Appropriations for a $3,500,000 on-base housing project for Webb AFB now await only the signature of President Eisenhower.

Socialist Chief Slaps Army's Security Setup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Norman Thomas charged today that the Army's security program has wrongfully fastened disloyalty labels on many young men and made it impossible for them to get jobs after being discharged.

Col Charles M. Young, commander of Webb AFB, said architectural engineering contracts on the original project had been let and a considerable amount of the planning work had been done.

Included in the measure is an amount of $2,295,000 for 170 units of housing for officers of junior grade and non-commissioned officers.

The units would be constructed on Webb AFB so occupants would be in proximity to their work.

Specialty Acts Draw Applause

Frequent outbursts of applause showed that the crowd enjoyed the performances and were really in the rodeo mood. They were in the eating mood, too, as the American Business Club, who had charge of the concession, reported exceptionally good business.

The grand entry kicked off the festivities with intricate weaving patterns made by a large number of horses and riders. The parades filled the entire bowl with producer Everett Colburn leading the line.

Following the bareback bronc riding contest was the Lightning "C" Ranch Horseback Quadrille led and directed by Everett Colburn on his horse Blaze. This act was a square dance on horseback and featured the regular promenades and do-si-dos.

Polio Committee Tells Vaccine Priority Needs

AUSTIN (AP)—Top priority for commercial Salk polio vaccine should go to children under 10 and to expectant mothers, the State Polio Vaccine Committee recommended yesterday.

The committee had no legal status, but its members anticipated no difficulty in getting cooperation from professional medical men and druggists in following its recommendations as to distribution of the vaccine on a commercial basis.

Dr. Henry A. Holle, state health officer, had favored giving top priority to children under five.

The committee also suggested that manufacturers be requested to dispense vaccine through wholesale and retail outlets only.

Committee spokesmen said no difficulty is expected in getting professional cooperation. Dr. M. O. Rouse, Dallas, president-elect of the Texas Medical Assn. is a committee member.

The 9-member panel agreed to solicit the cooperation of medical, osteopathic and pharmaceutical associations in adhering to its recommended voluntary priority plan.

SPIRITS BUBBLING

Happy Airmen Wing Way Home

MANILA (AP)—The 11 American airmen freed by Red China tonight arrived at Clark Air Force Base from Hong Kong, where they earlier had crossed happily over the border to freedom.

They were met by Brig. Gen. William L. Lee, commander of the U. S. 513th Air Force, and by U.S. Ambassador Homer Ferguson.

It was sort of a homecoming for all eleven. They previously were attached to the 581st Wing at Clark before they went to Korea on rotation in 1952.

They will fly tomorrow to Tokyo and then to the U. S. West Coast for reunion with their families.

They were in Hong Kong only a few hours and it was there they gave the few remarks permitted so far.

Col. John Knox Arnold Jr., 41, Silver Spring, Md., their leader, bitterly told a press conference, "Peiping is not entitled to a god damn thing" in now releasing the 11 B29 crew members.

Communist China convicted them as spies last November. They had been held since their plane was shot down Jan. 12, 1953, in the Korean War.

Arnold declared his B29 was shot down 35 to 40 miles south of the Yalu River China border while on a leaflet dropping mission over North Korea. All crewmen bailed out and were captured in North Korea.

They were in Hong Kong only a few hours and it was there they gave the few remarks permitted so far.

Bulganin Says Blueprint Idea Not Realistic

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikolai Bulganin today rejected the Eisenhower plan for the United States and the Soviet Union to swap military blueprints and open their territories to aerial inspection.

Under the President's plan, Bulganin declared, any one desiring to do so could hide anything he wanted to. Deputies of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) burst into laughter at this statement.

The Premier made these remarks in a 10,000-word address reporting on the summit conference at Geneva. He paid tribute to the conference as a "serious step toward peace."

At about the time he spoke, the Atomic Energy Commission in the United States reported that the Soviet Union within the last few days has resumed testing of nuclear weapons.

Bulganin pledged Soviet cooperation in the foreign ministers' meeting at Geneva in October. But he made clear the Soviet Union has made no shift in its stand on the key issue of Germany's reunification.

Prime interest among diplomats in the gallery, however, was in Bulganin's attitude toward the Eisenhower arms plan.

The President offered at the Geneva summit conference on July 23 to suspend American military establishments and let them come under the eyes of Russian aerial inspection teams in return for reciprocal action by the Russians.

The President said he made the proposal to convince everyone of "the great sincerity of the United States in approaching this problem of disarmament."

He said that four powers displayed a desire at Geneva to end the cold war.

Referring to Eisenhower's plan as a step toward disarmament, Bulganin said:

"We must pay tribute to his efforts for a settlement of this question, but the real effect could not be considerable and we said in our official talk (at Geneva) that both countries have limitless territories on which one could hide anything."

Bulganin said the Soviet plan for arms inspection and control, published in London May 10, and repeated by him at the Geneva conference, was "more realistic."

Bulganin said he agreed with Eisenhower it is necessary to follow (See RUSSIA, Page 2, Col. 4)

'Real Doll' Gets Husband In Dutch

BESEMER, Ala. (AP)—A vivacious brunette clad in a Bikini is being held incommunicado in the Bessemer jail. She's a doll named Myrtle.

Myrtle's arrest resulted from one of those affairs involving a fun-loving husband, a jealous wife and a red-faced detective.

But Police Chief C. T. Mullen is a bit upset about the whole thing, although he agrees that Myrtle is quite a doll—paper doll that she is. Myrtle is made of pasteboard.

An indignant wife stormed into Mullen's office, displaying a photo of her husband with Myrtle in the Bikini.

"I want this woman arrested," she said.

"For what?" asked the chief.

"Alienation of affections and indecent exposure."

It turned out that the fun-loving husband had shown a picture of himself with Myrtle to neighbors.

The husband delayed telling her that Myrtle was a pasteboard doll used by a beer distributor and that an employee of the distributor took pictures of his customers with Myrtle, who made them look quite dashing.

Detective Lawton Grimes called on the beer distributor and announced he had come to take Myrtle into custody. He tucked Myrtle under his arm and went back to the station.

Demos Silent On Talk Topics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Liberal Democratic leaders from Texas shied away from questions as to whether their talks with national party leaders yesterday concerned intensified organizational work at the precinct level.

The Texans, headed by James Sewell, Corsicana, chairman of the Texas Democratic Advisory Council, presented the national organization with a check for $30,000, raised at political dinners in the state.

Avoiding answering a question as to whether his group would actively work at the grass roots level, Sewell said he would devote much time to organizing party fund raising dinners in Texas this fall.

"If you get a man to invest his money in the party," Sewell said, "he will actively work for it."

"We expect to get Texas back into the Democratic columns in 1956."

Borden Re-Completion Makes 100.15 Barrels On New Potential

Magnolia Petroleum Company has announced the re-completion of its No. 1 Jesse York as a Clear Fork discovery some 13 miles east of Gall in Borden County. The well, originally finalized as a Wichita-Albany discovery, made 100.15 barrels of oil on the new potential.

Borden

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Jesse York, the new Clear Fork discovery, made its pumping potential of 100.15 barrels of oil from perforations between 4,065 and 4,072 feet. Top of the Clear Fork pay is 4,065 feet. There was no water on recovery gauge, and the gravity of oil measured 27.8 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 1,729-1, and completion was natural. Total plugged back depth is 4,890 feet, and elevation is 2,428. The 5 1/2-inch casing goes to 5,872 feet. This discovery is 13 miles east of Gall. It was the original opener of the Lucy (Wichita-Albany) field. Site is C SE SE, 73-20-H&TC survey.

I am getting more and more skeptical of this program, particularly from a long-range viewpoint, and I have grave doubts that it should be expanded. The whole program of our having American bases and troops in sovereign countries abroad rests upon a rather shaky foundation. I plan to visit a number of the bases and confer with our own people and citizens and officials of other countries," Mahon said.

Mahon said that while he was encouraged by the talks at Geneva as the basis for possible improvement of the world situation, he could not discern any basic change in the state of affairs. His attitude, he told the Herald, was one of being hopeful but watchful and ready.

Credit Cutback Move Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration reportedly is embarked on a policy of cutting back credit to keep prices, fairly stable for two years, from climbing.

"The business boom is getting pretty exuberant," said one high official who asked that he not be named. "It's the consensus of the economic and financial side of the administration that the government should exert some effort to keep it orderly."

The latest in a series of credit curbs was announced late yesterday. Effective today, 4 of the 12 federal reserve banks raised the rate they charge member banks which borrow from them.

The Chicago, Boston and Atlanta banks raised the charge—called the discount rate—from 1 1/2 to 2 per cent. Cleveland jumped from 1 1/2 to 2 per cent, highest in 21 years.

Loot Recaptured After Brink's Vehicle Robbed Of $160,000

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Three armed men ambushed a Brink's armored car, shot a guard and made off with $160,000 in race-track receipts last night. Two were captured after a gun battle. The loot was recovered.

The bandits, clad in silk-stocking masks and armed with a sub-machinegun, broke into the

U. S. Due More Humid Weather

By The Associated Press
Today's weather in most of the nation will be about the same as yesterday, hot and humid, just like it has been for more than a week. The Weather Bureau said more of the same is expected tomorrow and probably for several more days. At least, there appeared no immediate widespread relief from summer's longest and most severe heat wave.

Temperatures in the 90-100 degree range blanketed the major part of the country again yesterday. Top reading was 110 in Bakersfield, Calif., in the southern end of the San Joaquin Valley.

Brink's, Inc. garage and vault before the car arrived with almost $400,000 in receipts from the Fort Erie race track just across the Niagara River in Canada. Three Brink's employees were on the truck.

Two of the holdup men were captured a half hour later after an 11-block running gun battle. "I thought I was a dead man," said Eugene Clohesy, 27, the wounded guard.

"Saw 'em and pulled my .38 but before I could fire a shot the guy with the tommy gun got me in the shoulder."

Clohesy was reported in good condition at Emergency Hospital today with a chest wound.

The bandits were identified by police as Anthony Pettinato, 29, Baltimore, and Sylvester Mazella, the Bronx.

They were held without charge. An alarm was sent out for James Sheridan, alias Jim Salemerio, of New York City.

Pettinato and Mazella were captured in private homes. The third man, believed to have been wounded, fled around a corner, staggered into a house and told the occupant he had suffered a heart attack. A half hour later he called a taxi and escaped. Police said all three had records.

Ex-PW Trial Continues

NEW YORK (AP)—A fellow prisoner has quoted Sgt. James C. Gallagher as saying he "would probably have to pay for what he did as a POW when he got back."

During the court-martial trial of Gallagher yesterday, John N. Willis testified that Gallagher also told him in the Red POW camp the Korean conflict "was a senseless war—that we had no business being over there."

The 24-year-old Gallagher is accused of aiding the Communists while their prisoner in 1951 and 1952 and of the "unpremeditated murder" of three Americans at the POW camp.

Willis, from Lexington, N.C., said Gallagher once lauded communism as "a better form of government than we had" and, on another occasion told him: "If you cooperate with the Chinese you get better chow and better living conditions."

Runoff Due In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Atty. Paul Johnson and J. P. Coleman, state's attorney general, face each other for the governorship of Mississippi in the Aug. 23 Democratic primary.

Johnson, making his third bid for the post once held by his father, led a field of five candidates in Tuesday's first Democratic primary. Under Mississippi election laws, if no candidate receives a majority the two leaders go into a runoff primary.

Nomination in the Mississippi Democratic primaries virtually means election.

All candidates promised they would keep Negroes out of white schools.

HONG KONG (AP)—The British freighter Incubells reported today she was bombed and machine-gunned at the entrance to Macao harbor on the Red China coast.

Rain, Gone For So Long, Seems Back To Stay Awhile

By The Associated Press
Rain, which for three years became a rarity in sun-baked Texas, Thursday seemed to have taken over semi-permanent residence in the state again.

Forecasts for the whole state for Thursday, Thursday night and Friday included such phrases as "scattered thundershowers and thunderstorms." For weeks it has been about the same.

First it's West Texas, where a dust bowl threatened a year ago, and then it's East Texas, where creeks had run dry and sandy a year ago, that gets the precipitation.

Wednesday and Thursday it was East Texas, getting moisture on its blacklands and sandy stretches. At dusk Wednesday it was Beaumont, Waco, Lufkin, Tyler, Longview and Dallas that reported rain.

And at dawn Thursday, the rains—apparently the last of those resulting from tropical storm Brenda—were reported at Tyler, Longview, Corsicana, Athens and Dallas.

A week ago it was West Texas with torrential rains that flooded highways, particularly in the El Paso area, and drenched crops with both disastrous and beneficial results. Farm experts opined that

A Bible Thought For Today

For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly. (Romans 5:6)

Editorial

History May Be Repeating Itself

When Hitler remilitarized the Rhineland nothing happened. France was eager to call his bluff, but her ally across the channel couldn't raise a leg. Hitler's commander carried a sealed order: if the venture met with resistance, break the seal and read the order. The order read: "Retreat," but retreat wasn't necessary. From that incident grew a grisly train of aggressive moves — first, against Austria, which he was absorbed, then the Sudetenland, finally the infamous appeasement of Munich and the taking of Czechoslovakia in 1939.

There was one sound reason why the British and French capitulated at Munich. Both had let their military strength decline dangerously, and even after it was obvious Hitler was bent on conquest, public sentiment in Britain and France could not be rallied to support a real buildup. The growing folly of the West was exemplified by the "Sitzkrieg" that developed after the conquest of Poland, and the Nazis had moved across the border into France. There they sat down and waited. There was a lot of foolish hope of talking Hitler out of overrunning France. New tanks, half finished, rusted on French factory floors while workers went on sit-down strikes.

We are now seeing history in process of repeating itself. "Peace" is in the air, without one single solid achievement or established fact to justify it. Out resolution to face up to reality is being undermined. Peace, it's wonderful. Our military strength is going down the drain not in dribbles but by division and by wings. We had better make haste slowly in dropping our guard.

He's 175 Pounds Of Raw Material

John Fischer, editor in chief of Harper's Magazine has a piece in the current issue attributing the early death of American males from ulcers and high blood pressure to wives who set out soon after his honeymoon to remake their husbands into the models they want them to be. Mr. Fischer, who was born at Texoma, in Texas County, Oklahoma, on the line where the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles coalesce, could have been marked at birth with an unusual sensitivity to man's role in the scheme of things, including matrimony, for the scene of his birth was once known as "No Man's Land."

It has made American civilization the envy of the world; or anyhow, the feminine half of it. Never before in history has any nation devoted so large a share of its brains and resources to the sole purpose of keeping its woman greased, deodorized, corseted, enshrined in chrome convertibles, curled, slenderized, rejuvenated, and relieved of all physical labor. Never in history, he contends, has any country "contained such a high proportion of cowed and eunuchoid males drilled with Prussian thoroughness to shun all household sins. Never, out never, do they drop cigar ashes in the icebox, prop their feet on a coffee table, leave an unwashed dish in the sink, kick a baby, unashamedly at the mouth of a babbling guest. They endure their married lives in mute docility, and die mercifully early from ulcers and high blood pressure."

Walter Lippmann Business Executives In Public Office

The mystery of the Talbot case is how he managed to act so foolishly, and the best explanation would seem to be that he has been two men, public official and private promoter, inhabiting the same body. The Secretary of the Air Force and the Mulligan partner have lived and worked side by side in the Pentagon, each more or less uncontrolled by the other. The Secretary did not serve the partner corruptly. But neither did he rule the partner properly.

from his office in the Pentagon a profitable private business on the fringes of the national defense. In this case the Secretary did not veto the partner's activities. Neither did he hide his activities. So I say that the public official must have been suppressed and asleep.

There is no obvious explanation of such extraordinary foolishness. There is no doubt that he has been proud and happy to be Secretary of the Air Force, and that he was deeply attached to his high and honorable office. There is no doubt that he is a rich man to whom $60,000 is not important money, and that it would buy him nothing remotely so precious as his public office. There is no doubt, on the other hand, that his Mulligan activities, once they were known, were obviously bound to ruin his public career. There is no doubt, moreover, that his activities will hurt badly the Mulligan firm itself.

It has been pointed out that the Talbot case poses the problem of the workability and the fairness of the old statute about "conflict of interests." There is, of course, such a problem, and it is a very difficult one. But the Talbot case bears only indirectly, in my view, on that problem. For no matter how much the statutes were liberalized, it could never be stretched to the point of tolerating the use of a public office to promote a private business that is closely related to the public business. The law might be revised, for example, to permit a man to keep his old securities, and to receive the dividends. But nobody would suggest that it could be made lawful for him to use the facilities of public office to enhance the value of his securities.

Peace Confabs Don't Scare Me

Legates Probing Each Other's Intentions

WASHINGTON (R)—Secretary of State Dulles and Red Chinese Foreign Minister Chou En-lai may know nothing about prize fighting.

Nevertheless, they have been sparring around spryly in the diplomatic ring, exchanging words instead of punches, from their corners on opposite sides of the world. This is what diplomats call probing each other's intentions.

They might have done better by exchanging ideas quietly. But Dulles and Chou are not on direct speaking terms. The United States doesn't recognize Red China. Since they can't just call each other up, they're being statesmen, make statements.

Some more real probing may be done at Geneva, where ambassadors of the two countries right now are talking about the return home of American prisoners in China and Chinese in the United States.

But, since progress at Geneva may lead to a Dulles-Chou meeting later, everything the two men say at each other's across a continent and an ocean may have significance toward making that meeting possible or impossible.

Dulles acknowledged July 26 he didn't know what Chou was up to with his recent peaceful gestures, such as releasing some American prisoners and toning down the shooting around Quemoy and Matsu. It might be just propaganda, he said.

While everything the two men say is aimed at each other, some of it certainly is intended for friends and critics at home and abroad, all of whom are watching to see whether one side or the other is weakening.

For example, Dulles ruled out any deal to sacrifice Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists, American allies, in exile on Formosa. Chou himself must have known Dulles could have said nothing else. In this country Chiang's supporters have voiced misgivings about any deal with Red China since they feared Chiang might lose out.

And Dulles raised the question, in a sort of tentative way, whether Chou would be willing to renounce the use of force in trying to get Formosa.

Chou came back with a statement July 30 as if the answer to Dulles' question was "yes." Chou said it did because it had a tough job building up China.

That may be true or it may be propaganda, but then Chou said that if the United States — he was polite enough not to name it but only referred to the "great powers" — wanted peace it must abandon its military bases around China and give up its alliances in Asia.

Chou knew, as well as Dulles, that if anything like that happened it would be a long time from now. As for settling problems peacefully instead of by force, Chou said that's exactly what Red China wants.

In the same breath he told the United States to keep its nose out of Red China's efforts to get Formosa.

Dulles replied with another statement on Aug. 2, still demanding the Red Chinese renounce the use of force although how that's to be done is not clear.

And so it has been going. But since both men have been rather polite, in comparison with how they talked at each other in the past, this may be considered a mark of progress. But there's still a long way to go.

NEW YORK (R)—America, which is to tell him, "It's all in your mind."

It isn't ragweed pollen in itself that causes hay fever, but certain chemicals in it resembling the chemicals in viruses. These chemicals start the liver to manufacturing protective antibodies. They in turn produce histamine, a decomposition product which causes the wheezing, sneezing, eye-watering nose-running symptoms of hay fever.

Dr. Mayer sees no immediate hope of cutting down the incidence of hay fever. He expects the number of cases to grow in the next few years.

Many Europeans who never had hay fever before develop it on coming to this country. Dr. Mayer, who came here in 1942, is an exception.

"So far, I haven't had any," he said. After spending 25 years studying allergies, the last thing he knows is hay fever. He wants it's nothing to be sneezed at.

Death—Or New Life—From Nuclear Energy

It will be exactly ten years ago Saturday that the world first realized the destructive and awesome power of the atom.

It was Aug. 6, 1945, of course, that Japan wilted under the reeling blow of an atom bomb on Hiroshima. Remember that this power has become even greater in a decade, brings to mind the thought that the world stands at a crossroad of the future determined by the use of nuclear energy.

One road plainly leads to a hell on earth forced on mankind by atomic warfare. Another leads to a golden era full of fantastic wonders without end produced by the peace-time atom.

No one, perhaps, ever knew the exact details of what happened after the bomb fell on Hiroshima before an on-the-scene account, called the Hiroshima Diary, was published recently by a doctor who lived through the blast.

However, the raw statistics were always there for any one to see. The bomb killed, directly and indirectly, over 200,000 men, women and children. They were blasted to bits, crushed by falling debris, suffocated, or simply fried to death in this man-made temperature which exceeded 1,800,000 degrees Fahrenheit. It turned a bustling city into a burnt-over prairie.

The Jap doctor's account of the disaster told of survivors wandering idly with facial features completely burned away and clothes ripped off by the blast.

It told of over-crowded hospitals, or what was left of hospitals, filled with unwept, miserable persons lying in filth and defecation, desperately needing medical attention.

It's hard for us to feel a great compassion for these people because of the remoteness, and the lack of facilities to fully realize what happened. But a horrifying thought creeps into the mind while reading the Hiroshima Diary; that this very thing could happen at any time in America and those mutilated half-beings could be our loved ones or even ourselves.

On the brighter side, this power that could destroy mankind, can help us create a life more golden than we ever thought possible.

Already, scientists are developing radio-isotope tracers which can seek out brain tumors and other abscesses that X-rays can't see, and thus treat them before they become fatal. The atom is helping end speculation of famine facing half the world by probing the secrets of plant growth.

Gasoline will eventually become dirt cheap with the advent of atomic power in machinery. Radiated food; meat, vegetables, and fruits will keep for long periods of time even without refrigeration.

These are the promises of the peace-time atom. Only an atomic war can prevent them from coming true and keep us from developing a new human Utopia.

What 'Ransom' Do We Pay For Airmen?

WASHINGTON — Months and months of shenanigans behind the scenes have finally resulted in the release of the 11 American airmen held by the gangster regime in Peiping.

The United States government has paid no ransom, and the Red China government has made no concession — that's what the official record says. But the moves have been made with a deep-seated expectation that Red China will obtain better treatment now for her claims of the United Nations than she otherwise would have gotten.

The release of the airmen — whose imprisonment was unlawful and high-handed in the first instance — will be hailed in Europe as a dramatic change of attitude and as a manifestation of peaceful purpose. But actually the Americans were imprisoned in the first place merely to be used as pawns in the diplomatic game which the Peiping government has been playing.

The pattern of behavior is no surprise. On January 17th, not quite seven months ago, this correspondent called attention to the remarks of the Secretary General of the United Nations, Dag Hammarskjold, on his return to New York City from Peiping, when he said:

"It is not a question of where the ground is prepared by negotiation — that ground having partly been prepared and partly by negotiations conducted by this or that national government. But the final decision, I think, will necessarily emerge as unilateral decisions in all those various ticklish cases. They will emerge as unilateral decisions and as part of a general development, more than as the result of any kind of settlement."

Commenting on the foregoing, this correspondent wrote: "This means that each side does whatever it does without any apparent pressure from the other and seemingly in spontaneous fashion. That way of handling it is almost a prerequisite to success because each side, especially in the case of Red China, must presumably not 'lose face,' which is something of vital importance to oriental psychology . . ."

"Anyone familiar with the resourcefulness of personal diplomacy conducted with the old-fashioned skill . . . will read between the lines and come to the hopeful conclusion that after all the shouting dies down the 11 Americans will be released by Red China's government."

It may well be asked what arguments were used by the many go-betweeners behind the scenes, including Krishna Menon and Prime Minister Nehru of India. It was clear that the United States government couldn't be in the position publicly of paying a ransom. It was clear also that the Red China government couldn't place herself in the position of bowing to a demand. What better way out than to let time pass and then permit each government to act on its own and seemingly of its own volition?

The United States took certain steps. It agreed to talk with the Red Chinese envoys face to face in Geneva. This called for some action on Peiping's part. Undoubtedly the Red Chinese were told by intermediaries that maybe Washington then would consent to talk about other things — perhaps the Formosa problem and later on even the admission of Red China to the United Nations if the Peiping officials showed some signs of bending and released the airmen.

Having held the airmen primarily for bargaining purposes, it undoubtedly seemed reasonable to the Red Chinese to release the airmen just before the Geneva talks on Far Eastern affairs began rather than afterwards. It would look to the world like a "unilateral" act. Thus the two ambassadors who met in Switzerland in the early part of this week had only the question of captured American civilians and "other practical matters" to discuss.

Plainly, under these circumstances, the United States couldn't turn away from talks on any subject once the conference has begun. As one official put it, "we can listen, but we don't have to agree to anything."

The tangible thing, however, is that the Red Chinese have made a sensational move and have given the appearance of great friendliness. The United States government is, therefore, compelled by world opinion to listen to arguments on the whole Far Eastern problem. This is what the British and French governments want — in fact, they're ready to abandon the 500,000-man army of Chiang Kai-shek and surrender Formosa to the Red Chinese.

The big question is whether the United States has been maneuvered through the use of the imprisoned fliers into a position where America will be accused of obstructing peace in the Far East unless it lets Red China have something in exchange for its exhibition of alleged humanitarianism. The airmen, of course, never should have been kept in prison after the signing of the Panmunjon agreement, which pledged the return of all prisoners of war.

What "ransom" will America pay in the long run for the release of the 11 airmen? That's a question the answer to which only future events will reveal. It was a "unilateral" act for the Red Chinese to release them. What "unilateral" act is coming next from the American government? That's the real issue now.

Hollywood Review

The Straight (And Forgotten) Man

HOLLYWOOD (R)—Two years ago, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis were the Damon and Pythias of show business.

Today they aren't talking to each other. What brought about the change? The answer goes far back into their histories. Jerry Lewis, born 29 years ago in Newark, N. J., was a child of show business. His folks were vaudevillians, and Jerry started performing as a lad. He was having so-so luck as a record act making funny faces to a pop record when he teamed up with a singer Dean Martin.

Born Dino Crocetti in Steubenville, Ohio, in 1917, Dean tried everything, from crooner to prize-fighter. First as Dino Martini and then under his present name, he had mediocre success as a night club singer.

The two talents combined with magic results when both were playing the 500 Club in Atlantic City in July 1946. Within six years, they were the hottest attraction in night clubs, TV and movies. The boys were millionaires or well on their way.

Then, a couple of years ago, trouble started to develop in paradise. It began with the picture, "Three Ring Circus." When Dean saw the script, he blew his top. He had only a sketchy role and disappeared for long periods.

Jerry sided with him and insisted that Dean's part be built up. A rewrite padded the role, but it still wasn't equal to Jerry's.

It's obvious that Dean ranked over taking a back seat in the team. On movie sets, he would make comments like, "Don't forget I'm in this picture, too." When asked about a TV rehearsal, he replied, "Why should I show up—I've got nothing to do."

Observers place the blame on the film and TV producers for relegating Dean to a secondary role. Unlike most teams, these critics argue, Martin and Lewis are equal in importance.

Dean is more than a straight man. His suave and romantic qualities, plus his singing, are a perfect match for Jerry's wacky comedy.

Dean felt the team should be equal in all respects, Jerry agreed. He tried never to be photographed without Dean and was greatly concerned when an interview failed to mention his partner.

The big break came two months ago with the premiere of their latest picture. As often happens, the studio tried to save costs. It arranged to have a press junket to a hotel in the Catskills where Jerry had gotten his start as an entertainer.

"Dean objected," reports a source close to the team. "He pointed out that he had no connection with the Catskills, that only been there a couple of times. He suggested that since the picture cost $2,500,000, the studio might put out $15,000 for a junket instead of trying to beat the price."

Dean said he never okayed the premiere. Jerry claimed he gave verbal consent in a conversation in Las Vegas.

The result: Dean went to Hawaii; Jerry went to the Catskills. They haven't spoken since.

The outcome of their split is still in doubt. Their fans, numbering many millions, hope they will shoulder their pride and resume their friendship. Hollywood agrees that a teaming that has brought so much joy to so many people should not end because of personal bickering.

Russ Farm Chief Slates Texas Visit

HOUSTON (AP)—The chief of Russia's touring farmers apparently is coming to Texas tomorrow, but just what part of the state he plans to visit in a 48-hour stay appeared vague today.

Authorities apparently attached no significance to the fact that the proposed itinerary of the Russian farm expert included some of the state's areas where heavy defense installations are located.

It was first announced from Washington yesterday that Vladimir Matskevich would come to Texas and A&M College at College Station.

Then a press attaché at the Russian embassy in Washington told the Houston Post by telephone that Matskevich would visit the big King Ranch in South Texas and then inspect ranches in the Fort Worth area.

He said Matskevich originally had planned to arrive in Houston today and then fly to College Station for a visit at A&M College, a school that—besides its agricultural accomplishments—produces more officers for the U.S. Army

6 Wacs Ousted In Morals Case

FT. JACKSON, S.C. (AP)—An investigation of moral conduct among part of Ft. Jackson's WAC detachment has resulted in the discharge of six members.

Authorities said yesterday the action was "for the good of the service." They declined comment on the investigation itself. The discharges, according to the public information office, were "of the undesirable type."

The office said the investigation began two weeks ago as a result of reports "received from certain members of the WAC detachment" containing "allegations of questionable moral conduct on the part of a small group within the detachment."

Authorities also declined comment on a Chicago Tribune story that one of the Wacs attempted suicide because of "the solicitations of a group of Wacs who had tried repeatedly to induce her to engage in immoral acts."

The WAC detachment here is made up of about 100 members.

Search On For Birth Certificate Of 'Only Child'

A birth certificate cannot be found here for a British Columbia man who wrote to Big Spring stating that he was "the only child born in the State of Texas."

The man is Henry S. Welsh, who stated that his name was changed from Henry S. Washkosky.

He wrote to the City Commission here asking for his birth record as he is applying for an old age pension. City Manager H. W. Whitney turned the request over to County Clerk Pauline Petty.

"I would like very much to have a record of my birth certificate, as I was the only child born in the State of Texas, my homestead papers show," he wrote. "I was born somewhere there in 1885."

It is believed that he meant he was the only child in his family born in Texas.

Mrs. Petty said that his birth could not be found on record here. Welsh has been notified and sent proper forms to be notarized so that a certificate can be obtained. He now resides in Kelowna, B.C.

U. S., China Call Recess In Parley

Trunk Slaying Suspect Nabbed

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Police last night arrested one of two men sought for the car-trunk killing of a former St. Louis taxi driver.

George (Stormy) Harvill was picked up by police in front of his East St. Louis home and brought to the Madison County Jail here.

Still sought is Louis D. Shoulters. Murder warrants for their arrest were issued yesterday. Shoulters is the son of Louis Shoulters, former St. Louis policeman now serving a federal prison sentence for perjury in connection with the 1953 Greenlease kidnaping case.

Police said the younger Shoulters was a bartender employed at a tavern near Fairmount Park race track which was operated by Harvill.

State's Atty. Fred P. Schuman said the charges were filed after a thorough search of the tavern. He said a large stain found on the floor may have been made by blood and that it appeared attempts had been made to wash it off.

The body of the cab driver, Robert Carr, 24, was found in the trunk of his car July 21 near Livingston, Ill. He had been shot and stabbed.

Nobody Here But Us Naturalists

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Miss Ethel Wheeler, a U.S. Forestry Service lookout, swept her binoculars over Santa Ynez Peak yesterday looking for a fire. Suddenly she froze.

The glasses focused on a young couple dancing in the nude around a camp fire. The man was playing a violin, Miss Wheeler said, and his companion made ballet-like leaps.

Miss Wheeler telephoned Forestry Service Patrolman Everett Marshall, who hiked up and cited the couple — for having an open fire in a prohibited area.

a half on the question of the civilians, but neither would indicate what progress, if any, had been made.

A U. S. spokesman announced only that they would meet again Monday on the same subject.

This was seen as an indication that one or both of the ambassadors required instructions from his government. They had first discussed the issue of the civilians Tuesday and then recessed for 48 hours.

Despite apparent failure of today's session to produce agreement, rumors persisted that the release of the American civilians could be expected soon.

Johnson denied earlier reports that he and Wang had agreed in principle on repatriation of the Americans and of an indefinite number of Chinese students pending charges are detained by the United States.

The Chinese have left the impression, however, that they are ready to free the Americans and are looking for a formula on the students which would save face for them. The United States insists all Chinese who want to return to their homeland are free to go.

This morning's session was expected to deal primarily with a Chinese proposal which reportedly calls for a third neutral country to check the students to see if they are being detained against their will.

U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld had secret talks yesterday with both Johnson and Wang. These too could have been related to the Chinese plan. Hammarskjöld has been in contact with the Chinese Communists ever since his trip last January to Peking to seek release of the 15 American fliers who were freed in May and today.

Settlement of the dispute over the civilians would open the way for discussion of the second and last item on the agenda of the current talks "other practical matters at issue between the two sides."

Judge Leery Of Speed Trap Warning Case

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Does a citizen break the law when he warns motorists of a radar speed trap?

That was the question put to City Judge B. R. Boushe. The judge, after finding the defendant guilty, said:

"Someone higher than a poor little city judge should pass on this case." The defendant's lawyers agreed and said they would appeal.

The decision of the higher court would apparently set a precedent for Tennessee.

Last week J. W. Evans, 30, was stopped by radar officers for speeding and fined $11.

A few days later a radar crew became suspicious when all cars passing through its "trap" remained well inside the speed limit.

Up the road a bit they found the answer — Evans holding a piece of cardboard with the word "radar" printed on it.

Evans was arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct. The charge was amended to interfering with an officer acting in the line of duty.

His lawyers contended there was little difference between "radar enforced" signs installed by police and the cardboard sign waved by Evans.

The prosecution couldn't go along with that at all. It said, "If a police officer were standing at a busy intersection trying to handle police affairs and someone came up and interfered with that duty there would be no question of guilt. It's our contention that the same thing happened here."

Judge Boushe fined Evans $16.

Peron Party Chief Spurns Truce Bid

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, (AP)—The Peronista party's new chief last night rejected terms for a political truce laid down by President Peron's foes.

Alejandro Leloir termed the opposition demands "insolent and unacceptable."

Leloir's nationwide broadcast, first since he was elected party head last month, replied to a broadcast last week by Radical Party President Arturo Frondizi.

The latter had answered Peron's previous plea for an end to political warfare by demanding sweeping government reforms and restoration of constitutional guarantees suspended for nearly four years under a "state of internal war."

Leloir referred to a speech Peron had made earlier last night in which the President said he did not "want to disappear from this world without having given the republic an ironclad people's organization."

Leloir declared that "neither the incomprehension of some nor the bad will of many will veer us from the aims enunciated by the President. He accused the Radicals of being unwilling "to sacrifice their hatred in behalf of the common interests of the nation."

Despite previous government assurances that all political parties were free to express their views, Radical spokesmen still were having difficulty getting on the air.

The government canceled two broadcasts by Radical leaders this week, saying they had not submitted their texts 48 hours in advance.

The opposition opened up in the Chamber of Deputies, however, with a move to spike Peron's campaign against privileges of the Roman Catholic Church in Argentina.

Radical Deputy Oscar Alende introduced a bill yesterday to repeal the law authorizing a constitutional convention to end Catholicism's status as the state church.

Since the abortive June 16 revolt, the government and the Peronista press have curtailed sharply their attacks on the church. There has been no indication, however, that Peron doesn't want the constitutional convention to meet.

Mrs. Robison Honored At Two Bridal Teas

Mrs. Carlisle (Frosty) Robison, a recent bride, was the honoree at a bridal shower given Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Walker Bailey, Co-hostesses were Mrs. H. G. Keaton, Mrs. John Whitmore of Gail, Mrs. E. W. Lomax, Mrs. Ray Clark, Mrs. Bill L. Edwards, Mrs. Tom McAdams, Mrs. Frank Martin, Mrs. H. W. Wright.

Mrs. Robison is the former Judy Douglas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Douglas. Mrs. Bailey received guests and presented the honoree and her mother and the mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Jack Robison.

The other hostesses alternated at the register, the serving table and the gift table. The tea table was decorated in colors of pink, turquoise and silver, using Ester Reed daisies in pink and white. Double rings of turquoise minkes completed the arrangement. Silver and crystal were used in the serving. The honor guest was dressed in a frock of pink voile with a fitted, multi-tucked bodice. She wore a corsage of white carnations, centered with tiny pink primroses. About 60 attended the tea.

Another compliment for Mrs. Robison was the linen and personal shower given in the home of Joyce Edwards, with co-hostesses Mrs. Savoy Kay, Mrs. Don Stevens and Margie Keaton.

The table was laid with a white cutwork cloth over pink and decorated with a pink net and satin parasol and two silver wedding rings. Refreshments were served to 20.

It Is Easy To Start Your Own Modern Dream Kitchen

Are you waiting for that dream kitchen? A magic room where you could push buttons all day long and have little robots do your work? Well, better settle for what's around now. If you get the chance, it may be years before that kitchen comes to pass. So says Alma Chambers whose father invented the first insulated range. She explains:

"A new stove in your kitchen is worth two in that dream catalogue. If the man of the house offers to buy you one he has seen the mistake of saying 'I think I'll wait for a skylab range or an atomic powered one.' Take what you can get right now."

Miss Chambers, who assists her father in business, has seen dream kitchens evolve, but they do take years of planning after those first rough sketches, she says. Her father was the first to put color and antique copper finish on stoves (in 1928). He has designed a stove, too, so that panels may be removed and new ones inserted when you're tired of the color or would like to replace white with color.

If you are planning a new home or organizing your first one, put plenty of thought into your kitchen Miss Chambers advises. She suggests:

"Buy the best equipment you can afford. Instead of investing in all sorts of accessories such as broilers, toasters and deep fat fryers, put that money into your stove. Some stoves come with built-in griddles, too. Buy a refrigerator that will hold all the frozen foods your family needs. Make sure cabinets are placed strategically so that you do not wear yourself out reaching and bending for things."

Miss Chambers thinks a color should be encouraged in the kitchen. It doesn't need to be in all of your appliances, cabinets and utilities, but your color scheme should be inviting she says. It should look so pleasant that even the man of the house will volunteer to whip up a meal. Says Miss Chambers:

"The kitchen is coming into its own again as a meeting place for family and friends. Larger families are putting a lived-in look back in the room, and we'll see bigger and more colorful kitchens going into new homes."

She also sees the day, not far off when we will cook all over the place. There will be barbecue rooms and cooking burners in the family get-together room. Hot plates and burners will be hooked up in the dining room so that casseroles may be taken right off the burner and put on the table. But these things will not be available at consumer price level for three or four years at least. Miss Chambers reiterates:

"Enjoy whatever you can get now, and don't sit around waiting for decentralized cooking. It'll be here when it gets here and that's the only way to look at it."

WESTBROOK — Mrs. Royce Moore and daughter, Roxanna, arrived Sunday for a visit with the Arlie Morris family. Mr. Moore is stationed in Japan and is expected to arrive in the states in September.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Morgan have been Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wilkerson of Big Spring, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Allison and Ruth Ann of Lenora.

Mrs. Verna Lee Albright, who has been in California since June visiting her brother and family, has returned home.

W. A. Bell and Howard Wood went on a fishing trip at San Angelo Lake Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Clemmer and Richard visited in Cisco and Putman last week.

Mrs. Orlean Cook, Faye and Sue of Westbrook, and Earl Cook Jr. of San Antonio attended the funeral of Jan Cook in Big Spring Sunday afternoon.

Visiting with the R. O. Lees are Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Cheek and children of Abilene.

Mrs. D. D. Carter is a patient in Root Memorial Hospital.

Neta Bassinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bassinger, was discharged from a Big Spring Hospital Sunday.

Recently Sue Cook, bride-elect of Donald Gressett, was honored with a bridal shower in the parlor of the First Baptist Church. About 75 guests called.

Lutheran Ladies Aid Plans Birthday Fete

At a meeting Wednesday evening, the Lutheran Ladies Aid made plans for a birthday social to be held Aug. 24 in the Educational Building of the church.

The Wednesday session was the regular business and devotional meeting, with the Rev. A. H. Hoyer giving the devotion for the group. Mrs. Marie Smith led the discussion on "The Missionary Power of the Christian Life."

Mrs. Leroy Budke, president, submitted her resignation, due to the fact that her husband is being transferred to Selfridge Field, Mich. Mrs. Hoyer, vice president, will serve the unexpired term.

Mrs. W. C. Heckler served refreshments to 16 members and one guest. Mrs. J. W. Bosse of Evans-ton, Ill.

MORNING PEEPERS

By Joyce Connaway

Nolan Street, Big Spring, Texas, Thursday morning—here is what was going on. I made 53 calls from where Eleventh Place intersects down to where you run into E. 24th Street.

Mrs. Vious Foreyth, 1104, was not at home, but do you know where she was—right next door talking to Mrs. William M. Myers, 1106.

The phone was not answered at Mrs. Carrie Kincaid's home, 1108. Black-eyed peas are on the menu for today at the C. Raymond Dunagan house, 1110.

Mrs. Brandon Curry, 1208, had gone to take someone to work. Only a busy signal came from the Curtis Reynolds place, 1300. The Homer P. Gents, 1302, were not to be found.

House cleaning was taking up Mrs. Earl T. Reagan's time at 1303. Mrs. Alter J. Reed, 1305, had just finished washing the dishes and was pouring out the water.

No one reached for the ringing phone at the Cecil A. Hortons, 1310, or at Mrs. Juanita Sewells, 1400.

"Late, isn't it," said Mrs. Earl Brownrigg, 1401, "but I am eating breakfast." There was no answer at the James E. Terry home, 1402.

I woke up Mrs. William D. Miller, 1404, but she assured me that it was time for her to get up anyway. Mrs. Miller works late at night.

On the not-at-home list were the Gordon Gross family, 1405, and the Al L. Shipman, 1406. Mrs. Leticia T. Merrick, 1410, was at work.

"Filing my fingernails," replied Mrs. William F. Cook, 1500, while Mrs. Bruton Petty, 1502, was getting dressed and washing clothes, all at the same time.

Plans were being made for remodeling the living room at 1506 Nolan by Mrs. Thomas L. Newton.

A series of "no answers" came when the phone rang at the homes of Horace C. Beene, 1508, Albert B. Sisson, 1600, and John N. Dane, 1604.

Mrs. Arthur Woodall, 1608, was working in the kitchen and Mrs. J. Ernest Kennedy, 1612, was writing letters to her "kiddos." The John H. Lemmonses were not at home at 1804.

"As usual, fixing the baby's bottle," exclaimed Mrs. Varnell Johnson, 1807, "and trying to do some sewing."

Dishes were being washed by Mrs. Denver G. Harris, 1810. The Billy E. Casey, 1811, have struck out for somewhere, because there was no answer. Mrs. Jake B. Bruton, 1900, was shoving a broom and flinging a dust cloth.

"Planning what to wear to the Officers' Wives' Club meeting this afternoon," explained Mrs. Robert G. Woda, 1908.

Mrs. Lonnie M. McClary, 1910, was working in the yard. At 2102, Mrs. Aubrey L. Gilstray was writing.

Pioneer Sewing Club Meets In Henry Home

FORSAN—Mrs. Ted Henry was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the Pioneer Sewing Club with six attending. Mrs. C. C. Suttles will be the next hostess.

Mrs. Clarence Schwede entertained Tuesday afternoon with a cosmetic party. Guests were Mrs. C. L. Draper, Mrs. D. L. Knight, Mrs. E. M. Bailey, Mrs. C. D. Fowler, Mrs. Floyd Pike, Mrs. Al Tidwell, Mrs. R. A. Fuller, Mrs. L. T. Shoultz, Mrs. E. Bassinger and Mrs. J. W. Skeen.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Everett have been Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Salmon and Sandra of Kermit. Sandra remained for a visit.

Mrs. S. C. Crumley Sr. has returned from a visit in Doodie.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Thornton have recently visited relatives in Pecos.

The Jeff Joneses have returned from Weatherford where they were guests of relatives.

Mrs. Frank L. Dorsey and Mrs. Gale J. Page will leave Tuesday for an extended tour of New Mexico. In Gallup, N. M., they will see the Indian Snake Dance and on their return trip they will visit Rudoso.

Matter Of Waistlines Settled--Or Is It?

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (R) — Balenciaga is putting waistlines back where they belong — at least in some models.

Hardened fashion writers were amazed at the sight today, after all these seasons.

Since it was "Bal" who started the waist on its wanderings, it can now be taken for granted that things are nearly back to normal.

Of course, buttoned-on tab belts still appear at the small of the back, or right where you sit down, or in a double-decker version—one low, the other lower.

But today's models no longer looked as if they had been hurriedly, if masterfully, hacked out with hedge clippers.

There were even new mannequins, with faces that wouldn't break the camera. The designer has a reputation for hiring the plainest models in Paris, so as not to distract from his clothes.

"Vintage Balenciaga touches came out in stand-off cape collars, long cape-coats, cow-neck, bucket saucerpan hats, and that inevitable trademark, roses stuck bang on the front of flat saucer hats.

The designer uses rounded night-shirt splits on the tails of jackets and coats, and even on the hem of capes.

One mannequin wore as a hat the head of a white fox, with long diamond eyelashes.

Some of the camisole cocktail sheaths made it look as if the wearer forgot to put on her dress. Loose flat panels may hang down either behind or in front. Flat bows perch on the tummy, or alternatively, the fancy. Jackets are either tunic length or barely below the waist.

Waists that are really fitted where they belong appear mostly in dresses and evening gowns. Bloused-over tops still appear, and so do coats that fit nowhere except at the hips.

The Balenciaga collection, at the last big name opening, virtually winds up the 1935 fashion premieres in Paris.

ARE YOU SITTING ON A MILLION DOLLAR IDEA?
Have you ever thought to yourself, "What this country needs is a little gadget that will do such-and-such a thing?" Well, maybe you're right, and if so, that little gadget could reap a fortune for you as its originator. The problem, however, is to convert your money-making idea into cold cash. In a special article in the next issue of FAMILY WEEKLY, you'll learn how to do just that. Ray Josephs, author of the book, "How to Make Money from Your Ideas," explains, step-by-step, the way to transform a brain child into a successful reality.

Diet Is Helpful

A star is being reborn, now that Julie London is back in show business. The star of Republic's "Man to Man" passes on diet suggestions that have helped her.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY Proper Diet Is A Help To Julie On Comeback

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD—Julie London is in the process of resuming a career that was interrupted several years ago by her marriage to Jack Webb. Now that she is free again, she hopes to take up where she left off, and her role in "Man to Man" for Republic marks her return to the screen.

I met Julie for cocktails in the popular Polo Lounge of the Beverly Hills Hotel and found her looking as lovely as ever. "I've been out of circulation so long," she told me, "that I was prepared to be considered somewhat out of style, especially with my long hair. Men invariably comment about its length but what they say is usually pretty favorable. I tried short hair and hated it, and I think the way you feel about yourself is important."

I wish all the girls who are unhappy because they have freckles could see Julie. They might well change their minds.

"I love the sun," Julie confided, "and even though it brings out millions of freckles, I can't stay out of it. I can always cover them up with pancake make-up if I want to hide them," she laughed.

When a waiter set a tempting platter of assorted cheeses and crackers in front of us, Julie gently pushed it away.

"I can tell by my clothes when it's calorie-counting-time. I find it's much easier to get back to normal if you begin cutting down right away," she said.

Malone Defeats Big Springers For Odessans

ODESSA, (SC) — Odessa climbed out of a tie for the Longhorn League cellar by defeating the down-trodden Big Spring Cosden Cops, 8-1, here Wednesday night.

The shelling leaves the Bobbies all alone at the bottom of the heap. Audie Malone had the Cops eating out of his hand in pitching the win. He allowed only five hits and struck out 11.

The Cops got their lone run in the seventh when Manny Sabari scored on a single by Garland Turano.

Agua Baca started on the mound for Big Spring, but proved no mystery to the Eagles. He was tagged for seven hits in five innings.

Dale Scales, a nemesis of the Cops all season, paced the Odessa attack with a triple and two singles. Malone added his own cause with a brace of doubles.

Bob Cullins and Lefty Loyko drove in two runs each for the War Birds. The teams met again here this evening, with Marcus Job due to hurl for Big Spring.

The teams move back to Big Spring on Friday for a single game. BIG SPRING (1) 4 0 0 2 3

Cleveland May Be Ready To Make Move For Flag

By ED WILKS The Associated Press

For a club that's just marking time, waiting for lightning to strike, those Cleveland Indians aren't doing bad at all. They haven't had a chance to catch fire yet, not with Bob Lemon ailing and Al Rosen, Larry Doby and Vic Wertz in slumps, yet Manager Al Lopez has his defending champs in a second-place tie with the New York Yankees in the brawling American League race.

On top of injuries, Lopez had to wait until little more than a month ago before he could count on Mike Garcia again. But after losing six straight, Big Mike has won five of six decisions, including a dandy four-hit job against New York for a 2-1 victory.

With Boston thumping first-place Chicago 6-4, the Indians and Yanks are just one game shy of the White Sox. Boston is three games back. Detroit stayed 3 1/2 behind Boston, beating Washington 3-0. Kansas City split with Baltimore, winning 5-1 after a 4-3 defeat.

Brooklyn went 14 1/2 games ahead again in the National, beating Milwaukee 9-6. New York knocked St. Louis 5-3; Philadelphia whipped Cincinnati 8-4, and Chicago split with Pittsburgh, winning 5-4 in 12 innings after losing 3-2.

Garcia, the league's earned run leader in '34, who lost his touch at season's start, needed help from Don Mossi and Ray Narleski after Mickey Mantle led off the ninth with a single. But the two relief aces wrapped it up in short order to protect the decision that ex-Yank Gene Woodling manufactured with a two-run homer in the fourth.

Bob Turley lost his 19th, giving three hits and striking out eight in his eight frames, but again going wild. He walked eight, five of them in the first three innings when he stranded seven runners, and gave Al Smith a free ride ahead of Woodling's shot.

Boston three times battled back to tie the White Sox before Jackie Jensen delivered a two-out double for two runs in the eighth. Ted Williams, passed intentionally by reliever Millard Howell after Billy Goodman reached second on a single and error, scored all the way from first on the extra-base hit.

Minnie Minoso snapped his slump with two homers for the Cubs, but Chicago couldn't do a thing as Tom Hurl wrapped it up with 2 1/3 innings of one-hit relief. Detroit remained in contention on rookie Frank Lary's two-hitter. He didn't give a hit in the last 6 2/3 innings, riding in on Fred Hatfield's homer and two REs by Frank House.

Gil Hodges and Don Zimmer each homered twice for the Brooks. Hodges' pair were good for six runs. His grand-slammer in the first inning was the 11th of his career, one short of the league mark. The Braves, who lost Joe Adcock for the season Sunday, will be without Ed Mathews for three or four days. He cut a finger in an accident at his home.

The Phils banged across eight runs in the sixth, seven unearned, after being blanked for 2 1/3 innings by Redleg pitching. Robin Roberts hung up his 17th victory. Bill Virdon homered twice for all the Cardinals' runs, but they took their sixth straight defeat as New York scored four in the fifth on four singles and Don Mueller's double.

Harry Chitt's RBI single with two out in the 12th gave the Cubs their nightcap decision after Jerry Lynch's pinch double counted two runs for the Cubs in the ninth inning of the opener.

Rookie Bob Hale came through with a two-run pinch double in the ninth for the Orioles, who pulled a triple play in their first game success. The A's nailed three runs in the first inning to take the after-piece.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Don't be surprised if Big Spring's Frosty Robison is used almost exclusively on defense in the All-Star football game at San Antonio tomorrow night.

The story is making the rounds that the Longhorn League started the 1934 season with $12,000 in the bank. If that be the case, then last year wouldn't be a good testimonial for the administration of Harry James, the Roswell man who served as president of the league for one season.

The circuit is broke now. As a matter of fact, W. J. Green, who now occupies the office, recently borrowed $10,000 from a San Angelo bank to keep the organization going.

James held the line by refusing to let Sweetwater fold but possibly at a prohibitive cost. I don't think Red Murff will ever make good in the major leagues. The Dallas ace is not Charley Grimm's type of pitcher. The Milwaukee manager would be making a big mistake by using him in relief, as it has been reported he will do.

Don't let the great record compiled by Rene Vega at Corpus Christi fool you, either. He's not that good, though some of the people in his corner have been boomer him for the major leagues.

Jim Zapp clubbed a mighty home run the first night he joined Port Arthur, after departing Big Spring. The ball traveled 390 feet over a wall in center field. That would make 30 for the season. The blast came with two aboard and helped Port Arthur to a victory.

Earl Perry, who is losing out as boss of the baseball spread at Port Arthur, gave Big Spring Jim Newberry almost as an afterthought. He first agreed to give the Cosden Cops $500 and send Garland Turano on option in exchange for Zapp. The deal had already been agreed upon, when Perry offered to throw in Newberry as a gift.

There are those who think that the Cops would be in the first division, had Newberry been here all season. Perry said he had one last chance to finish out of the red at Port Arthur and that would be by selling Turano, who has attracted scouts all season.

ALL-STAR GO OVER KBST

The annual Texas Coaches Association All-Star football game, which will be played in Alamo Stadium in San Antonio, will be broadcast over Radio Station KBST Big Spring, starting at 8 o'clock Friday night.

Carlisle (Frosty) Robison, Big Spring halfback, will be one of the players in the game. He will be aligned with the North.

Damato Released By Dallas Club

DALLAS — Utility infielder Joe Damato has been given his outright release by the Dallas baseball club, it was announced yesterday.

Damato was signed by the Texas League Eagles as a free agent June 30. He previously played with Beaumont and Oklahoma City.

Carl Coleman Nominated For Vice-Presidency

SAN ANTONIO — Tom Pruett of Corpus Christi is due to become president of the Texas High School Coaches Assn. today.

Pruett was nominated for the top post yesterday and at the same time the nominating committee picked four men to be voted upon in obtaining a successor to Pruett as vice president. They were: T. Bain of Kilgore, Weidon Phillips of Pasadena, Roland Warren of Brownwood and Carl Coleman of Big Spring.

Director of the association were selected in regional meetings yesterday. They include: Region 4—O. W. Follis, Lamesa; John Malaise, Odessa, Almaraz; Region 5—Travis Hughes, Deer Park; Dyke Rose, Houston San Jacinto, alternate.

Men and women, man and wife-part of full time, no investment but your time. This is a chance to make more money than you ever dreamed possible. Part time men are making from $5 to $10 per hour. I have full time men and women making $200 or $300 weekly. This is a 25 year old company, nation wide. You get to see it up for men and women to have a sound and permanent position, never set up for men and women to have a job off and on. You can work hard and have a car for daily business use. See E. E. Northcutt, Settles Hotel, 1 P.M. or 7 P.M., Friday, Sharp.

AF Officer Held On Assault Count

WACO (AP) — First Lt. Albert Charles Balas Jr., 22, of Gary, Ind., a good-looking airman, was in jail today, charged with a series of attacks on women.

Balas, whose wife is five months pregnant, was arrested last night on two rape charges, two charges of assault with intent to commit rape and one charge of sodomy.

Jittery householders in the Waco area have been keeping loaded guns at hand and leaving backyard floodlights on after repeated attacks on women.

McLennan County Dist. Atty. Tom Moore, who filed the charges against the James Connally AFB officer, said Balas has made a statement concerning the acts.

The sturdy built officer, who sports a crew-cut, was picked up on suspicion by two Waco policemen early Sunday. He was released to Connally AFB when no reason was found to hold him.

Moore said the Connally provost marshal, Andrew M. Milney, resumed questioning of the officer and "broke the case."

The district attorney said Balas also told in his statement about attacks on women at Alexandria, La. Balas was stationed at Alexandria from February 1954 to January 1955 when he was transferred here.

Moore, said he would demand the death penalty.

Changes Made In GI Loans

New credit requirements for GI loans are now effective in this area, it has been announced by Robert W. Sisson, manager of the Veterans Administrations' regional office in Lubbock.

However, the requirements are not applicable in cases where the VA issued certificates of reasonable value prior to July 30 or in cases where appraisals were received in VA offices before July 30.

Veterans now purchasing homes with the aid of GI loans will be required to make a down payment of at least two per cent, and the maximum time for repayment will be 25 years, Sisson said.

Similar moderate credit requirements are being placed in effect by the Federal Housing Administration.

The old mortgage repayment period under VA regulations could run as high as 30 years. There was no mandatory down payment requirement prior to July 30.

"The new requirements are expected to help protect prospective GI loan applicants against the increased prices of homes, overextension of credit and financial risks," Sisson stated.

The requirements will not apply to GI loans made solely for the replacement or reconstruction of residential property damaged by catastrophes. Neither will it apply to repair, alteration or improvement loans.

Screen Actors Guild Strike Seems Certain

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Screen Actors Guild and the producers of television entertainment films have broken off negotiations again, and spokesmen say it means a strike is almost certain tomorrow.

FARMERS DON'T RECKON with real horsepower any more — a tractor can do the job better. Today's farm is an open-air factory with a specialized machine for every task. And America's mechanized farming produces more food . . . and better food . . . than any other country in the world.

But to mass produce the millions of tractors, plows, combines, pickers, cultivators that are found on modern farms, manufacturers must be able to sell them by the millions. Only by advertising can a manufacturer talk to millions of farmers at the same time.

ADVERTISING TELLS the story of new farm machinery and equipment — and helps sell it. The more it sells, the more must be made — keeping the production lines and the jobs going. The result: newer, better farm machinery at prices more farmers can afford to pay. Advertising helps make the difference — in farming, and in our American way of life.

College Nears Completion Of Faculty List

Howard County Junior College's faculty neared completion today after trustees elected Leslie Lewis, Cisco, as math and science instructor.

Lewis holds a master of arts degree from North Texas State College and has had 10 years of teaching experience.

In other action taken by the board at a called meeting Wednesday evening, Neill G. Hilliard, CPA, was again retained to do the annual audit of HCJC books for the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, 1955.

The Church of Christ congregation, planning a new building at the intersection of George and Eleventh Place, was given permission to make use of the HCJC auditorium on Sundays for a limited time. The new plant for the church group is due to be completed in four to six weeks.

A revision was made in salary scales to permit an increment at the rate of $100 per year for prior teaching experience up to 10 years. The previous scale allowed this automatic increase for only 11 1/2 years. The scale was otherwise unchanged, allowing $200 per year annual increase for experience at HCJC.

Dr. P. W. Malone, board president, said progress was being made on the final plans for the HCJC additions. KBST-TV also has asked for bids on its plant to be located on the northeast corner of the college property, he said.

Control Sought Over Lightning, Prime Forest Fire Cause

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — Government firefighters are aiming to disarm thunderclouds over Montana to control forest fires. Operation Skyfire is aimed at pulling the fangs of Montana lightning storms by the summer of 1956.

Jack Barrows, chief of the Intermountain Forest and Range Experiment Station, says the first objective is to get basic information by man-made changes in clouds. Sky tracking of clouds was among the first jobs. The paths of clouds will be charted to learn their patterns and thunderstorms classified by intensity.

Classification should help greatly, said Barrows. "In picking out clouds that look like good bets for seeding and passing up those that look like poor bets."

A mobile laboratory is in the field.

Rudder Reports No Oil Irregularities

AUSTIN (AP) — No evidence of irregularities in the huge oil land leasing program of the State School Land Board has been found since he took office, Land Commissioner J. Earl Rudder said yesterday.

Rudder, who became commissioner after Bascom Giles resigned under fire Jan. 1, was one of the final witnesses at a court of inquiry called here by Atty. Gen. John Ben Shupperd.

The court has been taking testimony for many weeks and is about to finish its work.

The inquiry has gone mainly into activities of the School Land Board, which leases state land including lifelands for oil and gas development. The land commissioner is automatically a member of the Veterans Land Board and School Land Board.

Rudder said that five land office geophysical inspectors on the Gulf Coast have been fired as a result of evidence turned up by the inquiry. In a hearing at Corpus Christi, testimony was that inspectors rented equipment to companies whose operations they were assigned to supervise.

Ruined City Rises Again

Slowly but surely Hiroshima is rebuilding from the shattered ruins left by the atom bombing ten years ago. At top, a few shacks and one business building stood amid the rubble one year after the 1945 blast, as dazed residents sought temporary shelter. The recent view below illustrates the progress as the new Hiroshima nears the 10th anniversary of the blast on Aug. 6.

IN HIROSHIMA Fear Of Atomic Death Lingers Ten Years After Bomb Blast

By GENE KRAMER
HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—Thousands who survived the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki 10 years ago live in fear today that their health is permanently damaged.

It is a fear subtly colored by anti-American elements, but it exists.

Some Japanese say, "Years after exposure to the bomb you suddenly become ill and die of atomic or radiation sickness. It is happening every week."

Others, including some doctors, claim exposure to radiation has reduced their energy and probably will shorten their lives.

When a survivor of the Hiroshima or Nagasaki atomic blasts dies—even if the cause is old age—some people and occasionally newspapers chalk it up to the bomb.

The Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission (ABCC), a joint U.S.-Japanese research project, says much of this is unfounded. The ABCC, conducting an exhaustive statistical study of long-term health effects in the atom-bombed cities has some of the answers already.

The study will continue for years, perhaps generations, officials say, but these are the basic findings so far:

1. Leukemia, the fatal blood disease, right now is more prevalent than normal among survivors of the bomb.
  2. So are eye cataracts, or opacity of the lens, although no blindness has been produced. Forty per cent of those so heavily exposed to radiation during atomic attack that their hair temporarily fell out have suffered this.
  3. No genetic effects have been observed in the first generation of children born to mothers exposed to radiation.
- Dr. R. H. Holmes, Aiken, S.C., director of the ABCC, said that in examining 75,000 adults and 70,000 children of Hiroshima and thousands more in Nagasaki, "The critical area for radiation was 2,000 meters 1-4 miles from the bomb's center. For any practical purpose, anyone further was not affected." Both bombs happened to be about the same size.
- Holmes said, "It is unlikely genetic effects will be observed in subsequent generations. However, everyone familiar with the subject knows radiation is capable of producing mutations. If such mutations occur, it is probable they would be so diluted in the future population so as to escape observation."
- The ABCC is interested in conclusive statistics and to get them it must examine thousands of individuals. Into its clinics, the finest medical facilities in Hiroshima and Nagasaki, it calls all survivors if it can find for complete dental, physical, blood and X-ray examinations. On the 800-man staff are 15 American and 30 Japanese physicians. Statistics are tabulated on modern business machines.

A big obstacle to the research project has been emotional hostility to atomic weapons in the bombed cities. ABCC's original policy of examining but not treating patients brought charges of handling Japanese like "guinea pigs." But feeling is much improved now with a closer relationship with community physicians and a recent decision to give treatment when recommended by local physicians, even to people not exposed to the A-bomb. Many Hiroshima people say they are grateful for the ABCC physical examination, often the first they have ever had.

Kyoshi Kikkawa, badly-burned atom bomb souvenir seller in Hiroshima, insists bitterly to all tourists, "Atomic victims seem healthy but they are too feeble to do any hard work."

"Whatever 'atomic sickness' is, it is an ill-defined, vague condition," said Holmes.

"There's no way to prove fatigue comes from radiation. Who knows, in 10 years we might accept such a theory, but we must insist on being scientific and accepting only the facts as we learn them," said Dr. Wayne Truax, ABCC director in Nagasaki.

Many bomb survivors were found to be anemic. Truax disclosed that 10 to 12 per cent of those examined in Nagasaki had anemia in many cases caused by worms and cleared up by worm medicine. He also mentioned bad diet.

Dr. Michihiko Hachiya, director of Communications Hospital in Hiroshima, said the term "Genbaku-sho" or atomic sickness, actually stems back to the confusion of Japan's defeat when almost anyone ill in Hiroshima was assumed to have "Genbaku-sho."

Hachiya and other Japanese doctors say 9,000 bomb survivors in Hiroshima and Nagasaki desperately need treatment, 3,900 of them for external injuries such as keloid, the ugly scarring which restricts movement.

The big problem is money for equipment, attendants, medicine and welfare for patients who couldn't otherwise leave their jobs. The two cities are asking $216,000 from the central government as part of an $888,000 four-year plan to care for all survivors in need.

"Since the war we have treated 500 plastic surgery cases, and they were as major as the Hiroshima maidens being treated in New York. We just need more resources," said Hachiya.

Graham Hints Russian Trip

NEW YORK (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham, just back from a European preaching tour, says he "would be willing to go to Russia under certain circumstances."

Graham said a group of Russian Baptist ministers had discussed the possibility of a Russian crusade with him in London. He gave no further details but added, "I probably will make an announcement concerning this invitation next month."

Jess Talkin by Jess Blair

J. T. Langley of the Elbow community brought 22 head of cattle to the auction sale Wednesday. He had them on grass for several months then put them in the feed lot. He says his grass was all gone and it was time to sell.

Langley is one of the few farmers at Elbow who has a cotton crop. He attributes his good luck to having his place deep broken. While most fields leveled over on June 8, his cotton was not damaged. He says it is still dry out that way, though he has had a little over two inches of rain the last two or three weeks.

Howard County may produce more than 30,000 bales of cotton, thinks John Whitaker of the Co-op Gin and Supply. He says their gin handled out 4,823 bales last year, and he believes they will gin 5,000 this year.

"This crop will be strung out more," he said, "because last year most of it opened in about three weeks' time. This year it may be opening from September until Christmas."

Mrs. Violet Lindley has planted 40 acres of pinto beans and 50 acres of black-eyed peas on her 320-acre farm in Glasscock County. She already has a market for all the green peas she can grow. A major company has promised to take them at their canner.

She says the area south of Lomax where her farm is located is in much better condition than a few months ago. They have had three inches of rain, and crops are growing well. She has feed ranging from the newly planted to one field where it is heading out. She says feed isn't worth much when sold as grain, so she plans on feeding it to cattle next winter.

Mrs. Lindley is employed at a Big Spring bank, and has a farm manager who operates the farm.

There is water at Moss Creek Lake but none of it gets out to the rangeland. H. A. Hays, who ranches nearby says he has practically no grass whatever. His sheep have made out, though, without any extra feed. They have had a few pasture weeds and mesquite beans.

He says his place in Borden County is in good condition. The heavy rains brought out a quick growth of grass, and cattle are doing well. He doesn't keep any sheep up there for two reasons.

Junior Rodeo Opens At Post August 10

POST — The 8th Annual Southwestern Championship Junior Rodeo, open to contestants 19 years of age and under, is to open here Wednesday, Aug. 10 and continue through Saturday. Each night's performance will begin at 8 o'clock.

Approximately $2,500 in cash and prizes is being offered winners in bareback bronc riding, bull riding, ribbon roping, calf roping, cowgirl sponsor contest, cutting horse contest, flag race and kid's pony race, which is open to contestants 12 years of age and under.

A street parade at 6 p.m. on opening day will officially set rodeo activities in motion.

In addition to the eight rodeo events, there will be specialty acts and a dance at the rodeo grounds after each night's show.

The 6th Annual Garza County Quarter Horse Show is to be held the afternoon of the final day of the rodeo.

White School Boycott Planned In Arkansas

HOXIE, Ark. (AP)—More than 150 white persons agreed last night to boycott schools in this northeast Arkansas town until racial integration is abolished.

They signed a resolution presented at a town meeting by Herbert Brewer, a farmer, and they agreed to withhold their children from school, starting today.

Hot Carnival

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—The Avona Fire Department had to close its carnival for the day yesterday after fire destroyed six stands and damaged two others on the carnival grounds—just across the street from the Avona fire house.

Rodeo Charter Provides There Is No Profit

The Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo is a non-profit institution. Contrary to any notions some might hold that officials or stockholders of the association stand to profit from the venture, not anyone connected with the association stands to profit by its activities.

Those who have invested in the show through purchase of stock have done so as a community gesture. They have worked to make the show grow and to improve plant facilities as a civic contribution.

Returning Airman Puts Girl On Spot

CISCO GROVE, Calif. (AP)—A thin 20-year-old girl today faced the biggest decision of her life: whether to return to the airman husband she thought was dead or stay with the man she married later and loves.

Now she is the wife of a husky 21-year-old logging camp tractor operator. They live in a small trailer a few miles from this tiny highway town in the High Sierra.

Children's Rides May Be Added At Municipal Park

Indications are that Big Spring's municipal park will soon have a children's merry-go-round and ferris wheel. James J. Skipalis, airman at Webb, has already obtained permission from the City Commission to operate the children's rides at the park.

Congress Got Good Deal Of Work Done In Recent Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first session of the 84th Congress saw a good bit of work done. Some of the hottest issues were spiked in advance of adjournment early today but others no less controversial were hurried.

The House originally had balked at any public housing. Eisenhower asked for 70,000 units in two years. Minimum Wage—Congress voted for a $1-an-hour minimum wage for workers in interstate commerce.

Something For The Birds

W. A. Laswell shows his pond and well-equipped grounds he has at Cosden for the collection of fowls. Here are a few of his ducks and peacocks.

Man Of Many Talents- And He Can Cook Too

Whether it's managing the tank car department at Cosden Petroleum Corporation, raising fowls, or barbecuing chickens, W. A. Laswell can do them all very well. All these activities take place at his office and bamboo-surrounded grounds just at the east end of Cosden. Behind the high fence, about 40 or 50 fowls of all types and one dog, "Queenie" roam. In his menagerie, Mr. Laswell has ducks, peacocks, bantams, turkeys, chickens, and a new variety of half turkey and half chicken called, "turklings."

At the present time, he has several baby peacocks. Mr. Laswell barbecues chickens, and sometimes steaks, for parties or groups who want his service. He is very casual about his method. He cleans the chickens and cuts them in half, then cooks them over a post oak low fire for about three hours, dishing them with the barbecue sauce every 25 or 30 minutes.

When questioned about the sauce, he stated that usually the customer made his own sauce to suit his taste.

"When we make it out here," he said, "we just put in everything but the kitchen sink."

If you have to wait some time to serve the barbecue, Mr. Laswell suggests that you wrap the chickens in foil to lock in the heat and flavor.

A Cosden employe, B. E. "Blackie" Reagan, helps Mr. Laswell with the barbecuing.

two recipes were combined to achieve delicious results. Mrs. Flewellen gives her recipe in a large quantity, but, of course, it can be cut down to meet the individual's needs. This recipe is for 18 chickens, or 36 halves.

3 bottles Worcestershire sauce
2 bottles catsup
1 tablespoon dry mustard
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup vinegar
1 pound oleomargarine

Melt oleomargarine and stir in dry ingredients. Pour in liquids and bring to a boil and remove from heat.

Deep Apple Pie Is Old Time Favorite

Deep dish apple pie was a favorite of grandmother's day and the good taste is just as evident in this modern version. Fresh oranges combined with the apples and spices makes this particularly delicious.

DEEP DISH APPLE ORANGE PIE

3 medium oranges
3 to 4 medium apples
2-3 cup sugar
1/2 cup flour
1 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon allspice
1/2 tablespoon grated orange peel
2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
3 tablespoons margarine or butter

Peel oranges, quarter and slice thin crosswise. Pare and quarter apples; cut into thin slices. Combine sugar, flour, brown sugar, spices and grated peels. Line a 10 by 6 inch baking dish with pastry. Arrange alternate layers of apple and orange in dish, sprinkling each layer with sugar mixture and dotting with butter or margarine. Cover with top crust and flute edges. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 15 minutes; reduce heat to 350 degrees F. and continue baking for 40 to 45 minutes. Serves eight.

An excellent barbecue sauce that will go on the chickens is made by Mrs. Lina Flewellen, 601 Runnels. At one recent dinner, these

Elegant Potatoes

Peel baking potatoes, place each on cutting board and with a sharp knife cut through potato almost to underneath side. Make slices 1/4 to 1/2 inch in thickness. Combine melted butter with salt, pepper, paprika and grated onion. Place potatoes on squares of heavy duty foil and brush liberally with this mixture, letting it pour in between slices. Wrap in the foil being sure to have it overlap at top of potato and turn ends up so melted shortening will not run out. Bake 6-ounce potatoes 45 minutes. 8-ounce potatoes 60 minutes. When the foil is opened, the potato slices will open up fan fashion.

Mix Olives In Beef For Spicy Tang

If you are tired of serving the same old thing in hamburgers, try this recipe for variety.

OLIVE BURGERS
3 cups (1 1/2 pounds) ground beef
2 tablespoons chopped stuffed olives
1/2 cup chopped dill pickle
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
1/2 cup water
8 sandwich buns
1/2 cup soft butter or margarine

Combine beef, olives, pickles, mustard, salt, dry bread crumbs and water. Shape into 8 meat patties, using 1/2 cup of meat mixture for a patty. Grill hamburger patties, turning them so they will brown on both sides. Cut buns in half. Spread 1/2 teaspoon butter on each bun half. Heat buns in basket broiler while meat is grilling. Place grilled meat patty between heated bun halves. Serve hot.

Foil Roasted Corn

Husk ears of corn and lay them on squares of heavy duty aluminum foil. Spread with soft butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper and brush with barbecue sauce, if desired. Wrap the corn, sealing edges together with a tight fold. Place on the grate and cook 10 to 15 minutes, turning frequently. If the corn is to be roasted right on the coals, use a double thickness of heavy duty foil and shorten the time slightly.

These Dips Will Win Favor With Everyone

Mention a dip you like to serve and the Ladies Club is all ears. Maybe because dips are a comparatively recent innovation. Well, newcomers they may be, but they seem to be here to stay.

Look back into American cook books of the early part of this century—including Fanny Farmer. Not a dip in sight. But open any spanking-new edition of a general cook book and you are sure to find them on hand.

One of the most popular of the dips is made with a base of avocado and comes to us via Mexico. Usually called Guacamole, it is seasoned various ways. Another popular dip has cream cheese as a base and it, too, is combined with other foods in fascinating array.

Here's a version of the avocado dip we like to serve with tiny frankfurters. We heat the frankfurters on the spit of our electric rotisserie or we simmer them in water just until they are hot through.

And here are interesting additions to make to a cream-cheese base; use it as a dunk for pretzels. The avocado dip may also be accompanied by pretzels.

GUACAMOLE, SOUTHWEST STYLE

Ingredients:
One medium-sized or large avocado, 1 tablespoon lemon or lime juice, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon chili powder.

Method:
Cut avocado in half lengthwise; twist halves in opposite directions to separate; remove seed. Strip off peel. Mash avocado very fine with a fork; mix in lemon juice, salt and chili powder. If the avocado is medium-sized it will probably make 1/2 to 1 cup; if it is large it will probably make 1 1/2 cups and you may wish to add more lemon juice, salt and chili powder.

MEDITERRANEAN PRETZEL DIP

Ingredients:
One teaspoon coarsely chopped garlic, 1 small can (2 ounces) anchovy fillets, 2 tablespoons cider vinegar, 2 packages (3 ounces each) cream cheese, 1/2 cup milk, 1 teaspoon capers (chopped) if desired.

Method:
Mash garlic in mortar with pestle, or on waxed paper with flat part of heavy knife blade, until it is a pulp. Add anchovies with their oil to garlic and mash again to a paste. Stir in vinegar. Have cream cheese at room temperature; gradually beat in milk; mix in garlic-anchovy mixture. Stir in chopped capers if used. Makes about 1 1/2 cups. Serve with pretzels so that guests can dip them into the cream-cheese mixture.

DEEP SOUTH DIP

Talking of dips reminds us of an appetizer course in one of the most delightful of recently published cook books, "Jesse's Book of Creole and Deep South Recipes" by Edith Ballard Watts and John Watts (Wiking). Jesse presided as "chief cook and bottlewasher" for Mrs. Watts' family and their five children for over 40 years and the cookbook is a honey but intriguing collection of regional recipes. Included, too, are some Key West

Campfire Vegetables

Wrap sliced potatoes, frozen peas, or other frozen vegetables to which you have added butter and seasonings, in aluminum foil, bringing the edges of the foil together, sealing with a double fold. Place the packets of vegetables on top of the grill or right on the hot coals for about 15 to 20 minutes. If the vegetables are done before the meat, push the packets to one side of the fire and the foil will keep them hot until the whole meal is ready to serve.

Chicken Pie Made Easy With Noodle Soup Mix

Surest way to restore flagging appetites is with a delectable dish. Consider this delicious chicken pie with its crusty noodle topping.

Here is a recipe that make ingenious use of a package of chicken noodle soup mix. The noodles are strained out in the beginning later to be mixed with beaten egg and spooned over the top of the pie to make an unusual golden crisp crust.

A package of soup mix also heightens the delicate chicken flavor and lends additional nourishment when added to the other ingredients.

Then from oven to table, to be served with a minted pear and cottage cheese salad. Follow up with a berry short cake and a pitcher of ice tea. A meal to remember, your family will agree.

CHICKEN PIE WITH CRUSTY TOPPING

One package chicken noodle soup 1 1/4 cups water
1 cup milk, approximately

6 tablespoons butter or margarine
5 tablespoons flour
2 cups cooked chicken, cubed
1 cup cooked or frozen peas
1/2 cup chopped pimiento
2 tablespoons grated onion
1/2 cup canned or fresh mushrooms
2 eggs, slightly beaten

Cook chicken noodle soup according to directions on package using 1 1/4 cups water. Strain out noodles reserving for topping. Add enough milk to the soup liquid to make 2 cups. Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan and blend well with flour. Gradually add soup and milk mixture, stirring constantly to prevent lumps. Cook until thickened. Fold in chicken, peas, pimiento, onion and mushrooms. Pour into a greased 1 1/2 quart casserole or 4-6 individual casseroles. Combine noodles strained from soup with beaten eggs. Pour over the top of the casserole and bake at 400 degrees F. for 20 minutes or until noodles are crusty and brown.

North Korean MP Crosses Border

SEOUL (AP) — A North Korean Communist military police sergeant crossed to the Allied side today and asked for political asylum, the U. S. 8th Army said. The Army said Sgt. Yi Kyong Pin declared he wanted to come South after watching both his own Communist army and U. N. forces in the joint demilitarized zone. An 8th Army spokesman said 23-year-old Yi will be given asylum "if the man is sincere in his intentions to flee the Communist world." Allied authorities will decide whether to grant asylum after interrogation is completed. Yi surrendered to American soldiers on patrol in the truce boundary's demilitarized zone. The spokesman said it was a "quiet transaction."

2 Brothers Admit Hanging Their Dog

BALDWIN, N.Y. (AP) — Two boys were in trouble with the law today for hanging their dog. Their explanation for the deed: "We couldn't train it." Police said the two brothers, aged 9 and 12, admitted hanging the animal in Loft Pond park, but denied witnesses' claims they first had beaten the animal with a stick.

Yanks On The Spot In South Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Americans living in South Viet Nam have become the victims of a new and stealthy war of nerves. American Embassy officials have received threats against their lives. Private automobiles of U.S. diplomats have been burned or blown up. Grenades have been tossed against an apartment building which houses embassy families. No one is quite sure who is behind the campaign of terrorism. The Americans apparently are being attacked because they represent a government which supports anti-Communist Nationalist Premier Ngo Dinh Diem. Though street fighting in this capital of two million has stopped, the bitter struggle on. A number of groups hate Diem and the Americans who back him. The Binh Xuyen society, a band of onetime river pirates who controlled Saigon's vice industry, brought the country close to civil war in April. After 48 hours of bloody battling they were driven out of the city. They still control a small section of the meandering Saigon River. Another implacable Diem enemy is Gen. Le Quang Vinh, better known as Bacut, head of the rebellious Hoang Hao religious army which has spread terror in Viet Nam's Far West for years. His strength has been broken but he still is a source of trouble. The forces opposing the Premier are swelled too by the underground of the Communist Viet-minh. Officially the Reds have been quiet since the Geneva armistice gave them North Viet Nam last year, but they still have a well-organized and efficient clandestine network throughout South Viet Nam. Many Frenchmen also are not friendly to Diem.

Wins $32,000 On Quiz Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Could you answer this question: What Verdi opera started Arturo Toscanini on his career as a conductor; in what country did he conduct it; where was the opera first performed and on the eve of what holiday was that premiere? The correct answer was worth $32,000 to Geno Prato, an Italian-born Bronx shoemaker, on a television quiz show Tuesday night. Without hesitation the lifelong opera enthusiast gave the right reply — Aida; Brazil; Cairo, Egypt and Christmas Eve.

Scientist Predicts Landing On Moon In 20th Century
COPENHAGEN (AP) — American scientist Frederick C. Durant predicted today that man will land on the moon by the end of the present century. Durant, of Lexington, Mass., made the statement at the official opening of the 6th International Astronautical Congress here. Referring to the recent White House announcement that America will launch an unmanned earth satellite in 1957-58, Durant, president of the International Astronautical Federation said: "The next step will be an unmanned satellite which will not return to the earth. This will be followed by trips around the moon. I personally believe all these achievements including landings on the moon will be accomplished by the end of this century." Delegates from 18 nations heard Durant's short address. Two Soviet scientists were on hand as observers. "The frontiers of exploration have virtually disappeared on earth," Durant said. "The new frontiers are out in another dimension."

McMurry College Begins $800,000 Building Fund Drive

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — A dinner meeting last night launched a drive to raise $800,000 for two new buildings on the McMurry College campus. Eugene McElvany, senior vice-president of the first national bank of Abilene, was the principal speaker and donated $1,000. Three unnamed college trustees donated $100,000. O. H. Finch, Dalhart, contributed $50,000. The campaign is being sponsored by the Northwest Texas and New Mexico conference. The new buildings will house a classroom and a girls' dormitory.

Judge Is Witness In Driving Charge

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Albert A. Wheeler, 23, was convicted in Municipal Court yesterday of driving while intoxicated. The only witness, Ted Goldman, testified Wheeler drove his car right into his yard at night. Acting Judge Gene Rowlette fined Wheeler $55.25. Rowlette was taking the place of Municipal Judge Ted Goldman, who disqualified himself because it was his yard.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

At left is the leg of a housefly and in center is a wasp's leg. At the right is the leg of a Katydid, with an arrow pointed at the typanum, or so-called "ear."

As I said the other day, an adult insect has six legs. This statement leads some persons to ask the first question I shall deal with today.

Q. Why do you say that an adult insect has six legs when a spider has eight legs?

A. It is a common mistake to class spiders as insects. Actually spiders belong to the arachnid family. Other arachnids are mites and scorpions. A spider has four pairs of legs, and all of these are used for walking.

Q. Do the young of insects also have six legs apiece?

A. In some cases the young have many pairs of legs. Certain insects (including moths and butterflies) have crawling, wormlike young known as caterpillars.

A caterpillar of a moth or butterfly seldom has fewer than 10 legs, and may have 16 legs. Some scientists describe six of the legs as "true legs" and the rest as "prolegs." A typical sawfly caterpillar has six legs of each type.

Q. Certain of the true insects seem to have two extra legs in front, making a total of eight. How is that explained?

A. It is usual for an adult insect to have a pair of feelers at the front of its head. Often these are about the same length as the legs of the insect. In other cases the feelers are much shorter, or much longer, than the legs.

Q. What is the purpose of the feelers?

A. Also known as "antennae," the feelers serve as organs of touch. Insects use the feelers to learn the nature of objects which they touch.

Long-horned grasshoppers have very long feelers. These grasshoppers of the meadow are said to "spit tobacco." The feelers of a long-horned grasshopper may measure more than two inches in length, and may be longer than the body.

Disaster Marked State's Experiment With Toll Roads

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan had a sad experience with its first toll roads.

They were built of oak and elm planks four inches thick, and newspaper clippings of a hundred years ago said they would last forever as part of an interstate highway network.

The toll turnpikes began in 1848 under the so-called Plank Road Act. Investors snapped up stock. By 1851 four fanned out from Detroit, one running 51 miles. There also was an 18-mile one from Kalamazoo to Schoolcraft.

A combination of faulty financing and unsound construction killed them.

Travelers were charged a cent a mile "for the distance he states he is going, for every mule, ox or horse attached to a vehicle." A full day's traffic at some toll gates amounted to less than $2—and gate keepers by law had to be paid at least $1 a day. Some keepers were getting more than investors.

Washouts beneath the planks caused trouble. So did soggy stretches in which the planks often would snap off a wagon wheel. Rotted planks made traps for horses' hooves.

Plant Expansion

RICHMOND, VA (AP)—Reynolds Metals Co. has announced expansion to add 20 million pounds a year to its aluminum production at its San Patricio County, Tex., plant. It is part of a national program to add 271 million pounds to the firm's production.

Farmer Killed

LUFKIN, Tex. (AP)—M. R. Jones, 68, a farmer, was killed yesterday in the collision of his pickup truck and a city dump truck.

Beetle Joins Fight On Army Worms

SHELBY, N. C. (AP)—A little black beetle has volunteered on the side of farmers of this section who've been fighting a plague of grain-eating army worms.

Ray Wilson, a farm manager, says the beetles pounce on the army worms, shake them vigorously, and devour them.

The question that's worrying the farmers now is: What occupation will the beetles turn to after they've won the war with the army worms?

Sparrows Leave With Horses

CHICAGO (AP)—Sparrows have left the city as the horse population has decreased, says Dr. Austin L. Rand, curator of birds at the Natural History Museum.

"Where there were horses there were sparrows," he said. "There was waste grain in abundance to support the dense sparrow population in the centers of cities. Now sparrows are scarce as well as horses."

Horse drawn vehicles in Chicago have dwindled from 4,009 in 1931 to 52 this year, according to license records. In 1890, the city was at its horiest with 101,566 brought in for sale.

Hog Puts Up Tough Fight

LANDRUM, S. C. (AP)—Sawmiller Albert Nodine and four other men were cutting timber when they found the fresh tracks of an unusually large wild hog. Previously warned of the hog's bad temper and size by the landowner, they retired for their guns.

When they cornered the 520-pound porker in dense honeysuckles, Nodine poked it with his gun barrel to rouse it into a better shooting position.

The hog turned and charged, racing between Nodine's legs and upsetting him. His gun discharged and the rest of the party converged and fired away. A load of buckshot struck the hog and also Nodine's foot.

Nodine's injuries were more serious than those of the white and black Hampshire. He had to be hospitalized.

Later, the party returned to the woods, tracked down the hog and felled it with six direct hits. The ham was cured for Nodine.

Yep, That Davy Was A Foxy Feller

GREENVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Irene Bewley, a resident of Davy Crockett's native Greene County, has done some boning up on Crockett lore and come up with this shattering conclusion:

"The cap the frontiersman habitually wore probably wasn't coonskin at all — it was fox skin."

STEER WRESTLING
'Hand-To-Horn' Contest Rough
Steer-wrestling is a hand-to-horn contest between man and beast with the animal usually outweighing the man about four times.
It demands plenty of courage to leap from the back of a horse onto the back of a charging steer. Strength and endurance are required to bring the animal to a stop and twist it down.
This phase of the rodeo is not a necessary accomplishment of the ranch hand. It was brought into the rodeo as an original stunt to add excitement to the rodeo contest. It has acquired a featured position in almost all rodeos now.
The dangerous and daring exhibition has been credited to Bill Pickett as originator. However, others say it started among the Latin Americans. At any rate it has a solid place in any rodeo now and most of the fans look forward to seeing this particular event.
The cowboy aided by a mounted hazer attempts to keep the steer running straight so that he can leap onto the animal's back. As the horse matches pace with the wild steer, the cowboy grabs for the head and horns of the animal, being very careful to act at the right moment.
A slight error in judgment or timing can mean being trodden underfoot of the horse or steer or both. Once off the horse, the cowboy must stop the forward rush of the animal and throw it flat on the ground with all four feet and head pointing straight. Time stops when the field judge drops his flag.
Joe Patterson of Graford won first place in this contest last year. Other winners were Neal Gay of Carrollton, second place; Lowie Rice of Big Spring, third place; and C. C. Evans of Dublin, fourth place.
Relics Sought Near Chicago
CHICAGO (AP)—Archaeologists at Chicago Natural History Museum, who have traveled to far away places for Indian artifacts, plan to dig in their own back yard.
It is known that Indians lived in the Chicago region ever since 5,000 B. C. But work is being undertaken to fill in the many gaps in the story of where and how the Indians lived for almost 8,500 years before Columbus discovered America, Elaine A. Blum, assistant in archeology, said.
Indian camp sites, burial grounds and villages are being destroyed by new roads, new houses, new schools and new industry. The museum expects work to begin before the archeological information is lost entirely.

Too Much Water Spoils The Fruit
The Star of Malta, a ferry ship, and its cargo of fruit bound for the Mediterranean island of Malta, wound up on the bottom after striking a reef in the fog-bound Valetta Harbor. A salvage boat and divers stand by the stricken ship. All but one of the 66 persons aboard were saved after the crash.
