HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

We offer a sincere welcome to the Fort Worth business men who are to spend the night in Big Spring. They are doing something that Big Spring ought to do.

Fort Worth's trade territory extends over a large part of the state. Big Spring extends over a part of West Texas but it would cover a lot more territory if we got out and associated with the folks in surrounding counties more than we do.

We know a city or two in West Texas that, although not so large as Big Spring, invariably is found well represented at every convention, conference on economic and governmental problems and most every other place.

The reason is that the bankers and the dentists, the surgeons and the lawyers, the oil men and the ranchmen get out and get acquainted with the men of their professions and occupations elsewhere.

We ought to have some good will motorades of our own. They don't cost much. Those who go on them have a good time. They reap much benefit themselves, directly, and their town both directly and indirectly thereby.

Now these Fort Worth fellows are just like Big Spring or Amarillo or Abilene fellows. They figure the whole world, more or less, revolves around their own front stoop. And, if you come to think of it, believing just that sometimes does make a lot more of the world's people trek to a place.

Fort Worth is where the west begins. This is, in the words of a contemporary editor of ours, is where the west at Ft. Worth is here to visit with Big Spring because Fort Worth has things to sell us and we must buy. Also we have raw materials to sell and they will buy. It works both ways.

Welcome Fort Worth.

Parks and B.C.D. Topics at Lunch

Parks and the advantages of a Board of City Development, were the chief topics of discussion at the regular meeting of the Business Mens Luncheon Club, held today.

Penrose B. Metcalfe, state representative of this district, was a guest and speaker of the club.

He discussed the state park here, and expressed the opinion little financial aid for expansion could be expected from the state appropriations.

He asked club members to advise him as to their needs in Austin.

The need of a board of city development was discussed by J. E. Kuykendall, Fox Stripling, E. A. Kelley, V. R. Smitham and Mayor Pickle.

Stripling told the club he would donate 20 acres for a public park, provided the city would improve and care for it.

Smitham, in a short talk, declared in his opinion the city needs such an organization as the Board of City Development. He declared appropriations would have to be limited to $6,500, figuring on a basis of ten cents a hundred on a $65,000 valuation.

According to Smitham, the creation of such a body is now being considered by the city commission. The body would be composed of 15 men appointed by the city commissioners.

Mayor Pickle declared he favored the board, and the addition of more parks. He suggested a bathing pool, tennis court and other outdoor features be added to the present city park.

City Manager Gives Position Relative To Candidates' Cards

City officials have made no effort to stop an age-old custom—that of distributing small announcement cards among voters on behalf of candidates for election to various precinct and county offices.

and had not mentioned that the practice could be brought under terms of an ordinance prohibiting distribution on the streets of printed matter until the matter was mentioned by a local printer, said City Manager V. R. Smitham Wednesday morning.

Mr. Smitham said he did not feel distinction of candidates cards would cause any undue littering of the sidewalks and streets. Therefore, he added, the city officers have not been instructed to interfere with the practice.

The city manager said he had been informed of criticism aimed at himself from certain quarters since he refused Saturday to allow cards advertising a mass meeting of those opposed to the city milk ordinance and that this criticism had been shifted from his action of Saturday to statements he would prohibit distribution of candidates' cards. The latter matter was not broached by himself but by others, he added.

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP)—Babe Ruth received a three day suspension today as the result of yesterday's altercation with Umpire Brick Owens. The Babe protested violently about the umpire's decision on a called third strike against Charley Ruffing in the first game of yesterday's double header and was ordered from the field. Notice of the suspension came from President E. S. Barnard of the American League after he had received the umpire's report.

TREATY DEBATE CONTINUES

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—Advocates of the McKellar resolution calling on President Hoover for the international correspondence leading up to negotiations of the London naval treaty renewed their arguments at the opening of the senate today while administration leaders pressed for an early vote.

After a bare quorum of 49 senators answered the roll call, Senator Black, democrat, Alabama, called for adoption of the resolution on the ground that it involved a right of the senate and was not a question of publicity.

GALVESTON, July 9 (AP)—Joe Willie Embry, 35, of Houston, was found on the highway near Alvin today with pistol wounds in his abdomen and knife cuts on his throat. He told officers he was robbed of $157 and slugged by a service car driver.

FEE IN MILK ORDINANCE ELIMINATED

CITY BOARD HEEDS PLEA FOR CHANGE

Tuberculin Tests and Health Examinations Favored

The City Commission, at the regular meeting held at the City Hall Tuesday night, went on record as being in favor of elimination of the fee system in the standard milk ordinance.

Committee

The action came following discussion of the measure by C. T. Watson, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, Tom Ashley and J. Bush, representing a committee of the commercial organization, and the board members. Watson, spokesman for the body, told of the opposition being voiced by Howard county farmers and dairymen, especially milk and butter peddlers, to the $3 charge for a permit which they termed an "occupation tax."

The commission decided to eliminate the fee, and in two weeks to repeal the old milk ordinance and adopt a combination of the old one and a new amendment. The fee system will be omitted in the ordinance to be adopted.

The commissioners expressed the opinion that tuberculin tests, cow-cows and hygienic examinations for milk handlers are necessary to the health of the consumer.

An effort will be made, however, to have one doctor handle all of the medical examinations at a fee which will probably be set by the city. The city also will work in conjunction with the veterinary who is to conduct the tuberculin tests, in an effort to get that fee as low as possible.

City Manager V. R. Smitham declared the majority of the cities did not have the fee charge, but all demanded permits must be issued.

The commission members will further study the ordinance between now and the next regular meeting. The vote of the commission to eliminate the fee was unanimous. J. M. Williams, city sanitation inspector, met with the body.

Commission members assured the committee every effort would be made to work out a system to relieve the fees in the other cases where examination costs are included.

ESCAPED CONVICT IS HELD HERE

Partner Served Sentence, Ciscoan Tells Officers

Wm. T. Frye, Cisco, escaped convict, and J. L. Wilson, Cisco, ex-convict, were arrested and lodged in jail here this morning by Deputies Andrew Merrick and D. D. Dunn.

Frye, who with Wilson, went to the penitentiary from Shackelford county, admitted after his arrest in a pasture north of the Cosden refinery, that he "outran the dogs" in March 1926, when he left the Ramsey state prison farm.

They men, who gave their ages as 24, said they were given two years each on a charge of cattle theft. Wilson declared he served eight months of his two year sentence before he managed to flee from the farm.

The two were arrested here several days ago and said fines for being drunk.

Monday members of the Sheriff's department received word from Eastland Frye was an escaped convict.

The actual arrest of the men was made by Merrick. They were seated in the pasture when Merrick slipped behind them, ordering them to "throw up your hands." He had Frye handcuffed by Wilson and they were brought to the city.

Two pints of liquor were found in Frye's possession when the arrest was made, said the deputies.

Wilson will be detained pending information from authorities. Penitentiary officials will be notified of Frye's arrest.

W. E. Kuykendall, arrested here Tuesday by Chief of Police E. A. Long and alleged to have taken a 19-year-old Belton girl across two state lines, will be turned over to federal authorities Thursday.

Kuykendall was arrested in a local tourist camp with the girl and his three babies, children of a former wife, who is dead.

According to a telegram received this morning by Chief Long from a department of justice official, Kuykendall faces a charge of violation of the Mann act. An agent will be here to take the man to Dallas.

In the meantime efforts are being made by Long to send the girl back to her mother, who lives near Belton, and have the children sent to relatives of the man.

The father of the accused man lives at Breckenridge, and in a telegram to Chief Long informed him he and his wife would care for the children if they could be sent there.

A telegram from the girl's mother ordered the girl be sent home to her as soon as possible.

The girl made a statement to Chief Long and Judge Tracy Smith in which she implicated Kuykendall.

Of this amount, San Antonio spending $290,153.63 and Austin $276,169 report the largest expenditures of the state. Austin's expenditure puts the city first among those of its size in the United States, appropriating for the people's play. San Antonio ranks third in its population group, with Louisville, Kentucky, first, reporting $440,400.65 as the gross amount expended.

Annual Budget of City Discussed By Board

The belated budget of the City of Big Spring was discussed and tabled until the next meeting at the regular meeting of the City Commission, held last night.

Items Discussed

Almost the entire time was spent in discussing the various items included in the budget for the fiscal year, as drawn by City Manager V. R. Smitham.

The total of the proposed budget was not made public by Smitham.

Only one portion of the proposed schedule was approved by the body last night.

City Manager Smitham was authorized by the commissioners to proceed with enlargement of the fire department.

Creation of a new sub-station for the fire department, and addition of new firemen to raise the total of regular men to 10, was submitted in the budget. It also called for the creation of the separate office of fire marshal, with a salary of $25 per month for part time work.

According to present plans, the department would be so arranged as to have six men on duty at all times at the central station, with two off at all times, and two men on duty at the proposed sub-station.

New Station

The new station, in all probability will be located in the south part of the city, in the vicinity of Sixteenth and Eighteenth streets.

A pumper and a chemical wagon would be located in the new station, with the same in the central building.

According to figures submitted by Harry Lees, chief, there have been 74 fires since the first of December with a total loss of $96,525, and with 25 of these fires carrying an estimated damage of more than $50.

Insurance paid out on six fires totaled $78,250, according to Lees.

He urged the office of fire marshal be created to lower the insurance rate.

Recent census reports required the increase in fire fighting equipment and men, it was declared.

Little Opposition

The budget as a whole met little opposition from any of the commission members. W. W. Inkman maintained the budget should be kept in the bounds of the usual five per cent surplus of anticipated revenue.

Trash hauling and park appropriations, as proposed in the budget, also caused some discussion. Approximately $10,000 was included in the report for general park expenditures.

The board members deferred action on the proposed budget until the next meeting, following approval of that part of it which had reference to the fire department.

No raises in salary were contained in the budget, which, when accepted, will be retroactive to April first.

Creation of a board of city development, appropriations made for street work, and "anticipated revenue" were discussed during the night session.

ONE BANDIT FELLED BY REVOLVER

Bank Near Enid, Oklahoma, Also Is Robbed

NEW ORLEANS, July 9 (AP)—A lone motorcycle policeman today braved the fire of bank robbers and brought down one of them with the butt of his revolver near the Jefferson race track and recovered two sacks of money.

Two hooded bandits with a third sitting at the wheel of a waiting automobile outside held up customers and employees of the Freret Street branch of the Interstate Bank and Trust Company, scooped up all of the money in sight and sped away in the direction of Jefferson Parish.

Police flashed a description of the robber car and within a few minutes state highway policeman J. L. Escude saw it sweep by him on the Jefferson Highway. Mounting his motorcycle he gave chase and within a few yards of the car, opened fire with his revolver while racing fifty miles an hour.

The bandits returned the fire with shotgun and revolver until both bandits and policeman had exhausted their ammunition. The policeman then attempted to board the car and the robbers leaped out and started running towards the woods.

Jumping from his motorcycle, policeman Escude pursued them on foot and overtook one of the men, whom he felled with a blow from the butt of his pistol. The other two escaped to the woods.

The captured man gave his name as Red Diebel, an ex-convict.

Bank officials estimated the loot at $3,500 but more than $1,700 was recovered from two sacks dropped by Diebel.

ENID, Okla., July 9 (AP)—The Bank of Hunter, 14 miles north-east of Enid, was robbed today by two unmasked men who held officials and four customers and escaped in a waiting coupe with approximately $1,000 in currency.

One of the officials was able to give the alarm but due to confusion outside, the robbers, both apparently in their late teens had little difficulty in getting out of town. They drove eastward toward Garber.

The officials and customers were ordered to lie on the floor, face down and later were shoved into the vault while the robbers scooped up the money.

In the bank when the robbers entered were the four customers, and D. E. Wells, cashier; D. L. Compton, first vice president; Mrs. D. L. Compton and Keith Compton, assistant cashier. S. P. Thomas, president, came in during the robbery and was held at bay with the others in the bank.

Mine Workers' Head Ignored Injunction

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 9 (AP)—John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, and other union officials, were today held guilty of violating an injunction issued by the Sangamon county circuit court, to restrain them from interfering with activities of the Illinois mine workers, in an opinion prepared by Master in Chancery Frank Trutter.

It was regarded as a hollow victory for the Illinois mine workers, inasmuch as no punishment was provided for. The opinion held that the Lewis followers, excepting A. T. Pace of Herrin, and former State Senator William Sneed of Herrin, had been shown guilty, inasmuch as they had intended no "contempt of court" there would be no punishment.

The opinion was formally presented to Circuit Judge Briggs, who in the usual course, is expected to adopt it as the expression of the court.

"I have gained wonderfully in health on three bottles of Orgatone and feel like my old self again," said Miss Billy Preston, in charge of the coffee shop, Naylor Hotel. "I was in a very much run down condition," she explained, "from stomach disturbances and most everything I would eat gave me trouble. My food would sour on my stomach and form gas that made me miserable for hours. My nerves were all on edge so I got little sleep at night and when morning came I was almost as tired as when I went to bed. I had headaches most all the time and hardly had any life or energy left to do any thing."

"I heard so many people telling about the good that Orgatone had done that I decided to try it. The way it took away my troubles was one grand surprise and I hardly know how to tell of the benefits derived from using it. It has made a new person out of me. The gas has stopped forming in my stomach and my complexion is clearing up. I can eat anything I want without trouble. I sleep well at night and feel well all the time." State Ticket Longer Than Ever, With Fifty Names; Hundreds Run For District Officers In Texas

DALLAS, Texas, July 9.—Candidates for places on the Democratic primary ticket this year are more numerous than in any previous year of which the Texas Election Bureau has records. The State ticket contains fifty names against the previous high mark of forty-one set in 1924. Only one candidate is unopposed, Mr. Marra for State Superintendent of Public Instruction, whereas heretofore there have been from two to four. There were only twenty-five names on the State ticket in 1920. The number of candidates for Governor sets a new high mark for that office, two more than in 1924. Candidates for district offices also are more numerous than usual.

The Republican State primary ticket contains twenty-six names against thirteen in 1926. There are yet many blank places for district candidates. The Republicans held no primary election in 1929.

The Sterling Plan

There is any question being discussed in the campaign for democratic nomination for governor...

To begin with, that plan, if in operation now, would reduce the Howard county tax rate at least 20 per cent.

Under the Sterling Plan, however the county would not be called upon to vote any bonds, incur any debt or levy any tax itself to provide paved highways.

Under the Sterling Plan no county tax would be levied for this construction. The people of the county would pay only in proportion to the amount of gasoline burned in their motor vehicles.

The traffic should pay for road construction, not the land, the homes, the business property. Texas already has a gasoline tax, it is true.

This in effect is double taxation. We pay a gasoline tax and we pay county taxes to retire county road bonds. The Sterling Plan would eliminate the latter.

Why we ask should a farmer living 20 miles from any state highway have to pay a tax equal to that levied on the man whose land is bordered by the paved to retire county bonds which financed the paving?

their legitimate functions. Now that publication admits, with confessed reluctance, that Lingle was involved in grafting operations and probably met a gangster's death.

On the whole, however, newspaper reporters are notoriously hard to "reach." They are loyal to their particular organizations and they take pride in their work. As a class, their hatred of graft is too deep-seated for them to become affiliated with grafters.

It would be easier for a newspaper reporter to lead a double life in Chicago than in Sioux City, Des Moines or Omaha. Even as to the Chicago situation, incidentally, the responsible news management of the Chicago Tribune was not entirely blameless as to the records developed in the Lingle case.

Lingle apparently was retained as a reporter because of his indicated influence in police circles and his indicated touch with affairs in England. Both contracts were rope objects of suspicion when taken in connection with the reporter's scale of living, which had been known to most of his newspaper associates.

Lingle types will crop out occasionally in the newspaper business and in other business, but the fact remains that only a small proportion of newspaper reporters betray their natural obligations to the general public.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Vacations is a term unsuited to express its intended meaning. Its use to vacate implies emptiness, inactivity.

A more fitting term would perhaps be recreation, for a vacation, or to truly worth while, should be recreation in the sense that it amends, compensates and reconstructs.

Evidently, to secure such desirable results, some little thought needs to be given to the choice of place and manner of vacationing.

To choose haphazardly, seashore or mountains hotel or country cottage is merely to gamble on the outcome, with the odds against you.

The essential value in a vacation is the change which it affords, science has in many ways, shown that monotony is fatiguing.

Modern life, with its demand for specialization tends to keep us one-sided and narrow. We need change to overcome monotony, we need rest to replenish our spent vitality.

Rest, however, does not imply complete or marked cessation of physical or mental effort.

The office worker will find rest in tennis, swimming and boating.

The man or woman whose work is taxing, who stands or walks all day, might find a soft chair and a rack of books the best part of a vacation.

A good vacation really means a change in occupation and in environment.

Vacation time is an opportunity period for checking up on one's physical self. You might leave it to the doctor to prescribe the sort of vacation you ought to have.

It would make a pleasant medicine to prescribe and one equally as pleasant to take.

GRIDLEY, Cal. (INS)—The instincts of good farming and sentiment met here recently.

Sentiment won. Elmer Edson was called upon to decide whether to kill a large gopher snake, which kills mice and other farm pests, and permitting the snake to dine on a nest of quail eggs.

He found the snake, almost a pet on the farm, working his quiet way to the eggs.

Edson killed the snake and saved the eggs.

COLONEL GILFEATHER Trade Mark Registration Applied by Dick Dorgan For U. S. Patent Office

Hollywood Sights & Sounds

BY ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — Virtually every novel from the presses comes under studio scrutiny as possible movie material, but the authors of the latest dissertation on Hollywood probably are not counting on any royalties from the films.

This particular book, like other Hollywood novels of the past, for the moment has set the movie colony agog, but it has little if any chance of reaching the screen—at least in its present form.

It reads rather heavily, that is to say, on the toes of many of the cinema's better-knowns.

IN THE KNOW Many Hollywood novels have been written in the past by men and women who knew the film colony only in a superficial way. There is the old story of authors who would talk to a Hollywood hotel clerk for half an hour or so then hop a train to some distant point and proceed to picture the colony's so-called "intimate life."

The brothers who wrote this new book "Queer People," do not fall in this class, however. They have lived and worked in the movie industry for a good many years, and know the ins and outs of screen land.

Their book is replete with more or less satirical exaggerations and pitiless caricatures, but in the main it probably is as true a picture of Hollywood as has been presented.

Naturally it gives a pretty full account of the strange loyalties and shams, the often unscrupulous ambitions and political intrigues, the gilt and dress—all of which has a part in any lifelike sketch of film-land.

Another "intimate view" of Hollywood, in this case on the screen is "Show Girl in Hollywood," which will be interesting over the country principally because it shows talkies in the making.

Alice White again is the "show girl," and is supported by Jack Mulhall, Blanche Sweet as the passe movies star, Ford Sterling as the producer and John Miljan, as usual, as the heavy.

Hollywood will be amused by the screening of such standard local humor as the removal of names from studio office doors in symbol of discharge, and by the often apparent glee with which some of the actors, in character, caricature their studio bosses.

A NICE GIRL COMES TO TOWN

SYNOPSIS: Tony Titherington, daredevil aviator, enters into a "make-believe" engagement with Mary Lou Leslie within a week after they meet. Tony contends an aviator has no business getting married, and Mary Lou agrees to a temporary engagement so Tony's wealthy aunt will back him on his proposed flight around the world. She would not finance the flight until he became engaged to Mary Lou. Rather than disappoint Tony, Mary Lou agrees to this private bargain. Finally, and all too soon for Mary Lou, comes the day before Tony is to start. She breaks down at a farewell party for him, and Tony realizes that she is more fond of him than he had imagined. He tries to comfort her by telling her that he likes her more than any girl he ever met, and Mary Lou resolves to brace up and make the best of the situation.

along. Miss Titherington asserted, "Wouldn't miss the spectacle of that fool of a nephew of mine starting off on this crazy adventure for anything in the world."

Her tone was mocking, but the look in her eyes gave her away. Mary Lou understood. She thrust her own arm through Miss Titherington's.

"Come along and we'll talk to Tony."

Tony waved his hand airily as they approached. "Well, Aunt Ethelberta, this is a surprise! It's ever so decent of you."

"Pshaw!" Aunt Ethelberta said curtly. "Don't waste time on me. Talk to this girl of yours. She's the one who needs your attention. She's worrying herself sick."

Tony introduced them to the mechanic who was accompanying him. He was a cheerful, sandy-haired Scotchman, MacTavish by name. Jay and Jerry strolled up. Miss Titherington seemed to like Jay.

Minutes fled by. "Well, we may as well start her up," Tony commented presently, in the same casual voice he might have used when preparing for a spin in his car.

All along Mary Lou had been anticipating this moment, but now its suddenness shocked her. She wanted to run to Tony, cling to him, beg him to wait just a little while longer. With an effort she controlled herself, and forced a smile.

Tony was shaking hands with all of them, accepting with a smile their fervent good wishes. Mary Lou was the last.

"Well, cheerio, old thing," he bent and kissed her lightly on the cheek. That casual kiss chilled her.

"Humph!" commented Miss Titherington cynically. "If I had a young man and he kissed me like that, I'd box his ears."

Her remark saved the day. Everyone was only too ready to break into laughter.

"Don't fuss, aunt," Tony grinned back at her, as he prepared to climb into the cockpit. "If you do, I'll come over and kiss you instead. Besides Mary Lou and I understand each other perfectly, don't we, Mary Lou?"

He grinned down at her in his old loped way. "Mary Lou, you must play up!" she whispered to herself.

"Of course we understand each other," she smiled back. "Tony... Good luck!"

The propellers already were in motion. With a final "cheerio," Tony climbed into the cockpit and Gay Girl taxied across the field and rose gracefully into the air.

A hundred photographers focused their cameras in her direction; hundreds of handkerchiefs fluttered. Cries of "Good luck, Good luck!" were heard on every side.

Mary Lou did not wave. She couldn't. Her eyes strained for a last glimpse of Tony. At first she could see the top of his brown leather helmet, but soon that was lost from view, and only the machine remained, a great silver bird in the clouds, flying away from them, flying...

Suddenly she started to run, as though she thought she could keep pace with him, could race around the world after her and Gay Girl. Now she no longer could see Gay Girl distinctly. The plane was elongated, blurred. Tears were streaming down her cheeks, but she didn't know it.

Then Gay Girl seemed to swoop down directly on top of her. She shouted out hoarsely, stumbled, fell. "Quick, Jerry!" It was Jay's excited voice. "I think Mary Lou has fainted."

And high up in the clouds a plane passed out of sight. (Copyright, 1930, Maysie Greig)

In tomorrow's chapter Mary Lou discovers that her worries have only begun.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

Answered By
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

Dayton, Ohio
Do you not think that newspapers are as a rule unfair to religion and the churches?
Countless some screeds the press purporting to deal with religious subjects are as brainless as they are heartless. What I do know is that in our present fight of criticism which usually follows the day of creation, the journalism of the nation has been singularly considerate of religion and the ing and can effect nothing worth while. I do not refer to attacks by ardent militarists and wets, or by self-seekers who discover that the churches are strong enough to block their selfish plans. The responses of these groups must be measured in the light of their mottos and objectives. But God forbid that Jews or Christians should seek to hide behind a spurious sanctity, blind to the faults and sins of those who profess a high faith, and yet live on life's lower levels.

Remembering that the best practice of religious ideals is not as exclusive as it might be, and that all the churches need more energy, devotion and unity of effort, can we say that the newspapers are prejudiced against religion and the churches? I do not think we can.

Salt Lake City, Utah.
In what fundamental respects,

on the Quakers differ from other Protestant sects? So far as I have been able to find out, they seem to conform to the teachings contained in the Epistles of St. James. They believe in the more mystical teachings of the New Testament.

I recommend the works of Dr.
Rufus Jones in your attention in answer to this question. The Society of Friends has no abler American exponent of its distinctive doctrines, and what he has to say about them is accepted as authoritative by the Christian world at large. The Friends value the Epistles of St. James for its practical application of the religion of Jesus.
But their anchor is cast in the mythical writings of St. John. The "true light that lighteth every man" is their chosen guide, and their work-ship is practiced under the Holy Spirit's immediate direction.

For them every meal is a Eucharist, every bath a baptism, and all times and seasons holy unto the Lord. They have consistently protested from the first against the bearing of arms as diametrically opposed to the temper and the teachings of Jesus. No denomination has borne as noble a testimony for the Prince of Peace and Goodwill as has the Society of Friends.
During times of war and persecution they have been foremost in works of relief and mercy.

The late Mr. St. Lee Strachey, editor of "The London Spectator," and a member of the Anglican Church, declared that the Friends were the most complete embodiment of New Testament simplicity and power extant today. Their influence far surpasses their numerical strength because the spiritual leav-en that is in them has done so much to evoke the Christian conscience against social injustice and political tyranny.

What help can you offer my brother who for a period of years has been leading an immoral life? He satisfies his relish desires regardless of the sufferings he causes us all, and the evil example he is setting to his four growing children.
The elder children know of his depravity and try to reform him, but he invariably tries to lie his way out.

My sister-in-law should ultimately voice him, but she loves him and says she has to take his full share of the responsibility for their children.

I have tried to reach him through his conscience; this heartless woman he runs after has apparently killed that.

Kindly omit address.

A man who so far forgets himself as to act as your brother does is prone to place the responsibility on others. He is a more weakling and that species usually seeks refuge in lies to cover up its sexual infidelity.

As I see it, his conscience depends on you and the wife. It is a woman's fight for a man who is hardly worth it. Nevertheless, love fixes its own valuations, and since he is precious to you, go to it.

Begin with his paramour. Since you believe she belongs to the vampire breed, do not hesitate. Whatever she is, even though she may be more sinned against than sinning, take the injured wife with you and give her notice that the affair is ended. If she has any self-respect left, she may submit to your ultimatum, and even if she is lost to shame she may deem it wise to seek a retreat.

After you have seen the woman in the case, turn on the man. Tell him that appeals to his conscience having proved useless, the family affairs are determined to save him from himself. If this combined effort in behalf of what is right and decent fails, he is hopeless, and the wife should summon the law to her aid.

phone, Inc.)

BOBBY JONES PITTED AGAINST FIELD

Hint! Well, well, and even well! The gasoline guzzlers think maybe they aren't what they need to be. Cosden's corker topped ball shaggers are out to cop second half honors.

"Richardson's Refinery," related Mr. Spilkey Henninger, "is out meat. But we need the practice for some of the hard teams."

The Mexican Tigers make their initial appearance in the City League this afternoon when they meet the Barbers-Laundry-Texas & Pacific Railway team, rolled in one under the name of the Barbers. Veggie, the generalissimo of the boys from Mexican town, is out today collecting four bit pieces from the Felinas, and will be set to clash with the masters of the mug massage this evening at 5:30 o'clock.

We expect any day now to see J. C. Moore, the Richardson manager, come galloping out of his dugout with a baseball bat to clout some of the grandstand appeal out of Barnyard Burns. Burns, the Adonis of Ackerly, struck out twice with men on yesterday, and lucked into a puny single. Fat ones were called on him as he displayed his slyph like form to the ladies, rather than watched the fast ones of Bob Potter. Next thing we know Burns will be wanting to talk in the grandstand so he can talk to the customers as well.

O'Quinn, stocky Irishman—so they say—celebrated Homecoming Day or something by getting a couple of doubles and a walk in four journeys to the slab. As leadoff man he is going to prove a menace to opposing hurlers. He is none too easy to chunk to, for two reasons. It is hard to toss them, where they are strikes, and if the spot is found the little big fellow is likely to knock them down the highway to Latin flats or thereabouts. Incidentally, Miller Harris looked very ill with the stick. He couldn't get more than a home run and a triple and a walk during the day. Such hitting ought to be banned.

Crouch started the second half off in a slump. As a usual thing the Frigidare exponent is anything but easy while on the hilltop. Despite the fact the mound never exactly fits his feet, the blond one, as a general rule, can be depended upon to hurl them in there if his support is up to par. His support Tuesday wasn't anywhere near par. Tabble Clark made a couple of errors, which is something seldom seen at Dusty D. And there were too many mental errors that went garbed in the hit raiment to account for.

We see by the Ranger Times that Bud Sweeney, the red faced Irish man that has gone around the Oilbelt for several years now in the garments of the referee, is anxious to get back to civilization. Sweeney umpires baseball on the Pacific Coast in the summer, referees football games in the Oilbelt in the fall, and basketball in university circles in the winter. Incidentally he is the best referee ever to set a foot in District Two. Last year in the Ranger-Mineral Wells fracas, which the Mountaineers lost by a one point margin, Sweeney refereed a good game under a blazing sun for what he thought was $55. He was mistaken. The Mineral Wells officials had said $25. Sweeney does not referee marble tournaments for $25. But he took it.

"Oh, well," he snorted, "look at the pretty flowers I got to smell of."

Mickey Pool, who is earning his salt with a shovel and a baseball glove, informed us yesterday he would be back in Abilene by September 1 calling them for McMurry. Pool, by the way, employed football tactics yesterday to knock one down as it soared the third base line.

The manner in which the Dusty D. rattlesnake met his fate remains as much of a mystery as ever. Bob Potter says it isn't true that the snake looked him square in the face and turned his bulk to the sun. He thinks maybe the rattler happened to get close to Burns and heard him telling the boys how good he was. Which does sound a bit more logical. Still others maintain it was Bill Hoehn's gift of gab that got the snake disgusted with this life, and he just turned around and bit himself to death.

EXPORTERS DEFEAT BUFFS

BY GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

It seems no time at all since the Waco Cubs were doing their best to dispose of Harold "Lefty" Stein. The southpaw had lost nine straight starts and had come to be considered as just so much excess baggage on the Cubs' pitching staff.

But that was before the Prattman discovered that they could hang electric lights around Katy Park and play before 4,000 customers, instead of the usual 400. The flicker game has been no greater boon to the Waco treasury than it has to "Lefty" Stein. Where the batters gave him a capital fit by day, they have found him a total mystery by night.

Last night it was the San Antonio Indians who came under the southpaw's nocturnal spell. Pitching his club's farewell home appearance for eleven days, Stein limited the Tribe Men to four hits and defeated them, 15 to 3. It was his fourth straight victory under the arc lights.

Where the Indians could do nothing with Ralph, the Cubs pounded three visiting slabsters merrily. Included among their 17 raps off Smith, Darrow and Hargrove were homers by Bischoff and Stuvenger and a brace of doubles by Piet.

The Wichita Falls Spudders went into first place by the simple expedient of remaining idle while the Beaumont Exporters knocked Houston off the second straight day, 16 to 4. Jimmy Walkup rang up his second straight triumph for the Shippers, holding the Bisons to nine well scattered knocks while his supporting cast romped on. Stout, Rose and Langrey for 19 at-felias, Oscar Eckhardt, the circuit's premier swat-smith, led the Beaumont attack with a homer and two triples, driving in five runs.

Eddie Brown's big bat propelled the Fort Worth Panthers to another of their inopportune string of victories over Dallas, 7 to 3. The Steer east-off banged a pair of doubles and two singles to drive in four runs against his former mates and scored one himself. Mack Egan, meanwhile, limited the Herd to four hits.

COSDEN OUSTS RICHARDSON NINE

SOUTHPAW POTTER HURLS

Red Caps Pound Out 9 To 1 Victory

Gripping Spike Henninger's Cosden Refinery aggregation, rehabilitated and reorganized, opened the second half of the City League race Tuesday afternoon with a 9 to 1 victory over Richardson Refinery, first half coppers.

Lefty Bob Potter, who when he is right is very, very, very, just that way in turning back a ragged Richardson nine. His chances to earn a shut out popped out in the seventh inning when Moore, hitting for McWhirter, singled, Stanton did the same, and Moore went across the plate as Clark was wafting away at first.

Potter was at his best in sending the Richardson aggregation back over their steps that lead to the

BARBERS-TIGERS

In the second game of the second half of the City League, the Mexican Tigers and the Barbers will clash this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the City Ball Park.

The Tigers have just been admitted to the league. The Barber aggregation is a combination of the Laundry, Texas and Pacific, and the Barbers, three teams which started in the first half.

In the first inning after Clark had doubled and Hoehn had walked, Connelly went out to West in right. Cook went away, Potter to Martin, and Burns, the battling blemish of Ackerly fame, whiffed away. That was the worst hole Potter was in during the entire game. He struck out seven of the Rico batsmen during the fray.

Crouch Hit

Crouch, on the other hand, was battered and received the worst support given a Rico hurler this year. The vulnerable spot in the Richardson lineup seemed to be second base. Twice men went to first when Winters failed to cover the initial sack as Hoehn was up endeavoring to grab off bunts.

Cosden put across six runs in the initial inning. O'Quinn, a new red cap, walked, Martin and Ayres were credited with singles, and Harris helped Crouch out of the hole of having three men on by clouting a home run to sweep the canvas. After Pool got on on Connelly's error in left, and went away Stanton to Clark and Sain had popped out to Clark, Morton singled, West went to first on Winters' error and Morton scored when Tab Clark let Potter's grounded go haywire. West tallied on O'Quinn's double.

Haley Hurls

Richardson looked better in the second, but in the third Crouch worked himself into another hole. He walked Sain and Morton singled. West forced Morton at second to get on, O'Quinn's double of the day tallied Sain and West, and the blond haired hurler went to the dugout with Haley on the mound for the rest of the afternoon.

Haley did well in the three and one-third frames he chunked the orbit. A triple by Harris and a single by Mickey Pool accounted for one run in the fourth. After that it was the blanket on hits and runs. Miller Harris tallied the final Cosden marker.

Cosden, with the addition of three new players, looked considerably better than the first half winners in Tuesday's fray. O'Quinn, outfielder, Ayres, infielder, and Sain, catcher, are the three new shining lights Spike Henninger and John Ede have used for bolstering purposes.

MARANVILLE HAS BEST SEASON

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

One reason why the Boston Braves are still in the thick of the National League battle is to be found in 150-odd pounds of unadorned shortstop bearing the imposing name of Walter James Vincent Maranville, otherwise known as "Fabbit." This little baseball ancient, who has spent 18 of his 37 summers plying major league ball, is having one of the best seasons of his long career.

When he was one of the main cogs of Boston's amazing team of 1914, his batting average was only .246 and his mark for his 18 major league years is 262, but this season he is hitting above the .300 mark and is fielding right along with the league's best. When the Brave stepped out yesterday to trounce the league leading Brooklyn Robins, 4 to 1, Maranville merely made two of Boston's nine hits, scored once, handled eight fielding chances without an assist and started three of Boston's four double plays.

The shortstop had some assistance in stopping the Robins and leaving them only a half game ahead of the idle Chicago Cubs. Completing the National League's day, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia made it a bad day for the first division. The Phillies, with Phil Collins on the mound, humbled the New York Giants, 8 to 1, pounding three pitchers for 14 hits while "Shufflin' Phil" held the Giants to ten thoroughly scattered blows. The Pirates kept the St. Louis Cardinals a game and one-half back of the third place Giants by slammng out a 10 to 5 victory.

Washington continued to lead the American League parade with its ninth straight victory. The Senators, already in first place by several percentage points, beat out the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 5, and finally gained a tie with the Athletics for the top where games are concerned. The world's champions lost a half game by dividing their double header with the New York Yankee.

Fred Marberry won his fifth game in Washington's streak of 17 victories in 18 games and made it 16 Senator pitchers to go the route in that time. Heinie Manush aided him with a homer that produced the deciding runs. George Walberg proved his sore arm something of a myth against the Yankees in the first game, holding them to three hits for a 4 to 0 triumph. Red Ruffing kept pace with him for the last 8 1/2 innings after the Athletics had driven Henry Johnson to cover. The second contest was something of a slugging match with George Pipgras outlasting four Athletic hurlers for a 9 to 4 victory.

Chicago's White Sox rose a notch in the American League standing, going from seventh place to sixth as Ted Lyons gave them a 3 to 2 victory over Detroit while the St. Louis Browns were taking a 12 to 6 beating at the hands of the Cleveland Indians.

Rivals Hold Hope Of Vanquishing Atlanta Lad

MINNEAPOLIS, July 9 (AP)—America's big parade of golfing greats went through their final rehearsals for the National Open championship at Old Interlachen today as the world of golfdom doubtedly wondered if it included a shotmaker capable of stopping the triumphant march of the one and only Bobby Jones.

Ever since Bobby first trooped out of Atlanta bent for conquest almost a decade ago, he has been a threat to win the most coveted of all American golf crowns. But this time fresh from his brilliant foreign victories, he stands out as the most prohibitive favorite ever to compete for any golfing diadem, however large or small.

It was Jones against the field as never before.

Hoppe springs eternal, however, and it was high in the hearts of many of Bobby's 146 rivals, who will fight against him in the 72 hole medal battle which opens tomorrow. Some believed the champion would crack under the physical and mental strain of the past month; others like Walter Hagen, Horton Smith, Johnny Farrell, George von Elm, Gene Sarazen, Tommy Armour, Jimmy Johnston, MacDonald Smith, Leo Diegel, Bill Melhorn and Cyril Tolley, Great Britain's sole representative, were ready to match his card. NEW RECORD

INDIANAPOLIS, July 9 (AP)—Ter-man Euebele, professional at the Pleasant Run golf club here, today claimed a new world's record for eighteen holes on the difficult Pleasant Run course, boasting a score of 60, and a record of one eagle, eleven birdies, and an even par on the other six holes.

Although a score of 55 was once made by George Duncan on a short Swiss course, Euebele's score, made late yesterday, was believed to be a world's record for a links spread out over 6,044 yards. The score was 13 under par. Euebele played in a foursome.

Euebele, shooting with machine like precision, took twenty-nine strokes on the outward nine and took two more on the incoming tri.

His card and par for the course:

Euebele	344	324	333—29

Memphis Chicks Rap New Orleans

ATLANTA, Ga., July 9 (AP)—The pace setters and runners up in the Southern Association had a desperate battle yesterday, the leading Memphis Chicks noosing out New Orleans in the ninth inning 7 to 6. The Chicks led until the eighth when the Pelicans made two runs to the Chicks one and tied the count.

A hard up-hill fight ended one short of tying the score, and the Birmingham Barons defeated Atlanta, 6 to 5. The Barons scored four runs in the second and third while the Crackers were held scoreless until the sixth when they brought three men across. It was the sixth straight Baron win. Applying, Atlanta shortstop, hit a home run.

The Little Rock Travelers went into a tie with Chattanooga for fourth place in the league by virtue of their win over the Mobile Bears, 6 to 1, while the Lookouts lost a double bill to Nashville, 8 to 1, and 5 to 4. Sanders, recently released by the Lookouts, won the second game for the Vols. McColl granted only five hits to the Lookouts in the first contest.

Dangerous Nan McGrew, Helen Kane, Now at Ritz

"Dangerous Nan McGrew" comes to the Ritz theatre today to show up the town with wild "hoop-boop-boops" and make coos and cuddles grow where only one coo and cuddle grew before.

You guessed it—Helen Kane's the title role player in this picture of wild and woolly Klondike clowning. It's the first picture in which the tiny-voiced queen of cuddlesome. It has ever been billed as the leading personality.

She attained the distinction through her good work in her three earlier Paramount comedies—"Noting But the Truth" with Richard Dix; "Pointed Heels" with William Powell, Fay Wray and Skeets G. Gallagher; and "Sweetie" with Nancy Carroll and Jack Oakie.

"Dangerous Nan McGrew" is an original story by Charles Beahan and Garrett Fort. It has a multitude of uproarious comedy situations and a nice balance of thrills and romance. Then there are the "awful" songs that Helen Kane sings along with her inimitable but foxy.

"Dangerous Nan McGrew" is the story of a singer in a traveling "medicine show" who doubles in Annie Oakley obligations on a repeating rifle. Marooned at the spotty hunting lodge of a wealthy family in the wilds of Canada's Royal Northwest, the "med" show personnel is pressed into the domestic circle as talent for a grand jubilee ball. It is at this brilliant juncture that Helen Kane captures an escaped criminal and wins—not only the reward of $10,000 but the heart of Stuart Erwin, the bashful beau as well.

Last Dollar of Per Capita State Aid Forthcoming

AUSTIN, Texas, July 9 (INS).—State Superintendent S. M. N. Marra has given notice of a payment of $1,000 of the state per capita apportionment to be made on July 10. This completes the full payment of $17.50 which was promised in August, 1929.

This year's apportionment is $1.96 more than that of last year; but the total amount is $17.50 as compared with $15.00 last year. The income to the state available school fund for July and August will constitute a balance to be carried over for the opening year. This balance will not be quite so large as it was last year.

It is probable that it will not justify a greater payment than $1.19 September. The State Board of Education will meet in August to make the apportionment, and it appears now that the estimate of the probable available funds for the ensuing year will not justify a per capita apportionment exceeding $17.00, and it may be reduced to $16.50.

This, of course, included the six children and with a per capita apportionment of $18.50 counties on account of the increase in the number of scholars. It will receive more state money than was apportioned during the year 1929-30.

TAXING OF UNIVERSITY LANDS WOULD BE ALLOWED UNDER PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO LAW

AUSTIN, July 9.—West Texas counties that now are penalized for contributing the huge oil royalties to the University of Texas by being denied any local tax revenues from the valuable oil lands, will have this situation remedied in November, if a constitutional amendment that is to be voted on is adopted.

This amendment, favored by university regents and officials, will permit the county having university lands within their borders, to tax this property for county purposes the same as if it belonged to private individuals.

It follows that in which counties already have been authorized to tax school lands owned by other counties. The amendment is one of four to be voted on at a separate election to be held along with, and on the same day as the general election in November.

Another will permit the university to issue bonds, by making these securities subject to investment of the university permanent fund.

A legislative reorganization and salary increase measure is among the list of amendments. It would double the length from 60 to 120 days of the regular legislative session, and double the pay of members during the period from $3 to $10 per day. It would set aside the first 30 days to introduction of bills, the second 30 to committee hearings and reports, and the final 60 to enactment of laws. Either house could set aside the order on a four-fifths vote and emergency matters could be taken up at any time.

The fourth amendment would be the court reform measure advocated by jurists and lawmakers, of abolishing the present nine-month term of state supreme court and making the term continuous the year around. At present, regardless of the congestion of business before it, the court is required to take a three months' statutory vacation each summer.

Kicks 'In Laws' Out; Man Fines Self Five Spot

DALLAS, July 9 (INS).—Charged with forcibly ejecting "in-laws" from his home, a man brought to trial in city court here recently, became his own judge and fined himself $5—but said it should have been $100.

The man was brought before Judge Muse on a charge of disturbing the peace.

"What have you done to disturb the peace," the court asked. "Well, Judge, it was like this. My wife's people have been visiting us for the past three weeks and I got tired of them and threw them out."

After several minutes required to restore order in the room, Judge Muse asked the man to assess his own fine, according to the satisfaction he derived from his act. The defendant hesitated a moment, and said:

"Well, if I could afford it I would fine myself $100, but I only have $5 so I guess that will have to do."
