Work Under Way On 'Wildcat' Water Well At Moore's This Week

Operations are now under way on the much discussed deep-water well on the Henry Moore place in the Reynolds community. Floyd Hanusch of Eldorado has the drilling contract and it is expected to be a two-weeks job provided there is no trouble.

This is the well which proposes to go down below 800 feet to test out the San Andres sand for irrigation water. Geologists have predicted that water will flow to the surface from this formation—thus eliminating the cost of pumping. If this proves to be true it is expected that many more similar wells will be dug throughout the county.

Another element of risk connected with the test is that water from the San Andres sand may contain sulphur. Whether there will be so much as to render the water unfit for irrigation purposes is a question that remains to be answered.

The test, as it progresses, will be watched with a great deal of interest by the whole county.

SONORA CHOSEN FOR MEETING OF SIXTH DISTRICT

The date of September 21 has been designated as the first fall meeting of Sixth District of Parent Teachers, the meeting place to be Sonora.

Much interest centers around the organizational meetings of the group this year, due to the fact that there has been re-districting throughout the state by counties, with the adding of five completely new districts. Sixth District will gain some counties and lose others under this new set-up.

Mrs. Edwin Jackson has been in Austin recently on state PTA work.

Saturday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Pennington were his mother, Mrs. V. L. Pennington, and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Pennington, all of San Angelo.

Ohio Drilling Crew and Rig Return to County

Twenty families moved to Eldorado Sunday from Rankin, along with a rotary for drilling of Ohio's T. W. Thompson No. 25 in the Huldale Field.

Most of the men with the crew moved their household goods here Sunday and by night were well settled in their new location. For a few hours demand was heavy for trailer locations, furnished apartments and empty houses.

The rotary came in also on Sunday, and hole is being dug with company tools. The tool pusher is C. M. Lynch.

The new test is one location north of Ohio No. 24 T. W. Thompson, and one location west of Sinclair-Davis No. 5. It is 467 feet from the east line of section 80 and 2065 from the south line, and contract depth is 5850.

New Deputy Sheriff To Be Installed First of September

James Williams, for the past two years first deputy in the Sheriff and Tax Collector's office, last week turned in his resignation to be effective on the first of September.

Mr. Williams, a long-time resident of the county, who has had a wide business experience in Eldorado, including a new and used car dealership—announces that he will go to work in September as Ford salesman for Geo. Humphrey Motors. He formerly held a similar position for Trigg Motors about four years ago.

Sheriff E. H. Sweatt reports that he has appointed Dwight Wiedenmann to be his first deputy to succeed Mr. Williams on September 1. Mr. Wiedenmann has been a Cooper Gas employee.

Chemist and Engineer to Visit County For Irrigation Study

Mr. M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist, head of the Soils Department of A&M college, and Mr. Robert V. Thurmond, agricultural engineer, irrigation, will spend Tuesday, August 23, in Schleicher County with producers who have irrigation wells and who are interested in the over-all picture of irrigation in regard to soils, water, cost of pumping equipment, systems and many other problems confronting irrigation.

Mr. Thornton and Mr. Thurmond will tour the county in the morning of the 23rd. In the afternoon at 2:00 they will be at the Nick Jurecek farm for a county-wide meeting for all interested in securing information about irrigation. Mr. Jurecek's hanger will be used for this meeting.

It is sincerely hoped that all interested in this undertaking of trying to bring irrigation to the county will be present.

Girl Scouts On Trip For Study of Birds

Girl Scouts interested in bird study spent Saturday at the Runge Ranch, accompanied by Mrs. Forrest Runge, Mrs. Wesley Hayhurst and Mrs. W. T. Parker. Sallie Rose of Austin, a guest of the Runges, was also with the group.

Among the activities of the day were a swim, frying of doughnuts, and observation of birds.

During the time they spent on bird study, they saw many kinds of birds, including blue cranes. They hiked back to the ranch singing songs, and closed the outing with singing of taps at the top of the hill at sundown.

Guests in the Ogden Wilson home last week included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crebbs of Caracas, Venezuela, and the Wilsons' son, Duncan Wilson, of Ft. Worth.

Foundation Laid

Concrete for the foundation of the new Methodist educational building has been poured. Contractor Jack Shugart reports that work has been delayed because of late arrival of tile, but it is hoped that construction can be resumed later this week.

POLO TONIGHT

The Eldorado polo team meets the Barnhart team on the local field tonight, it was announced earlier this week.

SEISMOGRAPH CREW HERE

McCullum Exploration Co. has returned to the county for a short stay, with their crew of men and six or seven vehicles. Paul Haven is party chief.

Beef Drumsticks, fashioned of ground beef and veal and fried until golden brown, make good hot or cold picnic eating. Skewer handles are fun for the kids, according to the Texas Beef Council, who recommends the sticks for outings from now through September.

FORMER PASTOR CONDUCTS SERVICE HERE ON SUNDAY

The visit here of a former pastor during the weekend was the occasion for a Fellowship dinner following church services Sunday morning at the Presbyterian Church.

The visiting minister was the Rev. N. T. Wilkinson, pastor of Harlindale Presbyterian Church in San Antonio. He was accompanied by his wife and daughters Beverly and Sarah.

Rev. Wilkinson preached at the morning service, which was attended by a number of visitors from other churches, in addition to members of the local church.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bryant drove to Carrizo Springs Sunday with their grandchildren, Dennis Earl, Monty Wayne and Gary Lee who have been visiting with their grandparents, for three weeks. The children's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bryant, met them in Carrizo Springs and returned to their home in Harlingen.

Letters From THE PEOPLE

To the Editor:

I should like to remind those who are so enthusiastic about the possibilities of underground water in Schleicher County for irrigation purposes, that underground water just like surface water is exhaustible. Fort Stockton people found to their chagrin that irrigating wells in the area at one time during the recent drought destroyed their wonderful Comanche Spring, rendering useless the city's beautiful swimming pool. Farmers in the Veribest area of Tom Green County have found that their irrigating wells producing at first five hundred or more gallons per minute are exhaustible even to the vanishing point and farmers in the irrigating areas of the Texas Panhandle have found that the level of their underground water has been falling year by year. It would be tragic indeed if the underground water of the Edwards plateau became so depleted by irrigation that the ranch industry would have to depend on an unreliable surface water supply for livestock water.

E. J. Hardgrave
San Angelo, Texas
A landowner in Schleicher County.

Ed. Note: Anybody else have any opinions about irrigation for this county?

5th	10.00
6th	9.00
7th	7.00

10th	3.00

(Same as for ram lambs.)

4-H boys competing for Schleicher County will be Dick Runge, Ronnie Mittel, Mike Moore, Ken Love, Bob Steward, and Jimmie Whitten. It is expected that these boys will make a strong showing in the area show.

SHOWER

A short brisk shower of rain, measuring about a tenth, fell in Eldorado at 7:00 o'clock this morning, settling the dust and refreshing the lawns. Apparently the shower did not reach far beyond the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Chrestman and children of Taft arrived Tuesday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Chrestman.

Post Script

One year ago, according to our files, Elmer Bruton brought in the first bale of that year's cotton. Hot, searing winds at that time were hastening the opening of the bolls and the crop was reported deteriorating under the extreme heat.

This week finds most of our cotton farmers busy applying poison. Nights have been cool and damp and the day-time heat not excessive. There is no sign of a first bale anywhere.

Farmers are very cautious about making crop predictions at this time.

The universal prayer this week is, "If we could just get one more good rain!"

SINCLAIR TO DRILL SCHLEICHER TEST

Sinclair Oil & Gas Co., Midland, has filed application to drill the No. 6 Davis Estate, one location north of production in the Huldale (Pennsylvanian reef) field of Schleicher County, nine miles northeast of Eldorado.

It will be drilled to 5,800 feet with rotary. Estimated elevation is 2,215 feet.

Location, on a 645.8-acre lease, is 2,467 feet from the south and 467 from the west lines of 55-M-GH&SA.

Rotary on the wildcat on Mrs. M. M. Reynolds' place is drilling ahead, according to report from the location this week.

The test last week was pronounced an indicated producer when it had a showing, with strong blow, in the Canyon, between 4609-22 feet, on a drillstem test.

It is known as Lion Oil Co., Snyder, No. 1 Rey, and location is 42-1-GH&SA, in the Rudd community.

LIONS CLUB

The team conducting the revival this week at the First Baptist church brought the program at yesterday's Lions club meeting. Rev. Edgar Jones of Throckmorton was speaker, and musical selections were rendered by Perry Cox at the piano and Allan Cox playing the cornet. Another guest of the club was Hector Cox of Corpus Christi.

SUPERVISORS IN REGULAR MEETING AND FIELD TRIP

The Board of Supervisors of the Eldorado Divide Soil Conservation district held their regular monthly meeting recently and discussed the Goodyear Soil Conservation awards program, and the recent 4-H and FFA club soil judging, range management and plant identification contest recently sponsored by the district. They also discussed the auditing of books and range conditions as a result of the July rains.

Following the inside meeting, the board of supervisors accompanied by William M. Rountree, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, went to the Roy E. Glass ranch, operated by Cecil Townsend, and observed a net wire diversion which was constructed back in April, 1955. The group observed a good stand of side oats grama, vine mesquite, bluestem and other desirable grasses seeding out on both sides of the net wire diversion.

The construction of 2682 feet of diversion terraces was completed on Morris Whitten's place last week. The two were constructed to divert water coming from pasture land above a 36-acre cultivated field.

Morris also had repair and maintenance work done on the old level terraces in his fields.

Maintenance and repair work was recently completed on an old diversion terrace on the Enochs place, operated by Oran Enochs.

The diversion terrace protects a cultivated field from excessive water from a pasture around the field.

Several district cooperators are taking advantage of the good grass seed crop being produced by harvesting the seed along the highways leading in and out of Eldorado.

Bare land is out of style. "For land's sake, cover it."

Mr. and Mrs. James Page, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Page and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Page are attending a meeting at Camp Bloys at Fort Davis this week.

Mrs. W. T. Barney Jr., of College Station visited last Tuesday and Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. Jack Jones, and family. She returned home Wednesday accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Fred H. Barney, who has been visiting in the Jones home for several weeks. Mrs. Barney will return to her home in Fort Worth after a short visit in the Berry home.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wade and children and Mrs. Sellman all of Sonora visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ovid Wade.

U. S. Farm Exports Up 7 Percent In Last Year

College Station. Exports of United States agricultural products for the year ending June 30 totaled $3,130,000,000, an increase of 7% over the previous year and 11% above the 1952-53 total.

Extension Economist Pat Wooten says the U. S. Department of Agriculture has reported that all major commodity classes showed some improvement but it took a grain buying upswing in June to bring that commodity up to the level of the year before.

Exports registered gains in 1954-55 mainly for vegetable fats and oils and livestock products, but increases were also listed for cotton, tobacco, and fruits and vegetables.

Cited by the economist as contributing factors to the increase were improvements in economic conditions abroad and Europe's poor grain harvests in 1954.

Satisfactory levels of gold and dollar accumulations attained during the year also made it possible for some countries to expand their dollar purchases of American farm products, said Wooten. On the other hand, some European countries continue to maintain restrictions against imports from the United States. Exports would probably have increased further had foreign demand been able to fully assert itself, he said.

The large supplies and Government programs aided the flow of farm products abroad. The most important of these programs were sales for export at competitive prices, sales for foreign currencies, barter agreements, grants to foreign countries for emergency relief and welfare donations in foreign countries.

Dr. and Mrs. Jack I. Mowrey and two daughters have returned from a two weeks' vacation trip. They spent some time at Indian Lodge, in the Davis Mountains, then went on to visit relatives in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Colorado and New Mexico.

Mrs. R. A. King is getting ready to leave soon for Austin where she expects to spend the fall and winter months.

Social Security Benefits Are Liberalized

Some persons in the Eldorado area may be losing monthly social security payments because of not knowing about a special provision in the social security law, according to Holly E. Rees, officer-in-charge of the San Angelo district office of the Social Security Administration.

Rees said that the 1954 amendments reduced the amount of work required to be insured for a person who died between June 1940 and September 1950. Under the new law, the deceased need only have about 1½ years of social security work or creditable military service to be insured. He urged that survivors of such deceased workers, not insured under the law at the time of death, check with a social security representative now about possible payments.

Many cases in this area have already been reopened and benefits formerly denied are now being paid. Widows aged 65 or over, and widows (or remarried widows) with minor children (unmarried and under 18) of the deceased, and in some cases dependent parents are affected by this change. Holly Rees, of the San Angelo office will be in Eldorado on Friday, August 19, in the District Courtroom at 1:30 p. m. to discuss the possibility of a claim with all such persons. General information inquiries about other changes in the law are also welcomed.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Obvious Risks Assumed By Spectators

The outlook wasn't very bright for the home team with the score tied, two opposing players on base and only one out. "Spec" Tator, a rabid fan, leaned forward on his seat in the left field bleachers. The pitcher got his signal, the ball sped toward the plate.

Then came two sharp cracks. The first was the bat on the ball. The second was the ball on Spec's head. Spec was seriously injured.

To recover damages for his injuries and medical bills, Spec filed suit against the baseball club. He charged it with negligence in failing to put a wire screen in front of the bleachers where he sat and in failing to warn him that batted balls might come into those bleachers and injure him.

But the court said "No" to Spec. He had chosen to sit in the unscreened bleachers in preference to sitting behind a screen where the tickets cost more. Therefore, he had "assumed the risk" of being hit by a batted or thrown ball during the playing of the game. No recovery was allowed.

In such cases, the courts say that the spectator is an invitee to whom the invitor (the ball club) owes the duty to exercise ordinary care to render the premises reasonably safe for him.

"But," say the courts, "the invitor is not an insurer of the safety of the invitee; neither is the invitee protected against all hazard, nor relieved of all duty to himself for his own safety. And to the extent that the duty of self-protection rests upon the invitee, the duty of the invitor to protect is reduced."

The same rules as to "assumption of risk" are applied to most places of amusement and amusement devices. A swimmer must anticipate that a diving board will be wet and slippery. A person who rides on an amusement device and sees flying sparks takes the chance that a flying spark may strike his eye.

And one who goes upon a revolving floor device for the purpose of being thrown from it, accepts the dangers inherent in the sport so far as they are obvious.

On the other hand, if the danger is not apparent or obvious, the operator of the device has a duty to warn the rider or spectator. It is the ordinary risk that is assumed, not the unusual. Where, for example, a device was operated on a particular occasion at an especially fast speed so that it jerked and jolted violently, a rider who was injured by these unusual conditions was permitted to recover.

A patron of a place of amusement is entitled to be protected from hidden dangers, but he cannot go into a place of danger which he appreciates and understands, and then recover damages if he is injured.

STATE CAPITOL — 7CallF-nessE
Austin. Despite "go slow" warnings from top state officials, 28 or more Texas schools have announced plans for complete or partial racial integration.

Gov. Allan Shivers, in setting up a statewide advisory committee, cautioned against "hasty, ill-considered action." Earlier Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd had warned schools against "rushing headlong" into desegregation ahead of legislative action.

Though the Texas Education Agency makes no recommendations to schools, it is keeping tab on locally-decided policies. Its file of newspaper clippings from over the state shows that about 36 schools have definite plans, either pro or con.

In numerous other districts studies are being made by bi-racial committees. Questionnaires are measuring sentiment in some areas.

Texas Citizens Councils, similar to an anti-integration organization in Mississippi, have sprung up in some East Texas areas. Dallas and Kilgore have councils pledged to "fight desegregation by every legal means."

Austin last week was the largest city with a high percentage of Negro students to plan integration this fall. It will begin in the top three grades which are 15% Negro. A liberal transfer policy is expected to ease adjustment.

San Antonio, with 7.7% Negro students, is the largest school system to plan immediate integration. All grades will be included here.

Other towns adopting immediate and across-the-board integration include Corpus Christi, Lubbock, San Angelo, El Paso, Crystal City, Carrizo Springs, LaFeria, Mission and Brownsville.

More popular is a partial desegregation policy, such as Austin's. It begins usually on the high school level with a staggered schedule for lower grades.

Cities favoring this include San Marcos, Robstown, Bishop, Port Lavaca, Brownwood, Weslaco, Harlingen, Kerrville, Sinton, Amarillo, Kingsville, Friona, Rockport, Aransas Pass, Karnes City, Kenedy and Runge.

When it hears of a school planning to desegregate, the Education Agency writes local officials for a blueprint of the plan. These are made available to undecided school leaders who want to know how others are solving the problem.

Vaccine Shipment Expected

Arrival of 50,838 shots of Salk polio vaccine was expected by the State Health Department this week.

This is part of Texas allotment of 1,177,069 shots in addition to the vaccine given free to first and second grade school children.

Under the "volunteer control" plan adopted by the State Polio Vaccine Committee, 83% will be allocated for commercial use, 17% for public agencies.

This week's shipment was to come from the Wyeth Laboratories in Marietta, Pa.

Meanwhile, Health Department figures showed polio on the increase. Forty-five new cases were reported during the past week, bringing the 1955 total to 939.

Of the victims 45 had received Salk vaccine.

Crop Prospects Improve

August predictions for 1955 Texas farm production, though improved since early summer, fell below 1954 figures.

US Department of Agriculture forecasts showed a probable cotton crop of 3.9 million bales—1% lower than 1954.

But the prospective 278-pound yield per acre is the highest since 1866. Improved soil moisture, irrigation and new yield-increasing practices by growers are credited for the high figure.

Texas cotton acreage is nearly one million acres less than for 1954.

On the unfavorable side, rains delayed insect control programs and created a critical problem in cotton fields.

W. H. Hale, Ohio employee, is spending his vacation in Eldorado, San Angelo and Iraan, his family accompanying him.

W. A. Brooks, Shell employee, and his family have been on vacation in Houston. Mr. Brooks attended a Shell safety school, and Mrs. Brooks and boys Billy and Tommy visited relatives. Other local men attending the safety school were Chuck Adams and E. V. Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McLaughlin spent the weekend vacationing in San Antonio.

Howard Mittel received his BS in Civil Engineering at A&M recently. He and his family are moving to Port Arthur where he will be associated with Texas Production Co.

Fat Cows Slow; Other Cattle Opened Steady

Packers again showed little liking for the fat cows at Fort Worth Monday, but boning types of cattle were strong, including canner and cutter cows. Bulls held steady. Slaughter calves and stocker and feeder cattle and calves ruled steady.

Comparative prices: Medium to good slaughter steers and yearlings $16-$20; choice quotable to $22-$23. Commoner kinds $10-$15. Fat cows $10.50-$12.00; canners and cutters $7.00-10.50. Bulls $10-$13.75; slaughter calves good and choice $16-$19; common and medium $12-$15; culls $9-$11. Stocker steer calves 20.50 down; steer yearlings $18.50 down; stocker cows $8-$11.

Unprecedented Demand For Feeder Animals Looms

Bumper crops of feed being produced in most sections of the country portend heavy livestock feeding operations in the next few months. Concentration will be on hogs and cattle, with heavy poultry operations likely also.

USDA officials in Washington are reported highly concerned over the whole price support program. Seems that last year only about 35% of the corn crop went into the program. About the same figure appears destined to be sealed this year.

They say that at least 45 to 50% should be in the program, or it cannot work. It is a case of the tail trying to wag the dog when such a small per cent of the producers cooperate in the loan and support program.

Situation is aggravated by huge barley, oats, grain sorghum crops. Soy beans in excessive supply, the last estimate on cotton indicated more protein there than anticipated.

Professional feeders who buy everything are expected to slow operations if the situation remains the same. However, farmers with feed stuffs are expected to market it as meat or poultry.

Corn Belt reports oats selling at 50c, and predicts $1 or cheaper corn in liberal supply. Grain sorghums are now selling around $1.50, may go lower. We heard about 500 tons laid down near Ft. Worth at $1.62½ this week.

Demand for feeders should be tremendous as fall progresses.

Sheep and Lambs Open Strong, Feeders Higher

Good and choice fat Spring lambs topped at $18 to $19.50 at Fort Worth Monday. Medium and lower grades sold around $12 to $17. Feeder lambs cashed at $13 to $15.50, strong to 50c higher. Old ewes sold for $4 to $5.50; old wethers drew $7 to $12. Fat yearlings cashed at $14 to $16, lower grades $8 to $13. Old bucks sold around $4 to 4.50. Breeding ewes scarce and in vary strong demand.

Flame-Resistance For Cotton Fabrics

College Station. Cloth that passes the most stringent laboratory tests for flame resistance is the result of an improved flame-resistant treatment for cotton fabric. The process is a development of workers at the USDA's Southern Regional Research Laboratory, in New Orleans, La.

Two other methods of making cotton cloth flame resistant had been developed by the laboratory. One was known as the "THPC" process and the other utilized a bromoformallyl-phosphate (BAP) material. Fabrics treated by either method are flame and glow resistant and useful for many purposes.

When the two treatments were combined and applied to the cloth, the combination proved much more effective than when either was used alone. The resulting product will pass the tough strip-burning test.

One part of BAP emulsion is mixed with two parts of the THPC-resin solution and applied in a one-bath treatment. The cloth is impregnated with the mixture, and then dried and heatcured. The process adds about 18% to the weight of the cloth but normal fabric properties are otherwise little changed. The flame-resistant finish is highly durable to both laundering and dry cleaning.
