Delegates Sign Charter

Dr. Wellington Koo Wrote First Signature To Document At Noon

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26 (AP)—Delegates of 50 United Nations began signing at noon (Pacific War Time) today a world charter designed to maintain peace and security.

Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese ambassador to London, was the first delegate to affix a signature to the historic document hammered out here in nine weeks of deliberations.

The ceremony—expected to last several hours with 153 delegates signing—was held in the auditorium of San Francisco's Veterans Memorial building.

Delegates gathered around a blue, oval table, surrounded by the flags of all the United Nations. The only witnesses were the delegates, themselves, and photographers and newspapermen.

Rapping last night's session to its close, Britain's tall delegation chief, the Earl of Halifax, who presided, solemnly told the conferees: "I think we all agree we have taken part in a historic moment in world history."

All controversy has been cleared away days before this final action, and the vote of approval was a unanimous standing ovation.

The signing ceremony was called to start at noon Pacific War time today with Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo of China heading a procession of 153 delegates into the auditorium of San Francisco's veterans memorial building.

President Truman, who received a thunderous welcome to the city yesterday, is scheduled to make the closing address of the conference beginning about 5 p. m. (7 p. m. CWT). His speech, approximately 30 minutes long, will follow brief talks by delegation chiefs of the Big Five and representatives of five small nations, beginning at 3:30 p. m. (5:30 p. m. CWT).

Today's signing ceremony caused a variety of headaches in preparation. Several days ago an auditorium was prepared for it. Workmen carried out a theatrical design, evidently made with a view to movie photography.

There is a great circular table with a blue-clothed top rising out of a blue-carpeted floor. It is set against a semi-circular balustrade covered in the same blue color and surmounted with all the United Nations flags on white staffs.

Setting up the stage in a civil center auditorium was relatively simple, but getting the 10,000 word charter ready to spread out on that huge round table was a tough job for Secretary-General Alger Hiss and his staff of translators and editors. They and the printers worked day and night. The English and French versions were easy to print here, but Spanish, Chinese and Russian presented a variety of difficulties in typography.

George E. McNew, for 35 years a resident of Big Spring, died Tuesday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Lib Coffee, in Texas.

He sustained a heart attack two weeks ago and had been in serious condition since that time. Prior to that, however, he had been in vigorous health and had visited here in June, where he had operated a barber shop.

Arrangements, in charge of the Eberly-Curry Funeral home, are pending. Burial will be beside the grave of his wife, who died in April of 1940.

Survivors include two sons, Homer McNew, New Orleans, La., and Glenn McNew, who resides in Florida; and two daughters, Mrs. Lib Coffee, Texon, and Mrs. Ralph Houston, San Marcos.

Mrs. Florence McNew, a daughter-in-law, and Mrs. Margaret Priest, a granddaughter, reside here.

THREE CASES IN COURT

Only three cases were heard in city court Tuesday morning. There was one drunk, one person held for VD check up and one vagrant.

It is expected that eight or ten boys of Big Spring Boy Scout troops will attend the Water Activities-camp at Balmorhea, H. D. Norris said Tuesday. The camp will begin July 10.

Lee Holmes, negro, was held in the Howard county jail Tuesday in lieu of $1,000 fixed by Justice of Peace Walter Grice after he waived examining trial on a complaint of forgery.

Holmes was charged with having passed a check allegedly forged on George Oldham. He was returned here Monday from Odessa by Deputy Sheriff A. D. Bryan.

In a statement signed by Holmes and witnessed by Bryan and Constable J. T. Thornton, four checks were mentioned, each reportedly bearing the name of Oldham and three of them made payable to the same person. All were for $18.

Jap Factories Bombed Again

By LEIF ERICKSON

GUAM, June 26 (AP)—Ten aircraft, gun and ammunition factories on Japan's main island of Honshu were smashed with more than 3,000 tons of high-explosive bombs from 450 to 500 Superfortresses at noon today.

Roaring in at medium altitudes about noon (Japanese time) with an escort of Mustang fighters from Iwo Jima, the Superfortresses dealt their most powerful blow to date in their new campaign to erase Japanese industry with precision demolition bombing.

The targets were two airplane plants and three ammunition and ordnance works in the Nagoya area; two airplane plants at Kagamiyama, near Gifu, 20 miles north of Nagoya; the Japanese army's largest arsenal and the country's largest propeller factory, both at Osaka; and an aircraft plant at Akashi, ten miles west of Kobe.

Tokyo first claimed that eight Superfortresses were shot down and 14 were crippled but later revised its figures upward to 16 shot down and 29 "heavily damaged."

The unconfirmed broadcast added that the attack was the largest precision demolition strike ever made against Japanese war industry.

The raid, second in five days, was against the second-largest number of targets ever chosen for any one B-29 mission. It was exceeded only by the 11 targets in neutralizing blows against Kyushu Island air bases Apr. 28.

With the B-29s thus hastening to enforce Gen. H. H. Arnold's promise of bombs on Japan at a rate of 2,000,000 tons a year by July 1, other American planes were striking the enemy throughout the Pacific.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced that Fleet Air Wing One had sunk 122,645 tons of Japanese shipping and damaged 128,890 tons since beginning operations "over enemy waters" about ten weeks ago.

They also destroyed 36 Japanese planes and damaged 24.

The 318th army fighter group from Okinawa hit three Japanese airfields on Kyushu and two at Amami, north of Okinawa, Saturday.

The raid followed by only 14 hours a smashing attack by 450 to 500 Superfortresses on 10 aircraft, gun and ammunition factories on Honshu. The announcement said further details of the fresh raid would be announced after the bombers return to their bases in the Marianas Islands.

Many Strikers Plan To Return To Work

By The Associated Press

A bright ray broke through dark clouds of unrest along the nation's labor-troubled front today.

A threat of a strike of hundreds of thousands of workers in the heavy industrial area of Detroit was lifted, at least temporarily.

In Chicago, the government's promise to break a strike of truck drivers after it seized 1,700 lines 10 days ago appeared near fulfillment.

In Columbus, a CIO official said he expected "an early end" of the strike of 15,000 glass workers in 10 plants in six states.

But there remained scores of disputes apparently no nearer settlement. The latest count of men and women staying away from their jobs over labor controversies approximated 80,000. The total included more than 39,000 in Detroit.

Condition Of Wreck Victim Is Critical

COLORADO CITY, June 26—The condition of W. H. Watts, 60, who received severe head injuries in a collision of two cars here Monday night, was reported by hospital attendants as still critical Tuesday morning.

Pvt. Gene Britton, driver of the other car involved in the accident, has been released on bond after being charged in county court with assault with a motor vehicle. He was accompanied at the time of the wreck by another soldier recently returned from overseas. Both soldiers are from Loraine, officers said.

CHUNGKING, June 26 (AP)—In a new spurt from the northwest, Chinese forces have captured a point three miles from Luichow, the Chinese command said today as other forces still battled Japanese troops holding an airfield an equal distance south of the city.

Troops moving in on the former U. S. 14th air force base city from the north captured Tapucheng, eight miles north of Luichow, and other units engaged enemy forces in the suburbs of Lieching, 11 miles north-northwest of the city. Still other Chinese forces crossed the Liu river northwest of Luichow and are operating on the east bank, the Chinese said. The point captured three miles northwest of Luichow was not identified.

Chinese troops made a sortie into Luichow, 140 miles northeast of Canton, and inflicted "heavy casualties" on the enemy, the high command said. Fighting was reported still in progress in the Lungnan vicinity.

Jap Radio Hints At New Invasion On Home Islands

By The Associated Press

Contradictory Japanese broadcasts today hinted at new Allied invasions of islands closer to the Japanese homeland, but there was no Allied confirmation and the Japanese perhaps were only speculating on the next American move.

The all-India radio heard in London, reported picking up one Japanese announcement that forces were attempting a landing on an island half-way between conquered Okinawa and the Japanese main islands.

Such a broadcast was not heard elsewhere, however, and the British radio, as recorded by CES in New York, reported another Tokyo broadcast as saying only that an Allied invasion fleet of 200 ships "is expected to attempt landings" on two islands about half way between Okinawa and Japan.

The FCC also recorded the broadcast of a Tokyo newspaper correspondent who merely predicted that the Allies might attempt "to strike next at Amami or another island in the northern Ryukyus."

Neither the broadcast heard in London nor the broadcast reported from India mentioned the names of any islands.

Amami Island is about 300 miles south of Kyushu, southernmost of Japan's main islands.

Over Top By Thursday Is Bond Object

By The Associated Press

This was the slogan for Howard county Tuesday as the E bond goal still remained just a little too far away.

Sales did pick up perceptibly Monday, but not sufficiently. The aggregate was in the neighborhood of $5,000, making the total $531,783.25 against a quota of $585,000. This leaves roughly $53,000 to go.

"This amount will be about enough to furnish gasoline for 45 Superfortresses for a flight over Tokyo," said Ed O. Groehl, Seventh War Loan chairman.

"If we raise it, we will have raised enough to make one of these 45 B-29s ours."

Previously, it had been announced that by meeting the county's quota in E bonds, a plaque would be placed in a B-29 telling that Howard county purchases made it possible.

Ira Thurman, county bond chairman, went before the Rotary club Tuesday in an appeal to buy bonds. Groehl was to follow up Wednesday at the Lions and speakers were to be at the Kiwanis and ABC Clubs Thursday and Friday.

Thursday programs have been scheduled over KBST at 6:45 p. m., from 8:15 to 9:30 p. m., and from 10:15 p. m. "till we go over the top," said Groehl.

Shell Petroleum Corp. announced purchase of $15,000 in bonds to be attributed to Howard county. Overall sales amounted to $1,216,989.50.

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Southern senators may abandon a threatened filibuster against new funds for the Fair Employment Practice Committee in favor of speeding money to a score of key war agencies.

They believe they can beat a move to give FEPC $446,200 for the fiscal year beginning July 1 without resorting to delaying tactics. Senator Bilbo (D-Miss), however, has said he is set to "talk until Christmas if necessary."

Stricken by its counterpart in the house, the senate appropriations committee authorized an FEPC amendment to the $771,538,765 war agencies appropriations bill which came before the senate today.

The measure includes funds for such agencies as selective service, the War Production Board and the War Shipping Administration, whose current appropriations expire Saturday midnight.

In the house wing, meanwhile, Chairman Norton (D-NJ) of that chamber's labor committee and an ardent FEPC backer, said she still is looking to the senate to restore the agency's funds, asserting: "I don't think the southerners in the senate will dare to filibuster against the whole war agencies appropriation bill."

Her comment to reporters came after the rules committee put off consideration of a house appropriations committee resolution to give FEPC $125,000 to wind up its affairs and go out of existence.

Jap Volunteers Urge Surrender To Cave Hiders

By The Associated Press

GUAM, June 26 (AP)—Interpreters and Japanese prisoner-volunteers today aided the Tenth army search of Okinawa's caves, canyons, brush-covered hills and valleys for remnants of the Japanese garrison, urging their surrender.

Mopping up operations had brought in 794 more enemy prisoners making the total 8,696. Patrols continued their thus-far futile search for Americans listed as missing in the Okinawa campaign. No trace of their bodies has been found.

Japan's hard-pressed air force harassed the American garrison Sunday with four small-scale attacks, causing "minor damage" to airfield installations, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz acknowledged.

The Japanese Domei agency said "furious attacks" against Allied shipping in Okinawan waters and air bases were maintained by warplanes of Nippon.

The enemy report, unconfirmed elsewhere, asserted that the number of land-based American planes on Okinawa had increased, and that an invasion task force of more than 200 surface craft, including three battleships, still lay off the Kerama Islands west of Okinawa.

Houston Markets Remain Closed In Meat Protest

By The Associated Press

HOUSTON, June 26 (AP)—Nearly 1,000 meat markets were closed today, as proprietors entered the second day of a shutdown in protest against over-celling prices and tie-in sales, Pat S. Stone, secretary of the Retail Grocers association, announced.

Reports to the association showed that the closing of members practically 100 per cent, he said, while of all independents throughout the city, the shutdown is 90 per cent.

Chain stores have announced they will keep their markets open, as have some independents.

The close-down of independents will continue until the objectives of the association are achieved, Stone said.

They are: To break the black market in Houston; to eliminate tie-in sales demanded by meat wholesalers, and to assure a fair distribution of meat to all markets throughout the city, so that the small units will get their fair share of meat available, just the same as larger stores, Stone said.

Almost as many non-members have joined the movement as there are members of the association, Stone said. He pointed out that the large number of non-members joining in the closing shows "how vicious the black market in meats here is," and illustrates the way retail grocers feel about it.

Out-of-town meat buyers converged on the Houston market yesterday, apparently hoping to pick up some bargains if slaughterers who supply Houston's closed retailers had to stay out of the trading.

Bus Drivers End Extended Strike

By The Associated Press

JACKSON, Miss., June 26 (AP)—Tri-State Transit company buses, tied up for the past 16 days by a nine-state strike of drivers and mechanics, were operating on regular schedule this morning.

Less than an hour after striking employees here voted yesterday to return to work pending further negotiations, mechanics were servicing buses for resumption of traffic throughout the entire system.

Otto De Bate, international vice president of the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric and Motor Coach Employees (AFL) said the company and union will open negotiations on grievances and a new wage schedule after 24 hours of normal operation of the line.

Truman Praises Visiting Nimitz

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26 (AP)—President Truman, setting a pace that has his aides gasping, started the final day of the United Nations Conference by: Receiving and congratulating Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz.

Conferring with Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, prime minister of South Africa. Shaking hands with a parade of miscellaneous well-wishers.

Preparing to address the final session of the conference and to leave by air immediately afterward.

It is understood that Nimitz would return to his headquarters at Guam when he has completed his official business here. The reason for his trip to San Francisco was not disclosed.

President Truman also conferred briefly with Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, prime minister of the Union of South Africa.

The president plans to leave San Francisco immediately after his speech closing the United Nations security conference. He will arrive in Kansas City about 2 p. m. (CWT) tomorrow.

The president began his second day here with a reception for those of San Francisco who participated in arrangements for the security conference. He will go later in the day to witness the signing of the United Nations charter by the United States delegation.

Acclaimed by thousands upon his arrival, the gray-haired chief executive said: "It wasn't for me. It was for what we stand. It was for the president of the United States. They were cheering the office, not the man."

He spoke these words at a formal reception last night for all the delegates from the 50 United Nations.

Rush Looms For Auto Tax Stamps

If any sizable part of motorists operate in conformity to federal regulations, a big rush is in the making at the postoffice.

To noon Tuesday, only around 900 federal automobile use stamps had been sold at the postoffice. These are to be on all motor vehicles in use on or after July 1.

Postmaster Nat Shick said there were no forms to fill out, and that persons could buy stamps for $5 each. All that is necessary is $5 cash.

Barnaby will report back to the navy in New Orleans, after a 30-day leave, for reassignment.

Some girls have spoken of having their O.D. uniform dyed either black or a chocolate brown, but personally, I'd prefer to keep mine the color it is. (for use at American Legion conventions).

As you know, when a WAC is discharged from the service, she is given certain items of her entire wardrobe. If she receives her "Form 55" in the winter, then she is given one suit (O.D. skirt and blouse), one or two shirts, shoes, hose and her choice between the overcoat and utility coat. She is less fortunate if discharged in the "sun-tan" season, as the clothes for the summer wear are not as attractive as the winter ones. This excludes the tropical worsted off-duty uniform, of course; but then, the army keeps those, anyway.

Aside from designing etc., the "b.f." comes over practically every night. My bunk-mates and other girls from the area (sorta like the campus of a girl's school) come to visit and it helps break the monotony for us.

Well, I'd better roll in my flaps 'fore I go into a spin.
Bye for now,

FORT WORTH, June 26 (AP)—This is General Simpson day in Fort Worth.

It marks the triumphant return to his native state of Lt. Gen. William Hood Simpson, commanding general of the 9th army in the Allied conquest of Germany.

Several nearby towns join Fort Worth in the celebration. They are Weatherford, Simpson's home town; Aledo, his mother's home; and Mineral Wells, where Simpson once commanded Camp Wolters.

General Simpson and party are expected to arrive here by plane at 3 p. m. He will be greeted by his two brothers, John N. Simpson and Constant C. Simpson, both of Fort Worth.

Governor Coke Stevenson is scheduled to deliver the official welcome message at the airport. Others who will extend greetings are Homer Covey, president of the chamber of commerce; Lt. Gen. Barton K. Yount, commanding general of the army air forces training command; and Amon C. ter, newspaper publisher.

General Simpson will be escorted to the Tarrant county courthouse to begin a parade through the downtown section. A formation of four-engine bombers will thunder a welcome overhead as the procession moves.

General Simpson, his wife who met him in New York, and his party then will be received at the Fort Worth club until 6 p. m. General and Mrs. Simpson later are to proceed to Aledo to visit the general's 87-year-old mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Simpson.

Tomorrow, at Weatherford, General Simpson's home town and Parker county have planned a big homecoming celebration.

As he enters Weatherford he will be greeted by a 15-gun salute fired by artillery from Camp Wolters. He will go directly by the site of the house where he was born. Later in the afternoon, a parade is planned.

that were now strewn with rubble. And when Brush led his troops into Iloilo, he established headquarters where his father, then commanding general of the Visayan department had lived.

When Brush visited Zamboanga in the southern Philippines, he recalled his service as a junior officer there in 1912.

Brush has a sincere love and admiration for the dirty dogface, the infantryman who has to root the Japs out after the shellings and bombings have softened their lines up.

And he has the typical doughboy weakness—the love of mail from home. Around his headquarters the word is always out to be on the lookout for "blue letters." It's just a name now but it means letters to the general from Mrs. Brush.

Airraids Can't Stop Cupid, Not Even In Japan, Tokyo Reports

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26 (AP)—American air raids have put a slight crimp in Tokyo's romance department, but there's still a flourishing wedding business operating literally on a bargain basement basis.

Radio Tokyo disclosed that since many marriage ceremonies had been interrupted by bombs, department stores have converted basements into combination "air raid shelters and marriage halls, complete with bridal trousseau, shinto rites and traditional wedding banquet of rice and red beans.

One hundred yen covers everything, Tokyo said in a broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications Commission.

But in the event of a raid, the bride must quickly slip into her "air raid outfit" and take shelter. After it's over, she can switch back to her wedding attire and the ceremony proceeds.

Forsan Man Attends NT Health Workshop

DENTON, June 26 (SpI)—Joe Holladay of Forsan is attending the child health and development workshop now in progress at North Texas State college with a complement of 36 elementary teachers, superintendents and supervisors from all over Texas and adjoining states.

Sponsored jointly by the Texas department of health, the Texas inter-professional commission of child development and the college, the workshop is the only one of its kind now operating in Texas, according to H. G. Shands, coordinator of the workshop.

Holladay, a graduate history major at North Texas, is working toward his master's degree.

Witness In 'Father' Long Case Dead

DALLAS, June 26 (AP)—Lulu Taylor, one of the witnesses against self-styled Father Woodrow F. Long, negro cultist, was shot and killed here tonight.

Her body was found in a flower bed at the side of the home.

Father Long has been charged by police with swindling and improper conduct. He was released on $2,500 bond after a habeas corpus hearing Saturday. Several of the sisters of his congregation, dressed in flowing satin, were present.

Reynolds Reigns King Of Night Pitchers Now

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bucky Walters of the Cincinnati Reds no longer is "king" of night game pitchers in the major leagues.

An off-day study of this year's box scores, as the big league teams spent yesterday traveling, revealed that the third baseman-turned-twirler, undisputed dark master in 1944, has won only two of six starts under the lights this season.

Replacing him at the top is Alie Reynolds, fireball righthander of the Cleveland Indians, who is unbeaten in four starts.

Sport Shorts

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
DALLAS, June 26 (AP)—James H. Freeman, sports editor of the London Daily Mail, has some pertinent observations on what sports writing will be after the war. In the boom that's ahead he sees a height of efficiency and sports reporting reaching "the zenith of the demand for well-educated journalists of sound training, wide experience, balanced judgment and a kindly outlook."

Freeman thinks avoiding too-free use of Christian names and the banning of nicknames will be major points in writing. Of course, he figures such time-honored nicknames as Babe Ruth, Lefty Grove and Steve Donoghue will remain. However, in the zeal of sports editors to bring more dignity and sophistication to their profession, it is to be hoped none will run across the difficulty one editor had when his paper had barred shortened names. This paper ordered that if a man was named Thomas it should be that and not Tom, if it was James it would be James and not Jim, and so forth. Then picture the sport editor's asperation when the young assistant wrote that "the star fullback probably won't be able to play because of a Charles Horse."

Freeman says when the war is over and the men come marching home there will be a sports craving not easily satisfied—a desire that can't be fobbed off with the second-rate either on the playing ground or in the newspaper column.

"The sports promoter who thinks he can satisfy this urgent need with anything but the best is a fool; if he attempts it he is a knave," Freeman says. "The coming years will be a sorry time for the boxer who pulls his punches, the jockey who pulls a horse, the footballer who does not pull his weight."

However, your correspondent thinks the main thing will be honesty with the public. The promoter who classifies his athletes correctly will do all right. For instance, if he has a fight coming up in which one of the boxers is a ham-and-egger, he better not advertise, that it will be a battle of the century. If he has a wrestling match in which one matman clearly is inferior he better term it an exhibition match. And writers will need to do the same.

Orange Sets Date For Bond Tournament

ORANGE, June 26 (AP)—The second annual $1,000 war bond Orange open golf tournament will be held Sept. 2 and 3 over the Sunset Grove country club course. Qualifying at 18 holes is set for Sept. 2. The final 18 holes will be on Sept. 3. Winning pro will receive $125 and low amateur a $100 war bond.

American league champions, 2 to 1, on May 2 with a neat 13-inning four-hitter. He beat the Browns again on June 1, 5 to 2. He whipped Washington, 3 to 2, on May 23; and only last Friday turned back the Chicago White Sox, 2 to 1, with a masterful three-hitter.

Middlewest Taking Golf Meet Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 26 (AP)—Were it not for a young lieutenant from the U.M. Military Academy, the middlewest would be assured today of its second straight clean sweep of honors in the National Collegiate Athletic association golf tournament.

Lt. DeWitt Nunn of West Point was the only player from outside the corn belt who qualified yesterday for the start of match play which will decide the NCAA's individual champion. But he was no mild threat. He nipped a stroke off par in the first round of qualifying yesterday but suffered severely from the effects of a terrific rain and windstorm in the afternoon and finished with 71-82-152.

All of the first day's awards went to Ohio State's Buckeyes, the Big Ten champions. They won the team title by 19 strokes and Howard Baker, who plays par-shattering golf despite the handicap of a crippled leg, was the qualifying medalist.

Baker actually got up off the ground yesterday to lead Ohio State to its team victory. At the sixth hole of the afternoon round he and Jack Atten of Northwestern and their caddies were knocked down when a bolt of lightning struck a tree. He calmly bounced to his feet, however, and finished out the round on a waterlogged course with a four-under-par 68 which tied the amateur competitive course record.

Segura Begins Title Defense In Tourney

EVANSTON, Ill., June 26 (AP)—Pancho Segura, the transplanted Equadorian with the unorthodox two-handed swing, goes to work today in defense of his national collegiate tennis championship with George Ratterman of Notre Dame his first opponent.

Segura, seeded No. 1, drew a bye in the first round. Meanwhile, all of the favorites came through their first round matches yesterday with no trouble. First round winners included Frank McCarter, Texas.

The second round of the singles matches and first round of the doubles matches will be played this afternoon.

Holmes, Cuccinello Still Wear Crown

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—Consistency seems to be paying off for Braves' Tommy Holmes and the White Sox' Tony Cuccinello in the major league batting races.

These two continued to head the parade in their respective leagues through Sunday's games with averages virtually unchanged from the previous week.

Holmes, with 10 hits in 25 times at bat, raised his average one point to .386 last week while Cuccinello's mark dropped five points to .342 with only seven blows in 23 at bats. Neither had a rival within shouting distance.

Star Point Maker In Basketball Graduates

HOUSTON, June 26 (AP)—Big Bill Henry, greatest pointmaker in Southwest conference basketball history, received his diploma from Rice yesterday and basketball opponents felt better about next year's prospects.

Henry still had another year of eligibility before him, and only recently made up his mind to graduate this year. He plans to go into business here.

Also a graduate yesterday was Bill Scruggs. This leaves only Ed Murphey, squadman, and Roy Goodfearie, manager, as members of the 1945 team still in school.

Abilene Golf Tourney To Start Next Sunday

ABILENE, June 26 (AP)—Defending champion Bill Skeeters of Dallas will be here for the nineteenth annual Abilene country club invitation golf tournament opening next Sunday with qualifying rounds. Match play is scheduled to begin on Monday.

Other entries include Dick Martin of Dallas, Doug Jones of Abilene, Billy Maxwell of Abilene, Charley Timms of Arlington, J. T. Hammett of Eastland, L. M. Montgomery of San Angelo and Col. L. D. Irons of Arlington, all top players in Texas amateur circles.

TWO ENTER WACO MEET
WACO, June 26 (AP)—A team from Foster and Aloe fields of Victoria will play in the tenth annual state semi-pro baseball tournament starting here July 27. This entry is the fourth to date. Others are Fort Worth Army Air Field, Popular Clothiers of Dallas and North Camp Hood.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—If all the sports booms that are predicted for the postwar period materialize, a lot of veterans will think an artillery barrage still is going on. . . . George Corcoran, head of the Carolina section of the P.G.A., now comes up with the statement that golf is due for a boom after this war even bigger than baseball made after the Civil war. . . . His reasons are that the army, navy and marines have put a great deal of emphasis on golf and that equipment will be more reasonably priced.

Comment from Carter (Scoop) Latimer, the Greenville, S. C., scribe: "Probably the strain of pitching in 43 games last year is telling on Bill Voiselle. Remember? Dizzy Dean once paid the penalty for overwork. Bill will come back, though, unless the amfuss which made him 4-F went in one ear and came out in his right arm. . . . Since Mel Ott imposed that $500 fine, it could be Voiselle ha: Ott-burn from over (h)eating."

One-Minute Sports Page—

The Detroit Lions will establish a training camp in Canada this year—and to keep George Preston Marshall from saying that the Redskins at least never left the country, they point out that it will be at Assumption College, Windsor, Ont., 15 minutes from their downtown offices.

The Norfolk Naval Training Station already has received a basketball challenge for next season from the Dayton, O., air technical command team. Norfolk already has lost Red Holzman, Bob Gantt, Bob Feerick and Red Thomas from last winter's team. . . . And the Bainbridge Naval Training Center's football squad that won 17 straight games in two years has moved out completely. Last to be transferred were Butch Gerber, Frank Hrabetin, Lou Sossamon and Buddy Gatewood.

London Poles Protest Moscow Agreement In Formal Note To Allies

LONDON, June 26 (AP)—The Polish exile government in London was reported today to have handed Britain and the United States a formal note protesting against the agreement for formation of a new Polish provisional government, recently announced in Moscow. Authoritative sources said the exile government had taken the position it would refuse to recognize the legacy of the proposed new government. One spokesman for the London group, who declined to permit use of his name, said the new regime would be "a poor specimen of a puppet government and nothing else."

MORE POLIO CASES

GALVESTON, June 26 (AP)—Two new cases of poliomyelitis were reported here during the week-end, bringing Galveston island's total to 13. There have been 20 cases in Galveston county, and one death. The two new cases are a three-year-old boy and an eight-year-old girl.

HUNGRY BANDITS

CHICAGO, June 26 (AP)—The two gunmen who entered the Zenith cafe didn't stop at the cashier's cage. They went right into the kitchen, threatened the chef, Frank Anton, and four helpers and walked out with 60 pounds of pork tenderloin and a 14-pound ham.

A 'Can' Can Do Much Other Ships Can't To Win High Navy Praise

If this destroyer were where it usually is, I wouldn't be on it. I'm not that brave. Most of the time it is surging ahead, taking the brunt of the blows aimed at our ships by Japan in the form of suicide planes.

Today this destroyer happens to be cruising in a position back from the forward line. Other gallant little "cans" are up there ready for business. While the officers and men on this ship catch their breath, the fellows that took their place are experiencing some of the most grueling warfare of the Pacific.

I came over to this destroyer to find out why the rest of the Navy practically knocks itself out praising "the cans." When you get aboard a "can" you understand.

These are compact little fighting boats. They pack a punch that can rock the Japanese plenty. They are a real fighting ship—strictly fighting, not the slightest luxury.

Sailors are busy getting the vessel ready to go back into the "heat" tomorrow. Some of the sailors look pretty tired. That's because they get only about four and a half hours sleep a night out there. The officers are working too, and when they get a chance they grab a quick nap.

The Japanese don't give them an opportunity to sleep. In return, our boys don't give the Japanese a chance to get by them. The gunners aboard these destroyers are tops. I've seen them in action when enemy suicide planes are attacking.

Of course, we have lost some destroyers out here in the Pacific. But everyone went down fighting and personally evened the score in advance.

Funeral Services Held For Mrs. Fry

COLORADO CITY, June 26 (AP)—Last rites for Mrs. Mary Etta Fry, 69, were held Monday afternoon at the family residence, route 2, Loraine, with the minister of the Sweetwater Church of Christ, Mr. Shepherd, officiating. Mrs. Fry died suddenly at her home while eating dinner Sunday.

Miss Didn't Miss So He Got Champagne

VANCOUVER, Wash., June 26 (AP)—An army air corps veteran at the launching of the troopship Ernie Pyle didn't know why two bottles of champagne are always used. Shipbuilder Edgar Kaiser explained one is for the sponsor and one in case she misses. "But the sponsor didn't miss," the veteran said hopefully. Kaiser caught on and the airman got the bottle.

Mitchell County Fails To Meet E-Bond Quota

COLORADO CITY, June 25 (AP)—Mitchell county, over the top on the overall quota for the current war loan drive by a wide margin, still has to manage to buy $50,211 worth of series E bonds between now and Saturday night if citizens are to maintain their record of having met and bested every war quota assigned to date, said Pat Bullock, chairman of the loan drive, here Monday morning.

Tabulations today showed Mitchell countians have bought $528,521.50 in bonds of all types as against an overall quota of $455,000. In the series E bond totals, however, $219,789 have been purchased of the assigned $270,000 in that category. Between $3,200 and $3,300 in E bonds were sold from the downtown corner booth Saturday.

THAT'S WHY YOUR 7TH WAR LOAN QUOTA IS THE BIGGEST YET!

Look at these men.

There are hundreds of thousands more like them. And before this war's done, there's no telling how many will start the long voyage home on their backs.

Think about that trip.

As our battle lines move farther and farther away, the road back becomes longer and more painful. And more costly!

Taking care of that "costly" part is our job. It's up to us to see that those who have really made a sacrifice are given every bit of help—no matter what we must "sacrifice" to do it.

And this 7th War Loan will mean sacrifice.

But if our fighting men are to have the care, the rest, the chance to live again, we must lend to the limit.

The brave men in the picture didn't flinch—and they've certainly met their quota like Americans.

So can we!

Look Further Than Today

It will be easy for Texans to accept the proposal of President Truman that the speaker of the house succeed to the presidency when there is no vice-president because Speaker Sam Rayburn is a Texan. However, before accepting this new order of succession, it is wise to look beyond today or any one speaker. It is well to examine it from the angle of what condition may obtain 10 years from now, or a hundred.

There are perhaps two basic reasons for the proposal by President Truman: 1) It would at least provide a method of indirectly electing a president in cases of rare emergency, and 2) it would take the terrific pressure off the appointment of a secretary of state, who now would be examined closely by the senate not only for his abilities in foreign matters but as presidential timber as well.

It is commendable that the president should feel as he does that the man who is placed in this preeminent place of succession be one who has had to face the democratic trial of the ballot box. Certainly it is desirable that the man who goes into the White House have had this experience, for it contributes much to his democratic education. It is not as easy to become high-handed when thinking of next election as it is when there is no necessity of facing a test of the voters.

Still, it does not follow that the speakership of the house is the logical spot for lodging the top spot in the order of succession. There have been several brilliant speakers of the house, and in all candor, there have been many more mediocre ones. The position usually accrues to one with proper amount of seniority and good fortune in partisan politics. Maneuvering behind the scenes is much more apt to produce a speaker than straight voting to select the best qualified man.

Admittedly, some of our secretaries of state have not been the towers of strength that they should have been, but in the main considerable care has been given in the exercise of this crucial point of appointive power. The result has been in the main a generally solid type of a man in this important post.

Thus, before we accept the president's proposal, it is well that we look beyond our own Sam Rayburn. We might not be as pleased with the proposal if the speaker happened to be the product of a republican machine.

Intensely Human

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower is a man of great calibre. He is competent, efficient yet innately modest. Above all, he is intensely human. What he had to say the other day will be reassuring to parents and relatives for its human consideration: "No one has a right to play with the life of a single soldier beyond the necessity to carry out re-

Smuts Says Conference Corrects League In Points Where It Failed

Editor's Note: The following analysis of the proposed new world charter drawn at San Francisco was written for the Associated Press by Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, prime minister of the Union of South Africa, and the grand old man of the United Nations conference. He is the only living link between the chief drafters of the covenant of the old League of Nations—when the "Big Four" was made up of Woodrow Wilson, Lloyd George of Britain, Clemenceau of France and Orlando of Italy—and the leading figures of the 1945 conference. Smuts has served as chairman of one of the four commissions at San Francisco and is the author of the preamble of the new world charter.

By FIELD MARSHAL JAN CHRISTIAN SMUTS
(Copyright 1945, Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 25 (AP)

I have been asked by the Associated Press to give my general impression of the San Francisco conference and the charter of the United Nations which it has drafted. For two months this problem has been under discussion at the conference, and very full and fair reports have appeared in the press. But, as so often happens in lengthy debates on great issues, many of the points which were most hotly canvassed, and figured most prominently in the debates, were not those of greatest importance. The public may therefore have been confused by the many debating points, and have failed to see the wood for the trees. It may therefore be useful to put the main issues in their proper proportion, and I shall try to do so, as I see them.

As one of those who took a prominent part in the framing of the covenant of the League of Nations at the last peace, I naturally make it my starting point in the consideration of the charter. I ask where the charter differs from the covenant, and how it may hope to succeed where the covenant failed.

The end of the last war witnessed a high tide in idealism. The abhorrence of war with all its horrors combined with the high idealism of a great leader like Woodrow Wilson to make people believe that a new war-free world was possible, and that a universal order would arise in which war would play a minor part, and universal anti-war idealism would be a practical vision.

On that optimistic background the covenant was drafted. A universal veto and the absence of force were main features of the covenant.

An all-in universal league was arrived at, and smaller leagues or groups for peace were looked upon with disfavor, as an encroachment on the universal reign of the league.

Such in rough outline were the basic ideas of the covenant.

Today we can appreciate why it failed. Idealism is clearly not enough, and a much more realistic view has to be taken of world war and its prevention.

In contrast with the covenant, the charter therefore adopts a plan based on the following main points:

1. That force is necessary to maintain peace.
2. That only the combined force of the great powers can guarantee the world against total war, and that therefore, great power unity is a necessary condition for world peace.
3. That the other nations according to their measure should bind themselves in advance to supply forces against aggression.
4. And that smaller defensive groups should be encouraged under the world organization to help in maintaining the peace in their areas, so long as the organization itself does not take defensive action.

It will thus be seen that the charter is based on our terrible experience since the last war, and that it corrects the covenant precisely in those points where it had admittedly failed.

These points are: Great power leadership for peace; great power unity, as provided by the voting arrangements made at Yalta; the obligation of all states to join with force against aggression; and regional groups for defence, in the default of action by the world organization.

All these main features of the charter scheme have been accepted without demur by the 50 united nations. The lengthy conference debates have only served to clear up minor points and to secure agreement on details.

Nor have these details given any real trouble, with the exception of one point. That is the position of the great powers in the organization, and the requirement of their unanimity in voting, or their veto right as it

Life's Darkest Moment

With The AEF: Conference Showed New Political Blocs

By FLORA LEWIS
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 25 (AP)—The pulling and tugging that split delegates to the United Nations conference and welded them back into agreement revealed a few surprises about the world's new political line-up and dashed some old beliefs.

Perhaps the most unexpected political development was the tight solidarity of the Arab league, formed in Cairo only a few weeks ago.

France's close cooperation with the four inviting powers—Britain, Russia, China and the United States—made a real Big Five. France occasionally broke away from the "penthouse line" in debates, but almost invariably voted with the sponsoring powers.

British commonwealth solidarity— which many orators called "six votes for England" when the new league of nations was being formed—scarcely even put in a debut appearance. Australia and New Zealand were on the opposite side from the united kingdom on many questions. And Canada was with the Anzac most of the time. South Africa and India sat on both sides of the fence.

On the other hand, the true extent of Pan-Americanism became evident.

At times the Latins seemed to be voting in bloc, at times they were split wide open—it always depended on the issue. If a matter directly and primarily concerned the western hemisphere, Latin America can be expected to stand together and to resent outside interference.

This showed in developments on admitting Argentina and fitting the Pan-American system into the world peace agency. On matters of general world concern, each nation followed its own policy.

In many cases, Russia easily could have influenced four votes besides her own. However, there were times when the Ukraine and White Russia opposed the Soviet in debate and abstained on issues Moscow was backing.

Washington—What Happens To Eisenhower Now?

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—Your capital in wartime: The return of five-star Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, wearing hero's laurels equalled by few if any military man in our history has produced one quiz question, the correct answer to which is almost invariably greeted with amazement or disbelief.

That is that less than four years ago, the leader of the armies which have carried out the greatest military feats of all time was "just another colonel" in the United States army, as completely unknown outside military circles as scores of others who wore "chickens" on the shoulders.

To Gen. George C. Marshall and President Roosevelt must go credit for recognizing that in that "just another colonel" they had "the man who," as the speech-makers say. As Washington went about planning the biggest reception ever given one of its heroes, the question everybody was asking was: "What will be done with Eisenhower now?"

To send him back to Europe would be to waste abilities that still are sorely needed elsewhere. To send him to the Pacific might be to divide and disrupt a command and certainly would be a slap at the generals and admirals who consider the fight against Japan their own private war.

The story persists here that President Truman's cabinet shake-ups aren't over.

There isn't a press and radio conference these days at which the President isn't asked if he has any announcement to make about plans for Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius, Jr.

Most of the time, the President drags out his stock answer: a good-natured, "No, but keep on asking."

In some congressional circles, the President's announcement that he would take James F. Byrnes to the Big Three meeting near Berlin merely strengthened the foregone conclusion on the Hill that Byrnes would be the

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Lobbyists Busy On Submerged Lands

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON—Thronging the marble halls of congress these days is one of the most effective lobbying groups in Washington. Their goal is oil—but you won't ever hear them mention the word. Their aims are much more lofty—namely "quieting titles of states to lands beneath tidewaters and navigable waters." Expressed with less adornment, this means that beneath the Pacific ocean and the Gulf of Mexico are rich oil lands—some people think potentially the richest in the country.

The oil companies want these submerged oil lands to be leased by the states, not by the federal government. They know they can handle the state house boys much more easily than the interior department in Washington; so they now demand that congress pass a law giving these tidewater lands to the states. The attorneys general of 46 states are backing them.

Wrapped up in the whole thing is the future of one cabinet officer, plus the prosperity of the democratic national treasury, plus a lot of internal democratic politics.

Two men have waged the toughest fight to keep these oil lands in federal hands—Attorney General Biddle and Secretary of the Interior Ickes. Biddle has already lost his job. Now the boys are ganging up to throw out Ickes.

Truman Didn't Hesitate For some years, Biddle and Ickes had argued that the U. S. courts should decide this question. Several times they put it up to Roosevelt, but he postponed a decision. So, when Truman came in, Biddle put the matter up to him. Truman didn't hesitate, immediately agreed that the courts should decide who owned these tidewater lands. Biddle warned that Truman's friend Ed Pauley, treasurer of the democratic national committee, was in the middle of the oil fight (Pauley is reported to get about $30,000 a month in royalties from submerged oil wells), but even so, Truman told Biddle to go ahead and try the case.

Now the politicians are sore as blazes. They claim Ickes and Biddle should not have put Truman on the spot. The question should have been allowed to simmer on the back of the stove, they claim.

Washington, finally said he would. Whether he did talk to Truman is doubtful, because Sam does not believe in interfering in problems outside of congress. Anyway, he finally called Madame Martins and told her to "keep her feathers down."

Meanwhile, the politicians are out to get Ickes. They have nominated almost everyone in Washington to take his place. Hannegan, who isn't mixed up in oil, wants him out for other reasons.

"His whole interior department contributed only $800 to the last campaign," Hannegan complains. "And when I send anyone over to Ickes for a job, you might think they had a recommendation from Hitler."

One move the politicians are considering against Ickes is a tax case against him which Mayor Ed Kelly of Chicago has been sitting on. Ickes made an error in evaluating a building which he owns in Chicago, and Kelly's henchmen plan to crack down with a civil suit and sell the building. If so, Kelly's friend, the Chicago Tribune, is reported ready to buy it, thus get back at the cabinet officer who has been such a constant thorn in Colonel McCormick's side.

This tax scandal might be one excuse for easing the venerable secretary of the interior out of a job where he has been a perpetual disagreeable watchdog of the nation's oil reserves.

Note—Ed Pauley, now U. S. reparations representative, is in Moscow and has kept hands off submerged oil lands lobbying in recent weeks.

Following this column's disclosure that the army was burning millions of feet of surplus films which educational institutions wanted to buy, the army has decided to turn over all surplus films to the Surplus Property Board. . . . Many tons of powdered soybean soup with cheese are now being offered for sale as animal food by the War Food Administration. Because of a surplus of soybeans, WFA got the idea that a mixture of the beans with cheese would make an excellent soup for Russians. Huge quantities were prepared. But the Russians tried a few samples, turned thumbs down. . . . This column's recent references to Tom Stitts, head of the WFA dairy and poultry section, have not pleased him. They are, he said last week, "the sort of thing which makes me doubt the advisability of a free press. . . . Though New York City hospitals were unable to buy eggs early in June, more than 100,000 cases of eggs were put in storage simultaneously in New York during a single week. Their owners are holding out for better prices. . . . While army rehabilitation pictures have been held up because of the film shortage, German prisoners in this country see two of the latest Hollywood pictures each week. Special 16-millimeter prints (ordinary theatre print is 35 millimeters wide) are made up for the prisoners, who are charged 15 cents per show.

Although some cried and many were obviously affected, at least half the German prisoners in this country refused to believe the evidence of the camera when shown the atrocity pictures taken in Germany.

Two men have waged the toughest fight to keep these oil lands in federal hands—Attorney General Biddle and Secretary of the Interior Ickes. Biddle has already lost his job. Now the boys are ganging up to throw out Ickes.

Ickes' Death Battle

And while Biddle will be out of next Secretary of State as soon as the San Francisco conference and the impending talks with Churchill and Stalin are over.

A recent visit to the White House of Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes has given rise to the rumor that the "old curmudgeon," as he calls himself, also is slated for an exit.

If these two changes come, it would leave only Secretaries of the Treasury Morgenthau, of War Stimson, and of Navy Forrestal who served under President Roosevelt, a far greater housecleaning than any one anticipated when President Truman took office, although changes in Labor, Agriculture, and postmaster general and the attorney general were predicted in this column before the new administration was weeks old.

Madame Martins, who gets around to a great many parties, talked so much that eventually Rockefeller's friends warned her that she went too far. So at a cocktail party given by Bill Stanley, formerly of the justice department, the lady spied sedate Speaker Sam Rayburn. Rushing over, and being introduced by a friend, the beautiful Brazilian said: "Ah, you are the speaker. I have always wanted to meet you. I hear so much about you. You are such a great man. I kiss you on both cheeks." And she did.

Then, after more conversation along this line, Madame Martins continued: "Now you must do something for me. You must help poor Nelson Rockefeller. He is such a nice boy. He is so good friend of Latin America. You must not let President Truman get rid of him. You will speak to President Truman and you will tell him he must keep Nelson Rockefeller, and then you must telephone me. Yes?"

The blushing speaker, one of the most confirmed bachelors in Attlee Washes Dishes The Rt. Hon. Clement Attlee, former lord president of the council and deputy prime minister of England, is now busy campaigning against Winston Churchill. But not long ago, he did some heavy dish-washing.

Attlee was invited to dine with an old friend, San Francisco printer Joseph Collier, who, 30 years before, had been a member of the same labor party club in the outskirts of London. Mrs. Collier, however, didn't even have a maid to serve the number two man of England. Attlee, who didn't mind this a bit, ate a huge meal, and asked who was going to do the dishes.

"Why, I'll do them later myself," Mrs. Collier replied.

Attlee protested, went into the kitchen, put on an apron, and the Colliers watched the deputy prime minister of England wash the dishes.

Oakie Picture Has Surprising 'Spirit'

By BOB THOMAS
"That's the Spirit," a Universal picture with Jack Oakie, Peggy Ryan, June Vincent, Gene Lockhart, Johnny Coy, Andy Devine and Buster Keaton. Running time: 83 minutes.

HOLLYWOOD—Strange enough, this turns out to be quite an amusing picture. It doesn't sound too impressive, being a fantasy about a dead vaudeville who returns as a ghost to straighten out family matters. But the whole thing is accomplished with such a lightness and good humor that the viewer overlooks its incongruities.

Jack Oakie plays the shade who returns to release his dance-happy daughter (Peggy Ryan) from the clutches of a straightlaced grandfather (Gene Lockhart) who hates show business.

The film is nowhere as weighty as Mr. Oakie and is full of the absurdities of most movie fantasies. But there is a healthy number of hilarious sequences. And a good guffaw is hard to find these days.

"That's the Spirit" exhibits more of the wonderful tap work of the new-comer Johnny Coy. The lad should be seen more often in the future. Buster Keaton appears briefly as head of the heavenly complaint department. He remains one of the screen's fine comedians.

Sgt. McCordle Home On Point Discharge

COLORADO CITY, June 25 — First Mitchell county man to receive a discharge under the army's point system is T/Sgt. John Prude McCordle, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. McCordle, who has arrived home for "rest and then work." Engineer-gunner on a Flying Fortress dubbed the "Yokohama Express," he was awarded the Air Medal in January, 1943, for "meritorious action over Guadalcanal" back in the early stages of the Pacific conflict when 50 missions were required before a man became eligible for replacement.

He was credited with the shooting down of four Zeros. Based first on New Caledonia, he operated with a crew which took part in the battle for the Solomons from a then-secret base in the New Hebrides where the AAF bomber crews lived in the jungle with canned and dehydrated rations and a minimum of comfort.

In December, 1942, having been stricken with malaria fever, he was sent to Auckland, New Zealand, where he was hospitalized until his return to the States in May of the next year. After his recovery he was assigned to duty as an instructor at various AAF training fields. His discharge papers came through at Pratt, Kas., the discharge, itself, at Fort Bliss.

One of this town's first World War II heroes, he entered the air corps by enlistment in the ground forces in November, 1939. He is a 1937 graduate of high school here. A little more than a month after his enlistment, he was sent to Hawaii, and was at Hickam Field when the Japanese made their Pearl Harbor and South Pacific bombing attacks.

In addition to the Air Medal he is entitled to wear the Good Conduct medal, a unit citation ribbon, American Defense ribbon, a service chevron, six overseas bars and the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with four bronze battle stars.

Army Wife Charged With Manslaughter Faints At Inquest

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 26 (AP)—Mrs. Imogene Stevens, attractive 24 year old mother collapsed as she was being led before a coroner's inquest today to investigate her admitted killing of a Pacific naval veteran at a neighbor's home late Saturday night. The shooting occurred in New Canaan.

As she was escorted into the superior court building, where Coroner Theodore E. Steiber was waiting to open his hearing into the shooting of Albert Kovacs, a 19-year-old Norwalk submarine sailor, Mrs. Stevens slumped to the floor.

Sheriff Edward Platt and a woman attendant quickly picked her up and bore her into the court room where she was revived.

Mrs. Stevens, wife of an army major on overseas duty, had spent an uneasy night in her cell where she had been held in default of $50,000 bail on a charge of manslaughter and a physician was called in to quiet her.

Mrs. Stevens has been quoted by New Canaan Police Chief Otto Schmidt as saying she killed Kovacs in self defense.

Kovacs, a submarine sailor, on leave from Portsmouth, N. H., was shot in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Milton where he and his brother had gone to call on Miss Faith Coombs, a maid.

Mrs. Stevens, a neighbor of the Miltons, told police she found the Kovacs brothers apparently alone in the Milton residence late at night, demanded an explanation of their presence and ordered them to leave.

Chief Schmidt quoted her as saying the sailor refused and that when they became involved in a tussle she shot him three times with a pistol she previously had tested by firing two bullets into the fireplace at her home.

Man Sells Nearly Million Dollars of War Bonds As Memorial To Marine Son

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—An official of the maritime commission has sold personally nearly a million dollars worth of war bonds in one month as a memorial to his son, killed on Iwo Jima.

The treasury's war finance division told the story today as the nation's total sales in the 7th War Loan reached $20,250,000,000 and appeared headed for a new record.

The bond-selling official is Howard L. Grimm, from Kansas City and St. Joseph, Mo. A marine in the first World War, he fought in 26 engagements against the Germans.

His son, Howard George Grimm, enlisted in the marines at 17, after telling his father in a letter he wanted to enlist more than anything he had ever wanted in his life.

Two years later, on February 24 of this year, Young Grimm, a private first class, fell in battle.

His father, an administrative official in charge of certain critical items for merchant ship construction, applied for permission to represent the treasury in the 7th War Loan. He made all his sales by personal letter, written at home. Starting June 2, he sent the letters to friends and acquaintances all over the country, telling them he was doing it in memory of his son.

His sales, the treasury said, had reached $991,525 by yesterday and were still going up.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said yesterday it appears that 7th War Loan sales will beat the record of $21,621,000,000 in the 6th War Loan. He also announced that individual sales have reached $6,595,000,000, thus tapping the previous record for individual sales of $6,351,000,000 in the 5th War Loan.

Of the individual sales figure, series E bond sales are $2,935,000,000, or 73 per cent of the $4,000,000,000 E-bond quota. The drive, which started May 14, will end this Saturday, June 30 with the accounting period continuing another week through July 7.

Sales to corporations have risen to $13,655,000,000, almost double the $7,000,000,000 corporate quota.

Governor Vetoes, Passes Bills As Others Become Law Unsigned

AUSTIN, June 26 (AP)—An annual pay raise of $1,000 a year for district judges and a larger increase for appellate judges in the biennium beginning Sept. 1 was a dead issue today.

The pay raise was stricken from the judiciary appropriation bill by Gov. Coke R. Stevenson who declared the increase would have lessened public confidence in the judiciary.

In a veto message filed with the secretary of state yesterday the governor theorized that the 49th legislature should have restricted the state for judicial purposes before it increased judges salaries. The legislature failed to restrict the courts despite a recommendation which the governor said was based on demands of the people.

Approved by the governor was a $27,637,592 departmental appropriation bill for the new biennium, an increase of $4,149,830. The increase is due largely to pay raises voted state employees in the lower salary brackets. The increase ranged from five to 15 per cent. The legislature also authorized new positions and expanded services within several state departments.

Vetoes was a bill appropriating from the state general fund $55,000 to pay county and independent school district taxes on state owned prison lands. The governor said the bill failed to repeal a law requiring taxes to be paid from operating revenue of prison farms.

Filed without the signature of the governor were the following bills which will become law:

Authorizing the state to accept from the city of Laredo and the Webb County Tuberculosis association a hospital and 10 acres of land; the institution be operated henceforth by the state.

Increasing the amount of fees charged by various county and precinct officers for many services such as filing suits, issuing marriage certificates and the like.

Permitting counties to maintain parks.

Remitting to Colorado, Fayette and Jackson counties for 10 years a portion of the state property tax to finance a flood control program on the Lower Colorado river.

Suzuki Warns Japs Of Imminent Crisis

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26 (AP)—Premier Kantaro Suzuki told the Japanese people today they faced an invasion crisis unparalleled since the Mongol hordes swept over the islands more than 600 years ago.

In a cabinet message issued to the nation "on the occasion of the Okinawa battle," Suzuki pledged his government's "grim determination" to defend the islands against the American power gathering to the south.

The 77-year-old premier said: "At this time of national crisis I request the entire nation to endure mounting hardships and difficulties with utmost preservation and with the defiance of death characteristic of the Japanese."

For the first time, Suzuki admitted the battle for Okinawa was lost by praising the island's garrison for its "gallant defense" which, he added, was "ultimately unsuccessful."

Commissioners Meet To Equalize Values

Howard county commissioners court was in session again Tuesday as a board of equalization.

The board had recessed from the week of June 11 when oil valuations were considered. Other property was being checked at the meeting this week in order that the tax collector's office may go ahead with the preparation of rolls as soon as rates are set.

Encampment Attracts 350

Upwards of 350 boys from the 11 counties of district No. 8 were on hand Tuesday as the annual Baptist Youth Encampment at the city park got into its second day.

In addition, there were around 75 leaders and sponsors to supervise the program for the youngsters. This phase of the camp continues through noon Wednesday when the boys leave for home and an anticipated 600 or more girls arrive to take their place.

Initial response at meditation services were gratifying to camp leaders, for 12 conversions and several reconversions were reported.

The Rev. A. W. Smith, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church at Midland, is camp pastor for the boys.

Highlights of the encampment is the appearance of Blanche Groves, missionary returned from China. For 27 years she has served as a Baptist missionary at Fochow, teaching in the Yates academy. Miss Groves speaks twice daily, at 11:30 a. m. and at 8:30 p. m. and others are invited to hear these messages.

Rev. H. W. Haverfield, Fort Worth, state leader for Royal Ambassadors, is teaching the manual to leaders and sponsors of the denomination's boys work.

Recreational periods, including softball, swimming, etc., round out the day for the lads. They are fed at the camp mess hall and sleep in the open.

Vicious Riddle of Chicken And Egg Turns Up Again In Meat Shortage

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

The age-old question of which came first, the chicken or the egg, may not be resolved but it may be clarified by the current meat shortage.

The scarcity of meat has made the chicken a popular item on menus.

Its popularity has cut down the number of eggs. The decline in eggs has caused a marked decrease in the number of baby chicks. This, in turn, later will cause a further decline in eggs which—

Marshall, Tex., has a large chicken hatchery. Last year during the spring there were 300,000 baby chicks hatched for sale. This year the number has dropped to 250,000.

An official of the hatchery said the decrease was due to his inability to get eggs for hatching. The shortage of eggs, he said, was due to the OPA, which encouraged the sale of hens for meat last year. And although there has been a decline in the number of chicks, the demand has grown. People are beginning to raise their own.
