Sanderson Football Team Here Tomorrow Night

BY PEYTON CAIN

Coach Earl Barnett, Eldorado Eagle mentor, said this week that the Eagles' contest with the Sanderson Eagles was definitely not a "breather." He continued that the game would make a bit of history since it would be the first football game ever played between the two sets of Eagles. First contest was a basketball game back in January 1947, when Sanderson entered an Eldorado tourney.

Coach Barnett continued that the Sanderson Eagles compared very favorably with the Rankin team, being fully as large and featuring a team of lads, many of whom are Latin-Americans, but of uniform size and ability. Big Lake was able to defeat them 38-8 and Rankin tabbed a 23-14 win over Sanderson; but otherwise Sanderson has experienced a very successful season.

The Sanderson offensive formation is similar to that employed by the Eldorado Eagles, consisting of the "Winged T" with their end split widely on occasion. They like to run to the outside which they do quite well. This will pose a severe test to Eldorado wingmen Larry Blair and Corky Hodges and to defensive corner men Ray Ballew and Captain Lynn Meador as well. This may not relieve Captain Dennis Jurecek and his "Stone wall" squad of their heavy responsibility on Sanderson drives down the middle because Sanderson Fullback 160-pound John Robbins is one of the outstanding Sanderson threats.

Coach Barnett concluded that the Sanderson lads featured a four-man front on defense with the secondary utilizing versions of the so called "umbrella" defensive tactics.

The Eagle starting lineup is on page 9 of this Success issue.

Starting lineup for Sanderson is as follows:

No.	Name	Pos.	Ht.
88	David Hartgrave	LE	165
74	John Wilcox	LT	170
66	Charles Fletcher	LG	150
55	Jack Bogusch	C	162
65	Rudy Arredondo	RG	135
75	Abelardo Casillas	RT	175
84	John Cates	RE	140
33	Billy Garza	LHB	160
20	Oscar Marquez	RHB	140
44	John Robbins	FB	160
11	Susano Munoz	QB	150

Two outstanding lads to watch on the Sanderson line-up are Right Tackle Abelardo Casillas and Fullback John Robbins, the Sanderson work horse.

Iraan Slaughtered 42 to 6

The Eagles emerged with a 42-6 victory in their contest in Iraan last Friday night. It was just as the story books tell about what happens to the Indians. They clobbered Iraan in a contest that was as bitterly contested as the Braves could muster strength to offer. They succeeded in stopping the Eagles several times and the referees made at least one determined stand that stopped the Eagles only temporarily. Unusual feature of the game is that Iraan actually earned more first downs than the Eagles did by an 11-10 ratio. But Eldorado's total yardage stood 353 to 240 for Iraan. Eldorado ground out 300 yards on the ground to Iraan's 150. Iraan did their additional 90 yards via the air to 58 for Eldorado. In fact, Iraan's only score came on two wobbly passes, one for some 50 yards total catch-run and another the scoring play of about 20 yards of catch-run.

The Eagles captured two of Iraan's passes while catching four of six Captain John McGregor hurled. Iraan completed five of 10 attempts and intercepted none. Eldorado fumbled twice and Iraan obligingly recovered each time but the Eagles did not succeed in recovering any Iraan bobbles.

Iraan's fine fullback Freddy Dry, Number 40, gave Captain Jurecek's front line boys along with Linebacker Captain John McGregor, Guard George Draper and Tackle Clyde Thackerson lots of exercise as these Eagles posted a total of 43 tackles for the night, McGregor with 14, Jurecek with 12, and Thackerson and Draper with 11 each.

Eldorado's scoring was dramatic. Iraan took the opening kickoff and drove to the Eagle one yard line where Captain Jurecek and Squad put an end to the threat. Then Jurecek and associates issued Captain Meador a travel visa off his own right tackle and Meador sped some 95 yards down his own sideline past despairing Braves for the touchdown. Captain McGregor then rammed over for the extra points.

That was the scoring for the first quarter.

In the second quarter, the two teams scrambled about for a bit and suddenly, Captain McGregor flipped a pass to Captain Meador and there was the Eagles' second touchdown. The place-kicking combination, Center Jackie Mackey, Tip Finley, and Captain McGregor passed the test with flying colors and the score edged up to 15-0 and that was the second quarter scoring.

In the third quarter, McGregor again tossed to Meador for 30 yards and a catch-run touchdown. McAngus drove over for the two points and the score rose to 23-0. Mack McAngus then got in the scoring picture ramming over from eight yards out. The place kicking team failed this one but the score stood at 29-0.

In the fourth quarter, Mack McAngus so thoroughly enjoyed his excursions into Brave pay dirt that he took a pass from Captain McGregor and combined it into a 32-yard catch-run performance for another touchdown. This time the kicking team passed its exam and the score rose to 37-0.

Then the Braves whetted up their tomahawks and Morgan pas-

Keeping Abreast

A reporter from a big city newspaper stopped to visit a friend who ran a little country weekly.

He asked his friend, "How can you keep up your circulation in a town where everyone already knows what everyone else is doing?"

The editor grinned: "They know what everyone's doing, all right, but they read the paper to see who's been caught at it."

Dr. E. L. Dyer, county health officer, reported this week that plans are continuing for county-wide administering of Type I oral polio vaccine, a week from Tuesday, on November 13th.

Game Warden Bill Works reported that as of noon yesterday, 1,284 doe hunting permits had been issued to county landowners for use by hunters.

Another old building on Eldorado's South Main street was being razed this week.

The Meador building north of the First National Bank has been torn down by Cecil Meador.

The frame and sheet-iron structure dated back to the town's early days. The Haynes Confectionary was housed in a smaller building on the site which burned. Another building was erected and it was here that Mrs. F. C. Haynes continued to sell ice cream, cold drinks, candy, and other confections, from about 1912 to 1924. Mrs. Haynes died in the late 1920's.

Subsequently the building housed E. H. Sweatt's saddle shop, a shoe shop, and most recently, Blake's Electric.

The building had been unoccupied for the past several years.

County Chairman Urges Good Voter Turnout

County Democratic Chairman Edwin Jackson today called on all Democrats to go to the polls on election day and help strengthen the County's position in Democratic Party affairs.

"A large turn-out at the polls will serve a dual purpose," said Mr. Jackson. "It will help insure an overwhelming victory for the Democratic candidates and at the same time build up our County's strength in the 1964 political conventions."

The chairman declared: "The voting strength of Schleicher county in the 1964 state Democratic Convention is at stake in this General Election. The kind of voice we have in determining the affairs of the Democratic Party of Texas depends on the number of votes cast for John Connally."

Mr. Jackson cited provisions of the Texas Election Code which provide that each county is entitled to one delegate in the State Democratic Convention for each 300 votes cast in the county for the party's gubernatorial candidate. Each precinct in 1964 will have one delegate to the county convention for every 25 votes cast in the precinct on November 6 for John Connally.

Phillip Walker of Sul Ross college visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Walker, during the week end.

All Set For The Election

With interest centered mainly in the state Governor's race, the General Election will be held Tuesday, November 6th. For the first time since the Reconstruction days of nearly a century ago, the Republicans are given a 50-50 chance of placing a man in the governor's chair of Texas.

John Connally is Democratic nominee for governor, and his opponent is Jack Cox, a former Democrat now turned Republican. Both candidates have been campaigning vigorously over the state in recent weeks and both have groups of backers active here on the county level.

Both Connally and Cox backers have ads in this issue of the Success and will be making further contacts with local voters before the election Tuesday.

Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde, former president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, was here Monday night to address a rally of Connally supporters.

The Governor's race has caused unprecedented interest over Texas for an "off-year" General Election. Voter turnout is expected to be unusually large, both on the county and state levels.

Bill Hayes is running as Republican against Democratic nominee Preston Smith for lieutenant governor, T. Everton Kennerly is running against Democrat Waggoner Carr for attorney general, and Des Barry is running against Joe Pool, Democrat, for Congressman-At-Large.

Farther down on the ballot, O. C. Fisher, veteran Democrat with 20 years in Congress, is opposed by the Republican nominee, E. S. Mayer, Jr., son of Edwin Mayer and grandson of the late Sol Mayer. For Member of the State Board of Education, 21st District, the Democratic nominee is Penrose B. Metcalfe and his Republican opponent is Joe Collyns.

The most localized race for Schleicher county voters is for State Representative, 66th Representative District, in which the incumbent Democrat Jim Nugent, is opposed by Republican Bill Stacy. Both candidates are from Kerrville. At the bottom of the ballot are the 14 proposed amendments to the State Constitution.

Polls will open Tuesday morning at 8:00 o'clock and close that evening at 7:00.

One More Day For Absentees
Friday, tomorrow, is the deadline for voting absentee in Tuesday's General Election. Voters who will be out of town Tuesday or who otherwise find it necessary to vote absentee will have until 5:00 p.m. tomorrow to do so.

As of Monday morning, the clerk's office had processed 24 absentee votes.

Yesterday afternoon at 3:00, the total had risen to 42.

Peyton Cain, J. H. Mace, and Granville Hext were named to a committee to urge business houses to decorate appropriately for the holiday season.

A. G. McCormack and L. L. Watson were voted in as new members.

Visitors at the meeting were Tom Davis of Sonora and W. L. Talley, Ben Hext, and Ronnie Mittel.

For the program, Game Warden Bill Works and Rod Marburger of Mason, game biologist, discussed the upcoming hunting season as it applied to antlerless permits, being given in this county for the first time.

Eaglets Close Season With 32-0 Win At Sonora

Coach Guy Whitaker's Eaglets had a rousing time in Sonora last Thursday night defeating the Sonora Juniors by a 32-0 score. A heavy rain which fell in Eldorado Thursday did not reach to Sonora.

There was never any question about the outcome as the Eldorado kids racked up a total of 334 yards to Sonora's 89 with first downs running 17 for Eldorado and four for Sonora. Eldorado tabbed 16 yards passing to 18 for Sonora, completing 8 of 12 attempts while Sonora's lads completed 2 of 7. But Eldorado lost one fumble while Sonora lost none.

Eldorado's Danny Halbert, Gary Halbert, Bert Loden, and Pat Childers all turned in outstanding defensive performances.

The game last Thursday night concluded the '62 season for Coach Whitaker's Eaglets.

Voters Here In Texas Do Not "Register"

Laudable efforts are being made to get a good voter turnout nation-wide in the General Election coming on Tuesday, November 6.

Once again we remind our readers that references being made on radio and T-V by announcers to be sure to "register" to vote, have no application here in Texas.

Texas is still a poll tax state and voters must have paid their poll taxes the past January in order to vote during remainder of the year.

Voters who were 61 or older at the time of the poll tax payments are exempt from the tax.

The poll tax system in Texas is equivalent to the voter registration of other states.

Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District News

Interest in Bermuda grass continues to increase in the Eldorado Divide S. C. D. Irrigation farmers throughout the District plan to plant Bermuda grass. The increased interest is a result of the success stories from other areas.

Farmers in the Cochran-Yoakum-Terry S.C.D. are among those who have experienced high yields in beef and hay production. This year's production from Bermuda grass on farms near Brownfield continues to be high where a good management program is followed.

Bermuda grass, that had been grazed up to the 15th of June this year, produced 76 bales of hay per acre from the second cutting. The bales weighed about 57 lbs. each. The protein content of the baled hay was 13% one week after baling. When used in hay only farmers expect to get about four cuttings per season.

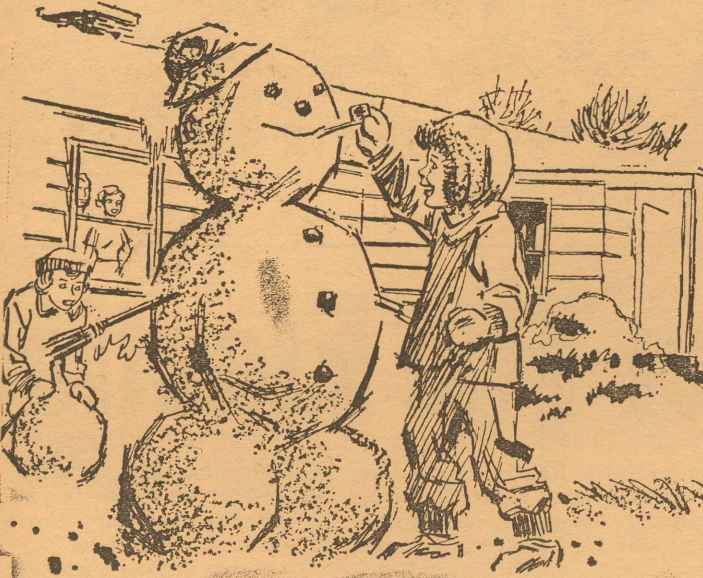

Vernon Farrar has received exceptionally good yield from his 16 acres of Midland Bermuda grass northwest of Brownfield. Last year the beef production was 2680 lbs. per acre. Expense to produce grass and manage livestock was $72.80 per acre. The total cost of supplemental feed on the entire 16 acres was only $600. Net profit was $600 per acre. Good management practices such as proper irrigation, fertilization and good livestock management are considered by Farrar to be essential in good production.

This year's income from Farrar's Bermuda grass has exceeded what is hoped for or expected from agricultural land. Sprigs from the bermuda have been harvested and sold for $1.00 per bushel. The yield from each acre was 1,000 bushels.

Those who have experienced success with Bermuda grass stress the importance of good management. These practices include the right amount of water when needed, fertilization to keep protein content of grass from 16 to 18% and proper rotational grazing to permit grass to make maximum yield.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column
By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

It's the day for the quick meal, for the ready prepared food, the short cut, the slick trick in the house keeping field today. Don't be embarrassed to use all the short cuts you can hear about or dream up yourself; the only time to be careful is when you might run the chance of not being fair to your family or yourself through negligence.

The meal in a skillet will answer the nutrition needs very well indeed, and besides that it tastes good. Be your own seasoner and add what your traffic will bear. Some like it hot, some like it cold, the old jingle goes and I find it goes quite the same today.

Meal In A Skillet

1 pound ground meat
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
dash pepper
1 cup whole kernel corn
1 cup sliced onion
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups canned tomatoes.
Make bread crumbs by cutting a slice of bread into cubes on the chopping board or tearing with fingers. Cook ground meat, crumbs, and one teaspoon salt and pepper in skillet until meat is brown. Stir often with a wooden spoon. Cover meat with corn and sliced onion. Sprinkle the ½ teaspoon salt over onion. Add tomatoes. Do not stir mixture, but leave vegetables in layers over meat. Cook and simmer for 20 to 25 minutes. Serves 4.

Serve with green salad, French bread, heated, and chilled purple plums topped with sour cream.

The sour cream development has been an interesting one. It was available 20 years ago in some parts of the country but our taste and acceptance of new foods is changed slowly, and just now sour cream has become commonplace on the dairy shelves.

If you haven't tried this wonderful dairy product in some way or other, do so soon. Don't miss a treat because of a preconceived notion that it is "not good."

And speaking of notions reminds me of something I've intended to tell you of our new bulletin on cooking and care of wild game and to remind you that some of the notions we have about not liking game may have come from the method of cooking; it may be the wrong way.

Some of the wild meat in your freezer comes pretty high, so call Mrs. Carlman at 24281 and ask for the bulletin. It's free even if the game meat isn't. Maybe you can get a little of your investment back.

Sample recipe is:

Venison Chili

½ gallon cooked kidney beans (may be left out)
2½ pounds ground venison
1 tablespoon chili powder
1½ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon salt
1½ pounds bacon
4 cups onions
2 quarts tomatoes (canned)
½ teaspoon comino seed.
Cut bacon into small pieces and brown to a crisp. Add venison and brown. Combine rest ingredients in large utensil. Add browned meat and enough water to cover. Simmer two hours. Serves 20.

Venison sausage, barbecued venison, roasted wild turkey, stuffed wild goose and braised doves are all included. Not only does this publication have recipes, it tells all about how to care for the game in the field, in the camp and at home. Really interesting reading.

Some more little things that make the work go slick—

Sewing machine needles won't rust if you keep them covered with vaseline, petroleum jelly. Run the needle through cloth several times before sewing with it.

Spear a garlic clove with a tooth pick before adding it to a pot of red beans or any other food being cooked with garlic. Makes the pod easy to find and remove.

To remove mildew: wipe article with a cloth moistened in a solution of one cup denatured alcohol and one cup water. Dry article in an airy place.

The man who once wisely said, "Be sure you're right, then go ahead," might well have added this, to wit: "when you know you are wrong be sure to quit."

Texans don't want a Puppet Governor!

Connally has always taken orders from Lyndon Johnson!

LOOK AT THE RECORD:

- ▶ In 1937, before Connally graduated from college he was working in Lyndon Johnson's first race for Congress. Following Johnson's election, Connally went to Washington as Congressman Johnson's assistant.
- ▶ In 1948 Connally managed Johnson's Senate campaign, (87 vote landslide) which involved the scandalous vote frauds of Duval County and Box 13 in Jim Wells County. Johnson took Connally back to Washington as administrative assistant (top man) in his Senate office.
- ▶ Late in 1949 Connally joined the law firm of Powell, Wirtz and Rauhaut in Austin. State Senator Wirtz was Under Secretary of the Interior when he resigned his Washington post to return to Texas to run Johnson's first Senatorial campaign in 1941.
- ▶ In 1952 John Connally went to work for Fort Worth oil man, Sid Richardson. Attorney General Will Wilson said, "Sid Richardson did not hire (Connally) for his training or knowledge. Sid Richardson hired him because he was LBJ's campaign manager." Lyndon Johnson had this comment on Mr. Richardson, "Nobody did more to send me to the Senate than the late Sid Richardson." Fort Worth Star Telegram, January 12, 1961.
- ▶ In 1956 Lyndon Johnson tapped Connally to place Johnson's name in nomination for President at the Democratic National Convention.
- ▶ In 1956, 1958, and 1960 Connally was picked to lead the Johnson forces in the county and state conventions.
- ▶ In 1960, Johnson called on Connally to lead the drive to obtain the Presidential nomination for him. Later, Connally was active in Johnson's Texas campaign.
- ▶ As a reward, Connally was tagged for the post of Secretary of the Navy shortly after President Kennedy visited Vice-President-elect Johnson's ranch. The New York Times termed Connally's appointment as "Mr. Johnson's biggest patronage plum." (June 4, 1962)
- ▶ In 1961 Connally, after less than a year on the job he pledged to fill for four years, resigned to run for Governor of Texas. Time magazine said Connally's announcement for Governor "certainly seemed to carry Lyndon Johnson's political fingerprints." (December 22, 1961) After Connally's victory over Yarborough, Time said "His mentor Lyndon Johnson thus tightened his grip on the Texas Democratic organization." (June 8, 1962)
- ▶ All over Texas long-time Lyndon Johnson backers are spearheading Connally's million dollar campaign. Why? Federal pay offs from the Kennedy-Johnson team.

With this background it's an insult to Texans' intelligence to pretend that John Connally is not the hand-picked candidate of Lyndon Johnson. Thinking Texans will reject this brazen attempt to merge State and Federal patronage into one gigantic political machine run out of Washington by L. B. J.

Jack Cox is independent! He has no obligation to any one but the people of Texas. He owes no favors to the special interests in Texas or to anyone else. He will not betray the future of the people of Texas to get big name endorsements and big money contributions.

Texans who want to keep Texas independent of Washington control will vote for...

THE CIVIL WAR CENTENNIAL

"It would be almost like San Antonio letting someone tear down the Alamo," Senator Ralph Yarborough told this writer recently. The Senator spoke by phone from Washington and had called in response to our plea in a recent column for someone to come to the rescue of old Wyalucing, the stately Civil War home of Lucy Holcomb Pickens in Marshall. The old home is about to be wrecked and it was our contention that it should be preserved as THE building in the state which is the epitome of Texas' Civil War heritage.

Senator Yarborough, whom we have proudly numbered among our most ardent readers for a long time, is a member of the National Civil War Centennial Commission and a descendant of Confederate partisans. He recalled for us that in the 1930's, Palestine let the home of John H. Reagan with all the old furniture, books, and manuscripts which belonged to this great Texas patriot be destroyed. He also remembered that one of the most historic buildings in San Antonio, the Veramendi Palace, was torn down, thus depriving the state of this important home.

He also pointed out that old Wyalucing could become one of the finest tourist attractions and museums of history in the entire state, but if allowed to be destroyed, the building would leave a void in our historic heritage which nothing could replace.

And now that we have the Senator on our side, we'll be encouraged to carry on the fight to save the old mansion. When this columnist wrote a previous article, the case looked almost hopeless. Now we're not so sure it is hopeless.

Between stars in the graduate school at the University of Texas the past summer, this columnist was employed for a short time as special consultant to the Texas Civil War Centennial Commission in Austin with the task of going from place to place planning, in cooperation with city officials and historical organizations, Centennial observances of events which took place in various localities.

We were quite pleased recently when we attended a special meeting of the Commission in San Antonio to note that most of the observances we had worked out were to become realities. The Texas Commission has no funds with which to plan and sponsor local observances and these must be carried out by local groups such as chambers of commerce, county historical survey committees, historical societies and other organizations interested in the historical heritage of their particular area.

Some of the places reporting to the Commission the completion of plans for a Civil War Centennial observance were Galveston, Jefferson, San Antonio, Laredo, Brownsville, Greenville, Marshall, and Beaumont. We spent some time in each of these places the past summer and helped lay the groundwork for the observances and special ceremonies.

The observance which will take place first is that at Jefferson where a Confederate Ball will be held on November 23 under the sponsorship of the Jesse Allen Wise Garden Club. This will be followed by a week-long program in Galveston from Dec. 31 through Jan 5 in commemoration of the recapture of that port city by the Confederates under Gen. John Bankhead Magruder on January 1, 1863.

In other localities, the Hunt County Historical Society will place a marker at the home of Gen. T. N. Waul in Greenville on May 19, 1963—the 100th anniversary of the sealing of the breach in the Confederate lines around Vicksburg by the men of General Waul's Texas Legion, the Battle of Sabine Pass will be commemorated in the Beaumont-Port Arthur area on September 8 with statewide emphasis, and the recapture of Brownsville from the Federals by the Cavalry of the West under Col. John S. (Rip) Ford, will be the occasion for a commemorative ceremony on July 30, 1964.

Colonel Ford's men left San Antonio, where they had been recruited, on March 18, 1864, and San Antonio is scheduled to mark the centenary of the departure with a special observance which will be the beginning of a series of observances all the way down the Rio Grande to Brownsville. The second of the series will be held in Laredo on March 19, the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Laredo, and the third will take place in Eagle Pass on June 19 in commemoration of the important skirmishing there on that date 100 years ago.

The series closes with the observance marking the recapture of Brownsville on July 30, 1964.

The last observance of the Centennial years will also be held at Brownsville on May 13, 1965 marking the anniversary of the Battle of Palmito Hill—the last Battle of the War.

Political Life In Washington Shown In 'Advise & Consent'

"Advise and Consent," the Pulitzer Prize winning novel by Allen Drury, comes to the Eagle Drive-In screen here Sunday and Monday nights—for the most part the handiwork of a controversial Hollywood veteran named Otto Preminger.

Few filmmakers relish the awesome responsibility which often involves thousands of people and millions of dollars. None relish it more than Preminger, who produced and directed the film for Columbia release.

Preminger has made himself a memorable movie which ranks with his "Exodus," which was shown at the Eagle Drive-In in September.

Those who read Allen Drury's novel might have guessed that the movie version would be one of the year's best efforts. Drury served as technical advisor. He was one of the Capitol's most respected correspondents in the years he covered the Washington beat for one of the nation's leading newspapers.

The political portrait—most of which was shot on location in Washington—unites such film giants as Charles Laughton, Walter Pidgeon, Gene Tierney, Henry Fonda, Burgess Meredith, Franchot Tone and Lew Ayres.

Symbolically, the picture's trademark is the top of the nation's capital being tipped off. Readers of the book know that it, indeed, does come unhinged, and the movie is no less brutal, no less gripping.

In the hands of a less-skilled director, the complex screenplay might have emerged wordy. Preminger's version emerges as a tribute to movie-making action through words.

Franchot Tone is the dying President, determined to shove his secretary of state nominee through Senate clearance even though his past be clouded with a Red tinge. Henry Fonda is Robert Leffingwell, the nominee, who destroys ex-fellow traveler Herbert Gelman when Gelman testifies against him. Burgess Meredith is powerful in his brief scene as the mentally disturbed Gelman.

Lew Ayres is back on the screen as the seemingly-weak, but suddenly-strong vice president who discovers he is but a heart beat away from 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue. George Grizzard is menacing as the cocky, McCarthy-like Senator Van Ackerman, out to destroy whoever is in his way.

The women in the film (Gene Tierney as the Washington hostess with the mostest, Betty White as a senator, Inga Swenson as Don Murray's wife) aren't given much of a chance in a screenplay that must necessarily be turned over to the men. But they do well in small parts.

As the bachelor Senator Lafe Smith, Peter Lawford also is relegated to the background even though he has a White House entree in real life.

It remains for three stars to carry the picture—Walter Pidgeon as Majority Leader Bob Munson, fighting to get Senate approval for Fonda; Charles Laughton, as the drawing Senator Seab Cooley, equally bent on destroying Fonda; and Don Murray, as the youthful Senator Brig Anderson, whose skeleton comes out in the Senate cloakroom when he is tabbed to chair the subcommittee hearing on Fonda.

"Advise and Consent" is an important motion picture. The Senate, once called "the most exclusive club in the nation," has now become an intimate as a picture window. Millions of movie-goers may not like the movie's picture of American politics in action, but they'll long applaud the moving picture fashioned by Preminger.

"Advise and Consent" is, of course, a phrase from the U. S. Constitution as it applies to senatorial ratification of certain presidential appointments.

Wanted: Screwworm Vigilantes

Generous reward promised. Applicants must be willing to inspect their livestock at regular intervals and treat wounds and cuts. When screwworms are found to exist, they must be arrested immediately by using recommended insecticides. Precautionary treatment of all wounds, whether from surgical or accidental causes, is deemed a necessity. For further protection, it is suggested that livestock be sprayed every 10 to 14 days with an approved insecticide. All applicants for the job will be accepted. Pay: $100 million per year divided by Southwestern livestock producers and sportsmen. Fringe benefits: healthier, faster-gaining livestock; more plentiful game; longer vacations because of not having to doctor screwworms.

It was never intended for fly release to accomplish complete eradication by itself. It must be accompanied by preventive spraying, wound detection and treatment and control of animal movements from screwworm-infested areas to screwworm-free areas.

To those livestock producers and sportsmen who have invested in the Southwest Screwworm Eradication program, they should insure their investment through some good management practices. Without good management it is like installing an electric fence, but failing to keep the gate closed, or buying medical insurance, but not taking any precautions with your health.

The release of sterile flies and detection and proper treatment of all screwworm cases and preventive measures, equals success.

Fill-A-Pew Program Concluded

The Intermediate M.Y.F. was awarded the Bible at the Sunday evening service, at the conclusion of the Fill-A-Pew program.

The Methodist congregation began an attendance program on Sept. 30th emphasizing Sunday night attendance. The total attendance on the first Sunday of the program was higher than any ordinary Sunday in the history of the church. Last Sunday night there were 147 present for the closing service, and this was achieved without outside help. During the past two years our morning worship attendance has increased by 30% and the Sunday night service has more than doubled.

We invite you to visit our service at 10:45 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. next Sunday. We call to your attention the change of time at the evening hour.

Vote Against Trial De Novo. Amendment No. 14

Gen. Information Regarding Am. 14, Trial De Novo

Vote against Trial De Novo, Amendment No. 14, City of Eldorado spokesmen said this week.

On the November 6 General Election ballot will be 14 proposed amendments to the State Constitution. Amendment No. 14 (last on the ballot) is the most important.

It would grant the Legislature unlimited and unprecedented control over administrative functions of cities, counties, school boards, water groups, hospital districts and state agencies by subjecting their actions and orders—even those of a minor nature—to litigation in courts for "trial de novo."

"De Novo" means "anew." Thus when any decision is taken to

SURPRISE CELEBRATION FOR ARNIE WESTBROOKS

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Westbrook were happily surprised recently when their children, Arnie Lee of Dallas and Mrs. Joe Luttrell (Myrtle) of Fort Stockton, led them to the dining room that was decorated for a party. There was a beautiful cake with a large golden 25 on it flanked by candles, on the beautifully set table, and gifts all over the room in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary which had passed quietly a few days before.

Only close friends and relatives attended the celebration.

The Westbrooks married October 16, 1937, in San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. David Lawrence and little daughter Brenda Kay of Odessa visited in the W. A. Van Dusen home last week end. Mr. Lawrence is Mrs. Van Dusen's son.

Week end visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Dudley were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Farr, Abilene.

court for "trial de novo," not only is the decision of the administrative body disregarded, but it cannot be mentioned that such a decision was reached or the facts cited that led to such decision.

This amendment should not pass because:

(1) It destroys one of the fundamental principles of American government—balance of power between the executive, legislative and judicial branches.

(2) It would make administrators of court judges—a task neither sought nor desired by members of the judiciary.

(3) It could clutter already crowded court dockets with minor administrative matters—decisions on which rightfully rest with administrators.

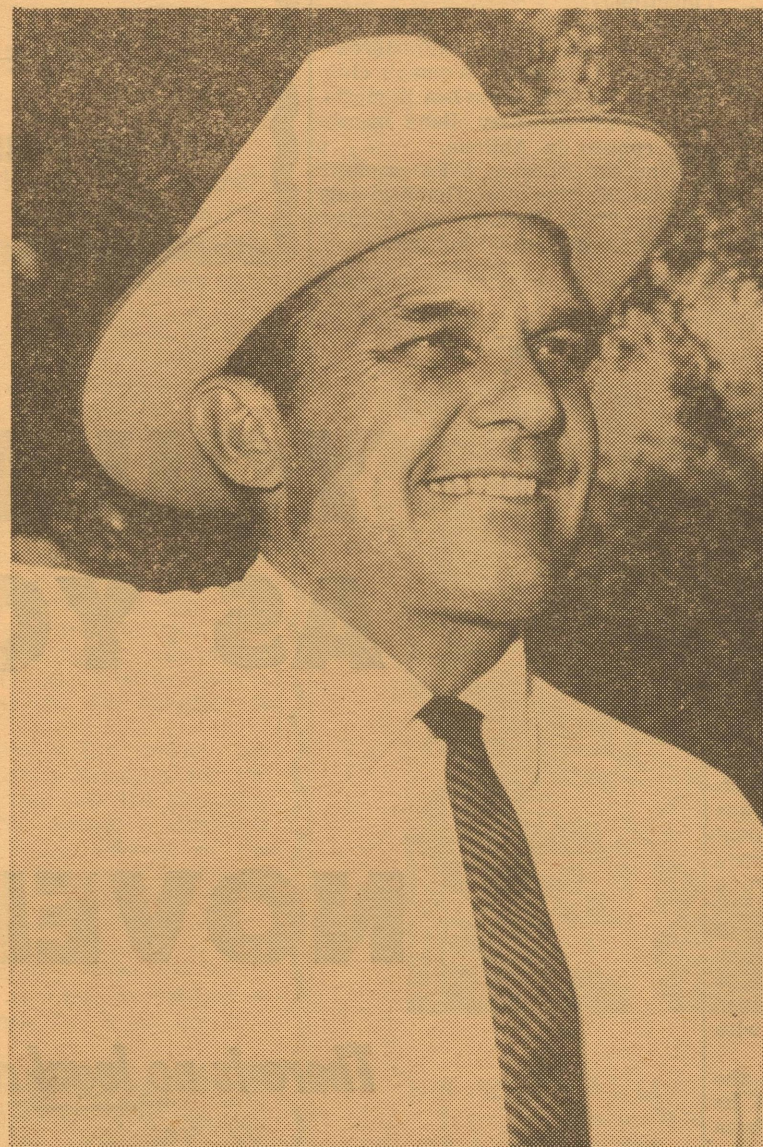

(4) It would make meaningless any decision reached by a city council, school board or any other administrative agency in the state. (The result would be the courts' determining issues that are now determined by local, elected officials.)

(5) It would burden judges and juries with fact-finding duties—purely an administrative function.

(6) It would hold up important projects while litigation is pending or on appeal. (This will greatly increase the cost of state and local government because many actions would be appealed for "trial de novo" for the sole purpose of harassment and delay.)

It is imperative that this amendment be defeated. This can be done if the general public is made aware of the wide and drastic effect "trial de novo" will have on established administrative procedures of government at the various levels.

Governor Price Daniel, while Attorney General, wrote an opinion on the question of party loyalty in which he said, "The courts of Texas have answered this question by holding that the pledge taken at the time of voting in the primary election DOES NOT create a legal obligation."

Recently Governor Daniel repeated that opinion by saying that the pledge on the primary ballot does not obligate anyone "legally or morally" to vote for the Democratic ticket in the general election.

Iraan Slaughtered

sed to Freddy Dry from his 30-yard line and Dry converted it to a sparkling 50-yard gain to be halted on the Eagles' 20-yard stripe. Then Morgan flipped another serial to Glenn Roberson for the remaining 20 yards of catch-run. But the Braves couldn't earn the try for extra point thanks to Captain Jurecek and associates.

Final scoring featured a robbery right out in front of everybody. Ray Ballew, surprising Eagle end and corner defensive man, robbed a would-be Brave receiver and picked up some help and converted the whole affair into a touchdown traveling some 30 yards to score. McGregor ran the points over and the score rose to its final 42-6.

There were some thrilling runs in the game such as Ballew's light-fingered pilferage in the fourth quarter and McGregor's sparkling runbacks of two kickoffs for 36 and 55 yards each.

Only off-key events were when fine Eagle Halfback Gary Whitten suffered re-injury of strained muscles in his side and had to leave the game with the painful injury and when Outstanding Defensive Tackle Ellis Loden was ejected from the game after being slugged by an Iraan player.

A word of explanation in defense of Loden is presented. This is the second time this has happened to him and in both instances he demonstrated fine self control and did not return the personal foul; but in each case a game official waved him out of the game. Friday night's official lamely offered the excuse that Loden was not at fault but the referee did not want him involved in a fight. Loden's work at tackle certainly reserves a commendation. Notification of this sort of injustice to a fine player has been made to the Officials Organization.

With three games to go, the win over Iraan gives the Eagles a tie with Big Lake for the Conference 8A lead. Tomorrow night's Sanderson game in Eldorado begins to narrow the 8A race into somewhat harsh clarity: an Eldorado loss would give Big Lake undisputed claim to the lead. An Eldorado win with another Big Lake victory will leave the two teams still tied.

Briscoe was introduced by George Stanley Finley of San Angelo. Finley's father, the late H. T. (Dogie) Finley, was long-time county and district clerk here in Eldorado, and George Stanley graduated from E.H.S., and later from law school.

Finley is Connally's campaign chairman in Tom Green county.

Briscoe stated that there is "no comparison" between Connally and Cox as to their abilities as prospective governor. As a former member of the Legislature, Briscoe knows them both.

He pointed out the fact that the platform adopted by Democrats at their state convention in El Paso recognizes the importance of agriculture, while the Republicans ignore agriculture in their platform.

Continued improvements in Texas in the fields of education and attracting tourists were also cited by Briscoe as important to the state's future, and Connally can do the job with a Democratic Legislature behind him.

Out of town guests at the rally, which about 85 attended, included: Mr. and Mrs. D. W. (Speedy) Hicks of Bandera, sister and brother-in-law of Connally; State Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo; Mrs. Scott Massarano of San Angelo, state Democratic committeewoman; also Claude Brown of McComa and Buzzie Stokes of Sonora.

Also on hand was Bill Stroman of San Angelo.

Briscoe spoke at a similar rally in Sonora earlier Monday night before coming here.

Barbara Fry Attending Hardin-Baylor At Belton

Belton.—Miss Barbara Ann Fry, freshman from Eldorado, has recently enrolled in Mary Hardin-Baylor College for the 1962 fall semester.

Miss Fry is a graduate of Schleicher County High School and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Fry of Route 1, Eldorado.

For the first time in almost 15 years, the campus enrollment at Mary Hardin-Baylor has exceeded the 500 mark. More than 300 dormitory students have crowded the campus housing to its capacity and Dr. Arthur K. Tyson, president, announced earlier this week the beginning of a drive to raise funds to provide adequate dormitory space for the expected increase in students by the fall semester of 1964.

Enrollment at the school has increased every semester for the past few years over the preceding semester. The growth is attributed to an increased offering of the curriculum, to a strengthening of the faculty and to vigorous recruiting by full-time field representatives. With the erection of adequate dormitory space, the enrollment will continue to increase at a rapid pace, Dr. Tyson has said.

Austin.—Pledge "Not Binding." A party primary pledge is not binding on a voter at the general election.

That is an opinion handed down by Gov. Price Daniel when he was attorney general of Texas.

State Republican chairman Tad Smith of El Paso, and other Republican leaders, are using the "Democratic" decision as grounds to urge voters to vote however they please on November 6, regardless of party primary pledges.

Daniel's opinion noted that the courts of Texas have answered this question by holding "that the pledge . . . does not create a legal obligation."

Long Ballot Texas' general election this year will be about as long as a newspaper.

November 6 ballot will contain not only the lists of party nominees for congressional, state, legislative, district, county and precinct offices, but also "for" and "against" questions about 14 proposed constitutional amendments.

Mittels To Move Here In Mid-November

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Mittel will move to Eldorado from San Angelo around the middle of November and he will assume the management of the local ASC office. Ronnie was with Merck & Co. until recently.

Ronnie is a graduate of Eldorado High School where he was chosen "Most Popular Boy." He was president of the National Honor Society and president of the Senior class.

He was an outstanding 4-H club and FFA member, winning many honors with livestock, and for participation in judging teams. He was chosen Gold Star 4-H'er when he was 15.

He is a 1960 graduate of Texas Tech with an animal husbandry degree. In college he belonged to the Black and Bridle club and Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Mrs. Mittel is the former Sharon Vick of Irving and is a student at San Angelo college.

The Mittels will occupy the Claude Meador house.

ALEXANDER HONORED

W. O. Alexander, Jr., who is a Mathematical Scholar at the University of California at Los Angeles, has recently been elected to membership in Pi Mu Epsilon, which is a National Honor Society for Mathematicians. At the end of this present school year he will have written his dissertation and be eligible to receive his Ph. D. degree.

Mr. Alexander received his Bachelor of Science and Master of Science Degrees at the University of Houston, Texas. He also received a Master's Degree in Mathematics from Stanford University at Palo Alto, California. Before going to California he was a teacher of Mathematics in the University of Corpus Christi for three years.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Alexander of Eldorado and graduated from the Eldorado High school in 1944.

Excerpts, Showing Comparison of Two Platforms AGRICULTURE

Democratic Platform—1962

Strive to assure a rising level of productivity and prosperity for Texas agriculture to protect farmers and ranchers from the ravages of flood and drought.

Support vigorously our farmers in their efforts to expand their share of the national and world markets and supporting the growth of industries in Texas using and processing the products of our Texas soil.

Support program for the eradication of the screw worm. This parasite costs our farmers and ranchers millions of dollars in losses each year. It must be eradicated if we are to have a sound livestock industry.

Safeguard the interests of Texas farmers and ranchers by urging a reciprocity of action against all countries who restrict the import of Texas farm products and Texas wool and beef.
