HEADS INSURANCE CLEAN-UP

Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey, at his desk in Austin, calls for a thorough revision of the state's insurance laws to plug loopholes exploited by speculators and promoters at the expense of Texas policy holders. Ramsey, who has made insurance law revision one of the main points of re-election program, is shown writing state officials and insurance executives to submit facts, records and such recommendations they may have to help clean up parasite insurance concerns. The Legislative Council, of which Ramsey is chairman, will turn its findings over to the next Legislature for action.

GIRL SCOUT ORGANIZER TO BE HERE FRIDAY

An organizational and explanatory meeting for the purpose of setting up Girl Scout work in Eldorado will be held Friday morning at 10:00, with Gene Stansbury, of the Frontier Area Girl Scout Council, in charge of the meeting.

All who have girls of Scout age and any others who are interested in helping put over the Girl Scout program here are asked to be present at the meeting Friday. The meeting will be held in the club room of the Memorial building and will start promptly at 10:00.

Girls of the following age groups will be eligible for membership: Brownies, ages seven to 10; Intermediate Scouts, 10 to 14; and Senior Girl Scouts, 14 through 17.

Mrs. Forrest Runge, who has had experience for a number of years with Scout work in this county, has consented to serve as chairman of the steering committee. She is being assisted in the preliminary work by Mrs. Wesley Hayhurst who has had a number of years of training and experience with the organization, and who is advertising the coming event in Eldorado and helping contact prospective members in the city.

Those who would like to have advance information concerning the movement are asked to call Mrs. Hayhurst, phone 24173, or Mrs. Forrest Runge.

Miss Stansbury states that at the meeting Friday she will talk about these points: the number who will profit by Scouting, other youth agencies serving this age of girl, the number of adults who should participate, time required, financial support, and area organization.

YOUR LEGION

The American Legion Post will vote on new officers which will be announced at the regular meeting tonight, Thursday, beginning at 8:00.

A yearly report of post activities and accomplishments has been sent to Lee Gripan, 21st district commander.

R. B. Cooper To Wed Girl From Dallas

August 12 is the date set for the marriage of R. B. Cooper Jr., son of Rev. and Mrs. R. B. Cooper of Dallas and Euneta Wheeler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wheeler of Dallas. The wedding will take place in Colonial Baptist Church at Dallas.

Both of the young people were graduated from Howard Payne College in Brownwood this spring. Cooper has been pastor of the Mexican Baptist Mission in Eldorado two years and will later serve as associate minister of North Oak Cliff Baptist Church in Dallas.

Several from here attended the graduation at Howard Payne recently.

School News

The administration wishes to express its appreciation to parents and patrons for their support and cooperation in making the school year a success. It is hoped that more people will work with the P. T. A. and other civic organizations that are striving to build a better school. Your help today in promoting better schools and communities will build a stronger America tomorrow.

The following information is given as a report on the accident insurance program that was initiated last year. The student accident insurance collected $380.00 in premiums and paid 29 claims amounting to approximately $520. This report should not be interpreted to mean that the school is selling insurance. It means the school has arranged with a local agent to provide accident protection to the student for $1.00 per year.

Willa Higgins had perfect attendance for the past school year and should have received a perfect attendance award at graduation. It is regretted that this mistake occurred.

At a called meeting Monday night, the school board elected two teachers for the 1954-55 school term. Elected were Mr. and Mrs. Byrl Clayton of Burnet. Mr. Clayton holds a Masters degree in Industrial Arts from Southwest Texas State College and has six years of experience. He will teach shop and mechanical drawing in the high school.

Mrs. Clayton is a graduate of University of Houston. She is an elementary major and has three years of teaching experience. The Claytons plan to move to Eldorado about the middle of August.

The board interviewed several applications for the coaching vacancy, but no definite action was taken. The board plans further investigation of the applicants. No other business was transacted.

The Homemaking Summer program is starting on June 14 and will continue through June. About twenty girls will participate in this program.

All high school girls who are interested in the summer program please contact Mrs. Evans at the high school or call 22281

Club Women Waiting For News Of Election

Local club women and others interested in prospective new honors for a home-town woman will be anxious to learn of the outcome of the balloting at General Federation of Woman's Clubs Convention at Denver today—as the name of Mrs. J. W. Walker appears on the ballot for a second vice president. Mrs. Walker has received the endorsement of the clubs of the state, including Eldorado Woman's Club, whose president Mrs. Jess Walston is attending the convention.

The first week in August has been tentatively set for the Methodist Vacation Bible School, of which Mrs. Edward Meador will be superintendent.

Baptists Buy Land for Mission

In a congregational meeting last night the First Baptist Church voted to buy a lot as a future permanent home for their downtown Mission.

The land being bought is a lot 100x140 located on the Menard highway east of the Utilities Company and belonging to E. W. Brooks.

The deal had previously been studied and approved by officials of the First Church and representatives of the Mission.

There will be Open House at the new First Baptist parsonage on Sunday afternoon June 20, from 2:00 to 5:00. The public is cordially invited to attend this public showing of the fine new Baptist parsonage.

The residence is completed and the parsonage family have moved into their new home.

The open house has been planned at the request of numerous people who have been waiting to see the interior of the house.

Post Script

Eldoradoans may not realize it, but there are now six highway employees living here!

The last two men to be put on were Matt Woodward and Jack Steward — these added to four others already on the payroll. C. O. Neff, Claude Jeffrey, Sam Carrell and Bert Holly, bring the total up to six. All are local men.

The slack in the housing situation has been taken up a little this week with the return to Eldorado of a Southern Geophysical crew, who have set up headquarters in the Wiedenmann building. Party chief is John Harmonson. The crew were here January and February, and have work for approximately two to three months on this trip.

Of the total of 20 employees, about half are married men. One man has been hired to date from this county, and there are two more employees who are expected to come in from Pecos worth to complete the list. Equipment and most of the men arrived in town Monday.

The E. E. Newlins and their neighbors, the Robert Nixons, were in the center of a strip of hail which fell Tuesday night, to the accompaniment of about a half inch to .6 inches of rain. They report both large and heavy hail, which cut the foliage of garden, cotton and feed crops. The damage is not too serious, they state. Andy Nixon and a few others got a little of the edge of the hail, but that is all.

Quite a lot of caliche has been delivered in Eldorado recently for driveways. Also it is planned to caliche several blocks, principally the streets leading from the school to the First Baptist Church, the block between Hext Foods and Whiteley Blacksmith, the block between Gulf Station and Jones Brothers; also it is planned to complete work on the cut-off from the San Angelo highway to Sofge's property, a street known as the truck cut-off, part of which is already graded and caliched. This entire street will be improved and caliched.

A contractor's notice for bids by the State Highway Department appears in this issue of the Success, calling for bids on the remaining 6-mile gap on the Metzron highway.

The letting will be made on June 19 in Austin and if a near-by contractor gets the job, it is expected that construction work will start shortly after that date.

County Judge E. W. Craig reports that the county's part on this road job is proceeding rapidly. At the end of last week the new fence had been built on one side of the road, and was proceeding on the other. The fencing contracts were let some time ago to R. A. Hendricks and Claude Callum.

Reynolds Road
R. A. McCulloch, resident highway engineer of Sonora, reported early this week that department engineers have surveyed and prepared deeds on the 5-mile Reynolds road. This will be the next farm-to-market project in the county and will run from the Pie Lake highway north to the Reynolds school house.

The prepared deed forms are being turned over to the Schleicher Commissioners Court this week and the court will then proceed to get the signatures of the land owners involved. As soon as the county has purchased the right-of-way and arranged for the fencing of it, the Highway Department will be ready to proceed with construction.

4-H Round-Up Time At Texas A. and M.

College Station. — About 1,600 members of Texas boys' and girls' 4-H clubs are expected at Texas A&M for the annual 4-H Roundup, June 8-10. They will be accompanied by adult leaders and selected county extension agents who will assist with program activities.

The annual event brings together the state's most outstanding club members. As county delegates, they are given opportunities to further develop the leadership, and character building phases of 4-H Club work. Too, hundreds will participate in the 17 statewide judging and demonstration contests.

According to Director G. G. Gibson of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, sponsor of the meeting, preparations for the Roundup are near completion. The program has been planned around 19 different subject-matter short courses. These range from agricultural engineering to wildlife and include not only agricultural subjects but those involving the home, leadership and recreation. General sessions will be held each morning with the short courses, directed by extension specialists, getting the afternoon times. The entire day of June 10 will be devoted primarily to contests.

Delegates are due to register on the afternoon of June 7. The Share-the-Fun Festival will provide the Tuesday night program; a chuck wagon feed and entertainment is set for Wednesday evening and the annual Recognition Banquet on Thursday evening at Duncan Hall and special entertainment at Guion Hall will conclude the meeting. These two events are provided by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

Representing the local church at conference were Mrs. Frank Meador and Mrs. Ed Hill.

Among other appointments in the San Angelo district were: Big Lake: Roy Shilling. Christoval: Roy Wold. Eden: Boyd Harris. Menard: Robt. Nauert. Metzron: Lynn McAden. Ozona: Troy Hickman. Robert Lee: Warren Ellis. Sonora: W. H. Marshall. Sterling City: Bruce Medford.

The Dick Preston family plan a vacation trip of six weeks or two months to San Francisco, Calif., where they will visit Mrs. Preston's relatives. They expect to take the trip through the Pacific Northwest, with stops at Yellowstone and other scenic spots.

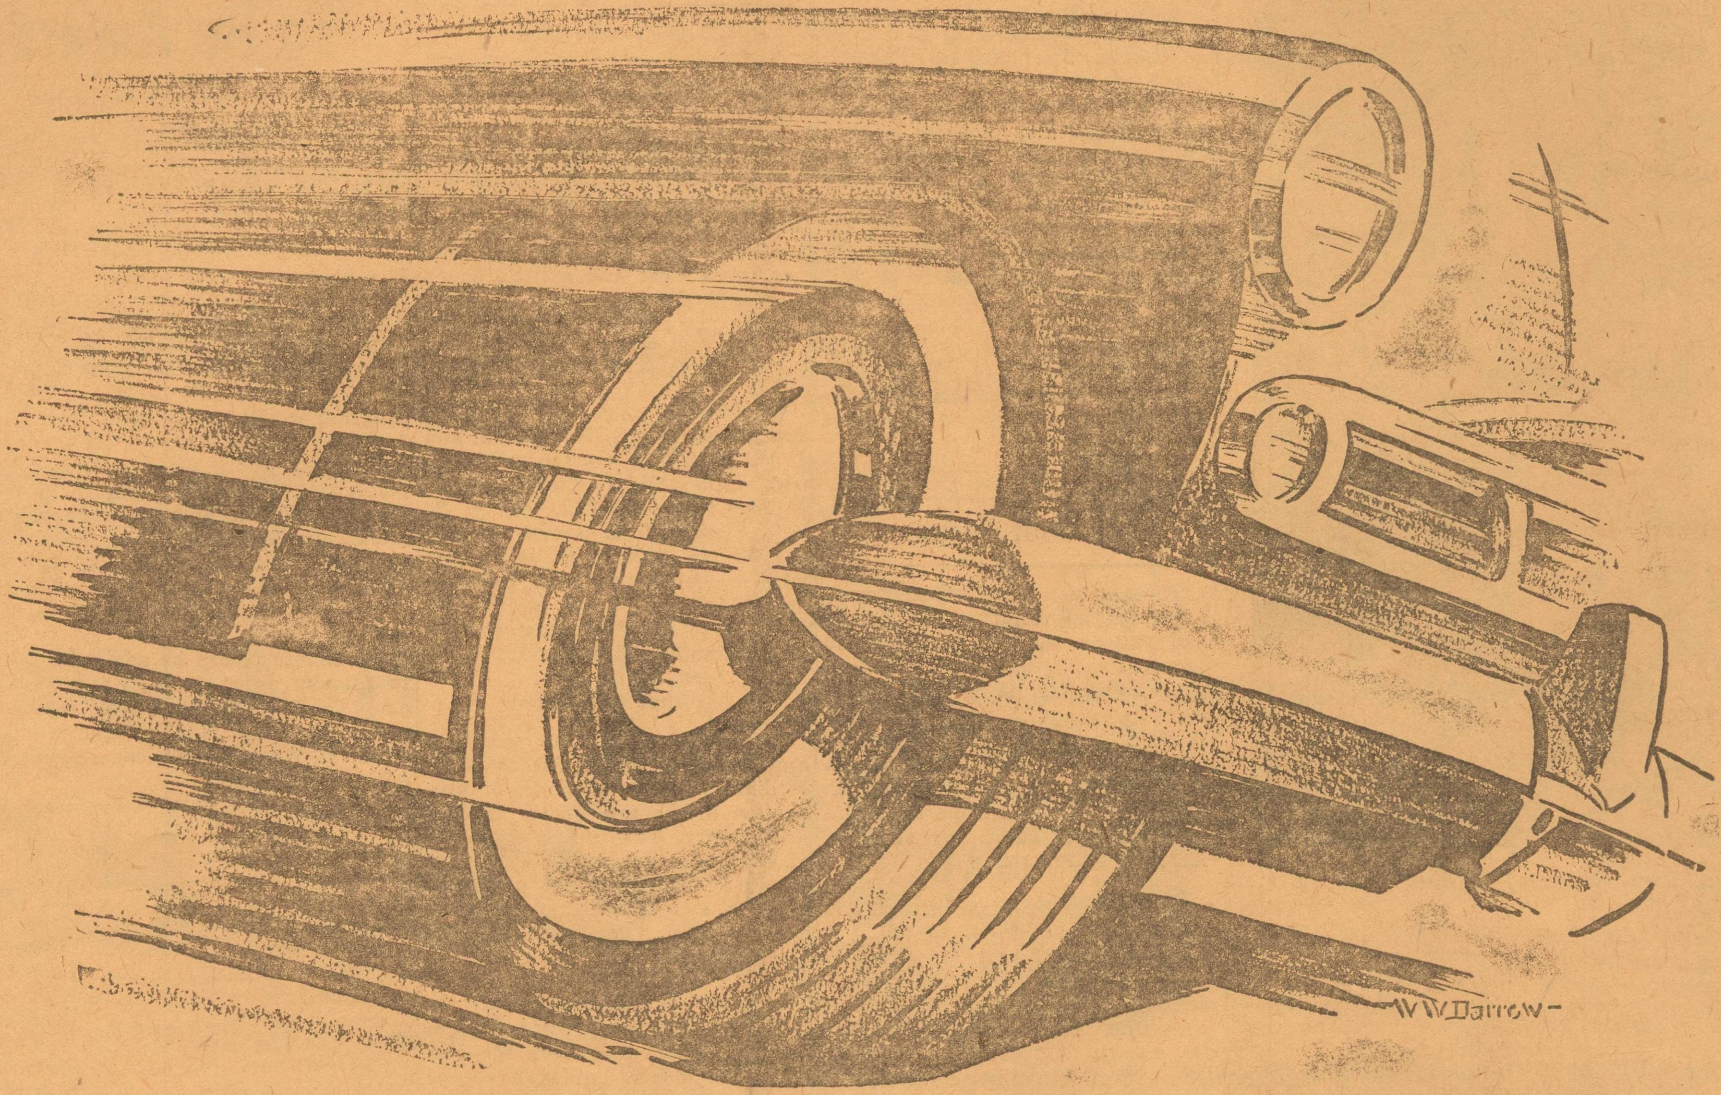

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

DOWN BY THE OLD MILL STREAM

MANY SONGS, MANY BOOKS, MANY PICTURES CELEBRATE OUR RIVERS.
WE DRINK FROM THEM, FISH AND SWIM IN THEM, ROW ON THEM.
THEY BEAR OUR COMMERCE AND ACCOMMODATE OUR INDUSTRIES.

TOO OFTEN WE ABUSE OUR STREAMS, LITTERING THEIR BANKS AND POLLUTING THEIR WATERS, SO THAT MANY OF THEM ARE FIT NEITHER FOR MAN NOR FISH. FORTUNATELY, WE ARE TAKING STEPS TO CONSERVE THEIR VALUE, BOTH TO THE LOCAL COMMUNITY AND THE NATION, BY RESTORING THEM TO SOMETHING LIKE THEIR ORIGINAL CLEANLINESS AND BEAUTY.

WHAT PRICE SPEED?

Speed—excessive, reckless speed is the greatest killer stalking the Nation's highways today.

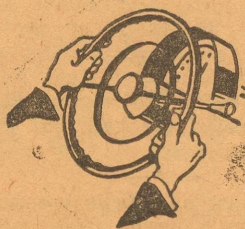

In one out of every two driver accidents resulting in deaths and injuries, speed is directly responsible for this carnage on the highways. Other lethal causes, such as cutting in and out, passing on curves and hills, driving off the roadway, are indirectly the result of quick bursts of speed.

And the speed death toll is climbing! Faster roads, super-powered cars urge drivers beyond their human limitations to a quicker and more frequent rendezvous with Death.

Rural highway fatalities due mainly to speed soared from 22,000 in 1949 to 28,200 in 1952 and over 31,000 in 1953. Those are the dead—and for every death count fifty injured, maimed, crippled for life.

Is this the price you and others are ready to pay for the momentary thrill and the ever-present danger of death from speed? It takes only a split second to change speed exhilaration into speed tragedy.

The decision is in your hands—be sane, be sensible, slow down and live!

SLOW DOWN—LIVES ARE IN YOUR HANDS!

Chigger Time

College Station.—This is chigger season and many Texans are in for a lot of misery before it's over.

Although it might not be economical to control the pests all season entomologists say 50 to 75 cents worth of chlordane or toxaphene will kill the red bugs on the average home lawn for about seven days.

Such a plan is suggested to anyone planning an occasional summer picnic, party or other outdoor gathering. Or these insecticides may be applied to a smaller area where the family lounges or plays in the yard.

One pound of five percent toxaphene or chlordane dust applied to 1,000 square feet is recommended by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

These dusts are available from feed, drug and most grocery stores.

Sulphur dust has long been a popular chigger killer, but these treatments are more effective, the entomologists add.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ashmore have had as guests their daughter Mrs. John T. Hodges and family of Seymour, and the Hodges' ten-year-old son Terry remained to spend the summer with his grandparents. Another guest in the Ashmore home was Mrs. Belle Caldwell of Midland, Mr. Ashmore's sister. Terry has been attending Bible school at the First Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Alexander and sons of Vinson spent the weekend here with the T. H. Alexanders.

Report Shows Increase In Agricultural Exports

College Station.—Farm exports from the United States were three percent higher in March than in the preceding month. Shipments during the month totaled $244,000,000, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

For the nine month, July-March period shipments abroad totaled $2,148,000,000, or one percent less than the corresponding 1952-53 period. March 1954 exports approximated those of the corresponding month a year ago.

The upward trend in cotton exports continued, rice shipments remained above the previous year and shippings of vegetable oils and peanuts were above March 1953.

Tobacco shipments were seasonally small, but oranges reached an unusually high level.

Foreign demands for United States wheat has declined principally because of smaller world needs, greater world production and keener international trade competition, the USDA says. Other grains, including barley, corn and grain sorghums were affected by the same factors and showed reduced exports compared to the previous year.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hayhurst and daughter expect to leave Friday or Saturday on a vacation trip to Colorado. They will do some camping on their way to and from their destination and will occupy a guest cabin near Salida.

Mrs. Edward Meador's mother Mrs. P. S. Dudley of Gainesville had major surgery recently, and Mrs. Meador is making plans to stay with her when she is released from the hospital.

Mayor Eldon Calk and City Water Supt. Lum Burk will be in Big Spring Friday attending sessions of the League of Texas Municipalities.

Williams-Samuell Rites Held Monday At Rocksprings

In a quiet double ring ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. C. Gardner Franks, Mrs. Betty Ruth Franks Samuella of Rocksprings became the bride of Frank Stuart Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Williams of Eldorado, June 1.

Before an antique mirror and tall blue vases filled with yellow daisies and greenery the impressive lines were read by the Rev. Raymond A. Taylor, Methodist pastor of Grace Church, Austin, a former Rocksprings pastor and the minister who christened the bride in infancy. Only immediate members of the families witnessed the exchange of vows. Master Charles Gay Samuel, small son of the bride, was ring bearer.

Nuptial music was played on the Hammond organ by Mrs. Joe Luce, a cousin of the bride.

The bride, unattended, was gowned in a Capri blue silk organza with blue rough straw hat, long blue gloves and kid shoes of identical shade. The dress was ballerina length and styled with finely pleated, corded bands of self material outlining the neck, sleeves and joining the elongated bodice to the full skirt worn over petticoats. Her corsage was of pale yellow rose buds arranged to fit the curved neck line. She wore as her only jewelry a diamond lavalier a gift of her father, the late Charles Gardner Franks, to her mother before they were married.

The bride's mother wore a gray satinized cotton with chalk white beading and a pale blue corsage.

The groom's mother wore a jacket dress of beige tones and white trim. Her corsage was white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home. The dining room was decorated in soft blues and yellows. The center table arrangement was of yellow majestic daisies flanked by yellow candles in silver candle holders. The two-tiered cake nestled in ruffles of maline with sugar spun roses and wedding bells, was served by the bride groom's sister, Miss Martha Dell Williams, Mrs. Mona Franks, aunt of the bride was at the silver coffee service. Mrs. Joe Luce lighted the candles and assisted in serving the mints and bridal sandwiches.

For going away the bride changed into a Moygashel linen ensemble, a sheath dress with full length coat. It was all-over embroidered in white and with it she wore a close fitting white hat, white gloves and jewelry. Her shoes and bag were brown lizard.

After June 10th the couple will be at home in Lubbock. There they will do graduate work at Texas Tech. The bride attended Hockaday College in Dallas and Texas Tech. She holds a degree from Sul Ross College at Alpine.

Mr. Williams re-entered Texas Tech after returning from service in Korea and Japan a year ago. He is an accountant major and definite future plans will be made upon completion of college work.

A group of Eldorado relatives were in Brady attending the funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hanna at the Brady Catholic Church Monday. Hanna was the son of Mrs. Willie Isaacs of Fife and his wife was the former Anna Baker of Brady. The couple were killed in car accident Saturday near Goldthwaite. Attending from Eldorado were Mrs. Frank Bradley, Mrs. Ben Isaacs, Pancho Bradley, who was a pallbearer, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Isaacs and Kenneth.

MEAT TRADE DRAGGY, HURTING LIVESTOCK PRICES

Fort Worth, May 31. — Major population centers in the midwest and on the Eastern Seaboard reported movement of most kinds of meat at wholesale and retail levels last week were spotty and disappointing and in the main prices worked lower.

This condition was reflected in prices of most kinds of livestock in lowered prices. The beef trade was burdened with an influx of medium and low grade calf meat from the farms and plantations of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

Pork prices tumbled from five to 14 cents per pound in the New York area as consumers shied away from the highest pork loin prices in years. Finicky buyers with nothing else to criticize about it, were making enough of an issue about the way the pork was trimmed and the amount of fat on it, to call for a report of that fact on the national news circuits.

At virtually all points, packers and wholesalers complained that cattle and calves were making unsatisfactory kills because of the evidence of "grassy" finish and fat.

Lamb buyers complained that old crop shorn lambs were showing more yearling than lamb characteristics and the "horsey" sizes and failures to "break joint" created additional hurdles. Spring lambs were reportedly in rather liberal supply, and off grades were reportedly numerous. The Southeastern lambs were reported in heavier volume.

All of this set the stage for the "June Break" in cattle prices, which on Monday averaged around 50 cents to $1 per hundred, some more and some less. On top of the break of a week earlier, this moved prices nearer to levels of a year ago.

Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $18-$22, common and medium kinds $12-$18. Fat cows $10-$13, a few heiferish kinds to $10-$15 and above. Carriers and cutters largely $7-$10. Bulls $9-$14.50, few higher. Good and choice slaughter calves $18-$22; cull, common and medium kinds from $10-$17.

Sheep and Lamb Prices Firm
Spring lambs topped at $24 to $25 readily at Fort Worth Monday and were fully steady at those prices. The fair to good kinds of slaughter spring lambs sold around $18 to $24, and stocker and feeder kinds, and the lower grade killers sold from $12 to $17.

Slaughter ewes sold at $4.50 to $6, and breeder ewes drew $8 to $12, a few to $15. Old bucks drew $4 to $5, some higher to go back to the country. Two-year-olds sold around $12 down and old wethers cashed at $8 to $11.

Butcher hogs topped at $26.50 at Fort Worth Monday, steady with last week's close. Less desirable weights and quality sold at $23 to $26.25. Sows cashed at $19 to $22.

Important Conservation

With the year 1954 fast approaching the halfway mark, farmers and ranchers of the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District are still short of the much needed moisture to produce good crop and pasture grass. Before the rain of Monday, May 17, grasses in pastures with very little cover were beginning to need more rain to keep them growing to produce any forage. Cultivated crops that were up were dying and seed planted in fair moisture was spoiling due to not enough moisture to get it up.

No one realizes better than the farmer himself how disheartening it is to spend good time and money in planting a crop and then not get a good stand or not get enough rain to make a crop. If farmers could control when and how much it rains on their particular farm they would have it rain to suit their farming need.

Since man does not control when or how much it rains the next best thing that he can do is hold all the water he can when it does rain. This can be done by applying and maintaining all the soil and water conservation practices needed on the land, states Lloyd B. Johnson of the Soil Conservation Service.

Some of the conservation practices included in a well-rounded soil and water conservation plan can be applied with little or no expense to the farmer.

Crop residue is one of the practices that requires no expense and is probably the easiest to apply. Although there is no cost in applying crop residue the benefits are great. "The returning of large quantities of crop residue to the soil is one of our best means of helping nature keep our soil in a permanent, productive state," Johnson stated.

The continuous removal of crops of feed and cotton from our cultivated land over a period of years takes large quantities of plant nutrients that nature required many years to build. Organic matter in the soil is very essential to maintain fertility, increase water holding capacity, and provide necessary biological activity.

Land with a good cover of crop residue will hold more water where it falls and the soil will also hold the moisture longer. The litter on the surface of the soil helps to cushion the raindrops and slow down the water during heavy rains permitting much of it to soak into the soil. Evaporation caused by wind and sun action is also greatly reduced.

Every farmer is interested in holding all the water that falls on the land for use by cultivated crops. Farmers are also concerned about holding all the good topsoil on their fields so the soil will be in a condition to grow good crops when it does rain. Crop residue is one of the most effective conservation practices in this area in doing the two-fold job of holding the soil in place during rains as well as during high winds. A good cover of crop residue breaks the force of the wind and holds the topsoil in place so it is not blown away. Wind erosion leaves the soil in a powdered condition, making it almost impossible for moisture to penetrate whereby runoff is increased and needed water goes into the lakes or draws and is lost.

As in any other farming operation, farmers need to make plans to apply crop residue management and carry out those plans when crops are grown that furnish good residue. Good residue left on the land means more moisture held on the land where it falls.

CHURCH THANKS PUBLIC

The St. Luke Church members state that they are very grateful to the public for assisting in their drive for finances. They announce that $97 was raised during that mission effort.

They submit the following statement of appreciation:

"We extend our thanks to all the churches and all our many friends, and also the Holiness Church of our city, Rev. Covington had a car wreck recently and his wife is in St. John's Hospital—and we pray for our pastor and his family. We expect to begin on our church building soon.

BRIDGE PARTY THURSDAY

Mrs. Joe Andrews, Mrs. T. E. Holcomb and Mrs. Oliver Teele entertained with a luncheon and bridge Thursday at the Holcomb home. There were five tables of players. Mrs. Leslie Baker won high, Mrs. Walter McGregor, second high, Mrs. James Page, low, Mrs. Jimmie West high cut, and Mrs. Jerry Pennington, bingo.

Mr. and Mrs. Mooney Hicks and daughter, here with Shell, are on a two-week's vacation trip to Houston and other places.

Mr. and Mrs. Clemens Sauer and children spent Sunday with relatives at Menard.

Discarded Refrigerators Declared Death Traps

A new program has been inaugurated to fight the menace of young children being suffocated in discarded refrigerators, freezers and other airtight cabinets. The number of children dying in this manner is not as great as that compared to other accidental deaths that children suffer—but it is absolutely needless that a single child should die because of discarded airtight cabinets. Several Eldorado organizations have pointed out this particular danger.

The solution is simple. Every discarded refrigerator and freezer must be rendered harmless. This can be done by:

Removing the entire door by removing the hinges;

Removing the latch or latch-stop with a screwdriver and ripping the rubber gasket from the door;

If used as a general storage cabinet, by drilling holes through the body of the refrigerator and removing gasket, so that anyone caught inside can breathe.

If the box is temporarily stored in the basement or garage, it should be turned so that the door faces the wall and can't be opened by children—or the door can be tied shut with stout wire or rope.

Good Ranges Help To Make Good Turkeys

College Station.—Proper use of ranges and succulent feeds offers turkey raisers the best chance to cut costs, increase profits and grow better birds.

A range for turkeys offers more than sunshine and exercise, says C. A. Hensarling, extension poultry husbandman. It furnishes plenty of green grazing and should be large enough to permit the poults to be moved every two or three weeks. An ideal range is well drained, tree bordered and completely isolated from other poultry on the farm. Poults go to range at the age of eight to 12 weeks.

If natural shade is unavailable, range shelters or a similar type arbor should be built. Lack of shade causes the birds to overcrowd and some may be injured or even killed. Plenty of fresh, cool drinking water is a hot weather "must" on the range. It usually rains to bring water to the range, but a barrel makes a good substitute when kept full and clean. Hensarling says. Under no circumstances should the birds be allowed to drink from muddy and, possibly, contaminated streams or ponds.

Portable feeders should be designed to protect the feed from rain, wind, direct sunlight and from droppings. When forage in the immediate feeding area shows signs of being overgrazed a move to another location is in order.

Predator animals pose a problem in some areas and Hensarling advises enclosing the roosting area with net wire fencing. Lanterns, flares or electric lights burning near the roost will also help turn away nighttime invaders.

The W. Q. Kuykendalls and Mrs. Campbell of Fort Worth have been visiting several days with Mr. and Mrs. Josh Ewing.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hale and Billy Sam and Michael visited in Iran Sundry.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Fry are leaving this week for Missouri, to help Mr. Fry's brother George with his harvest for several weeks. From there they will go to Wisconsin to visit Mrs. Fry's sister. In their absence from home Mrs. Fry's parents Mr. and Mrs. J. M. West and Janie Ruth of Round Rock are here to take over the ranch work.

R. A. Yarbrough of Beeville and P. W. Yarbrough of Kerrville visited last week with their sister Mrs. Claude Doyle. Mrs. Doyle accompanied them as far as Kerrville and visited a few days with her sister Mrs. Lowell Griffin, who had a heart attack two weeks ago and will be confined to her bed for some time.
