NUMBER 28

Own An Old Report Card? Bring It To Homecoming

Classes from 1895 on will be represented at the third annual Homecoming of Eldorado exes, the second Sunday in August, which will be the 9th. Mrs. Gus Love, who is in general charge of arrangements, states that she has already had many inquiries concerning the Homecoming, with many promises to attend—though the invitations will not be mailed out until this week or later.

This is not just for graduates of the local school. "Anyone who attended any school of Schleicher County is an ex, according to our definition, and is urgently invited to attend," states Mrs. Love.

She asks that everyone who lives here—or anyone within reach of the publicity on the event—consider himself a committee of one to talk up the affair.

Registration will be at 9:00 a.m. in the school lobby. In connection with registration there will be a receiving line of all ex-teachers who can be prevailed upon to be in Eldorado on that day. At 10:00 there will be a program in the school auditorium, at which a high point will be awarding of a prize to the person who brings in the oldest report card. A speaker, whose name will be revealed at a later date, will be on hand to provide the main part of the program.

Orland Feeds 'Em
At 12:15, barbecue by Orland Harris from his portable barbecue pit will be served at $1 per plate on the courthouse lawn. Visiting will be the order of the day in the early hours of the afternoon. At 5:00 there will be a parade of the various classes.

Harrison Texans of San Angelo will play for the big free dance, which will be held at night in the Memorial Building. In addition Mrs. Love, who has an eye to next year's Homecoming purse, announces cake and pie bingo through the evening.

C. F. Jones, a product of the local school, will bring his High School band from Lakeview. Also the Eldorado school band will perform, according to announcement made by Bandmaster Ludwig, who was in Eldorado the other day, and who announces that all band folks should meet at 8:00 that morning to prepare for their day's performances.

A capable list of workers, who will draft in what help they need, is in charge of the various phases of Homecoming celebration. Pancho Bradley will be in charge of concessions and cold drinks. Mrs. Victoria Ohlenburg will have charge of the stage. Palmer West will direct the parade, Bernard Carr will take pictures and Orland Harris will be chief of barbecuing. Master of ceremonies will be Carrol Ratliff.

Leg work connected with rounding up of the various classes will fall on those listed below. While Schleicher County is not considered one of the oldest of the state by any means, there are four of the class of 1895 still living in this locality! The classes will do their best to have floats in the parade, which promises to be the best Homecoming crowd ever produced.

Fastball League Changes Players; More Competition!

Revisions which they predict will provide more competition at the games have been made in the fast-ball set-up.

Also there may be the starting of a tournament on the 21st, to which Sonora and Christoval may be invited—plans for this are not yet definite, but will be worked out and announced soon.

On Tuesday night Ohio played Blake's and won 8-2. Monday, Magnolia beat the high school 15-2. Games scheduled include Gulf Ratliff vs Exploration tonight—Thursday; and a "grudge game" between Magnolia and Ohio Oilers Friday night.

The aim of the officials, in announcing revised plans, is to provide better games for the spectators, and to pay off the remaining indebtedness on the lights at the diamond.

With new officers recently installed, the Eldorado Lions club launched the new club year with the goal of A Safer Community. AGED NEGRO DIES

Quite a few of the negro residents of this county were at Brackettville last week end to attend the funeral of Nina Rowe Fay, over 100 years old. The funeral was held at the Church of God at Brackettville. Attending from here were Lovie Green of Eldorado, the Will Fays of Allison Ranch, Dick Fay, and the Adam Fays of McIntosh Ranch, and others. She formerly lived here.

PLAGUE OF INSECTS MAKES LIFE HARD FOR GARDENER; GODWIN SAYS "KILL 'EM" AND TELLS HOW TO DO IT!

Tiny Godwin, Schleicher County agent, reports that he has had 123 calls in the past few days for help on insect control. He has prepared an article on control methods entitled "Garden Insects Can Be Controlled," including in this article a description of the common garden insects and their control, and closing the article with helpful advice:

1. Blister Beetles: Rather slender, large, gray, black, or striped. One-half to three-quarter inch long leaves eaten. Control with crocyolite dust of 5-10% DDT dust.
2. Colorado potato beetle, adults yellow and black striped, three-eighths in long. Larvae brick red and hump backed. Control 5% DDT dust.
3. Squash bugs, brownish gray, flat backed, stink bug. Five-eighths in long. Dust with nicotine dust or 1% lindane.
4. Mexican bean beetle: copper colored, 16 black spots on the back. Crocyolite dust or 5% methoxychlor.
5. Bean leaf beetle, yellowish green with 4 black spots on back. Control same as cucumber beetle.
6. Spotted cucumber beetle, yellow green, 12 black spots on back. Control same as Mexican bean beetle.
7. Aphids, small black to green colored insects, clustered under leaves, 1000 species known. All are controlled by 1% Rotenone in sulphur, or 3% nicotine dust or spray.

To control the insect it must be identified. Gardeners should keep on hand at all times 5-10% DDT, crocyolite dust, sabadilla dust 20%, rotenone and nicotine dust. Blister beetles can destroy a garden in a few hours.

The insecticides recommended are not poison to man when proper care is taken in washing vegetables. There are better controls than recommended but do not be talked into buying them because you yourself could be the victim.—W. G. Godwin, county agent.

Absentee Voting Under Way

Absentee balloting for the Democratic Primary started this week in the county clerk's office, and by Tuesday morning five had voted and ballots had been mailed out to 26 more. Some balloting is being done by voters before leaving on extended trips, as well as by service men, and others.

Ballots from all eight boxes of the county are on file in the clerk's office and are available to those voters who wish to vote absentee. Procedure is different this year in handling such ballots. If the voter votes by mail he fills out his ballot in usual form, signing the back of the stub and leaving the stub attached to the ballot. He places the ballot in a special envelope and seals it, and on the outside of the envelope he fills in an affidavit certifying himself qualified to vote, and has the statement notarized. These envelopes containing bal-

The Eastern Star will meet in regular session Monday, July 14. Hostesses will be Mrs. May Tisdale, Mrs. W. T. Whitten and Mrs. D. C. Royster.

Post Script

The weather has been surprising people in Eldorado. For one thing, a norther predicted for this area actually got here, bringing the temperature down to 60. Then on the Fourth of July there was a nice lawn rain, and on Tuesday another rain—just in Eldorado—and measuring from a quarter of an inch in the outskirts to an inch in the business district.

Also, on Sunday the Perry Mittel Ranch in the oil field got .7 inch.

Cameron's have started work on a new residence in Glendale, west of the L. D. Christian place. The four room frame house will have attached garage. When work, which started Tuesday, is completed, the house will be placed on the market.

From scattered ranches in Schleicher County come reports that wells are beginning to weaken, due to the prolonged drought. Jimmie West is one making this type of report—he says the well at his ranch—has a steady and dependable well since it was put down before the turn of the century, is only putting out half of its normal flow, and they're resting it at night and pumping daytimes.

Fire boys report that a "CO two" dry chemical fire extinguisher is missing from the new fire truck, and they are putting out an urgent request for its return.

People moving: The H. M. Townsends have vacated the Jones house and have moved to Colorado City. The J. B. Dockals have moved from the Woodward rent house to Sonora, and the house is now rented by E. W. Yarbrough, who moved from the Blair house. C. H. Evans moved Tuesday from the Crosby units to McCamey.

American Cheddar Most Popular Cheese

COLLEGE STATION — American Cheddar is the best selling cheese in Texas, according to a consumer preference study made recently in San Antonio and Houston by Stanley Rosental, June graduate in dairy husbandry from the Texas A&M College.

A cross-section of the information gathered from retail grocers indicates that the preference of natural or processed types of cheese is governed somewhat by the consumer's income.

Buyers in the higher income brackets purchase more natural cheese, those with medium or low income purchase more processed types.

Definite popularity placings cannot be assigned to the next three cheeses — Cottage, Cream and Swiss—but Cottage is a better seller to medium and low income groups.

Brick cheese was fifth in popularity, representing about 8 per cent of total cheese sales. Limburger, Romano, Neufchatel, Roquefort and Edam together accounted for about 5 per cent of all cheese sales.

At some of the stores covered, total cheese sales have risen as much as 90 per cent since 1940. The average increase at all stores surveyed is near 45 per cent.

Attractive and convenient packages now used by several manufacturers were cited by grocers as the principal reason for more cheese buying. Self-service display cases, recipe pamphlets and sales promotion programs also contributed to greater cheese consumption.

The study showed high meat prices stimulate cheese purchases. Several retailers said that on or shortly after pay day, the sale of meat is greater in proportion to that of cheese than it is near the end of the pay period.

Medical Association Describes Teeth

A lot of people know a lot about a lot of things but seldom recall the simplest things about themselves, such things as how many many baby teeth and how many permanent teeth you're supposed to have. You can always stop and count, sometimes having to fill in the gaps, as to how many permanent teeth you're supposed to produce, but the number of baby teeth usually stumps most people, even those who are several times a parent.

You have 20 baby teeth and 32 permanent teeth, if you run according to schedule. Of those 20 baby teeth, 8 are incisors, 4 are canines, and 8 are molars. The incisors are the cutting teeth, the canines are the tearing teeth, and the molars are the grinding teeth. Since the top and bottom rows of teeth are the same, the layout of teeth in the youngster runs like this, with I representing incisor, C standing for canine, and M meaning molar.

M-M-C-I-I-I-I-C-M-M
M-M-C-I-I-I-I-C-M-M
And those teeth in the baby usually erupt in somewhat this order:
7-5-6-3-2-2-3-6-5-7
7-5-6-4-1-1-4-6-5-7

The front bottom teeth usually erupt first, then those incisors above them come out, giving meeting teeth. The next turn belongs to those next top teeth, and incisors on either side of the middle ones, and the cutting ability is completed with the two lower teeth next to the first ones that erupted, giving eight front teeth that more or less meet.

Children don't get the tearing teeth, the canines, normally, until after they have cut the first molars—then the canines come out and then the second molars usually fill out the teething situation by about the end of the second year.

From two until six years of age, there's no eruption going on in the mouth of the toddler, but around the sixth year a "jaw tooth" that looks rather large and foreboding, pops into the youngster's mouth back behind the other molars and that is his first permanent tooth, the sixth-year molar.

Some children lose some of their baby teeth before they get their six-year molars, but normally after the appearance of the "jaw tooth," the baby teeth start coming out, being replaced by permanent teeth. Those four middle teeth are usually the first to be replaced, then the incisors next to them.

Those canine teeth stay in place a while, during which time the eight baby molars come out and are replaced by a different type of tooth called a bicuspid tooth instead of a molar. After the permanent bicuspid teeth have all broken through, then the canine or dog teeth are shed and replaced.

To make it easier to remember about the permanent molars, those big back teeth, you might figure it takes 6 years for the body to get all the stuff together that makes a molar. The first molars appear about the sixth year of life, the second appear about the 12th year, and the third start coming through about the 18th year, if they come through at all—these are the wisdom teeth which may appear much later in life or may not ever appear.

So when you have all your permanent teeth, which is usually around the 18th or 19th birthday, they run like this:
MMMMBBCHHICBBMMM
MMMMBBCHHICBBMMM
The B stands for bicuspid, of course, and all in all you might say that is quite a mouthful.

Bill of Rights Guarantees Inalienable Privileges

The American "Bill of Rights" consisting of the first ten amendments to our federal constitution, all adopted at one time in 1791 specifies in some detail a number of basic civil rights of the individual citizen. Unaltered by subsequent amendments and jealously guarded by our courts, these privileges must still be respected by our governing bodies today.

Among the most familiar of our constitutional guarantees are those relating to freedom of religion, of speech, and of the press. The same article protects the right of peaceable assembly and the privilege of petitioning the government for redress of grievances.

Another amendment secures our persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, and specifies that no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, and unless supported by oath or affirmation.

The due process of law amendment encompasses not one but several guarantees. Every American is secured against being twice placed in legal jeopardy for the same offense; against being compelled to be a witness against himself in a criminal case; against having his private property taken for public use without just compensation; and against being held for trial for a capital (death penalty) or other infamous crime, unless upon a presentment or indictment of a grand jury. And, of course, no person may be deprived of life, liberty or property without orderly court procedures, or due process of law.

The right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury, in the locality where the crime was committed, the right to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation, and the rights to compel attendance of defense witnesses and to have the assistance of defense counsel in all criminal prosecutions are secured by another section of the Bill of Rights.

Excessive bail and fines, and cruel and unusual punishments, are prohibited in Amendment VIII. Other articles insure the right to bear arms and ban quartering of soldiers in private homes during peace time.

Then, to make quite clear to our governing bodies the underlying intent of the preceding provisions, the Ninth Amendment states: "The enumeration in the Constitution, of certain rights, shall not be construed to deny or disparage others retained by the people."

The Tenth Amendment further emphasizes this basic theory by providing: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

Thus, that fundamental philosophy expressed in the Declaration of Independence, that men are endowed with certain unalienable rights, and that "to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed," has been carried forward into the highest law of our land.

For Chickens, Plenty Of Fresh, Cool Water

COLLEGE STATION — Chickens are not unlike humans during the hot days of summer. They like to be comfortable and a mighty important part of comfort, says Professor E. D. Parnell, poultry husbandry department of Texas A&M College, is having plenty of cool fresh water to drink.

Water is usually plentiful on most farms but many flock owners fail, during the summer time, to provide their chickens this very important item. Parnell isn't guessing about the failure because he annually observes management practices used by many flock owners in Texas. Water is generally a pretty cheap item on the farm but when it is not provided in sufficient quantities, chickens just don't do well, says Parnell.

He urges every poultryman to take another look at the poultry house equipment. Spot the things that are wrong. Study the flock as never before and chances are the changes will insure greater profits from the flock.

Chickens not only like their water fresh and cool but they want it handy, too, says the professor. If the fountain is more than 10 feet away from the chicken, it may go thirsty rather than make the trip. Check the location of fountains as well as the total supply of water and add fountains if they are needed.

Parnell points out that it is sometimes necessary to give medicine to the flock in the drinking water but warns there's a danger in doing it. He says some drugs just don't taste good to chickens and turkeys and they quit drinking. Watch the birds carefully when medication is used in the water, and if they quit drinking, better find another way to give the medicine, says Parnell for unless they drink lots of water, there'll be few eggs or little meat produced.

News From Our Neighbors

New Pastors Arrive

Rev. Cullen Hawkins of Harlingen who has accepted the pastorate of the Big Lake First Baptist church, will be in the pulpit at both the services this coming Sunday, and Mrs. Hawkins are expected to be here sometime during the week-end.

The new pastor and his wife will be honored with a reception next Wednesday evening at the church. The reception, open to the entire membership of the church, will be sponsored by the Woman's Missionary Society.

J. Roy Waldrum arrived here this week from Fort Stockton to assume the pastorate of the Big Lake Church of Christ. The local church has been without a minister since the resignation of J. E. L. Harrison several months ago.

Minister Waldrum has just closed a successful three-year stay with the Fort Stockton Church of Christ. Under his leadership, the church enjoyed a busy period of growth and expansion in which a building program for a new church and educational building was completed. —Big Lake Wildcat.

Roads Improved

Bids for construction of 7.17 miles of R-M Highway 93, the new road from Llano to Austin, will be received and opened at the Texas Highway department in Austin, Wednesday morning, July 16. The notice for bids appears elsewhere in this issue of The News.

Work on 3.6 miles of R-M 93, extending east from the intersection with state highway 16, at the south edge of Llano, has been completed. The new work will begin at the east end of that stretch and continue southeastward for 7.17 miles.

Another 3.9 miles of the highway has been approved by the highway commission and bids for that unit are expected to be called for in the near future. That will leave about 10 miles in Llano county, including the Sandy creek crossing, yet to be approved and advertised. —Llano News.

New Fish Hook

A former Menard resident who has turned his talents to inventions recently secured a patent on another of his ideas—the Allen Three-Way Fish Hook.

Inventor is R. V. Allen who now resides at Chino, California. He was here last week visiting friends and relatives in this area.

According to Allen the hook is practical for all types of bait. It has a small barb which fastens into the gill between the fins, leaving the bait free to maneuver naturally in the water. It works equally well on frogs, fastening into the bone between the legs. —Menard News.

Water Still Short

The water situation in Bronte was still critical this week, but Mayor H. O. Whitt said that with the cooperation of residents in refraining from the use of large amounts of water, things do look better than they did this time last week.

No more water is being pumped than during the past several weeks, but decreased water consumption has made water available all over town. Prior to the request that watering of lawns, gardens, etc., be stopped, part of the town was without water much of the time.

Mayor Whitt said that he greatly appreciates the cooperation of Bronte residents in the conservation of the water supply. He said city officials are requesting that local residents continue to observe the no watering and no car washing request issued last week.

All the water being pumped during the daytime is coming from the wells near the river or from the city lake. However water pumped at night is being pumped from the river, Mayor Whitt said Tuesday. —Bronte Enterprise.

New Ozona Pastor

Rev. Blake Woolbright, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, was welcomed by the congregation and a large number of visitors at the Sunday evening service when the new pastor preached his first sermon in his new charge.

Rev. Woolbright arrived last week but the morning service was occupied with a talk by Miss Blanche Groves of Bridgeport, Texas, who spent nearly 20 years as a missionary to China.

Rev. Woolbright, a native of Seminole, Okla., is a recent graduate of Baylor University and the Southwestern Baptist Seminary at the couple's three-year-old EPP ET Fort Worth. Mrs. Woolbright and the couple's three-year-old son joined him here at midweek, remaining in Fort Worth where the child has been scheduled for medical attention the first of the week. —Ozona Stockman.

To Teach In India

Allen Bloodworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bloodworth of Silver, has accepted an appointment in Government Service in connection with the Point 4 Program in India.

His duties will include the training of agriculture teachers in an effort to increase the food supply in that country.

Allen left Monday for Washington, D. C., where he will spend a few weeks in training before taking off for New Delhi. After arriving there he will be given an assignment. Several other agriculture teachers from West Texas have signed up for the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Holly and son spent from the Fourth through Sunday with relatives in Ballinger.

Governor To Speak

Gov. Allan Shivers is scheduled to be at the dedication ceremonies for the McElroy-Wilshire Gasoline Plant, 20 miles north of McCamey in Upton County.

The ceremony will take place on Saturday, July 19. The $1,500,000 plant, designed to conserve natural resources, is located on a site in the heart of the Wilshire Ellenburger Field. The Wilshire was discovered April 15, 1951.

Barbecue western style will be served to an estimated crowd of 1,500 at the plant site at noon. —McCamey News.

A crowd of relatives and friends from here and San Angelo spent the weekend of the Fourth at Uvalde, where some of the men entered the golf tournament. Those winning places included George Stanley Finley, runner-up in the first flight final; Ray Hudgens, finalist and consolation in fourth flight; Bob Page, same for sixth flight.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Roach of Eldorado and Ozona left Monday on a trip to Canada.

E. E. Newlin was taken sick Sunday night, but is now much improved.

Wells Drying Up

San Angelo is not the only place where water wells are beginning to dry up. Wells in the north part of Mertzson seem to be on their way out unless some moisture falls, and helps increase the flow. Some of the residents are planning to deepen their wells in an effort to get more water. Wells that have always furnished plenty of water at 50 feet are now almost dry.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Parks spent last Saturday in Eldorado at the woolen mills. They took over some wool to have it made into blankets for the coming winter. Cecil says he is expecting it to be a cold winter because the past few years they have been exceptionally mild. —Mertzson Weekly Star.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Neff spent Sunday in Junction with relatives.

Guests of the E. E. Newlins were Mr. and Mrs. O. C. James and son Newlin of Big Spring and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Cooper and Edward and his wife and son Michael of San Angelo. The James family remained over until Tuesday.

Last Round-Up

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How Nervy Can a "Tenant" Get?

"Harry the Hermit" dropped in to see Judge Cunningham the other day and started complaining about that dilapidated house he lives in over near Greenwood Lake.

"Who's my landlord?" Harry wanted to know. "Whoever you pay rent to," says the Judge. "Don't pay any rent," says Harry. "Moved into that house twelve years ago and nobody ever came to collect."

"Well," says the Judge, looking mystified, "what do you have to complain about?" "Plenty," replies Harry. "Rain's pouring in my living room and if someone doesn't fix that roof, I'm moving out!"

Now Harry was only having a little joke, but from where I sit I've seen people act just about as nervy as this sometimes—seriously. Like those who enjoy all the rights Americans have worked for, and yet would take away some of those freedoms from others—for example, our right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer. I say these "leaks of intolerance" have no place in the "home of liberty."
