ELDORADO — SCHLEICHER COUNTY, TEXAS

THURSDAY NOVEMBER 27, 1952

NUMBER 48

Two More Wildcats Scheduled During the Week For County

Schleicher county continued to be hot spot in West Texas exploratory activity last week with two wildcat operations scheduled.

Humble

Deeper of the two will be an 8,000-foot hole nearly ten miles southwest of Eldorado to be drilled by Humble Oil and Refining Co. It will be the No. 1 Olivia Spencer, 1,980 from the north and 660 from the east lines of section 176-A-HE&WT. Depth will test the Ellenburger.

Robert Page of Eldorado took a farmout from American Republics Corporation, the Atlantic Refining Co., and the Pure Oil Co., and turned the acreage to Humble to drill the well. Page retained an override.

Humble will start the project on or before Jan. 1st.

The Humble wildcat will be located 4 1/2 miles southeast of C. L. Norsworthy Jr. of Dallas 1 J. T. Jackson et al (Davis), dry hole abandoned March 10, 1952, at total depth of 7,997 feet in the Ellenburger, topped at 7,768 feet on ground elevation of 2,478 feet.

It will be seven miles southwest of T. L. Williams, Trustee, et al 1 George R. Long, dry hole abandoned May 23, 1951, at total depth of 7,520 feet in the Ellenburger, topped at 7,238 feet on ground elevation of 2,430 feet.

Sinclair Wildcat

Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. has spotted its 1 Margaret D. Thomson as an Ellenburger wildcat 11 miles southeast of Eldorado in Schleicher County.

The prospector will be drilled with rotary to 6,900 feet. Drilling will begin when permit is approved. Estimated elevation is 2,395 feet.

Drill site, on a 160-acre tract, is 660 feet from the south and east lines of 29-A-HE&WT.

The test is 4 1/2 miles south-southwest of Carter 1 Jackson, plugged and abandoned Aug. 3, 1952, at total depth of 7,015 feet in the Ellenburger, topped at 6,808 feet on Kelly bushing elevation of 2,395 feet.

The test is also 4 1/2 miles west-southwest of Ohio 1 P. McIntosh, plugged and abandoned March 6, 1951, at total depth of 6,930 feet in the Ellenburger.

It is approximately four miles east of Brushy Top, and close to the south line of Schleicher county.

Sinclair staked location for No. 2 Dwight McClatchey, one location north of its No. 1 Dwight McClatchey, assured one-mile southeast extension to production in the Huldale (Pennsylvania reef) field of central north Schleicher.

Operator was preparing to re-perforate opposite the pay zone in No. 1 Dwight McClatchey after squeezing off gas zone with cement behind casing.

T. L. Williams, trustee (Cooper Gas Company) No. 1-F Page, one mile south outpost to the Page (Strawn) field of central Schleicher County, has indicated a possible extension to the field. This project flowed and swabbed 16 barrels of oil in 16 hours from the Strawn between 5625-5707. The section from 5625 to 5690 feet had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid. Operator plans to drill to 5717 feet and then acidize the entire section from 5625 to 5717 feet and continue testing.

Taylor Oil & Gas Company No. 1 L. H. Hicks, wildcat in northeast Schleicher county, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 5909 feet in Strawn lime. This formation was topped at 5700 feet, elevation 2382 feet. Location was 1980 feet from south and west lines of section 73, block M, GH&SA survey and 16 miles northeast of Eldorado.

Alex W. Head and John L. Welsh Jr., No. 1 B. M. Boyd, wildcat in Schleicher, was making hole below 1123 feet in lime and sand.

Sinclair No. 1 Cecil McClatchey, one-half mile southeast stepout to No. 1 Dwight McClatchey, was drilling below 220 feet.

Sinclair No. 1-101 University, another Schleicher wildcat, was drilling below 5885 feet after failing to find production a drillstain test in a Pennsylvania lime string from 5770-5885 feet. Tool was open 40 minutes. Recovery was 80 feet of drilling mud.

Black & Rodman No. 1 Henderson, one-half mile east of production in the Page field, was progressing below 4722 feet in lime and shale.

Edwin Jackson Attends Congressional Forum

Edwin Jackson attended the Congressional forum which was held from 2:00 to 5:00 o'clock at the Texas hotel in Ft. Worth last Friday. Mr. Jackson answered for Schleicher county at the meeting, which was attended by over 1,000 people from over the state.

There were 14 Congressmen present, including O. C. Fisher of this district. Former Congressman Ed Gossett acted as moderator.

The question and answer session brought out the fact that the Congressmen were all in harmony with the aims of the new administration. Mr. Jackson reported.

Jack Jones got an 8-point buck on a recent hunting trip in Sutton County. With him were Pat Enoch, Jack Montgomery and Robert Baker.

Mrs. Jackson Elected State PTA Vice President

MRS. EDWIN JACKSON

Mrs. Edwin Jackson of Eldorado was elected vice president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers at its annual convention held in Wichita Falls last Thursday.

Other vice presidents named were Mrs. J. K. Bradley of Rice, Mrs. R. D. Bell of San Antonio, and Mrs. Crews Henry of Canyon.

The annual convention was held at Mid-Western University at Wichita Falls and was attended by approximately 1500 delegates and visitors. Others from the Eldorado PTA who attended the convention were Mrs. Jack Hext, local president, and Mrs. Carrol Ratliff, general chairman of the 6th District conference.

Mrs. Jackson has long been in Parent-Teacher activities, and is now serving her second year as president of the 6th district. She will take over her new duties at the close of the spring term.

Stage Coach Driver Passes Away Tuesday; Buried At Christoval

An elderly man who played an important part in a colorful chapter of Eldorado history died Tuesday afternoon at Christoval.

He was Jess Carter, who drove the stage coach which for many years operated between San Angelo and Sonora, and also brought mail to McKavett.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 at the Methodist church in Christoval, and interment was made there.

The old stage coach is one of the best-remembered items in this county's early history. Drawn over dirt roads which were sometimes impassable, the old hack was pulled by four horses—or more or less, depending on the weather.

Old timers who lived here while it operated remember the sound of the bugle which announced the fact that the coach was within calling distance of the town. Horses could then be gotten ready for the change to a fresh team—people expecting visitors to arrive could be ready to meet them—and everyone could know that the mail would be in the post office in a short time.

The bugle call could be heard at any time during the day, weather and road conditions determining the time of the arrival of the stage coach. Sometimes passengers would have time here to get their dinners at the hotel which Mrs. C. C. West operated.

Mr. Carter also at one time drove a stage to Fort McKavett and along the way brought ice to ranchers. Until recently he made the trip with the mail, by car, to the Rudd community, from Christoval.

The C. O. Deweys, who had lived in the Rev. F. E. King (Enochs) house, for some time, have moved to the Robert Milligan rent house (formerly Desmond King's), Tuesday.

Tart Mund of San Antonio, who is stationed at Randolph Field, is spending the Thanksgiving weekend with his mother Mrs. Frances Mund and other relatives here.

Prizes Announced For Christmas Decorations

A county-wide decorating program for the Christmas holiday season has been launched by the Junior Woman's Club and the Lions Club, who are sharing the expense of providing prize money for the best-decorated homes.

Prizes of $15, $10 and $5 are offered for the top three entries.

This project is being carried on by these two civic-minded clubs to encourage general decoration of homes in this county.

The residences will be judged on general attractiveness of the decorating scheme; judging to be

GOOD RAINS COVER ALL OF SCHLEICHER AND WESTEX AREA

Rains received here over a three-day period may be the start of what will be a rainy winter! The moisture, received with rejoicing here, varied in amounts from .7 up to two and a half inches, but all of the county received some.

Parts of this county benefitted by the heavier rains of Monday night, which brought heavy precipitation to some other counties as well.

The first showers fell Saturday evening. These were followed by rains Sunday, Monday and Monday night, to bring the total up all over the county to an amount which would be of some benefit.

Schleicherites were all smiles Monday and a larger crowd than usual showed up in the business district, to compare notes and to talk rain with their friends.

The rains extended from the Big Bend country on east, north and south. San Angelo received the best rains in 15 months. Winds accompanied the rain in many places.

As far as can be checked all parts of the state received some moisture. Over Schleicher County's barren pasture land and cultivated fields the rain fell just right—gentle enough to prevent excessive drainage and washing, and slowly enough to allow for thorough soaking.

While for some it came too late—they'd already sold their stock—it had to come some time, and with a continued break in the drought it will eventually start the pastures back toward a normal stand of grass. This will take time, and many other rains through the winter. That they will come is the oft-expressed opinion this week. The ranchers are more optimistic right now than they have been in many months.

Awhile back the drought in Schleicher County entered its third year. It has brought hardship and heavy losses to ranchers and families. Active oil leasing, purchases of royalties and openings for men who want work has helped to tide the county over a troubled period.

More Road Improvements Scheduled For County

The West Ranch District camporee was held Saturday at the Sonora Scout hall, with five from Troop 18 of Eldorado attending.

Those attending from here were David Steen, Ernest K. Nimitz, Joe Ray Stanford, Ray Woodward, Eugene Bradshaw, and Bill Edmiston. They were accompanied by John Miller.

Three Eldorado men, workers with Boy Scouts, were elected district officers at the annual meeting and banquet of the West Ranch district held Monday night in the Eldorado Memorial building, with about 50 attending from Eldorado, Sonora, and Ozona.

W. J. Fraker was named district vice-chairman, and Don McCormick and Dr. W. H. Lindsey were named district members at large.

The meeting opened with invocation given by Rector John E. Winslow of St. John's Episcopal church of Sonora.

Three songs were then rendered by the high school girls' sextette accompanied by Miss Lucille Farmer. The members this year are May Runge, Gaynelle Belk, Janice Cales, Mary Lou Alexander, Barbara West and Carolyn Ratliff.

Following the supper, Lea Roy Aldwell of Sonora introduced the district officers, unit leaders, and other Scouters who were present. Joe Brown Ross of Sonora, outgoing district chairman, then gave his report.

After the new officers were elected, Royal Caswell of Ozona made his statement as incoming district chairman. He urged the cooperation and best efforts of all workers with Scouting to carry on the Boy Scout work during the coming year.

Speaker for the evening was Dr. Rex Johnston, president of San Angelo college. He discussed the aspects of Scouting relating to character building and citizenship development. He was introduced by E. A. Brodhead, superintendent of Sonora schools.

For closing, the Scout benediction was led by Jerry C. Starkey, field Scout executive.

Bobcat awards were given by Cubmaster T. P. Robinson Jr. to Bobcats John McGregor and Joe Lowe.

Boys then told of their achievements for the month. Den 1 has been building a den shack out of dynamite boxes this month. Den 2 built a table-size model of a Pilgrim's homestead.

Den 3 made a thanks-chart comparing things Pilgrim boys had with things boys have today. They decorated tiles and gave them to their mothers. David Childers made a mammy kitchen reminder.

Each den showed their Den-Doodle with new spools added to show advancement.

Ray Boyer, neighborhood commissioner, presented a pennant to the den having most parents present. Den 1 won the pennant with 11 present.

Forty-five were present in all. Den 2 gave a closing yell.

The Cubs will sing Christmas carols Monday night before Christmas in place of a Pack meeting.

Following a meeting with representatives of the various Huldale oil companies, the county commissioners on November 10th voted to improve the Huldale oil field road to highway specifications and to have it paved.

The road which is a little over two miles long, was built about a year and a half ago, with the county and the oil companies sharing in the expense.

The new plan calls for grades and curves being made over to state highway specifications, and then black-topped. Total cost of the project is estimated at $12,000, and the Commissioners Court voted to assume 50 per cent of the cost. Oil companies interested are: Ohio, Delta Gulf, American Republics, Pan American, Standard of Texas, and Sinclair. Another meeting was held on Tuesday of this week, to work out further details.

Strain and Hunter, general road contractors of San Angelo, have already looked over the job with a view of bidding on it.

It is reported unofficially that the various companies operating in the field, have already gone a long way in making plans for a new Huldale gasoline plant, and that an announcement concerning it can be expected in the near future.

County Road

The county's road building equipment is being moved to the Kaffir community west of town, where a 2-mile county road will be built along the east side of the Cheek section and a University section, to connect to the Eldorado-Big Lake highway. It will be an all-weather caliche road, and will serve as a school bus route.

Other Business

Other business conducted by the Commissioners on November 10th was the approval of bills, and the re-appointment of H. T. Finley as county service officer.

der; these will be used in designating streets along the two highways, after these are installed, markers will be ordered for the residential sections of town. —Elden Echo.

Oil Business Helps

Oil business cannot be overemphasized as to its importance and effect on economy of West Texas. Without it many of the communities would not be here at all, and almost all would be much smaller than they are today.

Pecos County has had a mild boom throughout 1952 in the way of new development, drilling, leasing and exploration activity. Without this substantial business factor things would have been much rougher for most landowners and all classes of business concerns.

Ranching and farming always will be a vital part of the economic foundation of Pecos County, despite the ups and downs of drouth and price fluctuation, with oil and tourist business as the "extra" ingredients for a well-rounded and stable economy.

Oil folks are mighty handy to have around and a most welcome addition to the population. —"Baker's Dozen," Fort Stockton Pioneer.

Church Dedicated

Dedication services for the First Presbyterian Church building erected in 1948 at a cost of more than $35,000, and now debt free, will be held Sunday evening, the Rev. Henry A. Grubbs, pastor, said.

Services will start at 7:30 p.m. with three out-of-town ministers, all former-pastors of the congregation, participating. All three had part in the opening services in the building on Oct. 10, 1948. —Junction Eagle.

The Harry L. Campbell Construction company of Fort Worth and Abilene was low bidder on the contract to pave slightly more than eight miles of road in Menard county.

Bids were taken on the project November 14 and it is expected that the contract will be let within the next few days to pave the Palmer schoolhouse road east eight miles from Highway 83.

The farm-to-market road will be graded and a caliche base prepared for the 18-foot-wide strip of pavement. An intersection especially designed to reduce accidents will also be included in the project when completed. —Menard News.

"Our goal will not be new church members, but how to reclaim inactive and indifferent members," said the Rev. Dr. Earnest Thomas, staff member of the Nashville board who will direct the program. He said the Washington project will serve as a test pattern for metropolitan Methodist churches all over the country. —Sterling City News Record.

Truck Accident

T. O. Midkiff was shaken up and 16 head of cattle were killed early Saturday morning when Midkiff's truck ran off the road and overturned about eight miles west of Rankin.

The Battle of the Bird

Time was when preparing Thanksgiving dinner was a real struggle. And preparing it was nothing compared to the clean-up job that came after!

But today grandmother, or mother, can actually take time to enjoy herself—because so much of the work (including the after-dinner work) will be done for her by electrical kitchen appliances and by her wonderful electric servant, Reddy Kilowatt. He works for mere chicken feed, too!

He will refrigerate the turkey a whole day — for about 2¢.

He'll roast the turkey — for less than 10¢.

He'll run the dishwasher for a full load of dishes — for less than 1¢.

And he will wash and iron the tablecloth and napkins — for about 2¢.

Wonderful, isn't it? As a matter of fact, electric appliances will win the "cooking battle" every time...and remember your electric service is still the biggest bargain in your budget today!

Parents of two boys who are Navy buddies spent the day together here Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McAlpine, parents of Harlan McAlpine, had as guests Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Byrd, of Merkel, parents of T. J. Junior. The youths, who have been together for some time, are now back in San Diego, and both expect to arrive in Sweetwater about December 22 for a 20-day leave. Pat and T. J. are both in radar work.

Jimmie Woodward, with the Navy, is now at Yakuska, Japan.

Jimmie Dell Williams Is Crowned Sweetheart At Junior Hi Banquet
About 100 Junior Hi students gathered at the school cafeteria Saturday night for their annual football-pep squad banquet, at which Jimmie Dell Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Williams, was crowned football sweetheart.

Football captains Minor and Sofge crowned Jimmie Dell in an impressive coronation ceremony, which followed Toastmaster Ronnie Kerr's introduction of the captains, coaches, football players and others.

Rev. Clifford Nelson, guest speaker, addressed the group on the subject, "Playing the Game." Becky Mund and Dale West sang "Shine on, Harvest Moon", and during the coronation service Barbara Faught and Harold Englin sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." Mrs. Edgar Spencer was pianist for the musical numbers.

After the dinner and program, the group went to the Memorial building for games and dancing. Decorations at both the cafeteria and the Memorial building auditorium were gold and black. A large centerpiece of gold mums decorated the speakers table.

Room mothers were in general charge of the banquet for the Junior High (seventh and eighth grades), and other mothers assisted with preparing and serving of the food.

COLLEGE STATION—An acre of average mesquite infested Texas range land is tapped daily for 52 gallons of water. That loss, says A. H. Walker, range specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, is the amount of water given off by the mesquites through transpiration.

When moisture isn't a problem, he explains, the loss gets little attention, but right now the grass that might have been produced with the 76 tons of water lost per acre yearly would loom pretty large in the feeding plans of many Texas ranchmen. Walker says the more than 400 pounds of water lost daily would produce a pound of buffalo-grass daily. For a year, he adds, that equals half as much forage as was produced on many of the state's ranges this year.

Mesquites take from three to four times more water to produce one pound of leaves or beans than is required for a pound of buffalo, side oats gramma or little bluestem, grass, says Walker. He cites figures released recently by the Spur Experiment Station to show the value of clearing brush from range lands. Beef cattle on the brush cleared pastures produced 53 per cent greater gains than cattle on brushy pastures. Gains were 35.6 pounds of beef an acre against 23.2 pounds, or a difference of 12.4 pounds an acre in favor of the cleared pastures. Figuring this extra weight at 23 cents a pound, the additional income was $2.85 an acre this year.

Walker points out that usable forage production on many ranches in South and West Texas this year did not exceed 600 pounds an acre. This low yield was due mainly to lack of moisture and the toll which brush took of the scant moisture available.

The specialist suggests range management practices which he believes will help to prevent such situations as now exist in most sections of the state. Livestock numbers and forage production on ranges and pastures should be balanced with the reserve forage and residue left on the range in the good years to take care of dry years. Feed reserves such as bundles, hay or silage should be maintained.

In areas where adopted, he recommends greater use of annual grazing crops such as small grains, clover, sudan or cane. Water losses can be reduced by using economically proved practices in controlling brush and weeds on the range. These moisture conservation practices will also aid in increasing forage production. Range improvement will also result from deferred and rotation grazing.

Finally, he says, be most careful about restocking pastures immediately after a drouth. Give the plants a chance to develop a good crown and root system for they will be making a last ditch stand to reproduce themselves and too early grazing is more critical at this time than during the drouth period.

With the end of 1952 only a few weeks away, rainfall for Schleicher County still remains far below average. The ten year average from 1941 through 1950 for the Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation District is 17.96 inches. This average was taken from several rain gauges located in different parts of the district.

The ten-year average had a high rainfall year of 27.25 inches for 1949 and a low of 13.30 inches for 1947. The ten year average also shows five years above and five years below the 17.96 inch average.

The average to date for 1952 is 6.08 inches of rain. April and May have been the high rainfall months with 3.96 inches average for the two months.

Farmers and ranchers of the Eldorado Divide SCD agree that with no moisture in the soil at the beginning of the year very little crops can be grown on the 6.08 inches of rain. It is also a known fact that good yields have been realized in a low rainfall year when there was a good bottom season at the beginning of the year.

Cooperators of the Eldorado-Divide SCD have constructed level terraces on several thousand acres of cropland to hold the water on the land when it does rain. By holding the water on the land in good rainfall years, it is stored in the soil and is available to crops in low rainfall years.

To realize the maximum benefits from terraces they should be maintained each year. Terraces constructed to the needed height, width and end closure soon lose their needed height and end closures if not maintained regularly. Terraces maintained each year do not require much time to do a good job and are ready for big rains at all times. Terraces needing more height and end closures can let several inches of rain run off in one good rain. Valuable water needed to produce crops, along with good topsoil, is lost.

When we consider that one acre inch of water stored in the soil means 27,152 gallons of water, it is easy to realize the importance of maintaining terraces to the proper height, width, and end closures.

The product of decayed organic matter is humus, which is one of the most important things in the soil. Therefore, organic matter is one of the three constituents that must be applied to permanently maintain the productive power of the soil. Sufficient amounts of organic matter can be obtained by turning back crop residues and including a legume in the rotation. Production records have proven that as a soil becomes depleted of organic matter its ability to produce good crops declines.

A soil with a grass cover is gradually enriched in organic matter. Loss of organic matter begins with cultivation. When decay of the soil and roots sets in, nitrogen and minerals are set free for the use of the cultivated crops, and by a process of oxidation organic matter is lost. The longer cultivation is continued, the more the soil is depleted of organic matter. Continued cultivation results in loss of organic matter, and if allowed to go too far, declining crop yields will result. Therefore, crop rotations to leave sufficient amounts of residue should be planned to maintain the quantity of organic matter in the soil, as decayed plant material is the source of nearly all of the organic matter in the soil.

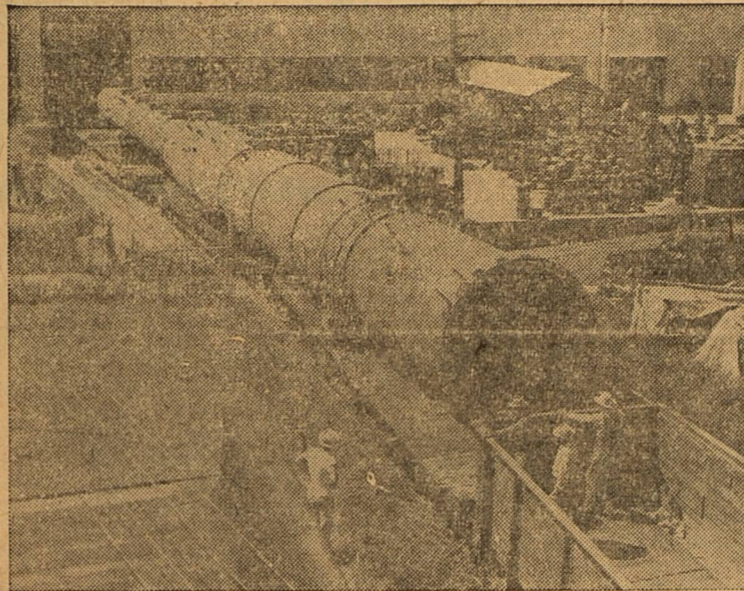

"Cropping results shows a loss of 2 per cent of the soil's organic matter and nitrogen each time a crop of corn is grown without return of residues, and a one per cent loss for a crop of small grain."

Organic matter functions mainly as it is decayed and destroyed. A soil is more productive as more organic matter is regularly destroyed. Its presence in the soil is of value during certain stages of decay, when it influences soil structure and water relations, and when it functions in holding plant food in readily available form much more effectively than does any other mineral of the soil. The objective should be to have a steady supply of organic matter undergoing these processes for the benefit of the growing crop.

PEACETIME "BIG GUN"

Not a "Big Gun" but a huge, ultra-modern unit for refining oil, this column starts on its journey from the Black, Sivalls & Bryson, Inc., plant in Oklahoma City, Okla., to Shell Oil Company refinery at Wood River, Illinois. It is the largest one piece vessel ever shipped from the plant, weighing 225,000 pounds and measuring 151 feet in length. Three special flatcars are required to move it, and fences and electric wire poles along the railroad line must be torn down so that it can be snaked around sharp curves. Hints Are Offered On Saving Deer Meat

COLLEGE STATION—Between 30 and 40,000 legal deer normally are harvested in Texas yearly. Although weather conditions haven't been favorable for deer, R. E. Callender, wildlife conservation specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says hunting this year should be fairly good.

The specialist counsels hunters to observe rules of safety not only while traveling to hunting areas, but especially while hunting. Most hunting accidents, he adds, can be prevented.

Taking care of the kill is listed by Callender as a highlight of the deer hunting trip. He says experienced hunters go prepared. Minimum equipment comprises a good hunting knife, 15 to 20 feet of very small rope or sash cord, a pad of clean white cloth, and a deer sack seven or eight feet long of lightweight unbleached domestic. Of course, he adds, each hunter will use the type of gun best suited to the section in which he is hunting. Proper care of the meat begins immediately after the kill. A good job of bleeding improves its keeping and quality. Next, he says, field dress the carcass by removing all viscera and use the clean cloth to wipe the body cavity dry. Then slip the deer sack over the carcass and tie it securely around the base of the antlers to prevent damage from flies and other insects. The carcass should be hung in the shade of a tree or placed in a shady spot on the ground until it is taken into camp.

In camp the carcass should be hung in a cool place with the chest cavity propped open to facilitate cooling. If the animal was badly shot, especially in the abdomen, it may be necessary to rinse out the body cavity. When this is done, Callender says to wipe out the cavity and keep the carcass dry from then on.

He says the carcass should be hung outside during the night and if the daytime temperature is warm it should be wrapped in blankets or tarps and placed in the shade. He doesn't advise tying the deer on the fender for the trip home unless the weather is cool or the trip is made at night. It's better, he says, to get the meat away from the hot car motor and out of the sun.

Now for saving the meat after it reaches the home. The faster, and a good means of preservation, is freezing. The shoulder, neck and lower portion of the ribs, when boned, make good sausage. Grind the meat and use three parts deer meat to one of pork back fat. For a drier product, he says, make it four to one. Season with one and a third cups of salt and three-fourths cup black pepper to 50 pounds of meat. Sage may be added if desired.

For curing the thicker, plumper muscles, he likes to use one and a half pounds of salt, a quarter pound of sugar and an ounce of saltpeter dissolved in one gallon of water. Weigh the meat in the container so it will be fully covered with the brine. For best results leave the meat in the brine for two days for each pound of meat per piece and do the curing at temperatures of 36 to 38 degrees F. The meat may be eaten at once or smoked and held for later use.

Regardless of how the meat is preserved, Callender says, save it.

WOMAN'S CLUB

Eldorado Woman's club met Tuesday, November 25, in the club room. Following flag salute Mrs. V. G. Tisdale gave the devotional. Mrs. Archie Mittel was speaker and her subject was "Public Education, Keystone of Democracy." Mrs. Mittel stated that the welfare of America depends on how well we solve the problems of education. She named several problems, among them lack of funds, shortage of teachers, inadequate buildings, and lack of testing and counseling service to guide and meet needs of communities.

The major problem is generally considered to be teacher shortage and it was suggested that it is the responsibility of Federated women to work for better salaries and standards to induce more capable young people to choose teaching careers. This might be done by broadening the field of adult education, better qualified trustees and possibly by offering scholarships to students who will study for the teaching profession.

At the business session, presided over by Mrs. Edwin Jackson, it was announced that there are still available some china plates for sale. Mrs. Ogden, U. S. O. scrapbook chairman, asked cooperation in this project for service personnel.

Report of club counselor, Mrs. V. G. Tisdale, was heard. She read the report of "An Average American Housewife's Trip Abroad."

Mrs. L. D. Ochsner, hostess, served refreshments to 14 members.

The next meeting will be held on Dec. 9th in the Methodist church parlors with Mrs. Keno Ogden and Mrs. J. E. Tisdale hostesses. This is the only December meeting scheduled and will be an open meeting with the Christmas theme.

Interfacings In Dress Making Discussed

In dressmaking an interfacing is used to give body and a professional look to a garment. The extra fabric helps the garment to hold shape, prevents loosely woven material from stretching or sagging, and gives crispness to places like collars and cuffs.

Clothing specialists for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service say the kind of interfacing fabric and where you use it depends on the fabric and design of the garment you are sewing. For instance in the jerseys so popular this fall, a permanent finished net or marquisette can be used as interfacing across the shoulders of the dress and down the fronts of the blouse.

The specialists say firm, lightweight muslin can be used for interfacing down the fronts of a jacket, in the collar and cuffs, hip padding, inside the skirt band, in dressmaker suits and coats of linen, or rayon suitings and lightweight wool.

When you make interfacings check the fabric and if it is not pre-shrunk, shrink before cutting and press carefully. If the pattern does not include a separate piece for interfacing, use the pattern piece and cut on the same grain as the faced piece of the garment. The specialists suggest following the guide sheet of the pattern for general instructions on the use of interfacings.

Other information on applying the interfacing, attaching the facings, and interfacing skirt bands is given in the new publication L-170, Interfacings In Dressmaking.

Mrs. Lizzie McAngus was called to Austin last week because of the illness of her sister Mrs. Annie Berry, who had an operation in a hospital there. She will probably remain there until about the first.

Geese Returned To Hospital

The two geese that disappeared from the Santa Anna Hospital last week were returned late one afternoon, with no one knowing just the why or when, but they were returned and everybody is happy, including the geese. —Santa Anna News.

Not On An Insulator!

COST OF
1 BROKEN
INSULATOR $225

Seems like a high price to pay for a pound or so of porcelain, doesn't it? Yet that's just what it cost one co-op recently to replace an insulator broken by a very thoughtless fellow with a rifle and nothing else to shoot at. It took over 75 man-hours and 180 miles of line inspection to locate and repair the insulator.

The man who fired the shot just couldn't realize that he would cause all that trouble and expense. More important, he probably couldn't realize that the outage his stupidity caused would work a real hardship on many consumers on that line.

And "hardship" doesn't just mean that those folks wouldn't have any lights. In the present emergency, farmers and ranchmen are depending more and more on electricity to help them do the job of producing the food and fiber that is needed.

Our job is to keep the farmers and ranchmen supplied with that electricity, and to extend service to farms not yet electrified. Please don't make us take time from that job to repair equipment that wouldn't be damaged except for thoughtless shooting.

We would like to ask every member of this community to do one thing: When you use a gun, use your head. Don't sabotage vital electrical equipment.

Bible Day Observed By Junior Woman's Club

Bible Day was observed by the Junior Woman's club Thursday evening with Rev. Clifford Nelson of the First Baptist church speaking on "Religion, Our Greatest American Heritage." He stressed that even though we have a wonderful educational system, that we excel in power on land and sea, that we have an abundance of wealth, we are only able to have this great heritage through one great blessing and that is the blessing of freedom. The desire of freedom led to the founding of this nation. Rev. Nelson urged that we guard the most important freedom of all, freedom of religion; for all other freedoms are fostered from this one great freedom. We should be aware that this freedom of religion is endangered by enemies from within as well as without—that communism's one big aim is to destroy religion. He also stated that as long as we uphold our constitution which provides freedom of religion and as long as we do not become indifferent to religion and as long as we continue to teach—to learn—to keep our church doors open, then communists or other enemies can never take this, our greatest freedom, from us.

Mrs. E. C. Peters presided in the absence of the president.

The club voted to cosponsor with the Lions Club a city wide Christmas decoration contest. Prizes will

First Baptist News

Our attendance suffered Sunday. We had only 182 in Sunday School and 68 in our training union. This makes our average for November through the first four Sundays 226. Let us make an earnest effort this Sunday to keep this average up well above the 200 mark. The orchids were won Sunday by the Intermediate and young people with a grade of 64. The onions went to the nursery with a grade of 33. Certainly we are grateful for the rain that has fallen. Let us show our gratitude by being in the Lord's house this Sunday to worship him.

The Concho Valley Youth meeting will be held this Saturday evening at the Harris Avenue Baptist Church in San Angelo. The Life Service Band of Hardin Simmons University will bring the program. We trust that many of our young people will make plans to attend this meeting. We will meet at the church at 6:00 p.m. Saturday and we still need more cars. If you will share your car with us for this program let us know. Call Brother Nelson at the church and let him know that you can take your car. We won the attendance banner at the last meeting. Come on and let us bring it back again.

We had a wonderful meeting at our workers conference for Sunday School this Tuesday evening. The intermediate department was in charge of arrangements. They brought a wonderful devotional Brother O. Byron Richardson was our inspirational speaker and challenged our hearts with a good warm message. The men's quartet from the Park Heights church brought our special music. Fine departmental planning meetings were held. If you haven't been making these meetings you don't realize what you have been missing. The next meeting will be December 30. Right now pledge yourself that you will be in that meeting. The Junior department will have charge of devotional and arrangements for the December meeting.

Two important dates in December. Sunday, December 7 we will have the Mission band from Howard Payne with us. They will have charge of the morning services. And will present their play at the training union hour. There will be a covered dish luncheon at the church that Sunday at noon. Plan now to be with us for these fine services. Then from December 8 through 12 we will have our Sunday school week of emphasis. There will be three books offered, "Building A Standard Sunday School," "The Place and the Sunday School In Evangelism," and "Jesus The Teacher." We trust that every officer and teacher and person interested in Sunday school work will take these books.

We always are happy to have visitors in our services. If you are a Baptist living in Eldorado we offer you our church for a church home. If you have no choice of church we issue you a cordial welcome to worship with us. Our pastor will preach at both services this Sunday. His sermon subjects will be, "The Cross and Missions," and "Are We Thermometer or Thermostat Christians?" Come and worship with us in The Friendly Church With A Spiritual Program.

We are happy to announce that we now have a dependable nursery worker who will be able to work with our nursery. The nursery will be open on Sunday mornings and evenings at the worship hour for children of nursery age only. The nursery will also be open on Monday afternoons for those of nursery age. Our nursery worker will be able to keep the nursery for classes or groups who might wish to employ her if you will give her sufficient notice.

Hunting Is Good

The first two days of the current hunting season, which opened Sunday, saw more deer brought into the Mason Ice and Storage plant than were brought in for the entire season last year. The 1951 total was 414, the poorest season in many years, and this morning the count at the ice plant was 731.

On opening day a year ago fewer than 50 bucks were placed in storage. By late Sunday night this year the count was 309. —Mason Co. News.

The W. H. Hale family have gone to Iran to spend Thanksgiving with Mr. Hale's brother Glenn and his family.

Mrs. Jud Brannan spent Saturday and Sunday in San Angelo visiting her daughter Mrs. Clyde Evans.

Wiley Hight and son Hubert Coy hunted near Mason with a group of relatives from that locality. They had no luck but two others in the group brought home bucks. Mrs. Hight and the children stayed at London with Wiley's mother Mrs. J. O. Hight from Wednesday through Sunday and the family returned home Sunday night.

Arriving here Wednesday to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with their parents Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Meador were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Beach of McCamey and Jack and his family of Dallas. All will return home Sunday.

Mrs. Ben Isaacs has returned from a visit with Junior and his family at Fredericksburg. A niece and her husband Mr. and Mrs. Tom Prickett and two children of Dallas have been visiting here with her, also with Jack Shugart and his family and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. McCormack. Mrs. Bertha Shugart of Dallas is also visiting here.

Suzie Linthicum of TCU arrived home Wednesday from Ft. Worth to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Linthicum. Miss Barbara Biggs of Beaumont, also a TCU student, will arrive here Friday to visit in the Linthicum home, after spending Thanksgiving with a sister in Ozona.

Rev. Ralph Bates, who has closed his barber shop at Rule, is at home for the time. He and his family attended healing services in San Angelo Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Way King returned last week from Stratford where she visited her daughter Mrs. A. J. Burk, who is improving after her recent illness.

Lola Beth Ballew and Rita Ann Elder of the State University, are among the University students arriving home this week for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Schuller and children returned Saturday to their home in Houston after spending ten days here on business and visiting relatives. Mrs. Schuller's mother, Mrs. B. F. Jones, who has been sick, accompanied them home for an indefinite stay.

Tretta Fae Mace, Mary Dell Edmiston, Sonny Stanford and probably others from Texas Tech came in today to spend their Thanksgiving holidays with home folks in Schleicher County.
