Tyler Company Takes Hunting Lease On Henderson Ranch

Perhaps one of the largest and most elaborate hunting projects in Schleicher county has been set up on the Sam Henderson ranch in the east part of the county, with the leasing of ten sections to the Howe Baker Engineers of Tyler, Texas.

The Tyler company has leased the ranch for the deer hunting season and apparently are using it as a public relations project—inviting some of their major customers and suppliers out for a hunt.

For the opening of the season last Friday an airplane arrived at the Eldorado airport bringing in a party of six. They were housed at the big house on headquarters ranch and have secured services of Pop and Flora Riley for cooks and housekeeping.

The initial group which hunted over the week end was composed of R. A. Winslow, O. R. Menton, J. W. Affalter, H. Y. Bennett, R. B. Tucker, and Ralph Whitten, the pilot. The men took a total of 10 deer and three gobblers. R. J. Phillips, president of Howe-Baker Engineers, accompanied by Harris Napier, also came down and joined the party and were also successful in getting a deer.

Sam Henderson and Jim McCord have been acting as guides.

After hunting over the week end the above group returned by plane to Tyler on Sunday. Each week a new group will be brought in. They were brought in on a 7-passenger Beechcraft airplane which remained parked at the local airport until their departure.

The deer population is reported to be good on the Henderson ranch, but no doe permits have been issued there. Some local hunters are also hunting on the ranch.

This is probably the first time a sportsman hunting project of such proportions has been set up in Schleicher county and it points up the potential profit possibilities for many other ranchers.

Rain This Week Delays Ginning

A slow drizzling rain which started falling late Monday night continued up into Tuesday morning and put a stop to cotton ginning.

It appeared that the rain, while not heavy, was general over the county. Most of the people exchanging information the coffee counters Tuesday morning reported figures of less than an inch. Six- and eight-tenths were frequently heard.

At the Mikeska gin the trailers had all been ginned out the day before and there was no prospect of any more coming in until the county dried up again. The season's gin total at that time stood at 1777 bales.

Guests in Mrs. J. B. Montgomery's home for Thanksgiving and to hunt are Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Montgomery and daughter from Boerne. J. D. Plummer of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Edmiston and boys of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hedlund and daughter, Lenore, of San Angelo, and the Jack Montgomery family of Eldorado.

Most Of Town Is Closed Today For Thanksgiving

Today, Thursday, finds most business houses closed for Thanksgiving Day, and planning to re-open tomorrow.

School was dismissed yesterday afternoon for the holidays, and students will not return to classes until Monday morning.

Among the few firms open today are a few service stations, and Mrs. Lester Henderson's West Texas Cafe and Neff's Cafe are both serving traditional Thanksgiving fare at noon. Johnny and Hazel Tigrett have their Java Junction cafe closed for some interior repainting.

There will be the usual round of family gatherings going on today, with some people taking trips and going deer hunting.

A good crowd turned out Sunday night for the Union Thanksgiving service which was held in the Methodist church and which was sponsored and conducted by the Eldorado Ministerial Association.

Students Wanted For Vocational Nursing At Sonora Hospital

Al Everett, administrator, announces that a training program for vocational nursing will be set up at the Sonora hospital in January, and issues an invitation to Eldorado candidates to take part in the program.

The only requirement is that the student shall be a high school graduate between the ages of 18-35. The classes will be conducted on stated days and there will be no tuition charge; in fact, the student will be paid a modest sum for expenses for such items as gasoline.

Those who may be interested in entering this type of work may get more detailed information by first calling Mrs. Eldon Calk in Eldorado.

The administrator hopes that he may get at least two, and as many as six candidates from Eldorado.

Interim Pastor Serving The First Baptist Church

Dr. Roy R. McCulloch, now in semi-retirement in Brownwood, has been named interim pastor of the First Baptist Church of Eldorado. He began his duties here November 11 and will serve for about three months.

Dr. and Mrs. McCulloch moved to Eldorado last Friday. They will return to Brownwood for short visits during the interim pastorate and will move back to their home in Brownwood when a pastor is called for the Eldorado church.

Former pastor of churches in Virginia, Tennessee and North Carolina, McCulloch was born in Erath county and reared in Coleman county. During his semi-retirement he has been supply pastor and Bible teacher at churches in Brownwood, San Saba, Mullin and other Central Texas points.

McCulloch is a 1919 honor graduate of Simmons College, now Hardin-Simmons University. He earned his master of theology and doctor of theology degrees from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cannon of Fort Worth visited Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ratliff from Thursday until Sunday of last week. Mrs. Cannon is Mrs. Ratliff's daughter.

News Of The Sick

Larry Rittenhouse was taken to the Sonora hospital yesterday for examination and treatment.

Mrs. Frank Kemble underwent surgery in the Clinic-Hospital in San Angelo Monday. She is expected home in a few days.

Mrs. V. G. Tisdale has been ill at her home for several days.

Mrs. J. C. Wells underwent surgery in the Clinic-Hospital on Wednesday, Nov. 14. She is recovering nicely and may come home in a few days.

Post Script

Thanksgiving Day means that Christmas shopping is now going into high gear.

Local stores already have Christmas merchandise on hand and decorations are going up. As always, Schleicher county people are invited to try local stores first in connection with buying for the upcoming Holiday Season.

The Success crew are already at work on the annual Christmas greeting edition, which will be published this year on Thursday, December 20, and which will be the largest paper of the year.

Local merchants will be contacted for their Christmas greeting messages for their customers and friends. Some individuals are also expected to place small ads to greet local friends instead of the more costly way of sending out Christmas cards. Then too, many local people receive your Christmas message you would not send cards to. We have a number of ad layouts from which to choose for the December 20 greeting edition.

Rainy weather observations:

Tuesday morning saw the Main Street crowded with cars. You cannot work out doors when it's raining so you come to town... consume a lot of coffee at the various coffee counters... exchange information with your neighbors on the amount of rain you get... and did you get your deer yet?

It's kind of pleasant to have a day off and engage in a bull session indoors around the store.

During the morning I went down to the gin. Everything was at a standstill and nobody around but Mr. Mikeska, the owner. While there one of his colored hands came in with a characteristic request—could he get an advance on his future salary?

A rainy day; can't work, and no spending money in your pocket! That's tough.

I don't know if he succeeded in getting what he wanted, but my guess is that he stayed until he did.

James Williams owes me some venison sausage!

Sunday when he was out deer hunting a Mexican stopped by his place and then came over to the print shop. He couldn't talk English and I couldn't talk Spanish. All I could make out was "twenty-five dollar" and I knew he wanted to make a car payment.

Pete Parker was doing book work in his office so I called him in as interpreter and together we worked it out, took the man's money and fixed up a receipt in duplicate and sent him on his way. It seems he had a ranch job and could only get away on Sunday.

James got his money Monday morning.

Guess I'll have to wait awhile on the sausage. James failed to get a deer.

Frank O'Banion, choir director of the First Baptist church, reports that the choir is at work on a Christmas cantata, "Hark The Herald Angels."

Tentative plans call for it to be presented the night of Sunday, December 16.

Sam A. Whitten announces this week that he has taken over operation of the Gulf station from Jack Hext. Sam is a lifelong resident of the county and should do well in his business venture. He is the son of Lewis and Fenna Whitten.

Those who buy this paper each week at the Success office should not take it for granted that the office is closed. At least one part of the crew will be "hanging around" most of the day.

Some time back the court house crew was having a bull session and the subject was the cord and button on Stetson hats. To settle an argument, A. G. McCormack wrote in to the company at Philadelphia, and last week he received the following reply:

"Dear Mr. McCormack: I am pleased to have the opportunity to answer the question raised in your letter of October 31. As you are aware, our Founder, Mr. John B. Stetson, made the original Western style hat. During his stay in the Western part of the country he found that on many

Eagles Go Down In Defeat 36-20 Before Powerful Big Lake Owls

By PEYTON CAIN

"To every man death cometh whether soon or late" might be paraphrased "To every team defeat cometh whether soon or late" for the Eldorado Eagles who lost their first football game of the 1962 season Friday night, Nov. 16, by a margin of 36-20, not so much to a team but rather to a single and most unusually gifted 235-pound lad, the likes of whom have not been seen around here in two decades, if ever. Football player in question is Reagan County's Tommy Franklin whose physical makeup really gives him the gift of being two men in a single body. The combination is beautifully proportioned.

Only Franklin was able to score for Big Lake. He made quarterbacking chores for Big Lake child's play since he could gain enough for a first down at will. He ran with the ball three out of four times all night long. His first score came just at the end of the first quarter after it had taken him six consecutive first downs and eleven minutes to grind it out after Big Lake won the toss and elected to receive.

Franklin's final score transpired seconds before the game ended. Otherwise, Big Lake couldn't have been out in front of Eldorado by the necessary 14 points.

The Eldorado Eagles pounded themselves and Franklin all night long unmercifully, one Eagle, Corky Hodges, breaking his collarbone while stopping Franklin near the end of the game. Big Lake's signal caller Holmes was not able to score as he usually does due to Eldorado's furious defense. In other games over the year, opposition teams have been so mesmerized by Franklin that Holmes, by no means an incompetent back and a state champion sprinter as well, has been able to score repeatedly. The same is true of Big Lake's diminutive halfback, Millwee, Number 30.

But Captain Dennis Jurecek and his "Stonewall Squad" would have none of this. In fact they drove Holmes behind his own goal line to post an Eldorado two-point score on Holmes's safety. Jurecek and associates repeatedly stopped Franklin for no gain or very short gains but the Big Owl remorselessly drove against the Eagle defensive positions for from three to eight yards. He was never able to break loose for long gains and scores, his longest run of the night being a 20-yard sortie before Ray L. Ballew's furious effort drove him out of bounds.

The fact that Franklin could gain and hold the ball so long robbed the Eagles of time to score as they were capable of; but even so, Captain John McGregor ramrodded the Eagles to scoring territory and dispatched "Mauling" Mack McAngus over Big Lake territory partially defended by Franklin, playing defensive right tackle. McAngus drove over for two touchdowns. Third Eagle score saw Ray L. Ballew catch-run a Captain John McGregor long-range missile and go on over for the touchdown.

The game did not excite spectators to admiration of the Owl team's skill and football finesse. Franklin's ball carrying rather resembled clubbing animals in a trap. But the Owls did manage one thing; they set up a defense that curbed Captain Lynn Meador's long and medium range scoring raids. They could not stop "Mauling" Mack McAngus nor Captain McGregor's guided missiles.

The Owls' apparent callous use of rules infractions to stop possible scoring plays shocked some spectators accustomed perhaps to antique concepts of sportsmanship. For example, Gary Whitten broke loose to his own left some 40 yards out. Whitten has proved last as well as this year that he is a potential scorer from anywhere. Several futile tackles failed to stop Whitten and then an Owl calmly caught his face guard and with its leverage stopped him cold. Fifteen yards were assessed but Whitten might have scored otherwise. Again, Captain McGregor arched a forward pass to Captain Lynn Meador on the Big Lake seven yard line. Meador was behind the defensive man who at this point, shoved Meador for a rules infraction called "pass interference." The Eagles got the ball seven yards out instead of the touchdown and "Mauling" Mack McAngus drove over on the second or third attempt; but something might have foiled the Eagle score.

As usual Eldorado fans were sensitive to official errors. For example, Owl Charles Millwee, Number 30, was employed as a man in motion a number of times. Almost invariably he turned toward Eldorado territory to block before the ball was snapped back to Holmes. This is an offside but it was called only once and that within two minutes of the game ending. It severely restricted Millwee's activities afterward. Again an Owl lineman drew an Eagle offside by charging and recovering but the Eagle blew the penalty because he retaliated. It was a costly penalty as at the time, the Owls were 10 yards out and the penalty reduced the distance so that Franklin scored in one play. Eagle fans thought also that an Owl pass was completed out of bounds. Apparently, one official thought so also.

Statistics show that Big Lake piled up 21 first downs to Eldorado's nine. Franklin rushed 185 yards and other Owl backs ran 50 to total 235 yards. Eagles rushed 13 yards but completed 10 of 14 passes to total 232 yards. The Owls completed two of three for 13 yards and total yardage of 248.

Franklin carried 40 times for 4.6 yards a carry.

Big Lake Meeting Fabens
Big Lake meets Fabens in Fabens tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, mountain standard time. If Franklin goes, so go the Owls. If anything happens to Franklin, the Owls' dreams of conquest and glory will collapse into ashes and rubble.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Clark and Mr. Clark's mother, Mrs. J. N. Clark of Rotan, are spending Thanksgiving in Midland with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haines, and their families.

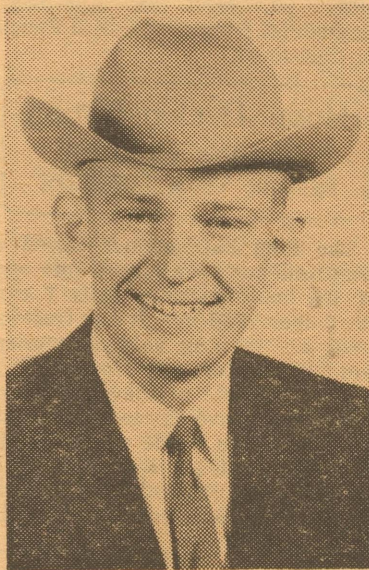

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Alexander have a new great-grandson, the grandson of Forrest Alexander of Amarillo and son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kenneth Alexander of Amarillo. The couple have two other children, a boy and a girl.

On The Job At A.S.C.

RONNIE MITTEL

Now on the job as supervisor of the Eldorado A.S.C. office is Ronnie Mittel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Mittel. He and his wife have moved from San Angelo to the Claude Meador house in Glendale.

windy days his hat would be blown from his head and become soiled and required cleaning during which time he would be without the use of his fine quality hat. Therefore, he decided to place a cord and button around his hat and on windy days this cord and button was unravelled and the button placed in the lapel of his suit coat so that in case a gust of wind would blow his hat off his head it would not fall on the ground and become soiled.

"The cord and button is still a trade mark with John B. Stetson Company and is placed on many of our Western style hats. It is a decoration that is optional with the dealer, inasmuch as the younger generation has gotten away from the use of this cord and button.

"I am pleased to give you this information. Sincerely yours, William R. Morris, sales department, John B. Stetson Company."

The Eagles open their season against Sonora. Sonora will not be in District 8A this year, as they are now in a AA district. There will be two games; starting time is 6:30 for the "B" game and the "A" game follows at 8:00.

Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation District News

Soil, water and plant conservation must begin with the soils. The soils determine to a large extent, the productivity of all land. The application and maintenance of all the soil, water and plant conservation practices needed on the land help keep it in its highest productive condition.

Crop residue use is one of the essential conservation practices on all cropland in the Eldorado-Divide S.C.D. Crop residue use is utilizing plant residues left in cultivated fields by incorporating them into the soil or having them on the surface during the critical erosion period.

The use of crop residue by leaving most of it on top of the soil helps conserve moisture, out of the main elements needed for crop production. The crop residue helps hold the water on the land where it falls and permits the water to go into the soil. The infiltration rate of the soil is increased and more of the water from rain of high intensity is stored in the soil. The loss of soil reduced by good crop residue. The tilth of the soil is also improved when crop residue is used as needed in a conservation cropping system.

Should crop residue be completely turned under or should most of it be left on top of the soil? By leaving the crop residue on top of the soil it helps hold the water when it falls and prevents moisture loss by evaporation. Soil erosion is reduced since the soil is protected from the direct force of the raindrops and the direct force of high winds. Generally, crop residues decompose faster when left on the surface of the soil; this being due to the fact that any moisture received reaches the residue and helps decompose it. Crop residues completely turned under do not protect the soil from wind and water erosion to the extent that residues left on top of the soil do.

Though the advantages of crop residue use are many, there are only a few disadvantages. Heavy crop residue hinders farming operations. By shredding the crop residue and by use of certain farming implements that will work satisfactorily in the residue, this problem can be practically eliminated.

By practicing good crop residue use, applying and maintaining all the needed soil, water and plant conservation practices, the highest production of the soil can be attained.

Loans Being Provided for Senior Citizen Housing

L. J. Cappleman, state director, Farmers Home Administration, advised the local county supervisor, Patrick F. Sullivan, that recent legislation amends Title V of the Housing Act of 1949 by adding new provisions which authorize loans and grants for moderate cost housing and related facilities for elderly persons and families in rural areas. It liberalizes some regulations on rural housing loans now being made by Farmers Home Administration and sets up new direct and insured loan programs.

This new legislation will be administered in Schleicher county by USDA's Farmers Home Administration. For detailed information concerning rural housing loans for the senior citizen, Patrick F. Sullivan, local County Supervisor, Farmers Home Administration, may be contacted any Wednesday morning at the Schleicher County court house or at his headquarters office in the Cactus Hotel Building in San Angelo.

Twin Mountain Banquet For Scouters Set 29th

Men who work with Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers, have been notified that the Twin Mountain District annual banquet will be held Thursday, November 29, at 7:00 p.m. in the ballroom of the Cactus Hotel in San Angelo.

The Twin Mountain District of the Concho Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, includes Eldorado, and the Lions club sponsors the Boy Scout programs, as well as Girl Scouting, on the local level.

In urging as many adults from Eldorado as possible, who work with the Boy Scout movement, to attend the banquet next Thursday, Keene Williams, chairman of the district, stated in a letter to Scouters over the district:

"As you know, this is the one time each year that we recognize the Cubmasters, Den Mothers, the Scoutmasters and Explorer Advisors for their time and efforts in carrying on the Scouting program. We hope that you will plan to attend the District Banquet because certificates of appreciation will be presented to every unit leader, including our Den Mothers, and we hope that each one will be personally received.

"Our program this year will be under the direction of John Pearson, District Executive in the Rio Grande District, who will have with him several of the Senior Scouts who made the Canadian Canoe Expedition this summer. They will show slides of the trip and share with us many of their experiences during eight days of camping in the north woods of Canada.

"This should be a most interesting program and we are looking forward to a very enjoyable evening. Won't you please circle Nov. 29th on your calendar and help us make this banquet an outstanding event for Scouting in the Twin Mountain District.

"Please contact your Unit Chairman or Institutional Representative for your tickets. He has a good supply. The tickets are $1.50 per person." —Keene Williams.

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

The long hot summer lasted a long time and then turned into one of the most glorious falls I can remember. And now it has frosted, trees are turning golden, a crisp wind is blowing and Thanksgiving is just a couple of thoughts away.

We don't have the most glorious weather in the whole world, but it is so good to live where the weather does change. I don't think anything without some variety is much fun. How else would we think of a bowl of hot chili or steaming soup if the weather didn't tell us to?

On the heels of the frosty gray days, come the days of holiday planning. Planning and doing, in fact. And please, let me entreat you to do your work just a little early this year. Don't let jobs nag and nag when they should be fun. You know right now that you are going to send Christmas cards. Address them tonight, anyway tomorrow night. You don't have to mail them yet, but one little job done ahead of time casts such a glow on the whole procedure that every job gets a little easier because of it. Use your head instead of your feet in an old slogan about management; try it this Christmas season.

Candy making is a traditional part of Christmas but's let face it—candy making and its clean up afterwards can be real work. This quick and easy recipe makes a good tasting batch of candy. Sometime when both the energy and the time is short, try these

Chocolate Quickies

1 6-oz. package chocolate bits; 2 tablespoons white corn syrup; 1 tablespoon water.

Mix these three ingredients and melt chocolate over a warm heat. Blend well when melted and remove from heat.

Add: one cup miniature marshmallows, 1/2 cup nuts and 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Spoon out bite sized pieces on waxed paper or buttered pan. The different part about this candy is that the water and syrup make the chocolate easy to handle yet not sticky.

Another recipe I promised someone the other day is this good gelatin salad. It was originally called apple sauce salad but just for fun I'm going to call it

The Red Hot Salad

1/3 cup red hots; 1 cup hot water; 1 pkg. lemon jello; 1 cup apple sauce; 1 cup undrained crushed pineapple; 2 T. lemon juice, if wanted.

Dissolve one pkg. lemon gelatin and 1/3 cup red hots in 1 cup hot water. Cool mixture. Add one cup apple sauce and 1 cup crushed pineapple—undrained. Two tablespoons lemon juice is optional.

Pour mixture into oiled mold. Let stand until firm. It's pink and pretty.

And of course I must not forget the new $25,000 Pillsbury's prize winner:

Candy Bar Cookies

Bake at 325 for 12 to 16 minutes. Makes 3 to 4 dozen.

Cream: 3/4 cup butter. Gradually add 3/4 cup sifted powdered sugar, creaming well. Add 2 tablespoons evaporated milk 1 teaspoon vanilla and 1/4 teaspoon salt; mix well.

Blend in: 2 cups sifted all purpose flour; mix thoroughly. If necessary, chill for easier handling.

Roll out dough, half at a time, on floured surface to a 12 x 8 inch rectangle; trim sides. Cut into 3 x 1/2 inch rectangles or 2 inch squares; place on ungreased cookie sheets. Bake at 325 for 12 to 16 minutes until lightly browned. Cool.

Spread one teaspoonful filling on each. Top with 1/2 teaspoon icing. Decorate with pecan half, if desired.

Caramel Filling: Combine in top of double boiler 1/2 pound (one well packed cup) light colored candy caramels and 1/4 cup evaporated milk. Heat until caramels melt, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat; add 1/4 cup butter, 1 cup sifted powdered sugar and one cup pecans, chopped.

Chocolate Icing: Melt 1 cup (6-oz. pkg.) Semi-Sweet Chocolate morsels with 1/3 cup evaporated milk over low heat. Remove from heat. Stir in two tablespoons butter, one teaspoon vanilla and 1/2 cup sifted powdered sugar.

Thanksgiving Day Has An Interesting History

Some interesting facts regarding Thanksgiving:

Two Indians with an English accent deserve much of the credit for the first Thanksgiving in America. They taught the Plymouth colonists how to make a home in the New World and helped them establish a peace that lasted for more than 50 years.

According to some experts, the first to approach the colonists was Samoset, a chief of the Pemaquid Indians. He walked into the colony one day in March, 1621, and unsettled the settlers by addressing them in English. He had earlier met some English fishermen along the coast of Maine and learned some of the language from them.

Two weeks later, Samoset dropped in with his friend Squanto, a well-traveled brave of the Pawtuxet tribe. Squanto had been to England twice, once after having been kidnapped and sold as a slave in Spain by an English sea captain. He returned to America in 1619.

Squanto decided to live with the colonists, teaching them how to plant corn, pumpkins and beans and showing them where to fish. That year, the Pilgrims had a bountiful harvest and Gov. William Bradford declared the celebration that became the first Thanksgiving.

The Pilgrims were joining some strange company when they declared a Thanksgiving celebration in 1621. For the practice of giving thanks for a plentiful harvest goes back almost to the time when man first gave up wandering and hitched himself to a plow.

Along the Mediterranean, ancient peoples held festivals at harvest time in honor of a mother goddess. The Semites called her Astarte, while the Phrygians named her Semele.

The Romans honored Ceres, the goddess of agriculture, in a celebration called the Cerealia, reports World Book Encyclopedia. And the Greeks paid tribute to Demeter in secret rites called the Eleusinian Mysteries.

Christianity put an end to many of these festivals, but a pagan-inspired belief in the Corn Mother, or the Mother of Grains, survived among some peasants in the British Isles and Europe. Her spirit was thought to live in the last sheaf of grain left standing in the field.

In northern England, the last handful of corn was the "kirk" and sometimes it was fashioned into a "kirk doll." In Austria was shaped into a wreath and placed on the head of a girl who became the harvest queen.

During the Middle Ages the most common thanksgiving and harvest festival was held on the Feast of Saint Martin of Tours, or Martinmas, on November 11. People throughout Europe still celebrate the day with feasts and new wine.

The Pilgrims probably became familiar with this celebration when they went to Holland to escape persecution in England, and it may have been the remembrance of this holiday that inspired them to hold a thanksgiving feast after their first prosperous year in the New World.

Sarah Josepha Hale, a famous woman's magazine editor during the 1800's, is credited with establishing Thanksgiving as a national holiday. She worked for more than 35 years to promote the idea, and in 1863 persuaded President Lincoln to issue a proclamation setting aside the last Thursday in November of that year as a day of Thanksgiving.

A Mexican turkey with a Spanish accent may have been the ancestor of some of the birds on the Pilgrims' Thanksgiving menu. Spaniards brought Mexican turkeys to Europe in the early 1500's and later they reached England. The Pilgrims are reported to have brought several to America in 1620.

Mrs. Delbert Edmiston honored her daughter, Jill, on Wednesday, Nov. 14, with a party on her 6th birthday. Ten children attended the party at the family home. Games were played and cake and punch was served.

Medical Facilities, Staff, In Eldorado Discussed

Eldorado citizens are more fortunate than many realize with the medical and dental facilities now existing in this small Edwards Plateau town. Few communities this size can boast a modern clinic and an equally modern dental office.

But what isn't so apparent is the advantage in the liaison or close working relationship between the two health professions. For example, the other day, a dental patient was confronted with the need for the extraction of a tooth; but whether or not his physical condition would permit this procedure was a very important question. An error in judgment could have been dangerous to the patient.

A quick exchange of the patient's medical history with the Eldorado clinic where he had had periodic physical examinations, soon outlined the recommended limits for him and the extraction was safely accomplished. In acute cases in Eldorado, a medical doctor has actually come for attendance on the patient during cases involving extractions or other dental surgery.

What is really true however is that this kind of quick reference for a patient's welfare is not—repeat, is not—available in many if any dental offices in larger centers such as San Angelo. Had our same patient gone to such an office, a long delay or at least a long distance telephone call would have ensued and such calls are seldom made. Even then the advantage of having a physician in attendance would have been most improbable.

The advantage of having two physicians in Eldorado cannot be overlooked. Not all people do overlook it. For example, a citizen said the other day that he was glad that there were two physicians in Eldorado because were there only one, he might not be available when desperately needed. Such examples as your local physicians attending the Eagles' games are especially note-worthy.

These fortunate conditions for Schleicher county citizens could easily deteriorate. Physicians and dentists must live. If the citizens do not take advantage of this wholesome setup, bring their troubles to their home town medics so to speak, pay their bills so these trained men can exist acceptably and keep up professionally, one or more of them might leave for other areas where their services seem to be needed more than in Eldorado.

All in all, it would be a fine thing for every Schleicher citizen who appreciates this service to show his approval by taking his medical problems to his home town medics.

Like other people, they do best work where they feel that they are actually needed as well as appreciated. "Best work" is the bonus patients receive in such conditions.

Civil War Centennial v

By Dayton Kelley
 Mary Hardin-Baylor College
 Belton, Texas

Quite frequently someone tells me a story with a Civil War background that I find to be both intriguing because of its human interest and provocative because of the half-remembered details that fail to tell the whole story.

Many of the stories are found to be correct upon checking into the details but others, though told in good faith, prove to be inaccurate in some small detail that many times spoils the whole idea of the story.

Such a one is the story related to me some time ago by a lady whose father was a Confederate soldier and who was released from prison in the North following Appomattox. Her grandfather also was a Confederate soldier who was away from home most of the War years.

According to the story, the grandfather learned of the birth of a daughter while he was away in the Confederate service and wrote to ask his wife not to name the daughter until he returned. Months passed and the child was still without a name. Finally after more than two years, the father came home but apparently could stay only a few hours during which time, he failed to tell his wife what he wanted to name the child.

However, he did allow the child to walk to his horse with him and told her what name he had chosen. As he rode away, the child ran to tell her mother what name her father had given her. On the way to the house, she stumbled and fell, hurting herself so that she cried. By the time the crying was over, she had forgotten the name and the remainder of the story is that she had to wait until the father came home again at War's end to tell her what name he had given her.

The story doesn't end there, however, for the gravestone of the little girl who grew up, married and raised a family notes that she was born some three years before the Civil War began in 1861.

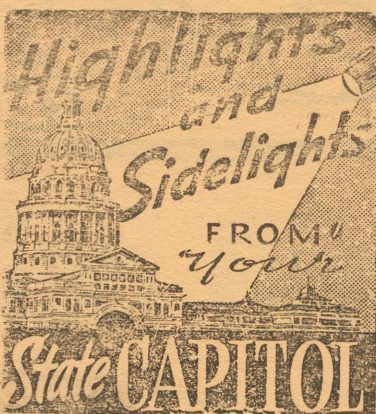

This, of course, spoils what otherwise would be one of the most intriguing stories we've come across in a long time.

includes: a Texas item, just published by McGraw-Hill Book Company, which will undoubtedly receive a rousing cheer from both Civil War buffs and collectors of Texana. The long overdue treatment accorded the Battle of Sabine Pass by Frank X. Tolbert in "Dick Dowling at Sabine Pass" finally places the "incident" in its proper perspective in relation to the overall War scene.

We have long felt that the Battle of Sabine Pass was one of the most dramatic episodes of the War in Texas and after a quick perusal of Mr. Tolbert's work, we have added the word "important" to our description of the Battle. After all, it's not every war which sees 43 Irishmen fight off thousands of invaders bent on a major invasion. This Dowling and his men did, thus stemming the tide of Federal encroachment into the territory of Confederate Texas.

On a wider scene, Harcourt, Brace & World has just brought out the important Civil War diary of Col. Charles S. Wainwright who served for five years as an officer in the Army of the Potomac edited by Dr. Allen Nevins, the scholarly chairman of the National Civil War Centennial Commission, the publication is entitled "A Diary of Battle" and is one of the most important "finds" of recent years.

Austin.—Capital city folks are already getting "Inauguration Fever."

"Inaugural plans for Governor-elect John B. Connally will be far more elaborate than any held in the past decade." So reports Frank Erwin, secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee, who is in charge of arrangements.

Festivities will begin the evening of January 14 when 5,000 Democrats are expected to pay $25 a plate for a Victory Dinner in Austin's Municipal Auditorium.

On the morning of the 15th, there will be an interfaith Prayer Breakfast in the Driskill Hotel.

At noon Governor-elect Connally and Lieutenant Gov.-elect Preston Smith will be "sworn in" in a ceremony supervised by the State Senate and House of Representatives.

Inaugural parade, following the ceremony, is expected to be one of the largest ever held in Austin. High school bands from all over the state are accepting Connally's invitation to participate. Many out-of-town floats also will participate. Also taking part will be the U. S. Navy, with a salute to its former secretary, John Connally.

The Capitol and all state buildings on the grounds will be illuminated that evening. All Texans will be invited to greet their new chief executive and other elected state officials and enjoy refreshments and entertainment in the Capitol.

This gala evening event is a brand new innovation.

Eight Days Again
 Texas Railroad Commission has set an eight-day allowable for the 11th month in a row.

January was the last month that oil producers were allowed to operate prorated wells on a nine-day allowable.

Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners proposed fractional-day orders.

owners and Independent Producers Association said his group will ask the Legislature to change the market demand law so the Railroad Commission can set allowables on a basis of Texas' share of national oil reserves.

But Chairman William J. Murray, Jr., stated that the commission believes it now has the authority needed "to set allowables as high as the market will take." He added that the commission would go to fractional days, or to a percentage, if such a step is needed.

Murray also said that a plan for tougher new test requirements in the East Texas field is being devised by the commission.

Free Bus Ride
 State Board of Education has approved a proposal to make more students available for free bus transportation.

Under this change any student living two miles from school and two miles from a franchised public transportation route may become eligible for free transportation.

Tax Ills Cured?
 Texas' new sales tax may have cured the state's financial ills.

Similar views on this subject have been expressed by James W. McGrew, director for the Texas

Research League, and Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, chairman of the State and Local Tax Policy Committee.

The Parkhouse committee will recommend to the Legislature in January some changes, mainly corrective, in the 1961 sales tax act.

He predicted the committee will recommend more new tax exemptions than it will seek to abolish. Parkhouse says the net result would be a small increase in revenue under the tax now raising $170 million a year.

The two per cent general sales tax is meeting estimates of its sponsors. Taxes on cigarettes, hotels, natural gas, motor vehicles sales and inheritances are exceeding expectations.

Hides For Therapy

The Volunteer Services Council for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools is urging deer hunters to donate hides of killed deer to state patients and students for occupational therapy use.

Council said shipping tags giving specific directions for donating the hides are available from most chambers of commerce.

Council arranges tanning and delivery of the finished leather to the State Hospitals and Special Schools.

'Thanksgiving Day'

THE ILLUSTRATION ABOVE DEPICTS THE FIRST THANKSGIVING IN THE YEAR 1621. OUR PILGRIM FOREFATHERS FOUND FREEDOM AND ABUNDANCE IN AMERICA FOR THOSE WHO WERE WILLING TO WORK . . . AND THEY PAUSED IN THEIR LABORS TO GIVE THANKS TO HIM FROM WHOM ALL BLESSINGS FLOW. AS YOU RELAX AFTER A BIG MEAL THIS THANKSGIVING DAY, THINK OF THEM AND THE COUNTLESS OTHERS WHO HAVE WORKED, SUFFERED AND EVEN DIED THAT WE MIGHT ENJOY THE FREEDOM THAT IS AMERICA. YES, THINK OF THEM AND BE THANKFUL . . . .

AS WE BOW OUR HEADS IN HUMBLE THANKSGIVING ON THIS GLORIOUS HOLIDAY, LET US NOT FORGET THAT FREEDOM IS FOREMOST AMONG OUR BLESSINGS. LET US THANK OUR CREATOR FOR ALL GOOD THINGS, BUT LET US ESPECIALLY GIVE OUR THANKS FOR OUR HERITAGE OF FREEDOM AND FOR OUR FOREFATHERS WHO STRUGGLED SO VALIANTLY TO OBTAIN AND PRESERVE IT FOR US.

Let Us Join You In Giving Thanks. Greetings From All Of Us To Each Of You On This Thanksgiving Day

Christian Science Lecture Scheduled

ARCH BAILEY

Arch Bailey, a lecturer on Christian Science, will discuss the power of spiritual thinking in a free public address in San Angelo Sunday, it has been announced by First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Mr. Bailey will speak in the Cactus Hotel Ballroom at 4:00 p.m., Sunday, November 25th. The subject of his lecture will be "The Origin and Power of Thought in Christian Science."

A native of Hutchinson, Kansas, Mr. Bailey has been a Christian Science practitioner for more than 20 years. He had a distinguished career in the field of music before entering the public practice of Christian Science healing. He was first named to The Christian Science Board of Lectureship in 1953. His lecture work takes him throughout the United States, Canada, and other countries. His present home is in San Francisco, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Taylor and 2½-year-old daughter of San Angelo spent the week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Taylor and Don. While here they all attended the Big Lake game.

Alvin Luedecke, former Army and Air Force general and now head of the Atomic Energy Commission, has been a recent visitor in the home of his mother, Mrs. John Luedecke. A family gathering was held in his honor and he is to leave today, Thursday, to join Mrs. Luedecke in San Francisco.

Sebesta Elected Head Of Ministerial Association

At a meeting of the Ministerial Association of Eldorado Sunday night following the Union Thanksgiving Service, the Rev. Dan Sebesta, pastor of the Presbyterian church, was elected new president of the group for the coming year.

Outgoing president is the Rev. C. M. Nyquist, Methodist pastor, who is now secretary-treasurer of the association. The Rev. Johnny Griffith, pastor of the Assembly of God church, was elected new vice-president to complete the slate of officers.

Offering received at the Thanksgiving service totaled $53.38 to be used in the Association's work this coming year.

Other ministers who participated in the Union Thanksgiving service included Roy Tharp of the First Christian church, the Rev. Smith of the Eastside Baptist church, and the Rev. McCullough, who is serving as interim pastor of the First Baptist church. Frank O'Banion, music and education director of the First Baptist church, had charge of the music and directed his church choir in an anthem.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stevens returned to Leander via Santa Rosa hospital in San Antonio last Friday. They had spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stevens in the Bailey Ranch community.

On The Screen . . . Two Comedies Are On For The Holidays

Two motion pictures, which are adult comedies and which double as good family-type entertainment, highlight the Thanksgiving holiday offerings at the Eagle Drive-In Theatre.

Showing tonight and Friday night is "That Touch of Mink," which is in Eastman color and which includes Doris Day, Rock Hudson, Cary Grant, Tony Randall, Gig Young, witty lines, and the biggest laugh situations in maybe the entire history of film making.

It was produced by Stanley Shapiro, whose earlier movies have included "Operation Petticoat" and "Pillow Talk."

"That Touch of Mink" features Doris Day as the bumpkin in New York who draws Cary Grant as her leading man. He is the richest man in Manhattan and he buys all the seats on a 707 jet to fly Doris to romantic Bermuda.

Wrapped in mink, bathed by candlelight and soft music, lulled by champagne, soothing surf and the bronzed, tuxedoed Grant, she reacts to the magic moment. She breaks out in a facial rash.

Miss Day, who sings not a note, proves again she is a grand clown. She decides to fall in Grant's arms. Instead she falls out of the hotel window and onto a lobby-level canopy in her pajamas.

Gig Young, as Grant's insecure playboy aide, has a funny sequence with a psychiatrist, and Audrey Meadows brings to the big screen her acid comments.

Sunday and Monday nights bring James Stewart & Maureen O'Hara to the Eagle Drive-In screen in "Mr. Hobbs Takes a Vacation," which is in CinemaScope and Color by DeLuxe.

Shall Mr. Hobbs (James Stewart), a St. Louis banker, take his holiday alone with his pretty and devoted wife (Maureen O'Hara), or shall they spread the festive umbrella over four children, three grandchildren and two sons-in-law, both condescending intellectuals?

Since Mrs. Hobbs, the sentimental type, always gets her way, the Hobbs take "a fully-equipped mansion" for the clan overlooking the Pacific. Now come problems to worry about.

Jimmy Stewart is a guy who can let loose with a couple of swear words when he finds all his relatives piling in on him during the beach house vacation.

There is bite to Stewart's study of the tired male, and hence there is bite to the picture.

We are ever grateful for all things bright and dear,
For helpful friends in times of need,
Who bring kind words of cheer.
Another year of happiness,
Another year to get
Joy out of living in a land,
Where God is ruler yet.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN STIGLER and Family

Stewart, reminded by a bikini-clad dish from down the beach (stuffy sons-in-law, a teen-age daughter who can't get a date, a place that he is now a grandfather, a small son who prefers TV to papa, is delightfully resentful. Refreshingly, he is a man who can barely stand his relatives and absolutely can't stomach one of his spoiled grandchildren.

"Mr. Hobbs" is a funny movie. If the situations are predictable and worth seeing.

GREETINGS AND MANY THANKS

to you, our customers and friends, for giving us the privilege of serving you. We hope you enjoy this day of feasting and family gatherings; and we hope you will join us in being thankful for our abundance as individuals and as Americans.

We're thankful too, to be part of this progressive community, as we join our neighbors to give thanks today for the security that is our common heritage.

Happy Thanksgiving Day To All

Our Pilgrim Fathers gave Thanks For So Little; We Have Much to be Thankful For. Let us pause on this day as our Pilgrim forefathers did so long ago . . . to give prayerful thanks, not only for food on our table but more importantly, for those freedoms we hold so dear . . . freedoms our forefathers sought and won in the new land, America. Our country has come a long way since the day of that first meager harvest in 1621 . . . to truly become the "Land of Plenty" and the "Home of the Free." Let us pray it will always be.

Billy Graham Film To Be Shown Wednesday

Evangelist Billy Graham's newest feature-length dramatic film, "Shadow of the Boomerang," will have its Eldorado showing Nov. 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist church. There will be no admission charge but a free-will offering will be taken for furtherance of Billy Graham's evangelistic mission.

Starring vavaceous Georgia Lee & television's Buffalo Bill, Jr., Dick Jones, "Shadow of the Boomerang" is an outdoor action picture with all of the excitement and breathtaking scope of the land, "Down Under." Setting for the screen drama is Australia's "Outback", the continent's vast interior region where some of the world's largest cattle stations are located.

The two young Americans head an All-Australian supporting cast, playing brother and sister roles in a turbulent story of homestead life.

Filed against the backdrop of the Billy Graham Australian Crusades, "Shadow of the Boomerang" seeks to underline the Godly reaction to human crises and conflicts.
