's inventory work.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mays of Ft. Worth have returned home after spending the weekend with the J. D. Ashmores, who are taking care of the Mays children until Mrs. Mays recovers from her recent illness. We are wondering if the children won't be a big help to Grandpaw when he moves his barber shop to his new location.

Carrots and rutabagas are about the cheapest thing in the vegetable case these days. The sad thing about both is that many people do not like them—especially rutabagas, which are highly flavored and are frowned upon by children especially. Ever try cooking them like this:

Creamed Rutabaga

1 medium rutabaga (2-2½ lbs.)
4 cups boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
¾ cup milk
2 teaspoons sugar
Salt to suit taste
Chopped parsley.
Slice rutabaga ½ inch thick, peel, and cut in ½ inch dice. Put into saucepan with boiling water and salt, and boil until just tender, 25 to 35 minutes. Drain, saving ¾ cup of the cooking water. Melt butter, blend in flour, add cooking water and milk, and stir over direct heat until sauce boils. Add sugar. Add salt to taste. Turn hot rutabaga onto platter or vegetable dish, pour cream sauce over it, and sprinkle finely chopped parsley over top for garnish. 5 servings.

It's good with pork sausage, a green vegetable like English peas, and maybe a green salad—and a light dessert.

It's something we hadn't thought of before, but Jack Ratliff says plastics are taking the furniture field away from the old tapestries. To demonstrate how practical they are, he stepped on a plastic chair seat, then wiped off the dust, remarking, "You can't do that with tapestry." They're generally popular, and especially practical if there are children around. He says other furniture dealers report the same trend.

Mrs. Anna Peters, mother of Elmer Peters, leaves today for her home in Oconomowoc, Wisconsin, after visiting her son and his wife and their young daughter Kay. She spent the holidays here with the young folks, and has been around Eldorado long enough to develop quite a reputation as a good cook. She has been here before, so is no stranger to Eldoradoites.

Mrs. Bob Bradley is here visiting her parents, the C. A. Graveses, while her husband changes jobs. They have been living in Plainview, and are moving to Midland, where he is working for another oil company.

We borrowed these household tips:

To keep that lovely fluffy effect on chenille bedspreads, hang them inside out after washing so that as they dry, the chenille trim rubs against itself.

Someone has said that high heels were invented by a woman who was kissed on the forehead. We'll add a sequel to the story: she has been teetering on rundown heels ever since and forgets to put the ol' shinola on them. Hope that's not you.

When there's sandpapering on your list of chores, tack a piece of the sandpaper over a small block of wood and use it like a scrubbing brush. You'll do a more efficient job this way, plus save your nails and hands.

Bright scarfs make wonderful pick-me-ups especially in mid-winter when clothes are apt to seem monotonous. Keep them gay and colorful with all-purpose dyes. These will rejuvenate both silk as well as rayon and nylon materials.

You'll have no trouble persuading Junior to eat his hot cereal in the morning if you add some raisins and chopped dates to it. Alternate them: raisins one day, dates the next. Makes eating cereal more fun and it's nutritious, too.

The Andy Nixons have had as guests Mrs. Nixon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Yearout, her sister, Mrs. Charlie Bittle and two sons, and her brother Gene Yearout and his wife and two sons, all of Hobbs, New Mexico.

Mrs. Dan L. Marshall, who has been staying with her mother Mrs. Lillian Rogers, while her husband was stationed at Ft. Sill, left this week. Her husband came for her during the weekend, and the couple have gone to Wisconsin, where he is stationed at Camp McCoy.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. King went to Abilene Sunday to visit Mr. King's mother, Mrs. Gus King, returning home Monday. Clarence Davis, who is carpentering with the Logans on the band hall at the school, fell from a scaffold Tuesday and broke his wrist.

Right Under Our Nose!

Sometime back, we got word from the Governor, asking if we wanted to use the State Fire Inspection Team—a group of experts they send around to communities to inspect public buildings.

We sent a letter saying: "Okay! Give us the once-over!" They came down, all right—last week.

After the inspection, we got their report. Came out pretty well, all told. Town Hall and the School were O.K. Post Office just needed more sandbuckets. In fact, everything got a clean bill of health, except—the Fire Station!

From where I sit, we volunteer firemen had just been too blamed busy keeping everyone else on the ball—and not realizing our own firehouse was not up to snuff. Like the man who worries so much about his neighbors—about whether they work hard enough, about whether they can really afford their new car, about their enjoying a temperate glass of beer—that he forgets to take a good critical look at himself now and then.

ALL-STAR LINE-UP FOR '51!

NOW ON DISPLAY

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated, are subject to change without notice.

Your first eye-smacking look at the line of lovelies pictured here tells you that they've got what it takes in visual charm.

But the fellow who said a picture speaks louder than a thousand words wasn't talking about these superbly able 1951 Buicks.

Sure, they're smart to look at—smart in style and smart in dress.

But they're also smartly powered—smartly engineered—smartly priced. And it would take a book to describe in full their deep-down goodness.

What's been done for '51 is to take the best automobiles that ever bore the Buick name—and top them.

Come, look them over, and you'll see what we mean.

There's the SPECIAL which can accurately be titled "the newest car in the world"—new in structure, new in power, new in dimensions, new in thrift—and potent in price appeal.

There's the SUPER—that looks and is a smart new edition of its "best seller" forebear.

Then there's the ROADMASTER—that coddles your anatomy on luxurious new fabrics and cloud-soft cushions—pampers your pride with its lordly bearing—shoots a delicious tingle right up your spine by the exuberance of its power and action.

We could go on and on. This is the car that "breathes through its nose." This is the car that sports a brand-new front-end styling. This is the car with new high-visibility instrument dials, more easily read at night. This is the car with glare-and-heat-reducing glass and a host of other news-making features you can't afford to miss.

So your No. 1 date this week end is with your Buick dealer. It won't take you long to conclude that he's offering the smartest buys of the year.

Soil Conservation District News

Farmers of the Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation District are taking advantage of the continued drouth by constructing level terraces on their cultivated land in order to hold the moisture when it does come.

Several types of equipment are being used by farmers and contractors constructing the terraces. Bill McWhorter has recently completed approximately three miles of level, wide base terraces on 109 acres of his farmland, 2½ miles north-east of Eldorado, with his farm tractor and disc plow. The terraces were constructed 17 inches high with a good 24 foot base width, with ends partially closed. Bill has practically eliminated the bar ditch above and below the terraces by moving the dirt from 48 feet on each side of the terrace lines. Terraces constructed so there is little or no bar ditch are not only easier to farm, but also distribute the water over a wider area above terrace.

To date Bill has constructed approximately six miles of level wide base terraces on 270 acres of cultivated land with his farm tractor and disc plow.

Archie Mittel is having level, wide base terraces with ends ½ closed constructed on his cultivated land, 12 miles south-west of Eldorado. Mittel plans to have all the terraces needed on his cultivated land constructed at this time. L. V. Hazelwood and H. L. Hazelwood are constructing the terraces for Mittel with "Whirlwind" terracers and a breaking plow being pulled by their farm tractors.

Jack Moore is having terraces constructed on 249 acres of cultivated land one mile west of Reynolds school house, Farris Nixon is constructing the level, wide base terraces for Moore with an elevating grader and a large farm tractor.

Vernon Pfluger is having approximately two miles of level, wide base terraces constructed on the J. M. Pfluger farm, two and one-half miles west of Eldorado, on the Ozona road. Pflugers hired hand is constructing the terraces with a farm tractor and disc plow.

Soil Conservation Service technicians assisting the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District ran the terrace lines for the cooperators mentioned and are checking the terraces for completion.

For the past two growing seasons Mr. D. C. O. Wilson has deferred the range land on his Coralina Ranch. This has enabled his better grasses to gain vigor and reseed themselves.

Last September the Womack brothers of Menard obtained a lease to run lambs on the ranch until June 1. The lambs were not distributed all over the ranch but were put in pastures totaling about one-half of the ranch. The lambs were on half of the ranch from September 15th to January 16th, at which time they were tagged and moved to the other half of the ranch where they will remain until June 1st when they will come off. By utilizing half of the ranch at a time it is easier to look after the lambs since they are not in as large an area. However, since half the growing season has already past, approximately the same number of animal months grazing will be taken from each half of the ranch. Utilization checks show that sufficient litter was left on the first half grazed to maintain vigor of the grasses and provide enough cover to allow maximum protection to the soil as well as aid in soaking up the rain when it does come.

Mr. Wilson plans to defer his range land this coming growing season for the third consecutive year. This is a part of his range conservation plan as worked out with the district to improve the productivity of his rangeland, improve variety of forage, and as a protection against lower rainfall years in the years to come.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Moore had as guests their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Moore.

On a two-day visit in San Antonio were Mrs. Frances Mund, L. D. Mund, and Carlene Peoples of Sonora, who were guests of Chas., who is in the air corps, and Mrs. Bill Edmiston, who visited her son Delbert and his family. They left Eldorado Sunday and returned on Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ditmors of Tennyson spent the week end here with their daughter Mrs. Elton McGinnes and her family.

Scout Leaders Plan Activities For WR Dis.

Leaders of the West Ranch District, Boy Scouts of America, met Thursday night at the Scout hut in Sonora to lay plans for the coming few months. The district consists of Scouts in Ozona, Sonora, and Eldorado. Attending from Eldorado were Jack Black and Clovis, major of the troop committee, and Bill Gunstead, a troop leader.

It was reported that at the end of the year there were 113 Scouts registered in the district, and a goal of 150 was set for the end of this year.

Some troops are making plans for Boy Scout week, Feb. 6-12. These plans are taking a three-fold scope of Demonstration, Good Turns, and Scout Sunday. For demonstrations the troops are planning window displays of handicraft work, special programs, and radio skits. Each troop will try to do a Good Turn for its sponsoring organization or for the school or city. Scout Sunday, Feb. 11, would be observed by each Scout wearing his uniform to church, and serving as usher or on a program.

The annual district First Aid meet will be held at Sonora Monday night, March 12. All troops of the district will participate in handling first aid problems such as drowning, shock, bleeding, and other injuries, and judges will award a prize to the winning team. There will be separate contests for the Scouts, 11 through 13 years of age, and Explorer Scouts, 14 and above. Formal presentation of badges and awards will be made to Scouts at the quarterly Court of Honor in Sonora April 17.

Other plans were made for a scoutmasters' and committeemen's training course for the week of Feb. 17-18 at Camp Louis Farr near Mertzon. Several from Eldorado, connected with Troop 18, will probably attend.

The local troop is meeting regularly Monday nights at the Scout Hut. The Scout committee was completed this week when Joe Christian, John Miller and E. W. Perry were appointed. The Scout leaders and committeemen will meet at the Scout hut Monday night at 6:30 with J. B. Morris, Scout executive from San Angelo.

CHESTER WHEELER IS SALESMAN FOR HOUSTON FOODS COMPANY

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wheeler and daughter, Ellen, are living in San Angelo at 1624 Shafter, awaiting completion of their new house in the Ted Brown addition, which they say will be in about 6 weeks. Wheeler had already taken over a new job as salesman for Monarch Foods of Houston. While his headquarters will be San Angelo, his trade territory is bounded roughly by Sanderson, Eagle Pass, Fredericksburg, Kerrville, and San Saba.

The Wheelers have enrolled Ellen in the Santa Rita school and were agreeably surprised to learn that her teacher is the former Hazel Bruton of Schleicher county.

Wheeler sold the stock of his grocery store here several months ago, and says he will sell or rent his house here.

WELFARE BOARD TO MEET

The old and new board of the Welfare Association will meet February 14, to close out the old year and start the new. All delegates are urged to be present.

The Jimmie Wests, who recently sold their residence in Eldorado to Bert Page, have started work on a town residence, on their lot between H. T. Finley and Bob Page.

They are moving in a house from their place (a tenant house which has five rooms) and are completely remodeling and enlarging the house. When completed the residence will have three bedrooms, combination living room and dining room, kitchen, sunporch, two bath rooms, and double car porte. Outside finish will be stucco, and the house will have new casement windows.

They state that they expect to use the place as their town residence, and that it is not for sale or rent.

Bert Page is making extensive repairs and improvements on the Jimmie West house which he recently bought. A porch, bedroom and bath will be added across the rear, and car porte, bedroom and bath at the front, including the present garage. Among other interior changes, it is planned to remove the partition between the living room and the dining room.

She has been at her home in Weatherford, and made the trip back here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Farmer and her sister Mary.

Miss Farmer was back on the job Monday, and seems to have recovered from her serious illness. She was taken sick during the holidays while she was at home for her Christmas vacation.

Teenager Gets Appetite Back; Thanks Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Vitamins B, B₁₂, Niacin and Iron Which Her System Lacked.

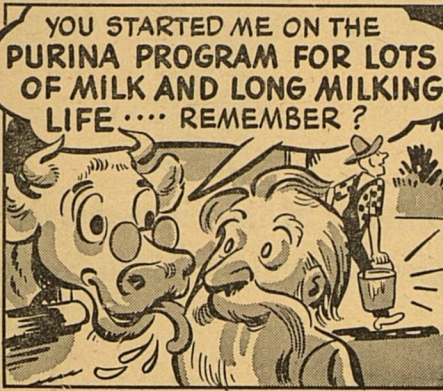

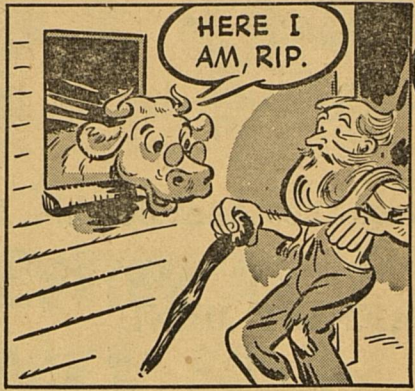

According to Sara Loraine Beck, Box 253, Coker, Alabama, when a person is only 15 years old and feels terrible, can't eat or sleep the way they should, it's mighty bad. That is the way Loraine says she used to feel, but that was, of course, before she started taking HADACOL. Loraine found that taking HADACOL helped her system overcome deficiencies in Vitamins B₁₂, B₆, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Here is Loraine Beck's own statement: "I was run-down, sick and skinny, and weighed only 90 pounds before I used HADACOL. I would not eat because I had no appetite. Now I weigh 123 pounds and have an appetite. I feel a lot better. I have been taking HADACOL 10 months and am still taking it. I am 15 years old. HADACOL has done me lots of good."
